8:14 The others sold everything they had left and together begged the Lord to rescue those whom the impious Nicanor had sold before even encountering them,

8:15 if not for their own sake, then because of the covenants with their fathers and because His revered and magnificent name had been invoked over them.

8:16 Maccabeus gathered those with him, six thousand in number, and urged them not to be terrified of their enemies or fear the multitude of nations unjustly coming against them, but to fight nobly,

8:17 keeping before their eyes the unlawful outrage they had committed against the holy place, the maltreatment of the mocked city, and also the overthrow of their ancestral civic order.

8:18 "For they trust in weapons and audacity," he said, "but we trust in the Almighty God, who can strike down both those coming against us and the whole world with a single nod."

8:19 He further recounted to them the assistance given to their ancestors, including what happened under Sennacherib, how one hundred eighty-five thousand perished,

8:20 and the battle fought in Babylonia against the Galatians: how eight thousand in all came to the engagement, with four thousand Macedonians; when the Macedonians were at a loss, the eight thousand destroyed one hundred twenty thousand through the help that came to them from heaven, and took much spoil.

8:21 Having thus made them confident and ready to die for the laws and their homeland, he divided the army into four sections.

8:22 He appointed his brothers Simon, Joseph and Jonathan to lead the respective divisions, placing fifteen hundred under each,

8:23 and also Eleazar. Having read aloud the sacred book and given "God's help" as the watchword, he himself led the first company and engaged Nicanor.

8:24 With the Almighty as their ally, they slaughtered more than nine thousand of the enemy, wounded and disabled the greater part of Nicanor's army, and forced them all to flee.

8:25 They took the money of those who had come to buy them. After pursuing them for a considerable distance, they returned, constrained by the hour,

8:26 for it was the day before the Sabbath. For this reason they did not prolong their pursuit.

8:27 After collecting their enemies' weapons and stripping off their spoils, they occupied themselves with the Sabbath, abundantly blessing and giving thanks to the Lord who had preserved them to that day and appointed for them a beginning of mercy.

8:28 After the Sabbath they gave a share of the spoils to the maltreated, the widows and the orphans, and divided the rest among themselves and their children.

8:29 Having done this, they made a common supplication and begged the merciful Lord to become fully reconciled to His own servants.

8:30 They also fought the forces of Timothy and Bacchides, killed more than twenty thousand of them, and gained firm possession of very high fortresses. They distributed much plunder, giving equal shares to themselves, the maltreated, the orphans and widows, and also the elderly.

8:31 They collected the weapons and carefully deposited them all in strategic places, but brought the remaining spoils to Jerusalem.

8:32 They killed the tribal commander of Timothy's forces, a most unholy man who had caused the Jews much suffering.

8:33 As they celebrated victory in their homeland, they burned those who had set fire to the sacred gateways, and Callisthenes, who had fled into a little house; he received the reward worthy of his impiety.

8:34 But the thrice-accursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants for the sale of the Jews,

8:35 was humbled, with the Lord's help, by those whom he considered of the least account. He took off his splendid clothing and went alone through the interior like a runaway, reaching Antioch most fortunate despite his army's destruction.

8:36 He who had undertaken to provide the Romans' tribute from the captivity of Jerusalem's inhabitants now proclaimed that the Jews had a Defender, and that for this reason the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws laid down by Him.

2 Maccabees 9

9:1 About that time Antiochus happened to have retreated in disorder from the regions of Persia.

9:2 For he had entered the city called Persepolis and attempted to rob its temple and oppress the city. The multitudes therefore rushed to defend themselves with weapons, and his men were routed. Antiochus, put to flight by the inhabitants, had to make a disgraceful retreat.

9:3 While he was at Ecbatana, news reached him of what had happened to Nicanor and Timothy's forces.

9:4 Exalted in anger, he thought he would make the Jews bear even the harm inflicted by those who had driven him away. He therefore ordered his charioteer to drive without stopping and finish the journey, though judgment from heaven was already accompanying him. For he arrogantly said, "When I arrive there, I will make Jerusalem a mass grave for Jews."

9:5 But the all-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, struck him with an incurable and unseen plague. He had only just finished speaking when an unrelenting pain in his bowels and bitter internal torments seized him—

9:6 most justly, since he had tormented the bowels of others with many strange afflictions.

9:7 Yet he did not cease his haughtiness at all, but was still filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his anger against the Jews and ordering the journey hastened. He happened to fall from the chariot as it rushed along, and in the severe fall all the members of his body were wrenched.

9:8 He who just now, in arrogance beyond human measure, thought he could command the waves of the sea and imagined he could weigh the mountain heights in a balance, was brought down to the ground and carried on a litter, plainly showing God's power to everyone.

9:9 Worms swarmed up from the impious man's body, and while he was still alive in pain and anguish, his flesh fell away. The whole army was burdened by the stench of his decay.

9:10 No one could carry the man who a little earlier thought he could touch the stars of heaven, because of the unbearable weight of his smell.

9:11 Then, broken, he began to cease much of his arrogance and come to understanding, his pains increasing every moment under the divine scourge.

9:12 Unable even to endure his own smell, he said, "It is right to submit to God and, being mortal, not to think oneself equal to God."

9:13 The defiled man made vows to the Master who would no longer have mercy on him, speaking in this way:

9:14 he would declare free the holy city which he was hurrying to level and build into a mass grave;

9:15 and the Jews, whom he had decided were unworthy even of burial, but whom he would cast out with their infants to be eaten by birds and wild animals, he would make all equal to Athenians;

9:16 he would adorn the holy temple he had previously plundered with the finest dedicated gifts, restore all the sacred vessels many times over, and supply from his own revenues the necessary contributions for the sacrifices.

9:17 Besides these things, he would become a Jew and go through every inhabited place, proclaiming God’s might.

9:18 But his pains did not cease at all, for God’s just judgment had come upon him. Despairing of his own situation, he wrote the following letter to the Jews, having the form of a supplication and containing these words:

9:19 “King and general Antiochus to the good Jewish citizens: many greetings, good health and prosperity.

9:20 If you and your children are well and your affairs are as you wish, placing my hope in heaven,

9:21 I remembered your honour and goodwill affectionately. As I return from the regions of Persia, having fallen into a troublesome illness, I have considered it necessary to take thought for the common security of all.

9:22 I am not despairing of my condition, but have great hope of escaping the illness.

9:23 Yet I observe that my father also, on the occasions when he campaigned in the upper regions, designated his successor,

9:24 so that if something unexpected occurred or some troubling news was reported, those in the country might know to whom the government had been left and not be disturbed.

9:25 Moreover, observing that the nearby rulers who border the kingdom watch for opportunities and await what will happen, I have appointed my son Antiochus as king. I often entrusted and commended him to most of you when travelling to the upper satrapies; I have also written to him what is set down here.

9:26 I therefore urge and ask you, remembering the benefits shown to all and to each individually, to maintain your existing goodwill toward me and my son.

9:27 For I am persuaded that he, following my policy with fairness and humanity, will accommodate himself to you.”

9:28 Thus the murderer and blasphemer, suffering the worst as he had treated others, ended his life by a most pitiful death in the mountains of a foreign land.

9:29 Philip, who had been brought up with him, conveyed his body. Fearing Antiochus’s son, he went to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

2 Maccabees 10

10:1 Maccabeus and those with him, the Lord leading them, recovered the temple and the city.

10:2 They tore down the altars built by the foreigners in the marketplace, and also the sacred precincts.

10:3 Having purified the temple, they made another altar. They heated stones, took fire from them, and offered sacrifices after a period of two years. They offered incense, lit lamps and set out the loaves.

10:4 When they had done this, they fell on their faces and begged the Lord that they might no longer fall into such evils, but that, if they should ever sin, they might be disciplined by Him with gentleness and not handed over to blasphemous and barbarous nations.

10:5 On the very day the temple had been profaned by foreigners, the temple’s purification took place: the twenty-fifth of the same month, which is Chislev.

10:6 They celebrated joyfully for eight days in the manner of the Festival of Booths, remembering how a short time before, during the Festival of Booths, they had roamed the mountains and caves like wild animals.

10:7 Therefore, carrying garlanded staffs, beautiful branches and palm fronds, they offered hymns to the One who had prospered the purification of His own place.

10:8 By a common ordinance and decree they determined that the entire Jewish nation should observe these days every year.

10:9 Thus ended the matters concerning the death of Antiochus, called Epiphanes.

10:10 Now we shall explain the events under Antiochus Eupator, the son of the impious man, abridging the principal evils of the wars.

10:11 For when he took over the kingdom, he appointed a certain Lysias as chief minister and chief governor of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia.

10:12 Ptolemy, called Macron, had taken the lead in maintaining justice toward the Jews because of the wrong done to them, and attempted to conduct relations with them peacefully.

10:13 Therefore the friends accused him before Eupator, and at every turn he was called a traitor because he had abandoned Cyprus, which Philometor had entrusted to him, and gone over to Antiochus Epiphanes. Having failed to make his office honourable, he poisoned himself and departed this life.

10:14 Gorgias, having become governor of the regions, maintained foreign troops and at every turn fostered war against the Jews.

10:15 Along with him, the Idumeans, who held strategic fortresses, harassed the Jews. Taking in those driven from Jerusalem, they attempted to maintain the war.

10:16 Maccabeus and his men offered an entreaty and asked God to become their ally; then they rushed against the Idumean fortresses.

10:17 Attacking them vigorously, they gained control of the places, drove off all who fought on the wall, and slaughtered those they encountered. They killed no fewer than twenty thousand.

10:18 No fewer than nine thousand fled together into two very strong towers, which had everything necessary to withstand a siege.

10:19 Maccabeus left Simon and Joseph, and also Zacchaeus with his men, a sufficient force to besiege them, and himself departed for places requiring urgent attention.

10:20 But Simon's men, in their love of money, were persuaded with silver by some of those in the towers. Receiving seventy thousand drachmas, they let some slip away.

10:21 When Maccabeus was informed of what had happened, he gathered the people's leaders and accused them of selling their brothers for money by releasing enemies against them.

10:22 He therefore put these men to death as traitors and immediately captured the two towers.

10:23 Succeeding in everything by the weapons in his hands, he destroyed more than twenty thousand in the two fortresses.

10:24 Timothy, who had previously been defeated by the Jews, gathered very numerous foreign forces and assembled not a few horses from Asia. He arrived intending to take Judea by force of arms.

10:25 As he approached, Maccabeus and his men sprinkled earth on their heads and girded their waists with sackcloth in supplication to God.

10:26 Falling down on the platform opposite the altar, they asked Him to become merciful to them, to be an enemy to their enemies and oppose their opponents, as the law declares.

10:27 Rising from their petition, they took up their weapons and advanced some distance from the city. When they had approached the enemy, they remained by themselves.

10:28 Just as the sunrise spread, the two sides attacked: the one had, together with courage, their refuge in the Lord as a guarantee of success and victory, while the other appointed anger as the leader of their battles.

10:29 As the battle became fierce, five splendid men appeared to the enemy from heaven on horses with golden bridles, leading the Jews.

10:30 They took Maccabeus into their midst and sheltered him with their own armour, keeping him unwounded. They hurled arrows and thunderbolts at the enemy, who, confused by blindness and filled with turmoil, were cut down.

10:31 Twenty thousand five hundred were slaughtered, and six hundred horsemen.

10:32 Timothy himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a very strong fortress, where Chaereas was commander.

10:33 Maccabeus and his men eagerly besieged the fortress for four days.

10:34 Those inside, trusting in the strength of the place, blasphemed excessively and uttered unlawful words.

10:35 As the fifth day dawned, twenty young men of Maccabeus's company, burning with anger because of the blasphemies, attacked the wall courageously and cut down whoever they met with a beast-like fury.

10:36 Others likewise climbed up while those inside were distracted, set the towers on fire, and kindled fires that burned the blasphemers alive. Others broke through the gates, admitted the rest of the division, and took possession of the city.

10:37 They slaughtered Timothy, who was hiding in a cistern, and his brother Chaereas and Apollophanes.

10:38 Having done these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgiving, for He greatly benefited Israel and gave them victory.

2 Maccabees 11

11:1 After a very short interval, Lysias, the king's guardian, kinsman and chief minister, was deeply distressed at what had happened.

11:2 Gathering about eighty thousand men and all the cavalry, he came against the Jews, intending to make the city a dwelling for Greeks,

11:3 to make the temple subject to taxation like the other nations' sacred precincts, and to put the high priesthood up for sale each year.

11:4 He took no account at all of God's might, but was elated by his tens of thousands of infantry, his thousands of horsemen, and his eighty elephants.

11:5 Entering Judea, he approached Beth-zur, a fortified place about five stadia from Jerusalem, and pressed it hard.

11:6 When Maccabeus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they, together with the crowds, implored the Lord with lamentations and tears to send a good angel for Israel's deliverance.

11:7 Maccabeus himself was the first to take up his weapons. He urged the others to share the danger with him and help their brothers. Together and eagerly they set out.

11:8 While they were there near Jerusalem, a horseman in white clothing appeared leading them, brandishing golden armour.

11:9 Together they all blessed the merciful God and grew strong in spirit, ready to pierce not only human beings but the fiercest wild animals and iron walls.

11:10 They advanced in battle array with their Ally from heaven, the Lord having shown them mercy.

11:11 Rushing like lions upon the enemy, they struck down eleven thousand of them and sixteen hundred horsemen; they forced all the rest to flee.

11:12 Most of them escaped wounded and stripped; Lysias himself also escaped by fleeing disgracefully.

11:13 Being no fool, he considered the defeat that had befallen him and realized that the Hebrews were invincible while the mighty God was their ally.

11:14 He sent to persuade them to settle on every just condition, declaring that he would also persuade the king and compel him to become their friend.

11:15 Maccabeus consented to everything Lysias proposed, taking thought for what was beneficial. For the king granted all the requests concerning the Jews that Maccabeus submitted to Lysias in writing.

11:16 The letters written to the Jews contained these words. From Lysias: "Lysias to the multitude of the Jews, greetings.

11:17 John and Absalom, your envoys, presented the document appended below and requested the matters indicated in it.

11:18 Whatever also needed to be brought before the king, I explained; and he granted what was possible.

11:19 If, then, you maintain your goodwill toward the government, I will also attempt in future to help bring about good things for you.

11:20 Concerning these matters and their particulars, I have instructed both these men and my own representatives to speak with you.

11:21 Farewell. In the one hundred forty-eighth year, on the twenty-fourth of Dios Corinthios."

11:22 The king's letter contained these words: "King Antiochus to his brother Lysias, greetings.

11:23 Since our father has departed to the gods, we desire those in the kingdom to be free from disturbance and attend to their own affairs.

11:24 We have heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's change to Greek customs, but choose their own way of life and ask that their lawful practices be permitted.

11:25 Wishing therefore that this nation also be free from disturbance, we decide that their temple be restored to them and that they conduct their lives according to their ancestors' customs.

11:26 You will therefore do well to send to them and give pledges, so that, knowing our policy, they may be of good heart and happily devote themselves to the management of their own affairs."

11:27 The king's letter to the nation was as follows: "King Antiochus to the council of elders of the Jews and the other Jews, greetings.

11:28 If you are well, it is as we wish. We ourselves are also in good health.

11:29 Menelaus has informed us that you wish to return and attend to your own affairs.

11:30 Those who return by the thirtieth of Xanthicus will have a pledge of safe conduct,

11:31 permitting the Jews to use their own foods and laws as before. None of them shall be troubled in any way for offences committed in ignorance.

11:32 I have also sent Menelaus to encourage you.

11:33 Farewell. In the one hundred forty-eighth year, on the fifteenth of Xanthicus."

11:34 The Romans also sent them a letter with these words: "Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greetings.

11:35 Regarding what Lysias, the king's kinsman, has granted you, we also give our approval.

11:36 As for the matters he decided should be referred to the king, consider them and send someone immediately, so that we may set them forth as is appropriate for you, for we are proceeding to Antioch.

11:37 Therefore hurry and send some men, so that we too may know what your judgment is.

11:38 Be in good health. In the one hundred forty-eighth year, on the fifteenth of Xanthicus."

2 Maccabees 12

12:1 When these agreements had been made, Lysias went away to the king, and the Jews turned to farming.

12:2 But among the local governors, Timothy and Apollonius son of Gennaeus, as well as Hieronymus and Demophon, and besides them Nicanor, commander of Cyprus, would not allow them to remain settled and live quietly.

12:3 The people of Joppa committed this great impiety. They invited the Jews living among them to board boats that they had provided, with their wives and children, as though there were no hostility toward them,

12:4 in accordance with the city's common decree. The Jews accepted, wishing to live peaceably and suspecting nothing; but the people took them out to sea and drowned no fewer than two hundred.

12:5 When Judas learned of the cruelty committed against his fellow countrymen, he gave orders to the men with him.

12:6 Calling upon God, the righteous Judge, he came against his brothers' murderers. By night he burned the harbour and set the boats ablaze, and stabbed those who had fled there.

12:7 Since the town was shut, he withdrew, intending to return and uproot the whole community of Joppa.

12:8 Learning also that the people of Jamnia intended to act in the same way toward the Jews living among them,

12:9 he attacked the Jamnites by night and set fire to the harbour with its fleet. The radiance of the blaze was visible in Jerusalem, two hundred forty stadia away.

12:10 After they had withdrawn nine stadia from there, on their way toward Timothy, Arabs attacked him, no fewer than five thousand, with five hundred horsemen.

12:11 A fierce battle took place, and Judas's men succeeded through God's help. Defeated, the nomads asked Judas to give them pledges, promising to give livestock and assist them in other matters.

12:12 Judas, thinking that they could indeed be useful in many ways, agreed to make peace with them. They received pledges and departed to their tents.

12:13 He also attacked a city strong with earthworks and enclosed by walls, inhabited by a mixture of nations, and named Caspin.

12:14 Those inside trusted in the strength of the walls and the stock of provisions. They treated Judas's men rudely, insulting them, and moreover blaspheming and saying things that were unlawful.

12:15 Judas's men called upon the great Sovereign of the world, who in Joshua's time threw down Jericho without battering rams or mechanical engines, and rushed like wild animals against the wall.

12:16 Taking the city by God's will, they carried out indescribable slaughter, so that the adjacent lake, two stadia wide, appeared filled with flowing blood.

12:17 After withdrawing seven hundred fifty stadia from there, they reached Charax, among the Jews called Toubiani.

12:18 They did not find Timothy in those regions, for he had then left without accomplishing his purpose, but had left a very strong garrison in one place.

12:19 Dositheus and Sosipater, commanders under Maccabeus, marched out and destroyed those whom Timothy had left in the stronghold, more than ten thousand men.

12:20 Maccabeus arranged his army in companies, placed those men over the companies, and rushed against Timothy, who had with him one hundred twenty thousand infantry and twenty-five hundred horsemen.

12:21 When Timothy learned of Judas's advance, he sent the women, children and remaining baggage ahead to the place called Carnion, for the place was difficult to besiege and difficult to approach because of the narrowness of all the approaches.

12:22 When Judas's first company appeared, dread came upon the enemy. Fear fell upon them through the manifestation of the One who watches all things, and they rushed into flight, scattering in different directions, so that they were often injured by their own men and pierced by the points of their swords.

12:23 Judas pursued them with greater vigor, stabbing the accursed men and destroying about thirty thousand.

12:24 Timothy himself fell into the hands of Dositheus's and Sosipater's men. With much deceitful persuasion he begged them to release him unharmed, because he held the parents of many and the brothers of some, and these would come to be disregarded.

12:25 After he had guaranteed in many ways his undertaking to restore them unharmed, they released him for their brothers' deliverance.

12:26 Judas went out against Carnion and the sanctuary of Atargatis and slaughtered twenty-five thousand people.

12:27 After their defeat and destruction, he also marched against Ephron, a fortified city where Lysias and mixed multitudes lived. Strong young men stood before the walls and defended themselves vigorously; there were also large stores of engines and missiles there.

12:28 Calling upon the Sovereign who powerfully shatters the strength of enemies, they brought the city under their control and struck down about twenty-five thousand of those inside.

12:29 Departing from there, they rushed toward Scythopolis, six hundred stadia from Jerusalem.

12:30 The Jews living there testified to the goodwill the Scythopolitans had shown them and their humane treatment in times of misfortune.

12:31 They thanked them and further urged them to remain favourable to their people in future, then came to Jerusalem as the Festival of Weeks drew near.

12:32 After the festival called Pentecost, they rushed against Gorgias, governor of Idumea.

12:33 He came out with three thousand infantry and four hundred horsemen.

12:34 When they drew up for battle, a few of the Jews happened to fall.

12:35 A certain Dositheus, one of Bacenor’s men, a strong cavalryman, caught hold of Gorgias. Grasping his cloak, he dragged him forcefully, wishing to capture the accursed man alive. But one of the Thracian horsemen rushed upon him and struck away his shoulder, and Gorgias escaped to Marisa.

12:36 When Esdris’s men had been fighting for a long time and were exhausted, Judas called upon the Lord to appear as their ally and leader of the war.

12:37 Beginning the cry with hymns in their ancestral language, he rushed unexpectedly upon Gorgias’s forces and put them to flight.

12:38 Judas took his army and came to the city of Adullam. As the seventh day was approaching, they purified themselves according to custom and observed the Sabbath there.

12:39 On the following day, when it had become necessary, Judas’s men came to recover the bodies of the fallen and place them with their kinsmen in the ancestral tombs.

12:40 Under the tunics of each of the dead they found sacred objects of the idols from Jamnia, things from which the law excludes the Jews. It became clear to everyone that these men had fallen for this reason.

12:41 They all therefore blessed the deeds of the Lord, the righteous Judge who makes hidden things manifest,

12:42 and turned to supplication, asking that the sin committed might be completely blotted out. The noble Judas urged the multitude to keep themselves free from sin, having seen with their own eyes what had happened because of the sin of those who had fallen.

12:43 He took up a collection from each man, amounting to two thousand drachmas of silver, and sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin. He acted very well and nobly, considering the resurrection.

12:44 For if he did not expect those who had fallen to rise again, it would have been superfluous and foolish to pray for the dead.

12:45 But if he was looking to the finest reward laid up for those who fall asleep in piety, the thought was holy and devout. Therefore he made atonement for the dead, so that they might be released from their sin.

2 Maccabees 13

13:1 In the one hundred forty-ninth year, word reached Judas and his men that Antiochus Eupator had come against Judea with multitudes,

13:2 and with him Lysias, his guardian and chief minister, each having a Greek force of one hundred ten thousand infantry, fifty-three hundred horsemen, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred scythe-bearing chariots.

13:3 Menelaus also joined them and urged Antiochus on with much deceit, not for his homeland’s deliverance, but thinking that he would be restored to office.

13:4 But the King of kings stirred Antiochus’s anger against the accursed man. When Lysias pointed out that he was the cause of all the evils, Antiochus ordered that he be taken to Beroea and destroyed according to the custom of that place.

13:5 In that place there is a tower fifty cubits high, full of ashes. It had a revolving device with a sheer drop on every side into the ashes.

13:6 There they all push to destruction anyone guilty of temple robbery or notorious for certain other evils.

13:7 By such a fate the lawless Menelaus happened to die, receiving not even a place in the earth.

13:8 And most justly: since he had committed many sins against the altar, whose fire and ashes were pure, he received his death in ashes.

13:9 The king, made barbarous in his intentions, was coming to show the Jews evils worse than those that had occurred in his father’s time.

13:10 When Judas learned these things, he ordered the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, that if ever He had helped them before, He would help them now as they were about to be deprived of the law, homeland and holy temple,

13:11 and would not permit the people, who had only just gained a little respite, to fall under the power of blasphemous nations.

13:12 All did the same together and entreated the merciful Lord with weeping, fasts and prostration for three days without ceasing. Judas encouraged them and ordered them to assemble.

13:13 Meeting privately with the elders, he resolved that before the king's army entered Judea and gained control of the city, they should go out and decide matters with God's help.

13:14 Entrusting the outcome to the Creator of the world, he urged those with him to fight nobly to the death for laws, temple, city, homeland and civic life. He made his encampment near Modein.

13:15 Giving his men "God's victory" as the watchword, he attacked the royal quarters in the camp by night with selected young men of the finest quality. He killed about two thousand men and stabbed the leading elephant together with the man in its tower.

13:16 Finally they filled the camp with dread and confusion and departed successfully.

13:17 This had taken place just as day was dawning, because of the Lord's protection that helped him.

13:18 The king, having tasted the Jews' boldness, tried to take the places by stratagem.

13:19 He advanced against Beth-zur, a strong fortress of the Jews; he was routed, repulsed and defeated.

13:20 Judas sent necessary supplies to those inside.

13:21 Rhodocus, one of the Jewish ranks, disclosed the secrets to the enemy. He was sought out, caught and imprisoned.

13:22 The king negotiated a second time with those in Beth-zur, gave a pledge, received one, and went away. He attacked Judas's men and was defeated.

13:23 He learned that Philip, whom he had left in charge of affairs in Antioch, had lost his senses. Disturbed, he appealed to the Jews, submitted and swore to all just conditions. He made a settlement, offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and treated the place kindly.

13:24 He warmly received Maccabeus and left Hegemonides as governor from Ptolemais to the territory of the Gerrhenes.

13:25 He came to Ptolemais. The people of Ptolemais were distressed about the agreements, for they were so indignant that they wished to annul the provisions.

13:26 Lysias went up to the platform, offered such a defence as was possible, persuaded them, calmed them, won their goodwill, and departed for Antioch. Thus unfolded the events of the king's expedition and withdrawal.

2 Maccabees 14

14:1 After a period of three years, word reached Judas and his men that Demetrius son of Seleucus had sailed into the harbour at Tripolis with a strong force and a fleet,

14:2 had gained control of the country, and had done away with Antiochus and his guardian Lysias.

14:3 A certain Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest but had willingly defiled himself during the times of separation, realized that there was no way for him to obtain deliverance or regain access to the holy altar.

14:4 About the one hundred fifty-first year he came to King Demetrius, bringing him a golden crown and a palm, and also some of the customary temple branches. That day he remained quiet.

14:5 He found an opportunity to assist his own folly when Demetrius summoned him to a council and asked what disposition and policy the Jews had adopted. He answered,

14:6 "Those Jews called Hasideans, whose leader is Judas Maccabeus, foster war and rebellion, preventing the kingdom from obtaining stability.

14:7 Therefore, having been deprived of my ancestral honour—I mean the high priesthood—I have now come here,

14:8 first because I am sincerely concerned for the king's interests, and second because I seek the good of my own fellow citizens. For through the thoughtlessness of those men, our whole people suffer no small misfortune.

14:9 Now that you know each of these things, O king, take thought for the country and our distressed people, in accordance with your readily bestowed humanity toward everyone.

14:10 For as long as Judas survives, public affairs cannot find peace."

14:11 When he had said such things, the other friends who were hostile to Judas quickly inflamed Demetrius further.

14:12 He immediately selected Nicanor, the former commander of the elephants, appointed him governor of Judea, and sent him out,

14:13 with orders to kill Judas himself, scatter those with him, and appoint Alcimus high priest of the greatest temple.

14:14 The nations in Judea who had driven Judas into exile joined Nicanor in crowds, thinking the Jews' misfortunes and disasters would become their own successes.

14:15 When Judas's men heard of Nicanor's advance and the attack of the nations, they sprinkled earth on themselves and entreated the One who established His own people for ever and always assists His own portion by a manifestation.

14:16 When their leader gave the command, he immediately set out from there and met them at a village called Dessau.

14:17 Simon, Judas's brother, had engaged Nicanor, but had faltered for a time because of the opponents' sudden silence.

14:18 Nevertheless, Nicanor heard of the courage of Judas's men and their spirit in struggles for their homeland, and was wary of deciding the matter through bloodshed.

14:19 Therefore he sent Posidonius, Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges.

14:20 After prolonged consideration of these matters, the leader consulted the multitudes. A unanimous opinion emerged, and they consented to the agreements.

14:21 They appointed a day on which they would meet privately in the same place. A chariot came forward from each side, and they set out seats.

14:22 Judas stationed armed men ready at strategic places, lest the enemy suddenly attempt some treachery. They held an appropriate conference.

14:23 Nicanor remained in Jerusalem and did nothing out of place; he dismissed the crowds that had assembled in throngs.

14:24 He kept Judas continually in his presence, having become deeply attached to the man.

14:25 He urged him to marry and have children. Judas married, settled down and shared in ordinary life.

14:26 Alcimus saw their goodwill toward one another and obtained the agreements they had made. He went to Demetrius and said that Nicanor's intentions were disloyal to the government, for he had appointed Judas, the kingdom's conspirator, as his successor.

14:27 The king became furious and, provoked by the thoroughly wicked man's slanders, wrote to Nicanor, declaring his distress over the agreements and ordering him to send Maccabeus in chains to Antioch immediately.

14:28 When these instructions reached Nicanor, he was dismayed and distressed at the prospect of annulling the settlement when the man had done no wrong.

14:29 But since he could not oppose the king, he watched for a suitable moment to accomplish this by stratagem.

14:30 Maccabeus saw that Nicanor was dealing more harshly with him and that their customary meeting had become less courteous. Recognizing that the harshness had no good cause, he gathered not a few of his men and concealed himself from Nicanor.

14:31 The other man realized that Judas had skillfully outmaneuvered him. He went to the greatest and holy temple while the priests were offering the required sacrifices and ordered them to hand over the man.

14:32 When they declared with oaths that they did not know where the man being sought was,

14:33 he stretched his right hand toward the temple and swore, "Unless you hand Judas over to me in chains, I will make this enclosure of God a level plain, tear down the altar, and erect here a splendid temple for Dionysus."

14:34 Having said this, he departed. The priests stretched their hands toward heaven and called upon the One who continually defends our nation, saying,

14:35 "Thou, Lord of all, hast need of nothing, yet Thou wast pleased that a temple for Thy dwelling should come into being among us.

14:36 And now, holy Lord of all sanctification, preserve this recently purified house undefiled for ever."

14:37 A certain Razis, one of Jerusalem's elders, was reported to Nicanor: a man who loved his fellow citizens, was very well spoken of, and because of his goodwill was called a father of the Jews.

14:38 For in the earlier times of separation he had incurred a judgment for Judaism, risking both body and soul for Judaism with complete earnestness.

14:39 Nicanor, wishing to make his hostility toward the Jews evident, sent more than five hundred soldiers to arrest him, 14:40 for he thought that by arresting him he would inflict a disaster upon them.

14:41 As the multitudes were about to take the tower, forcing the courtyard door and ordering fire to be brought to set the doors alight, Razis, surrounded, thrust his sword into himself,

14:42 wishing to die nobly rather than fall under the power of the accursed men and be outraged in a manner unworthy of his own nobility.

14:43 But because of the haste of the struggle he did not strike accurately. As the crowds rushed inside the doorways, he ran bravely up onto the wall and hurled himself courageously down into the crowds.

14:44 They quickly drew back, leaving a space, and he fell into the middle of the empty area.

14:45 Still breathing and burning with anger, he rose. Although his blood streamed out and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds and stood on a projecting rock.

14:46 By now entirely drained of blood, he pulled out his entrails, took them in both hands and hurled them at the crowds. Calling upon the Master of life and spirit to give these back to him again, he departed in this manner.

2 Maccabees 15

15:1 Nicanor learned that Judas and his men were in the regions of Samaria and planned to attack them in complete security on the day of rest.

15:2 The Jews who were compelled to accompany him said, “Do not destroy so savagely and barbarously, but assign honour to the day that the One who watches all things has especially honoured with holiness.”

15:3 The thrice-accursed man asked whether there was a Sovereign in heaven who had commanded the observance of the Sabbath day.

15:4 They declared, “The living Lord Himself is the Sovereign in heaven, who commanded that the seventh day be observed.”

15:5 But he said, “And I am a sovereign on earth, who commands that weapons be taken up and the king’s business carried out.” Nevertheless he did not succeed in accomplishing his cruel intention.

15:6 Nicanor, holding his neck high in all arrogance, had determined to erect a common trophy over Judas and his men.

15:7 But Maccabeus remained continually confident, with every hope of receiving help from the Lord.

15:8 He urged those with him not to fear the nations’ advance, but to remember the help they had previously received from heaven and now expect the victory that would come to them from the Almighty.

15:9 Encouraging them from the law and the prophets, and reminding them also of the struggles they had completed, he made them more eager.

15:10 Arousing their spirits, he gave orders while also pointing out the nations’ faithlessness and violation of their oaths.

15:11 Arming each of them with the encouragement of good words more than with the security of shields and lances, he also related a trustworthy dream, a kind of waking vision, and gladdened them all.

15:12 Its vision was as follows: Onias, the former high priest, a noble and good man, modest in his encounters, gentle in character, speaking fittingly, and practiced from childhood in everything belonging to virtue, stretched out his hands and prayed for the whole community of the Jews.

15:13 Then another man appeared, distinguished by gray hair and glory, surrounded by a wondrous and most magnificent majesty.

15:14 Onias spoke and said, “This is the lover of the brothers, who prays much for the people and the holy city: Jeremiah, God’s prophet.”

15:15 Jeremiah stretched out his right hand and handed Judas a golden sword. As he gave it, he addressed him in these words:

15:16 “Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with which you will shatter the adversaries.”

15:17 Encouraged by Judas’s very fine words, which could incite them to virtue and strengthen the young men’s souls, they decided not to campaign, but to charge nobly and, engaging with all courage, decide the matter, because the city, the holy things and the temple were in danger.

15:18 For concern for wives and children, and also brothers and kinsmen, occupied a lesser place with them; greatest and foremost was their fear for the consecrated temple.

15:19 Those confined within the city also had no minor anguish, troubled about the attack in the open country.

15:20 Everyone was now awaiting the coming decision. The enemy had already approached, the army had been drawn up, the beasts positioned at a suitable point, and the cavalry stationed on the wing.

15:21 Maccabeus saw the arrival of the multitudes, their varied equipment of weapons, and the beasts’ savagery. Stretching his hands toward heaven, he called upon the wonder-working Lord, knowing that victory does not come through weapons, but that He obtains it for the worthy as He judges.

15:22 He called upon Him in this way: “Thou, Master, didst send Thine angel in the time of Hezekiah, king of Judea, and he killed about one hundred eighty-five thousand in Sennacherib’s camp.

15:23 Now also, Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring dread and trembling.

15:24 By the greatness of Thine arm, may those who come with blasphemy against Thy holy people be struck with terror.” With these words he ended.

15:25 Nicanor’s men advanced with trumpets and battle hymns.

15:26 But Judas’s men met the enemy with invocation and prayers.

15:27 Fighting with their hands and praying to God with their hearts, they struck down no fewer than thirty-five thousand, greatly gladdened by God’s manifestation.

15:28 When they had finished the engagement and were returning with joy, they recognized that Nicanor had fallen in his full armour.

15:29 Amid shouting and commotion, they blessed the Sovereign in their ancestral language.

15:30 The man who had fought foremost for his fellow citizens with his whole body and soul, preserving the goodwill of his youth toward his countrymen, ordered Nicanor’s head and his hand with the shoulder to be cut off and carried to Jerusalem.

15:31 When he arrived there, he called his fellow countrymen together, stationed the priests before the altar, and sent for those in the citadel.

15:32 He displayed the defiled Nicanor’s head and the blasphemer’s hand, which he had stretched out against the holy house of the Almighty while boasting.

15:33 He cut out the impious Nicanor’s tongue and said that it should be given piece by piece to the birds, and that the rewards of his folly should be hung opposite the temple.

15:34 They all blessed the manifested Lord toward heaven, saying, “Blessed is He who has preserved His own place undefiled.”

15:35 He hung Nicanor’s head from the citadel as an evident and visible sign to everyone of the Lord’s help.

15:36 By a common vote they all decreed that this day must never be left unmarked, but that they should specially observe the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, called Adar in the Syrian language, one day before Mordecai’s day.

15:37 Since the matters concerning Nicanor unfolded in this way, and from that time the city was held by the Hebrews, I too will end my account here.

15:38 If it is well composed and to the point, that is what I myself desired; if it is slight and mediocre, that is what I could achieve.

15:39 For drinking wine by itself, and likewise water by itself, is harmful; but just as wine mixed with water is sweet and produces a delightful pleasure, so the arrangement of the account delights the ears of those who encounter the composition. Here shall be the end.

Ezra

Ezra 1

1:1 In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, so that the Lord’s word through Jeremiah’s mouth might be fulfilled, the Lord stirred the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians. He ordered a proclamation throughout his kingdom, also in writing, saying:

1:2 “Thus says Cyrus king of the Persians: The Lord, God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and He has charged me to build Him a house in Jerusalem in Judea.

1:3 Who among you belongs to any of His people? His God will be with him, and he will go up to Jerusalem in Judea. Let him build the house of the God of Israel—He is the God in Jerusalem.

1:4 As for everyone left behind, from whatever place he resides in, the men of his place will take him up with silver, gold, belongings and livestock, together with the freewill offering for the house of God in Jerusalem.”

1:5 The leaders of the families of Judah and Benjamin, the priests and the Levites arose, of all those whose spirit God had stirred to go up and build the Lord’s house in Jerusalem.

1:6 All those around them strengthened their hands with silver vessels, gold, belongings, livestock and gifts of hospitality, apart from the freewill offerings.

1:7 King Cyrus brought out the vessels of the Lord’s house that Nebuchadnezzar had taken from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his god.

1:8 Cyrus king of the Persians brought them out through Mithradates the gasbaren, who counted them out to Sasabasar, the ruler of Judah.

1:9 This was their number: thirty gold cooling vessels, a thousand silver cooling vessels, twenty-nine miscellaneous items;

1:10 thirty gold kephphoure, two hundred silver ones, and a thousand other vessels.

1:11 All the gold and silver vessels numbered five thousand four hundred; all went up with Sasabasar from the deportation, out of Babylon to Jerusalem.

Ezra 2

2:1 These are the sons of the land who came up from the captivity of the deportation, whom Nabouchodonosor king of Babylon had deported to Babylon. They returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each man to his own city,

2:2 who came with Zorobabel: Iesous, Neemias, Saraias, Reelias, Mardochaios, Balasan, Masphar, Bagoui, Reoum and Baana. The number of the men of the people of Israel:

2:3 The sons of Phoros: two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.

2:4 The sons of Saphatia: three hundred and seventy-two.

2:5 The sons of Era: seven hundred and seventy-five.

2:6 The sons of Phaathmoab, belonging to the sons of Iesoue and Ioab: two thousand eight hundred and twelve.

2:7 The sons of Ailam: one thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

2:8 The sons of Zathoua: nine hundred and forty-five.

2:9 The sons of Zakchou: seven hundred and sixty.

2:10 The sons of Banoui: six hundred and forty-two.

2:11 The sons of Babi: six hundred and twenty-three.

2:12 The sons of Asgad: three thousand two hundred and twenty-two.

2:13 The sons of Adonikam: six hundred and sixty-six.

2:14 The sons of Bagoi: two thousand and fifty-six.

2:15 The sons of Adin: four hundred and fifty-four.

2:16 The sons of Ater, belonging to Ezekia: ninety-eight.

2:17 The sons of Basou: three hundred and twenty-three.

2:18 The sons of Iora: one hundred and twelve.

2:19 The sons of Asem: two hundred and twenty-three.

2:20 The sons of Gaber: ninety-five.

2:21 The sons of Bethlehem: one hundred and twenty-three.

2:22 The sons of Netopha: fifty-six.

2:23 The sons of Anathoth: one hundred and twenty-eight.

2:24 The sons of Asmoth: forty-two.

2:25 The sons of Kariathiarim, Kaphira and Beroth: seven hundred and forty-three.

2:26 The sons of Arama and Gabaa: six hundred and twenty-one.

2:27 The men of Machmas: one hundred and twenty-two.

2:28 The men of Bethel and Aia: four hundred and twenty-three.

2:29 The sons of Nabou: fifty-two.

2:30 The sons of Magebos: one hundred and fifty-six.

2:31 The sons of Elam-ar: one thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

2:32 The sons of Eram: three hundred and twenty.

2:33 The sons of Lod, Aroth and Ono: seven hundred and twenty-five.

2:34 The sons of Jericho: three hundred and forty-five.

2:35 The sons of Sanaa: three thousand six hundred and thirty.

2:36 The priests: the sons of Iedoua, belonging to the house of Iesous: nine hundred and seventy-three.

2:37 The sons of Emmer: one thousand and fifty-two.

2:38 The sons of Phassour: one thousand two hundred and forty-seven.

2:39 The sons of Erem: one thousand and seven.

2:40 The Levites: the sons of Iesous and Kadmiel, belonging to the sons of Odouia: seventy-four.

2:41 The singers: the sons of Asaph: one hundred and twenty-eight.

2:42 The sons of the gatekeepers: the sons of Saloum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Telmon, the sons of Akoub, the sons of Atita and the sons of Sabaou: all together, one hundred and thirty-nine.

2:43 The Nathinaians: the sons of Souia, the sons of Asouphe, the sons of Tabaoth;

2:44 the sons of Keraos, the sons of Soea, the sons of Phadon;

2:45 the sons of Labano, the sons of Agaba, the sons of Akaboth;

2:46 the sons of Agab, the sons of Samalai, the sons of Anan;

2:47 the sons of Kedel, the sons of Gaer, the sons of Reea;

2:48 the sons of Rason, the sons of Nekoda, the sons of Gazem;

2:49 the sons of Ousa, the sons of Phase, the sons of Basi;

2:50 the sons of Asena, the sons of Maonim, the sons of Naphison;

2:51 the sons of Bakbouk, the sons of Akipha, the sons of Arour;

2:52 the sons of Basaloth, the sons of Maouda, the sons of Aresa;

2:53 the sons of Barkous, the sons of Sisara, the sons of Thema;

2:54 The sons of Nasoue, the sons of Atoupha.

2:55 The sons of Abdeselma: the sons of Sati, the sons of Asepherath, the sons of Phadoura;

2:56 the sons of Ieela, the sons of Darkon, the sons of Gedel;

2:57 The sons of Saphatia, the sons of Atil, the sons of Phacherath-aseboin, the sons of Emi.

2:58 All the Nathinin and the sons of Abdeselma: three hundred and ninety-two.

2:59 These came up from Thelmeleth, Thelaresha, Charoub, Edan and Emmer, but they were unable to declare their family house and their descent, whether they were from Israel:

2:60 the sons of Dalaia, the sons of Boua, the sons of Tobia and the sons of Nekoda: six hundred and fifty-two.

2:61 And from the sons of the priests: the sons of Chabia, the sons of Akous and the sons of Berzellai, who had taken a wife from the daughters of Berzellai the Galaadite and was called by their name.

2:62 These—the methoesim—sought their record, but they were not found, and they were excluded from the priesthood on grounds of descent.

2:63 Athersatha told them not to eat of the most holy things until a priest arose with the illuminating things and the perfect things.

2:64 The whole assembly, as one, was forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty,

2:65 apart from their male slaves and female slaves, these being seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven; and these male and female singers were two hundred.

2:66 Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six; their mules, two hundred and forty-five;

2:67 their camels, four hundred and thirty-five; their donkeys, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.

2:68 Some of the family leaders, when they came to the Lord’s house in Jerusalem, made freewill offerings for the house of God, to establish it on its prepared place.

2:69 According to their ability, they gave to the treasury for the work: pure gold, sixty-one thousand minas; silver, five thousand minas; and one hundred priests’ kothonoi.

2:70 The priests, the Levites, those from the people, the singers, the gatekeepers and the Nathinim settled in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

Ezra 3

3:1 The seventh month arrived—the sons of Israel being in their cities—and the people gathered as one man in Jerusalem.

3:2 Iesous son of Iosedek and his brothers the priests, and Zorobabel son of Salathiel and his brothers, arose and built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer whole burnt offerings upon it according to what is written in the law of Moses, the man of God.

3:3 They prepared the altar on its prepared place, for terror from the peoples of the lands was upon them. A whole burnt offering went up upon it to the Lord, in the morning and toward evening.

3:4 They kept the Festival of Booths according to what was written, with whole burnt offerings day by day in the number required by the ordinance, each day's due on its own day,

3:5 and afterward continual whole burnt offerings, those for the new moons and all the consecrated festivals, and for everyone freely presenting a freewill offering to the Lord.

3:6 On day one of the seventh month they began offering whole burnt offerings to the Lord, though the Lord's house had not been founded.

3:7 They gave silver to the stonecutters and craftsmen, and food, drink and oil to the Sedanin and Sorin, to bring cedar timber from Lebanon to the sea at Joppa, according to the concession of Cyrus king of the Persians to them.

3:8 In the second year after their arrival at the house of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, Zorobabel son of Salathiel, Iesous son of Iosedek, the rest of their brothers the priests and Levites, and all who had come from captivity to Jerusalem began. They set the Levites from twenty years old and upward over those doing the work in the Lord's house.

3:9 Iesous and his sons and his brothers, Kadmiel and his sons, sons of Judah, stood over those doing the work in the house of God; also the sons of Enadad, their sons and their brothers the Levites.

3:10 They laid the foundation for building the Lord's house, and the priests stood in their vestments with trumpets, and the Levites, sons of Asaph, with cymbals, to praise the Lord according to the directions of David king of Israel.

3:11 They answered in praise and thanksgiving to the Lord: "For it is good, for His mercy toward Israel endures for ever." All the people sounded a great cry of praise to the Lord at the founding of the Lord's house.

3:12 Many of the priests and Levites and leaders of the families—the elders who had seen the first house at its founding, and who saw this house before their eyes—wept with a loud voice; and the multitude cried aloud with joy to raise a song.

3:13 The people could not distinguish the sound of the joyful signal from the sound of the people's weeping, for the people cried out with a loud voice, and the sound was heard far away.

Ezra 4

4:1 Those who oppressed Judah and Benjamin heard that the sons of the deportation were building a house for the Lord, God of Israel.

4:2 They approached Zorobabel and the family leaders and said to them, "We will build with you, for like you we seek your God, and to Him we have been sacrificing since the days of Asaraddon king of Assour, who brought us here."

4:3 Zorobabel, Iesous and the remaining leaders of Israel's families said to them, "It is not for us and you to build a house for our God. We ourselves together will build for the Lord our God, as Cyrus king of the Persians commanded us."

4:4 The people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah and hindered them from building,

4:5 hiring against them those who took counsel to scatter their plan, all the days of Cyrus king of the Persians and until the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

4:6 In the reign of Asoueros, at the beginning of his reign, they wrote a letter against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

4:7 In the days of Arthasastha, Tabeel, together with the rest of his fellow slaves, wrote in peace for Mithradates to Arthasastha king of the Persians. The tax collector wrote a document in Syrian, and it was interpreted.

4:8 Raoum the baaltam and Samsai the scribe wrote one letter against Jerusalem to Arthasastha the king.

4:9 These things were decided by Raoum the baaltam, Samsai the scribe and the rest of our fellow slaves—the Dinaians, Apharsathachaians, Tarphallaians, Apharsaians, Archyaians, Babylonians and Sousanachaians, who are Elamites,

4:10 and the remaining nations whom the great and honored Asennaphar had deported and settled in the cities of Somoron, and the remainder beyond the river.

4:11 This is the wording of the letter they sent him: "To Arthasastha the king: your servants, men beyond the river.

4:12 Let it be known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have arrived in Jerusalem. They are building the rebellious and wicked city; they have put its walls in order and raised its foundations.

4:13 Now therefore let it be known to the king that if that city is rebuilt and its walls put in order, there will be no taxes for you, nor will they pay them; this harms kings.

4:14 It is not permitted for us to look upon the king's disgrace. Therefore we have sent and informed the king,

4:15 so that a search may be made in the record book of your fathers. You will find and know that this city is rebellious and harms kings and countries, and that there have been flights of slaves within it from ages past. For these reasons this city was laid waste.

4:16 We therefore inform the king that if that city is built and its walls put in order, you will have no peace."

4:17 The king sent peace to Raoum the baaltam, Samsai the scribe, their remaining fellow slaves living in Samaria and the others beyond the river, and he says:

4:18 "The tax collector whom you sent to us was called before me.

4:19 I issued a decision, and we searched and found that this city has risen against kings from ancient days, and rebellions and flights occur within it,

4:20 and mighty kings arise over Jerusalem and hold power over the whole region west of the river, and full taxes and a share are given to them.

4:21 Now issue a decision to stop those men, and that city shall no longer be built, so that, in accordance with the decision,

4:22 you are on your guard against allowing slackness in this matter, lest destruction increase to the harm of kings."

4:23 Then King Arthasastha's tax collector read before Raoum, Samsai the scribe and their fellow slaves. They hurried to Jerusalem and into Judah and stopped them with horses and force.

4:24 Then the work of the house of God in Jerusalem ceased, and it remained idle until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

Ezra 5

5:1 Haggai the prophet and Zacharias son of Addo prophesied a prophecy over the Jews in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel, over them.

5:2 Then Zorobabel son of Salathiel and Iesous son of Iosedek arose and began building the house of God in Jerusalem. God's prophets were with them, helping them.

5:3 At that very time Thanthanai, governor beyond the river, Satharbouzana and their fellow slaves came against them and said, "Who issued you a decision to build this house and put this provision in order?"

5:4 Then they said these things to them: "What are the names of the men building this city?"

5:5 But God's eyes were upon the captivity of Judah, and they did not stop them until a report had been carried to Darius; then word was sent to the tax collector about this.

5:6 An account of the letter that Thanthanai, governor beyond the river, Satharbouzana and their fellow slaves the Apharsachaians beyond the river sent to Darius the king:

5:7 They sent him a statement, and this is written in it: "To Darius the king: all peace.

5:8 Let it be known to the king that we went to the country of Judea, to the house of the great God. It is being built with selected stones, and timber is being placed in the walls. That work is being done skillfully and is advancing well in their hands.

5:9 Then we questioned those elders and said to them, 'Who issued you a decision to build this house and put this provision in order?'

5:10 We also asked them their names to make them known to you, so that we could write to you the names of the men who lead them.

5:11 They answered us with this statement: 'We are slaves of the God of heaven and earth, and we are building the house that was built many years before this. A great king of Israel built it and put it in order

5:12 for them. But from the time our fathers provoked the God of heaven, He gave them into the hands of Nabouchodonosor king of Babylon, the Chaldean. He dismantled this house and deported the people to Babylon.

5:13 But in the first year of Cyrus the king, King Cyrus issued a decision for this house of God to be built.

5:14 And the gold and silver vessels of God's house that Nabouchodonosor took from the house in Jerusalem and carried to the king's sanctuary—King Cyrus took them from the king's sanctuary and gave them to Sasabasar, the treasury keeper in charge of the treasury,

5:15 and said to him, 'Take all the vessels, go and place them in the house in Jerusalem, in their own place.'

5:16 Then that Sasabasar came and laid the foundations of the house of God in Jerusalem. From that time until now it has been built, but it has not been completed.'

5:17 Now, if it pleases the king, let a search be made in the treasury house of the king of Babylon, so that you may know that King Cyrus issued a decision to build that house of God in Jerusalem. When the king has learned about this, let him send word to us."

Ezra 6

6:1 Then Darius the king issued a decision and made a search in the libraries where the treasury is kept in Babylon.

6:2 A scroll was found in a city, in the citadel of the city of the Medes, and this was written in it: "Memorandum:

6:3 In the first year of Cyrus the king, King Cyrus issued a decision concerning the house of God in Jerusalem: Let the house be built, and the place where they sacrifice the sacrifices. He set an elevation: sixty cubits high and sixty cubits wide,

6:4 with three courses of strong stone and one wooden course. The expense will be paid from the king's house.

6:5 And let the silver and gold vessels of God's house, which Nabouchodonosor took from the house in Jerusalem and carried to Babylon, be given back and go to the sanctuary in Jerusalem, to the place where they were set in God's house."

6:6 "Now you shall give, governors beyond the river, Satharbouzana and their fellow slaves the Apharsachaians beyond the river; keeping far away from there,

6:7 leave the work on God's house alone. Let the leaders of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build that house of God on its site.

6:8 I have issued a decision that you must not do anything with the elders of the Jews concerning the building of that house of God. From the king's resources, from the taxes beyond the river, let the expense be diligently supplied to those men, so that it is not stopped.

6:9 Whatever may be lacking—offspring of cattle and of rams, and lambs for whole burnt offerings to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine and oil—let it be given to them day by day according to the word of the priests in Jerusalem, whatever they ask,

6:10 so that they may offer sweet fragrances to the God of heaven and pray for the life of the king and his sons.

6:11 I have also issued a decision: for anyone who changes this word, a timber will be taken down from his house, and he will be raised upright and fastened upon it. His house will be dealt with according to me.

6:12 The God whose name dwells there will overthrow every king and people who stretches out a hand to alter or destroy that house of God in Jerusalem. I, Darius, have issued the decision; it shall be carried out diligently."

6:13 Then Thanthanai, governor beyond the river, Satharbouzana and his fellow slaves acted diligently according to what Darius the king had sent.

6:14 The elders of the Jews and the Levites were building through the prophecy of Haggai the prophet and Zacharias son of Addo. They rebuilt and put it in order by the decree of the God of Israel and by the decree of Cyrus, Darius and Arthasastha, kings of the Persians.

6:15 They completed this house by the third day of the month of Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

6:16 The sons of Israel—the priests, the Levites and the remaining sons of the deportation—celebrated the dedication of God's house with joy.

6:17 For the dedication of God's house they offered one hundred young bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and twelve male goats for sin on behalf of all Israel, according to the number of Israel's tribes.

6:18 They stationed the priests in their divisions and the Levites in their allotted groups over the service of God in Jerusalem, according to the writing of the book of Moses.

6:19 The sons of the deportation kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

6:20 For the priests and Levites had been purified, all clean to the last one. They slaughtered the Passover for all the sons of the deportation, for their brothers the priests and for themselves.

6:21 The sons of Israel ate the Passover, those from the deportation and everyone separating himself from the uncleanness of the nations of the land to join them, to seek the Lord, God of Israel.

6:22 They kept the Festival of Unleavened Bread for seven days with joy, for the Lord had made them joyful and turned the heart of the king of Assour toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the house of the God of Israel.

Ezra 7

7:1 After these events, in the reign of Arthasastha king of the Persians, Esdras went up, son of Saraias, son of Azarias, son of Elkia,

7:2 son of Saloum, son of Saddouk, son of Achitob,

7:3 son of Samaria, son of Esria, son of Mareroth,

7:4 son of Zaraia, son of Saouia, son of Bokki,

7:5 son of Abisoue, son of Phinees, son of Eleazar, son of Aaron the first priest—

7:6 this Esdras came up from Babylon. He was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the Lord, God of Israel, had given. The king granted him his requests, because the hand of the Lord his God was upon him in everything he sought.

7:7 Some of the sons of Israel, the priests and the Levites, together with the singers, gatekeepers and Nathinim, went up to Jerusalem in the seventh year of Arthasastha the king.

7:8 They came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, in the seventh year of the king.

7:9 On day one of the first month he laid the foundation for the ascent from Babylon; on the first day of the fifth month they came to Jerusalem, because the hand of his God was good upon him.

7:10 For Esdras had set it in his heart to seek the law, to do it, and to teach ordinances and judgments in Israel.

7:11 This is the account of the decree that Arthasastha gave Esdras the priest, the scribe of the book of the words of the Lord’s commandments and His ordinances for Israel:

7:12 “Arthasastha, king of kings, to Esdras, scribe of the law of the God of heaven: The word and the answer are completed.

7:13 I have issued a decision that anyone in my kingdom from the people of Israel, the priests and the Levites who freely wishes to go to Jerusalem is to go with you.

7:14 He has been sent from the king and the seven advisers to inspect Judea and Jerusalem by the law of their God that is in your hand,

7:15 and, for the Lord’s house, silver and gold that the king and the advisers have freely offered to the God of Israel who dwells in Jerusalem,

7:16 and all the silver and gold you may find throughout the country of Babylon, with the voluntary offering of the people and priests who freely offer for the house of God in Jerusalem,

7:17 and everything that comes in—readily enter this in this book: young bulls, rams, lambs, their sacrifices and their drink offerings. You shall offer them on the altar of the house of your God in Jerusalem.

7:18 Whatever seems good to you and your brothers to do with the remaining silver and gold, do as is pleasing to your God.

7:19 The vessels given to you for the service of God’s house, hand over before God in Jerusalem.

7:20 Whatever else you think your God’s house needs, you shall provide from the king’s treasury houses.

7:21 I, Arthasastha the king, have issued a decision to all the treasuries beyond the river: whatever Esdras the priest and scribe of the law of the God of heaven asks of you, let it be provided readily,

7:22 up to one hundred talents of silver, one hundred kors of wheat, one hundred bads of wine, one hundred bads of oil, and salt for which there is no written amount.

7:23 Let everything in the decision of the God of heaven be done. Take care that no one attempts anything against the house of the God of heaven, lest wrath come upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.

7:24 It has also been made known to you: from any priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, Nathinim or ministers of this house of God, let there be no tax for you; you shall have no authority to enslave them.

7:25 You, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God in your hand, appoint scribes and judges to judge all the people beyond the river, all who know the law of your God; and you shall make it known to the one who does not know.

7:26 For anyone who does not readily carry out the law of God and the law of the king, judgment shall be executed against him, whether death, discipline, loss of property, or bonds.”

7:27 Blessed be the Lord, the God of our fathers, who put it thus in the king’s heart, to glorify the Lord’s house in Jerusalem,

7:28 and inclined mercy toward me in the eyes of the king, his advisers and all the king’s exalted officials. I was strengthened, as the good hand of God was upon me, and gathered leaders from Israel to go up with me.

Ezra 8

8:1 These are the leaders of their families, the guides who came up with me in the reign of Arthasastha king of Babylon:

8:2 from the sons of Phinees, Gersom; from the sons of Ithamar, Daniel; from the sons of David, Atous;

8:3 from the sons of Sachania; from the sons of Phoros, Zacharias, and with him the company of one hundred and fifty;

8:4 from the sons of Phaathmoab, Eliana son of Zaraia, and with him two hundred males;

8:5 from the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias son of Aziel, and with him three hundred males;

8:6 from the sons of Adin, Obeth son of Ionathan, and with him fifty males;

8:7 from the sons of Elam, Iesia son of Athelia, and with him seventy males;

8:8 from the sons of Saphatia, Zabdia son of Michael, and with him eighty males;

8:9 from the sons of Ioab, Abadia son of Iiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males;

8:10 from the sons of Baani, Salimouth son of Iosephia, and with him one hundred and sixty males;

8:11 from the sons of Babi, Zacharia son of Babi, and with him seventy-eight males;

8:12 from the sons of Asgad, Ioanan son of Akatan, and with him one hundred and ten males;

8:13 from the sons of Adonikam, the last ones, and these are their names: Aliphalat, Iiel and Samaia, and with them sixty males;

8:14 From the sons of Bago, Outhi, and with him seventy males.

8:15 I gathered them at the river that runs toward Eui, and we camped there for three days. I examined the people and the priests, but found none of the sons of Levi there.

8:16 I sent men to Eleazar, Ariel, Samaia, Alonam, Iarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zacharia and Mesoulam, and to Ioarib and Elnathan, men of understanding,

8:17 and brought them out under a ruler in the silver of the place. I put words in their mouths to speak to their brothers the Nathinim in the silver of the place, to bring us singers for the house of our God.

8:18 They came to us, as the hand of our God was good upon us: a sachol man from the sons of Mooli son of Levi son of Israel; and at first his sons and his brothers came, eighteen in all;

8:19 also Asebia and Osaia from the sons of Merari, his brothers and their sons, twenty in all;

8:20 and from the Nathinim whom David and the leaders had given for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nathinim, all gathered by name.

8:21 I proclaimed a fast there at the river Aoue, to humble ourselves before our God and seek from Him a straight way for ourselves, our children and all our possessions.

8:22 For I was ashamed to ask the king for a force and horsemen to save us from an enemy on the road, because we had told the king, “The hand of our God is for good upon all who seek Him, but His might and His wrath are against all who abandon Him.”

8:23 We fasted and sought from our God concerning this, and He heard us.

8:24 I set apart twelve from the leaders of the priests, with Saraia, Asabia and ten of their brothers with them,

8:25 and weighed out to them the silver, gold and vessels of the first offering for the house of our God, which the king, his advisers, his leaders and all Israel present there had lifted up.

8:26 I weighed into their hands six hundred and fifty talents of silver, one hundred silver vessels, and one hundred talents of gold,

8:27 and twenty gold kaphoure, a thousand chamanim for the journey, and various vessels of fine gleaming bronze, desirable in gold.

8:28 I said to them, “You are holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy. The silver and gold are freewill offerings to the Lord, the God of your fathers.

8:29 Stay awake and guard them until you stand before the leaders of the priests and Levites and the family leaders in Jerusalem, at the tents of the Lord’s house.”

8:30 The priests and Levites received the weight of silver, gold and vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem, to the house of our God.

8:31 We set out from the river Aoue on the twelfth day of the first month to come to Jerusalem. The hand of our God was upon us, and He rescued us from the hand of an enemy and an adversary along the way.

8:32 We came to Jerusalem and stayed there for three days.

8:33 On the fourth day we weighed out the silver, gold and vessels in the house of our God into the hand of Merimoth son of Ouria the priest. With him was Eleazar son of Phinees, and with them were the Levites Iozabad son of Iesous and Noadia son of Banaia,

8:34 everything by number and by weight, and the entire weight was recorded. At that time,

8:35 those who had come from captivity, sons of the sojourning, offered whole burnt offerings to the God of Israel: twelve young bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs and twelve male goats for sin—all as whole burnt offerings to the Lord.

8:36 They delivered the king’s ordinance to the king’s administrators and the governors beyond the river, and they honored the people and the house of God.

Ezra 9

9:1 When these things were completed, the leaders approached me and said, “The people of Israel, the priests and the Levites have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands in their repulsive practices: the Chanani, Ethi, Pherezi, Iebousi, Ammoni, Moabi, Moseri and Amori,

9:2 because they have taken some of their daughters for themselves and their sons, and the holy seed has been led astray among the peoples of the lands. The leaders’ hand has been foremost in this covenant-breaking.”

9:3 When I heard this word, I tore my garments, shook with agitation, plucked hair from my head and beard, and sat quietly.

9:4 Everyone who pursued the word of the God of Israel gathered to me because of the deported community’s covenant-breaking, while I sat quietly until the evening sacrifice.

9:5 At the evening sacrifice I rose from my humiliation. As I tore my garments, I shook with agitation; I bend upon my knees and stretch out my hands toward the Lord God,

9:6 and said, “Lord, I am ashamed and abashed to lift my face toward Thee, for our lawless deeds have multiplied above our heads and our offenses have grown to heaven.

9:7 From the days of our fathers until this day we have been in great offense. In our lawless deeds, we, our kings and our sons have been handed over into the hand of the kings of the nations—to the sword, captivity, plunder and shame of our face—as on this day.

9:8 Now the Lord our God has shown us leniency, leaving some of us for deliverance and giving us a support in the place of His sanctuary, to enlighten our eyes and give us a little revival in our slavery.

9:9 For we are slaves, and in our slavery the Lord our God has not abandoned us. He has inclined mercy toward us before the kings of the Persians, to give us revival, for them to raise up the house of our God and restore its desolate places, and to give us a fence in Judah and Jerusalem.

9:10 What can we say, our God, after this? For we have abandoned Thy commandments,

9:11 which Thou gavest us through Thy servants the prophets, saying, ‘The land you are entering to inherit is a land being moved amid the movement of the peoples of the nations, in their repulsive practices, with which they have filled it from mouth to mouth in their uncleanness.

9:12 Now do not give your daughters to their sons, and do not take some of their daughters for your sons. You shall never seek their peace or good, so that you may become strong, eat the good things of the land and bequeath it to your sons for ever.’

9:13 After everything that has come upon us through our evil deeds and our great offense—for there is none like our God, because Thou hast lightened our lawless deeds and given us deliverance—

9:14 for we have returned to scattering Thy commandments and intermarrying with the peoples of the lands. Do not be provoked against us to the point of destruction, so that no remnant or survivor remains.

9:15 Lord, God of Israel, Thou art righteous, for we have been left as survivors, as on this day. Here we are before Thee in our offenses, for because of this there is no standing before Thee.”

Ezra 10

10:1 As Esdras prayed and confessed, weeping and praying before the house of God, a very great assembly gathered to him from Israel—men, women and young men—for the people wept and raised their weeping.

10:2 Sechenias son of Iiel, of the sons of Elam, answered Esdras, “We have broken covenant with our God and have settled foreign wives from the peoples of the land among us. Now there is patient hope for Israel concerning this.

10:3 Now let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives and those born from them, as you may wish. Arise and frighten them with the commandments of our God, and let it be done according to the law.

10:4 Arise, for the matter rests upon you, and we are with you. Be strong and act.”

10:5 Esdras arose and made the leaders, the priests and Levites, and all Israel swear to act according to this word, and they swore.

10:6 Esdras arose from before the house of God and went to the treasury chamber of Ioanan son of Elisoub. He went there, but ate no bread and drank no water, for he was mourning over the deported community’s covenant-breaking.

10:7 They circulated a proclamation in Judah and Jerusalem to all the sons of the deported community, to assemble in Jerusalem:

10:8 Whoever does not arrive within three days, according to the counsel of the leaders and elders, shall have all his property put under the ban, and he himself shall be separated from the assembly of the deported community.

10:9 All the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered at Jerusalem within the three days. This was the ninth month. On the twentieth of the month all the people sat in the open square of the house of God, because of their commotion over the matter and because of the winter weather.

10:10 Esdras the priest arose and said to them, “You have broken covenant and have settled foreign wives among you, adding to Israel’s offense.

10:11 Now give praise to the Lord, the God of your fathers, and do what is pleasing before Him. Separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from the foreign wives.”

10:12 The whole assembly answered, “This word of yours is a great thing for us to carry out.

10:13 But the people are many, the season is wintry, and there is no strength to stand outside. The work is not for one day or two, for we have multiplied our wrongdoing in this matter.

10:14 Let our leaders stand for the whole assembly. Let all those in our cities who have settled foreign wives come at times set by appointment, with the elders of each city and judges, to turn the wrathful anger of our God away from us concerning this matter.”

10:15 Only Ionathan son of Asael and Iazia son of Thekoue were with me concerning this, and Mesoulam and Sabathai the Levite were helping them.

10:16 The sons of the deported community did so. Esdras the priest and men who were leaders of ancestral families were set apart by household, all of them by name, because they returned on the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

10:17 They finished with all the men who had settled foreign wives by the first day of the first month.

10:18 Among the sons of the priests who had settled foreign wives were found, from the sons of Iesous son of Iosedek and his brothers: Maasea, Eliezer, Iarib and Gadalia.

10:19 They gave their hand in pledge to send out their wives and, for offense, a ram from the sheep concerning their offense.

10:20 From the sons of Emmer: Anani and Zabdia.

10:21 From the sons of Eram: Masaia, Elia, Samaia, Iiel and Ozia.

10:22 From the sons of Phasour: Elioenai, Maasaia, Ismael, Nathanael, Iozabad and Elasa.

10:23 From the Levites: Iozabad, Samou, Kolia—he is Kolitas—Phathaia, Iodom and Eliezer.

10:24 From the singers: Elisaph. From the gatekeepers: Sellem, Telem and Odoue.

10:25 From Israel, from the sons of Phoros: Ramia, Iazia, Melchia, Meamin, Eleazar, Asabia and Banaia.

10:26 From the sons of Elam: Mathania, Zacharia, Iaiel, Abdia, Iarimoth and Elia.

10:27 From the sons of Zathoua: Elioenai, Elisoub, Mathania, Iarmoth, Zabad and Oziza.

10:28 From the sons of Babi: Ioanan, Anania, Zabou and Othali.

10:29 From the sons of Banoui: Mesoulam, Malouch, Adaias, Iasoub, Salouia and Remoth.

10:30 From the sons of Phaathmoab: Edene, Chalel, Banaia, Masea, Mathania, Beselel, Banoui and Manasse.

10:31 From the sons of Eram: Eliezer, Iessia, Melchia, Samaia, Semeon,

10:32 Benjamin, Malouch and Samaria.

10:33 From the sons of Esam: Mathani, Mathatha, Zabed, Eliphaleth, Ierami, Manasse and Semei.

10:34 From the sons of Bani: Moodi, Amram and Ouel;

10:35 Banaia, Badaia and Chelia;

10:36 Ouiechoa, Ieramoth and Eliasib;

10:37 Mathania, Mathanai; and acted

10:38 the sons of Banoui and the sons of Semei,

10:39 and Selemia, Nathan and Adaia,

10:40 Machnadabou, Sesi and Sarou,

10:41 Ezerel, Selemia and Samaria,

10:42 and Saloum, Amaria and Joseph.

10:43 From the sons of Nabou: Iiel, Mathathia, Sedem, Zambina, Iadai, Ioel and Banaia.

10:44 All these had taken foreign wives and had fathered sons from them.

Nehemiah

Nehemiah 1

1:1 The words of Neemias son of Achalia. In the month of Chaseelou, in the twentieth year, I was in Sousan abira,

1:2 and Anani, one of my brothers, came, he and men of Judah. I asked them about those who had been saved, who remained from the captivity, and about Jerusalem.

1:3 They said to me, “The remaining people who were left from the captivity there in the country are in great distress and disgrace. Jerusalem’s walls have been pulled down, and its gates have been set ablaze with fire.”

1:4 When I heard these words, I sat down and wept, and mourned for days. I was fasting and praying before the God of heaven,

1:5 and said, “No, I pray, Lord, God of heaven, the Mighty One, the Great and Fearsome, who dost keep the covenant and mercy for those who love Him and keep His commandments:

1:6 let Thine ear be attentive and Thine eyes opened to hear Thy servant’s prayer, which I pray before Thee today, day and night, for the sons of Israel, Thy servants. I confess concerning the sins of the sons of Israel that we have sinned against Thee. I and my father’s house have sinned.

1:7 We have utterly broken faith with Thee, and have not kept the commandments, ordinances and judgments that Thou didst command Moses Thy servant.

1:8 Remember, I pray, the word that Thou didst command Moses Thy servant, saying, ‘If you break covenant, I will scatter you among the peoples;

1:9 and if you turn back to Me, keep My commandments and do them, even if your dispersed people are at the farthest edge of heaven, I will gather them from there and bring them into the place I chose for My name to dwell there.’

1:10 They are Thy servants and Thy people, whom Thou didst redeem by Thy great power and Thy mighty hand.

1:11 No, I pray, Lord! But let Thine ear be attentive to Thy servant’s prayer and to the prayer of Thy servants who wish to fear Thy name. Grant, I pray, Thy servant success today, and give him compassion before this man.” Now I was the king’s cupbearer.

Nehemiah 2

2:1 In the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Arthasastha, the wine was before me. I took the wine and gave it to the king, and there was no other person before him.

2:2 The king said to me, “Why is your face distressed when you are not unwell? This is nothing but distress of heart.” I became very greatly afraid.

2:3 I said to the king, “May the king live for ever! Why should my face not be distressed, since the city, the home of my fathers’ tombs, has been laid waste and its gates have been consumed by fire?”

2:4 The king said to me, “What are you asking for?” I prayed to the God of heaven,

2:5 and said to the king, “If it pleases the king, and if your servant finds favor before you, send him to Judah, to the city of my fathers’ tombs, and I will rebuild it.”

2:6 The king and the concubine sitting beside him said to me, “How long will your journey last, and when will you return?” It pleased the king, and he sent me, and I gave him a time limit.

2:7 I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, let him give me letters to the governors beyond the river, so that they may conduct me through until I reach Judah,

2:8 and a letter to Asaph, keeper of the king’s park, so that he may give me timber to roof the gates, for the city wall, and for the house I will enter.” The king granted it to me, according to the good hand of God.

2:9 I came to the governors beyond the river and gave them the king’s letters. The king had sent army commanders and horsemen with me.

2:10 Sanaballat the Aroni and Tobia the Ammoni servant heard, and it displeased them that a man had arrived to seek good for the sons of Israel.

2:11 I came to Jerusalem and was there for three days.

2:12 I arose at night, with a few men accompanying me. I told no one what God was putting into my heart to do with Israel. No animal was with me except the animal on which I was riding.

2:13 I went out through the gate of Golela, toward the mouth of the Spring of Figs and to the Dung Gate. I was breaking at Jerusalem’s wall, which they were pulling down, and its gates had been consumed by fire.

2:14 I passed on to the gate of Ain and the King’s Pool, but there was no room for the animal beneath me to pass.

2:15 I went up along the wall of the torrent at night, breaking at the wall. I was at the Valley Gate, and returned.

2:16 The guards did not know why I had gone or what I was doing. Until then I had told nothing to the Jews, the priests, the honored men, the commanders, or the remaining people who were doing the works.

2:17 I said to them, “You see the distress we are in, how Jerusalem is desolate and its gates have been given to fire. Come, let us rebuild Jerusalem’s wall, and we will no longer be a disgrace.”

2:18 I told them about the hand of God, which was good upon me, and the king’s words that he had spoken to me. I said, “Let us arise and build,” and their hands were strengthened for good.

2:19 Sanaballat the Aroni, Tobia the Ammoni servant, and Gesam the Arabi heard. They laughed at us and came against us, and said, “What is this thing you are doing? Are you revolting against the king?”

2:20 I answered them and said, “The God of heaven, He will grant us success. We are His pure servants, and we will build. But you have no share, right, or memorial in Jerusalem.”

Nehemiah 3

3:1 Elisoub the high priest and his brothers the priests arose and built the Sheep Gate. They consecrated it and set up its doors, and consecrated as far as the Tower of the Hundred, as far as the Tower of Ananeel,

3:2 and alongside the sons of the men of Jericho, and alongside the sons of Zakchour son of Amari.

3:3 The sons of Asana built the Fish Gate. They roofed it and set up its doors, locks and bars.

3:4 Next to them, from Ramoth, a son of Ouria son of Akos took charge. Next to them Mosollam son of Barachias son of Masezebel took charge. Next to them Sadok son of Baana took charge.

3:5 Next to them the Thekoin took charge, but the adoreem did not bring their necks into their service.

3:6 Ioida son of Phasek and Mesoulam son of Basodia repaired the gate of Isana. They roofed it and set up its doors, locks and bars.

3:8 Next to them Ananias son of Rokeim repaired, and they left Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall.

3:9 Next to them Raphaia, ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, repaired.

3:10 Next to them Iedaia son of Eromaph repaired, opposite his house. Next to him Atous son of Asbania repaired.

3:11 As second, Melchias son of Eram and Asoub son of Phaathmoab repaired, as far as the Tower of the Thannourim.

3:12 Next to him Saloum son of Alloes, ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, repaired, he and his daughters.

3:13 Anoun and the inhabitants of Zano repaired the Valley Gate. They built it and set up its doors, locks and bars, and a thousand cubits of wall as far as the Dung Gate.

3:14 Melchia son of Rechab, ruler of the district of Bethacharm, repaired the Dung Gate, he and his sons. They covered it and set up its doors, locks and bars,

3:15 and the wall of the Pool of Fleeces, for the king’s shearing, and as far as the steps descending from the City of David.

3:16 After him Neemias son of Azabouch, ruler of half the district of Bethsour, repaired as far as the garden of David’s tomb, as far as the pool that had been made, and as far as Bethaggabarim.

3:17 After him the Levites—Raoum son of Bani—repaired. Next to him Asabia, ruler of half the district of Keila, repaired for his district.

3:18 After him their brothers—Beni son of Enadad, ruler of half the district of Keila—repaired.

3:19 Next to him Azour son of Iesous, ruler of Masphe, repaired a second section of the tower of the ascent adjoining the corner.

3:20 After him Barouch son of Zabou repaired a second section, from the corner to the entrance of Bethelisoub of the high priest.

3:21 After him Meramoth son of Ouria son of Akos repaired a second section, from the entrance of Bethelisoub to the end of Bethelisoub.

3:22 After him the priests, men of Achechar, repaired.

3:23 After him Benjamin and Asoub repaired opposite their house. After him Azaria son of Maasea son of Anania repaired beside his house.

3:24 After him Bani son of Enadad repaired a second section, from Bethazaria to the corner and to the bend

3:25 of Phalal son of Euzai, opposite the corner, and the upper tower projecting from the king’s house, belonging to the court of the guard. After him was Phadaia son of Phoros.

3:26 The Nathinim were living on the Ophal, as far as the garden of the Water Gate toward the east, and the projecting tower.

3:27 After him the Thekoin repaired a second section opposite the great projecting tower, as far as the wall of the Ophla.

3:28 Above the Horse Gate the priests repaired, each opposite his house.

3:29 After him Saddouk son of Emmer repaired opposite his house. After him Samaia son of Sechenia, keeper of the East Gate, repaired.

3:30 After him Anania son of Selemia and Anoum, the sixth son of Seleph, repaired a second section. After him Mesoulam son of Barchia repaired opposite his treasury chamber.

3:31 After him Melchia son of Saraphi repaired as far as Bethanathinim; and the dealers in small wares, opposite the gate of Maphekad and as far as the ascent of the bend.

3:32 In the intervening space at the ascent of the Sheep Gate, the metalworkers and dealers in small wares repaired.

3:33 When Sanaballat heard that we were building the wall, it displeased him. He became very angry and laughed at the Jews.

3:34 He said before his brothers, “Is this the strength of Somoron, that these Jews are building their own city?”

3:35 Tobias the Ammanite came beside him, and they said to one another, “Surely they will not sacrifice or eat in their place? Will not a fox climb up and pull down their stone wall?”

3:36 Hear, our God, for we have become an object of mockery. Turn their reproach back upon their own heads, and give them over to mockery in a land of captivity,

3:37 and do not cover over lawlessness.

Nehemiah 4

4:1 When Sanaballat, Tobia, the Arabs and the Ammanites heard that growth had risen on Jerusalem’s walls, that the breaches were beginning to be blocked, it seemed very bad to them.

4:2 They all gathered together to come and draw up for battle in Jerusalem.

4:3 We prayed to our God and stationed outposts against them day and night because of them.

4:4 Judah said, “The strength of the enemies has been crushed. There is much rubble, and we will not be able to build the wall.”

4:5 Those who were afflicting us said, “They will neither know nor see until we come among them, murder them, and bring the work to a stop.”

4:6 When the Jews who lived beside them came, they told us, “They are coming up against us from every place.”

4:7 I stationed people in the lowest parts of the place behind the wall, in the sheltered areas. I stationed the people by local groups, with their swords, their spears and their bows.

4:8 I looked, arose, and said to the honored men, the commanders and the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember our God, great and fearsome, and draw up for battle for your brothers, your sons and daughters, your wives and your houses.”

4:9 When our enemies heard that it had become known to us, and God had scattered their counsel, we all returned to the wall, each to his work.

4:10 From that day on, half of those who had been shaken out did the work, and half of them held firm. Spears, shields, bows and breastplates were there, and the leaders were behind all the house of Judah,

4:11 those building on the wall. Those carrying with lifting gear were armed; with one hand each did the work itself, and the other held a dart.

4:12 The builders worked with each man’s sword girded at his waist, and the one sounding the horn was beside him.

4:13 I said to the honored men, the leaders and the rest of the people, “The work is widespread and great, and we are scattered along the wall, each far from his brother.

4:14 At whatever place you hear the sound of the horn, gather to us there, and our God will wage war for us.”

4:15 We continued doing the work, while half of them held spears from the rising of dawn until the stars came out.

4:16 At that time I told the people, “Lodge within Jerusalem, and let the night be a watch for you, and the day, work.”

4:17 I was there, with the men of the guard behind me, and not one of us took off his clothes.

Nehemiah 5

5:1 A great outcry arose from the people and their wives against their Jewish brothers.

5:2 Some said, “With our sons and daughters we are many. We must obtain grain, eat, and live.”

5:3 Others said, “Our fields, our vineyards and our houses—we are pledging them. We must obtain grain and eat.”

5:4 Others said, “We borrowed silver for the king’s taxes—our fields, vineyards and houses are at stake.

5:5 Now our flesh is like our brothers' flesh, and our sons like their sons. Yet we are forcing our sons and daughters into slavery, and some of our daughters are being subjected. There is no power in our hands, and our fields and vineyards belong to the honored men."

5:6 I was deeply grieved when I heard their outcry and these words.

5:7 My heart took counsel within me. I contended with the honored men and leaders and said to them, "You are making demands, each against his brother!" I brought a great assembly against them,

5:8 and said to them, "We have bought our Jewish brothers who were being sold to the nations, of our own free will. And are you selling your brothers?" They fell quiet and found no answer.

5:9 I said, "What you are doing is not good. Not so! In the fear of our God you shall depart from the reproach of the nations, our enemies.

5:10 My brothers, my acquaintances and I have also put silver and grain at their disposal. Let us, I pray, relinquish this exaction.

5:11 Please restore to them this very day their fields, vineyards, olive trees and houses; and from the silver, bring out for them the grain, wine and oil."

5:12 They said, "We will return it and ask nothing from them. We will do as you say." I called the priests and made them swear to act according to this word.

5:13 I shook out my wrap and said, "So may God shake out from his house and his labor every man who does not uphold this word. So shall he be shaken out and empty." All the assembly said, "Amen," and praised the Lord. The people carried out this word.

5:14 From the day he appointed me to be their ruler in the land of Judah—from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of Arthasastha, twelve years—I and my brothers did not eat their coerced provision,

5:15 and as for the former exactions, which before me they laid heavily upon them: they took from them bread and wine, and, at the last, silver—forty didrachms. Their shaken-out men exercise authority over the people, but I did not act that way, because of the fear of God.

5:16 I did not take charge of the work on their wall; I acquired no field, and all those gathered there were for the work.

5:17 At my table were the Jews, one hundred and fifty men, and those who came to us from the nations around us.

5:18 Each day one young bull, six choice sheep and a he-goat were prepared for me. Every ten days there was wine in abundance for everyone. Along with these things, I did not demand bread from coercion, because the service weighed heavily on this people.

5:19 Remember me for good, God, for everything I have done for this people.

Nehemiah 6

6:1 When Sanaballat, Tobia, Gesam the Arabi and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, no breath was left in them. Up to that time I had not set doors in the gates.

6:2 Sanaballat and Gesam sent to me, saying, "Come, let us gather together in the villages in the plain of Ono." They were planning to do me harm.

6:3 I sent messengers to them, saying, "I am doing a great work and will not be able to come down, lest the work stop. When I finish it, I will come down to you."

6:4 They sent me this same message, and I sent them an answer accordingly.

6:5 Sanaballat sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand.

6:6 In it was written: "It has been reported among the nations that you and the Jews are planning to revolt. That is why you are building the wall, and you are becoming their king.

6:7 Besides this, you have appointed prophets for yourself so that you may sit in Jerusalem as king in Judah. Now these words will be reported to the king. Come now, let us take counsel together."

6:8 I sent to him, saying, "Nothing like these words you say has happened. You are falsely devising them from your own heart."

6:9 For they are all frightening us, saying, "Their hands will grow slack from this work, and it will not be done." Now I strengthened my hands.

6:10 I entered the house of Semei son of Dalaia son of Meetabel, who was confined. He said, "Let us gather in the house of God, inside it, and shut its doors, for they are coming at night to murder you."

6:11 I said, "Who is the man who could enter the house and live?"

6:12 I recognized that God had not sent him, because the prophecy was a word against me, and Tobias and Sanaballat had hired

6:13 a crowd against me, so that I might be afraid, act in that way and sin, and become a bad name for them to reproach me.

6:14 Remember, God, Tobia and Sanaballat according to these deeds of his, and Noadia the prophet and the rest of the prophets who were frightening me.

6:15 The wall was completed on the twenty-fifth of Eloul, in fifty-two days.

6:16 When all our enemies heard, all the nations around us became afraid. Great fear fell upon them before their eyes, and they knew that it was by our God that this work had been brought to completion.

6:17 In those days letters from many honored men of Judah went to Tobia, and Tobia's letters came to them,

6:18 because many in Judah were bound to him by oath, since he was the son-in-law of Sechenia son of Erae, and his son Ioanan had taken the daughter of Mesoulam son of Barachia as wife.

6:19 They also told me his words and carried my words out to him, and Tobias sent letters to frighten me.

Nehemiah 7

7:1 When the wall had been built, I set up the doors, and the gatekeepers, singers and Levites were appointed.

7:2 I gave orders to my brother Anania and to Anania, ruler of the bira in Jerusalem, for he was a truthful man and feared God more than many,

7:3 and I said to them, "The gates of Jerusalem shall not be opened until the sun is up. While they are still keeping watch, let the doors be closed and wedged fast. Appoint advance guards from those living in Jerusalem, each at his guard post and each opposite his house."

7:4 The city was broad and large, but the people in it were few, and no houses had been built.

7:5 God put it into my heart, and I assembled the honored men, rulers and people into companies. I found a book of the company who had come up first, and I found written in it:

7:6 These are the sons of the country who came up from the captivity of the deportation which Nabouchodonosor king of Babylon had deported. They returned to Jerusalem and Jouda, each to his town,

7:7 with Zorobabel and Jesus and Neemias, Azaria, Daemia, Naemani, Mardochaios, Balsan, Maspharath, Esdra, Bagoi, Naoum, Baana, Masphar. Men of the people of Israel:

7:8 The sons of Phoros: two thousand one hundred seventy-two.

7:9 The sons of Saphatia: three hundred seventy-two.

7:10 The sons of Era: six hundred fifty-two.

7:11 The sons of Phaathmoab, belonging to the sons of Jesus and Joab: two thousand eight hundred eighteen.

7:12 The sons of Ailam: one thousand two hundred fifty-four.

7:13 The sons of Zathoua: eight hundred forty-five.

7:14 The sons of Zakchou: seven hundred sixty.

7:15 The sons of Banoui: six hundred forty-eight.

7:16 The sons of Bebi: six hundred twenty-eight.

7:17 The sons of Asgad: two thousand three hundred twenty-two.

7:18 The sons of Adenikam: six hundred sixty-seven.

7:19 The sons of Bagoi: two thousand sixty-seven.

7:20 The sons of Edin: six hundred fifty-five.

7:21 The sons of Ater, belonging to Ezekia: ninety-eight.

7:22 The sons of Esam: three hundred twenty-eight.

7:23 The sons of Besi: three hundred twenty-four.

7:24 The sons of Ariph: one hundred twelve.

7:25 The sons of Gabaon: ninety-five.

7:26 The sons of Baithleem: one hundred twenty-three. The sons of Netopha: fifty-six.

7:27 The sons of Anathoth: one hundred twenty-eight.

7:28 The men of Bethasmoth: forty-two.

7:29 The men of Kariathiarim, Kaphira and Beroth: seven hundred forty-three.

7:30 The men of Arama and Gabaa: six hundred twenty-one.

7:31 The men of Machemas: one hundred twenty-two.

7:32 The men of Bethel and Aia: one hundred twenty-three.

7:33 The men of Nabi-aar: fifty-two.

7:34 The men of Elam-aar: one thousand two hundred fifty-four.

7:35 The sons of Eram: three hundred twenty.

7:36 The sons of Jericho: three hundred forty-five.

7:37 The sons of Lod, Adid and Ono: seven hundred twenty-one.

7:38 The sons of Sanaa: three thousand nine hundred thirty.

7:39 The priests: the sons of Jodae, belonging to the house of Jesus: nine hundred seventy-three.

7:40 The sons of Emmer: one thousand fifty-two.

7:41 The sons of Phassour: one thousand two hundred forty-seven.

7:42 The sons of Eram: one thousand seventeen.

7:43 The Levites: the sons of Jesus, belonging to Kadmiel, belonging to the sons of Oudouia: seventy-four.

7:44 The singers: the sons of Asaph: one hundred forty-eight.

7:45 The gatekeepers: the sons of Saloum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Telmon, the sons of Akoub, the sons of Atita, the sons of Sabi: one hundred thirty-eight.

7:46 The Nathinim: the sons of Sea, the sons of Asipha, the sons of Tabaoth,

7:47 the sons of Kiras, the sons of Souia, the sons of Phadon,

7:48 the sons of Labana, the sons of Agaba, the sons of Salami,

7:49 the sons of Anan, the sons of Gadel, the sons of Gaar,

7:50 the sons of Raaia, the sons of Rason, the sons of Nekoda,

7:51 the sons of Gezam, the sons of Ozi, the sons of Phese,

7:52 the sons of Besi, the sons of Meinom, the sons of Nephosasim,

7:53 the sons of Bakbouk, the sons of Achipha, the sons of Arour,

7:54 the sons of Basaloth, the sons of Meida, the sons of Adasan,

7:55 the sons of Barkous, the sons of Sisara, the sons of Thema,

7:56 the sons of Nisia, the sons of Atipha.

7:57 The sons of Salomon's slaves: the sons of Souti, the sons of Sapharath, the sons of Pherida,

7:58 the sons of Jeale, the sons of Dorkon, the sons of Gadel,

7:59 the sons of Saphatia, the sons of Etil, the sons of Phacharath, the sons of Sabaim, the sons of Emim.

7:60 All the Nathinim and the sons of Salomon's slaves: three hundred ninety-two.

7:61 These came up from Thelmeleth, Aresa, Charoub, Eron and Jemer, but they could not declare the houses of their families or their descent, whether they were of Israel:

7:62 the sons of Dalaia, the sons of Tobia, the sons of Nekoda: six hundred forty-two.

7:63 And from the priests: the sons of Ebia, the sons of Akos, the sons of Berzelli, because he had taken wives from the daughters of Berzelli the Galaadite and was called by their name.

7:64 These sought their record of the company, but it was not found, and they were excluded from the priesthood on grounds of descent,

7:65 and Athersatha said that they must not eat of the holy of holies until the priest arose to give light.

7:66 The whole assembly was as one: forty-two thousand three hundred sixty,

7:67 apart from their male and female slaves—these were seven thousand three hundred thirty-seven—and two hundred forty-five male and female singers.

7:68 Horses: seven hundred thirty-six. Mules: two hundred forty-five.

7:69 Camels: four hundred thirty-five. Donkeys: six thousand seven hundred twenty.

7:70 Some of the heads of the families gave for the work to Neemia, for the treasury: one thousand gold pieces, fifty bowls and thirty priests' chothonoth.

7:71 Some of the heads of the families gave to the treasury for the work twenty thousand in gold and two thousand two hundred silver minas.

7:72 The remainder of the people gave twenty thousand in gold, two thousand two hundred silver minas and sixty-seven priests' chothonoth.

7:73 The priests, Levites, gatekeepers, singers, those from the people, the Nathinim and all Israel settled in their towns. The seventh month arrived—and the sons of Israel were in their towns—

Nehemiah 8

8:1 All the people gathered as one man in the open space before the Water Gate. They told Esdra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded Israel.

8:2 Esdras the priest brought the law before the assembly—men, women and everyone able to understand by listening—on the first day of the seventh month,

8:3 and read from it from the hour when the sun gave light until midday, before the men and women, who were understanding; the ears of all the people were directed toward the book of the law.

8:4 Esdras the scribe stood on a wooden platform. Beside him stood Mattathias, Samaias, Ananias, Ouria, Elkia and Maasaia on his right, and on his left Phadaias, Misael, Melchias, Osam, Asabdana, Zacharias and Mosollam.

8:5 Esdras opened the book before all the people—for he was above the people—and when he opened it, all the people stood.

8:6 Esdras blessed the Lord, the great God. All the people answered and said, "Amen," lifting their hands, and they bowed and worshiped the Lord with their faces to the ground.

8:7 Jesus, Banaias and Sarabia were helping the people understand the law, while the people remained in their places.

8:8 They read from a book of God's law, and Esdras taught and explained with knowledge of the Lord; the people understood the reading.

8:9 Neemias, Esdras the priest and scribe, and the Levites who helped the people understand said to all the people, "The day is holy to the Lord our God. Do not mourn or weep." For all the people were weeping as they heard the words of the law.

8:10 He said to them, "Go, eat rich food and drink sweet drinks, and send portions to those who have none, for the day is holy to our Lord. Do not lose heart, for it is your strength."

8:11 The Levites quieted all the people, saying, "Be silent, for the day is holy. Do not be downcast."

8:12 All the people went to eat and drink, to send portions and to celebrate with great gladness, because they understood the words that he had made known to them.

8:13 On the second day the heads of the families for all the people, the priests and the Levites gathered around Esdras the scribe to attend to all the words of the law.

8:14 They found written in the law, which the Lord had commanded Moses, that the sons of Israel should live in tents during the feast in the seventh month,

8:15 and that they should give a signal with trumpets in all their towns and in Jerusalem. Esdras said, "Go out to the hill country and bring leaves of olive trees, cypresses, myrtles, palms and dense trees, to make tents according to what is written."

8:16 The people went out and brought the leaves. They made tents for themselves, each on his roof and in their courtyards, in the courts of God's house, in the city's open squares and as far as the Ephraim Gate.

8:17 The whole assembly who had returned from captivity made tents and lived in them, for the sons of Israel had not done so from the days of Jesus son of Naue until that day. There was great gladness.

8:18 He read from a book of God's law day by day, from the first day to the last. They kept the feast for seven days, and on the eighth day there was a closing observance according to the ordinance.

Nehemiah 9

9:1 On the twenty-fourth day of this month, the sons of Israel assembled with fasting and in sackcloth.

9:2 The sons of Israel separated themselves from every foreigner. They stood and confessed their sins and the lawless deeds of their fathers.

9:3 They stood in their places and read from a book of the law of the Lord their God. They confessed to the Lord and worshiped the Lord their God.

9:4 Jesus and the sons of Kadmiel, Sachania son of Sarabia, the sons of Chanani, stood on the Levites' ascent and cried out with a loud voice to the Lord their God.

9:5 The Levites Jesus and Kadmiel said, "Stand up and bless the Lord your God from everlasting to everlasting. They will bless Thy glorious name and exalt it above all blessing and praise."

9:6 Esdras said, "Thou alone art the Lord. Thou madest heaven, the heaven of heaven and all their array, the earth and everything in it, the seas and everything in them. Thou givest life to all things, and the armies of heaven worship Thee.

9:7 "Thou art the Lord God. Thou didst choose Abram, bring him out of the country of the Chaldeans and give him the name Abraam.

9:8 "Thou didst find his heart faithful before Thee and make a covenant with him to give him the land of the Chananites, Chettites, Amorrites, Pherezites, Jebousites and Gergesites, and to his offspring. Thou didst fulfil Thy words, for Thou art righteous.

9:9 "Thou sawest the humiliation of our fathers in Egypt and heardest their cry at the Red Sea.

9:10 "Thou didst perform signs in Egypt, against Pharao, all his servants and all the people of his land, for Thou knewest that they had acted arrogantly against them. Thou madest a name for Thyself, as it is this day.

9:11 "Thou didst break open the sea before them, and they crossed through the middle of the sea on dry ground. Thou didst hurl their pursuers into the deep like a stone into violent water.

9:12 "Thou didst lead them by a pillar of cloud by day and by a pillar of fire by night, to light for them the way they should travel.

9:13 "Thou camest down upon Mount Sina and spakest to them from heaven. Thou gavest them upright judgments, laws of truth, good ordinances and commandments.

9:14 "Thou madest Thy holy Sabbath known to them and didst command them commandments, ordinances and law through Moses Thy slave.

9:15 “Thou gavest them bread from heaven for their shortage of food and didst bring water from a rock for their thirst. Thou didst tell them to enter and inherit the land that Thou hadst stretched out Thy hand to give them.

9:16 “But they and our fathers acted arrogantly, stiffened their necks and did not listen to Thy commandments.

9:17 “They refused to listen and did not remember Thy wonders that Thou hadst done among them. They stiffened their necks and appointed leadership to return to their slavery in Egypt. But Thou art a merciful and compassionate God, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and Thou didst not abandon them.

9:18 “Even when they made a cast calf for themselves and said, ‘These are the gods who brought us out of Egypt,’ and committed great provocations, 9:19 “Thou, in Thine abundant compassion, didst not abandon them in the wilderness. Thou didst not turn the pillar of cloud away from them by day, to guide them on the way, or the pillar of fire by night, to light for them the way they should travel.

9:20 “Thou gavest Thy good Spirit to give them understanding. Thou didst not withhold Thy manna from their mouths, and Thou gavest them water for their thirst.

9:21 “For forty years Thou didst nourish them in the wilderness; they lacked nothing. Their garments did not grow old, and their feet did not split open.

9:22 “Thou gavest them kingdoms and peoples and didst apportion them to them. They inherited the land of Seon king of Esebon and the land of Og king of Basan.

9:23 “Thou didst multiply their sons like the stars of heaven and bring them into the land that Thou hadst spoken of to their fathers, and they inherited it.

9:24 “Thou didst wipe out before them those inhabiting the land of the Chananites and give them into their hands, with their kings and the peoples of the land, to do with them as they pleased.

9:25 “They took lofty cities and inherited houses full of every good thing, hewn cisterns, vineyards, olive groves and every kind of fruit tree in abundance. They ate, were filled, grew fat and lived in luxury in Thy great goodness.

9:26 “But they changed and withdrew from Thee. They cast Thy law behind their bodies and killed Thy prophets who testified among them to turn them back to Thee. They committed great provocations.

9:27 “Thou gavest them into the hand of those oppressing them, and they oppressed them. In the time of their distress they cried out to Thee, and Thou didst hear from Thy heaven. In Thy great compassion Thou gavest them saviors, and Thou didst save them from the hand of those oppressing them.

9:28 “When they rested, they returned to doing evil before Thee. Thou didst abandon them into the hands of their enemies, who ruled over them. They again cried out to Thee, and Thou didst hear from heaven and rescue them in Thine abundant compassion.

9:29 “Thou didst testify to them to turn them back to Thy law, but they did not listen. Instead, they sinned against Thy commandments and judgments, which, if a person does them, that person will live by them. They presented a disobedient back, stiffened their necks and did not listen.

9:30 “Thou didst prolong Thy dealings with them for many years and testify to them by Thy Spirit through Thy prophets, but they did not give ear. Thou gavest them into the hand of the peoples of the land.

9:31 “In Thine abundant compassion Thou didst not make an end of them or abandon them, for Thou art mighty, merciful and compassionate.

9:32 “Now, our God, the mighty, great, strong and fearsome One, who dost keep Thy covenant and Thy mercy, do not let all the hardship that has found us seem small before Thee—the hardship of our kings, rulers, priests, prophets, fathers and all Thy people, from the days of the kings of Assour until this day.

9:33 “Thou art righteous in all that has come upon us, for Thou hast acted in truth, while we have sinned grievously.

9:34 “Our kings, rulers, priests and fathers did not carry out Thy law or attend to Thy commandments and Thy testimonies by which Thou didst testify to them.

9:35 “Even in Thy kingdom, amid Thine abundant goodness that Thou gavest them and in the broad and fertile land that Thou didst set before them, they did not serve Thee or turn from their evil practices.

9:36 “Behold, we are slaves today, and the land that Thou gavest our fathers to eat its fruit

9:37 “belongs to the kings whom Thou hast set over us because of our sins. They exercise authority over our bodies and our livestock as they please, and we are in great distress.”

Nehemiah 10

10:1 In all these circumstances, we are establishing a pledge and writing it down, and all our rulers, our Levites and our priests are sealing it.

10:2 Among those sealing: Neemias son of Achalia, and Sedekias

10:3 son of Saraia, and Azaria and Jermia,

10:4 Phasour, Amaria, Melchia,

10:5 Atous, Sebani, Malouch,

10:6 Iram, Meramoth, Abdia,

10:7 Daniel, Ganathon, Barouch,

10:8 Mesoulam, Abia, Miamin,

10:9 Maazia, Belgai and Samaia. These were priests.

10:10 And the Levites: Jesus son of Azania, of Banaiou from the sons of Enadad, Kadmiel,

10:11 and his brothers: Sabania, Odouia, Kalita, Pheleia, Anan,

10:12 Micha, Roob, Esebias,

10:13 Zachor, Sarabia, Sebania,

10:14 Odouia, sons of Banounai.

10:15 The rulers of the people: Phoros, Phaathmoab, Elam, Zathouia, sons of 10:16 Bani, Asgad, Bebai,

10:17 Edania, Bagoi, Edin,

10:18 Ater, Ezekia, Azour,

10:19 Odouia, Esam, Besi,

10:20 Ariph, Anathoth, Nobai,

10:21 Magaphes, Mesoulam, Ezir,

10:22 Mesozebel, Saddouk, Jeddoua,

10:23 Phaltia, Anan, Anaia,

10:24 Osee, Anania, Asoub,

10:25 Aloes, Phalai, Sobek,

10:26 Raoum, Esabana, Maasaia,

10:27 and Aia, Ainan, Enan,

10:28 Malouch, Eram and Baana.

10:29 The remainder of the people—the priests, Levites, gatekeepers, singers, Nathinim and everyone coming from the peoples of the land to the law of God, with their wives, sons and daughters, everyone knowing and understanding—

10:30 prevailed over their brothers, cursed them and entered into a curse and an oath to walk in the law of God given through Moses the slave of God, and to keep and carry out all the commandments of our Lord and His judgments:

10:31 We are not to give our daughters to the peoples of the land, and we will not take their daughters for our sons.

10:32 When the peoples of the land bring merchandise or anything for sale on the Sabbath day to sell, we do not buy from them on the Sabbath or on a holy day. We will release the seventh year and the demand of every hand.

10:33 We will establish commandments upon ourselves to give a third of a didrachm yearly for the service of the house of our God:

10:34 for the bread of the Presence, the continual sacrifice and the continual whole burnt offering of the Sabbaths and new moons, for the feasts and the holy things, the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and the works of the house of our God.

10:35 We—the priests, Levites and people—cast lots concerning the allotted duty of carrying wood, to bring it to the house of our God by the house of our families at intervals from time to time, year by year, to burn on the altar of the Lord our God, as written in the law;

10:36 and to bring the first produce of our land and the first produce of the fruit of every tree, year by year, to the house of the Lord;

10:37 and to bring the firstborn of our sons and our livestock, as written in the law, and the firstborn of our cattle and flocks, to the house of our God, to the priests ministering in the house of our God.

10:38 We will bring the first offering of our grain and the fruit of every tree, wine and oil, to the priests, to the treasury of God’s house, and the tithe of our land to the Levites. The Levites themselves collect the tithe in all the towns of our service,

10:39 and the priest, a son of Aaron, shall be with the Levite at the Levite’s tithe. The Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithe to the house of our God, to the treasuries in God’s house.

10:40 For the sons of Israel and the sons of Levi shall bring the first offerings of grain, wine and oil into the stores. There are the holy vessels, the ministering priests, gatekeepers and singers. We will not abandon the house of our God.

Nehemiah 11

11:1 The rulers of the people lived in Jerusalem. The remainder of the people cast lots to bring one in ten to live in Jerusalem, the holy city, and nine portions in the towns.

11:2 The people blessed all the men who willingly offered to live in Jerusalem.

11:3 These are the rulers of the country who lived in Jerusalem. In the towns of Jouda, each lived on his possession in their towns: Israel, the priests, Levites, Nathinaioi and the sons of Salomon’s slaves.

11:4 Some of the sons of Jouda and of the sons of Beniamin lived in Jerusalem. From the sons of Jouda: Athaia son of Azaia, son of Zacharia, son of Amaria, son of Saphatia, son of Malelel, and from the sons of Phares;

11:5 and Maasia son of Barouch, son of Chalaza, son of Ozia, son of Adaia, son of Jorib, son of Thezia, son of the Seloni.

11:6 All the sons of Phares who lived in Jerusalem were four hundred sixty-eight men of ability.

11:7 These are the sons of Beniamin: Selo son of Mesoulam, son of Joad, son of Phadaia, son of Kolia, son of Masaia, son of Aithiel, son of Jesia;

11:8 and after him Gebi and Seli: nine hundred twenty-eight.

11:9 Joel son of Zechri was overseer over them, and Joudas son of Asana was second over the city.

11:10 From the priests: Jadia son of Jorib, Jachin,

11:11 Saraia son of Elkia, son of Mesoulam, son of Saddouk, son of Marioth, son of Aitob, opposite the house of God;

11:12 and their brothers doing the work of the house: Amasi son of Zacharia, son of Phassour, son of Melchia,

11:13 heads of families: two hundred forty-two; and Amessai son of Esdriel,

11:14 and his brothers, men strong for battle: one hundred twenty-eight. Their overseer was Badiel.

11:15 From the Levites: Samaia son of Asoub, son of Ezri,

11:17 and Mathania son of Micha, and Obed son of Samoui,

11:18 Two hundred eighty-four.

11:19 The gatekeepers: Akoub, Telamin and their brothers: one hundred seventy-two.

11:22 The overseer of the Levites was a son of Bani: Ozi son of Asabia, son of Micha, from the sons of Asaph, the singers, opposite the work of the house of God.

11:23 For the king’s command was upon them.

11:24 Pathaia son of Baseza was at the king’s hand in every matter for the people.

11:25 As for the farmsteads in their field, some of the sons of Jouda lived in Kariatharbok,

11:26 and in Jesou,

11:27 and in Beersabee,

11:30 and their farmsteads, Lachis and its fields. They encamped in Beersabee.

11:31 The sons of Beniamin were from Gaba: Machamas.

11:36 From the Levites, portions of Jouda were for Beniamin.

Nehemiah 12

12:1 These are the priests and Levites who came up with Zorobabel son of Salathiel and Jesus: Saraia, Jermia, Esdra,

12:2 Amaria, Malouch,

12:3 Sechenia.

12:7 These were rulers of the priests and their brothers in the days of Jesus.

12:8 The Levites: Jesou, Banoui, Kadmiel, Sarabia, Jouda and Machania; he and his brothers were over the hands, 12:9 for the service divisions.

12:10 Jesus fathered Joakim, Joakim fathered Eliasib, and Eliasib fathered Jodae.

12:11 Jodae fathered Jonathan, and Jonathan fathered Jadou.

12:12 In the days of Joakim, his brothers, the priests and the heads of the families, were: for Saraia, Maraia; for Jermia, Anania;

12:13 for Esdra, Mesoulam; for Amaria, Joanan;

12:14 for Malouch, Jonathan; for Sechenia, Joseph;

12:15 for Arem, Adnas; for Marioth, Elkai;

12:16 for Addai, Zacharias; for Ganathon, Mosollam;

12:17 for Abia, Zechri; for Beniamin, at times, for Pheleti;

12:18 for Balga, Samoue; for Semeia, Jonathan;

12:19 for Joiarib, Maththanai; for Idia, Ozi;

12:20 for Sallai, Kallai; for Amouk, Abed;

12:21 for Elkia, Asabias; for Jedeiou, Nathanael.

12:22 The Levites in the days of Eliasib, Joada, Joanan and Idoua were registered as heads of families, and the priests in the reign of Darius the Persian.

12:23 The sons of Levi who were heads of families were recorded in the book of the accounts of the days, down to the days of Joanan son of Elisoub.

12:24 The rulers of the Levites were Asabia, Sarabia, Jesou and the sons of Kadmiel, with their brothers opposite them, to sing hymns and praise by the command of David the man of God, service division facing service division,

12:25 when I gathered the gatekeepers,

12:26 in the days of Joakim son of Jesus, son of Josedek, and in the days of Neemia—and Esdras the priest and scribe.

12:27 At the dedication of Jerusalem's wall, they sought the Levites in their places to bring them to Jerusalem, to celebrate the dedication and gladness with thodatha and songs, sounding cymbals, with psalteries and lyres.

12:28 The sons of the singers gathered from the surrounding district to Jerusalem and from farmsteads,

12:29 and from fields, for the singers had built farmsteads for themselves in Jerusalem.

12:30 The priests and Levites were purified, and they purified the people, the gatekeepers and the wall.

12:31 I brought the rulers of Jouda up onto the wall and stationed two great ones for praise. They went along to the right on top of the wall of refuse,

12:32 and Osaia and half the rulers of Jouda went after them,

12:33 with Azarias, Esdras and Mesoulam,

12:34 Jouda, Beniamin, Samaia and Jermia,

12:35 and some of the sons of the priests with trumpets: Zacharias son of Jonathan, son of Samaia, son of Mathania, son of Michaia, son of Zakchour, son of Asaph;

12:36 and his brothers Samaia and Oziel, to praise with the songs of David the man of God. Esdras the scribe was before them.

12:37 At the gate of the ain, opposite them, they went up the steps of David's city, at the ascent of the wall, above David's house and as far as the Water Gate to the east.

12:38 The second company for praise went to meet them, with me behind it and half the people on top of the wall, above the tower of the thennourim and as far as the Broad Wall,

12:39 above the Ephraim Gate, to the gate of the isana and the Fish Gate, at the tower of Ananeel, and as far as the Sheep Gate. They stood at the Gate of the Guard.

12:40 The two companies of praise stood in God's house, with me and half the commanders with me,

12:41 and the priests Eliakim, Maasias, Beniamin, Michaias, Elioenai, Zacharias and Ananias with trumpets,

12:42 and Maasias, Semeias, Eleazar, Ozi, Joanan, Melchias, Ailam and Ezour. The singers were heard and were appointed.

12:43 They offered great sacrifices that day and were glad, for God had made them exceedingly glad. Their wives and children were glad, and the gladness in Jerusalem was heard from far away.

12:44 That day they appointed men over the treasury chambers for the stores, first offerings and tithes, and for the rulers of the towns assembled in them—portions for the priests and Levites—for there was gladness in Jouda over the priests and Levites who stood in service.

12:45 They kept the charges of their God and the charges of purification, and watched over the singers and gatekeepers, according to the commandments of David and Salomon his son.

12:46 For in David's days, Asaph was from the beginning first among the singers, with hymn and praise to God.

12:47 All Israel in the days of Zorobabel gave the portions for the singers and gatekeepers, each day's requirement on its day. They consecrated portions for the Levites, and the Levites consecrated portions for the sons of Aaron.

Nehemiah 13

13:1 That day a reading was made from a book of Moses in the hearing of the people. It was found written in it that Ammanites and Moabites should not enter God's assembly for ever,

13:2 because they did not meet the sons of Israel with bread and water, and they hired Balaam against Israel to curse him. But our God turned the curse into a blessing.

13:3 When they heard the law, all the mixed population in Israel was separated.

13:4 Before this, Eliasib the priest, who lived in a treasury chamber of the house of our God, was drawing close to Tobia,

13:5 and he made a large treasury chamber for him. There they had formerly put the manaa, frankincense, vessels, the tithe of grain, wine and oil prescribed for the Levites, singers and gatekeepers, and the priests' first offerings.

13:6 During all this I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Arthasastha king of Babylon I had gone to the king. After some days had passed I made a request of the king

13:7 and came to Jerusalem. I understood the evil Elisoub had done for Tobia by making him a treasury chamber in the court of God's house.

13:8 It appeared exceedingly evil to me, and I threw all the goods of Tobia's house out of the treasury chamber.

13:9 I gave orders, and they purified the treasury chambers. I brought back there the vessels of God's house, the manaa and frankincense.

13:10 I learned that the Levites' portions had not been given, and the Levites and singers doing the work had fled, each to his field.

13:11 I contended with the commanders and said, "Why has God's house been abandoned?" I gathered them and stationed them at their posts.

13:12 All Jouda brought the tithe of wheat, wine and oil into the stores,

13:13 into the charge of Selemia the priest, Saddouk the scribe and Phadaia from the Levites, and beside them Anan son of Zakchour, son of Mathania, for they were considered trustworthy; distribution to their brothers rested upon them.

13:14 Remember me, O God, in this, and do not let my kindness be blotted out, which I practiced in the house of the Lord God.

13:15 In those days I saw people in Jouda treading winepresses on the Sabbath, bringing sheaves and loading them on donkeys, with wine, grapes, figs and every kind of burden, bringing them to Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. I warned them on the day of their selling.

13:16 People lived there bringing fish and every kind of merchandise, selling on the Sabbath to the sons of Jouda and in Jerusalem.

13:17 I contended with the free men of Jouda and said to them, "What is this evil thing you are doing, profaning the Sabbath day?

13:18 "Did not your fathers do this, so that our God brought all these evils upon them and upon us and upon this city? Yet you add wrath against Israel by profaning the Sabbath."

13:19 When the gates of Jerusalem were at rest before the Sabbath, I gave orders and they closed the gates. I ordered that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. I stationed some of my young servants at the gates so that no burdens would be carried on the Sabbath day.

13:20 They all lodged and conducted sales outside Jerusalem once or twice.

13:21 I testified against them and said, "Why are you lodging opposite the wall? If you do it a second time, I will stretch out my hand against you." From that time they did not come on the Sabbath.

13:22 I told the Levites who were purifying themselves and coming to guard the gates to sanctify the Sabbath day. In these things remember me, O God, and spare me according to the abundance of Thy mercy.

13:23 In those days I also saw Jews who had established households with Azotian, Ammanite and Moabite wives, 13:24 and half their children spoke Azotian and did not know how to speak Judean.

13:25 I contended with them, cursed them, struck some of their men and pulled out their hair. I made them swear by God: "You shall not give your daughters to their sons or take any of their daughters for your sons.

13:26 "Did not Salomon king of Israel sin in this way? Among many nations there was no king like him, and he was loved by God, and God made him king over all Israel. Yet foreign women turned even him aside.

13:27 "Are we not to hear of you doing all this evil, breaking faith with our God by establishing households with foreign wives?"

13:28 From the sons of Joada of Elisoub, the high priest, the son-in-law of Sanaballat the Oronite—and I drove him away from me.

13:29 Remember it against them, O God, concerning disqualification by descent from the priesthood and the covenant of the priesthood—and remember the Levites.

13:30 I purified them from all foreign association and established service divisions for the priests and Levites, each according to his work,

13:31 and the gift of the wood carriers at intervals from time to time, and at the bakchouria. Remember me, our God, for goodness.

Esther

Esther 1

1:1 In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the Great, on the first of Nisa, Mordecai son of Jair, son of Shimei, son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin, saw a dream.

1:1b He was a Jewish man living in the city of Susa, a great man serving in the king’s court.

1:1c He was among the captives whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had taken captive from Jerusalem with Jeconiah king of Judea.

1:1d This was his dream: Look! Voices and tumult, thunders and an earthquake, disturbance upon the earth!

1:1e Look! Two great dragons came forward, both ready to wrestle, and their cry became loud.

1:1f At their cry every nation prepared for war, to wage war against a nation of righteous people.

1:1g Look! A day of darkness and gloom, affliction and distress, suffering and great disturbance upon the earth!

1:1h The whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing its own calamities. They prepared to perish and cried out to God.

1:1i From their cry there came, as though from a small spring, a great river, much water.

1:1k Light and the sun rose, and the lowly were exalted and devoured the glorious.

1:1l When Mordecai awoke, having seen this dream and what God had resolved to do, he kept it in his heart and sought in every way to understand it until night.

1:1m Mordecai stayed quietly in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the king’s two eunuchs who guarded the court.

1:1n He heard their discussions, investigated their intentions, and learned that they were preparing to lay hands on King Artaxerxes. He informed the king about them.

1:1o The king examined the two eunuchs, and after they confessed, they were led away.

1:1p The king wrote these matters down as a memorial, and Mordecai wrote about these matters.

1:1q The king ordered Mordecai to serve in the court and gave him gifts for these things.

1:1r Haman son of Hammedatha, a Bougaean, was held in honor before the king. He sought to harm Mordecai and his people on account of the king’s two eunuchs.

1:1s After these events, in the days of Artaxerxes—this Artaxerxes ruled a hundred and twenty-seven territories from India—

1:2 in those very days, when King Artaxerxes was enthroned in the city of Susa,

1:3 in the third year of his reign he held a reception for his friends and the other nations, the nobles of Persia and Media, and the rulers of the satraps.

1:4 After these things, after he had shown them the wealth of his kingdom and the glory of the rejoicing in his wealth for a hundred and eighty days,

1:5 when the days of the wedding were completed, the king held a drinking feast for the nations present in the city for six days, in the court of the king’s house,

1:6 which was adorned with fine linen and cotton cloths stretched on fine linen and purple cords upon gold and silver blocks, upon pillars of Parian marble and stone. There were gold and silver couches on a pavement of emerald stone, pearly stone, and Parian stone, and transparent coverings adorned with varied flowers, with roses scattered all around.

1:7 There were gold and silver drinking vessels and a garnet cup set out, reckoned at thirty thousand talents. There was abundant sweet wine, which the king himself drank.

1:8 This drinking feast did not take place according to an established law; rather, the king wished it so and ordered the stewards to carry out his will and that of the people.

1:9 Queen Astin also held a drinking feast for the women in the royal quarters, where King Artaxerxes was.

1:10 On the seventh day, when the king had become merry, he told Haman, Bazan, Tharra, Boraze, Zatholtha, Abataza, and Tharaba, the seven eunuchs who attended King Artaxerxes,

1:11 to bring the queen before him, that she might act as queen, to put the diadem on her, and to show all the rulers and the nations her beauty, because she was beautiful.

1:12 But Queen Astin did not obey his command to come with the eunuchs. The king was grieved and became angry.

1:13 He said to his friends, “Astin has spoken in this way; therefore establish law and judgment concerning this.”

1:14 Arcesaeus, Sarsathaeus, and Malesehar, the rulers of Persia and Media who were nearest the king and sat in the first places beside him, approached him

1:15 and reported to him, according to the laws, how Queen Astin must be dealt with, because she had not done what the king commanded through the eunuchs.

1:16 Muchaeus said to the king and the rulers, “Queen Astin has wronged not only the king, but also all the rulers and the king’s leaders

1:17 (for he had recounted to them the queen’s words and how she had contradicted the king). Just as she contradicted King Artaxerxes,

1:18 so today the other noblewomen, wives of the rulers of Persia and Media, on hearing what she said to the king, will likewise dare to dishonor their husbands.

1:19 If, therefore, it pleases the king, let him issue a royal command, and let it be written according to the laws of Media and Persia. Let him not act otherwise, and let the queen no longer enter his presence; let the king give her royal position to a woman better than she.

1:20 Let the law that the king makes be heard in his kingdom, and thus all the women will bestow honor on their own husbands, from poor to rich.”

1:21 The proposal pleased the king and the rulers, and the king did as Muchaeus said.

1:22 He sent throughout his kingdom, territory by territory, according to their own language, so that they would have fear in their own households.

Esther 2

2:1 After these events the king’s anger subsided, and he no longer remembered Astin, remembering what she had said and how he had condemned her.

2:2 The king’s attendants said, “Let young women who have not been defiled, beautiful in appearance, be sought for the king.

2:3 The king shall appoint village rulers in all the territories of his kingdom, and let them select beautiful young virgins for the women’s quarters in the city of Susa. Let them be handed over to the king’s eunuch, the guardian of the women, and let cleansing ointment and the rest of their care be provided.

2:4 The woman who pleases the king shall reign as queen in Astin’s place.” The matter pleased the king, and he did so.

2:5 There was a Jewish man in the city of Susa named Mordecai son of Jair, son of Shimei, son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin,

2:6 who was a captive from Jerusalem, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had taken captive.

2:7 He had a foster child, the daughter of Aminadab, his father’s brother, and her name was Esther. When her parents died, he brought her up for himself as a wife. The young woman was beautiful in appearance.

2:8 When the king’s command was heard, many young women were gathered into the care of Gai in the city of Susa, and Esther was brought to Gai, the guardian of the women.

2:9 The young woman pleased him and found favor before him. He hurried to give her the cleansing ointment, her portion of food, and the seven young women assigned to her from the royal household. He treated her and her maids well in the women’s quarters.

2:10 Esther did not disclose her ancestry or her homeland, for Mordecai had commanded her not to report them.

2:11 Every day Mordecai walked about the women’s court, watching to see what would happen to Esther.

2:12 This was the time for a young woman to enter the king’s presence: when she had completed twelve months. For thus the days of treatment were completed, with the women anointing themselves for six months with myrrh oil and for six months with spices and women’s cleansing ointments.

2:13 Then she entered the king’s presence. Whatever she requested would be handed over to her to accompany her from the women’s quarters to the royal quarters.

2:14 In the evening she entered, and toward daybreak she went back to the second women’s quarters, where Gai, the king’s eunuch and guardian of the women, was. She did not enter the king’s presence again unless summoned by name.

2:15 When the time was completed for Esther daughter of Aminadab, the brother of Mordecai’s father, to enter the king’s presence, she disregarded none of the instructions the eunuch, the guardian of the women, gave her. For Esther was finding favor with everyone who saw her.

2:16 Esther entered the presence of King Artaxerxes in the twelfth month, which is Adar, in the seventh year of his reign.

2:17 The king fell in love with Esther, and she found favor above all the virgins. He put the queen’s diadem on her.

2:18 The king held a drinking feast for all his friends and his forces for seven days. He celebrated Esther’s marriage splendidly and granted a remission to those under his rule.

2:19 Mordecai was serving in the court.

2:20 Esther did not disclose her homeland. For Mordecai had instructed her in this way: to fear God and carry out His commands, as when she was with him. Esther did not change her way of life.

2:21 The king's two eunuchs who were chief bodyguards were grieved because Mordecai had been promoted, and they sought to kill King Artaxerxes.

2:22 The matter was made known to Mordecai, and he informed Esther; she disclosed the plot to the king.

2:23 The king examined the two eunuchs and hung them. The king ordered a commendation of Mordecai's loyalty to be entered as a memorial in the royal library.

Esther 3

3:1 After these things King Artaxerxes honored Haman son of Hammedatha, a Bougaean, and exalted him; he held the first rank among all the king's friends.

3:2 Everyone in the court bowed down before him, for the king had commanded them to do so. But Mordecai did not bow down before him.

3:3 Those in the king's court said to Mordecai, "Mordecai, why do you disobey what the king says?"

3:4 They spoke to him every day, but he did not listen to them. They pointed out to Haman that Mordecai was opposing the king's words. Mordecai had told them that he was a Jew.

3:5 When Haman learned that Mordecai did not bow before him, he became exceedingly angry

3:6 and resolved to wipe out all the Jews under Artaxerxes's rule.

3:7 He made a decree in the twelfth year of Artaxerxes's reign and cast lots, day by day and month by month, to destroy Mordecai's race in a single day. The lot fell on the fourteenth of the month, which is Adar.

3:8 He spoke to King Artaxerxes, saying, "There is a nation scattered among the nations throughout your kingdom. Their laws are unlike those of all the nations; they disobey the king's laws, and it is not advantageous for the king to let them be.

3:9 If it pleases the king, let him decree their destruction, and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the king's treasury."

3:10 The king removed his ring and put it into Haman's hand to seal the written measures against the Jews.

3:11 The king said to Haman, "Keep the silver; deal with the nation as you wish."

3:12 The king's scribes were summoned on the thirteenth of the first month. As Haman commanded, they wrote to the generals and rulers in every territory from India to Ethiopia, the hundred and twenty-seven territories, and to the rulers of the nations in their own language, by authority of King Artaxerxes.

3:13 Letters were sent by couriers into Artaxerxes's kingdom to wipe out the race of the Jews in a single day of the twelfth month, which is Adar, and to plunder their possessions.

3:13a This is the copy of the letter: "The great King Artaxerxes writes the following to the rulers of the hundred and twenty-seven territories from India to Ethiopia and to the district governors subject to them:

3:13b Having ruled many nations and gained control of the whole inhabited world, I have wished—not exalting myself through the boldness of authority, but always conducting myself with greater fairness and gentleness—to establish the lives of my subjects in perpetual calm, to provide a civilized kingdom open to travel to its furthest limits, and to renew the peace desired by all people.

3:13c When I asked my counselors how this might be brought to completion, Haman, who excels among us in sound judgment, has demonstrated unchanging goodwill and firm loyalty, and has received the second honor in the kingdom,

3:13d pointed out to us that among all the tribes throughout the inhabited world a certain hostile people is intermingled, opposed in its laws to every nation, continually disregarding the kings' decrees so as not to accept the shared administration that we direct blamelessly.

3:13e We have therefore understood that this nation alone stands in continual opposition to every person, differing through its strange observance of laws, showing ill will toward our affairs, and accomplishing the worst evils so that the kingdom may not enjoy stability.

3:13f We have therefore commanded that all those indicated to you in the writings of Haman, who is appointed over our affairs and is our second father, be destroyed root and branch, with wives and children, by the swords of their enemies, without any pity or sparing, on the fourteenth of the twelfth month, Adar, of the present year,

3:13g so that those hostile both formerly and now may go down violently to Hades in a single day and thereafter leave our affairs stable and undisturbed for all time."

3:14 The copies of the letters were posted in every territory, and all the nations were ordered to be ready for that day.

3:15 The matter was also hurried forward in Susa. The king and Haman were drinking heavily, while the city was troubled.

Esther 4

4:1 When Mordecai learned what was being accomplished, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and sprinkled himself with ashes. Rushing out through the city square, he cried with a loud voice, “A nation that has done no wrong is being swept away!”

4:2 He came as far as the king’s gate and stood there, for he was not permitted to enter the court wearing sackcloth and ashes.

4:3 In every territory where the letters were posted, there was shouting, lamentation, and great mourning among the Jews; they spread sackcloth and ashes for themselves.

4:4 The queen’s maids and eunuchs came in and reported to her. On hearing what had happened, she was troubled and sent to clothe Mordecai and take away his sackcloth, but he would not be persuaded.

4:5 Esther summoned her eunuch Achrathaeus, who attended her, and sent him to learn the exact matter for her from Mordecai.

4:7 Mordecai told him what had happened and the promise Haman had made to the king of ten thousand talents for the treasury, in order to destroy the Jews.

4:8 He gave him the copy posted in Susa for their destruction, to show Esther. He told him to instruct her to go in, appeal to the king, and petition him concerning the people: “Remember the days of your lowliness, how you were brought up in my care. Haman, who is second to the king, has spoken against us for our death. Call upon the Lord, speak to the king concerning us, and rescue us from death.”

4:9 Achrathaeus came in and spoke all these words to her.

4:10 Esther said to Achrathaeus, “Go to Mordecai and say:

4:11 ‘All the nations of the kingdom know that any man or woman who enters the king’s inner court uninvited has no deliverance. Only the one to whom the king extends the golden sceptre will be spared. I have not been called to enter the king’s presence for these thirty days.’”

4:12 Achrathaeus reported all Esther’s words to Mordecai.

4:13 Mordecai said to Achrathaeus, “Go and tell her, ‘Esther, do not say to yourself that you alone in the kingdom will be spared beyond all the Jews.

4:14 For if you refuse to listen at this time, help and shelter will come to the Jews from elsewhere, but you and your father’s house will perish. Who knows whether you became queen for this time?’”

4:15 Esther sent the man who had come to her back to Mordecai, saying:

4:16 “Go, assemble the Jews in Susa, and all of you fast for me. Neither eat nor drink for three days, night and day; I and my maids will also go without food. Then I will enter the king’s presence contrary to the law, even if I must perish.”

4:17 Mordecai went and did everything Esther commanded him,

4:17a and he implored the Lord, remembering all the Lord’s works, and said:

4:17b “Lord, Lord, King who dost rule over all, everything is under Thine authority, and no one can oppose Thee when Thou wishest to save Israel.

4:17c For Thou madest heaven and earth and every wonderful thing beneath heaven. Thou art Lord of all, and no one can stand against Thee, the Lord.

4:17d Thou knowest all things. Thou knowest, Lord, that it was not in insolence, arrogance, or love of glory that I did this, refusing to bow before arrogant Haman. For I would gladly have kissed the soles of his feet for Israel’s salvation.

4:17e But I did this so that I would not set a human being’s glory above God’s glory. I will bow to no one except Thee, my Lord, and I will not do these things in arrogance.

4:17f Now, Lord God, King, God of Abraham, spare Thy people, for they look upon us to destroy us and have desired to destroy Thine inheritance from the beginning.

4:17g Do not overlook Thy portion, which Thou didst redeem for Thyself from the land of Egypt.

4:17h Hear my supplication, be gracious to Thine allotted people, and turn our mourning into feasting, so that while living we may sing hymns to Thy name, Lord. Do not wipe out the mouth of those who praise Thee.”

4:17i All Israel cried out with all their strength, because their death was before their eyes.

4:17k Queen Esther took refuge in the Lord, gripped by mortal anguish. She took off her glorious garments and put on garments of distress and mourning. Instead of splendid perfumes she filled her head with ashes and dung, greatly humbled her body, and filled every place of her joyful adornment with her tangled hair. She implored the Lord God of Israel and said:

4:17l "My Lord, our King, Thou art the only one. Help me, who am alone and have no helper except Thee, for my danger is at hand.

4:17m From my birth I have heard within my ancestral tribe that Thou, Lord, didst take Israel from all the nations and our fathers from all their ancestors as an everlasting inheritance, and do for them everything Thou saidst.

4:17n Now we have sinned before Thee, and Thou hast handed us over to our enemies because we glorified their gods. Thou art righteous, Lord.

4:17o Now they are not satisfied with the bitterness of our slavery, but have placed their hands upon the hands of their idols, to abolish the decree of Thy mouth, wipe out Thine inheritance, close the mouth of those who praise Thee, and extinguish the glory of Thy house and Thine altar,

4:17p and to open the mouth of nations to praise worthless things, and that a king of flesh might be admired for ever.

4:17q Do not hand over Thy sceptre, Lord, to those who do not exist. Do not let them mock us at our downfall, but turn their plan back upon them, and make an example of the one who began this against us.

4:17r Remember, Lord; make Thyself known in the time of our affliction. Give me courage, King of the gods, who dost hold sway over every dominion.

4:17s Put well-ordered speech in my mouth before the lion, and turn his heart to hatred of the one who wages war against us, to bring him and those of one mind with him to an end.

4:17t But rescue us by Thy hand, and help me, who am alone and have no one except Thee, Lord.

4:17u Thou hast knowledge of all things, and Thou knowest that I have hated the glory of the lawless and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised and of every foreigner.

4:17w Thou knowest my necessity: I abhor the sign of my exalted position upon my head on the days when I appear. I abhor it like a menstrual cloth, and I do not wear it in my days of quiet.

4:17x Thy slave woman has not eaten at Haman's table; I have not honored the king's drinking feast or drunk wine of libations.

4:17y Thy slave woman has had no joy from the day of my change until now except in Thee, Lord, God of Abraham.

4:17z God who is mighty over all, hear the voice of those who have lost hope, and rescue us from the hand of evildoers. Rescue me from my fear."

Esther 5

5:1–1c On the third day, when she had ceased praying, she took off the garments of her devotion and clothed herself in her glory.

5:1d–1f; 5:2 He raised his face, ablaze with glory, and looked at her in the height of anger. The queen fell, her color changed as she fainted, and she bent over upon the head of the maid who went before her.

5:2a She said to him, "I saw you, lord, like an angel of God, and my heart was troubled with fear of your glory. For you are marvelous, lord, and your face is full of grace."

5:2b While she was speaking, she fell in her faintness. The king was troubled, and all his attendants comforted her.

5:3 The king said, "What do you want, Esther, and what is your petition? Even up to half my kingdom, it shall be yours."

5:4 Esther said, "Today is a special day for me. If, therefore, it pleases the king, let him and Haman come to the reception I will hold today."

5:5 The king said, "Hurry Haman here, so that we may carry out Esther's word." Both came to the reception Esther had spoken of.

5:6 During the drinking feast the king said to Esther, "What is it, Queen Esther? Whatever you ask shall be yours."

5:7 She said, "My request and my petition are this:

5:8 If I have found favor before the king, let the king and Haman come tomorrow to the reception I will hold for them, and tomorrow I will do the same."

5:9 Haman went out from the king overjoyed and rejoicing. But when Haman saw Mordecai the Jew in the court, he became exceedingly angry.

5:10 He went into his own house and summoned his friends and his wife Zosara.

5:11 He showed them his wealth and the glory the king had bestowed on him, and how he had made him first and a leader of the kingdom.

5:12 Haman said, "The queen has invited no one but me with the king to the reception, and I am invited for tomorrow.

5:13 Yet these things do not please me whenever I see Mordecai the Jew in the court."

5:14 His wife Zosara and his friends said to him, “Let a tree fifty cubits long be cut for you. At dawn speak to the king, and let Mordecai be hung on the tree. Then enter the reception with the king and rejoice.” The proposal pleased Haman, and the tree was prepared.

Esther 6

6:1 But the Lord removed sleep from the king that night, and he told his teacher to bring in the written remembrances of the days and read them to him.

6:2 He found the writings recorded about Mordecai: how he had reported to the king about the king’s two eunuchs while they were on guard and sought to lay hands on Artaxerxes.

6:3 The king said, “What honor or favor have we shown Mordecai?” The king’s attendants said, “You have done nothing for him.”

6:4 While the king was inquiring about Mordecai’s loyalty, behold, Haman was in the court. The king said, “Who is in the court?” Haman had come in to ask the king to hang Mordecai on the tree he had prepared.

6:5 The king’s attendants said, “Behold, Haman is standing in the court.” The king said, “Call him.”

6:6 The king said to Haman, “What shall I do for the man whom I wish to honor?” Haman said to himself, “Whom does the king wish to honor except me?”

6:7 He said to the king, “As for a man whom the king wishes to honor,

6:8 let the king’s servants bring a fine linen robe that the king wears and a horse on which the king rides.

6:9 Let him give them to one of the king’s distinguished friends, and let that man clothe the man whom the king loves, mount him on the horse, and proclaim through the city square, ‘So shall it be for every man whom the king honors!’”

6:10 The king said to Haman, “Do just as you have said for Mordecai the Jew, who serves in the court. Do not let a word of what you have said fall away from you.”

6:11 Haman took the robe and the horse, clothed Mordecai, mounted him on the horse, went through the city square, and proclaimed, “So shall it be for every man whom the king wishes to honor!”

6:12 Mordecai returned to the court, but Haman returned to his own home, grieving and with his head covered.

6:13 Haman recounted what had happened to him to Zosara his wife and to his friends. His friends and his wife said to him, “If Mordecai is of the race of the Jews, and you have begun to be humbled before him, you will surely fall. You will certainly not be able to ward him off, because a living God is with him.”

6:14 While they were still speaking, the eunuchs arrived, hurrying Haman to the drinking feast Esther had prepared.

Esther 7

7:1 The king and Haman went in to drink with the queen.

7:2 On the second day, at the drinking feast, the king said to Esther, “What is it, Queen Esther? What is your petition, and what is your request? Let it be yours, up to half my kingdom.”

7:3 She answered, “If I have found favor before the king, let my life be granted at my petition, and my people at my request.

7:4 For I and my people have been sold for destruction, plunder, and slavery—we and our children as male and female slaves—and I let it pass. For the slanderer is not worthy of the king’s court.”

7:5 The king said, “Who is this who dared to do this deed?”

7:6 Esther said, “An enemy—this wicked Haman!” Haman was disturbed before the king and the queen.

7:7 The king rose from the banquet and went into the garden. Haman pleaded with the queen, for he saw that he himself was in trouble.

7:8 The king returned from the garden, and Haman had fallen upon the couch, entreating the queen. The king said, “Are you even forcing yourself on the woman in my house?” When Haman heard this, his face changed.

7:9 Bougathan, one of the eunuchs, said to the king, “Behold, Haman also prepared a tree for Mordecai, who spoke concerning the king. A tree of fifty cubits has been erected at Haman’s place.” The king said, “Let him be fastened to it.”

7:10 Haman was hung on the tree he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the king ceased from his anger.

Esther 8

8:1 On that very day King Artaxerxes gave Esther everything that belonged to Haman the slanderer. Mordecai was summoned by the king, for Esther had explained that he was related to her.

8:2 The king took the signet ring he had removed from Haman and gave it to Mordecai. Esther appointed Mordecai over all Haman's possessions.

8:3 She spoke to the king again, fell at his feet, and asked him to remove Haman's wickedness and everything he had done to the Jews.

8:4 The king extended the golden scepter to Esther, and Esther rose to stand before the king.

8:5 Esther said, "If it seems good to you, and I have found favor, let an order be sent to reverse the letters sent out by Haman, which were written for the destruction of the Jews in your kingdom.

8:6 For how shall I be able to see the affliction of my people? How shall I be able to survive the destruction of my homeland?"

8:7 The king said to Esther, "If I have given and granted you all Haman's possessions, and have hung him on a tree because he raised his hands against the Jews, what more do you seek?

8:8 You yourselves may write in my name as seems good to you and seal it with my signet ring. For whatever is written at the king's command and sealed with my signet ring cannot be contradicted."

8:9 The scribes were summoned in the first month, which is Nisa, on the twenty-third day of that same year. What he commanded was written to the Jews, to the administrators, and to the rulers of the satraps from India to Ethiopia, to one hundred twenty-seven satrapies, region by region, in their own language.

8:10 It was written through the king and sealed with his signet ring, and they sent out the letters by letter carriers:

8:11 he commanded them to observe their laws in every city, to help themselves, and to deal with their adversaries and opponents as they wished,

8:12 on one day throughout Artaxerxes's kingdom, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is Adar.

8:12a The following is a copy of the letter:

8:12b "The great King Artaxerxes, to the rulers of the regions in the one hundred twenty-seven satrapies from India to Ethiopia, and to those who are loyal to us: greetings.

8:12c "Many, repeatedly honored by the abundant kindness of their benefactors, have become arrogant. They not only seek to harm those subject to us, but, unable to bear such abundance, they also attempt to plot against their own benefactors.

8:12d They not only abolish gratitude among people, but, lifted up by the boasts of those unacquainted with goodness, they suppose they will escape the evil-hating justice of God, Who always watches over all things.

8:12e Often the persuasion of friends entrusted with managing affairs has made many appointed to authority complicit in innocent bloodshed and has surrounded them with irreparable calamities,

8:12f as these men have deceived the rulers' innocent good intentions with their malicious false reasoning.

8:12g You can examine this, not so much from the older accounts we have handed down, as by investigating what has been impiously carried out close at hand through the pestilence of those who wield power unworthily.

8:12h You can also attend to what comes afterward, so that we may provide an undisturbed kingdom for all people in peace,

8:12i responding to changes, yet always judging the matters that come before our eyes with a more equitable response.

8:12k For Haman son of Hammedatha, a Macedonian, in truth foreign to the blood of the Persians and far removed from our kindness, was received among us as a guest.

8:12l He received the humanity we show toward every nation to such a degree that he was proclaimed our father and continued as the second person beside the royal throne, receiving homage from everyone.

8:12m But, unable to contain his arrogance, he set about depriving us of our rule and our breath of life.

8:12n With the intricate false reasoning of his schemes, he asked for the destruction of our savior and constant benefactor Mordecai, and Esther, the blameless partner in our kingship, together with their whole nation.

8:12o For he thought that by these means he could find us isolated and transfer the rule of the Persians to the Macedonians.

8:12p But we find that the Jews handed over to annihilation by this thrice-accursed man are not evildoers, but conduct their lives by most righteous laws.

8:12q They are sons of the Most High, greatest, living God, Who has guided the kingdom for us and our ancestors in the finest condition.

8:12r Therefore you will do well not to act upon the letters sent by Haman son of Hammedatha. For he himself, who accomplished these things, has been fastened to a stake at the gates of Susa with his whole household, for God, Who rules over all things, quickly repaid him with the judgment he deserved.

8:12s Display a copy of this letter in every place openly. Allow the Jews to observe their own ordinances, and strengthen them so that they may ward off those who attack them in a time of affliction, on the same day, the thirteenth of the twelfth month, Adar.

8:12t For God, Who has dominion over all things, has made this day a joy for them instead of a destruction of the chosen race.

8:12u You also, therefore, shall observe it as a notable day among your named festivals, with every festivity, so that both now and hereafter there may be deliverance for us and for the Persians loyal to us, but a remembrance of destruction for those who plot against us.

8:12x Every city or region, without exception, that does not act according to these instructions will be consumed in wrath by spear and fire. It will be made not only impassable to human beings but also most hateful to wild beasts and birds for all time.

8:13 Let the copies be displayed plainly throughout the whole kingdom, and let all the Jews be ready for this day to fight their opponents."

8:14 The horsemen went out, hurrying to carry out what the king had said. The decree was also displayed in Susa.

8:15 Mordecai went out clothed in the royal robe, wearing a golden crown and a fine linen, purple diadem. When the people in Susa saw him, they rejoiced.

8:16 For the Jews there was light and joy.

8:17 In every city and region, wherever the decree was displayed, wherever the proclamation was displayed, there was gladness and joy for the Jews, drinking and rejoicing. Many of the nations were circumcised and lived as Jews because of fear of the Jews.

Esther 9

9:1 For in the twelfth month, on the thirteenth day of the month, which is Adar, the letters written by the king were at hand.

9:2 On that very day those opposed to the Jews perished. No one resisted, for they feared them.

9:3 For the rulers of the satraps, the potentates, and the royal scribes honored the Jews, for fear of Mordecai lay upon them.

9:4 For the king's decree had arrived, to be proclaimed throughout the whole kingdom.

9:6 In the city of Susa the Jews killed five hundred men,

9:7 and Pharsannestain, Delphon, Phasga,

9:8 Phardatha, Barea, Sarbacha,

9:9 Marmasima, Arouphaion, Arsaion, and Zabouthaithan,

9:10 the ten sons of Haman son of Hammedatha the Bougaean, the enemy of the Jews; and they plundered.

9:11 On that very day the number of those who had perished in Susa was delivered to the king.

9:12 The king said to Esther, "The Jews have destroyed five hundred men in the city of Susa. How do you think they have acted in the surrounding country? What further request do you have? It will be yours."

9:13 Esther said to the king, "Let the Jews be granted to act in the same way tomorrow, so as also to hang Haman's ten sons."

9:14 He permitted this to be done and published an order for the Jews of the city to hang the bodies of Haman's sons.

9:15 The Jews in Susa gathered on the fourteenth of Adar and killed three hundred men, and they plundered nothing.

9:16 The rest of the Jews in the kingdom gathered, helped themselves, and gained rest from their enemies. For they destroyed fifteen thousand of them on the thirteenth of Adar, and they plundered nothing.

9:17 They rested on the fourteenth of that same month and observed it as a day of rest with gladness and joy.

9:18 But the Jews in the city of Susa gathered also on the fourteenth and did not rest. They also observed the fifteenth with gladness and joy.

9:19 Therefore the Jews scattered throughout all the country outside observe the fourteenth of Adar as a festive day with joy, each sending portions to a neighbor. But those living in the chief cities also observe the fifteenth of Adar as a good day of joy, sending portions to their neighbors.

9:20 Mordecai wrote these words in a book and sent it to the Jews throughout Artaxerxes's kingdom, those near and those far away,

9:21 to establish these days as festive days and to observe the fourteenth and fifteenth of Adar—

9:22 for on these days the Jews gained rest from their enemies—and to observe the whole month in which their circumstances were changed, which was Adar, from mourning to gladness and from distress to a festive day, as festive days of wedding feasts and joy, sending portions to their friends and to the poor.

9:23 The Jews accepted it, as Mordecai had written to them:

9:24 how Haman son of Hammedatha the Macedonian had warred against them, how he had established a decree and a lot to annihilate them,

9:25 and how he had gone in to the king asking for Mordecai to be hung. But all the evils he attempted to bring upon the Jews came upon him, and he and his children were hung.

9:26 Therefore these days were called Phrourai because of the lots, since in their language they are called Phrourai, because of the words of this letter, what they suffered through these things, and what happened to them.

9:27 He established it, and the Jews accepted it for themselves, for their offspring, and for those who had joined them; nor would they act otherwise. These days were a remembrance to be kept in every generation, city, family, and region.

9:28 These days of Phrourai will be observed for all time, and their remembrance will certainly not fail from the generations.

9:29 Queen Esther daughter of Aminadab and Mordecai the Jew wrote what they had done, and the confirmation of the letter about Phrourai.

9:31 Mordecai and Queen Esther established these things for themselves, against themselves, and then also set their plan against their own health.

9:32 Esther established it by a word for ever, and it was written for a remembrance.

Esther 10

10:1 The king set down taxes upon the kingdom, both on land and on sea.

10:2 His strength and courage, and the wealth and glory of his kingdom—behold, they are written in the book of the kings of the Persians and Medes for a remembrance.

10:3 Mordecai acted as deputy to King Artaxerxes. He was great in the kingdom and honored by the Jews. Being beloved, he recounted the course of affairs to his whole nation.

10:3a Mordecai said, “These things came from God.

10:3b For I remembered the dream I saw concerning these matters, and not a word of them passed away.

10:3c The small spring that became a river, and there was light and sun and much water—Esther is the river, whom the king married and made queen.

10:3d The two dragons are Haman and I.

10:3e The nations are those gathered together to destroy the name of the Jews.

10:3f My nation is Israel, those who cried out to God and were saved. The Lord saved His people, and the Lord rescued us from all these evils. God performed the signs and the great wonders that had not happened among the nations.

10:3g Therefore He made two lots, one for the people of God and one for all the nations.

10:3h These two lots came to their hour and appointed time, to a day of judgment before God and among all the nations.

10:3i God remembered His people and vindicated His inheritance.

10:3k These days will be theirs in the month of Adar, on the fourteenth and fifteenth of the same month, with assembly, gladness, and joy before God, through the generations for ever among His people Israel.”

10:3l In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and a Levite, and Ptolemy his son brought in the preceding letter about Phrourai. They said it was authentic and had been translated by Lysimachus son of Ptolemy, one of those in Jerusalem.

Job

Job 1

1:1 A certain man lived in the land of Ausitis whose name was Job. That man was true, blameless, righteous, and God-fearing, keeping away from every evil deed.

1:2 He had seven sons and three daughters.

1:3 His livestock numbered seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred pairs of oxen, and five hundred grazing female donkeys. He had a very large body of servants and great enterprises in the land. That man was of noble standing among those from the sunrise.

1:4 His sons would gather with one another and hold a drinking feast each day, taking their three sisters along to eat and drink with them.

1:5 When the days of the drinking feast had ended, Job would send for them and purify them, rising in the morning and offering sacrifices for them according to their number, and one calf as a sin offering for their lives. For Job said, “Perhaps my sons have conceived evil thoughts toward God in their minds.” So Job did this continually.

1:6 When that day came, behold, the angels of God came to stand before the Lord, and the devil came with them.

1:7 The Lord said to the devil, “Where have you come from?” The devil answered the Lord, “I have come after going around the earth and walking through the world beneath heaven.”

1:8 The Lord said to him, “Have you paid attention in your mind to My servant Job? For among those on earth there is no man like him—blameless, true, God-fearing, keeping away from every evil deed.”

1:9 The devil answered before the Lord, “Does Job worship God for nothing?

1:10 Hast Thou not fenced in what is outside him and what is inside his house, and everything around all that belongs to him? Thou hast blessed the works of his hands and made his livestock numerous in the land.

1:11 But stretch out Thy hand and touch everything he has; surely he will curse Thee to Thy face.”

1:12 Then the Lord said to the devil, “Behold, everything he has I give into your hand, but do not touch him.” And the devil went out from the Lord.

1:13 When that day came, Job’s sons and his daughters were drinking wine in the house of their elder brother.

1:14 Behold, a messenger came to Job and said to him, “The pairs of oxen were plowing, and the female donkeys were grazing beside them.

1:15 The raiders came and carried them away, and killed the servants with swords. I alone was saved and came to report to you.”

1:16 While this one was still speaking, another messenger came and said to Job, “Fire fell from heaven and burned up the sheep and likewise consumed the shepherds. I alone was saved and came to report to you.”

1:17 While this one was still speaking, another messenger came and said to Job, “The horsemen formed three companies against us, surrounded the camels and carried them away, and killed the servants with swords. I alone was saved and came to report to you.”

1:18 While this one was still speaking, another messenger came, saying to Job, “While your sons and daughters were eating and drinking with their elder brother,

1:19 a great wind suddenly came from the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house. The house fell on your children, and they died. I alone was saved and came to report to you.”

1:20 Then Job rose, tore his garments, and cut off the hair of his head. He fell to the ground, bowed in worship, and said:

1:21 “I myself came out naked from my mother’s womb, and naked I shall depart there: the Lord gave, and the Lord took away; as it seemed good to the Lord, so it happened: blessed be the name of the Lord.”

1:22 In all these things that happened to him, Job did not sin at all before the Lord or attribute foolishness to God.

Job 2

2:1 When that day came, the angels of God came to stand before the Lord, and the devil came among them to stand before the Lord.

2:2 The Lord said to the devil, “Where are you coming from?” Then the devil said before the Lord, “I have come after traveling through the world beneath heaven and walking through all of it.”

2:3 The Lord said to the devil, “Have you then paid attention to My servant Job? For among those on earth there is no man like him—innocent, true, blameless, God-fearing, keeping away from every evil. He still holds to innocence, but you said to destroy his belongings for nothing.”

2:4 The devil replied to the Lord, “Skin for skin! Whatever a person has, he will pay for his life.

2:5 But indeed, stretch out Thy hand and touch his bones and his flesh; surely he will curse Thee to Thy face.”

2:6 The Lord said to the devil, “Behold, I hand him over to you; only preserve his life.”

2:7 The devil went out from the Lord and struck Job with a grievous ulcer from his feet to his head.

2:8 He took a potsherd to scrape off the discharge, and sat on the dung heap outside the city.

2:9 After much time had passed, his wife said to him, “How long will you persist, saying,

2:9a ‘Behold, I will wait a little while longer, expecting the hope of my deliverance’?

2:9b For behold, your memorial has vanished from the earth: sons and daughters, the pangs and pains of my womb, for whom I labored in vain with hardships.

2:9c You yourself sit amid the decay of worms, spending the night in the open air,

2:9d while I am a wanderer and a hired servant, going from place to place and from house to house, waiting for the sun to set so that I may rest from the hardships and pains that now hold me fast.

2:9e But say some word to the Lord and die.”

2:10 He looked at her and said, “You have spoken like one of the foolish women. If we received good things from the Lord’s hand, shall we not bear the bad things?” In all these things that happened to him, Job did not sin at all with his lips before God.

2:11 His three friends heard of all the bad things that had come upon him and came to him, each from his own country: Eliphaz king of the Temanites, Bildad ruler of the Shuhites, and Zophar king of the Minaeans. They came to him together to comfort him and visit him.

2:12 When they saw him from far away, they did not recognize him. Crying out loudly, they wept, each tearing his own robe and sprinkling earth upon himself.

2:13 They sat beside him seven days and seven nights, and none of them spoke, for they saw that his affliction was terrible and exceedingly great.

Job 3

3:1 After this Job opened his mouth and cursed his day,

3:2 saying:

3:3 “May the day perish on which I was born, and the night in which they said, ‘Behold, a male child!’

3:4 May that day be darkness; may the Lord above not seek it out, and may no brightness come upon it.

3:5 May darkness and death’s shadow take possession of it; may gloom come upon it.

3:6 May that day and night be cursed; may darkness carry it away. May it not belong among the days of the year or be numbered among the days of the months.

3:7 But may that night be pain, and may neither gladness nor joy come upon it.

3:8 But may the one who curses that day curse it, the one who is about to subdue the great sea creature.

3:9 May the stars of that night be darkened; may it wait and not come into light, and may it not see the morning star rising,

3:10 because it did not close the gates of my mother’s womb; for it would have removed pain from my eyes.

3:11 For why did I not die in the womb, come out from the belly and immediately perish?

3:12 Why did knees meet me? Why did I suck breasts?

3:13 Now I would have lain down and been quiet; I would have slept and rested

3:14 with kings, counselors of the earth, who exulted in swords,

3:15 or with rulers who had much gold, who filled their houses with silver,

3:16 or like a miscarriage coming out of a mother’s womb, or like infants who never saw light.

3:17 There the ungodly kindled the fury of anger; there those worn out in body rested.

3:18 Together the age-old ones did not hear a tax collector’s voice.

3:19 Small and great are there, and the servant does not fear his master.

3:20 For why has light been given to those in bitterness, and life to souls in pain,

3:21 who long for death and do not obtain it, digging for it as for treasures,

3:22 and become overjoyed if they obtain it?

3:23 Death is rest for a man, for God has shut him in.

3:24 For sighing comes to me before my food, and I weep, gripped by fear.

3:25 For the fear I thought about came upon me, and what I had feared met me.

3:26 I had no peace, no quiet, no rest; yet wrath came upon me.”

Job 4

4:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite replied:

4:2 “Have you not often been spoken to amid trouble? Who will endure the force of your words?

4:3 For if you admonished many and encouraged a weak person’s hands,

4:4 and raised up the weak with words and put courage into powerless knees,

4:5 yet now pain has come upon you and touched you, and you have become agitated.

4:6 Is not your fear in foolishness, and your hope and the innocence of your way as well?

4:7 Remember, then: who perished while pure, or when were true people utterly uprooted?

4:8 As I have seen those who plow improper things, those who sow them will reap pains for themselves.

4:9 By the Lord’s command they will perish; by the breath of His anger they will disappear.

4:10 The lion’s strength, the lioness’s voice, and the boasting of dragons were extinguished.

4:11 The ant-lion perished for lack of food, and lion cubs abandoned one another.

4:12 But if some true word had been among your words, none of these evils would have met you. Will not my ear receive extraordinary things from Him?

4:13 There were terrors and a nocturnal sound, fear falling upon people;

4:14 a shudder and trembling met me and shook my bones greatly.

4:15 A spirit came upon my face, and my hair and flesh shuddered.

4:16 I stood up and did not recognize it; I looked, and there was no form before my eyes, but I heard a breeze and a voice:

4:17 ‘What then? Can a mortal be pure before the Lord, or a man blameless on account of his works?

4:18 If He places no trust in His servants and finds something crooked in His angels,

4:19 as for those who inhabit houses of clay, from which we ourselves also are, of the same clay, He struck them as one does a moth.

4:20 From morning until evening they are no more; because they cannot help themselves, they perished.

4:21 For He blew upon them, and they withered; they perished because they had no wisdom.’

Job 5

5:1 “Call, then, to see whether anyone will answer you, or whether you will see any of the holy angels.

5:2 For anger kills a fool, and jealousy puts one who has gone astray to death.

5:3 I have seen fools taking root, but immediately their way of life was devoured.

5:4 May their sons be far from deliverance; may they be battered at the doors of weaker people, with no one to rescue them.

5:5 For the righteous will eat what they gathered, and they themselves will not be rescued from evils; may their strength be drained away.

5:6 For toil will certainly not come out of the earth, nor will pain sprout from mountains;

5:7 but a human being is born to toil, and a vulture’s young fly to the heights.

5:8 But indeed, I will entreat the Lord; I will call upon the Lord, the Master of all,

5:9 who does great and unsearchable things, glorious and extraordinary things beyond numbering,

5:10 who gives rain upon the earth and sends water upon the world beneath heaven,

5:11 who raises the lowly to a height and rouses those who have perished,

5:12 who changes the counsels of the unscrupulous, and their hands will certainly do nothing true.

5:13 He catches the wise in their understanding and throws the counsel of the devious into confusion.

5:14 By day darkness will meet them; may they grope at noon as in the night.

5:15 May they perish in war, but may the powerless escape from a ruler’s hand.

5:16 May the powerless have hope, and may an unjust person’s mouth be stopped.

5:17 Happy is the person whom the Lord reproved; do not refuse the Almighty’s admonition.

5:18 For He causes pain and restores again; He struck, and His hands healed.

5:19 Six times He will rescue you from distress; and the seventh time no evil will touch you.

5:20 In famine He will rescue you from death, and in war He will release you from the hand of iron.

5:21 He will hide you from the lash of the tongue, and you will not fear coming evils.

5:22 You will laugh at unjust and lawless people; you will not fear wild beasts,

5:23 for wild beasts will be at peace with you.

5:24 Then you will know that your house will be at peace, and the livelihood of your tent will not fail.

5:25 You will know that your offspring are many, and your children will be like all the vegetation of the field.

5:26 You will come to the grave like ripe grain harvested at the proper time, or like a heap on the threshing floor gathered in its season.

5:27 Behold, we have searched these things out in this way; these are the things we have heard. But know for yourself whether you have done anything."

Job 6

6:1 Then Job replied:

6:2 "If only someone would weigh my anger and lift my pains together in a balance!

6:3 It would indeed be heavier than the sand beside the sea; but, it seems, my words are worthless.

6:4 For the Lord's arrows are in my body; their fury drinks up my blood. When I begin to speak, they stab me.

6:5 What then? Does a wild donkey cry out for nothing, rather than seeking food? Would an ox raise its voice at a manger when it has food?

6:6 Will bread be eaten without salt? Is there any taste in empty words?

6:7 For my soul cannot cease; I see my food as a stench, like the smell of a lion.

6:8 If only He would grant it and my request would come, and the Lord would grant my hope!

6:9 Let the Lord begin and wound me, but let Him not destroy me completely.

6:10 May my city be a grave, on whose walls I used to leap; I will certainly not hold back. For I have not falsified the holy words of my God.

6:11 For what is my strength, that I endure? What time remains to me, that my soul holds out?

6:12 Is my strength the strength of stones? Is my flesh made of bronze?

6:13 Had I not trusted in Him? But help is far from me.

6:14 Mercy has disowned me, and the Lord's care has overlooked me.

6:15 Those nearest me paid no attention to me; like a failing winter torrent or a wave they passed me by.

6:16 Those who regarded me with awe have now fallen upon me, like snow or ice frozen solid.

6:17 Just as snow melts when heat comes and is no longer recognized as what it was,

6:18 so I too was abandoned by everyone; I perished and became homeless.

6:19 Look at the roads of the Temanites, the paths of the Sabeans, you who see clearly!

6:20 Those who trust in cities and possessions will incur shame.

6:21 But you too have come upon me without mercy, so that on seeing my wound you became afraid.

6:22 What then? Did I ask you for anything, or do I need the strength you have,

6:23 to save me from enemies or rescue me from the hand of rulers?

6:24 Teach me, and I will be silent; if I have gone astray in anything, tell me.

6:25 But, it seems, a truthful person's words are worthless, for I am not asking you for strength.

6:26 Your reproof will not stop me with words, for I will not endure even the sound of a word from you.

6:27 Except that you fall upon an orphan and leap upon your friend.

6:28 But now, looking into your faces, I will not lie.

6:29 Sit down, then, and let there be no injustice; once again associate with the righteous person.

6:30 For there is no injustice on my tongue; does not my throat ponder understanding?

Job 7

7:1 "Is not a human being's life on earth a trial, and his existence like that of a worker hired for the day?

7:2 Or like a servant fearing his master and obtaining shade, or like a hired worker waiting for his wages,

7:3 so I too endured empty months, and nights of pain have been given to me.

7:4 If I lie down, I say, 'When will it be day?' And when I rise, again, 'When will it be evening?' I am filled with pains from evening until morning.

7:5 My body is fouled with the decay of worms; I dissolve clods of earth as I scrape off the discharge.

7:6 My life is lighter than chatter and has perished in empty hope.

7:7 Remember, then, that my life is a breath, and my eye will no longer return to see good.

7:8 The eye of the one who sees me will no longer look upon me; Thine eyes will be upon me, and I will be no more,

7:9 like a cloud cleared away from heaven. For if a person goes down to Hades, he will never come up again,

7:10 nor will he ever return again to his own house, nor will his place recognize him any longer.

7:11 So I too will not restrain my mouth; I will speak in my distress; held fast, I will disclose the bitterness of my soul.

7:12 Am I a sea or a dragon, that Thou didst post a guard over me?

7:13 I said, ‘My bed will comfort me; on my couch I will privately bring up a matter with myself,’

7:14 Thou frightenest me with dreams and overwhelmest me with visions.

7:15 Thou wilt release my soul from my breath, and my bones from death.

7:16 For I will not live for ever, so as to keep enduring; leave me alone, for my life is empty.

7:17 For what is a human being, that Thou didst magnify him, or that Thou givest Thy mind to him,

7:18 or that Thou visitest him until morning and judgest him for rest?

7:19 How long wilt Thou not leave me alone, nor let me go until I swallow my saliva in pain?

7:20 If I sinned, what can I do to Thee, Thou who understandest the human mind? Why hast Thou made me Thine accuser, and why am I a burden to Thee?

7:21 Why hast Thou not brought about forgetfulness of my lawlessness and cleansing of my sin? But now I will depart into the earth; at daybreak I am no more.”

Job 8

8:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite replied:

8:2 “How long will you speak these things? The breath of your mouth is full of words.

8:3 Will the Lord do wrong in judging, or will the Maker of all disturb what is right?

8:4 If your sons sinned before Him, He sent them into the power of their lawlessness.

8:5 But rise early to the Lord Almighty in supplication.

8:6 If you are pure and true, He will hear your supplication and restore to you a righteous way of life.

8:7 Then your first things will be few, but your last things beyond telling.

8:8 For inquire of the former generation; search out the family of the fathers.

8:9 For we are of yesterday and do not know; our life on earth is a shadow.

8:10 Will these not teach you and tell you, and bring words out of the heart?

8:11 Does papyrus flourish without water, or will a rush grow tall without a drink?

8:12 While it is still on its root and unharvested, does not every plant wither before it drinks?

8:13 So, then, will be the latter end of all who forget the Lord; for the hope of an ungodly person will perish.

8:14 For his house will be uninhabited, and his tent will turn into a spider’s web.

8:15 If he props up his house, it will certainly not stand; when he takes hold of it, it will certainly not endure.

8:16 For he is moist beneath the sun, and his shoot will come out of his decay.

8:17 He lies upon a heap of stones and will live among pebbles.

8:18 If it swallows him up, the place will disown him. Have you not seen such things?

8:19 For such is the overthrow of an ungodly person, and from the earth it will cause another to sprout.

8:20 For the Lord will certainly not reject the innocent, but He will accept no gift of an ungodly person.

8:21 He will fill the mouth of true people with laughter, and their lips with thanksgiving.

8:22 Their enemies will be clothed with shame, and an ungodly person’s dwelling will be no more.”

Job 9

9:1 Then Job replied:

9:2 “Truly I know that it is so; for how can a mortal be righteous before the Lord?

9:3 For if he wishes to enter judgment with Him, He certainly will not listen to him, lest he answer back to one of His words out of a thousand.

9:4 For He is wise in understanding, mighty and great. Who grew hard against Him and endured?

9:5 He wears the mountains out, and they do not know; He overturns them in anger.

9:6 He shakes the world beneath heaven from its foundations, and its pillars sway.

9:7 He speaks to the sun and it does not rise, and He seals up the stars.

9:8 He alone stretched out heaven and walks on the sea as on ground.

9:9 He makes the Pleiades, the Evening Star, and Arcturus, and the storehouses of the south.

9:10 He does great and unsearchable things, glorious and extraordinary things beyond numbering.

9:11 If He passes over me, I will not see; if He passes by me, even then I do not perceive Him.

9:12 If He takes away, who will turn Him back? Who will say to Him, ‘What hast Thou done?’

9:13 For He Himself has turned away anger; beneath Him the sea creatures under heaven bent down.

9:14 But if He listens to me, He will surely sift my words.

9:15 For even if I am righteous, He will not listen to me; I will plead for His judgment.

9:16 Even if I call and He answers, I do not believe that He has heard me.

9:17 Might He crush me with gloom? He has multiplied my injuries without cause.

9:18 For He does not let me breathe, but has filled me with bitterness.

9:19 For He prevails in strength. Who, then, will resist His judgment?

9:20 For even if I am righteous, my mouth will act impiously; even if I am blameless, I will turn out crooked.

9:21 For whether I acted impiously, I do not know in my soul; I know only that my life is being taken away.

9:22 Therefore I said, ‘Wrath destroys the great and the ruler,

9:23 for the worthless meet an extraordinary death, but the righteous are mocked,

9:24 for they have been handed over into an ungodly person’s hands. He covers the faces of its judges; if it is not He, who is it?’

9:25 My life is swifter than a runner; they fled and did not see.

9:26 Is there a trace of a ship’s way, or of an eagle flying in search of food?

9:27 For even if I speak, I will forget while speaking; bowing my face, I will groan.

9:28 I shake in all my limbs, for I know that Thou wilt not leave me innocent.

9:29 Since I am ungodly, why did I not die?

9:30 For if I wash myself with snow and purify myself with clean hands,

9:31 Thou hast thoroughly dipped me in filth, and my robe abhorred me.

9:32 For Thou art not a human being like me, with whom I could contend, so that we might come together for judgment.

9:33 Would that our mediator were present, one to reprove and hear the cause between us both!

9:34 Let him remove the rod from me, and let His terror not whirl me about,

9:35 and I will certainly not fear, but will speak; for I am not conscious of being so.

Job 10

10:1 “Weary in my soul and groaning, I will let my words loose upon Him; I will speak, held fast by the bitterness of my soul,

10:2 and say to the Lord, ‘Do not teach me to act impiously! Why hast Thou judged me in this way?

10:3 Is it good for Thee if I do wrong, that I disown the works of Thy hands, while Thou didst attend to the counsel of the ungodly?

10:4 Dost Thou observe as a mortal sees, or look as a human being looks?

10:5 Is Thy life human, or are Thy years those of a man,

10:6 that Thou didst search out my lawlessness and investigate my sins?

10:7 For Thou knowest that I did not act impiously; but who is there to rescue from Thy hands?

10:8 Thy hands molded me and made me; afterward Thou didst change and strike me.

10:9 Remember that Thou didst mold me as clay, and Thou art turning me back again into earth.

10:10 Didst Thou not milk me out like milk and curdle me just like cheese?

10:11 Thou didst clothe me with skin and flesh and thread me together with bones and sinews.

10:12 Thou didst place life and mercy beside me, and Thy care guarded my spirit.

10:13 Thou holdest these things within Thyself; I know that Thou canst do all things, and nothing is impossible for Thee.

10:14 For if I sin, Thou guardest me, and Thou hast not acquitted me of lawlessness.

10:15 For if I am ungodly, alas for me! If I am righteous, I cannot look up, for I am full of dishonor.

10:16 For I am hunted like a lion for slaughter; changing again, Thou destroyest me terribly,

10:17 renewing my examination against me. Thou didst deal with me in great anger and bring trials upon me.

10:18 Why, then, didst Thou bring me out of the womb? Why did I not die with no eye seeing me,

10:19 and become as though I had not existed? For why was I not taken from the womb to the tomb?

10:20 Is not the time of my life short? Let me rest a little

10:21 before I go where I will not return, to a dark and gloomy land,

10:22 to a land of everlasting darkness, where there is no brightness and no seeing the life of mortals.’”

Job 11

11:1 Then Zophar the Minaean replied:

11:2 “The one who says much will hear an answer in return. Does an eloquent person also think himself righteous? Blessed is the one born of woman who lives a short life.

11:3 Do not speak at such length, for there is no one to contend with you.

11:4 For do not say, ‘I am pure in my works and blameless before Him.’

11:5 But how might the Lord speak to you? He will open His lips to speak with you.

11:6 Then He will tell you the power of wisdom, for it will be twice what you have. Then you will know that what has come to you from the Lord is worthy of the sins you committed.

11:7 Will you find a trace of the Lord, or have you reached the furthest things the Almighty made?

11:8 Heaven is high—what will you do? What do you know of things deeper than those in Hades, 11:9 or longer than the measure of earth, or than the breadth of the sea?

11:10 If He overturns everything, who will say to Him, ‘What hast Thou done?’

11:11 For He knows the works of the lawless; when He sees improper things, He will not overlook them.

11:12 But a person vainly swims in words; a mortal born of woman is like a donkey of the wilderness.

11:13 For if you make your heart pure and turn your hands upward toward Him,

11:14 if anything lawless is in your hands, put it far from you, and let injustice not lodge in your dwelling.

11:15 For then your face will shine like pure water; you will take off filth and will not fear.

11:16 You will forget toil like a wave that has passed, and you will not be terrified.

11:17 Your prayer will be like the morning star, and from noon life will rise for you.

11:18 You will be confident, for you have hope; out of anxiety and care, peace will appear to you.

11:19 For you will be quiet, and no one will wage war against you; many will change their ways and entreat you.

11:20 But deliverance will abandon them, for their hope is destruction, and the eyes of the ungodly will waste away.”

Job 12

12:1 Then Job replied:

12:2 “So you are the people! Surely wisdom will die with you!

12:3 I too have a heart like yours.

12:4 For a righteous and blameless man became an object of mockery.

12:5 For at an appointed time he was prepared to fall beneath others, and for his houses to be plundered by the lawless.

12:6 But indeed, let no wicked person trust that he will be innocent, nor those who provoke the Lord suppose that there will be no examination of them.

12:7 But ask the four-footed animals, to see whether they will tell you, and the birds of heaven, to see whether they will report to you.

12:8 Speak fully to the earth, to see whether it will tell you; and the fish of the sea will explain to you.

12:9 Who among all these did not know that the Lord’s hand made these things?

12:10 Is not the life of all living things in His hand, and the breath of every human being?

12:11 For the ear discerns words, and the throat tastes food.

12:12 In much time is wisdom, and in a long life knowledge.

12:13 With Him are wisdom and power; to Him belong counsel and understanding.

12:14 If He throws down, who will build? If He shuts people in, who will open?

12:15 If He restrains water, He will dry the earth; if He lets it loose, He destroys it by overturning it.

12:16 With Him are might and strength; to Him belong knowledge and understanding.

12:17 He leads counselors away captive and throws the earth’s judges into confusion.

12:18 He seats kings on thrones and bound their waists with a belt.

12:19 He sends priests away captive and overthrows the earth’s rulers.

12:20 He changes the lips of the faithful and knows the elders’ understanding.

12:21 He pours dishonor upon rulers and heals the lowly.

12:22 He uncovers deep things from darkness and brings death’s shadow into light.

12:23 He leads nations astray and destroys them; He lays nations low and guides them.

12:24 He changes the hearts of the earth's rulers and leads them astray on a road they did not know.

12:25 May they grope in darkness and not light; may they wander like one who is drunk.

Job 13

13:1 "Behold, my eye has seen these things, and my ear has heard them.

13:2 I know as much as you know, and I am not less intelligent than you.

13:3 But indeed, I will speak to the Lord; I will argue before Him, if He is willing.

13:4 But you are unjust physicians and healers of evils, all of you.

13:5 May you be silent; it will turn out to be wisdom for you.

13:6 Hear the reproof of my mouth; attend to the judgment of my lips.

13:7 Are you not speaking before the Lord, and uttering deceit before Him?

13:8 Will you shrink back? Become judges yourselves.

13:9 Fine indeed, if He examines you! For if, doing everything, you attach yourselves to Him,

13:10 He will reprove you nonetheless. Even if you secretly admire persons,

13:11 will not His terrors whirl you about, and fear from Him fall upon you?

13:12 Your boasting will turn out like ashes, and your body will be clay.

13:13 Be silent, so that I may speak and rest from anger,

13:14 taking my flesh up in my teeth, while I will put my life in my hand.

13:15 If the Mighty One subdues me, as He has already begun, I will surely speak and plead before Him.

13:16 This will turn out to be deliverance for me, for deceit will not enter before Him.

13:17 Listen, listen to my words, for I will declare while you hear.

13:18 Behold, I am near my judgment; I know that I will be shown righteous.

13:19 For who is there to enter judgment with me? For now I will be silent and fail.

13:20 But grant me two things; then I will not hide from Thy face:

13:21 Keep Thy hand away from me, and let Thy terror not overwhelm me.

13:22 Then Thou wilt call, and I will answer Thee; or Thou wilt speak, and I will give Thee a reply.

13:23 How many are my sins and lawless deeds? Teach me what they are.

13:24 Why dost Thou hide from me and regard me as opposed to Thee?

13:25 Wilt Thou be wary of a leaf moved by wind, or oppose me as grass carried by a breeze?

13:26 For Thou didst record evils against me and put the sins of youth around me.

13:27 Thou didst put my foot in a restraint and watch all my works; Thou didst reach to the roots of my feet.

13:28 It grows old like a wineskin, or like a moth-eaten garment.

Job 14

14:1 "For a mortal born of woman is short-lived and full of wrath.

14:2 Like a flower that blossomed, he fell away; he fled like a shadow and will not remain.

14:3 Didst Thou not take account of this one also, and bring him into judgment before Thee?

14:4 For who will be clean from filth? No one.

14:5 Even if his life on earth is one day, his months are numbered with Thee; Thou didst set a time, and he will certainly not go beyond it.

14:6 Leave him alone so that he may be quiet and take pleasure in life like a hired worker.

14:7 For a tree has hope: if it is cut down, it will blossom again, and its shoot will not fail.

14:8 For even if its root grows old in earth and its trunk dies in rock,

14:9 from the scent of water it will blossom and produce a harvest like a newly planted tree.

14:10 But a man who has died is gone; a mortal who has fallen is no more.

14:11 For in time a sea diminishes, and a river, left desolate, dries up.

14:12 But a person who lies down will certainly not rise until heaven is no longer stitched together; they will not wake from their sleep.

14:13 If only Thou hadst guarded me in Hades and hidden me until Thy wrath ceased, and set a time for me at which Thou wouldst remember me!

14:14 For if a person dies, he will live, having completed the days of his life. I will wait until I come to be again.

14:15 Then Thou wilt call, and I will answer Thee. Do not reject the works of Thy hands.

14:16 Thou didst number my practices, and not one of my sins will pass Thee by.

14:17 Thou didst seal my lawless deeds in a bag and mark whether I transgressed in anything unwillingly.

14:18 And indeed, a falling mountain will fall apart, and a rock will grow worn away from its place.

14:19 Waters wore stones smooth, and waters flooded the flat surface of the earth's soil; Thou didst destroy a person's endurance.

14:20 Thou didst thrust him away completely, and he departed; Thou didst set Thy face against him and send him out.

14:21 When his sons become many, he does not know; if they become few, he does not understand.

14:22 Only his flesh felt pain, and his soul mourned."

Job 15

15:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite replied:

15:2 "Will a wise person give an answer from understanding of spirit and fill himself with pain of the belly,

15:3 arguing with words that ought not be spoken, with speeches in which there is no benefit?

15:4 Did you not also reject fear and complete such words before the Lord?

15:5 You are guilty through the words of your mouth, and you did not discern the words of rulers.

15:6 May your own mouth reprove you, not I; your lips will testify against you.

15:7 What then? Were you the first of human beings to come to be, or were you formed before the hills?

15:8 Have you heard the Lord's command, and has wisdom arrived at you?

15:9 For what do you know that we do not know? What do you understand that we do not also understand?

15:10 Among us are both an elder and an ancient one, weightier in days than your father.

15:11 You have been scourged for few of the sins you committed; you have spoken far too much.

15:12 What did your heart dare, or what did your eyes bring on,

15:13 that you burst out in anger before the Lord and brought such words out of your mouth?

15:14 For what mortal can be blameless, or one born of woman be righteous?

15:15 If He puts no trust in holy ones, and heaven is not pure before Him, 15:16 let alone the loathsome and unclean man, who drinks injustice as a drink.

15:17 I will report to you—hear me; what I have seen I will report to you, 15:18 what wise people will say; they did not conceal their fathers.

15:19 To them alone the land was given, and no foreigner came upon them.

15:20 An ungodly person's whole life is in anxiety, and numbered years are given to a ruler.

15:21 His fear is in his ears; when he thinks he is already at peace, his overthrow will come.

15:22 Let him not trust that he will turn back from darkness, for he has already been assigned to the hands of iron,

15:23 and he has been assigned as food for vultures. He knows within himself that he remains destined to fall. A dark day will whirl him about,

15:24 and distress and affliction will hold him fast, like a general falling in the front rank,

15:25 because he raised his hands against the Lord and stiffened his neck before the Lord Almighty,

15:26 and ran against Him in insolence, with the thick back of his shield,

15:27 because he covered his face with his fat and made a collar upon his thighs.

15:28 May he lodge in deserted cities and enter uninhabited houses; what those people prepared, others will carry away.

15:29 He will certainly not become rich, nor will his belongings remain; he will not cast a shadow upon the earth

15:30 nor will he escape darkness. May wind wither his shoot, and may his flower fall away.

15:31 Let him not trust that he will endure, for empty things will result for him.

15:32 His cutting will be destroyed before its time, and his shoot will not grow dense.

15:33 May he be harvested like an unripe grape before its time; may he fall like an olive blossom.

15:34 For death is the testimony of an ungodly person, and fire will burn the houses of those who take bribes.

15:35 He will conceive pains in the womb; empty things will result for him, and his belly will bear deceit."

Job 16

16:1 Then Job replied:

16:2 “I have heard many such things; you are all comforters of evils.

16:3 What then? Is there any order in words of wind? What will trouble you, that you answer?

16:4 I too will speak as you do, if your life were put in place of mine. Then I will leap upon you with words and shake my head against you.

16:5 May there be strength in my mouth; I will not spare the movement of my lips.

16:6 For if I speak, I will not feel pain from the wound; and if I remain silent, how will I be wounded any less?

16:7 But now He has made me exhausted, foolish, and decayed,

16:8 and Thou didst seize me; it became a testimony. My falsehood rose up within me and answered against my face.

16:9 Dealing in anger, He cast me down and gnashed His teeth at me; the arrows of His raiders fell upon me.

16:10 He sprang upon me with points of eyes; He struck my jaw with a sharp point, and together they rushed down upon me.

16:11 For the Lord handed me into an unjust person’s hands and cast me upon the ungodly.

16:12 While I was at peace, He scattered me; He took me by the hair and tore me apart, and set me up like a target.

16:13 They surrounded me with spears, striking my kidneys without sparing; they poured my gall onto the earth.

16:14 They cast me down, fall upon fall; in their strength they ran against me.

16:15 I sewed sackcloth upon my hide, and my strength was extinguished in earth.

16:16 My belly is burned up from weeping, and a shadow lies upon my eyelids.

16:17 Yet there was nothing unjust in my hands, and my prayer is pure.

16:18 Earth, do not cover the blood of my flesh, and let there be no place for my cry!

16:19 Even now, behold, my witness is in the heavens, and the one who knows with me is in the highest places.

16:20 May my supplication reach the Lord, and may my eye drip tears before Him.

16:21 May there be a hearing for a man before the Lord, and may a son of man plead for his neighbor.

16:22 The numbered years have come, and I will travel a way on which I will not return.

Job 17

17:1 “I perish, carried along by wind; I need burial and do not obtain it.

17:2 Weary, I plead— and what have I done?

17:3 Strangers stole my belongings. Who is this one? Let him bind himself to my hand.

17:4 For Thou didst hide their heart from understanding; therefore Thou wilt certainly not exalt them.

17:5 He will announce evils as a portion, and my eyes wasted away over sons.

17:6 Thou madest me a tale among nations, and I became a laughingstock to them.

17:7 For my eyes are hardened from anger, and I have been greatly besieged by everyone.

17:8 Astonishment seized true people at this; may a righteous person rise against a lawbreaker.

17:9 May a faithful person hold his own way, and one clean of hands take up courage.

17:10 But indeed, all of you, press on, and come now; for I find nothing true among you.

17:11 My days passed in a stench, and the joints of my heart were torn apart.

17:12 They made night into day; light is near in the face of darkness.

17:13 For if I wait, Hades is my house, and in gloom my bedding is spread.

17:14 I called upon death to be my father, and decay to be my mother and sister.

17:15 Where, then, is my hope any longer? Will I see my good things?

17:16 Will they go down with me to Hades, or will we descend together upon a mound of earth?”

Job 18

18:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite replied:

18:2 “How long before you stop? Hold back, so that we ourselves may speak.

18:3 Why have we been silent before you like four-footed animals?

18:4 Wrath has dealt with you. What then? If you die, will the world beneath heaven be uninhabited, or will mountains be overturned from their foundations?

18:5 The light of the ungodly will be extinguished, and their flame will not come forth.

18:6 His light is darkness in his dwelling, and the lamp above him will be extinguished.

18:7 May the least people hunt down his belongings, and may his counsel stumble.

18:8 His foot has been thrown into a trap; may he be entangled in a net.

18:9 May traps come upon him; the thirsty will be made strong against him.

18:10 His cord is hidden in the earth, and his capture upon the paths.

18:11 May pains destroy him all around, and may many come about his feet in severe famine.

18:12 An extraordinary fall has been prepared for him.

18:13 May the branches of his feet be devoured; death will devour his beautiful things.

18:14 May healing burst away from his dwelling, and may distress hold him on a royal charge.

18:15 It will lodge in his tent during his night; his splendid things will be strewn with sulfur.

18:16 Below, his roots will dry up; above, his harvest will fall.

18:17 May his memorial perish from the earth, yet he has a name on the outer face of the land.

18:18 May he thrust him from light into darkness.

18:19 He will not be recognized among his people, nor will his house be preserved beneath heaven, but others will live in what was his.

18:20 Those who came last groaned over him, and astonishment seized those who came first.

18:21 These are the houses of the unjust, and this is the place of those who do not know the Lord.”

Job 19

19:1 Then Job replied:

19:2 “How long will you weary my soul and tear me down with words?

19:3 Know only that the Lord made me like this. You speak against me; without shame you press upon me.

19:4 Yes, indeed, I truly went astray, and error lodges with me—

19:4a to speak a word that ought not have been spoken; my words wander and are not timely.

19:5 But leave off magnifying yourselves against me and leaping upon me with reproach.

19:6 Know, then, that the Lord is the One who disturbed me and raised His stronghold against me.

19:7 Behold, I laugh in reproach and will not speak; I will cry out, but judgment is nowhere.

19:8 I have been walled in all around and cannot pass through; He placed darkness before my face.

19:9 He stripped glory from me and took the crown from my head.

19:10 He tore me apart all around, and I was gone; He cut off my hope like a tree.

19:11 He dealt with me terribly in anger and regarded me like an enemy.

19:12 His trials came together against me on my roads; men lying in wait encircled me.

19:13 My brothers withdrew from me; they recognized strangers rather than me, and my friends became merciless.

19:14 Those nearest me did not acknowledge me, and those who knew my name forgot me.

19:15 Neighbors of the house and my maidservants—I was a foreigner before them.

19:16 I called my servant, but he did not answer; my mouth made entreaty.

19:17 I entreated my wife and called with flattering words to the sons of my concubines.

19:18 They disowned me for ever; whenever I rise, they speak against me.

19:19 Those who knew me abhorred me; those I had loved rose against me.

19:20 My flesh decayed within my skin, and my bones are held in my teeth.

19:21 Have mercy on me, have mercy on me, friends, for the Lord’s hand is the one that touched me!

19:22 Why do you pursue me just as the Lord does and never become filled with my flesh?

19:23 For who might grant that my words be written and placed in a book for ever, 19:24 with an iron stylus and lead, or engraved in rocks?

19:25 For I know that the one who is to release me upon earth is everlasting.

19:26 May he raise my skin, which endures these things; for these things were accomplished for me by the Lord,

19:27 things that I know with myself, that my eye has seen, and no other; everything has been accomplished within my breast.

19:28 But if you also say, ‘What shall we say against him?’ and, ‘We will find a root of the matter in him,’

19:29 you too must beware of a covering, for wrath will come upon the lawless, and then they will know where their substance is.”

Job 20

20:1 Then Zophar the Minaean replied:

20:2 “I did not expect you to answer back like this, and you all do not understand more than I do.

20:3 I will hear correction that puts me to shame, and a spirit from understanding answers me.

20:4 Did you not know these things from long ago, since a human was placed upon the earth?

20:5 For the delight of the ungodly is a terrible fall, and the joy of the lawless is destruction, 20:6 even if his gifts rise to heaven and his sacrifice touches the clouds.

20:7 For when he thinks he has become firmly established, then he will perish utterly; those who saw him will say, ‘Where is he?’

20:8 Like a dream that has flown away, he will certainly not be found; he flew off like a nighttime apparition.

20:9 An eye glanced past him and will not do so again, and his place will no longer perceive him.

20:10 May lesser men destroy his sons, and may his hands blaze with pains.

20:11 His bones were filled with his youth, and it will lie with him upon the mound.

20:12 If evil becomes sweet in his mouth, he will hide it under his tongue;

20:13 he will not spare it and will not abandon it, and he will hold it inside his throat.

20:14 And he will certainly not be able to help himself; an asp’s gall is in his belly.

20:15 Wealth gathered unjustly will be vomited up; an angel will drag it from his house.

20:16 May he suck the fury of dragons, and may a serpent’s tongue destroy him.

20:17 May he not see the milking of grazing herds, nor pastures of honey and butter.

20:18 He toiled for wealth in empty and futile things, wealth he will not taste, like gristly meat that cannot be chewed or swallowed.

20:19 For he shattered the houses of many powerless people; he seized a dwelling and did not establish it.

20:20 There is no deliverance for his possessions; in his desire he will not be saved.

20:21 There is no remainder of his food; therefore his good things will not flourish.

20:22 When he thinks he is already filled, he will be afflicted, and every constraint will come upon him.

20:23 If somehow he might fill his belly, may He send a fury of wrath upon him and shower pains upon him.

20:24 He will certainly not be saved from the hand of iron; may a bronze bow wound him.

20:25 May an arrow pass through his body, and may lightning bolts walk among his dwellings; terrors are upon him.

20:26 May every darkness remain for him; an unkindled fire will consume him, and may a stranger harm his house.

20:27 May heaven uncover his lawless deeds, and may earth rise against him.

20:28 May destruction drag his house utterly away; may a day of wrath come upon him.

20:29 This is an ungodly person’s portion from the Lord, and the possession of his belongings from the Overseer.”

Job 21

21:1 Then Job replied:

21:2 “Listen, listen to my words, so that this consolation from you may not be mine.

21:3 Lift me up, and I will speak; then you will not laugh at me.

21:4 For what then? Is my reproof from a human? Or why should I not become angry?

21:5 Look at me and be amazed, placing a hand upon your cheek.

21:6 For whenever I remember, I am agitated, and pains grip my flesh.

21:7 Why do the ungodly live and grow old even in wealth?

21:8 Their offspring are to their liking, and their children are before their eyes.

21:9 Their houses flourish, and fear is nowhere; a scourge from the Lord is not upon them.

21:10 Their cow did not calve prematurely; their pregnant animal was preserved and did not miscarry.

21:11 They remain like everlasting sheep, and their children play, 21:12 taking up a psaltery and lyre; they delight in the sound of a song.

21:13 They finished their life amid good things and fell asleep in the rest of Hades.

21:14 Yet he says to the Lord, ‘Go away from me! I do not wish to know Thy ways.

21:15 What is the Mighty One, that we should serve Him? And what benefit is there in meeting Him?’

21:16 For their good things were in their hands, and He does not look upon the works of the ungodly.

21:17 Nevertheless, even the lamp of the ungodly will be extinguished; overthrow will come upon them, and pangs will grip them because of wrath.

21:18 They will be like straw before the wind, or like dust that a storm swept away.

21:19 May his possessions fail his sons; He will repay the man himself, and he will know.

21:20 May his eyes see his own slaughter, and may he not be delivered from the Lord.

21:21 For what is his desire in his house after him? The numbers of his months have been divided.

21:22 Is it not the Lord who teaches understanding and knowledge? He Himself will judge murders.

21:23 This one will die in the strength of his integrity, entirely comfortable and prosperous;

21:24 his inward parts are full of fat, and his marrow spreads abundantly.

21:25 But another dies in bitterness of soul, never having eaten anything good.

21:26 Together they sleep upon the earth, and decay covered them.

21:27 So I know you: you press upon me with insolence.

21:28 For you will say, ‘Where is the ruler’s house, and where is the shelter of the ungodly’s dwellings?’

21:29 Ask those passing along the road, and do not reject their signs,

21:30 for the wicked person is relieved for the day of destruction; they will be led away for the day of his wrath.

21:31 Who will declare his way to his face? And what he himself did—who will repay him?

21:32 He himself was carried to tombs and kept vigil upon a coffin.

21:33 The pebbles of the stream became sweet to him; every human will go after him, and those before him are countless.

21:34 How can you console me with empty things? There is no relief for me from you.”

Job 22

22:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite replied:

22:2 “Is it not the Lord who teaches understanding and knowledge?

22:3 For what does it matter to the Lord if you were blameless in your works? Or what benefit is there if you make your way sincere?

22:4 Will He reprove you out of consideration for you and enter together with you into judgment?

22:5 Is not your wickedness great, and are not your sins countless?

22:6 You took pledges from your brothers for nothing and removed the clothing of the naked.

22:7 You did not even give the thirsty water to drink, but deprived the hungry of a morsel.

22:8 You showed partiality to certain people and settled them upon the land.

22:9 You sent widows away empty and mistreated orphans.

22:10 Therefore traps encircled you, and a terrible war threw you into turmoil;

22:11 light became darkness for you, and water covered you as you slept.

22:12 Does not the One dwelling on high observe? He humbled those carried away by insolence.

22:13 And you said, ‘What has the Strong One known? Will He judge down through the gloom?

22:14 Clouds are His concealment, and He will not be seen; He will pass around the circle of heaven.’

22:15 Will you guard the age-old path that unjust men trod,

22:16 who were seized before their time? Their foundations are a river flowing over,

22:17 those who say, ‘What will the Lord do to us? Or what will the Almighty bring upon us?’

22:18 Yet He is the One who filled their houses with good things, and the counsel of the ungodly is far from Him.

22:19 The righteous saw and laughed, and the blameless person sneered.

22:20 ‘Surely their substance was obliterated, and fire will devour their remainder.’

22:21 Become firm, then, if you endure; then your fruit will be among good things.

22:22 Receive an utterance from His mouth, and take up His words in your heart.

22:23 If you turn back and humble yourself before the Lord, you have put injustice far from your dwelling.

22:24 You will place it upon a mound, in a rock, and, like a rock, the torrents of Ophir.

22:25 Then the Almighty will be your helper against enemies, and He will render you pure like silver refined by fire.

22:26 Then you will speak freely before the Lord, looking up cheerfully toward heaven.

22:27 When you pray to Him, He will hear you, and He will enable you to fulfill your vows.

22:28 He will restore a dwelling of righteousness to you, and brightness will be upon your ways.

22:29 For He humbled him, and you will say, ‘He was arrogant’; He will save the one with downcast eyes.

22:30 He will rescue an innocent person; and be saved through your clean hands.”

Job 23

23:1 Then Job replied:

23:2 “Indeed, I know that the reproof is from my own hand, and His hand has become heavy upon my groaning.

23:3 Who, then, might know that I could find Him and come to an end?

23:4 I would state my own case and fill my mouth with arguments.

23:5 I would know the words He will say to me and perceive what things He will report to me.

23:6 Even if He comes against me with great strength, He will not then deal with me by threat.

23:7 For truth and reproof come from Him; may He bring my case to its conclusion.

23:8 For I will go toward the first things, and I am no more; what do I know about the things at the end?

23:9 When He acted on the left, I did not grasp it; He will wrap around the right, and I will not see.

23:10 For He already knows my way, and He tested me like gold.

23:11 I will go out in His commands; for I guarded His ways and will certainly not turn aside

23:12 from His commands; I will certainly not transgress, and in my breast I hid His words.

23:13 But if He Himself judged in this way, who is there who contradicted Him? For whatever He Himself wished, He also did.

23:15 Therefore I am agitated about Him; being admonished, I was concerned about Him.

23:15a For this reason, may I be deeply troubled before His face; I will consider and be terrified by Him.

23:16 The Lord softened my heart, and the Almighty agitated me.

23:17 For I did not know that darkness would come upon me, and gloom covered what lay before my face.

Job 24

24:1 “Why did the hours escape the Lord’s notice,

24:2 while the ungodly crossed a boundary, seizing a flock together with its shepherd?

24:3 They led away the orphans’ pack animal and took a widow’s cow as a pledge.

24:4 They diverted powerless people from a righteous road; together the meek of the earth hid.

24:5 They departed like donkeys in a field, going out beyond me to their own activity; bread became sweet to him for the young.

24:6 They harvested a field before its time, though it was not theirs; the powerless worked the ungodly’s vineyards without pay or food.

24:7 They made many lie down naked without garments and took away the covering of their lives.

24:8 They become wet from the mountain showers; because they have no shelter, they clasped a rock.

24:9 They snatched an orphan from the breast and humbled one who had fallen.

24:10 They unjustly made people lie down naked and took the morsel from the hungry.

24:11 They unjustly lay in ambush in narrow places and did not know a righteous road.

24:12 People were driven from a city and their own houses; the life of infants groaned loudly. Why has He Himself not made an inspection of these things?

24:13 While they were upon the earth, they did not recognize it; they did not know the road of righteousness or walk in its paths.

24:14 Knowing their works, He handed them over to darkness, and at night he will be like a thief.

24:15 The adulterer’s eye watched for darkness, saying, ‘No eye will notice me,’ and he made a concealment for his face.

24:16 He dug into houses in darkness; by day they sealed themselves in; they did not recognize light.

24:17 For morning is a shadow of death to them all; for he will recognize the disturbances of death’s shadow.

24:18 He is light upon the surface of water; may their portion upon the earth be cursed.

24:19 May their plants appear dried up upon the earth, for they snatched an armful from orphans.

24:20 Then sin remembered him, and he vanished like a mist of dew. May what he did be repaid to him, and may every unjust person be crushed like incurable wood.

24:21 For he did no good to a barren woman and had no mercy on a woman,

24:22 and in anger he overthrew the powerless. Therefore, when he rises, he will certainly have no confidence concerning his own life;

24:23 when weakened, let him not hope to recover; instead he will fall by disease.

24:24 For his exaltation mistreated many; he withered like mallow in scorching heat, or like an ear of grain that falls of itself from the stalk.

24:25 If it is not so, who is there who says I speak falsely and will reduce my words to nothing?”

Job 25

25:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite replied:

25:2 “For what prelude or fear comes from Him, the One who makes the whole in the highest?

25:3 For could anyone suppose that there is a reprieve for raiders? Upon whom will an ambush from Him not come?

25:4 For how will a mortal be righteous before the Lord? Or who, being born of woman, could cleanse himself?

25:5 If He gives the moon a command, it does not shine; the stars are not pure before Him.

25:6 Leave it, then: a human is decay, and a son of humanity a worm.”

Job 26

26:1 Then Job replied:

26:2 “To whom do you attach yourself, or whom are you about to help? Is it not the One with great strength and a mighty arm?

26:3 Whom have you advised? Is it not the One with all wisdom? Or whom will you follow? Is it not the One with the greatest power?

26:4 To whom did you announce words? And whose is the breath that came out of you?

26:5 Will giants be brought to birth beneath water and its neighbors?

26:6 Hades is naked before Him, and destruction has no covering.

26:7 He stretches the north over nothing and hangs the earth upon nothing,

26:8 binding water in His clouds, and no cloud burst beneath it.

26:9 He holds the face of a throne, spreading His cloud over it.

26:10 He circled a command upon the waters’ face, until the completion of light with darkness.

26:11 The pillars of heaven were spread out and were astonished at His rebuke.

26:12 By strength He calmed the sea, and by knowledge He wounded the great sea creature.

26:13 The bars of heaven have feared Him, and by a command He killed the rebellious dragon.

26:14 Behold, these are parts of His way, and we will hear a mere drop of speech concerning Him. But the strength of His thunder—who knows when He will act?”

Job 27

27:1 Job continued and said in his prelude:

27:2 “As the Lord lives, who has judged me in this way, and the Almighty, who embittered my soul,

27:3 surely, while my breath is still within me and divine spirit remains in my nostrils,

27:4 my lips will not speak lawless things, nor will my soul devise unjust things.

27:5 May I never declare you righteous until I die; for I will not give up my innocence.

27:6 Holding to righteousness, I will certainly not let it go; for I am not conscious of having done improper things.

27:7 Nevertheless, may my enemies be like the overthrow of the ungodly, and those rising against me like the destruction of the lawless.

27:8 For what hope does the ungodly person have because he holds on? Trusting in the Lord, will he really be saved?

27:9 Will the Lord hear his plea? Or when constraint comes upon him,

27:10 does he have any freedom of speech before Him? Or when he calls upon Him, will He hear him?

27:11 But I will indeed announce to you what is in the Lord’s hand; about what is with the Almighty I will not lie.

27:12 Behold, you all know that you pile empty things upon empty things.

27:13 This is an ungodly person’s portion from the Lord; the possession of powerful men will come upon them from the Almighty.

27:14 If his sons become many, they will be for slaughter; even if they reach manhood, they will beg.

27:15 Those remaining to him will end in death, and no one will have mercy on their widows.

27:16 If he gathers silver like earth and prepares gold in quantities like clay, 27:17 the righteous will acquire all these things, and truthful people will possess his money.

27:18 His house turned out like moths and like a spider.

27:19 A rich man lay down and will not do so again; he opened his eyes, and he is not.

27:20 Pains met him like water, and gloom stole him away at night.

27:21 A scorching wind will take him up, and he will depart; it will winnow him from his place.

27:22 He will hurl against him and will not spare; from his hand he will flee in haste.

27:23 He will clap his hands over him and hiss him out of his place."

Job 28

28:1 "For silver has a place from which it comes, and gold a place from which it is filtered.

28:2 For iron comes from earth, and copper is quarried like stone.

28:3 He set an order for darkness, and He examines every limit: stone, darkness and a shadow of death,

28:4 a torrent's breach away from dust; but those forgetting a righteous road grew weak among mortals.

28:5 Earth—from it bread will come, and beneath it was turned as though by fire.

28:6 Its stones are the place of sappheiros, and a mound—gold belongs to it.

28:7 A path no bird knew, that a vulture's eye did not glimpse,

28:8 that sons of the arrogant did not tread, nor a lion pass over—

28:9 He stretched His hand against sheer rock and overturned mountains from their roots.

28:10 He broke open the eddies of rivers, and my eye saw every precious thing.

28:11 He uncovered the depths of rivers and showed His own power in the light.

28:12 But where was wisdom found, and what is the place of knowledge?

28:13 A mortal does not know its way, and it will certainly not be found among humans.

28:14 The abyss said, 'It is not in me,' and the sea said, 'It is not with me.'

28:15 No one will give locked-up treasure in exchange for it, nor will silver be weighed as its exchange.

28:16 It will not be weighed together with Ophir gold, precious onyx or sappheiros.

28:17 Gold and glass will not equal it, nor will golden vessels be its exchange.

28:18 Lofty things and gabis will not be mentioned; draw wisdom beyond the innermost things.

28:19 Ethiopian topazion will not equal it; it will not be weighed together with pure gold.

28:20 But where was wisdom found, and what is the place of understanding?

28:21 It has escaped every human and was hidden from the birds of heaven.

28:22 Destruction and Death said, 'We have heard its renown.'

28:23 God established its way well, and He knows its place.

28:24 For He observes the whole realm under heaven, knowing everything in the earth that He made:

28:25 the weight of winds and measures of water;

28:26 when He acted in this way, He counted rain and a path for sounds amid a shaking.

28:27 Then He saw wisdom and expounded it; having prepared it, He traced it out.

28:28 And He said to a human, 'Behold, reverence for God is wisdom, and abstaining from evils is knowledge.'"

Job 29

29:1 Job continued and said in his prelude:

29:2 "Who might place me in a month of former days, when God guarded me?

29:3 As when His lamp shone above my head, when by His light I walked in darkness,

29:4 when I was weighty in my ways, when God made an inspection of my house,

29:5 when I was flourishing abundantly, and my children were around me,

29:6 when my roads were flooded with butter, and my mountains were flooded with milk,

29:7 when I went out early in the city, and my chair was set in the squares.

29:8 Young men saw me and hid, and all the elders stood.

29:9 Powerful men stopped speaking, placing a finger upon their mouths.

29:10 Those who heard called me blessed, and their tongues clung to their throats.

29:11 For an ear heard and called me blessed, and an eye that saw me turned aside.

29:12 For I rescued a poor person from a powerful man's hand and helped an orphan who had no helper.

29:13 May the blessing of the perishing come upon me, and a widow's mouth blessed me.

29:14 I had clothed myself with righteousness, and I wrapped myself in justice like a double cloak.

29:15 I was an eye for the blind and a foot for the lame.

29:16 I was a father to the powerless, and I traced out a case I did not know.

29:17 I crushed the molars of unjust people and tore the plunder from between their teeth.

29:18 I said, ‘My age will grow old; like the trunk of a palm I will live a long time.

29:19 My root is opened toward water, and dew will lodge in my harvest.

29:20 My glory is new with me, and my bow will go in His hand.’

29:21 When they heard me, they paid attention and kept silent at my counsel.

29:22 They added nothing to my word, and became overjoyed whenever I spoke to them.

29:23 Like thirsty earth awaiting rain, so they awaited my speech.

29:24 If I smiled toward them, they would certainly not believe, and the light of my face did not fall away.

29:25 I chose their way and sat as ruler; I encamped like a king among lightly equipped soldiers, in the manner of one consoling sufferers.”

Job 30

30:1 “But now they laughed at me; now the least take turns admonishing me, whose fathers I disdained, whom I did not consider worthy of my grazing flocks’ dogs.

30:2 And indeed, what use to me is their hands’ strength? Their completion perished,

30:3 barren amid need and famine— those who fled a waterless place yesterday, constraint and misery,

30:4 those who broke off salt plants beside what resounded, whose food was salt plants, dishonored and despised, lacking every good thing, who even chewed tree roots because of great hunger.

30:5 Thieves rose against me,

30:6 whose houses were holes in rocks.

30:7 Among resounding things they will cry out— those who lived beneath wild brushwood,

30:8 sons of foolish and dishonored people, whose name and renown were extinguished from the earth.

30:9 But now I am their lyre, and they have me as their repeated tale.

30:10 They abhorred me and stood far away, and they did not spare spit from my face.

30:11 For He opened His quiver and mistreated me, and they released the bridle of my face.

30:12 At the right hand of a shoot they rose; they stretched out their foot and made roads against me, the paths of their destruction.

30:13 My paths were worn away, for He stripped off my robe.

30:14 He struck me with His missiles; He has dealt with me as He wishes; I am befouled with pains.

30:15 My pains return; my hope went away like wind, and my salvation like a cloud.

30:16 And now my soul will be poured out upon me; days of pains hold me.

30:17 By night my bones have been burned together, and my sinews have come apart.

30:18 With great strength He seized my robe; He encircled me like the collar of my tunic.

30:19 Thou regardest me as clay; my portion is in earth and ashes.

30:20 I have cried to Thee, and Thou dost not hear me; they stood and observed me.

30:21 Thou camest upon me without mercy; with a mighty hand Thou didst scourge me.

30:22 Thou didst place me amid pains and cast me away from salvation.

30:23 For I know that death will wear me away; for earth is the house of every mortal.

30:24 If only I could master myself, or at least ask another, and he would do this for me.

30:25 But I wept over every powerless person and groaned when I saw a man in constraints.

30:26 While I held on for good things, behold, days of evils met me instead.

30:27 My belly boiled over and will not be silent; days of poverty overtook me.

30:28 I have gone about groaning without a muzzle; I have stood in an assembly, crying out.

30:29 I have become a brother to sirens and a companion to ostriches.

30:30 My skin has darkened greatly, and my bones are scorched from heat.

30:31 My lyre became an expression of my suffering, and my song became weeping for me.”

Job 31

31:1 “I established a covenant for my eyes, and I will not direct my attention toward a virgin.

31:2 What did God apportion from above, and what is the Mighty One’s inheritance from the highest places?

31:3 Is it not destruction for the unjust and alienation for those practicing lawlessness?

31:4 Will He not see my way and count all my steps?

31:5 If I had walked with mockers, and if my foot also hastened toward deceit,

31:6 may He then set me in a righteous balance; the Lord knows my innocence.

31:7 If my foot turned from the road, if my heart followed my eye, or if I touched gifts with my hands,

31:8 may I then sow and others eat, and may I become rootless upon the earth.

31:9 If my heart pursued another man's wife, and I became one lying in wait at her doors, 31:10 may my wife also please another, and may my infants be humbled.

31:11 For defiling a man's wife is an unrestrainable fury of wrath;

31:12 for it is a fire burning through every part; wherever it comes, it destroys from the roots.

31:13 If I also despised the case of my manservant or maidservant when they were in judgment against me,

31:14 what will I do if the Lord makes an examination of me? If He also makes an inspection, what answer will I make?

31:15 Were they not also formed in the womb just as I was? We were formed in the same belly.

31:16 The powerless did not fail to obtain whatever need they had, and I did not waste away a widow's eye.

31:17 If I also ate my morsel alone and did not share with an orphan—

31:18 for from my youth I nourished like a father, and from my mother's womb I guided—

31:19 if I also disregarded a naked person perishing and did not clothe him,

31:20 if the powerless did not bless me, while their shoulders were warmed from the shearing of my lambs,

31:21 if I lifted a hand against an orphan, trusting that abundant help remained for me,

31:22 may my shoulder then come away from the collarbone, and my arm be shattered from my elbow.

31:23 For fear of the Lord gripped me, and I will not endure because of His taking hold.

31:24 If I appointed gold as my strength, or trusted in a costly stone,

31:25 if I rejoiced because much wealth came to me, or laid my hand upon countless things,

31:26 do I not see the shining sun fail, and the moon diminish? For it does not depend on them.

31:27 And if my heart was secretly deceived, or I placed my hand upon my mouth and kissed it,

31:28 may this also be reckoned to me as the greatest lawlessness, for I lied before the Lord Most High.

31:29 If I rejoiced at my enemies' fall, and my heart said, 'Well done!'

31:30 may my ear then hear my own curse, and may I be made a repeated tale among my people as I suffer.

31:31 If my maidservants often said, 'Who could grant us to be filled with his flesh?' because I was exceedingly kind—

31:32 a stranger did not lodge outside; my door stood open to everyone who came—

31:33 if, having sinned unintentionally, I also hid my sin—

31:34 for I did not shrink before the crowd's great numbers so as not to confess before them— or if I let a powerless person go out my door with an empty fold,

31:35 who could grant me someone who hears me? But if I had not feared the Lord's hand, a written bond I held against someone—

31:36 placing it upon my shoulders as a crown, I would read it aloud,

31:37 and if I did not tear it up and return it, taking nothing from the debtor,

31:38 if ever the earth groaned against me, and its furrows wept together,

31:39 if I ate its strength alone without payment, or expelled the landowner's life and caused grief,

31:40 may nettles then come up for me instead of wheat, and bramble instead of barley." And Job ceased speaking.

Job 32

32:1 His three friends also ceased contradicting Job any further, for Job was righteous before them.

32:2 Elihu son of Barachel the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram in the land of Ausitis, became angry. He was very angry with Job because Job declared himself righteous before the Lord.

32:3 He was also very angry with the three friends, because they could not give Job a contrary answer and declared him ungodly.

32:4 Elihu waited to give Job an answer, because they were older than he in days.

32:5 Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of the three men, and his anger blazed.

32:6 Elihu son of Barachel the Buzite replied: "I am younger in time, and you are older; therefore I kept quiet, afraid to announce my own knowledge to you.

32:7 I said, ‘Time is what speaks, and in many years people know wisdom.’

32:8 But there is a spirit in mortals, and the Almighty’s breath is what teaches.

32:9 The long-lived are not wise, nor do elders know judgment.

32:10 Therefore I said, ‘Listen to me, and I will announce to you what I know.’

32:11 Give ear to my words; for I will speak while you listen, until you examine words.

32:12 I will also direct my understanding toward you; and behold, there was no one among you refuting Job, answering his words,

32:13 so that you may not say, ‘We found wisdom by attaching ourselves to the Lord.’

32:14 But you allowed a human to speak such words.

32:15 They were terrified and answered no more; they wore out their words.

32:16 I waited, for they did not speak; because they stood still, they did not answer.”

32:17 Then Elihu replied:

32:18 “I will speak again, for I am full of words; the spirit of my belly is destroying me.

32:19 My belly is like a tied wineskin of fermenting new wine, or like a smith’s bellows that has burst.

32:20 I will speak so that I may rest, opening my lips.

32:21 For I will certainly not be ashamed before a human, nor indeed will I be overawed by a mortal.

32:22 For I do not know how to show partiality; otherwise moths will eat me too.”

Job 33

33:1 “Nevertheless, Job, hear my words and give ear to my speech.

33:2 For behold, I opened my mouth, and my tongue spoke.

33:3 My heart is pure in words, and the understanding of my lips will perceive pure things.

33:4 Divine spirit is what made me, and the Almighty’s breath is what teaches me.

33:5 If you can, give me an answer to these things; stand firm; take your stand against me, and I against you.

33:6 You have been fashioned from clay just as I have; we have been fashioned from the same material.

33:7 My fear will not whirl you about, nor will my hand be heavy upon you.

33:8 Nevertheless, you spoke in my ears; I have heard the sound of your words,

33:9 for you say, ‘I am clean, having not sinned; I am blameless, for I did not act lawlessly.

33:10 He found a reproach against me and regards me like an opponent.

33:11 He placed my foot in a wooden restraint and guarded all my ways.’

33:12 For how can you say, ‘I am righteous, and He has not heard me’? For the One above mortals is everlasting.

33:13 You say, ‘Why has He not heard every word of my case?’

33:14 For when the Lord speaks once, and at a second time—a dream,

33:15 or in a nighttime meditation, as when terrible fear falls upon people amid drowsiness upon a bed,

33:16 then He uncovers people’s minds; with such forms of fear He terrified them,

33:17 to turn a human away from injustice, and He rescued his body from a fall.

33:18 He spared his soul from death, and kept him from falling in war.

33:19 Again He reproved him with weakness upon a bed, and the multitude of his bones grew numb,

33:20 and he will certainly be unable to receive any edible food, although his soul will desire something to eat, 33:21 until his flesh decays and exposes his bones empty.

33:22 His soul drew near to death, and his life was in Hades.

33:23 If there are a thousand death-bearing angels, one of them will certainly not wound him. If he understands in his heart to turn toward the Lord, announces his own blame to a human, and shows his lack of understanding,

33:24 He will hold him back from falling into death, and renew his body like plaster upon a wall, and fill his bones with marrow;

33:25 He will soften his flesh like an infant’s and restore him, grown to manhood, among humans.

33:26 When he prays to the Lord, it will be acceptable to Him; he will enter with a pure face, with confession, and He will return righteousness to humans.

33:27 Then the human will blame himself, saying, ‘What things I carried through! He did not examine me as my sins deserved.

33:28 Save my soul from coming into corruption, and my life will see light.’

33:29 Behold, the Strong One works all these things in three ways with a man.

33:30 But He rescued my soul from death, so that my life might praise Him in light.

33:31 Give ear, Job, and hear me; be silent, and I myself will speak.

33:32 If there are words, answer me; speak, for I want you to be justified.

33:33 If not, listen to me; be silent, and I will teach you wisdom."

Job 34

34:1 Then Elihu replied:

34:2 "Hear me, you wise; you who understand, give ear to what is good.

34:3 For an ear tests words, and a throat tastes food.

34:4 Let us choose judgment for ourselves; let us know among ourselves what is good.

34:5 For Job has said, 'I am righteous; the Lord removed my judgment,

34:6 and He lied concerning my judgment; my arrow is violent, though I did no injustice.'

34:7 What man is like Job, drinking mockery like water,

34:8 without sinning or acting ungodly, or sharing a road with those doing lawless things, to travel with the ungodly?

34:9 For do not say, 'There will be no inspection of a man'; there is an inspection for him from the Lord.

34:10 Therefore, you understanding in heart, hear me: may I never act ungodly before the Lord or disturb what is right before the Almighty.

34:11 Instead, He repays a human as each one of them acts, and on a man's path He will find him.

34:12 Do you think the Lord will do improper things, or the Almighty disturb judgment?

34:13 He is the One who made the earth; who is the One making the realm under heaven and everything within it?

34:14 For if He wished to hold back and retain the spirit with Himself, 34:15 all flesh will die together, and every mortal will go to earth, from which he was also formed.

34:16 If you are not being admonished, hear these things; give ear to the sound of words.

34:17 Look at the One who hates lawless things and destroys the wicked, who is eternally righteous.

34:18 Ungodly is the one saying to a king, 'You act lawlessly,' and to rulers, 'Most ungodly one,'

34:19 who did not stand in awe before an honored person, nor knows how to give honor to powerful men so as to admire their persons.

34:20 Their crying out and asking a man for help will prove empty, for they dealt lawlessly while the powerless were turned aside.

34:21 For He Himself observes human works, and nothing they do has escaped Him, 34:22 and there will be no place for those doing lawless things to hide.

34:23 For He will place no more upon a man; for the Lord observes everyone,

34:24 He who comprehends unsearchable things, glorious and terrible things beyond number,

34:25 He who makes their works known will turn night about, and they will be humbled.

34:26 He extinguished the ungodly, and they are visible before Him,

34:27 because they turned aside from God's law and did not recognize His ordinances,

34:28 so as to bring a needy person's cry upon Him; He will hear the cry of the poor.

34:29 He will provide quiet, and who will condemn? He will hide His face, and who will see Him? Upon a nation and upon a human alike, 34:30 He makes a hypocritical human king because of a people's perversity.

34:31 For the one saying to the Strong One, 'I have received; I will not take pledges;

34:32 apart from myself I will see; Thou, show me; if I practiced injustice, I will certainly not add to it'—

34:33 will He repay it on your terms? For you will reject it, for you will choose, not I; speak what you have known.

34:34 Therefore those understanding in heart will say these things, and a wise man has heard my word:

34:35 'Job did not speak with understanding, and his words were not spoken with knowledge.'

34:36 Nevertheless, learn, Job; do not give another answer like the foolish,

34:37 so that we may not add to our sins; lawlessness will be reckoned against us as we speak many words before the Lord."

Job 35

35:1 Then Elihu replied:

35:2 "Why have you reckoned this as judgment? Who are you to say, 'I am righteous before the Lord'?

35:3 Or will you say, 'What will I do if I sin?'

35:4 I will give you an answer, and your three friends.

35:5 Look up into heaven and see; observe the clouds, how high they are above you.

35:6 If you sinned, what will you accomplish? If you also acted lawlessly many times, what can you do?

35:7 Since, then, you are righteous, what will you give Him, or what will He receive from your hand?

35:8 Your ungodliness is for a man like you, and your righteousness for a son of humanity.

35:9 Those oppressed by a multitude will cry out; they will shout because of the arm of many.

35:10 Yet he did not say, 'Where is God who made me, who appoints watches of the night,

35:11 who distinguishes me from the four-footed beasts of earth and from the birds of heaven?'

35:12 There they will cry out, and He will certainly not hear, also because of the insolence of evil people.

35:13 For the Lord does not wish to see improper things; for the Almighty Himself observes

35:14 those who carry through lawless things, and He will save me. Enter into judgment before Him, if you can praise Him as He is.

35:15 And now, because He is not examining His anger and has not taken much notice of a transgression,

35:16 Job vainly opens his mouth and weighs down words in ignorance."

36:1 Elihu continued speaking:

36:2 "Wait for me a little longer, so that I may teach you; for speech is still within me.

36:3 Taking up my knowledge from afar, I will speak things just in relation to my works, 36:4 in truth, and not unjust words; you understand unjustly.

36:5 Know that the Lord will certainly not reject the innocent; mighty in strength of heart,

36:6 He will certainly not give life to the ungodly, and He will give judgment to the poor.

36:7 He will not take His eyes from a righteous person; with kings upon a throne He will seat them for victory, and they will be raised high.

36:8 If, fettered in handcuffs, they are held in cords of poverty,

36:9 He will announce to them their works and their transgressions, that they will become strong.

36:10 But He will hear the righteous person, and He said that they will turn from injustice.

36:11 If they listen and serve, they will finish their days amid good things and their years in splendor.

36:12 But He does not preserve the ungodly, because they do not wish to know the Lord and because, when admonished, they were disobedient.

36:13 Hypocrites in heart will arrange wrath; they will not cry out because He bound them.

36:14 May their soul therefore die in youth, and their life be wounded by angels,

36:15 because they afflicted the weak and powerless; He will set forth the judgment of the meek.

36:16 Moreover, He deceived you out of an enemy's mouth; an abyss, a pouring-down beneath it; and your table descended, full of fatness.

36:17 Judgment will not be lacking from the righteous,

36:18 and wrath will be upon the ungodly because of the impiety of gifts they accepted for injustices.

36:19 Let your mind not willingly turn you away from the plea of the powerless who are in constraint, and all those strengthening might.

36:20 Do not draw out the night for peoples to rise in their stead,

36:21 but guard yourself from doing improper things; for you chose for this one out of poverty.

36:22 Behold, the Strong One will strengthen by His strength; for who is a ruler like Him?

36:23 Who is the one examining His works, or who said, 'He did unjust things'?

36:24 Remember that His works are great, which men began;

36:25 every human saw within himself, as many mortals as are being wounded.

36:26 Behold, the Strong One is great, and we will not know; the number of His years is also boundless.

36:27 Drops of rain are numbered by Him, and they will be poured as rain into a cloud;

36:28 old things will flow, and He shaded clouds over countless mortals.

36:28a He appointed a time for cattle, and they know the order of their resting place.

36:28b At all these things, is your mind not astonished, and is your heart not changed away from the body?

36:29 And if one understands the extensions of a cloud, the evenness of His tent, 36:30 behold, He stretches ēdō over it and covered the roots of the sea.

36:31 For by these He will judge peoples; He will give food to the strong.

36:32 He covered light upon hands and gave a command concerning it through one meeting it.

36:33 He will announce His friend concerning Him; a possession also concerning injustice.

Job 37

37:1 “At this my heart was troubled and flowed away from its place.

37:2 Hear the report amid the anger of the Lord’s wrath, and a meditation will come out of His mouth.

37:3 His rule is beneath all heaven, and His light upon the earth’s wings.

37:4 After it a voice will cry out; He will thunder with the voice of His violence, and He will not exchange them, because he will hear His voice.

37:5 The Strong One will thunder wonders with His voice; for He did great things that we did not know, 37:6 commanding snow, ‘Come to be upon the earth,’ and a rainstorm, and a storm of rains of His dominion.

37:7 He seals upon every human hand, so that every human may know his own weakness.

37:8 Wild animals went under shelter and rested upon their beds.

37:9 From chambers come whirlwinds, and from the heights comes cold.

37:10 From the Strong One’s breath frost will be given, and He steers the water however He wishes.

37:11 A cloud covers what is chosen, and a cloud will scatter His light.

37:12 He Himself will turn circuits in theeboulathō for their works; all that He commands them— these things have been ordered by Him upon the earth,

37:13 whether for discipline, whether for His earth, or whether for mercy, He will find it.

37:14 Give ear to these things, Job; stand; be instructed about the Lord’s power.

37:15 We know that God established His works, making light out of darkness.

37:16 He knows the division of clouds, and the terrible falls of the wicked.

37:17 Your robe is warm, and there is quiet upon the earth.

37:18 Acts of making firm are with Him for old things, strong like the appearance of a pouring.

37:19 Why? Teach me what we will say to Him, and let us stop saying so much.

37:20 Has a book or a scribe stood beside me, so that, standing, I might silence a human?

37:21 Light is not visible to everyone; it shines afar in the old things, like the light from Him upon clouds.

37:22 From the north come clouds gleaming gold; upon these are the Almighty’s great glory and honor.

37:23 We do not find another like Him in strength; He judges righteous things— do you not think He hears?

37:24 Therefore humans will fear Him, and those wise in heart will also fear Him.”

Job 38

38:1 After Elihu ceased speaking, the Lord spoke to Job through a whirlwind and clouds:

38:2 “Who is this who hides counsel from Me, holding words within his heart, and thinks he hides them from Me?

38:3 Gird your waist like a man; I will question you, and you must answer Me.

38:4 Where were you when I laid the earth’s foundation? Report to Me, if you understand.

38:5 Who set its measures, if you know? Or who brought a cord upon it?

38:6 Upon what have its rings been fixed, and who placed a cornerstone upon it,

38:7 when stars came to be, and all My angels praised Me with a great voice?

38:8 I fenced the sea with gates when it raged, coming out of its mother’s womb;

38:9 I made a cloud its clothing and swaddled it in mist;

38:10 I set boundaries for it, placing bars and gates around it;

38:11 I said to it, ‘You will come this far and will not pass beyond; instead, your waves will be broken within you.’

38:12 Was it in your time that I ordered morning brightness, and the dawn-bearer saw its own appointed place, 38:13 to take hold of earth’s wings and shake the ungodly out of it?

38:14 Or did you take earth and mold clay into a living creature, and set him speaking upon earth?

38:15 Did you take light away from the ungodly and crush the arm of the arrogant?

38:16 Did you come to the sea’s spring and walk in the tracks of the abyss?

38:17 Do the gates of death open to you in fear, and did Hades’ gatekeepers cower when they saw you?

38:18 Have you been instructed about the breadth of the realm under heaven? Tell Me, then, how great it is.

38:19 In what land does light lodge, and what is the place of darkness,

38:20 if you could lead Me to their boundaries, and if you also know their paths?

38:21 I know, then, that you were born at that time, and the number of your years is great.

38:22 Did you come to the treasures of snow, and have you seen the treasures of hail?

38:23 It is stored away for you for an hour of enemies, for a day of war and battle.

38:24 From where does frost come out, or the south wind scatter beneath heaven?

38:25 Who prepared a flow for violent rain and a path for tumult,

38:26 to rain upon land where there is no man, a wilderness where no human exists,

38:27 to fill untrodden and uninhabited ground and make a growth of green plants sprout?

38:28 Who is the father of rain, and who gave birth to lumps of dew?

38:29 From whose belly does ice come forth, and who gave birth to frost in heaven,

38:30 which descends like flowing water? And who fixed the face of the abyss?

38:31 Did you understand the bond of the Pleiades and open Orion’s enclosure?

38:32 Will you open mazourōth in its season, and lead the Evening Star by its hair—lead them?

38:33 Do you know heaven’s turnings, or the things happening together beneath heaven?

38:34 Will you call a cloud with your voice, and will it obey you with a violent trembling of water?

38:35 Will you send thunderbolts, and will they go? Will they say to you, ‘What is it?’

38:36 Who gave women wisdom in weaving or knowledge of embroidery?

38:37 Who counts clouds with wisdom and inclined heaven toward earth?

38:38 Dust has been poured like earth, and I have fastened it like a cube to stone.

38:39 Will you hunt food for lions and fill the souls of dragons?

38:40 For they have feared in their beds; they sit in woods, lying in ambush.

38:41 Who prepared food for a raven? For its nestlings have cried to the Lord, wandering and seeking food.”

Job 39

39:1 “Have you known the birth season of rock goat-deer, and watched the deer’s labor pains?

39:2 Did you count their months completed for birth, and release their labor pains?

39:3 Did you nourish their young beyond fear? Will you send away their birth pains?

39:4 They will break away with their young and multiply in offspring; they will go out and certainly not return to them.

39:5 Who is the one who let the wild donkey go free, and who loosened its bonds?

39:6 I made its dwelling the wilderness, and its encampments the salt marsh,

39:7 laughing at the city’s crowded bustle, and not hearing a tax collector’s reproach;

39:8 it will examine mountains for its pasture and seek after every green thing.

39:9 Will a one-horned beast be willing to serve you or sleep at your feeding trough?

39:10 Will you bind its yoke with straps, or will it draw your furrows in a plain?

39:11 Have you trusted it because its strength is great, and will you entrust your works to it?

39:12 Will you believe that it will return your seed to you and bring in your threshing-floor grain?

39:13 A wing of rejoicing creatures—neelasa— if it takes hold of asida and nessa;

39:14 for she will leave her eggs on earth and warm them upon dust,

39:15 and she forgot that a foot would scatter them and wild beasts of the field trample them;

39:16 she hardened toward her children as though not her own; she toiled in vain without fear,

39:17 for God kept wisdom silent for her and did not give her a share in understanding.

39:18 At the proper time she will lift up on high and laugh at a horse and its rider.

39:19 Did you clothe a horse with power and put fear upon its neck?

39:20 Did you put full armor upon it, and clothe the glory of its breast with daring?

39:21 Digging in the plain, it exults and goes out into the plain with strength;

39:22 meeting a missile, it laughs and will certainly not turn away from iron.

39:23 Bow and sword exult over it,

39:24 and in wrath it will obliterate the earth; it will certainly not believe until a trumpet signals.

39:25 When the trumpet signals, it says, ‘Well done!’ From afar it smells war, with leaping and shouting.

39:26 Is it by your knowledge that a hawk stands, spreading its wings, motionless, looking toward the south?

39:27 Does an eagle rise high at your command, and does a vulture sit upon its nest and lodge

39:28 upon a rocky projection and in a concealed place?

39:29 Being there, it seeks food; its eyes watch from afar.

39:30 Its nestlings are stained with blood, and wherever the dead are, they are immediately found.”

Job 40

40:1 The Lord God answered Job and said:

40:2 “Will he evade judgment with the Mighty One? Will the one reproving God answer it?”

40:3 Then Job replied to the Lord:

40:4 “Why am I still being judged, being admonished and reproving the Lord, hearing such things though I am nothing? What answer can I give to these things? I will place a hand over my mouth;

40:5 I have spoken once, but a second time I will add nothing.”

40:6 Again the Lord replied to Job from the cloud:

40:7 “No, but gird your waist like a man; I will question you, and you must answer Me.

40:8 Do not reject My judgment. Do you think I have dealt with you for any other purpose than that you may be shown righteous?

40:9 Do you have an arm against the Lord, or thunder with a voice like His?

40:10 Take up height and power; clothe yourself in glory and honor.

40:11 Send out angels in wrath, and humble every insolent person;

40:12 extinguish the arrogant, and make the ungodly decay immediately;

40:13 hide them together outside in the earth, and fill their faces with dishonor;

40:14 then I will acknowledge that your right hand is able to save.

40:15 But look at beasts beside you; it eats grass like oxen.

40:16 Behold, its strength is upon the loin, and its power upon the belly’s navel.

40:17 It set its tail upright like a cypress, and its sinews are woven together.

40:18 Its ribs are bronze ribs, and its spine is cast iron.

40:19 This is the beginning of the Lord’s formation, made to be played with by His angels.

40:20 Coming upon a sheer mountain, it brought joy to four-footed creatures in Tartarus.

40:21 It sleeps beneath trees of every kind, beside papyrus, reed and flowering rush.

40:22 Great trees are shaded in it, with shoots and branches of the chaste tree.

40:23 If a flood comes, it will certainly not notice; it is confident that Jordan will strike against its mouth.

40:24 He will receive it in its eye; catching in a snare, will he pierce a nose?

40:25 Will you bring a dragon with a hook and place a muzzle around its nose?

40:26 Will you fasten a ring in its nostril and pierce its lip with a band?

40:27 Will it speak to you with a plea, softly with supplication?

40:28 Will it establish a covenant with you, and will you take it as an everlasting slave?

40:29 Will you play with it like a bird, or tie it like a little bird for a child?

40:30 Will nations feed upon it, and will Phoenician clans divide it?

40:31 All floating craft gathered together certainly cannot carry one hide from its tail, nor its head in fishermen’s boats.

40:32 Will you lay a hand upon it, remembering the war taking place within its body? Let it happen no more.”

Job 41

41:1 “Have you not seen it, nor marveled at what is said?

41:2 Have you not feared because it has been prepared for Me? For who is the one who stood against Me?

41:3 Who will stand against Me and endure, if the whole realm beneath heaven is Mine?

41:4 I will not be silent because of it; regarding a word of power, he will pity his equal.

41:5 Who will uncover the face of its clothing, and who could enter the fold of its breastplate?

41:6 Who will open the gates of its face? Fear surrounds its teeth.

41:7 Its inward parts are bronze shields, and its fastening is like emery stone.

41:8 One sticks to another, and breath will certainly not pass through it;

41:9 each will cling to its brother; they hold together and will certainly not be pulled apart.

41:10 In its sneeze brightness shines, and its eyes have the appearance of the dawn-bearer.

41:11 Burning torches go out from its mouth, and fire-hearths are hurled about.

41:12 Smoke comes out of its nostrils, as from a furnace burning with a coal fire.

41:13 Its soul is coals, and flame comes out of its mouth.

41:14 Power lodges in its neck, and destruction runs before it.

41:15 The flesh of its body is joined together; he pours down upon it; it will not be shaken.

41:16 Its heart is fixed like stone and stands like an unhammered anvil.

41:17 When it turns, fear falls upon four-footed beasts leaping upon the earth.

41:18 If lances meet it, they will certainly accomplish nothing— an uplifted spear and a breastplate.

41:19 For it regards iron as straw and bronze as decayed wood.

41:20 A bronze bow will certainly not wound it; it regards a stone-thrower as grass.

41:21 Hammers were reckoned as stalks, and it laughs at the shaking of a fire-bearing weapon.

41:22 Its bedding is sharp spits, and all the sea's gold beneath it is like immeasurable mud.

41:23 It boils the abyss like a bronze cauldron and regards the sea like an ointment jar,

41:24 and the Tartarus of the abyss like a captive; it reckoned the abyss a place for walking.

41:25 There is nothing upon earth like it, made to be played with by My angels.

41:26 It sees everything high, and it is king of all things in the waters."

Job 42

42:1 Then Job replied to the Lord:

42:2 "I know that Thou canst do all things, and nothing is impossible for Thee.

42:3 For who is the one hiding counsel from Thee, who withholds words and thinks he hides them from Thee? Who will announce to me what I did not know, great and wonderful things I did not understand?

42:4 But hear me, Lord, so that I too may speak; I will question Thee, and Thou, teach me.

42:5 Before, I had heard of Thee with my ear, but now my eye has seen Thee;

42:6 therefore I despised myself and wasted away, and I regard myself as earth and ashes."

42:7 After the Lord had spoken all these words to Job, the Lord said to Eliphaz the Temanite, "You and your two friends sinned, for you spoke nothing true before Me, as My servant Job did.

42:8 Now take seven calves and seven rams and go to My servant Job, and he will make an offering on your behalf. My servant Job will pray for you, for I will surely accept his person. Were it not for him, I would have destroyed you; for you did not speak truth against My servant Job."

42:9 Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Minaean went and did as the Lord commanded them, and He released their sin through Job.

42:10 The Lord increased Job. When he also prayed for his friends, He forgave their sin. The Lord gave double what Job had formerly, for a doubling.

42:11 All his brothers and sisters heard everything that had happened to him and came to him, along with all who had known him from the beginning. They ate and drank with him and consoled him, and marveled at all the Lord had brought upon him. Each gave him one ewe lamb and an unstamped gold piece of four drachmas.

42:12 The Lord blessed Job's latter things more than the former. His livestock were fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, one thousand yoke of oxen and one thousand grazing female donkeys.

42:13 Seven sons and three daughters were born to him.

42:14 He called the first Hemera, the second Casia and the third Amalthea's Horn.

42:15 None were found beneath heaven better than Job's daughters, and their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers.

42:16 After the affliction, Job lived one hundred seventy years; in all, he lived two hundred forty-eight years. Job saw his sons and his sons' sons, a fourth generation.

42:17 Job died elderly and full of days.

42:17a It is written that he will rise again with those whom the Lord raises.

42:17b This is translated from the Syriac book: he lived in the land of Ausitis, on the borders of Idumea and Arabia, and his former name was Jobab.

42:17c He took an Arabian wife and fathered a son named Ennon. His father was Zare, a son of the sons of Esau, and his mother was Bosorra, so that he was fifth from Abraham.

42:17d These are the kings who reigned in Edom, the land he himself also ruled: first Balak son of Beor, whose city was called Dennaba; after Balak, Jobab, called Job; after him, Asom, a ruler from the land of Teman; after him, Adad son of Barad, who cut down Midian in the plain of Moab, whose city was called Geththaim.

42:17e The friends who came to him were Eliphaz, from the sons of Esau, king of the Temanites; Bildad, ruler of the Shuhites; and Zophar, king of the Minaeans.

Psalms

Psalms 1

1:1 Blessed is the man who did not walk in the counsel of the ungodly, and did not stand in the way of sinners, and did not sit in the seat of pestilent men;

1:2 but his will is in the Lord’s law, and on His law he will meditate day and night.

1:3 He will be like the tree planted beside the outlets of waters, which will give its fruit in its season, and whose leaf will not fall off; and everything he does will be prospered.

1:4 Not so the ungodly, not so, but like chaff which the wind flings away from the face of the earth.

1:5 Therefore the ungodly will not rise in judgment, nor sinners in the council of the righteous;

1:6 for the Lord knows the way of the righteous, and the way of the ungodly will perish.

Psalms 2

2:1 Why did nations rage, and peoples meditate on empty things?

2:2 The kings of the earth stood ready, and the rulers gathered together, against the Lord and against His anointed. Diapsalma.

2:3 “Let us tear apart their bonds and cast their yoke away from us.”

2:4 The One dwelling in heaven will laugh at them, and the Lord will sneer at them.

2:5 Then He will speak to them in His anger and trouble them in His fury:

2:6 “But I was appointed king by Him on Zion, His holy mountain,

2:7 announcing the Lord’s decree: The Lord said to me, ‘You are My son; today I have begotten you.

2:8 Ask of Me, and I will give you nations as your inheritance, and the ends of the earth as your possession.

2:9 You will shepherd them with an iron rod; you will crush them like a potter’s vessel.’”

2:10 And now, kings, understand; be instructed, all who judge the earth.

2:11 Serve the Lord with fear, and exult in Him with trembling.

2:12 Take hold of instruction, lest the Lord become angry and you perish from a righteous way. When His fury burns quickly, blessed are all who have trusted in Him.

Psalms 3

3:1 A psalm of David, when he was fleeing from the presence of Absalom his son.

3:2 Lord, why have those who afflict me multiplied? Many rise up against me.

3:3 Many say to my soul, “There is no salvation for him in his God.” Diapsalma.

3:4 But Thou, Lord, art my helper, my glory and the One who lifts my head.

3:5 With my voice I cried to the Lord, and He heard me from His holy mountain. Diapsalma.

3:6 I lay down and slept; I was awakened, for the Lord will help me.

3:7 I will not fear tens of thousands of people who together attack me all around.

3:8 Rise, Lord! Save me, my God! For Thou didst strike all who were my enemies without cause; Thou didst crush sinners’ teeth.

3:9 Salvation belongs to the Lord, and Thy blessing is upon Thy people.

Psalms 4

4:1 For the end, among psalms. A song of David.

4:2 When I called, the God of my righteousness heard me. In affliction Thou madest room for me. Have compassion on me, and hear my prayer.

4:3 Sons of men, how long will you be dull of heart? Why do you love vanity and seek falsehood? Diapsalma.

4:4 Know that the Lord has made His holy one wondrous; the Lord will hear me when I cry to Him.

4:5 Be angry, and do not sin; speak in your hearts, and upon your beds be pierced with remorse. Diapsalma.

4:6 Offer a sacrifice of righteousness, and hope in the Lord.

4:7 Many say, “Who will show us good things?” The light of Thy face was marked upon us, Lord.

4:8 Thou didst put gladness in my heart; from the season of their grain and wine and oil, they were increased.

4:9 In peace I will both lie down and sleep, for Thou, Lord, madest me dwell alone in hope.

Psalms 5

5:1 For the end, concerning her who inherits. A psalm of David.

5:2 Give ear to my words, Lord; understand my cry.

5:3 Attend to the voice of my petition, my King and my God, for unto Thee I will pray, Lord.

5:4 In the morning Thou wilt hear my voice; in the morning I will stand before Thee and watch.

5:5 For Thou art not a God who desires lawlessness, nor will an evildoer sojourn with Thee.

5:6 The lawless will not remain before Thine eyes; Thou didst hate all who work lawlessness.

5:7 Thou wilt destroy all who speak falsehood; the Lord abhors a man of bloodshed and deceit.

5:8 But I, through the multitude of Thy mercy, will enter Thy house; I will bow toward Thy holy temple in fear of Thee.

5:9 Lord, guide me in Thy righteousness because of my enemies; direct Thy way straight before me.

5:10 For there is no truth in their mouth; their heart is vain. Their throat is an open tomb; with their tongues they practiced deceit.

5:11 Judge them, God! Let them fall away from their counsels. According to the multitude of their ungodly deeds, drive them out, for they provoked Thee bitterly, Lord.

5:12 Let all who hope in Thee rejoice; they will exult for ever, and Thou wilt dwell among them. All who love Thy name will boast in Thee.

5:13 For Thou wilt bless the righteous one; Lord, Thou didst crown us as with a weapon of favor.

Psalms 6

6:1 For the end, among hymns, concerning the eighth. A psalm of David.

6:2 Lord, do not rebuke me in Thy fury, nor discipline me in Thine anger.

6:3 Have mercy on me, Lord, for I am weak; heal me, Lord, for my bones were troubled,

6:4 and my soul was greatly troubled. And Thou, Lord—how long?

6:5 Return, Lord; rescue my soul. Save me for the sake of Thy mercy.

6:6 For in death there is no one who remembers Thee; and in Hades, who will give Thee thanks?

6:7 I grew weary with my groaning; every night I will bathe my bed, with my tears I will wet my resting place.

6:8 My eye was troubled from anger; I grew old among all my enemies.

6:9 Stand away from me, all who work lawlessness, for the Lord heard the voice of my weeping.

6:10 The Lord heard my petition; the Lord accepted my prayer.

6:11 May all my enemies be ashamed and greatly troubled; may they turn back and be greatly put to shame quickly.

Psalms 7

7:1 A psalm of David, which he sang to the Lord concerning the words of Chousi son of Iemeni.

7:2 Lord my God, in Thee I hoped. Save me from all who pursue me, and rescue me,

7:3 lest he seize my soul like a lion, with no one to redeem or save.

7:4 Lord my God, if I did this, if there is injustice in my hands,

7:5 if I repaid those who repay me evils, then may I fall away from my enemies empty,

7:6 then may the enemy pursue my soul and overtake it, trample my life into the earth, and make my glory dwell in dust. Diapsalma.

7:7 Rise, Lord, in Thine anger; be exalted within the boundaries of my enemies. Awake, Lord my God, in the ordinance which Thou didst command,

7:8 and an assembly of peoples will surround Thee; and for its sake return on high.

7:9 The Lord will judge peoples. Judge me, Lord, according to my righteousness and according to my innocence upon me.

7:10 Let sinners' wickedness come to an end, and Thou wilt direct the righteous one, God who tests hearts and kidneys.

7:11 Righteous is my help from God, who saves those upright in heart.

7:12 God is a righteous judge, strong and patient, not bringing wrath every day.

7:13 If you do not return, He will polish His sword; He bent His bow and prepared it,

7:14 and in it He prepared instruments of death; He fashioned His arrows for those being burned.

7:15 Behold, he was in labor with injustice; he conceived trouble and gave birth to lawlessness.

7:16 He dug a pit and hollowed it out, and he will fall into the hole he made.

7:17 His trouble will return upon his head, and his injustice will descend upon his crown.

7:18 I will give thanks to the Lord according to His righteousness, and sing praise to the name of the Lord Most High.

Psalms 8

8:1 For the end, concerning the winepresses. A psalm of David.

8:2 Lord our Lord, how wondrous is Thy name in all the earth, for Thy magnificence was raised above the heavens.

8:3 Out of the mouth of infants and nursing children Thou didst prepare praise,
because of Thine enemies,
to bring down the enemy and the avenger.

8:4 For I will see the heavens, works of Thy fingers, the moon and stars which Thou didst found:

8:5 what is a human being, that Thou rememberest him, or a son of man, that Thou visitest him?

8:6 Thou madest him a little lower than angels; Thou didst crown him with glory and honor,

8:7 and didst appoint him over the works of Thy hands; Thou didst subject everything beneath his feet:

8:8 all sheep and cattle, and also the animals of the plain,

8:9 the birds of heaven and the fish of the sea, those that travel along the paths of seas.

8:10 Lord our Lord, how wondrous is Thy name in all the earth!

Psalms 9

9:1 For the end, concerning the hidden things of the son. A psalm of David.

9:2 I will give thanks unto Thee, Lord, with my whole heart; I will recount all Thy wonders.

9:3 I will rejoice and exult in Thee; I will sing praise to Thy name, Most High.

9:4 When my enemy turns back, they will grow weak and perish before Thee,

9:5 for Thou hast upheld my judgment and my cause; Thou sattest on a throne, Thou who judgest righteousness.

9:6 Thou didst rebuke nations, and the ungodly one perished; Thou didst erase their name for ever and for the age of the age.

9:7 The enemy's swords failed utterly, and Thou didst pull down cities; their memory perished with a noise.

9:8 And the Lord remains for ever; He prepared His throne for judgment,

9:9 and He will judge the inhabited world in righteousness; He will judge peoples with uprightness.

9:10 And the Lord became a refuge for the needy, a helper at fitting times in distress.

9:11 Let those who know Thy name hope in Thee, for Thou hast not abandoned those who seek Thee, Lord.

9:12 Sing praise to the Lord, who dwells in Zion; announce His deeds among the nations,

9:13 for He who calls bloodshed to account remembered them; He did not forget the cry of the needy.

9:14 Have mercy on me, Lord; see my humiliation from my enemies, Thou who raisest me from the gates of death,

9:15 so that I may proclaim all Thy praises in the gates of daughter Zion; I will exult in Thy salvation.

9:16 Nations became fixed in the destruction they brought about; in this trap they concealed, their foot was caught.

9:17 The Lord is known as He executes judgments; the sinner was caught in the works of his own hands. A song of Diapsalma.

9:18 Let sinners turn back to Hades, all nations that forget God.

9:19 For the poor will not be forgotten utterly; the endurance of the needy will not perish for ever.

9:20 Arise, Lord; do not let a human being grow strong; let nations be judged before Thee.

9:21 Appoint a lawgiver over them, Lord; let nations know that they are human beings. Diapsalma.

9:22 Why, Lord, hast Thou stood far away, overlooking us at fitting times in distress?

9:23 As the ungodly man exalts himself, the poor man is set ablaze; they are caught in the counsels they devise.

9:24 For the sinner is praised for the desires of his soul, and the one who acts unjustly is blessed.

9:25 The sinner provoked the Lord. According to the abundance of his anger, he will not seek out; God is not before him.

9:26 His ways are profaned at every time; Thy judgments are removed from before him; he will lord it over all his enemies.

9:27 For he said in his heart, "I will certainly not be shaken, from generation to generation, without adversity."

9:28 His mouth is full of cursing, bitterness, and deceit; under his tongue are toil and trouble.

9:29 He sits in ambush with rich people, to kill an innocent person in hiding places; his eyes look toward the needy.

9:30 He lurks in hiding like a lion in its enclosure; he lurks to seize a poor man, to seize a poor man as he drags him away.

9:31 In his trap he will humble him; he will bow down and fall as he lords it over the needy.

9:32 For he said in his heart, “God has forgotten; He turned His face away so as never to see.”

9:33 Arise, Lord God; let Thy hand be raised; do not forget the needy.

9:34 For what reason did the ungodly provoke God? For he said in his heart, “He will not call to account.”

9:35 Thou seest, for Thou perceivest trouble and anger, to hand them over into Thy hands. To Thee, therefore, the poor man has been left; Thou wast helping the orphan.

9:36 Crush the arm of the sinful and evil man; his sin will be sought out, and he will certainly not be found because of it.

9:37 The Lord will reign for ever and for the age of the age; you will perish, nations, from His land.

9:38 The Lord heard the desire of the needy; Thine ear attended to the preparation of their heart,

9:39 to judge for the orphan and the lowly, so that a human being on the earth may no longer boast greatly.

Psalms 10

10:1 For the end. A psalm of David. In the Lord I have trusted. How will you say to my soul, “Move away to the mountains like a little bird”?

10:2 For behold, sinners bent a bow; they prepared arrows for a quiver, to shoot down in the moonless dark the upright in heart.

10:3 For what Thou didst establish, they pulled down; but what did the righteous person do?

10:4 The Lord is in His holy temple; the Lord’s throne is in heaven. His eyes look toward the needy; His eyelids examine the sons of men.

10:5 The Lord examines the righteous and the ungodly; but the one who loves injustice hates his own soul.

10:6 He will rain traps upon sinners; fire, sulfur, and a storm wind are the portion of their cup.

10:7 For the Lord is righteous and loved righteous deeds; His face beheld uprightness.

Psalms 11

11:1 For the end, concerning the eighth. A psalm of David.

11:2 Save me, Lord, for the holy one is gone; for truths have become few among the sons of men.

11:3 Each spoke empty things to his neighbor; deceitful lips spoke with a heart and a heart.

11:4 May the Lord destroy all deceitful lips and a boastful tongue—

11:5 those who said, “We will magnify our tongue; our lips are our own; who is our lord?”

11:6 “Because of the misery of the poor and because of the groaning of the needy, now I will arise,” says the Lord. “I will set him in salvation; I will speak openly in him.”

11:7 The sayings of the Lord are pure sayings, silver tried by fire, tested in the earth, purified sevenfold.

11:8 Thou, Lord, wilt keep us and preserve us from this generation and for ever.

11:9 The ungodly walk around; according to Thy height, Thou heldest the sons of men in high regard.

Psalms 12

12:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

12:2 How long, Lord, wilt Thou forget me utterly? How long wilt Thou turn Thy face away from me?

12:3 How long shall I place counsels within my soul, pains within my heart by day? How long will my enemy be raised above me?

12:4 Look; hear me, Lord my God. Give light to my eyes, lest I fall asleep into death, 12:5 lest my enemy say, “I prevailed against him.” Those who afflict me will exult if I am shaken.

12:6 But I have hoped in Thy mercy; my heart will exult in Thy salvation. I will sing to the Lord, who has benefited me, and I will sing praise to the name of the Lord Most High.

Psalms 13

13:1 For the end. A psalm of David. A fool said in his heart, “There is no God.” They acted corruptly and became abominable in their practices; there is no one who shows kindness; there is not even one.

13:2 The Lord looked down from heaven upon the sons of men, to see whether there is anyone who understands or seeks God.

13:3 All turned aside; together they became useless; there is no one who shows kindness, not even one. Their throat is an open tomb; with their tongues they practiced deceit. The venom of asps is under their lips; their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed blood; brokenness and misery are in their ways, and they did not know a way of peace. There is no fear of God before their eyes.

13:4 Will all those who practice lawlessness not know? Those who devour my people as a meal of bread did not call upon the Lord.

13:5 There they cowered in fear where there was no fear, for God is with a righteous generation.

13:6 You put a poor man’s counsel to shame, because the Lord is his hope.

13:7 Who will give Israel’s salvation from Zion? When the Lord turns back His people’s captivity, let Jacob exult and let Israel rejoice.

Psalms 14

14:1 A psalm of David. Lord, who will sojourn in Thy dwelling, and who will encamp on Thy holy mountain?

14:2 One who walks blamelessly and works righteousness, speaking truth in his heart,

14:3 who did not act deceitfully with his tongue, nor do evil to his neighbor, and did not take up reproach against those nearest him.

14:4 One who acts wickedly is held in contempt before him, but he honors those who fear the Lord; one who swears to his neighbor and does not set it aside.

14:5 He did not lend his silver at interest and did not take gifts against innocent people. The one who does these things will never be shaken.

Psalms 15

15:1 An inscription of David. Guard me, Lord, for I have hoped in Thee.

15:2 I said to the Lord, “Thou art my Lord, for Thou hast no need of my good things.”

15:3 For the holy ones who are in His land, He made all His purposes wonderful among them.

15:4 Their weaknesses multiplied; after these things they hurried. I will certainly not gather their gatherings of bloodshed, nor will I remember their names through my lips.

15:5 The Lord is the portion of my inheritance and my cup; Thou art the One who restores my inheritance to me.

15:6 Measuring cords fell for me among the best places; indeed, my inheritance is the best for me.

15:7 I will bless the Lord, who gave me understanding; indeed, even until night my kidneys disciplined me.

15:8 I saw the Lord ever before me, for He is at my right hand, that I may not be shaken.

15:9 Therefore my heart rejoiced, and my tongue exulted; indeed, even my flesh will dwell in hope,

15:10 for Thou wilt not abandon my soul to Hades, nor let Thy holy one see decay.

15:11 Thou hast made known to me the paths of life; Thou wilt fill me with gladness in Thy presence; pleasures are at Thy right hand for ever.

Psalms 16

16:1 A prayer of David. Hear my righteousness, Lord; attend to my petition; give ear to my prayer, not from deceitful lips.

16:2 May my judgment come forth from Thy presence; let my eyes see upright things.

16:3 Thou didst test my heart; Thou didst visit by night; Thou didst try me by fire, and no injustice was found in me,

16:4 so that my mouth might not speak human deeds. Because of the words of Thy lips, I kept hard paths.

16:5 Set my steps firmly in Thy paths, so that my steps may not be shaken.

16:6 I cried out, for Thou heardest me, God; incline Thine ear to me and hear my words.

16:7 Make Thy mercies wonderful, Thou who savest those hoping in Thee from those who oppose Thy right hand.

16:8 Guard me as the pupil of an eye; in the shelter of Thy wings Thou wilt shelter me,

16:9 from the ungodly who made me miserable. My enemies surrounded my soul.

16:10 They shut up their fat; their mouth spoke arrogance.

16:11 Casting me out, they now surrounded me; they set their eyes to turn aside toward the earth.

16:12 They took me up like a lion ready for the hunt and like a young lion dwelling in hiding places.

16:13 Arise, Lord; get ahead of them and trip them up; rescue my soul from an ungodly man, Thy sword from the enemies of Thy hand.

16:14 Lord, separate them from the few, from the earth, during their life. Their belly was filled with Thy hidden things; they were satisfied with sons and left the remains to their infants.

16:15 But I, in righteousness, will appear before Thy face; I will be satisfied when Thy glory appears.

Psalms 17

17:1 For the end. Of the Lord’s servant David, who spoke the words of this song to the Lord on the day the Lord rescued him from the hand of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul.

17:2 And he said: I will love Thee, Lord, my strength.

17:3 The Lord is my firm foundation, my refuge, and my rescuer; my God is my helper, and I will hope in Him; my protector, the horn of my salvation, my supporter.

17:4 Praising, I will call upon the Lord, and I will be saved from my enemies.

17:5 The birth pangs of death encompassed me, and torrents of lawlessness threw me into turmoil.

17:6 The birth pangs of Hades surrounded me; the traps of death overtook me.

17:7 And when I was afflicted, I called upon the Lord and cried out to my God. He heard my voice from His holy temple, and my cry before Him will enter His ears.

17:8 And the earth was shaken and began to tremble; the foundations of the mountains were troubled and shaken because God was angry with them.

17:9 Smoke rose in His anger, and fire from His face set things ablaze; coals were kindled from Him.

17:10 And He bent heaven and came down, and gloom was beneath His feet.

17:11 And He mounted cherubim and flew; He flew on the wings of winds.

17:12 And He made darkness His hiding place; His tent was around Him, dark water in clouds of the air.

17:13 From the far-shining radiance before Him, the clouds passed— hail and coals of fire.

17:14 And the Lord thundered from heaven, and the Most High gave His voice.

17:15 And He sent out arrows and scattered them; He multiplied lightning flashes and threw them into turmoil.

17:16 And the springs of the waters appeared, and the foundations of the inhabited world were uncovered at Thy rebuke, Lord, at the blast of the spirit of Thine anger.

17:17 He sent from on high and took me; He took me to Himself out of many waters.

17:18 He will rescue me from my powerful enemies and from those who hate me, for they grew stronger than I.

17:19 They overtook me in the day of my affliction, and the Lord became my support,

17:20 and He brought me out into a spacious place. He will rescue me because He desired me. He will rescue me from my powerful enemies and from those who hate me.

17:21 And the Lord will repay me according to my righteousness, and according to the purity of my hands He will repay me,

17:22 because I kept the Lord’s ways and did not act impiously by turning from my God,

17:23 because all His judgments are before me, and I did not put His ordinances away from me.

17:24 And I will be blameless with Him and guard myself from my lawlessness.

17:25 And the Lord will repay me according to my righteousness and according to the purity of my hands before His eyes.

17:26 With a holy one Thou wilt show Thyself holy, and with an innocent man Thou wilt be innocent, 17:27 and with a chosen one Thou wilt be chosen, and with a twisted one Thou wilt twist.

17:28 For Thou wilt save a lowly people and humble the eyes of the arrogant.

17:29 For Thou wilt light my lamp, Lord; my God, Thou wilt light my darkness.

17:30 For by Thee I will be rescued from a raiding band, and by my God I will cross over a wall.

17:31 My God’s way is blameless; the Lord’s sayings are tried by fire; He is a protector of all who hope in Him.

17:32 For who is God except the Lord? And who is God except our God?

17:33 God girds me with power and made my way blameless,

17:34 He sets my feet firmly like a deer’s and makes me stand upon the heights,

17:35 training my hands for war; and Thou madest my arms a bronze bow.

17:36 And Thou gavest me the protection of my salvation; Thy right hand supported me, and Thy discipline set me upright completely, and Thy discipline itself will teach me.

17:37 Thou didst widen my steps beneath me, and my footprints did not grow weak.

17:38 I will pursue my enemies and overtake them, and I will not turn back until they fail.

17:39 I will press them down, and they will certainly be unable to stand; they will fall beneath my feet.

17:40 And Thou didst gird me with power for war; Thou didst fetter all those who rose against me beneath me,

17:41 and Thou madest my enemies turn their backs to me, and Thou didst destroy those who hated me.

17:42 They cried out, and there was no one to save; they cried to the Lord, and He did not hear them.

17:43 And I will grind them fine like dust before the wind; I will smooth them away like mud in the streets.

17:44 Thou wilt rescue me from the people's disputes; Thou wilt appoint me head of nations; a people I did not know served me.

17:45 At the hearing of the ear, it obeyed me; foreigners lied to me.

17:46 Foreigners grew old and limped away from their paths.

17:47 The Lord lives! Blessed be my God! Let the God of my salvation be exalted,

17:48 the God who gives me acts of vengeance and subjected peoples beneath me,

17:49 my rescuer from my wrathful enemies. Thou wilt raise me above those who rise against me; Thou wilt rescue me from an unjust man.

17:50 Therefore I will thank Thee among the nations, Lord, and sing praise to Thy name,

17:51 magnifying the salvations of His king and showing mercy to His anointed, to David and to his seed for ever.

Psalms 18

18:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

18:2 The heavens recount God's glory, and the firmament announces the work of His hands.

18:3 Day pours forth an utterance to day, and night announces knowledge to night.

18:4 There are no utterances or words whose voices are not heard.

18:5 Their sound went out into all the earth, and their utterances to the limits of the inhabited world. In the sun He set His dwelling.

18:6 And he is like a bridegroom coming out of his bridal chamber; he will exult like a giant to run his way.

18:7 His going out is from heaven's edge, and his arrival reaches heaven's edge; there is no one who will be hidden from his heat.

18:8 The Lord's law is blameless, turning souls; the Lord's testimony is trustworthy, making infants wise.

18:9 The Lord's ordinances are upright, rejoicing the heart; the Lord's commandment shines afar, giving light to the eyes.

18:10 The fear of the Lord is pure, enduring for the age of the age; the Lord's judgments are true, justified together, 18:11 desirable beyond gold and much precious stone, and sweeter than honey and honeycomb.

18:12 For indeed, Thy servant keeps them; in keeping them there is great recompense.

18:13 Who will understand transgressions? Cleanse me of my hidden things.

18:14 And spare Thy servant from others; if they do not rule over me, then I will be blameless and cleansed from great sin.

18:15 And the sayings of my mouth will be pleasing, and the meditation of my heart will be before Thee continually, Lord, my helper and my redeemer.

Psalms 19

19:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

19:2 May the Lord hear you in the day of affliction; may the name of Jacob's God protect you.

19:3 May He send you help from the sanctuary and support you from Zion.

19:4 May He remember every sacrifice of yours and make your whole burnt offering fat. Diapsalma.

19:5 May He give you according to your heart and fulfill all your counsel.

19:6 We will exult in your salvation, and in our God's name we will be magnified. May the Lord fulfill all your petitions.

19:7 Now I know that the Lord saved His anointed; He will hear him from His holy heaven; in mighty acts is the salvation of His right hand.

19:8 These rely on chariots, and those on horses, but we will be magnified in the name of the Lord our God.

19:9 They were fettered and fell, but we rose and were set upright.

19:10 Lord, save Thy king, and hear us on whatever day we call upon Thee.

Psalms 20

20:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

20:2 Lord, the king will rejoice in Thy power and exult greatly in Thy salvation.

20:3 Thou gavest him the desire of his soul and didst not deprive him of the wish of his lips. Diapsalma.

20:4 For Thou didst meet him with blessings of kindness; Thou didst place upon his head a crown of precious stone.

20:5 He asked Thee for life, and Thou gavest it to him, length of days for the age of the age.

20:6 His glory is great in Thy salvation; Thou wilt bestow glory and magnificence upon him.

20:7 For Thou wilt give him blessing for the age of the age; Thou wilt gladden him with joy in Thy presence.

20:8 For the king hopes in the Lord, and through the Most High's mercy he will certainly not be shaken.

20:9 May your hand be found by all your enemies; may your right hand find all who hate you.

20:10 You will make them like a fiery furnace at the time of your presence; the Lord in His anger will throw them into turmoil, and fire will devour them.

20:11 You will destroy their fruit from the earth and their seed from the sons of men, 20:12 because they directed evils against you; they devised a counsel they will certainly be unable to establish.

20:13 For you will make them turn their backs; among your remaining ones you will prepare their face.

20:14 Be exalted, Lord, in Thy power; we will sing and make music of Thy mighty acts.

Psalms 21

21:1 For the end, concerning the help of the morning. A psalm of David.

21:2 God, my God, give heed to me; why hast Thou forsaken me?
Far from my salvation are the words of my transgressions.

21:3 My God, I will cry by day, and Thou wilt not hear, and by night, and not to folly for me.

21:4 But Thou dwellest among holy ones, the praise of Israel.

21:5 In Thee our fathers hoped; they hoped, and Thou didst rescue them.

21:6 To Thee they cried out and were saved; in Thee they hoped and were not put to shame.

21:7 But I am a worm and not a human being, a human reproach and an object of the people's contempt.

21:8 All who saw me sneered at me;
they spoke with their lips and shook their heads:

21:9 "He hoped in the Lord; let Him rescue him; let Him save him, since He desires him."

21:10 For Thou art the One who drew me from the belly, my hope from my mother's breasts.

21:11 Upon Thee I was cast from the womb; from my mother's belly Thou art my God.

21:12 Do not stand away from me, for affliction is near, for there is no one to help.

21:13 Many calves surrounded me; fat bulls encompassed me.

21:14 They opened their mouth against me like a lion seizing prey and roaring.

21:15 I was poured out like water, and all my bones were scattered. My heart became like wax melting in the midst of my belly.

21:16 My strength dried up like a potsherd; my tongue is stuck to my throat, and Thou broughtest me down into the dust of death.

21:17 For many dogs surrounded me; a gathering of evildoers encompassed me; they dug into my hands and feet.

21:18 I counted all my bones; but they observed and looked upon me.

21:19 They divided my garments among themselves, and cast a lot for my clothing.

21:20 But Thou, Lord, do not put my help far away; attend to my support.

21:21 Rescue my soul from the sword and my only one from the dog's hand.

21:22 Save me from a lion's mouth and my lowliness from the horns of one-horned animals.

21:23 I will recount Thy name to my brothers;
in the midst of the assembly I will sing praise to Thee:

21:24 You who fear the Lord, praise Him! All Jacob's seed, glorify Him! Let all Israel's seed fear Him,

21:25 because He did not despise or resent the poor man's petition, nor turn His face away from me, and when I cried out to Him, He heard me.

21:26 From Thee comes my praise in a great assembly; I will repay my vows before those who fear Him.

21:27 The needy will eat and be filled, and those who seek the Lord will praise Him; their hearts will live for the age of the age.

21:28 All the limits of the earth will remember and turn to the Lord, and all the families of the nations will bow down before Thee,

21:29 because kingship belongs to the Lord, and He is master of the nations.

21:30 All the prosperous of the earth ate and bowed down; before Him all who descend into the earth will fall, and my soul lives for Him.

21:31 And my seed will serve Him; the coming generation will be announced to the Lord, 21:32 and they will announce His righteousness to a people yet to be born, because the Lord has done it.

Psalms 22

22:1 A psalm of David. The Lord shepherds me, and nothing shall fail me.

22:2 He made me dwell in a place of green growth; He nourished me beside water of rest.

22:3 He turned my soul back; He guided me upon paths of righteousness for His name's sake.

22:4 For even if I walk in the midst of death's shadow, I will fear no evils, for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff comforted me.

22:5 Thou didst prepare a table before me opposite those who afflict me; Thou didst enrich my head with oil, and Thy cup is intoxicating—how excellent!

22:6 And Thy mercy will pursue me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the Lord's house for length of days.

Psalms 23

23:1 A psalm of David, for the first day of the week. The earth and its fullness belong to the Lord, the inhabited world and all who dwell in it.

23:2 He founded it upon seas and prepared it upon rivers.

23:3 Who will ascend the Lord's mountain, and who will stand in His holy place?

23:4 One innocent in hands and pure in heart, who did not take up his soul for emptiness and did not swear deceitfully to his neighbor.

23:5 This one will receive blessing from the Lord and mercy from God his Savior.

23:6 This is the generation of those who seek Him, who seek the face of Jacob's God. Diapsalma.

23:7 Your rulers—lift up gates! And be raised, eternal gates, and the King of glory will enter.

23:8 Who is this King of glory? The Lord, strong and powerful; the Lord, powerful in war.

23:9 Your rulers—lift up gates! And be raised, eternal gates, and the King of glory will enter.

23:10 Who is this King of glory? The Lord of powers—He is the King of glory.

Psalms 24

24:1 A psalm of David. To Thee, Lord, I lifted my soul, my God.

24:2 In Thee I have trusted; may I not be put to shame, and let my enemies not laugh at me.

24:3 For indeed, all who wait for Thee will certainly not be put to shame; let all who act lawlessly without cause be ashamed.

24:4 Make Thy ways known to me, Lord, and teach me Thy paths.

24:5 Guide me into Thy truth and teach me, for Thou art God my Savior, and I waited for Thee the whole day.

24:6 Remember Thy compassions, Lord, and Thy mercies, for they are from eternity.

24:7 Do not remember the sins of my youth or my acts of ignorance; according to Thy mercy, remember me Thyself, for Thy kindness' sake, Lord.

24:8 The Lord is kind and upright; therefore He will give sinners instruction in the way.

24:9 He will guide the meek in judgment; He will teach the meek His ways.

24:10 All the Lord's ways are mercy and truth for those who seek His covenant and His testimonies.

24:11 For Thy name's sake, Lord, Thou wilt be gracious to my sin, for it is great.

24:12 Who is the human being who fears the Lord? He will give him instruction in a way he chose.

24:13 His soul will lodge among good things, and his seed will inherit land.

24:14 The Lord is the stronghold of those who fear Him, and the Lord's name belongs to those who fear Him, and His covenant is to make things known to them.

24:15 My eyes are continually toward the Lord, for He will pull my feet out of a trap.

24:16 Look upon me and have mercy on me, for I am alone and poor.

24:17 The afflictions of my heart widened; bring me out of my distresses.

24:18 See my humiliation and my toil, and forgive all my sins.

24:19 See my enemies, for they multiplied and hated me with unjust hatred.

24:20 Guard my soul and rescue me; may I not be put to shame, for I hoped in Thee.

24:21 Innocent and upright people clung to me, for I waited for Thee, Lord.

24:22 Redeem Israel, God, from all its afflictions.

Psalms 25

25:1 Of David. Judge me, Lord, for I walked in my innocence, and hoping in the Lord, I will certainly not grow weak.

25:2 Test me, Lord, and try me; try my kidneys and my heart by fire.

25:3 For Thy mercy is before my eyes, and I acted pleasingly in Thy truth.

25:4 I did not sit with a council of emptiness, and I will certainly not enter with transgressors.

25:5 I hated an assembly of evildoers, and I will certainly not sit with the ungodly.

25:6 I will wash my hands among the innocent and go around Thine altar, Lord, 25:7 to hear a voice of praise and recount all Thy wonders.

25:8 Lord, I loved the beauty of Thy house and the place of Thy glory's dwelling.

25:9 Do not destroy my soul together with the ungodly, or my life with men of bloodshed,

25:10 in whose hands are lawless deeds; their right hand was filled with gifts.

25:11 But I walked in my innocence; redeem me and have mercy on me.

25:12 For my foot stood in uprightness; in assemblies I will bless Thee, Lord.

Psalms 26

26:1 Of David, before being anointed. The Lord is my light and my Savior; whom will I fear? The Lord is the protector of my life; of whom will I be afraid?

26:2 When those doing evil approached me to eat my flesh, those who afflict me and my enemies, they grew weak and fell.

26:3 Even if an army draws up against me, my heart will not fear; even if war rises against me, in this I hope.

26:4 One thing I asked from the Lord; this I will seek: that I may dwell in the Lord's house all the days of my life, that I may behold the Lord's loveliness and visit His temple.

26:5 For He hid me in a tent in the day of my troubles; He sheltered me in the hiding place of His tent; He raised me upon a rock.

26:6 And now, behold, He raised my head above my enemies; I went around and sacrificed in His tent a sacrifice of shouting; I will sing and make music to the Lord.

26:7 Hear, Lord, my voice with which I cried; have mercy on me and hear me.

26:8 My heart said unto Thee, "My face sought Thee." Thy face, Lord, I will seek.

26:9 Do not turn Thy face away from me; do not turn aside in anger from Thy servant. Become my helper; do not reject me or abandon me, God my Savior.

26:10 For my father and my mother abandoned me, but the Lord took me to Himself.

26:11 Give me instruction in Thy way, Lord, and guide me on an upright path because of my enemies.

26:12 Do not hand me over to the souls of those who afflict me, for unjust witnesses rose against me, and injustice lied to itself.

26:13 I believe that I will see the Lord's good things in the land of the living.

26:14 Wait for the Lord; act courageously, and let your heart be strong, and wait for the Lord.

Psalms 27

27:1 Of David. To Thee, Lord, I cried; my God, do not keep silence toward me, lest Thou keep silence toward me and I become like those descending into a pit.

27:2 Hear the voice of my petition as I petition Thee, as I lift my hands toward Thy holy temple.

27:3 Do not drag my soul away together with sinners, and do not destroy me together with those working injustice, who speak peace with their neighbors while evils are in their hearts.

27:4 Give them according to their works and according to the wickedness of their practices; give them according to the works of their hands; repay their recompense to them.

27:5 Because they did not understand the Lord's works or the works of His hands, Thou wilt pull them down and certainly not build them up.

27:6 Blessed be the Lord, because He heard the voice of my petition.

27:7 The Lord is my helper and my protector; in Him my heart hoped, and I was helped, and my flesh blossomed anew; from my own will I will thank Him.

27:8 The Lord is the stronghold of His people and the protector of the salvations of His anointed.

27:9 Save Thy people and bless Thine inheritance; shepherd them and lift them up for ever.

Psalms 28

28:1 A psalm of David, for the departure of the tent. Bring to the Lord, sons of God; bring to the Lord young rams; bring to the Lord glory and honor.

28:2 Bring to the Lord glory for His name; bow down to the Lord in His holy courtyard.

28:3 The Lord's voice is over the waters; the God of glory thundered; the Lord is over many waters.

28:4 The Lord's voice is in strength; the Lord's voice is in magnificence.

28:5 The voice of the Lord, who crushes cedars; and the Lord will crush Lebanon's cedars,

28:6 and He will grind them fine—Lebanon like the calf— and the beloved like a young one-horned animal.

28:7 The voice of the Lord, who cleaves a flame of fire.

28:8 The voice of the Lord, who shakes the wilderness; and the Lord will shake the wilderness of Kadesh.

28:9 The voice of the Lord, who makes deer ready; and He will uncover forests; in His temple everyone speaks glory.

28:10 The Lord will settle the flood, and the Lord sits as King for ever.

28:11 The Lord will give strength to His people; the Lord will bless His people with peace.

Psalms 29

29:1 For the end. A psalm of a song for the dedication of the house. Of David.

29:2 I will exalt Thee, Lord, for Thou tookest me up and didst not gladden my enemies over me.

29:3 Lord my God, I cried out unto Thee, and Thou didst heal me.

29:4 Lord, Thou broughtest my soul up from Hades; Thou didst save me from those descending into a pit.

29:5 Sing praise to the Lord, His holy ones, and give thanks at the remembrance of His holiness,

29:6 because anger is in His wrath, and life in His will; weeping will lodge in the evening, and exultation comes toward morning.

29:7 But I said in my prosperity, “I will certainly never be shaken.”

29:8 Lord, in Thy will Thou didst supply strength to my beauty; but Thou didst turn Thy face away, and I became troubled.

29:9 To Thee, Lord, I will cry, and to my God I will make my petition:

29:10 “What benefit is there in my blood, in my descending into corruption? Will dust give thanks unto Thee, or announce Thy truth?”

29:11 The Lord heard and had mercy on me; the Lord became my helper.

29:12 Thou didst turn my lament into dancing for me; Thou didst tear open my sackcloth and gird me with gladness,

29:13 so that my glory may sing praise unto Thee, and I may certainly not be pierced with grief. Lord my God, I will thank Thee for ever.

Psalms 30

30:1 For the end. A psalm of David, of alarm.

30:2 In Thee, Lord, I hoped; may I never be put to shame; in Thy righteousness rescue me and bring me out.

30:3 Incline Thine ear to me; hasten to bring me out; be for me a protecting God and a house of refuge to save me.

30:4 For Thou art my stronghold and my refuge, and for Thy name’s sake Thou wilt guide me and nourish me.

30:5 Thou wilt bring me out of this trap they hid for me, for Thou art my protector.

30:6 Into Thy hands I will entrust my spirit; Thou didst redeem me, Lord, God of truth.

30:7 Thou didst hate those who guard vanities to no purpose; but I hoped in the Lord.

30:8 I will exult and rejoice in Thy mercy, because Thou didst look upon my humiliation; Thou didst save my soul from constraints

30:9 and didst not enclose me in an enemy’s hands; Thou didst set my feet in a spacious place.

30:10 Have mercy on me, Lord, for I am afflicted; my eye was troubled with anger, my soul and my belly too.

30:11 For my life failed in pain and my years in groaning; my strength grew weak in poverty, and my bones were troubled.

30:12 Beyond all my enemies I became a reproach, and greatly so to my neighbors, and a fear to my acquaintances; those who watched me outside fled from me.

30:13 I was forgotten from the heart like a dead person; I became like a lost vessel.

30:14 For I heard the reproach of many dwelling all around; as they gathered together against me, they planned to take my soul.

30:15 But I hoped in Thee, Lord; I said, “Thou art my God.”

30:16 My seasons are in Thy hands; rescue me from the hand of my enemies and from those who pursue me.

30:17 Make Thy face shine upon Thy servant; save me in Thy mercy.

30:18 Lord, may I not be put to shame, for I called upon Thee; may the ungodly be ashamed and brought down to Hades.

30:19 Let deceitful lips become speechless, those that speak lawlessness against the righteous in arrogance and contempt.

30:20 How great is the multitude of Thy kindness, Lord, which Thou didst conceal for those who fear Thee, which Thou didst accomplish for those who hope in Thee before the sons of men!

30:21 Thou wilt hide them in the hiding place of Thy presence from human turmoil; Thou wilt shelter them in a tent from the contradiction of tongues.

30:22 Blessed be the Lord, because He made His mercy wonderful in an enclosed city.

30:23 But I said in my alarm, “So I have been cast away from before Thine eyes.” For this reason Thou heardest the voice of my petition when I cried unto Thee.

30:24 Love the Lord, all His holy ones, because the Lord seeks truths and repays those who act with abundant arrogance.

30:25 Act courageously, and let your heart be strong, all who hope in the Lord.

Psalms 31

31:1 Of David. Of understanding. Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven and whose sins are covered.

31:2 Blessed is the man whose sin the Lord will certainly not reckon, and in whose mouth there is no deceit.

31:3 Because I kept silent, my bones grew old from my crying out all day long.

31:4 For day and night Thy hand weighed heavily upon me; I was turned to misery when a thorn became lodged. Diapsalma.

31:5 I made my sin known, and I did not cover my lawlessness. I said, “I will confess my lawlessness against myself to the Lord,” and Thou forgavest the impiety of my sin. Diapsalma.

31:6 For this every holy one will pray unto Thee at a fitting time; yet in a flood of many waters they will not approach him.

31:7 Thou art my refuge from the affliction surrounding me; my exultation, redeem me from those who have encircled me. Diapsalma.

31:8 I will give you understanding and instruct you in this way in which you will go; I will fix my eyes upon you.

31:9 Do not become like a horse and mule that have no understanding; with bridle and muzzle tighten their jaws— those that do not approach you.

31:10 Many are the scourges of the sinner, but mercy will surround the one who hopes in the Lord.

31:11 Rejoice in the Lord and exult, righteous ones; boast, all upright in heart.

Psalms 32

32:1 Of David. Exult in the Lord, righteous ones; praise is fitting for the upright.

32:2 Give thanks to the Lord with the lyre; make music to Him with a ten-stringed psaltery.

32:3 Sing Him a new song; make music well with a shout of triumph.

32:4 For the Lord’s word is upright, and all His works are in faithfulness.

32:5 He loves mercy and judgment; the earth is full of the Lord’s mercy.

32:6 By the Lord’s word the heavens were established, and by the spirit of His mouth all their power.

32:7 He gathers the sea’s waters like a wineskin; He places the deeps in storehouses.

32:8 Let all the earth fear the Lord; let all who inhabit the world be shaken before Him.

32:9 For He spoke, and they came to be; He commanded, and they were created.

32:10 The Lord scatters the counsels of nations; He nullifies the plans of peoples and nullifies the counsels of rulers.

32:11 But the Lord’s counsel remains for ever, the plans of His heart from generation to generation.

32:12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, the people He chose as an inheritance for Himself.

32:13 From heaven the Lord looked down; He saw all the sons of men.

32:14 From His prepared dwelling place He looked upon all who inhabit the earth.

32:15 He formed their hearts individually; He understands all their deeds.

32:16 A king is not saved through a great force, and a giant will not be saved by the abundance of his strength.

32:17 A horse is false for salvation, and by the abundance of its power it will not be saved.

32:18 Behold, the Lord’s eyes are upon those who fear Him, those who hope in His mercy, 32:19 to rescue their souls from death and nourish them in famine.

32:20 Our soul waits for the Lord, for He is our helper and defender.

32:21 For our heart will rejoice in Him, and we have hoped in His holy name.

32:22 May Thy mercy, Lord, be upon us, just as we have hoped in Thee.

Psalms 33

33:1 Of David, when he altered his face before Abimelech, who dismissed him, and he went away.

33:2 I will bless the Lord at every time; His praise is continually in my mouth.

33:3 My soul will be praised in the Lord; let the meek hear and rejoice.

33:4 Magnify the Lord with me; let us exalt His name together.

33:5 I sought the Lord, and He heard me; from all my sojourns He rescued me.

33:6 Approach Him and be enlightened, and your faces will certainly not be put to shame.

33:7 This poor man cried out, and the Lord heard him; from all his afflictions He saved him.

33:8 An angel of the Lord will encamp around those who fear Him and will rescue them.

33:9 Taste and see that the Lord is kind; blessed is the man who hopes in Him.

33:10 Fear the Lord, His holy ones, for there is no deficiency for those who fear Him.

33:11 Rich people became poor and hungry, but those who seek the Lord will not lack any good thing. Diapsalma.

33:12 Come, children, listen to me; I will teach you the fear of the Lord.

33:13 Who is the person who desires life, who loves to see good days?

33:14 Stop your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking deceit.

33:15 Turn aside from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it.

33:16 The Lord’s eyes are upon the righteous, and His ears toward their supplication.

33:17 But the Lord’s face is against those who do evil, to destroy their remembrance from the earth.

33:18 The righteous cried out, and the Lord heard them; from all their afflictions He rescued them.

33:19 The Lord is near to the brokenhearted, and He will save the humble in spirit.

33:20 Many are the afflictions of the righteous, and He will rescue them from them all.

33:21 The Lord guards all their bones; not one of them will be shattered.

33:22 The death of sinners is evil, and those who hate the righteous will incur guilt.

33:23 The Lord will redeem the souls of His servants, and none of those who hope in Him will incur guilt.

Psalms 34

34:1 Of David. Judge, Lord, those who wrong me; make war on those who make war on me.

34:2 Take hold of weapon and shield, and rise to my aid.

34:3 Draw the sword and close the way against those pursuing me; say to my soul, “I am your salvation.”

34:4 Let those who seek my soul be ashamed and abashed; let those devising evils for me turn backward and be put to shame.

34:5 Let them become like dust before the wind, with an angel of the Lord pressing them out.

34:6 Let their way become darkness and a slippery path, with an angel of the Lord pursuing them.

34:7 For without cause they hid for me the destruction of their trap; without purpose they reproached my soul.

34:8 Let a trap they do not know come upon them; let the snare they hid catch them, and into that trap they will fall.

34:9 But my soul will exult in the Lord; it will delight in His salvation.

34:10 All my bones will say, “Lord, who is like Thee, rescuing the poor from the hand of those stronger than he is, and the poor and needy from those plundering him?”

34:11 Unjust witnesses rose up; they questioned me about what I did not know.

34:12 They repaid me evils for good things, and childlessness to my soul.

34:13 But when they troubled me, I put on sackcloth and humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer will return to my bosom.

34:14 As for a neighbor, as for our brother, so I sought to please; like one mourning and downcast, so I humbled myself.

34:15 But against me they rejoiced and gathered; scourges gathered against me, and I did not know; they were torn apart and felt no remorse.

34:16 They tested me and mocked me with mockery; they gnashed their teeth at me.

34:17 Lord, when wilt Thou look upon this? Restore my soul from their wickedness, my only life from lions.

34:18 I will thank Thee, Lord, in a great assembly; among a weighty people I will praise Thee.

34:19 Let those unjustly hostile to me not rejoice over me, those who hate me without cause and signal with their eyes.

34:20 For to me they spoke peaceful things, but in anger they devised deceits.

34:21 They opened their mouth wide against me; they said, “Well done! Well done! Our eyes have seen!”

34:22 Thou hast seen, Lord; do not remain silent. Lord, do not depart from me.

34:23 Awake, Lord, and attend to my judgment, my God and my Lord, to my case.

34:24 Judge me according to Thy righteousness, Lord my God; let them not rejoice over me.

34:25 Let them not say in their hearts, “Well done! Well done for our soul!” Nor let them say, “We have swallowed him.”

34:26 May those rejoicing at my troubles be ashamed and abashed together; let those boasting against me wear shame and humiliation.

34:27 May those who desire my righteousness exult and rejoice; let them always say, “May the Lord be magnified”— those who desire His servant’s peace.

34:28 My tongue will meditate on Thy righteousness, on Thy praise all day long.

Psalms 35

35:1 For the end. Of the Lord’s servant, of David.

35:2 The lawless person speaks within himself of sinning; there is no fear of God before his eyes.

35:3 For he acted deceitfully in his sight, as to finding his lawlessness and hating it.

35:4 The words of his mouth are lawlessness and deceit; he was unwilling to understand so as to do good.

35:5 He devised lawlessness upon his bed; he stood by every way that was not good, and he was not offended by wickedness.

35:6 Lord, Thy mercy is in heaven, and Thy truth reaches the clouds.

35:7 Thy righteousness is like mountains of God; Thy judgments are a great deep. Thou wilt save humans and beasts, Lord.

35:8 How Thou hast multiplied Thy mercy, God! The sons of men will hope beneath the shelter of Thy wings.

35:9 They will be intoxicated from the richness of Thy house; Thou wilt give them the torrent of Thy delight to drink.

35:10 For with Thee is a fountain of life; in Thy light we will see light.

35:11 Extend Thy mercy to those who know Thee, and Thy righteousness to the upright in heart.

35:12 Let a foot of arrogance not come against me; let a hand of sinners not shake me.

35:13 There the workers of lawlessness fell; they were expelled and will certainly not be able to stand.

Psalms 36

36:1 Of David. Do not be provoked to envy by those doing evil, nor envy those committing lawlessness.

36:2 For like grass they will quickly dry up, and like green plants they will quickly fall away.

36:3 Hope in the Lord and show kindness; settle in the land, and you will be pastured on its wealth.

36:4 Delight yourself in the Lord, and He will give you the requests of your heart.

36:5 Reveal your way to the Lord; hope in Him, and He will act.

36:6 He will bring out your righteousness like light, and your judgment like noon.

36:7 Submit to the Lord and beseech Him; do not be provoked to envy by one prospering in his way, by a person committing lawless deeds.

36:8 Cease from anger and abandon wrath; do not be provoked to envy so as to act wickedly.

36:9 For those doing evil will be destroyed, but those who wait for the Lord will inherit the land.

36:10 A little longer, and the sinner will certainly not exist; you will seek his place and certainly not find it.

36:11 But the meek will inherit the land and delight themselves in abundant peace.

36:12 The sinner will watch the righteous closely and gnash his teeth at him.

36:13 But the Lord will laugh him to scorn, for He foresees that his day will come.

36:14 The sinners drew a sword and stretched their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, to slaughter the upright in heart.

36:15 May their sword enter their own heart, and may their bows be shattered.

36:16 Better is a little for the righteous than the great wealth of sinners.

36:17 For the arms of sinners will be shattered, but the Lord sustains the righteous.

36:18 The Lord knows the ways of the blameless, and their inheritance will last for ever.

36:19 They will not be put to shame in an evil time, and in days of famine they will be filled.

36:20 For sinners will perish; the Lord’s enemies, as soon as they are glorified and exalted, vanished away like smoke—they vanished.

36:21 The sinner borrows and will not repay, but the righteous person has compassion and gives.

36:22 For those blessing him will inherit the land, but those cursing him will be destroyed.

36:23 A person’s steps are directed by the Lord, and He will desire his way.

36:24 When he falls, he will not be dashed down, for the Lord supports his hand.

36:25 I was young and indeed have grown old, and I have not seen a righteous person abandoned or his offspring seeking loaves.

36:26 All day long he shows mercy and lends, and his offspring will be a blessing.

36:27 Turn aside from evil and do good, and dwell for age upon age.

36:28 For the Lord loves judgment and will not abandon His holy ones; they will be guarded for ever. But the lawless will be driven out, and the offspring of the ungodly will be destroyed.

36:29 But the righteous will inherit the land and dwell upon it for age upon age.

36:30 The mouth of the righteous will meditate on wisdom, and his tongue will speak judgment.

36:31 The law of his God is in his heart, and his steps will not be tripped up.

36:32 The sinner observes the righteous and seeks to put him to death.

36:33 But the Lord will certainly not abandon him into his hands, nor condemn him when he comes to judgment with him.

36:34 Wait for the Lord and keep His way; He will exalt you to inherit the land; you will see when sinners are destroyed.

36:35 I saw an ungodly person raised high and lifting himself like the cedars of Lebanon.

36:36 I passed by, and behold, he was gone; I sought him, but his place could not be found.

36:37 Guard innocence and look upon uprightness, for a peaceful person has a remnant.

36:38 But the lawless will be destroyed together; the remnants of the ungodly will be destroyed.

36:39 But the salvation of the righteous is from the Lord, and He is their defender in a time of affliction.

36:40 The Lord will help them and rescue them; He will remove them from sinners and save them, because they have hoped in Him.

Psalms 37

37:1 A psalm of David, for remembrance concerning the Sabbath.

37:2 Lord, do not rebuke me in Thy fury, nor discipline me in Thine anger.

37:3 For Thine arrows became lodged in me, and Thou didst press Thy hand upon me.

37:4 There is no healing in my flesh because of Thine anger; there is no peace for my bones because of my sins.

37:5 For my lawless deeds rose above my head; like a heavy load they weighed upon me.

37:6 My bruises stank and rotted because of my foolishness.

37:7 I suffered misery and was bent down completely; all day long I walked about downcast.

37:8 For my loins were filled with mockings, and there is no healing in my flesh.

37:9 I was afflicted and humbled exceedingly; I roared from the groaning of my heart.

37:10 Lord, all my desire is before Thee, and my groaning was not hidden from Thee.

37:11 My heart was troubled; my strength abandoned me; and the light of my eyes—even that is not with me.

37:12 My friends and neighbors approached and stood opposite me, and those nearest me stood far away.

37:13 Those seeking my soul used violence; those seeking evils for me spoke vain things and meditated on deceptions all day long.

37:14 But like a deaf person I did not hear, like one unable to speak who does not open his mouth.

37:15 I became like a person who does not hear and has no rebukes in his mouth.

37:16 For I hoped in Thee, Lord; Thou wilt hear, Lord my God.

37:17 For I said, “Let my enemies never rejoice over me!” When my feet were shaken, they boasted against me.

37:18 For I am ready for scourges, and my pain is continually before me.

37:19 For I will announce my lawlessness and be concerned about my sin.

37:20 But my enemies live and have become stronger than I, and those hating me unjustly have multiplied.

37:21 Those repaying evils for good things slandered me because I pursued righteousness, and they cast me, the beloved, away like an abhorred corpse.

37:22 Do not abandon me, Lord; my God, do not depart from me.

37:23 Attend to my aid, Lord of my salvation.

Psalms 38

38:1 For the end. For Jeduthun. A song of David.

38:2 I said, “I will guard my ways so as not to sin with my tongue.” I placed a guard upon my mouth when the sinner stood against me.

38:3 I became mute and was humbled and kept silent from good things, and my pain was renewed.

38:4 My heart grew hot within me, and in my meditation a fire will be kindled. I spoke with my tongue:

38:5 “Make known to me, Lord, my limit and the number of my days, what it is, so that I may know what I lack.

38:6 Behold, Thou madest my days handbreadths, and my existence is as nothing before Thee. Yet all things are vanity—every living person. Diapsalma.

38:7 Indeed a person passes through as an image; yet they are troubled in vain. He stores treasure and does not know for whom he will gather it.

38:8 And now, what is my expectation? Is it not the Lord? And my existence comes from Thee.

38:9 Rescue me from all my lawless deeds; Thou hast given me as a reproach to a fool.

38:10 I became mute and did not open my mouth, because Thou art the One who made me.

38:11 Remove Thy scourges from me; from the strength of Thy hand I wasted away.

38:12 With rebukes for lawlessness Thou didst discipline a person and melt his soul like a spider. Yet every person is troubled in vain. Diapsalma.

38:13 Hear my prayer, Lord, and give ear to my supplication; do not remain silent at my tears. For I am a sojourner with Thee and a temporary resident like all my fathers.

38:14 Give me relief, that I may be refreshed, before I depart and no longer exist.”

Psalms 39

39:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

39:2 I waited patiently for the Lord; He attended to me and heard my supplication.

39:3 He brought me up from a pit of misery and from muddy slime; He set my feet upon a rock and directed my steps.

39:4 He put a new song into my mouth, a hymn to our God. Many will see and fear and hope in the Lord.

39:5 Blessed is the man whose hope is the Lord’s name and who has not looked toward vanities and false frenzies.

39:6 Many are the wonders Thou hast done, Lord my God, and in Thy purposes there is no one who can be compared with Thee. I announced and spoke; they multiplied beyond number.

39:7 Sacrifice and offering Thou didst not desire, but ears Thou didst prepare for me.
Whole burnt offering and an offering for sin Thou didst not request.

39:8 Then I said, “Behold, I have come; in the scroll of the book it is written concerning me.

39:9 I desired to do Thy will, my God, and Thy law is deep within me.”

39:10 I proclaimed good news of righteousness in a great assembly; behold, I will certainly not restrain my lips; Lord, Thou knowest.

39:11 I did not hide Thy righteousness in my heart; I spoke of Thy truth and Thy salvation. I did not hide Thy mercy and Thy truth from a great congregation.

39:12 But Thou, Lord, do not put Thy compassions far from me; Thy mercy and Thy truth have continually sustained me.

39:13 For evils without number surrounded me; my lawless deeds overtook me, and I could not see. They multiplied beyond the hairs of my head, and my heart abandoned me.

39:14 Be pleased, Lord, to rescue me; Lord, attend to helping me.

39:15 May those seeking my soul to remove it be ashamed and abashed together; may those desiring evils for me turn backward and be abashed.

39:16 Let those saying to me, “Well done! Well done!” receive their shame immediately.

39:17 May all seeking Thee exult and rejoice in Thee, Lord; let those loving Thy salvation always say, “May the Lord be magnified!”

39:18 But I am poor and needy; the Lord will care for me. Thou art my helper and defender; my God, do not delay.

Psalms 40

40:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

40:2 Blessed is the one who understands the poor and needy; in an evil day the Lord will rescue him.

40:3 May the Lord guard him, keep him alive and bless him in the land; may He not hand him over into his enemy’s hands.

40:4 May the Lord help him upon his bed of pain; Thou didst turn all his bed in his weakness.

40:5 I said, “Lord, have mercy on me; heal my soul, for I sinned against Thee.”

40:6 My enemies spoke evils against me: “When will he die and his name perish?”

40:7 If someone entered to see me, he spoke vainly; his heart gathered lawlessness for himself; he went outside and spoke.

40:8 Together all my enemies whispered against me; against me they devised evils for me.

40:9 They laid a lawless word against me: “Can it be that the one lying down will not rise again?”

40:10 For even the man of my peace, in whom I hoped, who ate my loaves, magnified treachery against me.

40:11 But Thou, Lord, have mercy on me and raise me up, and I will repay them.

40:12 By this I knew that Thou didst desire me: my enemy will certainly not rejoice over me.

40:13 But Thou didst sustain me because of innocence and establish me before Thee for ever.

40:14 Blessed be the Lord, Israel’s God, from age to age. May it be! May it be!

Psalms 41

41:1 For the end. For understanding, of the sons of Korah.

41:2 As the deer longs for springs of water, so my soul longs for Thee, God.

41:3 My soul thirsted for the living God. When will I come and appear before God’s face?

41:4 My tears became my bread day and night, while it is said to me every day, “Where is your God?”

41:5 These things I remembered and poured out my soul within me: for I will pass through the place of a wonderful tent to God’s house, with a voice of exultation and thanksgiving, a celebrating sound.

41:6 Why are you deeply grieved, soul, and why do you disturb me? Hope in God, for I will thank Him: my God is the salvation of my face.

41:7 My soul was troubled within me; therefore I will remember Thee from the land of Jordan and Hermoniim, from a small mountain.

41:8 Deep calls upon deep at the sound of Thy waterfalls; all Thy billows and Thy waves passed over me.

41:9 By day the Lord will command His mercy, and at night a song is with me, a prayer to the God of my life.

41:10 I will say to God, “Thou art my supporter; why hast Thou forgotten me? Why do I walk downcast while my enemy oppresses me?”

41:11 As they crushed my bones, those afflicting me reproached me, saying to me every day, “Where is your God?”

41:12 Why are you deeply grieved, soul, and why do you disturb me? Hope in God, for I will thank Him: my God is the salvation of my face.

Psalms 42

42:1 A psalm of David. Judge me, God, and judge my case against an unholy nation; rescue me from an unjust and deceitful person.

42:2 For Thou, God, art my strength; why didst Thou thrust me away? And why do I walk downcast while my enemy oppresses me?

42:3 Send out Thy light and Thy truth; they guided me and brought me to Thy holy mountain and to Thy dwellings.

42:4 Then I will go in to God’s altar, to God who gladdens my youth; I will thank Thee with the lyre, God, my God.

42:5 Why are you deeply grieved, soul, and why do you disturb me? Hope in God, for I will thank Him: my God is the salvation of my face.

Psalms 43

43:1 For the end. A psalm of the sons of Korah, for understanding.

43:2 God, with our ears we heard; our fathers announced to us the work Thou didst in their days, in ancient days.

43:3 Thy hand destroyed nations, and Thou didst plant our fathers; Thou didst afflict peoples and cast them out.

43:4 For they did not inherit the land by their sword, and their arm did not save them, but Thy right hand, Thine arm and the light of Thy face, because Thou didst delight in them.

43:5 Thou Thyself art my King and my God, who commands the salvations of Jacob.

43:6 Through Thee we will gore our enemies, and through Thy name we will bring to nothing those rising against us.

43:7 For I will not hope in my bow, and my sword will not save me.

43:8 For Thou didst save us from those afflicting us and put those who hate us to shame.

43:9 In God we will be praised all day long, and in Thy name we will give thanks for ever. Diapsalma.

43:10 But now Thou didst thrust us away and put us to shame, and Thou wilt not go out with our forces.

43:11 Thou didst turn us backward before our enemies, and those who hate us plundered for themselves.

43:12 Thou gavest us like sheep for eating and didst scatter us among the nations.

43:13 Thou soldest Thy people without a price, and there was no abundance in their exchange.

43:14 Thou madest us a reproach to our neighbors, scorn and ridicule to those around us.

43:15 Thou madest us a parable among the nations, a shaking of the head among the peoples.

43:16 All day long my humiliation is before me, and the shame of my face covered me,

43:17 at the voice of one reproaching and speaking abusively, at the presence of an enemy and pursuer.

43:18 All these things came upon us, and we did not forget Thee or act unjustly in Thy covenant.

43:19 And our heart did not withdraw backward, but Thou didst turn our paths away from Thy way.

43:20 For Thou didst humble us in a place of affliction, and death's shadow covered us.

43:21 If we forgot our God's name, and if we spread our hands toward a foreign god,

43:22 will God not search these things out? For He knows the heart's hidden things.

43:23 For Thy sake we are put to death all day long; we were reckoned as sheep for slaughter.

43:24 Awake! Why dost Thou sleep, Lord? Arise, and do not thrust us away completely.

43:25 Why dost Thou turn Thy face away and forget our poverty and affliction?

43:26 For our soul was humbled to the dust; our belly clung to the earth.

43:27 Arise, Lord; help us, and redeem us for the sake of Thy name.

Psalms 44

44:1 For the end, concerning those who will be changed. Of the sons of Korah, for understanding. A song concerning the beloved.

44:2 My heart poured forth a good word; I speak my works to the king; my tongue is the reed of a swiftly writing scribe.

44:3 Fair in beauty beyond the sons of men, grace was poured upon your lips; therefore God blessed you for ever.

44:4 Gird your sword upon your thigh, mighty one, in your fairness and your beauty,

44:5 and stretch forth, prosper and reign for the sake of truth and meekness and righteousness; your right hand will guide you wondrously.

44:6 Your arrows are sharpened, mighty one—peoples will fall beneath you— in the heart of the king's enemies.

44:7 Your throne, O God, endures forever and ever; a rod of uprightness is the rod of your kingdom.

44:8 You loved righteousness and hated lawlessness; therefore God, your God, anointed you with the oil of exultation beyond your companions.

44:9 Myrrh, stacte and cassia come from your garments, from ivory palaces, from which they gladdened you.

44:10 Daughters of kings are in your honor; the queen stood at your right in clothing woven with gold, arrayed in varied embroidery.

44:11 Listen, daughter, look and incline your ear, and forget your people and your father's house, 44:12 because the king desired your beauty, because he is your lord.

44:13 And daughters of Tyre will bow down to him with gifts; the rich of the people will entreat your favor.

44:14 All the glory of the king's daughter is within; she is arrayed in gold-fringed, varied embroidery.

44:15 Virgins behind her will be brought to the king; her companions will be brought unto you.

44:16 They will be brought with gladness and exultation; they will be led into the king's sanctuary.

44:17 In place of your fathers, sons were born unto you; you will establish them as rulers over all the earth.

44:18 They will remember your name in every generation; therefore peoples will thank you for ever and for age upon age.

Psalms 45

45:1 For the end. Concerning the sons of Korah. A psalm concerning hidden things.

45:2 Our God is refuge and strength, a helper in the afflictions that have greatly overtaken us.

45:3 Therefore we will not fear when the earth is disturbed and mountains are displaced into the hearts of seas.

45:4 Their waters roared and were disturbed; the mountains were disturbed at his might. Diapsalma.

45:5 The river's rushing streams gladden God's city; the Most High sanctified His dwelling.

45:6 God is in her midst; she will not be shaken; God will help her toward morning.

45:7 Nations were disturbed; kingdoms bent; He gave His voice; the earth was shaken.

45:8 The Lord of powers is with us; Jacob’s God is our supporter. Diapsalma.

45:9 Come, see the Lord’s works, the wonders He has set upon the earth.

45:10 Bringing wars to an end as far as the earth’s limits, He will shatter a bow and break a weapon apart and burn shields in fire.

45:11 “Cease your activity and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, exalted in the earth.”

45:12 The Lord of powers is with us; Jacob’s God is our supporter.

Psalms 46

46:1 For the end. A psalm concerning the sons of Korah.

46:2 All nations, clap your hands; shout to God with a voice of exultation.

46:3 For the Lord Most High is fearsome, a great King over all the earth.

46:4 He subjected peoples to us and nations beneath our feet.

46:5 He chose His inheritance for us, the beauty of Jacob, which He loved. Diapsalma.

46:6 God ascended with a shout of triumph, the Lord with the sound of a trumpet.

46:7 Make music to our God, make music; make music to our King, make music.

46:8 For God is King of all the earth; make music with understanding.

46:9 God reigned over the nations; God sits upon His holy throne.

46:10 The rulers of peoples gathered with Abraham’s God; for the mighty of the earth belong to God; they were greatly exalted.

Psalms 47

47:1 A psalm of song for the sons of Korah, on the second day of the week.

47:2 Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised in our God’s city, His holy mountain, 47:3 taking good root for the exultation of all the earth. Zion’s mountains, the sides of the north, the city of the great King.

47:4 God is known in her citadels when He supports her.

47:5 For behold, the kings gathered; they came together.

47:6 They saw and thus marveled; they were troubled and shaken.

47:7 Trembling seized them; there were pangs like a woman giving birth.

47:8 With a violent wind Thou wilt shatter the ships of Tarshish.

47:9 Just as we heard, so we saw in the city of the Lord of powers, in our God’s city; God founded her for ever. Diapsalma.

47:10 We received Thy mercy, God, in the midst of Thy sanctuary.

47:11 According to Thy name, God, so also Thy praise reaches the earth’s limits; Thy right hand is full of righteousness.

47:12 Let Mount Zion rejoice; let Judea’s daughters exult because of Thy judgments, Lord.

47:13 Encircle Zion and encompass her; recount in her towers,

47:14 set your hearts upon her strength and divide her citadels, so that you may tell another generation.

47:15 For this is God, our God for ever and for age upon age; He will shepherd us through the ages.

Psalms 48

48:1 For the end. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

48:2 Hear these things, all nations; give ear, all who inhabit the world,

48:3 both the earthborn and the sons of men, rich and poor together.

48:4 My mouth will speak wisdom, and my heart’s meditation understanding.

48:5 I will incline my ear to a parable; with a psaltery I will open my riddle.

48:6 Why do I fear in an evil day? The lawlessness of my heel will surround me.

48:7 Those trusting in their strength and boasting in the abundance of their wealth,

48:8 A brother does not redeem; will a person redeem? He will not give God his atonement price

48:9 and the price of the redemption of his soul.

48:10 And he ceased for ever and will live to the end, for he will not see corruption when he sees wise people dying.

48:11 The foolish and senseless will perish together and leave their wealth to strangers.

48:12 Their tombs are their houses for ever, their dwellings from generation to generation; they invoked their names upon their lands.

48:13 A person, though in honor, did not understand; he was compared to senseless beasts and made like them.

48:14 This way of theirs is a stumbling block to them, and afterward they will take delight with their mouth. Diapsalma.

48:15 Like sheep they were placed in Hades; death shepherds them. The upright will rule over them in the morning, and their help will grow old in Hades, away from their glory.

48:16 But God will redeem my soul from Hades' hand when He receives me. Diapsalma.

48:17 Do not fear when a person grows rich and when the glory of his house increases.

48:18 For when he dies he will not take everything, nor will his glory descend with him.

48:19 For his soul will be blessed during his lifetime; he will thank you when you do good to him.

48:20 He will enter as far as the generation of his fathers; he will never see light.

48:21 A person, though in honor, did not understand; he was compared to senseless beasts and made like them.

Psalms 49

49:1 A psalm of Asaph. The God of gods, the Lord, spoke and summoned the earth from the sun's risings to its settings.

49:2 From Zion comes the splendor of His beauty; God will come manifestly,

49:3 our God, and He will not keep silent; fire will burn before Him, and around Him is a mighty tempest.

49:4 He will summon heaven above and the earth, to judge His people.

49:5 Gather His holy ones to Him, those who establish His covenant over sacrifices.

49:6 The heavens will announce His righteousness, for God is judge. Diapsalma.

49:7 "Hear, My people, and I will speak unto you; Israel, I testify unto you. I am God, your God.

49:8 I will not rebuke you concerning your sacrifices; your burnt offerings are continually before Me.

49:9 I will not receive calves from your house or young goats from your flocks.

49:10 For all the forest's wild animals are Mine, beasts on the mountains and cattle.

49:11 I know all the birds of heaven, and the field's beauty is with Me.

49:12 If I become hungry, I will certainly not tell you, for the inhabited world and its fullness are Mine.

49:13 Will I eat bulls' flesh or drink goats' blood?

49:14 Sacrifice a sacrifice of praise to God and pay your vows to the Most High.

49:15 Call on Me in the day of affliction; I will rescue you, and you will glorify Me." Diapsalma.

49:16 But to the sinner God said, "Why do you recount My decrees and take up My covenant through your mouth?

49:17 But you hated instruction and cast My words behind you.

49:18 If you saw a thief, you would run along with him, and you would place your portion with adulterers.

49:19 Your mouth multiplied wickedness, and your tongue was weaving deception.

49:20 Sitting, you would speak against your brother, and against your mother's son you would place a stumbling block.

49:21 These things you did, and I kept silent; you conceived the lawless thought that I would be like you. I will rebuke you and set it before your face.

49:22 Understand these things, you who forget God, lest He seize you and there be no rescuer.

49:23 A sacrifice of praise will glorify Me, and there is a way by which I will show him God's salvation."

Psalms 50

50:1 For the end. A psalm of David,

50:2 when Nathan the prophet came to him, when he had gone in to Bathsheba.

50:3 Have mercy on me, God, according to Thy great mercy, and according to the abundance of Thy compassions blot out my lawless deed.

50:4 Wash me more and more from my lawlessness, and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my lawlessness, and my sin is continually before me.

50:6 Against Thee alone I sinned and did evil before Thee, so that Thou mayest be justified in Thy words and prevail when Thou art judged.

50:7 For behold, I was conceived in lawless deeds, and in sins my mother conceived me.

50:8 For behold, Thou didst love truth; Thou madest known to me the unseen and hidden things of Thy wisdom.

50:9 Thou wilt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I will be cleansed; Thou wilt wash me, and I will be whitened beyond snow.

50:10 Thou wilt make me hear exultation and gladness; humbled bones will exult.

50:11 Turn Thy face away from my sins, and blot out all my lawless deeds.

50:12 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew an upright spirit in my inward parts.

50:13 Do not cast me away from Thy face, and do not remove Thy holy Spirit from me.

50:14 Restore to me the exultation of Thy salvation, and strengthen me with a governing spirit.

50:15 I will teach the lawless Thy ways, and the ungodly will turn back unto Thee.

50:16 Rescue me from bloodshed, God, God of my salvation; my tongue will exult in Thy righteousness.

50:17 Lord, Thou wilt open my lips, and my mouth will announce Thy praise.

50:18 For if Thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would have given it; Thou wilt not delight in burnt offerings.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is a broken spirit; a broken and humbled heart God will not despise.

50:20 Do good to Zion, Lord, in Thy good pleasure, and let Jerusalem's walls be built.

50:21 Then Thou wilt delight in a sacrifice of righteousness, an offering and burnt offerings; then they will bring calves upon Thine altar.

Psalms 51

51:1 For the end. Of understanding, of David,

51:2 when Doeg the Idumean came and reported to Saul, and said to him, "David came to Abimelech's house."

51:3 Why do you boast in wickedness, mighty one, in lawlessness all day long?

51:4 Your tongue devised injustice; like a sharpened razor you worked deceit.

51:5 You loved wickedness more than goodness, injustice more than speaking righteousness. Diapsalma.

51:6 You loved every word of drowning, a deceitful tongue.

51:7 Therefore God will pull you down completely; may He pluck you out and remove you from your dwelling, and your root from the land of the living. Diapsalma.

51:8 The righteous will see and fear; they will laugh at him and say:

51:9 "Look at the person who did not make God his helper, but hoped in the abundance of his wealth and became strong in his vanity."

51:10 But I am like a fruitful olive tree in God's house; I hoped in God's mercy for ever and for age upon age.

51:11 I will thank Thee for ever, because Thou didst act, and I will wait for Thy name, because it is kind before Thy holy ones.

Psalms 52

52:1 For the end. Concerning Maeleth. Of understanding, of David.

52:2 A fool said in his heart, "There is no God." They became corrupt and abominable in lawless deeds; there is no one doing good.

52:3 God bent down from heaven toward the sons of men, to see whether anyone understands or seeks God.

52:4 All turned aside; together they became useless; there is no one doing good, not a single one.

52:5 Will all who work lawlessness not learn? Those eating my people like the eating of bread did not call on God.

52:6 There they will fear greatly where there was no fear, for God scattered the bones of people-pleasers. They were put to shame, for God despised them.

52:7 Who will give Israel's salvation from Zion? When the Lord turns back His people's captivity, Jacob will exult and Israel will rejoice.

Psalms 53

53:1 For the end. Among hymns. Of understanding, of David.

53:2 When the Ziphites came and said to Saul, "Behold, is David not hidden among us?"

53:3 God, save me by Thy name, and judge me by Thy power.

53:4 God, hear my prayer; give ear to the words of my mouth.

53:5 For outsiders rose against me, and powerful men sought my soul; they did not set God before themselves. Diapsalma.

53:6 For behold, God helps me, and the Lord is the supporter of my soul.

53:7 He will turn the evils back upon my enemies; in Thy truth, utterly destroy them.

53:8 I will sacrifice unto Thee willingly; I will give thanks to Thy name, Lord, for it is good.

53:9 For Thou didst rescue me from every affliction, and my eye has looked upon my enemies.

Psalms 54

54:1 For the end. Among hymns. Of understanding, of David.

54:2 Give ear, God, to my prayer, and do not overlook my petition.

54:3 Attend to me and hear me. I was grieved in my meditation and troubled

54:4 by an enemy's voice and a sinner's affliction, for they turned lawlessness upon me and harbored anger against me.

54:5 My heart was troubled within me, and dread of death fell upon me.

54:6 Fear and trembling came upon me, and darkness covered me.

54:7 I said, "Who will give me wings like a dove's, so that I may fly away and rest?"

54:8 Behold, I went far away in flight and lodged in the wilderness. Diapsalma.

54:9 I waited for the one saving me from faintheartedness and tempest.

54:10 Drown them, Lord, and divide their tongues, for I saw lawlessness and contradiction in the city.

54:11 Day and night it will circle it upon its walls; lawlessness and toil are within it, and injustice, 54:12 and interest-taking and deceit did not depart from its squares.

54:13 For if an enemy had reproached me, I would have endured it; and if the one hating me had boasted against me, I would have hidden from him.

54:14 But you, a man of like soul, my leader and my acquaintance,

54:15 you who made food sweet together with me: in God's house we walked in concord.

54:16 Let death come upon them, and let them descend alive into Hades, for wicked things are in their sojournings, within them.

54:17 But I cried to God, and the Lord heard me.

54:18 Evening, morning and noon I will recount; I will proclaim, and He will hear my voice.

54:19 He will redeem my soul in peace from those drawing near me, for among many they were with me.

54:20 God will hear and humble them, He who exists before the ages. Diapsalma. For they have no exchange, and they did not fear God.

54:21 He stretched out his hand in making repayment; they profaned his covenant.

54:22 They were divided by the anger of his face, and his heart drew near; his words became softer than oil, yet they are missiles.

54:23 Cast your care upon the Lord, and He will nourish you; He will never give the righteous a shaking.

54:24 But Thou, God, wilt bring them down into a well of corruption; men of bloodshed and deceit shall certainly not live out half their days. But I will hope in Thee, Lord.

Psalms 55

55:1 For the end. Concerning the people far removed from the holy ones. Of David, for an inscription on a pillar, when the foreigners seized him in Gath.

55:2 Have mercy on me, Lord, for a man trampled me; fighting all day, he afflicted me.

55:3 My enemies trampled me all day, for many are those fighting me from a height.

55:4 By day I will fear, but I will hope in Thee.

55:5 In God I will praise my words all day. In God I have hoped; I will not fear. What will flesh do to me?

55:6 All day they detested my words; all their thoughts against me are for evil.

55:7 They will sojourn and conceal themselves; they will watch my heel, just as they waited for my soul.

55:8 For nothing Thou wilt save them; in anger Thou wilt bring down peoples, God.

55:9 I declared my life unto Thee; Thou didst set my tears before Thee, as also in Thy promise.

55:10 My enemies will turn backward on whatever day I call upon Thee. Behold, I know that Thou art my God.

55:11 In God I will praise an utterance; in the Lord I will praise a word.

55:12 In God I have hoped; I will not fear. What will a human being do to me?

55:13 Within me, God, are the vows of praise that I will pay unto Thee,

55:14 because Thou didst rescue my soul from death and my feet from slipping, that I may be pleasing before God in the light of the living.

Psalms 56

56:1 For the end. Do not destroy. Of David, for an inscription on a pillar, when he escaped from Saul's presence into the cave.

56:2 Have mercy on me, God, have mercy on me, for my soul has trusted in Thee; in the shadow of Thy wings I will hope until lawlessness passes.

56:3 I will cry to God Most High, to God who has done good to me.

56:4 He sent from heaven and saved me; He gave those trampling me over to reproach. Diapsalma. God sent His mercy and His truth

56:5 and rescued my soul from among young lions. I lay down troubled. Sons of men—their teeth are a weapon and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

56:6 Be exalted above the heavens, God, and Thy glory above all the earth.

56:7 They prepared a trap for my feet and bowed my soul down; they dug a pit before me and fell into it. Diapsalma.

56:8 My heart is ready, God; my heart is ready. I will sing and make music.

56:9 Awake, my glory; awake, psaltery and lyre! I will awake at dawn.

56:10 I will give thanks unto Thee among peoples, Lord; I will make music unto Thee among nations,

56:11 for Thy mercy was magnified to the heavens, and Thy truth to the clouds.

56:12 Be exalted above the heavens, God, and Thy glory above all the earth.

Psalms 57

57:1 For the end. Do not destroy. Of David, for an inscription on a pillar.

57:2 Do you then truly speak righteousness? Do you judge uprightly, sons of men?

57:3 For indeed in your heart you work lawless deeds on earth; your hands weave injustice together.

57:4 Sinners were estranged from the womb; from the belly they went astray and spoke lies.

57:5 Their fury is in the likeness of a serpent, like that of a deaf asp that stops up its ears,

57:6 which will not hear the voice of enchanters, or a spell being cast by a wise person.

57:7 God shattered their teeth in their mouth; the Lord crushed the lions’ grinders.

57:8 They will be reduced to nothing like water passing away; He will stretch His bow until they grow weak.

57:9 Like wax that melted, they will be taken away; fire fell, and they did not see the sun.

57:10 Before your thorns understand the buckthorn, as though alive, as in anger, He will swallow you.

57:11 A righteous person will rejoice when he sees vengeance upon the ungodly; he will wash his hands in the sinner’s blood.

57:12 A human being will say, “Then there is indeed fruit for the righteous; then there is God judging them on earth.”

Psalms 58

58:1 For the end. Do not destroy. Of David, for an inscription on a pillar, when Saul sent and watched his house to put him to death.

58:2 Take me out from my enemies, God, and redeem me from those rising against me.

58:3 Deliver me from those working lawlessness, and save me from men of bloodshed.

58:4 For behold, they hunted my soul; powerful men attacked me. Neither my lawlessness nor my sin, Lord—

58:5 without lawlessness they ran and made straight. Awake to meet me, and see!

58:6 And Thou, Lord, God of powers, God of Israel, attend to visiting all the nations; have no compassion on any who work lawlessness. Diapsalma.

58:7 They will return toward evening, hunger like a dog, and circle a city.

58:8 Behold, they will speak out with their mouths, and a sword is on their lips; for who has heard?

58:9 And Thou, Lord, wilt laugh them to scorn; Thou wilt reduce all nations to nothing.

58:10 My strength—I will keep watch toward Thee, for Thou, God, art my supporter.

58:11 My God’s mercy will reach me first; God will show me what concerns my enemies.

58:12 Do not kill them, lest they forget my people; scatter them by Thy power and bring them down, Lord, my defender.

58:13 The sin of their mouth, the word of their lips—let them be caught in their arrogance; and from curse and falsehood consummations will be announced

58:14 in the anger of consummation, and they shall certainly not exist; and they will know that God rules Jacob and the ends of the earth. Diapsalma.

58:15 They will return toward evening, hunger like a dog, and circle a city.

58:16 They will be scattered in search of food; and if they are not filled, they will grumble.

58:17 But I will sing to Thy power and exult in Thy mercy in the morning, for Thou becamest my supporter and a refuge in the day of my affliction.

58:18 My helper, I will make music unto Thee, for Thou, God, art my supporter, my God, my mercy.

Psalms 59

59:1 For the end. For those who will yet be changed. For an inscription on a pillar, of David, for instruction.

59:2 When he burned Mesopotamia of Syria and Syria Zobah, and Joab returned and struck the Valley of Salt—twelve thousand.

59:3 God, Thou didst reject us and pull us down; Thou wast angry and hadst compassion on us.

59:4 Thou didst shake the earth and trouble it; heal its fractures, for it was shaken.

59:5 Thou didst show Thy people hard things; Thou madest us drink wine of stupor.

59:6 Thou gavest those who fear Thee a sign to flee from the face of a bow. Diapsalma.

59:7 So that Thy beloved may be rescued, save by Thy right hand and hear me.

59:8 God spoke in His holy place: “I will exult and divide Shechem, and measure out the Valley of Tents.

59:9 Gilead is Mine, and Manasseh is Mine; Ephraim is the strengthening of My head; Judah is My king.

59:10 Moab is the basin of My hope; upon Idumea I will extend My sandal; foreigners were subjected to Me.”

59:11 Who will lead me away into an enclosed city? Who will guide me as far as Idumea?

59:12 Is it not Thou, God, who didst reject us? And Thou wilt not go out, God, with our forces.

59:13 Give us help from affliction, for human salvation is vain.

59:14 But through God we will do a mighty deed, and He will reduce our afflicters to nothing.

Psalms 60

60:1 For the end. Among hymns. Of David.

60:2 Hear my petition, God; attend to my prayer.

60:3 From the ends of the earth I cried unto Thee when my heart grew weary; Thou didst raise me upon a rock,

60:4 Thou didst guide me, for Thou becamest my hope, a tower of strength before the enemy.

60:5 I will sojourn in Thy dwelling for the ages; I will be sheltered under the shelter of Thy wings. Diapsalma.

60:6 For Thou, God, heardest my vows; Thou gavest an inheritance to those who fear Thy name.

60:7 Thou wilt add days upon the king’s days, his years until the day of generation upon generation.

60:8 He will remain for ever before God; who will seek out his mercy and truth?

60:9 So I will make music to Thy name for the age of the age, that I may pay my vows day by day.

Psalms 61

61:1 For the end. Concerning Jeduthun. A psalm of David.

61:2 Will my soul not submit to God? For from Him is my salvation.

61:3 For He is my God and my Savior, my supporter; I shall certainly not be shaken any further.

61:4 How long do you attack a human being? All of you murder, as against a leaning wall and a fence thrust down.

61:5 Nevertheless they planned to reject my honor; they ran in falsehood; they blessed with their mouths but cursed with their hearts. Diapsalma.

61:6 Nevertheless submit to God, my soul, for my endurance is from Him.

61:7 For He is my God and my Savior, my supporter; I shall certainly not migrate away.

61:8 Upon God rest my salvation and my glory; the God of my help—and my hope is upon God.

61:9 Hope in Him, all the assembly of the people; pour out your hearts before Him. God is our helper. Diapsalma.

61:10 Nevertheless the sons of men are vain; the sons of men are false upon scales for doing injustice, they themselves together from vanity.

61:11 Do not hope in injustice or long for plunder; if wealth flows, do not attach your heart.

61:12 God spoke once; these two things I heard:

61:13 that power belongs to God, and mercy unto Thee, Lord, for Thou wilt repay each one according to his works.

Psalms 62

62:1 A psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judea.

62:2 God, my God, toward Thee I rise at dawn; my soul thirsted for Thee. How greatly my flesh longs for Thee in a desert, trackless and waterless land!

62:3 So I was seen by Thee in the holy place, to see Thy power and Thy glory.

62:4 For Thy mercy is better than lives; my lips will praise Thee.

62:5 So I will bless Thee in my life; in Thy name I will lift my hands.

62:6 May my soul be filled as with fat and richness, and my mouth will praise with lips of exultation.

62:7 If I remembered Thee upon my bed, in the dawn hours I meditated upon Thee.

62:8 For Thou becamest my helper, and in the shelter of Thy wings I will exult.

62:9 My soul clung behind Thee; Thy right hand supported me.

62:10 But they sought my soul in vain; they will enter the lowest places of the earth.

62:11 They will be handed over into the hands of a sword; they will be portions for foxes.

62:12 But the king will rejoice in God; everyone swearing by Him will be praised, for the mouth of those speaking unjust things was stopped.

Psalms 63

63:1 For the end. A psalm of David.

63:2 Hear my voice as I petition, God; take my soul out from fear of the enemy.

63:3 Thou didst shelter me from a conspiracy of evildoers, from a multitude working lawlessness,

63:4 who sharpened their tongues like a sword and stretched their bow—a bitter deed—

63:5 to shoot down a blameless one in hidden places; suddenly they will shoot him down and will not fear.

63:6 They strengthened an evil word for themselves; they discussed concealing traps; they said, “Who will see them?”

63:7 They searched out lawless deeds; they failed while searching with a search. A human being will approach, and a deep heart,

63:8 and God will be exalted. Their blows became an infants’ arrow,

63:9 and their tongues grew powerless against them. All who saw them were troubled,

63:10 and every human being feared. They announced God’s works and understood His acts.

63:11 A righteous person will rejoice in the Lord and hope in Him, and all the upright in heart will be praised.

Psalms 64

64:1 For the end. A psalm of David, a song. Of Jeremiah and Ezekiel, from the account of the sojourn, when they were about to depart.

64:2 A hymn befits Thee, God, in Zion, and unto Thee a vow will be paid in Jerusalem.

64:3 Hear my prayer; unto Thee all flesh will come.

64:4 Words of lawless deeds overpowered us, and Thou wilt make atonement for our impieties.

64:5 Blessed is the one Thou didst choose and take to Thyself; he will dwell in Thy courts. We will be filled with the good things of Thy house; holy is Thy sanctuary, wondrous in righteousness.

64:6 Hear us, God our Savior, the hope of all earth’s ends and of those far away at sea,

64:7 who prepares mountains in His strength, girded with power;

64:8 who troubles the sea’s hollow, the sounds of its waves. The nations will be troubled,

64:9 and those dwelling at the ends will fear Thy signs; Thou wilt gladden the departures of morning and evening.

64:10 Thou didst visit the earth and make it drunk; Thou didst multiply its enrichment. God’s river was filled with water; Thou didst prepare their food, for thus is Thy preparation.

64:11 Make its furrows drunk; multiply its produce; in its drops it will rejoice as it sprouts.

64:12 Thou wilt bless the crown of the year of Thy kindness, and Thy plains will be filled with richness.

64:13 The beautiful places of the wilderness will grow rich, and the hills will gird themselves with exultation.

64:14 The rams of the sheep clothed themselves, and the valleys will abound in grain; they will cry out, for indeed they will sing hymns.

Psalms 65

65:1 For the end. A song of a psalm. Of resurrection. Raise a shout to God, all the earth!

65:2 Make music, then, to His name; give glory to His praise.

65:3 Say to God, “How fearsome are Thy works! Through the abundance of Thy power, Thine enemies will lie unto Thee.

65:4 Let all the earth bow unto Thee and make music unto Thee; let them make music to Thy name.” Diapsalma.

65:5 Come and see God’s works, fearsome in His counsels concerning the sons of men,

65:6 He who turns the sea into dry land; through a river they will pass on foot. There we will rejoice in Him,

65:7 who rules the age by His power; His eyes look upon the nations. Let those provoking Him not exalt themselves within themselves. Diapsalma.

65:8 Bless our God, nations, and cause the sound of His praise to be heard,

65:9 He who set my soul in life and did not give my feet over to shaking.

65:10 For Thou didst test us, God; Thou didst try us by fire as silver is tried by fire.

65:11 Thou broughtest us into the trap; Thou didst place afflictions upon our back.

65:12 Thou madest human beings mount our heads; we passed through fire and water, and Thou broughtest us out to refreshment.

65:13 I will enter Thy house with whole burnt offerings; I will pay Thee my vows, 65:14 which my lips declared and my mouth spoke in my affliction.

65:15 I will offer Thee marrow-rich whole burnt offerings, with incense and rams; I will prepare oxen with he-goats for Thee. Diapsalma.

65:16 Come, hear, all who fear God, and I will recount all that He did for my soul.

65:17 I cried to Him with my mouth and lifted up beneath my tongue:

65:18 “If I was regarding injustice in my heart, let the Lord not hear.”

65:19 For this reason God heard me; He attended to the sound of my petition.

65:20 Blessed is God, who did not turn away my prayer or His mercy from me.

Psalms 66

66:1 For the end. Among hymns. A psalm of a song.

66:2 May God have compassion on us and bless us; may He make His face shine upon us. Diapsalma.

66:3 That Thy way may be known on earth, Thy salvation among all nations.

66:4 Let peoples give thanks unto Thee, God; let all peoples give thanks unto Thee.

66:5 Let nations rejoice and exult, for Thou wilt judge peoples in uprightness and guide nations upon the earth. Diapsalma.

66:6 Let peoples give thanks unto Thee, God; let all peoples give thanks unto Thee.

66:7 The earth gave its fruit; may God, our God, bless us.

66:8 May God bless us, and let all earth’s ends fear Him.

Psalms 67

67:1 For the end. Of David, a psalm of a song.

67:2 Let God arise, and let His enemies be scattered, and let those hating Him flee from His presence.

67:3 As smoke vanishes, let them vanish; as wax melts before fire, so may sinners perish before God.

67:4 Let the righteous rejoice and exult before God; let them delight in gladness.

67:5 Sing to God; make music to His name. Make a road for Him who rides upon the west—Lord is His name— and exult before Him. They will be troubled before Him, 67:6 the Father of orphans and judge of widows, God in His holy place.

67:7 God settles those of one disposition in a house, leading out the fettered with courage, likewise the rebellious who dwell in tombs.

67:8 God, when Thou wentest out before Thy people, when Thou didst pass through the wilderness—Diapsalma—

67:9 the earth shook, and indeed the heavens dripped before God—this Sinai— before the God of Israel.

67:10 Thou wilt set apart willing rain, God, for Thine inheritance; it grew weak, but Thou didst restore it.

67:11 Thy living creatures dwell in it; in Thy kindness Thou didst prepare for the poor, God.

67:12 The Lord will give an utterance to those announcing good news with great power, 67:13 the king of the powers of the beloved, and for the beauty of the house to divide spoils.

67:14 If you sleep between the allotted portions— a dove’s wings plated with silver, and its back in the green sheen of gold. Diapsalma.

67:15 When the Heavenly One distinguishes kings upon it, they will be covered with snow in Selmon.

67:16 A mountain of God, a rich mountain; a curdled mountain, a rich mountain.

67:17 Why do you suppose, curdled mountains, that this is the mountain in which God was pleased to dwell? For indeed the Lord will dwell to the end.

67:18 God’s chariot is ten-thousandfold, thousands of flourishing ones; the Lord is among them, in Sinai, in the holy place.

67:19 Thou didst ascend on high; Thou tookest captivity captive; Thou didst receive gifts among humankind, and indeed the disobedient, to establish a dwelling. Blessed is the Lord God.

67:20 Blessed is the Lord day by day; the God of our salvations will prosper our way. Diapsalma.

67:21 Our God is a God of saving, and to the Lord, the Lord, belong the exits of death.

67:22 Nevertheless God will crush His enemies’ heads, the crown of hair of those walking in their offenses.

67:23 The Lord said, “I will return from Bashan; I will return in the depths of the sea, 67:24 so that your foot may be dipped in blood, and the tongue of your dogs from enemies, from him.”

67:25 Thy processions were seen, God, the processions of my God, the King in the holy place.

67:26 Rulers went first, closely followed by musicians, amid young women beating tambourines.

67:27 In assemblies bless God, the Lord, from Israel’s springs.

67:28 There is Benjamin, the younger, in ecstasy; Judah’s rulers, their leaders, Zebulun’s rulers, Naphtali’s rulers.

67:29 Command Thy power, God; strengthen, God, this which Thou didst accomplish for us.

67:30 From Thy sanctuary over Jerusalem, kings will bring Thee gifts.

67:31 Rebuke the beasts of the reed, the assembly of bulls among the heifers of peoples, so that those tested by silver may not be shut out; scatter nations that desire wars.

67:32 Envoys will come from Egypt; Ethiopia will hasten its hand toward God.

67:33 Kingdoms of the earth, sing to God; make music to the Lord. Diapsalma.

67:34 Make music to God, who rides upon the heaven of heaven toward the east; behold, He will give with His voice a voice of power.

67:35 Give glory to God; His magnificence is over Israel, and His power in the clouds.

67:36 Wondrous is God among His holy ones; the God of Israel will give power and strengthening to His people. Blessed is God.

Psalms 68

68:1 For the end. Concerning those who will be changed. Of David.

68:2 Save me, God, for waters have entered as far as my soul.

68:3 I was stuck in the mud of the depth, with no firm ground; I entered the sea’s depths, and a tempest drowned me.

68:4 I grew weary crying out; my throat became hoarse; my eyes failed from hoping in my God.

68:5 More numerous than the hairs on my head became those hating me without cause; my enemies pursuing me unjustly became strong. What I did not plunder, I was then repaying.

68:6 God, Thou knewest my folly, and my offenses were not concealed from Thee.

68:7 May those waiting for Thee not be ashamed because of me, Lord, Lord of powers; may those seeking Thee not be embarrassed because of me, God of Israel,

68:8 for on Thine account I endured reproach; embarrassment covered my face.

68:9 I became estranged from my brothers and a foreigner to my mother’s sons,

68:10 for zeal for Thy house devoured me, and the reproaches of those reproaching Thee fell upon me.

68:11 I bowed my soul down in fasting, and it became a reproach to me.

68:12 I made sackcloth my garment, and became a proverb to them.

68:13 Those sitting in the gate talked against me, and wine-drinkers sang about me.

68:14 But I, in my prayer, turn toward Thee, Lord; a time of favor, God, in the abundance of Thy mercy. Hear me in the truth of Thy salvation.

68:15 Save me from clay so that I may not become stuck; may I be rescued from those hating me and from the depth of waters.

68:16 Let no tempest of water drown me, nor the depth swallow me; let no well close its mouth over me.

68:17 Hear me, Lord, for Thy mercy is kind; according to Thine abundant compassions, look upon me.

68:18 Do not turn Thy face away from Thy servant; for I am afflicted, hear me quickly.

68:19 Attend to my soul and redeem it; because of my enemies, rescue me.

68:20 For Thou knowest my reproach, shame and embarrassment; all those afflicting me are before Thee.

68:21 My soul expected reproach and misery; I waited for someone to grieve with me, but there was none, for comforters, but found none.

68:22 They gave gall for my food, and for my thirst made me drink sour wine.

68:23 Let their table before them become a trap, a repayment and a stumbling block.

68:24 Let their eyes be darkened so they cannot see, and bend their back down continually.

68:25 Pour Thine anger upon them; may the fury of Thine anger seize them.

68:26 Let their homestead become deserted; let no one dwell in their dwellings.

68:27 For they persecuted the one Thou didst strike, and added to the pain of Thy wounded.

68:28 Add lawlessness to their lawlessness, and let them not enter Thy righteousness.

68:29 Let them be erased from the book of the living, and let them not be written with the righteous.

68:30 I am poor and in pain, and the salvation of Thy presence, God, supported me.

68:31 I will praise God's name with a song and magnify Him in praise,

68:32 and it will please God more than a young calf bringing forth horns and hoofs.

68:33 Let the poor see and rejoice; seek God, and your soul will live, 68:34 for the Lord heard the needy and did not despise His bound ones.

68:35 Let the heavens and earth praise Him, the sea and everything creeping in them.

68:36 For God will save Zion, and Judea's cities will be built; they will dwell there and inherit it.

68:37 His servants' offspring will possess it, and those loving His name will dwell in it.

Psalms 69

69:1 For the end. Of David. For remembrance,

69:2 for the Lord to save me. God, attend to my help!

69:3 May those seeking my soul be ashamed and confounded; may those wishing me evil turn backward and be disgraced.

69:4 May those saying to me, "Well! Well!" turn back immediately in shame.

69:5 Let all who seek Thee exult and be glad in Thee; let those who love Thy salvation always say, "Let God be magnified!"

69:6 But I am poor and needy; God, help me! Thou art my helper and my rescuer; Lord, do not delay!

Psalms 70

70:1 Of David; of the sons of Jonadab and of those first taken captive. God, in Thee I have hoped; may I never be disgraced.

70:2 In Thy righteousness rescue me and bring me out; bend Thine ear toward me and save me.

70:3 Become for me a defending God and a fortified place to save me, for Thou art my firm support and my refuge.

70:4 My God, rescue me from a sinner's hand, from the hand of one acting lawlessly and unjustly.

70:5 For Thou art my endurance, Lord; the Lord is my hope from my youth.

70:6 Upon Thee I was supported from the womb; from my mother's belly Thou art the One who shelters me. My hymn is continually in Thee.

70:7 I became like a portent to the many, and Thou art a mighty helper.

70:8 Let my mouth be filled with praise, so that I may sing of Thy glory, Thy majesty all day.

70:9 Do not cast me away at the time of old age; when my strength fails, do not forsake me.

70:10 For my enemies spoke to me, and those watching my soul plotted together,

70:11 saying, "God has forsaken him! Pursue him and overtake him, for there is no rescuer!"

70:12 God, do not go far from me; my God, attend to my help!

70:13 Let those slandering my soul be ashamed and fail; let those seeking evil for me wrap themselves in shame and confusion.

70:14 But I will always hope, and add to all Thy praise.

70:15 My mouth will proclaim Thy righteousness, Thy salvation all day, for I did not know literary learning.

70:16 I will enter in the Lord's power; Lord, I will remember Thy righteousness alone.

70:17 Thou didst teach me, God, from my youth, and until now I will announce Thy wonders.

70:18 And until old age and advanced years, God, do not forsake me, until I announce Thine arm to the whole coming generation, Thy power and Thy righteousness—

70:19 God, up to the highest—what great things Thou hast done! God, who is like Thee?

70:20 How many troubles, many and grievous, Thou didst show me! And turning back, Thou madest me live, and from the depths of the earth Thou broughtest me up again.

70:21 Thou didst increase Thy greatness, and turning back, didst comfort me, and from the depths of the earth Thou broughtest me up again.

70:22 For I too will acknowledge unto Thee Thy truth with a musical instrument, God; I will sing unto Thee with a lyre, Holy One of Israel.

70:23 My lips will exult when I sing unto Thee, and my soul, which Thou didst redeem.

70:24 And my tongue too will meditate on Thy righteousness all day, when those seeking evil for me become ashamed and confounded.

Psalms 71

71:1 For Solomon. God, give Thy judgment to the king, and Thy righteousness to the king’s son, 71:2 to judge Thy people in righteousness, and Thy poor in justice.

71:3 Let the mountains take up peace for Thy people, and the hills in righteousness.

71:4 He will judge the poor of the people, and save the children of the needy, and humble the false accuser,

71:5 and he will endure alongside the sun, and before the moon, through generations of generations.

71:6 And he will descend like rain upon a fleece, and like drops dripping upon the earth.

71:7 Righteousness will arise in his days, and abundant peace until the moon is taken away.

71:8 And he will rule from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the inhabited world.

71:9 Ethiopians will fall before him, and his enemies will lick dust.

71:10 kings of Tarshish and the islands will offer gifts; kings of the Arabians and Saba will bring gifts.

71:11 And all kings will bow before him; all nations will serve him.

71:12 For he rescued a poor person from a powerful man’s hand, and a needy person who had no helper.

71:13 He will spare the poor and needy, and save the souls of the needy.

71:14 From interest-taking and injustice he will redeem their souls, and their name is honored before him.

71:15 And he will live, and some of Arabia’s gold will be given to him; and they will pray concerning him continually, and bless him all day.

71:16 There will be a firm support in the land upon the mountain summits; his fruit will be raised far above Lebanon, and they will blossom from the city like the earth’s grass.

71:17 Let his name be blessed through the ages; before the sun his name will endure. And all the tribes of the earth will be blessed in him; all nations will call him blessed.

71:18 Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who alone does wonders!

71:19 And blessed be His glorious name for the age and for the age of the age; and the whole earth will be filled with His glory. May it be! May it be!

71:20 The hymns of David son of Jesse have ended.

Psalms 72

72:1 A psalm of Asaph. How good God is to Israel, to those upright in heart!

72:2 But my feet were almost shaken; my steps were nearly poured out.

72:3 For I envied the lawless, beholding sinners’ peace,

72:4 for there is no refusal at their death, and firmness in their scourging.

72:5 They are not in human toils, and they will not be scourged with humans.

72:6 Therefore arrogance seized them; they wrapped themselves in their injustice and ungodliness.

72:7 Their injustice will come out as though from fat; they passed into a disposition of heart.

72:8 They devised and spoke in wickedness; they spoke injustice against the height.

72:9 They set their mouth toward heaven, and their tongue passed over the earth.

72:10 Therefore my people will return here, and full days will be found for them.

72:11 And they said, “How did God know? And is there knowledge in the Most High?”

72:12 Behold, these are sinners, and they prosper; for the age they took possession of wealth.

72:13 And I said, “Then in vain I made my heart righteous and washed my hands among the innocent;

72:14 and I became scourged all day, and my rebuke comes in the mornings.”

72:15 If I were saying, “I will recount it thus,” behold, I would have broken faith with the generation of Thy sons.

72:16 And I undertook to understand this; it is toil before me,

72:17 until I enter God’s sanctuary and understand their last things.

72:18 Nevertheless, because of their deceits Thou didst set things for them; Thou didst cast them down when they were lifted up.

72:19 How they became desolate suddenly! They failed; they perished through their lawlessness.

72:20 Like the dream of someone awakening, Lord, in Thy city Thou wilt count their image as nothing.

72:21 For my heart was set ablaze, and my kidneys were altered,

72:22 and I was counted as nothing and did not understand; I became beastlike beside Thee.

72:23 And I am continually with Thee; Thou didst grasp my right hand.

72:24 In Thy counsel Thou didst guide me, and with glory Thou didst receive me.

72:25 For what is there for me in heaven? And what did I desire from Thee upon the earth?

72:26 My heart and my flesh failed; the God of my heart and my portion is God for ever.

72:27 For behold, those distancing themselves from Thee will perish; Thou didst destroy everyone who goes whoring away from Thee.

72:28 But for me, clinging to God is good, to set my hope in the Lord, to proclaim all Thy praises in the gates of the daughter of Zion.

Psalms 73

73:1 Of understanding. Of Asaph. Why, God, didst Thou reject to the end? Why was Thy wrath angry against the sheep of Thy pasture?

73:2 Remember Thy congregation, which Thou didst acquire from the beginning; Thou didst redeem the rod of Thine inheritance, this Mount Zion, where Thou didst encamp.

73:3 Raise Thy hands against their arrogance to the end, for all the evil the enemy did in Thy holy places.

73:4 And those hating Thee boasted within Thy feast; they set their signs as signs, and did not understand.

73:5 As though into the entrance above,

73:6 as in a forest of trees, with axes they cut out her doors; together with axe and stone-cutting tool they tore her down.

73:7 They burned Thy sanctuary with fire; they profaned the tent of Thy name to the ground.

73:8 Their kindred said in their hearts together, “Come, let us burn all God’s feasts from the earth!”

73:9 We did not see our signs; there is no prophet any longer, and he will know us no longer.

73:10 How long, God, will the enemy reproach? Will the adversary provoke Thy name to the end?

73:11 Why dost Thou turn away Thy hand and Thy right hand from within Thy bosom to the end?

73:12 But God is our King before the age; He worked salvation in the midst of the earth.

73:13 Thou didst strengthen the sea by Thy power; Thou didst crush the dragons’ heads upon the water.

73:14 Thou didst crush the dragon’s heads; Thou gavest him as food to the Ethiopian peoples.

73:15 Thou didst break open springs and torrents; Thou didst dry up rivers of Etham.

73:16 Thine is the day, and Thine is the night; Thou didst fashion light and the sun.

73:17 Thou madest all the earth’s boundaries; summer and spring—Thou didst shape them.

73:18 Remember this: an enemy reproached the Lord, and a foolish people provoked Thy name.

73:19 Do not hand over to wild beasts a soul acknowledging Thee; do not forget Thy needy ones’ souls to the end.

73:20 Look upon Thy covenant, for the darkened ones of the earth were filled with houses of lawlessness.

73:21 Let a humbled person not turn back disgraced; the poor and needy will praise Thy name.

73:22 Arise, God, judge Thy case; remember the reproaches against Thee by a fool all day.

73:23 Do not forget Thy suppliants’ voice; the arrogance of those hating Thee ascended continually toward Thee.

Psalms 74

74:1 For the end. Do not destroy. A psalm of Asaph, of song.

74:2 We will acknowledge Thee, God; we will acknowledge and call upon Thy name.

74:3 I will recount all Thy wonders when I take an appointed time; I will judge uprightness.

74:4 The earth and all who inhabit it melted; I established its pillars. Diapsalma.

74:5 I said to those acting lawlessly, “Do not act lawlessly,” and to those sinning, “Do not raise a horn;

74:6 do not lift your horn on high; do not speak injustice against God.”

74:7 For neither from the goings-out nor from the settings, nor from desert mountains,

74:8 for God is judge: He humbles this one and raises that one.

74:9 For in the Lord’s hand is a cup of unmixed wine, full of mixture; and He tilted from this into that, but its dregs were not emptied out; all the earth’s sinners will drink.

74:10 But I will exult for ever; I will sing to the God of Jacob.

74:11 And I will break together all sinners’ horns; and the righteous person’s horns will be raised.

Psalms 75

75:1 For the end, among hymns. A psalm of Asaph; a song concerning the Assyrian.

75:2 God is known in Judea; His name is great in Israel.

75:3 His place came to be in peace, and His dwelling in Zion.

75:4 There He crushed the bows' powers, weapon and sword and war. Diapsalma.

75:5 Thou givest light wondrously from everlasting mountains.

75:6 All those without understanding in heart were troubled; they slept their sleep, and all the men of wealth found nothing with their hands.

75:7 At Thy rebuke, God of Jacob, those mounted on horses grew drowsy.

75:8 Thou art fearsome, and who will withstand Thee? From that time is Thy wrath.

75:9 From heaven Thou didst cause judgment to be heard; the earth feared and grew quiet,

75:10 when God arose for judgment, to save all the earth's meek. Diapsalma.

75:11 For human thought will acknowledge Thee, and the remainder of thought will keep a feast for Thee.

75:12 Make vows and repay the Lord your God; all around Him will bring gifts

75:13 to the Fearsome One, who takes away rulers' spirits, who is fearsome among the earth's kings.

Psalms 76

76:1 For the end, concerning Jeduthun. Of Asaph. A psalm.

76:2 With my voice I cried to the Lord, with my voice to God, and He attended to me.

76:3 In the day of my affliction I sought God, with my hands at night before Him, and I was not deceived; my soul refused to be comforted.

76:4 I remembered God and was glad; I spoke at length, and my spirit lost heart. Diapsalma.

76:5 My eyes anticipated the watches; I was troubled and did not speak.

76:6 I considered ancient days, and remembered everlasting years and meditated.

76:7 At night I spoke at length with my heart, and my spirit kept searching.

76:8 "Will the Lord reject for the ages, and not again take pleasure?

76:9 Or will He cut off His mercy to the end, from generation to generation?

76:10 Or will God forget to show pity, or hold His compassions shut in His wrath?" Diapsalma.

76:11 And I said, "Now I have begun; this is the change of the Most High's right hand."

76:12 I remembered the Lord's works, for I will remember Thy wonders from the beginning, 76:13 and meditate on all Thy works, and speak at length about Thy practices.

76:14 God, Thy way is in the Holy One; what god is great like our God?

76:15 Thou art the God who does wonders; Thou madest Thy power known among the peoples.

76:16 With Thine arm Thou didst redeem Thy people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Diapsalma.

76:17 The waters saw Thee, God; the waters saw Thee and feared, and the depths were troubled—a multitude of sounding waters.

76:18 The clouds gave voice, for Thine arrows too pass through.

76:19 Thy thunder's voice was in the wheel; Thy flashes of lightning shone upon the inhabited world; the earth shook and became trembling.

76:20 Thy way is in the sea, and Thy paths in many waters, and Thy tracks will not be known.

76:21 Thou didst guide Thy people like sheep by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Psalms 77

77:1 Of understanding. Of Asaph. Attend, my people, to my law; bend your ear to the words of my mouth.

77:2 I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter riddles from the beginning,

77:3 whatever we heard and knew, and our fathers recounted to us,

77:4 it was not hidden from their children for another generation, as we announce the Lord's praises, His mighty acts and the wonders He did.

77:5 And He raised a testimony in Jacob and set a law in Israel, whatever He commanded our fathers to make known to their sons,

77:6 so that another generation might know, sons who will be born; and they will rise and announce it to their sons,

77:7 so that they may set their hope upon God and not forget God's works, and seek out His commandments,

77:8 so that they may not become like their fathers, a crooked and embittering generation, a generation that did not direct its heart, whose spirit was not faithful with God.

77:9 The sons of Ephraim, drawing and shooting bows, turned back on the day of war.

77:10 They did not keep God's covenant and were unwilling to walk in His law,

77:11 and forgot His benefits and the wonders He showed them,

77:12 the wonders He did before their fathers, in Egypt's land, in the plain of Tanis.

77:13 He tore the sea apart and led them through; He stood the waters like a skin-bag,

77:14 and guided them with a cloud by day, and all night with the light of fire.

77:15 He split a rock in the wilderness and gave them drink as in a great deep,

77:16 and brought water out of a rock and made waters descend like rivers.

77:17 And they continued still to sin against Him; they embittered the Most High in a waterless place,

77:18 and put God to the test in their hearts, asking food for their souls,

77:19 and spoke against God and said, "Surely God cannot prepare a table in a wilderness?

77:20 Since He struck a rock and waters flowed, and torrents were flooded, surely He cannot also give bread or prepare a table for His people?"

77:21 Therefore the Lord heard and delayed; and fire was kindled in Jacob, and wrath rose against Israel,

77:22 because they did not believe in God nor hope in His salvation.

77:23 And He commanded the clouds above and opened heaven's doors,

77:24 and rained manna for them to eat, and gave them heaven's bread.

77:25 A man ate angels' bread; He sent them food supplies to fullness.

77:26 He moved the south wind from heaven, and brought the southwest wind by His power,

77:27 and rained flesh upon them like dust, and winged birds like the sands of seas,

77:28 and they fell within their camp, around their tents,

77:29 and they ate and were filled exceedingly, and He brought them their desire.

77:30 They were not deprived of their desire. While their food was still in their mouth,

77:31 then God's wrath rose against them, and He killed among their fat ones, and entangled Israel's chosen men.

77:32 In all these things they sinned still and did not believe in His wonders, 77:33 and their days failed in futility, and their years with haste.

77:34 Whenever He killed them, they sought Him; and they returned and rose early toward God,

77:35 and remembered that God is their helper, and God Most High is their redeemer.

77:36 And they deceived Him with their mouth, and lied to Him with their tongue,

77:37 but their heart was not upright with Him, nor were they faithful in His covenant.

77:38 But He is compassionate; He will make atonement for their sins and not destroy, and will turn back His wrath again and again, and will not kindle all His anger.

77:39 And He remembered that they are flesh, a spirit going away and not returning.

77:40 How often they embittered Him in the wilderness and angered Him in a waterless land!

77:41 And they turned again and tested God, and provoked the Holy One of Israel.

77:42 They did not remember His hand, the day He redeemed them from an oppressor's hand,

77:43 how He set His signs in Egypt and His portents in the plain of Tanis, 77:44 and turned their rivers into blood, and their rain-waters, so that they might not drink.

77:45 He sent a dog-fly among them, and it devoured them, and a frog, and it destroyed them.

77:46 And He gave their fruit to mildew, and their labors to the locust.

77:47 He killed their vine with hail, and their sycamores with frost.

77:48 And He handed their cattle over to hail, and their possessions to fire.

77:49 He sent upon them the anger of His wrath, wrath, anger and affliction, a mission through evil angels.

77:50 He made a road for His wrath; He did not spare their souls from death, and confined their cattle to death,

77:51 and struck every firstborn in Egypt, the firstfruits of their labors in Ham's tents.

77:52 And He led His people away like sheep, and brought them up like a flock in the wilderness,

77:53 and guided them in hope, and they did not grow cowardly; and the sea covered their enemies.

77:54 And He brought them into the boundary of His sanctuary, this mountain which His right hand acquired,

77:55 and expelled nations from before them, and assigned them by a cord of inheritance, and settled Israel's tribes in their tents.

77:56 And they tested and embittered God Most High, and did not keep His testimonies,

77:57 and turned back and broke faith just like their fathers, and changed into a crooked bow,

77:58 and angered Him with their hills, and provoked Him to jealousy with their carvings.

77:59 God heard and disregarded, and counted Israel as utterly nothing,

77:60 and rejected Shiloh's tent, His dwelling, where He encamped among humans.

77:61 And He handed their strength over to captivity, and their beauty into an enemy's hands,

77:62 and confined His people to the sword, and disregarded His inheritance.

77:63 Fire devoured their young men, and their virgins were not mourned.

77:64 Their priests fell by the sword, and their widows will not be wept for.

77:65 And the Lord awoke like one sleeping, like a powerful man heavy with wine,

77:66 and struck His enemies backward; He gave them everlasting reproach.

77:67 And He rejected Joseph's dwelling, and did not choose Ephraim's tribe.

77:68 And He chose Judah's tribe, Mount Zion, which He loved,

77:69 and built His sanctuary like that of one-horned beasts; in the earth He founded it for ever.

77:70 And He chose David His servant, and took him up from the flocks of sheep;

77:71 from behind the ewes giving birth He took him, to shepherd Jacob His people and Israel His inheritance.

77:72 And he shepherded them in his heart's innocence, and guided them with his hands' understanding.

Psalms 78

78:1 A psalm for Asaph. God, nations entered Thine inheritance; they defiled Thy holy temple; they made Jerusalem into a fruit-watchman's hut.

78:2 They made the dead bodies of Thy servants food for the birds of heaven, the flesh of Thy holy ones for the beasts of the earth.

78:3 They poured out their blood like water around Jerusalem, and there was no one to bury them.

78:4 We became a reproach to our neighbors, sneering and ridicule to those around us.

78:5 How long, Lord? Wilt Thou be angry to the end? Will Thy jealousy blaze like fire?

78:6 Pour out Thy wrath upon nations that do not know Thee, and upon kingdoms that did not call on Thy name, 78:7 for they devoured Jacob and made his place desolate.

78:8 Do not remember our ancient acts of lawlessness; let Thy compassions swiftly reach us first, for we became very poor.

78:9 Help us, God our Savior. For the glory of Thy name, Lord, rescue us, and be propitious toward our sins for Thy name's sake, 78:10 lest the nations say, "Where is their God?" And let vengeance for the poured-out blood of Thy servants be known among the nations before our eyes.

78:11 Let the groaning of those in bonds enter before Thee; according to the greatness of Thine arm, preserve the sons of those put to death.

78:12 Repay our neighbors sevenfold into their bosom their insult with which they insulted Thee, Lord.

78:13 But we, Thy people and the sheep of Thy pasture, will give Thee thanks for ever; from generation to generation we will proclaim Thy praise.

Psalms 79

79:1 For the end; concerning those who will be changed. A testimony for Asaph; a psalm concerning the Assyrian.

79:2 Thou who shepherdest Israel, pay attention, Thou who guidest Joseph like sheep; Thou who sittest upon the cherubim, appear.

79:3 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, rouse Thy dominion, and come to save us.

79:4 God, turn us back; make Thy face shine, and we shall be saved.

79:5 Lord, God of powers, how long art Thou angry at the prayer of Thy servant,

79:6 wilt Thou feed us bread of tears and give us tears to drink by measure?

79:7 Thou madest us an object of contradiction for our neighbors, and our enemies sneered at us.

79:8 Lord, God of powers, turn us back; make Thy face shine, and we shall be saved. Diapsalma.

79:9 Thou didst transplant a vine from Egypt; Thou didst cast out nations and plant her.

79:10 Thou madest a road before her and didst plant her roots, and the land was filled.

79:11 Her shadow covered mountains, and her climbing branches covered God's cedars.

79:12 She stretched her branches as far as the sea, and her offshoots as far as the River.

79:13 Why didst Thou tear down her fence, so that all who pass along the road harvest her?

79:14 A pig from the woodland ravaged her, and a solitary wild beast grazed her down.

79:15 God of powers, turn back now; look from heaven and see, and visit this vine,

79:16 and restore her whom Thy right hand planted, and upon the son of man whom Thou didst strengthen for Thyself.

79:17 Burned with fire and dug up— at the rebuke of Thy face they will perish.

79:18 Let Thy hand come upon the man of Thy right hand and upon the son of man whom Thou didst strengthen for Thyself.

79:19 And we shall certainly not depart from Thee; Thou wilt give us life, and we will call on Thy name.

79:20 Lord, God of powers, turn us back; make Thy face shine, and we shall be saved.

Psalms 80

80:1 For the end; concerning the winepresses. A psalm for Asaph.

80:2 Exult in God our helper; raise a shout to the God of Jacob.

80:3 Take up a psalm and sound the tambourine, a delightful psaltery together with a lyre.

80:4 Sound the trumpet at the new moon, on the conspicuous day of our feast.

80:5 For it is an ordinance for Israel and a judgment of the God of Jacob.

80:6 He established it as a testimony in Joseph, when he went out from the land of Egypt; a language he did not know, he heard.

80:7 He removed his back from burdens; his hands served at the basket.

80:8 In affliction you called on Me, and I delivered you; I heard you in the hidden place of the storm; I tested you at the water of contention. Diapsalma.

80:9 Hear, My people, and I solemnly testify to you; Israel, if you listen to Me,

80:10 There shall be no new god among you, nor shall you bow down to a foreign god.

80:11 For I am the Lord your God, who brought you up from the land of Egypt. Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.

80:12 And My people did not listen to My voice, and Israel did not pay attention to Me.

80:13 So I sent them away according to the practices of their hearts; they will walk in their practices.

80:14 If My people had listened to Me, if Israel had walked in My ways, 80:15 in no time I would have humbled their enemies and laid My hand upon those who afflict them.

80:16 The Lord’s enemies lied to Him, and their appointed time will be for ever.

80:17 And He fed them with the finest wheat, and with honey from rock He satisfied them.

Psalms 81

81:1 A psalm for Asaph. God stood in an assembly of gods, and in their midst He judges gods:

81:2 “How long do you judge injustice and favor sinners? Diapsalma.

81:3 Judge for the fatherless and the poor; vindicate the lowly and the needy.

81:4 Deliver the needy and the poor; rescue them from the hand of a sinner.”

81:5 They did not know or understand; they pass through darkness; all the foundations of the earth will be shaken.

81:6 “I said, ‘You are gods, and all sons of the Most High.’

81:7 But you die like human beings, and fall like one of the rulers.”

81:8 Rise, God, judge the earth, for Thou wilt take inheritance among all the nations.

Psalms 82

82:1 A song of a psalm for Asaph.

82:2 God, who will be likened unto Thee? Do not be silent or remain quiet, God.

82:3 For behold, Thine enemies made an uproar, and those who hate Thee lifted their head.

82:4 Against Thy people they cunningly devised a plan, and they took counsel against Thy holy ones.

82:5 They said, “Come, let us destroy them from being a nation, and Israel’s name shall certainly be remembered no more.”

82:6 For they took counsel together in concord; against Thee they made a covenant—

82:7 the dwellings of the Idumeans, and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Hagarenes, 82:8 Gebal and Ammon and Amalek, and foreigners with those who inhabit Tyre.

82:9 For Asshur too came alongside them; they became a support for the sons of Lot. Diapsalma.

82:10 Do to them as to Midian and Sisera, as with Jabin at the torrent Kishon, 82:11 they were destroyed at En-dor and became like dung for the earth.

82:12 Make their rulers like Oreb and Zeeb, and Zebah and Zalmunna—all their rulers,

82:13 who said, “Let us inherit for ourselves the sanctuary of God.”

82:14 My God, make them like a wheel, like straw before the wind.

82:15 Like fire that will burn through a woodland, as though a flame should burn up mountains,

82:16 so Thou wilt pursue them with Thy storm and trouble them in Thy wrath.

82:17 Fill their faces with dishonor, and they will seek Thy name, Lord.

82:18 Let them be ashamed and troubled for an age of an age; let them be abashed and perish,

82:19 and let them know that Thy name is Lord; Thou alone art Most High over all the earth.

Psalms 83

83:1 For the end; concerning the winepresses. A psalm for the sons of Korah.

83:2 How beloved are Thy dwellings, Lord of powers!

83:3 My soul longs and faints for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh exulted in the living God.

83:4 For even a sparrow found itself a house, and a turtledove a nest for herself, where she will place her young— Thine altars, Lord of powers, my King and my God.

83:5 Blessed are those who dwell in Thy house; they will praise Thee for ages of ages. Diapsalma.

83:6 Blessed is the man whose support is from Thee, Lord; he arranged ascents in his heart,

83:7 in the valley of weeping, toward a place which he appointed; for the lawgiver will also give blessings.

83:8 They will go from power to power; the God of gods will appear in Zion.

83:9 Lord, God of powers, hear my prayer; give ear, God of Jacob. Diapsalma.

83:10 Look, God our defender; look upon the face of Thine anointed.

83:11 For one day in Thy courts is better than thousands; I chose to be cast aside in the house of God rather than dwell in the tents of sinners.

83:12 For the Lord God loves mercy and truth; He will give grace and glory; the Lord will not deprive those who walk in innocence of good things.

83:13 Lord of powers, blessed is the person who hopes in Thee.

84:1 For the end. A psalm for the sons of Korah.

84:2 Thou tookest pleasure in Thy land, Lord; Thou didst turn back Jacob’s captivity.

84:3 Thou forgavest Thy people their acts of lawlessness; Thou didst cover all their sins. Diapsalma.

84:4 Thou didst stop all Thy wrath; Thou didst turn away from the anger of Thy fury.

84:5 Turn us back, God of our deliverances, and turn Thy fury away from us.

84:6 Surely Thou wilt not be angry with us for ever, or extend Thy wrath from generation to generation?

84:7 God, Thou wilt turn back and give us life, and Thy people will rejoice in Thee.

84:8 Show us Thy mercy, Lord, and mayest Thou give us Thy salvation.

84:9 I will hear what the Lord God will speak within me, for He will speak peace upon His people and upon His holy ones and upon those who turn their heart toward Him.

84:10 Nevertheless His salvation is near those who fear Him, so that glory may dwell in our land.

84:11 Mercy and truth met; righteousness and peace kissed.

84:12 Truth sprang up from the earth, and righteousness looked down from heaven.

84:13 For the Lord will also give goodness, and our land will give its fruit.

84:14 Righteousness will go ahead before Him and set His footsteps on a path.

Psalms 85

85:1 A prayer for David. Incline Thine ear, Lord, and hear me, for I am poor and needy.

85:2 Guard my soul, for I am holy; save Thy servant, my God, who hopes in Thee.

85:3 Have mercy on me, Lord, for unto Thee I will cry all day.

85:4 Gladden the soul of Thy servant, for unto Thee, Lord, I lifted my soul.

85:5 For Thou, Lord, art kind and forbearing, abundant in mercy to all who call on Thee.

85:6 Give ear, Lord, to my prayer, and attend to the voice of my petition.

85:7 On the day of my affliction I cried unto Thee, for Thou heardest me.

85:8 There is none like Thee among gods, Lord, and nothing is like Thy works.

85:9 All the nations Thou madest will come and bow down before Thee, Lord, and glorify Thy name, 85:10 for Thou art great and dost wondrous things; Thou alone art the great God.

85:11 Guide me in Thy way, Lord, and I will walk in Thy truth; let my heart rejoice to fear Thy name.

85:12 I will give Thee thanks, Lord my God, with all my heart, and glorify Thy name for ever,

85:13 for Thy mercy toward me is great, and Thou didst deliver my soul from lowest Hades.

85:14 God, lawless people rose up against me, and an assembly of strong men sought my soul; they did not set Thee before them.

85:15 And Thou, Lord God, art compassionate and merciful, long-suffering, abundant in mercy, and true.

85:16 Look upon me and have mercy on me; give Thy might to Thy servant and save the son of Thy maidservant.

85:17 Work a sign for good with me, and let those who hate me see and be ashamed, for Thou, Lord, didst help and comfort me.

Psalms 86

86:1 For the sons of Korah, a psalm of a song. Its foundations are in the holy mountains.

86:2 The Lord loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.

86:3 Glorified things were spoken about you, city of God. Diapsalma.

86:4 I will remember Raab and Babylon to those who know me. And look: foreigners and Tyre and the people of Ethiopians— these were born there.

86:5 “Mother Zion,” a man will say, and a man was born in her; and the Most High Himself founded her.

86:6 The Lord will recount in a register of peoples and of these rulers who were born in her. Diapsalma.

86:7 The dwelling in you is like that of all who rejoice.

Psalms 87

87:1 A song of a psalm for the sons of Korah. For the end; concerning Maeleth, for answering. Of understanding; of Heman the Israelite.

87:2 Lord, God of my salvation, by day I cried out, and by night before Thee.

87:3 Let my prayer enter before Thee; incline Thine ear to my petition, Lord.

87:4 For my soul was filled with evils, and my life drew near Hades.

87:5 I was counted with those descending into a pit; I became like a person without help, free among the dead,

87:6 like wounded people cast down, sleeping in a grave, whom Thou didst remember no more, and who were thrust away from Thy hand.

87:7 They put me in the lowest pit, in dark places and in death’s shadow.

87:8 Thy fury rested firmly upon me, and Thou broughtest all Thy surges upon me. Diapsalma.

87:9 Thou didst remove my acquaintances far from me; they made me an abomination to themselves. I was handed over and did not go out.

87:10 My eyes grew weak from poverty. I cried unto Thee, Lord, all day; I spread my hands toward Thee:

87:11 Surely Thou wilt not work wonders for the dead? Or will physicians raise them, and will they give Thee thanks?

87:12 Surely no one will recount Thy mercy in a grave and Thy truth in destruction?

87:13 Surely Thy wonders will not be known in darkness, or Thy righteousness in a forgotten land?

87:14 And I cried unto Thee, Lord, and in the morning my prayer will reach Thee first.

87:15 Why, Lord, dost Thou thrust away my soul and turn Thy face away from me?

87:16 I am poor and in toils from my youth; but after being raised up, I was humbled and left helpless.

87:17 Thy wraths passed over me, and Thy threats utterly troubled me;

87:18 they encircled me like water all day; together they closed around me.

87:19 Thou didst remove friend and neighbor far from me, and my acquaintances because of misery.

Psalms 88

88:1 Of understanding; of Ethan the Israelite.

88:2 I will sing of Thy mercies, Lord, for ever; from generation to generation I will proclaim Thy truth with my mouth,

88:3 for Thou saidst, “Mercy will be built for ever; in the heavens Thy truth will be prepared.”

88:4 “I made a covenant with My chosen ones; I swore to David My servant:

88:5 ‘I will prepare your seed for ever and build your throne from generation to generation.’” Diapsalma.

88:6 The heavens will acknowledge Thy wonders, Lord, and Thy truth in an assembly of holy ones.

88:7 For who in clouds will be equaled to the Lord, and who among sons of God will be likened to the Lord?

88:8 God is glorified in the council of holy ones, great and fearsome above all around Him.

88:9 Lord, God of powers, who is like Thee? Thou art mighty, Lord, and Thy truth surrounds Thee.

88:10 Thou rulest the sea's might, and Thou quietest the surge of its waves.

88:11 Thou didst humble a proud one like a wounded man, and with the arm of Thy power Thou didst scatter Thine enemies.

88:12 The heavens are Thine, and the earth is Thine; the inhabited world and its fullness—Thou didst found them.

88:13 The north and seas—Thou didst create them; Tabor and Hermon will exult in Thy name.

88:14 Thine is the arm with dominion; let Thy hand be strengthened; let Thy right hand be raised.

88:15 Righteousness and judgment are the preparation of Thy throne; mercy and truth will go ahead before Thy face.

88:16 Blessed are the people who know the cry of triumph; Lord, they will walk in the light of Thy face,

88:17 and in Thy name they will exult all day, and in Thy righteousness they will be raised up.

88:18 For Thou art the boast of their power, and by Thy favor our horn will be raised.

88:19 For support belongs to the Lord, and to the Holy One of Israel, our King.

88:20 Then Thou spakest in a vision to Thy holy ones and saidst: "I placed help upon a powerful man; I raised a chosen one from My people.

88:21 I found David My servant; with My holy oil I anointed him,

88:22 for My hand will support him, and My arm will strengthen him.

88:23 An enemy will not gain by him, and a son of lawlessness will not go on to harm him.

88:24 I will cut down his enemies before him and put those who hate him to flight.

88:25 My truth and My mercy will be with him, and in My name his horn will be raised.

88:26 I will set his hand in the sea and his right hand in rivers.

88:27 He will call on Me, 'Thou art my Father, my God and the supporter of my salvation.'

88:28 And I will make him firstborn, high among the kings of the earth.

88:29 For ever I will keep My mercy for him, and My covenant is faithful to him.

88:30 I will establish his seed for an age of an age and his throne like the days of heaven.

88:31 If his sons abandon My law and do not walk in My judgments,

88:32 if they profane My ordinances and do not keep My commandments,

88:33 I will visit their lawless acts with a rod and their sins with scourges;

88:34 but I shall certainly not scatter My mercy away from him, nor act unjustly in My truth,

88:35 nor shall I profane My covenant, and what goes out through My lips I shall certainly not set aside.

88:36 Once I swore by My holiness: I will not lie to David.

88:37 His seed will remain for ever, and his throne will be like the sun before Me,

88:38 and like the moon, established for ever; and the witness in heaven is faithful." Diapsalma.

88:39 But Thou didst reject and treat as nothing; Thou didst put off Thine anointed.

88:40 Thou didst overturn Thy servant's covenant; Thou didst profane his consecrated thing to the ground.

88:41 Thou didst tear down all his fences; Thou madest his fortifications cowardice.

88:42 All who travel the road plundered him; he became a reproach to his neighbors.

88:43 Thou didst raise the right hand of his enemies; Thou didst gladden all his enemies.

88:44 Thou didst turn back the help of his sword and didst not support him in war.

88:45 Thou didst remove him from purification; Thou didst dash his throne down to the ground.

88:46 Thou didst shorten the days of his time; Thou didst pour shame over him. Diapsalma.

88:47 How long, Lord? Wilt Thou turn away to the end? Will Thy wrath blaze like fire?

88:48 Remember what my existence is; for surely Thou didst not create all the sons of men in vain?

88:49 Who is the person who will live and not see death, who will deliver his soul from the hand of Hades? Diapsalma.

88:50 Where are Thine ancient mercies, Lord, which Thou didst swear to David in Thy truth?

88:51 Remember, Lord, the reproach of Thy servants, which I bore in my bosom from many nations,

88:52 with which Thine enemies reproached, Lord, with which they reproached the exchange of Thine anointed.

88:53 Blessed be the Lord for ever. May it be; may it be.

Psalms 89

89:1 A prayer of Moses, the man of God. Lord, Thou becamest our refuge through every generation.

89:2 Before the mountains came to be and the earth and inhabited world were formed, from age to age Thou art.

89:3 Do not turn a man toward humiliation; and Thou saidst, Return, sons of men.

89:4 For a thousand years in Thine eyes are like yesterday, which passed, and a watch in the night.

89:5 Their things counted as nothing will be years. In the morning, like green grass, may it pass away;

89:6 in the morning may it blossom and pass away; in the evening may it fall, grow hard and dry up.

89:7 For we failed in Thine anger and were troubled in Thy wrath.

89:8 Thou didst set our lawless deeds before Thee; our age is in the light of Thy face.

89:9 For all our days failed, and in Thine anger we failed; I pondered our years like a spider.

89:10 The days of our years—in them are seventy years, or, with strength, eighty years; the greater part of them is toil and pain, for gentleness came upon us, and we shall be disciplined.

89:11 Who knows the might of Thine anger, and Thy wrath from the fear of Thee?

89:12 So make known how to number Thy right hand, and those bound in heart in wisdom.

89:13 Return, Lord—how long? Be moved concerning Thy servants.

89:14 We were filled in the morning with Thy mercy, and we exulted and rejoiced all our days.

89:15 We were glad in return for the days Thou didst humble us, the years when we saw evils.

89:16 Look upon Thy servants and Thy works, and guide their children.

89:17 Let the splendor of the Lord our God be upon us, and direct the works of our hands for us.

Psalms 90

90:1 A praise of a song, of David. The one dwelling in the help of the Most High will lodge in the shelter of the God of heaven.

90:2 He will say to the Lord, Thou art my Helper and my refuge, my God; I will hope in Him.

90:3 For He will rescue me from the hunters' trap and from a disturbing word.

90:4 With His shoulders He will overshadow you, and under His wings you will hope; His truth will surround you with a weapon.

90:5 You will not fear terror by night, the missile flying by day,

90:6 the thing passing through darkness, the calamity and the demon of noon.

90:7 A thousand will fall at your side and ten thousand at your right hand, but it will not come near you.

90:8 You will only observe with your eyes and see the repayment of sinners.

90:9 For Thou, Lord, art my hope. You have made the Most High your refuge.

90:10 Evils will not approach you, and a scourge will not come near your dwelling.

90:11 For He will command His angels concerning you, to guard you in all your ways.

90:12 On their hands they will lift you, lest you strike your foot against a stone.

90:13 You will step on an asp and a basilisk, and trample a lion and a dragon.

90:14 Because he hoped in Me, I will rescue him; I will shelter him, because he knew My name.

90:15 He will call upon Me, and I will hear him; I am with him in affliction, and I will take him out and glorify him.

90:16 With length of days I will fill him and show him My salvation.

Psalms 91

91:1 A psalm of a song, for the Sabbath day.

91:2 It is good to give thanks to the Lord and make music to Thy name, Most High,

91:3 to declare Thy mercy in the morning and Thy truth by night,

91:4 on a ten-stringed psaltery, with song on a lyre.

91:5 For Thou didst gladden me, Lord, by Thy making, and at the works of Thy hands I will exult.

91:6 How great Thy works have become, Lord; Thy reasonings have grown very deep.

91:7 A senseless man will not know, and one without understanding will not understand these things:

91:8 when sinners spring up like grass and all who work lawlessness emerge, it is so that they may be utterly destroyed for the age of the age.

91:9 But Thou art Most High for ever, Lord.

91:10 For behold, Thine enemies will perish, and all who work lawlessness will be scattered.

91:11 My horn will be raised like a one-horned creature's, and my old age in rich oil.

91:12 My eye looked upon my enemies, and my ear will hear of evildoers rising against me.

91:13 A righteous person will blossom like a palm tree; like the cedar in Lebanon he will multiply.

91:14 Planted in the Lord's house, they will blossom in the courts of our God.

91:15 They will still multiply in a rich old age and be flourishing,

91:16 to declare that the Lord my God is upright, and there is no injustice in Him.

Psalms 92

92:1 For the day before the Sabbath, when the earth has been inhabited; a praise of a song, of David. The Lord reigned, clothed Himself in comeliness; the Lord clothed Himself in power and girded Himself. For He established the inhabited world, which will not be shaken.

92:2 Thy throne is ready from then; Thou art from the age.

92:3 The rivers lifted up, Lord; the rivers lifted up their voices.

92:4 From the voices of many waters, wondrous are the sea's surges; wondrous on high is the Lord.

92:5 Thy testimonies were made very sure; sanctity befits Thy house, Lord, for length of days.

Psalms 93

93:1 A psalm of David, for the fourth day of the week. The God of vengeance is the Lord; the God of vengeance spoke openly.

93:2 Be exalted, Judge of the earth; give repayment to the arrogant.

93:3 How long, Lord, will sinners— how long will sinners boast,

93:4 utter and speak injustice— will all who work lawlessness speak?

93:5 They humbled Thy people, Lord, and mistreated Thine inheritance.

93:6 They killed the widow and newcomer and murdered orphans.

93:7 They said, The Lord will not see, nor will the God of Jacob understand.

93:8 Understand now, you senseless among the people; and you fools, become wise at last.

93:9 Does the One who planted the ear not hear, or the One who formed the eye not perceive?

93:10 Will the One who disciplines nations not rebuke— the One who teaches humankind knowledge?

93:11 The Lord knows human reasonings, that they are futile.

93:12 Happy the person Thou disciplinest, Lord, whom Thou teachest from Thy law, 93:13 to soothe him from evil days, until a pit is dug for the sinner.

93:14 For the Lord will not reject His people, nor abandon His inheritance, 93:15 until righteousness returns to judgment, and all the upright in heart cling to it. Diapsalma.

93:16 Who will rise for me against evildoers, or who will stand beside me against workers of lawlessness?

93:17 Had the Lord not helped me, my soul would almost have sojourned in Hades.

93:18 If I said, My foot has been shaken, Thy mercy, Lord, helps me.

93:19 Lord, amid the multitude of pains in my heart, Thy consolations loved my soul.

93:20 Will a throne of lawlessness join Thee, one that shapes toil by command?

93:21 They will hunt a righteous person's soul and condemn innocent blood.

93:22 The Lord became my refuge, and my God the Helper of my hope.

93:23 He will repay them their lawlessness, and according to their wickedness the Lord our God will obliterate them.

Psalms 94

94:1 A praise of a song, of David. Come, let us exult in the Lord; let us shout to God our Savior.

94:2 Let us come before His face with thanksgiving, and with psalms let us shout to Him.

94:3 For the Lord is a great God and a great King above all gods.

94:4 For in His hand are the earth's ends, and the mountain heights are His.

94:5 For the sea is His, and He made it, and His hands formed the dry land.

94:6 Come, let us bow down and fall before Him, and let us weep before the Lord who made us.

94:7 For He is our God, and we are the people of His pasture and the sheep of His hand. Today, if you hear His voice,

94:8 do not harden your hearts as in the provocation, on the day of testing in the wilderness,

94:9 where your ancestors tested, put to the proof, and saw My works.

94:10 For forty years I was vexed with that generation and said, They always stray in heart, and they did not know My ways,

94:11 as I swore in My anger, They shall not enter My rest.

Psalms 95

95:1 When the house was being built after the captivity; a song of David. Sing to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth.

95:2 Sing to the Lord; bless His name. Proclaim the good news of His salvation day after day.

95:3 Announce His glory among the nations, His wonders among all the peoples.

95:4 For great is the Lord and greatly to be praised; He is fearsome above all gods.

95:5 For all the gods of the nations are demons, but the Lord made the heavens.

95:6 Thanksgiving and beauty are before Him; holiness and magnificence are in His sanctuary.

95:7 Bring to the Lord, families of nations; bring to the Lord glory and honor.

95:8 Bring to the Lord glory for His name; take up sacrifices and enter His courts.

95:9 Bow down to the Lord in His holy court; let all the earth be shaken before Him.

95:10 Say among the nations, “The Lord has become King!” For He also established the inhabited world, which will not be shaken. He will judge peoples with uprightness.

95:11 Let the heavens rejoice and the earth exult; let the sea be shaken, and all that fills it.

95:12 The plains will rejoice, and everything in them; then all the trees of the woodland will exult

95:13 before the Lord, for He is coming, for He is coming to judge the earth. He will judge the inhabited world with righteousness and peoples with His truth.

Psalms 96

96:1 Of David, when his land is being established. The Lord has become King! Let the earth exult; let many islands rejoice.

96:2 Cloud and gloom surround Him; righteousness and judgment are the establishment of His throne.

96:3 Fire will go ahead before Him and set His enemies aflame all around.

96:4 His lightning flashes shone upon the inhabited world; the earth saw and was shaken.

96:5 The mountains melted like wax before the Lord, before the Lord of all the earth.

96:6 The heavens announced His righteousness, and all the peoples saw His glory.

96:7 Let all who bow down to carved images be ashamed, those who boast in their idols. Bow down to Him, all His angels!

96:8 Zion heard and rejoiced, and the daughters of Judea exulted because of Thy judgments, Lord.

96:9 For Thou art the Lord, the Most High over all the earth; Thou wast greatly exalted above all gods.

96:10 You who love the Lord, hate evil! The Lord guards the souls of His holy ones; He will rescue them from the hand of sinners.

96:11 Light has dawned for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.

96:12 Rejoice in the Lord, you righteous, and give thanks at the remembrance of His holiness.

Psalms 97

97:1 A psalm of David. Sing to the Lord a new song, for the Lord has done wonders. His right hand and His holy arm won salvation for Him.

97:2 The Lord made His salvation known; before the nations He revealed His righteousness.

97:3 He remembered His mercy to Jacob and His truth to the house of Israel. All the ends of the earth saw the salvation of our God.

97:4 Shout to God, all the earth; sing and exult and make music.

97:5 Make music to the Lord with a lyre, with a lyre and the sound of a psalm.

97:6 With hammered trumpets and the sound of a horn trumpet, shout before the King, the Lord.

97:7 Let the sea be shaken, and all that fills it, the inhabited world and those who dwell in it.

97:8 Rivers will clap their hands together; the mountains will exult,

97:9 for He has come to judge the earth. He will judge the inhabited world with righteousness and peoples with uprightness.

Psalms 98

98:1 A psalm of David. The Lord has become King! Let peoples be angry. He sits upon the cherubim; let the earth be shaken.

98:2 The Lord is great in Zion and exalted above all the peoples.

98:3 Let them give thanks to Thy great name, for it is fearsome and holy.

98:4 The King’s honor loves judgment. Thou didst prepare uprightness; judgment and righteousness in Jacob Thou hast done.

98:5 Exalt the Lord our God and bow down at His footstool, for He is holy.

98:6 Moses and Aaron were among His priests, and Samuel among those who call on His name. They called upon the Lord, and He heard them,

98:7 He spoke to them in a pillar of cloud. They kept His testimonies and the ordinances He gave them.

98:8 Lord our God, Thou heardest them; God, Thou wast gracious to them and tookest vengeance for all their practices.

98:9 Exalt the Lord our God and bow down toward His holy mountain, for holy is the Lord our God.

Psalms 99

99:1 A psalm for thanksgiving. Shout to the Lord, all the earth.

99:2 Serve the Lord with gladness; enter before Him with exultation.

99:3 Know that the Lord—He is God. He made us, and not we; His people and the sheep of His pasture.

99:4 Enter His gates with thanksgiving, His courts with hymns. Give thanks to Him; praise His name.

99:5 For the Lord is kind; His mercy is for ever, and His truth through generation after generation.

Psalms 100

100:1 Of David. A psalm. I will sing mercy and judgment unto Thee, Lord;

100:2 I will make music and understand in a blameless way. When wilt Thou come to me? I used to walk in innocence of my heart within my house.

100:3 I did not set a lawless matter before my eyes; I hated those who commit transgressions.

100:4 A crooked heart did not cling to me; when the evil one turned away from me, I did not know him.

100:5 The one secretly speaking against his neighbor I used to drive away; with a proud eye and an insatiable heart, with that one I did not eat.

100:6 My eyes were on the faithful of the land, that they might sit with me; the one walking in a blameless way used to minister to me.

100:7 One practicing arrogance did not dwell within my house; one speaking unjust things did not prosper before my eyes.

100:8 In the mornings I used to kill all the sinners of the land, to destroy from the Lord’s city all who practice lawlessness.

Psalms 101

101:1 A prayer of a poor person when he becomes despondent and pours out his petition before the Lord.

101:2 Hear my prayer, Lord, and let my cry come unto Thee.

101:3 Do not turn Thy face away from me. On whatever day I am afflicted, incline Thine ear to me; on whatever day I call upon Thee, hear me quickly.

101:4 For my days vanished like smoke, and my bones were scorched like kindling.

101:5 My heart was struck like grass and dried up, for I forgot to eat my bread.

101:6 From the sound of my groaning, my bone clung to my flesh.

101:7 I became like a wilderness pelican; I became like a night raven on a house site.

101:8 I stayed awake and became like a little bird alone on a roof.

101:9 All day my enemies reproached me, and those praising me swore against me.

101:10 For I ate ashes like bread and mixed my drink with weeping,

101:11 because of Thine anger and wrath, for after lifting me up Thou didst dash me down.

101:12 My days bent like a shadow, and I dried up like grass.

101:13 But Thou, Lord, remainest for ever, and Thy memorial is from generation to generation.

101:14 Thou wilt arise and have compassion on Zion, for it is time to have compassion on her; the time has come.

101:15 For Thy servants took pleasure in her stones and will have compassion on her dust.

101:16 Nations will fear the Lord’s name, and all the kings of the earth Thy glory,

101:17 for the Lord will build Zion and will appear in His glory.

101:18 He looked upon the prayer of the lowly and did not treat their petition as nothing.

101:19 Let this be written for another generation, and the people being created will praise the Lord,

101:20 for He leaned out from His holy height; the Lord looked from heaven upon the earth,

101:21 to hear the groaning of those in bonds, to release the sons of those put to death,

101:22 to announce the Lord’s name in Zion and His praise in Jerusalem,

101:23 when peoples are gathered together, and kingdoms, to serve the Lord.

101:24 He answered him in the way of his strength: Tell me the fewness of my days.

101:25 Do not take me up at the halfway point of my days; Thy years extend through a generation of generations.

101:26 At the beginning Thou, Lord, didst found the earth, and the heavens are works of Thy hands.

101:27 They will perish, but Thou wilt remain; all will grow old like a garment. Like a cloak Thou wilt change them, and they will be changed.

101:28 But Thou art the same, and Thy years will not fail.

101:29 The children of Thy servants will make their dwelling, and their offspring will be established for ever.

Psalms 102

102:1 Of David. Bless the Lord, my soul, and all that is within me, His holy name.

102:2 Bless the Lord, my soul, and do not forget all His repayments:

102:3 who is gracious toward all your lawless deeds, who heals all your diseases;

102:4 who redeems your life from corruption, who crowns you with mercy and compassions;

102:5 who fills your desire with good things; your youth will be renewed like an eagle’s.

102:6 The Lord does deeds of mercy and judgment for all who are wronged.

102:7 He made His ways known to Moses, His wishes to the sons of Israel.

102:8 The Lord is compassionate and merciful, patient and abundant in mercy.

102:9 He will not be angry to the end, nor maintain wrath for ever.

102:10 He has not dealt with us according to our sins, nor repaid us according to our lawless deeds,

102:11 for according to heaven’s height above the earth, the Lord strengthened His mercy toward those who fear Him.

102:12 As far as the east is distant from the west, He removed our lawless deeds from us.

102:13 As a father has compassion on children, the Lord had compassion on those who fear Him,

102:14 for He knew our formation. Remember that we are dust.

102:15 A man—his days are like grass; like a flower of the field, so he will flower,

102:16 for a wind passed through him, and he will not exist, and he will no longer recognize his place.

102:17 But the Lord’s mercy is from eternity to eternity toward those who fear Him, and His righteousness toward children’s children, 102:18 to those who keep His covenant and remember His commandments to do them.

102:19 The Lord prepared His throne in heaven, and His kingdom has dominion over all.

102:20 Bless the Lord, all His angels, mighty in strength, doing His word, so as to hear the voice of His words.

102:21 Bless the Lord, all His powers, His ministers who do His will.

102:22 Bless the Lord, all His works, in every place of His dominion. Bless the Lord, my soul.

Psalms 103

103:1 Of David. Bless the Lord, my soul. Lord my God, Thou hast become very great; Thou hast clothed Thyself in praise and dignity,

103:2 wrapping Thyself in light like a garment, stretching out heaven like a hide curtain;

103:3 He roofs His upper chambers in waters, makes clouds His means of ascent, and walks on the wings of winds.

103:4 He makes His angels winds, and His ministers a burning fire.

103:5 He founded the earth on its stability; it will not be tilted for an age of ages.

103:6 The deep is His covering like a garment; waters will stand upon the mountains.

103:7 At Thy rebuke they will flee; at the voice of Thy thunder they will become afraid.

103:8 Mountains rise and plains descend to the place Thou didst found for them.

103:9 Thou didst set a boundary they will not pass, nor will they return to cover the earth.

103:10 He sends springs into the ravines; waters will pass between the mountains.

103:11 They give drink to all the beasts of the field; wild donkeys will receive it for their thirst.

103:12 Upon them the birds of heaven will nest; from among the rocks they will give voice.

103:13 He waters mountains from His upper chambers; the earth will be filled with the fruit of Thy works.

103:14 He makes grass spring up for livestock and green plants for the service of humans, to bring bread out of the earth;

103:15 and wine gladdens the human heart, to brighten the face with oil, and bread makes the human heart firm.

103:16 The trees of the plain will be filled, the cedars of Lebanon that He planted;

103:17 there sparrows will nest; the heron’s house leads them.

103:18 The high mountains are for deer; a rock is a refuge for rock rabbits.

103:19 He made the moon for seasons; the sun knew its setting.

103:20 Thou didst set darkness, and night came to be; in it all the beasts of the forest will pass,

103:21 young lions roaring to seize prey and to seek food for themselves from God.

103:22 The sun rose, and they gathered, and they will lie down in their enclosures.

103:23 A man will go out to his work and to his labor until evening.

103:24 How great Thy works have become, Lord! Thou madest all things in wisdom; the earth was filled with Thy possession.

103:25 Here is the sea, great and spacious; there are creeping things without number, living creatures small with great.

103:26 There ships pass, and this dragon, which Thou didst form to play with it.

103:27 All wait for Thee to give them food at the right time.

103:28 When Thou givest to them, they will gather; when Thou openest Thy hand, all things will be filled with goodness.

103:29 When Thou turnest Thy face away, they will be troubled. Thou wilt take back their breath, and they will fail and return to their dust.

103:30 Thou wilt send Thy Spirit, and they will be created, and Thou wilt renew the face of the earth.

103:31 Let the Lord’s glory be for ever; the Lord will rejoice in His works.

103:32 He looks upon the earth and makes it tremble; He touches the mountains, and they smoke.

103:33 I will sing to the Lord in my life; I will make music to my God as long as I exist.

103:34 May my meditation be sweet to Him; as for me, I will rejoice in the Lord.

103:35 May sinners vanish from the earth, and lawless people, so that they no longer exist. Bless the Lord, my soul.

Psalms 104

104:1 Hallelujah. Give thanks to the Lord and call upon His name; announce His works among the nations.

104:2 Sing to Him and make music to Him; recount all His wonders.

104:3 Be praised in His holy name; let the heart of those seeking the Lord rejoice.

104:4 Seek the Lord and be strengthened; seek His face continually.

104:5 Remember His wonders that He did, His portents and the judgments of His mouth, 104:6 offspring of Abraham, His servants, sons of Jacob, His chosen ones.

104:7 He is the Lord our God; His judgments are in all the earth.

104:8 He remembered His covenant for ever, the word He commanded for a thousand generations,

104:9 which He covenanted with Abraham, and His oath to Isaac;

104:10 He established it for Jacob as an ordinance and for Israel as an everlasting covenant,

104:11 saying, To you I will give the land of Canaan, the measured portion of your inheritance,

104:12 when they were small in number, very few, and sojourners in it,

104:13 and passed from nation to nation, from a kingdom to another people.

104:14 He allowed no person to wrong them and rebuked kings on their behalf:

104:15 Do not touch My anointed ones, and do not act wickedly against My prophets.

104:16 He called a famine upon the land; He shattered every support of bread.

104:17 He sent a man ahead of them; Joseph was sold as a slave.

104:18 They humbled his feet in fetters; his soul passed through iron,

104:19 until his word came; the Lord’s oracle put him through fire.

104:20 A king sent and released him; a ruler of peoples let him go.

104:21 He appointed him lord of his house and ruler of all his possession, 104:22 to instruct his rulers as himself and make his elders wise.

104:23 Israel entered Egypt, and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.

104:24 He greatly increased His people and made them stronger than their enemies.

104:25 He turned their heart to hate His people, to deal deceitfully with His servants.

104:26 He sent out Moses His servant, Aaron whom He chose.

104:27 He set among them the words of His signs and portents in the land of Ham.

104:28 He sent out darkness and made it dark, and they provoked His words.

104:29 He turned their waters into blood and killed their fish.

104:30 Their land teemed with frogs in the chambers of their kings.

104:31 He spoke, and dog-flies came, and gnats throughout all their borders.

104:32 He made their rains hail, consuming fire in their land,

104:33 and struck their vines and fig trees and shattered every tree of their border.

104:34 He spoke, and locusts came, and locust larvae without number,

104:35 and devoured all the grass in their land and devoured the fruit of their land.

104:36 He struck every firstborn in their land, the firstfruits of all their toil,

104:37 and brought them out with silver and gold, and none among their tribes was weak.

104:38 Egypt rejoiced at their departure, for fear of them had fallen upon them.

104:39 He spread a cloud as a shelter for them and fire to light the night for them.

104:40 They asked, and quail came, and He filled them with bread from heaven.

104:41 He split a rock, and waters flowed; rivers traveled through waterless places.

104:42 For He remembered His holy word to Abraham His servant,

104:43 and brought His people out in exultation and His chosen ones in gladness.

104:44 He gave them countries of nations, and they inherited the toils of peoples, 104:45 so that they might keep His ordinances and diligently seek His law.

Psalms 105

105:1 Hallelujah. Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; His mercy is for ever.

105:2 Who will speak the Lord’s mighty deeds, make all His praises heard?

105:3 Blessed are those who keep judgment and do righteousness at every time.

105:4 Remember us, Lord, with the favor of Thy people; visit us with Thy salvation,

105:5 that we may see the goodness of Thy chosen ones, rejoice in the gladness of Thy nation, and be praised with Thine inheritance.

105:6 We sinned with our fathers; we acted lawlessly and unjustly.

105:7 Our fathers in Egypt did not understand Thy wonders; they did not remember the abundance of Thy mercy and provoked Thee while going up in the Red Sea.

105:8 He saved them for His name’s sake, to make His might known.

105:9 He rebuked the Red Sea, and it dried up; He guided them in the deep as in a wilderness.

105:10 He saved them from the hand of those hating them and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

105:11 Water covered those afflicting them; not one of them was left.

105:12 They believed His words and sang His praise.

105:13 They hurried and forgot His works; they did not wait for His counsel.

105:14 They desired a desire in the wilderness and tested God in a waterless place.

105:15 He gave them their request and sent fullness into their souls.

105:16 They angered Moses in the camp, and Aaron, the Lord’s holy one.

105:17 The earth was opened and swallowed Dathan and covered Abiram’s assembly.

105:18 Fire was kindled in their assembly; a flame burned up sinners.

105:19 They made a calf at Horeb and bowed down to a carved image.

105:20 They exchanged their glory for the likeness of a calf that eats grass.

105:21 They forgot the God who saved them, who did great things in Egypt,

105:22 wonders in the land of Ham, fearful things at the Red Sea.

105:23 He said He would destroy them, had not Moses His chosen one stood in the breach before Him, to turn His anger away so He would not destroy.

105:24 They treated the desirable land as nothing; they did not believe His word.

105:25 They grumbled in their dwellings; they did not hear the Lord's voice.

105:26 He lifted His hand to them, to cast them down in the wilderness,

105:27 and to cast their offspring down among the nations, and scatter them in the countries.

105:28 They were initiated to Baal-peor and ate sacrifices of the dead.

105:29 They provoked Him with their practices, and the falling multiplied among them.

105:30 Phinehas stood and made atonement, and the breaking ceased.

105:31 It was reckoned to him as righteousness, from generation to generation for ever.

105:32 They angered Him at the water of contradiction, and Moses suffered harm because of them, 105:33 for they embittered his spirit, and he issued a command with his lips.

105:34 They did not destroy the nations of which the Lord had spoken to them, 105:35 and mixed with the nations and learned their works.

105:36 They served their carved images, and it became a stumbling block to them.

105:37 They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons,

105:38 and shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons and daughters whom they sacrificed to Canaan's carved images; the land was murdered with blood, 105:39 and was defiled by their works, and they prostituted themselves through their practices.

105:40 The Lord was wrathfully angry against His people and abhorred His inheritance.

105:41 He handed them over into nations' hands, and those hating them became their masters.

105:42 Their enemies afflicted them, and they were humbled beneath their hands.

105:43 Many times He rescued them, but they provoked Him in their counsel and were humbled in their lawless deeds.

105:44 He saw when they were afflicted, when He heard their petition.

105:45 He remembered His covenant and changed His purpose according to His abundant mercy, 105:46 and granted them compassions before all who had taken them captive.

105:47 Save us, Lord our God, and gather us together from the nations, to give thanks to Thy holy name and boast in Thy praise.

105:48 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, from eternity to eternity. All the people will say, May it be, may it be.

Psalms 106

106:1 Hallelujah. Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; His mercy is for ever.

106:2 Let those redeemed by the Lord say so, those He redeemed from the enemy's hand.

106:3 He gathered them from the countries, from east and west and north and the sea.

106:4 They wandered in the wilderness, in a waterless place; they did not find a road to a city of habitation, 106:5 hungry and thirsty; their soul failed within them.

106:6 They cried to the Lord when they were afflicted, and He rescued them from their distresses, 106:7 and guided them into a straight way to travel to a city of habitation.

106:8 Let them acknowledge to the Lord His mercies and His wonders to the sons of men, 106:9 for He filled an empty soul and filled a hungry soul with good things.

106:10 Those sitting in darkness and death's shadow, fettered in poverty and iron,

106:11 because they provoked God's oracles and spurned the Most High's counsel, 106:12 their heart was humbled in toils; they grew weak, and there was no helper.

106:13 They cried to the Lord when they were afflicted, and He saved them from their distresses,

106:14 and brought them out of darkness and death's shadow and broke their bonds apart.

106:15 Let them acknowledge to the Lord His mercies and His wonders to the sons of men, 106:16 for He shattered bronze gates and broke iron bars.

106:17 He helped them out of their lawless way, for because of their lawless deeds they were humbled.

106:18 Their soul abhorred every food, and they drew near the gates of death.

106:19 They cried to the Lord when they were afflicted, and He saved them from their distresses.

106:20 He sent His word and healed them and rescued them from their destructions.

106:21 Let them acknowledge to the Lord His mercies and His wonders to the sons of men, 106:22 and let them sacrifice a sacrifice of praise and proclaim His works in exultation.

106:23 Those going down into the sea in ships, doing work on many waters,

106:24 they saw the Lord’s works and His wonders in the depth.

106:25 He spoke, and a storm wind stood, and its waves were raised.

106:26 They rise as far as the heavens and descend as far as the deeps; their soul melted in evils.

106:27 They were troubled and shaken like a drunken man, and all their wisdom was swallowed up.

106:28 They cried to the Lord when they were afflicted, and He brought them out of their distresses, 106:29 and commanded the storm, and it settled into a breeze, and its waves fell silent.

106:30 They rejoiced because they became quiet, and He guided them to the harbor of their desire.

106:31 Let them acknowledge to the Lord His mercies and His wonders to the sons of men, 106:32 let them exalt Him in an assembly of the people and praise Him where the elders sit.

106:33 He made rivers a wilderness and outlets of waters thirst,

106:34 a fruitful land brine, because of the wickedness of those inhabiting it.

106:35 He made a wilderness lakes of waters and waterless land outlets of waters,

106:36 and settled hungry people there, and they established a city of habitation,

106:37 and sowed fields and planted vineyards and produced a fruitful crop.

106:38 He blessed them, and they multiplied greatly, and He did not diminish their livestock.

106:39 They became few and suffered harm from the affliction of evils and pain.

106:40 Contempt was poured out upon rulers, and He made them wander in an impassable place, not a road.

106:41 He helped the poor out of poverty and made families like sheep.

106:42 The upright will see and rejoice, and all lawlessness will stop its mouth.

106:43 Who is wise and will keep these things, and will they understand the Lord’s mercies?

Psalms 107

107:1 A song of a psalm of David.

107:2 My heart is ready, God; my heart is ready. I will sing and make music in my glory.

107:3 Awake, psaltery and lyre! I will awake at dawn.

107:4 I will thank Thee among peoples, Lord, and make music unto Thee among nations, 107:5 for Thy mercy is great above the heavens, and Thy truth reaches the clouds.

107:6 Be exalted above the heavens, God, and Thy glory over all the earth.

107:7 So that Thy beloved ones may be rescued, save with Thy right hand and hear me.

107:8 God spoke in His holy place: I will be exalted and divide Shechem and measure out the valley of tents.

107:9 Gilead is Mine, and Manasseh is Mine; Ephraim is the support of My head; Judah is My king.

107:10 Moab is the cauldron of My hope; over Idumea I will extend My sandal; foreign peoples were subjected to Me.

107:11 Who will lead me to a city of enclosure? Who will guide me as far as Idumea?

107:12 Is it not Thou, God, who didst reject us? Thou wilt not go out, God, with our forces.

107:13 Give us help from affliction, for human salvation is futile.

107:14 In God we will act with power, and He will bring our enemies to nothing.

Psalms 108

108:1 For the end. Of David. A psalm. God, do not pass over my praise in silence,

108:2 for a sinner’s mouth and a deceitful person’s mouth were opened against me; they spoke against me with a deceitful tongue,

108:3 and surrounded me with words of hatred and fought me without cause.

108:4 Instead of loving me, they were slandering me, but I was praying.

108:5 They set evils against me in exchange for good things and hatred in exchange for my love.

108:6 Appoint a sinner over him, and let a slanderer stand at his right hand.

108:7 When he is judged, may he come out condemned, and let his prayer become sin.

108:8 Let his days become few, and may another take his oversight.

108:9 Let his sons become orphans and his wife a widow.

108:10 Let his sons be shaken and migrate, and let them beg; let them be cast out from their house sites.

108:11 Let a lender search out everything he possesses; let strangers plunder his toils.

108:12 Let no helper exist for him, nor anyone compassionate toward his orphans.

108:13 Let his children be destroyed; in one generation let his name be erased.

108:14 May his fathers' lawlessness be remembered before the Lord, and may his mother's sin not be erased.

108:15 Let them be before the Lord continually, and may their memorial be destroyed from the earth,

108:16 because he did not remember to show mercy and pursued a poor and needy person and one pierced in heart, to put him to death.

108:17 He loved a curse, and it will come to him; he did not desire blessing, and it will be far from him.

108:18 He clothed himself in a curse like a garment; it entered his innards like water and his bones like oil.

108:19 Let it become for him like a garment he puts around himself and like a belt he continually fastens.

108:20 This is the work of those slandering me, from the Lord, and of those speaking evil against my soul.

108:21 But Thou, Lord, Lord, show mercy with me for Thy name's sake, for Thy mercy is good.

108:22 Rescue me, for I am poor and needy, and my heart is troubled within me.

108:23 Like a shadow as it declines, I was taken away; I was shaken off like locusts.

108:24 My knees grew weak from fasting, and my flesh was altered because of oil.

108:25 I became a reproach to them; they saw me and shook their heads.

108:26 Help me, Lord my God; save me according to Thy mercy,

108:27 and let them know that this is Thy hand and that Thou, Lord, hast done it.

108:28 They will curse, but Thou wilt bless; let those rising against me be ashamed, but Thy servant will rejoice.

108:29 Let those slandering me wear humiliation and wrap themselves in their shame like a double cloak.

108:30 I will greatly thank the Lord with my mouth and praise Him among many,

108:31 for He stood at a poor person's right hand, to save from those pursuing my soul.

Psalms 109

109:1 Of David. A psalm. The Lord said to my lord: Sit at My right hand until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet.

109:2 The Lord will send forth the rod of your power from Zion.
Rule in the midst of your enemies.

109:3 With you is rule on the day of your power, in the splendors of the holy ones; from the womb, before the morning star, I begot you.

109:4 The Lord swore and will not change His mind: You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek.

109:5 The Lord at your right hand crushed kings on the day of His anger.

109:6 He will judge among the nations; He will fill the field with corpses; He will crush heads over the land of many.

109:7 He will drink from a torrent on the way; therefore he will lift his head.

Psalms 110

110:1 Hallelujah! I will give Thee thanks, Lord, with my whole heart, in the council of the upright and the congregation.

110:2 Great are the works of the Lord, searched out for all His purposes.

110:3 Thanksgiving and magnificence are His work, and His righteousness remains for an age of an age.

110:4 He made remembrance of His wonders; the Lord is merciful and compassionate.

110:5 He gave food to those who fear Him; He will remember His covenant for ever.

110:6 He announced the strength of His works to His people, to give them an inheritance of nations.

110:7 The works of His hands are truth and judgment; all His commandments are faithful, 110:8 established for an age of an age, made in truth and uprightness.

110:9 He sent redemption to His people; He commanded His covenant for ever; holy and fearsome is His name.

110:10 The beginning of wisdom is the fear of the Lord; good understanding belongs to all who practice it. His praise remains for an age of an age.

Psalms 111

111:1 Hallelujah! Blessed is the man who fears the Lord; he will greatly delight in His commandments.

111:2 His seed will be powerful in the land; a generation of the upright will be blessed.

111:3 Glory and riches are in his house, and his righteousness remains for an age of an age.

111:4 Light sprang up in darkness for the upright—merciful, compassionate and righteous.

111:5 Kind is the man who has compassion and lends; he will manage his words with judgment.

111:6 For he will never be shaken; the righteous person will be an everlasting memorial.

111:7 He will not fear an evil report; his heart is ready to hope in the Lord.

111:8 His heart is established; he shall certainly not fear, until he looks upon his enemies.

111:9 He scattered gifts; he gave to the poor. His righteousness remains for an age of an age; his horn will be raised in glory.

111:10 A sinner will see and be angry; he will gnash his teeth and waste away; the desire of sinners will perish.

Psalms 112

112:1 Hallelujah! Praise the Lord, servants; praise the name of the Lord.

112:2 May the name of the Lord be blessed from now and for ever.

112:3 From the sun's risings to its settings, praise the name of the Lord.

112:4 The Lord is high above all nations; His glory is above the heavens.

112:5 Who is like the Lord our God, who dwells in high places,

112:6 and looks upon lowly things in heaven and on earth?

112:7 He raises the poor from the ground and lifts the needy from the dung heap,

112:8 to seat him with rulers, with the rulers of His people.

112:9 He settles a barren woman in a house as a mother of children rejoicing.

Psalms 113

113:1 Hallelujah. At Israel's departure from Egypt, the house of Jacob from a foreign-speaking people, 113:2 Judea became His sanctuary, Israel His authority.

113:3 The sea saw and fled; the Jordan turned backward.

113:4 The mountains skipped like rams, and the hills like lambs of sheep.

113:5 What is it with you, sea, that you fled, and with you, Jordan, that you withdrew backward?

113:6 Mountains, that you skipped like rams, and hills, like lambs of sheep?

113:7 Before the Lord the earth was shaken, before the God of Jacob, 113:8 who turned the rock into pools of water and the sheer rock into springs of water.

113:9 Not to us, Lord, not to us, but only to Thy name give glory, because of Thy mercy and Thy truth,

113:10 lest the nations say, "Where is their God?"

113:11 But our God is in heaven above; in the heavens and on the earth He has done everything He wished.

113:12 The idols of the nations are silver and gold, works of human hands.

113:13 They have a mouth and will not speak; they have eyes and will not see.

113:14 They have ears and will not hear; they have noses and will not smell.

113:15 They have hands and will not feel; feet, and will not walk; they will not sound with their throat.

113:16 May those who make them become like them, and all who have put their trust in them.

113:17 The house of Israel hoped in the Lord; He is their helper and their defender.

113:18 The house of Aaron hoped in the Lord; He is their helper and their defender.

113:19 Those who fear the Lord hoped in the Lord; He is their helper and their defender.

113:20 The Lord remembered us and blessed us; He blessed the house of Israel; He blessed the house of Aaron.

113:21 He blessed those who fear the Lord, the small together with the great.

113:22 May the Lord add to you, to you and to your sons.

113:23 You are blessed by the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

113:24 The heaven of heaven belongs to the Lord, but the earth He gave to the sons of men.

113:25 The dead will not praise Thee, Lord, nor any who descend into Hades, 113:26 but we, the living, will bless the Lord from now and for ever.

Psalms 114

114:1 Hallelujah. I loved, for the Lord will hear the voice of my petition,

114:2 for He inclined His ear to me, and in my days I will call upon Him.

114:3 The pangs of death surrounded me; the dangers of Hades found me; I found affliction and pain.

114:4 And I called on the name of the Lord: “O Lord, rescue my soul!”

114:5 Merciful is the Lord, and righteous; and our God shows mercy.

114:6 The Lord guards the little children; I was humbled, and He saved me.

114:7 Return, my soul, to your rest, for the Lord has benefited you,

114:8 for He rescued my soul from death, my eyes from tears, and my feet from slipping.

114:9 I will be well pleasing before the Lord in the land of the living.

Psalms 115

115:1 Hallelujah. I believed; therefore I spoke. But I was greatly humbled.

115:2 I said in my bewilderment, “Every man is a liar.”

115:3 What shall I repay to the Lord for everything He has repaid to me?

115:4 I will take the cup of salvation and call on the name of the Lord.

115:6 Precious before the Lord is the death of His holy ones.

115:7 O Lord, I am Thy slave; I am Thy slave and the son of Thy slave woman. Thou hast torn apart my bonds.

115:8 To Thee I will sacrifice a sacrifice of praise.

115:9 I will repay my vows to the Lord before all His people,

115:10 in the courts of the Lord’s house, in your midst, Jerusalem.

Psalms 116

116:1 Hallelujah. Praise the Lord, all nations; laud Him, all peoples, 116:2 for His mercy has grown strong over us, and the Lord’s truth remains for ever.

Psalms 117

117:1 Hallelujah. Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy is for ever.

117:2 Let the house of Israel now say that He is good, that His mercy is for ever.

117:3 Let the house of Aaron now say that He is good, that His mercy is for ever.

117:4 Let all those who fear the Lord now say that He is good, that His mercy is for ever.

117:5 In affliction I called upon the Lord, and He answered me with room to breathe.

117:6 The Lord is my helper; I will not fear what a man will do to me.

117:7 The Lord is my helper, and I will look upon my enemies.

117:8 Better to trust in the Lord than to trust in a man.

117:9 Better to hope in the Lord than to hope in rulers.

117:10 All nations surrounded me, and in the name of the Lord I warded them off.

117:11 Surrounding me, they surrounded me, and in the name of the Lord I warded them off.

117:12 They surrounded me like bees a honeycomb, and they blazed up like fire among thorns, and in the name of the Lord I warded them off.

117:13 Pushed, I was overturned so as to fall, and the Lord took hold of me.

117:14 The Lord is my strength and my hymn, and He has become my salvation.

117:15 A voice of exultation and salvation is in the tents of the righteous: “The Lord’s right hand has done a mighty work;

117:16 the Lord’s right hand lifted me high; the Lord’s right hand has done a mighty work.”

117:17 I will not die, but live, and tell in full the works of the Lord.

117:18 The Lord disciplined me with discipline, and did not hand me over to death.

117:19 Open for me the gates of righteousness; entering through them, I will give thanks to the Lord.

117:20 This is the gate of the Lord; the righteous will enter through it.

117:21 I will thank Thee, for Thou heardest me and becamest my salvation.

117:22 The stone the builders rejected, that very stone has become the head of the corner.

117:23 This has come from the Lord, and is marvelous in our eyes.

117:24 This is the day the Lord has made; let us exult and be glad in it.

117:25 O Lord, save now! O Lord, prosper us now!

117:26 Blessed is the one who comes in the name of the Lord. We have blessed you from the house of the Lord.

117:27 The Lord is God, and He has shone upon us. Arrange a festival among the thickly covering boughs, up to the horns of the altar.

117:28 Thou art my God, and I will thank Thee; Thou art my God, and I will exalt Thee. I will thank Thee, for Thou heardest me and becamest my salvation.

117:29 Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy is for ever.

Psalms 118

118:1 Hallelujah. One: Alph. Blessed are the blameless in the way, those who walk in the Lord’s law.

118:2 Blessed are those who search out His testimonies; with their whole heart they will seek Him.

118:3 For those who practice lawlessness did not walk in His ways.

118:4 Thou didst command Thy commandments to be kept diligently.

118:5 If only my ways were directed to keep Thine ordinances!

118:6 Then I will certainly not be ashamed when I look upon all Thy commandments.

118:7 I will give thanks unto Thee, Lord, with uprightness of heart, when I have learned Thy righteous judgments.

118:8 I will keep Thine ordinances; do not forsake me utterly.

118:9 Two: Beth. By what will the younger man set his way right? By keeping Thy words.

118:10 With my whole heart I sought Thee; do not thrust me away from Thy commandments.

118:11 In my heart I hid Thy sayings, so that I might not sin against Thee.

118:12 Blessed art Thou, Lord; teach me Thine ordinances.

118:13 With my lips I declared all the judgments of Thy mouth.

118:14 In the way of Thy testimonies I delighted, as in all wealth.

118:15 I will ponder Thy commandments and consider Thy ways.

118:16 I will meditate on Thine ordinances; I will not forget Thy words.

118:17 Three: Gimal. Recompense Thy servant; I will live and keep Thy words.

118:18 Uncover my eyes, and I will consider Thy wonders from Thy law.

118:19 I am a sojourner on the earth; do not hide Thy commandments from me.

118:20 My soul longed to desire Thy judgments at every time.

118:21 Thou didst rebuke the arrogant; accursed are those who turn away from Thy commandments.

118:22 Remove reproach and contempt from me, for I sought Thy testimonies.

118:23 For rulers also sat and were speaking against me, but Thy servant was pondering Thine ordinances.

118:24 For Thy testimonies are also my meditation, and Thine ordinances are my counsels.

118:25 Four: Delth. My soul clung to the ground; give me life according to Thy word.

118:26 I declared my ways, and Thou heardest me; teach me Thine ordinances.

118:27 Give me understanding of the way of Thine ordinances, and I will ponder Thy wonders.

118:28 My soul dripped away from weariness; strengthen me by Thy words.

118:29 Remove the way of injustice from me, and show me mercy through Thy law.

118:30 I chose the way of truth; I did not forget Thy judgments.

118:31 I clung to Thy testimonies; Lord, do not put me to shame.

118:32 I ran the way of Thy commandments when Thou didst enlarge my heart.

118:33 Five: Ē. Instruct me, Lord, in the way of Thine ordinances, and I will seek it continually.

118:34 Give me understanding, and I will search out Thy law and keep it with my whole heart.

118:35 Guide me in the path of Thy commandments, for I desired it.

118:36 Bend my heart toward Thy testimonies, and not toward greed.

118:37 Turn away my eyes so that they do not see futility; give me life in Thy way.

118:38 Establish Thy saying for Thy servant, for the fear of Thee.

118:39 Remove my reproach, which I dreaded, for Thy judgments are good.

118:40 Behold, I desired Thy commandments; give me life in Thy righteousness.

118:41 Six: Ouau. May Thy mercy also come upon me, Lord, Thy salvation according to Thy saying.

118:42 And I will answer those who reproach me with a word, for I hoped in Thy words.

118:43 And do not remove the word of truth from my mouth utterly, for I placed my hope in Thy judgments.

118:44 And I will keep Thy law continually, for ever and for the age of the age.

118:45 And I was walking in a broad place, for I sought Thy commandments.

118:46 And I was speaking of Thy testimonies before kings, and I was not ashamed.

118:47 And I was meditating on Thy commandments, which I loved greatly.

118:48 And I raised my hands toward Thy commandments, which I loved, and I was pondering Thine ordinances.

118:49 Seven: Zai. Remember Thy word to Thy servant, upon which Thou didst cause me to hope.

118:50 This comforted me in my humiliation, for Thy saying gave me life.

118:51 The arrogant were acting lawlessly to an extreme, but I did not turn away from Thy law.

118:52 I remembered Thy judgments from of old, Lord, and I was comforted.

118:53 Despondency seized me because of sinners who forsake Thy law.

118:54 Thine ordinances were songs to me in the place of my sojourning.

118:55 I remembered Thy name in the night, Lord, and kept Thy law.

118:56 This came to be mine, for I sought Thine ordinances.

118:57 Eight: Ēth. Thou art my portion, Lord; I said that I would keep Thy law.

118:58 I entreated Thy face with my whole heart; have mercy on me according to Thy saying.

118:59 I considered Thy ways and turned my feet toward Thy testimonies.

118:60 I was prepared and was not troubled to keep Thy commandments.

118:61 Sinners' cords entangled me, and I did not forget Thy law.

118:62 At midnight I would rise to give thanks unto Thee for Thy righteous judgments.

118:63 I am a companion of all who fear Thee and of those who keep Thy commandments.

118:64 The earth is full of Thy mercy, Lord; teach me Thine ordinances.

118:65 Nine: Tēth. Thou didst deal kindly with Thy servant, Lord, according to Thy word.

118:66 Teach me kindness, discipline and knowledge, for I trusted Thy commandments.

118:67 Before I was humbled, I did wrong; therefore I kept Thy saying.

118:68 Thou art good, Lord, and in Thy goodness teach me Thine ordinances.

118:69 The injustice of the arrogant multiplied against me, but I will search out Thy commandments with my whole heart.

118:70 Their heart curdled like milk, but I meditated on Thy law.

118:71 It is good for me that Thou didst humble me, so that I might learn Thine ordinances.

118:72 The law of Thy mouth is better for me than thousands of gold and silver.

118:73 Ten: Iōth. Thy hands made me and formed me; give me understanding, and I will learn Thy commandments.

118:74 Those who fear Thee will see me and rejoice, for I placed my hope in Thy words.

118:75 I knew, Lord, that Thy judgments are righteousness, and that in truth Thou didst humble me.

118:76 Let Thy mercy now be for my comfort, according to Thy saying to Thy servant.

118:77 Let Thy compassions come to me, and I will live, for Thy law is my meditation.

118:78 Let the arrogant be ashamed, for they unjustly acted lawlessly against me; but I will ponder Thy commandments.

118:79 Let those who fear Thee turn to me, and those who know Thy testimonies.

118:80 Let my heart be blameless in Thine ordinances, so that I may not be ashamed.

118:81 Eleven: Chaph. My soul fails with longing for Thy salvation, and I placed my hope in Thy word.

118:82 My eyes failed with longing for Thy saying, saying, "When wilt Thou comfort me?"

118:83 For I became like a wineskin in frost; I did not forget Thine ordinances.

118:84 How many are the days of Thy servant? When wilt Thou give me judgment against those who pursue me?

118:85 Lawbreakers told me idle tales, but not in keeping with Thy law, Lord.

118:86 All Thy commandments are truth; they pursued me unjustly—help me.

118:87 They nearly brought me to an end on the earth, but I did not forsake Thy commandments.

118:88 Give me life according to Thy mercy, and I will keep the testimonies of Thy mouth.

118:89 Twelve: Labd. For ever, Lord, Thy word remains in heaven.

118:90 Thy truth is from generation to generation; Thou didst found the earth, and it remains.

118:91 By Thine arrangement the day remains, for all things are Thy servants.

118:92 If Thy law had not been my meditation, then I would have perished in my humiliation.

118:93 I will certainly never forget Thine ordinances, for by them Thou gavest me life, Lord.

118:94 I am Thine; save me, for I sought Thine ordinances.

118:95 Sinners waited for me to destroy me; I understood Thy testimonies.

118:96 I saw an end to every completion; Thy commandment is exceedingly broad.

118:97 Thirteen: Mēm. How I loved Thy law, Lord! It is my meditation all day.

118:98 Thou madest me wiser than my enemies in Thy commandment, for it is mine for ever.

118:99 I understood more than all who teach me, for Thy testimonies are my meditation.

118:100 I understood more than elders, for I sought Thy commandments.

118:101 I restrained my feet from every evil way, so that I might keep Thy words.

118:102 I did not turn away from Thy judgments, for Thou didst instruct me.

118:103 How sweet are Thy sayings to my throat, beyond honey and honeycomb to my mouth!

118:104 From Thy commandments I gained understanding; therefore I hated every way of injustice, for Thou didst instruct me.

118:105 Fourteen: Noun. Thy word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my paths.

118:106 I have sworn and established it: to keep Thy righteous judgments.

118:107 I was humbled to an extreme; Lord, give me life according to Thy word.

118:108 Please accept the freewill offerings of my mouth, Lord, and teach me Thy judgments.

118:109 My soul is in my hands continually, and I did not forget Thy law.

118:110 Sinners set a trap for me, and I did not wander from Thy commandments.

118:111 I inherited Thy testimonies for ever, for they are my heart’s rejoicing.

118:112 I bent my heart to perform Thine ordinances for ever, for a recompense.

118:113 Fifteen: Samch. I hated lawbreakers, and I loved Thy law.

118:114 Thou art my helper and my upholder; I placed my hope in Thy word.

118:115 Turn away from me, evildoers, and I will search out my God’s commandments.

118:116 Uphold me according to Thy saying, and I will live; and do not put me to shame in my expectation.

118:117 Help me, and I will be saved; and I will meditate on Thine ordinances continually.

118:118 Thou didst despise all who depart from Thine ordinances, for their thought is unjust.

118:119 I reckoned all the sinners of the earth as transgressors; therefore I loved Thy testimonies continually.

118:120 Nail down my flesh through fear of Thee, for I feared Thy judgments.

118:121 Sixteen: Ain. I did judgment and righteousness; do not hand me over to those who wrong me.

118:122 Receive Thy servant for good; do not let the arrogant oppress me with false accusations.

118:123 My eyes failed with longing for Thy salvation and for Thy righteous saying.

118:124 Deal with Thy servant according to Thy mercy, and teach me Thine ordinances.

118:125 I am Thy servant; give me understanding, and I will know Thy testimonies.

118:126 It is time to act for the Lord; they scattered Thy law.

118:127 Therefore I loved Thy commandments more than gold and topaz.

118:128 Therefore I was set right toward all Thy commandments; I hated every unjust way.

118:129 Seventeen: Phē. Thy testimonies are wonderful; therefore my soul searched them out.

118:130 The disclosure of Thy words will give light and understanding to the simple.

118:131 I opened my mouth and drew breath, for I longed for Thy commandments.

118:132 Look upon me and have mercy on me, according to the judgment for those who love Thy name.

118:133 Direct my steps according to Thy saying, and let no lawlessness rule over me.

118:134 Redeem me from people's oppression through false accusation, and I will keep Thy commandments.

118:135 Shine Thy face upon Thy servant, and teach me Thine ordinances.

118:136 Streams of water ran down from my eyes, since they did not keep Thy law.

118:137 Eighteen: Sadē. Thou art righteous, Lord, and Thy judgment is upright.

118:138 Thou didst command Thy testimonies as righteousness and exceeding truth.

118:139 Zeal for Thy house melted me away, for my enemies forgot Thy words.

118:140 Thy saying has been thoroughly refined by fire, and Thy servant loved it.

118:141 I am younger and despised; I did not forget Thine ordinances.

118:142 Thy righteousness is righteousness for ever, and Thy law is truth.

118:143 Affliction and constraint found me; Thy commandments are my meditation.

118:144 Thy testimonies are righteousness for ever; give me understanding, and I will live.

118:145 Nineteen: Kōph. I cried with my whole heart; hear me, Lord; I will seek Thine ordinances.

118:146 I cried unto Thee; save me, and I will keep Thy testimonies.

118:147 I rose early at an untimely hour and cried out; I placed my hope in Thy words.

118:148 My eyes were awake before dawn to meditate on Thy sayings.

118:149 Hear my voice, Lord, according to Thy mercy; give me life according to Thy judgment.

118:150 Those who pursue me with lawlessness drew near, but they were far from Thy law.

118:151 Thou art near, Lord, and all Thy commandments are truth.

118:152 From the beginning I knew from Thy testimonies that Thou didst establish them for ever.

118:153 Twenty: Rēs. See my humiliation and rescue me, for I did not forget Thy law.

118:154 Judge my case and redeem me; give me life because of Thy word.

118:155 Salvation is far from sinners, for they did not seek Thine ordinances.

118:156 Thy compassions are many, Lord; give me life according to Thy judgment.

118:157 Many are those who pursue me and press me hard; I did not turn away from Thy testimonies.

118:158 I saw those who break faith and melted away, for they did not keep Thy sayings.

118:159 See that I loved Thy commandments; Lord, give me life in Thy mercy.

118:160 The beginning of Thy words is truth, and all Thy righteous judgments endure for ever.

118:161 Twenty-one: Sen. Rulers pursued me without cause, and my heart was afraid of Thy words.

118:162 I will rejoice in Thy sayings like one who finds much spoil.

118:163 I hated and abhorred injustice, but I loved Thy law.

118:164 Seven times a day I praised Thee for Thy righteous judgments.

118:165 Great peace belongs to those who love Thy law, and there is no stumbling block for them.

118:166 I awaited Thy salvation, Lord, and I loved Thy commandments.

118:167 My soul kept Thy testimonies and loved them greatly.

118:168 I kept Thy commandments and Thy testimonies, for all my ways are before Thee, Lord.

118:169 Twenty-two: Thau. Let my supplication draw near before Thee, Lord; give me understanding according to Thy saying.

118:170 May my plea enter before Thee; deliver me according to Thy saying.

118:171 May my lips pour forth a hymn when Thou teachest me Thine ordinances.

118:172 May my tongue utter Thy saying, for all Thy commandments are righteousness.

118:173 Let Thy hand be for saving me, for I chose Thy commandments.

118:174 I longed for Thy salvation, Lord, and Thy law is my meditation.

118:175 My soul will live and praise Thee, and Thy judgments will help me.

118:176 I wandered like a lost sheep; seek Thy servant, for I did not forget Thy commandments.

Psalms 119

119:1 A song of the ascents. To the Lord, when I was afflicted, I cried, and He heard me.

119:2 Lord, rescue my soul from unjust lips and from a deceitful tongue.

119:3 What might be given to you, and what might be added to you, against a deceitful tongue?

119:4 The mighty one’s sharpened arrows, with desert coals.

119:5 Alas for me, for my sojourn has been prolonged; I have encamped among the tents of Kedar.

119:6 My soul has sojourned a long time.

119:7 With those who hate peace I was peaceable; whenever I spoke to them, they fought me without cause.

Psalms 120

120:1 A song of the ascents. I lifted my eyes to the mountains. From where will my help come?

120:2 My help is from the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

120:3 Do not give your foot over to shaking, and may your Keeper not slumber.

120:4 Behold, the One guarding Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

120:5 The Lord will guard you; the Lord is your shelter at your right hand.

120:6 By day the sun will not scorch you, nor the moon by night.

120:7 The Lord will guard you from all evil; He will guard your soul.

120:8 The Lord will guard your coming in and your going out, from now and for ever.

Psalms 121

121:1 A song of the ascents. I rejoiced over those who said to me, “We will go to the Lord’s house.”

121:2 Our feet were standing in your courts, Jerusalem.

121:3 Jerusalem, being built as a city whose common sharing is together,

121:4 for there the tribes went up, the tribes of the Lord—a testimony for Israel— to give thanks to the Lord’s name.

121:5 For there thrones sat for judgment, thrones over David’s house.

121:6 Ask, then, for the things that bring Jerusalem peace, and prosperity for those who love you.

121:7 May there be peace within your strength, and prosperity within your fortified towers.

121:8 For the sake of my brothers and neighbors, I was speaking peace concerning you.

121:9 For the sake of the house of the Lord our God, I sought good things for you.

Psalms 122

122:1 A song of the ascents. To Thee I lifted my eyes, Thou who dwellest in heaven.

122:2 Behold, as slaves’ eyes turn to their masters’ hands, as a slave woman’s eyes turn to her mistress’s hands, so our eyes turn to the Lord our God, until He has compassion on us.

122:3 Have mercy on us, Lord, have mercy on us, for we have been filled with contempt to excess,

122:4 Our soul has been filled beyond measure. Reproach for those who prosper, and contempt for the proud.

Psalms 123

123:1 A song of the ascents. Had the Lord not been among us— let Israel now say—

123:2 had the Lord not been among us when people rose against us,

123:3 then they would have swallowed us alive when their fury was kindled against us.

123:4 Then the water drowned us; our soul passed through a torrent.

123:5 Then our soul passed through the irresistible water.

123:6 Blessed be the Lord, who did not give us as prey to their teeth.

123:7 Our soul was rescued like a little bird from the trap of hunters; the trap was shattered, and we were rescued.

123:8 Our help is in the Lord’s name, who made heaven and earth.

Psalms 124

124:1 A song of the ascents. Those trusting in the Lord are like Mount Zion; the one dwelling in Jerusalem will never be shaken.

124:2 Mountains are around her, and the Lord is around His people, from now and for ever.

124:3 For He will not leave the rod of sinners upon the lot of the righteous, so that the righteous may not stretch out their hands in lawlessness.

124:4 Do good, Lord, to the good and to those upright in heart.

124:5 But those turning aside into tangled ways— the Lord will lead them away with workers of lawlessness. Peace upon Israel.

Psalms 125

125:1 A song of the ascents. When the Lord turned back Zion's captivity, we became like those comforted.

125:2 Then our mouth was filled with joy and our tongue with exultation. Then they will say among the nations, "The Lord has done great things with them."

125:3 The Lord has done great things with us; we became glad.

125:4 Turn back our captivity, Lord, like torrents in the south.

125:5 Those sowing in tears will reap with exultation.

125:6 Going, they went and wept, carrying their seeds; but coming, they will arrive with exultation, carrying their sheaves.

Psalms 126

126:1 A song of the ascents. For Solomon. Unless the Lord builds a house, those building it have labored in vain. Unless the Lord guards a city, the watchman has kept awake in vain.

126:2 It is vain for you to rise early, to get up after sitting down, you who eat bread of pain, when He gives sleep to His beloved ones.

126:3 Behold, sons are the Lord's inheritance, the reward of the fruit of the womb.

126:4 Like arrows in a mighty man's hand, so are the sons of those who have been cast out.

126:5 Happy is the person who will fill his desire with them. They will not be put to shame when they speak with their enemies at the gate.

Psalms 127

127:1 A song of the ascents. Happy are all who fear the Lord, who walk in His ways.

127:2 You will eat the labors of your wrists; happy are you, and it will be well with you.

127:3 Your wife is like a flourishing vine in the sides of your house; your sons are like newly planted olive trees around your table.

127:4 Behold, thus will the person be blessed who fears the Lord.

127:5 May the Lord bless you from Zion, and may you see Jerusalem's good things all the days of your life.

127:6 And may you see sons of your sons. Peace upon Israel.

Psalms 128

128:1 A song of the ascents. Many times they fought against me from my youth— let Israel now say—

128:2 many times they fought against me from my youth, and indeed they did not prevail over me.

128:3 On my back sinners worked; they prolonged their lawlessness.

128:4 The righteous Lord cut apart the necks of sinners.

128:5 May all who hate Zion be put to shame and turn backward.

128:6 May they become like grass on roofs, which dried up before it was pulled out,

128:7 with which no reaper has filled his hand, nor the one gathering sheaves his bosom,

128:8 And passersby have not said, "The Lord's blessing be upon you; we have blessed you in the Lord's name."

Psalms 129

129:1 A song of the ascents. From the depths I have cried unto Thee, Lord.

129:2 Lord, hear my voice; let Thine ears be attentive to the voice of my petition.

129:3 If Thou dost closely watch lawless deeds, Lord, Lord, who will withstand?

129:4 For with Thee is atonement.

129:5 Because of Thy law I waited for Thee, Lord; my soul waited for Thy word.

129:6 My soul hoped in the Lord from the morning watch until night; from the morning watch let Israel hope in the Lord.

129:7 For with the Lord is mercy, and with Him is abundant redemption,

129:8 And He will redeem Israel from all its lawless deeds.

Psalms 130

130:1 A song of the ascents. For David. Lord, my heart was not exalted, nor were my eyes raised high; I did not walk among great things nor among wonders beyond me.

130:2 If I was not humble-minded, but exalted my soul— like the weaned child upon its mother, like repayment upon my soul.

130:3 Let Israel hope in the Lord, from now and for ever.

Psalms 131

131:1 A song of the ascents. Remember David, Lord, and all his gentleness,

131:2 how he swore to the Lord, vowed to the God of Jacob:

131:3 “I will not enter the dwelling of my house, nor climb onto my bed’s couch;

131:4 I will not give sleep to my eyes, slumber to my eyelids, or rest to my temples,

131:5 until I find a place for the Lord, a dwelling for the God of Jacob.”

131:6 Behold, we heard of her in Ephrathah; we found her in the plains of the forest.

131:7 We will enter His dwelling places; we will bow toward the place where His feet stood.

131:8 Rise, Lord, to Thy rest, Thou and the ark of Thy holiness.

131:9 Thy priests will clothe themselves in righteousness, and Thy holy ones will exult.

131:10 For the sake of David Thy slave, do not turn away the face of Thine anointed.

131:11 The Lord swore truth to David, and He will certainly not annul it: “From the fruit of your belly I will set one on your throne.

131:12 If your sons keep My covenant and these testimonies of Mine that I will teach them, their sons too will sit for ever on your throne.”

131:13 For the Lord chose Zion; He selected her as His dwelling:

131:14 “This is My rest for age upon age; here I will dwell, for I selected her.

131:15 I will surely bless her game; I will satisfy her poor with loaves.

131:16 I will clothe her priests with salvation, and her holy ones will surely exult.

131:17 There I will make a horn spring up for David; I have prepared a lamp for My anointed.

131:18 I will clothe his enemies with shame, but upon him My holy sign will blossom.”

Psalms 132

132:1 A song of the ascents. For David. Behold, what is good or what is delightful except for brothers to dwell together?

132:2 Like ointment upon the head, descending upon the beard, Aaron’s beard, descending upon the border of his garment;

132:3 Like Hermon’s dew descending upon Zion’s mountains; for there the Lord commanded the blessing and life for ever.

Psalms 133

133:1 A song of the ascents. Behold, bless the Lord, all slaves of the Lord, who stand in the Lord’s house, in the courts of the house of our God.

133:2 By night lift your hands toward the holy places and bless the Lord.

133:3 The Lord will bless you from Zion, who made heaven and earth.

Psalms 134

134:1 Hallelujah! Praise the Lord’s name; praise the Lord, slaves,

134:2 you who stand in the Lord’s house, in the courts of our God’s house.

134:3 Praise the Lord, for the Lord is good; make music to His name, for it is beautiful.

134:4 For the Lord chose Jacob for Himself, Israel as His special possession.

134:5 For I knew that the Lord is great, and our Lord is above all the gods.

134:6 Everything the Lord willed, He did, in heaven and on earth, in the seas and all the deeps.

134:7 He brings clouds up from the earth’s extremity; He made lightning for rain; He brings winds out of His treasuries.

134:8 He struck Egypt’s firstborn, from man to beast.

134:9 He sent out signs and wonders into your midst, Egypt, upon Pharaoh and all his slaves.

134:10 He struck many nations and killed powerful kings,

134:11 Sihon king of the Amorites, Og king of Bashan, and all Canaan’s kingdoms.

134:12 He gave their land as an inheritance, an inheritance to Israel His people.

134:13 Lord, Thy name is for ever; Lord, Thy memorial is from generation to generation.

134:14 For the Lord will judge His people and be comforted concerning His slaves.

134:15 The nations’ idols are silver and gold, works of human hands.

134:16 They have a mouth but will not speak; they have eyes but will not see.

134:17 They have ears but will not listen; they have noses but will not smell; they have hands but will not touch; they have feet but will not walk; they will not sound in their throat, for there is no breath in their mouth.

134:18 May those who make them become like them, and all who trust in them.

134:19 House of Israel, bless the Lord; house of Aaron, bless the Lord.

134:20 House of Levi, bless the Lord; you who fear the Lord, bless the Lord.

134:21 Blessed be the Lord from Zion, He who dwells in Jerusalem.

Psalms 135

135:1 Hallelujah! Give thanks to the Lord, for He is kind; for His mercy is for ever.

135:2 Give thanks to the God of gods; for His mercy is for ever.

135:3 Give thanks to the Lord of lords; for His mercy is for ever.

135:4 To Him who alone does great wonders; for His mercy is for ever.

135:5 To Him who made the heavens with understanding; for His mercy is for ever.

135:6 To Him who made the earth firm upon the waters; for His mercy is for ever.

135:7 To Him who alone made great lights; for His mercy is for ever.

135:8 the sun for authority over the day; for His mercy is for ever.

135:9 the moon and stars for authority over the night; for His mercy is for ever.

135:10 To Him who struck Egypt with their firstborn; for His mercy is for ever.

135:11 And to Him who brought Israel out from their midst; for His mercy is for ever.

135:12 with a mighty hand and a raised arm; for His mercy is for ever.

135:13 To Him who divided the Red Sea into divisions; for His mercy is for ever.

135:14 And to Him who led Israel through its midst; for His mercy is for ever.

135:15 And to Him who shook Pharaoh and his force into the Red Sea; for His mercy is for ever.

135:16 To Him who led His people through the wilderness; for His mercy is for ever. To Him who brought water out of a sheer rock; for His mercy is for ever.

135:17 To Him who struck great kings; for His mercy is for ever.

135:18 And to Him who killed mighty kings; for His mercy is for ever.

135:19 Sihon king of the Amorites; for His mercy is for ever.

135:20 and Og king of Bashan; for His mercy is for ever.

135:21 And to Him who gave their land as an inheritance; for His mercy is for ever.

135:22 an inheritance to Israel His slave; for His mercy is for ever.

135:23 For in our humiliation the Lord remembered us; for His mercy is for ever.

135:24 And He redeemed us from our enemies; for His mercy is for ever.

135:25 He gives food to all flesh; for His mercy is for ever.

135:26 Give thanks to the God of heaven; for His mercy is for ever. Give thanks to the Lord of lords; for His mercy is for ever.

Psalms 136

136:1 For David. By Babylon’s rivers, there we sat and wept when we remembered Zion.

136:2 Upon the willows in her midst we hung our instruments.

136:3 For there those who took us captive asked us for words of songs, and those who led us away for a hymn: “Sing us some of Zion’s songs.”

136:4 How can we sing the Lord’s song on foreign land?

136:5 If I forget you, Jerusalem, may my right hand be forgotten.

136:6 May my tongue cling to my throat if I do not remember you, if I do not set Jerusalem first at the beginning of my gladness.

136:7 Remember, Lord, Edom’s sons on Jerusalem’s day, those saying, “Empty her, empty her, down to the foundation within her!”

136:8 Daughter Babylon, miserable one, happy is the one who will repay you the repayment you gave us.

136:9 Happy is the one who will seize your infants and dash them against the rock.

Psalms 137

137:1 For David. I will thank Thee, Lord, with all my heart, for Thou heardest the words of my mouth, and before angels I will make music unto Thee.

137:2 I will bow toward Thy holy temple and thank Thy name for Thy mercy and Thy truth, for Thou hast magnified Thine utterance above every name.

137:3 On whatever day I call Thee, hear me quickly; Thou wilt greatly attend to me with strength in my soul.

137:4 Let all earth's kings thank Thee, Lord, for they heard all the words of Thy mouth.

137:5 And let them sing in the Lord's ways, for great is the Lord's glory.

137:6 For the Lord is high and watches the lowly, and the lofty He knows from afar.

137:7 If I walk amid affliction, Thou wilt keep me alive; against my enemies' anger Thou didst stretch out Thy hand, and Thy right hand saved me.

137:8 The Lord will repay on my behalf. Lord, Thy mercy is for ever; do not neglect the works of Thy hands.

Psalms 138

138:1 For the end. A psalm for David. Lord, Thou didst test me and know me.

138:2 Thou knewest my sitting and my rising; Thou didst understand my reasonings from afar.

138:3 Thou didst trace my path and my measuring cord, and Thou didst foresee all my ways.

138:4 For there is no word on my tongue,

138:5 behold, Lord, Thou knewest all things, the last and the first; Thou didst form me and place Thy hand upon me.

138:6 Thy knowledge was made wondrous beyond me; it grew strong—I cannot reach it.

138:7 Where can I go from Thy Spirit, and where can I flee from Thy face?

138:8 If I ascend to heaven, Thou art there; if I descend into Hades, Thou art present.

138:9 if I take up my wings at dawn and settle at the sea's farthest reaches,

138:10 indeed, even there Thy hand will guide me, and Thy right hand will hold me fast.

138:11 And I said, "Then darkness will trample me, and night is light in my delight."

138:12 For darkness will not be dark from Thee, and night will be lit up like day; as its darkness, so also its light.

138:13 For Thou didst acquire my kidneys, Lord; Thou didst support me from my mother's womb.

138:14 I will thank Thee, for I was made fearfully wonderful; wondrous are Thy works, and my soul knows very well.

138:15 My bone was not hidden from Thee, which Thou madest in secret, and my substance in earth's lowest places.

138:16 Thine eyes saw my unworked substance, and in Thy book all will be written; they will be formed over days, and none among them.

138:17 Thy friends were greatly honored by me, God; their beginnings grew very strong.

138:18 I will count them, and they will multiply beyond the sand; I awoke, and I am still with Thee.

138:19 If Thou dost kill sinners, God— men of blood, turn away from me, 138:20 for Thou wilt speak into deliberation; they will take Thy cities into vanity.

138:21 Did I not hate those who hate Thee, Lord, and melt away over Thine enemies?

138:22 I hated them with complete hatred; they became enemies to me.

138:23 Test me, God, and know my heart; examine me and know my paths,

138:24 and see whether a way of lawlessness is in me, and guide me in an eternal way.

Psalms 139

139:1 For the end. A psalm for David.

139:2 Rescue me, Lord, from an evil person; deliver me from an unjust man, 139:3 those who devised injustices in their heart and were arraying wars all day.

139:4 They sharpened their tongue like a serpent's; asp venom is beneath their lips. Diapsalma.

139:5 Guard me, Lord, from a sinner's hand; rescue me from unjust people, those who devised to trip my steps.

139:6 The proud hid a trap for me and stretched cords, traps for my feet; along the path they set a stumbling block for me. Diapsalma.

139:7 I said to the Lord, "Thou art my God." Listen, Lord, to the voice of my petition.

139:8 Lord, Lord, power of my salvation, Thou didst overshadow my head on the day of war.

139:9 Do not hand me over to a sinner, Lord, through my desire; they schemed against me; do not abandon me, lest they rise high. Diapsalma.

139:10 The head of their encirclement— the trouble of their lips will cover them.

139:11 Coals will fall upon them; in fire Thou wilt cast them down; in miseries they will certainly not withstand.

139:12 A talkative man will not be set straight on the earth; evils will hunt an unjust man to destruction.

139:13 I knew that the Lord will act for the poor person’s judgment and the needy people’s cause.

139:14 Indeed, the righteous will thank Thy name, and the upright will dwell with Thy presence.

Psalms 140

140:1 A psalm for David. Lord, I have cried unto Thee; hear me. Attend to the voice of my petition when I cry unto Thee.

140:2 Let my prayer be directed as incense before Thee, the lifting of my hands as an evening sacrifice.

140:3 Set a guard, Lord, for my mouth and a restraining door around my lips.

140:4 Do not turn my heart toward words of wickedness, to offer excuses for sins with people who practice lawlessness, and I will certainly not join with their chosen ones.

140:5 A righteous man will discipline me in mercy and correct me, but let a sinner’s oil not enrich my head, for still my prayer is amid their good pleasures.

140:6 Their judges were swallowed up beside a rock; they will hear my words, for they became sweet.

140:7 Like a clod of earth broken upon the earth, our bones were scattered beside Hades.

140:8 For my eyes are toward Thee, Lord, Lord; in Thee I hoped—do not take away my soul.

140:9 Guard me from the trap they assembled for me and from the stumbling blocks of those practicing lawlessness.

140:10 Sinners will fall into his casting net; I am alone until I pass by.

Psalms 141

141:1 Of understanding, of David, when he was in the cave. A prayer.

141:2 With my voice I cried to the Lord; with my voice I pleaded with the Lord.

141:3 I will pour out my plea before Him; I will declare my affliction before Him.

141:4 When my spirit was failing within me, Thou knewest my paths. On this way where I was walking, they hid a trap for me.

141:5 I looked to the right and observed, for there was no one recognizing me. Escape perished from me, and there is no one seeking my soul.

141:6 I cried unto Thee, Lord; I said, Thou art my hope, my portion in the land of the living.

141:7 Attend to my plea, for I was brought very low. Rescue me from those pursuing me, for they grew stronger than I.

141:8 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may thank Thy name, Lord. The righteous will wait for me until Thou repayest me.

Psalms 142

142:1 A psalm of David, when his son pursues him. Lord, hear my prayer; give ear to my plea in Thy truth. Answer me in Thy righteousness.

142:2 Do not enter into judgment with Thy servant, for no one living will be justified before Thee.

142:3 For the enemy pursued my soul, brought my life low to the ground, made me sit in dark places like those long dead.

142:4 My spirit grew despondent within me; within me my heart was troubled.

142:5 I remembered ancient days and meditated on all Thy works; I was pondering the works of Thy hands.

142:6 I spread out my hands unto Thee; my soul is like a waterless land for Thee. Diapsalma.

142:7 Quickly hear me, Lord; my spirit is spent. Do not turn Thy face away from me, or I shall become like those descending to the pit.

142:8 Make Thy mercy heard by me in the morning, for I hoped in Thee. Make known to me, Lord, the way I shall walk, for unto Thee I lifted my soul.

142:9 Take me out from my enemies, Lord, for I fled unto Thee for refuge.

142:10 Teach me to do Thy will, for Thou art my God. Thy good Spirit will lead me on level ground.

142:11 For Thy name’s sake, Lord, Thou wilt give me life; in Thy righteousness Thou wilt bring my soul out of distress.

142:12 In Thy mercy Thou wilt utterly destroy my enemies and destroy all who distress my soul, for I am Thy servant.

Psalms 143

143:1 Of David, concerning Goliath. Blessed is the Lord, my God, who trains my hands for battle array, my fingers for war.

143:2 My mercy and my refuge, my Helper and my Rescuer, my Defender, in whom I hoped, who subjects my people beneath me.

143:3 Lord, what is man, that Thou becamest known to him, or a son of man, that Thou takest account of him?

143:4 A man was likened to futility; his days pass like a shadow.

143:5 Lord, bend Thy heavens and descend; touch the mountains, and they will smoke.

143:6 Flash lightning, and Thou wilt scatter them; send out Thine arrows, and Thou wilt throw them into confusion.

143:7 Send out Thy hand from on high; take me out and rescue me from many waters, from the hand of foreigners.

143:8 Whose mouth spoke futility, and whose right hand is a right hand of injustice.

143:9 God, I will sing a new song unto Thee; on a ten-stringed psaltery I will make music unto Thee.

143:10 To Him who gives salvation to kings, who redeems David His servant from an evil sword.

143:11 Rescue me and take me out from the hand of foreigners, whose mouth spoke futility and whose right hand is a right hand of injustice.

143:12 Whose sons are like young plants established in their youth, their daughters beautified, adorned all around like the likeness of a sanctuary.

143:13 Their storehouses full, pouring forth from this to that; their sheep bearing many young, multiplying in their outgoing places.

143:14 Their oxen fat; there is no collapse of a fence and no passage out, nor any cry in their squares.

143:15 They called happy the people who have these things; happy the people whose God is the Lord.

Psalms 144

144:1 A praise of David. I will exalt Thee, my God, my King, and bless Thy name for the age and for the age of the age.

144:2 Every day I will bless Thee and praise Thy name for the age and for the age of the age.

144:3 Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised; His greatness has no limit.

144:4 Generation after generation will praise Thy works, and they will declare Thy power.

144:5 They will speak of the magnificence of the glory of Thy holiness, and they will recount Thy wonders.

144:6 They will speak of the power of Thy fearsome acts, and they will recount Thy greatness.

144:7 They will pour forth remembrance of the abundance of Thy kindness and rejoice in Thy righteousness.

144:8 Compassionate and merciful is the Lord, patient and abundant in mercy.

144:9 The Lord is kind to all, and His compassions are over all His works.

144:10 Let all Thy works give thanks unto Thee, Lord, and let Thy holy ones bless Thee.

144:11 They will speak of the glory of Thy kingdom and tell of Thy might,

144:12 to make known to the sons of men Thy might and the glory of the magnificence of Thy kingdom.

144:13 Thy kingdom is a kingdom of all ages, and Thy lordship endures through every generation.

144:13a Faithful is the Lord in His words, and holy in all His works.

144:14 The Lord supports all who are falling and raises up all who have been broken down.

144:15 The eyes of all hope in Thee, and Thou givest their food at the right time.

144:16 Thou openest Thy hand and fillest every living creature with good pleasure.

144:17 The Lord is righteous in all His ways and holy in all His works.

144:18 The Lord is near to all who call on Him, to all who call on Him in truth.

144:19 He will fulfill the will of those who fear Him; He will hear their plea and save them.

144:20 The Lord guards all who love Him, and all sinners He will utterly destroy.

144:21 My mouth will speak the Lord’s praise, and let all flesh bless His holy name for the age and for the age of the age.

Psalms 145

145:1 Hallelujah. Of Haggai and Zechariah. Praise the Lord, my soul.

145:2 I will praise the Lord throughout my life; I will make music to my God as long as I exist.

145:3 Do not trust in rulers and in sons of men who have no salvation.

145:4 His spirit will go out, and he will return to his earth; on that day all their reasonings will perish.

145:5 Happy the one whose Helper is the God of Jacob, whose hope is in the Lord his God,

145:6 who made heaven and earth, the sea and all that is in them, who keeps truth for ever,

145:7 who does justice for those wronged, who gives food to the hungry. The Lord releases those in fetters.

145:8 The Lord raises up those broken down; the Lord makes the blind wise; the Lord loves the righteous.

145:9 The Lord guards the newcomers; He will take up the orphan and widow, and He will obliterate the way of sinners.

145:10 The Lord will reign for ever, your God, Zion, through every generation.

Psalms 146

146:1 Hallelujah. Of Haggai and Zechariah. Praise the Lord, for a psalm is good; may praise be pleasing to our God.

146:2 The Lord builds Jerusalem, and He will gather the dispersed of Israel.

146:3 He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their fractures.

146:4 He numbers multitudes of stars and calls them all by names.

146:5 Great is our Lord, and great is His strength; His understanding is beyond number.

146:6 The Lord takes up the meek, but brings sinners low to the ground.

146:7 Begin singing to the Lord with thanksgiving; make music to our God with a lyre,

146:8 who clothes heaven with clouds, who prepares rain for the earth, who makes grass sprout on the mountains and green growth for the service of humans,

146:9 who gives the cattle their food and to the young ravens who call upon Him.

146:10 He will not delight in the horse’s might, nor does He take pleasure in a man’s shins.

146:11 The Lord takes pleasure in those who fear Him and in those who hope in His mercy.

Psalms 147

147:1 Hallelujah. Of Haggai and Zechariah. Commend the Lord, Jerusalem; praise your God, Zion.

147:2 For He strengthened the bars of your gates; He blessed your children within you.

147:3 He makes your borders peaceful and fills you with the finest wheat.

147:4 He sends His oracle to the earth; His word will run swiftly,

147:5 of Him who gives snow like wool, who sprinkles mist like ashes,

147:6 who casts His ice like morsels; who will withstand His cold?

147:7 He will send His word and melt them; He will blow His wind, and waters will flow.

147:8 He declares His word to Jacob, His ordinances and judgments to Israel.

147:9 He did not do so for any nation, and He did not disclose His judgments to them.

Psalms 148

148:1 Hallelujah. Of Haggai and Zechariah. Praise the Lord from the heavens; praise Him in the highest places.

148:2 Praise Him, all His angels; praise Him, all His powers.

148:3 Praise Him, sun and moon; praise Him, all the stars and the light.

148:4 Praise Him, heavens of heavens, and the water above the heavens.

148:5 Let them praise the Lord’s name, for He spoke, and they came to be; He commanded, and they were created.

148:6 He established them for the age and for the age of the age; He set a command, and it will not pass away.

148:7 Praise the Lord from the earth, dragons and all deeps,

148:8 fire, hail, snow, ice, storm wind—all fulfilling His word,

148:9 mountains and all hills, fruit-bearing trees and all cedars,

148:10 wild animals and all cattle, creeping things and winged birds,

148:11 kings of the earth and all peoples, rulers and all judges of the earth,

148:12 young men and young women, old people with younger people.

148:13 Let them praise the Lord’s name, for His name alone was exalted; His praise is over earth and heaven.

148:14 He will raise a horn of His people— a hymn for all His holy ones, for the children of Israel, a people drawing near to Him.

Psalms 149

149:1 Hallelujah. Sing a new song to the Lord, His praise in the assembly of holy ones.

149:2 Let Israel rejoice in the One who made it, and let Zion’s children exult in their King.

149:3 Let them praise His name in a chorus; with tambourine and psaltery let them make music to Him.

149:4 For the Lord takes pleasure in His people, and He will exalt the meek in salvation.

149:5 Holy ones will boast in glory and rejoice upon their beds.

149:6 Exaltations of God in their throat, and two-edged swords in their hands,

149:7 to execute vengeance among the nations, reproofs among the peoples,

149:8 to bind their kings in fetters and their glorious ones in iron handcuffs,

149:9 to execute upon them a written judgment. This is glory for all His holy ones.

Psalms 150

150:1 Hallelujah. Praise God among His holy ones; praise Him in the firmament of His power.

150:2 Praise Him for His mighty acts; praise Him according to the abundance of His greatness.

150:3 Praise Him with the sound of a trumpet; praise Him with psaltery and lyre.

150:4 Praise Him with tambourine and chorus; praise Him with strings and instrument.

150:5 Praise Him with well-sounding cymbals; praise Him with cymbals of a shout.

150:6 Let every breath praise the Lord. Hallelujah.

Psalms 151

151:1 This psalm is personally written concerning David and is outside the number, when he fought Goliath in single combat. I was small among my brothers and younger in my father’s house; I was shepherding my father’s sheep.

151:2 My hands made an instrument; my fingers fitted a psaltery.

151:3 And who shall tell my Lord? He Himself is Lord; He Himself hears.

151:4 He Himself sent out His angel and took me from my father’s sheep and anointed me with the oil of His anointing.

151:5 My brothers were handsome and tall, but the Lord took no pleasure in them.

151:6 I went out to meet the foreigner, and he cursed me by his idols.

151:7 But I drew the sword he carried, cut off his head, and removed reproach from the sons of Israel.

Proverbs

Proverbs 1

1:1 The proverbs of Solomon son of David, who reigned in Israel,

1:2 for knowing wisdom and discipline and understanding words of good sense,

1:3 for receiving turns of speech, understanding true righteousness, and directing judgment rightly,

1:4 so that he may give shrewdness to the innocent, perception and thought to a young child.

1:5 For a wise person who hears these things will become wiser, and the discerning will acquire guidance,

1:6 and understand a comparison and an obscure saying, the utterances of the wise and riddles.

1:7 The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom, and good understanding belongs to all who practice it. Reverence toward God is the beginning of perception, but the ungodly will despise wisdom and discipline.

1:8 Listen, son, to your father’s discipline, and do not reject your mother’s ordinances,

1:9 for you will receive a crown of graces for your head and a golden collar around your neck.

1:10 Son, do not let ungodly men lead you astray; do not agree if they invite you, saying,

1:11 Come with us; share in bloodshed. Let us hide a righteous man in the earth unjustly;

1:12 let us swallow him alive like Hades and remove his memory from the earth.

1:13 Let us seize his costly property and fill our houses with spoils.

1:14 Cast your lot among us; let us all obtain a common purse, and let there be one moneybag for us.

1:15 Do not walk in the way with them; turn your foot away from their paths,

1:16 for their feet run toward evil, and they are quick to shed blood.

1:17 For nets are not unjustly stretched out for winged creatures.

1:18 For those who share in murder store up evils for themselves, and the overthrow of lawless men is evil.

1:19 These are the ways of all who carry out lawless deeds, for through ungodliness they take away their own life.

1:20 Wisdom is celebrated at the exits, and in the squares she speaks openly.

1:21 At the tops of walls she is proclaimed; at rulers’ gates she sits nearby, and at city gates she speaks boldly:

1:22 As long as the innocent hold to righteousness, they will not be ashamed. But the senseless, desiring insolence, became ungodly and hated perception,

1:23 and became liable to reproofs. Behold, I will send forth to you an utterance of my breath, and I will teach you my word.

1:24 Since I kept calling and you did not obey, and kept extending words and you paid no attention,

1:25 but you were making my counsels ineffective and disobeyed my reproofs,

1:26 therefore I too will laugh at your ruin and exult when destruction comes to you,

1:27 and when sudden tumult reaches you and overthrow arrives like a storm, when affliction and siege come upon you, or when destruction comes to you.

1:28 For when you call upon me, I will not listen to you; evil people will seek me and will not find me,

1:29 for they hated wisdom and did not choose the fear of the Lord,

1:30 nor did they want to attend to my counsels, but they were sneering at my reproofs.

1:31 Therefore they will eat the fruits of their own way and be filled with their own ungodliness.

1:32 For because they wronged the innocent, they will be murdered, and examination will destroy the ungodly.

1:33 But whoever listens to me will dwell in hope and rest fearlessly from every evil.

Proverbs 2

2:1 Son, if you receive an utterance of my commandment and hide it within yourself,

2:2 your ear will obey wisdom, and you will apply your heart to understanding; you will also apply it to admonishing your son.

2:3 for if you call upon wisdom and give your voice to understanding, and seek perception with a loud voice,

2:4 and if you seek it like silver and search it out like treasures,

2:5 then you will understand the fear of the Lord and find the knowledge of God.

2:6 For the Lord gives wisdom, and from His presence come knowledge and understanding.

2:7 He stores up salvation for those acting rightly; He will shield their journey,

2:8 to guard the ways of righteous ordinances, and He will protect the way of those who revere Him.

2:9 Then you will understand righteousness and judgment, and you will make all good courses straight.

2:10 For if wisdom enters your mind and perception seems good to your soul,

2:11 good counsel will guard you, and holy thought will keep you,

2:12 so that it may rescue you from an evil way and from a man who says nothing trustworthy.

2:13 O you who abandon straight ways to walk in ways of darkness,

2:14 who delight in evils and rejoice in evil distortion,

2:15 whose paths are crooked and whose tracks are bent,

2:16 to put you far from a straight way and make you alien to a righteous judgment.

2:17 Son, do not let evil counsel seize you, counsel that abandons the teaching of youth and has forgotten a divine covenant.

2:18 For she has set her house beside death and her courses beside Hades with the earthborn.

2:19 All who travel in her will not return, nor will they reach straight paths, for they are not reached by years of life.

2:20 For if they had walked good paths, they would have found smooth paths of righteousness.

2:21 Good people will inhabit the land, and the innocent will remain in it, for the upright will dwell in the land and the holy will remain in it.

2:22 The ways of the ungodly will perish from the land, and the lawless will be driven out of it.

Proverbs 3

3:1 Son, do not forget my ordinances; let your heart keep my words,

3:2 for they will add length of life, years of living, and peace to you.

3:3 Do not let acts of mercy and faithfulness fail you. Fasten them around your neck, and you will find favor.

3:4 And take thought for good things before the Lord and people.

3:5 Trust God with your whole heart; do not exalt yourself in your own wisdom.

3:6 In all your ways acknowledge her, that she may cut your ways straight; and your foot will surely not stumble.

3:7 Do not be prudent in your own estimation; fear God and turn away from every evil.

3:8 Then there will be healing for your body and care for your bones.

3:9 Honor the Lord from your righteous labors, and offer Him firstfruits from your fruits of righteousness,

3:10 so that your storerooms may be filled with an abundance of grain and your vats gush with wine.

3:11 Son, do not make light of the Lord’s discipline or lose heart when corrected by Him,

3:12 for the Lord disciplines the one He loves and scourges every son He receives.

3:13 Blessed is the person who found wisdom, the mortal who saw good sense,

3:14 for trading in her is better than treasures of gold and silver.

3:15 She is more valuable than costly stones; nothing evil will stand against her. She is readily known to all who approach her, and nothing precious is worthy of her.

3:16 For length of life and years of living are in her right hand, and wealth and glory in her left.

3:16a Righteousness proceeds from her mouth, and she carries law and mercy on her tongue.

3:17 Her ways are good ways, and all her paths are in peace.

3:18 She is a tree of life to all who hold her fast, and secure for those who lean on her as on the Lord.

3:19 God founded the earth by wisdom and prepared the heavens by good sense.

3:20 By perception the deeps were split open, and clouds flowed with dew.

3:21 Son, do not drift away; keep my counsel and thought,

3:22 so that your soul may live and grace be around your neck.

3:22a There will be healing for your flesh and care for your bones,

3:23 so that you may walk all your ways confidently in peace, and your foot will certainly not stumble.

3:24 For if you sit, you will be fearless, and if you sleep, you will sleep pleasantly.

3:25 You will not fear an approaching fright or the oncoming assaults of the ungodly,

3:26 for the Lord will be upon all your ways and support your foot so that you are not shaken.

3:27 Do not refrain from doing good to someone in need whenever your hand has the means to help.

3:28 Do not say, ‘Go away and come back; tomorrow I will give,’ when you are able to do good, for you do not know what the coming day will bring forth.

3:29 Do not devise evils against your friend who lives nearby and trusts in you.

3:30 Do not seek enmity with anyone in vain, lest he do you some harm.

3:31 Do not acquire the reproaches of evil men or imitate their ways,

3:32 for every lawless person is unclean before the Lord, and he does not sit in council among the righteous.

3:33 God’s curse is in the houses of the ungodly, but the dwellings of the righteous are blessed.

3:34 The Lord opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble.

3:35 The wise will inherit glory, but the ungodly raised up dishonor.

Proverbs 4

4:1 Listen, children, to a father’s discipline; pay attention to gain discernment,

4:2 for I give you a good gift; do not abandon my law.

4:3 For I too became a son obedient to a father and loved in a mother’s presence,

4:4 who used to speak to me and teach me: Let our word take hold in your heart;

4:5 keep commandments; do not forget or disregard an utterance of my mouth,

4:6 and do not abandon her, and she will hold fast to you; love her, and she will keep you.

4:8 Fortify her, and she will exalt you; honor her so that she may embrace you,

4:9 so that she may give your head a crown of graces and shield you with a crown of delight.

4:10 Listen, son, and receive my words, and your years of life will multiply, so that many ways of living may be yours,

4:11 for I teach you ways of wisdom and lead you onto straight tracks.

4:12 For if you walk, your steps will not be shut in, and if you run, you will not grow weary.

4:13 Take hold of my discipline; do not release it, but keep it for yourself for your life.

4:14 Do not enter the ways of the ungodly or imitate the ways of the lawless.

4:15 Wherever they encamp, do not go there; turn away from them and pass by.

4:16 For they will not sleep unless they do harm; their sleep has been taken away, and they do not lie down.

4:17 For these people eat food of ungodliness and get drunk on lawless wine.

4:18 But the ways of the righteous shine like light; they go forward and illuminate until the day comes right.

4:19 But the ways of the ungodly are dark; they do not know how they stumble.

4:20 Son, attend to my utterance; apply your ear to my words,

4:21 so that your springs do not fail you; keep them in your heart,

4:22 for there is life for those who find them and healing for all flesh.

4:23 With every guard keep your heart, for from these come life’s outlets.

4:24 Remove a crooked mouth from yourself and thrust unjust lips far away from you.

4:25 Let your eyes look straight, and let your eyelids incline toward righteous things.

4:26 Make straight tracks for your feet and direct your ways rightly.

4:27 Do not turn to the right or the left; turn your foot away from an evil way.

4:27a For God knows the ways on the right, but those on the left are perverted.

4:27b He Himself will make your tracks straight and advance your journeys in peace.

Proverbs 5

5:1 Son, attend to my wisdom, and incline your ear to my words,

5:2 so that you may guard good understanding. I command you to heed the discernment of my lips.

5:3 Do not attend to a base woman, for honey drips from a prostitute’s lips; for a time she oils your throat.

5:4 Afterward, however, you will find it more bitter than gall and sharper than a two-edged blade.

5:5 For folly’s feet lead those who engage with her down with death into Hades; her tracks are not firmly set.

5:6 For she does not travel life’s ways; her tracks are slippery and not easy to recognize.

5:7 Now therefore, son, listen to me, and do not make my words ineffective.

5:8 Put your way far from her; do not approach the doors of her houses,

5:9 so that you do not surrender your life to others and your livelihood to the merciless,

5:10 so that outsiders are not filled with your strength, and your labors enter outsiders' houses,

5:11 and you will come to regret it at the end, when the flesh of your body is worn away,

5:12 and you will say, "How I hated discipline! My heart turned aside from rebukes.

5:13 I did not listen to the voice of the one disciplining and teaching me, nor incline my ear.

5:14 I was nearly in every kind of evil in the midst of the assembly and congregation."

5:15 Drink waters from your vessels and from your spring wells.

5:16 Do not let waters overflow for you from your spring; but let your waters travel into your own squares.

5:17 Let them belong to you alone, and let no outsider share with you.

5:18 Let your fountain of water be your own, and share joy with the wife of your youth.

5:19 Let a deer of affection and a colt of your graces keep company with you. Let your own woman lead you and be with you at every time, for as you move in the company of her affection, you will be one among many.

5:20 Do not be much involved with another woman, nor be held in the arms of one who is not your own.

5:21 For a man's ways are before God's eyes, and He watches all his tracks.

5:22 Lawless acts hunt a man, and each is bound tight by the cords of his own sins.

5:23 He dies among the undisciplined; from the abundance of his own life he was cast out and perished through folly.

Proverbs 6

6:1 Son, if you act as guarantor for your friend, you will give your hand over to an enemy.

6:2 For a man's own lips are a strong trap, and he is caught by the lips of his own mouth.

6:3 Son, do what I command you and save yourself—for through your friend you have come into evil men's hands. Go without growing slack, and press the friend for whom you acted as guarantor.

6:4 Give no sleep to your eyes, nor doze with your eyelids,

6:5 so that you may save yourself like a gazelle from snares and like a bird from a trap.

6:6 Go to the ant, sluggard; see its ways and emulate them, and become wiser than it.

6:7 For although it has no cultivated field, and has no one forcing it, and is under no master,

6:8 it prepares its food in summer and makes abundant provision at harvest.

6:8a Or go to the bee and learn how industrious she is, and how nobly she performs her work,

6:8b whose labors kings and private people use for health; she is desired by everyone and held in esteem.

6:8c Although weak in bodily strength, she was advanced because she honored wisdom.

6:9 How long will you remain lying down, sluggard? When will you rise from sleep?

6:10 You sleep a little, sit a little, doze a little, and clasp your chest with your hands a little;

6:11 then poverty arrives beside you like an evil traveler, and want like a good runner.

6:11a But if you are diligent, your harvest will come like a spring, and want will desert you like a bad runner.

6:12 A foolish and lawless man travels ways that are not good;

6:13 the same man signals with his eye and gives signs with his foot, and instructs by gestures of his fingers;

6:14 with a twisted heart he devises evils at every time. Such a person stirs up disturbances for a city.

6:15 Therefore his destruction comes suddenly: a cutting down and an incurable crushing,

6:16 because he rejoices in everything the Lord hates, and is crushed because of his soul's uncleanness:

6:17 an insolent person's eye, an unjust tongue, hands shedding a righteous person's blood,

6:18 and a heart devising evil thoughts, and feet hastening to do harm;

6:19 an unjust witness kindles falsehoods and sends disputes among brothers.

6:20 Son, guard your father's laws, and do not reject your mother's ordinances.

6:21 Fasten them always upon your soul, and collar them around your neck.

6:22 Whenever you walk, take her along and let her be with you; when you sleep, let her guard you, so that when you rise she may converse with you,

6:23 because the commandment of law is a lamp and a light, and correction and discipline are life's way,

6:24 to preserve you from a married woman and from an alien tongue's slander.

6:25 Do not let desire for beauty overcome you; do not be hunted by your own eyes, nor seized by her eyelids.

6:26 For a prostitute's price is as much as one loaf, but a woman hunts men's precious lives.

6:27 Will someone bind fire in his bosom without burning his garments?

6:28 Or will someone walk on fiery coals without burning his feet?

6:29 So is the one who goes in to a married woman: he will not be acquitted, nor will anyone touching her.

6:30 It is no wonder if someone is caught stealing, for he steals to fill his appetite when hungry.

6:31 But if caught, he will repay sevenfold, and by giving all his possessions he will rescue himself.

6:32 But the adulterer, through lack of sense, brings destruction upon his own life;

6:33 he bears pains and dishonors, and his reproach will never be wiped away.

6:34 For her husband's anger is full of jealousy; he will not spare on the day of judgment,

6:35 he will not trade his enmity for any ransom, nor be reconciled by many gifts.

Proverbs 7

7:1 Son, guard my words, and hide my commandments with yourself.

7:1a Son, honor the Lord and you will be strong; apart from Him, fear no other.

7:2 Guard my commandments and you will live, and my words like the pupils of eyes.

7:3 Put them around your fingers; inscribe them on the broad surface of your heart.

7:4 Say that wisdom is your sister, and acquire understanding as your familiar companion,

7:5 so that she may keep you from an alien and wicked woman, if she catches you with pleasing words.

7:6 For she leans out from a window of her house toward the squares,

7:7 and whenever she sees among the foolish children a young man lacking sense,

7:8 passing by a corner in the passages of her houses

7:9 and talking in evening darkness, when night is still and murky,

7:10 the woman meets him, with a prostitute's appearance, making young men's hearts fly away.

7:11 She is fluttering with excitement and dissolute; her feet do not rest in the house.

7:12 For at one time she roams outside, and at another she lies in wait in the squares, at every corner.

7:13 Then she took hold of him and kissed him; with a shameless face she addressed him:

7:14 "I have a peace sacrifice; today I am paying my vows.

7:15 For this reason I came out to meet you; longing for your face, I have found you.

7:16 I have stretched my bed with bands and spread it with double-sided rugs from Egypt.

7:17 I have sprinkled my bed with saffron and my house with cinnamon.

7:18 Come, let us enjoy affection until dawn; come here, let us roll in love.

7:19 For my husband is not at home; he has gone on a long journey,

7:20 taking a pouch of silver in his hand; after many days he will return to his house."

7:21 She led him astray with much conversation and drove him off course with snares from her lips.

7:22 He followed her, made a fool, as an ox is led to slaughter and as a dog to bonds,

7:23 or as a deer struck in the liver by an arrow. He hurries like a bird into a trap, not knowing that he runs for his life.

7:24 Now therefore, son, listen to me, and attend to my mouth's sayings.

7:25 Do not let your heart turn aside to her ways.

7:26 For she has wounded and brought down many, and those she has murdered are beyond counting.

7:27 Her house is ways to Hades, leading down to death's chambers.

Proverbs 8

8:1 You will proclaim wisdom, so that understanding may heed you.

8:2 For she is on the high summits, and stands between the paths.

8:3 For she sits beside the gates of rulers, and is praised at the entrances:

8:4 "You, O human beings, I summon, and I send forth my voice to the children of humankind.

8:5 Understand resourcefulness, you innocent ones; and you uneducated, put your heart into it.

8:6 Listen to me, for I will speak noble things, and bring forth upright things from my lips.

8:7 For my throat will meditate on truth, and lying lips are detestable before me.

8:8 All the words of my mouth are with righteousness; there is nothing crooked or entangled in them.

8:9 They are all plain to those who understand, and upright to those who find knowledge.

8:10 Take discipline rather than silver, and knowledge above tested gold; choose discernment rather than pure gold.

8:11 For wisdom is better than costly stones, and nothing precious is worthy of her.

8:12 I, Wisdom, have made counsel my dwelling, and I have called upon knowledge and reflection.

8:13 The fear of the Lord hates injustice, insolence and arrogance and the ways of wicked people; and I hate the perverted ways of evil people.

8:14 Counsel and security are mine; understanding is mine, and strength is mine.

8:15 Through me kings reign, and rulers write righteousness.

8:16 Through me great men become great, and through me sovereigns rule the earth.

8:17 I love those who love me, and those who seek me will find me.

8:18 Wealth and glory belong to me, and possession of many things and righteousness.

8:19 It is better to reap me than gold and precious stone, and my produce is better than choice silver.

8:20 I walk in ways of righteousness, and move in the midst of paths of just judgment,

8:21 so that I may apportion substance to those who love me, and fill their storehouses with good things.

8:21a If I announce to you the things that happen day by day, I will remember to recount the things from eternity.

8:22 The Lord created me as the beginning of His ways, for His works.

8:23 Before the age He founded me, in the beginning,

8:24 before making the earth and before making the deeps, before the springs of the waters came forth,

8:25 before the mountains were established, and before all hills He gives me birth.

8:26 The Lord made countries and uninhabited places, and the inhabited extremities of the world beneath heaven.

8:27 When He was preparing heaven, I was present with Him, and when He was marking out His own throne upon winds.

8:28 When He was making the clouds above strong, and when He was setting the springs of the world beneath heaven secure,

8:29 and was making the foundations of the earth strong,

8:30 I was beside Him, fitting things together; I was the one in whom He delighted. Day by day I rejoiced before Him at every time,

8:31 when He rejoiced after completing the inhabited world, and delighted in the children of humankind.

8:32 Now, therefore, son, listen to me.

8:34 Happy is the man who will listen to me, and the person who will keep my ways, staying awake at my doors day by day, guarding the posts of my entrances.

8:35 For my ways out are ways out to life, and favor is prepared by the Lord.

8:36 But those who sin against me act impiously against their own lives, and those who hate me love death.”

Proverbs 9

9:1 Wisdom built herself a house, and set seven pillars beneath it.

9:2 She slaughtered her own sacrificial animals, mixed her own wine in a mixing-bowl, and prepared her own table.

9:3 She sent her own servants, summoning with a lofty proclamation to the mixing-bowl, saying:

9:4 “Whoever is foolish, let him turn aside to me!” And to those lacking understanding she said:

9:5 “Come, eat of my loaves, and drink wine that I mixed for you.

9:6 Leave foolishness, and you will live; seek understanding, so that you may live, and set insight right in knowledge.”

9:7 One who disciplines evil people will receive dishonor for himself, and one who reproves an impious person will bring blame on himself.

9:8 Do not reprove evil people, so that they may not hate you; reprove a wise person, and he will love you.

9:9 Give a wise person a starting point, and he will be wiser; inform a righteous person, and he will receive still more.

9:10 The beginning of wisdom is the fear of the Lord, and the counsel of holy ones is understanding.

9:10a For knowing the law belongs to a good mind.

9:11 For in this way you will live a long time, and years of your life will be added to you.

9:12 Son, if you become wise for yourself, you will also be wise for your neighbors; but if you turn out evil, you alone will bear evils.

9:12a One who leans on lies—he will shepherd winds, and that same person will pursue flying birds.

9:12b For he has left the ways of his own vineyard, and strayed from the paths of his own cultivated field.

9:12c He travels through a waterless wilderness and land allotted among thirsty places, and gathers fruitlessness with his hands.

9:13 A foolish and brazen woman comes to lack a morsel, she who does not know shame.

9:14 She sat at the doors of her own house, on a stool openly in the squares,

9:15 calling to those passing by and going straight along their ways:

9:16 “Whoever among you is most foolish, let him turn aside to me!” And I urge those lacking understanding, saying:

9:17 “Taste hidden loaves with pleasure, and sweet stolen water.”

9:18 But he does not know that earth-born ones perish beside her, and he comes upon the ledge of Hades.

9:18a But leap away; do not linger in the place, and do not fix your eye upon her.

9:18b For in this way you will cross foreign water and pass over a foreign river.

9:18c But keep away from foreign water, and do not drink from a foreign spring,

9:18d so that you may live a long time, and years of life may be added to you.

Proverbs 10

10:1 A wise son makes a father glad, but a foolish son is grief to his mother.

10:2 Treasures will not profit lawless people, but righteousness will rescue from death.

10:3 The Lord will not starve a righteous life, but He will overturn the life of the impious.

10:4 Poverty humbles a man, but the hands of the courageous make rich.

10:4a A disciplined son will be wise, and he will use the foolish one as a servant.

10:5 An intelligent son was preserved from scorching heat, but a lawless son is ruined by wind at harvest.

10:6 The Lord’s blessing is upon the head of the righteous, but untimely mourning will cover the mouth of the impious.

10:7 The memory of righteous people is with praises, but the name of the impious is extinguished.

10:8 One wise in heart will receive commands, but the unrestrained person who twists things with his lips will be tripped up.

10:9 One who walks sincerely walks confidently, but one who perverts his ways will be known.

10:10 One who signals with his eyes deceitfully gathers griefs for people, but one who reproves with frankness makes peace.

10:11 A fountain of life is in the hand of the righteous, but destruction will cover the mouth of the impious.

10:12 Hatred raises strife, but friendship covers all who do not love strife.

10:13 One who brings forth wisdom from his lips strikes a man lacking heart with a rod.

10:14 Wise people will hide discernment, but the mouth of a rash person draws near to ruin.

10:15 The possession of the rich is a fortified city, but the ruin of the impious is poverty.

10:16 The works of the righteous produce life, but the fruits of the impious produce sins.

10:17 Discipline guards righteous paths of life, but discipline that goes unreproved wanders.

10:18 Righteous lips conceal enmity, but those who bring forth abuse are most foolish.

10:19 Through much talking you will not escape sin, but by sparing your lips you will be intelligent.

10:20 The tongue of the righteous is fire-tested silver, but the heart of the impious will fail.

10:21 The lips of the righteous know lofty things, but fools die in want.

10:22 The Lord’s blessing is upon the head of the righteous; it makes rich, and sorrow in the heart will certainly not be added to it.

10:23 A fool does evil things in laughter, but wisdom gives birth to understanding for a man.

10:24 An impious person is swept about in destruction, but the desire of the righteous is acceptable.

10:25 When a storm passes by, the impious disappears, but the righteous turns aside and is saved for ever.

10:26 As an unripe grape is harmful to teeth and smoke to eyes, so is lawlessness to those who practice it.

10:27 The fear of the Lord adds days, but the years of the impious will become few.

10:28 Gladness stays long with the righteous, but the hope of the impious perishes.

10:29 The fear of the Lord is a stronghold for the devout, but ruin for those who do evil.

10:30 The righteous will never give way, but the impious will not inhabit the earth.

10:31 The mouth of the righteous drips wisdom, but the tongue of the unjust will be destroyed.

10:32 The lips of righteous men drip gracious things, but the mouth of the impious turns away.

Proverbs 11

11:1 Deceitful scales are an abomination before the Lord, but a just weight is acceptable to Him.

11:2 Wherever insolence enters, dishonor is there too, but the mouth of the humble meditates on wisdom.

11:3 A righteous person, when he died, left regret, but the destruction of the impious is ready at hand and welcomed with joy.

11:5 Righteousness cuts blameless paths straight, but impiety falls into injustice.

11:6 The righteousness of upright men rescues them, but lawless people are caught in their own destruction.

11:7 When a righteous man dies, hope does not perish, but the boast of the impious perishes.

11:8 The righteous escapes from the hunt, but the impious is handed over in his place.

11:9 In the mouth of the impious is a trap for citizens, but the discernment of the righteous has a good course.

11:10 Through the good things of the righteous a city prospered,

11:11 but by the mouths of the impious it was razed.

11:12 One lacking understanding sneers at citizens, but an intelligent man keeps quiet.

11:13 A double-tongued man reveals plans in a council, but one faithful in breath conceals matters.

11:14 Those who have no steering fall like leaves, but deliverance is in much counsel.

11:15 An evil person does harm when he mixes with a righteous person, and he hates the sound of security.

11:16 A gracious woman raises glory for her husband, but a woman who hates righteous things is a throne of dishonor. The lazy become lacking in wealth, but the courageous lean upon wealth.

11:17 A merciful man does good to his own life, but the merciless destroys his own body.

11:18 The impious does unjust works, but the seed of righteous people is a reward of truth.

11:19 A righteous son is born for life, but pursuit of the impious is for death.

11:20 Perverted ways are an abomination to the Lord, but all who are blameless in their ways are acceptable to Him.

11:21 One who unjustly puts hands into a hand will not go unpunished, but one who sows righteousness will receive a faithful reward.

11:22 As a ring in a pig’s snout, so is beauty for a woman of bad judgment.

11:23 Every desire of the righteous is good, but the hope of the impious will perish.

11:24 There are those who sow their own things and produce more, and there are those who gather and become diminished.

11:25 Every blessed life is sincere, but a quick-tempered man is not dignified.

11:26 May one who holds grain back leave it to the nations, but blessing is upon the head of one who shares it.

11:27 One who devises good things seeks good favor, but evil will overtake the one who searches for it.

11:28 One who trusts in wealth will fall, but one who supports righteous people will spring up.

11:29 One who does not deal well with his own household will inherit wind, and a fool will serve an intelligent person.

11:30 From the fruit of righteousness a tree of life grows, but the lives of lawless people are taken away before their time.

11:31 If the righteous is scarcely saved, where will the impious and sinner appear?

Proverbs 12

12:1 One who loves discipline loves discernment, but one who hates rebukes is foolish.

12:2 Better is the one who has found favor with the Lord, but a lawless man will be passed over in silence.

12:3 A person will not prosper through a lawless person, but the roots of the righteous will not be uprooted.

12:4 A courageous woman is a crown to her husband; but as a worm in wood, so a woman who does evil destroys a man.

12:5 The reasonings of the righteous are judgments, but the impious steer deceits.

12:6 The words of the impious are deceitful, but the mouth of the upright will rescue them.

12:7 Wherever he turns, the impious disappears, but the houses of the righteous remain.

12:8 The mouth of an understanding person is praised by a man, but one sluggish of heart is sneered at.

12:9 Better is a man in dishonor who serves himself than one who clothes himself in honor but needs bread.

12:10 The righteous has compassion on the lives of his animals, but the inward affections of the impious are merciless.

12:11 One who works his own land will be filled with loaves, but those who pursue empty things lack understanding.

12:11a One who delights in time spent over wine will leave dishonor in his own strongholds.

12:12 The desires of the impious are evil, but the roots of the devout are in strongholds.

12:13 Through the sin of lips a sinner falls into traps, but the righteous escapes from them.

12:13a One who looks gently will receive mercy, but one who confronts people at the gates will crush lives.

12:14 From fruits of a mouth a man's life will be filled with good things, and the recompense of his lips will be given to him.

12:15 The ways of fools are upright before them, but a wise person listens to counsel.

12:16 A fool announces his anger that same day, but a resourceful person hides his own dishonor.

12:17 A righteous person reports demonstrated faithfulness, but the witness of unjust people is deceitful.

12:18 There are those who wound with a sword as they speak, but the tongues of the wise heal.

12:19 Truthful lips set testimony right, but a hasty witness has an unjust tongue.

12:20 Deceit is in the heart of one devising evil things, but those who desire peace will rejoice.

12:21 Nothing unjust will please the righteous, but the impious will be filled with evils.

12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord, but one who performs faithful deeds is acceptable to Him.

12:23 An understanding man is a throne of discernment, but the heart of fools will meet curses.

12:24 The hand of chosen people will rule easily, but deceitful people will become plunder.

12:25 A frightening word troubles the heart of a righteous man, but good news makes him glad.

12:26 A discerning righteous person will be his own friend, but the judgments of the impious are unreasonable. Evils will pursue those who sin, and the way of the impious will lead them astray.

12:27 A deceitful person will not obtain game, but a pure man is a precious possession.

12:28 In ways of righteousness is life, but the ways of those who remember wrongs lead to death.

Proverbs 13

13:1 A resourceful son is obedient to a father, but a disobedient son is in destruction.

13:2 A good person will eat from fruits of righteousness, but the lives of lawless people will perish before their time.

13:3 One who guards his own mouth keeps his own life, but one rash with his lips will terrify himself.

13:4 Every idle person is amid desires, but the hands of the courageous are engaged in care.

13:5 The righteous hates an unjust word, but the impious is ashamed and will have no frankness.

13:6 Righteousness guards the innocent, but sin makes the impious worthless.

13:7 There are those who make themselves rich while having nothing, and those who humble themselves amid much wealth.

13:8 A man's own wealth is the ransom of his life, but a poor person does not face a threat.

13:9 Light is for the righteous continually, but the light of the impious is extinguished.

13:9a Deceitful lives wander in sins, but the righteous have compassion and show mercy.

13:10 An evil person does evil things with insolence, but those who understand themselves are wise.

13:11 Property pursued eagerly with lawlessness becomes less, but one who gathers for himself with piety will increase; a righteous person has compassion and lends.

13:12 Better is one who begins to help the heart than one who promises and leads it into hope; for a good desire is a tree of life.

13:13 One who despises a matter will be despised by it, but one who fears a command is sound.

13:13a Nothing good will belong to a deceitful son, but a wise household servant's actions will prosper, and his way will be made straight.

13:14 The law of a wise person is a fountain of life, but the senseless will die by a trap.

13:15 Good understanding gives favor, and knowing the law belongs to a good mind, but the ways of the contemptuous are in destruction.

13:16 Every resourceful person acts with knowledge, but the fool has spread out his own wickedness.

13:17 A rash king will fall into evils, but a faithful messenger will rescue him.

13:18 Discipline takes away poverty and dishonor, and one who keeps rebukes will be glorified.

13:19 The desires of the devout sweeten the life, but the works of the impious are far from knowledge.

13:20 One who walks with the wise will be wise, but one who walks with fools will be known.

13:21 Evils will pursue those who sin, but good things will overtake the righteous.

13:22 A good man will inherit children's children, but the wealth of the impious is stored up for the righteous.

13:23 The righteous will spend many years in wealth, but the unjust will perish swiftly.

13:24 One who spares the staff hates his son, but one who loves him disciplines carefully.

13:25 The righteous, by eating, fills his life, but the lives of the impious are in want.

Proverbs 14

14:1 Wise women built houses, but the foolish woman tore them down with her hands.

14:2 One who walks uprightly fears the Lord, but one who is crooked in his ways will be dishonored.

14:3 From the mouth of fools comes a staff of insolence, but the lips of the wise guard them.

14:4 Where there are no oxen, mangers are clean; but where there is much produce, an ox's strength is evident.

14:5 A faithful witness does not lie, but an unjust witness kindles lies.

14:6 You will seek wisdom among evil people and not find it, but discernment is readily found among intelligent people.

14:7 Everything is against a foolish man, but wise lips are weapons of discernment.

14:8 The wisdom of resourceful people will recognize their ways, but the senselessness of fools is in wandering.

14:9 The houses of lawless people will owe purification, but the houses of the righteous are acceptable.

14:10 A man's heart is perceptive; his life is sorrowful, but when he rejoices, he does not mingle with insolence.

14:11 The houses of the impious will disappear, but the tents of those who act rightly will stand.

14:12 There is a way that seems upright to people, but its final outcome comes to the bottom of Hades.

14:13 In gladness sorrow does not mingle, but in the end joy comes to mourning.

14:14 One rash in heart will be filled from his own ways, but a good man from his own thoughts.

14:15 The innocent person believes every word, but the resourceful comes to reconsideration.

14:16 The wise, becoming afraid, turned from evil, but the fool, trusting himself, mixes with a lawless person.

14:17 One quick to anger acts without counsel, but an intelligent man endures many things.

14:18 Fools will receive a share of wickedness, but the resourceful will lay hold of discernment.

14:19 Evil people will slip before good people, and the impious will attend the doors of the righteous.

14:20 Friends will hate poor friends, but the friends of the rich are many.

14:21 One who dishonors the needy sins, but one who has mercy on the poor is blessed.

14:22 Those who wander devise evil things, but good people devise mercy and truth. Makers of evils do not know mercy and faithfulness, but acts of mercy and faithfulness are with good makers.

14:23 In everyone who takes care there is abundance, but the pleasure-loving and unfeeling person will be in want.

14:24 A resourceful person is the crown of the wise, but the occupation of fools is evil.

14:25 A faithful witness will rescue a life from evils, but a deceitful person kindles lies.

14:26 In the fear of the Lord is hope of strength, and he leaves a support for his children.

14:27 The command of the Lord is a fountain of life, and it causes one to turn from a trap of death.

14:28 In a numerous nation is a king's glory, but in the failing of a people is a ruler's ruin.

14:29 A patient man is great in understanding, but one faint of spirit is exceedingly foolish.

14:30 A gentle-tempered man is a physician of the heart, but a perceptive heart is a moth to the bones.

14:31 One who extorts from the needy provokes the One who made him, but one who honors Him has mercy on the poor.

14:32 The impious will be thrust away in his wickedness, but one trusting in his own piety is righteous.

14:33 Wisdom is in a man's good heart, but in the heart of fools it is not discerned.

14:34 Righteousness exalts a nation, but sins diminish tribes.

14:35 An intelligent attendant is acceptable to a king, and by his own skill he removes dishonor.

Proverbs 15

15:1 Anger destroys even intelligent people; but a yielding answer turns away wrath, and a painful word stirs up anger.

15:2 The tongue of the wise knows good things, but the mouth of fools will announce evil things.

15:3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place; they observe both evil people and good people.

15:4 Healing of a tongue is a tree of life, but one who keeps watch over it will be filled with spirit.

15:5 A fool sneers at a father's discipline, but one who keeps commands is more resourceful.

15:6 In abundant righteousness is great strength, but the impious will perish from the earth, roots and all. In the houses of the righteous is great strength, but the fruits of the impious will perish.

15:7 The lips of the wise are bound to discernment, but the hearts of fools are not secure.

15:8 The sacrifices of the impious are an abomination to the Lord, but the prayers of those going straight are acceptable to Him.

15:9 The ways of the impious are an abomination to the Lord, but He loves those who pursue righteousness.

15:10 The discipline of an innocent person is recognized by passersby, but those who hate rebukes die shamefully.

15:11 Hades and destruction are manifest before the Lord; how are human hearts not also?

15:12 An uneducated person will not love those who reprove him, and he will not associate with the wise.

15:13 When the heart rejoices, the face flourishes, but when it is in sorrows, the face grows gloomy.

15:14 An upright heart seeks discernment, but the mouth of the uneducated will know evil things.

15:15 All the time the eyes of evil people expect evils, but good people rest quietly continually.

15:16 Better a small portion with the fear of the Lord than great storehouses with fearlessness.

15:17 Better hospitality of vegetables with friendship and favor than a serving of calves with enmity.

15:18 A quick-tempered man prepares battles, but a patient person calms even a battle about to begin.

15:18a A patient man will extinguish disputes, but the impious stirs them up still more.

15:19 The ways of the idle are strewn with thorns, but those of the courageous are well worn.

15:20 A wise son makes a father glad, but a foolish son sneers at his mother.

15:21 The paths of a senseless person lack understanding, but an intelligent man walks making his course straight.

15:22 Those who do not honor councils put plans off, but counsel remains in the hearts of those who deliberate.

15:23 The evil person will certainly not heed it, nor say anything timely and good for the community.

15:24 The thoughts of an understanding person are ways of life, so that, turning aside from Hades, he may be saved.

15:25 The Lord pulls down the houses of the insolent, but He established the boundary of a widow.

15:26 An unjust thought is an abomination to the Lord, but the sayings of pure people are noble.

15:27 One who takes bribes destroys himself, but one who hates taking gifts is saved.

15:27a By acts of mercy and faithfulness sins are thoroughly cleansed, and by the fear of the Lord everyone turns from evil.

15:28 The hearts of the righteous meditate on faithful things, but the mouth of the impious answers evil things.

15:28a The ways of righteous men are acceptable to the Lord, and through them even enemies become friends.

15:29 God is far distant from the impious, but He listens to the prayers of the righteous.

15:29a Better a small gain with righteousness than much produce with injustice.

15:29b Let a man's heart consider righteous things, so that his steps may be set right by God.

15:30 An eye looking at good things gladdens the heart, and a good report makes bones full.

15:32 One who thrusts discipline away hates himself, but one who keeps rebukes loves his own life.

15:33 The fear of God is discipline and wisdom, and the beginning of glory will answer her.

Proverbs 16

16:2 All the works of the humble are manifest before God, but the impious will perish on an evil day.

16:5 Everyone high of heart is unclean before God, and one who unjustly puts hands into a hand will not be acquitted.

16:7 The beginning of a good way is to do righteous things, and these are more acceptable before God than sacrificing sacrifices.

16:8 One who seeks the Lord will find knowledge with righteousness, and those who seek Him rightly will find peace.

16:9 All the works of the Lord are with righteousness, but the impious is kept for an evil day.

16:10 An oracle is on the lips of a king, and his mouth will certainly not go astray in judgment.

16:11 The balance's inclination is righteousness before the Lord, and His works are just weights.

16:12 One who does evil is an abomination to a king, for a throne of rule is prepared with righteousness.

16:13 Righteous lips are acceptable to a king, and he loves upright words.

16:14 A king's wrath is a messenger of death, but a wise man will appease him.

16:15 In the light of life is a king's son, and those acceptable to him are like a cloud of late rain.

16:16 Nests of wisdom are more desirable than gold, and nests of understanding more desirable than silver.

16:17 Paths of life turn aside from evils, and ways of righteousness are length of life. One who receives discipline will be amid good things, and one who keeps rebukes will be made wise. One who guards his own ways keeps his own life, and one who loves his life will spare his mouth.

16:18 Insolence leads before ruin, and evil-mindedness before a fall.

16:19 Better a gentle-tempered person with humility than one who divides spoils with the insolent.

16:20 One understanding in matters is a finder of good things, and one trusting in God is blessed.

16:21 They call the wise and understanding worthless, but those sweet in speech will hear more.

16:22 Reflection is a fountain of life to those who possess it, but the discipline of fools is evil.

16:23 A wise person's heart will understand what comes from his own mouth, and will carry discernment upon his lips.

16:24 Good words are honeycombs, and their sweetness is healing of the life.

16:25 There are ways that seem upright to a man, but their final outcome looks toward the bottom of Hades.

16:26 A man in toils toils for himself and forces his own destruction upon himself; but the crooked person carries destruction upon his own mouth.

16:27 A foolish man digs evils for himself, and upon his own lips stores up fire.

16:28 A crooked man sends out evils, lights a torch of deceit for evil people, and separates friends.

16:29 A lawless man puts friends to the test, and leads them away into ways that are not good.

16:30 Fixing his eyes, he considers perverted things, and with his lips determines all evils; this man is a furnace of wickedness.

16:31 Old age is a crown of boasting, and it is found in ways of righteousness.

16:32 A patient man is better than a strong man, and one who controls anger is better than one who captures a city.

16:33 Everything comes into the laps of the unjust, but all righteous things are from the Lord.

Proverbs 17

17:1 Better a morsel with pleasure in peace than a house full of many good things and unjust sacrifices with battle.

17:2 An intelligent household servant will rule foolish masters, and divide portions among brothers.

17:3 As silver and gold are tested in a furnace, so hearts are chosen before the Lord.

17:4 An evil person heeds the tongue of lawless people, but a righteous person pays no attention to lying lips.

17:5 One who laughs at the poor provokes the One who made him, and one who rejoices over someone perishing will not be acquitted; but one who has compassion will receive mercy.

17:6 The crown of elders is children's children, and the boast of children is their fathers.

17:6a The whole world of possessions belongs to the faithful person, but not even an obol belongs to the unfaithful.

17:7 Faithful lips will not suit a fool, nor lying lips a righteous person.

17:8 Discipline is a reward of favors to those who use it, and wherever it turns, it will prosper.

17:9 One who hides wrongdoings seeks friendship, but one who hates hiding them separates friends and household members.

17:10 A threat crushes an intelligent person's heart, but a fool, though whipped, does not perceive.

17:11 Every evil person raises disputes, but the Lord will send a merciless messenger to him.

17:12 Concern will fall upon an intelligent man, but fools will deliberate evil things.

17:13 One who repays evil things instead of good things—evils will not move from his house.

17:14 The beginning of righteousness gives authority to words, but faction and battle lead the way to want.

17:15 One who judges the unjust righteous and the righteous unjust is unclean and detestable before God.

17:16 Why did possessions come to a fool? For one lacking heart will not be able to acquire wisdom.

17:16a One who makes his own house high seeks ruin, and one who turns crookedly away from learning will fall into evils.

17:17 Let a friend be yours at all times, and let brothers be useful in times of need; for this is why they are born.

17:18 A foolish man claps and rejoices over himself, as does one who acts as guarantor for his own friend with a pledge.

17:19 One who loves sin rejoices in battles,

17:20 but one hard of heart does not meet good things. A man changeable in tongue will fall into evils,

17:21 and a fool's heart is pain to the one who possesses it. A father does not rejoice over an uneducated son, but an intelligent son gladdens his mother.

17:22 A rejoicing heart makes one flourish, but a sorrowful man's bones dry up.

17:23 The ways of one taking gifts unjustly in his lap do not prosper, and an impious person bends the ways of righteousness.

17:24 An understanding face belongs to a wise man, but the fool's eyes are upon the extremities of the earth.

17:25 A foolish son is anger to a father, and pain to the one who bore him.

17:26 To penalize a righteous man is not good, nor is it holy to plot against righteous rulers.

17:27 One who refrains from sending forth a harsh word is discerning, and a patient man is intelligent.

17:28 Wisdom will be reckoned to a senseless person who asks for wisdom, and someone who makes himself mute will seem intelligent.

Proverbs 18

18:1 A man who wishes to separate from friends seeks pretexts, and at every time he will be subject to reproach.

18:2 One lacking understanding has no use for wisdom, for he is led rather by foolishness.

18:3 When the impious comes into the depth of evils, he despises, and dishonor and reproach come upon him.

18:4 A word in a man's heart is deep water, and a river springs up, a fountain of life.

18:5 To admire the face of the impious is not good, nor is it holy to turn aside what is just in judgment.

18:6 A fool's lips lead him into evils, and his rash mouth calls upon death.

18:7 A fool's mouth is ruin for him, and his lips are a trap for his life.

18:8 Fear casts down the lazy, and the lives of womanish men will hunger.

18:9 One who does not heal himself in his works is brother to one who ruins himself.

18:10 From greatness of strength comes the name of the Lord, and righteous people who run to it are raised high.

18:11 A rich man's property is a fortified city, and its glory casts a great shadow.

18:12 Before ruin a man's heart is raised high, and before glory it is humbled.

18:13 One who answers a word before hearing it—it is foolishness and reproach for him.

18:14 An intelligent attendant calms a man's anger, but who will bear a fainthearted man?

18:15 An intelligent heart acquires discernment, and the ears of the wise seek reflection.

18:16 A person's gift makes space for him, and seats him beside rulers.

18:17 The righteous is his own accuser in the opening speech, but when the opponent presses in, he is reproved.

18:18 A lot stops disputes, and makes a determination among rulers.

18:19 A brother helped by a brother is like a fortified and high city, and is strong like a founded palace.

18:20 From fruits of a mouth a man fills his belly, and from fruits of his lips he will be filled.

18:21 Death and life are in the hand of the tongue, and those who control it will eat its fruits.

18:22 One who found a good wife found favors, and received gladness from God.

18:22a One who casts out a good wife casts out good things, but one who keeps an adulteress is foolish and impious.

Proverbs 19

19:3 A man's foolishness ruins his ways, but in his heart he blames God.

19:4 Wealth adds many friends, but the poor person is abandoned even by the friend he has.

19:5 A false witness will not be unpunished, and one who accuses unjustly will not escape.

19:6 Many attend the faces of kings, but every evil person becomes a reproach to a man.

19:7 Everyone who hates a poor brother will also be far from friendship. A good thought will draw near to those who know it, and an intelligent man will find it. One who does many evils brings wickedness to completion, and one who provokes words will not be saved.

19:8 One who acquires understanding loves himself, and one who keeps understanding will find good things.

19:9 A false witness will not be unpunished, and whoever kindles wickedness will perish by it.

19:10 Luxury does not benefit a fool, nor does it benefit a household servant if he begins to rule with insolence.

19:11 A merciful man is patient, and his boast comes upon lawless people.

19:12 A king’s threat is like a lion’s growling, but as dew upon grass, so is his cheerfulness.

19:13 A foolish son is shame to a father, and prayers from a courtesan’s fee are not pure.

19:14 Fathers apportion house and property to children, but a wife is joined to a husband by God.

19:15 Cowardice holds a womanish man, and the life of an idle person will hunger.

19:16 One who keeps a command guards his own life, but one who despises his own ways will perish.

19:17 One who has mercy on the poor lends to God, and He will repay him according to his gift.

19:18 Discipline your son, for in this way he will be hopeful, but do not lift yourself in your soul toward insolence.

19:19 An evil-minded man will suffer many penalties, and if he acts pestilentially, he will add his own life as well.

19:20 Listen, son, to your father’s discipline, so that you may become wise in your latter days.

19:21 Many are the reasonings in a man’s heart, but the counsel of the Lord remains for ever.

19:22 Mercy is a man’s fruit, and better a righteous poor person than a rich liar.

19:23 The fear of the Lord is for a man’s life, but the fearless person will lodge in places where knowledge is not attended to.

19:24 One who unjustly hides his hands in his lap will certainly not even bring them to his mouth.

19:25 When a pestilent person is whipped, a fool becomes more resourceful; but if you reprove an intelligent man, he will understand discernment.

19:26 One who dishonors a father and thrusts his mother away will be put to shame and be subject to reproach.

19:27 A son who falls short of keeping a father’s discipline will meditate on evil sayings.

19:28 One who acts as guarantor for a foolish child treats just judgment with insolence, and the mouth of the impious swallows judgments.

19:29 Whips are prepared for the undisciplined, and punishments for the shoulders of fools.

Proverbs 20

20:1 Wine is undisciplined, and drunkenness insolent, and everyone who mingles with it will not be wise.

20:2 A king’s threat does not differ at all from a lion’s wrath, and one who provokes him sins against his own life.

20:3 It is glory for a man to turn away from abuse, but every fool entangles himself in such things.

20:4 A lazy person, when reproached, is not ashamed, and neither is one who borrows grain at harvest.

20:5 Counsel in a man’s heart is deep water, but an intelligent man will draw it out.

20:6 A human being is a great thing, and a merciful man a precious thing, but finding a faithful man is hard work.

20:7 One who lives blamelessly in righteousness will leave his children blessed.

20:8 When a righteous king sits on a throne, no evil thing sets itself against him before his eyes.

20:9 Who will boast that he has a pure heart? Or who will speak confidently of being clean from sins?

20:9a The lamp of one who speaks evil of a father or mother will be extinguished, and the pupils of his eyes will see darkness.

20:9b A portion eagerly pursued at first will not be blessed at the end.

20:9c Do not say, “I will punish the enemy.” But wait for the Lord, so that He may help you.

20:10 A large weight and a small one, and double measures—both are unclean before the Lord.

20:11 And one who makes them will be fettered in his practices; a young man is with a devout person, and his way is straight.

20:12 An ear hears and an eye sees; both are works of the Lord.

20:13 Do not love speaking against others, so that you are not cut off; open your eyes and be filled with loaves.

20:23 A double weight is an abomination to the Lord, and deceitful scales are not good before Him.

20:24 A man's steps are directed by the Lord, but how could a mortal understand his ways?

20:25 It is a trap for a man quickly to consecrate something of his own, for after making the vow comes reconsideration.

20:26 A wise king is a winnower of the impious, and will bring a wheel upon them.

20:27 The breath of human beings is the light of the Lord, who searches the store-chambers of the belly.

20:28 Mercy and truth are a guard for a king, and they will surround his throne in righteousness.

20:29 Wisdom is an adornment for young men, and gray hair is the glory of elders.

20:30 Bruises and crushing wounds meet evil people, and blows reach the store-chambers of the belly.

Proverbs 21

21:1 As a rush of water, so is a king's heart in God's hand; wherever He willingly inclines, there He has bent it.

21:2 Every man appears righteous to himself, but the Lord sets hearts straight.

21:3 Doing righteous things and speaking truth are more pleasing before God than the blood of sacrifices.

21:4 One lofty-minded in insolence is rash-hearted, and the lamp of the impious is sin.

21:6 One who works up stores with a false tongue pursues empty things toward traps of death.

21:7 Destruction will lodge with the impious, for they do not wish to do righteous things.

21:8 God sends crooked ways to the crooked, for His works are pure and upright.

21:9 Better to dwell on a corner in the open air than in plastered rooms with injustice and in a shared house.

21:10 The life of the impious will receive mercy from none of humankind.

21:11 When an undisciplined person is penalized, the innocent becomes more resourceful, and a wise person who understands will receive knowledge.

21:12 A righteous person understands the hearts of the impious, and brings the impious low amid evils.

21:13 One who blocks his ears from hearing the weak will himself also call, and there will be no one listening.

21:14 A secret gift overturns anger, but one who is sparing with gifts raises fierce wrath.

21:15 Doing judgment is the joy of the righteous, but a devout person is unclean in the eyes of evildoers.

21:16 A man who wanders from the way of righteousness will rest in the assembly of giants.

21:17 A needy man loves gladness, loving wine and oil toward wealth;

21:18 but a lawless person is a cleansing-offering for the righteous.

21:19 Better to dwell in a desert land than with a battling, talkative, and quick-tempered woman.

21:20 Desirable treasure will rest upon a wise person's mouth, but foolish men will swallow it down.

21:21 A way of righteousness and mercy will find life and glory.

21:22 A wise person mounted fortified cities, and brought down the stronghold in which the impious trusted.

21:23 One who guards his mouth and tongue keeps his life from affliction.

21:24 A rash, self-willed, boastful person is called pestilent, and one who remembers wrongs is lawless.

21:25 Desires kill a lazy person, for his hands do not choose to do anything.

21:26 The impious desires evil desires the whole day, but the righteous shows mercy and compassion without sparing.

21:27 The sacrifices of the impious are an abomination to the Lord, for they offer them lawlessly.

21:28 A false witness will perish, but an obedient man will speak with caution.

21:29 An impious man stands his ground with a shameless face, but the upright himself understands his ways.

21:30 There is no wisdom, there is no courage, there is no counsel with the impious.

21:31 A horse is prepared for a day of war, but help is from the Lord.

Proverbs 22

22:1 A good name is more desirable than much wealth, and good favor is above silver and gold.

22:2 Rich and poor met one another, and the Lord made both.

22:3 A resourceful person, seeing an evil person severely punished, is himself instructed, but fools passed by and were penalized.

22:4 The offspring of wisdom is the fear of the Lord, and wealth and glory and life.

22:5 Thistles and traps are in crooked ways, but one who guards his own life will keep away from them.

22:7 The rich will rule the poor, and household servants will lend to their own masters.

22:8 One who sows worthless things will reap evils, and he will bring the blow of his works to completion.

22:8a God blesses a cheerful and giving man, and He will bring the emptiness of his works to an end.

22:9 One who has mercy on the poor will himself be nourished, for he gave of his own loaves to the poor.

22:9a One who has given gifts obtains victory and honor, yet takes away the life of those who possess them.

22:10 Cast a pestilent person out of a council, and strife will go out with him; for whenever he sits in a council, he dishonors everyone.

22:11 The Lord loves devout hearts, and all the blameless are acceptable to Him; a king shepherds with his lips.

22:12 The eyes of the Lord preserve discernment, but a lawless person makes words worthless.

22:13 The lazy person makes an excuse and says, “A lion is in the roads, and murderers in the squares!”

22:14 The mouth of a lawless person is a deep pit, and one hated by the Lord will fall into it.

22:14a There are evil ways before a man, and he does not love turning from them; but one must turn from a crooked and evil way.

22:15 Senselessness is fastened to a young person’s heart, but rod and discipline are far from him.

22:16 One who extorts from the needy makes his own things many, but gives to the rich at a loss.

22:17 Bring your ear beside words of the wise and hear my word, and direct your heart so that you may know that they are good;

22:18 and if you put them into your heart, they will gladden you together upon your lips,

22:19 so that your hope may be in the Lord, and He may make His way known to you.

22:20 And you, copy them for yourself threefold, for counsel and knowledge upon the breadth of your heart.

22:21 Therefore I teach you to heed a true word and good knowledge, so as to answer words of truth to those who put questions to you.

22:22 Do not use force against the needy, for he is poor, and do not dishonor the weak at the gates;

22:23 for the Lord will judge his case, and you will preserve your own life unplundered.

22:24 Do not be a companion to a quick-tempered man, and do not lodge with an angry friend,

22:25 lest you learn his ways and take nooses for your own life.

22:26 Do not give yourself as a pledge out of deference to a face.

22:27 For if you have no means from which to pay, they will take the bedding from beneath your sides.

22:28 Do not move everlasting boundaries that your fathers set.

22:29 A perceptive man, keen in his works, must stand beside kings and not stand beside sluggish men.

Proverbs 23

23:1 If you sit to dine at the table of rulers, thoughtfully consider what is set before you,

23:2 and lay your hand to it, knowing that you must prepare such things;

23:3 but if you are more insatiable, do not desire his foods, for these belong to a false life.

23:4 Do not stretch yourself, being poor, to match a rich man, but hold back in your own reflection;

23:5 If you fix your eye upon him, he will appear nowhere, for wings like an eagle’s have been prepared for him, and he returns to the house of the one who presides over him.

23:6 Do not dine with a begrudging man, and do not desire his foods,

23:7 for as if someone swallowed a hair, so he eats and drinks.

23:8 Do not bring him in to yourself and eat your morsel with him, for he will vomit it and ruin your good words.

23:9 Say nothing into a fool’s ears, lest he sneer at your intelligent words.

23:10 Do not move everlasting boundaries, and do not enter orphans’ property,

23:11 for the Lord who redeems them is mighty, and He will judge their case with you.

23:12 Give your heart to discipline, and prepare your ears for words of discernment.

23:13 Do not refrain from disciplining a little child, for if you strike him with a rod, he will certainly not die;

23:14 for you will strike him with a rod, but rescue his life from death.

23:15 Son, if your heart becomes wise, you will gladden my heart too,

23:16 and your lips will spend time in words with my lips, if the words are upright.

23:17 Do not let your heart envy sinners, but be in the fear of the Lord the whole day;

23:18 for if you keep these things, you will have offspring, and your hope will not depart.

23:19 Listen, son, and become wise, and straighten the reflections of your heart.

23:20 Do not be a wine-drinker, and do not stretch yourself over contributions and purchases of meat;

23:21 for every drunkard and frequenter of prostitutes will become poor, and every sleepy person will clothe himself in torn and ragged things.

23:22 Listen, son, to the father who begot you, and do not despise your mother because she has grown old.

23:24 A righteous father brings up well, and his life rejoices over a wise son;

23:25 let father and mother rejoice over you, and let the one who bore you be glad.

23:26 Give me your heart, son, and let your eyes keep my ways;

23:27 for another's house is a jar with holes, and another's well is narrow;

23:28 for this will swiftly perish, and every lawless person will be consumed.

23:29 Who has woe? Who has uproar? Who has a lawsuit? Who has unpleasantness and chatter? Who has bruises for nothing? Whose eyes are livid?

23:30 Is it not those who linger over wines? Is it not those who track down where drinking parties take place?

23:31 Do not become drunk with wine, but associate with righteous people, and converse during walks; for if you give your eyes to bowls and cups, afterward you will walk about barer than a pestle.

23:32 But at the end he lies stretched out as though struck by a snake, and as though by a horned viper its poison spreads through him.

23:33 When your eyes see another woman, then your mouth will speak crooked things,

23:34 and you will lie down as in the heart of the sea, and like a helmsman in heavy surging;

23:35 and you will say, "They strike me, and I felt no pain; they mocked me, but I did not know. When will dawn come, so that I may go and seek those with whom I will gather?"

Proverbs 24

24:1 Son, do not envy evil men, and do not desire to be with them;

24:2 for their heart meditates lies, and their lips speak toils.

24:3 With wisdom a house is built, and with understanding it is raised upright;

24:4 with discernment store-rooms are filled from every precious and good wealth.

24:5 A wise person is better than a strong one, and a man with understanding than a great cultivated estate;

24:6 with steering war takes place, and help is with a deliberative heart.

24:7 Wisdom and good reflection are in the gates of the wise; the wise do not turn from the mouth of the Lord,

24:8 but deliberate in councils. Death meets the uneducated,

24:9 and a fool dies in sins; and impurity will be defiled in a pestilent man,

24:10 on an evil day and on a day of affliction, until he fails.

24:11 Rescue those being led to death, and ransom those being killed; do not hold back.

24:12 But if you say, "I do not know this person," know that the Lord knows everyone's hearts, and the One who fashioned breath for all Himself knows everything, and repays each one according to his works.

24:13 Eat honey, son, for a honeycomb is good, so that your throat may be sweetened;

24:14 in this way you will perceive wisdom for your own life; for if you find it, your end will be good, and hope will not abandon you.

24:15 Do not bring an impious person to the pasture of the righteous, and do not be deceived by a filled belly;

24:16 for the righteous will fall seven times and rise, but the impious will grow weak amid evils.

24:17 If your enemy falls, do not rejoice over him, and at his tripping do not lift yourself up,

24:18 for the Lord will see, and it will not please Him, and He will turn His wrath away from him.

24:19 Do not rejoice over evildoers, and do not envy sinners;

24:20 for evil people will certainly have no offspring, and the lamp of the impious will be extinguished.

24:21 Fear God, son, and the king, and disobey neither of them;

24:22 for suddenly they will punish the impious, and who will know the punishments of both?

24:22a A son who guards a word will be outside destruction, and receiving it, he has received it.

24:22b Let no falsehood from a tongue be spoken to a king, and no falsehood will ever come from his tongue.

24:22c A king's tongue is a sword and is not made of flesh, and whoever is handed over will be crushed;

24:22d for if his wrath is sharpened, it consumes human beings with their sinews,

24:22e and devours human bones, and burns them together like a flame, so that they are inedible to young eagles.

Proverbs 25

25:1 These are Solomon's undifferentiated instructions, which the friends of Hezekiah, king of Judea, copied out.

25:2 God's glory conceals a word, but a king's glory honors matters.

25:3 Heaven is high and earth deep, but a king's heart is beyond examination.

25:4 Beat unapproved silver, and it will be cleansed, entirely pure;

25:5 Kill the impious from before a king, and his throne will prosper in righteousness.

25:6 Do not boast before a king, and do not station yourself in the places of rulers;

25:7 for it is better for you to be told, "Come up to me," than for him to humble you before a ruler. Say what your eyes have seen.

25:8 Do not rush quickly into battle, so that you do not regret it at the end. When your friend reproaches you,

25:9 withdraw backward; do not show contempt,

25:10 lest the friend reproach you, and your battle and enmity not depart, but be for you equal to death.

25:10a Favor and friendship set one free; keep these for yourself so that you do not become subject to reproach, but guard your ways with readiness to be reconciled.

25:11 A golden apple on a carnelian necklace—so is speaking a word.

25:12 A costly carnelian is fastened into a golden earring—a wise word into a receptive ear.

25:13 As snow coming forth benefits people in harvest heat, so a faithful messenger benefits those who sent him; for he benefits the lives of those who employ him.

25:14 Like winds and clouds and very conspicuous rains, so are those who boast of a false gift.

25:15 In patience is prosperity for kings, and a soft tongue crushes bones.

25:16 Having found honey, eat what is sufficient, lest you become full and vomit.

25:17 Bring your foot rarely to your own friend, lest he become filled with you and hate you.

25:18 A club and sword and barbed arrow—so also is a man testifying false testimony against his friend.

25:19 An evil person's tooth and a lawless person's foot will perish on an evil day.

25:20 As vinegar is unsuitable for a wound, so a suffering that falls upon the body pains the heart.

25:20a As a moth harms a garment and a worm wood, so a man's grief harms the heart.

25:21 If your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him drink;

25:22 for by doing this you will heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord will repay you good things.

25:23 A north wind raises clouds, but a shameless face provokes a tongue.

25:24 Better to dwell on a corner of a roof than with an abusive wife in a shared house.

25:25 As cold water is welcome to a thirsty life, so is good news from a faraway land.

25:26 As if someone blocked a spring and ruined an outlet of water, so it is disorderly for a righteous person to have fallen before the impious.

25:27 Eating much honey is not good, but one must honor glorious words.

25:28 As a city with its walls cast down and unwalled, so is a man who does something without counsel.

Proverbs 26

26:1 Like dew at harvest and rain in summer, so honor does not belong to a fool.

26:2 As birds and sparrows fly, so an empty curse will come upon no one.

26:3 As a whip for a horse and a goad for a donkey, so a rod for a lawless nation.

26:4 Do not answer a fool in relation to his foolishness, so that you do not become like him;

26:5 but answer a fool according to his foolishness, so that he does not appear wise to himself.

26:6 One who sends a word through a foolish messenger will drink reproach from his own feet.

26:7 Remove walking from legs, and a proverb from the mouth of fools.

26:8 One who binds a stone in a sling is like one who gives glory to a fool.

26:9 Thorns grow in the hand of the drunkard, but slavery is in the hand of fools.

26:10 All the flesh of fools is greatly storm-tossed, for their distraction is shattered.

26:11 Like a dog that comes upon its own vomit and becomes hateful is a fool who has returned in his own wickedness to his own sin.

26:11a There is shame that brings on sin, and there is shame that is glory and favor.

26:12 I saw a man who thought himself wise, yet a fool had more hope than he.

26:13 A lazy person sent on a journey says, “A lion is in the roads!”

26:14 As a door turns on its hinge, so a lazy person on his bed.

26:15 A lazy person, having hidden his hand in his lap, will not be able to bring it to his mouth.

26:16 The lazy person appears wiser to himself than one who brings back a message in full.

26:17 As one who grasps a dog’s tail, so is one who presides over another’s dispute.

26:18 As healers put forward words to people, and the first to meet the word will be tripped up,

26:19 so are all who ambush their own friends, and when detected say, “I did it in play.”

26:20 With much wood a fire flourishes, but where there is no double-minded person, battle is quiet.

26:21 A hearth for coals and wood for fire, and an abusive man for the turmoil of battle.

26:22 The words of tricksters are soft, but they strike into the store-chambers of the inward parts.

26:23 Silver given with deceit must be regarded like a potsherd; smooth lips cover a painful heart.

26:24 A weeping enemy agrees to everything with his lips, but in his heart devises deceits;

26:25 if the enemy entreats you with a loud voice, do not be persuaded, for seven evils are in his life.

26:26 One who hides enmity establishes deceit, but one well known in councils discloses his own sins.

26:27 One who digs a pit for his neighbor will fall into it, and one who rolls a stone rolls it upon himself.

26:28 A false tongue hates truth, but an unrestrained mouth makes disorders.

Proverbs 27

27:1 Do not boast of things for tomorrow, for you do not know what the coming day will bear.

27:2 Let your neighbor praise you, and not your mouth, another, and not your lips.

27:3 A stone is heavy and sand hard to carry, but a fool’s anger is heavier than both.

27:4 Wrath is merciless and anger sharp, but jealousy bears with no one.

27:5 Open rebukes are better than concealed friendship.

27:6 A friend’s wounds are more trustworthy than an enemy’s willing kisses.

27:7 A life in fullness mocks honeycombs, but to a needy life even bitter things seem sweet.

27:8 As when a bird flies down from its own nest, so a person is enslaved when estranged from his own places.

27:9 The heart delights in perfumes and wines and incense, but the life is torn apart by misfortunes.

27:10 Do not abandon your friend or an ancestral friend, and do not enter your brother’s house when misfortune strikes you; a nearby friend is better than a brother dwelling far away.

27:11 Become wise, son, so that my heart may rejoice, and turn reproachful words away from yourself.

27:12 A resourceful person hid when evils approached, but fools who went on will pay a penalty.

27:13 Take away his garment, for he has transgressed; one who ruins another’s property is insolent.

27:14 One who blesses a friend early with a loud voice will seem no different from one cursing.

27:15 Drops drive a man from his house on a wintry day, and likewise an abusive wife from his own house.

27:16 The north wind is a harsh wind, but by name it is called favorable.

27:17 Iron sharpens iron, but a man provokes the face of a companion.

27:18 One who plants a fig tree will eat its fruits, and one who guards his own master will be honored.

27:19 As faces are not like faces, so neither are human hearts.

27:20 Hades and destruction are not filled, and likewise human eyes are insatiable.

27:20a One who fixes an eye is an abomination to the Lord, and the uneducated are unrestrained in tongue.

27:21 A test for silver and gold is burning, but a man is tested through the mouth of those who praise him.

27:21a A lawless person’s heart searches out evils, but an upright heart searches out knowledge.

27:22 If you whip a fool in the midst of a council, dishonoring him, you will certainly not strip away his foolishness.

27:23 Know thoroughly the lives of your flock, and set your heart upon your herds;

27:24 for a man's might and strength do not last for ever, nor does he hand them on from generation to generation.

27:25 Care for the green growth in the plain, and you will cut grass, and gather mountain fodder,

27:26 so that you may have sheep for clothing; value a plain, so that you may have lambs.

27:27 Son, from me you have strong sayings for your life, and for the life of your attendants.

Proverbs 28

28:1 An impious person flees when no one pursues, but a righteous person is confident like a lion.

28:2 Through the sins of the impious, disputes arise, but a prudent man will extinguish them.

28:3 A man vigorous in impieties extorts the poor. Just like a violent and useless rain, 28:4 so those who abandon the law praise impiety, but those who love the law surround themselves with a wall.

28:5 Evil men will not understand judgment, but those who seek the Lord will understand in everything.

28:6 Better a poor person walking in truth than a lying rich person.

28:7 An understanding son keeps the law, but one who tends dissipation dishonors a father.

28:8 One who increases his wealth with interest and gains gathers it for one who shows mercy to the poor.

28:9 One who turns his ear aside so as not to hear the law has himself also abhorred his own prayer.

28:10 One who leads the upright astray on an evil way will himself fall into destruction; but the lawless will pass by good things and will not enter into them.

28:11 A rich man is wise in his own estimation, but an intelligent poor person will judge him.

28:12 Through the help of the righteous much glory comes about, but in the places of the impious people are captured.

28:13 One who covers his own impiety will not prosper, but one who explains reproofs will be loved.

28:14 Happy is a man who shrinks from everything out of reverence, but one hard of heart will fall into evils.

28:15 One who tyrannizes over a needy nation while himself poor is a hungry lion and a thirsty wolf.

28:16 A king lacking revenues is a great extortioner, but one who hates injustice will live a long time.

28:17 One who acts as guarantor for a man charged with murder will be a fugitive and will not be secure.

28:17a Discipline a son, and he will love you and give adornment to your life; you must not heed a lawless nation.

28:18 One who walks righteously has been helped, but one who walks crooked ways will become entangled.

28:19 One who works his own land will be filled with bread, but one who pursues leisure will be filled with poverty.

28:20 A trustworthy man will be greatly blessed, but the evil person will not be unpunished.

28:21 One who has no respect for the faces of the righteous is not good; such a person will sell a man for a morsel of bread.

28:22 A grudging man hastens to become rich and does not know that a merciful person will rule over him.

28:23 One who reproves a person's ways will have more favor than one who flatters with the tongue.

28:24 One who casts away a father or mother and thinks he is not sinning is a partner of an impious man.

28:25 An insatiable man judges rashly, but one who trusts in the Lord will be cared for.

28:26 One who trusts in a rash heart is a fool; but one who walks in wisdom will be saved.

28:27 One who gives to the poor will not be in need; but one who turns away his eye will be in great difficulty.

28:28 In the places of the impious the righteous groan, but at their destruction the righteous will multiply.

Proverbs 29

29:1 Better a man who reproves than a stiff-necked man; for when the latter suddenly burns, there is no healing.

29:2 When the righteous are praised, peoples will rejoice; but when the impious rule, men groan.

29:3 When a man loves wisdom, his father rejoices; but one who tends prostitutes will destroy wealth.

29:4 A righteous king raises up a country, but a lawless man tears it down.

29:5 One who prepares a net before his own friend's face wraps it around his own feet.

29:6 For a sinning man there is a great snare, but a righteous person will be in joy and gladness.

29:7 A righteous person knows how to judge for the needy, but the impious person will not understand knowledge, and a poor person has no discerning mind.

29:8 Pestilent men set a city ablaze, but wise people turned away wrath.

29:9 A wise man judges nations, but a worthless man who becomes angry is laughed at and does not shrink back.

29:10 Men sharing in bloodshed will hate a holy person, but the upright will seek his life.

29:11 A fool brings out all his anger, but a wise person stores it up portion by portion.

29:12 When a king listens to an unjust word, all those under him are lawless.

29:13 When lender and debtor come together, the Lord inspects both.

29:14 When a king judges the poor in truth, his throne will be established as a testimony.

29:15 Blows and reproofs give wisdom, but a wandering child shames his parents.

29:16 When the impious are many, sins become many, but the righteous become terrified when those people fall.

29:17 Discipline your son, and he will give you rest and give adornment to your life.

29:18 There will certainly be no interpreter for a lawless nation, but one who keeps the law is blessed.

29:19 A harsh household servant will not be disciplined by words; for even if he understands, he will not obey.

29:20 If you see a man swift in words, know that a fool has more hope than he.

29:21 One who lives extravagantly from childhood will become a household servant, and in the end he will grieve over himself.

29:22 A wrathful man digs up strife, and an angry man dug out sins.

29:23 Insolence brings a man low, but the Lord supports the humble-minded with glory.

29:24 One who shares with a thief hates his own life; but if, when an oath is set before them, those who heard do not report,

29:25 having feared and felt shame before people, they were tripped up; but one who trusts in the Lord will rejoice. Impiety gives a man a fall; but one who trusts in the Master will be saved.

29:26 Many court the faces of leaders, but what is just for a man comes from the Lord.

29:27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous, but a straightening way is an abomination to a lawless person.

Proverbs 30

30:1 Fear my words, son, and receive them and repent. Thus says the man to those who trust in God, and I cease:

30:2 For I am the most foolish of all people, and human understanding is not in me.

30:3 God has taught me wisdom, and knowledge of holy ones I have known.

30:4 Who went up to heaven and came down? Who gathered winds in a fold of his garment? Who wrapped water in a cloak? Who took hold of all the ends of the earth? What is his name, or what is his children's name, so that you may know?

30:5 All God's words have been refined by fire, and He shields those who revere Him.

30:6 Do not add to His words, so that He may not reprove you and you become false.

30:7 Two things I ask from Thee; do not take favor away from me before I die:

30:8 Put a vain and false word far from me; give me neither wealth nor poverty; assign me what is needed and sufficient,

30:9 so that I may not become full and false and say, "Who sees me?" or become poor and steal and swear by the name of God.

30:10 Do not hand a household servant over into a master's hands, lest he curse you and you be destroyed.

30:11 Evil offspring curse a father and do not bless the mother.

30:12 Evil offspring judge themselves righteous, but have not washed away their discharge.

30:13 Evil offspring have lofty eyes and exalt themselves with their eyelids.

30:14 Evil offspring have swords for teeth and cutting blades for molars, to consume and devour the lowly from the earth and their poor from among people.

Proverbs 31

31:1 My words have been spoken by God, an oracle concerning a king whom his mother instructed.

31:2 What will you keep, child? What? God’s sayings. Firstborn, I speak to you, son. What, child of my womb? What, child of my vows?

31:3 Do not give women your wealth, or your mind and livelihood to belated counsel.

31:4 Do everything with counsel; drink wine with counsel. The powerful are hot-tempered, but let them not drink wine, 31:5 so that, after drinking, they may not forget wisdom and become entirely unable to judge the weak rightly.

31:6 Give intoxicating drink to those in grief, and wine to drink to those in pain,

31:7 so that they may forget their poverty and no longer remember their troubles.

31:8 Open your mouth for God’s word, and judge everyone soundly.

31:9 Open your mouth and judge justly, and decide the case of the poor and weak.

Ecclesiastes

Ecclesiastes 1

1:1 The words of Ecclesiastes, son of David, king of Israel in Jerusalem.

1:2 Futility of futilities, said Ecclesiastes; futility of futilities, everything is futility.

1:3 What surplus has a person in all his toil at which he toils beneath the sun?

1:4 A generation goes, and a generation comes, but the earth stands for ever.

1:5 The sun rises, and the sun sets, and draws toward its place.

1:6 Rising there, it goes toward the south and circles toward the north. Round and round the wind goes, and on its circuits the wind returns.

1:7 All the streams go to the sea, yet the sea will not be filled. To the place where the streams go, there they return to go again.

1:8 All words are wearisome; a man will not be able to speak. The eye will not be filled with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

1:9 What has come to be is what will come to be, and what has been done is what will be done; there is nothing fresh beneath the sun.

1:10 If anyone speaks and says, “Behold, this is new,” it has already come to be in the ages that were before us.

1:11 There is no remembrance of the first ones, nor will the last ones who have come to be have remembrance among those who will come at the end.

1:12 I, Ecclesiastes, became king over Israel in Jerusalem.

1:13 I set my heart to seek out and examine by wisdom everything that happens beneath heaven, for God gave human beings a grievous distraction to be distracted by.

1:14 I saw all the works done beneath the sun, and behold, everything is futility and resolve of spirit.

1:15 What is twisted cannot be put in order, and what is lacking cannot be counted.

1:16 I spoke in my heart, saying: Behold, I became great and added wisdom beyond everyone who was in Jerusalem before me, and my heart saw much—wisdom and knowledge.

1:17 I set my heart to know wisdom and knowledge; I came to know comparisons and understanding, for this too is resolve of spirit.

1:18 For in much wisdom is much knowledge, and whoever increases knowledge will increase pain.

Ecclesiastes 2

2:1 I said in my heart: Come now, I will test you with gladness; experience good. But behold, this too was futility.

2:2 Of laughter I said, “Delirium!” And to gladness, “What are you doing?”

2:3 I examined in my heart how to draw my flesh toward wine—while my heart guided me with wisdom—and how to take hold of folly, until I might see what good human beings should do beneath the sun during the numbered days of their lives.

2:4 I enlarged my work; I built houses for myself and planted vineyards for myself,

2:5 I made gardens and parks for myself and planted in them every kind of fruit tree.

2:6 I made pools of water for myself to irrigate from them a woodland sprouting trees.

2:7 I acquired male and female slaves, and I had slaves born in my house. I also had a great possession of herds and flocks, beyond everyone who was before me in Jerusalem.

2:8 I also gathered silver and gold for myself, and the riches of kings and regions. I provided male and female singers for myself, and human delights—a male cupbearer and female cupbearers.

2:9 I grew great and surpassed everyone who was before me in Jerusalem; my wisdom also remained with me.

2:10 Whatever my eyes asked for, I did not withhold from them. I did not keep my heart from any gladness, for my heart rejoiced in all my toil, and this was my portion from all my toil.

2:11 Then I looked upon all my works that my hands had done and the toil with which I had labored to do them, and behold, everything was futility and resolve of spirit, with no surplus beneath the sun.

2:12 Then I looked to consider wisdom, delirium and folly. For who is the person who will come after the counsel—all the things with which he made it?

2:13 I saw that wisdom has an advantage over folly, like the advantage light has over darkness.

2:14 The wise person’s eyes are in his head, but the fool walks in darkness. Yet I too knew that one event will happen to them all.

2:15 I said in my heart: The fool’s fate will happen to me too. Why have I been wise? Then I spoke excessively in my heart, because a fool speaks from excess, for this too is futility.

2:16 For there is no enduring remembrance of the wise person along with the fool; in the coming days everything will already be forgotten. How will the wise person die along with the fool?

2:17 I hated life, because the work done beneath the sun was grievous to me, for everything is futility and resolve of spirit.

2:18 I hated all my toil with which I toil beneath the sun, because I leave it to the person who comes after me.

2:19 Who knows whether he will be wise or foolish? Yet he has authority over all the toil with which I labored and acted wisely beneath the sun. This too is futility.

2:20 I turned to bid my heart farewell concerning all the toil with which I had labored beneath the sun,

2:21 for a person may toil with wisdom, knowledge and courage, yet will give his portion to someone who did not toil for it. This too is futility and a great evil.

2:22 For what comes to a person from all his toil and the resolve of his heart with which he toils beneath the sun?

2:23 For all his days are pain, and his distraction is anger; even at night his heart does not sleep. This too is futility.

2:24 There is no good in a person. What he will eat and drink and let his soul see as good in his toil—I saw that this too is from the hand of God.

2:25 For who will eat, and who will abstain, apart from Him?

2:26 For to the person who is good before Him He gave wisdom, knowledge and gladness; but to the sinner He gave the distraction of adding and gathering, to give to the one who is good before God. This too is futility and resolve of spirit.

Ecclesiastes 3

3:1 For all things there is a time, and a season for every matter beneath heaven.

3:2 a time to give birth and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot what is planted,

3:3 a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to pull down and a time to build,

3:4 a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to beat the breast in mourning and a time to dance,

3:5 a time to throw stones and a time to gather stones, a time to embrace and a time to keep far from embracing,

3:6 a time to seek and a time to lose, a time to keep and a time to throw away,

3:7 a time to tear and a time to sew, a time to be silent and a time to speak,

3:8 a time to love and a time to hate, a time of war and a time of peace.

3:9 What surplus does the worker gain from the things for which he toils?

3:10 I saw the distraction God has given human beings to be distracted by.

3:11 He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also put the age in their hearts, so that human beings may not find out the work God has done from beginning to end.

3:12 I knew that there is no good for them except to rejoice and do good during one's life.

3:13 Moreover, whenever a person eats and drinks and sees good in all his toil, this is God's gift.

3:14 I knew that everything God has done will endure for ever. Nothing can be added to it, and nothing taken from it; God has done this so that people may fear before Him.

3:15 What has come to be already is, and whatever is to come has already come to be; God will seek the one who is pursued.

3:16 Again I saw beneath the sun: in the place of judgment, the ungodly person was there; in the righteous person's place, the ungodly person was there.

3:17 I said in my heart: God will judge the righteous and the ungodly, for there is a time for every matter and for every work.

3:18 There I said in my heart concerning human beings' speech: God will distinguish them and show that they themselves are beasts, even to themselves.

3:19 For the fate of human beings and the fate of the beast is one fate for them: as one dies, so the other dies, and all have one breath. What advantage has a human being over the beast? None, for everything is futility.

3:20 All go to one place; all came from dust, and all return to dust.

3:21 Who knows whether the spirit of human beings goes upward, and whether the spirit of the beast goes down into the earth?

3:22 I saw that there is no good except for a person to rejoice in his works, for that is his portion. For who will bring him to see what may happen after him?

Ecclesiastes 4

4:1 Again I turned and saw all the extortions committed beneath the sun. Behold, the tears of those being extorted, with no one to comfort them! Power was in their extorters' hands, and they had no one to comfort them.

4:2 I praised the dead, who had already died, above the living, who are alive until now.

4:3 Better than these two is the one who has not yet come to be, who has not seen the evil work done beneath the sun.

4:4 I saw all toil and all courage in work: it is a person's rivalry with his companion. This too is futility and resolve of spirit.

4:5 The fool folded his hands and ate his own flesh.

4:6 Better a handful of rest than two handfuls of toil and resolve of spirit.

4:7 Again I turned and saw futility beneath the sun.

4:8 There is one person with no second, with neither son nor brother. There is no end to all his toil, and his eye is not filled with wealth. For whom am I toiling and depriving my soul of goodness? This too is futility and a grievous distraction.

4:9 Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their toil.

4:10 For if they fall, one will lift his partner. But woe to the one who falls with no second person to lift him!

4:11 Also, if two lie down, they have warmth; but how can one be warm alone?

4:12 If the one gains strength, the two will stand against him; a threefold cord is not quickly torn apart.

4:13 Better a poor and wise youth than an older and foolish king who no longer knows how to pay attention,

4:14 for he will come from the prisoners' house to reign, though he was born poor in his kingdom.

4:15 I saw all the living who walk beneath the sun with the second young man who will stand in his place,

4:16 there was no end to all the people, all who came before them; yet those who come last will not rejoice in him. This too is futility and resolve of spirit.

4:17 Guard your foot when you go to God's house, and be near to listen. Your sacrifice is better than the fools' gift, for they do not know how to do evil.

Ecclesiastes 5

5:1 Do not be hasty with your mouth, and do not let your heart hurry to bring out a word before God, for God is in heaven and you are on earth. Therefore let your words be few.

5:2 For a dream comes with much distraction, and a fool's voice with many words.

5:3 Whenever you vow a vow to God, do not delay paying it, for there is no delight in fools. Pay whatever you vow.

5:4 Better that you do not vow than that you vow and do not pay.

5:5 Do not let your mouth cause your flesh to sin, and do not say before God, "It was ignorance," lest God become angry at your voice and destroy the works of your hands.

5:6 For with many dreams come futilities and many words; therefore fear God.

5:7 If you see extortion of the poor and robbery of judgment and righteousness in a region, do not be astonished at the matter, for a high official is above another to keep watch, and higher ones are above them.

5:8 The land's surplus is in everything—a king of a cultivated field.

5:9 Whoever loves silver will not be filled with silver; and who has loved a yield in their abundance? This too is futility.

5:10 When goodness increased, those who consumed it multiplied. What strength has its possessor except to look at it with his eyes?

5:11 Sweet is the slave's sleep, whether he eats little or much; but being filled with riches does not let him sleep.

5:12 There is a sickness I have seen beneath the sun: wealth kept by its possessor to his harm,

5:13 and that wealth will be lost through a grievous distraction, and he fathered a son with nothing in his hand.

5:14 As he came naked from his mother's womb, he will return to depart as he came. He will take nothing from his toil to carry in his hand.

5:15 This too is a grievous sickness: just as he came, so he will depart. What surplus has he from toiling for the wind?

5:16 All his days are in darkness and mourning, with much anger, sickness and wrath.

5:17 Behold, what I have seen to be good and fitting is to eat and drink and see goodness in all one's toil beneath the sun during the numbered days of life God has given, for that is one's portion.

5:18 Moreover, every person to whom God has given wealth and possessions, and whom He has empowered to eat from them, take his portion and rejoice in his toil—this is God's gift.

5:19 For he will not often remember the days of his life, because God distracts him with the gladness of his heart.

Ecclesiastes 6

6:1 There is an evil I have seen beneath the sun, and it is great upon human beings:

6:2 a person to whom God will give wealth, possessions and glory, so that his soul lacks nothing it desires, yet God will not empower him to eat from it, for a stranger will eat it. This is futility and a grievous sickness.

6:3 If a man fathers a hundred children and lives many years, however numerous the days of his years, but his soul is not filled with goodness and he has no burial, I said a stillborn child is better off than he,

6:4 for it came in futility and goes in darkness, and in darkness its name will be covered,

6:5 and though it has not seen the sun or known anything, it has more rest than he.

6:6 Even if he lived through courses of a thousand years but saw no goodness, do not all go to one place?

6:7 All a person's toil is for his mouth, yet his appetite will not be filled.

6:8 For what advantage has the wise person over the fool? For the poor person knows how to walk before life.

6:9 Better a sight for the eyes than wandering in appetite. This too is futility and resolve of spirit.

6:10 Whatever has come to be has already been named, and it is known what a human being is; he will not be able to contend in judgment with one stronger than himself.

6:11 For many words increase futility; what advantage has a person?

6:12 For who knows what is good for a person in life, during the numbered days of his life of futility? He has spent them in a shadow. Who will tell a person what will be after him beneath the sun?

Ecclesiastes 7

7:1 A name is better than good oil, and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

7:2 Better to go to a house of mourning than to a house of drinking, for this is the end of every human being, and the living will take it to heart.

7:3 Anger is better than laughter, for through a troubled face the heart will become better.

7:4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of gladness.

7:5 Better to hear a wise person's rebuke than to be someone listening to the song of fools,

7:6 for like the sound of thorns beneath a cauldron, so is the laughter of fools. This too is futility.

7:7 For extortion drives a wise person astray and destroys the heart of his vigor.

7:8 The end of words is better than their beginning; a patient person is better than one high in spirit.

7:9 Do not be hasty in your spirit to become angry, for anger will rest in the bosom of fools.

7:10 Do not say, "What happened that the former days were better than these?" For it was not in wisdom that you asked about this.

7:11 Wisdom is good with an inheritance, and an advantage to those who behold the sun.

7:12 For wisdom in its shade is like the shade of silver, and the advantage of the knowledge of wisdom will give life to its possessor.

7:13 Consider God's works, for who can put in order the one whom God has twisted?

7:14 On a day of goodness, live in good; on a day of evil, consider: God has made this in accord with that concerning speech, so that human beings may find out nothing that comes after them.

7:15 I have seen everything in my days of futility: a righteous person perishing in his righteousness, and an ungodly person remaining in his evil.

7:16 Do not become overly righteous, and do not be excessively wise, lest you be bewildered.

7:17 Do not be greatly ungodly, and do not become harsh, lest you die before your time.

7:18 It is good for you to hold to this and also not release your hand from that, for the one who fears God will come through them all.

7:19 Wisdom will help the wise person more than ten rulers who are in the city,

7:20 for there is no righteous person on earth who will do good and not sin.

7:21 Also, do not set your heart upon every word people speak, so that you may not hear your slave cursing you,

7:22 for very often he will wrong you, and many times he will hurt your heart, just as you too have cursed others.

7:23 All this I tested by wisdom. I said, "I will be wise,"

7:24 but it moved far away from me, farther than it was; and depth is deep—who can find it?

7:25 I turned, I and my heart, to know, examine and seek wisdom and a reckoning, and to know an ungodly person's folly, harshness and delirium.

7:26 I find more bitter than death the woman who is traps, whose heart is nets and whose hands are bonds. The one who is good before God will be rescued from her, but the sinner will be caught by her.

7:27 Behold, this I found, said Ecclesiastes, one thing alongside another, to find a reckoning,

7:28 which my soul still sought but I did not find. One man among a thousand I found, but a woman among all these I did not find.

7:29 Only behold, this I found: God made humankind upright, but they sought many reasonings.

Ecclesiastes 8

8:1 Who knows wise people, and who knows the solution of a saying? A person's wisdom will light up his face, but one with a shameless face will be hated.

8:2 Guard the king's mouth; and concerning the word of an oath of God, do not hurry.

8:3 You will go from his presence. Do not stand in an evil matter, for he will do whatever he pleases,

8:4 just as a king with authority speaks; and who will say to him, "What will you do?"

8:5 Whoever keeps a command will know no evil word, and a wise heart knows a time of judgment.

8:6 For every matter has a time and judgment, because a person's knowledge is great upon him.

8:7 For he does not know what will be; who will tell him how it will be?

8:8 No human being has authority over the spirit to restrain the spirit, and there is no authority over the day of death. There is no discharge in war, and ungodliness will not rescue the one who possesses it.

8:9 All this I saw, and I set my heart upon every deed done under the sun, all the things in which one person had authority over another to his harm.

8:10 Then I saw ungodly people brought into tombs; they went from the holy place and were praised in the city because they had acted so. This too is futility.

8:11 Because no prompt contradiction comes from those who do evil, the heart of human beings therefore became fully assured in them to do evil.

8:12 The sinner has done evil from then, and there is length for him; for I know that it will be good for those who fear God, so that they may fear before Him.

8:13 But it will not be good for the ungodly, and he will not prolong his days in a shadow, because he does not fear before God.

8:14 There is a futility that occurs on earth: there are righteous people to whom things happen as the deeds of the ungodly deserve, and ungodly people to whom things happen as the deeds of the righteous deserve. I said that this too is futility.

8:15 So I praised gladness, because a person has no good under the sun except to eat, drink and rejoice; this will accompany him in his toil through the days of his life that God gave him under the sun.

8:16 When I set my heart to know wisdom and to see the distraction carried on upon the earth, because neither by day nor by night does one see sleep with one's eyes,

8:17 then I saw all God's works: a person cannot find the work done under the sun. However much a person toils to seek it, he will not find it; even if the wise person says he knows, he will not be able to find it.

Ecclesiastes 9

9:1 For I set all this upon my heart, and my heart saw all this: the righteous, the wise and their works are in God's hand. A person knows neither love nor hatred; everything lies before them.

9:2 There is futility in everything: one event comes to the righteous and the ungodly, to the good and the bad, to the clean and the unclean, to the one who sacrifices and the one who does not sacrifice. As the good person, so the sinner; as the one who swears, so the one who fears an oath.

9:3 This is an evil in all that is done under the sun: one event comes to everyone. Moreover, the heart of human beings is full of evil, and delirium is in their heart during their lives; afterward they go to the dead.

9:4 Who shares with all the living? There is hope, for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

9:5 For the living will know that they will die, but the dead know nothing; they have no further reward, for their memory is forgotten.

9:6 Their love, their hatred and their envy have already perished; they have no further share for ever in anything done under the sun.

9:7 Come, eat your bread with gladness and drink your wine with a good heart, for God has already favored your deeds.

9:8 Let your garments be white at all times, and let oil not be lacking on your head.

9:9 Enjoy life with the woman whom you have loved, all the days of your futile life that have been given you under the sun, all your futile days; for this is your share in life and in your toil at which you toil under the sun.

9:10 Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your strength, for there is no deed, reckoning, knowledge or wisdom in Hades, where you are going.

9:11 Again I saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor battle to the mighty, nor bread to the wise, nor wealth to those with understanding, nor favor to those with knowledge; for time and encounter will happen to them all.

9:12 For a person does not know his time: like fish caught in an evil net, and birds caught in a snare, so human beings are trapped at an evil time when it falls upon them suddenly.

9:13 This too I saw as wisdom under the sun, and it seemed great to me:

9:14 There was a small city with few people in it; a great king might come against it, surround it and build great siegeworks against it,

9:15 and he might find in it a poor wise man, who will deliver the city by his wisdom; yet no one remembered that poor man.

9:16 I said, Wisdom is better than strength; yet the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

9:17 The words of the wise, heard quietly, are better than the shouting of rulers in follies.

9:18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner will destroy much good.

Ecclesiastes 10

10:1 Death-bringing flies will spoil a preparation of fragrant oil; a little wisdom is precious beyond the glory of great folly.

10:2 A wise person's heart is toward his right, but a fool's heart is toward his left.

10:3 Even when the fool walks along the road, his heart will be lacking, and everything he considers is folly.

10:4 If the spirit of one in authority rises against you, do not leave your place, for healing will put great sins to rest.

10:5 There is an evil I saw under the sun, like an unintended act proceeding from one in authority:

10:6 the fool was set in great heights, while the rich will sit in a low place.

10:7 I saw slaves on horses and rulers walking like slaves upon the ground.

10:8 Whoever digs a pit will fall into it, and whoever tears down a fence will be bitten by a snake.

10:9 Whoever lifts stones will be worn out by them; whoever splits wood will be endangered by it.

10:10 If the iron falls out and he has troubled the face, he will strengthen his forces; and wisdom is the advantage of the courageous man.

10:11 If the snake bites without a whispered charm, there is no advantage for the charmer.

10:12 The words of a wise person's mouth are gracious, but a fool's lips will drown him.

10:13 The beginning of his mouth's words is folly, and the end of his speech is evil wandering.

10:14 The fool multiplies words. A person did not know what happened, and who will tell him what will be after him?

10:15 The toil of fools will weary them, the one who did not know how to go to the city.

10:16 Woe to you, city, whose king is young and whose rulers eat in the morning!

10:17 Blessed are you, land, whose king is a son of free people and whose rulers will eat at the proper time in strength and will not be ashamed!

10:18 Through laziness the roof beams will sink, and through idle hands the house will leak.

10:19 They make bread for laughter, and wine gladdens the living, and everything will listen to money.

10:20 Even in your conscience do not curse a king, and in the inner rooms of your bedchambers do not curse a rich person, for a bird of the heavens will carry the sound, and one with wings will report the word.

Ecclesiastes 11

11:1 Send forth your bread upon the face of the water, for after many days you will find it.

11:2 Give a share to seven, and also to eight, for you do not know what evil will occur upon the earth.

11:3 If the clouds are full of rain, they pour it upon the earth; and if a tree falls to the south or to the north, in the place where the tree falls, there it will be.

11:4 Whoever watches the wind will not sow, and whoever looks at the clouds will not reap,

11:5 among which no one knows the way of the spirit. As with bones in the womb of the pregnant woman, so you will not know God's works, all that He will make.

11:6 In the morning sow your seed, and toward evening do not let your hand rest, for you do not know which will proceed, this or that, or whether both together will be good.

11:7 Light is sweet, and it is good for the eyes to see the sun.

11:8 For even if a person lives many years, he will rejoice in them all and remember the days of darkness, for they will be many. All that comes is futility.

11:9 Rejoice, young man, in your youth, and let your heart make you glad in the days of your youth. Walk in the ways of your heart and in the sight of your eyes, and know that for all these God will bring you into judgment.

11:10 Remove anger from your heart and put away evil from your flesh, for youth and lack of understanding are futility.

Ecclesiastes 12

12:1 Remember the One who created you in the days of your youth, before the days of evil come and the years arrive in which you will say, “I have no desire in them”;

12:2 before the sun, the light, the moon and the stars grow dark, and the clouds return after the rain;

12:3 on the day when the keepers of the house are shaken and the men of strength are bent, when the grinding women have ceased because they have become few and the women looking through the openings grow dark;

12:4 when they shut doors in the marketplace as the grinding woman’s voice weakens, and one rises at the sound of a sparrow, and all the daughters of song are brought low;

12:5 when they look from a height and terrors are on the road, when the almond blossoms, the locust grows fat and the caperberry is scattered; for the human being went to his everlasting home, and mourners circled in the marketplace;

12:6 before the silver cord is overturned, the golden flower ornament is crushed, the jar is broken at the spring and the wheel runs together at the pit;

12:7 and the dust returns to the earth as it was, and the spirit returns to God who gave it.

12:8 Futility of futilities, said Ecclesiastes; everything is futility.

12:9 Besides becoming wise, Ecclesiastes also taught the people knowledge; and an ear will trace out an orderly arrangement of proverbs.

12:10 Ecclesiastes sought much to find words of delight and something written in uprightness, words of truth.

12:11 The words of the wise are like goads and like planted nails, which were given from collections, from one shepherd, and something beyond them.

12:12 My son, beware of making many books; there is no limit, and much study is weariness of the flesh.

12:13 The conclusion of the matter—the whole is heard: fear God and keep His commandments, for this is the whole human being.

12:14 For God will bring every deed into judgment, concerning everything overlooked, whether good or evil.

Song of Songs

Song of Songs 1

1:1 The Song of Songs, which belongs to Solomon.

1:2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth, for your breasts are better than wine.

1:3 The fragrance of your perfumes surpasses all spices; your name is perfume poured out. That is why young women loved you.

1:4 They drew you; we will run after you into the fragrance of your perfumes. The king brought me into his chamber. Let us exult and rejoice in you; we will love your breasts more than wine. Uprightness loved you.

1:5 I am black and beautiful, daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the tent coverings of Solomon.

1:6 Do not look at me because I have been darkened, because the sun looked upon me. My mother's sons fought against me; they made me a keeper in vineyards. My own vineyard I did not keep.

1:7 Tell me, you whom my soul loved, where you pasture, where you rest at noon, lest I become like a woman covering herself beside your companions' herds.

1:8 If you do not know yourself, beautiful among women, go out along the heels of the flocks and pasture your young goats beside the shepherds' tents.

1:9 I have compared you, my companion, to my mare among Pharaoh's chariots.

1:10 How beautiful your cheeks have become, like turtledoves, and your neck like necklaces!

1:11 We will make you likenesses of gold with dots of silver.

1:12 While the king was reclining, my nard gave its fragrance.

1:13 My kinsman is to me a bundle of liquid myrrh; he will lodge between my breasts.

1:14 My kinsman is to me a cluster of henna in the vineyards of En-gedi.

1:15 Behold, you are beautiful, my companion! Behold, you are beautiful; your eyes are doves.

1:16 Behold, you are beautiful, my kinsman, and indeed lovely! Moreover, our bed is shaded.

1:17 The beams of our houses are cedars; our ceiling panels are cypresses.

Song of Songs 2

2:1 I am a flower of the plain, a lily of the valleys.

2:2 Like a lily among thorns, so is my companion among the daughters.

2:3 Like an apple tree among the trees of the woodland, so is my kinsman among the sons. I desired his shade and sat there; his fruit was sweet in my throat.

2:4 Bring me into the house of wine; arrange love over me.

2:5 Strengthen me with sweet cakes, heap apples about me, for I am wounded by love.

2:6 His left hand is beneath my head, and his right hand will embrace me.

2:7 I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, by the powers and by the strengths of the field: do not awaken or stir up love until it wishes.

2:8 The voice of my kinsman! Behold, he comes, leaping over the mountains, bounding over the hills.

2:9 My kinsman is like a gazelle or a young stag upon the mountains of Bethel. Behold, he stands behind our wall, peering through the windows, looking out through the lattice.

2:10 My kinsman answers and says to me: Rise, come, my companion, my beautiful one, my dove,

2:11 for behold, winter has passed; the rain has gone, departed,

2:12 the blossoms have appeared in the land; the time of pruning has arrived; the voice of the turtledove has been heard in our land.

2:13 The fig tree has brought forth its early figs; the vines are flowering and have given fragrance. Rise, come, my companion, my beautiful one, my dove,

2:14 and come, my dove, in the shelter of the rock, close to the outer wall. Show me your face and let me hear your voice, for your voice is sweet and your face lovely.

2:15 Catch for us the little foxes that destroy vineyards, for our vines are flowering.

2:16 My kinsman is mine, and I am his, he who pastures among the lilies,

2:17 until the day breathes and the shadows move. Turn back, my kinsman; be like a gazelle or a young stag upon mountains of hollows.

Song of Songs 3

3:1 On my bed at night I sought the one my soul loved; I sought him but did not find him. I called him, but he did not answer me.

3:2 I will rise now and go around the city, through the marketplaces and squares, and seek the one my soul loved. I sought him but did not find him.

3:3 The watchmen going around the city found me. “Have you perhaps seen the one my soul loved?”

3:4 Scarcely had I passed them when I found the one my soul loved. I held him and will not let him go until I have brought him into my mother’s house, into the chamber of the one who conceived me.

3:5 I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, by the powers and by the strengths of the field: do not awaken or stir up love until it wishes.

3:6 Who is this coming up from the wilderness like columns of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with every powder of the perfumer?

3:7 Behold, Solomon’s couch! Sixty mighty men surround it, from the mighty men of Israel,

3:8 all holding a sword, trained for war, each with his sword upon his thigh, against terror in the night.

3:9 King Solomon made himself a carrying chair from the timber of Lebanon.

3:10 He made its pillars silver and its reclining support gold; its step was purple, its interior paved with stone—love from the daughters of Jerusalem.

3:11 Go out and look at King Solomon wearing the crown with which his mother crowned him on his wedding day, on the day his heart rejoiced.

Song of Songs 4

4:1 Behold, you are beautiful, my companion! Behold, you are beautiful; your eyes are doves apart from your silence. Your hair is like herds of goats that have appeared from Gilead.

4:2 Your teeth are like herds of shorn sheep that came up from bathing, all bearing twins, with none childless among them.

4:3 Your lips are like a scarlet cord, and your speech is lovely. Your cheek is like a pomegranate rind apart from your silence.

4:4 Your neck is like David’s tower, built for thalpioth; a thousand shields hang upon it, all the missiles of mighty men.

4:5 Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle, grazing among lilies.

4:6 Until the day breathes and the shadows move, I will go to the mountain of myrrh and the hill of Lebanon.

4:7 You are altogether beautiful, my companion, and there is no blemish in you.

4:8 Come from Lebanon, bride, come from Lebanon. You will come and pass through from the beginning of faith, from the summit of Senir and Hermon, from lions’ enclosures, from leopards’ mountains.

4:9 You have stirred our hearts, my sister, bride; you have stirred our hearts with one of your eyes, with one ornament of your neck.

4:10 How beautiful your breasts have become, my sister, bride! How much more beautiful your breasts than wine, and the fragrance of your garments than all spices!

4:11 Your lips drip honeycomb sweetness, bride; honey and milk are beneath your tongue, and the fragrance of your garments is like the fragrance of Lebanon.

4:12 A garden enclosed is my sister, my bride; a garden enclosed, a fountain sealed.

4:13 Your outgrowths are an orchard of pomegranates with tree fruits, henna with nard,

4:14 nard and saffron, aromatic reed and cinnamon, with all the trees of Lebanon, myrrh, aloth, with all the finest perfumes,

4:15 a fountain of gardens, a well of living water rushing from Lebanon.

4:16 Awake, north wind, and come, south wind! Blow through my garden, and let my spices flow. Let my kinsman come down into his garden and eat its tree fruits.

Song of Songs 5

5:1 I entered my garden, my sister, bride; I gathered my myrrh with my spices. I ate my bread with my honey; I drank my wine with my milk. Eat, companions, and drink and become drunk, brothers!

5:2 I sleep, but my heart keeps watch. The voice of my kinsman—he knocks upon the door! Open to me, my sister, my companion, my dove, my perfect one, for my head is filled with dew and my curls with the drops of night.

5:3 I took off my tunic; how could I put it on? I washed my feet; how could I soil them?

5:4 My kinsman extended his hand from the opening, and my belly was stirred for him.

5:5 I rose to open to my kinsman; my hands dripped myrrh, my fingers rich myrrh, upon the handles of the bolt.

5:6 I opened to my kinsman; my kinsman had gone. My soul went out at his word. I sought him but did not find him; I called him, but he did not answer me.

5:7 The guards going around the city found me; they struck me, they wounded me. The guards of the walls took my light covering from me.

5:8 I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, by the powers and by the strengths of the field: if you find my kinsman, what will you tell him? That I am wounded by love.

5:9 What makes your kinsman more than another kinsman, beautiful among women? What makes your kinsman more than another kinsman, that you have adjured us this way?

5:10 My kinsman is white and ruddy, selected from myriads.

5:11 His head is gold and phaz; his curls are fir trees, black as a raven,

5:12 his eyes are like doves beside full waters, bathed in milk, seated beside full waters,

5:13 his cheeks are like bowls of spice growing fragrant substances; his lips are lilies dripping rich myrrh,

5:14 his hands are sculpted gold filled with tharsis; his belly is an ivory tablet upon sapphire stone,

5:15 his legs are marble pillars founded upon golden bases; his appearance is like Lebanon, choice as cedars,

5:16 his throat is sweetness, and all of him is desire. This is my kinsman, and this is my companion, daughters of Jerusalem.

Song of Songs 6

6:1 Where has your kinsman gone, beautiful among women? Where has your kinsman looked away? We will seek him with you.

6:2 My kinsman went down to his garden, to the bowls of spice, to pasture in gardens and gather lilies.

6:3 I am my kinsman’s, and my kinsman is mine; he pastures among the lilies.

6:4 You are beautiful, my companion, like goodwill, lovely like Jerusalem, a terror like troops drawn up.

6:5 Turn your eyes away from me, for they have given me wings. Your hair is like herds of goats that have appeared from Gilead.

6:6 Your teeth are like herds of shorn sheep that came up from bathing, all bearing twins, with none childless among them.

6:7 Your lips are like a scarlet cord, and your speech is lovely. Your cheek is like a pomegranate rind apart from your silence.

6:8 There are sixty queens and eighty concubines, and young women without number.

6:9 My dove, my perfect one, is the only one; she is the only one of her mother, the chosen one of the woman who bore her. Daughters saw her and will call her blessed; queens and concubines will praise her.

6:10 Who is this looking out like dawn, beautiful like the moon, chosen like the sun, a terror like troops drawn up?

6:11 I went down to the walnut garden to look at the produce of the wadi, to see whether the vine had blossomed, whether the pomegranates had flowered. There I will give you my breasts.

6:12 My soul did not know; it set me among Amminadab’s chariots.

Song of Songs 7

7:1 Return, return, Shulammite! Return, return, and we will look at you. What will you see in the Shulammite? She comes like dances of the camps.

7:2 How beautiful your steps in sandals have become, daughter of Nadab! The rhythms of your thighs are like necklaces, the work of a craftsman’s hands.

7:3 Your navel is a sculpted mixing bowl, not lacking mixed wine; your belly is a heap of grain fenced about with lilies.

7:4 Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle.

7:5 Your neck is like an ivory tower; your eyes are like pools in Heshbon at the gates of the daughter of many. Your nose is like Lebanon’s tower looking toward Damascus.

7:6 Your head upon you is like Carmel, and the braid of your head is like purple; a king is bound in passageways.

7:7 How beautiful and how delightful you have become, love, in your delights!

7:8 This stature of yours has been compared to a palm tree, and your breasts to clusters.

7:9 I said: I will climb the palm tree; I will grasp its heights. Then your breasts will be like clusters of the vine, and the fragrance of your nose like apples,

7:10 and your throat like good wine, going straight to my kinsman, suited to my lips and teeth.

7:11 I am my kinsman’s, and his turning is toward me.

7:12 Come, my kinsman, let us go out into the field; let us lodge in the villages.

7:13 Let us rise early for the vineyards; let us see whether the vine has blossomed, whether the bloom has flowered, whether the pomegranates have flowered. There I will give you my breasts.

7:14 The mandrakes have given fragrance, and at our doors are all tree fruits, new together with old, which I have kept for you, my kinsman.

Song of Songs 8

8:1 Who might make you my kinsman, nursing at my mother’s breasts? Finding you outside, I will kiss you, and indeed they will not despise me.

8:2 I will take you, bring you into my mother’s house and into the chamber of the one who conceived me. I will give you spiced wine to drink, the juice of my pomegranates.

8:3 His left hand is beneath my head, and his right hand will embrace me.

8:4 I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, by the powers and by the strengths of the field: why awaken or stir up love before it wishes?

8:5 Who is this coming up, made white, leaning upon her kinsman? Beneath the apple tree I awakened you. There your mother labored with you; there she who bore you labored.

8:6 Set me as a seal upon your heart, as a seal upon your arm, for love is strong as death, jealousy harsh as Hades. Its wings are wings of fire, its flames.

8:7 Much water will not be able to quench love, nor will rivers flood it. If a man gives all his livelihood for love, they will utterly despise him.

8:8 We have a little sister, and she has no breasts. What shall we do for our sister on the day someone speaks concerning her?

8:9 If she is a wall, let us build silver battlements upon her; and if she is a door, let us mark out a cedar plank upon her.

8:10 I am a wall, and my breasts are like towers. I was in his eyes like one who finds peace.

8:11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon; he gave his vineyard to keepers. Each will bring a thousand pieces of silver for its fruit.

8:12 My own vineyard is before me. The thousand are yours, Solomon, and the two hundred belong to those who keep its fruit.

8:13 You who sit in gardens, companions are attending to your voice; let me hear it.

8:14 Flee, my kinsman, and be like a gazelle or a young stag upon mountains of spices.

Lamentations

Lamentations 1

1:1 After Israel was taken captive and Jerusalem laid waste, Jeremiah sat weeping and lamented this lament over Jerusalem, saying: How the city once full of peoples sat alone! She has become like a widow, she who was populous among the nations. A ruler among the regions has become subject to tribute.

1:2 Weeping, she wept in the night, her tears upon her cheeks. Among all those who love her there is no one to comfort her. All her friends have dealt faithlessly with her; they have become her enemies.

1:3 Judea was deported because of her humiliation and her great slavery. She dwelt among the nations; she found no rest. All her pursuers overtook her among those who afflicted her.

1:4 Zion's roads mourn because no one comes at the festival. All her gates are destroyed; her priests groan. Her virgins are led away, and she is embittered within herself.

1:5 Those afflicting her have become the head, and her enemies prospered, because the Lord humbled her for her many acts of ungodliness. Her infants went into captivity before the oppressor.

1:6 All her beauty has departed from Daughter Zion. Her rulers have become like rams finding no pasture; they went without strength before the pursuer.

1:7 Jerusalem remembered the days of her humiliation and rejection, all her desired things from ancient days. When her people fell into the oppressor's hands and no one helped her, her enemies saw her and laughed at her deportation.

1:8 Jerusalem has sinned grievously; therefore she has come into upheaval. All who glorified her humbled her, for they saw her shame. She too groaned and turned backward.

1:9 Her uncleanness is at her feet; she did not remember her last things. He brought her down exceedingly; there is no one to comfort her. See, Lord, my humiliation, for the enemy has grown great!

1:10 The oppressor spread out his hand over all her desired things. She saw nations enter her sanctuary, those whom Thou didst command not to enter Thine assembly.

1:11 All her people groan, seeking bread. They gave her desired things for food to restore life. See, Lord, and behold, for I have become dishonored!

1:12 Not to you, all who pass along the road! Turn and see whether there is pain like my pain, which came to be. Speaking against me, the Lord humbled me on the day of His furious anger.

1:13 From His height He sent fire; He brought it down into my bones. He spread a net for my feet; He turned me backward. He made me desolate, suffering pain all day long.

1:14 A watch was kept over my acts of ungodliness; they were intertwined in my hands and rose upon my neck. My strength weakened, because the Lord put pains into my hands; I will not be able to stand.

1:15 The Lord removed all my strong men from my midst. He called a time against me to crush my chosen men. The Lord trod a winepress for the virgin Daughter Judah; for these things I weep.

1:16 My eye brought down water, for the one who comforts me, who restores my life, is far from me. My sons have been destroyed, for the enemy has grown strong.

1:17 Zion spread out her hands; there is no one to comfort her. The Lord commanded concerning Jacob; around him are those who afflict him. Jerusalem has become like a woman sitting apart among them.

1:18 The Lord is righteous, for I embittered His mouth. Hear now, all you peoples, and see my pain. My virgins and my young men went into captivity.

1:19 I called my lovers, but they deceived me. My priests and my elders failed in the city, for they sought food for themselves to restore their lives, and found none.

1:20 See, Lord, how I am afflicted! My belly is troubled, and my heart has turned within me, for I have bitterly provoked. Outside the sword bereaved me, like death in the house.

1:21 Hear now that I groan; there is no one to comfort me. All my enemies heard of my calamities and rejoiced because Thou didst do it. Thou didst bring a day, Thou didst call a time, and they became like me.

1:22 May all their wickedness come before Thee, and glean them as they made a gleaning for all my sins; for my groans are many and my heart is grieved.

Lamentations 2

2:1 How the Lord has darkened Daughter Zion in His anger! He hurled Israel's glory from heaven to earth and did not remember His footstool on the day of His anger.

2:2 The Lord drowned without sparing all Jacob's beautiful things. In His fury He brought down Daughter Judah's strongholds; He pressed them to the earth and profaned her king and her rulers.

2:3 In His furious anger He broke every horn of Israel. He turned back His right hand before the enemy and kindled a flame in Jacob like fire, consuming everything around.

2:4 He drew His bow like an enemy and made His right hand firm like an opponent. He killed everything desired by my eyes in Daughter Zion's tent; He poured out His fury like fire.

2:5 The Lord became like an enemy; He drowned Israel. He drowned all her citadels and destroyed his strongholds; He multiplied humiliation and abasement for Daughter Judah.

2:6 He spread out His dwelling like a vine and destroyed His festival. The Lord forgot what He had made in Zion of festival and Sabbath; in His angry indignation He provoked king, priest and ruler.

2:7 The Lord rejected His altar and shook off His sanctuary. He shattered the wall of her citadels in the enemy's hand. They raised a shout in the Lord's house as on a festival day.

2:8 The Lord turned to destroy Daughter Zion's wall. He stretched out a measure; He did not withdraw His hand from trampling. The outer defense mourned, and the wall weakened together with it.

2:9 Her gates were fixed in the earth; He destroyed and broke her bars. Her king and her rulers are among the nations. There is no law; even her prophets saw no vision from the Lord.

2:10 Daughter Zion's elders sat on the ground in silence. They put dust on their heads and girded themselves with sackcloth. They brought the leading virgins in Jerusalem down to the ground.

2:11 My eyes failed with tears; my heart was troubled. My glory was poured onto the ground at the shattering of the daughter of my people, as infant and nursing child failed in the city's squares.

2:12 They said to their mothers, "Where are grain and wine?" They weakened like the wounded in the city's squares, and their lives poured out into their mothers' bosoms.

2:13 What can I testify to you, or what can I liken to you, Daughter Jerusalem? Who will save you and comfort you, virgin Daughter Zion? For the cup of your crushing has grown great; who will heal you?

2:14 Your prophets saw futile things and folly for you. They did not uncover your injustice to turn back your captivity; they saw for you futile pronouncements and expulsions.

2:15 All who pass along the road clapped their hands at you. They hissed and shook their heads at Daughter Jerusalem: "Is this the city they will call a crown of glory, the gladness of all the earth?"

2:16 All your enemies opened their mouths against you. They hissed and gnashed their teeth; they said, "We have swallowed her! Indeed, this is the day we expected; we found it, we saw it!"

2:17 The Lord did what He intended; He fulfilled His words, which He commanded from ancient days. He brought down without sparing; He made the enemy rejoice over you and exalted your oppressor's horn.

2:18 Their heart cried to the Lord: Walls of Zion, bring down tears like torrents day and night! Give yourself no sobering pause; daughter, may your eye not fall silent.

2:19 Rise, exult in the night at the beginning of your watch! Pour out your heart like water before the Lord. Lift your hands to Him for the lives of your infants, who weaken with hunger at the head of every way out.

2:20 See, Lord, and look: whom hast Thou gleaned in this way? Will women eat the fruit of their womb? A butcher made a gleaning; will infants nursing at breasts be murdered? Wilt Thou kill priest and prophet in the Lord's sanctuary?

2:21 Child and elder lay at the way out. My virgins and my young men went into captivity. With sword and famine Thou didst kill; on the day of Thine anger Thou didst slaughter without sparing.

2:22 He called a festival day of my sojourning from all around. On the day of the Lord's anger there was neither one rescued nor one left, as I prevailed and multiplied all my enemies.

Lamentations 3

3:1 I am the man who sees poverty under the rod of His fury against me.

3:2 He took me and led me away into darkness, not light.

3:3 Indeed, against me He turned His hand all day.

3:4 He made my flesh and my skin old; He shattered my bones.

3:5 He built against me, surrounded my head and toiled.

3:6 He made me dwell in dark places like the dead of ages.

3:7 He built against me, and I will not go out; He made my bronze heavy.

3:8 Indeed, I will cry and call out; He blocked my prayer.

3:9 He built up my roads, blocked my paths and troubled them.

3:10 He is a bear lying in wait for me, a lion in hidden places.

3:11 He pursued me when I turned away and brought me to a stop; He made me desolate.

3:12 He drew His bow and fixed me as a target for a missile.

3:13 He drove the arrows of His quiver into my kidneys.

3:14 I became a laughingstock to all my people, their psalm all day.

3:15 He filled me with bitterness and made me drunk with gall.

3:16 He knocked out my teeth with a pebble and fed me ashes.

3:17 He drove my soul away from peace; I forgot good things.

3:18 I said, “My victory has perished, and my hope from the Lord.”

3:19 I remembered, from my poverty and my persecution, my bitterness and gall.

3:20 My soul will remember and brood over me.

3:21 I will set this in my heart; therefore I will endure.

3:25 The Lord is good to those who wait for Him, to the soul that will seek Him as good

3:26 and will endure and be quiet for the Lord’s salvation.

3:27 It is good for a man when he takes up a yoke in his youth.

3:28 He will sit alone and be silent, because he has taken it upon himself.

3:30 He will give his cheek to the one striking him; he will be filled with reproaches.

3:31 For the Lord will not reject for ever.

3:32 For the One who humbled will have compassion according to His abundant mercy.

3:33 For He did not answer from His heart, and He humbled human beings.

3:34 To humble under one’s feet all the prisoners of the earth,

3:35 to turn aside a man’s judgment before the face of the Most High,

3:36 to condemn a person when he is judged—the Lord did not say to do this.

3:37 Who spoke in this way and it came to be? The Lord did not command,

3:38 will not calamities and good come from the mouth of the Most High?

3:39 Why should a living person grumble, a man concerning his sin?

3:40 Our way was searched and examined; let us return to the Lord.

3:41 Let us lift our hearts upon our hands to the Exalted One in heaven.

3:42 We have sinned and acted godlessly, and Thou wast not propitiated.

3:43 Thou didst cover Thyself with fury and drive us away; Thou didst kill without sparing.

3:44 Thou didst spread a cloud over Thyself because of prayer,

3:45 to close my eyes; Thou didst place us to be rejected among the peoples.

3:46 All our enemies opened their mouths against us.

3:47 Fear and fury have come upon us, exaltation and crushing.

3:48 My eye will bring down outpourings of water at the shattering of the daughter of my people.

3:49 My eye was swallowed up, and I will not be silent, for there is no recovery,

3:50 until the Lord bends down and sees from heaven.

3:51 My eye will glean my soul beyond all the daughters of a city.

3:52 My enemies hunted and hunted me like a sparrow without cause.

3:53 They put my life to death in a pit and laid a stone upon me.

3:54 Water overflowed my head; I said, “I have been rejected.”

3:55 I called upon Thy name, Lord, from the lowest pit.

3:56 Thou didst hear my voice: “Do not hide Thine ears from my supplication.”

3:57 Thou didst draw near to help me on the day I called Thee; Thou didst say to me, “Do not fear.”

3:58 Thou didst judge the cases of my soul, Lord; Thou didst redeem my life.

3:59 Thou didst see my troubles, Lord; Thou didst judge my case.

3:60 Thou didst see all their vengeance in all their reasonings against me.

3:61 Thou didst hear their reproach, all their reasonings against me,

3:62 the lips of those rising against me and their meditations against me all day,

3:63 their sitting and their rising; look upon their eyes.

3:64 Thou wilt repay them a recompense, Lord, according to the works of their hands.

3:65 Thou wilt give them a shielding of heart, Thy toil for them.

3:66 Thou wilt pursue in anger and consume them from beneath heaven, Lord.

Lamentations 4

4:1 How the gold will grow dim, how the good silver will change! Holy stones were poured out at the head of every way out.

4:2 Zion's precious sons, exalted in gold— how they were regarded as earthen vessels, works of a potter's hands!

4:3 Even dragons bared breasts, and their young suckled; the daughters of my people have become incurable, like a sparrow in the wilderness.

4:4 The nursing child's tongue clung to its throat with thirst. Infants asked for bread; there is no one to break it for them.

4:5 Those who ate luxuries were destroyed at the ways out; those nursed upon scarlet wrapped themselves in dung heaps.

4:6 The lawlessness of the daughter of my people became greater than Sodom's lawlessness, which was overthrown as in haste, and they did not labor their hands upon it.

4:7 Her Nazirites were made purer than snow and shone beyond milk; they glowed red beyond sapphire stones in their cut portion.

4:8 Their appearance grew darker than soot; they were unrecognized at the ways out. Their skin clung to their bones; they dried up and became like wood.

4:9 Those wounded by the sword were better off than those wounded by famine; they went away pierced through, deprived of the fields' produce.

4:10 The hands of compassionate women boiled their children; they became food for them at the shattering of the daughter of my people.

4:11 The Lord completed His fury and poured out His furious anger. He kindled a fire in Zion, and it consumed her foundations.

4:12 The kings of the earth, all who dwell in the inhabited world, did not believe that enemy and oppressor would enter through Jerusalem's gates.

4:13 It was because of her prophets' sins and her priests' injustices, those who shed righteous blood in her midst.

4:14 Her watchmen were shaken at the ways out, polluted with blood; when they were unable, they touched their garments.

4:15 Keep away from unclean people—call them—keep away, keep away! Do not touch, for they were set aflame and shaken. Say among the nations, "They will sojourn no longer."

4:16 The Lord's face is their portion; He will look upon them no longer. They showed no respect to priests and no mercy to elders.

4:17 While we still existed, our eyes failed, looking vainly for our help. Keeping watch, we watched for a nation that does not save.

4:18 We hunted our little ones so they would not walk in our squares. Our time has drawn near, our days were fulfilled, our time is here.

4:19 Those pursuing us became swifter than the eagles of heaven. They were kindled upon the mountains and lay in wait for us in the wilderness.

4:20 The spirit of our face, the Lord's anointed, was seized in their destructions, of whom we said, "In his shadow we will live among the nations."

4:21 Rejoice and be glad, daughter of Idumea, dwelling upon the land! To you too the Lord's cup will pass; you will become drunk and pour it out.

4:22 Your lawlessness has ended, Daughter Zion; He will deport you no longer. He has visited your acts of lawlessness, Daughter Edom; He has uncovered your acts of ungodliness.

Lamentations 5

5:1 Remember, Lord, what has happened to us; look and see our reproach.

5:2 Our inheritance has passed to outsiders, our houses to strangers.

5:3 We have become orphans; there is no father; our mothers are like widows.

5:4 From our days, our wood came in exchange.

5:5 We were pursued at our neck; we toiled and did not rest.

5:6 Egypt gave a hand, Assyria for their satisfaction.

5:7 Our fathers sinned and no longer exist; we bore their lawless acts.

5:8 Slaves ruled over us; there is no one to redeem us from their hand.

5:9 At the risk of our lives we will bring in our bread, because of the sword of the wilderness.

5:10 Our skin turned livid like an oven; they shriveled because of famine's storms.

5:11 They humiliated women in Zion, virgins in Judah’s cities.

5:12 Rulers were hung by their hands; elders were not glorified.

5:13 Chosen men took up weeping, and young men weakened under wood.

5:14 Elders ceased from the gate, chosen men ceased from their songs.

5:15 The joy of our heart ended; our dancing turned to mourning.

5:16 The crown fell from our head; woe indeed to us, for we sinned!

5:17 For this our heart became sorrowful; for this our eyes grew dim,

5:18 because Mount Zion was destroyed; foxes passed through her.

5:19 But Thou, Lord, wilt dwell for ever; Thy throne endures from generation to generation.

5:20 Why wilt Thou forget us for ever and forsake us for so many days?

5:21 Turn us back unto Thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned back; and renew our days as before.

5:22 For Thou hast utterly rejected us and hast been exceedingly angry with us.

Wisdom of Solomon

Wisdom of Solomon 1

1:1 Love righteousness, you who judge the earth; think of the Lord in goodness, and seek Him in simplicity of heart.

1:2 For He is found by those who do not put Him to the test, and He makes Himself known to those who do not distrust Him.

1:3 For crooked reasonings separate from God, and power, when put to the test, exposes the foolish.

1:4 For wisdom will not enter a soul that devises evil, nor will she dwell in a body indebted to sin.

1:5 For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit and depart from senseless reasonings, and will be put to shame when injustice comes upon it.

1:6 For wisdom is a spirit that loves humanity, and she will not acquit a blasphemer of what his lips have said; for God is a witness of his kidneys, a true overseer of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.

1:7 For the Spirit of the Lord has filled the inhabited world, and that which holds all things together has knowledge of utterance.

1:8 Therefore no one who speaks unjust things will escape notice, nor will convicting justice pass him by.

1:9 For there will be an examination of the ungodly person’s deliberations, and the report of his words will come to the Lord to expose his lawless deeds.

1:10 For an ear of jealousy listens to all things, and the murmur of grumblings is not hidden.

1:11 Therefore guard yourselves against useless grumbling, and restrain your tongue from slander; for a secret utterance will not pass away without effect, and a lying mouth destroys a soul.

1:12 Do not pursue death through the wandering of your life, nor draw destruction upon yourselves through the works of your hands;

1:13 For God did not make death, neither does He delight in the destruction of the living.

1:14 For He created all things that they might exist, and the created things of the world are life-preserving; there is no poison of destruction in them, nor is Hades’ dominion upon the earth.

1:15 For righteousness is immortal.

1:16 But the ungodly summoned him by their hands and words; considering him a friend, they wasted away, and they made a covenant with him, because they are worthy to belong to his portion.

Wisdom of Solomon 2

2:1 For they said among themselves, reasoning wrongly: “Our life is short and sorrowful, and there is no healing when a human being dies, and no one has been known to return from Hades.

2:2 For we came into being by chance, and afterward we will be as though we had not existed; for the breath in our nostrils is smoke, and reason is a spark in the movement of our heart;

2:3 when it is extinguished, the body will become ashes, and the spirit will disperse like insubstantial air.

2:4 And our name will be forgotten in time, and no one will remember our works; our life will pass like the traces of a cloud, and will disperse like mist, driven away by the sun’s rays and weighed down by its heat.

2:5 For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow, and there is no turning back from our end, because it has been sealed, and no one returns.

2:6 Come, then, and let us enjoy the good things that exist, and eagerly make use of creation as in youth.

2:7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes, and let no spring blossom pass us by.

2:8 Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds before they wither.

2:9 Let none of us be without a share in our revelry; let us leave tokens of our enjoyment everywhere, for this is our portion, and this our lot.

2:10 Let us oppress the poor righteous person; let us not spare a widow, nor show regard for an old man’s many years of gray hair.

2:11 Let our strength be the law of righteousness, for what is weak is shown to be useless.

2:12 Let us lie in wait for the righteous person, because he is troublesome to us and opposes our works; he reproaches us for sins against law and charges us with sins against our upbringing.

2:13 He professes to have knowledge of God and calls himself a child of the Lord.

2:14 He has become a reproach to our thoughts; even the sight of him weighs upon us,

2:15 because his life is unlike that of others, and his paths are different.

2:16 He has reckoned us counterfeit, and keeps away from our ways as from impurities; he calls the final lot of the righteous blessed, and boasts that God is his father.

2:17 Let us see whether his words are true, and test what will happen at his departure.

2:18 For if the righteous person is a son of God, He will help him and rescue him from the hand of his opponents.

2:19 Let us examine him with insult and torture, so that we may know his gentleness and test his endurance of wrong.

2:20 Let us condemn him to a shameful death, for, according to his words, he will be visited with care.”

2:21 They reasoned these things and went astray, for their wickedness blinded them;

2:22 they did not know the mysteries of God, nor hope for a reward of holiness, nor recognize a prize for blameless souls.

2:23 For God created the human being for incorruption and made him an image of His own eternity;

2:24 but through the devil’s envy death entered the world, and those who belong to his portion experience it.

Wisdom of Solomon 3

3:1 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and torment will surely not touch them.

3:2 In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died, and their departure was reckoned a calamity,

3:3 and their going away from us a destruction; but they are in peace.

3:4 For even if they are punished in the sight of human beings, their hope is full of immortality;

3:5 and after being disciplined a little, they will receive great benefits, because God tested them and found them worthy of Himself.

3:6 Like gold in a crucible He tested them, and like a sacrificial whole burnt offering He accepted them.

3:7 And at the time of their visitation they will shine out, and like sparks among stubble they will dart about.

3:8 They will judge nations and rule over peoples, and the Lord will reign over them unto the ages.

3:9 Those who trust in Him will understand truth, and the faithful will remain with Him in love, for grace and mercy are for His chosen ones.

3:10 But the ungodly will have punishment in keeping with their reasoning— those who neglected what is righteous and departed from the Lord.

3:11 For the one who despises wisdom and discipline is wretched; their hope is empty, their labors unprofitable, and their works useless.

3:12 Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked; their offspring is accursed.

3:13 For blessed is the undefiled barren woman, who has not known a bed of transgression; she will have fruit at the visitation of souls,

3:14 and the eunuch who has done no lawless deed with his hand and has not conceived evil against the Lord; for a choice favor will be given him for his faithfulness, and a more delightful portion in the Lord’s temple.

3:15 For the fruit of good labors is glorious, and the root of understanding does not fail.

3:16 But the children of adulterers will not reach fulfillment, and offspring from an unlawful bed will disappear.

3:17 For even if they become long-lived, they will be reckoned as nothing, and their old age will be without honor at the end;

3:18 and if they die quickly, they will have no hope, nor consolation on the day of decision.

3:19 For the ends of an unrighteous generation are harsh.

Wisdom of Solomon 4

4:1 Childlessness with virtue is better, for immortality is in its remembrance, because it is recognized both by God and by human beings.

4:2 When it is present, people imitate it, and when it has departed, they long for it; throughout the age it marches crowned in triumph, having won the contest for undefiled prizes.

4:3 But the prolific multitude of the ungodly will be of no use; from illegitimate shoots it will not send a root deep down, nor establish a secure foundation.

4:4 For even if it flourishes in branches for a time, standing insecurely, it will be shaken by wind and uprooted by the force of winds.

4:5 Unfulfilled branches will be broken off, and their fruit will be useless, unripe for eating, and fit for nothing.

4:6 For children born from unlawful unions are witnesses of wickedness against their parents at their examination.

4:7 But if a righteous person dies early, he will be at rest.

4:8 For honorable old age is not length of time, nor is it measured by a number of years;

4:9 rather, understanding is gray hair for human beings, and an unstained life is the maturity of old age.

4:10 Having become pleasing to God, he was loved, and while living among sinners he was transferred.

4:11 He was snatched away, lest evil change his understanding or deceit mislead his soul;

4:12 for the fascination of wickedness obscures what is good, and the wandering of desire alters an innocent mind.

4:13 Having been brought to completion in a short time, he fulfilled long years;

4:14 for his soul was pleasing to the Lord; therefore he hastened from the midst of wickedness. Yet the peoples saw and did not understand, nor set such a thing in their minds:

4:15 that grace and mercy are among His chosen ones, and visitation among His holy ones.

4:16 But a righteous person who has died will condemn the living ungodly, and youth brought swiftly to completion will condemn the many years of an unrighteous person’s old age.

4:17 For they will see a wise person’s end and will not understand what the Lord planned concerning him or for what purpose He kept him safe.

4:18 They will see and despise, but the Lord will laugh them to scorn.

4:19 And afterward they will become a dishonored corpse and an object of outrage among the dead for ever; for He will dash them down headlong, speechless, and shake them from their foundations; they will be laid utterly waste, and will be in anguish, and their remembrance will perish.

4:20 They will come in dread at the reckoning of their sins, and their lawless deeds will confront and convict them.

Wisdom of Solomon 5

5:1 Then the righteous person will stand with great boldness before those who afflicted him and those who disregarded his labors.

5:2 When they see him, they will be troubled with terrible fear and astonished at his unexpected salvation.

5:3 They will speak among themselves in repentance, and in anguish of spirit they will groan and say:

5:4 “This was the one whom we fools once made a laughingstock and a byword of reproach. We reckoned his life madness and his end dishonorable.

5:5 How was he counted among the sons of God, and how is his portion among the saints?

5:6 So we strayed from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness did not shine upon us, and the sun did not rise upon us.

5:7 We were filled with paths of lawlessness and destruction, and traveled through trackless deserts, but the way of the Lord we did not know.

5:8 What did arrogance profit us? And what did wealth with boasting contribute to us?

5:9 All those things passed like a shadow and like a report rushing by;

5:10 like a ship passing through surging water, whose trace cannot be found after it has crossed, nor the path of its keel among the waves;

5:11 or like a bird that has flown through the air: no sign of its passage is found. It crossed the light air, lashed by the beat of its pinions and split by the force of its rushing wings; and afterward no sign of its passage was found in it;

5:12 or like an arrow shot at a target: the air it cut immediately flowed back into itself, so that its course could not be known:

5:13 so we also were born and vanished, and had no sign of virtue to show, but were consumed in our wickedness.”

5:14 For the hope of an ungodly person is like dust borne by wind, and like fine frost driven by a storm; like smoke it was dispersed by wind, and like the memory of a guest who stayed one day it passed away.

5:15 But the righteous live for ever, and their reward is with the Lord, and the Most High takes care of them.

5:16 Therefore they will receive the royal crown of splendor and the diadem of beauty from the Lord’s hand, because with His right hand He will cover them and with His arm He will shield them.

5:17 He will take His zeal as full armor and make creation into weapons to repel His enemies;

5:18 He will put on righteousness as a breastplate, and put on unfeigned judgment as a helmet;

5:19 He will take holiness as an invincible shield,

5:20 and sharpen stern wrath into a sword; the world will fight together with Him against the senseless.

5:21 Well-aimed bolts of lightning will go forth, and from the clouds, as from a well-curved bow, they will leap at the target;

5:22 and hailstones full of fury will be hurled from a catapult; the water of the sea will rage against them, and rivers will flood over them relentlessly.

5:23 A mighty wind will oppose them and winnow them away like a storm; lawlessness will lay the whole earth waste, and wrongdoing will overturn the thrones of rulers.

Wisdom of Solomon 6

6:1 Listen, then, kings, and understand; learn, judges of the ends of the earth.

6:2 Give ear, you who rule a multitude and boast over crowds of nations;

6:3 for your rule was given you by the Lord, and your authority by the Most High, who will examine your works and search out your plans.

6:4 For though you were servants of His kingdom, you did not judge rightly, nor keep law, nor walk according to God's purpose.

6:5 He will come upon you terribly and swiftly, for a severe judgment falls upon those in high position.

6:6 For the least is pardonable through mercy, but the powerful will be powerfully examined.

6:7 For the Master of all will not shrink before anyone's face or show deference to greatness, because He Himself made both small and great and provides for all alike;

6:8 but a forceful inquiry awaits the mighty.

6:9 To you, therefore, rulers, my words are directed, so that you may learn wisdom and not fall away.

6:10 For those who keep holy things in holiness will be made holy, and those instructed in them will find a defense.

6:11 Desire my words, then; long for them, and you will be instructed.

6:12 Wisdom is radiant and unfading; she is readily seen by those who love her and found by those who seek her.

6:13 She goes ahead of those who desire her, making herself known first.

6:14 The one who rises early for her will not grow weary, for he will find her sitting beside his gates.

6:15 For to reflect upon her is the perfection of understanding, and the one who keeps watch for her will soon be free from care;

6:16 for she herself goes about seeking those worthy of her, appears graciously to them on their paths, and meets them in every thought.

6:17 For her beginning is the truest desire for discipline, and concern for discipline is love;

6:18 love is the keeping of her laws, and attention to laws is assurance of incorruption;

6:19 and incorruption brings one near to God.

6:20 Therefore desire for wisdom leads up to kingship.

6:21 If, then, you delight in thrones and scepters, rulers of peoples, honor wisdom, so that you may reign for ever.

6:22 What wisdom is and how she came to be, I will declare, and I will not hide mysteries from you; instead I will trace her from the beginning of her origin, and bring the knowledge of her into the open, and I will certainly not pass truth by.

6:23 Nor will I travel with wasting envy, for it will have no share with wisdom.

6:24 A multitude of wise people is the world's salvation, and an understanding king is the stability of a people.

6:25 Therefore be instructed by my words, and you will benefit.

Wisdom of Solomon 7

7:1 I too am a mortal human being, equal to all, and a descendant of the first-formed earthborn man; in a mother's womb I was sculpted into flesh,

7:2 taking form in blood over a time of ten months, from a man's seed and the pleasure that accompanied sleep.

7:3 And when I was born, I drew in the common air and fell upon the earth that shares the same lot, crying as my first sound just like everyone else.

7:4 I was brought up in swaddling clothes and attentive care.

7:5 For no king had a different beginning of birth;

7:6 all have one entrance into life, and the same departure.

7:7 Therefore I prayed, and understanding was given me; I called out, and a spirit of wisdom came to me.

7:8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and reckoned wealth as nothing in comparison with her.

7:9 Nor did I compare a priceless stone with her, for all gold in her sight is a little sand, and silver will be reckoned as clay before her.

7:10 I loved her more than health and beauty, and chose to have her rather than light, because the radiance that comes from her never sleeps.

7:11 But all good things came to me together with her, and immeasurable wealth was in her hands.

7:12 I rejoiced in them all, because wisdom leads them, but I did not know that she was their mother.

7:13 I learned without deceit and share without envy; I do not conceal her wealth.

7:14 For she is an unfailing treasure for human beings; those who acquire it enter into friendship with God, commended by the gifts that come from discipline.

7:15 May God grant me to speak with judgment and to reflect worthily on what has been given, for He is both the guide of wisdom and the corrector of the wise.

7:16 For in His hand are both we and our words, all understanding and skill in crafts.

7:17 For He Himself gave me unerring knowledge of existing things: to know the composition of the world and the activity of the elements,

7:18 the beginning and end and middle of times, the changes of the solstices and the transitions of seasons,

7:19 the cycles of the year and the positions of stars,

7:20 the natures of living creatures and the tempers of wild animals, the forces of winds and the reasonings of human beings, the varieties of plants and the powers of roots.

7:21 I learned all that is hidden and manifest, for wisdom, the artisan of all things, taught me.

7:22 For in her is a spirit intelligent, holy, unique, manifold, subtle, agile, lucid, undefiled, clear, unharmed, loving the good, keen,

7:23 unhindered, beneficent, loving humanity, steadfast, secure, free from care, all-powerful, all-overseeing, and passing through all spirits that are intelligent, pure, and most subtle.

7:24 For wisdom is more mobile than every motion; she penetrates and passes through all things because of her purity.

7:25 For she is a breath of God’s power and a pure outflow of the Almighty’s glory; therefore nothing defiled enters into her.

7:26 For she is a radiance of eternal light, an unstained mirror of God’s activity, and an image of His goodness.

7:27 Though she is one, she can do all things; remaining in herself, she renews all things, and passing into holy souls from generation to generation, she makes friends of God and prophets.

7:28 For God loves no one except the one who dwells with wisdom.

7:29 For she is more beautiful than the sun and surpasses every arrangement of stars; compared with light, she is found superior.

7:30 For night succeeds light, but evil does not overpower wisdom.

Wisdom of Solomon 8

8:1 She reaches mightily from end to end, and governs all things well.

8:2 I loved her and sought her out from my youth, and sought to take her as my bride, and became a lover of her beauty.

8:3 She glorifies her noble birth by sharing life with God, and the Master of all loved her;

8:4 for she is initiated into God’s knowledge and is a chooser of His works.

8:5 If wealth is a desirable possession in life, what is richer than wisdom, who works all things?

8:6 And if understanding accomplishes things, who among existing beings is more skilled than she?

8:7 And if anyone loves righteousness, her labors are virtues; for she teaches self-control and understanding, righteousness and courage; nothing in life is more useful for human beings than these.

8:8 And if anyone longs for wide experience, she knows ancient things and infers what is to come; she understands turns of speech and solutions of riddles; she knows signs and wonders beforehand, and the outcomes of seasons and times.

8:9 Therefore I decided to take her to live with me, knowing that she would be a counselor of good things to me and encouragement amid cares and sorrow.

8:10 Through her I will have glory among the crowds, and, though young, honor among elders.

8:11 I will be found keen in judgment and will be admired in the sight of rulers.

8:12 When I am silent they will wait for me, and when I speak they will pay attention; if I speak at length, they will place a hand upon their mouth.

8:13 Through her I will have immortality, and will leave an everlasting remembrance to those after me.

8:14 I will govern peoples, and nations will be subjected to me.

8:15 Terrifying rulers will fear me when they hear of me; among the multitude I will appear good, and in war courageous.

8:16 When I enter my house, I will rest beside her; for companionship with her has no bitterness, and life with her no anguish, but gladness and joy.

8:17 Having reasoned these things within myself and considered in my heart that immortality is in kinship with wisdom,

8:18 and in friendship with her is good delight, and in the labors of her hands unfailing wealth, and in the shared exercise of companionship with her understanding, and in sharing her words good renown, I went about seeking how to take her to myself.

8:19 I was a naturally gifted child, and received a good soul as my lot;

8:20 or rather, being good, I came into an undefiled body.

8:21 But knowing that I could not otherwise gain possession of her unless God gave her— and this too was understanding: to know whose gift it was— I appealed to the Lord and petitioned Him, and said with my whole heart:

Wisdom of Solomon 9

9:1 “God of the fathers and Lord of mercy, who made all things by Thy word

9:2 and by Thy wisdom fashioned the human being, so that he might rule over the creatures made by Thee

9:3 and administer the world in holiness and righteousness, and render judgment in uprightness of soul,

9:4 give me wisdom, who sits beside Thy thrones, and do not reject me from among Thy servants.

9:5 For I am Thy slave and the son of Thy slave woman, a weak and short-lived human being, deficient in understanding judgment and laws.

9:6 For even if someone is perfect among the sons of human beings, without the wisdom that comes from Thee, he will be reckoned as nothing.

9:7 Thou didst choose me as king of Thy people and judge of Thy sons and daughters.

9:8 Thou didst tell me to build a temple on Thy holy mountain and an altar in the city of Thy dwelling, a likeness of the holy tent that Thou didst prepare beforehand from the beginning.

9:9 With Thee is wisdom, who knows Thy works and was present when Thou didst make the world, who understands what is pleasing in Thine eyes and what is upright in Thy commandments.

9:10 Send her out from the holy heavens, and from the throne of Thy glory send her, so that she may labor at my side, and I may know what is pleasing to Thee.

9:11 For she knows and understands all things, and will guide me prudently in my actions and guard me in her glory;

9:12 and my works will be acceptable, and I will judge Thy people righteously and be worthy of my father’s thrones.

9:13 For what human being will know God’s purpose? Or who will conceive what the Lord wills?

9:14 For the reasonings of mortals are uncertain, and our thoughts precarious;

9:15 for a corruptible body weighs down a soul, and the earthly tent burdens a mind full of cares.

9:16 With difficulty we infer the things on earth, and find what lies at hand only with labor; but who has traced out the things in heaven?

9:17 And who knew Thy purpose, unless Thou didst give wisdom and send Thy Holy Spirit from on high?

9:18 And in this way the paths of those on earth were set right, and human beings were taught what pleases Thee, and were saved by wisdom.”

Wisdom of Solomon 10

10:1 She guarded the first-formed father of the world, who had been created alone, and delivered him from his own transgression;

10:2 and she gave him strength to rule over all things.

10:3 But an unrighteous man, departing from her in his anger, perished with the passions that made him kill his brother.

10:4 Because of him the earth was being flooded, but wisdom again saved it, steering the righteous man by means of humble wood.

10:5 When nations were confounded in their shared wickedness, she recognized the righteous man and kept him blameless before God, and preserved him strong against compassion for his child.

10:6 When the ungodly were being destroyed, she rescued a righteous man who fled the fire descending upon the Five Cities.

10:7 As a witness to its wickedness there still stands a smoking wasteland, and plants whose fruit never reaches ripeness, and a standing pillar of salt, a memorial to a disbelieving soul.

10:8 For by passing wisdom by, they were harmed not only by failing to know what is good, but also left life a memorial of their folly, so that even in the things in which they failed they could not escape notice.

10:9 But wisdom rescued those who served her from troubles.

10:10 She guided a righteous man fleeing his brother’s anger along upright paths; she showed him God’s kingdom and gave him knowledge of holy things; she made him prosper in his hardships and multiplied the fruit of his labors.

10:11 She stood beside him against those who overpowered him in their greed, and made him rich.

10:12 She guarded him from enemies and kept him safe from those lying in wait; she presided over a mighty contest for him, so that he might know that devotion to God is stronger than everything.

10:13 She did not abandon a righteous man who had been sold, but rescued him from sin;

10:14 she went down with him into a pit and did not leave him in bonds, until she brought him the scepters of kingship and authority over those who ruled him; she showed those who accused him to be liars and gave him everlasting glory.

10:15 She rescued a holy people and blameless offspring from a nation of oppressors;

10:16 she entered the soul of a servant of the Lord and opposed terrifying kings with wonders and signs.

10:17 She repaid the holy ones the reward of their labors, guided them on a marvelous way, and became for them a covering by day and a flame of stars by night.

10:18 She brought them across the Red Sea and led them through abundant water;

10:19 but their enemies she overwhelmed with the flood and cast them up from the depth of the abyss.

10:20 Therefore the righteous plundered the ungodly and sang hymns, Lord, to Thy holy name, and praised with one accord Thy hand that fought for them;

10:21 for wisdom opened the mouth of the mute and made the tongues of infants speak clearly.

Wisdom of Solomon 11

11:1 She prospered their works by the hand of a holy prophet.

11:2 They traveled through an uninhabited desert and pitched tents in trackless places;

11:3 they opposed their adversaries and repelled their enemies.

11:4 They thirsted and called upon Thee, and water was given them from a sheer rock, and a cure for thirst from hard stone.

11:5 For through the very things by which their enemies were punished, they themselves received benefits in their need.

11:6 Instead of the source of an ever-flowing river turbid with bloody gore,

11:7 as a rebuke to the decree for killing infants, Thou didst give them abundant water beyond their expectation,

11:8 showing through the thirst of that time how Thou didst punish their opponents.

11:9 For when they were tested, although disciplined in mercy, they learned how the ungodly were tormented when judged in wrath.

11:10 For these Thou didst test as a father giving instruction, but those Thou didst examine as a stern king condemning them.

11:11 Whether absent or present, they were worn down alike;

11:12 for a twofold sorrow seized them, and a groaning at the remembrance of what had passed.

11:13 For when they heard that the others had received benefits through their own punishments, they became aware of the Lord.

11:14 For the one long ago cast out in exposure, whom they rejected with mockery, they marveled at in the final outcome, having thirsted unlike the righteous.

11:15 In return for the senseless reasonings of their unrighteousness, in which they went astray and worshiped irrational creeping things and worthless beasts, Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational animals for vengeance,

11:16 so that they might know that through the things by which someone sins, through those things he is punished.

11:17 For Thine all-powerful hand, which created the world from unformed matter, was not at a loss to send upon them a multitude of bears or fierce lions,

11:18 or newly created, unknown beasts full of fury, either breathing a fire-breathing blast, or scattering a stench of smoke, or flashing dreadful sparks from their eyes,

11:19 whose injury could not only utterly crush them, but whose very appearance could terrify and destroy them.

11:20 Even without these, they could have fallen at a single breath, pursued by justice and winnowed away by the breath of Thy power; but Thou didst arrange all things by measure and number and weight.

11:21 For great strength is always at Thy disposal, and who will oppose the might of Thine arm?

11:22 For the whole world before Thee is like a slight tipping of the scales, and like a drop of morning dew that has fallen upon the earth.

11:23 But Thou hast mercy on all, because Thou canst do all things, and Thou overlookest human sins with a view to repentance.

11:24 For Thou lovest all existing things and abhorrest nothing that Thou didst make; for Thou wouldst not have fashioned anything while hating it.

11:25 How could anything have endured unless Thou didst will it, or what had not been called by Thee have been preserved?

11:26 But Thou sparest all things, because they are Thine, Master who loves life.

Wisdom of Solomon 12

12:1 For Thine incorruptible Spirit is in all things.

12:2 Therefore Thou reprovest those who fall away little by little, and admonishest them by reminding them of the things in which they sin, so that, freed from evil, they may believe in Thee, Lord.

12:3 For the ancient inhabitants of Thy holy land,

12:4 whom Thou didst hate for practicing the most detestable things— works of sorcery and unholy rites,

12:5 merciless murders of children, and an entrail-devouring feast of human flesh and blood— initiates from the midst of a ritual company,

12:6 and parents who were murderers of helpless lives, Thou didst will to destroy by the hands of our fathers,

12:7 so that the land most precious to Thee of all might receive a worthy settlement of God’s children.

12:8 Yet even these Thou didst spare as human beings, and send hornets as forerunners of Thine army, so that they might destroy them little by little.

12:9 Thou wast not unable to give the ungodly into the hands of the righteous in battle, or to crush them all at once with terrifying beasts or a stern word;

12:10 but judging them little by little, Thou didst give room for repentance, not unaware that their origin was wicked, and their evil ingrained, and that their reasoning would never change.

12:11 For they were an accursed offspring from the beginning; nor was it out of fear of anyone that Thou didst grant them respite for their sins.

12:12 For who will say, ‘What hast Thou done?’ Or who will oppose Thy judgment? Who will accuse Thee concerning destroyed nations that Thou didst make? Or who will come to confront Thee as an avenger concerning unrighteous human beings?

12:13 For there is no god besides Thee, who cares for all, so that Thou shouldst have to show that Thou hast not judged unjustly;

12:14 nor will a king or ruler be able to face Thee concerning those Thou didst punish.

12:15 But being righteous, Thou administerest all things righteously, regarding it as alien to Thy power to condemn anyone who does not deserve punishment.

12:16 For Thy strength is the beginning of righteousness, and Thy mastery over all makes Thee spare all.

12:17 For Thou displayest strength when the completeness of Thy power is disbelieved, and among those who know, Thou exposest their audacity.

12:18 But Thou, master of strength, judgest with gentleness and governest us with great forbearance; for the ability to act is at Thy disposal whenever Thou wilt.

12:19 Through such works Thou didst teach Thy people that the righteous person must love humanity, and make Thy sons hopeful, because Thou givest repentance for sins.

12:20 For if Thou didst punish the enemies of Thy children, who were liable to death, with such attention and leniency, giving times and room through which they might be freed from evil,

12:21 with how much care didst Thou judge Thy sons, to whose fathers Thou didst give oaths and covenants of good promises?

12:22 Therefore, while disciplining us, Thou scourgest our enemies with myriad blows, so that when judging we may consider Thy goodness, and when judged we may expect mercy.

12:23 Therefore those who lived unrighteously in a foolish way of life Thou didst also torment through their own abominations.

12:24 For they wandered even farther than the paths of error, supposing that creatures despised even among shameful animals were gods, deceived like senseless infants.

12:25 Therefore, as to children without reason, Thou didst send judgment in mockery.

12:26 But those who were not admonished by playful reproofs will experience a judgment worthy of God.

12:27 For as they suffered punishment through the very creatures they had supposed to be gods, they grew indignant at them, and saw and recognized as the true God the One they had long refused to know; therefore the final condemnation also came upon them.

Wisdom of Solomon 13

13:1 For all human beings in whom ignorance of God was present were futile by nature; from the good things seen they could not know the One who is, nor, attending to the works, did they recognize the Artisan.

13:2 Instead, they supposed fire or wind or swift-moving air, or the circuit of stars or violent water, or the lights of heaven to be gods, rulers of the world.

13:3 If, delighted by their beauty, they supposed these things to be gods, let them know how much better than these their Master is; for the Originator of beauty created them.

13:4 And if they were astonished at their power and activity, let them understand from these how much more powerful the One who fashioned them is.

13:5 For from the greatness and beauty of created things their Maker is seen by analogy.

13:6 Yet the blame upon these is small, for perhaps they themselves go astray while seeking God and wishing to find Him.

13:7 For living among His works, they search them out and are persuaded by their appearance, because the things seen are beautiful.

13:8 But again, even they are not excusable;

13:9 for if they were able to know so much that they could investigate the world, how did they not more quickly find the Master of these things?

13:10 But wretched are those whose hopes rest in dead things, who called the works of human hands gods: gold and silver, exercises of craftsmanship, likenesses of living creatures, or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

13:11 Suppose a woodcutting craftsman sawed down a manageable tree, skillfully scraped off all its bark, and, working it handsomely, fashioned a useful vessel for the service of life,

13:12 and burned the scraps from the work to prepare food and ate his fill,

13:13 then took the scrap left from these, useful for nothing, a crooked piece of wood grown full of knots, and carved it with the care of his leisure, shaped it with practiced understanding, and made it resemble a human image,

13:14 or made it like some worthless animal, coating it with red ocher and reddening its surface with paint, and covering every blemish in it,

13:15 and made for it a dwelling worthy of it, set it in a wall, and secured it with iron.

13:16 He took care that it would not fall, knowing that it cannot help itself; for it is an image and needs help.

13:17 Yet when praying concerning his possessions, marriage, and children, he is not ashamed to address what has no soul; for health he calls upon what is weak,

13:18 for life he petitions what is dead, for assistance he begs what is utterly inexperienced, for a journey what cannot even use its feet,

13:19 and for gain, work, and success of his hands, he asks vigor of what is most powerless with its hands.

Wisdom of Solomon 14

14:1 Again, someone preparing for a voyage and about to traverse wild waves calls upon a piece of wood more rotten than the ship carrying him.

14:2 For the desire for gain devised that ship, and wisdom, the artisan, fashioned it;

14:3 but Thy providence, Father, steers it, for Thou didst give a way even in the sea and a safe path among the waves,

14:4 showing that Thou canst save from every danger, so that even someone without skill may embark.

14:5 Thou wilt that the works of Thy wisdom should not be idle; therefore human beings entrust their lives even to a very small piece of wood, and, crossing the surge on a raft, they were brought safely through.

14:6 For even at the beginning, when arrogant giants were perishing, the hope of the world took refuge on a raft and left to the age a seed for generation, steered by Thy hand.

14:7 For blessed is wood through which righteousness comes about;

14:8 but the handmade object is accursed, both it and its maker: the one because he made it, and the other because, though corruptible, it was named a god.

14:9 For equally hateful to God are the ungodly person and his ungodliness;

14:10 for what was done will be punished together with the one who did it.

14:11 Therefore there will also be a visitation upon the nations' idols, because within God's creation they became an abomination, stumbling blocks to human souls, and a snare for the feet of fools.

14:12 For the devising of idols is the beginning of sexual immorality, and their invention the corruption of life.

14:13 For they did not exist from the beginning, nor will they exist for ever;

14:14 through human vainglory they entered the world, and therefore a swift end was planned for them.

14:15 For a father worn down by untimely grief, having made an image of a child swiftly taken away, now honored as a god the one who had once been a dead human being, and handed on mysteries and rites to those under him.

14:16 Then, strengthened over time, the ungodly custom was kept as law.

14:17 And carved images were worshiped at rulers' commands; when people could not honor them face to face because they lived far away, they reproduced their distant appearance and made a visible image of the honored king, so that by their zeal they might flatter the absent one as though present.

14:18 The artist's ambition urged even those who did not know the king toward still greater worship;

14:19 for, perhaps wishing to please the ruler, he used his art to force the likeness toward greater beauty.

14:20 The multitude, drawn by the charm of the workmanship, now reckoned as an object of worship the human being whom they had honored a little before.

14:21 And this became an ambush for life, because human beings, enslaved either to misfortune or to royal power, bestowed upon stones and pieces of wood the name that cannot be shared.

14:22 Then it was not enough to go astray about the knowledge of God; living in the great war of ignorance, they also call such great evils peace.

14:23 For while celebrating rites that murder children, or secret mysteries, or frenzied revelries with strange customs, 14:24 they no longer keep either lives or marriages pure; one kills another by ambush or grieves him by adultery.

14:25 Bloodshed and murder, theft and deceit, hold everything in confusion, corruption, unfaithfulness, disturbance, perjury,

14:26 confusion of good things, forgetfulness of favor, defilement of souls, alteration of natural relations, disorder in marriages, adultery, and licentiousness.

14:27 For worship of nameless idols is the beginning, cause, and end of every evil.

14:28 For they either go mad in their merrymaking, or prophesy lies, or live unjustly, or readily swear falsely.

14:29 For trusting in lifeless idols, they do not expect to be harmed when they swear wrongly.

14:30 But just consequences will pursue them for both things: because they thought wrongly about God by attending to idols, and swore unjustly in deceit, despising holiness.

14:31 For it is not the power of those by whom they swear, but the justice due to sinners, that always pursues the transgression of the unrighteous.

Wisdom of Solomon 15

15:1 But Thou, our God, art good and true, patient, and governing all things in mercy.

15:2 For even if we sin, we are Thine, knowing Thy might; but we will not sin, knowing that we have been reckoned as Thine.

15:3 For to know Thee is complete righteousness, and to know Thy might is the root of immortality.

15:4 For neither the evil-devising invention of human beings misled us, nor the fruitless labor of painters, a form stained with varied colors,

15:5 the sight of which stirs desire in fools, and one longs for the breathless form of a dead image.

15:6 Lovers of evil and worthy of such hopes are those who make them, those who desire them, and those who worship them.

15:7 For a potter, laboriously kneading soft earth, shapes each object for our service; from the same clay he fashioned alike vessels serving clean purposes and those serving the opposite; and the clay-worker decides the use of each kind.

15:8 With evil labor he also shapes a futile god from the same clay, though he himself, having come from earth a little before, will shortly go back to that from which he was taken, when the debt of his soul is demanded.

15:9 But his concern is not that he is about to die, nor that his life is short; instead, he competes with goldsmiths and silver-workers, imitates bronze-workers, and considers it glory that he fashions counterfeits.

15:10 His heart is ashes, and his hope more worthless than earth, and his life more dishonorable than clay,

15:11 because he did not know the One who formed him, who breathed into him an active soul and breathed in a life-giving spirit.

15:12 Instead, they reckoned our life a plaything and our existence a profitable fair; for he says that one must make gain from whatever source, even evil.

15:13 For this man knows better than everyone that he is sinning, when he crafts fragile vessels and carved images from earthy material.

15:14 But all the enemies of Thy people who oppressed them are most foolish and more wretched than an infant's soul,

15:15 because they also reckoned all the nations' idols gods, though these have neither use of eyes for sight, nor nostrils for drawing in air, nor ears to hear, nor fingers of their hands to feel, and their feet are idle for walking.

15:16 For a human being made them, and one who had borrowed his spirit fashioned them; for no human being can shape a god like himself.

15:17 Being mortal, he makes a dead thing with lawless hands; for he is better than the objects he worships: he at least has lived, but they never have.

15:18 They also worship the most hateful animals, for compared in senselessness with the others, these are worse;

15:19 Nor, in their appearance as animals, are they beautiful enough to be desired, and they have escaped both God's praise and His blessing.

Wisdom of Solomon 16

16:1 Therefore they were deservedly punished through similar creatures and tormented by a multitude of beasts.

16:2 In contrast to that punishment, Thou didst benefit Thy people: to meet their eager appetite Thou didst prepare quail as food, a novel taste,

16:3 so that those, though desiring food, would turn away even from their necessary appetite because of the loathsomeness of the creatures sent upon them, while these, after a brief lack, would share in a novel taste.

16:4 For unavoidable need had to come upon those who oppressed, but these only had to be shown how their enemies were tormented.

16:5 For even when the terrible fury of beasts came upon them, and they were being destroyed by the bites of twisting snakes, Thy wrath did not remain to the end;

16:6 they were troubled for a short time as an admonition, having a symbol of salvation to remind them of the commandment of Thy law.

16:7 For the one who turned toward it was saved not through what was seen, but through Thee, the Savior of all.

16:8 Through this Thou didst also convince our enemies that Thou art the One who rescues from every evil.

16:9 For the bites of locusts and flies killed those others, and no cure was found for their lives, because they deserved to be punished by such creatures;

16:10 but even the teeth of venom-spitting serpents did not conquer Thy sons, for Thy mercy came to meet them and healed them.

16:11 For they were stung as a reminder of Thine oracles and swiftly brought safely through, so that they would not fall into deep forgetfulness and become inattentive to Thy beneficence.

16:12 For neither herb nor poultice healed them, but Thy word, Lord, which heals all.

16:13 For Thou hast authority over life and death, and Thou bringest down to the gates of Hades and bringest up again;

16:14 but a human being kills by his wickedness, and does not bring back a spirit that has gone out, nor release a soul that has been taken.

16:15 But it is impossible to escape Thy hand.

16:16 For the ungodly, refusing to know Thee, were scourged by the strength of Thine arm, pursued by strange rains, hail, and relentless showers, and consumed by fire.

16:17 Most astonishingly, in water that quenches everything, the fire worked still more strongly, for the world fights for the righteous.

16:18 At one time the flame was tamed, so that it would not burn up the animals sent against the ungodly, but they themselves, seeing, would know that they were being driven by God's judgment;

16:19 at another time, even amid water, it burns beyond fire's own power, so that it may destroy the produce of an unrighteous land.

16:20 In contrast, Thou didst feed Thy people with angels' food and supply them ready bread from heaven without toil, capable of every delight and suited to every taste.

16:21 For Thy sustenance manifested Thy sweetness toward Thy children; serving the desire of the one who received it, it was transformed into whatever that person wished.

16:22 Snow and ice endured fire and did not melt, so that they might know that the enemies' fruits were destroyed by fire blazing in the hail and flashing in the rains;

16:23 yet again, so that the righteous might be nourished, this fire has even forgotten its own power.

16:24 For creation, serving Thee who made it, strains itself for punishment against the unrighteous and relaxes itself for benefit on behalf of those who trust in Thee.

16:25 Therefore at that time also, changing into all things, it served Thy gift that nourishes all, according to the desire of those in need,

16:26 so that Thy sons whom Thou didst love, Lord, might learn that it is not the production of fruits that nourishes a human being, but Thine utterance that preserves those who trust in Thee.

16:27 For what was not destroyed by fire melted when merely warmed by a brief ray of the sun,

16:28 so that it might be known that one must rise before the sun to give Thee thanks and appeal to Thee at the rising of the light.

16:29 For the hope of an ungrateful person will melt like wintry frost and flow away like useless water.

Wisdom of Solomon 17

17:1 For Thy judgments are great and hard to recount; therefore uninstructed souls went astray.

17:2 For lawless people, supposing they could oppress a holy nation, lay as prisoners of darkness and captives of a long night, shut under their roofs, fugitives from eternal providence.

17:3 For thinking they could escape notice in secret sins, under a lightless covering of forgetfulness, they were scattered, terribly astonished and shaken by apparitions.

17:4 For not even the recess that held them kept them free from fear; terrifying sounds rang around them, and gloomy specters with unsmiling faces appeared.

17:5 No force of fire could give light, nor could the bright flames of stars endure to illuminate that hateful night.

17:6 Only a self-kindled fire full of fear shone through to them; terrified by that unseen sight, they reckoned what they saw still worse.

17:7 The delusions of magical art lay prostrate, and its boasting of understanding suffered a scornful exposure;

17:8 for those who promised to drive away the terrors and disturbances of a sick soul were themselves sick with a ridiculous fear.

17:9 For even if nothing disturbing frightened them, startled by the passing of beasts and the hissing of creeping things, they perished trembling, refusing even to look at the air, which cannot be escaped anywhere.

17:10 For wickedness is a cowardly thing, condemned by its own witness; pressed by conscience, it always imagines grievous things.

17:11 For fear is nothing but a betrayal of the aids that come from reasoning;

17:12 and as expectation within grows weaker, it reckons ignorance more fearful than the cause that produces the torment.

17:13 But they, sleeping the same sleep during that truly powerless night, which had come upon them from the recesses of powerless Hades,

17:14 were at one moment driven by monstrous apparitions, at another paralyzed by their soul's betrayal; for a sudden and unexpected fear poured over them.

17:15 Then whoever it might be who fell there was held under guard, shut in a prison without iron bars.

17:16 For whether someone was a farmer or shepherd or a laborer toiling in the wilderness, once overtaken, he endured the inescapable compulsion; for all were bound by one chain of darkness.

17:17 Whether a whistling wind, or the melodious sound of birds among spreading branches, or the rhythm of water rushing violently, or the harsh crash of falling rocks,

17:18 or the unseen running of leaping animals, or the voice of the fiercest roaring beasts, or an echo rebounding from the hollows of mountains, these terrified and paralyzed them.

17:19 For the whole world was illuminated by brilliant light and occupied with unhindered works;

17:20 but over those alone a heavy night was spread, an image of the darkness that was to receive them; yet they were heavier to themselves than the darkness.

Wisdom of Solomon 18

18:1 But for Thy holy ones there was very great light; hearing their voices but not seeing their forms, the others called them blessed because they had not suffered likewise,

18:2 and thanked them because, though previously wronged, they did not harm them, and begged pardon for their quarrel.

18:3 In contrast, Thou didst supply a fire-blazing pillar, a guide for an unknown journey, and a harmless sun for a glorious sojourn abroad.

18:4 For those deserved to be deprived of light and imprisoned in darkness who had kept Thy sons shut up, through whom the incorruptible light of law was to be given to the world.

18:5 When they planned to kill the infants of the holy ones, and one child had been exposed and saved, Thou didst take away their multitude of children as a rebuke and destroy them together in violent water.

18:6 That night was known beforehand to our fathers, so that, knowing securely the oaths in which they trusted, they might take courage.

18:7 Thy people awaited the salvation of the righteous and the destruction of enemies;

18:8 for by the very means through which Thou didst punish the opponents, Thou didst glorify us, calling us to Thyself.

18:9 For in secret the holy children of good ancestors offered sacrifice, and in unity established the divine law: that the saints would share alike in the same good things and dangers, already singing beforehand the praises of the fathers.

18:10 But the discordant cry of enemies echoed back, and a pitiful sound spread abroad as children were mourned.

18:11 Slave and master were punished together by the same judgment, and the commoner suffered the same things as the king;

18:12 all together, under one name of death, they had countless dead; for the living were not even sufficient to bury them, since in a single moment their most honored offspring had been destroyed.

18:13 For though they disbelieved everything because of their sorceries, at the destruction of the firstborn they acknowledged that the people were God's son.

18:14 For while quiet silence surrounded all things and night was midway through its swift course,

18:15 Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven, from royal thrones, a stern warrior, into the midst of the doomed land, carrying Thine unfeigned command as a sharp sword;

18:16 standing there, it filled all things with death; it touched heaven while standing upon the earth.

18:17 Then at once apparitions of dreadful dreams disturbed them, and unexpected fears came upon them;

18:18 one here and another there, hurled down half-dead, made known the reason why they were dying.

18:19 For the dreams that troubled them had announced this beforehand, so that they would not perish without knowing why they suffered.

18:20 But a trial of death touched the righteous too, and a breaking of the multitude occurred in the wilderness; yet the wrath did not remain long.

18:21 For a blameless man hastened to fight for them, bringing the weapon of his own ministry: prayer and propitiation by incense. He opposed the wrath and put an end to the calamity, showing that he was Thy servant.

18:22 He conquered the anger, not by bodily strength, not by the activity of weapons, but by a word he subdued the punisher, reminding him of the fathers' oaths and covenants.

18:23 For when the dead had already fallen in heaps upon one another, he stood between them and checked the wrath, and cut off the path to the living.

18:24 For upon his ankle-length garment was the whole world, and the glories of the fathers upon the engraving of four rows of stones, and Thy majesty upon the diadem of his head.

18:25 To these the destroyer yielded, and these he feared; for the trial of wrath alone was enough.

Wisdom of Solomon 19

19:1 But merciless fury came upon the ungodly to the end, for He knew beforehand even what they would do,

19:2 that after permitting the people to depart and sending them on their way with haste, they would change their minds and pursue them.

19:3 For while their griefs were still at hand and they were lamenting beside the graves of the dead, they drew upon themselves another senseless plan, and pursued as fugitives those whom they had begged to leave.

19:4 For the compulsion they deserved drew them toward this end and cast upon them forgetfulness of what had happened, so that they might fill up the punishment still lacking in their torments,

19:5 and Thy people might experience an astonishing journey, while those others found an extraordinary death.

19:6 For the whole creation, in its own kind, was being fashioned anew from the beginning, serving Thy commands, so that Thy children might be guarded unharmed.

19:7 The cloud overshadowing the camp was seen, and dry land rising from water that had existed before, an unobstructed way out of the Red Sea, and a grass-bearing plain out of the violent surge;

19:8 through it those sheltered by Thy hand passed as an entire nation, having seen marvelous wonders.

19:9 For they grazed like horses and leaped like lambs, praising Thee, Lord, who rescued them.

19:10 For they still remembered the things from their sojourn: how, instead of producing animals, the earth brought forth gnats, and instead of aquatic creatures the river disgorged a multitude of frogs.

19:11 Later they also saw a new production of birds, when, urged on by desire, they asked for luxurious foods;

19:12 for as a consolation quail came up to them from the sea.

19:13 Punishments also came upon the sinners, not without earlier signs in the violence of thunderbolts; for they suffered justly for their own wickedness, since they had practiced a harsher hatred of strangers.

19:14 For the former did not receive unfamiliar visitors when they came, but these enslaved strangers who had benefited them.

19:15 And not only that: there will be a visitation upon the former, since they received foreigners with hostility;

19:16 but the latter, after receiving with celebrations those who had already shared in the same rights, afflicted them with terrible labors.

19:17 They were also struck with blindness, like those at the righteous man’s doors, when, surrounded by yawning darkness, each sought the passage through his own doors.

19:18 For the elements were being rearranged among themselves, as notes on a harp change the pattern of the rhythm, while always retaining their sound; this can be inferred precisely from observing what happened.

19:19 For land creatures were changed into water creatures, and swimming creatures moved onto land;

19:20 fire in water exceeded its own power, and water forgot its nature of extinguishing;

19:21 flames, conversely, did not wither the flesh of perishable animals walking among them, nor the meltable, crystal-like kind of heavenly food that readily melts.

19:22 For in every way, Lord, Thou didst magnify and glorify Thy people, and didst not disregard them, standing beside them at every time and place.

Sirach

Sirach translator’s prologue

Prologue 1 Since many great things have been given to us through the law, the prophets, and the others who followed after them, for which Israel ought to be praised for instruction and wisdom, and since the readers themselves ought not only to become knowledgeable,

Prologue 1a but lovers of learning should also be able to benefit those outside, both by speaking and by writing, my grandfather Jesus, having devoted himself extensively to reading the law and the prophets

Prologue 1b and the other ancestral books, and having acquired considerable familiarity with them, was himself moved to write something concerning instruction and wisdom, so that lovers of learning, by becoming engaged with these things too, might advance much further through a life according to the law.

Prologue 1c You are therefore urged to read with goodwill and attention, and to be forgiving wherever we may seem

Prologue 1d to fall short in some expressions despite the labor devoted to translation. For things expressed in Hebrew in their own form do not have equal force when transferred into another language. Not only these things, but even the law itself, the prophecies,

Prologue 1e and the remaining books show no small difference when expressed in their own form. For in the thirty-eighth year, under King Euergetes, I arrived in Egypt and stayed for some time; finding a likeness of no small learning,

Prologue 1f I myself considered it most necessary to contribute some diligence and hard work toward translating this book. During that time I devoted many wakeful hours and much skill to completing the book and publishing it also for those living abroad who wish to learn,

Prologue 1g preparing their character to live according to the law.

Sirach 1

1:1 All wisdom is from the Lord and is with Him for ever.

1:2 Who can count the sand of the seas, the drops of rain, and the days of eternity?

1:3 Who can trace the height of heaven, the breadth of the earth, the abyss, and wisdom?

1:4 Wisdom was created before all things, and discerning understanding from eternity.

1:6 To whom was the root of wisdom revealed? Who knew her skillful works?

1:8 There is One who is wise, greatly to be feared, seated upon His throne,

1:9 the Lord Himself. He created her, saw her, counted her out, and poured her upon all His works,

1:10 with all flesh according to His giving; He supplied her to those who love Him.

1:11 The fear of the Lord is glory and a boast, gladness and a crown of rejoicing.

1:12 The fear of the Lord will delight the heart and give gladness, joy, and length of days.

1:13 It will go well at the end with the one who fears the Lord, and on the day of his death he will be blessed.

1:14 To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; she was created together with the faithful in the womb.

1:15 Among human beings she nested on an eternal foundation, and among their offspring she will be trusted.

1:16 To fear the Lord is the fullness of wisdom, and she intoxicates them with her fruits.

1:17 She will fill their whole house with desirable things and their storehouses with her produce.

1:18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of wisdom, making peace and the health of healing flourish.

1:19 He saw her and counted her out; He rained down skill and discerning knowledge and raised high the glory of those who hold her fast.

1:20 To fear the Lord is the root of wisdom, and her branches are length of days.

1:22 Unjust anger cannot be justified, for the weight of a man’s anger brings about his fall.

1:23 A patient person will hold out until the right time, and afterward gladness will spring up for him.

1:24 Until the right time he will conceal his words, and the lips of many will recount his understanding.

1:25 In wisdom’s treasuries are sayings of knowledge, but reverence for God is an abomination to a sinner.

1:26 If you desire wisdom, keep the commandments, and the Lord will supply her to you.

1:27 For wisdom and instruction are the fear of the Lord, and faithfulness and gentleness are His good pleasure.

1:28 Do not disobey the fear of the Lord, and do not approach Him with a divided heart.

1:29 Do not play the hypocrite in people’s talk, and keep watch over your lips.

1:30 Do not exalt yourself, lest you fall and bring dishonor upon your soul. The Lord will uncover your hidden things and cast you down in the midst of the assembly, because you did not approach the fear of the Lord and your heart is full of deceit.

Sirach 2

2:1 Child, if you come to serve the Lord, prepare your soul for testing.

2:2 Set your heart straight and endure; do not rush in a time of calamity.

2:3 Cling to Him and do not withdraw, so that you may grow in your last days.

2:4 Accept whatever is brought upon you, and be patient amid the changes of your humiliation.

2:5 For gold is tested in fire, and acceptable people in the furnace of humiliation.

2:6 Trust Him, and He will support you. Set your ways straight and hope in Him.

2:7 You who fear the Lord, wait for His mercy, and do not turn aside, lest you fall.

2:8 You who fear the Lord, trust Him, and your reward will certainly not fail.

2:9 You who fear the Lord, hope for good things, for eternal gladness and mercy.

2:10 Look at the generations of old and see: Who trusted in the Lord and was put to shame? Who remained in His fear and was abandoned? Who called upon Him and was disregarded by Him?

2:11 For the Lord is compassionate and merciful; He forgives sins and saves in a time of affliction.

2:12 Woe to cowardly hearts and slack hands, and to the sinner who walks on two paths!

2:13 Woe to the slack heart, because it does not trust; therefore it will not be sheltered.

2:14 Woe to you who have lost endurance! What will you do when the Lord visits?

2:15 Those who fear the Lord will not disobey His words, and those who love Him will keep His ways.

2:16 Those who fear the Lord will seek His good pleasure, and those who love Him will be filled with the law.

2:17 Those who fear the Lord will prepare their hearts and humble their souls before Him.

2:18 Let us fall into the hands of the Lord and not into human hands, for as His greatness is, so also is His mercy.

Sirach 3

3:1 Listen to me, your father, children, and act accordingly, so that you may be saved.

3:2 For the Lord has honored a father over his children and confirmed a mother’s authority over her sons.

3:3 The one who honors a father atones for sins,

3:4 and the one who glorifies his mother is like someone storing up treasure.

3:5 The one who honors a father will be gladdened by children, and on the day of his prayer he will be heard.

3:6 The one who glorifies a father will have length of days, and the one who obeys the Lord will give his mother rest;

3:7 he will serve those who brought him into being as masters.

3:8 Honor your father in deed and word, so that a blessing may come upon you from him.

3:9 For a father’s blessing establishes the houses of children, but a mother’s curse uproots foundations.

3:10 Do not glory in your father’s dishonor, for a father’s dishonor is no glory to you.

3:11 For a person’s glory comes from his father’s honor, and a mother in disrepute is a reproach to her children.

3:12 Child, support your father in old age, and do not grieve him during his life.

3:13 Even if he loses understanding, bear with him, and do not dishonor him in all your strength.

3:14 For mercy toward a father will not be forgotten; in place of sins it will be built up for you.

3:15 In the day of your affliction you will be remembered; as fair weather upon frost, so your sins will dissolve.

3:16 The one who abandons a father is like a blasphemer, and the one who provokes his mother is cursed by the Lord.

3:17 Child, carry out your works with gentleness, and you will be loved by an acceptable person.

3:18 The greater you are, the more you must humble yourself, and you will find favor before the Lord,

3:20 because the Lord’s dominion is great, and He is glorified by the humble.

3:21 Do not seek things too difficult for you, and do not investigate things beyond your strength.

3:22 Consider the things commanded you, for you have no need of hidden things.

3:23 Do not busy yourself with matters beyond your tasks, for more than human understanding has been shown to you.

3:24 For their assumption has misled many, and an evil suspicion has caused their thoughts to slip.

3:26 A hard heart will suffer harm at the end, and the one who loves danger will perish in it.

3:27 A hard heart will be weighed down with troubles, and the sinner will add sin upon sins.

3:28 There is no healing for a proud person's calamity, for a plant of wickedness has taken root in him.

3:29 An understanding heart will consider a proverb, and a listening ear is the desire of a wise person.

3:30 Water will extinguish a blazing fire, and almsgiving will atone for sins.

3:31 The one who repays favors takes thought for what comes afterward, and at the time of his fall he will find support.

Sirach 4

4:1 Child, do not deprive the poor person of his livelihood, and do not keep needy eyes waiting.

4:2 Do not grieve a hungry soul, and do not provoke a man in his helplessness.

4:3 Do not add trouble to an embittered heart, and do not delay a gift to someone in need.

4:4 Do not reject an afflicted supplicant, and do not turn your face away from a poor person.

4:5 Do not turn your eye away from someone in need, and do not give anyone occasion to curse you.

4:6 For if he curses you in the bitterness of his soul, his Maker will listen to his petition.

4:7 Make yourself welcome to the assembly, and bow your head to a person of high rank.

4:8 Incline your ear to the poor person, and answer him peaceably with gentleness.

4:9 Rescue the one being wronged from the hand of the wrongdoer, and do not lose courage when you judge.

4:10 Be like a father to orphans and in place of a husband to their mother. Then you will be like a son of the Most High, and He will love you more than your mother does.

4:11 Wisdom has raised her sons high and takes hold of those who seek her.

4:12 The one who loves her loves life, and those who rise early to seek her will be filled with gladness.

4:13 The one who holds her fast will inherit glory; wherever he enters, the Lord blesses.

4:14 Those who serve her will minister to the Holy One, and the Lord loves those who love her.

4:15 The one who obeys her will judge nations, and the one who attends to her will dwell confidently.

4:16 If he trusts, he will possess her as an inheritance, and his descendants will hold her in possession.

4:17 For at first she will walk with him on winding paths; she will bring fear and dread upon him and torment him with her discipline until she trusts his soul, and she will test him by her ordinances.

4:18 Then she will return straight to him, gladden him, and reveal her hidden things to him.

4:19 If he goes astray, she will abandon him and hand him over into the grip of his downfall.

4:20 Watch for the right time and guard against evil, and do not be ashamed concerning your soul.

4:21 For there is shame that brings sin, and there is shame that is glory and favor.

4:22 Do not show partiality against your own soul, and do not defer to someone to your own downfall.

4:23 Do not withhold a word at a time of need,

4:24 for wisdom will be known through speech, and instruction through the tongue's utterance.

4:25 Do not speak against the truth, and be ashamed of your lack of instruction.

4:26 Do not be ashamed to confess your sins, and do not force your way against a river's current.

4:27 Do not lay yourself down beneath a foolish person, and do not show partiality to someone powerful.

4:28 Struggle for the truth until death, and the Lord God will fight for you.

4:29 Do not be rash with your tongue and sluggish and slack in your deeds.

4:30 Do not be like a lion in your house, indulging vain fancies among your household slaves.

4:31 Do not let your hand be stretched out to receive, but drawn back when repaying.

Sirach 5

5:1 Do not rely on your possessions, and do not say, "They are sufficient for me."

5:2 Do not follow your soul and your strength in walking according to the desires of your heart.

5:3 Do not say, "Who will have power over me?" For the Lord will certainly exact retribution.

5:4 Do not say, "I sinned, and what happened to me?" For the Lord is patient.

5:5 Do not become fearless about atonement, adding sin upon sins.

5:6 Do not say, “His compassion is great; He will atone for the multitude of my sins.” For mercy and wrath are with Him, and His anger will settle upon sinners.

5:7 Do not delay turning to the Lord, and do not put it off from day to day. For the Lord’s wrath will go out suddenly, and at the time of retribution you will perish.

5:8 Do not rely on unjust possessions, for they will be of no benefit to you on the day of calamity.

5:9 Do not winnow in every wind or walk on every path; that is how the double-tongued sinner acts.

5:10 Be firm in your understanding, and let your word be one.

5:11 Be quick in listening, and give your answer with patience.

5:12 If you have understanding, answer your neighbor; if not, let your hand be over your mouth.

5:13 Glory and dishonor are in speech, and a person’s tongue can bring about his fall.

5:14 Do not be called a whisperer, and do not set an ambush with your tongue. For shame rests upon a thief, and harsh condemnation upon someone double-tongued.

5:15 In great and small matters do not act ignorantly, and do not become an enemy in place of a friend. For a bad name will inherit shame and reproach; that is how it is with the double-tongued sinner.

Sirach 6

6:2 Do not lift yourself up in the counsel of your soul, lest your soul be torn apart like a bull.

6:3 You will devour your leaves and destroy your fruits, and leave yourself like a dry tree.

6:4 An evil soul will destroy its possessor and make him an object of his enemies’ gloating.

6:5 A sweet voice will multiply its friends, and a well-spoken tongue will multiply friendly greetings.

6:6 Let those at peace with you be many, but your counselors one out of a thousand.

6:7 If you acquire a friend, acquire him through testing, and do not trust him quickly.

6:8 For there is a friend for his own occasion who will certainly not remain on the day of your affliction.

6:9 There is also a friend who turns to enmity and will expose a quarrel to your reproach.

6:10 There is also a friend who shares your tables but will certainly not remain on the day of your affliction.

6:11 In your prosperity he will be like you, and he will speak freely to your household slaves;

6:12 if you are brought low, he will be against you and hide from your face.

6:13 Separate yourself from your enemies, and be cautious with your friends.

6:14 A faithful friend is a strong shelter; and whoever has found him has found a treasure.

6:15 There is no exchange for a faithful friend, and no weight to measure his excellence.

6:16 A faithful friend is medicine for life, and those who fear the Lord will find him.

6:17 The one who fears the Lord will guide his friendship rightly, for as he is, so also is his neighbor.

6:18 Child, choose instruction from your youth, and until your hair is gray you will find wisdom.

6:19 Approach her like one who plows and sows, and wait for her good fruits. For you will labor a little in her cultivation and soon eat from her produce.

6:20 How very harsh she is to the uninstructed! The fainthearted will not remain with her.

6:21 She will be upon him like a heavy testing stone, and he will not delay throwing her away.

6:22 For wisdom is according to her name, and she is not manifest to many.

6:23 Listen, child, and receive my judgment; do not reject my counsel.

6:24 Put your feet into her fetters and your neck into her collar.

6:25 Place your shoulder beneath her and carry her, and do not resent her bonds.

6:26 Approach her with all your soul, and keep her ways with your whole strength.

6:27 Trace her out and seek her, and she will become known to you; when you have gained hold of her, do not let her go.

6:28 For in the end you will find her rest, and she will turn to gladness for you.

6:29 Her fetters will become a strong shelter for you, and her collars a robe of glory.

6:30 For there is a golden ornament upon her, and her bonds are a blue thread.

6:31 You will put her on as a robe of glory and place a crown of rejoicing upon yourself.

6:32 If you are willing, child, you will be instructed; if you give your soul to it, you will become skillful.

6:33 If you love to listen, you will receive; if you incline your ear, you will become wise.

6:34 Stand among a multitude of elders, and if anyone is wise, cling to him.

6:35 Be willing to listen to every godly discourse, and do not let proverbs of understanding escape you.

6:36 If you see someone understanding, rise early to go to him, and let your foot wear down the steps of his doors.

6:37 Consider the Lord’s ordinances and meditate continually on His commandments. He Himself will establish your heart, and the wisdom you desire will be given to you.

Sirach 7

7:1 Do not do evil things, and evil will certainly not overtake you.

7:2 Withdraw from injustice, and it will turn aside from you.

7:3 Son, do not sow in the furrows of injustice, and you will certainly not reap them sevenfold.

7:4 Do not seek leadership from the Lord or a seat of glory from a king.

7:5 Do not justify yourself before the Lord, and do not make yourself out to be wise before a king.

7:6 Do not seek to become a judge, lest you prove unable to remove injustices, lest you be afraid before someone powerful and place a stumbling block in your uprightness.

7:7 Do not sin against the population of a city, and do not cast yourself down among the crowd.

7:8 Do not bind a sin twice, for even with one you will not be innocent.

7:9 Do not say, “He will look upon the multitude of my gifts, and when I present an offering to God Most High, He will accept it.”

7:10 Do not lose heart in your prayer, and do not neglect to give alms.

7:11 Do not laugh at someone in bitterness of soul, for there is One who brings low and raises high.

7:12 Do not plow a lie against your brother, or do the same to a friend.

7:13 Do not be willing to tell any lie, for persisting in it leads to no good.

7:14 Do not chatter among a multitude of elders, and do not repeat a word in your prayer.

7:15 Do not hate laborious work or farming, which the Most High created.

7:16 Do not count yourself among the multitude of sinners; remember that wrath will not delay.

7:17 Humble your soul greatly, for the retribution of the ungodly is fire and the worm.

7:18 Do not exchange a friend for profit or a true brother for gold of Souphir.

7:19 Do not disregard a wise and good wife, for her grace is beyond gold.

7:20 Do not mistreat a household slave who works faithfully, or a hired worker who gives his soul to the task.

7:21 Let your soul love an understanding household slave; do not deprive him of freedom.

7:22 Do you have livestock? Look after them, and if they are useful to you, let them remain with you.

7:23 Do you have children? Discipline them, and bend their neck from youth.

7:24 Do you have daughters? Attend to their bodies, and do not make your face cheerful toward them.

7:25 Give a daughter in marriage, and you will have completed a great task; give her to an understanding man.

7:26 Do you have a wife after your heart? Do not put her away; and do not entrust yourself to an unloved woman.

7:27 Glorify your father with your whole heart, and do not forget your mother’s labor pains.

7:28 Remember that through them you were born; what will you repay them to match what they have given you?

7:29 Revere the Lord with your whole soul, and honor His priests.

7:30 Love your Maker with your whole strength, and do not abandon His ministers.

7:31 Fear the Lord and glorify the priest; give him his portion, as you have been commanded: firstfruits, the guilt offering, the gift of shoulders, the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of holy things.

7:32 Stretch out your hand also to the poor person, so that your blessing may be complete.

7:33 Let the favor of a gift extend to every living person, and do not withhold kindness from the dead.

7:34 Do not hold back from those who weep, and mourn with those who mourn.

7:35 Do not hesitate to visit a sick person, for through such deeds you will be loved.

7:36 In all your words remember your last things, and you will never sin.

Sirach 8

8:1 Do not fight with a powerful person, lest you fall into his hands.

8:2 Do not quarrel with a rich person, lest he set his weight against yours; for gold has destroyed many and turned aside the hearts of kings.

8:3 Do not fight with a talkative person, and do not pile wood upon his fire.

8:4 Do not jest with someone uninstructed, lest your ancestors be dishonored.

8:5 Do not reproach someone turning away from sin; remember that we are all under penalties.

8:6 Do not dishonor a person in his old age, for some of us too grow old.

8:7 Do not rejoice over a dead person; remember that we all die.

8:8 Do not disregard the discourse of the wise; dwell among their proverbs, for from them you will learn instruction and how to serve people of high rank.

8:9 Do not neglect the discourse of the old, for they themselves learned from their fathers; from them you will learn understanding and how to give an answer at a time of need.

8:10 Do not kindle a sinner's coals, lest you be burned in his blazing fire.

8:11 Do not rise up against an insolent person, lest he sit in ambush against your mouth.

8:12 Do not lend to someone stronger than you; if you do lend, regard it as lost.

8:13 Do not stand surety beyond your means; if you do stand surety, take thought as someone who will have to pay.

8:14 Do not litigate with a judge, for they will decide in his favor in keeping with his prestige.

8:15 Do not travel on a road with a reckless person, lest he become a burden against you. For he will act according to his own will, and you will perish along with him through his folly.

8:16 Do not fight with a hot-tempered person or cross the wilderness with him. For blood is as nothing in his eyes, and where there is no help, he will strike you down.

8:17 Do not take counsel with a fool, for he will not be able to keep a word concealed.

8:18 Do not do something secret before a stranger, for you do not know what it will bring forth.

8:19 Do not reveal your heart to every person, and do not let him return you a favor.

Sirach 9

9:1 Do not be jealous of the wife at your bosom, and do not teach her an evil lesson against yourself.

9:2 Do not give your soul to a woman so that she steps upon your strength.

9:3 Do not encounter a woman who acts as a courtesan, lest you fall into her traps.

9:4 Do not spend your time with a female musician, lest you be caught by her undertakings.

9:5 Do not study a virgin closely, lest you stumble into penalties on her account.

9:6 Do not give your soul to prostitutes, so that you do not lose your inheritance.

9:7 Do not look around in the streets of a city, or wander in its deserted places.

9:8 Turn your eye away from a shapely woman, and do not study another's beauty closely. Many have been led astray by a woman's beauty, and from it affection is kindled like fire.

9:9 Do not sit at all with a married woman or share a wine feast with her, lest your soul turn toward her and you slip in your spirit into destruction.

9:10 Do not abandon an old friend, for a recent one is not his equal. A new friend is new wine; when it has aged, you will drink it with gladness.

9:11 Do not envy a sinner's glory, for you do not know what his downfall will be.

9:12 Do not take pleasure in the prosperity of the ungodly; remember that even down to Hades they will certainly not be acquitted.

9:13 Keep far away from a person who has authority to kill, and you will certainly not suspect the fear of death. If you do approach him, do not offend, so that he does not take away your life. Recognize that you are crossing among traps and walking upon a city's battlements.

9:14 To the best of your strength, take the measure of your neighbors, and seek counsel with the wise.

9:15 Let your deliberation be with people of understanding, and let all your discourse be in the law of the Most High.

9:16 Let righteous men be your table companions, and let your boast be in the fear of the Lord.

9:17 A work will be praised through the hand of craftsmen, and a leader of the people is wise through his speech.

9:18 A talkative man is feared in his city, and one who is rash in his speech will be hated.

Sirach 10

10:1 A wise judge will instruct his people, and the government of an understanding person will be orderly.

10:2 As the judge of a people is, so are his ministers; as the ruler of a city is, so are all who inhabit it.

10:3 An uninstructed king will destroy his people, but a city will be settled through the understanding of its rulers.

10:4 Authority over the earth is in the Lord’s hand, and at the right time He will raise up the fitting person over it.

10:5 A man’s prosperity is in the Lord’s hand, and He will place His glory upon the face of a scribe.

10:6 Do not bear anger toward your neighbor over every wrong, and do nothing by acts of insolence.

10:7 Pride is hateful before the Lord and human beings, and injustice is offensive to both.

10:8 Sovereignty passes from nation to nation because of injustices, acts of insolence, and money.

10:9 Why are earth and ashes proud? For even in life I have cast out his entrails.

10:10 A long illness—the physician mocks it. A king today, and tomorrow he will die.

10:11 For when a person dies, he will inherit creeping things, beasts, and worms.

10:12 The beginning of a person’s pride is to withdraw from the Lord; his heart has departed from his Maker.

10:13 For the beginning of pride is sin, and the one who holds it fast will rain down abomination. Therefore the Lord made the calamities extraordinary and overthrew them completely.

10:14 The Lord pulled down the thrones of rulers and seated the gentle in their place.

10:15 The Lord plucked out the roots of nations and planted the humble in their place.

10:16 The Lord overthrew the lands of nations and destroyed them down to the foundations of the earth.

10:17 He removed some from among them and destroyed them, and made their memory cease from the earth.

10:18 Pride was not created for human beings, nor furious anger for those born of women.

10:19 What offspring is honorable? Human offspring. What offspring is honorable? Those who fear the Lord. What offspring is dishonorable? Human offspring. What offspring is dishonorable? Those who transgress commandments.

10:20 Among brothers their leader is honored, and those who fear the Lord are honored in His eyes.

10:22 Rich, renowned, and poor alike—their boast is the fear of the Lord.

10:23 It is not right to dishonor an understanding poor person, and it is not fitting to glorify a sinful man.

10:24 A dignitary, judge, and ruler will be glorified, but none of them is greater than the one who fears the Lord.

10:25 Free people will serve a wise household slave, and a knowledgeable man will not grumble.

10:26 Do not be clever about doing your work, and do not glorify yourself in a time of distress.

10:27 Better someone who works and has abundance in everything than someone who walks about enjoying glory but lacks bread.

10:28 Child, glorify your soul with gentleness, and give it honor according to its worth.

10:29 Who will justify the one who sins against his own soul? Who will glorify the one who dishonors his own life?

10:30 A poor person is glorified for his knowledge, and a rich person is glorified for his wealth.

10:31 If someone is honored in poverty, how much more in wealth? If someone is without honor in wealth, how much more in poverty?

Sirach 11

11:1 The wisdom of a humble person will raise his head and seat him among dignitaries.

11:2 Do not praise a man for his beauty or loathe a person for his appearance.

11:3 The bee is small among winged creatures, but her product is foremost among sweet things.

11:4 Do not boast in the clothing you wear or exalt yourself on a day of glory. For the Lord’s works are wonderful, and His works are hidden from human beings.

11:5 Many rulers have sat upon the ground, while someone unsuspected wore a diadem.

11:6 Many powerful people have been greatly dishonored, and the renowned were handed into others’ hands.

11:7 Do not find fault before investigating; understand first, and then rebuke.

11:8 Do not answer before hearing, and do not interrupt in the middle of someone’s words.

11:9 Do not quarrel about a matter that is no concern of yours, and do not sit together in the judgment of sinners.

11:10 Child, do not let your activities concern too many things. If you multiply them, you will not escape blame; even if you pursue, you will certainly not catch up, and even by running away you will certainly not escape.

11:11 There is someone who toils, labors, and hurries, yet is all the more in want.

11:12 There is someone slow who needs support, lacking strength and abounding in poverty. Yet the Lord’s eyes looked upon him for good, and He raised him from his low estate

11:13 and lifted his head, and many marveled at him.

11:14 Good things and bad, life and death, poverty and wealth are from the Lord.

11:17 The Lord’s gift remains with the godly, and His good pleasure will prosper for ever.

11:18 There is someone who grows rich through his attention and frugality, and this is his allotted reward:

11:19 when he says, “I have found rest, and now I will eat from my good things,” he does not know how much time will pass before he leaves them to others and dies.

11:20 Stand firm in your covenant, occupy yourself with it, and grow old in your work.

11:21 Do not marvel at a sinner’s works, but trust the Lord and remain at your labor. For it is easy in the Lord’s eyes to make a poor person rich quickly and suddenly.

11:22 The Lord’s blessing is in the godly person’s reward, and in a swift moment He makes His blessing flourish.

11:23 Do not say, “What need do I have, and what good things will be mine from now on?”

11:24 Do not say, “I have enough; what harm can come to me from now on?”

11:25 On a day of good things, bad things are forgotten; on a day of bad things, good things will not be remembered.

11:26 For it is easy before the Lord, on the day of death, to repay a person according to his ways.

11:27 An hour’s suffering makes one forget luxury, and at a person’s end his works are revealed.

11:28 Call no one happy before his death, and a man will be known in his children.

11:29 Do not bring every person into your house, for the deceitful person has many ambushes.

11:30 Like a decoy partridge in a basket is the heart of a proud person; like a spy, he watches for a fall.

11:31 For he lies in wait, turning good things into bad, and will attach blame to what is choice.

11:32 From a spark of fire a bed of coals grows, and a sinful person lies in ambush for blood.

11:33 Beware of an evildoer, for he devises evil, lest he give you lasting blame.

11:34 Settle a stranger in your house, and he will throw you into disorder with troubles and estrange you from your own people.

Sirach 12

12:1 If you do good, know to whom you do it, and there will be gratitude for your good deeds.

12:2 Do good to a godly person, and you will find repayment; if not from him, then from the Most High.

12:3 There will be no good things for the one who persists in evil and the one who gives no alms.

12:4 Give to the godly person, and do not support the sinner.

12:5 Do good to the humble person, and do not give to the ungodly. Hold back his loaves and do not give them to him, so that he does not use them to overpower you. For you will receive double evils for all the good things you do to him.

12:6 For the Most High Himself has hated sinners and will repay the ungodly with retribution.

12:7 Give to the good person, and do not support the sinner.

12:8 A friend will not be vindicated in prosperity, and an enemy will not remain hidden in adversity.

12:9 When a man prospers, his enemies are in grief; when he suffers adversity, even his friend will separate himself.

12:10 Never trust your enemy, for as copper corrodes, so does his wickedness.

12:11 Even if he humbles himself and walks bowed down, keep your soul alert and guard against him. You will be toward him like someone who has wiped a mirror, and you will know that it has not completely corroded.

12:12 Do not station him beside yourself, lest he overthrow you and stand in your place. Do not seat him at your right hand, lest he seek your seat; then in the end you will recognize my words and be pierced by my sayings.

12:13 Who will pity a snake-charmer bitten by a serpent, or all those who approach wild beasts?

12:14 So it is with the one who approaches a sinful man and becomes entangled in his sins.

12:15 He will stay with you for an hour, but if you turn aside, he will certainly not hold firm.

12:16 An enemy will make his lips sweet, but in his heart he will plan to throw you into a pit. An enemy will weep with his eyes, but if he finds the occasion, he will not be satisfied with blood.

12:17 If evil things meet you, you will find him there before you; as though helping, he will undermine your heel.

12:18 He will shake his head and clap his hands, whisper many things, and change his expression.

Sirach 13

13:1 The one who touches pitch will be stained, and the one who associates with a proud person will become like him.

13:2 Do not lift a burden beyond you, and do not associate with someone stronger and richer than you. What fellowship can an earthen pot have with a cauldron? One will strike, and the other will be shattered.

13:3 A rich person has done wrong, yet he has added threats; a poor person has been wronged, yet he will add entreaties.

13:4 If you are useful, he makes use of you; if you are in want, he will abandon you.

13:5 If you have something, he will live with you and empty you out, while he himself takes no trouble.

13:6 He needs you, and he will mislead you, smile at you, and give you hope. He will say pleasant things to you and ask, “What do you need?”

13:7 He will shame you with his food until he has emptied you out twice or three times, and in the end he will mock you. After this he will see you and abandon you and shake his head at you.

13:8 Take care not to be misled or brought low through your folly.

13:9 When a powerful person summons you, be retiring, and he will summon you all the more.

13:10 Do not thrust yourself forward, lest you be pushed away; do not stand too far off, so that you are not forgotten.

13:11 Do not insist on speaking with him as an equal, and do not trust his many words. For through much talk he will test you and examine you as though smiling.

13:12 Merciless is the one who does not keep words to himself, and he will certainly not spare you harm and bonds.

13:13 Keep watch and take very great care, because you are walking alongside your downfall.

13:15 Every living creature loves its like, and every person his neighbor.

13:16 All flesh gathers according to kind, and a man will cling to someone like himself.

13:17 What fellowship can a wolf have with a lamb? So it is with a sinner and a godly person.

13:18 What peace can a hyena have with a dog? What peace can a rich person have with a poor one?

13:19 Wild asses in the wilderness are prey for lions; so the poor are feeding grounds for the rich.

13:20 Lowliness is an abomination to the proud; so a poor person is an abomination to the rich.

13:21 A rich person who is shaken is supported by friends; a lowly person who falls is pushed away still further by friends.

13:22 When a rich person stumbles, many support him. He spoke things that should not be spoken, and they justified him. A lowly person stumbled, and they added rebuke; he spoke with understanding, and no place was given him.

13:23 A rich person spoke, and everyone fell silent; they raised his word to the clouds. A poor person spoke, and they said, “Who is this?” If he stumbles, they will throw him down all the more.

13:24 Wealth is good when no sin accompanies it, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.

13:25 A person’s heart changes his face, whether for good or for evil.

13:26 A cheerful face is the trace of a heart in good circumstances, and finding proverbs requires laborious deliberations.

Sirach 14

14:1 Happy is the man who has not slipped with his mouth and has not been pierced by grief over sins.

14:2 Happy is the one whose soul has not condemned him and who has not fallen away from his hope.

14:3 Wealth is not good for a miserly man; what are possessions for a grudging person?

14:4 The one who gathers by depriving his own soul gathers for others, and strangers will enjoy his good things.

14:5 To whom will the one who is bad to himself be good? He will certainly not rejoice in his possessions.

14:6 No one is worse than the one who begrudges himself, and this is the repayment of his evil:

14:7 even if he does good, he does it forgetfully, and in the end he reveals his evil.

14:8 Evil is the one who begrudges with his eye, turning his face away and disregarding souls.

14:9 A greedy person’s eye is not satisfied with its portion, and evil injustice dries up the soul.

14:10 An evil eye begrudges bread, and his own table is lacking.

14:11 Child, do yourself good according to what you have, and bring offerings worthily to the Lord.

14:12 Remember that death will not delay, and the covenant of Hades has not been shown to you.

14:13 Before you die, do good to a friend; according to your strength, reach out and give to him.

14:14 Do not miss a good day, and do not let your share of a good desire pass you by.

14:15 Will you not leave your labors to another, and your toils to the division of an inheritance?

14:16 Give and receive, and beguile your soul, for in Hades there is no seeking luxury.

14:17 All flesh grows old like a garment, for the covenant from eternity is, “You will surely die.”

14:18 Like flourishing foliage on a leafy tree—some it casts down, while other leaves it grows—so is a generation of flesh and blood: one dies, and another is born.

14:19 Every decaying work comes to an end, and its maker will depart with it.

14:20 Happy is the man who will meditate on wisdom and speak with his understanding,

14:21 who considers her ways in his heart and will reflect upon her hidden things.

14:22 Go out after her like a tracker, and lie in wait on her paths.

14:23 The one who peers through her windows will also listen at her doorways;

14:24 the one who lodges near her house will fix a tent peg in her walls.

14:25 He will pitch his tent beside her and lodge in a lodging of good things.

14:26 He will place his children in her shelter and spend the night beneath her branches.

14:27 He will be sheltered by her from the heat and lodge in her glory.

Sirach 15

15:1 The one who fears the Lord will do this, and the one who holds fast to the law will gain her.

15:2 She will meet him like a mother and welcome him like a wife of his youth.

15:3 She will feed him bread of understanding and give him water of wisdom to drink.

15:4 He will lean upon her and certainly not be shaken; he will hold to her and certainly not be put to shame.

15:5 She will raise him above his neighbors and open his mouth in the midst of the assembly.

15:6 He will find gladness and a crown of rejoicing, and inherit an everlasting name.

15:7 People without understanding will certainly not gain her, and sinful men will certainly not see her.

15:8 She is far from pride, and lying men will certainly not remember her.

15:9 Praise is not fitting in a sinner’s mouth, because it was not sent from the Lord.

15:10 For praise will be spoken in wisdom, and the Lord will cause it to prosper.

15:11 Do not say, “Because of the Lord I fell away,” for He will not do the things He hates.

15:12 Do not say, “He Himself led me astray,” for He has no need of a sinful man.

15:13 The Lord has hated every abomination, and it is not loved by those who fear Him.

15:14 He Himself made the human being from the beginning and left him in the hand of his own deliberation.

15:15 If you are willing, you will keep the commandments; to act faithfully is a matter of good will.

15:16 He has placed fire and water before you; toward whichever you wish, you will stretch out your hand.

15:17 Before human beings are life and death, and whichever a person chooses will be given to him.

15:18 For the Lord’s wisdom is great; He is strong in dominion and sees all things.

15:19 His eyes are upon those who fear Him, and He Himself will know every human deed.

15:20 He commanded no one to act ungodly, and He gave no one license to sin.

Sirach 16

16:1 Do not desire a multitude of useless children, or rejoice in ungodly sons.

16:2 Even if they multiply, do not rejoice in them unless the fear of the Lord is with them.

16:3 Do not trust in their life or rely on their multitude. For one is better than a thousand, and it is better to die childless than to have ungodly children.

16:4 For through one understanding person a city will be settled, but a tribe of lawless people will become desolate.

16:5 My eye has seen many such things, and my ear has heard things stronger than these.

16:6 In an assembly of sinners fire will be kindled, and in a disobedient nation wrath was kindled.

16:7 He did not make atonement for the ancient giants, who rebelled in their strength.

16:8 He did not spare Lot’s neighbors, whom He loathed because of their pride.

16:9 He did not have mercy on the nation of destruction, those carried away in their sins,

16:10 and likewise on the six hundred thousand foot soldiers gathered together in their hardness of heart.

16:11 Even if there is one stiff-necked person, it is a wonder if he will be acquitted. For mercy and wrath are with Him; He is mighty in atonements and pours out wrath.

16:12 As His mercy is great, so also His rebuke is great; He will judge a man according to his deeds.

16:13 A sinner will not escape with his plunder, and a godly person's endurance will certainly not be left behind.

16:14 He will make room for every act of almsgiving; each person will receive according to his deeds.

16:17 Do not say, "I will be hidden from the Lord; who will remember me from on high? Among a numerous people I will certainly not be known, for what is my soul in the immeasurable creation?"

16:18 Behold, heaven and the heaven of heaven, the abyss and the earth will be shaken at His visitation.

16:19 Together the mountains and the foundations of the earth are shaken with trembling when He looks upon them.

16:20 Yet no heart will consider these things, and who will ponder His ways?

16:21 There is also a tempest that a person will not see, and most of His works are hidden.

16:22 Who will announce works of righteousness? Who will wait? For the covenant is far away.

16:23 Someone deficient in heart thinks these things; a foolish and wandering man thinks foolish things.

16:24 Listen to me, child, and learn knowledge; attend to my words with your heart.

16:25 I will disclose instruction by measure and declare knowledge with precision.

16:26 By the Lord's judgment His works have existed from the beginning; from their making He distinguished their portions.

16:27 He ordered His works for ever and their dominions through their generations. They neither hungered nor grew weary, and they did not cease from their tasks.

16:28 None crowded out its neighbor, and for ever they will not disobey His word.

16:29 After these things the Lord looked upon the earth and filled it with His good things.

16:30 He covered its face with the life of every living creature, and to it they return.

Sirach 17

17:1 The Lord created a human being from earth and returned him to it again.

17:2 He gave them numbered days and an appointed time, and He gave them authority over the things upon it.

17:3 He clothed them with strength like His own and made them according to His image.

17:4 He placed the fear of the human being upon all flesh and granted dominion over beasts and winged creatures.

17:6 He gave them deliberation, a tongue and eyes, ears and a heart for understanding.

17:7 He filled them with discerning knowledge and showed them good things and evil things.

17:8 He set His eye upon their hearts to show them the greatness of His works,

17:10 and they will praise the holy name, so that they may recount the greatness of His works.

17:11 He added knowledge to them and gave them the law of life as an inheritance.

17:12 He established an everlasting covenant with them and showed them His judgments.

17:13 Their eyes saw the greatness of glory, and their ear heard the glory of His voice.

17:14 He said to them, "Beware of every injustice," and commanded each of them concerning the neighbor.

17:15 Their ways are continually before Him; they will not be hidden from His eyes.

17:17 He appointed a ruler for each nation, but Israel is the Lord's portion.

17:19 All their works are like the sun before Him, and His eyes are continually upon their ways.

17:20 Their injustices were not hidden from Him, and all their sins are before the Lord.

17:22 A man's almsgiving is like a seal with Him, and He will guard human kindness like the pupil of an eye.

17:23 After these things He will rise and repay them; He will return their recompense upon their head.

17:24 Yet He gave a way back to those who repent and encouraged those whose endurance was failing.

17:25 Return to the Lord and leave sins behind; petition Him face to face and lessen your stumbling.

17:26 Come back to the Most High, turn away from injustice, and hate abomination intensely.

17:27 Who in Hades will praise the Most High in place of the living who give acknowledgment?

17:28 From the dead, as from one who does not exist, thanksgiving perishes; the living and healthy will praise the Lord.

17:29 How great is the Lord’s mercy and His atonement for those who return to Him!

17:30 For human beings cannot have everything, because a son of man is not immortal.

17:31 What is brighter than the sun? Yet even it fails; and flesh and blood will conceive evil.

17:32 He Himself surveys the power of the height of heaven, but all human beings are earth and ashes.

Sirach 18

18:1 He who lives for ever created all things together.

18:2 The Lord alone will be justified.

18:4 He has empowered no one to declare His works fully; who will trace out His mighty deeds?

18:5 Who will count the might of His greatness? Who will go on to recount His mercies?

18:6 It is impossible to diminish or to add, and impossible to trace out the Lord’s wonders.

18:7 When a person finishes, then he begins; when he stops, then he will be at a loss.

18:8 What is a human being, and what is his use? What is his good, and what is his evil?

18:9 The number of a person’s days, in many years, is a hundred.

18:10 Like a drop of water from the sea or a grain of sand, so are a few years in a day of eternity.

18:11 Therefore the Lord was patient with them and poured His mercy upon them.

18:12 He saw and knew that their end was grievous; therefore He multiplied His atonement.

18:13 A person’s mercy is toward his neighbor, but the Lord’s mercy is upon all flesh: rebuking, disciplining, teaching, and bringing back like a shepherd his flock.

18:14 He has mercy on those who receive discipline and those who hasten eagerly toward His judgments.

18:15 Child, do not add reproach to good deeds, or the grief of words to any gift.

18:16 Will not dew bring relief from scorching heat? So a word is better than a gift.

18:17 Behold, is not a word beyond a good gift? Yet both are found with a gracious man.

18:18 A fool will reproach gracelessly, and a grudging person’s gift makes eyes waste away.

18:19 Learn before speaking, and attend to your health before illness.

18:20 Examine yourself before judgment, and at the hour of visitation you will find atonement.

18:21 Humble yourself before you fall ill, and show repentance at the time of sins.

18:22 Do not be held back from repaying a vow at the right time, and do not wait until death to be justified.

18:23 Prepare yourself before making a vow, and do not become like a person testing the Lord.

18:24 Remember wrath in the days of death, and the time of retribution when the face is turned away.

18:25 Remember a time of famine in a time of fullness, poverty and need in days of wealth.

18:26 From morning until evening the time changes, and all things are swift before the Lord.

18:27 A wise person will be cautious in everything, and in days of sins will guard against wrongdoing.

18:28 Every understanding person has known wisdom and will give acknowledgment to the one who finds her.

18:29 Those understanding in words have themselves become wise and rained down precise proverbs.

18:30 Do not walk after your desires, and restrain your appetites.

18:31 If you supply your soul with the satisfaction of desire, it will make you an object of your enemies’ gloating.

18:32 Do not rejoice in great luxury, lest you be bound to contribute to it.

18:33 Do not become poor by feasting on borrowed money when you have nothing in your purse.

Sirach 19

19:1 A drunken worker will not become rich; the one who despises small things will fall little by little.

19:2 Wine and women will lead understanding men astray, and the one who clings to prostitutes will become more reckless.

19:3 Rot and worms will inherit him, and a reckless soul will be taken away.

19:4 The one who trusts quickly is lighthearted, and the one who sins will wrong his own soul.

19:5 The one who rejoices in heart will be condemned,

19:6 but the one who hates chatter diminishes evil.

19:7 Never repeat a word, and you will certainly lose nothing.

19:8 Do not tell it to friend or enemy, and unless silence is a sin for you, do not reveal it.

19:9 For someone has heard you and kept watch on you, and in time he will hate you.

19:10 Have you heard a word? Let it die with you. Take courage; it will certainly not make you burst.

19:11 A fool will suffer labor pains over a word, like a woman giving birth over her baby.

19:12 An arrow fixed in the flesh of a thigh—so is a word in a fool's belly.

19:13 Question a friend; perhaps he did not do it, and if he did, question him so that he may not repeat it.

19:14 Question your neighbor; perhaps he did not say it, and if he has said it, question him so that he may not say it again.

19:15 Question a friend, for slander often occurs; do not trust every report.

19:16 There is someone who slips without intending it in his soul; who has not sinned with his tongue?

19:17 Question your neighbor before threatening him, and give place to the law of the Most High.

19:20 All wisdom is fear of the Lord, and in all wisdom there is doing the law.

19:22 Knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom, and where sinners take counsel there is no prudence.

19:23 There is shrewdness that is an abomination, and there is a foolish person deficient in wisdom.

19:24 Better someone lacking understanding but full of fear than someone abounding in prudence who transgresses the law.

19:25 There is precise shrewdness that is unjust, and there is someone who twists matters in order to bring a judgment to light.

19:26 There is someone who acts wickedly while bowed down in gloom, with his inward parts full of deceit.

19:27 Hiding his face and pretending to be deaf, where he has not been recognized he will get ahead of you.

19:28 If lack of strength prevents him from sinning, he will do evil when he finds an opportunity.

19:29 A man will be recognized from his appearance, and an understanding person from the look of his face.

19:30 A man's clothing, the grin of his teeth, and a person's steps will declare what he is like.

Sirach 20

20:1 There is a rebuke that is not fitting, and there is a silent person who is prudent.

20:2 How much better to rebuke than to be angry,

20:3 and the one who acknowledges his fault will be kept from loss.

20:4 A eunuch's desire to take a young woman's virginity—so is the one who carries out judgments by force.

20:5 There is a silent person who is found wise, and there is someone hated for much chatter.

20:6 There is someone silent because he has no answer, and someone silent because he knows the right time.

20:7 A wise person will keep silent until the right time, but a babbler and a fool will miss the right time.

20:8 The one who multiplies words will be loathed, and the one who assumes authority will be hated.

20:9 There is success for a man amid adversity, and there is a gain that brings loss.

20:10 There is a gift that will not benefit you, and a gift whose repayment is double.

20:11 There is loss for the sake of glory, and there is someone who has lifted his head from lowliness.

20:12 There is someone who buys much for little and pays for it sevenfold.

20:13 A wise person will make himself welcome by his words, but fools' favors will be wasted.

20:14 An unthinking person's gift will not benefit you, for his eyes seek many things in exchange for one.

20:15 He will give little and reproach much, and open his mouth like a herald. Today he will lend, and tomorrow he will demand repayment; such a person is hateful.

20:16 A fool will say, "I have no friend, and there is no gratitude for my good deeds."

20:17 Those who eat his bread are base in speech. How often, and how many, will laugh at him?

20:18 Better a slip on the ground than a slip of the tongue; so the fall of the wicked will come swiftly.

20:19 A graceless person is an untimely tale; it will be continually in the mouth of the uninstructed.

20:20 A proverb will be rejected from a fool's mouth, for he will certainly not say it at its proper time.

20:21 There is someone prevented from sinning by need; in his rest he will not be pierced with remorse.

20:22 There is someone who destroys his soul through shame, and through regard for a foolish face he will lose it.

20:23 There is someone who makes a promise to a friend because of shame, and has acquired him as an enemy for nothing.

20:24 A lie is an evil blemish in a person; it will be continually in the mouth of the uninstructed.

20:25 A thief is preferable to someone who persists in lying, but both will inherit destruction.

20:26 A lying person's character is dishonor, and his shame is continually with him.

20:27 A wise person will advance himself through his words, and a prudent man will please dignitaries.

20:28 The one who works the land will raise his heap of grain, and the one who pleases dignitaries will atone for injustice.

20:29 Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise and turn aside rebukes like a muzzle in the mouth.

20:30 Hidden wisdom and an unseen treasure—what benefit is there in either?

20:31 Better a person who hides his foolishness than a person who hides his wisdom.

Sirach 21

21:1 Child, have you sinned? Do not add to it any more, and pray concerning your earlier sins.

21:2 Flee from sin as from the presence of a snake, for if you approach it, it will bite you. Its teeth are lions' teeth, destroying human lives.

21:3 All lawlessness is like a two-edged sword; there is no healing for its wound.

21:4 Intimidation and insolence will lay wealth waste; so the house of a proud person will be laid waste.

21:5 A poor person's petition goes from his mouth to His ears, and His judgment comes swiftly.

21:6 The one who hates rebuke is in a sinner's tracks, but the one who fears the Lord will turn back in heart.

21:7 One who is powerful with the tongue is known from far away, but an understanding person knows when he slips.

21:8 The one who builds his house with others' money is like someone gathering its stones for a storm.

21:9 An assembly of the lawless is gathered tow, and their end is a flame of fire.

21:10 The sinners' road is smoothed with stones, but at its end is the pit of Hades.

21:11 The one who keeps the law masters his thoughts, and wisdom is the fulfillment of the fear of the Lord.

21:12 The one who is not shrewd will not be instructed, yet there is a shrewdness that multiplies bitterness.

21:13 A wise person's knowledge will increase like a flood, and his counsel is like a spring of life.

21:14 A fool's inward parts are like a broken vessel; he will retain no knowledge.

21:15 If a knowledgeable person hears a wise word, he will praise it and add to it. A self-indulgent person heard it, and it displeased him; he cast it behind his back.

21:16 A fool's explanation is like a burden on a journey, but grace will be found on an understanding person's lip.

21:17 The mouth of a prudent person will be sought in the assembly, and they will consider his words in their heart.

21:18 Wisdom is like a ruined house to a fool, and an uncomprehending person's knowledge is unexamined words.

21:19 Instruction is fetters on the feet of the senseless, and like handcuffs on his right hand.

21:20 A fool raises his voice in laughter, but a shrewd man will barely smile quietly.

21:21 Instruction is like a golden ornament to the prudent, and like a bracelet on his right arm.

21:22 A fool's foot is quick to enter a house, but an experienced person will feel shame before it.

21:23 A foolish person peers into a house from its door, but an instructed man will stand outside.

21:24 It is a person's lack of instruction to listen at a door, but the prudent will feel weighed down by the dishonor.

21:25 Strangers' lips will talk about these things, but the words of the prudent will be weighed in a balance.

21:26 Fools have their heart in their mouth, but the heart of the wise is their mouth.

21:27 When an ungodly person curses Satan, he curses his own soul.

21:28 The whisperer stains his own soul and will be hated where he dwells.

Sirach 22

22:1 A lazy person has been compared to a filthy stone, and everyone will hiss at his dishonor.

22:2 A lazy person has been compared to a lump of dung; everyone who picks it up will shake his hand.

22:3 A father's shame is in begetting an uninstructed child, and a daughter brings about loss.

22:4 A prudent daughter will inherit her husband, but one who brings shame brings grief to her parent.

22:5 A shameless woman shames both father and husband and will be dishonored by both.

22:6 An untimely discourse is music in mourning, but lashes and discipline are wisdom at every time.

22:9 The one teaching a fool is gluing a potsherd together, waking a sleeper from deep sleep.

22:10 The one speaking to a fool is speaking to someone drowsy; at the end he will say, “What is it?”

22:11 Weep over a dead person, for he has lost the light; weep also over a fool, for he has lost understanding. Weep more gently over the dead, because he has found rest, but the fool’s life is worse than death.

22:12 Mourning for the dead lasts seven days; for a fool and an ungodly person, all the days of his life.

22:13 Do not multiply words with a fool or go to someone without understanding. Guard against him so that you do not have trouble, and you will certainly not be stained by what he shakes off. Turn away from him, and you will find rest and will certainly not grow weary of his madness.

22:14 What is heavier than lead? What is its name except a fool?

22:15 Sand, salt, and a lump of iron are easier to bear than a person without understanding.

22:16 A wooden bond fitted into a building will not be loosened in a shaking; so a heart established on thoughtful counsel will not be cowardly when the time comes.

22:17 A heart made firm upon an understanding thought is like a sanded ornament on a polished wall.

22:18 Stakes set on a height will certainly not endure before the wind; so a cowardly heart resting on a foolish thought will certainly not endure before any fear.

22:19 The one who pricks an eye will bring down tears; the one who pricks a heart reveals feeling.

22:20 Throwing a stone at birds drives them away, and the one who reproaches a friend will break up friendship.

22:21 If you draw a sword against a friend, do not despair, for there is a way back.

22:22 If you open your mouth against a friend, do not be afraid, for there is reconciliation—except for reproach, pride, disclosure of a secret, and a treacherous blow; at these things every friend will flee.

22:23 Establish trust with your neighbor in poverty, so that you may be filled together with him in his good circumstances. Stay with him in a time of affliction, so that you may share his inheritance.

22:24 Before fire come a furnace’s vapor and smoke; so before bloodshed come insults.

22:25 I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend, and I will certainly not hide from his face.

22:26 If evil things happen to me because of him, everyone who hears will guard against him.

22:27 Who will place a guard upon my mouth and a skillful seal upon my lips, so that I do not fall because of it and my tongue destroy me?

Sirach 23

23:1 Lord, Father and Master of my life, do not abandon me to their counsel; do not let me fall through them.

23:2 Who will set lashes over my thought and wisdom’s discipline over my heart, so that they may not spare my errors of ignorance, and He may certainly not pass over their sins,

23:3 so that my errors of ignorance do not multiply and my sins increase, and I fall before my adversaries and my enemy gloat over me?

23:4 Lord, Father and God of my life, do not give me haughty eyes,

23:5 and turn desire away from me.

23:6 Do not let the appetite of the belly and sexual intercourse overtake me, and do not hand me over to a shameless soul.

23:7 Listen, children, to discipline of the mouth; the one who keeps it will certainly not be caught.

23:8 A sinner will be caught by his lips, and an abusive person and a proud person will stumble through them.

23:9 Do not accustom your mouth to an oath, and do not make a habit of naming the Holy One.

23:10 For just as a household slave under continual examination will not be free of bruises, so the one who continually swears and invokes the name will certainly not be cleansed from sin.

23:11 A man of many oaths will be filled with lawlessness, and a scourge will not depart from his house. If he offends, his sin is upon him; if he disregards it, he has sinned twice. If he swore in vain, he will not be justified, for his house will be filled with calamities.

23:12 There is an expression comparable to death; let it not be found in Jacob's inheritance. For all these things will depart from the godly, and they will not wallow in sins.

23:13 Do not accustom your mouth to crude ignorance, for sinful speech is in it.

23:14 Remember your father and mother, for you sit among dignitaries, lest you forget yourself before them and become foolish through your habit; then you will wish you had not been born and curse the day of your birth.

23:15 A person accustomed to words of reproach will certainly not be instructed throughout all his days.

23:16 Two kinds multiply sins, and the third will bring wrath:

23:17 a heated soul, like a burning fire, will certainly not be quenched until it is consumed; a sexually immoral man in his fleshly body will certainly not stop until he kindles a fire. Every loaf is sweet to a sexually immoral man; he will certainly not cease until he dies.

23:18 A man who transgresses from his marriage bed says in his soul, "Who sees me? Darkness is around me, and the walls cover me; no one sees me. What should I fear? The Most High will certainly not remember my sins."

23:19 Human eyes are what he fears; he does not know that the Lord's eyes are ten thousand times brighter than the sun, surveying every human way and observing hidden places.

23:20 Before all things were created, they were known to Him, and likewise after they were completed.

23:21 This man will receive retribution in the city's squares and be seized where he did not suspect it.

23:22 So also a woman who leaves her husband and presents an heir from another man.

23:23 For first she disobeyed the law of the Most High; second she wronged her husband; and third she committed adultery in sexual immorality and presented children from another man.

23:24 She will be brought before the assembly, and there will be a visitation upon her children.

23:25 Her children will not spread out into a root, and her branches will not bear fruit.

23:26 She will leave her memory as a curse, and her reproach will not be erased.

23:27 Those left behind will know that nothing is better than the fear of the Lord, and nothing sweeter than attending to the Lord's commandments.

Sirach 24

24:1 Wisdom will praise her own soul and boast in the midst of her people.

24:2 She will open her mouth in the assembly of the Most High and boast before His host:

24:3 "I came forth from the mouth of the Most High and covered the earth like mist.

24:4 I dwelt in the heights, and my throne was in a pillar of cloud.

24:5 Alone I encircled heaven's circuit and walked in the depth of the abysses.

24:6 In the waves of the sea, in all the earth, and in every people and nation I gained possession.

24:7 Among all these I sought rest, and in whose inheritance I might lodge.

24:8 Then the Creator of all commanded me; my Creator settled my tent and said, 'Dwell in Jacob, and receive your inheritance in Israel.'

24:9 Before the age, from the beginning, He created me, and for ever I will certainly not cease.

24:10 I ministered before Him in the holy tent, and thus I was established in Zion.

24:11 Likewise He settled me in the beloved city, and my authority was in Jerusalem.

24:12 I took root in a glorified people, in the Lord's portion, His inheritance.

24:13 I rose high like a cedar in Lebanon, like a cypress in the mountains of Hermon.

24:14 I rose high like a palm in En-gedi, like rose plants in Jericho, like a stately olive in the plain; I rose high like a plane tree.

24:15 Like cinnamon and aromatic aspalathus I gave a scent; like choice myrrh I spread fragrance, like galbanum, onycha, and stacte, and like a cloud of frankincense in a tent.

24:16 Like a terebinth I spread out my branches, and my branches were branches of glory and grace.

24:17 Like a vine I sprouted grace, and my blossoms were fruit of glory and wealth.

24:19 Come to me, you who desire me, and be filled from my produce.

24:20 For my memory is sweeter than honey, and my inheritance than a honeycomb.

24:21 Those who eat me will still hunger, and those who drink me will still thirst.

24:22 The one who obeys me will not be ashamed, and those who work in me will not sin."

24:23 All these things are the book of the covenant of God Most High, the law which Moses commanded us as an inheritance for the assemblies of Jacob,

24:25 which fills with wisdom like the Pishon, like the Tigris in the days of new crops,

24:26 which fills with understanding like the Euphrates, like the Jordan in the days of harvest,

24:27 which makes instruction appear like light, like the Gihon in the days of vintage.

24:28 The first did not come to know her fully, and likewise the last did not trace her out.

24:29 For her thought grew abundant from the sea, and her counsel from a great abyss.

24:30 I too came out like a channel from a river, like a watercourse into a garden.

24:31 I said, “I will water my garden and drench my garden bed.” Then behold, my channel became a river, and my river became a sea.

24:32 I will again make instruction shine like the dawn and reveal these things far away.

24:33 I will again pour out teaching like prophecy and leave it for generations of ages.

24:34 See that I have labored not for myself alone, but for all who seek her.

Sirach 25

25:1 In three things I was adorned and stood beautiful before the Lord and human beings: harmony among brothers, friendship among neighbors, and a wife and husband living agreeably with one another.

25:2 But my soul hated three kinds, and I was greatly offended at their life: a proud poor person, a rich liar, and an old adulterer deficient in understanding.

25:3 You have not gathered in youth; how could you find anything in your old age?

25:4 How fitting is judgment for gray hair, and knowledge of counsel for elders!

25:5 How fitting is wisdom for the old, and thought and counsel for the honored!

25:6 Long experience is the crown of the old, and their boast is the fear of the Lord.

25:7 Nine things I considered happy in my heart, and the tenth I will speak with my tongue: a person rejoicing in children, one who lives to see his enemies’ fall;

25:8 happy is the one who lives with an understanding wife, who has not slipped with his tongue, and who has not served someone unworthy of him;

25:9 happy is the one who has found prudence and the one who speaks into listening ears.

25:10 How great is the one who has found wisdom! Yet he is not above the one who fears the Lord.

25:11 The fear of the Lord has surpassed everything; to whom will the one who holds it fast be compared?

25:13 Any wound, but not a wound of the heart; any evil, but not a woman’s evil;

25:14 any calamity, but not a calamity from those who hate; any retribution, but not the retribution of enemies.

25:15 There is no head beyond a snake’s head, and no anger beyond an enemy’s anger.

25:16 I would choose to live with a lion and a dragon rather than live with an evil woman.

25:17 A woman’s evil changes her appearance and darkens her face like a bear.

25:18 Her husband will recline among his neighbors and involuntarily groan bitterly.

25:19 Every evil is small beside a woman’s evil; may a sinner’s lot fall upon her.

25:20 A sandy ascent under an old person’s feet—so is a talkative wife to a quiet husband.

25:21 Do not fall for a woman’s beauty, and do not long for a woman.

25:22 Wrath, shamelessness, and great shame result if a wife supplies her husband.

25:23 An evil wife is a humbled heart, a gloomy face, and a wound of the heart; one who will not make her husband happy is slack hands and paralyzed knees.

25:24 From a woman came the beginning of sin, and because of her we all die.

25:25 Do not give water an outlet, or an evil wife freedom of speech.

25:26 If she does not walk according to your direction, cut her off from your flesh.

Sirach 26

26:1 Happy is the husband of a good wife, and the number of his days is doubled.

26:2 A courageous wife gladdens her husband, and he will complete his years in peace.

26:3 A good wife is a good portion; she will be given among the portion of those who fear the Lord.

26:4 Whether rich or poor, his heart is good, and at every time his face is cheerful.

26:5 My heart feared three things, and before a fourth presence I made supplication: a city’s slander, an assembled mob, and a false accusation—all more grievous than death.

26:6 A wife jealous of another wife is heartache and mourning, and a scourge of the tongue that reaches everyone.

26:7 An evil wife is a shifting ox-yoke; the one who takes hold of her is like someone grasping a scorpion.

26:8 A drunken wife is great wrath, and she will not conceal her shame.

26:9 A woman's sexual immorality will be known in the lifting of her eyes and in her eyelids.

26:10 Keep a firm watch over a headstrong daughter, so that she does not find freedom and use it for herself.

26:11 Be on guard after a shameless eye, and do not marvel if she offends against you.

26:12 Like a thirsty traveler she will open her mouth and drink from every nearby water; she will sit before every tent peg and open her quiver before an arrow.

26:13 A wife's grace will delight her husband, and her knowledge will fatten his bones.

26:14 A silent wife is a gift of the Lord, and there is no exchange for a disciplined soul.

26:15 A modest wife is grace upon grace, and no weight is worth a self-controlled soul.

26:16 The sun rising in the Lord's heights—so is a good wife's beauty in the order of her house.

26:17 A lamp shining upon a holy lampstand—so is a beautiful face upon a firmly established stature.

26:18 Golden pillars upon a silver base—so are beautiful feet upon the breast of one who stands firm.

26:28 At two things my heart has grieved, and at the third anger came upon me: a warrior in want through need, understanding men when they are treated as refuse, and someone turning back from righteousness to sin. The Lord will prepare him for the sword.

26:29 A merchant will hardly be delivered from wrongdoing, and a retailer will not be acquitted of sin.

Sirach 27

27:1 Many have sinned for profit, and the one who seeks to increase his gains will turn his eye away.

27:2 A peg will be fixed between the joints of stones, and sin will be squeezed between selling and buying.

27:3 Unless a person holds fast diligently in the fear of the Lord, his house will quickly be overthrown.

27:4 When a sieve is shaken, refuse remains; so a person's rubbish remains in his reasoning.

27:5 A furnace tests a potter's vessels, and a person's testing is in his deliberation.

27:6 A tree's fruit reveals its cultivation; so a word reveals the thought of a person's heart.

27:7 Do not praise a man before he reasons, for this is the testing of human beings.

27:8 If you pursue what is right, you will attain it and put it on like a glorious robe reaching to the feet.

27:9 Birds will lodge with their like, and truth will return to those who practice it.

27:10 A lion lies in wait for prey; so sin lies in wait for those who do unjust things.

27:11 A godly person's discourse is always wisdom, but a fool changes like the moon.

27:12 Among people without understanding, watch the time; among thoughtful people, linger.

27:13 Fools' discourse is offensive, and their laughter is in sinful indulgence.

27:14 The talk of someone who swears many oaths will make hair stand up, and their quarrel makes one stop the ears.

27:15 The quarrel of the proud is bloodshed, and their mutual abuse is grievous to hear.

27:16 The one who reveals secrets has destroyed trust and will certainly not find a friend close to his soul.

27:17 Love a friend and keep faith with him; but if you reveal his secrets, do not pursue him afterward.

27:18 For as a person has lost his dead, so you have lost your neighbor's friendship.

27:19 As you have released a bird from your hand, so you have let your neighbor go, and you will not catch him.

27:20 Do not pursue him, because he has gone far away and escaped like a gazelle from a trap.

27:21 For a wound can be bound up, and there is reconciliation after abuse, but the one who revealed secrets has lost hope.

27:22 The one who winks with his eye devises evil things, and no one will remove them from him.

27:23 Before your eyes he will make his mouth sweet and marvel at your words, but afterward he will twist his mouth and put a stumbling block in your words.

27:24 I have hated many things, but compared none to him; the Lord will hate him too.

27:25 The one who throws a stone upward throws it upon his own head, and a treacherous blow will open wounds.

27:26 The one who digs a pit will fall into it, and the one who sets a trap will be caught in it.

27:27 The one who does evil things will have them roll back upon him, and he will certainly not know where they have come to him from.

27:28 Mockery and reproach await the proud, and retribution will lie in wait for him like a lion.

27:29 Those who rejoice at the fall of the godly will be caught in a trap, and pain will consume them before their death.

27:30 Resentment and wrath—these too are abominations, and a sinful man will hold them fast.

Sirach 28

28:1 The one who takes revenge will find revenge from the Lord, and He will certainly keep his sins in view.

28:2 Forgive your neighbor's wrong, and then when you pray, your sins will be released.

28:3 Does a person keep wrath against another person and seek healing from the Lord?

28:4 Does he have no mercy on a person like himself and pray concerning his own sins?

28:5 If he himself, being flesh, keeps resentment, who will atone for his sins?

28:6 Remember the last things and stop being hostile; remember decay and death, and remain in the commandments.

28:7 Remember the commandments and do not be resentful toward your neighbor; remember the covenant of the Most High and overlook ignorance.

28:8 Keep away from quarrelling, and you will lessen sins, for a hot-tempered person will kindle a quarrel.

28:9 A sinful man will disturb friends and cast slander among those at peace.

28:10 As the fuel for a fire is, so it will burn; as a quarrel grows firm, so it will burn. A person's anger will match his strength, and he will raise his wrath according to his wealth.

28:11 A hurried dispute kindles fire, and a rushing quarrel pours out blood.

28:12 If you blow on a spark, it will burn; if you spit on it, it will be quenched. Both come out of your mouth.

28:13 Curse a whisperer and someone double-tongued, for he has destroyed many who were at peace.

28:14 A third tongue has shaken many and scattered them from nation to nation; it has pulled down fortified cities and overthrown dignitaries' houses.

28:15 A third tongue has driven out courageous women and deprived them of their labors.

28:16 The one who attends to it will certainly not find rest or dwell in quiet.

28:17 A lash's blow makes a bruise, but a tongue's blow will shatter bones.

28:18 Many have fallen by the edge of a sword, yet not as many as those who have fallen through a tongue.

28:19 Happy is the one sheltered from it, who has not passed through its anger, who has not pulled its yoke or been bound in its bonds.

28:20 For its yoke is an iron yoke, and its bonds are bronze bonds.

28:21 The death it brings is an evil death, and Hades is preferable to it.

28:22 It will certainly not master the godly, and they will not be burned in its flame.

28:23 Those who abandon the Lord will fall into it; among them it will burn and certainly not be quenched. It will be sent against them like a lion and ravage them like a leopard.

28:24 Behold, fence your property with thorns; bind up your silver and gold.

28:25 Make a balance and a weight for your words, and make a door and a bar for your mouth.

28:26 Take care lest you slip through it, lest you fall before someone lying in ambush.

Sirach 29

29:1 The one who shows mercy will lend to his neighbor, and the one who strengthens his hand keeps commandments.

29:2 Lend to your neighbor at his time of need, and in turn repay your neighbor at the appointed time.

29:3 Confirm your word and keep faith with him, and at every time you will find what you need.

29:4 Many regarded a loan as a windfall and brought trouble upon those who helped them.

29:5 Until he receives it, he will kiss the lender's hands and lower his voice over his neighbor's money; when repayment is due, he will drag out the time, return words of indifference, and blame the season.

29:6 If the lender succeeds, he will scarcely recover half and regard it as a windfall. If not, the borrower has deprived him of his money and made him an enemy for nothing. He will repay him with curses and insults, and repay dishonor in place of honor.

29:7 Many have turned away, not from wickedness, but because they feared being deprived for nothing.

29:8 Nevertheless, be patient with the lowly person and do not keep him waiting for alms.

29:9 For the commandment's sake, support the poor person; in his need do not turn him away empty.

29:10 Lose silver for a brother and a friend, and do not let it corrode under a stone to destruction.

29:11 Place your treasure according to the Most High’s commandments, and it will benefit you more than gold.

29:12 Store up almsgiving in your chambers, and it will rescue you from every affliction.

29:13 More than a strong shield and more than a weighty spear, it will fight for you against an enemy.

29:14 A good man will stand surety for his neighbor, but someone who has lost shame will abandon him.

29:15 Do not forget a guarantor’s favors, for he has given his life on your behalf.

29:16 A sinner will overthrow a guarantor’s good circumstances, and someone ungrateful in thought will abandon his rescuer.

29:17 Surety has destroyed many who were prospering and shaken them like a wave of the sea.

29:18 It has driven powerful men from home, and they wandered among foreign nations.

29:19 A sinner who falls into surety and pursues profitable undertakings will fall into lawsuits.

29:20 Support your neighbor according to your ability, and take care of yourself so that you do not fall.

29:21 The first necessities of life are water, bread, clothing, and a house that covers nakedness.

29:22 Better a poor person’s life beneath a shelter of beams than splendid dishes in other people’s homes.

29:23 Be content with little or much, and you will certainly not hear the reproach of living as a guest.

29:24 A life from house to house is grievous; where you live as a guest, you will not open your mouth.

29:25 You will entertain and provide drink without thanks, and besides these things you will hear bitter words:

29:26 “Come along, guest, arrange the table, and if you have anything in your hand, feed me.

29:27 Go out, guest, before a more honored person; my brother has come as my guest, and I need the house.”

29:28 These things are burdensome to a person with prudence: rebuke about lodging and a creditor’s reproach.

Sirach 30

30:1 The one who loves his son will continually give him lashes, so that he may rejoice at his last days.

30:2 The one who disciplines his son will benefit from him and boast about him among acquaintances.

30:3 The one who teaches his son will make his enemy envious and rejoice over him before friends.

30:4 His father died, yet it is as though he did not die, for he left someone like himself after him.

30:5 During his life he saw him and rejoiced, and at his death he was not grieved.

30:6 He left an avenger against enemies and one who would repay kindness to friends.

30:7 The one who pampers a son will bind up his wounds, and at every cry his inward parts will be troubled.

30:8 An untamed horse turns out stubborn, and an unrestrained son turns out headstrong.

30:9 Pamper a child, and he will terrify you; play with him, and he will grieve you.

30:10 Do not laugh together with him, so that you do not suffer together and in the end gnash your teeth.

30:11 Do not give him authority in youth.

30:12 Bruise his sides while he is little, lest he become hardened and disobey you.

30:13 Discipline your son and work upon him, so that you do not stumble through his shamelessness.

30:14 Better a poor person who is healthy and strong in constitution than a rich person scourged in his body.

30:15 Health and soundness are better than all gold, and a robust body than immeasurable wealth.

30:16 There is no wealth better than bodily health, and no gladness beyond joy of heart.

30:17 Death is better than a bitter life, and eternal rest than persistent illness.

30:18 Good things poured out before a closed mouth are like offerings of food set beside a tomb.

30:19 What benefit is an offering to an idol? For it neither eats nor smells; so is the one pursued by the Lord.

30:20 He sees with his eyes and groans, like a eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.

30:21 Do not give your soul over to grief, and do not afflict yourself with your deliberation.

30:22 Gladness of heart is a person’s life, and a man’s rejoicing is length of days.

30:23 Beguile your soul, comfort your heart, and put grief far from you; for grief has destroyed many, and there is no benefit in it.

30:24 Jealousy and anger shorten days, and anxiety brings old age before its time.

30:25 A bright and good heart will take care over the dishes it eats.

Sirach 31

31:1 Wakefulness over wealth wastes the flesh, and anxiety about it drives away sleep.

31:2 The anxiety of wakefulness will drive away drowsiness, and a severe illness will rouse a person from sleep.

31:3 A rich person toiled in gathering money, and at rest he is filled with his luxuries.

31:4 A poor person toiled with a diminished livelihood, and at rest he becomes needy.

31:5 The one who loves gold will not be justified, and the one who pursues profits will go astray in them.

31:6 Many were given over to ruin for gold, and their destruction happened before their face.

31:7 It is a stumbling block for those infatuated with it, and every fool will be caught by it.

31:8 Happy is the rich person who was found blameless and did not go after gold.

31:9 Who is he? We will call him happy, for he has done wonderful things among his people.

31:10 Who was tested by it and brought to completion? It will be a boast for him. Who could have transgressed and did not transgress, could have done evil things and did not do them?

31:11 His good circumstances will be established, and the assembly will recount his almsgiving.

31:12 Have you sat at a great table? Do not open your throat over it or say, “How much there is upon it!”

31:13 Remember that an evil eye is bad. What has been created worse than an eye? Therefore it weeps for every reason.

31:14 Do not stretch your hand toward whatever it looks at, and do not crowd together with it in the dish.

31:15 Understand your neighbor’s concerns from yourself, and consider every matter.

31:16 Eat what is set before you like a human being, and do not chew greedily, lest you be hated.

31:17 Be the first to stop for the sake of good discipline; do not be insatiable, lest you stumble.

31:18 If you have sat among many, do not stretch out your hand before them.

31:19 How sufficient a little is for an instructed person! He does not pant upon his bed.

31:20 Healthy sleep comes with a moderate stomach. He rose early, and his soul was with him. The pain of sleeplessness, bilious vomiting, and cramp accompany an insatiable man.

31:21 If you have been forced to eat too much, rise, vomit at a distance, and you will find rest.

31:22 Listen to me, child, and do not despise me; in the end you will find my words true. In all your works be skillful, and no illness at all will meet you.

31:23 Lips will bless the generous provider of bread, and testimony to his excellence is trustworthy.

31:24 A city will grumble against someone stingy with bread, and testimony to his meanness is precise.

31:25 Do not show your manliness with wine, for wine has destroyed many.

31:26 A furnace tests hardened metal in quenching; so wine tests hearts in the quarrel of the proud.

31:27 Wine is like life for human beings if you drink it in its measure. What is life for someone lacking wine? It too was created for human gladness.

31:28 Wine drunk at the proper time in sufficient measure is rejoicing of heart and gladness of soul.

31:29 Wine drunk in quantity amid provocation and conflict is bitterness of soul.

31:30 Drunkenness multiplies a fool’s anger to his stumbling, diminishing strength and adding wounds.

31:31 At a wine banquet do not rebuke your neighbor or despise him in his gladness. Do not speak a reproachful word to him or distress him with a demand for repayment.

Sirach 32

32:1 Have they appointed you leader? Do not exalt yourself. Be among them as one of them; take care of them, and then sit down.

32:2 After attending to every duty, recline, so that you may rejoice because of them and receive a crown for good order.

32:3 Speak, elder, for it is fitting for you, with exact knowledge, but do not hinder the music.

32:4 Where there is a performance, do not pour out chatter or display wisdom at an unsuitable time.

32:5 A carbuncle signet upon a golden ornament—so is an ensemble of musicians at a wine banquet.

32:6 An emerald signet in a gold setting—so is musicians’ melody with pleasant wine.

32:7 Speak, young man, if you are needed; scarcely twice, if you are asked.

32:8 Sum up your speech, much in few words; be like someone who knows and at the same time keeps silent.

32:9 Among dignitaries do not make yourself their equal, and while another speaks do not chatter much.

32:10 Lightning hastens before thunder, and grace will go ahead of a modest person.

32:11 Rise at the right hour and do not linger at the rear; hurry home and do not be slack.

32:12 There enjoy yourself and carry out your thoughts, but do not sin by a proud word.

32:13 For these things bless your Maker, who intoxicates you with His good things.

32:14 The one who fears the Lord will receive instruction, and those who rise early will find favor.

32:15 The one who seeks the law will be filled with it, but the hypocrite will stumble in it.

32:16 Those who fear the Lord will find judgment and kindle ordinances like light.

32:17 A sinful person will turn aside a rebuke and find an interpretation according to his own will.

32:18 A man of counsel will certainly not disregard a thought; an alien and proud person will not shrink from fear.

32:19 Do nothing without counsel, and after doing it, do not regret it.

32:20 Do not walk on a road of obstacles, and do not stumble among stones.

32:21 Do not trust a road free of stumbling blocks,

32:22 and guard yourself even against your children.

32:23 In every undertaking trust your soul, for this too is keeping commandments.

32:24 The one who trusts the law attends to commandments, and the one who trusts the Lord will not be diminished.

Sirach 33

33:1 Evil will not meet the one who fears the Lord; even in testing he will be rescued again.

33:2 A wise man will not hate the law, but the one who acts hypocritically in it is like a ship in a storm.

33:3 An understanding person will trust the law, and the law is trustworthy for him, like an answer from the sacred tokens.

33:4 Prepare your speech, and so you will be heard; bind instruction together and answer.

33:5 A fool's inward parts are a cartwheel, and his deliberation is like a turning axle.

33:6 A breeding horse is like a mocking friend; he neighs beneath everyone who mounts him.

33:7 Why does one day surpass another when all the light of the year's days comes from the sun?

33:8 By the Lord's knowledge they were distinguished, and He differentiated seasons and festivals.

33:9 Some He raised high and sanctified, and some He placed among the ordinary numbered days.

33:10 All human beings are from the ground, and Adam was created from earth.

33:11 In abundant knowledge the Lord distinguished them and differentiated their ways.

33:12 Some He blessed and raised high, some He sanctified and brought near Himself; some He cursed and brought low, and overturned them from their position.

33:13 Like a potter's clay in his hand—all its ways are according to his pleasure—so are human beings in the hand of their Maker, for Him to repay them according to His judgment.

33:14 Good stands opposite evil, and life opposite death; so a sinner stands opposite a godly person.

33:15 Look in this way at all the Most High's works: two by two, one opposite the other.

33:16 I too, the last, kept watch like someone gleaning behind grape-gatherers.

33:17 By the Lord's blessing I came in time, and like a grape-gatherer I filled a winepress.

33:18 Consider that I have labored not for myself alone, but for all who seek instruction.

33:19 Listen to me, dignitaries of the people; give ear, leaders of the assembly.

33:20 Do not give son or wife, brother or friend authority over you during your life. Do not give your money to another, lest afterward you regret it and beg for it.

33:21 As long as you still live and breath is in you, do not exchange yourself for any flesh.

33:22 For it is better that your children ask you than that you look toward your sons' hands.

33:23 In all your works be preeminent; do not put a blemish upon your glory.

33:24 On the day when your life's days are completed, at the time of death, distribute your inheritance.

33:25 Fodder, a rod, and burdens for a donkey; bread, discipline, and work for a household slave.

33:26 Make a servant work, and you will find rest; release his hands, and he will seek freedom.

33:27 A yoke and strap will bend a neck, and racks and tortures are for a wrongdoing household slave.

33:28 Put him to work so that he is not idle, for idleness has taught much evil.

33:29 Assign him tasks as befits him, and if he does not obey, make his fetters heavy.

33:30 Do not go to excess against any flesh, and do nothing without judgment.

33:31 If you have a household slave, let him be as yourself, because you acquired him with blood.

33:32 If you have a household slave, treat him as a brother, because you will need him as your own soul.

33:33 If you mistreat him and he leaves and runs away, on what road will you look for him?

Sirach 34

34:1 Empty and false hopes belong to a man without understanding, and dreams give wings to fools.

34:2 Like someone grasping a shadow and chasing wind is the one who relies on dreams.

34:3 A dream vision is this set against that, a likeness of a face opposite a face.

34:4 What will be cleansed from something unclean? What will prove true from something false?

34:5 Divinations, omens, and dreams are vain, and the heart imagines like a woman in labor.

34:6 Unless they are sent from the Most High in a visitation, do not give your heart to them.

34:7 For dreams have led many astray, and those who hoped in them fell away.

34:8 The law will be fulfilled without falsehood, and wisdom is fulfillment in a faithful mouth.

34:9 A man who has wandered has learned much, and one with much experience will recount understanding.

34:10 The one who has not been tested knows little, but the one who has wandered will increase in skill.

34:11 I have seen many things in my wandering, and my understanding exceeds my words.

34:12 Often I was in danger to the point of death, and because of these things I was preserved.

34:13 The spirit of those who fear the Lord will live, for their hope rests upon the One who saves them.

34:14 The one who fears the Lord will fear nothing and certainly not be cowardly, because He Himself is his hope.

34:15 Happy is the soul of the one who fears the Lord! On whom does he rely? Who is his support?

34:16 The Lord’s eyes are upon those who love Him: a mighty shield and strong support, shelter from scorching heat and shelter from midday, protection from stumbling and help against falling, 34:17 raising the soul and brightening the eyes, giving healing, life, and blessing.

34:18 One who sacrifices from unjust gain makes a blemished offering, and the gifts of the lawless bring no acceptance.

34:19 The Most High takes no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly, nor does He atone for sins through a multitude of sacrifices.

34:20 The one who presents a sacrifice from the property of the poor is slaughtering a son before his father.

34:21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor; the one who deprives them of it is a man of blood.

34:22 The one who takes away a livelihood murders his neighbor, and the one who withholds a hired worker’s wage sheds blood.

34:23 One builds and another tears down; what have they gained beyond toil?

34:24 One prays and another curses; whose voice will the Master hear?

34:25 Someone washes after contact with a corpse and then touches it again; what has he gained by his washing?

34:26 So is a person who fasts over his sins and goes again to do the same things. Who will hear his prayer, and what has he gained by humbling himself?

Sirach 35

35:1 The one who keeps the law multiplies offerings; the one who attends to commandments sacrifices a peace offering.

35:2 The one who repays kindness offers fine flour, and the one who gives alms sacrifices a praise offering.

35:3 To withdraw from wickedness is the Lord’s good pleasure, and to withdraw from injustice is atonement.

35:4 Do not appear empty before the Lord, for all these things are for the commandment’s sake.

35:5 A righteous person’s offering fattens the altar, and its fragrance is before the Most High.

35:6 A righteous man’s sacrifice is acceptable, and its memorial will not be forgotten.

35:7 Glorify the Lord with a generous eye, and do not diminish the firstfruits of your hands.

35:8 With every gift make your face cheerful, and consecrate a tenth with gladness.

35:9 Give to the Most High according to His gift, with a generous eye according to what your hand has found.

35:10 For the Lord repays, and He will repay you sevenfold.

35:11 Do not bribe, for He will not accept it, and do not rely on an unjust sacrifice.

35:12 For the Lord is judge, and with Him there is no prestige of persons.

35:13 He will not show partiality against the poor, and He will hear the petition of the wronged.

35:14 He will certainly not disregard an orphan's supplication or a widow when she pours out her words.

35:15 Do not a widow's tears run down her cheek, and her cry rise against the one who brought them down?

35:16 The one who serves acceptably will be received, and his petition will reach as far as the clouds.

35:17 A humble person's prayer has passed through the clouds, and until it draws near, he will certainly not be comforted.

35:18 He will certainly not withdraw until the Most High visits, judges in favor of the righteous, and executes judgment.

35:19 The Lord will certainly not delay or be patient with them,

35:20 until He crushes the loins of the merciless and repays the nations with retribution,

35:21 until He removes the multitude of the insolent and crushes the scepters of the unjust,

35:22 until He repays a person according to his actions and judges human works according to their thoughts,

35:23 until He judges His people's case and gladdens them with His mercy.

35:24 Mercy is timely in the season of His people's affliction, like rain clouds in a season without rain.

Sirach 36

36:1 Have mercy on us, Master, God of all; look upon us and cast Thy fear upon all the nations.

36:2 Raise Thy hand against foreign nations, and let them see Thy dominion.

36:3 Just as Thou wast sanctified in us before them, so mayest Thou be magnified in them before us.

36:4 Let them know Thee, as we also have known that there is no God except Thee, Lord.

36:5 Renew signs and make wonders different; glorify Thy hand and right arm.

36:6 Rouse anger and pour out wrath; remove the adversary and destroy the enemy.

36:7 Hasten the time and remember the oath, and let them recount Thy mighty deeds.

36:8 Let the survivor be consumed in fiery wrath, and let those who harm Thy people find destruction.

36:9 Crush the heads of enemy rulers who say, "There is no one except us."

36:10 Gather all the tribes of Jacob, and give them their inheritance as from the beginning.

36:11 Have mercy, Lord, on the people called by Thy name, and on Israel, whom Thou didst liken to a firstborn.

36:12 Have compassion on the city of Thy sanctuary, Jerusalem, the place of Thy rest.

36:13 Fill Zion with the recounting of Thine excellence, and Thy people with Thy glory.

36:14 Give testimony to those Thou didst create in the beginning, and raise up the prophecies spoken in Thy name.

36:15 Give a reward to those who wait for Thee, and let Thy prophets be found trustworthy.

36:16 Hear, Lord, the petition of Thy supplicants, according to Aaron's blessing concerning Thy people, 36:17 and all those upon the earth will know that Thou art Lord, the God of the ages.

36:18 The belly will eat every food, yet one food is better than another.

36:19 The throat tastes food from the hunt; so an understanding heart tastes false words.

36:20 A twisted heart will give grief, and a person of much experience will repay it.

36:21 A woman will accept any male, yet one daughter is better than another.

36:22 A woman's beauty gladdens the face and surpasses every human desire.

36:23 If mercy and gentleness are upon her tongue, her husband is unlike ordinary human sons.

36:24 The one who acquires a wife begins a possession: a helper corresponding to him and a pillar of rest.

36:25 Where there is no fence, property will be plundered; where there is no wife, a wanderer will groan.

36:26 For who will trust a well-girded robber springing from city to city?

36:27 So it is with a person who has no nest and lodges wherever evening overtakes him.

Sirach 37

37:1 Every friend will say, "I too have shown friendship," but there is a friend who is a friend in name alone.

37:2 Is there not grief to the point of death when a companion and friend turns to enmity?

37:3 O evil thought, from where did you roll in to cover the dry land with deceit?

37:4 A companion enjoys his friend’s gladness but will stand against him in a time of affliction.

37:5 A companion labors with a friend for his belly’s sake; before battle he will take up a shield.

37:6 Do not forget a friend in your soul or be unmindful of him in your wealth.

37:7 Every counselor exalts counsel, but there is someone who counsels for himself.

37:8 Guard your soul against a counselor, and know beforehand what he needs—for he too will counsel for himself—lest he cast a lot against you

37:9 and say to you, “Your road is good,” then stand opposite to see what happens to you.

37:10 Do not take counsel with someone who looks suspiciously at you, and hide your counsel from those who envy you.

37:11 Do not consult a woman about her rival, a coward about war, a merchant about exchange, a buyer about selling, a grudging person about gratitude, a merciless person about kindness, a lazy person about any work, a yearly hired worker about completing it, or an idle household slave about much labor. Do not rely on these for any counsel.

37:12 Instead, remain with a godly man whom you know to keep commandments, whose soul is in accord with your soul, and who will share your pain if you stumble.

37:13 Establish the counsel of your heart, for you have nothing more trustworthy than it.

37:14 For a man’s soul is sometimes accustomed to report more than seven watchmen seated high upon a watchtower.

37:15 Besides all these things, petition the Most High to make your road straight in truth.

37:16 A word is the beginning of every work, and counsel precedes every action.

37:17 The trace of a heart’s change brings forth four parts:

37:18 good and evil, life and death; the tongue continually rules them.

37:19 There is a skillful man who instructs many, yet is useless to his own soul.

37:20 There is someone who displays wisdom in words but is hated; this person will lack all food,

37:21 for grace was not given him from the Lord, because he was deprived of all wisdom.

37:22 There is someone wise for his own soul, and the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy upon his mouth.

37:23 A wise man will instruct his own people, and the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.

37:24 A wise man will be filled with blessing, and all who see him will call him happy.

37:25 A man’s life is a number of days, but Israel’s days are beyond numbering.

37:26 The wise person will inherit trust among his people, and his name will live for ever.

37:27 Child, in your life test your soul; see what is bad for it and do not give it that.

37:28 For not everything benefits everyone, and not every soul takes pleasure in everything.

37:29 Do not be insatiable in every luxury, and do not abandon yourself to dishes of food.

37:30 For with much food there will be illness, and insatiability will approach the point of bilious vomiting.

37:31 Many have died through insatiability, but the one who takes care will add life.

Sirach 38

38:1 Honor a physician with his due honors, according to the need for him; for the Lord created him also.

38:2 For healing is from the Most High, and the physician will receive a gift from a king.

38:3 A physician’s knowledge will raise his head, and he will be admired before dignitaries.

38:4 The Lord created medicines from the earth, and a prudent man will not reject them.

38:5 Was not water sweetened by wood, so that its strength might be known?

38:6 He Himself gave human beings knowledge, to be glorified in His wonderful works.

38:7 By these He healed and removed the sufferer’s pain; with these a perfumer will make a mixture,

38:8 and His works will certainly not come to an end; from Him there is peace upon the face of the earth.

38:9 Child, do not be negligent in your illness, but pray to the Lord, and He Himself will heal you.

38:10 Put wrongdoing away, straighten your hands, and cleanse your heart from every sin.

38:11 Give a fragrant offering and a memorial of fine flour, and make your offering rich, as one who is no more.

38:12 Give the physician a place too, for the Lord created him; do not let him leave you, for you need him.

38:13 There is a time when success is also in their hands,

38:14 for they themselves will petition the Lord to grant them success in relief and healing for the sake of preserving life.

38:15 May the one who sins before his Maker fall into a physician's hands.

38:16 Child, shed tears over the dead and begin a lament as one suffering terribly. Lay out his body according to his due, and do not neglect his burial.

38:17 Make your weeping bitter and your lament fervent; mourn according to his worth for one day or two because of slander, and be comforted because of grief.

38:18 For death comes from grief, and grief of heart will bend strength.

38:19 In calamity grief also remains, and the poor person's life weighs upon the heart.

38:20 Do not give your heart over to grief; put it away, remembering the last things.

38:21 Do not forget: there is no return. You will not benefit this person, and you will harm yourself.

38:22 "Remember my judgment, for yours is likewise: yesterday for me, today for you."

38:23 When the dead person rests, bring his remembrance to rest, and be comforted concerning him when his spirit departs.

38:24 A scribe's wisdom comes through the opportunity of leisure; the one whose activity is reduced will become wise.

38:25 How will someone become wise who holds a plow, boasts in a goad's shaft, drives oxen, is occupied with their work, and whose talk is about the offspring of bulls?

38:26 He will give his heart to making furrows, and his wakefulness to fodder for heifers.

38:27 So also every craftsman and master-builder who spends the night like the day, those who engrave signet engravings: his persistence is in varying the design. He will give his heart to making the depiction lifelike, and his wakefulness to finishing the work.

38:28 So also a smith sitting near an anvil and studying works of iron: the fire's vapor will melt his flesh, and he will struggle in the furnace's heat. He will incline his ear to the hammer's sound, and his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel. He will give his heart to completing works, and his wakefulness to finishing their adornment.

38:29 So also a potter sitting at his work and turning a wheel with his feet, who is continually anxious over his work, and whose whole labor is measured by number.

38:30 With his arm he will shape clay, and before his feet he will bend his strength. He will give his heart to completing the coating, and his wakefulness to cleaning the kiln.

38:31 All these trusted in their hands, and each shows skill in his own work.

38:32 Without them a city will not be settled, and people will neither sojourn nor walk about.

38:33 Yet they will not be sought for the people's council or rise high in the assembly; they will not sit on a judge's chair or consider a covenant of judgment.

38:34 They will certainly not make instruction and judgment known or be found among proverbs, but they will sustain the fabric of the world, and their petition is in the work of their craft.

Sirach 39

39:1 Different is the one who gives his soul to considering the law of the Most High: he will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients and occupy himself with prophecies.

39:2 He will preserve the discourse of renowned men and enter into the turns of parables.

39:3 He will seek out the hidden meanings of proverbs and dwell among the riddles of parables.

39:4 He will serve among dignitaries and appear before rulers. He will pass through the land of foreign nations, for he has experienced good and evil among human beings.

39:5 He will give his heart to rising early before the Lord his Maker and petition the Most High. He will open his mouth in prayer and petition concerning his sins.

39:6 If the great Lord is willing, he will be filled with a spirit of understanding. He himself will rain down words of his wisdom and give thanks to the Lord in prayer.

39:7 He will direct his counsel and knowledge rightly and consider His hidden things.

39:8 He will reveal the instruction of his teaching and boast in the law of the Lord's covenant.

39:9 Many will praise his understanding, and it will not be erased for ever. His memory will not depart, and his name will live for generations of generations.

39:10 Nations will recount his wisdom, and the assembly will proclaim his praise.

39:11 If he remains, he will leave a name greater than a thousand; if he rests, it suffices for him.

39:12 Having reflected further, I will recount more, for I have become full like the moon at midmonth.

39:13 Listen to me, holy sons, and sprout like a rose growing beside a flowing stream.

39:14 Give a fragrant scent like frankincense, and blossom like a lily. Spread a scent and offer a song of praise; bless the Lord for all His works.

39:15 Ascribe greatness to His name and give thanks with His praise, with songs of lips and lyres; and thus you will say in thanksgiving:

39:16 “All the Lord’s works are very good, and every command will come to pass at its time. One cannot say, ‘What is this? What is this for?’ For everything will be sought at its time.

39:17 At His word water stood like a heap, and at the utterance of His mouth came reservoirs of water.

39:18 In His command is all His good pleasure, and no one can diminish His salvation.

39:19 The works of all flesh are before Him, and nothing can be hidden from His eyes.

39:20 From age to age He has looked upon everything, and nothing is astonishing before Him.

39:21 One cannot say, ‘What is this? What is this for?’ For all things have been created for their uses.

39:22 His blessing covered like a river and drenched dry land like a flood.

39:23 So nations will inherit His wrath, as when He turned waters into brine.

39:24 His ways are straight for the holy, but likewise stumbling blocks for the lawless.

39:25 Good things were created for the good from the beginning, and likewise evil things for sinners.

39:26 The first necessities for human life are water, fire, iron, salt, fine wheat flour, milk, honey, the blood of the grape, oil, and clothing.

39:27 All these are good for the godly, but likewise will turn into evils for sinners.

39:28 There are spirits created for retribution; in His anger He made their scourges firm. At the time of completion they will pour out strength and assuage their Maker’s anger.

39:29 Fire, hail, famine, and death—all these were created for retribution;

39:30 the teeth of beasts, scorpions, vipers, and a sword exacting retribution upon the ungodly to their destruction.

39:31 They will rejoice in His command and be prepared upon the earth for their uses; at their times they will not transgress His word.”

39:32 Therefore from the beginning I stood firm, reflected, and left this in writing:

39:33 “All the Lord’s works are good, and He will supply every need at its proper hour.

39:34 One cannot say, ‘This is worse than that,’ for everything will prove good at its time.”

39:35 And now sing hymns with all your heart and mouth, and bless the Lord’s name.

Sirach 40

40:1 Great occupation was created for every person, and a heavy yoke lies upon Adam’s sons, from the day they leave their mother’s womb until the day they return to the mother of all:

40:2 their thoughts and fear of heart, anxious expectation, the day of death.

40:3 From the one seated upon a glorious throne to the one brought low in earth and ashes,

40:4 from the one wearing blue and a crown to the one clothed in raw linen, there are anger, jealousy, trouble, upheaval, fear of death, resentment, and strife.

40:5 Even at the time of rest upon a bed, night’s sleep alters his awareness.

40:6 He rests a little, almost nothing; then in sleep, as on a day of keeping watch, he is troubled by his heart’s vision, like someone who escaped from battle.

40:7 At his time of need he woke, marveling that there was nothing to fear.

40:8 This is with all flesh, from human being to beast, and for sinners sevenfold beyond these things:

40:9 death, blood, strife, sword, calamities, famine, crushing, and scourge.

40:10 All these things were created against the lawless, and because of them the flood occurred.

40:11 Everything from earth returns to earth, and what comes from waters returns to the sea.

40:12 Every bribe and injustice will be erased, but faithfulness will stand for ever.

40:13 The wealth of the unjust will dry up like a river and resound like great thunder in rain.

40:14 When he opens his hands, he will rejoice; so transgressors will cease completely.

40:15 The offspring of the ungodly will not multiply branches, and unclean roots rest upon sheer rock.

40:16 Reed grass beside every water and riverbank will be plucked out before all other grass.

40:17 Kindness is like a garden amid blessings, and almsgiving will remain for ever.

40:18 The life of a self-sufficient person and a worker will be sweet, but above both is the one who finds treasure.

40:19 Children and the building of a city establish a name, but a blameless wife is reckoned above both.

40:20 Wine and music gladden the heart, but love of wisdom is above both.

40:21 Flute and harp sweeten melodies, but a pleasant tongue is above both.

40:22 An eye will desire grace and beauty, but above both the green growth of a crop.

40:23 Friend and companion meet at the right time, but above both is a wife with her husband.

40:24 Brothers and help are for a time of affliction, but almsgiving will rescue beyond both.

40:25 Gold and silver will make the foot firm, but counsel proves better than both.

40:26 Money and strength will lift the heart, but fear of the Lord is above both. There is no lack in the fear of the Lord, and in it there is no need to seek help.

40:27 The fear of the Lord is like a garden of blessing, and it has sheltered a person beyond all glory.

40:28 Child, do not live a life of begging; it is better to die than to beg.

40:29 A man who looks toward another's table has no livelihood reckoned as life; he will defile his soul with others' dishes. But a knowledgeable and instructed man will guard himself.

40:30 Begging will be sweet in a shameless person's mouth, but fire will burn in his belly.

Sirach 41

41:1 O death, how bitter is your remembrance to a person at peace among his possessions, to a man free from distraction and prospering in everything, who still has strength to take food!

41:2 O death, how good is your sentence to a person in need and declining in strength, extremely old and distracted about everything, resistant and having lost endurance!

41:3 Do not fear death's sentence; remember those before you and those who come afterward.

41:4 This is the sentence from the Lord upon all flesh. Why do you refuse what pleases the Most High? Whether ten or a hundred or a thousand years, in Hades there is no reproach concerning one's life.

41:5 The children of sinners become loathsome children, those who associate with the dwellings of the ungodly.

41:6 The inheritance of sinners' children will perish, and reproach will remain continually with their offspring.

41:7 Children will blame an ungodly father, because they will be reproached on his account.

41:8 Woe to you, ungodly men, who have abandoned the law of God Most High!

41:9 If you are born, you will be born for a curse; if you die, you will be allotted to a curse.

41:10 Everything that comes from earth will depart into earth; so the ungodly go from a curse to destruction.

41:11 People's mourning concerns their bodies, but the name of sinners, being no good, will be blotted out.

41:12 Take care of your name, for it will remain with you longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.

41:13 A good life has a numbered span of days, but a good name will remain for ever.

41:14 Children, preserve instruction in peace. But hidden wisdom and an unseen treasure—what benefit is there in either?

41:15 A person who hides his foolishness is better than a person who hides his wisdom.

41:16 Therefore, be ashamed in accordance with my word. For it is not good to preserve every kind of shame, and not everything finds approval with everyone in good faith.

41:17 Be ashamed before father and mother concerning sexual immorality, and before a leader and ruler concerning a lie;

41:18 before a judge and magistrate concerning an offense, and before an assembly and people concerning lawlessness;

41:19 before a partner and friend concerning injustice, and before the place where you reside concerning theft;

41:20 before the truth of God and His covenant, and of planting your elbow upon bread;

41:21 of contempt in receiving and giving, and of silence toward those who greet you;

41:22 of looking at a courtesan, and of turning your face away from a relative;

41:23 of taking away a portion and a gift, and of scrutinizing a married woman;

41:24 of meddling with his maidservant—and do not stand over her bed;

41:25 before friends concerning words of reproach—and after giving, do not reproach;

41:26 of repeating a report you have heard, and of concealing secret words.

41:27 Then you will be truly modest and find favor before every person.

Sirach 42

42:1 Do not be ashamed of these things, and do not show partiality so as to sin:

42:2 of the law of the Most High and His covenant, and of a judgment that acquits the ungodly;

42:3 of an accounting with a partner and fellow travelers, and of giving an inheritance to companions;

42:4 of accuracy in scales and weights, and of acquiring much or little;

42:5 of profit from merchants' sales, of much discipline for children, and of making an evil household slave's side bleed.

42:6 With an evil woman, a seal is good; where there are many hands, lock things up.

42:7 Whatever you hand over, do so by number and weight; every giving and receiving should be in writing.

42:8 Do not be ashamed of disciplining the senseless and foolish, or an extremely old man who contends with young people. Then you will be truly instructed and approved before everyone living.

42:9 A daughter is a secret cause of sleeplessness to her father, and anxiety about her drives sleep away: in her youth, lest she pass her prime; when married, lest she be hated;

42:10 in her virginity, lest she be defiled and become pregnant in her father's home; while with a husband, lest she transgress; and when married, lest she be barren.

42:11 Keep a firm watch over a headstrong daughter, lest she make you a delight to enemies, a subject of talk in the city, and an outcast of the people, and put you to shame among a great multitude.

42:12 Do not gaze at any person's beauty, and do not sit among women.

42:13 For from clothes comes a moth, and from a woman comes a woman's wickedness.

42:14 A man's wickedness is better than a woman who does good—and a woman who brings shame leads to reproach.

42:15 I will now remember the Lord's works and recount what I have seen. By the Lord's words are His works.

42:16 The shining sun has looked upon everything, and His work is full of the Lord's glory.

42:17 He has not enabled the Lord's holy ones to recount all His wonders, which the Lord Almighty established so that everything might stand firm in His glory.

42:18 He has traced out the abyss and the heart and considered their intricate workings. For the Most High knows all knowledge and has looked upon the sign of the age, 42:19 announcing what has passed and what will be, and uncovering the traces of hidden things.

42:20 No thought has escaped Him; not even one word has been hidden from Him.

42:21 He has set in order the great things of His wisdom, as He exists before the age and into the age. Nothing has been added or diminished, and He has had no need of any counselor.

42:22 How desirable all His works are! They are there to behold like a spark.

42:23 All these live and remain for ever for every need, and all obey.

42:24 All things are paired, one opposite another, and He has made nothing deficient.

42:25 One has confirmed the good things of another. Who will be filled with beholding His glory?

Sirach 43

43:1 The pride of the heights is the clear firmament, the appearance of heaven in a vision of glory.

43:2 The sun, appearing, announces as it rises: a wondrous instrument, a work of the Most High.

43:3 At its noon it dries out the land; who will withstand its burning heat?

43:4 One blows a furnace for works requiring heat, but the sun burns mountains three times as fiercely. Breathing out fiery vapors and flashing rays, it dims the eyes.

43:5 Great is the Lord who made it, and by His words it hastened on its course.

43:6 The moon too is always there at its appointed time, a display of seasons and a sign of the age.

43:7 From the moon comes the sign of a festival, a luminary that diminishes as it completes its course.

43:8 The month takes its name from it. It grows wondrously in its changes, an instrument of the encampments on high, shining in the firmament of heaven.

43:9 The beauty of heaven is the glory of the stars, an ornament shining in the Lord's heights.

43:10 At the Holy One’s words they will stand according to His judgment and will never grow slack in their watches.

43:11 Look at the rainbow and bless the One who made it, exceedingly beautiful in its radiance.

43:12 It encircled heaven with a ring of glory; the hands of the Most High stretched it out.

43:13 By His command He hastened the snow and speeds the lightning of His judgment.

43:14 Therefore the storehouses were opened, and clouds flew out like birds.

43:15 By His greatness He strengthened the clouds, and hailstones were broken into pieces.

43:16 At His appearing the mountains will be shaken; at His will the south wind will blow.

43:17 The sound of His thunder rebuked the earth, as did the north wind’s storm and the whirling of wind.

43:18 Like birds flying down, He sprinkles snow; like a settling locust is its descent. The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness, and the heart will be astounded by its falling shower.

43:19 He pours frost upon the earth like salt, and when frozen it becomes points of thorns.

43:20 A cold north wind will blow, and ice will freeze upon water. It will settle upon every gathering of water, and the water will put it on like a breastplate.

43:21 It will consume mountains and burn the wilderness, and extinguish green growth like fire.

43:22 A mist quickly brings healing to everything; dew arriving from the scorching heat will bring gladness.

43:23 By His purpose He stilled the abyss and planted islands in it.

43:24 Those who sail the sea recount its danger, and we marvel at what our ears hear.

43:25 There too are strange things and wondrous works, the variety of every living creature, the creation of sea monsters.

43:26 Because of Him His messenger succeeds, and by His word all things hold together.

43:27 We will say much and still never reach the end. The conclusion of our words is this: He is everything.

43:28 When glorifying Him, where will we find strength? For He is greater than all His works.

43:29 The Lord is fearsome and exceedingly great, and His power is wondrous.

43:30 As you glorify the Lord, exalt Him as much as you can, for He will surpass even that. As you exalt Him, increase your strength; do not grow weary, for you will never reach the end.

43:31 Who has seen Him and will recount Him? Who will magnify Him as He is?

43:32 Many hidden things are greater than these, for we have seen few of His works.

43:33 For the Lord made all things, and He gave wisdom to the godly.

Sirach 44

44:1 Let us now praise glorious men, our fathers according to their generations.

44:2 The Lord created great glory, His majesty from of old.

44:3 There were those who ruled in their kingdoms, men renowned for power; those who counseled with their understanding, who made declarations in prophecies;

44:4 leaders of the people in deliberations and in understanding the people’s writings, wise words being part of their instruction;

44:5 those who sought out musical melodies and related verses in writing;

44:6 wealthy men furnished with strength, living peacefully in their dwellings.

44:7 All these were honored in their generations and were a source of boasting in their days.

44:8 Some of them left a name, so that their praises might be recounted.

44:9 But there are some of whom there is no remembrance, who perished as though they had never existed, becoming as though they had never been born, and their children after them.

44:10 Yet these were men of mercy, whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.

44:11 It will remain with their offspring; their descendants are a good inheritance.

44:12 Their offspring stood within the covenants, and their children did so because of them.

44:13 Their offspring will remain for ever, and their glory will not be blotted out.

44:14 Their bodies were buried in peace, and their name lives through generations.

44:15 Peoples will recount their wisdom, and the assembly proclaims their praise.

44:16 Enoch pleased the Lord and was taken away, an example of repentance to the generations.

44:17 Noah was found perfect and righteous; in a time of wrath he became an exchange. Through him a remnant was left to the earth when the flood came.

44:18 Everlasting covenants were established with him, so that all flesh might not be wiped out by a flood.

44:19 Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations, and no one like him was found in glory.

44:20 He kept the law of the Most High and entered a covenant with Him. He established a covenant in his flesh, and under testing he was found faithful.

44:21 Therefore He assured him by an oath that nations would be blessed in his offspring, that He would multiply him like the dust of the earth, raise his offspring like the stars, and give them an inheritance from sea to sea and from the River to the end of the earth.

44:22 In Isaac He established it in the same way, because of Abraham his father.

44:23 He caused the blessing of all people and the covenant to rest upon Jacob's head. He acknowledged him with His blessings and gave him an inheritance. He distinguished his portions and divided them among twelve tribes.

Sirach 45

45:1 From him He brought forth a man of mercy who found favor in the eyes of all flesh, beloved by God and people: Moses, whose remembrance is among blessings.

45:2 He made him like the holy ones in glory and magnified him through the fears of his enemies.

45:3 By his words He caused signs to cease; He glorified him before kings. He gave him commandments for His people and showed him something of His glory.

45:4 In faithfulness and gentleness He sanctified him; He chose him out of all flesh.

45:5 He let him hear His voice, brought him into the darkness, and gave him commandments face to face, a law of life and knowledge, to teach Jacob the covenant and Israel His judgments.

45:6 He exalted Aaron, a holy man like him, his brother from the tribe of Levi.

45:7 He established him as an everlasting covenant and gave him the priesthood of the people. He blessed him with beautiful attire and girded him with a robe of glory.

45:8 He clothed him with the fullness of splendor and equipped him with mighty garments: breeches, a robe reaching to the feet, and a shoulder piece.

45:9 He surrounded him with little pomegranates, with many golden bells all around, to sound with his footsteps and make an audible ringing in the sanctuary as a remembrance for the sons of His people;

45:10 with a holy robe of gold, blue, and purple, the work of an embroiderer; with an oracle-piece of judgment, tokens of truth, twisted scarlet, a craftsman's work;

45:11 with costly stones bearing engraved seals in settings of gold, a stoneworker's work, as a remembrance in carved writing according to the number of Israel's tribes;

45:12 with a golden crown upon the turban, the impression of a seal of holiness, an honor to boast of, a mighty work, beautifully adorned things desired by the eyes.

45:13 Before him there had never been such beautiful things. No outsider has ever worn them, but only his sons and his descendants continually.

45:14 His sacrifices will be wholly offered twice every day, continually.

45:15 Moses filled his hands and anointed him with holy oil. It became an everlasting covenant for him and his offspring, throughout the days of heaven, to minister to Him, serve as priests, and bless His people in the Name.

45:16 He chose him from every living person to present an offering to the Lord, incense and a pleasing fragrance as a remembrance, to make atonement for your people.

45:17 In His commandments He gave him authority concerning covenants of judgments, to teach Jacob the testimonies and enlighten Israel through His law.

45:18 Outsiders banded together against him and envied him in the wilderness: the men around Dathan and Abiram, and Korah's assembly in anger and wrath.

45:19 The Lord saw and was not pleased, and they were brought to their end in furious wrath. He worked portents upon them, consuming them in His flaming fire.

45:20 He added glory to Aaron and gave him an inheritance. He allotted him the firstfruits of the first produce; He prepared bread in abundance first for them.

45:21 For they will eat the Lord's sacrifices, which He gave both to him and to his offspring.

45:22 But he will inherit nothing in the people's land, and he has no portion among the people, for He Himself is your portion and inheritance.

45:23 Phinehas son of Eleazar was third in glory, because he was zealous in the fear of the Lord and stood firm when the people turned away, with the goodness of his soul's eagerness. He made atonement for Israel.

45:24 Therefore a covenant of peace was established for him, to preside over holy things and His people, so that the majesty of the priesthood might belong to him and his offspring for ever.

45:25 There was also a covenant for David son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah: the inheritance of a king passes from son to son alone; Aaron's inheritance belongs also to his offspring.

45:26 May He give you wisdom in your heart to judge His people in righteousness, so that their good things may not disappear, and their glory may last through their generations.

Sirach 46

46:1 Mighty in war was Joshua son of Nun, Moses' successor in prophecies. In keeping with his name he became great in the salvation of His chosen ones, taking vengeance on enemies who rose against them, so that he might give Israel its inheritance.

46:2 How glorious he was when he raised his hands and stretched out his sword against cities!

46:3 Who before him stood so firm? For he himself brought on the Lord's wars.

46:4 Was not the sun held back by his hand, and did not one day become as two?

46:5 He called upon the Most High Ruler when enemies pressed him on every side, and the great Lord answered him with hailstones of mighty power.

46:6 He hurled war down upon a nation and destroyed those who resisted on the descent, so that the nations might know his full armament, because his war was before the Lord.

46:7 For he followed the Ruler, and in Moses' days he showed mercy, he and Caleb son of Jephunneh, by standing against the assembly, restraining the people from sin, and stilling wicked grumbling.

46:8 They alone, being two, were preserved from six hundred thousand foot soldiers, to bring them into an inheritance, into a land flowing with milk and honey.

46:9 The Lord gave Caleb strength, and it remained with him until old age, so that he might mount the high places of the land; his offspring possessed an inheritance,

46:10 so that all the sons of Israel might see that it is good to walk after the Lord.

46:11 The judges too, each by his own name, whose hearts did not prostitute themselves and who did not turn away from the Lord—may their remembrance be among blessings!

46:12 May their bones flourish again from their place, and may their name pass onward to their honored sons.

46:13 Beloved by his Lord, Samuel, the Lord's prophet, established a kingdom and anointed rulers over His people.

46:14 By the Lord's law he judged the assembly, and the Lord visited Jacob.

46:15 By his faithfulness he was proved a prophet, and through his words he was known to be trustworthy in vision.

46:16 He called upon the Lord, the Ruler, when his enemies pressed him on every side, with an offering of a suckling lamb.

46:17 The Lord thundered from heaven and made His voice heard with a great sound.

46:18 He destroyed the leaders of the Tyrians and all the rulers of the Philistines.

46:19 Before the time of his everlasting sleep, he testified before the Lord and His anointed: "I have taken no property—not even sandals—from any human being." And no person brought an accusation against him.

46:20 Even after he fell asleep, he prophesied and showed the king his end. He raised his voice from the earth in prophecy to wipe out the people's lawlessness.

Sirach 47

47:1 After him Nathan arose to prophesy in David's days.

47:2 As fat is set apart from a peace offering, so David was set apart from the sons of Israel.

47:3 He played with lions as with young goats, and with bears as with lambs of the flock.

47:4 In his youth did he not kill a giant and remove reproach from the people, when he raised his hand with a sling stone and brought down Goliath's pride?

47:5 For he called upon the Lord Most High, and He put strength in his right hand to remove a mighty warrior and raise the horn of His people.

47:6 Thus they glorified him with tens of thousands and praised him with blessings of the Lord when a crown of glory was brought to him.

47:7 For he destroyed enemies all around and reduced his Philistine adversaries to nothing; he shattered their horn to this day.

47:8 In every deed he gave thanks to the Holy Most High with a word of glory. With his whole heart he sang hymns and loved the One who made him.

47:9 He stationed psalm singers before the altar, to sweeten the melodies with their sound.

47:10 He gave festivals splendor and adorned the appointed seasons to their completion, while they praised His holy name and made the sanctuary resound from early morning.

47:11 The Lord took away his sins, raised his horn for ever, and gave him a covenant of kings and a throne of glory in Israel.

47:12 After him arose a knowledgeable son, who because of him rested in spacious prosperity.

47:13 Solomon reigned in days of peace; God gave him rest all around, so that he might establish a house for His name and prepare a sanctuary for ever.

47:14 How wise you became in your youth! You were filled with understanding like a river.

47:15 Your soul covered the earth, and you filled it with comparisons containing riddles.

47:16 Your name reached distant islands, and you were loved for your peace.

47:17 Countries marveled at you for songs, proverbs, comparisons, and interpretations.

47:18 In the name of the Lord God, who is called the God of Israel, you gathered gold like tin and multiplied silver like lead.

47:19 You bent your loins toward women and were brought under power in your body.

47:20 You put a blemish upon your glory and profaned your offspring, bringing wrath upon your children and anguish because of your folly,

47:21 so that the dominion became divided and a disobedient kingdom began from Ephraim.

47:22 But the Lord will never abandon His mercy or let any of His words fail. He will never wipe out His chosen one’s descendants or remove the offspring of the one who loved Him. He gave Jacob a remnant, and David a root from him.

47:23 Solomon rested with his fathers and left after him, from his offspring, the people’s foolishness: Rehoboam, deficient in understanding, who made the people revolt through his counsel.

47:24 There was also Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin and gave Ephraim a path of sin. Their sins multiplied exceedingly, so that they were removed from their land.

47:25 They sought out every kind of wickedness, until vengeance came upon them.

Sirach 48

48:1 Then Elijah arose, a prophet like fire, and his word burned like a torch.

48:2 He brought famine upon them and made them few through his zeal.

48:3 By the Lord’s word he held back heaven; in the same way he brought down fire three times.

48:4 How glorious you became, Elijah, through your wonders! Who can boast of being like you?

48:5 You raised a dead man from death and from Hades by the word of the Most High.

48:6 You brought kings down to destruction and glorious men from their bed.

48:7 You heard rebuke at Sinai and judgments of vengeance at Horeb.

48:8 You anointed kings for retribution, and prophets as successors after him.

48:9 You were taken up in a whirlwind of fire, in a chariot with fiery horses.

48:10 You were recorded in rebukes for appointed times: to still anger before wrath, to turn a father’s heart toward a son, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.

48:11 Blessed are those who saw you and those who have fallen asleep in love; for we too will surely live.

48:12 Elijah was covered by a whirlwind, and Elisha was filled with his spirit. In his days he was not shaken by a ruler, and no one overpowered him.

48:13 No word surpassed him, and even in sleep his body prophesied.

48:14 In his life he performed portents, and at his end his works were wondrous.

48:15 Through all these things the people did not repent or turn away from their sins, until they were plundered from their land and scattered throughout all the earth.

48:16 The people were left few in number, with a ruler in David’s house. Some of them did what was pleasing, but others multiplied sins.

48:17 Hezekiah fortified his city and brought water into its midst. With iron he dug through a steep rock and built reservoirs for water.

48:18 In his days Sennacherib came up and sent Rabshakeh, and he departed. He raised his hand against Zion and boasted greatly in his arrogance.

48:19 Then their hearts and hands were shaken, and they suffered pangs like women giving birth.

48:20 They called upon the merciful Lord, spreading their hands toward Him. The Holy One quickly heard them from heaven and redeemed them by Isaiah’s hand.

48:21 He struck the Assyrians' camp, and His angel destroyed them.

48:22 For Hezekiah did what was pleasing to the Lord and stood strong in the ways of his father David, which Isaiah the prophet commanded, great and faithful in his vision.

48:23 In his days the sun went backward, and He added life to the king.

48:24 With a great spirit he saw the last things and comforted those mourning in Zion.

48:25 He showed what would happen to the end of the age, and hidden things before they came to pass.

Sirach 49

49:1 The remembrance of Josiah is like a blend of incense prepared by a perfumer's skill. In every mouth it will be sweet as honey, and like music at a wine banquet.

49:2 He was rightly directed in bringing the people back, and he removed the abominations of lawlessness.

49:3 He directed his heart toward the Lord; in days of lawless people he strengthened godliness.

49:4 Except for David, Hezekiah, and Josiah, they all committed offenses. For they abandoned the law of the Most High; the kings of Judah came to an end.

49:5 For they gave their horn to others and their glory to a foreign nation.

49:6 They burned the chosen city of the sanctuary and made its streets desolate,

49:7 by Jeremiah's hand. For they mistreated him, though he was sanctified in the womb as a prophet to uproot, afflict, and destroy, and likewise to build and plant.

49:8 Ezekiel saw a vision of glory, which He showed him upon a chariot of cherubim.

49:9 For He remembered the enemies in a rainstorm, and remembered to do good to those who make their ways straight.

49:10 May the bones of the twelve prophets flourish again from their place! For they comforted Jacob and redeemed them with the faithfulness of hope.

49:11 How shall we magnify Zerubbabel? He too was like a seal upon the right hand.

49:12 So was Joshua son of Jozadak. In their days they built a house and raised up a holy sanctuary for the Lord, prepared for everlasting glory.

49:13 Great also is the remembrance of Nehemiah, who raised our fallen walls, set up gates and bars, and rebuilt our home sites.

49:14 No one was created on earth like Enoch, for he was taken up from the earth.

49:15 Nor was a man born like Joseph, a leader of his brothers, a support for the people; and his bones were cared for.

49:16 Shem and Seth were glorified among people, and Adam above every living creature in creation.

Sirach 50

50:1 Simon son of Onias, the high priest, repaired the house in his lifetime and strengthened the sanctuary in his days.

50:2 By him the height of the double wall was founded, a high retaining wall around the sacred precinct.

50:3 In his days a water reservoir was hewn out, a cistern whose circumference was like a sea.

50:4 He cared for his people against a fall and strengthened the city against a siege.

50:5 How glorious he was with the people surrounding him, when he came out from the house of the veil!

50:6 He was like the morning star among clouds, like the full moon in its days,

50:7 like the sun shining upon the sanctuary of the Most High, and like the rainbow gleaming in clouds of glory,

50:8 like a rose blossom in the days of new growth, like lilies beside an outflow of water, like a shoot of Lebanon in summer days,

50:9 like fire and frankincense upon a firepan, like a vessel of beaten gold adorned with every costly stone,

50:10 like an olive tree flourishing with fruit, and like a cypress rising into the clouds.

50:11 When he took up the robe of glory and clothed himself with the fullness of splendor, as he ascended the holy altar he glorified the sanctuary's enclosure.

50:12 When he received portions from the priests' hands, standing himself beside the altar hearth, a crown of brothers surrounded him, like a growth of cedars in Lebanon; they encircled him like palm trunks,

50:13 all the sons of Aaron in their glory, with the Lord's offering in their hands before the whole assembly of Israel.

50:14 As he completed his ministry at the altars, adorning the offering of the Most High Almighty,

50:15 he stretched his hand over the libation vessel and poured a drink offering from the blood of the grape. He poured it at the altar's foundations, a pleasing fragrance to the Most High, King of all.

50:16 Then the sons of Aaron cried out and sounded their hammered trumpets. They made a great sound heard as a remembrance before the Most High.

50:17 Then all the people together hurried and fell facedown upon the earth to worship their Lord, the Almighty God Most High.

50:18 The psalm singers praised with their voices; amid a very great sound the melody grew sweet.

50:19 The people entreated the Lord Most High in prayer before the Merciful One, until the Lord's ceremony was completed and they finished His service.

50:20 Then he came down and raised his hands over the whole assembly of the sons of Israel, to give the Lord's blessing from his lips and to glory in His name.

50:21 They bowed down a second time to receive the blessing from the Most High.

50:22 And now bless the God of all, who does great things everywhere, who exalts our days from the womb and deals with us according to His mercy.

50:23 May He give us gladness of heart, and may there be peace in Israel in our days, throughout the days of eternity.

50:24 May He entrust His mercy to us, and in our days may He redeem us.

50:25 My soul is disgusted with two nations, and the third is no nation:

50:26 those who sit on Mount Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people who dwell in Shechem.

50:27 Jesus son of Sirach Eleazar, the Jerusalemite, inscribed instruction in understanding and knowledge in this book; he poured wisdom like rain from his heart.

50:28 Blessed is the one who will occupy himself with these things; by setting them upon his heart he will become wise.

50:29 For if he does them, he will be strong for everything, because the Lord's light is his path.

Sirach 51

51:1 I will give thanks to Thee, Lord and King, and praise Thee, God my Savior. I give thanks to Thy name,

51:2 because Thou didst become my shelter and helper. Thou didst redeem my body from destruction and from the snare of a slanderous tongue, from lips that work falsehood. Before those standing around, Thou didst become my helper and redeem me,

51:3 according to the abundance of Thy mercy and Thy name, from gnashing teeth when I was ready to be devoured, from the hand of those seeking my life, from the many afflictions I had,

51:4 from the choking of a fire all around, and from the midst of a fire that I did not kindle,

51:5 from the depth of Hades' belly, from an unclean tongue and a false word—

51:6 slander to a king from an unjust tongue. My soul drew near to death, and my life was close to Hades below.

51:7 They surrounded me on every side, and there was no helper. I looked for support from people, but there was none.

51:8 I remembered Thy mercy, Lord, and Thy work from of old: Thou rescuest those who wait for Thee and savest them from the hand of enemies.

51:9 I lifted my supplication from the earth and pleaded for deliverance from death.

51:10 I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, not to abandon me in days of affliction, in a time of arrogance when there was no help. I will praise Thy name continually and sing hymns with thanksgiving.

51:11 My petition was heard, for Thou didst save me from destruction and rescue me from an evil time.

51:12 Therefore I will give thanks to Thee and praise Thee and bless the Lord's name.

51:13 While I was still young, before I wandered, I openly sought wisdom in my prayer.

51:14 Before the sanctuary I asked for her, and until the end I will seek her out.

51:15 From her blossom, as from a ripening grape, my heart rejoiced in her. My foot stepped in uprightness; from my youth I traced her path.

51:16 I inclined my ear a little and received, and found much instruction for myself.

51:17 I made progress in her; I will give glory to the One who gives me wisdom.

51:18 For I resolved to practice her and was zealous for the good, and I will never be put to shame.

51:19 My soul has struggled for her, and I was exact in practicing the law. I spread my hands toward the height and mourned my soul's unwitting faults.

51:20 I directed my soul toward her and found her in purity. From the beginning I gained a heart together with her; therefore I will never be abandoned.

51:21 My inward parts were stirred to seek her out; therefore I acquired a good possession.

51:22 The Lord gave me a tongue as my reward, and with it I will praise Him.

51:23 Draw near to me, you who are uninstructed, and lodge in a house of instruction.

51:24 Why do you say you are lacking in these things, while your souls thirst exceedingly?

51:25 I opened my mouth and said, “Acquire for yourselves without silver.

51:26 “Put your neck beneath the yoke, and let your soul receive instruction. She is near at hand to be found.

51:27 “See with your own eyes that I labored a little and found much rest for myself.

51:28 “Take part in instruction at the cost of much silver, and acquire much gold through her.

51:29 “May your soul rejoice in His mercy, and may you not be ashamed in His praise.

51:30 “Do your work before the appointed time, and He will give you your reward in His time.”

Isaiah

Isaiah 1

1:1 The vision that Isaiah son of Amos saw, which he saw against Judea and against Jerusalem during the reign of Oziah, Joatham, Achaz and Hezekiah, who reigned over Judea.

1:2 Listen, heaven, and give ear, earth, because the Lord has spoken: “I begot sons and raised them high, but they rejected Me.

1:3 An ox knew the one who acquired it, and a donkey its lord’s manger; but Israel did not know Me, and the people did not understand Me.”

1:4 Woe, sinful nation, people full of sins, evil offspring, lawless sons! You abandoned the Lord and provoked the Holy One of Israel to anger.

1:5 Why should you be struck again as you add lawlessness? Every head is in pain, and every heart in grief.

1:6 From feet to head: for neither a wound nor a bruise nor an inflamed blow is there a poultice to apply, nor oil nor bandages.

1:7 Your land is deserted, your cities burned by fire. Your country—foreigners consume it before you; it has been deserted, overturned by foreign peoples.

1:8 Daughter Zion will be left like a tent in a vineyard, like a fruit-watcher’s shelter in a cucumber field, like a besieged city.

1:9 If the Lord Sabaoth had not left us seed, we would have become like Sodom and been made like Gomorrah.

1:10 Hear the Lord’s word, rulers of Sodom! Attend to God’s law, people of Gomorrah!

1:11 “What is the multitude of your sacrifices to Me?” says the Lord. “I am full of burnt offerings of rams; fat of lambs and blood of bulls and male goats I do not desire,

1:12 not even if you come to appear before Me. For who demanded these things from your hands? To trample My court,

1:13 you will no longer continue. If you bring fine flour, it is futile. Incense is an abomination to Me. Your new moons and sabbaths and a great day I cannot endure; fasting and idleness,

1:14 and your new moons and your festivals My soul hates. You have become more than enough for Me; I will no longer let your sins go.

1:15 Whenever you stretch your hands toward Me, I will turn My eyes away from you. Even if you multiply supplication, I will not listen to you, for your hands are full of blood.

1:16 Wash yourselves, become clean. Remove the evils from your souls, before My eyes. Stop your evil deeds.

1:17 Learn to do good, seek judgment, rescue the wronged. Give judgment for the orphan and vindicate the widow.

1:18 Come, let us reason together, says the Lord. Though your sins are like purple-red, I will whiten them like snow; though they are like scarlet, I will whiten them like wool.

1:23 Your rulers disobey, partners of thieves, loving gifts and pursuing repayment, not judging for orphans and not attending to widows’ judgment.

1:24 Therefore thus says the Master, the Lord Sabaoth: “Woe, mighty ones of Israel! For My anger will not cease among My opponents, and I will exact judgment from My enemies.

1:25 I will bring My hand against you and burn you to purity. I will destroy the disobedient, remove all lawless people from you and humble all the arrogant.

1:26 I will establish your judges as before and your counselors as at the beginning. After these things you will be called City of Righteousness, Faithful Metropolis Zion.

1:27 For her captivity will be saved through judgment and through mercy.

1:28 The lawless and sinners will be shattered together, and those abandoning the Lord will be brought to an end.

1:29 For they will be ashamed of their idols, which they themselves wanted, and they were disgraced by their gardens, which they desired.

1:30 For they will be like a terebinth that has shed its leaves, like a garden that has no water.

1:31 Their strength will become a stalk of tow and their works sparks of fire. The lawless and sinners will be burned together, with no one to quench."

Isaiah 2

2:1 The word that came from the Lord to Isaiah son of Amos concerning Judea and Jerusalem.

2:2 In the last days the Lord's mountain and God's house will be clearly visible on the summits of the mountains and be raised above the hills; all the nations will come to it,

2:3 and many nations will go and say, "Come, let us go up to the Lord's mountain and to the house of Jacob's God. He will announce His way to us, and we will walk in it." For law will go out from Zion, and the Lord's word from Jerusalem.

2:4 He will judge between the nations and reprove a numerous people. They will beat their swords into plows and their spears into sickles. Nation will no longer take sword against nation, and they will certainly no longer learn to wage war.

2:5 And now, house of Jacob, come, let us walk by the Lord's light!

2:6 For He abandoned His people, Israel's house, because their country was filled, as from the beginning, with omens like the foreigners' country, and many foreign children were born to them.

2:7 For their country was filled with silver and gold, and their treasures had no number; the land was filled with horses, and their chariots had no number.

2:8 The land was filled with abominations, the works of their hands, and they bowed before what their fingers made.

2:9 A human being bowed down, and a man was humbled; I will certainly not let them go.

2:10 And now enter the rocks and hide in the earth from the Lord's terror and the glory of His strength, whenever He rises to shatter the earth.

2:11 For the Lord's eyes are high, but the human being is low; humanity's height will be humbled, and the Lord alone will be exalted on that day.

2:12 For the Lord Sabaoth has a day against every insolent and arrogant person, against everyone high and elevated; they will be humbled,

2:13 against every cedar of Lebanon among the high and elevated, and against every oak tree of Bashan,

2:14 against every mountain and every high hill,

2:15 against every high tower and every high wall,

2:16 against every ship of the sea and every beautiful display of ships.

2:17 Every human being will be humbled, humanity's height will fall, and the Lord alone will be exalted on that day.

2:18 They will hide away all the handmade things,

2:19 carrying them into caves, into clefts in the rocks and into holes in the earth, from the Lord's terror and the glory of His strength, whenever He rises to shatter the earth.

2:20 For on that day a person will cast out his silver and gold abominations, which they made to worship, to the worthless ones and the bats,

2:21 to enter holes in the solid rock and clefts in the rocks from the Lord's terror and the glory of His strength, whenever He rises to shatter the earth.

Isaiah 3

3:1 Look now, the Master, the Lord Sabaoth, will remove from Judea and Jerusalem strong man and strong woman, the strength of bread and the strength of water,

3:2 giant and strong man and warrior and judge and prophet and conjecturer and elder,

3:3 commander of fifty and admirable counselor and wise master builder and discerning listener.

3:4 I will establish young men as their rulers, and mockers will lord it over them.

3:5 The people will clash, person against person and each against his neighbor. The child will collide with the elder, the dishonored with the honored.

3:6 For a man will seize his brother or a member of his father's household, saying, "You have a cloak; become our leader, and let my food be under you!"

3:7 Answering on that day, he will say, "I will not be your leader, for there is neither bread nor cloak in my house. I will not be leader of this people."

3:8 For Jerusalem has been abandoned and Judea has collapsed; their tongues accompany lawlessness, disobeying what concerns the Lord, because now their glory has been humbled,

3:9 and the shame of their face stood against them. They announced their sin like Sodom's and made it manifest. Woe to their soul, for they have planned an evil plan against themselves,

3:10 saying, "Let us bind the righteous person, because he is troublesome to us." Therefore they will eat the produce of their works.

3:11 Woe to the lawless! Evils according to the works of his hands will happen to him.

3:12 My people, your collectors glean you, and those demanding payment lord it over you. My people, those pronouncing you blessed lead you astray and disturb the path of your feet.

3:13 But now the Lord will establish Himself for judgment and will set His people before judgment.

3:14 The Lord Himself will come to judgment with the people's elders and its rulers: "Why have you burned My vineyard, while the poor person's plunder is in your houses?

3:15 Why do you wrong My people and shame the face of the poor?"

3:16 Thus says the Lord: "Because Zion's daughters were exalted and walked with high neck and glancing eyes, dragging their tunics as their feet moved and playing with their feet,

3:17 God will humble Zion's ruling daughters, and the Lord will uncover their appearance

3:18 on that day, and the Lord will remove the glory of their clothing and their ornaments, hair braids, fringes and crescents,

3:19 the necklace and the adornment of their face,

3:20 the arrangement of glorious adornment, armlets, bracelets, a hair braid, armbands, rings and earrings,

3:21 the garments bordered with purple and those purple at the center,

3:22 the coverings used about the house and the transparent Laconian garments,

3:23 the fine-linen, blue-purple and scarlet garments, and fine linen interwoven with gold and blue-purple, and trailing summer wraps.

3:24 Instead of sweet fragrance there will be dust; instead of a belt you will gird yourself with a cord; instead of golden head adornment you will have baldness because of your deeds; instead of the tunic with purple at its center you will gird yourself with sackcloth.

3:25 Your most beautiful son, whom you love, will fall by the sword, and your strong men will fall by the sword.

3:26 The cases of your adornment will be humbled and mourn; you will be left alone and dashed to the ground."

Isaiah 4

4:1 Seven women will take hold of one man, saying, "We will eat our own bread and put on our own clothes; only let your name be called over us. Take away our disgrace!"

4:2 On that day God will shine out in counsel with glory upon the earth, to exalt and glorify what remains of Israel,

4:3 and those remaining in Zion and left in Jerusalem will be called holy, all those recorded for life in Jerusalem,

4:4 because the Lord will wash away the filth of Zion's sons and daughters and thoroughly cleanse the blood from their midst, by a spirit of judgment and a spirit of burning.

4:5 He will come, and it will be: a cloud will shade every place of Mount Zion and everything around her by day, and as of smoke and as of a light of fire burning by night; with all the glory it will be covered.

4:6 It will be shade from heat, shelter and concealment from harshness and rain.

Isaiah 5

5:1 I will sing now to the beloved a song of the loved one for my vineyard. The beloved had a vineyard on a horn, in a fertile place.

5:2 I put a fence around it, surrounded it with a palisade, planted a Sorech vine, built a tower in its midst and dug a wine vat in it. I waited for it to produce grapes, but it produced thorns.

5:3 Now, man of Judah and residents of Jerusalem, judge My case and the matter of My vineyard.

5:4 What more shall I do for My vineyard that I did not do for it? For I waited for it to produce grapes, but it produced thorns.

5:5 Now I will announce to you what I will do to My vineyard: I will remove its fence, and it will be plundered; I will pull down its wall, and it will be trampled,

5:6 and I will abandon My vineyard. It will certainly not be pruned or dug, and thorns will rise in it as in fallow ground. I will command the clouds not to rain upon it.

5:7 For the vineyard of the Lord Sabaoth is Israel’s house, and the man of Judah a beloved new planting. I waited for it to produce judgment, but it produced lawlessness, not righteousness but an outcry.

5:8 Woe to those joining house to house and bringing field beside field, so that they may take something from their neighbor! Surely you will not dwell alone upon the earth?

5:9 For these things were heard in the ears of the Lord Sabaoth: “If many houses come to be, great and beautiful, they will become deserted, and no one will inhabit them.

5:10 For where ten pairs of oxen work, it will yield one jar, and the one sowing six artabas will yield three measures.”

5:11 Woe to those rising in the morning and pursuing strong drink, lingering into the evening, for wine will burn them up!

5:12 For with lyre and harp, drums and flutes they drink wine, but they do not look at the Lord’s works or consider the works of His hands.

5:13 Therefore My people became captive because they did not know the Lord, and there was a multitude of dead through famine and thirst for water.

5:14 Hades enlarged its appetite and opened its mouth without ceasing, and her glorious ones, great ones, rich ones and pestilent ones will go down.

5:15 A human being will be humbled, a man dishonored, and lofty eyes humbled.

5:16 The Lord Sabaoth will be exalted through judgment, and the holy God will be glorified through righteousness.

5:17 Those who were plundered will be pastured like bulls, and lambs will feed upon the deserted places of those wiped out.

5:18 Woe to those drawing sins as with a long cord and lawless deeds as with the strap of a heifer’s yoke,

5:19 who say, “Let what He will do approach quickly, so that we may see, and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel come, so that we may know!”

5:20 Woe to those calling evil good and good evil, making darkness light and light darkness, making bitter sweet and sweet bitter!

5:21 Woe to those who are discerning in their own judgment and knowledgeable in their own view!

5:22 Woe to your strong ones who drink wine and the powerful who mix strong drink,

5:23 who justify the ungodly for gifts and take away the righteous person’s right!

5:24 Therefore, as a stalk is burned by a fiery coal and consumed by a rising flame, their root will become like chaff and their blossom rise like dust. For they did not desire the law of the Lord Sabaoth, but provoked the utterance of the Holy One of Israel.

5:25 The Lord Sabaoth was enraged with wrath against His people, brought His hand against them and struck them. The mountains were roused, and their carcasses became like dung in the middle of the road. In all these things the anger did not turn away, but the hand is still high.

5:26 Therefore He will raise a signal among the distant nations and whistle to them from the earth’s end. Behold, they come quickly and lightly!

5:27 They will not hunger or grow weary, slumber or sleep, nor loosen the belts from their waists; their sandal straps will certainly not break.

5:28 Their arrows are sharp and their bows drawn. Their horses’ feet were reckoned like solid rock, and their chariot wheels like a storm.

5:29 They rush like lions and have taken their stand like a lion’s cub. It will seize and cry out as a beast does and cast out, and no one will rescue them.

5:30 It will cry out because of them on that day like the sound of a surging sea. They will look to the earth, and behold, harsh darkness in their perplexity.

Isaiah 6

6:1 In the year that King Oziah died, I saw the Lord seated on a throne, high and lifted up; and the house was full of His glory.

6:2 And seraphim stood around Him: each one had six wings, and each one had six wings; with two they covered their faces, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew.

Note [1]: Isaiah 6:2 · WordingThe Greek repeats six wings for each one. The trial preserves that recurrence without adding a count of the seraphim. Isaiah 7

7:1 In the days of Achaz, son of Joatham, son of Oziah, king of Judea, Raasson king of Aram and Phakee son of Romelias, king of Israel, went up against Jerusalem to wage war on her, but they could not besiege her.

7:2 It was reported to David’s house, “Aram has come to agreement with Ephraim.” His soul and his people’s soul were distraught, as when a tree in a wood is shaken by wind.

7:3 The Lord said to Isaiah, “Go out to meet Achaz, you and the remaining Jasub, your son, toward the pool of the upper road of the fuller’s field,

7:4 and you will say to him, ‘Take care to be quiet, and do not fear; do not let your soul grow weak before these two smoking firebrand logs. For whenever the wrath of My anger comes, I will heal again.

7:5 And the son of Aram and the son of Romelias, because they counseled an evil counsel concerning you, saying,

7:6 “We will go up into Judea and, after speaking with them, turn them toward ourselves and make Tabeel’s son king over her,”

7:7 thus says the Lord Sabaoth: “This counsel will certainly not endure, nor will it happen.

7:8 But the head of Aram is Damascus; yet within another sixty-five years Ephraim’s kingdom will cease from being a people,

7:9 and the head of Ephraim is Somoron, and the head of Somoron Romelias’s son. If you do not believe, you will certainly not understand.”’”

7:10 And the Lord spoke again to Achaz, saying,

7:11 Ask for yourself a sign from the Lord your God, in the depth or in the height.

7:12 And Achaz said, I will certainly not ask, nor will I put the Lord to the test at all.

7:13 And he said, Hear now, O house of David: is it a small thing for you to trouble people? And how is it that you trouble the Lord?

7:14 Therefore the Lord Himself will give you a sign: behold, the virgin will conceive and bear a son, and you will call his name Emmanuel.

Note [1]: Isaiah 7:14 · WordingYou in shall give you is plural; thou shalt call is singular. The addressee of the singular clause is not named here. 7:16 For before the child knows good or evil, he refuses wickedness, to choose the good; and the land which you fear because of the two kings will be forsaken.

7:17 But God will bring upon you, upon your people and upon your father's house days that have not yet come since the day He removed Ephraim from Judah—the king of the Assyrians."

7:18 On that day the Lord will whistle for flies—what rules a part of Egypt's river—and for the bee that is in the Assyrians' country,

7:19 and they will all come and rest in the country's ravines, in holes of the rocks, in the caves, in every fissure and in every tree.

7:20 On that day the Lord will shave with the great and drunken razor that is beyond the river of the king of the Assyrians—the head and the hair of the feet—and He will remove the beard.

7:21 On that day a person will raise a heifer from the cattle and two sheep,

7:22 and because they produce very much milk, everyone left upon the land will eat butter and honey.

7:23 On that day every place where there are a thousand vines worth a thousand shekels will become fallow ground and thorn.

7:24 With missile and arrow they will enter there, because all the land will be fallow ground and thorn.

7:25 Every mountain that is plowed will be plowed, and fear will certainly not come there; for from fallow ground and thorn it will become pasture for sheep and a trampling place for cattle.

Isaiah 8

8:1 The Lord said to me, "Take a large new sheet and write on it with a human stylus: 'To make plunder of spoils swiftly; for it is at hand.'"

8:2 "Make reliable men witnesses for Me, Uriah and Zechariah son of Barachias."

8:3 I approached the prophetess; she became pregnant and bore a son. The Lord said to me, "Call his name Plunder-quickly, Spoil-swiftly,

8:4 because before the child knows how to call father or mother, he will take Damascus's power and Samaria's spoils before the king of the Assyrians."

8:5 The Lord spoke to me yet again,

8:6 "Because this people does not want Siloam's water, which flows quietly, but wants to have Raasson and Romelias's son as king over you,

8:7 therefore, behold, the Lord brings up against you the river's strong and abundant water—the king of the Assyrians and his glory. He will ascend every ravine of yours and walk over every wall of yours,

8:8 and he will remove from Judea a person able to lift a head or someone strong enough to accomplish anything. His encampment will fill the breadth of your country. God is with us."

8:9 Know, nations, and be defeated! Listen, you at the farthest edge of the earth! You who have grown strong, be defeated; for even if you grow strong again, you will again be defeated.

8:10 Whatever counsel you devise, the Lord will scatter; whatever word you speak will certainly not endure for you, because the Lord God is with us.

8:11 Thus says the Lord: "With a strong hand they resist the course of this people's way, saying,

8:12 'Never say hard; for everything this people says is hard.' But do not fear its fear, and do not be troubled.

8:13 Sanctify the Lord Himself, and He will be your fear.

8:14 If you trust in Him, He will become a sanctuary for you, and you will not encounter Him as the stumbling of a stone or as the falling of a rock. But Jacob's house is in a trap, and those settled in Jerusalem in a pit.

8:15 Therefore many among them will be powerless, fall and be broken; people who are secure will draw near and be captured."

8:16 Then those sealing up the law so that it may not be learned will be revealed.

8:17 He will say, "I will wait for God, who turned His face away from Jacob's house, and I will put my trust in Him."

8:18 Behold, I and the children God gave me—and it will be for signs and wonders in Israel’s house, from the Lord Sabaoth, who dwells on Mount Zion.

8:19 If they say to you, “Seek those who speak from the earth and the belly-speakers, the empty-talkers who speak from the belly,” should not a nation turn to its God? Why do they seek the dead concerning the living?

8:20 For He gave law for help, so that they might speak unlike this utterance, concerning which there are no gifts to give for it.

8:21 A harsh famine will come upon you; when you hunger, you will be grieved and speak evil of the ruler and the cult images, and they will look up toward heaven above,

8:22 and they will look down to the earth, and behold, affliction and confinement and darkness, constricted perplexity and darkness so that they cannot see,

8:23 and the one in confinement will not remain perplexed for a time. “Do this first, do it quickly, country of Zebulun, land of Naphtali, way of the sea, and the rest who dwell by the sea and beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations, the regions of Judea.”

9:6 Great is his rule, and his peace has no limit, upon the throne of David and his kingdom, to establish it and uphold it in righteousness and judgment, from now on and for ever. The zeal of the Lord Sabaoth will do these things.

9:7 The Lord sent death against Jacob, and it came upon Israel,

9:8 and all Ephraim’s people and those settled in Samaria will know, saying in insolence and a lofty heart,

9:9 “Bricks have fallen, but come, let us hew stones, cut down sycamores and cedars, and build ourselves a tower.”

9:10 God will dash those rising against Mount Zion upon them, and He will scatter their enemies,

9:11 Syria from the sun’s rising and the Greeks from the sun’s setting, who devour Israel with their whole mouth. For all these things the anger did not turn away, but the hand is still high.

9:12 The people did not turn back until they were struck, and they did not seek the Lord.

9:13 The Lord removed from Israel head and tail, great and small, in one day,

9:14 the elder and those who show favoritism—this is the leadership—and the prophet teaching lawless things—this is the tail.

9:15 Those blessing this people will lead astray, and they lead astray in order to swallow them up.

9:16 Therefore God will not rejoice over their young men, and He will not pity their orphans or widows, because all are lawless and evil, and every mouth speaks unjust things. For all these things the anger did not turn away, but the hand is still high.

9:17 Lawlessness will burn like fire and be consumed by fire like dry grass; it will burn in the forest's thickets and consume together everything around the hills.

9:18 Through the fury of the Lord's anger the whole earth has been burned, and the people will be as though burned by fire. A person will not pity his brother,

9:19 but will turn to the right because he will hunger, and eat from the left; a person eating the flesh of his own arm will certainly not be filled.

9:20 For Manasseh will eat from Ephraim, and Ephraim from Manasseh, because together they will besiege Judah. For all these things the anger did not turn away, but the hand is still high.

Isaiah 10

10:1 Woe to those writing wickedness! For when they write, they write wickedness,

10:2 turning aside the judgment of the poor, seizing the justice of My people's needy, so that a widow becomes their prey and an orphan their plunder.

10:3 What will they do on the day of visitation? For affliction will come to you from far away. To whom will you flee for help, and where will you leave your glory,

10:4 so as not to fall into captivity? For all these things the anger did not turn away, but the hand is still high.

10:5 Woe to the Assyrians! The rod of My anger and wrath is in their hands.

10:6 I will send My anger against a lawless nation, and I will command My people to take spoils and plunder, trample the cities and reduce them to dust.

10:7 But he did not consider it this way and has not reckoned it this way in his soul; rather, his mind will turn aside, even to destroy not a few nations.

10:8 If they say to him, "You alone are ruler,"

10:9 he will say, "Did I not take the country above Babylon and Chalanneh, where the tower was built? I also took Arabia, Damascus and Samaria.

10:10 As I took these in my hand, I will also take all the dominions. Wail, carved images in Jerusalem and Samaria!

10:11 For as I did to Samaria and her handmade objects, so I will also do to Jerusalem and her idols."

10:12 When the Lord has finished doing all things on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, He will bring judgment upon the great mind—the ruler of the Assyrians—and upon the height of the glory of his eyes.

10:13 For he said, "By strength I will act, and by the wisdom of understanding. I will remove nations' boundaries, plunder their strength and shake inhabited cities.

10:14 I will seize the whole inhabited world in my hand like a nest, and lift it like abandoned eggs. There is no one who will escape me or contradict me."

10:15 Will an ax be glorified without the one cutting with it, or a saw be raised without the one drawing it? Likewise, if someone lifts a rod or a piece of wood.

10:16 And it will not be so; rather, the Lord Sabaoth will send dishonor against your honor, and against your glory a burning fire will burn.

10:17 Israel's light will become fire, and He will sanctify him in burning fire and consume the woodland like grass. On that day,

10:18 the mountains, hills and forests will be extinguished, and it will consume from soul to flesh. The one fleeing will be like someone fleeing from a burning flame.

10:19 Those left from them will be a number, and a child will write them down.

10:20 On that day Israel's remainder will no longer continue, and Jacob's survivors will certainly no longer trust those who wronged them; rather, they will trust God, Israel's Holy One, in truth,

10:21 and Jacob's remainder will be toward a mighty God.

10:22 Even if Israel's people becomes like the sea's sand, their remnant will be saved; for He is completing and cutting short a word in righteousness,

10:23 because God will carry out a shortened word in the whole inhabited world.

10:24 Therefore thus says the Lord Sabaoth: "Do not fear the Assyrians, My people dwelling in Zion, because he will strike you with a rod; for I bring a blow upon you to see Egypt's way.

10:25 For yet a little while, and the wrath will cease, but My anger will be against their counsel."

10:26 God will rouse action against them according to Midian's blow in a place of affliction, and His anger on the way by the sea, toward the way by Egypt.

10:27 On that day his fear will be removed from you and his yoke from your shoulder, and the yoke will be destroyed from your shoulders.

10:28 For he will come to the city of Angai, pass into Magedo, and deposit his equipment in Machmas,

10:29 cross a ravine and come to Angai. Fear will seize Rama, Saul’s city; she will flee—

10:30 Daughter Gallim. Laisa will listen, Anathoth will listen.

10:31 Madebena and Gibbir’s residents were distraught. Offer encouragement,

10:32 today along the way, to remain; with the hand offer encouragement, the mountain, Daughter Zion, and the hills in Jerusalem.

10:33 For behold, the Master, the Lord Sabaoth, throws the glorious ones into confusion with strength; those lofty in insolence will be shattered, and the high brought low,

10:34 and the high will fall by a sword, while Lebanon will fall with the high.

Isaiah 11

11:1 And a shoot will come from the root of Jesse, and a blossom will rise from the root.

11:2 And the Spirit of God will rest upon him: the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and godliness.

Note [1]: Isaiah 11:2 · WordingThe Brenton transcription begins the shall fill him construction at the end of verse 2 and finishes it in verse 3. The Saints trial follows the Greek verse division. Note [2]: Isaiah 11:2 · Meaning and wording · godlinessReverence or piety expressed as a quality of the spirit. Use godliness with reverence as the modern connection. Keep knowledge distinct, and read the following fear-of-God clause in its own verse rather than collapsing the two qualities.Historical comparison. DRC and Brenton use godliness; Saints uses reverence; KJV has fear of the LORD at this position. 11:3 The spirit of the fear of God will fill him. He will not judge according to appearance, nor reprove according to report;

11:4 but he will judge the cause of the lowly, and reprove the lowly of the earth; and he will strike the earth with the word of his mouth, and with breath through his lips he will slay the ungodly.

Note [1]: Isaiah 11:4 · MeaningReprove the lowly preserves the Greek object relation provisionally. It is not silently replaced with judging on behalf of the lowly. The Greek names word of his mouth, not rod of his mouth.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter 11:5 His loins will be girded with righteousness, and his sides bound with truth.

11:6 And the wolf will feed with the lamb, and the leopard will rest with the young goat; and the calf and the bull and the lion will feed together, and a little child will lead them.

11:7 And the ox and the bear will feed together, and their young will be together; and the lion and the ox will eat straw together.

11:9 And they will certainly do no harm, nor will they be able at all to destroy anyone upon My holy mountain; for the whole earth has been filled with the knowledge of the Lord, as abundant water covers the seas.

11:10 On that day there will be Jesse’s root and the one rising to rule nations; nations will hope in him, and his rest will be honor.

11:11 On that day the Lord will again show His hand, to be zealous for the remaining remnant of the people left from the Assyrians, Egypt, Babylonia, Ethiopia, the Elamites, the sun’s rising and Arabia.

11:12 He will raise a signal to the nations and gather Israel’s lost ones; He will gather Judah’s scattered ones from the earth’s four wings.

11:13 Ephraim’s jealousy will be removed, and Judah’s enemies will perish. Ephraim will not envy Judah, and Judah will not afflict Ephraim.

11:14 They will fly in foreigners’ ships toward the sea; together they will plunder those from the sun’s rising and Idumea. Upon Moab they will first lay their hands, and Ammon’s sons will be the first to obey.

11:15 The Lord will lay Egypt’s sea waste and bring His hand upon the river with a violent wind. He will strike seven ravines so that one may pass through it in sandals.

11:16 There will be a passage for My remaining people in Egypt, and it will be for Israel as on the day it came out of Egypt’s land.

Isaiah 12

12:1 On that day you will say, “I will bless Thee, Lord, because Thou wast angry with me, didst turn Thy wrath away and have mercy on me.

12:2 Behold, my God, my Savior, is the Lord; I will trust in Him and be saved in Him, and I will not fear, because the Lord is my glory and my praise, and He became my salvation.”

12:3 You will draw water with gladness from salvation’s springs.

12:4 On that day you will say, “Sing hymns to the Lord, cry out His name, announce His glorious deeds among the nations, remember that His name was exalted.

12:5 Sing the Lord’s name, because He has done exalted things; announce these throughout the earth.

12:6 Exult and be glad, you who dwell in Zion, because Israel’s Holy One has been exalted in her midst.”

Isaiah 13

13:1 The vision that Isaiah son of Amos saw against Babylon.

13:2 Raise a signal on a level mountain, lift your voice to them, do not fear, beckon with the hand: “Open, rulers!”

13:3 I command, and I lead them; they are consecrated, and I lead them. Giants are coming to fulfill My wrath, rejoicing and acting insolently together.

13:4 A sound of many nations upon the mountains, like many nations; a sound of kings and gathered nations. The Lord Sabaoth has commanded an armed nation,

13:5 to come from a distant land, from the farthest edge of heaven’s foundation—the Lord and His armed fighters—to destroy the whole inhabited world.

13:6 Wail, for the Lord’s day is near, and shattering will come from God.

13:7 Therefore every hand will slacken, and every human soul grow cowardly;

13:8 the envoys will be troubled, and labor pains will hold them like those of a woman giving birth. They will lament to one another and be distraught, and change their face as to flame.

13:9 For behold, the Lord’s incurable day comes, of wrath and anger, to make the whole inhabited world deserted and destroy its sinners from it.

13:10 For heaven’s stars, Orion and all heaven’s array will not give light; it will grow dark as the sun rises, and the moon will not give its light.

13:11 I will ordain evils for the whole inhabited world, and for the ungodly their sins; I will destroy the insolence of the lawless and lower the insolence of the proud.

13:12 Those left will be more precious than unrefined gold, and a human being more precious than the stone from Souphir.

13:13 For heaven will be enraged, and the earth shaken from its foundations through the fury of the Lord Sabaoth’s anger, on the day when His wrath comes upon it.

13:14 Those left will be like a fleeing little gazelle and a wandering sheep, with no one to gather them, so that each turns back to his own people and hastens to his own country.

13:15 Whoever is captured will be defeated, and those gathered together will fall by a sword.

13:16 They will dash their children before them, plunder their houses and take possession of their wives.

13:17 Behold, I am rousing the Medes against you, who do not value silver or have need of gold.

13:18 They will shatter young men’s arrows and certainly not pity your children; their eyes will not spare the children.

13:19 Babylon, which is called glorious by the king of the Chaldeans, will be as when God overturned Sodom and Gomorrah.

13:20 She will not be inhabited for everlasting time, nor will people ever enter her through many generations. Arabs will certainly not pass through her, and shepherds will certainly not rest in her.

13:21 Wild beasts will rest there, and the houses fill with sound; sirens will rest there, and demons dance there.

13:22 Donkey-centaurs will dwell there, and hedgehogs make nests in their houses. It comes quickly and will not delay.

Isaiah 14

14:1 The Lord will pity Jacob and again choose Israel; they will rest upon their land, and the resident foreigner will be added to them and added to Jacob’s house,

14:2 and nations will take them and bring them into their place; they will inherit and multiply upon God’s land as male and female slaves. Those who took them captive will be captives, and those who ruled them will be ruled.

14:3 On that day God will give you rest from pain, your wrath and the harsh slavery in which you served them,

14:4 and you will take up this lament against Babylon’s king and say on that day, “How the one who made demands has rested, and the taskmaster rested!

14:5 God shattered the sinners' yoke, the rulers' yoke;

14:6 having struck a nation in wrath with an incurable blow, striking a nation with a blow of anger that did not spare,

14:7 he rested confidently. The whole earth cries out with gladness,

14:8 and Lebanon's trees rejoiced over you, and Lebanon's cedar: 'Since you have fallen asleep, the one cutting us has not come up.'

14:9 Hades below grew bitter on meeting you. All the giants who ruled the earth rose together for you, those who raised all the nations' kings from their thrones.

14:10 They will all answer and say to you, 'You too were captured as we were, and were numbered among us.'

14:11 Your glory went down to Hades, your abundant gladness. They will spread decay beneath you, and your covering is a worm.

14:12 How the dawn-bearer who rises in the morning fell from heaven! The one dispatching to all the nations was shattered to earth.

14:13 You said in your mind, 'I will ascend to heaven, set my throne above heaven's stars, and sit on a high mountain, upon the high mountains toward the north.

14:14 I will ascend above the clouds; I will be like the Most High.'

14:15 But now you will descend to Hades and to the earth's foundations.

14:16 Those who see you will marvel at you and say, 'Is this the person who provoked the earth, shook kings,

14:17 who made the whole inhabited world deserted and pulled down the cities, who did not release those in captivity?'

14:18 All the nations' kings fell asleep in honor, each in his own house;

14:19 but you will be thrown into the mountains like an abhorred dead man, with many dead pierced by swords, descending to Hades. As a garment stained with blood will not be clean,

14:20 so neither will you be clean, because you destroyed My land and killed My people. You will certainly not endure for everlasting time, evil offspring.

14:21 Prepare your children to be slaughtered because of your father's sins, so that they do not rise, inherit the earth and fill the earth with cities."

14:22 "I will rise against them," says the Lord Sabaoth, "and destroy their name, remnant and offspring"—thus says the Lord—

14:23 "and make Babylonia deserted, so that hedgehogs dwell there; she will become nothing. I will make her a muddy abyss for destruction."

14:24 Thus says the Lord Sabaoth: "As I said, so it will be, and as I counseled, so it will endure,

14:25 to destroy the Assyrians from My land and from My mountains. They will become a trampling place; their yoke will be removed from them, and their glory removed from the shoulders."

14:26 This is the counsel the Lord has counseled concerning the whole inhabited world, and this the high hand over all the world's nations.

14:27 For what the holy God has counseled, who will scatter? And who will turn back the high hand?

14:28 In the year King Achaz died, this utterance came:

14:29 "Do not rejoice, all you foreigners, because the yoke of the one striking you was shattered; for from snakes' seed asp offspring will come, and their offspring will emerge as flying snakes.

14:30 The poor will be fed through him, and poor men will rest in peace; but he will destroy your seed with famine and destroy your remnant.

14:31 Wail, gates of cities! Let troubled cities cry out, all the foreigners, because smoke comes from the north, and there is no surviving.

14:32 What will the nations' kings answer? That the Lord founded Zion, and through Him the humble among the people will be saved."

Isaiah 15

15:1 The utterance against Moab's country. In a night Moab's country will perish, for in a night the wall of Moab's country will perish.

15:2 Grieve over yourselves, for Debon too will perish. Where your altar is, there you will go up to weep. Over Nabau of Moab's country, wail: baldness upon every head, every arm cut.

15:3 In her squares put on sackcloth and beat yourselves in mourning; upon her roofs and in her lanes all of you wail with weeping.

15:4 For Hesebon and Eleale have cried out; their voice was heard as far as Iassa. Therefore Moab's loins cry out; her soul will know.

15:5 Moab's heart cries within her as far as Segor, for she is a three-year-old heifer. On Louith's ascent they will go up toward you weeping; along Aroniim's road destruction and shaking cry out.

15:6 Nemrim’s water will be deserted, and her grass cease; for there will be no green grass.

15:7 Surely she is not going to be saved even so? For I will bring Arabs upon the ravine, and they will take her.

15:8 For the cry has reached Moab’s border at Agallim, and her wailing extends to Ailim’s well.

15:9 Remmon’s water will fill with blood; for I will bring Arabs upon Remmon and remove Moab’s offspring, Ariel and Adama’s remainder.

Isaiah 16

16:1 I will send them like creeping creatures upon the earth. Surely Mount Zion is not a deserted rock?

16:2 For you will be like a fledgling removed from a bird taking flight, Daughter Moab. Then, Arnon,

16:3 take further counsel. Make a shelter of mourning for her continually. In midday darkness they flee; they were distraught. Do not be carried away.

16:4 Moab’s fugitives will sojourn with you; they will be a shelter for you from the pursuer, because your alliance was removed, and the ruler trampling the earth perished.

16:5 A throne will be set right with mercy, and one will sit upon it with truth in David’s tent, judging, seeking judgment and hastening righteousness.

16:6 We heard Moab’s insolence—exceedingly insolent. You raised up your arrogance. Your divination is not so,

16:7 not so. Moab will wail, for all in Moab’s country will wail. You will ponder for Deseth’s residents and not be ashamed.

16:8 Hesebon’s plains will mourn, and Sebama’s vine. You who devour the nations, trample her vineyards as far as Iazer; you will certainly not reach them. Wander in the wilderness! Those sent out were abandoned, for they crossed the wilderness.

16:9 Therefore I will weep like Iazer’s weeping for Sebama’s vine. He felled your trees, Hesebon and Eleale, because I will trample upon your grain harvest and vintage, and all will fall.

16:10 Gladness and exultation will be removed from your vineyards; in your vineyards they will certainly not rejoice or tread wine into the vats, for it has ceased.

16:11 Therefore my belly will sound like a lyre for Moab, and my inward parts like a wall that you renewed.

16:12 It will turn to your shame, because Moab labored at the altars and will enter her handmade objects to pray; it will certainly not be able to rescue him.

16:13 This is the utterance the Lord spoke against Moab, whenever He spoke it.

16:14 Now I say, “In three years, years of a hired worker, Moab’s glory will be dishonored with all its abundant wealth, and a very small, unhonored remnant will be left.”

Isaiah 17

17:1 The utterance against Damascus. Behold, Damascus will be removed from the cities and become a ruin, 17:2 abandoned for everlasting time, a bed and resting place for flocks, with no one pursuing.

17:3 There will no longer be a stronghold for Ephraim to flee to, nor a kingdom in Damascus, and the Syrians’ remainder will perish; for you are no better than Israel’s sons and their glory. Thus says the Lord Sabaoth.

17:4 On that day Jacob’s glory will fail, and the fat parts of his glory will be shaken.

17:5 It will be as when someone gathers a standing harvest and reaps seed from the ears in his arm, as when someone gathers an ear in a firm ravine,

17:6 and a stalk is left in it, or like olive berries, two or three on a lofty top, or four or five left on their branches. Thus says the Lord, Israel’s God.

17:7 On that day a person will trust in the One who made him, and his eyes will look toward Israel’s Holy One,

17:8 and they will certainly not trust the altars or their hands’ works, which their fingers made, nor look at their trees or abominations.

17:9 On that day your cities will be abandoned as the Amorites and Hivites abandoned theirs before Israel’s sons, and they will be deserted,

17:10 because you abandoned God your Savior and did not remember the Lord your Helper. Therefore you will plant a faithless planting and faithless seed;

17:11 on the day you plant, you will wander. In the morning, if you sow, it will blossom for harvest on whatever day you allot, and like a human father you will allot to your sons.

17:12 Woe, the multitude of many nations! Like a surging sea, so you will be troubled, and the back of many nations will roar like water.

17:13 Many nations are like abundant water, like much water violently rushing down. He will drive him away and pursue him far off, like chaff-dust when people winnow before wind, and like wheel-dust carried by a squall.

17:14 Toward evening there will be mourning; before morning it will be gone. This is the portion of those who plundered you, an inheritance for those who took possession of you.

Isaiah 18

18:1 Woe, wings of a land of ships, beyond Ethiopia's rivers,

18:2 the one sending hostages by sea and papyrus letters over the water! For swift messengers will go to a lofty nation and a foreign and harsh people—who is beyond it?—a hopeless and trampled nation. Now the land's rivers,

18:3 all are like an inhabited country; their country will be inhabited as when a signal is raised from a mountain, and it will be audible like a trumpet's voice.

18:4 For thus the Lord said to me, "There will be security in My city, like the light of midday heat, and it will be like a dew cloud on a harvest day."

18:5 Before harvest, when the bloom is complete and the unripe grape blossoms as its flower forms unripe fruit, He will remove the small grape clusters with sickles, remove the vine branches and cut them down,

18:6 and leave them together for heaven's birds and the earth's wild beasts. Heaven's birds will gather upon them, and all the earth's wild beasts will come upon him.

18:7 At that time gifts will be brought to the Lord Sabaoth from a people afflicted and plucked, and from a great people from now on and for everlasting time—a hoping and trampled nation, which is in a part of its country's river—to the place where the Lord Sabaoth's name was called, Mount Zion.

Isaiah 19

19:1 A vision of Egypt. Behold, the Lord sits upon a light cloud and will come into Egypt; Egypt's handmade objects will be shaken before Him, and their heart overcome within them.

19:2 Egyptians will be roused against Egyptians; each will fight his brother and each his neighbor, city against city and district against district.

19:3 The Egyptians' spirit will be troubled within them, and I will scatter their counsel. They will inquire of their gods, their statues, those speaking from the earth and the belly-speakers.

19:4 I will hand Egypt into the hands of harsh human masters, and harsh kings will rule them. Thus says the Lord Sabaoth.

19:5 The Egyptians will drink water beside the sea, but the river will fail and dry up.

19:6 Rivers and the river's canals will fail, and every gathering of water dry up, in every marsh of reed and papyrus,

19:7 and all the green marsh growth around the river and everything sown by the river will dry up, destroyed by wind.

19:8 Fishermen will groan, and all casting a hook into the river will groan; those casting seines and those using casting nets will mourn.

19:9 Shame will seize those working split flax and those working fine linen,

19:10 and those warping them will be in pain, and all who make beer will be grieved and suffer in their souls.

19:11 Tanis's rulers will be fools; the king's wise counselors—their counsel will become foolish. How will you say to the king, "We are sons of the discerning, sons of kings from the beginning"?

19:12 Where are your wise men now? Let them announce to you and say what the Lord Sabaoth has counseled against Egypt.

19:13 Tanis's rulers failed, and Memphis's rulers were exalted; they will lead Egypt astray tribe by tribe.

19:14 For the Lord mixed for them a spirit of wandering; they led Egypt astray in all their works, as someone wanders while drunk and vomiting.

19:15 There will be no work for the Egyptians that will produce a head and tail, a beginning and end.

19:16 On that day the Egyptians will be like women in fear and trembling before the Lord Sabaoth's hand, which He Himself will bring upon them.

19:17 The Judeans' country will become a terror to the Egyptians; whenever anyone names her to them, they will fear because of the counsel the Lord has counseled against her.

19:18 On that day five cities in Egypt will speak the Canaanite language and swear by the Lord's name. One city will be called City-Asedek.

19:19 On that day there will be an altar to the Lord in the Egyptians' country and a pillar to the Lord by its border,

19:20 and it will be an everlasting sign to the Lord in Egypt's country, because they will cry to the Lord on account of their oppressors. The Lord will send them a man who will save them; judging, he will save them.

19:21 The Lord will be known to the Egyptians, and the Egyptians will know the Lord on that day. They will make sacrifices, vow vows to the Lord and pay them.

19:22 The Lord will strike the Egyptians with a great blow and heal them with healing. They will turn back to the Lord, and He will listen to them and heal them.

19:23 On that day there will be a road from Egypt toward the Assyrians. Assyrians will enter Egypt, and Egyptians go toward the Assyrians, and the Egyptians will serve the Assyrians.

19:24 On that day Israel will be third among the Assyrians and Egyptians, blessed upon the earth,

19:25 which the Lord Sabaoth blessed, saying, “Blessed be My people in Egypt and among the Assyrians, and My inheritance Israel.”

Isaiah 20

20:1 In the year Tanathan entered Azotus, when he was sent by Arna king of the Assyrians and fought Azotus and seized it,

20:2 then the Lord spoke to Isaiah, saying, “Go, remove the sackcloth from your waist and untie the sandals on your feet.” He did so, going naked and without sandals.

20:3 The Lord said, “As Isaiah My servant has gone naked and without sandals for three years, there will be signs and wonders for the Egyptians and Ethiopians;

20:4 for thus the king of the Assyrians will lead Egypt’s and the Ethiopians’ captivity, young men and elders, naked and without sandals, exposed as Egypt’s shame.

20:5 The Egyptians will be ashamed in defeat because of the Ethiopians, in whom the Egyptians had trusted, for they were their glory.

20:6 Those dwelling on this island will say, ‘Behold, we had trusted that we could flee to them for help, but they could not be saved from the king of the Assyrians. How, then, shall we be saved?’”

Isaiah 21

21:1 The vision of the wilderness. As a squall might pass through a wilderness, coming from a wilderness, from a land—a fearsome

21:2 and harsh vision was announced to me. The faithless person deals faithlessly, and the lawless person acts lawlessly. The Elamites are against me, and Persian envoys come against me. Now I will groan and comfort myself.

21:3 Therefore my loins filled with weakness, and labor pains seized me like a woman giving birth. I did wrong by not hearing; I strove not to see.

21:4 My heart wanders, and lawlessness submerges me; my soul stands in fear.

21:5 Prepare the table; drink, eat! Rise, rulers; prepare shields!

21:6 For thus the Lord said to me: “Go, station a watcher for yourself, and report whatever you see.

21:7 I saw mounted riders, two horsemen, a donkey rider and a camel rider. Listen with great attention,

21:8 and call Uriah to the Lord’s watchtower.” He said, “I stood continually by day, and at the camp I stood all night,

21:9 and behold, he himself comes, a rider of a two-horse team.” He answered and said, “Babylon has fallen, and all her statues and handmade objects were shattered to the ground.”

21:10 Hear, you who remain and suffer; hear what I heard from the Lord Sabaoth. Israel’s God announced it to us.

21:11 The vision of Idumea. One calls to me from Seir: “Guard the battlements.”

21:12 “I watch morning and night. If you seek, seek, and dwell beside me;

21:13 in the wood you will sleep at evening, on Daidan’s road.”

21:14 Bring water to meet the thirsty, you dwelling in Thaiman’s country; meet the fugitives with loaves,

21:15 because of the multitude of those fleeing, the multitude of those wandering, the multitude of the sword, the multitude of ready arrows, and the multitude of those fallen in war.

21:16 For thus the Lord said to me: “Yet one year, like a hired worker’s year, and the glory of Kedar’s sons will fail,

21:17 and the remaining arrows of Kedar’s strong sons will be few, because the Lord, Israel’s God, has spoken.”

Isaiah 22

22:1 The utterance of Zion’s ravine. What happened to you now, that you all went up to the roofs,

22:2 the futile roofs? The city was filled with people crying out. Your wounded were not wounded by a sword, nor did your dead die in war.

22:3 All your rulers have fled; those captured are harshly bound, and the strong among you have fled far away.

22:4 Therefore I said, “Leave me; I will weep bitterly. Do not insist on comforting me over the shattering of the daughter of my race.”

22:5 For there is a day of disturbance, destruction, trampling and wandering from the Lord Sabaoth in Zion’s ravine. They wander from small to great; they wander upon the mountains.

22:6 The Elamites took quivers—mounted men upon horses and an assembled battle line.

22:7 Your chosen ravines will be filled with chariots, and the horsemen will block your gates,

22:8 and they will uncover Judah’s gates and look on that day into the city’s choice houses,

22:9 and uncover the hidden things of the houses in David’s citadel. They saw that they were many and that the old pool’s water had been diverted into the city,

22:10 and that Jerusalem’s houses had been pulled down to fortify the city’s wall.

22:11 You provided water for yourselves between the two walls, inside the old pool, and did not look to the One who made her from the beginning or see the One who founded her.

22:12 The Lord Sabaoth called on that day for weeping, lamentation, shaving and putting on sackcloth,

22:13 but they made gladness and exultation, slaughtering calves and sacrificing sheep to eat meat and drink wine, saying, “Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!”

22:14 These things are revealed in the Lord Sabaoth’s ears: “This sin will not be forgiven you until you die.”

22:15 Thus says the Lord Sabaoth: “Go into the chamber to Somnas the treasurer, and say to him, 22:16 What are you doing here, and what do you have here, that you quarried yourself a memorial here, made yourself a memorial on high and inscribed yourself a dwelling in rock?

22:17 Behold, the Lord Sabaoth will cast out and crush a man and remove your robe,

22:18 and your glorious crown, and throw you into a great and immeasurable country. There you will die; He will make your fine chariot dishonored and your ruler’s house a trampling place, 22:19 and you will be removed from your stewardship and your standing.

22:20 On that day I will call My servant Eliakim, son of Chelkias,

22:21 clothe him in your robe, give him your crown, and put the power and your stewardship in his hands. He will be like a father to those dwelling in Jerusalem and those dwelling in Judah.

22:22 I will give him David’s glory, and he will rule, with no one contradicting.

22:23 I will establish him as a ruler in a trustworthy place, and he will become a throne of glory for his father’s house.

22:24 Every glorious person in his father’s house, from small to great, will trust in him, and they will hang upon him.

22:25 On that day—thus says the Lord Sabaoth—the person established in a trustworthy place will be shaken and fall, and the glory upon him will be removed, because the Lord has spoken.”

Isaiah 23

23:1 The vision of Tyre. Wail, ships of Carthage, because she has perished, and they no longer come from the Kitians’ land; she has been led captive.

23:2 Whom have the island-dwelling traders of Phoenicia become like, crossing the sea

23:3 upon much water, seed of traders? Like a harvest being brought in are the nations’ traders.

23:4 “Be ashamed, Sidon,” said the sea; and the sea’s strength said, “I did not labor or give birth or rear young men or raise maidens.”

23:5 When it becomes known to Egypt, pain will seize them concerning Tyre.

23:6 Go away to Carthage! Wail, residents of this island!

23:7 Was this not your insolence from the beginning, before she was handed over?

23:8 Who planned these things against Tyre? Is she weaker, or has she no strength? Her merchants are glorious, rulers of the earth.

23:9 The Lord Sabaoth planned it, to dissolve all the insolence of the glorious and dishonor everything glorious upon the earth.

23:10 Work your land, for ships no longer come from Carthage.

23:11 Your hand no longer has strength at sea, the hand that provoked kings. The Lord Sabaoth commanded concerning Canaan, to destroy her strength.

23:12 They will say, “You shall no longer continue in insolence and in wronging Sidon’s daughter.” Even if you go to the Kitians, there too you will have no rest,

23:13 and into the Chaldeans' land: this too has been devastated by the Assyrians. There too you will have no rest, because her wall has fallen.

23:14 Wail, ships of Carthage, because your fortress has perished!

23:15 On that day Tyre will be left for seventy years, like a king's time, like a person's time. After seventy years, Tyre will be like a prostitute's song:

23:16 "Take a lyre, wander through cities, forgotten prostitute! Play the lyre well, sing much, so that you may be remembered."

23:17 After seventy years God will visit Tyre, and she will again be restored to her former state and become a trading center for all the inhabited world's kingdoms.

23:18 Her trade and her wage will be holy to the Lord. It will not be collected for them; instead, all her trade will be for those dwelling before the Lord, to eat and drink and be filled, as a contribution, a memorial before the Lord.

Isaiah 24

24:1 Behold, the Lord is destroying the inhabited world; He will make it desolate, uncover its face and scatter those dwelling in it.

24:2 The people will be like the priest, the slave like the master, the maidservant like the mistress; the buyer will be like the seller, the lender like the borrower, and the debtor like the one to whom he owes a debt.

24:3 The earth will be utterly destroyed, and the earth utterly plundered, for the Lord's mouth has spoken these things.

24:4 The earth mourned, the inhabited world was destroyed, and the earth's high ones mourned.

24:5 The earth acted lawlessly because of those dwelling in it, because they transgressed the law and changed the ordinances, an everlasting covenant.

24:6 Therefore a curse will consume the earth, because those dwelling in it sinned. Therefore those dwelling on the earth will be poor, and few people will be left.

24:7 Wine will mourn, the vine will mourn, and all who gladden the soul will groan.

24:8 The joy of tambourines has ceased; the impudence and wealth of the ungodly have ceased; the lyre's sound has ceased.

24:9 They were ashamed and did not drink wine; sikera became bitter to those drinking it.

24:10 Every city was deserted; he will shut a house so that none may enter.

24:11 Wail over wine everywhere! All the earth's gladness has ceased.

24:12 Cities will be left deserted, and abandoned houses will perish.

24:13 All these things will happen on the earth, among the nations: as when someone gleans an olive tree, so they will glean them, even when the grape harvest has ceased.

24:14 These will cry aloud, and those left upon the earth will rejoice together with the Lord's glory. The sea's water will be troubled;

24:15 therefore the Lord's glory will be in the sea's islands; the Lord's name will be glorious—O Lord, Israel's God!

24:16 From the earth's wings we heard wonders: "Hope for the devout!" And they will say, "Woe to those who reject, those who reject the law!"

24:17 Fear, pit and trap are upon you who dwell on the earth!

24:18 Whoever flees the fear will fall into the pit, and whoever climbs from the pit will be caught by the trap, because windows from heaven have opened and the earth's foundations will be shaken.

24:19 The earth will be utterly agitated, and the earth will be utterly at a loss;

24:20 The earth has tilted and will be shaken like a fruit-watcher's shelter, like someone drunk and hungover. It will fall and will never be able to rise, for lawlessness has prevailed upon it.

24:21 God will bring His hand against heaven's array and against the earth's kings.

24:22 They will gather and shut them into a fortress and a prison; after many generations there will be a visitation of them.

24:23 The brick will melt and the wall will fall, because the Lord will reign in Zion and in Jerusalem and will be glorified before the elders.

Isaiah 25

25:1 Lord my God, I will glorify Thee and sing Thy name, because Thou hast done wondrous things, an ancient, true plan. May it be so, Lord!

25:2 For Thou hast made cities a mound, fortified cities so that their foundations fall. The city of the ungodly will certainly never be rebuilt.

25:3 Therefore the poor people will bless Thee, and cities of wronged people will bless Thee.

25:4 For Thou didst become a helper to every lowly city and a shelter to those discouraged by need. Thou wilt rescue them from evil people, a shelter for the thirsty and a breath for wronged people.

25:5 They will bless Thee like fainthearted people thirsting in Zion because of ungodly people, to whom Thou didst hand us over.

25:6 The Lord Sabaoth will act for all the nations upon this mountain. They will drink gladness, drink wine and anoint themselves with perfume.

25:7 On this mountain, hand all these things over to the nations, for this plan concerns all the nations.

25:8 Death swallowed, having prevailed; and again God removed every tear from every face. He removed the people's reproach from all the earth, for the Lord's mouth has spoken.

25:9 On that day they will say, "Behold, our God, in whom we hoped and exulted; and we will rejoice in our salvation."

25:10 For God will give rest upon this mountain, and Moab's land will be trampled as people tread a threshing floor with wagons,

25:11 and he will release his hands, just as he himself brought low for destruction; he will bring low his insolence over what he laid his hands on,

25:12 and he will bring low the height of your wall's refuge, and it will descend to the ground.

Isaiah 26

26:1 On that day they will sing this song in Judah's land, saying, "Behold, a fortified city! He will make our salvation a wall and an encircling wall.

26:2 Open the gates; let a people enter, keeping righteousness and keeping truth,

26:3 holding fast to truth and keeping peace. For in Thee

26:4 they hoped, Lord, for ever, the great, everlasting God,

26:5 Thou who didst humble and bring down those dwelling on high. Thou wilt cast down fortified cities and bring them to the ground, 26:6 and the feet of the meek and lowly will trample them.

26:7 The way of the devout became straight, and the way of the devout is prepared.

26:8 For the Lord's way is judgment. We hoped in Thy name and in the remembrance

26:9 which our soul desires. From night my spirit rises early toward Thee, God, because Thine ordinances are light upon the earth. Learn righteousness, you dwelling upon the earth!

26:10 For the ungodly has ceased; he will certainly not learn righteousness upon the earth or practice truth. Let the ungodly be removed, so that he may not see the Lord's glory.

26:11 Lord, Thine arm is high, and they did not know; when they know, they will be ashamed. Zeal will seize an undisciplined people, and now fire will consume the opponents.

26:12 Lord our God, give us peace, for Thou hast repaid everything to us.

26:13 Lord our God, acquire us! Lord, we know no other besides Thee; we name Thy name.

26:14 The dead will certainly not see life, nor will physicians ever raise them. Therefore Thou didst bring calamity, destroy and remove every male of theirs.

26:15 Add evils to them, Lord; add evils to all the earth's glorious people!

26:16 Lord, in affliction I remembered Thee; in slight affliction Thy discipline was for us.

26:17 Like a woman in labor nearing childbirth and crying out in her pang, so we became toward Thy beloved because of fear of Thee, Lord.

26:18 We conceived, labored and gave birth; we produced the spirit of Thy salvation upon the earth, but those dwelling upon the earth will fall.

26:19 The dead will rise, those in the tombs will be awakened, and those in the earth will rejoice, for the dew from Thee is healing to them; but the earth of the ungodly will fall."

26:20 Go, My people, enter your inner rooms, shut your door, hide for a little, a very little while, until the Lord's wrath passes.

26:21 For behold, the Lord brings wrath from the holy place upon those dwelling on the earth. The earth will uncover its blood and will not cover those killed.

Isaiah 27

27:1 On that day God will bring the holy, great and strong sword against the dragon, the fleeing serpent, against the dragon, the crooked serpent, and will kill the dragon.

27:2 On that day, a beautiful vineyard; a desire to lead a song against her.

27:3 "I am a strong city, a besieged city; in vain I will water her, for she will be captured by night, and by day the wall will fall.

27:4 There is none who has not seized her. Who will set me to guard stubble in a field? Because of this hostility I rejected her." Therefore, for this reason the Lord God has done everything He commanded. "I have been burned!"

27:5 the residents in her will cry. "Let us make peace with Him; let us make peace."

27:6 Those coming, Jacob's children—Israel will sprout and flower, and the inhabited world will be filled with his fruit.

27:7 Surely he will not be struck just as he himself struck, and be killed just as he himself killed?

27:8 Fighting and reproaching, he will send them away. Wast Thou not the One planning with a harsh spirit to destroy them with a spirit of wrath?

27:9 Therefore Jacob's lawlessness will be removed, and this is his blessing: when I remove his sin, when they make all altar stones cut down like fine dust. Their trees will certainly not remain, and their idols will be cut down like a forest far away.

27:10 The inhabited flock will be released like an abandoned flock; it will be pasture for a long time, and there they will rest.

27:11 After a time there will be nothing green in her because it has dried. Women coming from a spectacle, come! For this is a people without understanding; therefore their Maker will certainly not pity them, nor will the One who formed them ever have mercy.

27:12 On that day the Lord will fence off from the River's canal to Rhinocorura; but you, gather Israel's sons one by one.

27:13 On that day they will sound the great trumpet. Those lost in the Assyrians' country and those lost in Egypt will come and bow to the Lord upon the holy mountain in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 28

28:1 Woe to the crown of insolence, Ephraim's hired men; the flower fallen from glory on the summit of the fertile mountain, those drunk without wine!

28:2 Behold, the Lord's wrath is strong and harsh, like falling hail with no covering, falling violently. Like a great mass of water dragging a country, He will give the land rest with His hands.

28:3 Underfoot will be trampled the crown of insolence, Ephraim's hired men.

28:4 The flower fallen from the hope of glory, on the high mountain's summit, will be like an early fig: whoever sees it will want to swallow it before taking it into his hand.

28:5 On that day the Lord Sabaoth will be the crown of hope, woven of glory, for My people who remain;

28:6 they will be left with a spirit of judgment, for judgment and strength, as He prevents destruction.

28:7 For these have been led astray by wine and wandered because of sikera. Priest and prophet lost their senses because of wine, reeled from sikera's intoxication and went astray. This is an apparition.

28:8 A curse will consume this counsel, for this counsel is for greed.

28:9 To whom did we announce evils, and to whom did we announce a message—you weaned from milk, torn from a breast?

28:10 Expect affliction upon affliction, hope upon hope, yet a little, yet a little,

28:11 because of contemptuous lips, through another tongue, for they will speak to this people,

28:12 saying to it, "This is the rest for the hungry, and this is the shattering." But they did not want to listen.

28:13 The utterance of the Lord God will become for them affliction upon affliction, hope upon hope, yet a little, yet a little, so that they go and fall backward, come into danger, be shattered and captured.

28:14 Therefore hear the Lord's word, afflicted men and rulers of this people in Jerusalem:

28:15 Because you said, "We made a covenant with Hades and agreements with death; if a rushing storm passes, it will certainly not come upon us. We made falsehood our hope and will be sheltered by deceit,"

28:16 therefore thus says the Lord: "Behold, I will place in Zion's foundations a costly, chosen, precious cornerstone, in her foundations, and whoever trusts in it will certainly not be ashamed.

28:17 I will make judgment a hope, and My mercy will be weights; those trusting deceit do so in vain, for a storm will certainly not pass you by—

28:18 might it also remove your covenant with death? Your hope toward Hades will certainly not remain. If a rushing storm comes, you will become its trampling ground.

28:19 When it passes, it will take you; morning after morning it will pass during the day, and at night there will be evil hope. Learn to listen!

28:20 Cramped, we cannot fight, and we ourselves are too weak to be gathered.

28:21 Like a mountain of ungodly people he will rise and be in Gabaon's ravine. With wrath he will do his deeds, a work of bitterness; his wrath will act strangely, and his bitterness is foreign."

28:22 And you, do not rejoice, nor let your bonds grow stronger, because I heard from the Lord Sabaoth completed and shortened deeds, which He will do upon all the earth.

28:23 Give ear and hear my voice; pay attention and hear my words.

28:24 Will the plowman plow all day? Or will he prepare seed before working the ground?

28:25 When he has leveled its surface, does he not then sow a little black cumin and cumin, and again sow wheat, barley and emmer within your borders?

28:26 You will be disciplined by your God's judgment and will rejoice.

28:27 For black cumin is not cleaned with harshness, nor will a wagon wheel roll over cumin; black cumin is shaken out with a rod, but cumin

28:28 will be eaten with bread. For I will not be angry with you for ever, nor will the sound of My bitterness trample you.

28:29 These wonders too came from the Lord Sabaoth. Take counsel; raise up futile consolation!

Isaiah 29

29:1 Woe, city Ariel, against which David fought! Gather produce year after year, for you will eat with Moab.

29:2 For I will press Ariel hard, and her strength and wealth will be Mine.

29:3 I will surround you like David, set a palisade around you and set towers around you,

29:4 and your words will be humbled into the earth and sink into the earth. Your voice will be like those who speak from the earth, and your voice will weaken toward the ground.

29:5 The wealth of the ungodly will be like dust from a wheel, like drifting chaff, and it will be like a moment, immediately,

29:6 from the Lord Sabaoth. For there will be a visitation with thunder, earthquake and a great sound, a rushing storm and a consuming flame of fire.

29:7 Like someone dreaming in sleep will be the wealth of all nations who marched against Ariel, all who marched against Jerusalem, and all assembled against her and afflicting her.

29:8 They will be like people drinking and eating in sleep; when they rise, their dream is futile. As a thirsty person dreams of drinking but wakes still thirsty, his soul having hoped in vain, so will be the wealth of all nations who marched against Mount Zion.

29:9 Grow faint, lose your senses and suffer a hangover, neither from sikera nor from wine,

29:10 because the Lord has made you drink a spirit of stupor, and He will close their eyes and those of their prophets and rulers, those who see hidden things.

29:11 All these sayings will be for you like the words of this sealed book. If they give it to a person who knows how to read, saying, "Read these," he will say, "I cannot read, for it is sealed."

29:12 This book will be given into the hands of a person who does not know how to read. Someone will say to him, "Read this," and he will say, "I do not know how to read."

29:13 The Lord said, "This people draws near Me; with their lips they honor Me, but their heart is far from Me. They revere Me in vain, teaching human commands and teachings.

29:14 Therefore, behold, I will proceed to remove this people; I will remove them, destroy the wise people's wisdom and hide the discerning people's understanding."

29:15 Woe to those making deep counsel, but not through the Lord! Woe to those making counsel in secret! Their deeds will be in darkness, and they will say, "Who has seen us, and who will know us or what we do?"

29:16 Will you not be reckoned as the potter's clay? Will the formed thing say to its former, "You did not form me," or the work to its maker, "You did not make me intelligently"?

29:17 Is it not yet a little while until Lebanon is changed like Mount Chermel, and Mount Chermel is reckoned as forest?

29:18 On that day the deaf will hear a book's words, and the blind people's eyes in darkness and mist will see.

29:19 The poor will exult with joy because of the Lord, and the hopeless among people will be filled with gladness.

29:20 The lawless one has failed, the arrogant one has perished, and those acting lawlessly for evil have been destroyed,

29:21 and those who cause people to sin by a word. They will make all who reprove at the gates a stumbling block, and have turned the righteous aside through injustices.

29:22 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning Jacob's house, which He set apart from Abraham: "Jacob will not now be ashamed, nor will Israel now change his face;

29:23 but when their children see My works, because of Me they will sanctify My name, sanctify Jacob's Holy One and fear Israel's God.

29:24 Those wandering in spirit will know understanding; grumblers will learn obedience, and stammering tongues will learn to speak peace."

Isaiah 30

30:1 “Woe, rebellious children,” thus says the Lord, “you made a plan not through Me and agreements not through My spirit, to add sins upon sins,

30:2 you who go down to Egypt, but they did not ask Me, to be helped by Pharaoh and sheltered by Egyptians.

30:3 For Pharaoh’s shelter will become your shame, and reproach for those trusting in Egypt.

30:4 For there are leaders in Tanis, evil messengers; they will labor in vain

30:5 toward a people that will not benefit them, neither for assistance nor for profit, but for shame and reproach.”

30:6 The vision of the four-footed creatures in the wilderness. In affliction and hardship, a lion and lion cub from there, asps and offspring of flying asps; they carried their wealth on donkeys and camels to a nation that will not benefit them with help, but with shame and reproach.

30:7 Egyptians will benefit you with futile and empty things. Announce to them, “This consolation of yours is futile.”

30:8 Now then, sit and write these things on a tablet and in a book, because these things will endure for days of appointed times and for ever.

30:9 For this is a disobedient people, lying sons who did not want to hear God’s law,

30:10 who say to the prophets, “Do not announce to us,” and to those seeing visions, “Do not speak to us. Instead, speak to us and announce another deception,

30:11 and turn us from this way, remove this path from us, and remove Israel’s Holy One from us.”

30:12 Therefore thus says the Lord, Israel’s Holy One: “Because you disobeyed these words and hoped in falsehood, and because you grumbled and came to trust in this word,

30:13 therefore this sin will be for you like a wall falling immediately in a captured fortified city, whose fall is immediately at hand,

30:14 and its fall will be like the shattering of an earthen vessel, fine pieces from a jar, so that no shard is found among them with which to lift fire or draw a little water.”

30:15 Thus says the Lord, Israel’s Holy One: “When you turn back and groan, then you will be saved and know where you were. When you trusted in futile things, your strength became futile.” But you did not want to listen,

Note [1]: Isaiah 30:15 · Wording · grammatical numberThe address changes from singular in turning, groaning, salvation and trust to plural in your strength and the refusal to listen. 30:16 but you said, “We will flee on horses.” Therefore you will flee. You said, “We will ride swift mounts.” Therefore those pursuing you will be swift.

30:17 At the voice of one, a thousand will flee; at the voice of five, many will flee, until you are left like a mast upon a mountain, like someone carrying a standard upon a hill.

30:18 Again God will wait to pity you, and therefore He will be exalted to have mercy on you, because the Lord our God is a judge. Where will you leave your glory? Blessed are those remaining in Him.

30:19 For a holy people will dwell in Zion, and Jerusalem wept bitterly, “Have mercy on me!” He will have mercy on you at the sound of your cry; when He saw, He listened to you.

30:20 The Lord will give you bread of affliction and scant water; those misleading you will certainly no longer approach you, for your eyes will see those misleading you,

Note [1]: Isaiah 30:20 · Wording · grammatical numberThe first recipient is plural (you); the later possessives and objects are singular (thee, thine).Greek running text consulted 30 September 2026. Editorial grammatical review; no full apparatus collation. Greek chapter

30:21 and your ears will hear the words of those behind you who led you astray, saying, “This is the way; let us walk in it, whether right or left.”

30:22 You will remove the silver-covered and gold-covered idols, reduce them to fine pieces and winnow them like a menstruating woman’s fluid; like dung you will push them away.

30:23 Then there will be rain for your land’s seed; bread from your land’s produce will be plentiful and rich, and on that day your livestock will graze a fertile, spacious place,

30:24 your bulls and cattle working the earth will eat straw prepared with barley and winnowed.

30:25 On every high mountain and every lofty hill there will be flowing water on that day, when many perish and towers fall.

30:26 The moon’s light will be like the sun’s light, and the sun’s light will be sevenfold on the day when the Lord heals His people’s fracture; He will heal the pain of your wound.

30:27 Behold, the Lord’s name comes after a long time, wrath burning. His lips’ utterance comes with glory, an utterance full of anger, and the anger of His wrath will consume like fire.

30:28 His spirit will come like water sweeping through a ravine, reaching the neck, and will divide to trouble nations in futile wandering. Delusion will pursue them and seize them in their faces.

30:29 Must you always rejoice and always enter My holy places like festival-keepers, like people rejoicing as they enter with a flute to the Lord's mountain, to Israel's God?

30:30 God will make His voice's glory heard and show His arm's wrath with fury, anger and consuming flame. He will strike violently with lightning, like water and hail falling together violently.

30:31 For at the Lord's voice the Assyrians will be defeated by the blow with which He strikes them.

30:32 It will be all around him, from where he hoped for help, on which he himself relied; they will turn and fight him with flutes and a lyre.

30:33 For you will be called to account ahead of time. Has it also been prepared for you to rule a deep ravine, with wood laid out, fire and much wood? The Lord's wrath is like a ravine burning with sulfur.

Isaiah 31

31:1 Woe to those going down to Egypt for help, trusting in horses and chariots because there are many, and in horses, a very great multitude, but not trusting Israel's Holy One or seeking God!

31:2 He Himself, wise, brought evils upon them; His word will certainly not be set aside. He will rise against evil people's houses and against their futile hope,

31:3 an Egyptian human being and not God, horses' flesh, with no help. The Lord will bring His hand against them; the helpers will grow weary, and all will perish together.

31:4 For thus the Lord said to me: "As a lion or lion cub cries over prey it has caught and shouts over it until the mountains fill with its voice, and they are defeated and terrified by the greatness of its wrath, so the Lord Sabaoth will descend to march upon Mount Zion, upon her mountains.

31:5 Like flying birds, so the Lord will shield Jerusalem, rescue, preserve and save."

31:6 Turn back, you planning a deep and lawless plan.

31:7 For on that day people will renounce their silver and golden handmade things, which their hands made.

31:8 Assour will fall. Neither a man's sword nor a human's sword will devour him, and he will flee, but not from a sword. The young men will be defeated,

31:9 for they will be enclosed by a rock as by a palisade and defeated, and the fugitive will be captured. Thus says the Lord: "Blessed is the one who has seed in Zion and household members in Jerusalem."

Isaiah 32

32:1 For behold, a righteous king will reign, and rulers will rule with judgment.

32:2 The man will conceal his words and hide as from rushing water; he will appear in Zion like a rushing river, glorious in a thirsty land.

32:3 They will no longer trust in human beings, but will give their ears to listen.

32:4 The heart of the weak will pay attention and listen, and stammering tongues will quickly learn to speak peace.

32:5 They will no longer tell the fool to rule, and your attendants will no longer say, "Be silent."

32:6 For the fool will speak foolish things, and his heart will think futile things, carrying out lawless acts and speaking deception toward the Lord, scattering hungry souls and making thirsty souls empty.

32:7 For evil people's counsel will devise lawless things, to destroy the lowly with unjust words and scatter the lowly people's words in judgment.

32:8 The devout made wise plans, and this counsel will remain.

32:9 Wealthy women, rise and hear my voice! Daughters in hope, hear my words!

32:10 Remember the days of a year in pain with hope; the vintage has been exhausted, the sowing has ceased and will certainly no longer come.

32:11 Be dismayed, grieve, you confident women; undress, become naked and wrap sackcloth around your waists, 32:12 and beat your breasts because of the desirable field and fruitful vine.

32:13 My people's earth will grow thorn and grass, and joy will be removed from every house. Wealthy city,

32:14 houses abandoned! They will leave the city's wealth and desirable houses; villages will become caves for ever, wild donkeys' delight, pastures for shepherds,

32:15 until a spirit from on high comes upon you. Chermel will become wilderness, and Chermel will be reckoned as forest.

32:16 Judgment will rest in the wilderness, and righteousness will dwell in Carmel.

32:17 The works of righteousness will be peace; righteousness will secure rest, and they will be confident for ever.

32:18 His people will dwell in a city of peace and live confidently, and they will rest with wealth.

32:19 If hail comes down, it will not come upon you. Those dwelling in the forests will be confident like those in the plain.

32:20 Blessed are those sowing beside every water, where ox and donkey tread!

Isaiah 33

33:1 Woe to those afflicting you—yet no one afflicts you—and the one rejecting you does not reject. The rejecters will be captured and handed over; like a moth upon a cloak, so they will be defeated.

33:2 Lord, have mercy on us, for we have trusted in Thee. The disobedient people's seed came to destruction, but our salvation is in a time of affliction.

33:3 At the sound of Thy terror, peoples were dismayed by fear of Thee, and nations scattered.

33:4 Now your spoils, small and great, will be gathered; as someone gathers locusts, so they will mock you.

33:5 Holy is God, who dwells on high; Zion has been filled with judgment and righteousness.

33:6 They will be handed over under law; our salvation is among treasures. There are wisdom, knowledge and reverence toward the Lord; these are treasures of righteousness.

33:7 Behold, in your terror they themselves will fear; those you feared will fear you. For messengers will be sent asking for peace, weeping bitterly, pleading for peace.

33:8 For their roads will be deserted; fear of the nations has ceased, the covenant with these people is removed, and you will certainly not reckon them as human beings.

33:9 The earth mourned; Lebanon was ashamed; Sharon became marshes. Galilee and Carmel will be clearly visible.

33:10 "Now I will rise," says the Lord. "Now I will be glorified; now I will be exalted.

33:11 Now you will see, now you will perceive; your spirit's strength will be futile. Fire will consume you.

33:12 Nations will be burned, like a thorn thrown in a field and burned.

33:13 Those far away will hear what I did; those drawing near will know My strength."

33:14 The lawless in Zion departed; trembling will seize the ungodly. Who will announce to you that fire burns? Who will announce to you the everlasting place?

33:15 One walking in righteousness, speaking a straight way, hating lawlessness and injustice, shaking his hands free of gifts, making his ears heavy so as not to hear a judgment of blood, and closing his eyes so as not to see injustice,

33:16 this one will dwell in a high cave of strong rock. Bread will be given him, and his water is trustworthy.

33:17 You will see a king with glory, and your eyes will see a land from afar.

33:18 Your soul will ponder fear: "Where are the scholars? Where are the counselors? Where is the one counting those being fed, 33:19 a people small and great?" With whom they did not deliberate, nor did he know a deep voice, so that a despised people would not hear; the hearer has no understanding.

33:20 Behold, Zion, the city, our salvation! Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a wealthy city, tents that will certainly not be shaken; her tent's pegs will never be moved, nor her ropes torn.

33:21 For the Lord's name is great for you. There will be a place for you, rivers and broad, spacious canals. You will not go this way, nor will a rowing ship go.

33:22 For my God is great; the Lord will not pass me by. The Lord is our judge, the Lord our ruler, the Lord our king; this One will save us.

33:23 Your ropes tore because it was not strong; your mast tilted. It will not lower the sails or raise a signal until it is handed over for plunder. Then many lame people will take spoil.

33:24 The people dwelling among them will certainly not say, "I am weary," for their sin has been forgiven.

Isaiah 34

34:1 Draw near, nations, and hear, rulers! Let the earth and those in it hear, the inhabited world and the people in it!

34:2 For the Lord's wrath is against all nations, and anger against their number, to destroy them and hand them over to slaughter.

34:3 Their wounded and dead will be thrown out; their odor will rise, and mountains will be soaked with their blood.

34:4 Heaven will roll up like a scroll, and all the stars will fall like leaves from a vine, like leaves falling from a fig tree.

34:5 My sword became drunk in heaven. Behold, it will descend upon Idumea and upon the people of destruction, with judgment.

34:6 The Lord’s sword was filled with blood, thickened with lambs’ fat and the fat of male goats and rams, for the Lord has a sacrifice in Bosor and a great slaughter in Idumea.

34:7 The stout ones will fall with them, and rams and bulls; the earth will become drunk with blood and be filled with their fat.

34:8 For it is the Lord’s day of judgment and a year of repayment for Zion’s judgment.

34:9 Her ravines will turn to pitch, her earth to sulfur, and her land will burn like pitch

34:10 night and day. It will not be quenched for an everlasting time, and her smoke will rise upward. For generations and a long time she will be deserted.

34:11 Birds, hedgehogs, ibises and ravens will dwell in her; a measuring cord for deserted land will be cast upon her, and donkey-centaurs will dwell in her.

34:12 Her rulers will be no more, for her kings, her rulers and her magnates will come to destruction.

34:13 Thorny trees will sprout in their cities and her fortifications; she will become a dwelling for sirens and a courtyard for ostriches.

34:14 Demons will meet donkey-centaurs and cry one to another. There donkey-centaurs will rest, for they found rest for themselves.

34:15 There a hedgehog nested, and the earth kept her children safe. There deer met and saw one another’s faces;

34:16 they passed by in number, and not one of them perished; none sought another, for the Lord commanded them and His spirit gathered them.

34:17 He Himself will cast lots for them, and His hand apportioned grazing. You will inherit for an everlasting time; for generations of generations they will rest upon her.

Isaiah 35

35:1 Rejoice, thirsty wilderness! Let the wilderness exult and flower like a lily,

35:2 and the Jordan’s desert places will flower and exult. Lebanon’s glory and Carmel’s honor were given to her, and My people will see the Lord’s glory and God’s height.

35:3 Be strong, limp hands and paralyzed knees!

35:4 Give encouragement, you fainthearted in mind. Be strong; do not fear! Behold, our God repays judgment and will repay; He Himself will come and save us.

35:5 Then blind people’s eyes will open, and deaf people’s ears will hear.

35:6 Then the lame person will leap like a deer, and the tongue of those with difficulty speaking will be clear, for water burst out in the wilderness and a ravine in a thirsty land,

35:7 the waterless place will become marshes, and a water spring will be in the thirsty land. There will be birds’ gladness, a dwelling of reeds and marshes.

35:8 There will be a clean road, called a Holy Way. No unclean person will ever pass there, nor will there be an unclean way there; the scattered will walk upon it and will certainly not wander.

35:9 No lion will be there, nor will any evil wild beast ever go up on it or be found there; instead, the redeemed will walk in it.

35:10 Those gathered through the Lord will return and come to Zion with gladness, everlasting gladness above their heads; for praise and exultation are upon their heads, and gladness will overtake them. Pain, grief and groaning have fled.

Isaiah 36

36:1 In the fourteenth year of Hezekiah’s reign, Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came up against Judea’s fortified cities and took them.

36:2 The king of the Assyrians sent Rapsakes from Lachis to Jerusalem, to King Hezekiah, with a large force. He stood at the upper pool’s aqueduct, on the road of the fuller’s field.

36:3 Eliakim son of Chelkias, the steward, Somnas the scribe, and Joach son of Asaph, the record-keeper, went out to him.

36:4 Rapsakes said to them, “Tell Hezekiah: Thus says the great king, the king of the Assyrians: ‘What do you trust in?

36:5 Does a battle line arise through counsel or words of lips? Now whom have you trusted, that you disobey me?

36:6 Behold, you trust this broken reed staff, Egypt. Whoever leans on it, it will enter his hand. Such are Pharaoh king of Egypt and all who trust in him.

36:7 But if you say, “We trust the Lord our God,”

36:8 now join with my master, the king of the Assyrians, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you can provide riders for them.

36:9 How can you face even one district governor? Those trusting Egyptians for horses and riders are servants.

36:10 Now have we come up without the Lord against this country to wage war upon it?’”

36:11 Eliakim, Somnas and Joach said to him, “Speak Syrian to your servants, for we understand, and do not speak Judean to us. Why do you speak within hearing of the people on the wall?”

36:12 Rapsakes said to them, “Has my master sent me to your master or to you to speak these words? Was it not to the people sitting on the wall, so that they eat dung and drink urine together with you?”

36:13 Rapsakes stood and cried in a loud voice in Judean: “Hear the words of the great king, the king of the Assyrians:

36:14 Thus says the king: ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you with words, which will not be able to rescue you,

36:15 and do not let Hezekiah tell you, “God will rescue you, and this city will certainly not be handed into the king of the Assyrians’ hand.”

36:16 Do not listen to Hezekiah. Thus says the king of the Assyrians: If you wish to be blessed, come out to me; each will eat from his vine and fig trees, and you will drink your cistern’s water, 36:17 until I come and take you to a land like your land, a land of grain, wine, bread and vineyards.

36:18 Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, saying, “Your God will rescue you.” Have the nations’ gods each rescued his own country from the king of the Assyrians’ hand?

36:19 Where is the god of Aimath and Arphath? Where is the god of Seppharim’s city? Were they able to rescue Samaria from my hand?

36:20 Which of all these nations’ gods rescued his land from my hand, that God should rescue Jerusalem from my hand?’”

36:21 They were silent, and no one answered him a word, because the king had ordered that no one answer.

36:22 Eliakim son of Chelkias, the steward, Somnas the army’s scribe, and Joach son of Asaph, the record-keeper, came to Hezekiah with torn tunics and reported Rapsakes’ words.

Isaiah 37

37:1 When King Hezekiah heard, he tore his garments, wrapped himself in sackcloth, and went up to the Lord’s house.

37:2 He sent Eliakim the steward, Somnas the scribe, and the elders of the priests, wrapped in sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah son of Amos.

37:3 They said to him, “Thus says Hezekiah: Today is a day of distress, reproach, reproof, and wrath, for labor has come upon the woman giving birth, but she has no strength to give birth.

37:4 May the Lord your God hear Rapsakes’ words, which the king of the Assyrians sent to reproach the living God and to reproach words that the Lord your God has heard. You shall plead with the Lord your God for those who remain.”

37:5 The king’s servants came to Isaiah,

37:6 and Isaiah said to them, “You shall say this to your master: Thus says the Lord: Do not fear the words you heard, with which the king of the Assyrians’ envoys reproached Me.

37:7 Behold, I will put a spirit into him. On hearing a report he will return to his country, and he will fall by the sword in his own land.”

37:8 Rapsakes returned and found the king besieging Lomna. The king of the Assyrians heard that

37:9 Tharaka king of the Ethiopians had come out to besiege him. On hearing this he turned back and sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

37:10 “You shall say this to Hezekiah king of Judea: Do not let your God, on whom you rely, deceive you by saying, ‘Jerusalem will certainly not be handed into the king of the Assyrians’ hands.’

37:11 Or have you not heard what the kings of the Assyrians did—how they destroyed the whole earth?

37:12 Did the gods of the nations my fathers destroyed rescue them—Gozan, Charran, and Raphes, which are in the country of Themad?

37:13 Where are the kings of Aimath and Arphath, and of the city of Seppharim, Anag, and Ougaua?”

37:14 Hezekiah took the document from the messengers and opened it before the Lord.

37:15 Hezekiah prayed to the Lord, saying,

37:16 “Lord Sabaoth, God of Israel, seated upon the cherubim, Thou alone art God of every kingdom of the inhabited world. Thou didst make heaven and earth.

37:17 Hear, Lord; look, Lord, and see the words that Sennacherib sent to reproach the living God.

37:18 For the kings of the Assyrians have truly laid waste the whole inhabited world and their country,

37:19 and cast their idols into the fire. For they were not gods, but works of human hands, wood and stones, and they destroyed them.

37:20 But Thou, Lord our God, save us from their hand, so that every kingdom of the earth may know that Thou alone art God.”

37:21 Isaiah son of Amos was sent to Hezekiah and said to him, “Thus says the Lord, God of Israel: I heard what you prayed to Me about Sennacherib king of the Assyrians.

37:22 This is the word God spoke concerning him: Virgin daughter Zion despised and sneered at you; daughter Jerusalem shook her head over you.

37:23 Whom did you reproach and provoke? Against whom did you raise your voice? Yet you did not lift your eyes on high toward the Holy One of Israel.

37:24 For through messengers you reproached the Lord. You said, ‘With my many chariots I climbed the mountain heights and the furthest reaches of Lebanon. I cut down its cedar’s height and the cypress’s beauty, and entered the height of a part of the woodland.

37:25 I laid a bridge and dried up waters and every gathering of water.’

37:26 Did you not hear long ago about these things I did? From ancient days I arranged them; now I have shown them: to desolate nations in strongholds and those dwelling in fortified cities.

37:27 I let the hands go, and they withered and became like dry grass on roofs and like wild grass.

37:28 But now I know your rest, your going out and your coming in.

37:29 Your wrath with which you raged, and your bitterness, have risen to Me. I will put a muzzle in your nose and a bridle in your lips, and turn you back by the way you came.

37:30 This is your sign: This year eat what you have sown, in the second year what remains, and in the third, after sowing, reap and plant vineyards; you will eat their fruit.

37:31 Those remaining in Judea will grow a root below and produce seed above.

37:32 For those remaining will go out from Jerusalem, and those being saved from Mount Zion. The zeal of the Lord Sabaoth will do these things.

37:33 Therefore thus says the Lord against the king of the Assyrians: He will certainly not enter this city or shoot a missile against it; he will certainly not bring a shield against it or surround it with a siegework.

37:34 By the way he came he will return. Thus says the Lord.

37:35 I will shield this city to save it, because of Me and because of David My servant.”

37:36 An angel of the Lord went out and killed one hundred eighty-five thousand from the Assyrians’ camp. On rising early in the morning, they found all the bodies dead.

37:37 The king of the Assyrians turned back, went away, and lived in Nineveh.

37:38 While he was worshiping his cult-image in the house of Nasarach, his sons Adramelech and Sarasar struck him with swords. They escaped safely to Armenia, and his son Asordan reigned in his place.

Isaiah 38

38:1 At that time Hezekiah became ill to the point of death. The prophet Isaiah son of Amos came to him and said, “Thus says the Lord: Arrange your household’s affairs, for you are dying and will not live.”

38:2 Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall and prayed to the Lord,

38:3 saying, “Remember, Lord, how I walked before Thee with truth, in a true heart, and did what was pleasing before Thee.” Hezekiah wept greatly.

38:4 The Lord’s word came to Isaiah, saying,

38:5 “Go and tell Hezekiah: Thus says the Lord, God of David your father: I heard the voice of your prayer and saw your tears. Behold, I am adding fifteen years to your time.

38:6 I will save you from the king of the Assyrians’ hand, and I will shield this city.

38:7 This is your sign from the Lord that God will do this thing:”

38:8 “As for the shadow of the steps the sun descended—the ten steps of your father’s house—I will turn the sun back ten steps.” The sun went up the ten steps which the shadow had descended.

38:9 A prayer of Hezekiah king of Judea, when he became ill and rose from his illness:

38:10 I said, “At the height of my days, at Hades’ gates, I will leave my remaining years behind.”

38:11 I said, “I will certainly no longer see God’s salvation upon the earth; I will certainly no longer see a person

38:12 from my family. I left the rest of my life; it went out and departed from me like someone taking down a tent he had pitched. My spirit beside me became like a weaver’s web as she approached to cut it off. On that day I was handed over 38:13 until morning, as to a lion; thus he crushed my bones, for from day to night I was handed over.

38:14 Like a swallow I will cry out, and like a dove I will murmur. For my eyes failed from looking toward heaven’s height, toward the Lord who rescued me

38:15 and took away my soul’s pain.

38:16 For, Lord, a report about it was brought to Thee, and Thou didst raise my breath; comforted, I lived.

38:17 For Thou didst choose my soul so that it would not perish, and didst cast all my sins behind me.

38:18 For those in Hades will not praise Thee, nor will the dead bless Thee, nor will those in Hades hope for Thy mercy.

38:19 The living will bless Thee, as I do. For from today I will have children who will announce Thy righteousness,

38:20 Lord of my salvation. I will not cease blessing Thee with a harp all the days of my life before God’s house.”

38:21 Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Take a cake made of figs, crush it and apply it as a poultice, and you will be healthy.”

38:22 Hezekiah said, “This is the sign that I will go up to the house of the Lord God.”

Isaiah 39

39:1 At that time Marodach son of Laadan, king of Babylonia, sent letters, envoys, and gifts to Hezekiah, for he heard that he had been ill to the point of death and had recovered.

39:2 Hezekiah rejoiced greatly over them and showed them the store of nekhotha, liquid myrrh, incense, perfumed ointment, silver, gold, all the storerooms of the treasury’s equipment, and everything in his treasuries. There was nothing in his house that Hezekiah did not show.

39:3 The prophet Isaiah came to King Hezekiah and said, “What are these men saying, and from where have they come to you?” Hezekiah said, “They have come to me from a distant land, from Babylon.”

39:4 Isaiah said, “What did they see in your house?” Hezekiah said, “They saw everything in my house. There is nothing in my house they did not see, and also the things in my treasuries.”

39:5 Isaiah said to him, “Hear the word of the Lord Sabaoth:

39:6 Behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and they will take everything in your house. What your fathers gathered until this day will reach Babylon, and they will certainly leave nothing behind. God also said

39:7 that they will also take some of your children whom you fathered and make them eunuchs in the house of the Babylonians’ king.”

39:8 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “The Lord’s word that He spoke is good. Let there indeed be peace and righteousness in my days.”

Isaiah 40

40:1 Comfort, comfort My people, says God.

40:2 You priests, speak to the heart of Jerusalem; comfort her. For her humiliation is fulfilled, her sin is loosed; for from the hand of the Lord she has received double for her sins.

Note [1]: Isaiah 40:2 · MeaningSpeak unto the heart is retained as an intelligible metaphor for consoling speech. Sin is loosed means it is released or forgiven. 40:4 Every valley will be filled, and every mountain and hill will be brought low; all the crooked places will become straight, and the rough country will become plains.

40:5 And the glory of the Lord will be seen, and all flesh will see the salvation of God; for the Lord has spoken.

40:6 A voice says, “Cry out!” And I said, “What shall I cry?” All flesh is grass, and all the glory of man is as the flower of grass.

40:10 Behold, the Lord comes with might, and His arm with dominion; behold, His reward is with Him, and His work before Him.

40:12 Who measured the water with His hand, heaven with a span, and all the earth with a handful? Who weighed mountains with a weight and wooded valleys with a balance?

40:13 Who knew the Lord's mind, and who became His counselor to instruct Him?

40:14 With whom did He take counsel, and who instructed Him? Who showed Him judgment, or who showed Him the way of understanding?

40:15 If all the nations were counted like a drop from a bucket and like a scale's slight tipping, they will also be counted like spittle.

40:16 Lebanon is not sufficient for burning, nor all the four-footed animals sufficient for a whole burnt offering, 40:17 and all the nations are as nothing and were counted as nothing.

40:18 To whom did you liken the Lord, and to what likeness did you liken Him?

40:19 Did a craftsman make an image, or did a goldsmith melt gold and gild it, fashioning it as a likeness?

40:20 For a craftsman chooses wood that will not rot and skillfully seeks how to set up his image so that it will not shake.

40:21 Will you not know? Will you not hear? Was it not announced to you from the beginning? Did you not know the earth's foundations?

40:22 He holds the earth's circuit, and its inhabitants are like locusts. He set heaven like a vault and stretched it out like a tent to dwell in.

40:23 He gives rulers nothing to rule and made the earth as nothing.

40:24 For they will certainly not sow or plant, nor will their root take hold in the earth. He blew on them, and they dried; a storm will carry them away like brushwood.

40:25 "Now then, to whom did you liken Me, and shall I be exalted?" said the Holy One.

40:26 Lift your eyes on high and see: Who displayed all these? He brings out His array by number and will call all by name. From abundant glory and in strength's might, nothing escaped you.

40:27 Do not say, Jacob—and why did you declare, Israel—"My way was hidden from God, and my God removed judgment and departed"?

40:28 And now, did you not know, if you have not heard? God is eternal, the God who fashioned the earth's extremities. He will not hunger or grow weary, and His understanding cannot be discovered.

40:29 He gives strength to the hungry, and grief to those who are not in pain.

40:30 For younger people will hunger, young men will grow weary, and chosen men will be without strength.

40:31 But those enduring for God will exchange their strength and grow wings like eagles. They will run without growing weary and walk without hunger.

Isaiah 41

41:1 "Be renewed toward Me, islands, for rulers will exchange their strength. Let them approach and speak together; then let them announce judgment.

41:2 Who roused righteousness from the east, called her to His feet, and she will go? He will set her before nations, astonish kings, and put their swords into the earth and their bows like brushwood driven away.

41:3 He will pursue them, and the way of his feet will pass through in peace.

41:4 Who acted and did these things? He called her, the One calling her from the generations' beginning: I, God, am first, and for the things coming I am.

41:5 Nations saw and feared; the earth's extremities drew near and came together,

41:6 each deciding to help his neighbor and brother, and he will say,

41:7 'A craftsman grew strong, and a smith striking with a hammer while also beating out the work.' At one time he will say, 'The joining is good.' They strengthened them with nails; they will set them in place, and they will not move.

41:8 But you, Israel, My servant Jacob whom I chose, offspring of Abraham whom I loved,

41:9 whom I took hold of from the earth's extremities, and from its lookout heights called you and said, 'You are My servant; I chose you and did not abandon you'—

41:10 do not fear, for I am with you; do not wander, for I am your God who strengthened you. I helped you and secured you with My righteous right hand.

41:11 Behold, all opposing you will be ashamed and abashed, for all your adversaries will be as though they did not exist and will perish.

41:12 You will seek them but certainly not find the people who insult you. For those warring against you will be as though they did not exist, and will not exist.

41:13 For I am your God who holds your right hand and says to you, ‘Do not fear, 41:14 Jacob, little Israel. I helped you,’ says God who redeems you, Israel.

41:15 Behold, I made you like new, saw-toothed wagon wheels for threshing. You will thresh mountains, grind hills fine, and make them like dust.

41:16 You will winnow, and wind will take them and a storm scatter them. But you will rejoice among Israel’s holy ones. And they will exult—

41:17 the poor and needy. For they will seek water, and there will be none; their tongue dried from thirst. I am the Lord God; I will listen, the God of Israel, and will not abandon them,

41:18 but will open rivers on mountains and springs amid plains. I will make the wilderness marshes and the thirsty land watercourses,

41:19 and will place cedar, box tree, myrtle, cypress, and white poplar in the waterless land,

41:20 so that they may see and know, consider and understand together that the Lord’s hand did all these things and Israel’s Holy One displayed them.

41:21 Your judgment draws near, says the Lord God; your plans have drawn near, says Jacob’s King.

41:22 Let them approach and announce to you what will happen. Or say what the former things were, and we will apply our mind and know what the last things are; tell us also the coming things.

41:23 Announce to us the things coming at the end, and we will know that you are gods. Do good and cause harm, and we will marvel and see together.

41:24 For where are you from, and where is your work from? From the earth! They chose you as an abomination.

41:25 But I roused the one from the north and the one from the sun’s rising; they will be called by My name. Let rulers come, and like a potter’s clay, as a potter tramples clay, so you will be trampled.

41:26 For who will announce the things from the beginning so we may know, and the earlier things so we may say, ‘They are true’? There is no one predicting, nor anyone hearing your words.

41:27 I will give Zion a beginning and comfort Jerusalem for a journey.

41:28 For behold, there is no one from the nations, and none among their idols was an announcer. If I ask them, ‘Where are you from?’ they will certainly not answer Me.

41:29 For there are those making you, and those misleading you do so in vain.”

Isaiah 42

42:1 “Jacob is My servant; I will uphold him. Israel is My chosen one; My soul accepted him. I put My spirit upon him; he will bring judgment to the nations.

42:2 He will not cry out or raise his voice, nor will his voice be heard outside.

42:3 He will not crush a bruised reed or extinguish a smoking flax wick; rather, he will bring judgment in truth.

42:4 He will shine forth and will not be broken until he sets judgment upon the earth, and nations will hope in his name.”

42:5 Thus says the Lord God, who made heaven and fixed it in place, established the earth and its contents, and gives breath to the people upon it and spirit to those treading it:

42:6 “I, the Lord God, called you in righteousness; I will hold your hand and strengthen you. I gave you as a covenant for a people, a light for nations, 42:7 to open blind people’s eyes, bring those bound out of bonds, and those sitting in darkness out of the prison house.

42:8 I am the Lord God; this is My name. I will not give My glory to another or My praiseworthy deeds to carved images.

42:9 Behold, the things from the beginning have arrived, and new things I will announce; before they spring up, they were disclosed to you.”

42:10 Sing a new hymn to the Lord—its beginning: “Glorify His name from the earth’s extremity, you who go down to the sea and sail it, islands and their inhabitants.”

42:11 Rejoice, wilderness and its villages, settlements and those inhabiting Kedar. Those inhabiting Petra will rejoice and cry out from the mountain tops.

42:12 They will give God glory and announce His praiseworthy deeds in the islands.

42:13 The Lord God of Powers will go out and crush war. He will rouse zeal and cry out mightily against His enemies.

42:14 “I was silent; surely I will not always be silent and hold back? I endured like a woman giving birth; I will astonish and dry up together.

42:15 I will turn rivers into islands and dry up marshes.

42:16 I will lead the blind on a road they did not know and make them tread paths they did not know. I will turn darkness into light for them and crooked places straight. These things I will do, and I will not abandon them.

42:17 But they turned backward. Be utterly ashamed, you who trust carved images, who say to cast images, ‘You are our gods.’”

42:18 Deaf people, listen; blind people, look up and see!

42:19 Who is blind except My servants, or deaf except those ruling them? God’s slaves have become blind.

42:20 You saw often but did not keep watch; the ears were opened, but you did not listen.

42:21 The Lord God wished to be justified and to magnify praise. And I saw,

42:22 and the people became plundered and despoiled. For the snare is in the storerooms everywhere and in houses together, where they hid them. They became plunder, and no one rescued the spoil; no one said, ‘Give it back!’

42:23 Who among you will give ear to these things and listen for what is coming?

42:24 Who gave Jacob over to plunder and Israel to those despoiling him? Was it not God, against whom they sinned, refusing to walk in His ways or listen to His law?

42:25 He brought His wrathful anger upon them; war overpowered them, as did those burning them all around. None of them understood, nor did they take it to soul.

Isaiah 43

43:1 But now thus says the Lord God who made you, Jacob, who formed you, Israel: “Do not fear, for I redeemed you. I called you by your name; you are Mine.

43:2 Even if you cross through water, I am with you, and rivers will not flood over you. Even if you pass through fire, you will certainly not be burned up; flame will not burn you up.

43:3 For I am the Lord your God, Israel’s Holy One, who saves you. I made Egypt your exchange, and Ethiopia and Soene on your behalf.

43:4 Since you became honored before Me, you were glorified, and I loved you. I will give many people on your behalf and rulers for your head.

43:5 Do not fear, for I am with you. From the east I will bring your offspring, and from the west I will gather you.

43:6 I will say to the north, ‘Bring them,’ and to the southwest, ‘Do not hinder. Bring My sons from a distant land and My daughters from the earth’s extremities,

43:7 all who are called by My name.’ For in My glory I fashioned him, formed him, and made him,

43:8 and I brought out a blind people, and their eyes are likewise blind, and deaf people who have ears.

43:9 All nations were gathered together, and rulers from them will assemble. Who will announce these things, or who will announce to you the things from the beginning? Let them bring their witnesses, be justified, and speak true things.

43:10 Become witnesses for Me—and I too am a witness, says the Lord God, and the servant whom I chose—so that you may know, believe, and understand that I am. Before Me no other god came to be, nor will there be one after Me.

43:11 I am God, and apart from Me there is no one who saves.

43:12 I announced and saved; I reproached, and there was no foreign one among you. You are witnesses for Me, and I too am a witness, says the Lord God,

43:13 still from the beginning. No one rescues from My hands. I will act, and who will turn it back?”

43:14 Thus says the Lord God who redeems you, Israel’s Holy One: “For your sake I will send to Babylon and rouse all who flee, and Chaldeans will be bound in ships.

43:15 I am the Lord God, your Holy One, who presented Israel as your king.”

43:16 Thus says the Lord, who gives a way in the sea and a path in strong water,

43:17 who brought out chariots and a horse and a mighty host: But they fell asleep and will not rise; they were extinguished like an extinguished flax wick.

43:18 “Do not remember the first things or ponder the ancient ones.

43:19 Behold, I am doing new things which will now spring up, and you will know them. I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the waterless land.

43:20 The field’s wild beasts will bless Me, sirens and daughters of ostriches, because I gave water in the wilderness and rivers in the waterless land to give drink to My chosen race,

43:21 My people, whom I acquired to recount My praiseworthy deeds.

43:22 I did not call you now, Jacob, nor did I make you toil, Israel.

43:23 The sheep for your whole burnt offering were not for Me, nor did you glorify Me with your sacrifices, nor did I make you toil with frankincense.

43:24 You did not acquire incense for Me with silver, nor did I desire the fat of your sacrifices; instead, amid your sins and wrongdoings I stood over you.

43:25 I am, I am the One who wipes out your lawless acts, and I will certainly not remember.

43:26 But you, remember, and let us be judged. You, state your lawless acts first, so that you may be justified.

43:27 Your first fathers and their rulers acted lawlessly against Me,

43:28 and the rulers defiled My holy things, and I gave Jacob over to destruction and Israel to reproach."

Isaiah 44

44:1 "But now listen, My servant Jacob, and Israel whom I chose.

44:2 Thus says the Lord God who made you and formed you from the womb: You will yet be helped. Do not fear, My servant Jacob and beloved Israel whom I chose.

44:3 For I will give water in thirst to those traveling through waterless land. I will place My spirit upon your offspring and My blessings upon your children, 44:4 and they will spring up like grass amid water and like a willow beside flowing water.

44:5 One will say, 'I belong to God'; another will cry out in Jacob's name; another will inscribe, 'I belong to God,' in Israel's name."

44:6 Thus says God, Israel's King, who rescued him, God Sabaoth: "I am first, and I am after these things; apart from Me there is no God.

44:7 Who is like Me? Let him stand, call out, and prepare for Me, from when I made humankind for eternity. Let them announce to you the coming things before they arrive.

44:8 Do not cover yourselves. Did you not hear from the beginning, and did I not announce it to you? You are witnesses whether there is a God apart from Me; there were none then."

44:9 All who fashion and carve are futile, making what pleases them, things that will not help them. But they will be ashamed—

44:10 all who fashion a god and carve useless things,

44:11 and all from whom they came have dried up. Let the deaf from among humankind all assemble and stand together; let them be abashed and ashamed together.

44:12 For a craftsman sharpened iron, worked it with an adze, bored it with a drill, and worked it with his strong arm. He will hunger and grow weak and certainly not drink water. Having selected

44:13 wood, a craftsman set it by measure and arranged it with glue. He made it like a man's form and human beauty, to set it in a house.

44:14 The wood he cut from the woodland was what the Lord planted and rain made grow,

44:15 so that it might serve people for burning. Taking some, he warmed himself; after burning it they baked loaves over the pieces. They worked the rest into gods and worship them.

44:16 Half of it they burned in fire, and after burning it they baked loaves over the pieces. Over it he roasted meat, ate, and was satisfied. Warmed, he said, 'It is pleasant for me, for I am warm and have seen fire!'

44:17 He made the rest into a carved god and worships it and prays, saying, 'Rescue me, for you are my god.'

44:18 They did not know enough to understand, because they were darkened from seeing with their eyes and comprehending with their heart.

44:19 He did not reckon it in his heart, consider it in his soul, or know by understanding that he burned half in fire, baked loaves over its coals, roasted meat and ate, and made its remainder an abomination; and they worship it.

44:20 Know that their heart is ashes, and they wander, and no one can rescue his soul. See—will you not say, 'A lie is in my right hand'?

44:21 "Remember these things, Jacob and Israel, for you are My servant. I formed you as My servant; and you, Israel, do not forget Me.

44:22 For behold, I wiped away your lawless acts like a cloud and your sins like dark mist. Turn back to Me, and I will redeem you."

44:23 Rejoice, heavens, because God had mercy on Israel! Sound trumpets, earth's foundations! Cry out joy, mountains, hills and all their trees! For God redeemed Jacob, and Israel will be glorified.

44:24 Thus says the Lord who redeems you and forms you from the womb: "I am the Lord who completes all things. I stretched heaven alone and established the earth. Who else

44:25 will scatter the signs of spirit-mediums and divinations from the heart, turning the discerning backward and making their counsel foolish,

44:26 and establish His servant's words and make His messengers' counsel true? He says to Jerusalem, 'You will be inhabited,' and to Judea's cities, 'You will be rebuilt,' and her deserted places will spring up;

44:27 He says to the abyss, 'You will be desolate, and I will dry your rivers';

44:28 He tells Cyrus to understand, and says, 'He will do all My wishes.' He says to Jerusalem, 'You will be rebuilt, and I will lay the foundation of My holy house.'"

Isaiah 45

45:1 Thus says the Lord God to My anointed Cyrus, whose right hand I grasped so that nations would heed him: "I will shatter kings' strength, open doors before him, and cities will not be shut.

45:2 I will go before you and level mountains. I will shatter bronze doors and break iron bars.

45:3 I will give you dark treasures and open hidden, unseen stores to you, so that you may know that I am the Lord God who calls your name, Israel's God.

45:4 For the sake of My servant Jacob and Israel My chosen one, I will call you by your name and welcome you; yet you did not know Me.

45:5 For I am the Lord God, and there is no god besides Me, and you did not know Me,

45:6 so that those from the sun's rising and those from its setting may know that there is none besides Me. I am the Lord God, and there is no other.

45:7 I fashioned light and made darkness; I make peace and create calamities. I am the Lord God, who does all these things.

45:8 Let heaven above rejoice, and let clouds sprinkle righteousness. Let earth bring forth mercy and bring forth righteousness together. I am the Lord who created you."

45:9 What better thing did I fashion like a potter's clay? Will the plower plow the earth all day? Will the clay say to the potter, 'What are you doing, since you neither work nor have hands?'

45:10 The one saying to the father, 'What will you father?' and to the mother, 'What will you bring forth in labor?'

45:11 For thus says the Lord God, Israel's Holy One, who made what is coming: "Ask Me about My sons and My daughters, and command Me concerning the works of My hands.

45:12 I made earth and humanity upon it. With My hand I established heaven; I commanded all the stars.

45:13 I raised him as king with righteousness, and all his ways are straight. He will rebuild My city and bring back My people's captivity, without ransom or gifts," said the Lord Sabaoth.

45:14 Thus says the Lord Sabaoth: "Egypt toiled, and the Ethiopians' trade; and the Seboin, tall men, will cross over to you and become your slaves. They will follow behind you, bound with handcuffs, bow to you, and pray in you, because God is in you. They will say, 'There is no God besides Thee;

45:15 for Thou art God, and we did not know it, Israel's God, the Savior.'"

45:16 All who oppose Him will be ashamed and abashed and go away in shame. "Be renewed toward Me, islands."

45:17 Israel is saved by the Lord with everlasting salvation. They will not be ashamed or ever be abashed for eternity.

45:18 Thus says the Lord who made heaven—He is the God who displayed the earth and made it, who marked it out; He did not make it for emptiness, but to be inhabited—"I am, and there is no other.

45:19 I have not spoken in secret or in a dark place of the earth. I did not say to Jacob's offspring, 'Seek a futile thing.' I am, I am the Lord, speaking righteousness and announcing truth.

45:20 Gather and come; take counsel together, you who are saved from the nations. Those carrying wood as their carved image did not know, praying as though to gods who do not save.

45:21 If they will announce it, let them draw near so that they may know together who made these things heard from the beginning. Then it was announced to you: I am God, and there is no other besides Me; there is none righteous and saving apart from Me.

45:22 Turn back to Me, and you will be saved, you from the earth's extremity. I am God, and there is no other.

45:23 By Myself I swear: Surely righteousness will go out from My mouth; My words will not return, because every knee will bend to Me and every tongue will confess to God,

45:24 saying, ‘Righteousness and glory will come to Him,’ and all who set themselves apart will be ashamed.

45:25 From the Lord all the offspring of Israel’s sons will be justified, and in God they will be glorified.”

Isaiah 46

46:1 Bel fell; Dagon was shattered. Their carved images became a burden for wild and domestic animals. Lift them, bound together, as a load for one who is weary

46:2 and hungry and exhausted, without strength at all; they cannot be saved from war, and they themselves were led captive.

46:3 “Listen to Me, house of Jacob and all Israel’s remnant, you who are carried from the belly and instructed from childhood.

46:4 Until old age I am, and until you grow very old I am. I bear with you; I made you, and I will release you. I will take you up and save you.

46:5 To whom did you liken Me? Look, devise your handiwork, you who wander astray.

46:6 Those contributing gold from a pouch will set silver on a balance by weight; after hiring a goldsmith they made handmade objects and bend down to worship them.

46:7 They lift it onto their shoulders and go along. If they set it down, it stays in its place and will never move. Whoever cries to it, it will certainly not listen or save him from evils.

46:8 Remember these things and groan. Repent, you who have wandered astray; turn back in heart.

46:9 Remember the former things from eternity, for I am God, and there is none besides Me,

46:10 announcing the last things beforehand, before they came to be—and together they were fulfilled. I said, ‘All My counsel will stand, and I will do everything I have planned,’

46:11 calling a bird from the east and from a distant land concerning what I have planned. I spoke and brought it about; I created and acted. I brought him and made his journey prosper.

46:12 Listen to Me, you who have lost heart, who are far from righteousness.

46:13 I brought My righteousness near, and I will not delay the salvation that comes from Me. I have given salvation in Zion to Israel for glory.”

Isaiah 47

47:1 “Come down and sit on the ground, virgin daughter Babylon. Enter darkness, daughter of the Chaldeans, for you will no longer be called tender and pampered.

47:2 Take a millstone and grind flour. Uncover your veil, expose your gray hair, pull up your garments to bare your lower legs, and cross rivers.

47:3 Your shame will be uncovered, and your reproaches will be visible. I will exact justice from you; I will certainly no longer hand it over to humans.”

47:4 The One who rescued you said—His name is the Lord Sabaoth, Israel’s Holy One—

47:5 “Sit stricken and enter darkness, daughter of the Chaldeans. You will certainly no longer be called a kingdom’s strength.

47:6 I was provoked against My people; you defiled My inheritance. I gave it into your hand, but you gave them no mercy; you made the elder’s yoke exceedingly heavy.

47:7 You said, ‘I will rule for ever.’ You did not consider these things in your heart or remember the last things.

47:8 Now hear these things, pampered one who sits confident, saying in her heart, ‘I am, and there is no other. I will not sit as a widow or know bereavement.’

47:9 Now these two will come upon you suddenly, in one day: widowhood and childlessness will come suddenly upon you, amid your sorcery and the overwhelming power of your enchanters,

47:10 in your hope of wickedness. For you said, ‘I am, and there is no other.’ Know that understanding these things and your prostitution will become your shame. You said in your heart, ‘I am, and there is no other.’

47:11 Destruction will come upon you, and you will certainly not know it—a pit, and you will fall into it. Misery will come upon you, and you will certainly not be able to become clean. Destruction will come upon you suddenly, and you will certainly not know it.

47:12 Stand now amid your enchantments and your abundant sorcery, which you learned from youth, if you can be helped.

47:13 You have toiled in your counsels. Let heaven’s astrologers stand up and save you; let those watching the stars announce to you what is about to come upon you.

47:14 Behold, all will be burned up like brushwood upon a fire and certainly not rescue their soul from flame. Since you have burning coals, sit upon them!

47:15 These will be your help! You toiled in your trade from youth; each person wandered on his own, but there will be no salvation for you.”

Isaiah 48

48:1 “Hear these things, house of Jacob, you called by Israel’s name, who came forth from Judah, who swear by the name of the Lord God of Israel, remembering without truth or righteousness,

48:2 and cling to the holy city’s name and lean upon Israel’s God; His name is the Lord Sabaoth.

48:3 I announced the former things beforehand; they went out from My mouth and were heard. Suddenly I acted, and they arrived.

48:4 I know that you are stubborn, your neck an iron sinew and your forehead bronze.

48:5 I announced it to you long ago; before it came upon you I made you hear it. Do not say, ‘My idols did it,’ or say, ‘My carved and cast images commanded me.’

48:6 You heard everything, but you did not understand. Yet I also made you hear the new things from now on, what is about to happen, and you did not speak.

48:7 They happen now, not long ago; you did not hear them in earlier days. Do not say, ‘Yes, I know them.’

48:8 You neither knew nor understood; from the beginning I did not open your ears. For I knew you would utterly reject faithfulness, and you would be called lawless even from the belly.

48:9 For My name’s sake I will show you My anger and bring My glorious deeds upon you, so that I do not destroy you.

48:10 Behold, I sold you, but not for silver; I rescued you from a furnace of poverty.

48:11 For My sake I will act for you, because My name is being profaned. I will not give My glory to another.

48:12 Listen to Me, Jacob and Israel whom I call. I am first, and I am for ever,

48:13 and My hand founded the earth, and My right hand established heaven. I will call them, and they will stand together

48:14 and all will gather and hear. Who announced these things to them? Loving you, I carried out your will against Babylon, to remove the Chaldeans’ offspring.

48:15 I spoke, I called; I brought him and made his journey prosper.

48:16 Draw near to Me and hear these things. From the beginning I did not speak in secret or in a dark place of the earth. When it came to be, I was there; and now the Lord has sent me, and His spirit.”

48:17 Thus says the Lord who rescued you, Israel’s Holy One: “I am your God. I have shown you how to find the road on which you will walk.

48:18 If you had listened to My commands, your peace would have become like a river and your righteousness like a sea wave.

48:19 Your offspring would have become like sand, those born from your belly like the earth’s dust. Even now you will certainly not be destroyed, nor will your name perish before Me.”

48:20 Leave Babylon, fleeing from the Chaldeans. Announce a voice of rejoicing, and let this be heard; proclaim it to the earth’s extremity. Say, “The Lord rescued His slave Jacob.”

48:21 Even if they thirst, He will lead them through a wilderness and bring water out of a rock for them. A rock will split and water will flow, and My people will drink.

48:22 “There is no rejoicing for the ungodly,” says the Lord.

Isaiah 49

49:1 Listen to me, islands, and attend, nations. “After a long time it will stand,” says the Lord. From my mother’s belly He called my name,

49:2 and made my mouth like a sharp sword. In the shelter of His hand He hid me; He made me a chosen arrow and sheltered me in His quiver.

49:3 He said to me, “You are My slave, Israel, and in you I will be glorified.”

49:4 I said, “I toiled in vain and gave my strength to futility and nothing. Therefore my judgment is with the Lord, and my toil before my God.”

49:5 And now thus says the Lord, who formed me from the belly as His slave to gather Jacob and Israel to Him—I will be gathered and glorified before the Lord, and my God will be my strength—

49:6 and He said to me, “It is a great thing for you to be called My servant, to establish Jacob’s tribes and bring back Israel’s dispersion. Behold, I have appointed you as a covenant for a race, a light for nations, so that you may bring salvation to the earth’s extremity.”

49:7 Thus says the Lord who rescued you, Israel's God: "Sanctify the one who despises his own life, the one abhorred by nations—the slaves of rulers. Kings will see him and rise; rulers will bow to him because of the Lord, for Israel's Holy One is faithful, and I chose you."

49:8 Thus says the Lord: "At an acceptable time I heard you, and on a day of salvation I helped you. I gave you as a covenant for nations, to establish the earth and inherit a desolate inheritance,

49:9 saying to those in bonds, 'Come out,' and telling those in darkness to be revealed. They will be fed along all their roads, with pasture along every path.

49:10 They will neither hunger nor thirst, nor will scorching heat or the sun strike them. Rather, the One showing them mercy will comfort them and lead them through springs of water.

49:11 I will make every mountain into a road and every path into pasture for them.

49:12 Behold, these come from afar, these from the north and these from the sea, and others from the Persians' land."

49:13 Rejoice, heavens, and let earth exult! Let mountains burst out in joy and hills in righteousness, for God had mercy on His people and comforted His people's lowly ones.

49:14 But Zion said, "The Lord has abandoned me, and the Lord has forgotten me."

49:15 "Will a woman forget her child, failing to have mercy on the offspring of her belly? Even if a woman forgets these, I will not forget you," said the Lord.

49:16 "Behold, on My hands I painted your walls, and you are before Me continually.

49:17 You will swiftly be rebuilt by those who pulled you down, and those who laid you waste will depart from you.

49:18 Lift your eyes around and see them all. Behold, they gathered and came to you. As I live, says the Lord, you will put them all on and wrap them around you like a bride's adornment.

49:19 For your deserted, destroyed, and fallen places will now be cramped by inhabitants, and those swallowing you will be removed far from you.

49:20 For your sons whom you lost will say within your hearing, 'This place is too cramped for me. Make room for me, so I can settle.'

49:21 You will say in your heart, 'Who bore these for me? I was childless and widowed. Who raised these for me? I was left alone; where were these of mine?'"

49:22 Thus says the Lord: "Behold, I lift My hand toward nations and will raise My signal toward islands. They will bring your sons in their bosom and carry your daughters on shoulders,

49:23 and kings will be your foster fathers and ruling women your nurses. They will bow to you upon the earth's surface and lick the dust of your feet. You will know that I am the Lord, and you will not be ashamed.

49:24 Will anyone take spoils from a giant? If someone takes captives unjustly, will he be saved?"

49:25 Thus says the Lord: "If someone captures a giant, he will take spoils; one taking from a strong man will be saved. I will judge your case, and I will rescue your sons.

49:26 Those who afflicted you will eat their own flesh, drink their own blood like new wine, and become drunk. All flesh will perceive that I am the Lord who rescued you and upholds Jacob's strength."

Isaiah 50

50:1 Thus says the Lord: "What is your mother's divorce document with which I sent her away? Or to which debtor have I sold you? Behold, you were sold because of your sins, and I sent your mother away because of your lawless acts.

50:2 Why did I come when no person was there, call when no one obeyed? Is My hand not strong enough to rescue? Am I not able to deliver? Behold, by My threat I will make the sea desolate and turn rivers to deserts; their fish will dry up for lack of water and die in thirst.

50:3 I will clothe heaven in darkness and make its covering like sackcloth."

50:4 The Lord gives me a tongue of instruction, to know the right time when a word must be spoken. He appointed morning for me; He added an ear for me to hear,

50:5 and the Lord's instruction opens my ears. I do not disobey or contradict.

50:6 I have given my back to scourges and my cheeks to slaps. I did not turn my face away from the shame of spitting.

50:7 The Lord became my helper; therefore I was not abashed. Instead, I set my face like solid rock and knew that I would certainly not be ashamed.

50:8 For the One who justified me draws near. Who is bringing a case against me? Let him stand against me together. Who is bringing a case against me? Let him approach me.

50:9 Behold, the Lord helps me. Who will harm me? Behold, all of you will grow old like a garment, and it will devour you like a moth.

50:10 Who among you fears the Lord? Let him listen to His servant's voice. Those walking in darkness have no light; trust in the Lord's name and lean upon God.

50:11 Behold, all of you burn fire and strengthen a flame. Walk by your fire's light and the flame you kindled. These things came to you because of Me; you will fall asleep in sorrow.

Isaiah 51

51:1 "Listen to Me, you who pursue what is right and seek the Lord. Look at the solid rock you quarried and the hollow of the pit you dug.

51:2 Look at Abraham your father and Sarah who labored to bear you. He was one, and I called him, blessed him, loved him, and multiplied him.

51:3 I will now comfort you, Zion; I have comforted all her deserted places and will make her deserted places like the Lord's paradise. They will find joy and exultation in her, thanksgiving and a voice of praise.

51:4 Listen to Me, listen, My people; and kings, give ear to Me. For law will go out from Me, and My judgment as a light for nations.

51:5 My righteousness approaches swiftly, and My salvation will go out like light. Nations will hope in My arm; islands will wait for Me and hope in My arm.

51:6 Lift your eyes to heaven and look at earth below. Heaven was made firm like smoke, but earth will grow old like a garment, and earth's inhabitants will die like these. My salvation will last for ever, and My righteousness will never fail.

51:7 Listen to Me, you who know judgment, My people with My law in your heart. Do not fear people's reproach or be overcome by their contempt.

51:8 For a garment will be consumed by time, and wool eaten by a moth. But My righteousness will last for ever, and My salvation through generations of generations."

51:9 Awake, awake, Jerusalem, and clothe yourself with the strength of your arm! Awake as at day's beginning, as an age-old generation. Are you not the one

51:10 who makes the sea desolate, the abundant water of the abyss, who made the sea depths a crossing road for those rescued

51:11 and ransomed? For by the Lord they will be brought back and come to Zion with joy and everlasting exultation. Exultation and praise are upon their heads; joy will overtake them. Pain, sorrow, and sighing fled.

51:12 "I am, I am the One comforting you. Recognize whom you dreaded and feared: a mortal person, a human being who withered like grass.

51:13 You forgot God who made you, who made heaven and founded earth, and feared continually, every day, the face of your oppressor's anger. For as he planned to remove you—where now is your oppressor's anger?

51:14 For as you are saved, it will not stand or linger.

51:15 For I am your God, who stirs the sea and makes its waves resound; the Lord Sabaoth is My name.

51:16 I will put My words in your mouth and shelter you under My hand's shadow, by which I established heaven and founded earth; and He will say to Zion, 'You are My people.'

51:17 Awake, awake, rise, Jerusalem, you who drank the cup of anger from the Lord's hand. You drank out and emptied the cup of falling, the bowl of anger.

51:18 There was no one to comfort you among all your children you bore, and no one to take your hand among all your sons you raised.

51:19 These two confront you—who will grieve with you?—fall and crushing, famine and sword. Who will comfort you?

51:20 Your sons are helpless, sleeping at every way out like a half-boiled beet, full of the Lord's anger, exhausted because of the Lord God.

51:21 Therefore listen, humbled one, drunk but not from wine.

51:22 Thus says the Lord God who judges His people: 'Behold, I have taken from your hand the cup of falling, the bowl of anger. You will not drink it again.

51:23 I will throw it into the hands of those who wronged and humbled you, who told your soul, "Bend down, so we may pass." You laid your back level with the earth, outside for passersby.'"

Isaiah 52

52:1 Awake, awake, Zion! Clothe yourself with your strength, Zion, and put on your glory, Jerusalem, holy city. No uncircumcised and unclean person will pass through you again.

52:2 Shake off the dust and rise; sit, Jerusalem. Strip off the bond around your neck, captive daughter Zion.

52:3 For thus says the Lord: "You were sold for nothing, and without silver you will be ransomed."

52:4 Thus says the Lord: "My people formerly went down to Egypt to live there as strangers, and they were forcibly led to the Assyrians.

52:5 And now, why are you here?” Thus says the Lord. “My people were taken for nothing. Be amazed and wail!” Thus says the Lord. “Because of you, My name is continually blasphemed among the nations.

52:6 Therefore My people will know My name on that day, because I am the One speaking. I am present

52:7 like beauty on the mountains, like the feet of one proclaiming a report of peace, like one bringing good news. For I will make your salvation heard, saying, ‘Zion, your God will reign.’”

52:8 For the voice of those guarding you was raised, and together they will rejoice with their voice. For eyes will see eye to eye when the Lord has mercy on Zion.

52:9 Let Jerusalem’s deserted places break out in joy together, for the Lord had mercy on her and rescued Jerusalem.

52:10 The Lord will uncover His holy arm before all nations, and all the ends of earth will see the salvation that comes from God.

52:11 Depart, depart; go out from there, and do not touch anything unclean. Go out from her midst; separate yourselves, you who carry the Lord’s vessels.

52:12 For you will not go out in turmoil or travel in flight, because the Lord will go ahead of you, and the One gathering you is the Lord, Israel’s God.

52:13 Behold, My servant will understand, and will be exalted and greatly glorified.

52:14 As many will be astonished at you— so your form will be without honour among men, and your glory among men—

Note [1]: Isaiah 52:14 · MeaningThe speech moves from servant in the third person to thee, then returns to him in 52:15. Honour and glory retain the source’s terms; physical disfigurement is not substituted as though lexically identical.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Isaiah 53

53:1 O Lord, who has believed our report? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?

53:2 We proclaimed before him as a child, as a root in thirsty ground. He has no form nor glory; and we saw him, and he had no form nor beauty.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:2 · MeaningThe first verb is we proclaimed, not he grew. The relation of before him and as a child is difficult; the English retains this difficulty provisionally. No unstated object or identity is supplied to make it agree with a familiar version.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter 53:3 But his form was without honour, fallen below all men: a man under affliction, and knowing how to bear sickness. For his face has been turned away; he was dishonoured and held of no account.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:3 · WordingThe Greek says his face hath been turned away; it does not explicitly add from us in this clause. Sickness remains a bodily term, not an automatic metaphor for sin.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter

53:4 He bears our sins and suffers pain for us;
yet we reckoned him in pain, under blows, and in affliction.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:4 · Meaning and wording · bear sinsCarries the sins of the speaking community. Retain sins and the present tense in this Greek statement, together with the separate suffering-for-us clause. Doctrinal accounts of how the bearing works belong in commentary.Historical comparison. Saints and Brenton have sins. KJV has griefs and DRC infirmities, with sorrows in their next clause. 53:5 But he was wounded for our iniquities, and has been weakened for our sins. The chastisement of our peace was upon him; by his bruise we were healed.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:5 · MeaningWeakened represents memalakistai; made infirm or afflicted is possible. Bruise is singular. Chastisement of our peace retains the terse relation, commonly understood as chastisement connected with our peace, without a fuller theological paraphrase.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. 53:6 We all, like sheep, have gone astray; each person has strayed in his own way. And the Lord delivered him over to our sins.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:6 · MeaningTo our sins follows the Greek dative closely. Delivered for our sins is an interpretive alternative. The clause is not rewritten as sins laid upon him.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter

53:7 And because he has been afflicted, he does not open his mouth. Like a sheep he was led to slaughter, and as a lamb is silent before its shearer, so he does not open his mouth.

53:8 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away.
Who will recount his generation?
For his life is taken from the earth;
because of the iniquities of My people he was led to death.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:8 · MeaningGeneration remains broad: lineage, contemporaries, and the period of his life require contextual argument. 53:10 And the Lord desires to cleanse him of his affliction. If you give an offering for sin, your soul will see seed that lives long. And the Lord desires to take him away

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:10 · TextCleanse, if ye give, and your soul follow the Greek. Offering is supplied to express the sacrificial construction concerning sin. Him after take away is an understood object, supplied to connect the sentence across verses 10–11. 53:11 from the toil of his soul, to show him light and fashion him with understanding, to justify the righteous one who serves many well; and he will bear their sins.

Note [1]: Isaiah 53:11 · MeaningThe Greek includes showing him light. The righteous one is the object of justify, followed by serving many well. This trial does not turn the phrase into the servant justifying many simply to match familiar English.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. 53:12 Therefore he will inherit many, and will divide the spoils of the mighty; for his soul was delivered to death, and he was numbered among the lawless. And he bore the sins of many, and for their sins he was delivered up.

Isaiah 54

54:1 “Rejoice, barren woman who does not give birth! Break out and cry aloud, you who do not labor in childbirth, because the deserted woman’s children are more numerous than those of the woman who has a husband,” for the Lord has spoken.

54:2 “Widen the place of your tent and your curtains. Pitch them; do not spare! Lengthen your ropes and strengthen your pegs.

54:3 Spread out still farther to right and left. Your offspring will inherit nations, and you will settle deserted cities.

54:4 Do not fear because you were put to shame, or be abashed because you were reproached. For you will forget lasting shame and never remember the reproach of your widowhood.

54:5 For the Lord is the One making you; the Lord Sabaoth is His name. The One who rescued you is Himself Israel’s God; He will be called upon throughout all earth.

54:6 “The Lord has not called you like an abandoned, fainthearted wife, nor like a wife hated since youth,” says your God.

54:7 “For a short time I abandoned you, and with great mercy I will have mercy on you.

54:8 In a little anger I turned My face from you, and with everlasting mercy I will have mercy on you,” says the Lord who rescued you.

54:9 “This dates for Me from the water in Noah’s time, when I swore to him then concerning the earth not to be angry with you again, nor at a threat against you

54:10 for mountains to move away; nor will your hills be shifted. So neither will My mercy toward you fail, nor will your covenant of peace ever be removed.” For the Lord said, “I am gracious to you.”

54:11 Humbled and unsettled woman, you were not comforted! Behold, I am preparing carbuncle as your stone and sapphire as your foundations,

54:12 and I will make your battlements jasper, your gates crystal stones, and your enclosing wall choice stones,

54:13 and all your sons taught by God, and your children in great peace.

54:14 You will be built in righteousness. Keep away from injustice, and you will not fear; terror will not approach you.

54:15 Behold, newcomers will approach you through Me and take refuge with you.

54:16 Behold, I am creating you, not like a smith blowing coals and bringing out an implement for work. I did not create you for ruin, to destroy 54:17 every perishable implement. I will not grant success against you. Every voice will rise against you in judgment; you will defeat them all, and those accountable to you will be held liable in it. There is an inheritance for those serving the Lord, and you will be righteous before Me,” says the Lord.

Isaiah 55

55:1 You who thirst, go to the water; and you who have no silver, go and buy wine and rich food, and drink without silver or price.

Note [1]: Isaiah 55:1 · MeaningSilver retains the monetary material; no particular coin is named. Rich food interprets the Greek fat as nourishing fare. The word order is adjusted to separate buying food from drinking. Milk and an additional eat command are not in this checked wording.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter 55:2 Why do you pay a price of silver, and give your toil for what does not satisfy? Listen to Me, and you will eat good things, and your soul will delight in good things.

Note [1]: Isaiah 55:2 · MeaningPay a price is a provisional contextual rendering of the value-at-a-price verb. Give is supplied in the parallel toil clause. The difficult Greek does not explicitly say not bread here; that wording is not borrowed from KJV or Douay–Rheims.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. 55:3 Listen with your ears, and follow My ways; listen to Me, and your soul will live amid good things. And I will make with you an everlasting covenant: the holy and sure blessings of David.

Note [1]: Isaiah 55:3 · MeaningBlessings supplies a contextual noun for the holy and faithful things associated with David. 55:4 Behold, I have given him as a testimony among the nations, a ruler and commander of nations.

55:5 Nations that did not know you will call upon you, and peoples that do not know you will flee to you for refuge, because of your God, the Holy One of Israel, for He has glorified you.

55:6 Seek God, and when you find Him, call upon Him; and when He draws near to you,

Note [1]: Isaiah 55:6 · TextGod is the noun in this Greek verse. The temporal wording says when ye find Him, then when He draweth nigh; the trial does not substitute the familiar while He may be found.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter

55:7 let the ungodly forsake his ways, and the lawless man his counsels; and let him return to the Lord, and he will receive mercy; for He will abundantly forgive your sins.

55:8 For My counsels are not as your counsels, nor are My ways like your ways, says the Lord.

55:9 But as the heaven is distant from the earth, so is My way distant from your ways, and your thoughts from My mind.

Note [1]: Isaiah 55:9 · WordingThe Greek places your thoughts before My mind in its final comparison. The trial preserves that direction and the change from counsels to thoughts or mind.Isaiah and Providence reference studies, 26 September 2026; provisional editorial decisions. Greek chapter

55:10 For as rain or snow comes down from the heaven, and does not return until it has drenched the earth, and made it bring forth and sprout, and given seed to the sower and bread for food,

55:11 so it will be with My word, whatever goes out from My mouth: it will certainly not return until all that I have willed is accomplished; and I will prosper your ways and My commandments.

55:12 For you will go out in gladness, and in joy you will be taught; for the mountains and the hills will leap, welcoming you with joy, and all the trees of the field will clap their branches.

55:13 And the cypress will rise in place of the thorny shrub, and the myrtle will rise in place of the fleabane; and the Lord will be for a name and for an everlasting sign, and will not fail.

Note [1]: Isaiah 55:13 · MeaningThorny shrub and fleabane are provisional plant identifications; the latter follows the Greek plant name rather than importing nettle from Brenton. Isaiah 56

56:1 Thus says the Lord: “Keep justice; do righteousness. For the coming of My salvation has drawn near, and the revealing of My mercy.

56:2 Happy is the man who does these things, the person holding fast to them, keeping the Sabbaths from profanation and guarding his hands from wrongdoing.”

56:3 Let no foreigner attached to the Lord say, “Will the Lord then separate me from His people?” And let no eunuch say, “I am a dry tree.”

56:4 Thus says the Lord: “To the eunuchs who keep My Sabbaths, choose what I wish, and hold fast to My covenant,

56:5 I will give them in My house and wall a renowned place better than sons and daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, and it will not fail.

56:6 And the foreigners attached to the Lord, to serve Him and love the Lord’s name, to become His male and female slaves, and all those keeping My Sabbaths from profanation and holding fast to My covenant—

56:7 I will bring them into My holy mountain and make them rejoice in My house of prayer. Their whole burnt offerings and sacrifices will be acceptable on My altar, for My house will be called a house of prayer for all nations,”

56:8 said the Lord who gathers Israel’s scattered people, “for I will gather a gathering to him.”

56:9 All you wild beasts, come and eat, all you beasts of the woodland!

56:10 See: all have been blinded; they did not know how to think. They are all mute dogs, unable to bark, dreaming of a bed, loving to doze.

56:11 The dogs are shameless in appetite, knowing no satisfaction, and they are evil, without understanding. They all followed their own ways, each according to what was his own.

Isaiah 57

57:1 See how the righteous man perished, and no one considers it in his heart. Righteous men are removed, and no one understands. For the righteous man was taken from the presence of injustice.

57:2 His burial will be in peace; he has been removed from the midst.

57:3 “But you, come forward here, lawless sons, offspring of adulterers and a prostitute!

57:4 In whom did you delight? Against whom did you open your mouth and let loose your tongue? Are you not children of destruction, lawless offspring?

57:5 You who appeal to idols beneath leafy trees, slaughtering their children in ravines among the rocks!

57:6 That is your portion; this is your lot. To those you poured libations, and to those you brought sacrifices. Will I not therefore be angry over these things?

57:7 On a high and lofty mountain—there is your bed, and there you brought sacrifices up.

57:8 Behind your doorposts you set your memorials. You thought that if you departed from Me you would have something more. You loved those sleeping with you

57:9 and multiplied your prostitution with them. You increased the number of those far away from you, sent ambassadors beyond your boundaries, turned away, and were humbled as far as Hades.

57:10 You wore yourself out with your many journeys and did not say, ‘I will stop.’ You kept strengthening yourself because you did these things; therefore you did not implore Me—

57:11 you! Whom did you reverently fear, that you lied to Me, did not remember Me, and took Me neither into thought nor into your heart? I see you and overlook you, yet you did not fear Me.

57:12 I will proclaim My righteousness and your evils, which will not benefit you.

57:13 When you cry aloud, let them rescue you in your distress! Wind will take all these, and a storm carry them away. But those holding fast to Me will acquire land and inherit My holy mountain.

57:14 They will say, ‘Clear roads before him, and remove obstacles from My people’s road.’

57:15 Thus says the Lord Most High, who dwells in the heights for ever, whose name is Holy among holy ones, the Lord Most High resting among holy ones and giving patience to the fainthearted and life to the brokenhearted:

57:16 ‘I will not take vengeance on you for ever or always be angry with you. For spirit will go out from Me, and I made every breath.

57:17 Because of sin I grieved him a little, struck him, and turned My face away from him. He was grieved and went gloomily along his ways.

57:18 I have seen his ways, healed him, comforted him, and given him true comfort—

57:19 peace upon peace to those far away and those near. And the Lord said, ‘I will heal them.’

57:20 But the unjust will be tossed by waves in this way and will be unable to rest.

57:21 ‘There is no rejoicing for the ungodly,’ said the Lord God.”

Isaiah 58

58:1 “Shout with strength and do not spare! Raise your voice like a trumpet and announce My people’s sins to them, and Jacob’s house their lawless acts.

58:2 Day after day they seek Me and desire to know My ways. Like a people who practiced righteousness and did not abandon their God’s judgment, they now ask Me righteous judgment and desire to draw near to God,

58:3 saying, ‘Why did we fast, and Thou didst not see? We humbled our lives, and Thou didst not notice?’ For on your fasting days you pursue your wishes and prod all those under your control.

58:4 If you fast for lawsuits and fights and strike a humble person with fists, why do you fast for Me as today, to make your voice heard in an outcry?

58:5 I did not choose this fast, or a day for a person to humble his life. Even if you bend your neck like a ring and spread sackcloth and ashes beneath you, you will not thereby call it an acceptable fast.

58:6 ‘It is not such a fast that I chose,’ says the Lord. ‘Instead, loosen every bond of injustice, undo the strangling ties of coercive agreements, let the crushed go free, and tear up every unjust written contract.

58:7 Break your bread for the hungry and bring homeless poor people into your house. If you see someone naked, clothe him; do not overlook those belonging to your own family.

58:8 Then your light will break out early, and your healings quickly rise. Your righteousness will go ahead of you, and God’s glory will enfold you.

58:9 Then you will cry, and God will hear you. While you are still speaking He will say, “Behold, I am present.” If you remove from yourself a bond, finger-pointing, and a word of grumbling, 58:10 and give bread to the hungry from your heart and satisfy a humbled life, then your light will rise in darkness, and your darkness be like noon.

58:11 Your God will be with you continually, and you will be filled as your life desires. Your bones will grow rich; you will be like a drenched garden and a spring whose water never ran out. Your bones will sprout like grass and grow rich, and they will inherit generations upon generations.

58:12 Your ancient deserted places will be rebuilt, and your foundations will endure through generations upon generations. You will be called Builder of Fences, and you will put an end to the paths between.

58:13 If you turn your foot away from the Sabbaths, from doing your wishes on the holy day, and call the Sabbaths delightful, holy to your God, you will not lift your foot for work or speak a word in anger from your mouth,

58:14 and you will trust in the Lord. He will bring you up to earth’s good things and feed you your father Jacob’s inheritance, for the Lord’s mouth has spoken these things.’”

Isaiah 59

59:1 Is the Lord’s hand unable to save? Or has His ear grown heavy so that He cannot hear?

59:2 Instead, your offenses stand between you and God, and because of your sins He has turned His face away from you so as not to show mercy.

59:3 For your hands are stained with blood and your fingers with sins. Your lips spoke lawlessness, and your tongue meditates on injustice.

59:4 No one speaks what is just, nor is there true judgment. They trust vain things and speak emptiness, for they conceive trouble and give birth to lawlessness.

59:5 They broke open asps’ eggs and weave a spider’s web. Whoever was about to eat their eggs broke one and found a wind-egg, and in it a basilisk.

59:6 Their web will not become clothing, nor will they clothe themselves from their works, for their works are works of lawlessness.

59:7 Their feet run to wickedness, quick to shed blood. Their thoughts are the thoughts of fools; destruction and misery lie in their ways.

59:8 They do not know the way of peace, and there is no justice in their ways. For the paths they travel are twisted, and they do not know peace.

59:9 Therefore judgment withdrew from them, and righteousness will not reach them. While they waited for light, darkness came to them; waiting for dawn, they walked in an untimely darkness.

59:10 They will grope along a wall like the blind, and as though without eyes they will grope. They will fall at noon as at midnight; like people dying, they will groan.

59:11 Like a bear and like a dove they will travel together. We waited for judgment, but there is none; salvation has withdrawn far from us.

59:12 For our lawlessness is great before Thee, and our sins have opposed us. Our lawless deeds are within us, and we have recognized our wrongs:

59:13 We acted impiously and lied and withdrew from following our God. We spoke unjust things and disobeyed; we conceived and meditated on unjust words from our heart.

59:14 We drove judgment backward, and righteousness has withdrawn far away, for truth was consumed in their ways, and they could not go straight through.

59:15 Truth has been taken away, and they turned their mind away from understanding. The Lord saw, and it did not please Him that there was no judgment.

59:16 He saw, and there was no man; He considered, and there was no one to help. He defended them with His arm and steadied Himself by mercy.

59:17 He put on righteousness like a breastplate, placed a helmet of salvation on His head, and wrapped Himself in a garment of vengeance and the cloak,

59:18 as one who will repay recompense—reproach to His adversaries.

59:19 Those from the west will fear the Lord’s name, and those from sunrise the glorious name. For anger from the Lord will come like a violent river; it will come with wrath.

59:20 The deliverer will come for Zion’s sake and turn ungodliness away from Jacob.

59:21 “And this is My covenant with them,” said the Lord: “My spirit that is upon you and the words I put into your mouth will never fail from your mouth or your offspring’s mouth,” for the Lord said, “from now on and for ever.”

Isaiah 60

60:1 Shine, shine, Jerusalem, for your light has come, and the Lord’s glory has risen upon you.

60:2 Behold, darkness and gloom will cover earth over nations, but the Lord will appear upon you, and His glory will be seen over you.

60:3 Kings will walk by your light, and nations by your radiance.

60:4 Lift your eyes around you and see your children gathered. Behold, all your sons have come from far away, and your daughters will be lifted upon shoulders.

60:5 Then you will see and fear and be astonished in heart, for the wealth of sea, nations, and peoples will turn toward you. There will come to you

60:6 herds of camels, and camels from Madiam and Gaipha will cover you. They will all come from Saba, bringing gold and carrying frankincense, and they will proclaim the Lord’s salvation as good news.

60:7 All Kedar’s sheep will gather to you, and Nabaioth’s rams will come to you. They will be offered acceptably upon My altar, and My house of prayer will be glorified.

60:8 Who are these flying like clouds and like doves with their young?

60:9 Islands waited for Me, and Tharsis ships among the first, to bring your children from far away, with silver and gold, because of the Lord’s holy name and because Israel’s Holy One is glorious.

60:10 Foreigners will build your walls, and their kings will attend you. For because of My anger I struck you, and because of mercy I loved you.

60:11 Your gates will be opened continually; day and night they will not be shut, to bring you the nations’ resources and kings being led.

60:12 For nations and kings who will not serve you will perish, and the nations will be utterly desolated.

60:13 Lebanon’s glory will come to you in cypress, pine, and cedar together, to glorify My holy place.

60:14 The sons of those who humbled and provoked you will come to you in fear. You will be called the Lord’s City, Zion of Israel’s Holy One.

60:15 Because you became abandoned and hated, with no one helping, I will make you an everlasting exultation, joy for generations upon generations.

60:16 You will suck the nations’ milk and eat kings’ wealth. You will know that I am the Lord who saves and delivers you, Israel’s God.

60:17 Instead of bronze I will bring you gold, instead of iron silver, instead of wood bronze, and instead of stones iron. I will appoint your rulers in peace and your overseers in righteousness.

60:18 Injustice will no longer be heard in your land, nor destruction and misery within your borders. Your walls will be called Salvation, and your gates Engraving.

60:19 The sun will not be your light by day, nor will the rising moon light your night. Instead, the Lord will be your everlasting light and God your glory.

60:20 For your sun will not set, and your moon will not fail. The Lord will be your everlasting light, and your days of mourning will be fulfilled.

60:21 Your people will all be righteous, and they will inherit the land for ever, guarding the planting, the works of His hands, for glory.

60:22 The fewest will become thousands, and the least a great nation. I, the Lord, will gather them at the proper time.

61:2 to announce the Lord’s year of favor and a day of recompense, to comfort all who mourn,

61:3 so that Zion’s mourners may receive glory instead of ashes, an ointment of joy for those who mourn, a robe of glory instead of a spirit of despondency. They will be called Generations of Righteousness, the Lord’s planting, for glory.

61:4 They will rebuild age-old deserts and raise places formerly desolated. They will renew deserted cities laid waste for generations.

61:5 Foreigners will come shepherding your sheep, and people of other nations will be plowmen and vinedressers.

61:6 But you will be called priests of the Lord, ministers of God. You will consume the nations’ resources and be admired in their wealth.

61:7 Thus they will inherit the land a second time, and everlasting joy will be over their head.

61:8 “For I am the Lord who loves righteousness and hates plunder obtained through injustice. I will give their labor’s yield to righteous people and make an everlasting covenant with them.

61:9 Their offspring and descendants will be known among nations. Everyone seeing them will recognize them, because they are offspring blessed by God,

61:10 and they will rejoice greatly in the Lord.” Let my soul exult in the Lord, for He clothed me in a garment of salvation and a tunic of joy. Like a bridegroom He placed a turban on me, and like a bride He adorned me with ornaments.

61:11 As earth increases its flower and a garden its seeds, so the Lord will make righteousness and exultation spring up before all nations.

Isaiah 62

62:1 For Zion I will not be silent, and for Jerusalem I will not let up until My righteousness goes out like light and My salvation burns like a torch.

62:2 Nations will see your righteousness and kings your glory. He will call you your new name, which the Lord will name.

62:3 You will be a crown of beauty in the Lord’s hand and a royal diadem in your God’s hand.

62:4 You will no longer be called Abandoned, nor will your land be called Desert. You will be called My Desire, and your land Inhabited.

62:5 As a young man lives with a virgin, so your sons will dwell with you. As a bridegroom rejoices over a bride, so the Lord will rejoice over you.

62:6 Upon your walls, Jerusalem, I appointed guards all day and all night, who will never be silent as they remember the Lord.

62:7 For there is no one like you, if He restores Jerusalem and makes her a source of pride upon earth.

62:8 The Lord swore by His right hand and the strength of His arm: “I will no longer give your grain and food to your enemies, nor will foreigners drink your wine for which you toiled.

62:9 Instead, those who gather will eat these things and praise the Lord, and those who gather will drink them in My holy dwellings.”

62:10 Go through My gates and make a road for My people. Scatter the stones from the road; raise a signal for the nations!

62:11 For behold, the Lord has made it heard to earth’s farthest end: “Tell daughter Zion, ‘Behold, the savior is arriving for you, bringing His own reward and His work before His face.’”

62:12 He will call it a holy people redeemed by the Lord; but you will be called a sought-out city, not abandoned.

Isaiah 63

63:1 Who is this arriving from Edom, with redness of garments from Bosor, so beautiful in His robe, with force and strength? “I speak righteousness and saving judgment.”

63:2 Why are Thy garments red and Thy clothes as though from a trodden winepress?

63:3 “I am full of what has been trodden. No man from the nations is with Me. I trampled them in wrath, crushed them like earth, and brought their blood down to earth.

63:4 For a day of recompense came upon them, and a year of redemption is here.

63:5 I looked, but there was no helper; I considered, but no one came to aid. My arm rescued them, and My wrath stood by.

63:6 I trampled them in My anger and brought their blood down to earth.”

63:7 I remembered the Lord’s mercy, the Lord’s excellent deeds in everything He repays us. The Lord is a good judge for Israel’s house; He brings upon us according to His mercy and the abundance of His righteousness.

63:8 He said, “Are they not My people, children who will surely not reject Me?” And He became their salvation

63:9 from every affliction. Neither an envoy nor an angel, but the Lord Himself saved them because He loved and spared them. He Himself redeemed them, took them up, and exalted them throughout all the days of the age.

63:10 But they disobeyed and provoked His holy spirit. He turned toward hostility against them and Himself fought them.

63:11 The one who brought the sheep’s shepherd up from earth remembered days of old. Where is the one who placed the holy spirit among them,

63:12 who led Moses by the right hand, the arm of His glory? He overpowered water before Him to make Himself an everlasting name.

63:13 He led them through the abyss like a horse through a wilderness, and they did not grow weary.

63:14 Like livestock through a plain, a spirit from the Lord came down and guided them. So Thou didst lead Thy people to make Thyself a glorious name.

63:15 Turn from heaven and see from Thy holy and glorious house. Where are Thy zeal and strength? Where is the abundance of Thy mercy and compassion, since Thou hast held back from us?

63:16 For Thou art our Father, because Abraham did not know us and Israel did not recognize us. But Thou, Lord, art our Father. Rescue us! From the beginning Thy name has been upon us.

63:17 Why, Lord, didst Thou make us stray from Thy way and harden our hearts so that we do not fear Thee? Return because of Thy servants, because of the tribes of Thine inheritance, 63:18 so that we may inherit a little of Thy holy mountain. Our adversaries trampled Thy sanctuary.

63:19 We became as at the beginning, when Thou didst not rule us and Thy name had not been called upon us. If Thou openest heaven, trembling will seize mountains because of Thee, and they will melt,

Isaiah 64

64:1 like wax melting before fire. Fire will burn up the adversaries, and the Lord's name will become manifest among the adversaries. Nations will be shaken before Thee.

64:2 Whenever Thou dost glorious things, trembling will seize mountains because of Thee.

64:3 From of old we have not heard, nor have our eyes seen a god except Thee and Thy works, which Thou wilt do for those awaiting mercy.

64:4 For He will meet those doing what is just, and they will remember Thy ways. Behold, Thou becamest angry, and we sinned; therefore we went astray.

64:5 We all became like unclean people; all our righteousness is like a menstruating woman's rag. We fell away like leaves because of our lawless deeds; thus wind will carry us off.

64:6 There is no one calling on Thy name or remembering to take hold of Thee, because Thou didst turn Thy face away from us and didst hand us over because of our sins.

64:7 But now, Lord, Thou art our Father, and we are clay, all the work of Thy hands.

64:8 Do not be exceedingly angry with us or remember our sins at the appointed time. And now look, for we are all Thy people.

64:9 The city of Thy holy place became a desert; Zion became like a desert, Jerusalem a curse.

64:10 The house, our holy place, and the glory our ancestors blessed became fire-burned, and all the glorious things collapsed.

64:11 Despite all these things Thou didst hold back, Lord, and keep silent and humble us greatly.

Isaiah 65

65:1 "I became manifest to those not seeking Me; I was found by those not inquiring of Me. I said, 'Here I am,' to the nation that did not call My name.

65:2 I spread out My hands all day to a disobedient, contradicting people who did not walk in a true way but followed their sins.

65:3 This people continually provokes Me to My face. They sacrifice in gardens and burn incense on bricks to demons that do not exist,

65:4 and sleep in tombs and caves for dreams. They eat pig's flesh and sacrificial broth; all their vessels are defiled.

65:5 They say, 'Far away from me! Do not approach me, for I am clean.' This is smoke of My wrath; fire burns in it all the days.

65:6 Behold, it is written before Me: I will not keep silent until I repay into their lap

65:7 their sins and their ancestors' sins," says the Lord, "who burned incense on mountains and insulted Me on hills. I will repay their works into their lap."

65:8 Thus says the Lord: "As a grape is found in the cluster and people say, 'Do not ruin it, for the Lord's blessing is in it,' so I will act for the sake of the one serving Me; for this one's sake I will not destroy everyone.

65:9 I will bring out the offspring from Jacob and from Judah, and it will inherit My holy mountain. My chosen ones and My slaves will inherit and dwell there.

65:10 There will be shelters for flocks in the woodland, and the ravine of Achor will be a resting place for cattle, for My people who sought Me.

65:11 But you who abandoned Me and forget My holy mountain, preparing a table for the demon and filling a mixed drink for Fortune,

65:12 I will hand you over to the sword; all of you will fall in slaughter, because I called you and you did not obey, I spoke and you disregarded Me. You did evil before Me and chose what I did not want."

65:13 Therefore thus says the Lord: "Behold, those serving Me will eat, but you will hunger. Those serving Me will drink, but you will thirst. Those serving Me will rejoice, but you will be ashamed.

65:14 Behold, those serving Me will exult with joy, but you will cry out because of your heart's pain and wail from a broken spirit.

65:15 For you will leave your name as a surfeit for My chosen ones, but the Lord will put you to death. Those serving Him will be called a new name,

65:16 which will be blessed upon earth. For they will bless the true God, and those swearing upon earth will swear by the true God. They will forget their former affliction, and it will not rise into their heart.

65:17 For heaven will be new and earth new, and they will never remember former things, nor will those things enter their heart,

65:18 but they will find joy and exultation in it. For behold, I am making Jerusalem an exultation and My people joy.

65:19 I will exult over Jerusalem and rejoice over My people, and no sound of weeping or crying will ever again be heard in her.

65:20 There will never be one cut off prematurely there, nor an old man who fails to complete his time. For the young person will be a hundred years old, but the sinner who dies will be a hundred years old and accursed.

65:21 They will build houses and inhabit them themselves; they will plant vineyards and eat their own produce.

65:22 They will not build for others to inhabit or plant for others to eat. For My people's days will be like those of the tree of life; they will wear out the works of their labor.

65:23 My chosen ones will not labor in vain or bear children for a curse, because they are offspring blessed by God, and their descendants will be with them.

65:24 Before they cry out I will listen to them; while they are still speaking I will say, 'What is it?'

65:25 Then wolves and lambs will graze together, and a lion will eat straw like an ox, while a serpent will eat earth like bread. They will not wrong or destroy on My holy mountain," says the Lord.

Isaiah 66

66:1 Thus says the Lord: "Heaven is My throne, and earth the footstool of My feet. What sort of house will you build for Me, or what place is My rest?

66:2 For My hand made all these things, and all these things are Mine," says the Lord. "And to whom will I look except the humble and quiet one who trembles at My words?

66:3 But the lawless person who sacrifices a calf to Me is like someone killing a dog; the one offering fine flour is like one offering pig's blood; the one giving frankincense as a memorial is like a blasphemer. These people chose their ways and their abominations, which their soul desired,

66:4 and I will choose their mockeries and repay their sins to them, because I called them and they did not obey Me, I spoke and they did not hear. They did evil before Me and chose what I did not want."

66:5 Hear the Lord's word, you who tremble at His word! Speak, our brothers, to those who hate us and loathe us, so that the Lord's name may be glorified and seen in their rejoicing; and those people will be ashamed.

66:6 A sound of shouting from the city, a sound from the temple, the sound of the Lord repaying recompense to His opponents!

66:7 Before the woman in labor gave birth, before the pain of labor came, she escaped and bore a male.

66:8 Who heard such a thing, and who has seen anything like it? Did a land labor in one day, or was a nation born all at once? For Zion labored and bore her children.

66:9 'But I gave this expectation, and you did not remember Me,' said the Lord. 'Behold, did I not make the woman who gives birth and the barren woman?' said God.

66:10 Rejoice, Jerusalem, and celebrate in her, all who love her! Rejoice with joy, all who mourn over her,

66:11 so that you may nurse and be filled from her comforting breast, so that, nursing fully, you may delight in the entrance of her glory.

66:12 For thus says the Lord: 'Behold, I turn toward them like a river of peace, and like a flooding torrent the glory of nations. Their children will be lifted on shoulders and comforted on knees.

66:13 As if a mother were to comfort someone, so I too will comfort you, and in Jerusalem you will be comforted.'

66:14 You will see, and your heart will rejoice; your bones will spring up like vegetation. The Lord's hand will be known to those who revere Him, and He will threaten the disobedient.

66:15 For behold, the Lord will come like fire, and His chariots like a storm, to render vengeance in wrath and rejection in a flame of fire.

66:16 For by the Lord's fire all the earth will be judged, and by His sword all flesh; many will be wounded by the Lord.

66:17 ‘Those purifying and cleansing themselves for the gardens, eating pig’s flesh and abominations and the mouse in the porches, will be consumed together,’ said the Lord,

66:18 ‘and I know their works and their reasoning. I am coming to gather all nations and languages, and they will come and see My glory.

66:19 I will leave signs upon them and send those saved from them to the nations: to Tharsis, Phoud, Loud, Mosoch, Thobel and Greece, and to the distant islands that have not heard My name or seen My glory. They will announce My glory among the nations.

66:20 They will bring your brothers from all nations as a gift to the Lord, with horses and chariots, in mule carriages with sunshades, to the holy city Jerusalem,’ said the Lord, ‘as the Israelites might bring Me their sacrifices with psalms into the Lord’s house.

66:21 From them I will take priests and Levites for Myself,’ said the Lord.

66:22 ‘For just as the new heaven and new earth that I make remain before Me,’ says the Lord, ‘so your offspring and your name will stand.

66:23 Month after month and Sabbath after Sabbath, all flesh will come before Me to bow down in Jerusalem,’ said the Lord.

66:24 ‘They will go out and see the limbs of the people who transgressed against Me, for their worm will not die and their fire will not be quenched. They will be a spectacle to all flesh.’

Jeremiah

Jeremiah 1

1:1 The word of God that came upon Jeremiah son of Hilkiah, one of the priests, who lived in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin,

1:2 which became God’s word to him in the days of Josiah son of Amos, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

1:3 It also came in the days of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the eleventh year of Zedekiah son of Josiah, king of Judah, until Jerusalem’s captivity in the fifth month.

1:4 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

1:5 Before I formed you in the belly, I know you; before you came out of the womb, I have consecrated you. I have appointed you a prophet to nations.

Note [1]: Jeremiah 1:5 · Meaning and wording · consecrateSet apart the addressed prophet for the stated vocation. Retain the completed consecration and the following appointment to the nations. Explain sanctify here as setting apart; the verb does not alone assert every possible claim about personal sinlessness.Historical comparison. Saints uses consecrated; KJV, Brenton, and DRC use sanctified. The Greek's I know thee is present in the preceding clause, unlike their I knew thee.Providence lexical record PRV-JER-01, 2026-09-26. 1:6 I said, O Master Lord! Behold, I do not know how to speak, because I am young.

1:7 The Lord said to me, Do not say, I am young, because you will go to everyone to whom I send you, and you will speak according to everything I command you.

1:8 Do not fear them, because I am with you to rescue you, says the Lord.

1:9 The Lord stretched out His hand toward me and touched my mouth. The Lord said to me, Behold, I have put My words into your mouth.

1:10 Behold, today I have appointed you over nations and kingdoms, to uproot, demolish, destroy, build and plant.

1:11 The Lord’s word came to me, saying, What do you see, Jeremiah? I said, A nut-wood staff.

1:12 The Lord said to me, You have seen well, because I am watchful over My words to perform them.

1:13 The Lord’s word came to me a second time, saying, What do you see? I said, A cauldron heated from beneath, its face away from the north.

1:14 The Lord said to me, From the north calamities will be kindled upon all who inhabit the land.

1:15 Because behold, I am summoning all the kingdoms from the north of the land, says the Lord. They will come and each set his throne at the forecourts of Jerusalem’s gates, against all her surrounding walls and against all Judah’s cities.

1:16 I will speak to them with judgment concerning all their evil, because they abandoned Me, sacrificed to foreign gods and bowed down to the works of their hands.

1:17 But you, gird your waist, rise and tell them everything I command you. Do not fear them or be terrified before them, because I am with you to rescue you, says the Lord.

1:18 Behold, on this day I have made you like a fortified city and like a strong bronze wall against all Judah’s kings, its rulers and the people of the land,

1:19 and they will fight you, but they will certainly not prevail against you, because I am with you to rescue you, said the Lord.

Jeremiah 2

2:2 And He said, Thus says the Lord: I remembered the mercy of your youth and the love of your completion, when you followed the Holy One of Israel, says the Lord.

2:3 Israel is holy. To the Lord he is the first of His produce. All who devour him will offend; calamities will come upon them, declares the Lord.

2:4 Hear the Lord’s word, house of Jacob and every clan of the house of Israel.

2:5 Thus says the Lord: What offense did your fathers find in Me, that they withdrew far from Me, followed futile things and became futile?

2:6 They did not say, Where is the Lord who brought us up from Egypt’s land, who guided us in the wilderness, in a boundless and impassable land, a waterless and fruitless land, a land through which nothing passed and where no human being lived?

2:7 I brought you into Carmel to eat its fruits and good things, but you entered and polluted My land and made My inheritance an abomination.

2:8 The priests did not say, Where is the Lord? Those holding to the law did not know Me; the shepherds acted ungodly toward Me; the prophets prophesied by Baal and followed what is useless.

2:9 Therefore I will still enter judgment with you, says the Lord, and with your children’s children I will enter judgment.

2:10 Cross over to the islands of Kittim and see; send to Kedar and consider carefully. See whether such things have happened.

2:11 Will nations exchange their gods, though these are not gods? But My people exchanged their glory, from which they will not benefit.

2:12 Heaven was astonished at this and shuddered exceedingly, says the Lord.

2:13 For My people did two evil things: they abandoned Me, a spring of water of life, and dug broken cisterns for themselves that will not be able to hold water.

Note [1]: Jeremiah 2:13 · Meaning and wording · cisternDug reservoirs unable to hold water in the prophetic image. Use cisterns to make the water-storage setting clear, with pits as the broader noun. Preserve the contrast with the spring of water of life and the future inability to retain water.Historical comparison. The three historical English witnesses use cisterns; Saints has broken pits. The context supports the reservoir gloss without requiring a modern tank.Providence lexical record PRV-JER-02, 2026-09-26. 2:14 Is Israel a slave, or is he house-born? Why has he become spoil?

2:15 Lions roared over him and raised their voice. They made his land a wilderness, and his cities were demolished so that none inhabited them.

2:16 The sons of Memphis and Tahpanhes knew you and mocked you.

2:17 Has abandoning Me not brought these things upon you? says the Lord your God.

2:18 Now what do you have to do with Egypt’s road, to drink Gihon’s water? And what do you have to do with the Assyrians’ road, to drink river waters?

2:19 Your apostasy will discipline you, and your evil will rebuke you. Know and see that abandoning Me is bitter for you, says the Lord your God; and I took no pleasure in you, says the Lord your God.

2:20 For long ago you shattered your yoke and tore apart your bonds, and said, I will not be enslaved, but I will go upon every high hill and beneath every shady tree; there I will abandon myself to my prostitution.

2:21 But I planted you as a fruitful vine, wholly genuine. How have you changed into bitterness, you foreign vine?

2:22 Even if you wash with natron and multiply cleansing herb for yourself, you remain stained in your injustices before Me, says the Lord.

2:23 How will you say, I was not polluted and did not follow Baal? See your ways in the burial ground and know what you did. Late her voice wailed; her ways

2:24 she broadened upon wilderness waters. In her soul’s desires she was carried by the wind; she was handed over. Who will turn her back? All who seek her will not toil; in her humiliation they will find her.

2:25 Turn your foot from a rough road and your throat from thirst. But she said, I will be strong, because she had loved strangers and went after them.

2:26 As a thief is ashamed when caught, so the sons of Israel will be ashamed: they, their kings, their rulers, their priests and their prophets.

2:27 They said to wood, You are my father, and to stone, You gave birth to me. They turned their backs toward Me, not their faces; and in the time of their calamities they will say, Rise and save us!

2:28 Where are your gods that you made for yourself? Will they rise and save you in the time of your affliction? For your gods were as numerous as your cities, Judah, and according to the number of Jerusalem’s streets they sacrificed to Baal.

2:29 Why do you speak to Me? All of you acted ungodly, and all of you acted lawlessly against Me, says the Lord.

2:30 In vain I struck your children; you accepted no discipline. A sword devoured your prophets like a destroying lion, and you did not fear.

2:31 Hear the Lord’s word. Thus says the Lord: Have I become a wilderness to Israel, or a land left barren? Why did My people say, We will not be ruled, and we will come to Thee no more?

2:32 Will a bride forget her adornment, or a virgin her breastband? Yet My people forgot Me for days beyond counting.

2:33 What good practice will you still pursue in your ways to seek love? Not so; you too acted wickedly to pollute your ways.

2:34 Even on your hands was found the blood of innocent lives. I did not find them in break-ins, but at every oak.

2:35 And you said, I am innocent; let His fury turn away from me. Behold, I enter judgment with you because you say, I did not sin.

2:36 Why did you show such contempt by repeating your ways? You will also be put to shame by Egypt, as you were put to shame by Assyria.

2:37 For from here too you will go out with your hands on your head, because the Lord rejected your hope, and you will not prosper in it.

Jeremiah 3

3:1 If a man sends his wife away, and she leaves him and becomes another man’s, surely she will not return to him again? Would not that woman be utterly polluted? And you prostituted yourself with many shepherds—and were you returning to Me? says the Lord.

3:2 Lift your eyes straight ahead and see: where have you not been defiled? You sat for them on the roads like a solitary crow, and polluted the land with your prostitution and your evils.

3:3 You had many shepherds as a stumbling block for yourself. You had a prostitute's appearance; you were shameless toward everyone.

3:4 Did you not call Me a household, a father and the leader of your virginity?

3:5 Will He remain for ever, or will it be guarded always? Behold, you spoke and did these evil things and were able.

3:6 The Lord said to me in the days of King Josiah, You saw what the dwelling of Israel did to Me. They went upon every high mountain and beneath every wooded tree and prostituted themselves there.

3:7 After she prostituted herself in all these ways, I said, Return to Me. But she did not return, and faithless Judah saw her faithlessness.

3:8 I saw that, concerning all the things in which the dwelling of Israel was caught committing adultery, I sent her away and gave a certificate of divorce into her hands. Yet faithless Judah did not fear; she too went and prostituted herself.

3:9 Her prostitution came to be regarded as nothing, and she committed adultery with wood and stone.

3:10 In all these things faithless Judah did not return to Me with her whole heart, but in falsehood.

3:11 The Lord said to me, Israel has justified himself in comparison with faithless Judah.

3:12 Go and read these words toward the north: Return to Me, dwelling of Israel, says the Lord. I will not set My face firmly against you, because I am merciful, says the Lord, and I will not be angry with you for ever.

3:13 Only recognize your injustice: you acted ungodly toward the Lord your God and spread your ways to strangers beneath every wooded tree, but you did not obey My voice, says the Lord.

3:14 Return, children who have withdrawn, says the Lord, because I will rule over you. I will take you, one from a city and two from a clan, and bring you into Zion,

3:15 and I will give you shepherds according to My heart, and they will shepherd you, shepherding with knowledge.

3:16 When you multiply and increase upon the land in those days, says the Lord, they will no longer say, The ark of the covenant of the Holy One of Israel. It will not come to mind, be named or be attended to, and it will not be made again.

3:17 In those days and at that time they will call Jerusalem the Lord's throne, and all the nations will gather to her. They will no longer follow the thoughts of their evil heart.

3:18 In those days the house of Judah will join the house of Israel, and together they will come from the northern land and from all the regions to the land I gave their fathers as an inheritance.

3:19 And I said, May it be, Lord! For I will place you among children and give you a chosen land, an inheritance of God Almighty of nations. I said, You will call Me Father and will not turn away from Me.

3:20 But as a woman deals faithlessly with the one living with her, so the house of Israel dealt faithlessly with Me, says the Lord.

3:21 A voice was heard from lips, the weeping and supplication of Israel's children, because they acted unjustly in their ways and forgot their holy God.

3:22 Return, returning children, and I will heal your fractures. Behold, we will be Thy servants, because Thou art the Lord our God.

3:23 Truly the hills and the power of the mountains were false; but through the Lord our God is Israel's salvation.

3:24 Shame consumed our fathers' labors from our youth: their sheep and calves, their sons and daughters.

3:25 We lay down in our shame, and our dishonor covered us, because we sinned before our God, we and our fathers, from our youth until this day, and did not obey the voice of the Lord our God.

Jeremiah 4

4:1 If Israel returns, says the Lord, he will return to Me; if he removes his abominations from his mouth and shows reverence before Me,

4:2 and swears, 'The Lord lives,' with truth and in judgment and righteousness, then nations will bless in her, and in Him they will praise God in Jerusalem.

4:3 For thus says the Lord to the men of Judah and those dwelling in Jerusalem: Break up fallow ground for yourselves, and do not sow among thorns.

4:4 Be circumcised to your God, and circumcise your hardness of heart, men of Judah and those dwelling in Jerusalem, lest My fury come out like fire and burn, and there be no one to extinguish it because of the evil of your practices.

4:5 Announce in Judah, and let it be heard in Jerusalem; say: Signal with a trumpet over the land, and cry loudly! Say: Gather, and let us enter the walled cities!

4:6 Take up and flee to Zion; hurry, do not stand still, for I am bringing evils from the north and great crushing.

4:7 A lion has gone up from his enclosure; destroying nations, he has set out and left his place to make the land a desolation, and cities will be demolished so that they are not inhabited.

4:8 For these things, gird yourselves with sackcloth, beat yourselves in mourning and wail, because the Lord's fury has not turned away from you.

4:9 And it will be on that day, says the Lord: the king's heart and the rulers' heart will perish, and the priests will be beside themselves and the prophets astonished.

4:10 And I said: O Master, Lord, surely Thou hast indeed deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, 'You will have peace,' and behold, the sword has reached to their soul!

4:11 At that time they will say to this people and Jerusalem: A spirit of wandering in the wilderness; the daughter of My people's way is not toward purity or holiness.

4:12 A spirit of filling will come to Me; but now I speak judgments against them.

4:13 Behold, he will come up like a cloud, and his chariots like a storm; his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us, because we suffer misery!

4:14 Wash your heart clean of evil, Jerusalem, so that you may be saved. How long will the schemes of your troubles exist within you?

4:15 For the voice of one announcing will come from Dan, and trouble will be heard from Mount Ephraim.

4:16 Remind the nations: Behold, they have come! Announce in Jerusalem: Bands come from a distant land and have raised their voice against the cities of Judah.

4:17 Like those guarding a field they came against her all around, because you neglected Me, says the Lord.

4:18 Your ways and your practices have done these things to you. This is your evil: it is bitter; it has reached to your heart.

4:19 My belly, my belly, I am in pain, and the senses of my heart! My soul rages, my heart is torn; I will not be silent, because my soul heard the sound of a trumpet, a cry of war.

4:20 It calls out misery and crushing, because the whole land has suffered misery; suddenly the tent has suffered misery, and my tent coverings have been torn apart.

4:21 How long will I see people fleeing while hearing the sound of trumpets?

4:22 For the leaders of My people did not know Me; they are foolish sons and not discerning. They are wise at doing evil, but did not learn to do well.

4:23 I looked upon the earth, and behold, nothing; and into heaven, and its lights were not there.

4:24 I saw the mountains, and they were trembling, and all the hills were being shaken.

4:25 I looked, and behold, there was no human, and all the birds of heaven were terrified.

4:26 I saw, and behold, Carmel was a wilderness, and all the cities were burned with fire before the Lord, and they vanished before His furious anger.

4:27 Thus says the Lord: The whole land will be a wilderness, but I will certainly not make a complete end.

4:28 For these things let the earth mourn and let heaven above grow dark, because I have spoken and will not change My mind; I have set Myself in motion and will not turn back from it.

4:29 At the sound of a horseman and a drawn bow the whole countryside withdrew; they entered caves and hid in groves and climbed onto the rocks. Every city was abandoned; no human dwells in them.

4:30 And you, what will you do if you put on scarlet and adorn yourself with golden ornaments, and if you paint your eyes with antimony? Your adornment is in vain; your lovers have rejected you; they seek your soul.

4:31 For I heard a voice like a woman in labor, your groaning like one giving birth for the first time, the voice of the daughter of Zion. She will grow faint and let her hands fall: Woe to me, because my soul fails over those killed!

Jeremiah 5

5:1 Run through Jerusalem's streets and see and learn, and search her squares: if you find a man, if there is one doing justice and seeking faithfulness, then I will be merciful to them, says the Lord.

5:2 They say, 'The Lord lives'; do they not therefore swear on falsehoods?

5:3 Lord, Thine eyes are toward faithfulness. Thou didst scourge them, and they did not suffer; Thou broughtest them to an end, and they would not accept instruction. They hardened their faces beyond rock and would not return.

5:4 And I said: Perhaps they are poor, because they had no ability, because they did not know the Lord's way and God's judgment.

5:5 I will go to the prosperous and speak to them, for they recognized the Lord's way and God's judgment. And behold, with one accord they broke the yoke and tore the bonds.

5:6 Therefore a lion from the woodland struck them, and a wolf destroyed them as far as the houses, and a leopard kept watch over their cities. All who leave them will be hunted, because they multiplied their impieties and grew strong in their turnings away.

5:7 For which of these things should I be merciful to you? Your sons abandoned Me and swore by those who are not gods. And I fed them fully, and they committed adultery and lodged in prostitutes' houses.

5:8 They became horses mad for mares; each neighed after his neighbor's wife.

5:9 Shall I not visit for these things? says the Lord. Or will not My soul take vengeance on such a nation?

5:10 Go up against her battlements and tear them down, but do not make a complete end. Leave her supports, because they belong to the Lord.

5:11 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have utterly rejected Me, says the Lord.

5:12 They lied to their own Lord and said: These things are not so; evils will not come upon us, and we will not see sword or famine.

5:13 Our prophets became wind, and the Lord's word was not in them. Thus it will be for them.

5:14 Therefore thus says the Lord Almighty: Because you spoke this utterance, behold, I have made My words fire in your mouth, and this people wood, and it will devour them.

5:15 Behold, I am bringing a nation upon you from far away, house of Israel, says the Lord, a nation whose language's sound you will not understand.

5:16 All are strong,

5:17 and they will devour your harvest and your bread, and devour your sons and daughters, and devour your sheep and calves, and devour your vineyards and fig orchards and olive groves; and with a sword they will thresh your fortified cities, in which you have trusted.

5:18 And it will be in those days, says the Lord your God: I will certainly not bring you to a complete end.

5:19 And when you say, 'For what reason has the Lord our God done all these things to us?' you will say to them: Because you served foreign gods in your land, so you will serve foreigners in a land not yours.

5:20 Announce these things to the house of Jacob, and let it be heard in Judah.

5:21 Hear these things now, foolish and senseless people: they have eyes and do not see; they have ears and do not hear.

5:22 Will you not fear Me? says the Lord. Or will you not show reverence before Me, who appointed sand as the sea's boundary, an eternal command it will not cross? It will be stirred and will not prevail, and its waves will roar, and it will not cross it.

5:23 But this people acquired an unheeding and disobedient heart, and they turned aside and went away.

5:24 And they did not say in their heart: Let us fear the Lord our God, who gives us early and late rain at the time of fulfillment of the harvest's command, and He kept it for us.

5:25 Your lawless acts turned these things aside, and your sins removed good things from you.

5:26 For impious people were found among My people, and they set traps to destroy men and were catching them.

5:27 Like a set trap full of birds, so their houses are full of deceit; therefore they became great and rich.

5:28 And they transgressed judgment; they did not judge an orphan's case, and they were not judging a widow's case.

5:29 Shall I not visit for these things? says the Lord. Or will not My soul take vengeance on such a nation?

5:30 Astonishment and horrifying things happened upon the land:

5:31 The prophets prophesy unjust things, and the priests applauded with their hands, and My people loved it so. And what will you do after these things?

Jeremiah 6

6:1 Take courage, sons of Benjamin, from within Jerusalem, and signal with a trumpet in Tekoa, and raise a sign above Beth-haccherem, because evils have looked out from the north, and great crushing is taking place,

6:2 and your height will be taken away, daughter of Zion.

6:3 Shepherds and their flocks will come to her, and they will pitch tents against her all around, and each will shepherd with his own hand.

6:4 Prepare yourselves for war against her! Rise, and let us go up against her at noon! Woe to us, because the day has declined, because evening's shadows are failing!

6:5 Rise, and let us go up in the night and destroy her foundations!

6:6 For thus says the Lord: Cut down her trees; pour out a force upon Jerusalem. O false city, all oppression is within her!

6:7 As a cistern cools water, so her evil cools; impiety and misery will be heard in her, continually before her. With pain and scourging

6:8 you will be instructed, Jerusalem, lest My soul depart from you, lest I make you an impassable land that will not be inhabited.

6:9 For thus says the Lord: Glean, glean Israel’s remnants like a vine; turn back like the grape-gatherer to his basket.

6:10 To whom shall I speak and testify, and he will hear? Behold, their ears are uncircumcised, and they cannot hear. Behold, the Lord’s utterance became a reproach to them; they certainly will not wish to hear it.

6:11 And I filled up My fury and held back and did not bring them to an end. I will pour it upon little children outside and upon a gathering of young men together, because man and woman will be seized, the elder with one full of days.

6:12 And their houses will be transferred to others, fields and their wives together, because I will stretch out My hand against those dwelling in this land, says the Lord.

6:13 For from their small to their great, all have carried out lawless deeds; from priest to false prophet, all have done false things.

6:14 And they treated My people’s fracture with contempt, saying, ‘Peace, peace’; and where is peace?

6:15 They were put to shame because they failed, and even so they were not at all ashamed and did not recognize their dishonor. Therefore they will fall in their fall, and at the time of their visitation they will perish, said the Lord.

6:16 Thus says the Lord: Stand upon the roads and see, and ask for the Lord’s eternal paths and see which is the good way, and walk in it, and you will find purification for your souls. And they said, ‘We will not go.’

6:17 I have appointed watchers over you: Hear the trumpet’s sound! And they said, ‘We will not hear.’

6:18 Therefore the nations heard, and those shepherding their flocks.

6:19 Hear, earth! Behold, I am bringing evils upon this people, the fruit of their turning away, because they did not attend to My words and rejected My law.

6:20 Why do you bring Me frankincense from Sheba and cinnamon from a distant land? Your whole burnt offerings are not acceptable, and your sacrifices did not please Me.

6:21 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I am placing weakness upon this people, and fathers and sons together will become weak in it; neighbor and his neighbor will perish.

6:22 Thus says the Lord: Behold, a people comes from the north, and nations will be roused from the earth’s extremity.

6:23 They will grasp bow and spear; it is ruthless and will show no mercy. Its voice is like a surging sea; on horses and chariots it will draw up like fire for war against you, daughter of Zion.

6:24 We heard the report of them; our hands were paralyzed. Affliction seized us, labor pains like a woman giving birth.

6:25 Do not go out into a field or walk on the roads, because the enemies’ sword dwells all around.

6:26 Daughter of My people, gird yourself with sackcloth; sprinkle yourself with ashes. Make mourning for yourself for a beloved one, a pitiful lament, because misery will suddenly come upon you.

6:27 I have made you a tester among tested peoples, and you will know Me when I test their way.

6:28 All are unheeding, walking crookedly, bronze and iron; all are corrupted.

6:29 The bellows failed from the fire; the lead failed. In vain the silversmith works silver; their wickedness was not melted away.

6:30 Call them rejected silver, because the Lord rejected them.

Jeremiah 7

7:2 Hear the Lord’s word, all Judea!

7:3 Thus says the Lord, Israel’s God: Correct your ways and your practices, and I will settle you in this place.

7:4 Do not put your confidence in yourselves on false words, because they will not benefit you at all when they say, ‘The Lord’s temple, the Lord’s temple it is.’

7:5 For if you truly correct your ways and practices and truly execute judgment between a man and his neighbor,

7:6 and do not oppress a newcomer, orphan, or widow, and do not shed innocent blood in this place, and do not follow foreign gods to your own harm,

7:7 then I will settle you in this place, in the land I gave your fathers, from age to age.

7:8 But if you have trusted false words from which you will receive no benefit,

7:9 and murder and commit adultery and steal and swear unjustly, and you burned incense to Baal and followed foreign gods whom you do not know, to your own harm,

7:10 and you came and stood before Me in the house over which My name has been called and said, ‘We have kept away, so as not to do all these abominations,’

7:11 is My house, over which My name has been called there, a den of robbers before you? And behold, I have seen, says the Lord.

7:12 For go to My place in Shiloh, where I formerly made My name dwell, and see what I did to it because of the evil of My people Israel.

7:13 And now, because you did all these works, and I spoke to you and you did not hear Me, and I called you and you did not answer,

7:14 I will also do to this house over which My name has been called, in which you have trusted, and to the place I gave you and your fathers, as I did to Shiloh.

7:15 And I will throw you away from My presence, as I threw away your brothers, all Ephraim’s offspring.

7:16 And you, do not pray for this people, and do not ask that they receive mercy, and do not pray or approach Me on their behalf, because I will not listen.

7:17 Do you not see what they are doing in Judah’s cities and Jerusalem’s streets?

7:18 Their sons gather wood, and their fathers burn a fire, and their women work dough to make cakes for heaven’s host; and they poured drink offerings to foreign gods to provoke Me to anger.

7:19 Is it Me they provoke to anger? says the Lord. Is it not themselves, so that their faces are put to shame?

7:20 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, My wrath and fury are poured upon this place, upon the people and the livestock, upon every tree of their field and all the earth’s produce; and it will burn and not be extinguished.

7:21 Thus says the Lord: Gather your whole burnt offerings with your sacrifices, and eat meat!

7:22 For I did not speak to your fathers or command them on the day I brought them up from Egypt’s land concerning whole burnt offerings and sacrifice.

7:23 But this utterance I commanded them, saying: Hear My voice, and I will be your God and you will be My people; and walk in all My ways that I command you, so that it may be well with you.

7:24 And they did not hear Me, and their ear did not attend, but they walked in the thoughts of their evil heart and went backward rather than forward.

7:25 From the day their fathers left Egypt’s land until this day, I sent out to you all My servants the prophets by day and at dawn, and I sent them.

7:26 And they did not hear Me, and their ear did not attend, and they hardened their neck beyond their fathers.

7:27–28 And you will say this word to them: This is the nation that did not hear the Lord’s voice or accept instruction; faithfulness failed from their mouth.

7:29 Shear your head and cast it away, and take up a lament on your lips, because the Lord rejected and thrust away the generation doing these things.

7:30 For Judah’s sons did evil before Me, says the Lord; they set their abominations in the house over which My name has been called, to defile it.

7:31 And they built Topheth’s altar, which is in the ravine of the son of Hinnom, to burn up their sons and daughters in fire, which I did not command them and did not conceive in My heart.

7:32 Therefore behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and they will no longer say Topheth’s Altar or Ravine of the Son of Hinnom, but Ravine of the Slain; and they will bury in Topheth because there is no space.

7:33 And this people’s dead will be food for heaven’s birds and the earth’s wild beasts, and there will be no one to drive them off.

7:34 And I will stop the sound of those rejoicing and the sound of those glad, the voice of bridegroom and the voice of bride, from Judah’s cities and Jerusalem’s thoroughfares, because the whole land will become a desolation.

Jeremiah 8

8:1 At that time, says the Lord, they will bring the bones of Judah’s kings and the bones of its rulers and the bones of the priests and the bones of the prophets and the bones of those dwelling in Jerusalem out of their tombs,

8:2 and expose them to cool before the sun and moon and all the stars and all heaven’s host, which they loved and served and followed and clung to and bowed down to. They will not be mourned or buried, and they will be an example upon the earth’s surface,

8:3 because they chose death rather than life, and for all the remnants left from that generation in every place where I drive them away.

8:4 For thus says the Lord: Does one who falls not rise? Or does one who turns away not return?

8:5 Why has this people of Mine turned away with a shameless turning away, and been held fast in their own choice, and been unwilling to return?

8:6 Give ear now and hear: they will not speak thus; there is no person repenting of his evil, saying, ‘What have I done?’ The runner ceased from his course like a sweating horse in its neighing.

8:7 Even the stork in heaven knew her time; turtledove and swallow, field sparrows, kept the times of their coming, but My people did not know the Lord’s judgments.

8:8 How will you say, ‘We are wise, and the Lord’s law is with us’? A false reed-pen came to be in vain for scribes.

8:9 The wise were ashamed and terrified and captured, because they rejected the Lord’s word. What wisdom is in them?

8:10 Therefore I will give their wives to others and their fields to inheritors,

8:13 and they will gather their produce, says the Lord. There is no grape on the vines and no figs on the fig trees, and the leaves have fallen.

8:14 Why are we sitting? Gather, and let us enter the fortified cities and be cast away, because God cast us away and made us drink gall-water, because we sinned before Him.

8:15 We gathered for peace, and there were no good things; for a time of healing, and behold, haste!

8:16 From Dan we will hear the shrill sound of his horses; at the sound of the neighing of his riding horses the whole earth shook. And he will come and devour the earth and its fullness, a city and those dwelling in it.

8:17 Because behold, I am sending out among you deadly snakes that cannot be charmed, and they will bite you.

8:18 Incurable things, with pain, while your heart is bewildered.

8:19 Behold, the crying voice of the daughter of My people from a distant land: ‘Is the Lord not in Zion? Is a King not there?’ Why did they provoke Me with their carved things and foreign futile things?

8:20 Summer passed, harvest went by, and we were not delivered.

8:21 At the crushing of the daughter of My people I was darkened; in bewilderment, pains like a woman giving birth overpowered me.

8:22 Is there no resin in Gilead, or is there no physician there? Why did healing not rise for the daughter of My people?

8:23 Who will give my head water and my eyes a fountain of tears, and I will weep day and night for this people of Mine, for the wounded of the daughter of My people?

Jeremiah 9

9:1 Who would give me a remote station in the wilderness, and I will leave my people and go away from them? For all commit adultery, an assembly of those rejecting faithfulness.

9:2 And they stretched their tongue like a bow; falsehood and not faithfulness grew strong upon the earth, because they went from evils to evils and did not know Me.

9:3 Each of you, guard against his neighbor, and do not put trust in their brothers, because every brother will trip with the heel, and every friend will walk deceitfully.

9:4 Each will mock his friend; they certainly will not speak truth. Their tongue has learned to speak false things; they did wrong and did not cease turning back.

9:5 Interest upon interest, deceit upon deceit: they were unwilling to know Me.

9:6 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I will put them through fire and test them, because I will act on account of the evil of the daughter of My people.

9:7 Their tongue is a wounding missile; the utterances of their mouth are deceitful. One speaks peaceful things to his neighbor, and within himself he holds enmity.

9:8 Shall I not visit for these things? says the Lord. Or will not My soul take vengeance on such a people?

9:9 Take up mourning for the mountains and a dirge for the wilderness paths, because they failed for lack of people. They did not hear the sound of possessions; from heaven’s birds to livestock, they were displaced and went away.

9:10 And I will give Jerusalem over to deportation and as a dwelling of dragons, and make Judah’s cities disappear, so that they are not inhabited.

9:11 Who is the discerning person? Let him understand this; and the one to whom the word of the Lord’s mouth comes, let him announce it to you: for what reason did the land perish, kindled like a wilderness so that no one passes through it?

9:12 And the Lord said to me: Because they abandoned My law that I set before them and did not hear My voice,

9:13 but walked after the things pleasing to their evil heart and after the idols that their fathers taught them,

9:14 therefore thus says the Lord, Israel's God: Behold, I will feed them distresses and make them drink gall-water,

9:15 and I will scatter them among nations that neither they nor their fathers knew, and send the sword upon them until I consume them by it.

9:16 Thus says the Lord: Call the women who lament, and let them come; send for the skilled women, and let them speak, 9:17 and let them take up a dirge over you; let your eyes bring down tears, and let your eyelids flow with water.

9:18 For a voice of lament was heard in Zion: How we suffered misery and were greatly ashamed, because we abandoned the land and threw away our dwellings!

9:19 Hear God's word now, women, and let your ears receive His mouth's words; teach your daughters lament, and each woman her neighbor a dirge.

9:20 For death climbed through your windows and entered your land, to wipe out little children outside and young men from the squares.

9:21 And people's dead will become an example on the surface of your land's plain, and like grass behind one reaping, and there will be no one gathering.

9:22 Thus says the Lord: Let no wise man boast in his wisdom, let no strong man boast in his strength, and let no rich man boast in his wealth,

9:23 but let whoever boasts boast in this: understanding and knowing that I am the Lord, doing mercy and judgment and righteousness upon the earth, because in these is My will, says the Lord.

9:24 Behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and I will visit all who have been circumcised in their foreskins:

9:25 Egypt and Judea and Edom and the sons of Ammon and the sons of Moab and everyone who clips the hair around his face, those dwelling in the wilderness; because all the nations are uncircumcised in flesh, and all Israel's house are uncircumcised in their hearts.

Jeremiah 10

10:1 Hear the Lord's word that He spoke concerning you, house of Israel.

10:2 Thus says the Lord: Do not learn according to the nations' ways, and do not fear heaven's signs, because they fear them before their faces.

10:3 For the nations' customs are futile: it is wood cut from the woodland, a carpenter's work and a cast object.

10:4 They are adorned with silver and gold; with hammers and nails they fastened them, and they will not move.

10:5 They must be lifted and carried, because they will not take a step. Do not fear them, because they certainly will not do evil, and no good is in them.

10:9 It is worked silver; they will not walk. Applied silver will come from Tarshish, gold from Mophaz, and the goldsmiths' hand; all are artisans' works. They will dress them in blue and purple.

10:11 This is what you will say to them: Gods who did not make heaven and earth, let them perish from the earth and from beneath this heaven.

10:12 The Lord who made the earth by His strength, who set the inhabited world upright by His wisdom, also stretched out heaven by His understanding,

10:13 and an abundance of water in heaven; and He brought clouds up from the earth's extremity, made lightning for rain, and brought light out of His treasuries.

10:14 Every human became foolish, without knowledge; every goldsmith was put to shame at his carved things, because they cast false things; there is no spirit in them.

10:15 They are futile, mocked works; at the time of their visitation they will perish.

10:16 Jacob's portion is not such as this, because the One who formed everything is himself his inheritance; Lord is His name.

10:17 He gathered your possessions from outside, you who dwell among chosen ones.

10:18 For thus says the Lord: Behold, I am tripping those dwelling in this land with affliction, so that your wound may be found.

10:19 Woe for your crushing! Your wound is painful. And I said: Truly this is my wound, and it has seized me.

10:20 My tent suffered misery and perished, and all my tent coverings were torn apart. My sons and my sheep are no more; there is no longer a place for my tent, a place for my coverings.

10:21 For the shepherds acted foolishly and did not seek the Lord; therefore all the pasture did not perceive, and they were scattered.

10:22 A sound of a report—behold, it comes! And a great shaking from the northern land, to lay Judah's cities waste and make them a resting place for ostriches.

10:23 I know, Lord, that a human's way does not belong to him, nor will a man go and make his course straight.

10:24 Instruct us, Lord, but with judgment and not in fury, so that Thou dost not make us few.

10:25 Pour Thy fury upon nations who do not know Thee and upon generations who did not call on Thy name, because they devoured Jacob and consumed him and made his pasture desolate.

Jeremiah 11

11:1 The word that came from the Lord to Jeremiah, saying:

11:2 Hear the words of this covenant. And you will speak to the men of Judah and those dwelling in Jerusalem,

11:3 and you will say to them: Thus says the Lord, Israel's God: Cursed is the person who will not hear the words of this covenant,

11:4 which I commanded your fathers on the day I brought them up from Egypt's land, from the iron furnace, saying: Hear My voice and do everything I command you, and you will be My people and I will be your God,

11:5 so that I may establish My oath that I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as on this day. And I answered and said: May it be, Lord.

11:6 And the Lord said to me: Read these words in Judah's cities and outside Jerusalem, saying: Hear the words of this covenant and do them.

11:8 And they did not do them.

11:9 And the Lord said to me: A conspiracy was found among Judah's men and those dwelling in Jerusalem.

11:10 They returned to the injustices of their earlier fathers, who would not listen to My words; and behold, they walk after foreign gods to serve them. And the house of Israel and the house of Judah shattered My covenant that I established with their fathers.

11:11 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I am bringing evils upon this people from which they will not be able to escape; and they will cry to Me, and I will not listen to them.

11:12 And Judah's cities and those dwelling in Jerusalem will go and cry to the gods to whom they burn incense. Will those gods save them in the time of their evils?

11:13 For your gods were according to the number of your cities, Judah; and according to the number of Jerusalem's exits you set up altars to burn incense to Baal.

11:14 And you, do not pray for this people or petition for them with supplication and prayer, because I will not listen when they call upon Me, in their time of affliction.

11:15 Why has the beloved woman committed an abomination in My house? Will prayers and holy meats remove your evils from you, or will you escape by these?

11:16 The Lord called your name a beautiful olive tree, well-shaded in appearance. At the sound of its pruning, fire was kindled upon it; great is the affliction upon you, and its branches became useless.

11:17 And the Lord who planted you spoke evils against you in return for the evil of the house of Israel and the house of Judah, because they acted for themselves to provoke Me by burning incense to Baal.

11:18 Lord, make it known to me, and I will know; then I saw their practices.

11:19 But I, like a guileless lamb led to be slaughtered, did not know. Against me they devised an evil design, saying: Come, let us put wood into his bread and wipe him out from the land of the living, and his name will certainly be remembered no more.

11:20 Lord, who judges justly, who tests kidneys and hearts, may I see the vengeance from Thee upon them, because to Thee I revealed my claim of right.

11:21 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the men of Anathoth who seek my soul, who say: You must certainly not prophesy in the Lord's name; otherwise you will die by our hands.

11:22 Behold, I will visit them; their young men will die by the sword, and their sons and daughters will end their lives in famine,

11:23 and no remnant of them will remain, because I will bring evils upon those dwelling in Anathoth in the year of their visitation.

Jeremiah 12

12:1 Thou art righteous, Lord, as I make my defense before Thee; nevertheless I will speak judgments with Thee. Why does the impious person's way prosper? Why did all who commit acts of rejection flourish?

12:2 Thou didst plant them, and they took root; they produced children and bore fruit. Thou art near their mouth and far from their kidneys.

12:3 And Thou, Lord, knowest me; Thou hast tested my heart before Thee. Purify them for their day of slaughter.

12:4 How long will the earth mourn and all the field's grass dry up because of the evil of those dwelling in it? Livestock and birds vanished, because they said, 'God will not see our ways.'

12:5 Your feet run and exhaust you; how will you prepare yourself against horses? And in a land of peace you have confidence; how will you fare in the Jordan's raging?

12:6 For even your brothers and your father's house rejected you, and they shouted; they gathered behind you. Do not trust them, because they will speak good things to you.

12:7 I have abandoned My house, let go My inheritance, and given My beloved soul into her enemies' hands.

12:8 My inheritance became to Me like a lion in woodland; she raised her voice against Me, therefore I hated her.

12:9 Is My inheritance to Me a hyena's cave, or a cave around her? Go, gather all the field's wild beasts, and let them come to eat her!

12:10 Many shepherds ruined My vineyard, defiled My portion, and made My desirable portion an impassable wilderness.

12:11 It was reduced to ruin and destruction; because of Me the whole land utterly vanished, because there is no man who lays it to heart.

12:12 Upon every passage through the wilderness those bringing misery came, because the Lord's sword will devour from one end of the earth to the other; there is no peace for any flesh.

12:13 Sow wheat and harvest thorns! Their allotments will not benefit them. Be ashamed of your boasting, of reproach before the Lord.

12:14 For thus says the Lord concerning all the evil neighbors who touch My inheritance that I apportioned to My people Israel: Behold, I am tearing them from their land, and I will cast Judah out from their midst.

12:15 And after I cast them out, I will return and have mercy on them and settle each in his inheritance and each in his land.

12:16 And if they truly learn My people's way, to swear by My name, 'The Lord lives,' as they taught My people to swear by Baal, then they will be built up in the midst of My people.

12:17 But if they do not return, I will remove that nation with removal and destruction.

Jeremiah 13

13:1 Thus says the Lord: Go, acquire a linen waistcloth for yourself, and put it around your waist, and it will not pass through water.

13:2 And I acquired the waistcloth according to the Lord's word and put it around my waist.

13:3 And the Lord's word came to me, saying:

13:4 Take the waistcloth around your waist, and rise and go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in the rock's opening.

13:5 And I went and hid it at the Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

13:6 And after many days the Lord said to me: Rise, go to the Euphrates, and take from there the waistcloth that I commanded you to hide there.

13:7 And I went to the Euphrates River and dug and took the waistcloth from the place where I had buried it. And behold, it was ruined, so that it could certainly be used for nothing.

13:8 And the Lord's word came to me, saying:

13:9 Thus says the Lord: Thus I will ruin Judah's arrogance and Jerusalem's arrogance,

13:10 this great arrogance, those unwilling to obey My words and who went after foreign gods to serve them and bow down to them; and they will be like this waistcloth, which will be used for nothing.

13:11 For just as the waistcloth clings around a man's waist, so I made Israel's house and all Judah's house cling to Myself, to become for Me a renowned people, a boast and a glory; and they did not listen to Me.

13:12 And you will say to this people: Every wineskin will be filled with wine. And if they say to you, 'Do we not surely know that every wineskin will be filled with wine?'

13:13 then you will say to them: Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am filling those dwelling in this land, and their kings, David's sons who sit on his throne, and the priests and prophets and Judah and all those dwelling in Jerusalem, with intoxication,

13:14 and I will scatter them, a man and his brother, their fathers and their sons together. I will not yearn for them, says the Lord, nor spare nor pity them so as to withhold their destruction.

13:15 Hear and give ear, and do not exalt yourselves, because the Lord has spoken.

13:16 Give glory to the Lord your God before darkness comes and before your feet stumble on dark mountains; you will wait for light, and there is death's shadow, and they will be placed in darkness.

13:17 But if you do not hear, your soul will weep in secret because of arrogance, and your eyes will bring down tears, because the Lord's flock was crushed.

13:18 Say to the king and those exercising power: Humble yourselves and sit down, because your crown of glory was taken down from your head.

13:19 The southern cities were shut, and there was no one opening them. Judah was deported; a complete deportation was accomplished.

13:20 Lift your eyes, Jerusalem, and see those coming from the north. Where is the flock given to you, the sheep of your glory?

13:21 What will you say when they visit you? And you taught them lessons against yourself for rule. Will not labor pains seize you like a woman giving birth?

13:22 And if you say in your heart, 'Why have these things happened to me?' because of your great injustice your backside was uncovered, so that your heels were put on display.

13:23 If an Ethiopian changes his skin and a leopard her markings, then you too will be able to do well, having learned evil things.

13:24 And I scattered them like brushwood carried by wind into a wilderness.

13:25 This is your lot and portion for your disobeying Me, says the Lord, because you forgot Me and hoped in falsehoods.

Note [1]: Jeremiah 13:25 · Wording · grammatical numberSingular thy lot and thou forgotest surround plural your disobeying. 13:26 And I will uncover your backside over your face, and your dishonor will be seen.

13:27 And your adultery and your neighing and the estrangement of your prostitution—on the hills and in the fields I have seen your abominations. Woe to you, Jerusalem, because you were not cleansed after Me! How much longer?

Jeremiah 14

14:1 And the Lord's word came to Jeremiah concerning the lack of rain:

14:2 Judea mourned, and her gates were emptied and darkened upon the earth, and Jerusalem's cry rose.

14:3 Her magnates sent their younger ones for water; they came to wells and found no water and brought back their vessels empty.

14:4 And the land's works failed because there was no rain; the farmers were ashamed and covered their heads.

14:5 And deer in the field gave birth and abandoned their young, because there was no pasture.

14:6 Wild donkeys stood in wooded valleys; they drew in wind, their eyes failed, because there was no grass, because of a people of injustice.

14:7 If our sins stood against us, Lord, act for us for Thine own sake, because our sins before Thee are many, because we sinned against Thee.

14:8 Israel's patient expectation, Lord, Thou savest in a time of evils; why didst Thou become like a sojourner upon the earth and like a native turning aside to a lodging?

14:9 Wilt Thou be like a sleeping man, or like a man unable to save? Yet Thou art among us, Lord, and Thy name has been called over us; do not forget us.

14:10 Thus says the Lord to this people: They loved to move their feet and did not restrain them, and God was not pleased with them; now He will remember their injustices.

14:11 And the Lord said to me: Do not pray for good things for this people,

14:12 because if they fast, I will not listen to their supplication, and if they bring whole burnt offerings and sacrifices, I will not be pleased with them, because by sword and famine and death I will bring them to an end.

14:13 And I said: O Lord, behold, their prophets prophesy and say, 'You will not see sword, nor will famine be among you, because I will give truth and peace upon the land and in this place.'

14:14 And the Lord said to me: The prophets prophesy false things in My name; I did not send them or command them or speak to them, because they prophesy false visions, divinations, omens, and their heart's choices to you.

14:15 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the prophets prophesying false things in My name, though I did not send them, who say, 'Sword and famine will not be upon this land': They will die a diseased death, and the prophets will be consumed by famine.

14:16 And the people to whom they prophesy will be thrown into Jerusalem's thoroughfares because of sword and famine, and there will be no one burying them, and their wives and sons and daughters; and I will pour their evils upon them.

14:17 And you will say this word to them: Bring tears down upon your eyes day and night, and let them not cease, because the daughter of My people was utterly crushed, with a very painful wound.

14:18 If I go out to the plain, behold, those wounded by the sword; and if I enter the city, behold, the pain of famine! For priest and prophet went to a land they did not know.

14:19 Hast Thou utterly rejected Judah, and has Thy soul departed from Zion? Why didst Thou strike us, and there is no healing for us? We waited for peace, and there were no good things; for a time of healing, and behold, turmoil!

14:20 We recognized, Lord, our sins and our fathers' injustices, because we sinned before Thee.

14:21 Abate for Thy name's sake; do not destroy Thy throne of glory. Remember; do not shatter Thy covenant with us.

14:22 Is there among the nations' idols one who brings rain? Can heaven give its fullness? Is it not Thou Thyself? And we will wait for Thee, because Thou madest all these things.

Jeremiah 15

15:1 And the Lord said to me: If Moses and Samuel stand before Me, My soul is not toward them. Send this people away, and let them go out.

15:2 And if they say to you, 'Where shall we go out?' you will say to them: Thus says the Lord: As many as are for death, to death; as many for sword, to sword; as many for famine, to famine; as many for captivity, to captivity.

15:3 And I will exact vengeance upon them in four kinds, says the Lord: the sword for slaughter, dogs for tearing apart, the earth's wild beasts and heaven's birds for eating and destruction.

15:4 And I will hand them over to distresses for all the earth's kingdoms because of Manasseh son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, concerning all he did in Jerusalem.

15:5 Who will spare you, Jerusalem? Who will be afraid for you? Or who will turn back for your peace?

15:6 You turned away from Me, says the Lord; you will go backward. And I will stretch out My hand and destroy you, and I will no longer let them go.

15:7 And I will scatter them in a dispersion; at My people's gates they were bereaved; they destroyed My people because of their evils.

15:8 Their widows multiplied beyond the sea's sand. I brought misery upon a young man's mother at noon; suddenly I cast trembling and haste upon her.

15:9 She who bore seven was emptied; her soul grew faint. Her sun set while the day was still at its middle; she was ashamed and reproached. Their remnants I will give to the sword before their enemies.

15:10 Woe to me, mother! What sort of man did you give birth to—a man litigating and disputing with the whole earth? I benefited no one, nor did anyone benefit me; my strength failed among those cursing me.

15:11 May it be, Master, as they are directed—if I did not stand before Thee in the time of their evils and their affliction, for good toward the enemy!

15:12 Will iron be recognized? And a bronze enclosure

15:13 is your strength. And I will give your treasures as plunder, an exchange for all your sins and in all your borders.

15:14 And I will enslave you all around to your enemies in the land you did not know, because a fire has been kindled from My fury; it will burn upon you.

15:15 Lord, remember me and visit me and vindicate me against those pursuing me; do not delay. Know how I received reproach concerning Thee

15:16 from those rejecting Thy words. Bring them to an end, and Thy word will become to me rejoicing and my heart's joy, because Thy name has been called over me, Lord Almighty.

15:17 I did not sit in their gathering as they played, but I was reverent before Thy hand. I sat alone because I was filled with bitterness.

15:18 Why do those grieving me overpower me? My wound is firm; from where will I be healed? It indeed became to me like false water having no faithfulness.

15:19 Therefore thus says the Lord: If you return, I will restore you, and you will stand before Me. If you bring out the honored from the unworthy, you will be as My mouth; and they will turn to you, and you will not turn to them.

15:20 And I will make you to this people like a fortified bronze wall, and they will fight against you but certainly will not prevail against you, because I am with you to save you 15:21 and to rescue you from the hand of evil people, and I will ransom you from the hand of pestilent people.

Jeremiah 16

16:1 And you must not take a wife, says the Lord, Israel's God,

16:2 and no son or daughter will be born to you in this place.

16:3 For thus says the Lord concerning the sons and daughters born in this place, and their mothers who bore them, and their fathers who begot them in this land:

16:4 They will die a diseased death; they will not be mourned or buried. They will be an example upon the earth's surface, and for the earth's wild beasts and heaven's birds; they will fall by the sword and be consumed by famine.

16:5 Thus says the Lord: Do not enter their gathering or go to beat yourself in mourning, and do not mourn them, because I have removed My peace from this people.

16:6 They certainly will not mourn them or make cuts, and they will not shave themselves,

16:7 and bread certainly will not be broken in their mourning for consolation over one dead; they will not give him a cup for consolation over his father and mother.

16:8 You must not enter a house of drinking to sit with them to eat and drink.

16:9 Because thus says the Lord, Israel's God: Behold, before your eyes and in your days I am stopping from this place the sound of joy and rejoicing, the voice of bridegroom and bride.

16:10 And when you announce all these utterances to this people and they say to you, 'Why did the Lord speak all these evils against us? What is our injustice, and what is our sin that we sinned before the Lord our God?'

16:11 you will say to them: Because your fathers abandoned Me, says the Lord, and went after foreign gods and served them and bowed down to them, and abandoned Me and did not keep My law,

16:12 and you acted more wickedly than your fathers, and behold, each of you follows what pleases your evil heart, so as not to obey Me,

16:13 and I will cast you away from this land into the land neither you nor your fathers knew, and there you will serve other gods who will give you no mercy.

16:14 Therefore behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and they will no longer say, 'The Lord lives, who brought Israel's sons up from Egypt's land,'

16:15 but, 'The Lord lives, who brought Israel's house up from the northern land and all the regions where they were driven.' And I will restore them to their land that I gave their fathers.

16:16 Behold, I am sending the many fishermen, says the Lord, and they will fish for them; and after these things I will send the many hunters, and they will hunt them on every mountain and hill and from the rocks' openings.

16:17 Because My eyes are upon all their ways, and their wrongdoings were not hidden before My eyes.

16:18 And I will repay double their injustices and sins, for which they profaned My land with the corpses of their abominations and with their lawless acts, by which they offended against My inheritance.

16:19 Lord, my strength and help and refuge in a day of evils, nations will come to Thee from the earth's extremity and say: How our fathers acquired false idols, and there is no benefit in them!

16:20 Will a human make gods for himself? And these are not gods.

16:21 Therefore behold, at this time I will show them My hand and make My power known to them, and they will know that My name is Lord.

Jeremiah 17

17:5 Cursed is the person who places his hope in a human and will rest the flesh of his arm upon him, and whose heart departs from the Lord;

17:6 and he will be like a wild tamarisk in the wilderness; he will not see when good things come, and will dwell among salt-plants and in a wilderness, in a salt land that is not inhabited.

17:7 And blessed is the person who has trusted in the Lord, and the Lord will be his hope;

17:8 and he will be like a tree flourishing beside waters, and will send its roots toward moisture, and will not fear when heat comes. Wooded stems will be upon it; in a rainless year it will not fear or cease bearing fruit.

17:9 The heart is deep beyond all things, and so is a human; and who will know him?

Note [1]: Jeremiah 17:9 · Meaning and wording · deepProfound or difficult to fathom in the heart saying. Retain deep. Keep the difficult human clause and masculine final pronoun visible for syntactic review instead of solving them with an imported description of wickedness.Historical comparison. Saints and Brenton preserve deep and a human clause. KJV has deceitful and desperately wicked; DRC perverse and unsearchable. 17:10 I, the Lord, examine hearts and test kidneys, to give each according to his ways and the fruits of his practices.

17:11 A partridge called; it gathered what it did not bear. One makes his wealth without judgment; in the middle of his days they will abandon him, and at his last he will be foolish.

17:12 An exalted throne of glory is our sanctuary,

17:13 Israel’s patient expectation, Lord, let all who abandoned Thee be ashamed; let those who departed be written upon the earth, because they abandoned the Lord, the fountain of life.

17:14 Heal me, Lord, and I will be healed; save me, and I will be saved, because Thou art my boast.

17:15 Behold, they say to me: Where is the Lord’s word? Let it come!

17:16 But I did not grow weary following after Thee, and did not desire a human’s day; Thou knowest. The things going out through my lips are before Thee.

17:17 Do not become an estrangement to me, sparing me in an evil day.

17:18 Let those pursuing me be ashamed, and may I not be ashamed; may they be terrified, and may I not be terrified. Bring an evil day upon them; crush them with double crushing.

17:19 Thus says the Lord: Go and stand in the gates of your people’s sons, through which Judah’s kings enter and leave, and in all Jerusalem’s gates,

17:20 and you will say to them: Hear the Lord’s word, kings of Judah, all Judea and all Jerusalem, who enter these gates:

17:21 Thus says the Lord: Guard your souls, and do not lift burdens on the Sabbath day or go out through Jerusalem’s gates,

17:22 and do not bring burdens out of your houses on the Sabbath day, and you must do no work; consecrate the Sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers. And they did not hear or incline their ear,

17:23 and they hardened their neck beyond their fathers, so as not to hear Me or accept instruction.

17:24 And if you truly listen to Me, says the Lord, not bringing burdens through this city’s gates on the Sabbath day and consecrating the Sabbath day by doing no work,

17:25 then kings and rulers sitting on David’s throne will enter through this city’s gates, mounted on their chariots and horses, they and their rulers, Judah’s men and those dwelling in Jerusalem; and this city will be inhabited for ever.

17:26 And they will come from Judah’s cities, around Jerusalem, Benjamin’s land, the plain, the mountain and the south, bringing whole burnt offerings, sacrifice, incense offerings, grain offering and frankincense, bringing praise into the Lord’s house.

17:27 And if you do not listen to Me to consecrate the Sabbath day, not lifting burdens and not entering Jerusalem’s gates on the Sabbath day, I will kindle fire in her gates, and it will devour Jerusalem’s quarters and not be extinguished.

Jeremiah 18

18:1 The word that came from the Lord to Jeremiah, saying:

18:2 Rise and go down to the potter’s house, and there you will hear My words.

18:3 And I went down to the potter’s house, and behold, he was doing work upon the stones.

18:4 And the vessel he was making fell apart in his hands, and again he made it another vessel, as pleased him to make.

18:5 And the Lord’s word came to me, saying:

18:6 Can I not shape you as this potter does, house of Israel? Behold, you are like the potter’s clay in My hands.

18:7 At last I will speak concerning a nation or kingdom, to remove them and destroy,

18:8 and if that nation turns from all their evils, I will change My mind concerning the evils I planned to do to them.

18:9 And at last I will speak concerning a nation and kingdom, for it to be rebuilt and planted,

18:10 and if they do evil things before Me by not hearing My voice, I will change My mind concerning the good things I spoke of doing for them.

18:11 And now say to Judah’s men and those dwelling in Jerusalem: Behold, I am shaping evils against you and devising a design against you. Let each turn from his evil way now, and make your practices better.

18:12 And they said: We will be resolute, because we will follow our turnings away, and each will do what pleases his evil heart.

18:13 Therefore thus says the Lord: Ask now among the nations: Who heard such horrifying things that virgin Israel committed so greatly?

18:14 Will breasts fail from a rock, or snow from Lebanon? Will water borne violently by wind turn aside?

18:15 Because My people forgot Me, they burned incense in vain; and they will become weak in their ways, the age-old tracks, to step upon paths having no road for travel,

18:16 to make their land a ruin and an eternal hissing; all who pass through it will be astonished and shake their head.

18:17 Like a scorching wind I will scatter them before their enemies; I will show them their day of destruction.

18:18 And they said: Come, let us devise a design against Jeremiah, because law will not perish from a priest, counsel from the discerning, or word from a prophet. Come, let us strike him with the tongue, and we will hear all his words.

18:19 Listen to me, Lord, and listen to the voice of my claim of right.

18:20 Is evil repaid for good things? For they spoke words together against my soul and hid their punishment for me. Remember my standing before Thee to speak good things for them, to turn Thy fury from them.

18:21 Therefore give their sons to famine and gather them into the sword's hands. Let their women become childless and widowed, their men killed by death, and their young men fallen by the sword in war.

18:22 Let there be a cry in their houses; Thou wilt bring robbers upon them suddenly, because they attempted a plan for my capture and hid traps against me.

18:23 And Thou, Lord, knewest all their counsel against me for death. Do not acquit their injustices or erase their sins from before Thee. Let their weakness be before Thee; act among them in the time of Thy fury.

Jeremiah 19

19:1 Then the Lord said to me: Go and acquire a molded earthenware jar, and bring some of the elders of the people and of the elders of the priests.

19:2 And go out to the burial ground of the sons of their children, which is before the Charsith Gate, and read there all the words that I speak to you.

19:3 And say to them: Hear the Lord's word, kings of Judah, men of Judah, inhabitants of Jerusalem, and those entering these gates. Thus says the Lord, Israel's God: Behold, I am bringing evils upon this place, so that both ears of everyone hearing them will ring.

19:4 Because they abandoned Me and alienated this place, burning incense in it to foreign gods whom neither they nor their fathers knew; and Judah's kings filled this place with innocent blood,

19:5 and built high places for Baal to burn their sons in fire, things I did not command or speak of or conceive in My heart.

19:6 Therefore behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and this place will no longer be called Collapse or the Burial Ground of the Son of Hinnom, but the Burial Ground of Slaughter.

19:7 And I will slaughter Judah's counsel and Jerusalem's counsel in this place, and cast them down by the sword before their enemies and into the hands of those seeking their lives. I will give their dead as food to the birds of the heavens and the beasts of the earth.

19:8 And I will make this city a ruin and a hissing. Everyone passing through it will look gloomy and hiss over its whole wound.

19:9 And they will eat the flesh of their sons and daughters, and each will eat his neighbor's flesh in the encirclement and siege with which their enemies will besiege them.

19:10 And smash the jar before the eyes of the men going out with you,

19:11 and say: Thus says the Lord: This is how I will smash this people and this city, as an earthenware vessel is smashed that cannot be healed again.

19:12 This is what I will do, says the Lord, to this place and its inhabitants, so that this city is made like the collapsing place.

19:13 And Jerusalem's houses and the houses of Judah's kings will be like the collapsing place of uncleannesses, in all the houses where they burned incense upon their roofs to all the host of the heavens and poured drink offerings to foreign gods.

19:14 And Jeremiah came from Collapse, where the Lord had sent him to prophesy, stood in the courtyard of the Lord's house, and said to all the people:

19:15 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am bringing upon this city, all its towns, and its villages all the evils I spoke against it, because they hardened their necks so as not to listen to My words.

Jeremiah 20

20:1 And Pashhur son of Immer, the priest who had been appointed leader of the Lord's house, heard Jeremiah prophesying these words.

20:2 And he struck him and put him into the trap, which was at the gate of the separated upper house that was in the Lord's house.

20:3 And Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the trap, and Jeremiah said to him: The Lord has called your name not Pashhur but Migrant.

20:4 Because thus says the Lord: Behold, I am giving you to migration with all your friends. They will fall by their enemies' sword, and your eyes will see. I will give you and all Judah into the hands of Babylon's king, and they will deport them and cut them down with swords.

20:5 And I will give all this city's strength, all its labors, and all the treasures of Judah's king into his enemies' hands, and they will bring them to Babylon.

20:6 And you and all who dwell in your house will go into captivity. In Babylon you will die and there be buried—you and all your friends to whom you prophesied false things.

20:7 Thou didst deceive me, Lord, and I was deceived. Thou tookest hold and didst prevail. I became a laughingstock; all day I continued being mocked.

20:8 Because I will laugh with my bitter word; I will call upon rejection and misery, because the Lord's word became a reproach and a derision to me all day long.

20:9 And I said: I will certainly not name the Lord's name or speak in His name again. And it became like a burning fire blazing in my bones; I am weakened on every side and cannot bear it.

20:10 Because I heard the reproach of many gathering all around: Rise against him, and let us rise against him, all you men who are his friends! Watch his purpose, to see whether he will be deceived and we can prevail against him and take our revenge on him.

20:11 And the Lord is with me like a strong fighter. Therefore they pursued and could not understand; they were greatly shamed, because they did not understand their dishonors, which will never be forgotten.

20:12 Lord, testing righteous things, understanding kidneys and hearts: May I see the vengeance from Thee among them, because to Thee I disclosed my defenses.

20:13 Sing to the Lord; praise Him, because He rescued a poor person's life from the hand of those doing evil.

20:14 Accursed be the day on which I was born! Let the day my mother bore me not be a day to pray for!

20:15 Accursed be the man who brought my father good news, saying, A boy has been born to you!—rejoicing.

20:16 Let that man be like the cities the Lord overthrew in fury without changing His mind. Let him hear a cry in the morning and a battle shout at noon, 20:17 because he did not kill me in my mother's womb, so that my mother would have become my tomb and the womb one of everlasting conception.

20:18 Why did I come out from the womb to see labors and pains, and have my days continue in shame?

Jeremiah 21

21:1 The word that came from the Lord to Jeremiah when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur son of Malchiah and Zephaniah son of Maaseiah the priest, saying:

21:2 Ask the Lord about us, because Babylon's king has come against us, whether the Lord will act according to all His wonders, so that he goes away from us.

21:3 And Jeremiah said to them: Say this to Zedekiah king of Judah:

21:4 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am turning the weapons of war with which you fight the Chaldeans who have shut you in outside the wall into this city,

21:5 and I Myself will fight you with outstretched hand and mighty arm, with fury, anger, and great indignation.

21:6 And I will strike all this city's inhabitants, the people and the livestock, with a great death, and they will die.

21:7 And afterward—thus says the Lord—I will give Zedekiah king of Judah, his servants, and the people remaining in this city after death, famine, and sword into the hands of their enemies who seek their lives. They will cut them down with the sword's edge. I will not spare them or have compassion on them.

21:8 And say to this people: Thus says the Lord: Behold, I have set before your face the way of life and the way of death.

21:9 Whoever stays in this city will die by sword and famine; whoever goes out to join the Chaldeans who have shut you in will live, and his life will be spoil, and he will live.

21:10 Because I have fixed My face upon this city for evils and not for good things. It will be handed into Babylon's king's hands, and he will burn it down with fire.

21:11 House of Judah's king, hear the Lord's word.

21:12 House of David, thus says the Lord: Judge a judgment in the morning, set things straight, and rescue the plundered from the hand of the one wronging him, so that My anger is not kindled like fire and burns with no one to quench it.

21:13 Behold, I am against you who dwell in the valley of Sor, the level land, you who say, Who will frighten us? Or who will enter our dwelling?

21:14 And I will kindle a fire in her woodland, and it will consume everything around her.

Jeremiah 22

22:1 Thus says the Lord: Go and descend to the house of Judah's king and speak this word there,

22:2 and say: Hear the Lord's word, king of Judah who sits on David's throne—you, your household, your people, and those entering these gates.

22:3 Thus says the Lord: Do justice and righteousness; rescue the plundered from the hand of the one wronging him. Do not oppress the newcomer, orphan, or widow, and do not act impiously or shed innocent blood in this place.

22:4 Because if you truly carry out this word, kings sitting upon David's throne and riding chariots and horses will enter this house's gates—they, their servants, and their people.

22:5 But if you do not carry out these words, I swear by Myself, says the Lord, that this house will become a desolation.

22:6 Because thus says the Lord against the house of Judah's king: You are Gilead to Me, the head of Lebanon; surely I will make you a wilderness, cities that will not be inhabited.

22:7 And I will bring against you a destroying man and his axe, and they will cut down your chosen cedars and cast them into the fire.

22:8 And nations will pass through this city, and each will say to his neighbor: Why did the Lord act this way toward this great city?

22:9 And they will say: Because they abandoned the covenant of the Lord their God, bowed down to foreign gods, and served them.

22:10 Do not weep for the dead or lament him; weep bitterly for the one going out, because he will never return or see his homeland.

22:11 Because thus says the Lord concerning Shallum son of Josiah, who reigned in place of his father Josiah and went out from this place: He will not return there again,

22:12 but in the place where I deported him, there he will die, and he will never see this land again.

22:13 O you who build your house without righteousness and your upper rooms without judgment! He works through his neighbor without payment and will not give him his wages.

22:14 You built yourself a well-proportioned house, airy upper rooms set apart by windows, paneled with cedar and painted with red ocher.

22:15 Will you reign because you are provoked in Ahaz your father? They will not eat or drink. It was better for you to do judgment and good righteousness.

22:16 They did not know; they did not judge a case for the lowly or a case for the poor. Is this not your failing to know Me? says the Lord.

22:17 Behold, neither your eyes nor your heart are good; instead they are directed toward your greed, innocent blood to shed it, wrongdoing, and murder to commit it.

22:18 Therefore thus says the Lord concerning Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah: Woe upon this man! They will certainly not mourn him, O brother! Nor will they weep for him, Alas, lord!

22:19 He will be buried with a donkey's burial; swept up, he will be thrown beyond Jerusalem's gate.

22:20 Go up to Lebanon and cry out; raise your voice in Bashan and shout to the far side of the sea, because all your lovers have been shattered.

22:21 I spoke to you in your falling away, and you said, I will not listen. This is your way from your youth: you did not hear My voice.

22:22 Wind will shepherd all your shepherds, and your lovers will go out in captivity. Then you will be ashamed and dishonored because of all who love you.

22:23 You who dwell in Lebanon and nest among the cedars will groan when pangs come upon you like those of a woman giving birth.

22:24 As I live, says the Lord, even if Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, becomes a signet on My right hand, I will pull you off from there,

22:25 and hand you into the hands of those seeking your life, those before whom you are afraid, into the hands of the Chaldeans.

22:26 And I will cast you and your mother who bore you into a land where you were not born, and there you both will die.

22:27 But to the land for which they pray in their souls, they will certainly not return.

22:28 Jeconiah was dishonored like a vessel for which there is no use, because he was cast out and thrown into a land he did not know.

22:29 Land, land, hear the Lord's word:

22:30 Record this man as an outcast, because no man from his offspring will grow great sitting on David's throne and ruling again in Judah.

Jeremiah 23

23:1 O shepherds who scatter and destroy the sheep of My pasture!

23:2 Therefore thus says the Lord to those shepherding My people: You scattered My sheep and drove them out without visiting them. Behold, I am exacting justice from you according to your evil practices.

23:3 And I will receive the remnant of My people from all the land where I drove them out, and establish them in their pasture; they will increase and multiply.

23:4 And I will raise shepherds for them who will tend them, and they will no longer fear or be frightened, says the Lord.

23:5 Behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and I will raise up a righteous rising for David. A king will reign and understand, doing judgment and righteousness upon the earth.

23:6 In his days Judah will be saved and Israel will dwell confidently. This is his name, which the Lord will call him: Josedek.

23:7 Therefore behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and they will no longer say, As the Lord lives, who brought Israel’s house up from Egypt’s land,

23:8 but, As the Lord lives, who gathered all Israel’s offspring from the northern land and all the countries where He drove them out, and restored them to their land.

23:9 Among the prophets my heart was shattered; within me all my bones were shaken. I became like a shattered man, like a person gripped by wine, before the Lord and the splendor of His glory.

23:10 Because of these things the land mourned and the wilderness pastures dried up. Their course became evil, and their strength was not so.

23:11 Because priest and prophet were defiled, and in My house I saw their evils.

23:12 Therefore let their way become a slippery place for them in darkness, and they will be tripped and fall in it, because I will bring evils upon them in their year of visitation, says the Lord.

23:13 And among Samaria’s prophets I saw lawless acts: they prophesied through Baal and led My people Israel astray.

23:14 And among Jerusalem’s prophets I have seen horrifying things: committing adultery, walking in lies, and supporting evil hands so that no one turns from his evil way. They all became like Sodom to Me, and her inhabitants like Gomorrah.

23:15 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I will feed them pain and give them bitter water to drink, because from Jerusalem’s prophets defilement went out into all the land.

23:16 Thus says the Lord Almighty: Do not listen to the prophets’ words, because they make a vision futile for themselves. They speak from their own heart and not from the Lord’s mouth.

23:17 They say to those rejecting the Lord’s word, You will have peace. To all who walk according to their own wishes, to everyone walking in the wandering of his heart, they said, No evils will come upon you.

23:18 Because who stood in the Lord’s standing place and saw His word? Who gave ear and heard?

23:19 Behold, a shaking comes from the Lord, and anger goes out into a convulsion; swirling, it will come upon the ungodly.

23:20 And the Lord’s fury will no longer turn back until He does it and raises it up from His heart’s undertaking. At the end of the days they will understand these things.

23:21 I was not sending the prophets, yet they ran; I did not speak to them, yet they prophesied.

23:22 And if they had stood in My standing presence and listened to My words, they would have turned My people from their evil practices.

23:23 I am a God drawing near, says the Lord, and not a God far away.

23:24 If a person hides in hidden places, will I not see him? Do I not fill the heaven and the earth? says the Lord.

23:25 I heard what the prophets speak, the false things they prophesy in My name, saying, I dreamed a dream.

23:26 How long will it be in the heart of the prophets prophesying false things, and in their prophesying the wishes of their own heart?

23:27 They plan to forget My law through their dreams, which each told his neighbor, just as their fathers forgot My name through Baal.

23:28 Let the prophet in whom there is a dream tell his dream, and the one to whom My word comes tell My word in truth. What has chaff to do with wheat? So are My words, says the Lord.

23:29 Are not My words like blazing fire, says the Lord, and like an axe cutting rock?

23:30 Therefore behold, I am against the prophets, says the Lord God, who steal My words, each from his neighbor.

23:31 Behold, I am against the prophets who cast out prophecies of the tongue and doze their own dozing.

23:32 Behold, I am against the prophets who prophesy false dreams, who told them and led My people astray by their lies and wanderings. I did not send or command them, and they will bring this people no benefit at all.

23:33 And if this people, a priest, or a prophet asks you, What is the Lord's burden? say to them, You are the burden, and I will dash you down, says the Lord.

23:34 And the prophet, priest, or people who say, The Lord's burden—I will exact justice from that person and his household.

23:35 For this is what you will say, each to his neighbor and his brother: What did the Lord answer? What did the Lord speak?

23:36 And do not name the Lord's burden again, because a person's own word will be his burden.

23:37 And why did the Lord our God speak?

23:38 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you said this word, The Lord's burden, though I sent to you saying, Do not say The Lord's burden,

23:39 therefore behold, I seize you and dash you down, along with the city I gave to you and your fathers,

23:40 and I will put eternal reproach and eternal dishonor upon you, which will not be forgotten.

Jeremiah 24

24:1 The Lord showed me two baskets of figs lying before the Lord's sanctuary, after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had deported Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, the rulers, craftsmen, prisoners, and rich people from Jerusalem and brought them to Babylon.

24:2 One basket had very good figs, like early figs; the other basket had very bad figs that could not be eaten because of their badness.

24:3 And the Lord said to me: What do you see, Jeremiah? I said: Figs. The good are exceedingly good, and the bad exceedingly bad; they cannot be eaten because of their badness.

24:4 And the Lord's word came to me, saying:

24:5 Thus says the Lord, Israel's God: Like these good figs, so I will acknowledge Judah's deportees, whom I have sent from this place to the Chaldeans' land, for good things.

24:6 And I will fix My eyes upon them for good things and restore them to this land for good things. I will rebuild them and certainly not tear them down, plant them and certainly not pluck them out.

24:7 And I will give them a heart to know Me, that I am the Lord. They will be My people and I will be their God, because they will return to Me from their whole heart.

24:8 And like the bad figs that cannot be eaten because of their badness—thus says the Lord—so I will hand over Zedekiah king of Judah, his nobles, Jerusalem's remnant left in this land, and those dwelling in Egypt.

24:9 And I will give them to scattering into all the earth's kingdoms, and they will become a reproach, a parable, an object of hatred, and a curse in every place where I drove them out.

24:10 And I will send famine, death, and sword against them until they disappear from the land I gave them.

Jeremiah 25

25:1 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all Judah's people in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah,

25:2 which he spoke to all Judah's people and Jerusalem's inhabitants, saying:

25:3 In the thirteenth year of Josiah son of Amos, king of Judah, and until this day, twenty-three years, I spoke to you, rising early and saying,

25:4 and I was sending My servants the prophets to you, sending from early morning, and you did not listen or attend with your ears,

25:5 saying: Turn, each from his evil way and from your evil practices, and you will dwell upon the land I gave to you and your fathers from age to age.

25:6 Do not follow foreign gods to serve them and bow down to them, so that you do not provoke Me by your hands' works into harming you.

25:7 And you did not hear Me.

25:8 Therefore thus says the Lord: Since you did not believe My words,

25:9 behold, I am sending and will take the clan from the north and bring them against this land, its inhabitants, and all the surrounding nations. I will lay them waste and make them a ruin, a hissing, and eternal reproach.

25:10 And I will remove from them the sound of joy and delight, the sound of bridegroom and bride, the fragrance of ointment and the light of a lamp.

25:11 And all the land will become a ruin, and they will serve among the nations for seventy years.

25:12 And when the seventy years are fulfilled, I will exact justice from that nation, says the Lord, and make them an everlasting ruin.

25:13; 32:13 And I will bring upon that land all My words that I spoke against it, everything written in this book. What Jeremiah prophesied against all the nations.

25:14;25:20 What Jeremiah prophesied concerning the nations, Elam. At the beginning of King Zedekiah's reign, this word came concerning Elam.

25:15 Thus says the Lord: Let Elam's bow be shattered, the beginning of their dominion.

25:16 I will bring upon Elam four winds from heaven's four ends and scatter them among all these winds. There will be no nation where Elam's outcasts do not come.

25:17 I will terrify them before their enemies who seek their lives and bring calamities upon them according to the anger of My wrath. I will send My sword after them until they are consumed.

25:18 I will set My throne in Elam and send king and nobles away from there.

25:19 In the last days I will turn back Elam's captivity, says the Lord.

Jeremiah 26

26:2 For Egypt, concerning the force of Pharaoh Neco king of Egypt, who was beside the Euphrates River at Carchemish and whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon struck in the fourth year of Jehoiakim king of Judah:

26:3 Take up weapons and shields, and advance to war!

26:4 Saddle the horses; mount, riders! Take your positions in your helmets. Hold your spears forward; put on your breastplates!

26:5 Why are they terrified and withdrawing backward? Because their strong men will be cut down. They fled in flight and did not turn back, surrounded on every side, says the Lord.

26:6 Let the swift not flee, nor the strong man escape. Northward, in the places beside the Euphrates, they grew weak and have fallen.

26:7 Who is this who will rise like a river, and like rivers churn water?

26:8 Egypt's waters will rise like a river, and it said, I will rise and cover the land and destroy those living in it.

26:9 Mount the horses; prepare the chariots! Go out, warriors of the Ethiopians and Libyans equipped with weapons! And Lydians, go up and draw the bow!

26:10 That day belongs to the Lord our God, a day of vengeance, to take vengeance on His enemies. The Lord's sword will devour, be filled, and become drunk with their blood, for the Lord Sabaoth has a sacrifice from the northern land beside the Euphrates River.

26:11 Go up, Gilead, and take resin for the virgin daughter Egypt. In vain you multiplied your remedies; there is no benefit for you.

26:12 Nations heard your voice, and the land was filled with your cry, for warrior grew weak against warrior; both fell together.

26:13 What the Lord spoke through Jeremiah concerning Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon coming to cut down Egypt's land:

26:14 Announce to Migdol and proclaim to Memphis. Say, Take your position and prepare, for the sword has devoured your smilax growth.

26:15 Why did Apis flee? Your choice calf did not remain, for the Lord disabled him.

26:16 Your multitude grew weak and fell, and each spoke to his neighbor, Let us rise and return to our people, to our homeland, away from the Greek sword.

26:17 Call Pharaoh Neco king of Egypt by the name Saon-esbi-emoeed.

26:18 As I live, says the Lord God, like Itabyrion among the mountains and Carmel in the sea, he will come.

26:19 Prepare belongings for deportation, resident daughter Egypt, for Memphis will become a ruin and will be called Woe because no inhabitants remain in her.

26:20 Egypt is a beautified heifer; a detachment from the north came against her.

26:21 Her hired men within her are like fattened calves being fed within her. They too turned and fled together; they did not stand, for a day of destruction came upon them, the time of their vengeance.

26:22 A sound like a hissing snake, for they will travel through sand; with axes they will come against her like woodcutters.

26:23 They will cut down her forest, says the Lord God, for it certainly cannot be estimated, for it multiplies beyond a locust swarm, and they are beyond numbering.

26:24 Daughter Egypt was put to shame, handed over to a people from the north.

26:25 I am taking vengeance for Amon her son upon Pharaoh and those who trust him.

26:27 But do not fear, My slave Jacob, nor be terrified, Israel, for I am saving you from afar and your offspring from their captivity. Jacob will return, be quiet, and sleep, and no one will trouble him.

26:28 Do not fear, My servant Jacob, says the Lord, for I am with you. I will make an end of every nation where I thrust you out, but I certainly will not make you perish. I will discipline you for judgment and certainly will not acquit you.

Jeremiah 27

27:1 The Lord’s word that He spoke against Babylon:

27:2 Announce among the nations and make it heard; do not hide it. Say, Babylon has been captured! Bel was disgraced, the fearless one; the delicate one was handed over, Marodach.

27:3 A nation came up against her from the north; it will make her land a ruin, with no one living in it, from human to livestock.

27:4 In those days and at that time, Israel’s sons and Judah’s sons will come together; walking and weeping, they will go seeking the Lord their God.

27:5 They will ask the way as far as Zion, for they will turn their faces here. They will come and take refuge with the Lord God, for an everlasting covenant will not be forgotten.

27:6 My people became lost sheep; their shepherds thrust them away and led them astray upon the mountains. They went from mountain to hill and forgot their resting place.

27:7 All who found them consumed them. Their enemies said, Let us not release them, because they sinned against the Lord, the pasture of righteousness, who gathered their fathers.

27:8 Separate yourselves from Babylon’s midst and the Chaldeans’ land; come out and become like dragons before sheep.

27:9 I am rousing assemblies of nations against Babylon from the north. They will deploy against her; from there she will be captured. Like a discerning warrior’s missile, it will not return empty.

27:10 Chaldea will become plunder; all who plunder her will be filled.

27:11 because you rejoiced and boasted while plundering My inheritance, because you leaped like little cattle in pasture and butted like bulls,

27:12 your mother was deeply ashamed—a mother for good things, last of nations, a wilderness.

27:13 Because of the Lord’s anger she will not be inhabited and will entirely disappear. Everyone passing through Babylon will look gloomy, and they will hiss at every wound of hers.

27:14 Deploy against Babylon all around, all who stretch the bow. Shoot at her; do not spare your arrows.

27:15 Clap against her! Her hands were disabled, her battlements fell, and her wall was demolished. For this is vengeance from God; take vengeance upon her. Do to her as she did.

27:16 Destroy seed from Babylon, the one holding a sickle at harvest. Before the Greek sword, each will return to his people and flee to his land.

27:17 Israel is a wandering sheep driven away by lions. First Assyria’s king ate him; later this one, Babylon’s king, ate his bones.

27:18 Therefore thus says the Lord: I am taking vengeance upon Babylon’s king and his land, as I took vengeance upon Assyria’s king.

27:19 I will restore Israel to his pasture. He will graze on Carmel, on Ephraim’s mountain, and in Gilead, and his soul will be filled.

27:20 In those days and at that time they will seek Israel’s injustice, and it will not exist, and Judah’s sins, and they certainly will not be found, for I will be merciful to those left upon the land, says the Lord.

27:21 Go fiercely against her and her inhabitants. Take vengeance, sword, and make her disappear, says the Lord; do everything I command you.

27:22 A sound of war and great shattering in the Chaldeans’ land!

27:23 How the hammer of the whole earth was snapped and shattered! How Babylon became a ruin among nations!

27:24 They will attack you and you will be captured, Babylon, without knowing it. You were found and taken because you resisted the Lord.

27:25 The Lord opened His treasury and brought out the instruments of His anger, for the Lord God has work in the Chaldeans’ land,

27:26 for her times have arrived. Open her storehouses; search her like a cave and destroy her. Let no remnant of her remain.

27:27 Dry up all her fruits, and let them go down to slaughter. Woe to them, for their day has come, the time of their vengeance.

27:28 A sound of those fleeing and being rescued from Babylon's land, announcing in Zion vengeance from the Lord our God!

27:29 Give orders against Babylon to many, to everyone drawing a bow. Encamp against her all around; let none of her people escape. Repay her according to her works; do to her all she did, for she resisted the Lord, Israel's holy God.

27:30 Therefore her young men will fall in her squares, and all her warriors will be thrown down, said the Lord.

27:31 I am against you, insolent woman, says the Lord, for your day has come, the time of your vengeance.

27:32 Your insolence will grow weak and fall, with no one to raise it. I will kindle fire in her forest, and it will devour everything around her.

27:33 Thus says the Lord: Israel's sons and Judah's sons have been oppressed together. All who captured them oppressed them, because they did not want to release them.

27:34 The One redeeming them is strong; the Lord Almighty is His name. He will judge a case against His adversaries, to remove the land, and He will provoke Babylon's inhabitants.

27:35 A sword against the Chaldeans, Babylon's inhabitants, her nobles, and her discerning men!

27:36 A sword against her warriors, and they will be disabled!

27:37 A sword against their horses and chariots! A sword against their warriors and the mixed people within her, and they will become like women! A sword against her treasures, and they will be scattered!

27:38 She trusted in her water, and they will be ashamed, for it is a land of carved images, and in the islands where they boasted.

27:39 Therefore apparitions will live on the islands, and daughters of sirens will live in her. She certainly will never again be inhabited.

27:40 As God overturned Sodom, Gomorrah, and their bordering places, said the Lord, no person will live there, and no human being will reside there.

27:41 A people is coming from the north; a great nation and many kings will be roused from the earth's farthest part,

27:42 holding bow and dagger. It is insolent and certainly will not show mercy. Their voice will sound like the sea. They will ride horses, prepared like fire for war against you, daughter Babylon.

27:43 Babylon's king heard the report about them, and his hands were disabled. Distress seized him, birth pains like a woman giving birth.

27:44 Like a lion he will come up from the Jordan into Aitham's place, for I will quickly drive them away from her and appoint every young man over her. For who is like Me? Who will resist Me, and what shepherd can stand before Me?

27:45 Therefore hear the Lord's counsel that He has planned against Babylon and His purposes against the resident Chaldeans: Surely the lambs of their sheep will be destroyed; surely pasture will disappear from them.

27:46 For at the sound of Babylon's capture the earth will shake, and a cry will be heard among the nations.

Jeremiah 28

28:1 Thus says the Lord: I am rousing a destroying hot wind against Babylon and against the Chaldeans who live there.

28:2 I will send insolent men to Babylon; they will abuse her and ravage her land. Woe upon Babylon all around on the day of her affliction!

28:3 Against her let the archer stretch his bow, and let the man who has armor put it on. Do not spare her young men; obliterate her whole force.

28:4 Wounded men will fall in the Chaldeans' land, and pierced men outside her.

28:5 For Israel and Judah have not been widowed of their God, of the Lord Almighty, because their land was filled with injustice from Israel's holy ones.

28:6 Flee from Babylon's midst; each of you save your life. Do not be cast away in her injustice, for her time of vengeance is from the Lord; He is repaying her recompense.

28:7 Babylon was a golden cup in the Lord's hand, making the whole earth drunk. Nations drank her wine; therefore they were shaken.

28:8 Suddenly Babylon fell and was shattered. Lament her! Take resin for her corruption, if somehow she may be healed.

28:9 We treated Babylon, but she was not healed. Let us leave her; let each of us go to our own land, for her judgment reached heaven and rose to the stars.

28:10 The Lord has brought forth His judgment. Come, let us announce in Zion the works of the Lord our God.

28:11 Prepare the arrows; fill the quivers. The Lord roused the spirit of the Medes' king, for His anger against Babylon is to destroy her. This is the Lord's vengeance, vengeance for His people.

28:12 Raise a signal on Babylon’s walls; set up quivers, raise guards, prepare weapons, for the Lord has undertaken and will do what He spoke against Babylon’s inhabitants,

28:13 who dwell beside many waters and her abundance of treasures. Your end has truly come to your inward parts.

28:14 For the Lord swore by His arm: I will fill you with people like locusts, and those coming down will speak out against you.

28:15 He makes the earth by His strength, prepares the inhabited world by His wisdom, and stretched out heaven by His understanding.

28:16 At His voice He set a sound of water in heaven and brought clouds up from the earth’s end. He made lightning for rain and brought light out of His treasuries.

28:17 Every person became foolish, without knowledge; every goldsmith was disgraced by his carvings, because they cast false things, and there is no spirit in them.

28:18 They are vain, mocked works; at the time of their visitation they will perish.

28:19 Jacob’s portion is not like this, for the One who formed all things is Himself his inheritance. The Lord is His name.

28:20 You scatter instruments of war for Me. In you I will scatter nations, and from you I will remove kings.

28:21 In you I will scatter horse and rider; in you I will scatter chariots and their riders.

28:22 In you I will scatter young man and virgin; in you I will scatter man and woman.

28:23 In you I will scatter shepherd and flock; in you I will scatter farmer and farmland; in you I will scatter your leaders and generals.

28:24 I will repay Babylon and all the Chaldeans who live there for all the evils they did against Zion before your eyes, says the Lord.

28:25 I am against you, ruined mountain that ruins the whole earth. I will stretch My hand against you, roll you down from the rocks, and make you like a burned mountain.

28:26 They will certainly not take from you a cornerstone or a foundation stone, for you will be a ruin for ever, says the Lord.

28:27 Raise a signal on the earth; sound a trumpet among the nations. Consecrate nations against her; give orders against her to Ararat’s kingdoms from Me and to the Ashkenazites. Set up arrow batteries against her; bring up horses against her like a multitude of locusts.

28:28 Consecrate nations against her: the king of the Medes and of all the earth, his leaders and all his generals.

28:29 The earth was shaken and suffered, for the Lord’s purpose rose against Babylon, to make Babylon’s land a ruin, no longer inhabited.

28:30 Babylon’s warrior has ceased fighting; they will sit there in confinement. Their power was crushed; they became like women. Her dwellings were burned; her bars were shattered.

28:31 Pursuer will pursue to meet pursuer, and announcer to meet announcer, to tell Babylon’s king that his city has been captured;

28:32 from the extremity of his crossings they were taken, and their gatherings were burned with fire, and his warriors are going out.

28:33 For thus says the Lord: The houses of Babylon’s king will be threshed like a threshing floor ready for use; a little longer, and her harvest will come.

28:34 Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon devoured me, divided me, seized me, a thin vessel. He swallowed me like a dragon, filled his belly, and drove me from my luxury.

28:35 My toils and miseries be upon Babylon, the woman dwelling in Zion will say; my blood be upon the Chaldeans who live there, Jerusalem will say.

28:36 Therefore thus says the Lord: I will judge your adversary and avenge you; I will lay her sea waste and dry her spring.

28:37 Babylon will become a ruin and will not be inhabited.

28:38 Together they were roused like lions and like lions’ cubs.

28:39 In their heat I will give them a drink and make them drunk, so that they are stupefied and sleep an everlasting sleep and certainly do not rise, says the Lord.

28:40 I will bring them down like lambs to slaughter and like rams with young goats.

28:41 How the boast of the whole earth was captured and hunted! How Babylon became a ruin among the nations!

28:42 The sea rose over Babylon with the sound of its waves, and she was covered.

28:43 Her cities became a waterless and untrodden land; not one person will live there, nor will any human lodge there.

28:44 I will exact vengeance on Babylon and bring what she swallowed out of her mouth. Nations will certainly no longer gather to her.

28:49 And in Babylon wounded men from all the earth will fall.

28:50 You who escape from the land, go on; do not stand still. You who are far away, remember the Lord, and let Jerusalem rise in your hearts.

28:51 We were disgraced, for we heard our reproach; dishonor covered our face. Foreigners entered our holy places, the Lord’s house.

28:52 Therefore days are coming, says the Lord, when I will exact vengeance on her carvings, and wounded men will fall throughout her land.

28:53 Even if Babylon rises as high as heaven and fortifies the height of her strength, those who destroy her will come from Me, says the Lord.

28:54 A sound of crying in Babylon, a great shattering in the Chaldeans’ land!

28:55 For the Lord destroyed Babylon and silenced her loud voice sounding like many waters; He gave her voice over to destruction.

28:56 For misery came upon Babylon. Her warriors were captured; their bow is terrified, because God repays them; the Lord repays her recompense.

28:57 He will make her leaders and wise men and generals thoroughly drunk, says the King, whose name is the Lord Almighty.

28:58 Thus says the Lord: Babylon’s wall was broadened; it will be utterly demolished, and her high gates burned. Peoples will not labor in vain, and nations will perish at the beginning.

28:59 The word the Lord commanded Jeremiah the prophet to tell Seraiah son of Neriah son of Maaseiah when he went from Zedekiah king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Seraiah was an official over gifts.

28:60 Jeremiah wrote in one scroll all the evils that would come upon Babylon, all these words written against Babylon.

28:61 Jeremiah said to Seraiah: When you arrive in Babylon, you will see and read all these words,

28:62 and say, Lord, Lord, Thou spakest against this place to destroy it and leave no inhabitants in it, from human to livestock, for it will be a ruin for ever.

28:63 When you finish reading this scroll, bind a stone to it and throw it into the Euphrates,

28:64 and say, Thus Babylon will sink and certainly not rise because of the evils I am bringing upon her.

Jeremiah 29

29:1 Concerning the people of another tribe.

29:2 Thus says the Lord: Waters are rising from the north and will become a flooding torrent. It will flood the land and its fullness, the city and those living in it. People will cry out, and all the land’s inhabitants will shout aloud.

29:3 At the sound of his onrush, of the hooves of his feet, the shaking of his chariots, and the noise of his wheels, fathers did not turn back to their sons, because their hands failed,

29:4 on the day coming to destroy all the people of another tribe. I will obliterate Tyre and Sidon and all the remainder of their assistance, for the Lord will destroy the survivors of the islands.

29:5 Baldness has come upon Gaza; Ashkelon and the survivors of the Anakim have been cast away. How long will you strike,

29:6 sword of the Lord? How long will you not be quiet? Return to your sheath; rest and be lifted away!

29:7 How will it be quiet? The Lord commanded it to rise against Ashkelon, against the coastal places, against those remaining.

Jeremiah 30

30:1 For Idumea, thus says the Lord: There is no longer wisdom in Teman; counsel perished from the discerning; their wisdom went away.

30:2 Their place was deceived. Go deep to dwell, inhabitants of Dedan, for he did difficult things; I brought them upon him at the time I visited him.

30:3 For grape gatherers came to you; they will leave you no remnants. Like thieves by night they will lay their hand upon you.

30:4 For I dragged Esau away and uncovered their secrets; they certainly cannot hide. They perished by the hand of his brother and his neighbor, and it is not possible

30:5 for your orphan to remain so that he may live. And I will live, and widows have trusted in Me.

30:6 For thus said the Lord: Those for whom there was no law to drink the cup drank it. And you, though acquitted, certainly will not be acquitted, for you will certainly drink.

30:7 For I swore by Myself, says the Lord, that you will become an untrodden place, a reproach, and a curse in her midst, and all her cities will be deserted for ever.

30:8 I heard a report from the Lord, and He sent messengers to the nations: Gather and come against her; rise for war!

30:9 I made you small among nations, easily despised among people.

30:10 Your playfulness assailed you; your heart's insolence destroyed holes in rocks and seized the strength of a high hill. For he raised his nest like an eagle; from there I will bring you down.

30:11 Idumea will become an untrodden place; everyone passing by her will hiss.

30:12 As Sodom, Gomorrah, and her neighboring places were overturned, said the Lord Almighty, no person will settle there, and no human being will live there.

30:13 Like a lion he will come up from Jordan's midst into Aitham's place, for I will quickly drive them away from her. Appoint the young men over her. For who is like Me? Who will resist Me, and what shepherd can stand before Me?

30:14 Therefore hear the Lord's counsel that He planned against Idumea and His purpose against Teman's inhabitants: Surely the smallest sheep will be swept together; surely their dwelling will be made untrodden over her.

30:15 For at the sound of their fall the earth shook, and your cry was heard at the sea.

30:16 Like an eagle he will look and stretch his wings over her fortifications. That day Idumea's strong men's hearts will be like the heart of a woman in labor.

30:17 For Ammon's sons, thus said the Lord: Are there no sons in Israel, or have they no one to inherit? Why did Melchom take Gad, and will their people live in their cities?

30:18 Therefore days are coming, says the Lord, when I will make the din of wars heard against Rabbath. They will become an untrodden place and a destruction, her altars will be burned with fire, and Israel will receive his rule.

30:19 Shout aloud, Heshbon, for Gai perished! Cry out, daughters of Rabbath; put on sackcloth, be seized with distress, and beat yourselves over Melchom, for he will go into deportation, his priests and rulers together.

30:20 Why do you exult in the plains of the Anakim, daughter of dishonor, trusting in her treasures and saying, Who will come against me?

30:21 I am bringing fear upon you, said the Lord, from all your surroundings. You will be scattered, each straight ahead, and there will be no one gathering.

30:23 For Kedar, queen of the courtyard, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon struck. Thus said the Lord: Rise and go up against Kedar, and fill the sons of Kedem!

30:24 They will take their tents and sheep, their garments, all their equipment, and camels for themselves. Call destruction against them on every side!

30:25 Flee far away; go deep to dwell, you who stay in the courtyard, for Babylon's king planned counsel against you and devised a purpose against you.

30:26 Rise and go up against a stable nation living in refreshment, with neither doors nor pins nor bars; they lodge alone.

30:27 Their camels will become plunder and their numerous livestock destruction. I will winnow them to every wind, those shorn before their faces; from every side of them I will bring their rout, said the Lord.

30:28 The courtyard will become an abode for ostriches, untrodden for ever. No person will settle there; no human being will live there.

30:29 For Damascus: Hamath and Arpad were ashamed because they heard an evil report. They were distraught and angry; they certainly cannot rest.

30:30 Damascus grew feeble and turned to flight; trembling seized her.

30:31 How did he not abandon My city? They loved a village.

30:32 Therefore young men will fall in your squares, and all your warriors will fall, says the Lord.

30:33 I will kindle fire in Damascus's wall, and it will devour the quarters of Ader's son.

Jeremiah 31

31:1 For Moab, thus said the Lord: Woe to Nebo, for she perished! Kiriathaim was taken; Amath was disgraced and defeated.

31:2 There is no longer healing for Moab, a boast in Heshbon. They devised evils against her: We cut her off from a nation, and she will certainly cease. A sword will walk behind you.

31:3 For a sound of people crying out comes from Horonaim: destruction and great shattering!

31:4 Moab was shattered; announce it in Zogora.

31:5 For Alaoth was filled with weeping; he will go up weeping on Horonaim's road. You heard a cry of shattering:

31:6 Flee and save your lives, and you will be like a wild donkey in the wilderness!

31:7 Because you trusted in your fortifications, you too will be seized. Chemosh will go into deportation, his priests and rulers together.

31:8 Destruction will come upon every city; no city will be saved. The valley will perish and the plain be destroyed, as the Lord said.

31:9 Give signs to Moab, for she will surely be kindled; all her cities will become an untrodden place. From where will an inhabitant come to her?

31:10 Accursed is one who does the Lord's works carelessly, removing his sword from blood.

31:11 Moab rested from childhood and trusted in his glory. He did not pour from vessel to vessel or go into deportation. Therefore his taste remained in him and his scent did not fade.

31:12 Therefore days are coming, says the Lord, when I will send him tilters who will tip him, thin out his vessels, and cut up his horns.

31:13 Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh, as Israel's house was ashamed of Bethel, their hope, having trusted in them.

31:14 How will you say, We are strong, and a man strong for warfare?

31:15 Moab perished, his city, and his choice young men went down to slaughter.

31:16 Moab's day is near to coming, and his calamity is very swift.

31:17 Move in lament for him, all who surround him, all who know his name. Say, How the renowned staff is shattered, the rod of grandeur!

31:18 Come down from glory and sit in dampness, resident Dibon. Be crushed, for Moab perished; he came up against you, ruining your fortification.

31:19 Stand on the road and look, you who live in Aroer. Ask the one fleeing and the one being saved, and say, What happened?

31:20 Moab was ashamed, for he was shattered. Wail and cry out; announce at Arnon that Moab perished.

31:21 Judgment is coming into the land of Misor: upon Chailon, Jahzah, and Mophath,

31:22 upon Dibon, Nebo, and the house of Deblathaim,

31:23 upon Kiriathaim, the house of Gamol, and the house of Maon,

31:24 upon Kerioth, Bosor, and all Moab's cities, far and near.

31:25 Moab's horn was broken and his effort shattered.

31:26 Make him drunk, for he magnified himself against the Lord. Moab will strike with his hand and become a laughingstock himself.

31:27 Was not Israel a laughingstock to you? Was he found in your thefts, that you made war on him?

31:28 Moab's inhabitants left the cities and lived among rocks. They became like doves nesting among rocks at a pit's mouth.

31:29 I heard Moab's insolence; he acted very insolently—his insolence and arrogance—and his heart was lifted up.

31:30 But I knew his works. Not his sufficiency; he did not act so.

31:31 Therefore wail over Moab from every side; cry out over the men of Kiradas of drought.

31:32 Like the weeping for Jazer, I will weep for you, vine of Sibmah. Your branches crossed the sea and reached Jazer. Destruction fell upon your summer fruit and your grape gatherers.

31:33 Joy and gladness were boiled away from Moab's land, and wine was upon your winepresses. They did not tread in the morning or in the evening; they did not make an aidad shout.

31:34 From Heshbon's cry as far as Elealeh, their cities raised their voice; from Zogor to Horonaim and Aglath-salisia, for even Nebrim's water will become a burning.

31:35 I will destroy Moab, says the Lord, as he goes up to an altar and burns incense to his gods.

31:36 Therefore my heart, Moab, will hum like flutes; my heart will hum like a flute for Kiradas's people. Therefore what he acquired perished from a person.

31:37 They will shave every head in every place; every beard will be shaved, all hands will beat themselves, and on every waist is sackcloth.

31:38 And on all Moab's rooftops and in her squares—for I shattered Moab, says the Lord, like a vessel for which there is no use.

31:39 How he has changed! How Moab turned his back! He was ashamed, and Moab became a laughingstock and an object of resentment to all around her.

31:40 For thus said the Lord:

31:41 Akkarioth was taken and the fortifications seized.

31:42 Moab will perish from being a multitude, for he magnified himself against the Lord.

31:43 Trap, fear, and pit are upon you, resident Moab.

31:44 One who flees from fear will fall into the pit, and one who climbs from the pit will be caught in the trap, for I will bring these things upon Moab in the year of her visitation.

Jeremiah 32

32:15 Thus said the Lord, Israel's God: Take this cup of unmixed wine from My hand, and give it to all the nations to whom I send you to drink,

32:16 and they will drink, vomit, and go mad before the sword I am sending among them.

32:17 And I took the cup from the Lord’s hand and gave it to the nations to whom the Lord sent me to drink:

32:18 Jerusalem, Judah’s cities, Judah’s kings, and its rulers, to make them a desolation, an untrodden place, and a hissing;

32:19 and Pharaoh king of Egypt, his servants, his nobles, and all his people;

32:20 and all his mixed population, all the Philistine kings, Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and Ashdod’s remnant;

32:21 and Idumea, the Moabite land, and Ammon’s sons;

32:22 and all Tyre’s kings, Sidon’s kings, and the kings across the sea;

32:23 and Dedan, Teman, Ros, and everyone shorn about his face;

32:24 and all the mixed populations lodging in the wilderness;

32:25 and all Elam’s kings and all the Persian kings;

32:26 and all the kings from the east, far and near, each with his brother, and all the kingdoms upon the face of the earth.

32:27 And say to them: Thus said the Lord Almighty: Drink, get drunk, and vomit; you will fall and certainly not rise before the sword I am sending among you.

32:28 And when they are unwilling to receive the cup from your hand to drink, say: Thus said the Lord: You will certainly drink.

32:29 Because I am beginning to bring harm in the city upon which My name was named, and you will certainly not be cleansed, because I am summoning a sword against those dwelling upon the earth.

32:30 And prophesy these words against them and say: The Lord will give an oracle from on high; from His holy place He will raise His voice. He will give an oracular word over His place, and they will answer with Aidad, like grape-gatherers. And upon those dwelling upon the earth,

32:31 destruction comes upon a part of the earth, because the Lord has a judgment among the nations. He enters judgment with all flesh, and the ungodly were given to the sword, says the Lord.

32:32 Thus said the Lord: Behold, evils come from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind goes out from the earth’s farthest end.

32:33 And those wounded by the Lord on the Lord’s day will lie from one part of the earth to another. They will certainly not be buried; they will be dung upon the earth’s face.

32:34 Raise a shout, shepherds, and cry out; beat yourselves in mourning, rams of the sheep, because your days for slaughter have been fulfilled, and you will fall like choice rams.

32:35 And flight will perish from the shepherds, and salvation from the rams of the sheep.

32:36 A sound of shepherds crying and of sheep and rams shouting, because the Lord destroyed their grazing places,

32:37 and the remnants of peace will cease before the anger of My fury.

32:38 Like a lion He abandoned His lodging, because their land became an untrodden place before the great sword.

Jeremiah 33

33:1 At the beginning of the reign of King Jehoiakim son of Josiah, this word came from the Lord:

33:2 Thus said the Lord: Stand in the courtyard of the Lord’s house and deliver an oracle to all the Judeans and all who come to bow down in the Lord’s house—all the words I commanded you to deliver to them. Do not take away a word.

33:3 Perhaps they will hear and turn, each from his evil way, and I will cease from the evils I plan to do to them because of their evil practices.

33:4 And say: Thus said the Lord: If you do not hear Me, walking in My ordinances that I set before your face,

33:5 listening to the words of My servants the prophets whom I send to you from early morning, and have sent—though you did not listen to Me—

33:6 then I will make this house like Shiloh and make the city a curse to all the nations of all the earth.

33:7 And the priests, false prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the Lord’s house.

33:8 And when Jeremiah stopped speaking everything the Lord commanded him to speak to all the people, the priests, false prophets, and all the people seized him, saying: You must die!

33:9 Because you prophesied in the Lord’s name, saying, This house will be like Shiloh and this city will be emptied of inhabitants. And all the people assembled against Jeremiah in the Lord’s house.

33:10 And Judah’s rulers heard this word and went up from the king’s house to the Lord’s house. They sat before the Lord’s New Gate.

33:11 And the priests and false prophets said to the rulers and all the people: A sentence of death for this man, because he prophesied against this city, as you heard with your own ears!

33:12 And Jeremiah said to the rulers and all the people: The Lord sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all these words you heard.

33:13 And now make your ways and works better and hear the Lord's voice, and the Lord will cease from the evils He spoke against you.

33:14 And behold, I am in your hands. Do to me what is advantageous and better for you.

33:15 But know for certain that if you kill me, you place innocent blood upon yourselves, this city, and its inhabitants, because the Lord truly sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears.

33:16 And the rulers and all the people said to the priests and false prophets: There is no sentence of death for this man, because he spoke to us in the name of the Lord our God.

33:17 And men from the land's elders rose and said to the whole congregation of the people:

33:18 Micah the Morathite lived in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah and said to all Judah's people: Thus said the Lord: Zion will be plowed as a field, Jerusalem will become an untrodden place, and the house's mountain a grove of woodland.

33:19 Did Hezekiah and all Judah kill him? Was it not that they feared the Lord and entreated the Lord's face, and the Lord ceased from the evils He spoke against them? And we have done great evils against our own lives!

33:20 And there was a man prophesying in the Lord's name, Uriah son of Shemaiah from Kiriath-jearim. He prophesied concerning this land according to all Jeremiah's words.

33:21 And King Jehoiakim and all the rulers heard all his words and sought to kill him. Uriah heard and entered Egypt.

33:22 And the king sent men to Egypt,

33:23 and they brought him out from there and brought him to the king. He struck him with the sword and threw him into the tomb of the sons of his people.

33:24 Nevertheless, Ahikam son of Shaphan's hand was with Jeremiah, so that he was not handed into the people's hands and they did not kill him.

Jeremiah 34

34:2 Thus said the Lord: Make bonds and neck collars and put them around your neck,

34:3 and send them to Idumea's king, Moab's king, the king of Ammon's sons, Tyre's king, and Sidon's king by their messengers coming to meet them in Jerusalem, to Zedekiah king of Judah.

34:4 And command them to tell their masters: Thus said the Lord, Israel's God: Say this to your masters:

34:5 I made the earth by My great strength and My lofty undertaking, and I will give it to whoever seems right in My eyes.

34:6 I gave the earth to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to serve him, and the field's beasts to work for him.

34:8 And the nation and kingdom, whoever will not put their neck under Babylon's king's yoke—I will visit them with sword and famine, said the Lord, until they disappear by his hand.

34:9 And do not listen to your false prophets, those divining for you, those dreaming for you, your omens, or your enchantments, who say: You will certainly not work for Babylon's king.

34:10 Because they prophesy false things to you, to remove you far from your land.

34:11 And the nation that brings its neck under Babylon's king's yoke and works for him, I will leave it in its own land, and it works for him and will dwell in it.

34:12 And I spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying: Bring your neck,

34:14 and work for Babylon's king, because they prophesy unjust things to you.

34:15 Because I did not send them, says the Lord, and they prophesy unjustly in My name to destroy you. You will perish, you and your prophets who prophesy false things unjustly to you.

34:16 I spoke to you, all this people, and the priests, saying: Thus said the Lord: Do not listen to the prophets' words prophesying to you, Behold, the vessels of the Lord's house will return from Babylon, because they prophesy unjust things to you. I did not send them.

34:18 If they are prophets and the Lord's word is in them, let them meet with Me.

34:19 Because thus said the Lord: And of the remaining vessels,

34:20 which Babylon's king did not take when he deported Jeconiah from Jerusalem,

34:22 they will go into Babylon, says the Lord.

Jeremiah 35

35:1 And in the fourth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fifth month, Hananiah son of Azzur, the false prophet from Gibeon, said to me in the Lord’s house before the priests and all the people:

35:2 Thus said the Lord: I smashed Babylon’s king’s yoke.

35:3 In two full years I will return to this place the vessels of the Lord’s house,

35:4 and Jeconiah and Judah’s deportees, because I will smash Babylon’s king’s yoke.

35:5 And Jeremiah said to Hananiah before all the people and before the priests standing in the Lord’s house,

35:6 and Jeremiah said: Truly! May the Lord do so. May He establish your word that you prophesy, returning the vessels of the Lord’s house and all the deportees from Babylon to this place.

35:7 Nevertheless, hear the Lord’s word that I speak in your ears and in all the people’s ears:

35:8 The prophets who were before me and before you from of old prophesied over much land and against great kingdoms concerning war.

35:9 The prophet who prophesied peace—when the word comes, they will know the prophet whom the Lord sent to them in faithfulness.

35:10 And Hananiah took the collars from Jeremiah’s neck before all the people and smashed them.

35:11 And Hananiah said before all the people: Thus said the Lord: This is how I will smash Babylon’s king’s yoke from all the nations’ necks. And Jeremiah went his way.

35:12 And the Lord’s word came to Jeremiah after Hananiah smashed the collars from his neck, saying:

35:13 Go and tell Hananiah: Thus said the Lord: You smashed wooden collars, and I will make iron collars in their place.

35:14 Because thus said the Lord: I placed an iron yoke upon all the nations’ necks to work for Babylon’s king.

35:15 And Jeremiah said to Hananiah: The Lord has not sent you, and you made this people trust in injustice.

35:16 Therefore thus said the Lord: Behold, I am sending you away from the earth’s face. This year you will die.

35:17 And he died in the seventh month.

Jeremiah 36

36:1 And these are the words of the document Jeremiah sent from Jerusalem to the elders of the deportation, the priests, and the false prophets—a letter to Babylon for the deportees and all the people—

36:2 after King Jeconiah, the queen, the eunuchs, and every free person, prisoner, and craftsman left Jerusalem,

36:3 by Elasah son of Shaphan and Gemariah son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon’s king in Babylon, saying:

36:4 Thus said the Lord, Israel’s God, concerning the deportees whom I deported from Jerusalem:

36:5 Build houses and dwell in them; plant gardens and eat their fruits,

36:6 and take wives and beget sons and daughters. Take wives for your sons and give your daughters to husbands. Multiply and do not become fewer,

36:7 and seek the peace of the land where I deported you, and pray to the Lord for them, because in its peace you will have peace.

36:8 Because thus said the Lord: Do not let the false prophets among you persuade you, and do not let your diviners persuade you. Do not listen to your dreams that you dream,

36:9 because they prophesy unjust things to you in My name, and I did not send them.

36:10 Because thus said the Lord: When seventy years are about to be fulfilled for Babylon, I will visit you and establish My words for you, to return your people to this place.

36:11 And I will plan for you a plan of peace and not evils, to give you these things.

Greek chapter

36:12 And pray to Me, and I will listen to you.

36:13 And seek Me earnestly, and you will find Me, because you will seek Me with your whole heart,

36:14 and I will appear to you.

36:15 Because you said: The Lord established prophets for us in Babylon,

36:21 Thus said the Lord concerning Ahab and Zedekiah: Behold, I am giving them into Babylon's king's hands, and he will strike them before your eyes.

36:22 And all Judah's deportees in Babylon will take a curse from them, saying: May the Lord make you as He made Zedekiah and Ahab, whom Babylon's king fried in fire,

36:23 because of the lawlessness they committed in Israel: they committed adultery with their fellow citizens' wives and delivered an oracle in My name that I did not command them. I am a witness, says the Lord.

36:24 And to Shemaiah the Nelamite say:

36:25 I did not send you in My name. And to Zephaniah son of Maaseiah the priest say:

36:26 The Lord appointed you priest in place of Jehoiada the priest, to become an overseer in the Lord's house over every person prophesying and every person raging, and you will put him into confinement and into the trap.

36:27 And now why did you join in reviling Jeremiah from Anathoth, who prophesied to you?

36:28 Was it not for this that he sent to you in Babylon, saying: It is far off. Build houses and dwell in them; plant gardens, and you will eat their fruit?

36:29 And Zephaniah read the document in Jeremiah's hearing.

36:30 And the Lord's word came to Jeremiah, saying:

36:31 Send to the deportees, saying: Thus said the Lord concerning Shemaiah the Nelamite: Since Shemaiah prophesied to you, though I did not send him, and made you trust in unjust things, 36:32 therefore thus said the Lord: Behold, I will visit Shemaiah and his family, and none of them will be among you to see the good things I will do for you. They will not see.

Jeremiah 37

37:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying:

37:2 Thus said the Lord, Israel's God: Write in a book all the words I delivered to you as oracles,

37:3 because behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and I will return the deportees of My people Israel and Judah, said the Lord. I will return them to the land I gave their fathers, and they will rule over it.

37:4 And these are the words the Lord spoke concerning Israel and Judah:

37:5 Thus said the Lord: You will hear a sound of fear—fear, and there is no peace.

37:6 Ask and see whether a male gave birth, and about fear in which they will hold loins and salvation. For I have seen every person with his hands upon his loins; faces turned toward jaundice—

37:7 so it became. For that day is great, and there is none like it; it is a narrow time for Jacob, and he will be saved from it.

37:8 On that day, said the Lord, I will smash the yoke from their neck and tear apart their bonds, and they will no longer work for foreigners.

37:9 And they will work for the Lord their God, and I will raise up David their king for them.

37:12 Thus said the Lord: I raised up a fracture; your wound is painful.

37:13 There is no one judging your case; you were treated into pain. There is no benefit for you.

37:14 All your friends forgot you; they will certainly not inquire. For I struck you with an enemy's blow, a firm discipline; upon all your injustice your sins multiplied.

37:16 Therefore all who eat you will be eaten; as for all your enemies, they will eat all their flesh. Upon the multitude of your injustices your sins multiplied; they did these things to you. Those plundering you will become plunder, and I will give all who despoil you as spoil.

37:17 Because I will bring up your cure and heal you from a painful wound, says the Lord, because you were called Scattered: She is your prey, because no one seeks her.

37:18 Thus said the Lord: Behold, I will return Jacob's deportees and have mercy on his captivity. A city will be built upon its height, and the sanctuary will sit according to its judgment.

37:19 And singers and the sound of people playing will come out from them. I will increase them, and they will certainly not be diminished.

37:20 And their sons will enter as formerly, and their testimonies will be set upright before Me. I will visit those afflicting them.

37:21 And stronger ones of his will be over them, and his ruler will come out from him. I will gather them, and they will return to Me. For who is this who gave his heart to return to Me? says the Lord.

37:23 Because the Lord's anger went out furious; swirling anger went out and will come upon the ungodly.

37:24 The anger of the Lord's fury will certainly not turn back until He acts and establishes His heart's undertaking. At the end of the days you will know these things.

Jeremiah 38

38:1 At that time, said the Lord, I will be God to Israel’s family, and they will be My people.

38:2 Thus said the Lord: I found warmth in the wilderness among those who perished by the sword. Go, and do not destroy Israel.

38:3 The Lord appeared to him from afar: I loved you with an eternal love; therefore I drew you into compassion.

38:4 Again I will build you, and you will be built, virgin Israel. Again you will take your tambourine and go out with a gathering of people playing.

38:5 Again plant vineyards on Samaria’s mountains; plant and praise.

38:6 Because there is a day of calling by those making their defense in Ephraim’s mountains: Rise and go up to Zion, to the Lord our God.

38:7 Because thus said the Lord to Jacob: Rejoice and neigh aloud toward the head of the nations; make it heard and praise. Say: The Lord saved His people, Israel’s remnant!

38:8 Behold, I am bringing them from the north and will gather them from the earth’s farthest end at the Passover festival. You will bear a great crowd, and they will return here.

38:9 They went out with weeping, and with encouragement I will bring them up, lodging them beside water channels on a straight road where they will certainly not wander, because I became Israel’s father, and Ephraim is My firstborn.

38:10 Hear the Lord’s word, nations, and announce it to the farther islands. Say: He who winnowed Israel will gather him and guard him like one tending his flock.

38:11 Because the Lord ransomed Jacob and rescued him from the hand of those stronger than he.

38:12 They will come and rejoice on Mount Zion; they will come for the Lord’s good things, to a land of grain, wine, fruits, livestock, and sheep. Their life will be like a fruitful tree, and they will hunger no more.

38:13 Then virgins will rejoice in a gathering of young men, and elders will rejoice. I will turn their mourning into gladness and make them joyful.

38:14 I will magnify and fill the priests’ souls to abundance, the sons of Levi, and My people will be filled with My good things.

38:15 Thus said the Lord: A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, weeping, and wailing. Rachel, weeping aloud, would not stop over her sons, because they are no more.

38:16 Thus said the Lord: Let your voice cease from weeping and your eyes from your tears, because your works have a reward, and they will return from enemies’ land, 38:17 a lasting stay for your children.

38:18 I surely heard Ephraim wailing: Thou didst discipline me, and I was disciplined; like a calf I was not taught. Turn me back, and I will return, because Thou art the Lord my God.

38:19 Because after my captivity I repented, and after I came to know, I groaned over days of shame and showed Thee that I received reproach from my youth.

38:20 Ephraim is a beloved son to Me, a child taking delight, because My words are in him; I will surely remember him. Therefore I hastened toward him; I will surely have mercy on him, says the Lord.

38:21 Stand firm, Zion; carry out punishment; set your heart upon the shoulders. Turn back along the road you traveled, virgin Israel; turn back to your cities in mourning.

38:22 How long will you turn away, dishonored daughter? Because the Lord created salvation for a new planting; people will go about in salvation.

38:23 Thus said the Lord: They will again say this word in Judah’s land and its cities when I return its captivity: Blessed is the Lord over the righteous mountain, His holy mountain, 38:24 and those dwelling in Judah’s cities and all its land together with a farmer; and he will be lifted up with a flock.

38:25 Because I filled every thirsty soul to abundance and filled every hungry soul.

38:26 Therefore I awoke and saw, and my sleep became sweet to me.

38:27 Therefore behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and I will sow Israel and Judah with human seed and livestock seed.

38:28 And just as I watched over them to tear down and harm, so I will watch over them to build and plant, says the Lord.

38:29 In those days they will certainly not say: The fathers ate an unripe grape, and the children’s teeth were set on edge.

38:30 Instead, each will die in his own sin, and the one eating the unripe grape will have his own teeth set on edge.

38:31 Behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah,

38:34 And they will certainly not teach each his fellow citizen or his brother, saying, Know the Lord, because they will all know Me, from their least to their greatest. I will be merciful toward their injustices and certainly remember their sins no more.

38:35 If the heaven is raised to the height, says the Lord, and the earth's ground lowered beneath, even then I do not reject Israel's family, says the Lord, for all they did.

38:36 Thus said the Lord, who gave the sun for daylight, moon and stars for night light, and a cry in the sea so its waves boomed—the Lord Almighty is His name:

38:37 If these laws cease from before Me, says the Lord, then Israel's family will cease to be a nation before Me for all days.

38:38 Behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and a city will be built for the Lord from Hanamel's tower to the Corner Gate.

38:39 And its measurement will go out opposite them as far as Gareb's hills, and it will be enclosed all around with chosen stones.

38:40 And all Asaremoth as far as the Kidron wadi, to the corner of the eastern Horse Gate, will be a sanctuary for the Lord. It will certainly never disappear or be torn down for ever.

Jeremiah 39

39:1 The word that came from the Lord to Jeremiah in King Zedekiah's tenth year, which was the eighteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon.

39:2 The king of Babylon's force had built siegeworks against Jerusalem, and Jeremiah was kept in the prison court at the king's house.

39:3 King Zedekiah had shut him in there, saying, Why do you prophesy, saying, Thus said the Lord: I am handing this city over to Babylon's king, and he will take it?

39:4 Zedekiah will certainly not be saved from the Chaldeans' hand, but will certainly be handed over to Babylon's king. His mouth will speak to his mouth, and his eyes will see his eyes.

39:5 Zedekiah will enter Babylon and remain there.

39:6 The Lord's word came to Jeremiah:

39:7 Hanamel son of Shallum, your father's brother, is coming to you, saying, Acquire my field at Anathoth for yourself, because you have the right to receive it as a possession.

39:8 Hanamel son of Shallum, my father's brother, came to me in the prison court and said, Acquire my field in Benjamin's land at Anathoth, because you have the right to acquire it, and you are the elder. Then I knew that this was the Lord's word.

39:9 I acquired the field of Hanamel, my father's brother's son, and weighed out to him seventeen shekels of silver.

39:10 I wrote a document, sealed it, called witnesses, and weighed the silver on a balance.

39:11 I took the purchase document, the sealed one and the one that had been read.

39:12 I gave it to Baruch son of Neriah son of Maaseiah, before Hanamel my father's brother's son, before those standing there and writing in the purchase document, and before the Judeans in the prison court.

39:13 Before their eyes I instructed Baruch:

39:14 Thus said the Lord Almighty: Take this purchase document and the document that has been read, and put it in an earthenware vessel so that it may last many days.

39:15 For thus said the Lord: Fields, houses, and vineyards will again be acquired in this land.

39:16 After giving the purchase document to Baruch son of Neriah, I prayed to the Lord:

39:17 O Lord, Thou madest heaven and earth by Thy great strength and Thy high, uplifted arm. Nothing can be hidden from Thee.

39:18 Thou showest mercy to thousands and repayest fathers' sins into their children's laps after them, the great and strong God,

39:19 Lord of great counsel and powerful in works, the great God, the Almighty and renowned Lord. Thine eyes are upon the ways of human beings, to give each according to his way.

39:20 Thou didst perform signs and wonders in Egypt down to this day, in Israel and among earthborn people, and madest a name for Thyself as it is this day.

39:21 Thou broughtest Thy people Israel out of Egypt with signs and wonders, with a mighty hand, a high arm, and great sights.

39:22 Thou gavest them this land, which Thou hadst sworn to their fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.

39:23 They entered and received it, but did not obey Thy voice or walk in Thine ordinances. They did none of all that Thou didst command them, and Thou didst cause all these calamities to befall them.

39:24 A multitude has reached this city to seize it. The city was handed over to the Chaldeans fighting it because of sword and famine. As Thou spakest, so it happened.

39:25 Yet Thou sayest to me, Acquire a field with silver. And I wrote a document, sealed it, and called witnesses—even though the city was handed over to the Chaldeans.

39:26 The Lord's word came to me:

39:27 I am the Lord, the God of all flesh. Can anything be hidden from Me?

39:28 Therefore thus said the Lord, Israel's God: This city will certainly be handed over to Babylon's king, and he will take it.

39:29 The Chaldeans fighting this city will come and burn this city with fire. They will burn down the houses on whose roofs they burned incense to Baal and poured libations to other gods to provoke Me bitterly.

39:30 The children of Israel and Judah alone were doing evil in My sight from their youth.

39:31 This city has aroused My anger and wrath from the day they built it until this day, so that I would remove it from My presence,

39:32 because of all the wicked deeds the children of Israel and Judah committed to embitter Me—they and their kings, their rulers, their priests, their prophets, the men of Judah and Jerusalem's inhabitants.

39:33 They turned their backs to Me, not their faces. I taught them from early morning and kept teaching, but they did not listen and take hold of discipline.

39:34 They set their pollutions in the house over which My name is invoked, amid their impurities.

39:35 They built the altars to Baal in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to offer their sons and daughters to Molech the king. I had not instructed them, nor had it entered My heart, to do this abomination and cause Judah to sin.

39:36 And now, thus said the Lord, Israel's God, concerning the city of which you say, It will be handed over to Babylon's king by sword, famine, and a sent affliction:

39:37 I am gathering them from all the land where I scattered them in My anger, wrath, and great indignation. I will bring them back to this place and settle them in confidence.

39:38 They will be My people, and I will be their God.

39:39 I will give them another way and another heart, to fear Me always, for their good and their children's good after them.

39:40 I will establish an eternal covenant with them, which I will certainly not turn back from behind them. I will put My fear in their heart so that they do not depart from Me.

39:41 I will attend to them to do them good and will plant them in this land in faithfulness, with all heart and all soul.

39:42 For thus said the Lord: Just as I brought all these great calamities upon this people, so I will bring upon them all the good things I spoke concerning them.

39:43 Fields will again be acquired in the land of which you say, It is untrodden by people and animals, and they were handed over to the Chaldeans.

39:44 They will acquire fields with silver, and you will write a document, seal it, and call witnesses in Benjamin's land, around Jerusalem, in Judah's cities, the hill-country cities, the cities of the Shephelah, and the cities of the Negeb, because I will bring back their exiles.

Jeremiah 40

40:1 The Lord’s word came to Jeremiah a second time, while he was still bound in the prison court:

40:2 Thus said the Lord, who makes the earth and forms it to set it upright—the Lord is His name:

40:3 Cry out to Me and I will answer you. I will announce to you great, mighty things you have not known.

40:4 For thus said the Lord, Israel’s God, about this city’s houses and the houses of Judah’s king, torn down for siegeworks and defenses,

40:5 to fight the Chaldeans and fill the city with the dead bodies of people I struck in My anger and wrath. I turned My face from them because of all their wicked deeds.

40:6 I am bringing her the closing of wounds and a remedy. I will reveal to them that I listen, heal her, and make peace and faithfulness for them.

40:7 I will bring back Judah’s exiles and Israel’s exiles and build them as before.

40:8 I will cleanse them from all the injustices by which they sinned against Me. I will certainly not remember the sins they committed against Me when they departed from Me.

40:9 It will be for joy, praise, and greatness to all the people of the earth. They will hear all the good things I will do, and they will fear and be distressed over all the good and peace I will bring them.

40:10 Thus said the Lord: Again in this place, which you call deserted of people and animals, in Judah’s cities and outside Jerusalem, desolate because there are no people or animals, there will be heard

40:11 the sound of joy and rejoicing, the bridegroom’s voice and the bride’s voice, the voices of those saying, Give thanks to the Lord Almighty, for the Lord is good; His mercy is for ever. They will bring gifts into the Lord’s house, for I will bring back all the exiles of that land as before, said the Lord.

40:12 Thus said the Lord of forces: Again in this place, deserted because there are no people or animals, and in all its cities, there will be lodgings for shepherds settling sheep down.

40:13 In the hill-country cities, the cities of the Shephelah, the cities of the Negeb, in Benjamin’s land, in the places around Jerusalem, and in Judah’s cities, sheep will again pass under the hand of the one counting, said the Lord.

Jeremiah 41

41:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord while Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, his whole army, and all the land under his rule were fighting Jerusalem and all Judah’s cities:

41:2 Thus said the Lord: Go to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, Thus said the Lord: This city will certainly be handed over to Babylon’s king. He will seize it and burn it with fire.

41:3 You will certainly not be saved from his hand. You will certainly be captured and handed over to him. Your eyes will see his eyes, and his mouth will speak with your mouth. You will enter Babylon.

41:4 But hear the Lord’s word, Zedekiah king of Judah. Thus says the Lord:

41:5 You will die in peace. As they wept for your fathers who reigned before you, they will weep for you and lament you, O lord! For I have spoken the word, said the Lord.

41:6 Jeremiah spoke all these words to King Zedekiah in Jerusalem, 41:7 while Babylon’s king’s force fought Jerusalem and Judah’s cities, Lachish and Azekah; these were the fortified cities left among Judah’s cities.

41:8 The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord after King Zedekiah concluded a covenant with the people to proclaim release:

41:9 each was to send his Hebrew male slave and his Hebrew female slave away free, so that a man from Judah would not be enslaved.

41:10 All the magnates and all the people who had entered the covenant to send away their male and female slaves turned back,

41:11 and thrust them into the position of male and female slaves.

41:12 The Lord’s word came to Jeremiah:

41:13 Thus said the Lord, Israel’s God: I established a covenant with your fathers on the day I rescued them from Egypt, from the house of slavery, saying:

41:14 When six years are complete, you must send away your Hebrew brother who is sold to you. He will work for you six years, and you must send him away free. But they did not obey Me or incline their ears.

41:15 Today they turned to do what was right before My eyes, each proclaiming his neighbor’s release. They concluded a covenant before Me in the house over which My name is invoked.

41:16 Then you reversed yourselves and profaned My name by bringing back your male and female slaves, whom you had sent away free in their own persons, to be your slaves.

41:17 Therefore thus said the Lord: You did not obey Me by proclaiming release, each to his neighbor. So I proclaim release for you to sword, death, and famine! I will give you over to scattering among all the earth's kingdoms.

41:18 I will hand over the men who passed beyond My covenant, who did not uphold My covenant which they made before Me—the calf they made, to work for it—

41:19 Judah's rulers, the powerful men, the priests, and the people.

41:20 I will hand them over to their enemies, and their carcasses will become food for the birds of heaven and the wild beasts of the earth.

41:21 I will hand Zedekiah king of Judea and their rulers over to their enemies. And the force of Babylon's king is for those running away from them.

41:22 I am giving orders, says the Lord, and will bring them back to this land. They will fight against it, take it, and burn it with fire, along with Judah's cities; I will make them deserted of inhabitants.

Jeremiah 42

42:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord in the days of Jehoiakim king of Judah:

42:2 Go to the house of the Rechabites. Bring them into the Lord's house, into one of the courts, and give them wine to drink.

42:3 I brought out Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah son of Habazziniah, his brothers, his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites.

42:4 I brought them into the Lord's house, into the chamber of the sons of Hananiah son of Gedaliah, the man of God. It is near the house of the rulers above the house of Maaseiah son of Shallum, who guards the court.

42:5 I set before them an earthenware jar of wine and cups, and said, Drink wine.

42:6 They said, We certainly will not drink wine, because Jonadab son of Rechab, our father, commanded us: Neither you nor your sons must ever drink wine.

42:7 You must not build a house or sow seed, and you must not have a vineyard. You must live in tents all your days, so that you may live many days on the land where you spend your time.

42:8 We have obeyed the voice of Jonadab our father by not drinking wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, and our daughters,

42:9 and by not building houses to live there. We have had no vineyard, field, or sown crop.

42:10 We lived in tents, obeying and doing everything Jonadab our father commanded us.

42:11 When Nebuchadnezzar invaded the land, we said, Come in, let us enter Jerusalem to escape the Chaldean force and the Assyrian force. So we were living there.

42:12 The Lord's word came to me:

42:13 Thus says the Lord: Go and say to the people of Judah and Jerusalem's inhabitants, Will you really not accept discipline and hear My words?

42:14 The sons of Jonadab son of Rechab upheld the word he commanded his children, not to drink wine, and they drank none. Yet I spoke to you from early morning and kept speaking, and you did not listen.

42:15 I sent you My servants the prophets, saying, Each of you, turn from his evil way and improve your practices. Do not follow other gods to serve them, and you will live on the land I gave you and your fathers. But you did not incline your ears or listen.

42:16 The sons of Jonadab son of Rechab upheld their father's command, but this people did not obey Me.

42:17 Therefore thus said the Lord: I am bringing upon Judah and Jerusalem's inhabitants all the calamities I pronounced against them.

42:18 Therefore thus said the Lord: Because the sons of Jonadab son of Rechab obeyed their father's command, doing as their father commanded them, 42:19 there will certainly never fail a man from the sons of Jonadab son of Rechab standing before Me all the earth's days.

Jeremiah 43

43:1 In the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, the Lord's word came to me:

43:2 Take a writing roll and write on it all the words I have delivered to you as oracles concerning Jerusalem, Judah, and all the nations, from the day I spoke to you, from the days of Josiah king of Judah until today.

43:3 Perhaps Judah's house will hear all the calamities I intend to bring upon them, so that they turn from their evil way and I may be merciful toward their injustices and sins.

43:4 Jeremiah called Baruch son of Neriah, and he wrote on a writing roll, from Jeremiah's mouth, all the Lord's words which He had delivered to him as oracles.

43:5 Jeremiah instructed Baruch, I am under guard and cannot enter the Lord's house.

43:6 Read from this roll in the people's hearing at the Lord's house on a fast day, and read it to all Judah's people coming from their city.

43:7 Perhaps their appeal for mercy will fall before the Lord, and they will turn from their evil way, for great are the Lord's wrath and anger which He has pronounced against this people.

43:8 Baruch did everything Jeremiah instructed him, reading the Lord's words from the document in the Lord's house.

43:9 In King Jehoiakim's eighth year, in the ninth month, all the people in Jerusalem and Judah's house assembled for a fast before the Lord.

43:10 Baruch read Jeremiah's words from the document in the Lord's house, in the house of Gemariah son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court at the entrance of the New Gate of the Lord's house, in all the people's hearing.

43:11 Micaiah son of Gemariah son of Shaphan heard all the Lord's words from the document.

43:12 He went down to the king's house, to the scribe's house. All the rulers were sitting there: Elishama the scribe, Delaiah son of Shelemiah, Elnathan son of Achbor, Gemariah son of Shaphan, Zedekiah son of Hananiah, and all the rulers.

43:13 Micaiah reported to them all the words he had heard when Baruch read in the people's hearing.

43:14 All the rulers sent Jehudi son of Nethaniah son of Shelemiah son of Cushi to Baruch son of Neriah, saying, Take in your hand the roll from which you are reading to the people, and come. Baruch took the roll and went down to them.

43:15 They said to him, Read it again to us. Baruch read it.

43:16 When they heard all the words, they consulted one another and said, Let us certainly report all these words to the king.

43:17 They asked Baruch, Where did all these words you wrote come from?

43:18 Baruch said, Jeremiah reported all these words to me from his mouth, and I wrote them in a document.

43:19 They said to Baruch, Go and hide, you and Jeremiah. Let no one know where you are.

43:20 They entered the court to see the king, leaving the roll for safekeeping in Elishama's house, and reported all the words to the king.

43:21 The king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll. He took it from Elishama's house, and Jehudi read it to the king and all the rulers standing around him.

43:22 The king was sitting in a winter house, with a fire brazier before him.

43:23 When Jehudi read three or four columns, the king cut them off with the scribe's knife and threw them into the fire on the brazier, until the whole roll was consumed in the brazier's fire.

43:24 Neither the king nor his servants who heard all these words sought anything or tore their garments.

43:25 Elnathan, Gedaliah, and Gemariah advised the king not to burn the roll.

43:26 The king ordered Jerahmeel the king's son and Seraiah son of Azriel to arrest Baruch and Jeremiah. But they were hidden.

43:27 After the king burned the roll—all the words Baruch had written from Jeremiah's mouth—the Lord's word came to Jeremiah:

43:28 Take another roll again and write all the words that were on the roll which King Jehoiakim burned.

43:29 Say, Thus said the Lord: You burned this roll, saying, Why did you write in it that Babylon's king will certainly enter and destroy this land, and people and animals will cease from it?

43:30 Therefore thus said the Lord concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He will have no one sitting on David's throne. His carcass will be thrown out in the day's heat and the night's frost.

43:31 I will visit him, his family, and his servants, and bring upon them, Jerusalem's inhabitants, and Judah's land all the calamities I pronounced to them, but they did not listen.

43:32 Baruch took another roll and wrote on it, from Jeremiah's mouth, all the words of the document Jehoiakim burned. Still more words like these were added to it.

Jeremiah 44

44:1 Zedekiah son of Josiah reigned in place of Jehoiakim; Nebuchadnezzar had made him king over Judah.

44:2 Neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land obeyed the Lord's words, which He spoke through Jeremiah.

44:3 King Zedekiah sent Jehucal son of Shelemiah and Zephaniah son of Maaseiah the priest to Jeremiah, saying, Please pray for us to the Lord.

44:4 Jeremiah came and passed through the midst of the city; they had not put him in prison.

44:5 Pharaoh's force came out of Egypt. The Chaldeans heard the report about them and withdrew from Jerusalem.

44:6 The Lord's word came to Jeremiah:

44:7 Thus said the Lord: Tell Judah's king, who sent to you to seek Me, Pharaoh's force, which came out to help you, will return to Egypt's land.

44:8 The Chaldeans themselves will return, fight this city, seize it, and burn it with fire.

44:9 For thus said the Lord: Do not suppose within yourselves, The Chaldeans will flee and leave us. They certainly will not leave.

44:10 Even if you struck the whole Chaldean force fighting you and some were left pierced through, each in his place, these would rise and burn this city with fire.

44:11 When the Chaldean force withdrew from Jerusalem because of Pharaoh's force, 44:12 Jeremiah left Jerusalem to go to Benjamin's land, to buy from there among the people.

44:13 At Benjamin's Gate there was a man with whom he lodged, Sarouiah son of Shelemiah son of Hananiah. He arrested Jeremiah, saying, You are fleeing to the Chaldeans!

44:14 He said, A lie! I am not fleeing to the Chaldeans. But Sarouiah would not listen to him; he arrested Jeremiah and brought him to the rulers.

44:15 The rulers were embittered against Jeremiah. They struck him and sent him into the house of Jonathan the scribe, which they had made into a prison house.

44:16 Jeremiah entered the pit-house and the chereth and stayed there many days.

44:17 Zedekiah sent and summoned him. The king secretly asked him whether there was a word from the Lord. He said, There is. You will be handed over to Babylon's king.

44:18 Jeremiah said to the king, How have I wronged you, your servants, or this people, that you are putting me in prison?

44:19 Where are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, Babylon's king certainly will not come against this land?

44:20 Now, lord king, let my appeal for mercy fall before you. Why send me back to Jonathan the scribe's house—and will I not die there?

44:21 The king gave orders, and they put him into the prison house, giving him one loaf a day from outside where they bake, until the city's loaves ran out. Jeremiah remained in the prison court.

Jeremiah 45

45:1 Shephatiah son of Mattan, Gedaliah son of Pashhur, and Jehucal son of Shelemiah heard the words Jeremiah was speaking to the people:

45:2 Thus said the Lord: Whoever remains in this city will die by sword and famine. Whoever goes out to the Chaldeans will live; his life will be his gain, and he will live.

45:3 For thus said the Lord: This city will certainly be handed over to the force of Babylon's king, and he will seize it.

45:4 They said to the king, Let that man be killed! By speaking these words to them he weakens the hands of the fighters left in the city and of all the people. This man delivers oracles of evil to this people, not peace.

45:5 The king said, He is in your hands—for the king was unable to oppose them.

45:6 They threw him into the pit of Malchiah the king's son in the prison court and lowered him into the pit. There was no water in it, only mire, and he was in the mire.

45:7 Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the pit. The king was at Benjamin's Gate.

45:8 He went out to him, spoke to the king, and said:

45:9 You have acted wickedly in what you did, killing this man through hunger, for there are no more loaves in the city.

45:10 The king instructed Ebed-melech, Take thirty men from here under your command and bring him up from the pit so that he does not die.

45:11 Ebed-melech took the men and entered the king's underground house. He took old rags and old ropes from there and threw them down to Jeremiah in the pit.

45:12 He said, Put these beneath the ropes. Jeremiah did so.

45:13 They pulled him with the ropes and brought him up from the pit. Jeremiah remained in the prison court.

45:14 The king sent and summoned him to himself, to the aselisi house in the Lord's house. The king said to him, I will ask you something. Please hide no word from me.

45:15 Jeremiah said to the king, If I tell you, will you not certainly put me to death? And if I advise you, you certainly will not listen to me.

45:16 The king swore to him, As the Lord lives, who made this life for us, I will not kill you or hand you over to these men.

45:17 Jeremiah said to him, Thus said the Lord: If you go out to Babylon's king's commanders, your life will be spared and this city will certainly not be burned with fire. You and your household will live.

45:18 But if you do not go out, this city will be handed over to the Chaldeans and they will burn it with fire. You certainly will not be saved.

45:19 The king said to Jeremiah, I am concerned about the Judeans who have fled to the Chaldeans, lest they hand me over to them and mock me.

45:20 Jeremiah said, They certainly will not hand you over. Hear the Lord's word which I speak to you, and it will be better for you; your life will be spared.

45:21 But if you are unwilling to go out, this is the word the Lord showed me:

45:22 All the women left in Judah's king's house were being brought out to Babylon's king's rulers. They said, Your peaceful friends deceived you and will overpower you. They will bring your feet to rest in slippery places; they turned away from you.

45:23 They will bring your wives and children out to the Chaldeans. You certainly will not be saved, for Babylon's king will seize you, and this city will be burned.

45:24 The king said to him, Let no one learn anything of these words, and you certainly will not die.

45:25 If the rulers hear that I spoke to you, come to you, and say, Tell us what the king said to you. Hide nothing from us and we certainly will not kill you. What did the king say to you?

45:26 tell them, I am casting my appeal for mercy before the king's eyes, not to send me back to Jonathan's house to die there.

45:27 All the rulers came to Jeremiah and questioned him. He reported everything the king had instructed him, and they fell silent, because the Lord's word had not been heard.

45:28 Jeremiah remained in the prison court until the time Jerusalem was captured.

Jeremiah 46

46:1 In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and his whole force arrived against Jerusalem and besieged it.

46:2 In Zedekiah's eleventh year, on the ninth day of the fourth month, the city was breached.

46:3 All Babylon's king's commanders entered and sat at the Middle Gate: Nargalasar, Samagoth, Nabousachar, Nabousaris, Nagargasnaser Rabamag, and the remaining commanders of Babylon's king.

46:14 They sent and took Jeremiah from the prison court and handed him over to Gedaliah son of Ahikam son of Shaphan. They brought him out, and he lived among the people.

46:15 The Lord's word came to Jeremiah in the prison court:

46:16 Go and tell Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, Thus said the Lord, Israel's God: I am bringing My words upon this city for calamity, not good.

46:17 I will save you that day and certainly will not hand you over to the men you fear.

46:18 I will certainly save you. You certainly will not fall by the sword; your life will be your gain because you trusted in Me, says the Lord.

Jeremiah 47

47:1 The word that came from the Lord to Jeremiah afterward, after Nebuzaradan, the chief guard from Daman, sent him away, when he took him in handcuffs among Judah's exiles who were being led to Babylon.

47:2 The chief guard took him and said to him, The Lord your God spoke these calamities against this place.

47:3 And the Lord acted, because you sinned against Him and did not obey His voice.

47:4 Behold, I have released you from the handcuffs on your hands. If it seems good to you to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look after you.

47:5 But if not, go off and return to Gedaliah son of Ahikam son of Shaphan, whom Babylon's king appointed in Judah's land, and live with him among the people in Judah's land. Go wherever it seems good in your eyes to go. The chief guard gave him gifts and sent him away.

47:6 He came to Gedaliah at Mizpah and lived among the people left in the land.

47:7 All the commanders of the force in the countryside, they and their men, heard that Babylon's king had appointed Gedaliah in the land and had entrusted to him men and their wives whom he had not deported to Babylon.

47:8 Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan son of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ophe the Netophathite, and Jezaniah son of the Maacathite came to Gedaliah at Mizpah, they and their men.

47:9 Gedaliah swore to them and their men, saying, Do not be afraid of the Chaldeans' servants. Live in the land and work for Babylon's king, and it will be better for you.

47:10 Behold, I am staying before you at Mizpah to stand before the Chaldeans who come against you. Gather wine and summer fruit, gather oil, put them in your containers, and live in the cities you have taken over.

47:11 All the Judeans in Moab's land, among Ammon's people, in Idumea, and in all the land heard that Babylon's king had left a remnant for Judah and appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam over them.

47:12 They came to Gedaliah in Judah's land at Mizpah and gathered a very great amount of wine and summer fruit, and oil.

47:13 Johanan son of Kareah and all the commanders of the force in the countryside came to Gedaliah at Mizpah.

47:14 They said to him, Do you really know that Belisa king of Ammon's people has sent Ishmael to you to take your life? But Gedaliah did not believe them.

47:15 Johanan spoke secretly to Gedaliah at Mizpah: Let me go and strike down Ishmael, and let no one know, lest he take your life and all Judah gathered to you be scattered, and Judah's survivors perish.

47:16 Gedaliah said to Johanan, Do not do this thing, for you are speaking falsehoods about Ishmael.

Jeremiah 48

48:1 In the seventh month, Ishmael son of Nethaniah son of Elasa, of the king's family, came with ten men to Gedaliah at Mizpah. They ate bread together there.

48:2 Ishmael and the ten men with him rose and struck Gedaliah, whom Babylon's king had appointed over the land,

48:3 and all the Judeans with him at Mizpah, and all the Chaldeans found there.

48:4 On the second day after he struck Gedaliah, when no one knew,

48:5 eighty men came from Shechem, Salem, and Samaria, with shaved beards and torn clothes, beating themselves, carrying grain offerings and frankincense to bring to the Lord's house.

48:6 Ishmael went out to meet them. They were walking and weeping, and he said to them, Come in to Gedaliah.

48:7 When they entered the middle of the city, he slaughtered them into the cistern.

48:8 Ten men found there said to Ishmael, Do not kill us, for we have stores in the countryside: wheat, barley, honey, and oil. He passed them by and did not kill them among their brothers.

48:9 The cistern into which Ishmael threw all those he had struck down is a large cistern that King Asa made because of Baasha king of Israel. Ishmael filled it with the slain.

48:10 Ishmael turned back all the people left at Mizpah and the king's daughters whom the chief guard had entrusted to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, and he went away to the far side of Ammon's people.

48:11 Johanan son of Kareah and all the commanders of the force with him heard of all the evils Ishmael had done.

48:12 They led their entire army and went away to fight him. They found him beside abundant water at Gibeon.

48:13 When all the people with Ishmael saw Johanan and the commanders of the force with him,

48:14 they returned to Johanan.

48:15 Ishmael escaped with eight men and went away to Ammon's people.

48:16 Johanan and all the commanders of the force with him took all the people left whom he had brought back from Ishmael: men mighty in war, the women, the rest, and the eunuchs whom he brought back from Gibeon.

48:17 They went away and stayed at Gaberoth-chamaam near Bethlehem, intending to go into Egypt,

48:18 away from the Chaldeans, for they feared them because Ishmael had struck Gedaliah, whom Babylon's king had appointed in the land.

Jeremiah 49

49:1 All the commanders of the force, Johanan, Azariah son of Maaseiah, and all the people, from the least to the greatest, approached

49:2 Jeremiah the prophet and said to him, Please let our appeal for mercy come before you. Pray to the Lord your God for these survivors, for few of us remain out of many, as your eyes see.

49:3 Let the Lord your God tell us the way we should go and the matter we should carry out.

49:4 Jeremiah said to them, I have heard. I will pray to the Lord our God as you have said. Whatever word the Lord answers, I will tell you; I certainly will not hide a word from you.

49:5 They said to Jeremiah, May the Lord be a righteous and faithful witness among us if we do not act according to every word with which the Lord sends you to us.

49:6 Whether good or bad, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God, to whom we are sending you, so that it may be better for us, because we will obey the voice of the Lord our God.

49:7 After ten days, the Lord's word came to Jeremiah.

49:8 He called Johanan, the commanders of the force, and all the people, from the least to the greatest.

49:9 He said to them, Thus said the Lord:

49:10 If you remain in this land, I will build you up and certainly not tear you down; I will plant you and certainly not pluck you up. For I have rested from the calamities I brought upon you.

49:11 Do not fear Babylon's king, whom you fear. Do not fear, says the Lord, for I am with you to rescue you and save you from his hand.

49:12 I will grant you mercy, have mercy on you, and return you to your land.

49:13 But if you say, We certainly will not remain in this land, so as not to obey the Lord's voice,

49:14 because we will enter Egypt's land, certainly not see war or hear the trumpet's sound or hunger for bread, and there we will live—

49:15 therefore hear the Lord's word. Thus said the Lord: If you set your faces toward Egypt and go in to live there,

49:16 the sword you fear will find you in Egypt's land, and the famine you are concerned about will catch up with you from behind in Egypt, and there you will die.

49:17 All the people and all the foreigners who set their faces toward Egypt's land to live there will perish by sword and famine. None of them will be saved from the calamities I am bringing upon them.

49:18 For thus said the Lord: As My wrath dripped upon Jerusalem's inhabitants, so My wrath will drip upon you when you enter Egypt. You will become an untrodden place, subject to others, a curse, and a reproach, and you certainly will never see this place again.

49:19 These are the things the Lord spoke concerning you, Judah's survivors: Do not enter Egypt. And now know for certain 49:20 that you acted wickedly in your souls when you sent me, saying, Pray for us to the Lord, and we will do everything the Lord tells you.

49:21 And you did not obey the Lord's voice, with which He sent me to you.

49:22 And now you will perish by sword and famine in the place where you want to go and live.

Jeremiah 50

50:1 When Jeremiah stopped speaking to the people all the Lord's words, with which the Lord had sent him to them—all these words—

50:2 Azariah son of Maaseiah, Johanan son of Kareah, and all the men who spoke said to Jeremiah, You are lying! The Lord did not send you to us to say, Do not enter Egypt to live there.

50:3 Rather, Baruch son of Neriah is setting you against us, so that you will hand us over to the Chaldeans, to put us to death and have us deported to Babylon.

50:4 Johanan, all the commanders of the force, and all the people did not obey the Lord's voice by remaining in Judah's land.

50:5 Johanan and all the commanders of the force took all Judah's survivors who had returned to live in the land:

50:6 the mighty men, the women, the little children, the king's daughters, the people Nebuzaradan had left with Gedaliah son of Ahikam, and Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch son of Neriah.

50:7 They entered Egypt, for they had not obeyed the Lord's voice. They entered Taphnas.

50:8 The Lord's word came to Jeremiah at Taphnas:

50:9 Take large stones for yourself and hide them in the forecourt at the gate of Pharaoh's house at Taphnas, before the eyes of Judah's men.

50:10 Say, Thus said the Lord: I am sending and will bring Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. He will place his throne above these stones that you hid and raise his weapons over them.

50:11 He will enter and strike Egypt's land: those for death, to death; those for deportation, to deportation; and those for the sword, to the sword.

50:12 He will kindle fire in the houses of their gods, burn the houses, and deport the gods. He will delouse Egypt's land as a shepherd delouses his garment, and he will go out in peace.

50:13 He will shatter the pillars of the City of the Sun, those in On, and burn their houses with fire.

Jeremiah 51

51:1 The word that came to Jeremiah for all the Judeans living in Egypt's land and those staying at Migdol, Taphnas, and in Pathoures's land:

51:2 Thus said the Lord, Israel's God: You have seen all the calamities I brought upon Jerusalem and Judah's cities. Behold, they are deserted of inhabitants,

51:3 because of the wickedness they committed to embitter Me, going to burn incense to other gods whom you did not know.

51:4 I sent you My servants the prophets at dawn, and I sent them saying, Do not commit this act of defilement that I hate.

51:5 But they did not listen to Me or incline their ear to turn from their evils and stop burning incense to other gods.

51:6 My anger and wrath dripped out and blazed in Judah's cities and outside Jerusalem, and they became a desolation and an untrodden place, as on this day.

51:7 Now thus said the Lord Almighty: Why are you doing great evils against yourselves, cutting off from yourselves man and woman, little child and nursing infant from Judah, so that none of you remains,

51:8 embittering Me with the work of your hands by burning incense to other gods in Egypt's land, which you entered to live there, so that you are cut off and become a curse and a reproach among all the earth's nations?

51:9 Have you forgotten your fathers' evils, the evils of Judah's kings, your rulers' evils, and your wives' evils, which they committed in Judah's land and outside Jerusalem?

51:10 They have not stopped to this day and have not held fast to My ordinances, which I set before their fathers.

51:11 Therefore thus said the Lord: I am setting My face

51:12 to destroy all the survivors in Egypt, and they will fall. By sword and famine they will perish, from the least to the greatest, and become a reproach, a destruction, and a curse.

51:13 I will visit those staying in Egypt's land as I visited Jerusalem, by sword, famine, and death.

51:14 None of Judah's remainder residing in Egypt's land will be saved to return to Judah's land, where they hope in their souls to return. They certainly will not return except those rescued.

51:15 All the men who knew that their wives burned incense to other gods, all the women, a great assembly, and all the people staying in Egypt's land at Pathoures answered Jeremiah:

51:16 As for the word you spoke to us in the Lord's name, we will not listen to you.

51:17 We will certainly do everything that will come from our mouths: burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her, as we, our fathers, our kings, and our rulers did in Judah's cities and outside Jerusalem. We were filled with bread, were well off, and saw no calamities.

51:18 But when we stopped burning incense to the queen of heaven, we were all diminished and perished by sword and famine.

51:19 And when we burn incense to the queen of heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, did we make cakes for her and pour out drink offerings to her without our husbands?

51:20 Jeremiah said to all the people—to the mighty men, the women, and all the people who had answered him:

51:21 Was it not the incense you burned in Judah's cities and outside Jerusalem—you, your fathers, your kings, your rulers, and the people of the land—that the Lord remembered, and did it not come into His heart?

51:22 The Lord could no longer bear the wickedness of your actions and the abominations you had committed. Your land became a desolation, an untrodden place, and a curse, as on this day,

51:23 because you burned incense, sinned against the Lord, did not obey the Lord's voice, and did not walk in His ordinances, law, and testimonies. These calamities have seized you.

51:24 Jeremiah said to the people and the women, Hear the Lord's word:

51:25 Thus said the Lord, Israel's God: You women spoke with your mouths and fulfilled it with your hands, saying, We will certainly carry out our pledges that we pledged, to burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her. You firmly persisted in your pledges and indeed carried them out.

51:26 Therefore hear the Lord's word, all Judah staying in Egypt's land: I have sworn by My great name, said the Lord, that My name will no longer be in any Judean's mouth to say, As the Lord, the Lord, lives, throughout Egypt's land.

51:27 For I am watching over them to harm them, not do them good. All Judah living in Egypt's land will perish by sword and famine until they perish.

51:28 Those saved from the sword will return to Judah's land, few in number. Judah's survivors who settled in Egypt's land to live there will know whose word will endure.

51:29 This will be the sign for you that I will visit you for evils:

51:30 Thus said the Lord: I am handing Ouaphre king of Egypt over to his enemy and those seeking his life, as I handed Zedekiah king of Judah over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, his enemy who sought his life.

51:31 The word Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch son of Neriah when he wrote these words in the scroll from Jeremiah's mouth, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah:

51:32 Thus said the Lord concerning you, Baruch:

51:33 For you said, Woe to me, woe to me! The Lord has added toil to my pain. I lay down amid groanings and found no rest.

51:34 Tell him, Thus said the Lord: Those I have built up I am tearing down, and those I have planted I am plucking up.

51:35 Are you seeking great things for yourself? Do not seek them, for I am bringing calamities upon all flesh, says the Lord. I will give your life as gain wherever you walk.

Jeremiah 52

52:1 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Amitaal daughter of Jeremiah, from Lobena.

52:4 In the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his force came against Jerusalem. They enclosed her with a palisade and built around her with squared stones.

52:5 The city was under siege until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

52:6 On the ninth of the month, the famine grew severe in the city, and there were no loaves for the people of the land.

52:7 The city was breached, and all the warriors went out at night by the gate between the wall and the outer wall beside the king's garden, while the Chaldeans surrounded the city. They went by the road to Arabah,

52:8 and the Chaldean force pursued the king and overtook him beyond Jericho. All his servants scattered away from him.

52:9 They captured the king and brought him to the king of Babylon at Deblatha, and he spoke to him in judgment.

52:10 The king of Babylon slaughtered Zedekiah's sons before his eyes, and he slaughtered all Judah's rulers at Deblatha.

52:11 He blinded Zedekiah's eyes and bound him in fetters. The king of Babylon brought him to Babylon and put him in a mill house until the day he died.

52:12 In the fifth month, on the tenth of the month, Nebuzaradan, the chief guard who stood before the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

52:13 He burned the Lord's house, the king's house, and all the city's houses; every great house he burned with fire.

52:14 The Chaldean force with the chief guard pulled down the whole wall of Jerusalem all around.

52:16 The chief guard left the remaining people as vinedressers and farmers.

52:17 The Chaldeans shattered the bronze pillars in the Lord's house, the bases, and the bronze Sea in the Lord's house. They took their bronze and carried it to Babylon.

52:18 And the rim, the bowls, the meat forks, and all the bronze utensils with which they performed service,

52:19 and the saphphoth, the masmaroth, the pouring vessels, the lampstands, the incense bowls, and the ladles—those of gold, gold, and those of silver, silver—the chief guard took.

52:20 The two pillars, the one Sea, and the twelve bronze calves beneath the Sea, which King Solomon made for the Lord's house—their bronze was beyond weighing.

52:21 As for the pillars, one pillar was thirty-five cubits high, and a cord of twelve cubits encircled it. Its thickness was four fingerbreadths all around,

52:22 and a bronze cornice was on them. The projection of one cornice was five cubits in length, and a net and pomegranates surrounded the cornice, all of bronze. The second pillar had the same: eight pomegranates per cubit over the twelve cubits.

52:23 There were ninety-six pomegranates on one side; all the pomegranates around the net numbered one hundred.

52:24 The chief guard took the first priest, the second priest, and the three men guarding the road,

52:25 and one eunuch who supervised the warriors, seven prominent men in the king's presence who were found in the city, the scribe of the forces who kept records for the people of the land, and sixty people from the people of the land found inside the city.

52:26 Nebuzaradan, the chief guard, took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Deblatha, 52:27 and the king of Babylon struck them at Deblatha in Aimath's land.

52:31 In the thirty-seventh year after Ioakim king of Judah had been deported, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fourth of the month, Oulaimaradach king of Babylon, in the year he became king, took up the head of Ioakim king of Judah and brought him out of the house where he was guarded.

52:32 He spoke kindly to him and placed his throne above the thrones of the kings with him in Babylon.

52:33 He changed his prison robe, and he ate bread continually before him all the days he lived.

52:34 His allowance was given to him continually by the king of Babylon, from day to day until the day he died.

Ezekiel

Ezekiel 1

1:1 And it happened in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth of the month, while I was among the captives by the River Chebar: the heavens opened, and I saw visions of God.

1:2 On the fifth of the month—this was the fifth year of King Jehoiakim’s captivity—

1:3 the Lord’s word came to Ezekiel son of Buzi, the priest, in the land of the Chaldeans by the River Chebar; and the Lord’s hand came upon me,

1:4 and I looked, and behold, a sweeping wind was coming from the north, and a great cloud was within it, with brightness around it and fire flashing like lightning; within it was something like the appearance of electrum, within the fire, and brightness within it.

1:5 And within it was something like a likeness of four living creatures. This was their appearance: a human likeness was upon them,

1:6 and each had four faces, and each had four wings.

1:7 Their legs were straight, and their feet were winged, with sparks like flashing bronze; and their wings were light.

1:8 A human hand was beneath their wings on their four sides; and the faces of all four of them

1:9 did not turn as they walked; each went straight ahead.

1:10 The likeness of their faces was a human face and a lion’s face on the right for all four, and a calf’s face on the left for all four, and an eagle’s face for all four.

1:11 The wings of all four were stretched out above; each had two joined to one another, and two covered the top of their bodies.

1:12 Each went straight ahead. Wherever the spirit was going, they went and did not turn.

1:13 And amid the living creatures was an appearance like burning coals of fire, like the sight of torches whirling among the living creatures, and brightness of the fire; lightning came out of the fire.

1:15 I looked, and behold, one wheel was on the earth adjoining the four living creatures;

1:16 the appearance of the wheels was like the appearance of tharsis, and all four had one likeness; their workmanship was as though a wheel were within a wheel.

1:17 They went toward their four sides; they did not turn as they went,

1:18 nor did their backs; they were tall, and I saw them. The backs of all four were full of eyes all around.

1:19 When the living creatures went, the wheels moved beside them; when the living creatures rose from the earth, the wheels rose.

1:20 Wherever the cloud was, there was the spirit for movement; the living creatures and the wheels went and rose together with them, because a spirit of life was in the wheels.

1:21 When they went, these went; when they stood, these stood; when they rose from the earth, these rose together with them, because a spirit of life was in the wheels.

1:22 Above the living creatures’ heads was a likeness as of a firmament, like the appearance of crystal, stretched out above their wings;

1:23 and beneath the firmament their wings were stretched out, fluttering one toward another; each had two joined together, covering their bodies.

1:24 As they went, I heard the sound of their wings like the sound of much water; when they stood, their wings came to rest.

1:25 And behold, a voice came from above the firmament that was over their heads.

1:26 Like the appearance of a sapphire stone was the likeness of a throne upon it; and above the likeness of the throne was a likeness like the form of a human being.

1:27 I saw something like the sight of electrum from the appearance of a waist upward; and from the appearance of a waist down below I saw something like the appearance of fire, with its brightness all around.

1:28 Like the appearance of a bow when it is in the cloud on a rainy day, so was the arrangement of the brightness all around. This was the appearance of the likeness of the Lord’s glory. I saw it, and I fall upon my face, and I heard the voice of One speaking.

Ezekiel 2

2:1 He said to me, “Son of man, stand on your feet, and I will speak to you.”

Note [1]: Ezekiel 2:1 · Meaning and wording · son of manThe address to the human prophet. Retain the traditional address with human being as its explanation. Keep the singular commands and do not automatically identify this use with every later Son of Man title.Historical comparison. All witnesses use Son of man. Brenton and DRC begin their displayed 2:1 with material belonging to Greek and KJV 1:28; the address itself aligns with Greek 2:1.Providence lexical record PRV-EZK-02, 2026-09-26. 2:2 A spirit came upon me, took me up, raised me, and set me on my feet; I heard Him speaking to me,

2:3 and He said to me, “Son of man, I am sending you out to the house of Israel, those who embitter Me, who have embittered Me, they and their fathers, until this present day,

2:4 and you will say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord.’

2:5 If indeed they listen or are terrified—for it is an embittering house—they will know that you are a prophet among them.

2:6 And you, son of man, do not fear them or be shaken before their faces, because they will rage and gather against you all around, and you dwell among scorpions. Do not fear their words or be shaken before their faces, for it is an embittering house.

2:7 You will speak My words to them, if indeed they listen or are terrified, for it is an embittering house.

2:8 And you, son of man, hear the One speaking to you. Do not become embittering like the embittering house. Open your mouth wide and eat what I give you.”

2:9 I looked, and behold, a hand was stretched toward me, and in it was a scroll of a book;

2:10 and He unrolled it before me. It had writing on the back and the front, and upon it were written a lament, a song and woe.

Ezekiel 3

3:1 He said to me, “Son of man, eat this scroll, then go and speak to the sons of Israel.”

3:2 I opened my mouth wide, and He fed me the scroll.

3:3 He said to me, “Son of man, your mouth will eat, and your belly will be filled with this scroll that has been given to you.” I ate it, and in my mouth it became like sweet honey.

3:4 He said to me, “Son of man, go, enter the house of Israel, and speak My words to them;

3:5 for you are not sent out to a people of deep speech and heavy tongue, but to the house of Israel,

3:6 nor to many peoples of foreign speech or foreign tongues, nor those strong in tongue whose words you will not understand. If I had sent you to such people, they would have listened to you.

3:7 But the house of Israel certainly will not be willing to listen to you, because they do not wish to listen to Me; the entire house of Israel is contentious and hard-hearted.

3:8 Behold, I have made your face strong against their faces, and I will strengthen your contention against their contention,

3:9 and it will always be stronger than rock. Do not fear them or be terrified before their faces, for it is an embittering house.”

3:10 He said to me, “Son of man, take into your heart all the words that I have spoken with you, and hear with your ears,

3:11 and go, enter the captivity, to the sons of your people; you will speak to them and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord,’ if indeed they listen, if indeed they yield.”

3:12 A spirit took me up, and I heard behind me the sound of a great shaking: “Blessed be the Lord’s glory from His place!”

3:13 I saw the sound of the living creatures’ wings fluttering one toward another, and the sound of the wheels adjoining them, and the sound of the shaking.

3:14 The spirit raised me and took me up. I went, impelled by my spirit, and the Lord’s hand came strongly upon me.

3:15 I entered the captivity aloft and went around those dwelling by the River Chebar, those who were there; I sat there seven days, living among them.

3:16 After the seven days, the Lord’s word came to me, saying,

3:17 “Son of man, I have appointed you a watchman for the house of Israel. You will hear a word from My mouth and convey My warning to them.

Note [1]: Ezekiel 3:17 · Meaning and wording · watchmanA lookout charged with delivering the stated warning. Keep watchman and the requirement to hear God's word before conveying His warning. The image describes a particular prophetic commission; it is not an unrestricted claim of authority for later speakers.Historical comparison. All four retain watchman. Brenton's threaten reflects the warning verb, while KJV has give them warning and DRC tell it them.Providence lexical record PRV-EZK-03, 2026-09-26. 3:18 When I say to the lawless person, ‘You will surely be put to death,’ and you do not warn him or speak to warn the lawless person to turn from his ways so that he may live, that lawless person will die in his injustice; but I will require his blood from your hand.

3:19 But if you warn the lawless person and he does not turn from his lawlessness and his way, that lawless person will die in his injustice, while you will rescue your life.

3:20 When a righteous person turns from his righteous deeds and commits a transgression, and I place torment before his face, he will die because you did not warn him. He will die in his sins, because the righteous deeds he did certainly will not be remembered, and I will require his blood from your hand.

3:21 But if you warn the righteous person not to sin, and he does not sin, the righteous person will surely live because you warned him; and you will rescue your own life."

3:22 The Lord's hand came upon me, and He said to me, "Rise and go out to the plain, and you will be spoken to there."

3:23 I rose and went out to the plain, and behold, the Lord's glory stood there, like the vision and like the glory I had seen by the River Chebar; and I fall upon my face.

3:24 A spirit came upon me and set me on my feet. He spoke to me and said to me, "Go, be shut inside your house.

3:25 And you, son of man, behold, bonds have been placed upon you, and they will bind you with them; you certainly will not go out from among them.

3:26 I will bind your tongue, and you will become mute; you will not be a man rebuking them, for it is an embittering house.

3:27 But when I speak to you, I will open your mouth, and you will say to them, 'Thus says the Lord: Let the one who hears hear, and let the one who disobeys disobey,' for it is an embittering house."

Ezekiel 4

4:1 "And you, son of man, take a brick, set it before your face, and draw upon it a city—Jerusalem;

4:2 lay siege to it, build forward defenses against it, throw up a palisade against it, set camps against it, and arrange missile positions all around.

4:3 Take an iron pan and place it as an iron wall between you and the city. Prepare your face against it; it will be besieged, and you will besiege it. This is a sign for the sons of Israel.

4:4 Lie on your left side and place the injustices of the house of Israel upon it, according to the number of days—one hundred fifty—that you lie upon it; bear their injustices.

4:5 I have assigned you their two injustices as a number of days, one hundred ninety days; bear the injustices of the house of Israel

4:6 and complete all these things. Lie on your right side and bear the injustices of the house of Judah forty days. I have appointed you a day for a year.

4:7 Prepare your face against Jerusalem's siege, strengthen your arm, and prophesy against it.

4:8 Behold, I have placed bonds upon you; do not turn from side to side until the days of your confinement are completed.

4:9 Take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet and spelt; put them in one earthen vessel and make loaves from them for yourself. According to the number of days you sleep on your side, you will eat them one hundred ninety days.

4:10 The food you are to eat will be weighed out: twenty shekels a day; eat it from time to time.

4:11 Drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin; drink it from time to time.

4:12 Eat it as a barley cake baked in embers; bake it in pellets of human dung before their eyes,

4:13 and say, 'Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: So the sons of Israel will eat unclean things among the nations.'"

4:14 I said, "By no means, Lord, God of Israel! Behold, my life has not been defiled with uncleanness. From my birth until now I have eaten neither what died of itself nor what a wild animal killed, nor has any stale meat entered my mouth."

4:15 He said to me, "Behold, I have given you cattle dung instead of human dung; prepare your loaves over it."

4:16 He said to me, "Son of man, behold, I am breaking the support of bread in Jerusalem. They will eat bread by weight and in need, and drink water by measure and in devastation,

4:17 so that they become needy for bread and water. A man and his brother will disappear, and they will waste away in their injustices.

Ezekiel 5

5:1 "And you, son of man, take a sword sharper than a barber's razor. Obtain it for yourself and pass it over your head and your beard. Take a balance with weights and divide the hairs;

5:2 burn a quarter with fire inside the city when the days of siege are complete. Take a quarter and burn it up in its midst; cut down a quarter with the sword around it, and scatter a quarter to the wind. I will draw a sword after them.

5:3 Take a few of them in number and gather them into your cloak.

5:4 Take some of these again, cast them into the fire, and burn them in the fire. From it fire will go out. And you will say to the entire house of Israel,

5:5 ‘Thus says the Lord: This is Jerusalem. I have placed her amid the nations, and the lands around her.

5:6 And you will speak My ordinances to the lawless one among the nations, and My laws among the lands around her; for they rejected My ordinances and did not walk in My laws.

5:7 Therefore thus says the Lord: Because your impulse comes from the nations around you, and you have not walked in My laws or performed My ordinances—nor have you even acted according to the ordinances of the nations around you—

5:8 therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I am against you, and I will execute judgment in your midst before the nations,

5:9 and I will do among you what I have not done and the like of which I will not do again, according to all your abominations.

5:10 Therefore fathers will eat children in your midst, and children will eat fathers. I will execute judgments against you and scatter all your survivors to every wind.

5:11 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord, surely, because you defiled My holy places with all your abominations, I too will reject you. My eye will not spare, and I too will have no mercy.

5:12 A quarter of you will be consumed by death; a quarter of you will perish by famine within you; a quarter of you I will scatter to every wind; and a quarter of you will fall by the sword around you, and I will draw a sword after them.

5:13 My wrath and My anger against them will be completed, and you will know that I, the Lord, have spoken in My jealousy when I complete My anger against them.

5:14 I will make you a wilderness, and your daughters around you, before every passerby;

5:15 you will be mourned and ravaged among the nations around you when I execute judgments against you in the vengeance of My wrath. I, the Lord, have spoken.

5:16 When I send My arrows of famine against them, they will bring exhaustion, and I will break your support of bread.

5:17 I will send famine and harmful wild animals against you, and I will punish you. Death and blood will pass over you, and I will bring a sword upon you all around. I, the Lord, have spoken.’”

Ezekiel 6

6:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

6:2 “Son of man, set your face firmly against the mountains of Israel and prophesy against them,

6:3 and say, ‘Mountains of Israel, hear the Lord’s word. Thus says the Lord to the mountains, hills, ravines and wooded valleys: Behold, I am bringing a sword against you, and your high places will be destroyed,

6:4 and your altars and your sacred precincts will be shattered; I will cast down your wounded before your idols,

6:5 and I will scatter your bones around your altars.

6:6 In all your dwelling territory the cities will be made desolate and the high places will disappear, so that your altars are destroyed, your idols shattered, and your sacred precincts removed;

6:7 wounded people will fall in your midst, and you will recognize that I am the Lord.

6:8 When there are among you survivors of the sword among the nations, and in your scattering in the lands,

6:9 the survivors from among you will remember Me among the nations where they were taken captive. I have sworn against their heart that whores away from Me and their eyes that whore after their pursuits; they will beat their faces over all their abominations.

6:10 They will recognize that I, the Lord, have spoken.

6:11 Thus says the Lord: Clap your hand, stamp your foot, and say, “Aha! Aha!” over all the abominations of the house of Israel; they will fall by sword, death and famine.

6:12 The one near will fall by the sword, the one far away will die by death, and the one enclosed will perish by famine; I will complete My anger against them.

6:13 You will know that I am the Lord when your wounded lie among your idols, around your altars, on every high hill and beneath a shady tree, where they offered a fragrant aroma to all their idols.

6:14 I will stretch out My hand against them and reduce the land to ruin and destruction, from the wilderness of Deblatha, from every dwelling place; you will recognize that I am the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 7

7:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

7:2 “And you, son of man, say, ‘Thus says the Lord to the land of Israel: An end has come; the end has come upon the four wings of the land.

7:3 The end has come

7:4 upon you, inhabitant of the land. The time has come; the day has drawn near, neither with tumult nor with birth pangs.

7:5 Now soon I will pour My anger upon you and complete My wrath in you; I will judge you in your ways and bring all your abominations upon you.

7:6 My eye will not spare, nor will I have mercy; I will bring your ways upon you, and your abominations will be in your midst. You will recognize that I am the Lord who strikes.

7:7 Now the end is upon you. I Myself will send against you and exact retribution upon you in your ways; I will bring all your abominations upon you.

7:8 My eye will not spare you, nor will I have mercy; I will bring your way upon you, and your abominations will be in your midst. You will recognize that I am the Lord.

7:9 For thus says the Lord:

7:10 Behold, the end has come; behold, the Lord's day! Even if the rod has blossomed, insolence has risen.

7:11 It will shatter the support of a lawless person, neither with tumult nor with haste.

7:12 The time has come; behold, the day! Let the buyer not rejoice, nor the seller lament;

7:13 for the buyer certainly will no longer return to the seller, and a person will not prevail in the eye of his life.

7:14 Sound the trumpet and judge everything.

7:15 War by the sword is outside, and famine and death inside. The one in the plain will die by the sword, while famine and death will consume those in the city.

7:16 Their survivors will be saved and be on the mountains; I will kill them all, each in his injustices.

7:17 All hands will weaken, and all thighs will be defiled with moisture,

7:18 and they will gird on sackcloth; amazement will cover them, shame will be upon every face among them, and baldness upon every head.

7:19 Their silver will be thrown into the broad streets, and their gold will be disregarded. Their lives certainly will not be satisfied, nor their bellies filled, because it became torment for their injustices.

7:20 They made choice ornaments a source of arrogance and made images of their abominations from them. Therefore I have given them over to them as uncleanness.

7:21 I will hand them into foreigners' hands to plunder them, and to the pestilent people of the earth as spoils; they will profane them.

7:22 I will turn My face away from them, and they will defile My oversight; they will enter them unguarded and profane them,

7:23 and they will make a confused mixture, because the land is full of peoples and the city full of lawlessness.

7:24 I will turn back the arrogance of their strength, and their holy places will be defiled.

7:25 Propitiation will come and will seek peace, and there will be none.

7:26 Woe upon woe will come, and message upon message; a vision will be sought from a prophet, but law will perish from a priest and counsel from elders.

7:27 A ruler will clothe himself in devastation, and the hands of the people of the land will be paralyzed. According to their ways I will deal with them, and by their judgments I will exact retribution upon them; they will know that I am the Lord.'"

Ezekiel 8

8:1 In the sixth year, in the fifth month, on the fifth of the month, I was sitting in the house, and Judah's elders were sitting before me. The Lord's hand came upon me,

8:2 and I saw, and behold, the likeness of a man: from His waist downward, fire, and from His waist upward, like the appearance of electrum.

8:3 He stretched out the likeness of a hand and lifted me by the crown of my head. A spirit lifted me between earth and heaven and brought me to Jerusalem in a vision of God, to the entrance of the inner gate facing north, where the pillar of the one acquiring stood.

8:4 And behold, the glory of the Lord God of Israel was there, in accordance with the vision I had seen in the plain.

8:5 He said to me, "Son of man, look up with your eyes toward the north." I looked up with my eyes toward the north, and behold, from the north to the gate toward the east.

8:6 He said to me, "Son of man, have you seen what these people do? They commit great lawlessness here, to keep away from My holy places. You will yet see greater lawlessness."

8:7 He brought me to the courtyard entrance

8:8 and said to me, "Son of man, dig." I dug, and behold, there was a door.

8:9 He said to me, "Go in and see the lawlessness these people are committing here."

8:10 I went in and saw, and behold, vain abominations and all the idols of the house of Israel were drawn upon it all around,

8:11 and there were seventy men from the elders of the house of Israel. Jaazaniah son of Shaphan stood among them before their faces; each had his censer in his hand, and the vapor of incense rose.

8:12 He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do, each in their hidden bedchamber? For they said, ‘The Lord does not see; the Lord has abandoned the land.’”

8:13 He said to me, “You will yet see greater lawlessness that these people are committing.”

8:14 He brought me to the entrance of the gate of the Lord’s house facing north, and behold, women were sitting there lamenting Tammuz,

8:15 and He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen? You will yet see practices greater than these.”

8:16 He brought me into the inner court of the Lord’s house, and behold, at the entrance of the Lord’s temple, between the porches and the altar, were about twenty men, their backs toward the Lord’s temple and their faces opposite. These were bowing to the sun.

8:17 He said to me, “Have you seen, son of man? Is it a small thing for the house of Judah to commit the lawlessness they have committed here? For they have filled the land with lawlessness, and behold, they are as though sneering.

8:18 I too will act toward them in wrath. My eye will not spare, nor will I have mercy.”

Ezekiel 9

9:1 He cried into my ears with a loud voice, saying, “The city’s retribution has drawn near.” Each had the implements of destruction in his hand.

9:2 And behold, six men came from the direction of the high gate facing north, each with an axe in his hand. One man among them wore a full-length robe, with a sapphire belt at his waist. They entered and stood beside the bronze altar.

9:3 The glory of the God of Israel, which had been upon the cherubim, rose from them to the forecourt of the house. He called the man wearing the full-length robe, who had the belt at his waist,

9:4 and said to him, “Pass through the midst of Jerusalem and put the sign upon the foreheads of the men who sigh deeply and grieve over all the lawlessness being committed within her.”

9:5 To these others He said while I listened, “Go behind him into the city and strike. Do not spare with your eyes, and have no mercy.

9:6 Old man, young man, maiden, infants and women—kill them to obliteration. But do not approach anyone upon whom the sign is. Begin at My holy places.” They began with the elderly men who were inside the house.

9:7 He said to them, “Defile the house and fill the roads with the dead as you go out, and strike.”

9:8 As they struck, I fall upon my face and cried aloud and said, “Alas, Lord! Art Thou obliterating the survivors of Israel as Thou pourest out Thy wrath upon Jerusalem?”

9:9 He said to me, “The injustice of the house of Israel and Judah has grown very, very great, because the land is full of many peoples, and the city full of injustice and uncleanness. For they said, ‘The Lord has abandoned the land; the Lord does not look upon it.’

9:10 My eye will not spare, nor will I have mercy. I have brought their ways upon their heads.”

9:11 And behold, the man wearing the full-length robe, with the belt fastened at his waist, answered, saying, “I have done as Thou didst command me.”

Ezekiel 10

10:1 I saw, and behold, above the firmament over the cherubim’s head was something like sapphire stone, a throne’s likeness above them.

10:2 He said to the man wearing the robe, “Go in among the wheels beneath the cherubim, fill your hands with burning coals from among the cherubim, and scatter them over the city.” He went in before me.

10:3 The cherubim stood to the right of the house as the man entered, and the cloud filled the inner court.

10:4 The Lord’s glory departed from the cherubim to the forecourt of the house. The cloud filled the house, and the court filled with the radiance of the Lord’s glory.

10:5 The sound of the cherubim’s wings was heard as far as the outer court, like the voice of God Shaddai speaking.

10:6 When He commanded the man wearing the holy robe, saying, “Take fire from among the wheels, from among the cherubim,” he entered and stood beside the wheels,

10:7 and he stretched out his hand into the midst of the fire among the cherubim, took it and gave it into the hands of the man wearing the holy robe. He took it and went out.

10:8 I saw the cherubim, the likeness of human hands beneath their wings.

10:9 I saw, and behold, four wheels stood beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub. The wheels' appearance was like the appearance of a carbuncle stone.

10:10 Their appearance was one likeness for all four, as when a wheel is within a wheel.

10:11 As they went, they went toward their four directions; they did not turn as they went. For wherever the one leading part looked, they went, and they did not turn as they went.

10:12 Their backs, their hands, their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes all around, upon their four wheels.

10:13 These wheels were called "Gelgel" in my hearing.

10:15 The cherubim lifted themselves. This was the living creature I had seen at the river Chebar.

10:16 When the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them. When the cherubim raised their wings to rise from the earth, their wheels did not turn.

10:17 When they stood, these stood; when they rose, these rose with them, because a spirit of life was in them.

10:18 The Lord's glory went out from the house and mounted upon the cherubim,

10:19 and the cherubim lifted their wings and rose from the earth before me as they went out, with the wheels beside them. They stood at the entrance of the opposite gate of the Lord's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

10:20 This is the living creature I had seen beneath the God of Israel at the river Chebar, and I knew that it was cherubim.

10:21 Each had four faces, each had eight wings, and the likeness of human hands was beneath their wings.

10:22 As for the likeness of their faces, these are the faces I had seen beneath the glory of the God of Israel at the river Chebar; each of them went straight ahead.

Ezekiel 11

11:1 A spirit lifted me and brought me to the opposite gate of the Lord's house, facing east. And behold, at the gate entrance were about twenty-five men. Among them I saw Jaazaniah son of Ezer and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, leaders of the people.

11:2 The Lord said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who devise vain things and counsel wicked counsel in this city,

11:3 who say, 'Have the houses not been built recently? She is the cauldron, and we are the meat.'

11:4 Therefore prophesy against them; prophesy, son of man."

11:5 The Lord's spirit fell upon me, and He said to me, "Say, 'Thus says the Lord: You have said this, house of Israel, and I understand the deliberations of your spirit.

11:6 You have multiplied your dead in this city and filled her roads with the wounded.

11:7 Therefore thus says the Lord: Your dead whom you struck within her are the meat, and she is the cauldron; but I will bring you out of her.

11:8 You fear the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, says the Lord.

11:9 I will bring you out of her midst, hand you into foreigners' hands, and execute judgments among you.

11:10 You will fall by the sword. At Israel's borders I will judge you, and you will recognize that I am the Lord.

11:11 She will not be a cauldron for you, and you certainly will not become meat within her. At Israel's borders I will judge you,

11:12 and you will recognize that I am the Lord.'"

11:13 As I prophesied, Pelatiah son of Benaiah died. I fall upon my face and cried aloud with a loud voice and said, "Alas, alas, Lord! Thou art bringing Israel's survivors to a complete end!"

11:14 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

11:15 "Son of man, your brothers and the men of your captivity and the whole house of Israel have been brought to an end. To them Jerusalem's inhabitants said, 'Keep far from the Lord; the land has been given to us as an inheritance.'

11:16 Therefore say, 'Thus says the Lord: I will thrust them away into the nations and scatter them through all the earth, and I will be a little sanctuary for them in the countries where they may enter.'

11:17 Therefore say, 'Thus says the Lord: I will receive them from the nations and gather them from the countries where I scattered them, and I will give them the land of Israel.

11:18 They will enter there and remove all her abominations and all her lawlessness from her.

11:19 I will give them another heart and put a new spirit within them. I will tear the stone heart from their flesh and give them a heart of flesh,

11:20 so that they may walk in My commands, keep My ordinances and carry them out. They will be My people, and I will be their God.

11:21 As their heart went toward the heart of their abominations and their lawlessness, I have brought their ways upon their heads, says the Lord.'"

11:22 The cherubim raised their wings, with the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was upon them, above them.

11:23 The Lord's glory rose from the midst of the city and stood upon the mountain opposite the city.

11:24 A spirit lifted me and brought me into the Chaldeans' land, to the captives, in a vision by God's spirit. I rose out of the vision I had seen, 11:25 and I spoke to the captives all the Lord's words that He had shown me.

Ezekiel 12

12:1 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

12:2 "Son of man, you dwell in the midst of their injustices. They have eyes to see and do not see, and ears to hear and do not hear, because they are an embittering house.

12:3 And you, son of man, get your belongings ready for captivity by day before them. You will be taken captive from your place to another place before them, so that they may see, because they are an embittering house.

12:4 You will bring your belongings out like belongings for captivity by day before their eyes, and you yourself will go out in the evening as a captive goes out.

12:5 Before them, dig for yourself through the wall, and you will pass out through it.

12:6 Before them you will be lifted upon shoulders and go out concealed. Cover your face, and you certainly will not see the land, for I have made you a portent to the house of Israel."

12:7 I did so according to all that He commanded me. I brought belongings out like belongings for captivity by day; in the evening I dug through the wall for myself and went out concealed. I was lifted upon shoulders before them.

12:8 In the morning the Lord's word came to me, saying,

12:9 "Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the embittering house, said to you, 'What are you doing?'

12:10 Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord, the Lord: The ruler and the leader in Jerusalem and in the whole house of Israel, who are among them—'

12:11 Say, 'I perform portents in her midst. As I have done, so it will be for them; in deportation and captivity they will go.'

12:12 The ruler among them will be lifted upon shoulders and go out concealed through the wall. He will dig through it to go out through it. He will cover his face so that he may not be seen by an eye, and he himself will not see the land.

12:13 I will spread My net over him, and he will be caught in My enclosure. I will bring him to Babylon, to the Chaldeans' land, and he will not see it, and there he will die.

12:14 All those around him, his helpers and all who support him, I will scatter to every wind; I will draw a sword after them.

12:15 They will know that I am the Lord when I scatter them among the nations, and I will disperse them among the countries.

12:16 I will spare a few men among them from sword, famine and death, so that they may recount all their lawlessness among the nations where they entered, and they will know that I am the Lord."

12:17 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

12:18 "Son of man, eat your bread with pain, and drink your water with torment and distress,

12:19 and say to the people of the land, 'Thus says the Lord to Jerusalem's inhabitants upon Israel's land: They will eat their bread with want and drink their water with devastation, so that the land may be destroyed with its fullness, for all who dwell in it are in impiety.

12:20 Their inhabited cities will be made desolate, and the land will be laid waste. You will recognize that I am the Lord.'"

12:21 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

12:22 "Son of man, what is this proverb you have concerning Israel's land, saying, 'The days are far off; vision has perished'?

12:23 Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord: I will turn back this proverb, and the house of Israel certainly will no longer say this proverb.' For you will speak to them: 'The days have drawn near, and the word of every vision,

12:24 because there will no longer be any false vision or anyone divining pleasing things among the sons of Israel,

12:25 because I, the Lord, will speak My words; I will speak and act, and I certainly will delay no longer. For in your days, embittering house, I will speak a word and act, says the Lord.'"

12:26 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

12:27 "Son of man, behold, the embittering house of Israel keeps saying, 'The vision this man sees is for many days ahead; this man prophesies of times far ahead.'

12:28 Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord: None of My words that I may speak will be prolonged any longer. I will speak and act, says the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 13

13:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

13:2 “Son of man, prophesy against Israel’s prophets; you will prophesy and say to them, ‘Hear the Lord’s word!

13:3 Thus says the Lord: Woe to those who prophesy from their own heart and see nothing at all!

13:4 Your prophets, Israel, are like foxes in the wildernesses.

13:5 They did not stand in a firm position, and they gathered flocks against the house of Israel. Those saying, ‘On the Lord’s day,’ did not rise.

13:6 They see false things and divine vain things, those who say, ‘The Lord says,’ although the Lord has not sent them; and they began to establish a word.

13:7 Have you not seen a false vision and spoken vain divinations?

13:8 Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord: Because your words are false and your divinations vain, therefore behold, I am against you, says the Lord,

13:9 and I will stretch out My hand against the prophets who see false things and utter vain things. They will not belong to My people’s instruction, nor be written in the register of the house of Israel, nor enter Israel’s land. They will know that I am the Lord.

13:10 Because they misled My people, saying, ‘Peace, peace,’ when there was no peace, and this one builds a wall, and they coat it—if it is going to fall,

13:11 say to those coating it, ‘It will fall.’ There will be a flooding downpour, and I will put stones for hurling into their bonds, and they will fall; there will be an upending wind, and it will be split.

13:12 And behold, the wall has fallen! Will they not say to you, ‘Where is your coating with which you coated it?’

13:13 Therefore thus says the Lord: I will unleash an upending blast with wrath; a flooding downpour will come in My anger, and I will bring the projectile stones in wrath for complete destruction,

13:14 and I will tear down the wall you coated, and it will fall. I will lay it upon the ground; its foundations will be uncovered, and it will fall, and you will be brought to an end with rebukes. You will recognize that I am the Lord.

13:15 I will complete My wrath upon the wall and those coating it, and it will fall. I said to you, ‘There is no wall, nor those coating it—

13:16 the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem and see peace for her, when there is no peace,’ says the Lord.’

13:17 And you, son of man, set your face firmly against the daughters of your people who prophesy from their own heart, and prophesy against them,

13:18 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord: Woe to the women sewing cushions upon every elbow of an arm and making coverings upon every head of every age, to distort lives! The lives of My people were distorted, and they were preserving lives.

13:19 They were profaning Me among My people for a handful of barley and scraps of bread, putting to death lives that ought not die and preserving lives that ought not live, as you uttered things to a people listening to vain pronouncements.

13:20 Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am against your cushions, on which you entangle lives. I will tear them from your arms and send the lives out—their lives that you twist away—into dispersion.

13:21 I will tear your coverings and rescue My people from your hand. They will no longer be in your hands for entanglement, and you will recognize that I am the Lord.

13:22 Because you distorted the righteous person’s heart unjustly, though I was not distorting him, and strengthened the lawless person’s hands so that he does not turn at all from his evil way and live,

13:23 therefore you certainly will no longer see false things or divine divinations. I will rescue My people from your hand, and you will know that I am the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 14

14:1 Men from Israel’s elders came to me and sat before me.

14:2 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

14:3 “Son of man, these men have set their thoughts upon their hearts and set the punishment of their injustices before their faces. Shall I indeed answer them?

14:4 Therefore speak to them and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord: Anyone of the house of Israel who sets his thoughts upon his heart, places the punishment of his injustice before his face, and comes to the prophet—I, the Lord, will answer him in the things in which his mind is entangled,

14:5 so that it may turn the house of Israel aside in accordance with their hearts, alienated from Me through their reflections.’

14:6 Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Turn back and turn away from your practices and all your impieties, and turn your faces.

14:7 For anyone of the house of Israel or of the sojourners living among Israel who becomes alienated from Me, sets his reflections upon his heart, places the punishment of his injustice before his face, and comes to the prophet to question him concerning Me—I, the Lord, will answer him in that in which he is entangled.

14:8 I will set My face firmly against that person, make him a wilderness and a devastation, and remove him from the midst of My people. You will recognize that I am the Lord.

14:9 If the prophet is led astray and speaks, I, the Lord, have led that prophet astray. I will stretch out My hand against him and destroy him from the midst of My people Israel.

14:10 They will receive their injustice; according to the inquirer’s offense and according to the offense, it will likewise be for the prophet,

14:11 so that the house of Israel may no longer wander from Me or be defiled by any of their transgressions. They will be My people, and I will be their God, says the Lord.’”

14:12 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

14:13 “Son of man, if a land sins against Me by committing a transgression, and I stretch My hand against it, shatter its support of bread, send famine upon it, and remove human and livestock from it,

14:14 even if these three men—Noah, Daniel and Job—were within it, they themselves would be saved by their righteousness, says the Lord.

14:15 Even if I bring evil beasts upon the land and punish it, so that it becomes a devastation and no one passes through because of the beasts,

14:16 and these three men were within it, as I live, says the Lord, neither sons nor daughters would be saved; only they themselves would be saved, and the land would be destroyed.

14:17 Or even if I bring a sword upon that land and say, ‘Let a sword pass through the land,’ and remove human and livestock from it,

14:18 and these three men were within it, as I live, says the Lord, they certainly would not rescue sons or daughters; they alone would be saved.

14:19 Or even if I send death upon that land and pour My wrath upon it in blood, to destroy human and livestock from it,

14:20 and Noah, Daniel and Job were within it, as I live, says the Lord, neither sons nor daughters would be left; they would rescue their own lives by their righteousness.

14:21 Thus says the Lord: Even if I send My four evil retributions—sword, famine, evil beasts and death—against Jerusalem, to destroy human and livestock from her,

14:22 and behold, her rescued survivors are left in her, bringing sons and daughters out of her. Behold, they are coming out to you. You will see their ways and their reflections and feel regret over the evils I brought upon Jerusalem—all the evils I brought upon her,

14:23 and they will comfort you, because you will see their ways and their reflections, and recognize that I have not done in vain all that I did in her, says the Lord.”

Ezekiel 15

15:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

15:2 “And you, son of man, what could vinewood be among all the branch wood found among the forest trees?

15:3 Will they take wood from it to make anything useful? Will they take a peg from it to hang any vessel upon it?

15:4 It has only been given to the fire to be consumed. Fire consumes its yearly prunings, and it is utterly spent. Surely it will not be useful for work?

15:5 Even when it is whole, it will not serve for work. How much less if fire consumes it completely—will it still serve for work?

15:6 Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord: As with the vinewood among the forest trees, which I have given to the fire to be consumed, so I have given Jerusalem’s inhabitants.

15:7 I will set My face against them. They will come out of the fire, and fire will devour them. They will recognize that I am the Lord when I set My face firmly against them.

15:8 I will lay the land waste, because they have fallen into transgression, says the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 16

16:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

16:2 “Son of man, solemnly testify to Jerusalem about her lawlessness,

16:3 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord to Jerusalem: Your root and your birth are from the land of Canaan; your father was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite.

16:4 As for your birth, on the day you were born they did not bind your breasts; you were not washed with water, not salted with salt, and not wrapped in swaddling cloths.

16:5 Nor did My eye spare you to do any of all these things for you, to feel anything for you. You were cast upon the face of the plain because of your life's crookedness, on the day you were born.

16:6 I passed by you and saw you befouled in your blood, and said to you, 'From your blood, life!

16:7 Multiply!' I have made you like the growth of the field. You multiplied, grew great and entered cities of cities. Your breasts stood firm and your hair grew, but you were naked and exposed.

16:8 I passed through you and saw you; behold, your season was the season of those lodging. I spread My wings over you and covered your exposure. I swore to you and entered a covenant with you, says the Lord, and you became Mine.

16:9 I washed you with water, washed your blood off you, and anointed you with oil,

16:10 and clothed you in patterned garments, gave you blue-purple footwear, girded you with fine linen, and wrapped you in hair-woven cloth,

16:11 and adorned you with ornaments, placed bracelets around your hands and a necklace around your neck,

16:12 and put a ring around your nostril, little hoops upon your ears and a crown of boasting upon your head.

16:13 You were adorned with gold and silver; your coverings were fine linen, hair-woven and patterned. You ate fine flour, oil and honey, and became very beautiful.

16:14 Your fame went out among the nations because of your beauty, for it was made complete in splendor, in the loveliness I placed upon you, says the Lord.

16:15 You trusted in your beauty and prostituted yourself because of your fame. You poured out your prostitution upon every passerby—which will not be.

16:16 You took some of your garments, made sewn idols for yourself and prostituted yourself upon them. You certainly will not enter, nor will it come to be.

16:17 You took your vessels of boasting from My gold and My silver, from what I had given you, made male images for yourself and prostituted yourself among them.

16:18 You took your patterned clothing and clothed them; you set My oil and My incense before them.

16:19 My loaves that I gave you—fine flour, oil and honey with which I fed you—you set before them as a fragrant aroma. So it happened, says the Lord.

16:20 You took your sons and daughters whom you had borne and sacrificed them to them for consumption, as though you had prostituted yourself only a little,

16:21 and slaughtered your children and gave them over as you used them for averting rites.

16:22 This was in addition to all your prostitution, and you did not remember the days of your infancy, when you were naked and exposed and lived befouled in your blood.

16:23 After all your evils, says the Lord,

16:24 you built yourself a prostitution chamber and made yourself a display place in every broad street,

16:25 and at the head of every road you built your brothels, ruined your beauty, spread your legs to every passerby, and multiplied your prostitution.

16:26 You prostituted yourself with the sons of Egypt, your neighbors great in flesh, and prostituted yourself in many ways to anger Me.

16:27 But if I stretch My hand against you, I will remove your ordinances and hand you over to the desires of those who hate you, daughters of foreigners who turn you aside from your way in which you acted impiously.

16:28 You prostituted yourself with the daughters of Assyria, and not even so were you filled; you prostituted yourself, and were not filled.

16:29 You multiplied your covenants toward the Chaldeans' land, and not even with these were you filled.

16:30 What shall I do to your daughter, says the Lord, when you do all these things, the works of a prostitute? And you prostituted yourself threefold

16:31 among your daughters. You built your brothel at every road head and made your platform in every broad street, and became like a prostitute gathering payments.

16:32 The adulterous wife is like you, receiving payments from her husband;

16:33 she kept giving payments to all who prostituted her. You too gave payments to all your lovers and loaded them up to come to you from all around in your prostitution.

16:34 With you it became distorted compared with other women in your prostitution. They have prostituted themselves with you as you paid extra payments, and no payments were given to you; with you things became distorted.

16:35 Therefore, prostitute, hear the Lord's word!

16:36 Thus says the Lord: Because you poured out your copper, your shame will be exposed in your prostitution with your lovers, in all the reflections of your lawlessness, and in the blood of your children whom you gave to them.

16:37 Therefore behold, I am gathering against you all your lovers with whom you mingled, all whom you loved together with all whom you hated. I will gather them against you from all around, reveal your evils to them, and they will see all your shame.

16:38 I will exact retribution upon you with the retribution of an adulteress and a woman shedding blood, and place you in blood of wrath and jealousy.

16:39 I will hand you into their hands. They will tear down your brothel, pull down your platform, strip your clothing from you, take your vessels of boasting, and leave you naked and exposed.

16:40 They will bring crowds against you, stone you with stones, and slaughter you with their swords.

16:41 They will burn your houses with fire and exact retributions upon you before many women. I will turn you away from your prostitution, and you certainly will give no more payments.

16:42 I will release My wrath upon you; My jealousy will be removed from you. I will rest and certainly be concerned no longer.

16:43 Because you did not remember the day of your infancy but grieved Me with all these things, behold, I have brought your ways upon your head, says the Lord. Thus you committed impiety in addition to all your lawlessness.

16:44 These are all the things they said against you in a proverb, saying, ‘As the mother, so the daughter.’

16:45 You are the daughter of your mother, who rejected her husband and her children, and the sister of your sisters, who rejected their husbands and children. Your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

16:46 Your elder sister is Samaria, she and her daughters, dwelling at your left; your sister younger than you, dwelling at your right, is Sodom and her daughters.

16:47 Not even so did you walk in their ways or act according to their lawlessness. Before long, you surpass them in all your ways.

16:48 As I live, says the Lord, your sister Sodom, she and her daughters, certainly did not do as you and your daughters have done.

16:49 Yet this was the lawlessness of your sister Sodom: arrogance. In fullness of bread and abundance of wine she and her daughters lived luxuriously. This belonged to her and her daughters, but they did not support the hand of the poor and needy.

16:50 They boasted greatly and committed acts of lawlessness before Me, and I removed them as I saw.

16:51 Samaria did not sin half your sins. You multiplied your lawlessness beyond theirs and justified your sisters by all the lawlessness you committed.

16:52 You too, receive your torment, in which you corrupted your sisters by your sins, in which you acted more lawlessly than they and justified them above yourself. You too, be ashamed and take your dishonor, in that you justified your sisters.

16:53 I will reverse their reversals—the reversal of Sodom and her daughters; I will reverse the reversal of Samaria and her daughters; and I will reverse your reversal among them,

16:54 so that you may receive your torment and be dishonored for all you did in provoking Me.

16:55 Your sister Sodom and her daughters will be restored as they were from the beginning; Samaria and her daughters will be restored as they were from the beginning; and you and your daughters will be restored as you were from the beginning.

16:56 And if your sister Sodom was not a report in your mouth in the days of your arrogance,

16:57 before your evils were revealed—as now you are a reproach of Syria’s daughters and all around her, daughters of foreigners who surround you all around?

16:58 Your impieties and your lawlessness—you have borne them, says the Lord.

16:59 Thus says the Lord: I will deal with you as you have done, as you dishonored these things by transgressing My covenant.

16:60 I Myself will remember My covenant with you in the days of your infancy and raise up for you an eternal covenant.

16:61 You will remember your way and be dishonored when you take up your sisters, those older than you together with those younger than you. I will give them to you for building up, and not from your covenant.

16:62 I Myself will raise up My covenant with you, and you will recognize that I am the Lord,

16:63 so that you may remember and be ashamed, and no longer have occasion to open your mouth because of your dishonor, when I am propitious to you concerning all that you have done, says the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 17

17:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

17:2 “Son of man, tell a story and speak a parable to the house of Israel,

17:3 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord: The great eagle, with great wings and a broad span, full of talons, which has authority to enter Lebanon, took the cedar’s choice parts;

17:4 he nipped off the tips of its tender growth, carried them to the land of Canaan, and set them in a fortified city.

17:5 He took some of the land’s seed and put it in the plain, a plant beside abundant water; he appointed it to be watched over.

17:6 It sprouted and became a weak vine, small in size so that it might appear. Its branches were upon it and its roots beneath it. It became a vine, produced offshoots and extended its climbing growth.

17:7 There was another great eagle, with great wings and many talons. Behold, this vine was intertwined toward him, its roots toward him; it sent its branches to him to water it together with the clod of its planting.

17:8 It grows fat in a good plain beside abundant water, to produce shoots, bear fruit and become a great vine.

17:9 Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord: Will it prosper? Will not the roots of its tender growth and its fruit rot, and all its early shoots dry up? No great arm or numerous people will be needed to pull it from its roots.

17:10 Behold, it grows fat—surely it will not prosper? Will it not dry up completely as soon as the scorching wind touches it? It will dry up together with the clod of its growth.’”

17:11 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

17:12 “Son of man, say now to the embittering house, ‘Do you not understand what these things were?’ Say, ‘When Babylon’s king comes against Jerusalem, he will take her king and her rulers and bring them to himself in Babylon.

17:13 He will take one of the royal seed, make a covenant with him, and bring him under a curse-oath. He will take the land’s leaders, 17:14 so that it may become a weak kingdom, not exalt itself at all, and keep his covenant and establish it.

17:15 He will revolt from him, sending his messengers to Egypt to give him horses and many people. Will he prosper? Will the one doing contrary things be rescued? Will one transgressing a covenant be saved?

17:16 As I live, says the Lord, surely in the place of the king who made him king—he who dishonored My curse-oath and transgressed My covenant—with him in the midst of Babylon he will die.

17:17 Pharaoh will not wage war against him with great power or a numerous crowd, amid siegeworks and the building of missile stations to remove lives.

17:18 He dishonored a sworn oath by transgressing a covenant; behold, he has given his hand and did all these things to him. Surely he will not be saved?

17:19 Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord: As I live, surely My covenant that he transgressed and My sworn oath that he dishonored—I will bring them upon his head.

17:20 I will spread My net over him, and he will be caught in his enclosure.

17:21 In all his battle array they will fall by the sword, and I will scatter the survivors to every wind. You will recognize that I, the Lord, have spoken.’

17:22 For thus says the Lord: I Myself will take from the cedar’s choice parts, nip off from the top of their heart, and I Myself will plant it upon a high mountain. I will suspend it

17:23 upon Israel’s lofty mountain and plant it. It will produce a shoot, bear fruit and become a great cedar. Every beast will rest beneath it, every bird will rest under its shade, and its branches will be restored.

17:24 All the plain’s trees will know that I am the Lord who lowers a high tree, raises a low tree, dries a green tree and makes a dry tree flourish. I, the Lord, have spoken and will act.”

Ezekiel 18

18:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

18:2 “Son of man, what is this proverb you have among Israel’s sons, saying, ‘The fathers ate unripe grapes, and the children’s teeth were set on edge’?

18:3 As I live, says the Lord, this proverb will certainly no longer be spoken in Israel.

18:4 For all souls are Mine. As the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son—they are Mine. The soul that sins will die.

Note [1]: Ezekiel 18:4 · Meaning and wording · soulThe accountable living person in the father-and-son argument. 18:5 The person who is righteous, practicing judgment and righteousness,

18:6 will not eat upon the mountains, certainly will not raise his eyes to the reflections of the house of Israel, certainly will not defile his neighbor’s wife, and will not approach a woman in her menstrual separation;

18:7 he certainly will not oppress anyone, will return a debtor’s pledge, takes no plunder, will give his bread to the hungry, and will clothe the naked;

18:8 he will not give his silver at interest or take increase, will turn his hand from injustice, and will render a righteous judgment between a man and his neighbor;

18:9 he has walked in My commands and kept My ordinances to carry them out. This one is righteous; he will surely live, says the Lord.

18:10 But if he fathers a pestilent son who sheds blood and commits sins,

18:11 he did not walk in the way of his righteous father, but even ate upon the mountains and defiled his neighbor’s wife,

18:12 oppressed the poor and needy, seized plunder, did not return a pledge, set his eyes upon idols, and has committed lawlessness,

18:13 gave at interest and took increase—this one certainly will not live. He committed all this lawlessness; he will surely be put to death, and his blood will be upon him.

18:14 But if he fathers a son who sees all the sins his father committed, becomes afraid, and does not act according to them,

18:15 he has not eaten upon the mountains, not set his eyes upon the reflections of the house of Israel, and not defiled his neighbor’s wife,

18:16 has not oppressed anyone, not taken a pledge, and not seized plunder; he gave his bread to the hungry and clothed the naked,

18:17 and turned his hand from injustice, did not take interest or increase, practiced righteousness and walked in My commands. He will not die in his father’s injustices; he will surely live.

18:18 But if his father practiced affliction and seized plunder, he did contrary things in the midst of My people and will die in his injustice.

18:19 You will say, ‘Why did the son not receive his father’s injustice?’ Because the son practiced righteousness and mercy, preserved all My ordinances and carried them out; he will surely live.

18:20 The soul that sins will die. The son will not receive his father’s injustice, nor the father his son’s injustice. The righteous person’s righteousness will be upon him, and the lawless person’s lawlessness upon him.

18:21 If the lawless person turns from all the lawlessness he committed, keeps all My commandments, and practices righteousness and mercy, he will surely live; he certainly will not die.

18:22 None of the transgressions he committed will be remembered. By the righteousness he practiced, he will live.

18:23 Do I at all desire the death of the lawless, says the Lord, rather than his turning from his evil way and living?

18:24 But when a righteous person turns from his righteousness and practices injustice according to all the lawlessness the lawless person committed, none of the righteous acts he did will be remembered. In the transgression he committed and the sins he sinned, in these he will die.

18:25 You said, ‘The Lord’s way does not run straight.’ Hear now, the whole house of Israel: Surely My way does not fail to run straight? Is it not your way that fails to run straight?

18:26 When the righteous person turns from his righteousness, commits a transgression and dies, in the transgression he committed—in it he will die.

18:27 When a lawless person turns from the lawlessness he practiced and practices judgment and righteousness, this one has preserved his life

18:28 and turned from all the impieties he committed; he will surely live, he certainly will not die.

18:29 The house of Israel says, ‘The Lord’s way does not go right.’ Surely My way does not fail to go right, house of Israel? Is it not your way that fails to go right?

18:30 I will judge you, each according to his way, house of Israel, says the Lord. Turn back and turn away from all your impieties, and they will not become a punishment of injustice for you.

18:31 Cast away from yourselves all your impieties with which you acted impiously against Me, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit. Why are you dying, house of Israel?

18:32 For I do not desire the death of the one who dies, says the Lord."

Ezekiel 19

19:1 "And you, take up a lament over Israel's ruler,

19:2 and say: What was your mother? A cub! She came to be among lions; among lions she multiplied her cubs.

19:3 One of her cubs sprang away; he became a lion, learned to seize prey, and ate human beings.

19:4 Nations heard against him; he was caught in their destruction, and they led him with a muzzle to Egypt's land.

19:5 She saw that he had been driven away from her and that her support had perished; she took another of her cubs and appointed him a lion.

19:6 He moved among lions, became a lion, learned to seize prey, and ate human beings.

19:7 He fed in his boldness, desolated their cities, and destroyed the land and its fullness by the sound of his roaring.

19:8 Nations from the surrounding countries set themselves against him and spread their nets over him; he was caught in their destruction.

19:9 They put him in a muzzle and a cage. He came to Babylon's king, and he brought him into prison, so that his voice would not be heard upon Israel's mountains.

19:10 Your mother was like a vine, like a blossom on a pomegranate tree, planted by water; her fruit and her shoot came from abundant water.

19:11 She had a rod of strength for a tribe of leaders; it rose in her size among the trunks, and it saw her size among the multitude of her branches.

19:12 She was broken off in wrath and thrown to the ground. The scorching wind dried her choice parts; her rod of strength was punished and dried up. Fire consumed her.

19:13 Now they have planted her in the wilderness, in a waterless land,

19:14 and fire went out from a rod of her choice parts and devoured her, and there was no rod of strength in her. A tribe is for a parable of lament, and it will become a lament."

Ezekiel 20

20:1 In the seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth of the month, men from the elders of the house of Israel came to question the Lord and sat before me.

20:2 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

20:3 "Son of man, speak to Israel's elders and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord: Have you come to question Me? As I live, I will certainly not answer you, says the Lord.'

20:4 Shall I indeed exact retribution upon them? Son of man, solemnly testify to them about their fathers' lawlessness,

20:5 and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord: From the day I chose the house of Israel, I became known to the seed of Jacob's house and was known to them in Egypt's land. I supported them with My hand, saying, "I am the Lord your God."

20:6 On that day I supported them with My hand to bring them out of Egypt's land into the land I prepared for them, a land flowing with milk and honey; it is a honeycomb compared with all the earth.

20:7 I said to them, "Let each cast away the abominations of his eyes, and do not be defiled by Egypt's practices. I am the Lord your God."

20:8 They revolted from Me and would not listen to Me. They did not cast away the abominations of their eyes or abandon Egypt's practices. I said I would pour My wrath upon them and complete My anger in them in the midst of Egypt's land.

20:9 I acted so that My name would not be profaned at all before the nations among whom they are, among whom I was known to them before their eyes by bringing them out of Egypt's land.

20:10 I brought them out of Egypt's land and brought them into the wilderness,

20:11 and gave them My commands and made My ordinances known to them, which a person will carry out and by which he will live.

20:12 I gave them My sabbaths as a sign between Me and them, so that they might know that I am the Lord who sanctifies them.

20:13 I said to the house of Israel in the wilderness, "Walk in My commands." But they did not walk, and they rejected My ordinances, which a person will carry out and by which he will live; they greatly profaned My sabbaths. I said I would pour My wrath upon them in the wilderness to consume them utterly.

20:14 I acted so that My name would not be profaned at all before the nations from whom I brought them out before their eyes.

20:15 I too raised My hand against them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them at all into the land I gave them, a land flowing with milk and honey, a honeycomb compared with all the earth,

20:16 because they rejected My ordinances, did not walk in My commands, and were profaning My sabbaths, and they followed the reflections of their hearts.

20:17 My eye spared them from obliteration, and I did not make a complete end of them in the wilderness.

20:18 I said to their children in the wilderness, “Do not walk in your fathers’ ordinances, do not keep their judgments, do not mix yourselves with their practices, and do not be defiled.

20:19 I am the Lord your God. Walk in My commands, keep My ordinances and carry them out,

20:20 and sanctify My sabbaths; let it be a sign between Me and you, so that you may know that I am the Lord your God.”

20:21 Their children too embittered Me. They did not walk in My commands or keep My ordinances to carry them out, which a person will carry out and by which he will live; they were profaning My sabbaths. I said I would pour My wrath upon them in the wilderness and complete My anger upon them.

20:22 I acted so that My name would not be profaned at all before the nations from whom I brought them out before their eyes.

20:23 I raised My hand against them in the wilderness, to scatter them among the nations and disperse them among the countries,

20:24 because they did not carry out My ordinances, rejected My commands and were profaning My sabbaths, while their eyes followed their fathers’ reflections.

20:25 I too gave them commands that were not good, and ordinances in which they would not live.

20:26 I will defile them through their gifts, when I pass through every one who opens the womb, so that I may destroy them.

20:27 Therefore speak to the house of Israel, son of man, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord: To this extent your fathers angered Me in the transgressions they committed against Me.

20:28 I brought them into the land I raised My hand to give them. They saw every high hill and every shady tree; there they sacrificed to their gods, there they set a fragrant aroma, and there they poured their libations.

20:29 I said to them, “What is Abama, that you go in there?” They called its name Abama to this very day.’

20:30 Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord: Are you being defiled in your fathers’ lawlessness and prostituting yourselves after their abominations?

20:31 In the firstfruits of your gifts, in your separations, you are being defiled with all your reflections to this very day. Shall I answer you, house of Israel? As I live, says the Lord, I will certainly not answer you, nor will this rise upon your spirit.

20:32 It will not be as you say: “We will be like the nations and like the tribes of the earth, serving woods and stones.”

20:33 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord, with a mighty hand, a high arm and outpoured wrath I will reign over you.

20:34 I will bring you out from the peoples and receive you from the countries where you were scattered, with a mighty hand, a high arm and outpoured wrath.

20:35 I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples and contend with you there, face to face.

20:36 As I contended with your fathers in the wilderness of Egypt’s land, so I will judge you, says the Lord.

20:37 I will lead you beneath My rod and bring you in by number,

20:38 and select from you the impious and those who have revolted, for I will bring them out of their sojourning, but they will not enter Israel’s land. You will recognize that I am the Lord.

20:39 And you, house of Israel, thus says the Lord, the Lord: Each of you, remove his practices! After these things, if you are not listening to Me, you will no longer profane My holy name with your gifts and practices.

20:40 For upon My holy mountain, upon a high mountain, says the Lord, the Lord, there the whole house of Israel will serve Me to the end. There I will accept, and there I will attend to your firstfruits and the firstfruits of your separations, with all your holy things.

20:41 As a fragrant aroma I will accept you when I bring you out from the peoples and receive you from the countries where you were scattered. I will be sanctified among you before the eyes of the peoples.

20:42 You will recognize that I am the Lord when I bring you into Israel's land, into the land for which I raised My hand to give it to your fathers.

20:43 There you will remember your ways and your practices by which you were being defiled; you will beat your faces over all your evils.

20:44 You will recognize that I am the Lord when I deal thus with you so that My name may not be profaned according to your evil ways and corrupt practices, says the Lord.'"

Ezekiel 21

21:1 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

21:2 "Son of man, set your face firmly toward Thaiman, look toward Darom, and prophesy against the leading forest, Nageb,

21:3 and say to the Nageb forest, 'Hear the Lord's word! Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am kindling a fire within you. It will devour every green tree and every dry tree in you. The kindled flame will not be quenched, and every face from east to north will be burned by it.

21:4 All flesh will recognize that I, the Lord, have kindled it, and it will not be quenched.'"

21:5 I said, "By no means, Lord, Lord! They say to me, 'Is this not a parable being spoken?'"

21:6 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

21:7 "Therefore prophesy, son of man; set your face firmly toward Jerusalem, look toward their holy places, and prophesy against Israel's land,

21:8 and say to Israel's land, 'Behold, I am against you. I will draw My dagger from its sheath and destroy from you the unjust and the lawless.

21:9 Because I will destroy from you the unjust and the lawless, so My dagger will come out of its sheath against all flesh from east to north.

21:10 All flesh will recognize that I, the Lord, have drawn My dagger from its sheath, and it will not return again.'

21:11 And you, son of man, groan deeply with your loins broken; groan in pains before their eyes.

21:12 If they say to you, 'Why are you groaning?' say, 'Because of the message, for it is coming. Every heart will be shattered, all hands will be paralyzed, all flesh and every spirit will expire, and all thighs will be defiled with moisture. Behold, it is coming and will happen, says the Lord, the Lord.'"

21:13 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

21:14 "Son of man, prophesy and say, 'Thus says the Lord: Say: Sword, sword, be sharpened and enraged,

21:15 so that you may slaughter victims. Be sharpened to become gleaming. Ready for paralysis, slaughter! Disdain; thrust away every tree.

21:16 He gave it ready for his hand to grasp. The sword has been sharpened; it is ready to be put into the hand of one who pierces.

21:17 Cry aloud and wail, son of man, for it has come among My people, among all Israel's leaders. They will sojourn upon a sword; it has come among My people. Therefore strike upon your hand.

21:18 For it has been justified. And what if even a tribe was rejected? It will not be, says the Lord, the Lord.

21:19 And you, son of man, prophesy and strike hand upon hand, and double the sword. The third sword of the wounded is the great sword of the wounded, and it will terrify them,

21:20 so that the heart is shattered and the weak multiply at every gate of theirs. They have been handed over as victims of a sword. It has been well prepared for slaughter, well prepared for gleaming.

21:21 Pass through! Be sharpened on the right and on the left, wherever your face may be roused.

21:22 I too will strike My hand against My hand and release My wrath. I, the Lord, have spoken.'"

21:23 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

21:24 "And you, son of man, arrange two roads for Babylon's king's sword to enter. Both will come out from one country, and a hand at the beginning of a city road; at the beginning

21:25 of a road you will arrange for the sword to enter against Rabbath of the sons of Ammon, against Judea, and against Jerusalem in her midst.

21:26 For Babylon's king will stand upon the ancient road, at the beginning of the two roads, to divine a divination, toss a rod, question the carved images and inspect a liver at his right.

21:27 The oracle came against Jerusalem: to set a siege stake, open the mouth in a shout, raise the voice with a cry, set a siege stake against her gates, cast up a mound and build missile stations.

21:28 He is to them like one divining a divination before them, and he himself recalls his injustices for remembrance.

21:29 Therefore thus says the Lord: Because you recalled your injustices when your impieties were revealed, so that your sins were seen in all your impieties and practices—because you recalled them, in these you will be captured.

21:30 And you, profane, lawless leader of Israel, whose day has arrived in a season of injustice—an end!—

21:31 thus says the Lord: You removed the tiara and put on the crown. This will not be such. You lowered the high and raised the low.

21:32 Injustice, injustice I will make it! Nor will this be such until the one comes to whom it belongs, and I will hand it over to him.

21:33 And you, son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord concerning the sons of Ammon and their reproach.’ Say, ‘Sword, sword, drawn for victims and drawn for complete destruction, arise so that you may gleam, 21:34 in your vain vision and your divining false things, to hand you over upon the necks of the wounded lawless, whose day has arrived in a season of injustice—an end!

21:35 Turn back; do not lodge in this place where you were born. In your own land I will judge you

21:36 and pour My anger upon you. I will blow upon you with the fire of My anger and hand you into the hands of barbarian men devising destruction.

21:37 You will be food in fire; your blood will be in the midst of your land. There certainly will be no remembrance of you, for I, the Lord, have spoken.’”

Ezekiel 22

22:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

22:2 “And you, son of man, will you judge the city of bloodshed? Display all her lawless deeds to her,

22:3 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord, the Lord: O city shedding blood within her so that her time may come, making reflections against herself to defile herself!

22:4 Through their blood that you shed you have transgressed, and through your reflections that you made you were being defiled. You brought your days near and brought the season of your years. Therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations and a mockery to all the countries

22:5 near you and far away from you. They will mock you: “Unclean, the famous one, abundant in lawless deeds!”

22:6 Behold, the leaders of Israel’s house mingled themselves in you, each with his relatives, in order to shed blood.

22:7 They reviled father and mother in you and dealt unjustly with the sojourner in you. They oppressed the orphan and widow in you.

22:8 They despised My holy things and profaned My Sabbaths in you.

22:9 Robbers are in you in order to shed blood in you. They ate upon the mountains in you; they committed unholy acts within you.

22:10 They uncovered a father’s shame in you, and they violated a woman sitting apart in uncleanness in you.

22:11 Each acted lawlessly with his neighbor’s wife; each defiled his daughter-in-law with impiety; each violated his sister, his father’s daughter, in you.

22:12 They took gifts in you in order to shed blood; they took interest and increase in you. You brought your evil in oppression to its full completion, but you forgot Me, says the Lord.

22:13 But if I strike My hand against My hand over what you have completed, what you did, and over your bloodshed that occurred within you,

22:14 will your heart hold out? Will your hands prevail in the days when I act within you? I, the Lord, have spoken and will act.

22:15 I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you among the countries, and your uncleanness will cease from you.

22:16 I will take possession in you before the nations’ eyes, and you will know that I am the Lord.’”

22:17 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

22:18 “Son of man, behold, Israel’s house has become mixed to Me, all of them with copper, iron, tin and lead; it is mixed amid silver.

22:19 Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord: Because all of you became one mixture, therefore I am receiving you into Jerusalem.

22:20 As silver, copper, iron, tin and lead are received into a furnace to blow fire into it to melt it, so I will receive you in My anger, gather you and melt you,

22:21 and blow upon you with the fire of My anger, and you will be melted within her.

22:22 As silver is melted within a furnace, so you will be melted within her. You will recognize that I, the Lord, have poured My wrath upon you.’”

22:23 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

22:24 “Son of man, say to her, ‘You are a land not wetted, nor did rain come upon you on the day of wrath.

22:25 Her leaders within her are like roaring lions seizing prey, devouring lives with power, taking payments unjustly, and your widows have multiplied within you.

22:26 Her priests set aside My law and profaned My holy things. They did not distinguish between holy and profane, nor distinguish between unclean and clean. They covered their eyes from My Sabbaths, and I was profaned among them.

22:27 Her rulers within her are like wolves seizing prey to shed blood, so that in greed they may gain more.

22:28 Her prophets, coating them, will fall, seeing vain things, divining falsehoods, saying, “Thus says the Lord,” when the Lord has not spoken,

22:29 oppressing the people of the land unjustly and seizing plunder, oppressing the poor and needy and not dealing justly with the sojourner.

22:30 I sought among them a man conducting himself rightly and standing wholly before Me at the land’s time, so that I would not utterly wipe her out, but I found none.

22:31 I poured My wrath upon her in the fire of My anger to bring an end. I brought their ways upon their own heads, says the Lord, the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 23

23:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

23:2 “Son of man, there were two women, daughters of one mother,

23:3 and they prostituted themselves in Egypt in their youth. There their breasts fell; there they were deflowered.

23:4 Their names were Oholah the elder and Oholibah her sister. They became Mine and bore sons and daughters. Their names: Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem is Oholibah.

23:5 Oholah prostituted herself away from Me and set her desire upon her lovers, the Assyrians approaching her,

23:6 clothed in blue-purple, leaders and generals; all choice young men, horsemen riding horses.

23:7 She bestowed her prostitution upon them, all choice sons of Assyrians; and with all upon whom she set her desire, in all her reflections she was defiled.

23:8 She did not abandon her prostitution from Egypt, for they lay with her in her youth; they deflowered her and poured their prostitution upon her.

23:9 Therefore I handed her into her lovers’ hands, into the hands of Assyrians’ sons, upon whom she had set her desire.

23:10 They uncovered her shame, took her sons and daughters, and killed her with the sword. She became a subject of talk among women, and they inflicted punishments upon her, upon the daughters.

23:11 Her sister Oholibah saw this and corrupted her desire beyond hers, and her prostitution beyond her sister’s prostitution.

23:12 She set her desire upon Assyrians’ sons, leaders and generals near her, clothed in finely bordered garments, horsemen riding horses; all choice young men.

23:13 I saw that she was defiled; one way for the two.

23:14 She added to her prostitution and saw men depicted upon the wall, images of Chaldeans drawn with a stylus,

23:15 girded with embroidered work at their waists, with dyed tiaras upon their heads, all with a threefold appearance, the likeness of Chaldeans’ sons from their native land.

23:16 She set her desire upon them at the sight of her eyes and sent messengers to them in the Chaldeans’ land.

23:17 Babylon’s sons came to her, to a bed of lodgers, and defiled her in her prostitution. She was defiled by them, and her soul withdrew from them.

23:18 She uncovered her prostitution and uncovered her shame. My soul withdrew from her, as My soul had withdrawn from her sister.

23:19 You multiplied your prostitution to recall the days of your youth, in which you prostituted yourself in Egypt,

23:20 and you set your desire upon the Chaldeans, whose flesh was like donkeys’ and whose genitals were horses’ genitals.

23:21 You revisited the lawlessness of your youth, what you did in Egypt at your lodging, where your youthful breasts were.

23:22 Therefore, Oholibah, thus says the Lord: Behold, I am rousing your lovers against you, those from whom your soul withdrew. I will bring them against you all around:

23:23 Babylon’s sons and all the Chaldeans, Phakoud, Soue and Koue, and all Assyrians’ sons with them, choice young men, all leaders and generals, threefold men and renowned men riding horses.

23:24 All will come against you from the north: chariots and wheels with a multitude of peoples, large shields and small shields; they will set a guard against you all around. I will set judgment before them, and they will punish you by their judgments.

23:25 I will set My jealousy within you, and they will deal with you in fierce anger. They will remove your nose and ears and strike down your remaining people with the sword. They will take your sons and daughters, and fire will consume your remaining people.

23:26 They will strip you of your clothing and take the objects of your boasting.

23:27 I will turn your impieties away from you and your prostitution from Egypt's land. You certainly will not lift your eyes toward them, and you certainly will no longer remember Egypt.

23:28 For thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am handing you into the hands of those you hate, those from whom your soul withdrew.

23:29 They will deal with you in hatred and take all the fruit of your pain and toil. You will be naked and exposed to shame, and the shame of your prostitution and your impiety will be uncovered. Your prostitution

23:30 did these things to you when you prostituted yourself after nations and were defiled in their reflections.

23:31 You walked in your sister's way; I will put her cup into your hands.

23:32 Thus says the Lord: You will drink your sister's cup, deep and wide, abounding to bring about

23:33 drunkenness; you will be filled with collapse. And the cup of annihilation, your sister Samaria's cup—

23:34 you will drink it. I will turn away her festivals and her new moons, for I have spoken, says the Lord.

23:35 Therefore thus says the Lord: Because you forgot Me and cast Me behind your body, you too must take your impiety and your prostitution."

23:36 The Lord said to me, "Son of man, will you not judge Oholah and Oholibah? Declare their lawless deeds to them,

23:37 for they committed adultery, and blood is on their hands. They committed adultery with their reflections, and made their children whom they bore to Me pass through fire offerings for them.

23:38 They even did these things to Me: they defiled My holy things and profaned My Sabbaths.

23:39 When they slaughtered their children for their idols, they entered My holy places to profane them. Indeed, they acted this way within My house.

23:40 Indeed, for the men coming from far away, to whom they sent messengers—as soon as they arrived, you immediately bathed, painted your eyes with antimony and adorned yourself with ornaments,

23:41 and sat upon a spread couch with an adorned table before it. My incense and My oil—they delighted in them.

23:42 They struck up a harmonious sound. With men arriving from the mass of people out of the wilderness, they gave bracelets for their hands and a crown of boasting upon their heads.

23:43 I said, 'Do they not commit adultery in these things? A prostitute's deeds—and she herself prostituted herself!'

23:44 They entered her as they enter a prostitute; so they entered Oholah and Oholibah to commit lawlessness.

23:45 Righteous men will punish them with the punishment of an adulteress and the punishment of bloodshed, for they are adulteresses, and blood is on their hands.

23:46 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Bring a multitude against them and set turmoil and plunder among them,

23:47 and stone them with the multitude's stones and pierce them with their swords. They will kill their sons and daughters and burn their houses.

23:48 I will turn impiety away from the land. All women will be disciplined and certainly will not act according to their impieties.

23:49 Your impiety will be brought upon you, and you will receive the sins of your reflections. You will know that I am the Lord."

Ezekiel 24

24:1 The Lord's word came to me in the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, saying,

24:2 "Son of man, write for yourself a record of the day, from this day on which Babylon's king pressed against Jerusalem, from this present day,

24:3 and speak a parable against the provoking house. Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord: Set on the cauldron and pour water into it,

24:4 and put the cut pieces into it, every good cut, leg and shoulder stripped from the bones,

24:5 from choice animals taken. Burn the bones beneath them. It boiled, it boiled, and her bones have been cooked within her.

24:6 Therefore thus says the Lord: O city of bloodshed! A cauldron with rust in it, whose rust has not come out of her! He brought it out limb by limb; no lot fell upon her.

24:7 For her blood is within her. I have set it upon smooth rock; I have not poured it upon the earth to cover it with earth.

24:8 To make wrath rise for vengeance to be exacted, I have set her blood upon smooth rock so that it will not be covered.

24:9 Therefore thus says the Lord: I too will enlarge the firebrand

24:10 and multiply the wood and kindle the fire, so that the flesh melts and the broth is reduced,

24:11 and it stands upon the coals, so that its copper is scorched and heated and melts amid its uncleanness, and its rust ceases,

24:12 yet her abundant rust certainly will not leave her; her rust will be put to shame,

24:13 because you were being defiled. And what if you are not cleansed any more until I fill up My wrath?

24:14 I, the Lord, have spoken, and it will come, and I will act. I will not draw back, nor will I show mercy. According to your ways and your reflections I will judge you, says the Lord. Therefore I will judge you according to your bloodshed, and according to your reflections I will judge you, the unclean one, the famous one, abundant in provoking.'"

24:15 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

24:16 "Son of man, behold, I am taking the desires of your eyes from you in battle array. You certainly will not beat your breast, nor be wept over.

24:17 It is a groaning of blood, of loins, of mourning. Your hair will not be plaited upon you, nor will your footwear be on your feet. You certainly will not be comforted by their lips or eat the bread of men.

24:18 I spoke to the people in the morning as He commanded me, and my wife died in the evening. In the morning I did as I was ordered.

24:19 The people said to me, "Will you not tell us what these things are that you are doing?"

24:20 I said to them, "The Lord's word came to me, saying,

24:21 'Say to Israel's house, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am profaning My holy things, the boast of your strength, the desires of your eyes, those for whom your souls care. Your sons and daughters whom you left behind will fall by the sword.

24:22 You will do as I have done: you will not be comforted from their mouth or eat the bread of men,

24:23 with your hair upon your heads and your footwear on your feet. You certainly will neither beat your breasts nor weep; you will waste away in your injustices and each will comfort his brother.

24:24 Ezekiel will be a portent for you; according to everything he has done, you will do when these things come. You will recognize that I am the Lord.

24:25 And you, son of man, will it not be on the day when I take their strength from them, the exaltation of their boasting, the desires of their eyes, the exaltation of their soul, their sons and daughters—

24:26 on that day the survivor will come to you to announce it into your ears?

24:27 On that day your mouth will be opened toward the survivor; you will speak and certainly will no longer be struck mute. You will be a portent for them, and they will recognize that I am the Lord.'"

Ezekiel 25

25:1 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

25:2 "Son of man, set your face firmly against the sons of Ammon and prophesy against them,

25:3 and say to Ammon's sons, 'Hear the Lord's word! Thus says the Lord: Because you rejoiced over My holy things when they were profaned, over Israel's land when it was devastated, and over Judah's house when they went into captivity,

25:4 therefore behold, I am handing you to the sons of Kedem as an inheritance. They will camp with their equipment in you and set their dwellings in you. They will eat your fruits and drink your richness.

25:5 I will make Ammon's city pastures for camels, and Ammon's sons a pasture for sheep. You will recognize that I am the Lord.

25:6 For thus says the Lord: Because you clapped your hand and made noise with your foot, and rejoiced from your soul over Israel's land,

25:7 therefore I will stretch My hand against you, give you to plunder among the nations, utterly destroy you from the peoples and make you perish from the countries with destruction. You will recognize that I am the Lord.'

25:8 Thus says the Lord: Because Moab said, 'Behold, Israel's and Judah's house is like all the nations,'

25:9 therefore behold, I am paralyzing Moab's shoulder from its frontier cities, the choice land, the house of Asimouth above a spring of a coastal city.

25:10 To Kedem's sons, against Ammon's sons, I have given them as an inheritance, so that no remembrance of Ammon's sons may remain.

25:11 I will exact vengeance upon Moab, and they will recognize that I am the Lord.

25:12 Thus says the Lord: Because Idumea acted in vengeance against Judah's house, and they bore a grudge and exacted punishment,

25:13 therefore thus says the Lord: I will stretch My hand against Idumea and utterly destroy human and animal from her. I will make her a wilderness, and those pursued from Thaiman will fall by the sword.

25:14 I will place My vengeance upon Idumea by the hand of My people Israel. They will act in Idumea according to My anger and My wrath, and they will recognize My vengeance, says the Lord.

25:15 Therefore thus says the Lord: Because the foreigners acted in vengeance and stirred up vengeance, rejoicing from their soul to wipe out for ever,

25:16 therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I will stretch My hand against the foreigners, utterly destroy Cretans and make the remaining inhabitants of the coast perish.

25:17 I will execute great acts of vengeance upon them. They will recognize that I am the Lord when I bring My vengeance upon them.”

Ezekiel 26

26:1 In the eleventh year, on the first of the month, the Lord’s word came to me, saying,

26:2 “Son of man, because Tyre said of Jerusalem, ‘Well done! She is shattered; the nations have perished. She has turned to me; the full one has been laid waste,’

26:3 therefore thus says the Lord: I am against you, Tyre, and I will bring many nations against you, as the sea rises with its waves.

26:4 They will throw down Tyre’s walls and throw down your towers. I will winnow her dust from her and make her a smooth rock.

26:5 She will be a drying place for nets in the midst of the sea, for I have spoken, says the Lord. She will become plunder for the nations,

26:6 and her daughters in the plain will be killed by the sword. They will know that I am the Lord.

26:7 For thus says the Lord: I am bringing against you, Tyre, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the north—he is king of kings—with horses, chariots, horsemen, and an assembly of very many nations.

26:8 He will kill your daughters in the plain with the sword, set an advance guard against you, build around you, and make a palisade and a ring of weapons around you; he will set his spears opposite you.

26:9 He will throw down your walls and your towers with his swords.

26:10 The dust of his multitude of horses will cover you, and your walls will shake at the sound of his horsemen and his chariots’ wheels when he enters your gates like someone entering a city from the plain.

26:11 With his horses’ hoofs they will trample all your squares. He will kill your people with the sword and bring the support of your strength down to the ground.

26:12 He will plunder your strength, strip your possessions, throw down your walls, and demolish your desirable houses. He will throw your stones, timber, and dust into the sea.

26:13 He will put an end to the multitude of your musicians, and the sound of your psalteries will certainly no longer be heard.

26:14 I will make you a smooth rock, a drying place for nets. You will certainly not be rebuilt, for I have spoken, says the Lord.

26:15 For thus says the Lord, the Lord, to Tyre: Will not the islands shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan and a sword is drawn within you?

26:16 All the rulers from the nations of the sea will step down from their thrones, remove the turbans from their heads, and strip off their patterned clothing. They will be utterly astonished, sit on the ground, fear their own destruction, and groan over you.

26:17 They will raise a lament over you and say to you: ‘How you were destroyed from the sea, praised city that spread her fear to all who live in her!

26:18 The islands will be afraid from the day of your fall.’

26:19 For thus says the Lord, the Lord: When I make you a desolated city like cities that will not be inhabited, when I bring the abyss up over you and much water covers you,

26:20 I will bring you down to those descending into the pit, to the people of old. I will settle you in the depths of the earth like an everlasting wilderness, with those descending into the pit, so that you are not inhabited and do not rise in the land of life.

26:21 I will bring you to ruin, and you will no longer exist for ever, says the Lord, the Lord.”

Ezekiel 27

27:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

27:2 “Son of man, take up a lament over Tyre,

27:3 and say to Tyre, who dwells at the entrance of the sea, the trading place of the peoples from many islands: Thus says the Lord to Tyre: You said, ‘I have clothed myself with my beauty.’

27:4 In the heart of the sea, at Beelim, your sons clothed you with beauty.

27:5 Cedar from Senir was built for you; strips of cypress planks were taken from Lebanon to make fir masts for you.

27:6 From Bashan they made your oars; they made your sacred places from ivory, wooded houses from the islands of Kittim.

27:7 Fine linen with embroidery from Egypt became your bedding, to clothe you with glory and wrap you in blue and purple from the islands of Elishah; it became your coverings.

27:8 Your rulers who inhabit Sidon, and the Arvadites, became your rowers; your wise men, Tyre, who were in you, were your pilots.

27:9 The elders of Byblos and their wise men were in you; they strengthened your counsel. All the ships of the sea and their rowers came to you toward the farthest west.

27:10 Persians, Lydians, and Libyans were in your force; your warrior men hung small shields and helmets in you; they gave you your glory.

27:11 Sons of Arvadites and your force were on your walls; guards were in your towers. They hung their quivers around your harbors; they completed your beauty.

27:12 Carthaginians were your traders because of the abundance of all your strength; they gave silver, gold, iron, tin, and lead for your market.

27:13 Greece, all of it, and the adjoining regions traded with you in human lives, and gave bronze vessels for your commerce.

27:14 From the house of Togarmah they gave horses and horsemen for your market.

27:15 Sons of Rhodians were your traders; from islands they increased your commerce with ivory tusks, and you gave your payments in exchange for the imported goods,

27:16 people as your merchandise from the abundance of your mixed company, myrrh drops and embroideries from Tarshish; Ramoth and Chorchor gave for your market.

27:17 Judah and the sons of Israel were your traders in the sale of grain, perfumes, and cassia; they gave choice honey, oil, and resin to your mixed company.

27:18 Damascus was your trader because of the abundance of all your strength: wine from Helbon and wool from Miletus;

27:19 and they gave wine for your market. From Asel, worked iron and a wheel are among your mixed company.

27:20 Dedan was your trader with choice animals for chariots.

27:21 Arabia and all the rulers of Kedar were your traders through your hand, with camels, rams, and lambs in which they traded with you.

27:22 Traders of Sheba and Raamah were your traders with choice spices and good stones, and they gave gold for your market.

27:23 Haran and Channa were your traders; Asshur and Charman were your traders,

27:24 bringing merchandise, blue cloth and choice treasures bound with cords, and cypress

27:25 ships: in them Carthaginians were your traders in abundance among your mixed company. You were filled and became very heavy in the heart of the sea.

27:26 Your rowers led you in much water; the south wind shattered you in the heart of the sea.

27:27 There were your forces, your payment and that of your mixed companies, your rowers and pilots, your counselors and your mixed companies from your mixed companies, all your warrior men in you, and your whole assembly within you; they will fall in the heart of the sea on the day of your fall.

27:28 At the sound of your cry, your pilots will be greatly afraid,

27:29 and all your rowers will come down from the ships; the passengers and the lookouts of the sea will stand on the land.

27:30 They will raise a cry over you with their voice and cry bitterly; they will put earth on their head and spread ashes beneath them.

27:32 Their sons will take up a lament over you and a lamentation for you:

27:33 ‘What a payment you found from the sea! You filled nations from your abundance, and from your mixed company you enriched all the kings of the earth.

27:34 Now you were shattered in the sea, in the depth of water; your mixed company and all your assembly fell within you—all your rowers.

27:35 All who inhabit the islands became gloomy over you; their kings were utterly astonished, and their faces shed tears.

27:36 Traders from nations hissed at you; you came to ruin, and you will be no more for ever.’”

Ezekiel 28

28:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

28:2 “And you, son of man, say to the ruler of Tyre: Thus says the Lord: Because your heart was exalted and you said, ‘I am a god; I have inhabited a god’s dwelling in the heart of the sea’—yet you are a human, and not a god, and you made your heart like a god’s heart—

28:3 Surely you are not wiser than Daniel? Did wise men not instruct you in their knowledge?

28:4 Surely it was not by your knowledge or understanding that you built up strength for yourself, and gold and silver in your treasuries?

28:5 By your abundant knowledge and your trade you increased your strength; your heart was exalted in your strength.

28:6 Therefore thus says the Lord: Since you made your heart like a god's heart,

28:7 therefore, behold, I am bringing foreigners against you, scourges from nations. They will draw their swords against you and against the beauty of your knowledge, and lay your beauty out for destruction,

28:8 and they will bring you down; you will die the death of wounded men in the heart of the sea.

28:9 Surely you will not say, 'I am a god,' before those killing you? You are a human, and not a god. In a multitude

28:10 of uncircumcised people you will perish by foreigners' hands, for I have spoken, says the Lord."

28:11 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

28:12 "Son of man, take up a lament over the ruler of Tyre and say to him: Thus says the Lord, the Lord: You were a seal of likeness and a crown of beauty;

28:13 you came to be in the delight of God's paradise. You have been clothed with every good stone: carnelian, topaz, emerald, carbuncle, sapphire, jasper, silver, gold, ligurite, agate, amethyst, chrysolite, beryl, and onyx. You filled your treasuries and storehouses within you with gold from the day you were created.

28:14 With the cherub I placed you on God's holy mountain; you came to be among fiery stones.

28:15 You were blameless in your days from the day you were created until wrongdoings were found in you.

28:16 From the abundance of your trade you filled your store chambers with lawlessness, and you sinned and were wounded away from God's mountain; the cherub led you out from among fiery stones.

28:17 Your heart was exalted because of your beauty; your knowledge was corrupted together with your beauty. Because of your many sins I threw you to the ground; I placed you before kings to be made a spectacle.

28:18 Because of your many sins and the wrongdoings of your trade you profaned your sacred places. I will bring fire out from within you; it will consume you. I will turn you to ashes on your land before all who see you.

28:19 All who know you among the nations will become gloomy over you; you came to ruin, and you will no longer exist for ever."

28:20 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

28:21 "Son of man, fix your face upon Sidon and prophesy against her,

28:22 and say: Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am against you, Sidon, and I will be glorified in you. You will know that I am the Lord when I execute judgments in you, and I will be sanctified in you.

28:23 Blood and death will be in your broad streets, and wounded men will fall by swords in you, all around you. They will know that I am the Lord.

28:24 The house of Israel will no longer have a thorn of bitterness or a thorn of pain from all around them who dishonored them. They will know that I am the Lord.

28:25 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: I will gather Israel from the nations where they were scattered, and I will be sanctified in them before the peoples and the nations. They will dwell on their land, which I have given to My servant Jacob,

28:26 and they will dwell on it in hope, build houses, and plant vineyards. They will dwell in hope when I execute judgment on all around them who dishonored them. They will know that I am the Lord their God and the God of their fathers."

Ezekiel 29

29:1 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the first of the month, the Lord's word came to me, saying,

29:2 "Son of man, fix your face upon Pharaoh king of Egypt and prophesy against him and against all Egypt,

29:3 and say: Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am against Pharaoh, the great dragon seated among his rivers, who says, 'The rivers are mine, and I made them.'

29:4 I will put traps in your jaws and fasten the fish of your river to your fins. I will bring you up from the midst of your river, and all the fish of your river,

29:5 and I will cast you down quickly, and all the fish of your river. You will fall on the face of the plain; you will certainly not be gathered or wrapped for burial. I have given you for food to the beasts of the earth and the birds of heaven.

29:6 All who inhabit Egypt will know that I am the Lord, because you became a reed staff for the house of Israel.

29:7 When they took hold of you with their hand, you were crushed; and when every hand prevailed against them, and when they rested upon you, you were shattered and broke all their loins.

29:8 Therefore thus says the Lord: Behold, I am bringing a sword against you, and I will destroy humans and livestock from you.

29:9 The land of Egypt will become a ruin and a wilderness, and they will know that I am the Lord, because you say, ‘The rivers are mine, and I made them.’

29:10 Therefore, behold, I am against you and against all your rivers. I will make the land of Egypt a wilderness, a sword, and destruction, from Migdol and Syene as far as the borders of the Ethiopians.

29:11 No human foot will pass through it, nor will livestock’s foot pass through it; it will not be inhabited for forty years.

29:12 I will make her land a ruin amid desolated land, and her cities will be amid desolated cities for forty years. I will scatter Egypt among the nations and winnow them into the countries.

29:13 Thus says the Lord: After forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the nations where they were scattered,

29:14 and I will turn back the captivity of the Egyptians and settle them in the land of Pathros, in the land from which they were taken; it will be a lowly dominion

29:15 among all the dominions; it will no longer be exalted over the nations, and I will make them few, so that they are not more numerous among the nations.

29:16 They will no longer be a hope for the house of Israel, bringing lawlessness to remembrance when they follow after them. They will know that I am the Lord.”

29:17 In the twenty-seventh year, on the first of the first month, the Lord’s word came to me, saying,

29:18 “Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon subjected his force to great servitude against Tyre; every head was bald and every shoulder was losing its hair. Yet neither he nor his force received wages for Tyre and the servitude they performed against her.

29:19 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. He will take her booty and strip her spoils; it will be wages for his force.

29:20 In exchange for his service, which he performed against Tyre, I have given him the land of Egypt. Thus says the Lord, the Lord:

29:21 On that day a horn will spring up for the whole house of Israel, and I will give you an opened mouth among them. They will know that I am the Lord.”

Ezekiel 30

30:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

30:2 “Son of man, prophesy and say: Thus says the Lord: Alas, alas, the day!

30:3 For the Lord’s day is near; it will be a day, an end of nations.

30:4 A sword will come upon the Egyptians, and there will be turmoil in Ethiopia; wounded men will fall in Egypt, and her foundations will collapse together.

30:5 Persians, Cretans, Lydians, Libyans, all the mixed company, and some of the sons of My covenant will fall by the sword in her.

30:6 Egypt’s supports will fall, and the arrogance of her strength will come down from Migdol to Syene; they will fall in her by the sword, says the Lord.

30:7 She will be desolated among desolated countries, and their cities will be among desolated cities.

30:8 They will know that I am the Lord when I put fire upon Egypt and all who help her are shattered.

30:9 On that day messengers will go out, hastening to lay Ethiopia waste; turmoil will be among them on Egypt’s day, for behold, it is coming.

30:10 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: I will destroy the multitude of Egyptians by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,

30:11 him and his people: scourges from nations sent to destroy the land. They will all draw their swords against Egypt, and the land will be filled with wounded men.

30:12 I will make their rivers desolate and destroy the land and all that fills it by foreigners’ hands. I, the Lord, have spoken.

30:13 For thus says the Lord, the Lord: I will destroy the magnates from Memphis and the rulers from the land of Egypt, and they will be no more.

30:14 I will destroy the land of Pathros, put fire upon Tanis, and execute vengeance in Diospolis,

30:15 and pour out My wrath upon Sais, Egypt’s strength, and destroy the multitude of Memphis.

30:16 I will put fire upon Egypt; Syene will be greatly troubled, and in Diospolis there will be a breach, and waters will pour out.

30:17 The young men of Heliopolis and Bubastis will fall by the sword, and the women will go into captivity.

30:18 At Tahpanhes the day will grow dark when I shatter Egypt’s scepters there and the arrogance of her strength perishes there. A cloud will cover her, and her daughters will be led away captive.

30:19 I will execute judgment in Egypt, and they will know that I am the Lord.”

30:20 In the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh of the month, the Lord’s word came to me, saying,

30:21 “Son of man, I shattered the arms of Pharaoh king of Egypt. Behold, it has not been bound up to provide healing, to put a poultice upon it, to give strength to grasp a sword.

30:22 Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt. I will shatter his arms, the strong and the outstretched, and cast his sword down from his hand, 30:23 and scatter Egypt into the nations and winnow them into the countries.

30:24 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and put My sword into his hand; he will bring it upon Egypt, take her booty, and strip her spoils.

30:25 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, but Pharaoh’s arms will fall. They will know that I am the Lord when I put My sword into the hands of the king of Babylon and he stretches it over the land of Egypt.

30:26 I will scatter Egypt into the nations and winnow them into the countries. All will know that I am the Lord.”

Ezekiel 31

31:1 In the eleventh year, in the third month, on the first of the month, the Lord’s word came to me, saying,

31:2 “Son of man, say to Pharaoh, Egypt’s king, and to his multitude, ‘To whom did you liken yourself in your height?

31:3 Behold, Assyria was a cypress in Lebanon, beautiful in offshoots and tall in size; its crown reached into the midst of clouds.

31:4 Water nourished it; the abyss raised it high, led its rivers around its plantings and sent out its gatherings of water to all the plain’s trees.

31:5 Therefore its size rose above all the plain’s trees, and its branches spread wide because of abundant water.

31:6 All the sky’s birds nested in its offshoots; all the plain’s beasts gave birth beneath its branches, and every multitude of nations lived in its shade.

31:7 It was beautiful in its height because of the multitude of its branches, for its roots reached abundant water.

31:8 Such cypresses did not exist in God’s paradise; pines were not like its offshoots, and firs were not like its branches. No tree in God’s paradise resembled it in its beauty

31:9 because of the multitude of its branches, and the trees of God’s paradise of delight envied it.

31:10 Therefore thus says the Lord: Because you became great in size and set your crown amid clouds, and I saw it being lifted high,

31:11 I handed it into the hands of a ruler of nations, and he brought about its destruction.

31:12 Foreigners, scourges from nations, utterly destroyed it and cast it upon the mountains. Its branches fell in all the ravines; its trunks were shattered in every plain of the land. All the nations’ peoples went down from their shelter and dashed it to the ground.

31:13 All the sky’s birds rested upon its fallen trunk, and all the field’s beasts were upon its trunks,

31:14 so that none of the trees in the water may rise high in their size. They did not set their crowns amid clouds, and none of those drinking water stood toward them in their height. All were given to death, to the depth of the earth, among human beings, with those descending to a pit.

31:15 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: On the day it descended to Hades, the abyss mourned it. I stopped its rivers and restrained the multitude of water. Lebanon grew dark over it, and all the plain’s trees collapsed over it.

31:16 At the sound of its fall the nations shook when I brought it down to Hades with those descending to a pit. In the earth all the trees of delight and the choice trees of Lebanon, all drinking water, comforted it.

31:17 For they too went down with it to Hades among those wounded by the sword; its offspring, those living under its shelter, perished in the midst of their life.

31:18 Whom were you likened to? Descend and be brought down with the trees of delight into the earth’s depth. Among the uncircumcised you will lie with those wounded by the sword. So it is with Pharaoh and the multitude of his strength, says the Lord, the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 32

32:1 In the eleventh year, in the twelfth month, on the first of the month, the Lord’s word came to me, saying,

32:2 “Son of man, take up a lament over Pharaoh, Egypt’s king, and say to him, ‘You were likened to a lion of nations, and you are like the dragon in the sea. You butted in your rivers, troubled water with your feet and trampled your rivers.

32:3 Thus says the Lord: I will throw nets of many peoples over you and haul you up with My hook, 32:4 and stretch you out upon the earth; plains will be filled with you. I will seat all the sky's birds upon you and fill all the beasts of the whole earth with you.

32:5 I will lay your flesh upon the mountains and fill them with your blood,

32:6 and the earth will be watered from your discharges, from your multitude upon the mountains. I will fill ravines with you.

32:7 When you are extinguished, I will cover heaven and darken its stars. I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon certainly will not show its light.

32:8 All the things shining light in heaven will grow dark over you, and I will put darkness upon your land, says the Lord, the Lord.

32:9 I will provoke the heart of many peoples when I bring your captivity among the nations, into a land you have not known.

32:10 Many nations will grow gloomy over you; their kings will be utterly astounded when My sword flies before their faces, awaiting their own fall from the day of your fall.

32:11 For thus says the Lord: Babylon's king's sword will come upon you

32:12 with giants' swords, and I will strike down your strength. All are scourges from nations; they will destroy Egypt's arrogance, and all her strength will be shattered.

32:13 I will destroy all her livestock beside the abundant water. No human foot will ever trouble it again, nor will livestock's tread trample it.

32:14 Thus their waters will then become still, and their rivers will flow like oil, says the Lord.

32:15 When I give Egypt to destruction and the land is made desolate with its fullness, when I scatter all who dwell in her, they will know that I am the Lord.

32:16 It is a lament, and you will lament it, and the nations' daughters will lament it. Over Egypt and all her strength they will lament her, says the Lord, the Lord.'"

32:17 In the twelfth year, in the first month, on the fifteenth of the month, the Lord's word came to me, saying,

32:18 "Son of man, lament over Egypt's strength. The nations will bring her daughters down dead into the earth's depth, with those descending to a pit.

32:20 They will fall with him among those wounded by the sword, and all his strength will lie down.

32:21 The giants will say to you, 'Be in the depth of a pit! Whom do you surpass? Descend and lie with the uncircumcised among those wounded by the sword.'

32:22 There Assyria and all his assembly, all wounded, were placed. Their burial is in the depth of a pit, and his assembly was around his tomb, all the wounded who fell by the sword, 32:23 who spread their fear upon the land of life.

32:24 There is Elam and all his force around his tomb, all the wounded who fell by the sword and those descending uncircumcised into the earth's depth, who spread their fear upon the land of life and received their torment with those descending to a pit, 32:25 among the wounded.

32:26 There were placed Mosoch and Thobel and all their strength around his tomb, all his wounded, all uncircumcised, wounded by the sword, who spread their fear upon the land of life.

32:27 They lay with the giants who fell long ago, who descended to Hades with weapons of war and put their swords beneath their heads. Their lawless deeds were upon their bones, because they terrified giants in the land of life.

32:28 You too will lie among the uncircumcised with those wounded by the sword.

32:29 There were placed Assyria's rulers, who gave his strength to a sword wound. These lay with the wounded, with those descending to a pit.

32:30 There are the north's rulers, all Assyria's generals, who descended wounded. With their fear and their strength they lay uncircumcised with those wounded by the sword and carried away their torment with those descending to a pit.

32:31 King Pharaoh will see them and be comforted over all their strength, says the Lord, the Lord.

32:32 For I have set his fear upon the land of life, and he will lie among the uncircumcised with those wounded by the sword—Pharaoh and all his multitude—says the Lord, the Lord."

Ezekiel 33

33:1 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

33:2 "Son of man, speak to your people's sons and say to them, 'If I bring a sword upon a land, and the land's people take one man from among themselves and appoint him as their watchman,

33:3 and he sees the sword coming upon the land, sounds the trumpet and signals to the people,

33:4 and a hearer hears the trumpet's sound but does not take care, and the sword comes upon him and overtakes him, his blood will be upon his own head.

33:5 Because he heard the trumpet's sound and did not take care, his blood will be upon himself. But this one, because he took care, rescued his life.

33:6 If the watchman sees the sword coming but does not signal with the trumpet, and the people do not take care, and the sword comes and takes a life from them, that life was taken because of its own lawlessness, but I will require the blood from the watchman's hand.'

33:7 And you, son of man, I have appointed you a watchman for Israel's house, and you will hear a word from My mouth.

33:8 When I say to the sinner, 'You will surely be put to death,' and you do not speak so that the impious man may guard himself from his way, that lawless man will die in his lawlessness, but I will require his blood from your hand.

33:9 But if you forewarn the impious man of his way so that he may turn from it and he does not turn from his way, this man will die in his impiety, and you have rescued your own life.

33:10 And you, son of man, say to Israel's house, 'You spoke this way: Our wanderings and lawless deeds are upon us, and we waste away in them. How shall we live?'

33:11 Say to them, 'I live, thus says the Lord: I do not desire the impious man's death, but rather that he turn from his way and live. Turn back completely from your way! Why are you dying, house of Israel?'

33:12 Say to your people's sons, 'A righteous man's righteousness certainly will not rescue him on the day he wanders, and an impious man's lawlessness certainly will not harm him on the day he turns from it. A righteous man certainly will not be able to be saved.

33:13 When I speak to the righteous man—this one has trusted in his righteousness, yet commits lawlessness—none of his righteous deeds will ever be remembered. In the injustice he committed, in it he will die.

33:14 When I say to the impious man, "You will surely be put to death," and he turns from his sin and practices judgment and righteousness,

33:15 and returns a pledge, repays what he seized and walks in the ordinances of life without doing wrong, he will surely live and certainly will not die.

33:16 None of the sins he committed will ever be remembered, because he practiced judgment and righteousness; in these he will live.

33:17 Your people's sons will say, "The Lord's way is not straight." Yet this way of theirs is not straight.

33:18 When a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits lawless deeds, he will die in them.

33:19 When the sinner turns from his lawlessness and practices judgment and righteousness, in these he will live.

33:20 This is what you said: "The Lord's way is not straight." I will judge you, each in his ways, house of Israel.'"

33:21 In the twelfth year of our captivity, in the twelfth month, on the fifth of the month, the survivor from Jerusalem came to me, saying, "The city has been captured!"

33:22 The Lord's hand came upon me in the evening before he arrived, and He opened my mouth until he came to me in the morning. Once my mouth was opened, it was no longer restrained.

33:23 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

33:24 "Son of man, those dwelling in the devastated places upon Israel's land say, 'Abraham was one, yet he possessed the land. We are more; the land has been given to us as a possession.'

33:25 Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord, the Lord:

33:27 I live: surely those in the devastated places will fall by the sword. Those in the open plain will be given as food to the field's beasts, and those in fortified places and caves I will kill with death.

33:28 I will make the land a wilderness; the arrogance of her strength will perish, and Israel's mountains will be desolate because no one passes through.

33:29 They will know that I am the Lord. I will make their land a wilderness, and it will be desolate because of all the abominations they committed.'

33:30 And you, son of man, your people's sons talk about you beside the walls and in the houses' gateways. A man says to his brother, 'Let us gather and hear what comes from the Lord!'

33:31 They come to you as people assemble and sit before you. They hear your words but certainly will not do them, because falsehood is in their mouth, and their heart follows defilements.

33:32 You become to them like the sound of a sweet-voiced, well-tuned psaltery. They will hear your words but certainly will not do them.

33:33 When it comes, they will say, 'Behold, it has arrived,' and know that a prophet was among them."

Ezekiel 34

34:1 The Lord's word came to me, saying,

34:2 “Son of man, prophesy against Israel’s shepherds. Prophesy and say to the shepherds, ‘Thus says the Lord, the Lord: O shepherds of Israel, surely shepherds do not feed themselves? Do shepherds not feed the sheep?

34:3 Behold, you consume the milk, clothe yourselves with the wool and slaughter the fattened animal, but you do not feed My sheep.

34:4 You have not strengthened the weak, restored the sick to health, bound up the broken, brought back the wandering or sought the lost. You have worn down the strong with toil.

34:5 My sheep scattered because there were no shepherds and became food for all the field’s beasts.

34:6 My sheep scattered on every mountain and upon every high hill, and scattered over the whole face of the earth. There was no one seeking them out or turning them back.

34:7 Therefore, shepherds, hear the Lord’s word:

34:8 I live, says the Lord, the Lord: surely because My sheep became plunder and My sheep became food for all the plain’s beasts for lack of shepherds, and the shepherds did not seek out My sheep but fed themselves and did not feed My sheep—

34:9 because of this, shepherds,

34:10 thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am against the shepherds. I will require My sheep from their hands and turn them aside from shepherding My sheep. The shepherds will no longer feed them. I will rescue My sheep from their mouth, and they will no longer be food for them.

34:11 For thus says the Lord: Behold, I will seek out My sheep and visit them.

It denotes active attention here, not a brief social call; keep the separate seeking verb.Historical comparison. Greek chapter

34:12 As a shepherd seeks his flock on a day when there is gloom and cloud among separated sheep, so I will seek out My sheep and drive them away from every place where they scattered on a day of cloud and gloom.

34:13 I will bring them out from the nations, gather them from the countries and bring them into their own land. I will feed them upon Israel’s mountains, in the ravines and in every dwelling place of the land.

34:14 I will feed them in good pasture, and their folds will be upon Israel’s high mountain. There they will lie down, there rest in good delight, and graze in rich pasture upon Israel’s mountains.

34:15 I Myself will feed My sheep and give them rest, and they will know that I am the Lord. Thus says the Lord, the Lord:

34:16 I will seek the lost, bring back the wandering, bind up the broken, strengthen the failing and guard the strong. I will feed them with judgment.

34:17 And you, sheep, thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I will distinguish between sheep and sheep, rams and male goats.

34:18 Was it not enough for you that you grazed the good pasture, yet trampled the rest of your pasture with your feet, drank the settled water and troubled the rest with your feet?

34:19 My sheep grazed what your feet had trampled and drank the water troubled by your feet.

34:20 Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I will distinguish between the strong sheep and the weak sheep.

34:21 You shove with your sides and shoulders; you butted with your horns and forced out every failing one.

34:22 I will save My sheep, and they certainly will no longer be plunder. I will judge between ram and ram.

34:23 I will raise up one shepherd over them, My servant David, and he will shepherd them and be their shepherd.

34:24 I, the Lord, will be their God, and David a ruler among them. I, the Lord, have spoken.

34:25 I will make a covenant of peace with David and remove harmful beasts from the land. They will dwell in the wilderness and sleep in the woods.

34:26 I will place them around My mountain and give you rain, rain of blessing.

34:27 The trees in the plain will give their fruit, and the land will give its strength. They will dwell upon their land in hope of peace and know that I am the Lord when I shatter their yoke. I will rescue them from the hand of those who enslaved them.

34:28 They will no longer be plunder for the nations, and the land’s beasts certainly will no longer eat them. They will dwell in hope, and no one will terrify them.

34:29 I will raise up a plant of peace for them. They will no longer perish by famine upon the land or bear the nations’ reproach.

34:30 They will know that I am the Lord their God, and they, Israel’s house, are My people, says the Lord.

34:31 You are My sheep and the sheep of My flock, and I am the Lord your God, says the Lord, the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 35

35:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

35:2 “Son of man, turn your face toward Mount Seir and prophesy against it,

35:3 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am against you, Mount Seir. I will stretch My hand against you and make you a wilderness, and you will be laid waste.

35:4 I will make your cities desolate, and you will be a wilderness. You will know that I am the Lord.

35:5 Because you became an everlasting enemy and ambushed Israel’s house treacherously, by enemies’ hand, with a sword at the final time of injustice,

35:6 therefore, I live, says the Lord, the Lord: surely you sinned unto blood, and blood will pursue you.

35:7 I will make Mount Seir a wilderness and lay it waste, and destroy human beings and livestock from it,

35:8 and fill the hills and your ravines with your wounded. In all your plains, those wounded by the sword will fall within you.

35:9 I will make you an everlasting wilderness, and your cities certainly will not be inhabited again. You will know that I am the Lord.

35:10 Because you said, “The two nations and the two countries will be mine, and I will inherit them,” and the Lord is there,

35:11 therefore, I live, says the Lord: I will deal with you according to your hostility and make Myself known to you when I judge you.

35:12 You will know that I am the Lord. I heard the voice of your blasphemies, because you said, “Israel’s mountains are desolate; they have been given to us for food.”

35:13 You spoke grandly against Me with your mouth. I heard.

35:14 Thus says the Lord: In the rejoicing of the whole earth, I will make you a wilderness.

35:15 You will be a wilderness, Mount Seir, and all Idumea will be utterly consumed. You will know that I am the Lord their God.’”

Ezekiel 36

36:1 “And you, son of man, prophesy concerning Israel’s mountains and say to Israel’s mountains, ‘Hear the Lord’s word:

36:2 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Because the enemy said over you, “Well done! Everlasting wildernesses have become our possession,”

36:3 therefore prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Because you were dishonored and hated by those around you, so that you became a possession for the remaining nations, and you became a topic on people’s tongues and a reproach to nations,

36:4 therefore, mountains of Israel, hear the Lord’s word! Thus says the Lord to the mountains, hills, ravines, torrents, devastated and destroyed places, and abandoned cities, which became plunder and a trampling place for the remaining nations all around:

36:5 Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord: Surely in the fire of My wrath I have spoken against the remaining nations and all Idumea, because they gave My land to themselves as a possession with rejoicing, dishonoring lives so as to destroy through plunder.

36:6 Therefore prophesy over Israel’s land and say to the mountains, hills, ravines and valleys, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I have spoken in My jealousy and My wrath because you bore the nations’ reproaches.

36:7 Therefore I will raise My hand against the nations around you; these will receive their own dishonor.

36:8 But your grapes and fruit, mountains of Israel, My people will consume, for they are drawing near.

36:9 For behold, I am toward you; I will look upon you, and you will be cultivated and sown.

36:10 I will multiply people upon you, all Israel’s house completely. The cities will be inhabited and the devastated land rebuilt.

36:11 I will multiply humans and livestock upon you, settle you as at your beginning and do you good as in your former times. You will know that I am the Lord.

36:12 I will cause people, My people Israel, to be born upon you. They will inherit you, and you will be their possession. You certainly will no longer be bereaved of them.

36:13 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Because they said to you, “You devour human beings and became bereaved by your nation,”

36:14 therefore you will no longer eat human beings or bereave your nation, says the Lord, the Lord.

36:15 The nations’ dishonor will no longer be heard against you, and you certainly will not bear the peoples’ reproaches, says the Lord, the Lord.’”

36:16 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

36:17 “Son of man, Israel’s house lived upon their land and defiled it by their way, their idols and their uncleannesses. Their way before Me became like the uncleanness of a woman sitting apart.

36:18 I poured My wrath upon them

36:19 and scattered them among the nations and winnowed them into the countries. I judged them according to their way and their sin.

36:20 They entered the nations where they entered, and profaned My holy name when it was said of them, ‘These are the Lord’s people, and they have left His land.’

36:21 I spared them because of My holy name, which Israel’s house profaned among the nations where they entered.

36:22 Therefore say to Israel’s house, ‘Thus says the Lord: I am not acting for you, house of Israel, but because of My holy name, which you profaned among the nations where you entered.

36:23 I will sanctify My great name, profaned among the nations, which you profaned among them. The nations will know that I am the Lord when I am sanctified in you before their eyes.

36:24 I will take you out of the nations, gather you out of all the lands and bring you into your own land.

36:25 I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and you will be cleansed from all your uncleannesses and all your idols. I will cleanse you.

36:26 And I will give you a new heart, and I will give a new spirit within you; and I will take the heart of stone out of your flesh, and give you a heart of flesh.

36:27 I will put My Spirit within you and cause you to walk in My ordinances, keep My judgments and do them.

36:28 You will dwell upon the land I gave your fathers. You will be My people, and I will be your God.

36:29 I will save you from all your uncleannesses, summon the grain and multiply it, and will not bring famine upon you.

36:30 I will multiply the tree’s fruit and the field’s produce, so that you do not bear the reproach of famine among the nations.

36:31 You will remember your evil ways and practices that were not good, and feel disgust before them at your lawless deeds and abominations.

36:32 I am not acting because of you, says the Lord, the Lord; this will be known to you. Be ashamed and abashed because of your ways, house of Israel.

36:33 Thus says the Lord: On the day I cleanse you from all your lawless deeds, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the wilderness places will be rebuilt.

36:34 The devastated land will be worked, instead of lying devastated before every passerby’s eyes.

36:35 They will say, “That devastated land has become like a garden of delight, and the deserted, devastated, razed cities stand fortified.”

36:36 The nations remaining around you will know that I, the Lord, have rebuilt the razed places and planted the devastated places. I, the Lord, have spoken and will act.

36:37 Thus says the Lord: I will also be sought by Israel’s house to do this for them: I will multiply them, human beings like sheep.

36:38 Like holy sheep, like Jerusalem’s sheep at her festivals, so the deserted cities will be filled with sheep who are human beings. They will know that I am the Lord.’”

Ezekiel 37

37:1 The Lord’s hand came upon me. The Lord brought me out in spirit and set me in the middle of the plain, which was full of human bones.

37:2 He led me all around them, and behold, there were very many upon the plain’s surface, very dry.

37:3 He said to me, ‘Son of man, will these bones live?’ I said, ‘Lord, Thou knowest these things.’

37:4 He said to me, ‘Prophesy over these bones and say to them, Dry bones, hear the Lord’s word:

37:5 Thus says the Lord to these bones: Behold, I am bringing the breath of life into you,

37:6 and I will put sinews upon you, bring flesh upon you, stretch skin over you and put My Spirit into you. You will live and know that I am the Lord.’

37:7 I prophesied as He commanded me. As I prophesied, behold, there was a shaking, and the bones came together, each to its joint.

37:8 I saw, and behold, sinews and flesh grew upon them, and skin came up over them, but there was no breath in them.

37:9 He said to me, ‘Prophesy, son of man! Prophesy to the breath and say to the breath, Thus says the Lord: Come from the four winds and breathe into these dead, and let them live!’

37:10 I prophesied as He commanded me. The breath entered them, and they lived and stood upon their feet, an exceedingly great assembly.

37:11 The Lord spoke to me, saying, ‘Son of man, these bones are all Israel’s house, and they say, Our bones have become dry, our hope has perished; we are utterly spent.

37:12 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am opening your tombs and will bring you up from your tombs and into Israel’s land,

37:13 and you will know that I am the Lord when I open your graves to bring My people up from the graves.

37:14 I will put My Spirit into you, and you will live. I will place you upon your land, and you will know that I, the Lord, have spoken and will act, says the Lord.’

37:15 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

37:16 ‘Son of man, take a staff for yourself and write upon it Judah and Israel’s sons attached to him. Take a second staff for yourself and write upon it, For Joseph—Ephraim’s staff—and all Israel’s sons joined to him.

37:17 Join them to one another for yourself as one staff, binding them together, and they will be in your hand.

37:18 When your people’s sons say to you, Will you not tell us what these things mean to you?

37:19 say to them, Thus says the Lord: Behold, I will take Joseph’s tribe through Ephraim’s hand, and Israel’s tribes attached to him, and place them upon Judah’s tribe. They will become one staff in Judah’s hand.

37:20 The staffs upon which you wrote will be in your hand before them,

37:21 and say to them, Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am taking all Israel’s house from among the nations where they entered, gathering them from all those around them and bringing them into Israel’s land.

37:22 I will make them one nation in My land and upon Israel’s mountains, and one ruler will be theirs. They will no longer be two nations or ever again be divided into two kingdoms,

37:23 so that they no longer defile themselves with their idols. I will deliver them from all their lawless deeds in which they sinned and cleanse them. They will be My people, and I, the Lord, will be their God.

37:24 My servant David will be ruler among them, and one shepherd will be over all, because they will walk in My ordinances, keep My judgments and do them.

37:25 They will dwell upon their land, which I gave My servant Jacob, where their fathers dwelt. They will dwell upon it, and David My servant will be their ruler for ever.

37:26 I will make a covenant of peace with them; it will be an everlasting covenant with them. I will set My holy things among them for ever.

37:27 My dwelling will be among them. I will be their God, and they will be My people.

37:28 The nations will know that I am the Lord who sanctifies them, when My holy things are among them for ever.’

Ezekiel 38

38:1 The Lord’s word came to me, saying,

38:2 “Son of man, set your face firmly against Gog and the land of Magog, ruler of Rhos, Mosoch and Thobel, and prophesy against him,

38:3 and say to him, ‘Thus says the Lord, the Lord: Behold, I am against you, Gog, ruler of Rhos, Mosoch and Thobel,

38:4 and I will gather you and all your force, horses and horsemen all clothed in breastplates, a great assembly, small shields, helmets and swords,

38:5 Persians, Ethiopians and Libyans, all with helmets and small shields;

38:6 Gomer and all those around him, the house of Thergama from the farthest north and all those around him, and many nations with you.

38:7 Be made ready; prepare yourself, you and all your assembly gathered with you, and you will be a guard for Me.

38:8 After many days he will be prepared, and at the end of years he will come and reach the land turned back from the sword, of those gathered from many nations, upon Israel's land that had been wholly desolate. This one has come out of nations, and all will dwell in peace.

38:9 You will come up like rain and arrive like a cloud to cover the land; you will be there, with all those around you and many nations with you.

38:10 Thus says the Lord, the Lord: On that day words will rise in your heart, and you will devise evil plans,

38:11 and say, "I will go up against an abandoned land; I will come upon those resting quietly and dwelling in peace, all living in a land with no wall or bars, and they have no doors,"

38:12 to take plunder and strip their spoils, to turn your hand against the desolate land that was inhabited and against a nation gathered from many nations, acquiring possessions, dwelling upon the earth's navel.

38:13 Saba, Daidan, Carthaginian merchants and all their villages will say to you, "Are you coming for plunder, to plunder and strip spoils? Have you gathered your assembly to take silver and gold, carry away possessions and strip spoils?"

38:14 Therefore prophesy, son of man, and say to Gog, Thus says the Lord: On that day when My people Israel are settled in peace, will you not be roused?

38:15 You will come from your place in the farthest north, with many nations beside you, all horse riders, a great assembly and a mighty force,

38:16 and come up against My people Israel like a cloud covering the land. It will be at the end of days; I will bring you against My land so that all the nations may know Me when I am sanctified in you before them.

38:17 Thus says the Lord, the Lord, to Gog: You are the one of whom I spoke before the former days through My servants, Israel's prophets, in those days and years, to bring you against them.

38:18 On that day, on the day Gog comes against Israel's land, says the Lord, the Lord, My wrath will rise,

38:19 and My jealousy. In the fire of My anger I have spoken: Surely on that day there will be a great shaking upon Israel's land, 38:20 and the sea's fish, the sky's birds, the plain's beasts, every creeping thing upon the earth and every human upon the earth's face will shake before the Lord. The mountains will split, the ravines will fall, and every wall will fall to the ground.

38:21 I will summon every fear against him, says the Lord. A man's sword will be against his brother.

38:22 I will judge him with death, blood, flooding rain and hailstones. I will rain fire and sulfur upon him, all those with him and the many nations with him.

38:23 I will be magnified, sanctified, glorified and made known before many nations, and they will know that I am the Lord.'"

Ezekiel 39

39:1 "And you, son of man, prophesy against Gog and say, 'Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am against you, Gog, ruler of Rhos, Mosoch and Thobel,

39:2 and I will gather you, lead you along, bring you up from the farthest north and bring you upon Israel's mountains.

39:3 I will destroy your bow from your left hand and your arrows from your right hand, and strike you down

39:4 upon Israel's mountains. You and all those around you will fall, and the nations with you will be given to multitudes of birds. I have given you to every flying creature and all the plain's beasts to be eaten.

39:5 Upon the open plain you will fall, for I have spoken, says the Lord.

39:6 I will send fire upon Gog, and the islands will be inhabited in peace. They will know that I am the Lord.

39:7 My holy name will be known among My people Israel and My holy name will no longer be profaned. The nations will know that I am the Lord, holy in Israel.

39:8 Behold, it has arrived, and you will know that it will be, says the Lord, the Lord. This is the day on which I spoke.

39:9 Those dwelling in Israel's cities will go out and burn fires with the weapons: small shields, pikes, bows, arrows, hand staffs and spears. They will burn fires with them for seven years.

39:10 They certainly will not take wood from the plain or cut it from the woods; they will burn the weapons with fire. They will plunder those who plundered them and strip those who stripped them, says the Lord.

39:11 On that day I will give Gog a notable place, a memorial tomb in Israel, the mass grave of those who came against it, beside the sea. They will build around the valley's mouth and bury Gog and all his multitude there. It will be called Gai, Gog's Mass Grave.

39:12 Israel's house will bury them over seven months so that the land may be cleansed.

39:13 All the land's people will bury them, and it will bring them renown on the day I was glorified, says the Lord.

39:14 They will continually designate men to pass through the land and bury those left upon the land's surface, to cleanse it after the seven months, and they will search.

39:15 Everyone passing through the land who sees a human bone will build a marker beside it until the buriers bury it in Gai, Gog's Mass Grave.

39:16 Indeed, the city's name will be Mass Grave, and the land will be cleansed.

39:17 And you, son of man, say, Thus says the Lord: Say to every flying bird and all the plain's beasts, Gather and come! Gather from all those around to My sacrifice that I have sacrificed for you, a great sacrifice upon Israel's mountains. You will eat flesh and drink blood.

39:18 You will eat giants' flesh and drink the blood of the land's rulers: rams, calves and male goats, and the calves all fattened.

39:19 You will eat fat to fullness and drink blood to drunkenness from My sacrifice that I sacrificed for you.

39:20 At My table you will be filled with horse and rider, giant and every warrior, says the Lord.

39:21 I will set My glory among you, and all the nations will see My judgment that I executed and My hand that I brought upon them.

39:22 Israel's house will know that I am the Lord their God from this day onward.

39:23 All the nations will know that Israel's house was taken captive because of their sins, because they acted faithlessly toward Me. I turned My face from them and handed them into their enemies' hands, and all fell by the sword.

39:24 I dealt with them according to their uncleannesses and lawless acts, and turned My face from them.

39:25 Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord: Now I will reverse Jacob's captivity, show mercy to Israel's house and be zealous for My holy name.

39:26 They will receive their own dishonor and the injustice they committed when they are settled upon their land in peace, and no one will terrify them,

39:27 when I bring them back from the nations and gather them from the nations' countries; I will be sanctified in them before the nations,

39:28 and they will know that I am the Lord their God when I appear to them among the nations.

39:29 I will no longer turn My face from them, because I poured My wrath upon Israel's house, says the Lord, the Lord.'"

Ezekiel 40

40:1 In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, in the first month, on the tenth of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was captured, on that day the Lord's hand came upon me, and He led me

40:2 in a vision of God into Israel's land and set me upon a very high mountain. Upon it, opposite, was something like a city's structure.

40:3 He brought me in there, and behold, a man whose appearance was like gleaming copper. In his hand were a builders' cord and a measuring reed, and he stood at the gate.

40:4 The man said to me, 'Have you seen, son of man? See with your eyes, hear with your ears and set in your heart everything I show you, for you have entered here so that it might be shown to you. You will show Israel's house everything you see.'

40:5 Behold, an enclosure surrounded the house outside. In the man's hand was a reed measuring six cubits by the cubit and handbreadth. He measured the outer wall: its width equaled the reed, and its height equaled the reed.

40:6 He entered the gate facing east by seven steps and measured the gate's porch, equal to the reed,

40:7 and the chamber, one reed long and one reed wide; the porch between the chambers was six cubits. The second chamber was one reed wide and one reed long, and the porch five cubits,

40:8 and the third chamber was one reed wide and one reed long,

40:9 and the gateway's porch beside the gate's porch was eight cubits, the jambs two cubits, and the gate's porch was on the inside.

40:10 The gate's chambers stood opposite one another, three on this side and three on that side, one measurement for all three and one measurement for the porches on this side and that side.

40:11 He measured the gateway door's width, ten cubits, and the gateway's breadth, thirteen cubits,

40:12 with one additional cubit before the chambers on each side, and the chamber six cubits on this side and six cubits on that side.

40:13 He measured the gate from a chamber's wall to a chamber's wall, twenty-five cubits wide, gate opposite gate.

40:14 The open court of the gate's porch was sixty cubits, with twenty chambers around the gate.

40:15 From the gate's outer open court to the inner open court of the gate's porch was fifty cubits.

40:16 There were concealed windows upon the chambers and porches inside the courtyard gate all around, and likewise windows around the porches inward, and palm trees upon the porch on both sides.

40:17 He brought me into the inner courtyard. Behold, there were chambers and colonnades around the courtyard, thirty chambers in the colonnades, 40:18 and porticoes behind the gates, corresponding to the gates' length—the lower colonnade.

40:19 He measured the courtyard's width from the outer gate's open court inward to the open court of the gate facing outward, one hundred cubits, at the east-facing gate. He brought me north,

40:20 and behold, a gate faced north in the outer courtyard. He measured its length and width.

40:21 Its chambers, three on this side and three on that side, its jambs, porches and palm trees matched the east-facing gate's measurements: fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits broad.

40:22 Its windows, porches and palm trees were like the east-facing gate. They went up it by seven steps, and its porches were on the inside.

40:23 A gate in the inner courtyard faced the north gate, as with the east-facing gate. He measured the courtyard from gate to gate, one hundred cubits.

40:24 He led me south, and behold, a gate faced south. He measured it, its chambers, jambs and porches according to these measurements.

40:25 Its windows and porches all around were like the porch's windows: fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits broad.

40:26 It had seven steps, with porches on the inside and palm trees upon its jambs, one on this side and one on that side.

40:27 A gate stood opposite the gate of the inner courtyard toward the south. He measured the courtyard from gate to gate, a breadth of one hundred cubits toward the south.

40:28 He brought me into the inner courtyard by the south-facing gate and measured the gate according to these measurements,

40:29 with its chambers, jambs and porches according to these measurements. It and its porches had windows all around: fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits broad.

40:31 The porches faced the outer courtyard, with palm trees upon the jambs and eight steps.

40:32 He brought me into the east-facing gate and measured it according to these measurements,

40:33 with its chambers, jambs and porches according to these measurements. It and its porches had windows all around: fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits broad.

40:34 The porches faced the inner courtyard, with palm trees upon the jambs on this side and that side, and it had eight steps.

40:35 He brought me into the north-facing gate and measured according to these measurements,

40:36 with its chambers, jambs and porches. It and its porch had windows all around: fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits broad.

40:37 Its porches faced the outer courtyard, with palm trees upon the jambs on this side and that side, and it had eight steps.

40:38 Its chambers, doorframes and porches were at the gate—

40:39 the second—with a drain, so that they may slaughter there the offerings for sin and for ignorance.

40:40 Behind the burnt offerings' channel at the north-facing gate were two tables toward the east; behind the second and the gate's porch were two tables toward the east,

40:41 four on this side and four on that side behind the gate. Upon them they will slaughter the victims, opposite the eight tables for victims.

40:42 There were four hewn-stone tables for the burnt offerings, one and a half cubits wide, two and a half cubits long and one cubit high. Upon them they will place the implements with which they slaughter the burnt offerings and victims there.

40:43 They will have a hewn ledge of one handbreadth inside all around, and coverings above the tables to shelter them from rain and dry heat.

40:44 He brought me into the inner courtyard, and behold, two recessed chambers were in the inner courtyard: one behind the north-facing gate faced south, and one behind the south gate faced north.

40:45 He said to me, 'This recessed chamber facing south is for the priests who keep the house's charge,

40:46 and the recessed chamber facing north is for the priests who keep the altar's charge. They are Zadok's sons, who draw near to the Lord from Levi to minister to Him.'

40:47 He measured the courtyard, one hundred cubits long and one hundred cubits broad on its four sides, and the altar before the house.

40:48 He brought me into the house’s porch. He measured the porch’s jamb, five cubits broad on this side and five on that side; the doorway’s breadth was fourteen cubits, and the porch door’s side pieces three cubits on this side and three on that side.

40:49 The porch was twenty cubits long and twelve cubits broad. They went up to it by ten steps, and there were pillars at the porch, one on this side and one on that side.

Ezekiel 41

41:1 He brought me into the temple, for which he measured the porch: six cubits in breadth on this side and six cubits in the porch’s width on that side.

41:2 The gateway was ten cubits wide, with sidepieces of five cubits on this side and five cubits on that side. He measured its length, forty cubits, and its breadth, twenty cubits.

41:3 He entered the inner court and measured the doorway’s jamb, two cubits; the doorway, six cubits; and the doorway’s sidepieces, seven cubits on this side and seven cubits on that side.

41:4 He measured the length of the doors, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, in front of the temple. He said, “This is the Most Holy Place.”

41:5 He measured the house’s wall, six cubits, and the side chamber’s breadth, four cubits, all around.

41:6 The side chambers stood chamber upon chamber, thirty and three, twice over. There was an interval in the house’s wall among the side chambers all around, so that those taking hold could see, and might not touch the house’s walls at all.

41:7 The breadth of the upper side chambers followed the addition from the wall toward the upper part all around the house, so that it widened above and people could go up from the lower parts to the upper stories, and from the middle parts to the third stories.

41:8 The house’s thrael rose all around; the interval of the side chambers equaled the reed, a space of six cubits.

41:9 The outer wall of the side chamber was five cubits wide; the remaining spaces lay between the house’s side chambers—

41:10 —and between the recessed chambers, with a breadth of twenty cubits, encircling the house all around.

41:11 The doors of the recessed chambers opened onto the remaining area of the one door toward the north; the other door faced south. The opening of the remaining area was five cubits wide all around.

41:12 The dividing structure opposite the remaining area toward the sea was seventy cubits. The dividing structure’s wall was five cubits in breadth all around, and its length was ninety cubits.

41:13 He measured opposite the house, a length of a hundred cubits; the remaining spaces, dividing structures, and their walls were a hundred cubits long.

41:14 The breadth in front of the house and the remaining spaces opposite was a hundred cubits.

41:15 He measured the dividing structure opposite the remaining area behind that house, with the remaining spaces on both sides: a hundred cubits in length. The temple, the corners, and the outer porch—

41:16 —were coffered. The windows were latticed, with openings for light around the three, so that one could look through. The house and the adjoining areas were covered with wood all around, as were the floor and the space from the floor to the windows; the windows opened in three ways for looking through.

41:17 As far as the vicinity of the inner and outer parts, and over the whole wall all around, inside and outside,

41:18 cherubim were carved, with palm trees between each cherub and the next. Each cherub had two faces:

41:19 a human face toward the palm tree on this side and that side, and a lion’s face toward the palm tree on this side and that side. The whole house was carved all around,

41:20 from the floor to the coffered ceiling, with the cherubim and palm trees carved.

41:21 The holy place and the temple opened out in square forms. In front of the holy places was an appearance like the sight

41:22 of a wooden altar, three cubits high, two cubits long, and two cubits broad. It had horns, and its base and its walls were wood. He said to me, “This is the table before the Lord.”

41:23 The temple and the holy place had two doorways.

41:24 The two pivoting doorways had two leaves: two leaves for the one and two leaves for the second door.

41:25 Carving was on them, and on the temple’s doorways were cherubim and palm trees, matching the carving of the holy places. Fine timbers stood in front of the porch outside, 41:26 with concealed windows. He measured on this side and that side toward the porch’s ceilings, and the house’s side chambers were joined together.

Ezekiel 42

42:1 He brought me out into the outer court toward the east, opposite the gate toward the north. He brought me in, and look—five recessed chambers adjoining the remaining area and adjoining the dividing structure toward the north.

42:2 Their length toward the north extended a hundred cubits, and their breadth was fifty cubits.

42:3 They were laid out like the gates of the inner court and like the colonnades of the outer court, arranged in facing rows: three porticoes.

42:4 Opposite the recessed chambers was a walkway ten cubits wide and a hundred cubits long; their doorways faced north.

42:5 The upper walkways were likewise, because the colonnade projected from it, from the colonnade below, and so did the intervening space; thus a colonnade and an intervening space, and thus porticoes.

42:6 For they were threefold and had no pillars like the pillars of the outer structures; therefore they projected beyond the lower and middle ones from the ground.

42:7 There was an opening outside, like the recessed chambers of the outer court that faced opposite the recessed chambers toward the north, fifty cubits long.

42:8 For the recessed chambers facing the outer court were fifty cubits long, and these faced those; the whole was a hundred cubits.

42:9 The doors of these recessed chambers belonged to the entrance toward the east, through which one entered them from the outer court—

42:10 —along the opening at the beginning of the walkway. And toward the south, facing the south, facing the remaining area and facing the dividing structure, were recessed chambers.

42:11 The walkway in front of them followed the measurements of the recessed chambers toward the north—their length, their breadth, all their exits, all their turnings, their openings, and their doorways—

42:12 —of the recessed chambers toward the south, and followed the doorways from the beginning of the walkway, toward an opening with an interval of a reed, and toward the east for entering through them.

42:13 He said to me, “The recessed chambers toward the north and toward the south, facing the intervening spaces, are the chambers of the holy place. There the priests, the sons of Zadok who draw near to the Lord, will eat the most holy things. There they will place the most holy things—the offering, the offerings for sin, and the offerings for ignorance—for the place is holy.

42:14 No one will enter there except the priests. They will not go out from the holy place into the outer court, so that those who bring offerings may always be holy and may not touch the garments in which they minister, for they are holy. They will put on other garments whenever they come into contact with the people.”

42:15 The measurement of the house inside was completed. He brought me out by the gate facing east and measured the plan of the house all around in its arrangement.

42:16 He stood behind the gate facing east and measured five hundred with the measuring reed.

42:17 He turned toward the north and measured the north-facing side: five hundred cubits with the measuring reed.

42:18 He turned toward the sea and measured the sea-facing side: five hundred with the measuring reed.

42:19 He turned toward the south and measured opposite the south: five hundred with the measuring reed.

42:20 The four sides were measured with the same reed. He laid it out, with their enclosure all around: five hundred toward the east and five hundred cubits in breadth, to distinguish between the holy areas and the forewall in the arrangement of the house.

Ezekiel 43

43:1 He led me to the gate facing east and brought me out.

43:2 Look—the glory of the God of Israel was coming by the way of the gate facing east. The sound of the camp was like the sound of many redoubling their sound, and the earth flashed like radiance from the glory all around.

43:3 The vision I saw was like the vision I had seen when I was entering to anoint the city; and the vision of the chariot I saw was like the vision I had seen by the River Chobar. I fall on my face.

43:4 The glory of the Lord entered the house by the way of the gate facing east.

43:5 A spirit lifted me and brought me into the inner court. Look—the house was full of the glory of the Lord.

43:6 I stood, and look—a voice from the house, speaking to me, while the man stood next to me.

43:7 He said to me, “Have you seen, son of man, the place of My throne and the place of the footprints of My feet, where My name will dwell among the house of Israel for ever? The house of Israel will no longer profane My holy name, neither they nor their rulers, by their prostitution and by the murders of the rulers among them—

43:8 —when they set My vestibule among their vestibules and My doorposts next to their doorposts, and placed My wall as adjoining Me and them. They profaned My holy name by the lawless deeds they practiced, and I wiped them out in My wrath and in slaughter.

43:9 Now let them drive their prostitution and the murders of their rulers away from Me, and I will dwell among them for ever.

43:10 You, son of man, show the house to the house of Israel, and they will cease from their sins. Show its appearance and its arrangement—

43:11 —and they will receive their punishment for everything they have done. You will draw the house, its exits, and its structure; make known to them all its commands and all its ordinances, and draw them before them. They will keep all My judgments and all My commands and carry them out,

43:12 together with the drawing of the house on the mountain’s summit: all its boundaries all around are most holy.”

43:13 These are the altar’s measurements in a cubit consisting of a cubit and a handbreadth: a hollow one cubit deep and one cubit wide, with a ledge along its edge all around of a span. This was the altar’s height:

43:14 from the depth at the beginning of its hollow to the large lower place of atonement, two cubits, with a breadth of a cubit; and from the small place of atonement to the large place of atonement, four cubits, with a breadth of a cubit.

43:15 The Ariel was four cubits, and from the Ariel upward above the horns was a cubit.

43:16 The Ariel was twelve cubits long by twelve cubits wide, square on its four sides.

43:17 The place of atonement was fourteen cubits long by fourteen cubits wide on its four sides. Its surrounding ledge ran all around it at half a cubit, and its surrounding band was a cubit all around. Its steps faced east.

43:18 He said to me, “Son of man, thus says the Lord, the God of Israel: These are the altar’s commands on the day it is made, for offering burnt offerings on it and pouring blood against it.

43:19 You will give the Levitical priests who are of Zadok’s offspring and draw near to Me to minister to Me, says the Lord God, a calf from the cattle as an offering for sin.

43:20 They will take some of its blood and put it on the altar’s four horns, on the four corners of the place of atonement, and on the base all around. They will make atonement for it.

43:21 They will take the calf for the sin offering, and it will be burned in the separated area of the house, outside the holy places.

43:22 On the second day they will take two unblemished goat kids for sin, and they will make atonement for the altar as they made atonement with the calf.

43:23 After you have completed the atonement, they will bring an unblemished calf from the cattle and an unblemished ram from the sheep.

43:24 You all will bring them before the Lord, and the priests will throw salt upon them and offer them as burnt offerings to the Lord.

43:25 For seven days you will prepare a kid for sin each day, and a calf from the cattle and a ram from the sheep. They will prepare unblemished animals—

43:26 —for seven days. They will make atonement for the altar and cleanse it, and they will fill their hands.

43:27 From the eighth day onward, the priests will offer your burnt offerings and your offerings for well-being on the altar. I will accept you, says the Lord.”

Ezekiel 44

44:1 He brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the holy places, which faced east, and it was shut.

44:2 The Lord said to me, “This gate will remain shut. It will not be opened, and no one will pass through it, because the Lord, the God of Israel, will enter through it. It will remain shut, 44:3 for the ruler—he will sit in it to eat bread before the Lord. He will enter by the way of the gate’s porch and go out by his way.”

44:4 He brought me by the north gate opposite the house. I looked, and behold—the house of the Lord was full of glory. I fall on my face.

44:5 The Lord said to me, “Son of man, set in your heart, see with your eyes, and hear with your ears everything I speak with you concerning all the commands of the Lord’s house and all its ordinances. Set your heart on the house’s entrance, according to all its exits in all the holy places.

44:6 You will say to the provoking house, to the house of Israel: Thus says the Lord God: Let all your lawless deeds be enough for you, house of Israel—

44:7 —your bringing in foreign sons, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My holy places. They profaned them while you offered bread, fat, and blood, and you transgressed My covenant in all your lawless deeds.

44:8 You arranged for the keeping of duties in My holy places.

44:9 Therefore thus says the Lord God: No foreign son uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh will enter My holy places, among all the foreign sons who are in the midst of the house of Israel,

44:10 except the Levites, who sprang away from Me when Israel strayed from Me after their reflections; they will receive their injustice—

44:11 —and will serve in My holy places as gatekeepers at the house's gates and as ministers to the house. They will slaughter the burnt offerings and sacrifices for the people, and stand before the people to serve them.

44:12 Because they ministered to them before their idols, and it became a punishment of injustice for the house of Israel, I raised My hand against them, says the Lord God.

44:13 They will not draw near to Me to serve Me as priests, nor approach the holy things of the sons of Israel, nor My most holy things. They will receive their dishonor in the straying by which they strayed.

44:14 They will assign them to keep the duties of the house, for all its works and everything they may do.

44:15 The Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept the duties of My holy places when the house of Israel strayed from Me, will approach Me to minister to Me. They will stand before Me to offer sacrifice, fat, and blood to Me, says the Lord God.

44:16 They will enter My holy places and approach My table to minister to Me, and they will keep My duties.

44:17 When they enter the gates of the inner court, they will put on linen robes. They will not wear woolen things when they minister from the gate of the inner court.

44:18 They will have linen turbans on their heads and linen trousers on their hips, and they will not bind their clothing tightly.

44:19 When they go out to the outer court, to the people, they will take off the robes in which they minister, place them in the recessed chambers of the holy places, and put on other robes. They will certainly not sanctify the people with their robes.

44:20 They will not shave their heads or strip away their hair; they will certainly cover their heads.

44:21 No priest will drink wine when they enter the inner court.

44:22 They will not take a widow or a woman who has been sent away as a wife, but a virgin of Israel's offspring; if she is a priest's widow, they may take her.

44:23 They will teach My people the difference between holy and profane, and make known to them the difference between unclean and clean.

44:24 In a case involving blood they will stand to decide. They will uphold My judgments and judge My decisions; they will keep My ordinances and My commands at all My festivals, and sanctify My Sabbaths.

44:25 They will not approach a human corpse so as to be defiled, except that a priest may be defiled for his father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister who has not belonged to a husband.

44:26 After he has been cleansed, one will count seven days for him.

44:27 On whatever day they enter the inner court to minister in the holy place, they will bring an atonement offering, says the Lord God.

44:28 This will be their inheritance: I am their inheritance. No possession will be given them among the sons of Israel, because I am their possession.

44:29 They will eat the sacrifices, the offerings for sin, and the offerings for ignorance. Everything set apart in Israel will belong to them.

44:30 The firstfruits of everything, the firstborn of everything, and all the contributions from all your firstfruits will belong to the priests. You will give your first produce to the priest, to place your blessings upon your houses.

44:31 The priests will not eat anything that has died of itself or has been taken by a beast, whether from the birds or from the livestock."

Ezekiel 45

45:1 "When you measure out the land as an inheritance, you will set apart a first portion for the Lord, a holy part of the land, twenty-five thousand long and twenty thousand broad. It will be holy throughout all its boundaries all around.

45:2 From this, a square of five hundred by five hundred will be for a sanctuary, with an interval of fifty cubits all around it.

45:3 From this measured area you will measure a length of twenty-five thousand and a breadth of ten thousand. In it will be the sanctuary, the most holy place.

45:4 It will be land for the priests who minister in the holy place, for those who draw near to minister to the Lord. It will be a place for their houses, set apart for their sanctification.

45:5 An area twenty-five thousand long and ten thousand broad will belong to the Levites who minister to the house, as their possession, with cities in which to dwell.

45:6 You will give the city a possession five thousand broad and twenty-five thousand long; like the first portion of the holy areas, these will be for the whole house of Israel.

45:7 The ruler will have land on this side and that side of the first portions of the holy areas and the city's possession, facing the first portions of the holy areas and facing the city's possession: the parts toward the sea, and from those toward the sea toward the east. Its length will be like one of the portions, from the sea-facing boundaries, with the length extending to the eastern boundaries of the land.

45:8 It will be his possession in Israel. Israel's rulers will no longer oppress My people, and the house of Israel will inherit the land according to their tribes.

45:9 Thus says the Lord God: Enough, rulers of Israel! Remove injustice and suffering, and practice judgment and righteousness. Take oppression away from My people, says the Lord God.

45:10 You are to have an honest balance, an honest measure, and an honest choenix.

45:11 The measure and the choenix will likewise have one capacity: the choenix a tenth of the gomor, and the measure a tenth of the gomor. They will be equal in relation to the gomor.

45:12 The standard weight will be twenty obols. The five shekels will be five, the ten shekels ten, and fifty shekels will make your mina.

45:13 This is the first portion you will set apart: a sixth of the measure from the gomor of wheat, and a sixth of the oiphi from the kor of barley.

45:14 The command for oil is a cotyle of oil from ten cotyles, because ten cotyles are a gomor.

45:15 One sheep from every ten sheep will be a contribution from all Israel's families, for sacrifices, burnt offerings, and offerings for well-being, to make atonement for you, says the Lord God.

45:16 All the people will give this first portion to Israel's ruler.

45:17 Through the ruler will come the burnt offerings, sacrifices, and libations at the festivals, new moons, and Sabbaths, and at all the festivals of the house of Israel. He will provide the offerings for sin, the sacrifice, the burnt offerings, and the offerings for well-being to make atonement for the house of Israel.

45:18 Thus says the Lord God: In the first month, on the first of the month, you all will take an unblemished calf from the cattle to make atonement for the holy place.

45:19 The priest will take some of the blood of the atonement offering and put it on the house's doorposts, on the four corners of the sacred precinct, on the altar, and on the doorposts of the gate of the inner court.

45:20 You will do likewise in the seventh month, on the first of the month: you will take a portion from each, and you all will make atonement for the house.

45:21 In the first month, on the fourteenth of the month, you will have the Passover festival; for seven days you will eat unleavened bread.

45:22 On that day the ruler will provide a calf for sin on behalf of himself, the house, and all the people of the land.

45:23 For the seven days of the festival, he will provide burnt offerings to the Lord: seven calves and seven unblemished rams each day for the seven days, and a goat kid each day for sin.

45:24 You will provide an offering of a cake for each calf and a cake for each ram, with a hin of oil for each cake.

45:25 In the seventh month, on the fifteenth of the month, at the festival you will provide the same for seven days: the offerings for sin, the burnt offerings, the grain offering, and the oil."

Ezekiel 46

46:1 "Thus says the Lord God: The gate in the inner court facing east will be shut during the six working days, but on the Sabbath day it will be opened, and on the day of the new moon it will be opened.

46:2 The ruler will enter by the porch of the outer gate and stand at the gate's vestibules. The priests will offer his burnt offerings and his offerings for well-being. He will bow down at the gate's vestibule and go out, and the gate will certainly not be shut until evening.

46:3 The people of the land will bow down before the Lord at the vestibules of that gate on Sabbaths and new moons.

46:4 The ruler will present burnt offerings to the Lord: on the Sabbath day, six unblemished lambs and an unblemished ram, 46:5 with a grain offering of a cake for the ram, and for the lambs an offering as the gift of his hand, with a hin of oil for each cake.

46:6 On the day of the new moon there will be an unblemished calf and six lambs, and the ram will be unblemished.

46:7 A cake for the ram and a cake for the calf will be the grain offering, and for the lambs whatever his hand can produce, with a hin of oil for each cake.

46:8 When the ruler enters, he will enter by the porch of the gate and go out by the way of the gate.

46:9 When the people of the land come before the Lord at the festivals, whoever enters by the north gate to bow down will go out by the south gate, and whoever enters by the south gate will go out by the north gate. He will not return through the gate by which he entered, but will go out straight opposite it.

46:10 The ruler will be among them: when they enter, he will enter with them, and when they go out, he will go out.

46:11 At the festivals and public assemblies the grain offering will be a cake for each calf, a cake for each ram, and for the lambs whatever his hand can produce, with a hin of oil for each cake.

46:12 If the ruler makes a pledged offering, a burnt offering for well-being to the Lord, he will open for himself the gate facing east and offer his burnt offering and his offerings for well-being as he does on the Sabbath day. He will go out and close the doors after he has gone out.

46:13 He will prepare an unblemished year-old lamb as a daily burnt offering to the Lord; in the morning he will prepare it.

46:14 In the morning he will prepare with it a grain offering of a sixth of the measure and a third of a hin of oil to mix the fine flour: a grain offering to the Lord, a permanent command.

46:15 You all will prepare the lamb, the grain offering, and the oil; you all will prepare them in the morning as a continual burnt offering.

46:16 Thus says the Lord God: If the ruler gives one of his sons a gift from his inheritance, this will belong to his sons as an inherited possession.

46:17 If he gives a gift to one of his servants, it will belong to him until the year of release, and he will return it to the ruler. But the inheritance of his sons will belong to them.

46:18 The ruler will certainly not take from the people's inheritance to oppress them. He will give his sons an inheritance from his own possession, so that none of My people is scattered from his possession."

46:19 He brought me into the entrance behind the gate, into the north-facing recessed chamber of the priests' holy places. Look—there was a separated place there.

46:20 He said to me, "This is the place where the priests will boil the offerings for ignorance and for sin, and there bake the entire grain offering, so as not to carry it out into the outer court and sanctify the people."

46:21 He brought me out into the outer court and led me around its four sides. Look—a court at one side of the court, and a court at another side of the court!

46:22 At the four sides of the court was a small court, forty cubits long and thirty cubits broad; the four had one measure.

46:23 There were recessed chambers all around them, around the four, with kitchens made underneath the recessed chambers all around.

46:24 He said to me, "These are the kitchen houses, where those ministering to the house will boil the people's sacrificial animals."

Ezekiel 47

47:1 He brought me to the house's vestibules, and look—water was flowing out beneath the open court toward the east, for the house's front faced east. The water was descending from the right side, from the south toward the altar.

47:2 He brought me out by the north gate and led me around outside to the court's gate facing east. Look—the water was flowing down from the right side.

47:3 As the man went out opposite, with a measure in his hand, he measured a thousand with the measure and went through the water—water of release.

47:4 He measured a thousand and went through water up to the thighs. He measured a thousand and went through water up to the waist.

47:5 He measured a thousand and could not go through, for the water surged violently like the rush of a torrent that they will not cross.

47:6 He said to me, "Have you seen, son of man?" Then he led me to the river's edge.

47:7 As I returned, look—very many trees were on the river's edge, on both sides.

47:8 He said to me, “This water flowing out into eastern Galilee was descending into Arabia and coming as far as the sea, to the water of the outlet; it will heal the waters.

47:9 Every life among the swarming living creatures will live wherever the river comes. There will be very many fish there, because this water has arrived there, and it will become healthy and live. Everything over which the river comes will live.

47:10 Fishers will stand there from Aingadin to Ainagalim; there will be a drying place for nets. It will be by itself, and its fish will be like the fish of the Great Sea, an exceedingly great multitude.

47:11 At its outlet, at its turning, and at its overflow, they will certainly not be healed; they are given over to salt.

47:12 Along the river, on its edge on both sides, every edible tree will grow. Nothing upon it will grow old, nor will its fruit fail. In its newness it will bear its first crop, because these waters flow from the holy places. Their fruit will be for food and their growth for health.

47:13 Thus says the Lord God: These are the boundaries of the land you will allot as an inheritance to the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel—an addition of a measured portion.

47:14 You will inherit it, each like his brother, the land for which I raised My hand to give it to their fathers. This land will fall to you as an inheritance.

47:15 These are the boundaries of the land toward the north: from the Great Sea, descending and dividing at the entrance of Hamath—Seddada, 47:16 Berotha, Sebraim, Heliam, between the boundaries of Damascus and the boundaries of Hamath, the court of Saunan, which are above the boundaries of Auranitis.

47:17 These are the boundaries from the sea, from the court of Ainan, the boundaries of Damascus, and the parts toward the north.

47:18 The eastern parts lie between Auranitis and Damascus, and between Galaaditis and the land of Israel; the Jordan marks the boundary as far as the sea east of Palm Grove. These are the eastern parts.

47:19 The parts toward the south and southwest run from Thaiman and Palm Grove to the water of Marimoth Kades, extending to the Great Sea. This is the south and southwest side.

47:20 This is the side of the Great Sea: it forms the boundary as far as opposite the entrance of Hamath, as far as its entrance. These are the sea-facing parts of Hamath.

47:21 You will divide this land for them, for the tribes of Israel.

47:22 You will cast lots for it for yourselves and for the sojourners dwelling among you who have fathered sons among you. They will be to you as native-born among the sons of Israel; with you they will eat from an inheritance among Israel’s tribes.

47:23 They will be in a tribe of sojourners, among the sojourners who are with them; there you will give them an inheritance, says the Lord God.

Ezekiel 48

48:1 These are the names of the tribes: from the northern beginning, along the side of the descending, dividing way toward the entrance of Hamath, the court of Ainan, the boundary of Damascus toward the north, along the side of Hamath’s court; the eastern parts as far as the sea will belong to them—Dan, one portion.

48:2 From Dan’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Asher, one portion.

48:3 From Asher’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Naphtali, one portion.

48:4 From Naphtali’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Manasseh, one portion.

48:5 From Manasseh’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Ephraim, one portion.

48:6 From Ephraim’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Reuben, one portion.

48:7 From Reuben’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Judah, one portion.

48:8 From Judah’s boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts, will be the first portion set apart, twenty-five thousand in breadth, with a length like one of the portions from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts. The holy place will be in their midst.

48:9 The first portion they set apart for the Lord will be twenty-five thousand long and twenty-five thousand broad.

48:10 From these will be the first portion of the holy areas for the priests: twenty-five thousand toward the north, a breadth of ten thousand toward the sea, a breadth of ten thousand toward the east, and a length of twenty-five thousand toward the south. The mountain of the holy places will be in its midst,

48:11 for the consecrated priests, the sons of Zadok, who keep the duties of the house and did not stray when the sons of Israel strayed, as the Levites strayed.

48:12 They will have the first portion given from the land's first portions, most holy, from the Levites' boundaries.

48:13 The Levites will have the land adjoining the priests' boundaries, twenty-five thousand long and ten thousand broad. The whole length will be twenty-five thousand and the breadth twenty thousand.

48:14 None of it will be sold or measured out, nor will the land's first produce be taken away, for it is holy to the Lord.

48:15 The five thousand remaining in breadth alongside the twenty-five thousand will be a forewall for the city, for dwelling and its intervening space. The city will be in its midst.

48:16 These are its measurements: on the north, four thousand five hundred; on the south, four thousand five hundred; on the east, four thousand five hundred; and toward the sea, four thousand five hundred.

48:17 The city will have an intervening space: two hundred fifty toward the north, two hundred fifty toward the south, two hundred fifty toward the east, and two hundred fifty toward the sea.

48:18 The remaining length adjoining the first portions of the holy areas will be ten thousand toward the east and ten thousand toward the sea; these will be the holy place's first portions, and its produce will be bread for the city's workers.

48:19 The city's workers, from all Israel's tribes, will work it.

48:20 The entire first portion will be twenty-five thousand by twenty-five thousand. You will set apart its holy portion as a square, from the city's possession.

48:21 The remainder will belong to the ruler on this side and that side, from the holy first portions and toward the city's possession, extending twenty-five thousand in length to the eastern boundaries, and toward the sea extending twenty-five thousand to the sea-facing boundaries, adjoining the ruler's portions. The first portion of the holy areas and the house's sanctuary will be in its midst.

48:22 From the Levites' possession and from the city's possession, it will be in the midst of the rulers; between Judah's boundaries and Benjamin's boundaries it will belong to the rulers.

48:23 As for the remaining tribes, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Benjamin, one portion.

48:24 From Benjamin's boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Simeon, one portion.

48:25 From Simeon's boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Issachar, one portion.

48:26 From Issachar's boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Zebulun, one portion.

48:27 From Zebulun's boundaries, from the eastern parts to the sea-facing parts—Gad, one portion.

48:28 From Gad's boundaries toward the southwest, its boundaries will run from Thaiman and the water of Marimoth Kades, an inheritance as far as the Great Sea.

48:29 This is the land you will cast lots for among Israel's tribes, and these are their divisions, says the Lord God.

48:30 These are the city's outlets toward the north: four thousand five hundred by measure.

48:31 The city's gates will bear the names of Israel's tribes. Three gates will face north: one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, and one gate of Levi.

48:32 Toward the east, four thousand five hundred, with three gates: one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, and one gate of Dan.

48:33 Toward the south, four thousand five hundred by measure, with three gates: one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, and one gate of Zebulun.

48:34 Toward the sea, four thousand five hundred by measure, with three gates: one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, and one gate of Naphtali.

48:35 The circuit will be eighteen thousand. And the city's name, from whatever day it comes into being, will be its name."

Daniel

Daniel 1

1:1 In the third year of King Joakim of Judea, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon arrived at Jerusalem and besieged it.

1:2 The Lord handed the city into his hands, together with Joakim king of Judea and a portion of the Lord’s sacred vessels. He carried them away to Babylon and deposited them in his idol-temple.

1:3 The king told Abiesdri, his chief eunuch, to bring him some of the sons of Israel’s magnates, of the royal family and of the chosen men:

1:4 young men without blemish, handsome, knowledgeable in every kind of wisdom, literate, intelligent, wise, and strong enough to be in the king’s house, and to teach them letters and the Chaldean tongue,

1:5 and to give them a ration from the king’s house each day, from the royal table and the wine the king drank, and to educate them for three years and place some of them before the king.

1:6 Among the lineage of Israel’s sons from Judea were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

1:7 The chief eunuch assigned them names: Daniel, Baltasar; Hananiah, Sedrach; Mishael, Misach; and Azariah, Abdenago.

1:8 Daniel considered in his heart how he might avoid being polluted by the king’s dinner and the wine he drank, and petitioned the chief eunuch that he might not be contaminated.

1:9 The Lord gave Daniel honor and favor before the chief eunuch.

1:10 The chief eunuch said to Daniel, “I am anxious about my lord the king, who prescribed your food and drink, lest he see your faces drawn and weak beside the foreign youths being reared with you, and I risk my own neck.”

1:11 Daniel said to Abiesdri, appointed chief eunuch over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,

1:12 “Test your servants for ten days, and let us be given legumes from the earth to eat, and water to drink.

1:13 If our appearance looks drawn beside the other young men eating the royal dinner, then deal with your servants however you wish.”

1:14 He dealt with them in this manner and tested them for ten days.

1:15 After ten days their appearance was good and their bodily condition better than the other young men eating the royal dinner.

1:16 Abiesdri kept removing their dinner and wine and giving them legumes in exchange.

1:17 The Lord gave the young men knowledge, understanding, and practical wisdom in every literary skill; to Daniel He gave understanding in every utterance, vision, dreams, and all wisdom.

1:18 After these days the king ordered them brought in, and the chief eunuch brought them before King Nebuchadnezzar.

1:19 The king conversed with them, and among the wise no one was found like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. They remained beside the king.

1:20 In every matter of discourse, understanding, and education about which the king questioned them, he found them ten times wiser than the learned experts and philosophers throughout his kingdom. The king honored them, appointed them rulers, and declared them wiser than all his own men in affairs throughout his land and kingdom.

1:21 Daniel remained until the first year of the reign of Cyrus king of the Persians.

Daniel 2

2:1 In the second year of Nebuchadnezzar’s reign, the king fell into visions and dreams and was disturbed in his dream, and his sleep left him.

2:2 The king ordered the incantation-singers, magi, and sorcerers of the Chaldeans brought in to report his dreams to him. They arrived and stood beside the king.

2:3 The king said to them, “I have seen a dream, and my spirit was stirred; therefore I wish to understand the dream.”

2:4 The Chaldeans spoke to the king in the Syrian language: “My lord king, live for ever! Report your dream to your servants, and we will explain its interpretation to you.”

2:5 The king answered the Chaldeans, “Unless you truthfully report the dream to me and disclose its interpretation, you will be made a public example, and your possessions will be taken into the royal treasury.

2:6 But if you make the dream clear to me and report its interpretation, you will receive gifts of every kind and be honored by me. Disclose the dream to me and interpret it.”

2:7 They answered a second time, “O king, state the vision, and your servants will interpret accordingly.”

2:8 The king said to them, “I know for certain that you are buying time, since you have seen that the matter has departed from me. As I have commanded, so it will be.

2:9 Unless you truthfully report the dream and disclose its interpretation, you will meet death. You have agreed together to speak false words before me until the time changes. Now, if you tell me what I saw during the night, I will know that you can also disclose its interpretation.”

2:10 The Chaldeans answered before the king, “No one on earth can tell the king what he has seen, as you ask. No king and no ruler asks such a thing of any wise man, magus, or Chaldean.

2:11 The matter you seek, O king, is weighty and extraordinary. No one can disclose these things to the king except perhaps an angel, whose dwelling is not with any flesh. Therefore it cannot happen as you suppose.”

2:12 Then the king became gloomy and deeply grieved and ordered all the wise men of Babylonia brought out.

2:13 It was decreed that all should be killed, and Daniel and everyone with him were sought so that they might perish together.

2:14 Then Daniel shared his counsel and judgment with Arioch, the king’s chief cook, who had been ordered to bring out Babylonia’s learned men,

2:15 and questioned him, saying, “On what matter is such a bitter decree being issued by the king?” Then Arioch explained the command to Daniel.

2:16 Daniel quickly went in to the king and petitioned for time from the king, so that he might disclose everything before him.

2:17 Then Daniel went to his house and explained everything to his companions Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

2:18 He called for fasting and supplication and for help to be sought from the Lord Most High concerning this mystery, so that Daniel and those with him would not be handed over to destruction with Babylon’s learned men.

2:19 Then, in a vision that very night, the king’s mystery was plainly revealed to Daniel. Daniel blessed the Lord Most High,

2:20 and cried out, “The name of the great Lord will be blessed for ever, because wisdom and majesty belong to Him.

2:21 He changes seasons and times, transfers kings and appoints them, gives wisdom to the wise and understanding to those who possess knowledge,

2:22 reveals deep and dark things, knows what is in darkness and what is in light, and with Him is a dwelling.

2:23 To Thee, Lord of my fathers, I give thanks and praise, because Thou hast given me wisdom and prudence. Now Thou hast shown me everything I requested, to disclose these things to the king.”

2:24 Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to kill all Babylonia’s learned men, and said, “Do not destroy Babylonia’s learned men. Bring me to the king, and I will disclose every detail to him.”

2:25 Then Arioch urgently brought Daniel to the king and said, “I have found a wise man from the captivity of the sons of Judea who will disclose every detail to the king.”

2:26 The king answered Daniel, who was called Baltasar in Chaldean, “Will you be able to disclose to me the vision I saw and its interpretation?”

2:27 Daniel spoke aloud before the king, “Disclosure of the mystery the king saw does not belong to wise men, sorcerers, incantation-singers, or gazarenes,

2:28 but there is a God in heaven who uncovers mysteries, who has disclosed to King Nebuchadnezzar what must happen in the last days. O king, live for ever! This is the dream and the vision of your head upon your bed:

2:29 You, O king, reclining upon your bed, saw everything that must happen in the last days, and the Revealer of mysteries disclosed to you what must happen.

2:30 This mystery was revealed to me because of no wisdom in me beyond all people; rather, so that it might be disclosed to the king, what you conceived in your heart was made known to me.

2:31 You, O king, saw a single image. That image was exceedingly large, its appearance was extraordinary as it stood before you, and the image's appearance was frightening.

2:32 Its head was good gold, its chest and arms silver, and its belly and thighs bronze,

2:33 its legs iron, and its feet partly iron and partly earthenware.

2:34 You watched until a stone was cut from a mountain without hands. It struck the image on its feet of iron and earthenware and ground them down.

2:35 Then the iron, earthenware, bronze, silver, and gold were ground fine together, becoming finer than chaff on a threshing floor. The wind scattered them so that nothing remained of them. The stone that struck the image became a great mountain and struck the whole earth.

2:36 This was the vision; now we will state its interpretation before the king.

2:37 You, O king, are king of kings, and the Lord of heaven has given you rule, kingdom, strength, honor, and glory.

2:38 Throughout the inhabited world He has handed over into your hands human beings, wild beasts, birds of heaven, and fish of the sea, to rule them all. You are the golden head.

2:39 After you a kingdom lesser than you will arise, and another, a third kingdom of bronze, which will rule the whole earth.

2:40 A fourth kingdom will be strong like iron that subdues everything and cuts down every tree, and the whole earth will be shaken.

2:41 As you saw its feet partly potter's earthenware and partly iron, another kingdom, divided in two, will be within it, just as you saw iron mixed with clay earthenware.

2:42 The toes of the feet were partly iron and partly earthenware; part of the kingdom will be strong and part shattered.

2:43 As you saw iron mixed with clay earthenware, they will be mingled in human generation, but will neither agree nor have goodwill toward one another, just as iron cannot blend with earthenware.

2:44 In the times of these kings the God of heaven will establish another kingdom, which will exist for ever and will not be destroyed. This kingdom will not leave another nation; it will strike and obliterate these kingdoms and will itself stand for ever,

2:45 just as you saw a stone cut from a mountain without hands, pounding together the earthenware, iron, bronze, silver, and gold. The great God has shown the king what will happen in the last days. The vision is exact, and its interpretation trustworthy."

2:46 Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell face down on the ground and prostrated himself before Daniel. He ordered sacrifices and libations made to him.

2:47 The king spoke aloud to Daniel, "Truly your God is God of gods and Lord of kings, the One who alone brings hidden mysteries to light, because you have been able to disclose this mystery."

2:48 Then King Nebuchadnezzar exalted Daniel, gave him many great gifts, placed him over Babylonia's affairs, and appointed him ruler and leader of all Babylonia's learned men.

2:49 Daniel petitioned the king that Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago be appointed over Babylonia's affairs. Daniel remained in the royal court.

Daniel 3

3:1 In the eighteenth year, King Nebuchadnezzar, who administered cities and countries and all who inhabited the earth from India to Ethiopia, made a golden image, sixty cubits high and six cubits wide. He set it up on the plain of the enclosure in the country of Babylonia.

3:2 Nebuchadnezzar, king of kings and lord of the whole inhabited world, sent to gather all the nations, tribes, and languages, satraps, generals, district governors, consuls, administrators, those holding authority in each country, and everyone throughout the inhabited world, to come to the dedication of the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

3:3 Those previously listed stood opposite the image.

3:4 The herald proclaimed to the crowds, "You are commanded, nations and countries, peoples and languages:

3:5 when you hear the sound of trumpet, panpipe, kithara, sambuca, psaltery, symphonia, and every kind of musical instrument, fall down and bow to the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up.

3:6 They will throw into the blazing furnace anyone who does not fall down and bow."

3:7 At that time, when all the nations heard the sound of the trumpet and every musical sound, all the nations, tribes, and languages fell down and bowed to the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up before him.

3:8 At that time Chaldean men came forward and accused the Jews.

3:9 They spoke and said, "My lord king, live for ever!

3:10 You, O king, commanded and decreed that everyone who hears the trumpet and every musical sound must fall down and bow to the golden image.

3:11 Whoever does not fall down and bow will be thrown into the blazing furnace.

3:12 There are certain Jewish men whom you appointed over the country of Babylonia—Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago. Those men have not feared your command; they have not served your idol or bowed to your golden image that you set up.”

3:13 Then Nebuchadnezzar, angered with wrath, ordered Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago brought in. The men were brought to the king.

3:14 When King Nebuchadnezzar saw them, he said to them, “Why, Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago, do you not serve my gods or bow to the golden image I set up?

3:15 Now, if you are ready, as soon as you hear the trumpet and every musical sound, to fall down and bow to the golden image I set up—but if not, know that unless you bow, you will immediately be thrown into the blazing furnace. What god will rescue you from my hands?”

3:16 Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago answered King Nebuchadnezzar, “O king, we have no need to answer you concerning this command.

3:17 For there is a God in the heavens, our one Lord, whom we fear, who is able to rescue us from the furnace of fire; and from your hands, O king, He will rescue us.

3:18 Then it will be plain to you that we neither serve your idol nor bow to your golden image that you set up.”

3:19 Then Nebuchadnezzar was filled with fury, and the appearance of his face changed. He ordered the furnace heated seven times beyond what it needed to be heated.

3:20 He ordered the strongest men in his force to bind Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago hand and foot and throw them into the blazing furnace.

3:21 Then those men were bound hand and foot, wearing their footwear and the tiaras on their heads, together with their clothing, and were thrown into the furnace.

3:22 Because the king’s command was urgent and the furnace had been heated seven times beyond its earlier heat, the appointed men bound them hand and foot, brought them to the furnace, and threw them into it.

3:23 The flame came out of the furnace and burned and killed the men who had bound Azariah and his companions; but they themselves were preserved.

3:24 Thus Hananiah, Azariah, and Mishael prayed and sang to the Lord when the king ordered them thrown into the furnace.

3:25 Azariah stood and prayed in this manner. Opening his mouth, he gave thanks to the Lord together with his companions amid the fire, while the Chaldeans were fiercely stoking the furnace. They said:

3:26 “Blessed art Thou, Lord, God of our fathers; Thy name is praised and glorified for ever.

3:27 For Thou art righteous in everything Thou hast done to us; all Thy works are true, Thy ways upright, and all Thy judgments true.

3:28 Thou hast carried out judgments of truth in everything Thou didst bring upon us and upon Thy holy city, our fathers’ Jerusalem. For in truth and judgment Thou didst all these things because of our sins.

3:29 For we have sinned in everything and acted lawlessly by departing from Thee. We have sinned in everything and have not obeyed the commands of Thy law.

3:30 We have neither kept nor done what Thou didst command us, so that it might go well with us.

3:31 And now, everything Thou hast brought upon us and everything Thou hast done to us, Thou hast done in true judgment.

3:32 Thou didst hand us over to our enemies, lawless and most hateful apostates, and to an unjust king, the most wicked in all the earth.

3:33 Now we cannot open our mouths; shame and reproach have come upon Thy servants and those who revere Thee.

3:34 Do not hand us over utterly, for Thy name’s sake; do not dissolve Thy covenant.

3:35 Do not remove Thy mercy from us, for the sake of Abraham, beloved by Thee, and Isaac Thy servant, and Israel Thy holy one,

3:36 as Thou didst speak to them, saying that Thou wouldst multiply their descendants like the stars of heaven and the sand along the shore of the sea.

3:37 For, Master, we have been diminished beyond all nations, and today we are lowly throughout the earth because of our sins.

3:38 At this time there is no ruler or prophet or leader, no burnt offering or sacrifice or offering or incense, no place to offer produce before Thee and find mercy.

3:39 But with a crushed soul and humbled spirit may we be accepted, as with burnt offerings of rams and bulls, and as with tens of thousands of fat lambs.

3:40 So may our sacrifice be before Thee today; and be propitious—“behind Thee”; for there is no shame for those who trust in Thee; and bring to completion—“behind Thee.”

3:41 Now we follow with our whole heart; we fear Thee and seek Thy face. Do not put us to shame,

3:42 but deal with us according to Thy gentleness and the abundance of Thy mercy.

3:43 Rescue us according to Thy wondrous deeds, and give glory to Thy name, Lord.

3:44 May all who inflict evil on Thy servants be ashamed; may they be humiliated out of all their power, and may their strength be crushed.

3:45 Let them know that Thou alone art Lord, God, glorious over the whole inhabited world.”

3:46 The king’s servants who threw them in did not stop heating the furnace. When they threw the three together into the furnace, the furnace was sevenfold ablaze in its heat. When they threw them in, those casting them were above them, while others stoked beneath them with naphtha, tow, pitch, and vine brushwood.

3:47 The flame spread above the furnace for forty-nine cubits.

3:48 It spread out and burned those Chaldeans whom it found around the furnace.

3:49 An angel of the Lord descended into the furnace together with Azariah and his companions and shook the flame of fire out of the furnace.

3:50 He made the middle of the furnace like a dew-laden breeze whistling through. The fire did not touch them at all; it neither distressed nor troubled them.

3:51 Then the three took up the song as with one mouth, singing hymns, glorifying, blessing, and exalting God in the furnace, saying:

3:52 “Blessed art Thou, Lord, God of our fathers, praised and highly exalted for ever. Blessed is the holy name of Thy glory, exceedingly praised and highly exalted through all ages.

3:53 Blessed art Thou in the temple of Thy holy glory, exceedingly praised in hymns and exceedingly glorious for ever.

3:54 Blessed art Thou upon the throne of Thy kingdom, praised in hymns and highly exalted for ever.

3:85 Servants, bless the Lord; sing praise to Him and exalt Him highly for ever.

3:86 Spirits and souls of the righteous, bless the Lord; sing praise to Him and exalt Him highly for ever.

3:87 Holy ones and those humble in heart, bless the Lord; sing praise to Him and exalt Him highly for ever.

3:88 Hananiah, Azariah, and Mishael, bless the Lord; sing praise to Him and exalt Him highly for ever. For He rescued us from Hades and saved us from the hand of death; He delivered us from the midst of the burning flame and redeemed us from the fire.

3:89 Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endures for ever.

3:90 Bless, all who revere the God of gods; sing praise and give thanks, for His mercy endures for ever and for the age of ages.”

3:91 When the king heard them singing and, standing, observed them alive, King Nebuchadnezzar was astonished, rose in haste, and said to his friends:

3:92 “Behold! I see four men unbound, walking in the fire, and no harm has come upon them. The fourth has the likeness of an angel of God.”

3:93 The king approached the door of the furnace blazing with fire and called them by name: “Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago, servants of the Most High God of gods, come out of the fire!” Thus the men came out from the midst of the fire.

3:94 The consuls, district governors, ancestral chiefs, and the king’s friends gathered. They observed those men: the fire had not touched their bodies, their hair had not burned, their trousers were unchanged, and there was no smell of fire on them.

3:95 King Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, “Blessed be the Lord, the God of Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago, who sent His angel and saved His servants who hoped in Him. They rejected the king’s command and surrendered their bodies to burning so that they would neither serve nor bow to another god except their own God.

3:96 Now I decree: from every nation, every tribe, and every language, whoever blasphemes the Lord, the God of Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago, will be dismembered and his house confiscated, because there is no other god who can rescue like this.”

3:97 Thus the king gave Sedrach, Misach, and Abdenago authority over the whole country and appointed them rulers.

Daniel 4

4:4 In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar’s reign, he said, “I was at peace in my house and prospering upon my throne.

4:5 I saw a dream and became apprehensive; fear fell upon me.

4:10 I was sleeping, and there was a tall tree growing upon the earth. Its appearance was great, and no other was like it.

4:11 Its appearance was great: its top reached to heaven, and its mass to the clouds, filling what lay beneath heaven. The sun and moon dwelt in it and illuminated the whole earth.

4:12 Its branches were about thirty stadia long. All the wild animals of the earth found shade beneath it, and the birds of heaven nested in it. Its fruit was abundant and good, and it supplied all living creatures.

4:13 I was watching in my sleep, and an angel was sent in strength from heaven.

4:14 He called out and said to it, ‘Cut it down and destroy it, for the Most High has commanded that it be uprooted and rendered useless.’

4:15 He spoke in this way: ‘Leave one root of it in the earth, so that it may graze on grass like an ox with the wild animals of the earth in the mountains;

4:16 let his body be changed by heaven’s dew, and let him graze with them for seven years,

4:17 until he knows that the Lord of heaven has authority over everything in heaven and upon earth, and does among them whatever He wills.’

4:17a Before me it was cut down in one day, and its destruction came within one hour of the day. Its branches were given to every wind; it was dragged away and thrown down. It ate the grass of the earth with the wild animals of the earth, was handed over to custody, and was bound by them in fetters and bronze handcuffs. I was greatly astonished at all this, and sleep departed from my eyes.

4:18 In the morning I rose from my bed and called Daniel, chief of the learned experts and leader of those who judge dreams. I recounted the dream to him, and he explained its entire interpretation to me.

4:19 Daniel was greatly astonished, and apprehension pressed upon him. Frightened, seized with trembling, and changed in appearance, he shook his head and remained astonished for an hour. He answered me in a gentle voice, ‘O king, may this dream come upon those who hate you and its interpretation upon your enemies!

4:20 You, O king, are the tree planted in the earth, whose appearance was great.

4:21 And all the birds of heaven nesting in it—the strength of the earth and of the nations and of all languages to the ends of the earth, and all countries—serve you.

4:22 The raising of that tree, its reaching heaven, and its mass touching the clouds mean that you, O king, were raised above all people upon the face of the whole earth. Your heart was raised in pride and strength against the Holy One and His angels. Your deeds were seen, because you laid waste the house of the living God on account of the sins of the consecrated people.

4:23 The vision you saw, that an angel was sent in strength from the Lord and commanded the tree’s removal and cutting down, means that the judgment of the great God will come upon you,

4:24 and the Most High and His angels are rushing against you.

4:25 They will lead you away into custody and send you to a deserted place.

4:26 The root of the tree that was left, since it was not uprooted, means that the place of your throne will be preserved for you for a time and an hour. Behold! They are preparing against you; they will scourge you and bring the judgments upon you.

4:27 The Lord lives in heaven, and His authority is over all the earth. Entreat Him concerning your sins, and redeem all your injustices by almsgiving, so that gentleness may be granted you, you may have many days upon your royal throne, and He may not destroy you. Love these words, for my word is accurate and your time is full.’”

4:28 At the completion of the words, Nebuchadnezzar, when he heard the judgment of the vision, kept the words in his heart.

4:29 After twelve months, the king was walking upon the city walls with all his glory and passing over its towers.

4:30 He spoke and said, “This is great Babylon, which I built, and it will be called the house of my kingship through the strength of my might, for the honor of my glory.”

4:31 At the completion of his word, he heard a voice from heaven: “To you it is said, King Nebuchadnezzar: Babylon’s kingdom has been taken from you and is given to another, a despised man in your house. Behold! I appoint him over your kingdom; he will take your authority, glory, and luxury, so that you may recognize that the God of heaven has authority over human kingship and will give it to whomever He wishes. By sunrise another king will rejoice in your house and take possession of your glory, strength, and authority.

4:32 The angels will pursue you for seven years. You will neither be seen nor speak with any human being. They will feed you grass like an ox, and your pasture will be the earth’s greenery. Behold! In place of your glory they will bind you, and another will have your luxurious house and your kingdom.

4:33 By morning everything will be fulfilled upon you, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon; nothing of all this will fail.”

4:33a “I, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, was bound for seven years. They fed me grass like an ox, and I ate the earth’s greenery. After seven years I devoted my soul to supplication and pleaded concerning my sins before the Lord, the God of heaven; concerning my acts of ignorance I entreated the great God of gods.

4:33b My hair became like an eagle's wings, and my nails like a lion's. My flesh and my heart were changed; I walked naked with the wild animals of the earth. I saw a dream, and apprehensions seized me. After a time a deep sleep took hold of me, and drowsiness fell upon me.

4:34 At the completion of the seven years, the time of my release came. My sins and my acts of ignorance reached their full measure before the God of heaven. I entreated the great God of gods concerning my acts of ignorance, and an angel called to me from heaven, saying, 'Nebuchadnezzar, serve the holy God of heaven and give glory to the Most High; the kingship of your nation is restored to you.'

4:36 At that time my kingdom was restored to me and my glory returned to me.

4:37 I give thanks to the Most High and praise Him who created heaven and earth, seas and rivers, and everything in them. I give thanks and praise, for He is God of gods, Lord of lords, and King of kings. He performs signs and wonders and changes seasons and times, taking kingdoms from kings and appointing others in their place.

4:37a From now on I will worship Him. Trembling has seized me through fear of Him, and I praise all His holy ones. For the gods of the nations have no strength in themselves to transfer one king's kingdom to another king, to kill and make alive, to perform signs and great and fearsome wonders, or to change exceedingly great affairs, as the God of heaven has done in me, changing great affairs concerning me. Throughout all the days of my reign I will offer sacrifices to the Most High on behalf of my soul, as a pleasing aroma to the Lord. I will do what is acceptable before Him—I and my people, my nation and my countries under my authority. Whoever has spoken against the God of heaven, and whoever is caught speaking anything against Him, I will condemn to death."

4:37b King Nebuchadnezzar wrote a circular letter to all the nations in every place, to the countries and all languages dwelling in every country, from generation to generation: "Praise the Lord, the God of heaven, and gloriously bring Him sacrifice and offering. I, king of kings, gloriously give thanks to Him, because He has dealt with me in this way: on that very day He seated me upon my throne; I regained my authority and my kingdom among my people, and my greatness was restored to me."

4:37c "King Nebuchadnezzar to all nations, all countries, and all who dwell in them: May peace be multiplied to you at every time. Now I will explain to you the deeds that the great God has done with me. It pleased me to demonstrate to you and to your learned experts that there is a God, and His wonders are great; His kingship is an everlasting kingship, His authority from generation to generation." He sent letters concerning everything that had happened to him in his kingdom to all the nations under his kingship.

Daniel 5

5:preface King Baltasar held a great reception on the day of the dedication of his royal buildings and invited two thousand men from among his magnates. On that day Baltasar, elated by wine and boasting, praised all the nations' cast and carved gods in his place, but gave no praise to God Most High. That very night fingers like a human's came out and inscribed on the plaster of his house's wall, opposite the lamp, "Mane, Phares, Thekel." Their interpretation is: Mane, "It has been numbered"; Phares, "It has been taken away"; Thekel, "It has been weighed."

5:1 King Baltasar held a great banquet for his companions and drank wine.

5:2 His heart was exalted, and he ordered the gold and silver vessels of God's house that his father Nebuchadnezzar had brought from Jerusalem to be brought in, and wine poured in them for his companions.

5:3 They were brought, and they drank from them,

5:4 and blessed their handmade idols. But they did not bless the everlasting God, who had authority over their breath.

5:5 At that very hour fingers like those of a human hand came out and wrote on the plaster of his house's wall, opposite the light and before King Baltasar. He saw a hand writing.

5:6 His appearance changed, and fears and apprehensions pressed upon him. The king hurried and rose to look at that writing, while his companions around him were boasting.

5:7 The king cried out with a loud voice to summon the incantation-singers, sorcerers, Chaldeans, and gazarenes to report the writing's interpretation. They came in to inspect the writing, but could not interpret it for the king. Then the king issued a decree: "Any man who explains the writing's interpretation will be clothed in purple and have a gold necklace placed upon him, and he will be given authority over a third part of the kingdom."

5:8 The incantation-singers, sorcerers, and gazarenes came in, but no one could report the writing’s interpretation.

5:9 Then the king summoned the queen about the sign and explained to her how great it was, and that no one could report the writing’s interpretation to the king.

5:10 Then the queen mentioned to him Daniel, who was from the captivity of Judea,

5:11 and said to the king, “The man was knowledgeable and wise, surpassing all Babylon’s wise men,

5:12 and a holy spirit is in him. In the days of your father the king, he explained extraordinary interpretations to Nebuchadnezzar your father.”

5:13 Then Daniel was brought before the king, and the king addressed him:

5:16 “O Daniel, can you explain the writing’s interpretation to me? I will clothe you in purple and place a gold necklace upon you, and you will have authority over a third part of my kingdom.”

5:17 Then Daniel stood opposite the writing and read it. He answered the king in this way: “This is the writing: ‘It has been numbered, it was reckoned, it has been taken away.’ The hand that wrote came to a stop. This is their interpretation:

5:23 O king, you held a banquet for your friends and drank wine. The vessels of the living God’s house were brought to you, and you and your magnates drank from them and praised all the idols made by human hands. But you did not bless the living God. Your breath is in His hand, and He gave you your kingdom, yet you neither blessed Him nor offered Him praise.

5:26–28 This is the writing’s interpretation: your time of kingship has been numbered; your kingdom is ending. Your kingdom has been cut short and brought to completion; it is given to the Medes and Persians.”

5:29 Then King Baltasar clothed Daniel in purple, placed a gold necklace upon him, and gave him authority over a third part of his kingdom.

5:30 The interpretation came upon King Baltasar; the kingship was taken from the Chaldeans and given to the Medes and Persians.

Daniel 6

6:1 Artaxerxes of the Medes received the kingdom. Darius was full of days and glorious in old age.

6:2 He appointed one hundred twenty-seven satraps over his whole kingdom,

6:3 and over them three men as their leaders. Daniel was one of the three men,

6:4 having authority above everyone in the kingdom. Daniel was clothed in purple, great and glorious before King Darius, because he was distinguished, knowledgeable, and understanding, with a holy spirit in him, and prospered in the king’s affairs that he conducted. Then the king decided to appoint Daniel over his whole kingdom, along with the two men whom he had appointed with him and one hundred twenty-seven satraps.

6:5 When the king decided to appoint Daniel over his whole kingdom, the two young men devised a plan and resolution together. Since they could find no sin or ignorant fault in Daniel of which they could accuse him before the king,

6:6 they said, “Come, let us establish a restriction binding upon ourselves: no one is to make a request or offer a prayer to any god for thirty days, except to King Darius; otherwise he will die.” They intended to bring Daniel down before the king and have him thrown into the lions’ pit, for they knew that Daniel prayed and entreated the Lord his God three times a day.

6:7 Then those men approached and said before the king:

6:8 “We have established a restriction and decree: anyone who offers a prayer or makes any request to any god for thirty days, except to King Darius, will be thrown into the lions’ pit.”

6:9 They asked the king to establish the restriction and not alter it, because they knew that Daniel prayed and entreated three times a day; they intended him to be brought down through the king and thrown into the lions’ pit.

6:10 Thus King Darius established and ratified it.

6:11 When Daniel learned of the restriction established against him, he opened windows in his upper room toward Jerusalem, fell upon his face three times a day as he had done before, and made supplication.

6:12 They watched Daniel and caught him praying three times a day, every day.

6:13 Then these men appealed to the king and said, “King Darius, did you not decree a restriction that no one should offer a prayer or make a request to any god for thirty days except to you, O king, otherwise he would be thrown into the lions’ pit?” The king answered them, “The statement is exact, and the restriction will remain.”

6:13a They said to him, “We adjure you by the decrees of the Medes and Persians: do not alter the command, show partiality, or diminish anything that has been stated; punish the man who has not kept this restriction.” He said, “I will do as you say; this is established with me.”

6:14 They said, “Behold! We found Daniel your friend praying and seeking the face of his God three times a day.”

6:15 The king, grieved, ordered Daniel thrown into the lions’ pit according to the restriction he had established against him. Then the king was deeply grieved over Daniel and tried to rescue him from the satraps’ hands until sunset,

6:16 but could not rescue him from them.

6:17 King Darius cried out and said to Daniel, “Your God, whom you worship continually three times a day, will rescue you from the lions’ power. Take courage until morning.”

6:18 Then Daniel was thrown into the lions’ pit. A stone was brought and placed at the pit’s mouth, and the king sealed it with his own ring and his magnates’ rings, so that Daniel could not be taken away from them, nor could the king pull him up from the pit.

6:19 Then the king returned to his royal residence and spent the night fasting, grieving over Daniel. Daniel’s God, taking care of him, shut the lions’ mouths, and they did not trouble Daniel.

6:20 King Darius rose early in the morning, took the satraps with him, and went and stood at the mouth of the lions’ pit.

6:21 Then the king called to Daniel with a loud voice and weeping: “O Daniel, are you perhaps alive? Has your God, whom you worship continually, saved you from the lions, so that they have not destroyed you?”

6:22 Then Daniel answered with a loud voice and said, “O king, I am still alive,

6:23 and God has saved me from the lions, because righteousness was found in me before Him. Before you also, O king, neither ignorant fault nor sin was found in me. Yet you listened to men who mislead kings and threw me into the lions’ pit for destruction.”

6:24 Then all the forces assembled and saw Daniel, whom the lions had not troubled.

6:25 Then those two men who had testified against Daniel, with their wives and children, were thrown to the lions. The lions killed them and crushed their bones.

6:26 Then Darius wrote to all nations, countries, and languages dwelling throughout his whole land, saying:

6:27 “Let all people in my kingdom bow to and worship Daniel’s God, for He is God who endures and lives from generation to generation for ever.

6:28 I, Darius, will bow to Him and serve Him all my days, for handmade idols cannot save as Daniel’s God redeemed Daniel.”

6:29 King Darius was gathered to his people, and Daniel was appointed in Darius’s reign. Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom.

Daniel 7

7:1 In the first year of Baltasar’s reign over the country of Babylonia, Daniel saw a vision at his head upon his bed. Then Daniel wrote the vision he had seen in principal points:

7:2 “Upon my bed I was watching in dreams by night, and there were four winds of heaven falling upon the great sea.

7:3 Four beasts came up from the sea, each differing from the other.

7:4 The first was like a lioness with wings like an eagle’s. I watched until her wings were plucked out, she was lifted from the earth and stood on human feet, and a human heart was given her.

7:5 After her there was another beast with the likeness of a bear. It stood on one side and had three ribs in its mouth. He spoke in this way: ‘Rise, devour much flesh!’

7:6 After this I watched another beast, like a leopard. Four wings stretched over it, and the beast had four heads; a tongue was given it.

7:7 After this I watched in the night vision a fourth beast, fearsome, its terror surpassing in strength. It had great iron teeth, devoured and pounded, trampled all around with its feet, and acted differently from all the beasts before it. It had ten horns,

7:8 and many plans were in its horns. Another single horn sprouted among them, small among its horns, and three of the earlier horns were withered through it. This horn had eyes like human eyes and a mouth speaking great things, and it made war against the holy ones.

7:9 I watched until thrones were set in place and an Ancient of Days was seated, wearing a covering like snow, with the hair of His head like pure white wool. The throne was like a flame of fire,

7:10 and a river of fire came out before Him. A thousand thousands attended Him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood beside Him. A court sat, and books were opened.

7:11 Then I watched the sound of the great words the horn was speaking. The beast was beaten to death, its body perished, and it was given over to burning fire.

7:12 He removed those around it from their authority, and a span of life was given them for a time and a season.

7:13 I watched in the night vision, and there, upon the clouds of heaven, one like a son of man was coming. He was present as an Ancient of Days, and those standing by were present with him.

7:15 I, Daniel, was disheartened by these things in the night vision,

7:16 and approached one of those standing there, seeking exact understanding from him concerning all these things. He answered me and explained the judgment of the words:

7:17 ‘These great beasts are four kingdoms that will perish from the earth.

7:18 The holy ones of the Most High will receive the kingdom and hold the kingdom for ever, for the age of ages.’

7:19 Then I wanted exact understanding of the fourth beast, which destroyed everything and was exceedingly fearsome. Its teeth were iron and its claws bronze, devouring everyone all around and trampling with its feet,

7:20 and of its ten horns upon its head and the single other that sprouted, through which three fell out. That horn had eyes and a mouth speaking great things, and its appearance surpassed the others.

7:21 I observed that horn waging war against the holy ones and routing them,

7:22 until the Ancient of Days came and gave judgment to the holy ones of the Most High. The time was given, and the holy ones took possession of the kingship.

7:23 I was told concerning the fourth beast that a fourth kingdom would be upon the earth, surpassing the whole earth, overturning it and grinding it down.

7:24 As for the kingdom’s ten horns, ten kings will arise, and another king will arise after them. He will surpass the earlier ones in evils and humble three kings.

7:25 He will speak words against the Most High, wear down the holy ones of the Most High, and expect to alter seasons and law. Everything will be handed into his hands for a time, times, and half a time.

7:26 The judgment will sit; they will destroy the authority and plan to defile and destroy completely.

7:27 He gave the kingdom, authority, their greatness, and rule over all the kingdoms under heaven to a holy people of the Most High, to reign with everlasting kingship; all authorities will be subject to him and obey him.

7:28 Until the account ended, I, Daniel, was greatly overcome with astonishment; my condition changed, and I fixed the matter in my heart.”

Daniel 8

8:1 In the third year of Baltasar’s reign came the vision that I, Daniel, saw after seeing the first one.

8:2 I saw in the vision of my dream, while I was in the city of Susa in the country of Elymais, still beside the gate of Ailam,

8:3 that, looking up, I saw a great ram standing opposite the gate. It had horns, one higher than the other, and the higher one was rising.

8:4 After this I saw the ram charging eastward, northward, westward, and southward. No animals stood before it, and no one rescued from its hands. It did as it wished and was exalted.

8:5 I was pondering, and a male goat came from the west over the earth's surface without touching the earth. The goat had a single horn between its eyes.

8:6 It came against the horned ram that I had seen standing beside the gate and ran at it in furious anger.

8:7 I saw it approach the ram, become furious with it, strike it, and shatter its two horns. The ram no longer had strength to stand against the goat. It hurled the ram down upon the earth and crushed it, and no one could rescue the ram from the goat.

8:8 The male goat grew exceedingly strong. When it became strong, its great horn was shattered, and four other horns rose behind it toward the four winds of heaven.

8:9 From one of them a single strong horn sprouted. It grew strong and struck toward the south, toward the east, and toward the north.

8:10 It was raised as high as heaven's stars, but was dashed to the earth from the stars and trampled by them,

8:11 until the chief commander rescues the captivity. Because of him the ancient mountains were dashed down; their place and sacrifice were removed. He set it down upon the earth, and it prospered and came to pass, and the sanctuary will be made desolate.

8:12 Sins came upon the sacrifice; righteousness was thrown down to the ground, and he acted and prospered.

8:13 I heard another holy one speaking, and the other said to the speaking Phelmouni, "How long will the vision stand, and the sacrifice that was removed, and the sin of desolation that was given, and the holy places be made desolate for trampling?"

8:14 He said to him, "Until evening and morning, two thousand three hundred days; then the sanctuary will be cleansed."

8:15 As I, Daniel, watched the vision, I sought to understand, and there stood opposite me someone with a human appearance.

8:16 I heard a human voice in the midst of Ulai, calling, "Gabriel, give that one understanding of the vision." The man cried out and said, "The vision concerns that command."

8:17 He came and stood beside where I stood. As he came, I was disturbed and fell upon my face. He said to me, "Understand, son of man, for this vision is still for an appointed hour."

8:18 As he spoke with me, I fell asleep face down on the ground. He touched me and raised me on the spot,

8:19 and said to me, "Behold! I am reporting what will happen at the end of the wrath to the sons of your people; it will still remain until the hours of the appointed time of completion.

8:20 The ram you saw with the horns is the king of the Medes and Persians.

8:21 The male goat is the king of the Greeks, and the great horn between its eyes is the first king himself.

8:22 As for the four horns that were shattered and rose behind it, four kings of his nation will arise, but not according to his strength.

8:23 At the end of their kingship, when their sins reach fullness, a king with a shameless face who understands riddles will arise.

8:24 His strength will be made firm, though not by his own strength. He will destroy astonishingly, prosper, and act; he will destroy rulers and a people of holy ones.

8:25 His intent will be against the holy ones; falsehood will prosper in his hands, and his heart will be exalted. By deceit he will make many disappear, rise for the destruction of men, make a "gathering of a hand," and sell.

8:26 The evening-and-morning vision was found to be true. Now the vision is closed up, for it is still for many days."

8:27 I, Daniel, was weak for many days. Then I rose and again conducted royal affairs. I was undone by the vision, and there was no one who understood.

Daniel 9

9:1 In the first year under Darius son of Xerxes, from the Median family who ruled over the kingdom of the Chaldeans,

9:2 in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, considered in the books the number of years, when a command came to the land concerning Jeremiah the prophet, to bring Jerusalem's reproach to its full term: seventy years.

9:3 I set my face toward the Lord God to find prayer and mercy, with fasts, sackcloth, and ashes.

9:4 I prayed to the Lord God and confessed, saying, "Behold, Lord, Thou art the great, strong, and fearsome God, keeping the covenant and mercy for those who love Thee and guard Thy commands:

9:5 we have sinned, done wrong, acted impiously, fallen away, and transgressed Thy commandments and judgments,

9:6 and have not listened to Thy servants the prophets, to what they spoke in Thy name to our kings, our rulers, our fathers, and every nation upon the earth.

9:7 Righteousness belongs to Thee, Lord, but shame of face to us as on this day—to the people of Judah, those dwelling in Jerusalem, and all the people Israel, near and far, in all the countries where Thou didst scatter them because of the trespass they committed before Thee.

9:8 Master, shame of face belongs to us, to our kings, rulers, and fathers, because we have sinned against Thee.

9:9 To the Lord belong righteousness and mercy, for we have fallen away from Thee

9:10 and have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God, to follow Thy law that Thou didst set before Moses and us through Thy servants the prophets.

9:11 All Israel abandoned Thy law and fell away, refusing to hear Thy voice. The curse and oath written in the law of Moses, God’s servant, came upon us, because we sinned against Him.

9:12 He established for us His commands, all He spoke against us and against our judges, all Thou didst judge for us, bringing great calamities upon us, such as had not occurred under heaven as occurred in Jerusalem.

9:13 According to what is written in Moses’ covenant, all the calamities came upon us. Yet we did not seek the face of the Lord our God by departing from our sins and understanding Thy righteousness, Lord.

9:14 The Lord God kept watch over the calamities and brought them upon us, for the Lord our God is righteous in everything He may do, and we did not listen to His voice.

9:15 Now, Master, Lord our God, who didst bring Thy people out of Egypt with Thine uplifted arm and didst make Thyself a name as on this day: we have sinned and acted in ignorance.

9:16 Master, according to Thy righteousness, let Thy wrath and anger turn away from Thy city Jerusalem, Thy holy mountain. Because of our sins and our fathers’ acts of ignorance, Jerusalem and Thy people, Lord, are a reproach among all around us.

9:17 Now, Master, hear Thy servant’s prayer and my supplications. Let Thy face look upon Thy desolate holy mountain, for Thy servants’ sake, Master.

9:18 Attend with Thine ear, Lord, and hear me. Open Thine eyes and see our desolation and that of Thy city, over which Thy name has been called. For we make our supplication in our prayers before Thee because of Thy mercy, not our righteous deeds.

9:19 Lord, be propitious! Lord, hear and act, and do not delay, for Thine own sake, Master, because Thy name has been called over Thy city Zion and Thy people Israel.”

9:20 While I was speaking in prayer, confessing my sins and the sins of my people Israel, and making supplication in prayers before the Lord my God and on behalf of our God’s holy mountain,

9:21 while I was still speaking in my prayer, the man I had seen at first in my sleep, Gabriel, was carried swiftly and approached me at the hour of the evening sacrifice.

9:22 He approached and spoke with me, saying, “Daniel, I have just come out to show you understanding.

9:23 At the beginning of your supplication, a command went out from the Lord, and I came to explain it to you, because you are worthy of pity. Understand the command.

9:24 Seventy weeks have been determined for your people and the city Zion: for sin to be brought to completion, injustices to become scarce, injustices to be wiped away, the vision to be understood, everlasting righteousness to be given, the vision to be fulfilled, and a holy of holies to be gladdened.

9:25 You will know, understand, and rejoice. You will find commands to be answered, and you will build Jerusalem as a city for the Lord.

9:26 After seven and seventy and sixty-two, an anointing will be removed and no longer exist. A kingdom of nations will destroy the city and sanctuary together with the anointed one. Its completion will come with wrath and last until the time of completion; it will be assailed by war.

9:27 The covenant will prevail for many. It will return again and be rebuilt in breadth and length. At the completion of times, after seven and seventy periods and sixty-two years, until the time of the completion of war, desolation will be removed when the covenant grows strong for many weeks. At the end of the week the sacrifice and libation will be removed. Upon the temple will be an abomination of desolations until completion, and completion will be given upon the desolation.”

Daniel 10

10:1 In the first year of Cyrus, king of the Persians, a command was shown to Daniel, whose name was called Baltasar. The vision and command were true, and the strong multitude will understand the command; I understood it in a vision.

10:2 In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three weeks.

10:3 I ate no desirable bread; meat and wine did not enter my mouth, and I did not anoint myself with oil until I completed the three weeks of days.

10:4 On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, I was on the bank of the great river, the Tigris,

10:5 and I lifted my eyes and saw a man clothed in fine linen, with fine linen wrapped around his waist, and light coming from his middle.

10:6 His body was like a tarshish stone, his face like a flash of lightning, his eyes like flaming torches, his arms and feet like flashing bronze, and the sound of his speech like the sound of an uproar.

10:7 I, Daniel, saw this great vision, but the men with me did not see it. Strong fear fell upon them, and they fled in haste.

10:8 I was left alone and saw this great vision. No strength remained in me; a spirit turned upon me for destruction, and I had no strength.

10:9 I did not hear the sound of his speech; I had fallen face down upon the earth.

10:10 He brought a hand toward me and raised me upon my knees, upon the soles of my feet.

10:11 He said to me, “Daniel, you are a man worthy of pity. Understand the commands I speak to you, and stand in your place, for I have just been sent to you.” As he spoke this command with me, I stood trembling.

10:12 He said to me, “Do not fear, Daniel. From the first day you set your face to understand and humble yourself before the Lord your God, your word was heard, and I entered because of your word.

10:13 The general of the king of the Persians stood against me for twenty-one days. Then Michael, one of the foremost rulers, came to help me, and I left him there with the general of the king of the Persians.”

10:14 He said to me, “I came to show you what will meet your people in the latter days, for the vision is still for days to come.”

10:15 As he spoke these commands with me, I set my face toward the earth and fell silent.

10:16 Something like a human hand touched my lips. I opened my mouth, spoke, and said to the one standing opposite me, “My lord, something like a vision turned upon my side, upon me, and there was no strength in me.

10:17 How can the servant speak with his lord? I have become weak; there is no strength in me, and no breath was left in me.”

10:18 Again one with a human appearance touched me and strengthened me,

10:19 and said to me, “You are a man worthy of pity. Do not fear; be well. Take courage and be strong.” As he spoke with me, I became strong and said, “Let my lord speak, for he has strengthened me.”

10:20 He said to me, “Do you know why I came to you? Now I will return to contend with the general of the king of the Persians. I was going out, and the general of the Greeks was coming in.

10:21 I will indeed show you the first things in a record of truth. No one was helping with me concerning these except Michael the angel.”

Daniel 11

11:1 In the first year of King Cyrus, he told me to be strong and take courage.

11:2 “Now I have come to show you the truth. Three kings have stood in opposition in Persia, and the fourth will become richer than all the others. When he grows strong through his wealth, he will rise against every king of the Greeks.

11:3 A powerful king will arise, exercise great lordship, and do whatever he wishes.

11:4 When he arises, his kingdom will be shattered and divided toward the four winds of heaven, not according to his might or the lordship with which he ruled. His kingdom will be removed, and he will teach others these things.

11:5 He will strengthen Egypt’s kingdom, and one of the rulers will overpower him and rule; his rule will be a great rule.

11:6 At the completion of years he will lead them, and the king of Egypt will enter the northern kingdom to make treaties. He will not prevail, for his arm will not establish strength; his arm and that of those traveling with him will grow numb, and he will remain until the appointed hours.

11:7 A plant from his root will arise on its own, and the king of the north will come against his force with his strength, cause turmoil, and prevail.

11:8 He will overthrow their gods together with their cast images, and they will carry their crowds, with their precious vessels, silver, and gold, captive to Egypt. There will be a year for the king of the north.

11:9 He will enter Egypt’s kingdom for days and return to his land,

11:10 and so will his son. He will be provoked, gather an assembly of a great crowd, and enter against it, sweeping through. He will pass over, return, and be greatly provoked.

11:11 The king of Egypt will become angry and fight the king of the north, and the assembled force will be handed into his hands.

11:12 He will take the assembled force, and his heart will be exalted. He will throw many into turmoil and will not be afraid.

11:13 The king of the north will return and gather a city’s force larger than the first at the completion of a year’s appointed time. He will enter it against him with a great crowd and much money.

11:14 In those times designs will rise against the king of Egypt. He will rebuild the fallen things of your nation and arise to establish the prophecy, but they will stumble.

11:15 The king of the north will come, turn his spears, and take the fortified city. The arms of Egypt’s king will stand with his rulers, but he will have no strength to resist him.

11:16 The one coming against him will act according to his will, and no one will resist before him. He will stand in the country, and everything will be accomplished in his hands.

11:17 He will set his face to advance all his undertaking by force and make treaties with him. He will give him a daughter of a human to destroy her, but she will not obey and will not remain.

11:18 He will set his face toward the sea and take many. He will turn back the wrath of their reproach with an oath according to his reproach.

11:19 He will turn his face to strengthen his country, but stumble, fall, and not be found.

11:20 From his root a royal plant will arise, a man striking a king’s glory. In the last days he will be shattered, but not in wrath or war.

11:21 In his place will arise one easily despised, upon whom royal glory will not be bestowed. He will come suddenly; a king will prevail in his allotment.

11:22 He will shatter the already-shattered arms before him.

11:23 With the covenant and a people arrayed with him, he will act falsely and act against a strong nation with a very small nation.

11:24 He will suddenly desolate a city and do what neither his fathers nor his fathers’ fathers did. He will give them plunder, spoils, and money and devise plans against the strong city, but his plans will be in vain.

11:25 His strength and heart will be stirred against Egypt’s king with a great crowd. Egypt’s king will be provoked to war with an exceedingly strong crowd, but will not stand, because he will devise a design against him.

11:26 His anxieties will consume him and turn him away. He will pass through and sweep away, and many wounded will fall.

11:27 Two kings alone will dine together, eat at one table, and speak falsely, but they will not prosper, for completion still awaits its appointed time.

11:28 He will return to his country with much money, his heart against the holy covenant. He will act and return to his country

11:29 at the appointed time. He will enter Egypt, but it will not be as the first and the last.

11:30 Romans will come, drive him out, and rebuke him. He will return, become angry against the holy covenant, act, and return. He will consider them because they abandoned the holy covenant.

11:31 Arms from him will arise, defile the sanctuary of fear, remove the sacrifice, and establish an abomination of desolation.

11:32 In sins against the covenant they will defile with a harsh people, but the people who know these things will be strong and act.

11:33 The thoughtful of the nation will give understanding to many. They will stumble by the sword and grow old in it; in captivity and plunder they will be stained for days.

11:34 When they are crushed, they will gather a little strength. Many will assemble with them at a city, and many as in an allotment.

11:35 Some of those who understand will consider how to purify themselves, be selected, and be cleansed until the time of completion, for the time still awaits its hours.

11:36 The king will act according to his will, become enraged, and be exalted above every god. He will speak extraordinary things against the God of gods and prosper until the wrath is completed, for completion is coming upon him.

11:37 He will pay no heed to his fathers’ gods or to the desire of a woman, for he will be exalted in everything, and strong nations will be subject to him.

11:38 He will stir in his place and honor a god whom his fathers did not know with gold, silver, and costly stone. And with the desirable things

11:39 of cities he will act, and he will come into a strong fortification. With a foreign god, whom he may acknowledge, he will multiply glory, rule over him greatly, and apportion country as a gift.

11:40 At the hour of completion, Egypt's king will clash with him. The king of the north will rage against him with chariots, many horses, and many ships, and enter Egypt's country

11:41 and come into my country,

11:42 and in Egypt's country no one will be saved.

11:43 He will control the place of gold, the place of silver, and all Egypt's desirable wealth; Libyans and Ethiopians will be in his multitude.

11:44 A report from the east and north will disturb him, and he will go out in strong anger and with a sword to wipe out and kill many.

11:45 Then he will set his tent between the seas and the mountain of the Holy One's desire. The hour of his completion will come, and no one will help him."

Daniel 12

12:1 "At that hour Michael will pass by, the great angel who stands over the sons of your people. That will be a day of affliction such as has not occurred since they came into being until that day. On that day all the people found inscribed in the book will be exalted.

12:2 Many of those sleeping in the breadth of the earth shall arise: some unto everlasting life, others unto reproach, and others unto dispersion and everlasting shame.

12:3 Those who understand will appear like heaven's lights, and those who strengthen my words like the stars of heaven for the age of the age.

12:4 But you, Daniel, cover the commands and seal the book until the time of completion, until the many go mad and the earth is filled with injustice."

12:5 I, Daniel, saw two others standing, one on this side of the river and one on the other.

12:6 I said to the one clothed in fine linen above, "When, then, will the wonders you have told me reach completion, and these things be cleansed?"

12:7 I heard the one clothed in fine linen above the river's water say, "Until the time of completion." He raised his right hand and his left to heaven and swore by God who lives for ever that in a time, times, and half a time would be the completion of the "hands of release" of a holy people, and all these things would be completed.

12:8 I heard, but did not understand the time from him. I said, "My lord, what is the interpretation of this word, and what do these figures concern?"

12:9 He said to me, "Go away, Daniel, for the commands are covered and sealed until 12:10 many are tested and made holy, and sinners sin. None of the sinners will understand, but those who understand will pay attention.

12:11 From when the sacrifice is removed for all time and preparations are made to set up the abomination of desolation: one thousand two hundred ninety days.

12:12 Blessed is the one who perseveres and reaches a total of one thousand three hundred thirty-five days.

12:13 But you, go and rest, for there are still days and hours until completion is fulfilled. You will rest and arise unto your glory at the completion of days."

Hosea

Hosea 1

1:1 The word of the Lord that came to Hosea son of Beeri in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam son of Joash, king of Israel.

1:2 The beginning of the Lord's word to Hosea. The Lord said to Hosea, "Go, take for yourself a woman of prostitution and children of prostitution, for the land will utterly prostitute itself away from following the Lord."

1:3 He went and took Gomer daughter of Debelaim; she conceived and bore him a son.

1:4 The Lord said to him, "Call him Jezreel, for in a little while I will avenge Jezreel's blood upon Jehu's house and put an end to the kingdom of Israel's house.

1:5 On that day I will shatter Israel's bow in the Valley of Jezreel."

1:6 She conceived again and bore a daughter. He said to him, "Call her Not Shown Mercy, for I will certainly no longer show mercy to Israel's house, but I will surely set Myself against them.

1:7 But I will show mercy to Judah's sons and save them by the Lord their God. I will not save them by bow, sword, war, chariots, horses or horsemen."

1:8 She weaned Not Shown Mercy, conceived again and bore a son.

1:9 He said, "Call him Not My People, for you are not My people, and I am not yours."

Hosea 2

2:1 The number of Israel's sons was like the sand of the sea, which will not be measured or counted. And it shall come to pass that in the place where it was said to them, 'You are not My people,' there they will be called sons of the living God.

2:2 Judah's sons and Israel's sons will gather together, appoint one authority for themselves and come up from the land, for great is Jezreel's day.

2:3 Say to your brother, 'My People,' and to your sister, 'Shown Mercy.'

2:4 "Enter into judgment with your mother, enter into judgment! For she is not My wife and I am not her husband. I will remove her prostitution from My face and her adultery from between her breasts,

2:5 so that I may strip her naked and restore her as on the day of her birth. I will make her like a wilderness, set her like a waterless land and kill her with thirst.

2:6 I will certainly show no mercy to her children, for they are children of prostitution.

2:7 For their mother prostituted herself; she who bore them brought shame. She said, 'I will follow my lovers, who give me my loaves and water, my garments and linen cloths, my oil and everything due to me.'

2:8 Therefore look, I block her way with thorns and will build up her roads, and she will certainly not find her path.

2:9 She will pursue her lovers but certainly not catch them; she will seek them but certainly not find them. She will say, 'I will go and return to my former husband, for it was better for me then than now.'

2:10 She did not know that it was I who gave her grain, wine and oil and multiplied silver for her; but she made silver and gold objects for Baal.

2:11 Therefore I will return and recover My grain at its season and My wine at its time; I will take away My garments and linen cloths so that they do not cover her shame.

2:12 Now I will uncover her uncleanness before her lovers, and certainly no one will deliver her from My hand.

2:13 I will turn away all her rejoicings, her festivals, new moons and Sabbaths, and all her festal assemblies.

2:14 I will obliterate her vine and fig trees, of which she said, 'These are my wages that my lovers gave me.' I will make them a testimony, and the field's beasts, heaven's birds and the earth's creeping things will devour them."

2:15 "I will exact vengeance upon her for the days of the Baalim, when she sacrificed to them, put on her earrings and necklaces and went after her lovers, but forgot Me," says the Lord.

2:16 "Therefore look, I am leading her astray; I will place her in a wilderness and speak to her heart,

2:17 and from there I will give her her possessions and the Valley of Achor to open her understanding. There she will be humbled as in the days of her infancy and the days of her ascent from Egypt's land.

2:18 On that day," says the Lord, "she will call Me 'My Husband' and no longer call Me 'Baalim.'

2:19 I will remove the names of the Baalim from her mouth, and they will certainly no longer remember their names.

2:20 On that day I will establish a covenant for them with the field's beasts, heaven's birds and the earth's creeping things. I will shatter bow, sword and war from the land and settle you in hope.

2:21 I will betroth you to Myself forever; I will betroth you to Myself in righteousness and judgment, in mercy and compassion,

2:22 and I will betroth you to Myself in faithfulness, and you will know the Lord.

2:23 On that day," says the Lord, "I will listen to heaven, and heaven will listen to the earth,

2:24 and the earth will listen to grain, wine and oil, and they will listen to Jezreel.

2:25 I will sow her for Myself upon the land, show mercy to Not Shown Mercy and say to Not My People, 'You are My people.' He will say, 'Thou art the Lord my God!'"

Hosea 3

3:1 The Lord said to me, "Go again and love a woman who loves evil things and is an adulteress, just as God loves Israel's sons, though they look toward foreign gods and love cakes with raisins."

3:2 I hired her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver, a gomor of barley and a nebel of wine.

3:3 I said to her, "You will remain with me many days; you must certainly not prostitute yourself or belong to another man, and I toward you."

3:4 For Israel's sons will remain many days without king or ruler, without sacrifice or altar, without priesthood or manifestations.

3:5 After these things Israel's sons will return and seek the Lord their God and David their king; they will be astonished at the Lord and His good things in the last days.

Hosea 4

4:1 Hear the Lord's word, sons of Israel, for the Lord has a case against the land's inhabitants: there is no truth, no mercy and no recognition of God upon the land.

4:2 Cursing, falsehood, murder, theft and adultery have poured over the land, and they mix bloodshed with bloodshed.

4:3 Therefore the land will mourn and diminish with all who inhabit it, with the field's beasts, the earth's creeping things and heaven's birds; the sea's fish will disappear,

4:4 so that no one brings a case and no one rebukes; but My people are like a priest being contradicted.

4:5 You will grow weak by day, and a prophet will also grow weak with you; I likened your mother to night.

4:6 My people were likened to one without knowledge. Because you thrust away recognition, I too will thrust you away from serving Me as priest. You forgot your God's law, and I too will forget your children.

4:7 According to their multitude, so they sinned against Me; I will turn their glory into dishonor.

4:8 They will eat My people's sins and take their souls amid their injustices.

4:9 It will be as with the people, so with the priest; I will exact punishment upon him for his ways and repay him for his schemes.

4:10 They will eat but certainly not be filled; they prostituted themselves but will certainly not prosper, because they abandoned keeping faith with the Lord.

4:11 My people's heart welcomed prostitution, wine and intoxicating drink.

4:12 They inquired by signs, and by his rods they announced things to him; they were led astray by a spirit of prostitution and prostituted themselves away from their God.

4:13 On the mountaintops they sacrificed, and on the hills they offered sacrifice, beneath oak, poplar and a tree providing shade, because shelter is good. Therefore your daughters will prostitute themselves and your daughters-in-law commit adultery.

4:14 I will certainly not call your daughters to account when they prostitute themselves, or your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery, for the men themselves mixed with prostitutes and sacrificed with initiates; the people who understood became entangled with a prostitute.

4:15 But you, Israel, do not be ignorant; and Judah, do not enter Gilgal or go up to the house of On, and do not swear by the living Lord.

4:16 For Israel has run wild like a heifer running wild. Now the Lord will pasture them like a lamb in an open place.

4:17 Ephraim, a partner of idols, set stumbling blocks for himself.

4:18 He chose Canaanites. They prostituted themselves thoroughly; they loved dishonor arising from their arrogance.

4:19 You are a whirlwind within its wings, and they will be put to shame because of their altars.

Hosea 5

5:1 Hear these things, priests; pay attention, house of Israel; listen, house of the king, for the judgment is against you. You became a trap at the lookout and like a net stretched over Itabyrion,

5:2 which those hunting game fixed in place. But I am your instructor.

5:3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not away from Me; for now Ephraim has prostituted himself and Israel is defiled.

5:4 They did not direct their schemes toward returning to their God, for a spirit of prostitution is within them, and they did not recognize the Lord.

5:5 Israel's arrogance will be humbled before his face. Israel and Ephraim will weaken in their injustices, and Judah too will weaken with them.

5:6 With sheep and calves they will go to seek the Lord, but they will certainly not find Him, because He turned away from them,

5:7 because they abandoned the Lord, because foreign children were born to them. Now blight will devour them and their allotments.

5:8 Blow a trumpet on the hills; sound out on the heights; proclaim in the house of On! Benjamin was beside himself;

5:9 Ephraim was brought to ruin in days of rebuke. Among Israel's tribes I revealed trustworthy things.

5:10 Judah's rulers became like people moving boundaries; upon them I will pour My onrush like water.

5:11 Ephraim oppressed his adversary and trampled judgment, because he began to follow worthless things.

5:12 I am like turmoil to Ephraim and like a goad to Judah's house.

5:13 Ephraim saw his illness and Judah his pain; Ephraim went to the Assyrians and sent ambassadors to King Jarim. But he could not heal you, and pain will certainly not cease among you.

5:14 For I am like a panther to Ephraim and like a lion to Judah's house. I seize and will go away and take, and there will be no one to rescue.

5:15 I will go and return to My place until they disappear; they will seek My face, and in their affliction they will rise early toward Me, saying,

Hosea 6

6:1 "Let us go and return to the Lord our God, because He has seized us and will heal us; He will strike and dress our wounds.

6:2 He will restore us to health after two days; on the third day we will rise and live before Him.

6:3 We will know; we will pursue knowledge of the Lord. We will find Him ready like dawn, and He will come to us like rain, early and late upon the land."

6:4 What shall I do with you, Ephraim? What shall I do with you, Judah? Your mercy is like a morning cloud and like morning dew passing away.

6:5 Therefore I mowed down your prophets; I killed them with the words of My mouth, and My judgment will go forth like light.

6:6 For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, and knowledge of God rather than whole burnt offerings.

6:7 But they are like a person transgressing a covenant; there he despised Me.

6:8 Gilead is a city working worthless things, stirring up water,

6:9 and your strength is that of a pirate. Priests concealed the Lord's road; they murdered Shechem, because they committed lawlessness.

6:10 In Israel's house I saw dreadful things, there Ephraim's prostitution; Israel and Judah were defiled.

6:11 Begin harvesting for yourself when I turn back My people's captivity,

Hosea 7

7:1 when I heal Israel. Ephraim's injustice and Samaria's wickedness will be uncovered, because they practiced falsehood. A thief will enter upon him, a robber stripping him on his road,

7:2 so that they sing together as people singing together with their heart. I remembered all their evils; now their schemes have surrounded them; they have come before My face.

7:3 With their evils they gladdened kings, and with their falsehoods, rulers.

7:4 All are adulterers, like an oven burning for the baking of something scorched by flame, from the kneading of fat until it ferments.

7:5 On your kings' days the rulers began to rage from wine; he stretched out his hand with pestilent men,

7:6 because their hearts were kindled like an oven as they battered people. All night Ephraim was filled with sleep; morning came, and he was kindled like fire's blaze.

7:7 All grew hot like an oven and devoured their judges. All their kings fell; there was no one among them calling to Me.

7:8 Ephraim mingled among his peoples; Ephraim became a cake baked in ashes and not turned.

7:9 Foreigners devoured his strength, but he did not recognize it; gray hairs blossomed upon him, but he did not know it.

7:10 Israel's arrogance will be humbled before his face, yet they did not return to the Lord their God or seek Him in all these things.

7:11 Ephraim was like a senseless dove without understanding; he called on Egypt, and they went to the Assyrians.

7:12 Whenever they go, I will cast My net over them; I will bring them down like heaven's birds. I will discipline them when their affliction is heard.

7:13 Woe to them, because they sprang away from Me! They are miserable, because they acted impiously toward Me. I redeemed them, but they spoke falsehoods against Me.

7:14 Their hearts did not cry to Me; they only howled on their beds. They cut themselves over grain and wine. They were disciplined through Me,

7:15 and I strengthened their arms, but they devised evil against Me.

7:16 They turned away toward nothing; they became like a drawn bow. Their rulers will fall by the sword because of their tongues' lack of discipline. This is their contempt in Egypt's land.

Hosea 8

8:1 Into their bosom like earth, like an eagle against the Lord's house, because they transgressed My covenant and acted impiously against My law.

8:2 They will cry to Me, 'God, we know Thee!'

8:3 Because Israel turned away good things, they pursued an enemy.

8:4 They reigned for themselves and not through Me; they ruled and did not make it known to Me. They made their silver and gold into idols for themselves, so that they might be destroyed.

8:5 Rub away your calf, Samaria! My anger was provoked against them. How long will they be incapable of being cleansed

8:6 in Israel? A craftsman made it, and it is no god, because your calf was leading people astray, Samaria.

8:7 Because they sowed wind-blasted things, their overthrow will receive them: a sheaf without strength to make flour. Even if it does make flour, foreigners will devour it.

8:8 Israel was swallowed up; now he became among the nations like a useless vessel.

8:9 Because they went up to the Assyrians; Ephraim flourished by himself, and they loved gifts.

8:10 Therefore they will be handed over among the nations. Now I will receive them, and they will pause a little from anointing a king and rulers.

8:11 Because Ephraim multiplied altars, beloved altars became occasions of sin for him.

8:12 I will write down for him a multitude and his ordinances; the beloved altars were reckoned as foreign things.

8:13 Because even if they offer a sacrifice and eat meat, the Lord will not accept them. Now He will remember their injustices and punish their sins. They returned to Egypt and will eat unclean things among the Assyrians.

8:14 Israel forgot his Maker, and they built sacred precincts; Judah multiplied walled cities. I will send fire into his cities, and it will devour their foundations.

Hosea 9

9:1 Do not rejoice, Israel, or be glad like the peoples, because you prostituted yourself away from your God; you loved gifts on every threshing floor of grain.

9:2 Threshing floor and winepress did not know them, and wine deceived them.

9:3 They did not dwell in the Lord's land; Ephraim dwelt in Egypt, and among the Assyrians they will eat unclean things.

9:4 They did not pour wine to the Lord or make it pleasant to Him. Their sacrifices are like bread of mourning to them; all who eat them will be defiled, because their loaves for their own lives will not enter the Lord's house.

9:5 What will you do on a day of assembly and on the day of the Lord's festival?

9:6 Therefore look, they will go away from Egypt's misery; Memphis will receive them, and Machmas will bury them. Destruction will inherit their silver; thorns will be in their dwellings.

9:7 The days of vengeance have come; the days of your repayment have come. Israel will be afflicted like the deranged prophet, a spirit-bearing man. Because your injustices were many, your madness increased.

9:8 Ephraim's watchman is with God; a prophet, a crooked trap upon all his ways. They fixed madness in the Lord's house.

9:9 They were corrupted as in the hill's days. He will remember his injustices; He will punish his sins.

9:10 Like a cluster of grapes in a wilderness I found Israel, and like an early lookout in a fig tree I saw their fathers. They went to Beel-phegor and became estranged into shame, and the beloved became like the detested.

9:11 Ephraim flew away like a bird; their glories are from births, labor pains and conceptions,

9:12 because even if they rear their children, they will be bereaved among humankind. Indeed, woe is upon them: My flesh is from them.

9:13 Ephraim, as I saw them, presented their children for a hunt; and Ephraim must bring his children out to piercing.

9:14 Give them, Lord—what wilt Thou give them? Give them a childless womb and dry breasts.

9:15 All their evils are at Gilgal, because there I hated them. Because of their wicked practices I will expel them from My house. I will certainly love them no longer; all their rulers are disobedient.

9:16 Ephraim suffered; he dried up at his roots; he will certainly bear fruit no longer. Even if they give birth, I will kill the desired offspring of their womb.

9:17 God will thrust them away because they did not listen to Him, and they will be wanderers among the nations.

Hosea 10

10:1 Israel is a vine with luxuriant branches, its fruit thriving. According to the abundance of his fruits he multiplied altars; according to his land's good things he built pillars.

10:2 They divided their hearts; now they will disappear. He will demolish their altars, and their pillars will suffer devastation.

10:3 Because now they will say, 'We have no king, because we did not fear the Lord; and the king—what will he do for us?'

10:4 Speaking words, false pretexts, he will make a covenant; judgment will spring up like wild grass on the field's fallow ground.

10:5 Samaria's inhabitants will dwell beside the calf of the house of On, because its people mourned over it; just as they embittered it, they will rejoice over its glory, because it was deported from it.

10:6 They bound it and carried it to the Assyrians as guest-gifts for King Jarim. He will receive Ephraim as a gift, and Israel will be ashamed of his counsel.

10:7 Samaria cast off her king like a twig on the water's surface.

10:8 The shrines of On, Israel's sins, will be removed; thorns and thistles will grow on their altars. They will say to the mountains, 'Cover us!' and to the hills, 'Fall upon us!'

10:9 From when the hills existed, Israel sinned; there they stood. Will war against the children of injustice certainly not overtake them on the hill?

10:10 He came to discipline them, and peoples will gather against them when they are disciplined for their two injustices.

10:11 Ephraim is a heifer trained to love strife, but I will come upon the finest part of her neck. I will mount Ephraim and pass over Judah in silence; Jacob will strengthen him.

10:12 Sow for yourselves in righteousness; reap life's fruit. Shine a light of knowledge for yourselves; seek the Lord until produce of righteousness comes to you.

10:13 Why did you pass over impiety in silence and reap its injustices, eating false fruit? Because you hoped in your chariots, in the multitude of your force.

10:14 Destruction will arise among your people, and all your walled places will vanish. As the ruler Salaman from the house of Jerobaal, in days of war they dashed a mother to the ground upon children.

10:15 So I will do to you, house of Israel, because of your evils. At dawn they were cast off; Israel's king was cast off.

Hosea 11

11:1 Because Israel was an infant, I loved him, and out of Egypt I summoned his children.

11:2 As I summoned them, so they departed from My presence; they sacrificed to the Baalim and burned incense to carved images.

11:3 I bound Ephraim's feet together; I took him up on My arm, but they did not know that I have healed them.

11:4 Amid human destruction I stretched them out in bonds of My love. I will be to them like a man slapping his cheeks; I will look toward him and be able to act for him.

11:5 Ephraim dwelt in Egypt, and Assur himself was his king, because he did not wish to return.

11:6 A sword grew weak in his cities and ceased in his hands, and they will eat from their schemes.

11:7 His people hang suspended from his dwelling, and God will be angry at his precious things and will certainly not exalt him.

11:8 How shall I deal with you, Ephraim? Shall I shield you, Israel? How shall I deal with you? Shall I make you like Adama and like Seboim? My heart turned within itself; My change of mind was stirred together.

11:9 I will certainly not act according to My furious anger; I will certainly not abandon Ephraim to be erased. For I am God and not a human being, holy within you, and I will not enter a city.

11:10 I will walk after the Lord. He will roar like a lion, because He Himself will howl, and children of waters will be astonished.

11:11 They will be astonished like a bird from Egypt and like a dove from the Assyrians' land, and I will restore them to their houses, says the Lord.

Hosea 12

12:1 Ephraim surrounded Me with falsehood, and Israel's house and Judah with impieties. Now God knew them, and he will be called God's holy people.

12:2 But Ephraim is an evil spirit; he pursued scorching heat all day, multiplied empty and worthless things, made a covenant with the Assyrians, and traded oil into Egypt.

12:3 The Lord has a case against Judah, to exact punishment on Jacob according to his ways; He will repay him according to his practices.

12:4 In the womb he tripped up his brother, and in his labors he prevailed against God

12:5 and prevailed with an angel and was able. They wept and entreated Me; in the house of On they found Me, and there he was spoken to.

12:6 The Lord God Almighty will be his memorial.

12:7 You will return in your God; keep mercy and judgment, and draw near to your God continually.

12:8 Canaan—in his hand is a balance of injustice; he loved to dominate.

12:9 Ephraim said, 'Indeed I have become rich; I have found refreshment for myself.' All his labors will not be found for him because of the injustices in which he sinned.

12:10 But I, the Lord your God, brought you up from Egypt's land; I will still settle you in tents as on a festival day.

12:11 I will speak to prophets; I multiplied visions and was represented in likenesses through prophets.

12:12 If Gilead does not exist—then the rulers sacrificing at Gilgal were false, and their altars are like tortoises upon the field's fallow ground.

12:13 Jacob withdrew to Syria's plain; Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept guard.

12:14 Through a prophet the Lord brought Israel up from Egypt, and through a prophet he was preserved.

12:15 Ephraim provoked anger and exasperation; his blood will be poured upon him, and the Lord will repay him for his reproach.

Hosea 13

13:1 According to Ephraim's word, he received ordinances in Israel, assigned them to Baal and died.

13:2 He still continued to sin, and they made themselves a cast image from their silver according to the likeness of idols, works completed for them by craftsmen. They say, 'Sacrifice human beings, for calves have run out!'

13:3 Therefore they will be like a morning cloud and like morning dew passing away, like chaff blown from a threshing floor and like vapor from locusts.

13:4 But I am the Lord your God, who establishes heaven and creates earth, whose hands created all heaven's host. I did not display them to you so that you should follow them. I brought you up from Egypt's land; you shall know no god except Me, and there is none who saves apart from Me.

13:5 I shepherded you in the wilderness, in an uninhabited land,

13:6 according to their pastures. They were filled to fullness, and their hearts were lifted up; for this reason they forgot Me.

13:7 I will be like a panther to them and like a leopard along the Assyrians' road.

13:8 I will meet them like a bear in distress and tear open their heart's enclosure. There forest lion cubs will devour them; field beasts will tear them apart.

13:9 In your destruction, Israel, who will help?

13:10 Where is this king of yours? Let him save you in all your cities; let him judge you, the one of whom you said, 'Give me a king and a ruler.'

13:11 I gave you a king in My anger, and in My fury I held

13:12 a bundle of injustice. Ephraim—his sin is hidden.

13:13 Pangs like those of a woman giving birth will come upon him. This son of yours is not prudent, because he will certainly not endure amid the crushing of children.

13:14 I will rescue them from Hades' hand and redeem them from death. Where is your punishment, Death? Where is your sting, Hades? Consolation is hidden from My eyes.

13:15 Because this one will make a division among brothers. The Lord will bring a scorching wind from the wilderness upon him and dry up his channels and desolate his springs; it will dry his land and all his desirable vessels.

Hosea 14

14:1 Samaria will disappear because she opposed her God. They will fall by the sword; their nursing infants will be dashed to the ground, and their pregnant women will be ripped open.

14:2 Return, Israel, to the Lord your God, because you grew weak in your injustices.

14:3 Take words with you and return to the Lord your God. Speak to Him so that you do not receive injustice but receive good things, and we will repay the fruit of our lips.

14:4 Assur will certainly not save us; we will not mount a horse, and we will certainly no longer call the works of our hands “Our gods.” The One in you will have mercy on an orphan.

14:5 I will heal their dwellings; I will love them openly, because My anger turned away from them.

14:6 I will be like dew to Israel; he will blossom like a lily and put down his roots like Lebanon.

14:7 His branches will spread, and he will be like an olive tree laden with fruit; his fragrance will be like Lebanon.

14:8 They will return and settle beneath his shelter; they will live and be filled to intoxication with grain. His memorial will blossom like a vine, like Lebanon’s wine.

14:9 As for Ephraim, what has he still to do with idols? I humbled him, and I will strengthen him. I am like a thickly shading juniper; from Me your fruit is found.

14:10 Who is wise and will understand these things, or discerning and will recognize them? For the Lord’s ways are straight; the righteous will walk in them, but the impious will grow weak in them.

Joel

Joel 1

1:1 The word of the Lord that came to Joel, the son of Bathuel.

1:2 Hear these things, elders, and give ear, all who inhabit the land! Have such things happened in your days or in your fathers' days?

1:3 Tell your children about these things, and let your children tell their children, and their children a further generation.

1:4 What the caterpillar left, the locust devoured; what the locust left, the bruchus locust devoured; what the bruchus locust left, the blight devoured.

1:5 Sober up, you drunkards, from their wine, and weep! Lament, all who drink wine to intoxication, because gladness and joy have been removed from your mouths.

1:6 For a nation has come up against My land, strong and uncountable. Its teeth are a lion's teeth, and its grinding teeth a young lion's.

1:7 It laid My vine waste and shattered My fig trees; searching, it searched it out and cast it away; it whitened its branches.

1:8 Lament to Me more than a bride wrapped in sackcloth for her first husband.

1:9 Sacrifice and drink offering have been removed from the Lord's house. Mourn, priests who minister at the altar,

1:10 because the plains have suffered. Let the earth mourn, because grain has suffered, wine has dried up, and oil has diminished.

1:11 The farmers have dried up. Lament, estates, over wheat and barley, because the harvest from the field has perished.

1:12 The vine has dried up and the fig trees have diminished; pomegranate, palm, apple tree and all the field's trees have dried up, because human beings have put joy to shame.

1:13 Wrap yourselves and beat your breasts, priests; lament, ministers of the altar! Enter and sleep in sackcloth, ministers of God, because sacrifice and drink offering have been kept away from your God's house.

1:14 Consecrate a fast; proclaim a service. Gather elders, all who inhabit the land, into your God's house, and cry earnestly to the Lord,

1:15 "Alas, alas, alas for the day! For the Lord's day is near, and it will come like suffering from suffering."

1:16 Before your eyes food was destroyed, and gladness and joy from your God's house.

1:17 Heifers leaped at their feeding troughs; storehouses disappeared, winepresses were demolished, because grain dried up.

1:18 What shall we store up for ourselves? Herds of cattle wept because they had no pasture, and flocks of sheep disappeared.

1:19 To Thee, Lord, I will cry, because fire consumed the beautiful places of the wilderness, and flame kindled all the field's trees.

1:20 Even the animals of the plain looked up toward Thee, because outlets of water dried up, and fire devoured the beautiful places of the wilderness.

Joel 2

2:1 Blow a trumpet in Zion! Proclaim on My holy mountain, and let all who inhabit the land be thrown into turmoil, because the Lord's day is present; it is near,

2:2 a day of darkness and gloom, a day of cloud and mist. Like dawn a numerous and strong people will be poured over the mountains. Its like has never existed, nor will another follow it through the years, for generations upon generations.

2:3 Before it is consuming fire, and behind it a kindled flame. The land before its face is like a garden of delight, and behind it a desolate plain; no one will escape it.

2:4 Their appearance is like the sight of horses; like riders they will pursue.

2:5 With a sound like chariots they will leap upon mountain peaks, like the sound of a fiery flame devouring stubble, like a numerous and strong people arrayed for war.

2:6 Before it peoples will be crushed; every face is like the scorching of a pot.

2:7 Like fighters they will run, and like soldiers they will climb the walls. Each will go on his own road, and they certainly will not turn aside from their paths,

2:8 and no one will hold back from his brother. Burdened with their weapons they will go, and among their missiles they will fall, yet they will certainly not be destroyed.

2:9 They will seize the city and run upon the walls; they will climb upon the houses and enter through windows like thieves.

2:10 Before them the earth will be thrown into turmoil and heaven shaken; the sun and moon will grow dark, and the stars will sink their brightness.

2:11 The Lord will give His voice before His force, because His camp is very large, because the works of His words are strong. For the Lord's day is great, great and very manifest; who will be sufficient for it?

2:12 "And now," says the Lord your God, "turn to Me with your whole heart, with fasting, weeping and mourning."

2:13 Tear your hearts, not your garments, and turn to the Lord your God, because He is merciful and compassionate, patient and abundant in mercy, and relents concerning calamities.

2:14 Who knows whether He will turn and relent and leave a blessing behind Him, a sacrifice and drink offering for the Lord our God?

2:15 Blow a trumpet in Zion! Consecrate a fast; proclaim a service.

2:16 Gather the people; consecrate the congregation. Choose elders; gather infants nursing at breasts. Let the bridegroom leave his bedroom and the bride her bridal chamber.

2:17 In the midst of the altar's platform the priests who minister to the Lord will weep and say, "Spare Thy people, Lord, and do not give Thine inheritance to reproach, for nations to rule over them, so that they do not say among the nations, 'Where is their God?'"

2:18 Then the Lord became jealous for His land and spared His people.

2:19 The Lord answered His people: "Look, I am sending out to you grain, wine and oil, and you will be filled with them. I will no longer give you over to reproach among the nations,

2:20 and I will drive away from you the one from the north and thrust it into a waterless land. I will make its front disappear into the first sea and its rear into the last sea; its decay will rise, and its stench will rise, because it magnified its deeds."

2:21 Take courage, land! Rejoice and be glad, because the Lord has done great things.

2:22 Take courage, animals of the plain, because the wilderness plains have sprouted, because a tree bore its fruit; vine and fig tree have given their strength.

2:23 Children of Zion, rejoice and be glad in the Lord your God, because He gave you food for righteousness, and He will rain upon you early and late rainfall as before.

2:24 Threshing floors will be filled with grain, and winepresses will overflow with wine and oil.

2:25 "I will repay you for the years the locust devoured, the bruchus locust, the blight and the caterpillar—My great force that I sent among you.

2:26 You will eat abundantly and be filled, and praise the name of the Lord your God for the wonders He has done with you. My people will certainly never be put to shame,

2:27 and you will recognize that I am in Israel's midst, that I am the Lord your God and there is no other besides Me. All My people will certainly never again be put to shame."

Joel 3

3:1 "And it shall be after these things, that I will pour out of My Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your elders shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions.

3:2 Even upon male slaves and female slaves in those days I will pour out of My Spirit.

3:3 I will give wonders in heaven and upon the earth: blood, fire and a vapor of smoke.

3:4 The sun will turn to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the Lord's great and manifest day.

3:5 And it shall come to pass that everyone who calls upon the name of the Lord will be saved, for on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be one who escapes, as the Lord said, and bearers of good news whom the Lord has called."

Joel 4

4:1 "For look, in those days and at that time, when I turn back the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

4:2 I will gather all the nations and bring them down to the Valley of Jehoshaphat. There I will enter into judgment with them over My people and My inheritance Israel, who were scattered among the nations; and they divided up My land

4:3 and cast lots over My people; they gave the boys to prostitutes and sold the girls for wine, which they drank.

4:4 What have you to do with Me, Tyre and Sidon and all Galilee of foreigners? Are you repaying Me a recompense? Or do you bear a sharp grudge against Me? I will speedily repay your recompense upon your heads,

4:5 because you took My silver and gold and brought My chosen and beautiful things into your temples,

4:6 and sold the sons of Judah and the sons of Jerusalem to the sons of the Greeks, so as to thrust them out of their own borders.

4:7 Look, I am rousing them from the place to which you sold them, and I will repay your recompense upon your heads,

4:8 and I will sell your sons and daughters into the hands of the sons of Judah, and they will sell them into captivity to a nation far away, because the Lord has spoken.”

4:9 Proclaim these things among the nations: Consecrate war! Rouse the fighters! Draw near and come up, all soldiers!

4:10 Beat your plows into swords and your sickles into lances; let the powerless say, “I am strong!”

4:11 Assemble and enter, all surrounding nations, and gather there! Let the meek become a fighter!

4:12 Let all the nations be roused and come up to the Valley of Jehoshaphat, because there I will sit to judge all the surrounding nations.

4:13 Send out sickles, because the vintage is at hand! Enter and tread, because the winepress is full; the vats overflow, because their evils have multiplied.

4:14 Sounds rang out in the Valley of Judgment, because the Lord’s day is near in the Valley of Judgment.

4:15 The sun and moon will grow dark, and the stars will sink their brightness.

4:16 The Lord will cry out from Zion and give His voice from Jerusalem; heaven and earth will shake. But the Lord will spare His people, and the Lord will strengthen the sons of Israel.

4:17 You will recognize that I am the Lord your God, dwelling in Zion on My holy mountain. Jerusalem will be a holy city, and foreigners will no longer pass through her.

4:18 On that day mountains will drip sweetness, hills will flow with milk, and all Judah’s water outlets will flow with water. A spring will come out of the Lord’s house and water the Wadi of Rushes.

4:19 Egypt will become desolate, and Idumea a desolate plain, because of injustices concerning the sons of Judah, because they poured out righteous blood in their land.

4:20 But Judea will be inhabited forever, and Jerusalem for generations upon generations.

4:21 “I will avenge their blood, and I will certainly not acquit.” And the Lord will dwell in Zion.

Amos

Amos 1

1:1 The words of Amos that came among nakkarim from Tekoa, which he saw concerning Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah king of Judah and Jeroboam son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

1:2 He said: “The Lord spoke from Zion and gave His voice from Jerusalem; the shepherds’ pastures mourned, and Carmel’s summit dried up.”

1:3 The Lord said: “For three impieties of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn away from him, because they sawed the pregnant women of those in Gilead with iron saws.

1:4 I will send fire into Hazael’s house, and it will devour the foundations of the son of Ader,

1:5 and I will shatter Damascus’s bars and destroy inhabitants from the Plain of On. I will cut down a tribe from the men of Harran, and the people of Syria, called by name, will be taken captive,” says the Lord.

1:6 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of Gaza, and for four, I will not turn away from them, because they took Solomon’s captives into captivity, to shut them up in Idumea.

1:7 I will send fire upon Gaza’s walls, and it will devour her foundations.

1:8 I will destroy inhabitants from Azotus, and a tribe will be removed from Ascalon. I will bring My hand against Accaron, and the remaining foreigners will perish,” says the Lord.

1:9 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of Tyre, and for four, I will not turn away from her, because they shut Solomon’s captives up in Idumea and did not remember a covenant of brothers.

1:10 I will send fire upon Tyre’s walls, and it will devour her foundations.”

1:11 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of Idumea, and for four, I will not turn away from them, because they pursued his brother with a sword; he ravaged a womb upon the earth, seized his shuddering as testimony, and kept his onrush for victory.

1:12 I will send fire into Teman, and it will devour the foundations of her walls.”

1:13 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of the sons of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn away from him, because they ripped open the pregnant women of the Gileadites in order to enlarge their borders.

1:14 I will kindle fire upon Rabbah’s walls, and it will devour her foundations with shouting on the day of war; she will be shaken on the day of her end.

1:15 Her kings will go into captivity, their priests and their rulers together,” says the Lord.

Amos 2

2:1 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of Moab, and for four, I will not turn away from him, because they burned the bones of Idumea’s king into lime.

2:2 I will send fire upon Moab, and it will devour the foundations of her cities. Moab will die in weakness, with shouting and the sound of a trumpet.

2:3 I will destroy the judge from her, and kill all her rulers with him,” says the Lord.

2:4 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of the sons of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away from him, because they rejected the Lord’s law and did not keep His ordinances. Their vain things, which they made, led them astray—the things their fathers followed.

2:5 I will send fire upon Judah, and it will devour Jerusalem’s foundations.”

2:6 Thus says the Lord: “For three impieties of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away from him, because they sold a righteous person for silver and a poor person for sandals,

2:7 which tread upon the earth’s dust. They struck the heads of the poor with their fists and turned aside the way of the humble; a son and his father went in to the same young slave woman, to profane the name of their God,

2:8 and, tying their garments with cords, they made hangings next to the altar, and drank wine from extortions in their God’s house.

2:9 But I removed the Amorite from before them, whose height was like a cedar and who was strong as an oak. I removed his fruit above and his roots below.

2:10 I brought you up from Egypt’s land and led you around in the wilderness forty years, to inherit the Amorites’ land.

2:11 I took some of your sons as prophets and some of your young men for consecration. Are these things not so, sons of Israel?” says the Lord.

2:12 “But you gave the consecrated ones wine to drink and commanded the prophets, saying, ‘You must not prophesy!’

2:13 Therefore look, I roll beneath you as a wagon full of straw rolls,

2:14 and flight will perish from the runner, the mighty one will certainly not maintain his strength, and the fighter will certainly not save his life,

2:15 and the archer will certainly not stand, the swift of foot will certainly not be saved, nor will the horseman save his life,

2:16 and he will find his heart among powers; the naked one will pursue on that day," says the Lord.

Amos 3

3:1 Hear this word that the Lord spoke against you, house of Israel, and against every tribe I brought up from Egypt's land, saying:

3:2 "You alone have I known among all the earth's tribes; therefore I will exact judgment upon you for all your sins."

3:3 Will two go together at all unless they make themselves known to one another?

3:4 Will a lion roar from its thicket without prey? Will a young lion give its voice from its enclosure at all unless it has seized something?

3:5 Will a bird fall upon the ground without a fowler? Will a trap be sprung upon the ground without catching something?

3:6 Will a trumpet sound in a city and the people not be alarmed? Will there be calamity in a city that the Lord has not done?

3:7 For the Lord God will certainly do no deed unless He reveals His discipline to His servants the prophets.

3:8 A lion will roar—and who will not fear? The Lord God has spoken—and who will not prophesy?

3:9 Announce to the regions among the Assyrians and to Egypt's regions: "Gather upon Samaria's mountain and see the many astonishing things in her midst and the oppression within her!"

3:10 "She did not know what would be against her," says the Lord—those storing injustice and suffering in their regions.

3:11 Therefore thus says the Lord God: "Tyre, your land will be desolated all around; he will bring down your strength from you, and your regions will be plundered."

3:12 Thus says the Lord: "As when a shepherd snatches two legs or an earlobe from a lion's mouth, so the sons of Israel who dwell in Samaria will be snatched out, opposite a tribe, and priests in Damascus."

3:13 "Hear and bear witness to Jacob's house," says the Lord God Almighty,

3:14 "because on the day I exact judgment upon Israel for its impieties, I will also exact judgment upon Bethel's altars. The altar's horns will be demolished and fall upon the ground,

3:15 and I will confound and strike the colonnaded house along with the summer house. Ivory houses will perish, and many other houses will be added," says the Lord.

Amos 4

4:1 Hear this word, heifers of Bashan on Samaria's mountain, who oppress the poor and trample the needy, who say to their masters, "Give to us so that we may drink!"

4:2 The Lord swears by His holy things: "Look, days are coming upon you, and they will take you with weapons; fiery pestilences will throw those with you into cauldrons burning underneath,

4:3 and you will be carried out naked opposite one another and thrown onto Mount Remman," says the Lord God.

4:4 "You entered Bethel and acted lawlessly; at Gilgal you multiplied impiety. You brought your sacrifices for the morning and your tithes for the three-day period,

4:5 and they read a law outside and invoked acknowledgments. Announce that the sons of Israel loved these things," says the Lord God.

4:6 "I will give you aching teeth in all your cities and shortage of bread in all your places; yet you did not turn to Me," says the Lord.

4:7 "I withheld rainfall from you three months before the vintage. I will rain on one city but not on another; one portion will be watered, and the portion on which I do not rain will dry up,

4:8 and two or three cities will assemble at one city to drink water, yet they certainly will not be filled; and you did not turn to Me," says the Lord.

4:9 "I struck you with burning and jaundice. You multiplied your gardens; the caterpillar devoured your vineyards, fig orchards and olive groves, yet not even so did you turn to Me," says the Lord.

4:10 "I sent death among you on Egypt's road and killed your young men with the sword, along with the captivity of your horses. I brought your camps up in fire in My anger; yet not even so did you turn to Me," says the Lord.

4:11 "I overthrew you as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and you became like a firebrand snatched from fire. Yet not even so did you turn to Me," says the Lord.

4:12 “Therefore this is what I will do to you, Israel. Since I will do this to you, prepare to call upon your God, Israel!”

4:13 For look, I am the One establishing thunder and creating wind, announcing His anointed to human beings, making dawn and mist, and stepping upon the earth’s heights. The Lord God Almighty is His name.

Amos 5

5:1 Hear this word of the Lord that I take up over you as a lament, house of Israel:

5:2 “Virgin Israel has fallen; she will certainly not rise again. She stumbled upon her land; no one will raise her.”

5:3 For thus says the Lord, the Lord: “From the city out of which a thousand went, a hundred will remain, and from the one out of which a hundred went, ten will remain for Israel’s house.”

5:4 For thus says the Lord to Israel’s house: “Seek Me and you will live!

5:5 Do not seek Bethel, do not enter Gilgal, and do not cross over to the Well of the Oath; for Gilgal will certainly be taken captive, and Bethel will be as though it did not exist.”

5:6 Seek the Lord and live, so that Joseph’s house does not flare up like fire; it will devour him, and there will be no one to quench it for Israel’s house.

5:7 The Lord makes judgment on high and has placed righteousness upon the earth,

5:8 making all things and refashioning them, turning death’s shadow into morning and darkening day into night; He calls for the sea’s water and pours it upon the earth’s surface. The Lord God Almighty is His name,

5:9 the One distributing shattering against strength and bringing suffering upon a fortress.

5:10 They hated one who reproved at the gates and abhorred a holy word.

5:11 Therefore, because you struck the poor with fists and accepted choice gifts from them, you built houses of polished stone but certainly will not inhabit them; you planted desirable vineyards but certainly will not drink their wine.

5:12 For I knew your many impieties, and your sins are strong: trampling the righteous, taking payments and turning aside the poor at the gates.

5:13 Therefore the understanding person will be silent at that time, because it is an evil time.

5:14 Seek the good and not the evil, so that you may live; then the Lord God Almighty will be with you, just as you said,

5:15 “We have hated evil things and loved good things.” Restore judgment at the gates, so that the Lord God Almighty may have mercy on Joseph’s remaining ones.

5:16 Therefore thus says the Lord God Almighty: “In every square there will be mourning, and in every road it will be said, ‘Alas, alas!’ A farmer will be called to mourning and lamentation and to those skilled in wailing,

5:17 and in every road there will be mourning, because I will pass through your midst,” said the Lord.

5:18 Woe to those desiring the Lord’s day! Why is this Lord’s day for you? It is darkness, not light,

5:19 as when someone flees from a lion and a bear falls upon him, then leaps into his house, braces his hands upon the wall, and a snake bites him.

5:20 Is not the Lord’s day darkness rather than light, gloom that has no brightness in it?

5:21 “I have hated and rejected your festivals, and I certainly will not smell a pleasing scent in your festal gatherings,

5:22 because even if you bring Me whole burnt offerings and your sacrifices, I will not receive them, and I will not look upon the salvation offering of your display.

5:23 Remove from Me the sound of your songs; I will not listen to the music of your instruments,

5:24 and judgment shall roll as water, and righteousness as an impassable torrent.

5:25 Did you offer Me slaughtered offerings and sacrifices in the wilderness for forty years, house of Israel?

5:26 You took up the tent of Moloch and the star of your god Raiphan, their figures that you made for yourselves.

5:27 I will deport you beyond Damascus,” says the Lord; God Almighty is His name.

Amos 6

6:1 Woe to those who despise Zion and trust in Samaria’s mountain! They harvested the firstfruits of nations and entered themselves. House of Israel,

6:2 all of you cross over and see; pass from there to Emath Rabba, and go down from there to Geth of foreigners, the strongest of all these kingdoms, to see whether their borders are greater than your borders.

6:3 You come toward an evil day, drawing near and touching false sabbaths,

6:4 sleeping upon ivory beds and indulging upon your couches, eating young goats from the flocks and milk-fed calves from the herds,

6:5 clapping to the sound of instruments; they reckoned them as lasting, not passing away,

6:6 drinking strained wine and anointing yourselves with the finest perfumes, yet suffering nothing over Joseph's shattering.

6:7 Therefore now they will be captives from the foremost of the powerful, and horses' neighing will be removed from Ephraim.

6:8 For the Lord swore by Himself: "I abhor all Jacob's arrogance and have hated his regions; I will remove the city with all who inhabit it."

6:9 If ten men remain in one house, they will die, and those left over will remain.

6:10 Their relatives will take them and force their way to bring their bones out of the house. He will say to those in charge of the house, "Is there anyone else with you?" He will say, "No more." Then he will say, "Be silent, so as not to name the Lord's name."

6:11 For look, the Lord commands, and He will strike the great house with fractures and the small house with cracks.

6:12 Will horses pursue upon rocks? Will they remain silent among females? For you turned judgment into anger and the fruit of righteousness into bitterness,

6:13 rejoicing over nothing, saying, "Did we not acquire horns by our own strength?"

6:14 "For look, I am raising a nation against you, house of Israel, and they will crush you so that you cannot enter Emath, as far as the Wadi of the West."

Amos 7

7:1 The Lord showed me this: Look, a brood of locusts was coming at dawn, and look, one bruchus locust, Gog the king.

7:2 When it finishes devouring the land's grass, I said, "Lord, Lord, be merciful! Who will raise Jacob? He is so few!

7:3 Relent, Lord, concerning this." "This will not happen," says the Lord.

7:4 The Lord showed me this: Look, the Lord called for judgment by fire; it devoured the great abyss and devoured the portion.

7:5 I said, "Lord, Lord, cease, please! Who will raise Jacob? He is so few!

7:6 Relent, Lord, concerning this." "This certainly will not happen," says the Lord.

7:7 The Lord showed me this: Look, a man was standing upon an adamant wall, with adamant in his hand.

7:8 The Lord said to me, "What do you see, Amos?" I said, "Adamant." The Lord said to me, "Look, I am setting adamant in the midst of My people Israel. I will certainly no longer pass them by,

7:9 and the altars of laughter will disappear, and Israel's rites will be laid waste. I will rise against Jeroboam's house with a sword."

7:10 Amaziah, priest of Bethel, sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, "Amos is forming conspiracies against you in the midst of Israel's house. The land certainly cannot endure all his words,

7:11 because Amos says, 'Jeroboam will die by a sword, and Israel will be led captive away from its land.'"

7:12 Amaziah said to Amos, "Seer, go! Withdraw to Judah's land; make your living there, and there you will prophesy.

7:13 But you must never again prophesy at Bethel, because it is a king's sanctuary and a house of kingship."

7:14 Amos answered Amaziah, "I was no prophet or prophet's son, but a goat herder and one who scratches sycamore figs,

7:15 and the Lord took me from the sheep, and the Lord said to me, 'Go, prophesy to My people Israel.'

7:16 Now hear the Lord's word: You say, 'Do not prophesy against Israel, and you must not stir up a crowd against Jacob's house.'

7:17 Therefore thus says the Lord: 'Your wife will practice prostitution in the city, your sons and daughters will fall by a sword, and your land will be measured out with a cord. You will die in an unclean land, and Israel will be led captive away from its land.'"

Amos 8

8:1 The Lord showed me this: Look, a fowler's vessel.

8:2 He said, "What do you see, Amos?" I said, "A fowler's vessel." The Lord said to me, "The end has arrived upon My people Israel. I will certainly no longer pass them by.

8:3 The temple's coffered ceilings will wail. On that day," says the Lord, "many have fallen in every place. I will cast silence upon them."

8:4 Hear these things now, you who wear out the needy until morning and oppress the poor out of the land,

8:5 saying, “When will the month pass, so we may trade, and the sabbaths, so we may open storehouses, making the measure small and the weights great and making an unjust balance,

8:6 to acquire the poor with silver and a lowly person in exchange for sandals? And we will trade from every kind of produce.”

8:7 The Lord swears by Jacob’s arrogance: “He will never forget all your works.”

8:8 Will the earth not be disturbed over these things, and everyone dwelling in it mourn? A consummation will rise like a river and descend like Egypt’s river.

8:9 “On that day,” says the Lord God, “the sun will set at midday, and the light will grow dark upon the earth in daytime.

8:10 I will turn your festivals to mourning and all your songs to lamentation. I will put sackcloth on every waist and baldness on every head; I will make him like mourning for a beloved one, and those with him like a day of pain.

8:11 Look, days are coming,” says the Lord, “when I will send famine upon the earth: not famine for bread or thirst for water, but famine for hearing the Lord’s word.

8:12 Waters will be shaken as far as the sea, and from north to east they will run about seeking the Lord’s word, but certainly will not find it.

8:13 On that day the beautiful virgins and the young men will faint from thirst,

8:14 those who swear by Samaria’s propitiation and say, ‘Your god lives, Dan!’ and ‘Your god lives, Beersheba!’ They will fall and certainly never rise again.”

Amos 9

9:1 I saw the Lord standing upon the altar. He said, “Strike the atonement cover, and the foregates will shake; cut through the heads of all. I will kill their survivors with a sword. No one fleeing from among them will escape, and no one seeking safety will be saved.

9:2 If they burrow into Hades, My hand will pull them up from there; if they climb to heaven, I will bring them down from there.

9:3 If they hide on Carmel’s summit, I will search them out and take them from there. If they plunge from My eyes into the sea’s depths, I will command the dragon there, and it will bite them.

9:4 If they go into captivity before their enemies, I will command the sword there, and it will kill them. I will fix My eyes upon them for evils and not for good things.”

9:5 The Lord, Lord God Almighty, touches the earth and shakes it; all who dwell in it will mourn. Its consummation will rise like a river and descend like Egypt’s river.

9:6 He builds His ascent into heaven and establishes His promise upon the earth; He calls for the sea’s water and pours it upon the earth’s surface. The Lord God Almighty is His name.

9:7 “Are you not like the children of Ethiopians to Me, children of Israel?” says the Lord. “Did I not bring Israel up from Egypt’s land, the foreigners from Cappadocia and the Syrians from a pit?

9:8 Look, the Lord God’s eyes are upon the kingdom of sinners, and I will remove it from the earth’s surface. Yet I will not completely remove Jacob’s house,” says the Lord.

9:9 “For look, I am giving a command: I will winnow Israel’s house among all the nations as one winnows in a winnowing basket, and no fragment will fall to the ground.

9:10 All the sinners of My people will die by a sword, those who say, ‘Evils certainly will not draw near or come upon us.’

9:11 On that day I will raise David’s fallen tent; I will rebuild its fallen parts, raise its demolished parts and rebuild it as in days of old,

9:12 so that the remnant of humankind and all the nations over whom My name has been called may seek,” says the Lord God, who does these things.

9:13 “Look, days are coming,” says the Lord, “when threshing will overtake the vintage and grapes will darken to ripeness at seedtime. The mountains will drip sweetness, and all the hills will be planted together.

9:14 I will reverse the captivity of My people Israel. They will build ruined cities and inhabit them, plant vineyards and drink their wine, plant gardens and eat their fruit.

9:15 I will plant them upon their land, and they will certainly never again be uprooted from the land I have given them,” says the Lord God Almighty.

Obadiah

Obadiah 1

1:1 The vision of Obadiah. Thus says the Lord God to Idumea: I heard a report from the Lord, and He sent a dispatch to the nations: “Rise up! Let us rise against her for battle!”

1:2 Look, I have made you insignificant among the nations; you are greatly dishonored.

1:3 The pride of your heart has lifted you up, you who camp in holes in the rocks, raising his dwelling high and saying in his heart, “Who will bring me down to the ground?”

1:4 If you soar like an eagle, and if you place your nest among the stars, from there I will bring you down, says the Lord.

1:5 If thieves came in to you, or robbers by night, where would you have been cast away? Would they not have stolen enough for themselves? And if grape gatherers came in to you, would they not have left a gleaning?

1:6 How Esau has been searched out, and his hidden things seized!

1:7 All the men of your covenant sent you out as far as your borders; the men at peace with you opposed you and prevailed over you. They set ambushes beneath you. There is no understanding in them.

1:8 On that day, says the Lord, I will destroy the wise from Idumea and understanding from Mount Esau.

1:9 Your warriors from Teman will be terrified, so that a person may be removed from Mount Esau,

1:10 because of the slaughter and the impiety toward your brother Jacob; and shame will cover you, and you will be removed forever.

1:11 From the day you stood opposed, on the day foreigners took his strength captive and strangers entered his gates and cast lots over Jerusalem, you too were like one of them.

1:12 Do not look on your brother’s day, on the day of strangers; do not rejoice over the sons of Judah on the day of their destruction; do not speak boastfully on the day of affliction.

1:13 Do not enter the gates of peoples on the day of their suffering. You, too, must not look on their assembly on the day of their destruction, and do not join in attacking their strength on the day of their destruction.

1:14 Do not stand at their escape routes to destroy those of them who are being saved, and do not shut in those fleeing from them on the day of affliction.

1:15 For the day of the Lord is near against all the nations. Just as you acted, so it will be for you; your recompense will be repaid upon your own head.

1:16 For just as you drank on My holy mountain, all the nations will drink wine; they will drink and go down, and they will be as though they did not exist.

1:17 But on Mount Zion there will be salvation, and it will be holy; the house of Jacob will possess those who possessed them.

1:18 The house of Jacob will be a fire, the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau stubble. They will blaze against them and consume them, and there will be no bearer of fire in the house of Esau, because the Lord has spoken.

1:19 Those in the Negeb will possess the mountain of Esau, and those in the Shephelah will possess the foreigners. They will possess the mountain of Ephraim, the plain of Samaria, Benjamin and the land of Gilead.

1:20 And this is the beginning of the deportation: for the sons of Israel, the land of the Canaanites as far as Zarephath; and the deportation of Jerusalem as far as Ephrathah. They will inherit the cities of the Negeb.

1:21 And men who have been saved shall ascend from Mount Zion to execute judgment upon the mountain of Esau; and the kingdom shall be the Lord’s.

Jonah

Jonah 1

1:1 The word of the Lord came to Jonah, the son of Amittai, saying:

1:2 “Rise and go to Nineveh, the great city, and proclaim in it, for the outcry of its wickedness has come up to Me.”

1:3 But Jonah rose to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the Lord. He went down to Joppa, found a ship traveling to Tarshish, paid its fare and boarded it, to sail with them to Tarshish from the presence of the Lord.

1:4 The Lord stirred up a wind upon the sea, and there was a great surge on the sea; the ship was in danger of being shattered.

1:5 The sailors were afraid, and each was crying out to their god. They threw the equipment in the ship into the sea, to lighten their load. But Jonah had gone down into the hollow of the ship, and was sleeping and snoring.

1:6 The ship’s officer approached him and said, “Why are you snoring? Rise and call upon your god, so that the god may bring us safely through and we may not perish.”

1:7 Each said to his neighbor, “Come, let us cast lots and learn on whose account this calamity is among us.” They cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah.

1:8 They said to him, “Tell us on whose account this calamity is among us. What is your occupation? Where do you come from? What country and what people are you from?”

1:9 He said to them, “I am a servant of the Lord, and I worship the Lord, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the dry land.”

1:10 The men were greatly afraid and said to him, “What is this you have done?” For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them.

1:11 They said to him, “What shall we do to you, so that the sea may subside for us?” For the sea kept raising a greater surge.

1:12 Jonah said to them, “Lift me up and throw me into the sea; then the sea will subside for you. For I know that this great surge is upon you because of me.”

1:13 But the men strained to return to land and could not, for the sea kept rising more fiercely against them.

1:14 They cried out to the Lord and said, “By no means, Lord! May we not perish for this man’s life, and do not lay innocent blood upon us, for Thou, Lord, hast done as Thou didst wish.”

1:15 They took Jonah and threw him out into the sea, and the sea stopped its tossing.

1:16 The men feared the Lord with great fear, offered a sacrifice to the Lord and made vows.

Jonah 2

2:1 The Lord commanded a great sea creature to swallow Jonah, and Jonah was in the sea creature’s belly three days and three nights.

2:2 Jonah prayed to the Lord his God from the sea creature’s belly,

2:3 and said: “In my affliction I cried to the Lord my God, and He listened to me. From the belly of Hades Thou didst hear the voice of my cry.

2:4 Thou didst cast me into the depths of the heart of the sea, and rivers encircled me. All Thy billows and Thy waves passed over me.

2:5 I said, ‘I have been thrust away from Thine eyes. Shall I again look toward Thy holy sanctuary?’

2:6 Water poured around me up to my life; the uttermost abyss encircled me; my head sank into clefts of mountains.

2:7 I descended into a land whose bars are everlasting restraints; and let the ruin of my life rise up, Lord my God.

2:8 As my life was failing me, I remembered the Lord; may my prayer come to Thee, into Thy holy sanctuary.

2:9 Those who guard vain and false things abandoned their mercy.

2:10 But I, with a voice of praise and thanksgiving, will sacrifice to Thee. Whatever I vowed I will repay to Thee, for deliverance to the Lord!”

2:11 The sea creature was commanded, and it cast Jonah out onto dry land.

Jonah 3

3:1 The word of the Lord came to Jonah a second time, saying:

3:2 “Rise and go to Nineveh, the great city, and proclaim in it according to the former proclamation that I spoke to you.”

3:3 Jonah rose and went to Nineveh as the Lord had spoken. Now Nineveh was a city great before God, about a three-day journey.

3:4 And Jonah began to enter the city, about a day's journey, and he proclaimed and said, "Three more days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown."

3:5 The people of Nineveh believed God, proclaimed a fast and put on sackcloth, from their greatest to their least.

3:6 The word reached the king of Nineveh. He rose from his throne, took his robe off himself, wrapped himself in sackcloth and sat in ashes.

3:7 It was proclaimed and declared in Nineveh from the king and his nobles: "Let people and livestock, cattle and sheep, taste nothing; let them not graze or drink water."

3:8 People and livestock clothed themselves in sackcloth, and they cried earnestly to God. Each turned away from his evil way and from the injustice in their hands, saying:

3:9 "Who knows whether God will relent and turn from His fierce anger, so that we certainly do not perish?"

3:10 God saw their deeds, that they had turned from their evil ways. God relented concerning the calamity He had said He would bring upon them, and He did not do it.

Jonah 4

4:1 Jonah was grieved with great grief and was disturbed.

4:2 He prayed to the Lord and said, "O Lord, were these not my words while I was still in my own land? That is why I was quick to flee to Tarshish, for I knew that Thou art merciful and compassionate, patient, abundant in mercy, and relenting concerning calamities.

4:3 And now, Master Lord, take my life from me, for it is better for me to die than to live."

4:4 The Lord said to Jonah, "Are you deeply grieved?"

4:5 Jonah went out of the city and sat opposite the city. He made himself a shelter there and sat beneath it in the shade, until he could see what would happen to the city.

4:6 The Lord God commanded a gourd, and it grew up above Jonah's head, to provide shade over his head and shelter him from his troubles. Jonah rejoiced over the gourd with great joy.

4:7 God commanded a worm at dawn the next day; it struck the gourd, and it dried up.

4:8 As the sun rose, God commanded a burning, scorching wind. The sun struck Jonah's head; he lost heart, renounced his life and said, "It is better for me to die than to live."

4:9 God said to Jonah, "Are you deeply grieved about the gourd?" He said, "I am deeply grieved, even to death."

4:10 The Lord said, "You spared the gourd, over which you did not toil and which you did not nurture, which came to be in a night and perished in a night.

4:11 And shall I not spare Nineveh, the great city, in which dwell more than one hundred and twenty thousand people who do not know their right from their left, and much livestock?"

Micah

Micah 1

1:1 The word of the Lord came to Michaiah of Morashthi in the days of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, concerning what he saw about Samaria and Jerusalem.

1:2 Hear words, you peoples! Let the earth and everyone in it attend! The Lord will be among you as a testimony, the Lord from His holy house.

1:3 For look, the Lord is coming out of His place; He will descend and step upon the heights of the earth,

1:4 and the mountains will be shaken beneath Him, and the valleys will melt like wax before fire and like water flowing downhill.

1:5 All this is because of Jacob's impiety and the sin of Israel's house. What is Jacob's impiety? Is it not Samaria? And what is the sin of Judah's house? Is it not Jerusalem?

1:6 I will make Samaria a fruit watcher's hut in a field and a vineyard plantation. I will pull her stones down into a chasm and uncover her foundations.

1:7 They will cut up all her carved images and burn all her wages in fire, and I will consign all her idols to obliteration. For she gathered from prostitution wages and amassed from prostitution wages.

1:8 Because of this she will lament and mourn; she will go barefoot and naked. She will make lamentation like dragons and mourning like daughters of sirens.

1:9 For her blow has prevailed; it came as far as Judah and touched the gate of My people, as far as Jerusalem.

1:10 You in Gath, do not magnify yourselves! You in Akim, do not rebuild from a house for laughter; sprinkle yourselves with earth in keeping with your laughter.

1:11 Dwelling well in her cities, the inhabitant of Sennaan did not come out to mourn the house adjoining her; she will receive from you a blow of pain.

1:12 Who began good things for the woman dwelling in pains? For calamities came down from the Lord upon Jerusalem's gates,

1:13 the noise of chariots and horsemen. Inhabitant of Lachish, she is a leader of sin to the daughter of Zion, for Israel's impieties were found in you.

1:14 Therefore you will give away those being sent as far as the inheritance of Gath—vain houses; it became empty things for Israel's kings.

1:15 Until I bring heirs to you, O inheritance dwelling in Lachish, the glory of Israel's daughter will come as far as Odollam.

1:16 Shave yourself and shear your hair for your delicate children. Enlarge your widowhood like an eagle, for they have been taken captive away from you.

Micah 2

2:1 They became people planning troubles and working evil on their beds, and at daybreak they carried them out, because they did not raise their hands to God.

2:2 They coveted fields and plundered orphans, oppressed houses and plundered a man and his house, a man and his inheritance.

2:3 Therefore thus says the Lord: "Look, I am planning calamities against this tribe, from which you will certainly not lift your necks, and you will certainly not suddenly walk upright, for it is an evil time.

2:4 On that day a parable will be taken up against you, and a lament will be sung in melody, saying: 'We have suffered grievous misery! The portion of My people was measured with a cord, and there was no one to prevent him from turning away; our fields were divided.'

2:5 Therefore you will have no one casting a measuring cord by lot in the assembly of the Lord.

2:6 Do not weep with tears, nor let them shed tears over these things, for he will not reject reproaches.

2:7 The one who says, 'Jacob's house has provoked the Lord's Spirit': Are these his practices? Are not his words good with him, and have they walked uprightly?

2:8 And formerly My people stood opposed in enmity; facing his peace, they flayed his skin to take away hope—a shattering of war.

2:9 Therefore the leaders of My people will be cast out of their luxurious houses; because of their evil practices they were expelled. Draw near to everlasting mountains!

2:10 Rise and go, for this is no resting place for you because of uncleanness. You were corrupted with corruption,

2:11 you were pursued with no one pursuing. A spirit established falsehood; it dripped to you into wine and strong drink. And it will be from the drop of this people:

2:12 Jacob will surely be gathered with everyone. I will surely receive Israel's remaining ones; I will put their turning back together. Like sheep in affliction, like a flock within their resting place, they will leap out from among people.

2:13 Through the breach before them they broke through, passed a gate and went out through it. Their king went out before them, and the Lord will lead them."

Micah 3

3:1 He will say: "Hear these things now, authorities of Jacob's house and remaining ones of Israel's house! Is it not for you to know justice,

3:2 you who hate good things and seek evil things, who snatch their skins from them and their flesh from their bones?"

3:3 Just as they ate the flesh of My people, flayed their skins from their bones, crushed their bones and divided them into pieces like flesh for a cauldron and meat for a cooking pot,

3:4 so they will cry to the Lord, but He will not listen to them. He will turn His face away from them at that time, because they acted wickedly in their practices against them.

3:5 Thus says the Lord concerning the prophets who lead My people astray, who bite with their teeth and proclaim peace to him; but when nothing was put into their mouths, they raised war against him:

3:6 "Therefore you will have night instead of vision and darkness instead of divination; the sun will set upon the prophets, and the day will darken over them.

3:7 Those seeing dreams will be ashamed and the diviners mocked; all of them will speak against them, because there will be no one listening to them,

3:8 unless I fill up strength in the Spirit of the Lord and of judgment and might, to declare to Jacob his impieties and to Israel his sins."

3:9 Hear these things now, leaders of Jacob's house and remaining ones of Israel's house, who abhor justice and twist all straight things,

3:10 you who build Zion with bloodshed and Jerusalem with injustices!

3:11 Her leaders judged with gifts, her priests answered for wages and her prophets divined for silver; yet they relied upon the Lord, saying, "Is not the Lord among us? Calamities will certainly not come upon us."

3:12 Therefore, because of you, Zion will be plowed like a field, Jerusalem will be like a fruit watcher's hut, and the mountain of the house like a forest grove.

Micah 4

4:1 In the last days the mountain of the Lord will be manifest, established upon the mountain summits and raised above the hills, and peoples will hurry toward it.

4:2 Many nations will go and say, "Come, let us go up to the Lord's mountain and to the house of Jacob's God. They will show us His way, and we will walk in His paths." For law will go out from Zion, and the Lord's word from Jerusalem.

4:3 He will judge between many peoples and reprove strong nations as far as a distant land. They will cut their swords into plows and their spears into sickles. Nation will certainly no longer raise sword against nation, nor will they learn to wage war anymore.

4:4 Each will rest beneath his vine and each beneath his fig tree, and there will be no one causing fear, because the mouth of the Lord Almighty has spoken these things.

4:5 For all the peoples will walk, each his own way, but we will walk in the name of the Lord our God forever and beyond.

4:6 "On that day," says the Lord, "I will gather the crushed one, receive the expelled one and those I rejected.

4:7 I will make the crushed one a remnant and the rejected one a strong nation. The Lord will reign over them on Mount Zion from now and forever.

4:8 And you, squalid tower of the flock, daughter of Zion, to you it will come and enter—the former rule, a kingdom from Babylon for the daughter of Jerusalem."

4:9 And now why have you experienced calamities? Did you have no king? Has your counsel perished, that birth pains have seized you like a woman giving birth?

4:10 Labor in birth, be courageous and draw near, daughter of Zion, like a woman giving birth! For now you will go out from the city, camp in the plain and come as far as Babylon. From there He will rescue you, and from there the Lord your God will redeem you from your enemies' hand.

4:11 Now many nations have gathered against you, saying, "We will rejoice over her, and our eyes will look upon Zion!"

4:12 But they did not know the Lord's thought or understand His counsel, for He gathered them like sheaves of a threshing floor.

4:13 Rise and thresh them, daughter of Zion, for I will make your horns iron and your hooves bronze. With them you will melt down nations and grind many peoples fine; you will dedicate their multitude to the Lord and their strength to the Lord of all the earth.

4:14 Now the daughter of Ephraim will be fenced in with a barrier; he has set a constraint upon us. With a rod they will strike Israel's tribes on the cheek.

Micah 5

5:1 And you, Bethlehem, house of Ephrathah, are small to be among Judah's thousands; from you one will come out for Me to be a ruler in Israel, and his goings out are from the beginning, from days of old.

5:2 Therefore he will give them up until the time of the woman giving birth, when she gives birth; then the remaining ones of their brothers will return to the sons of Israel.

5:3 He will stand, see and shepherd his flock in the Lord's strength, and they will exist in the glory of the name of the Lord their God; for now he will be magnified to the ends of the earth.

5:4 This will be peace: when an Assyrian comes upon your land and steps upon your country, seven shepherds and eight bites of people will rise against him.

5:5 They will shepherd Assour with the sword and Nebrod's land in its ditch. He will rescue from Assour when he comes upon your land and steps upon your borders.

5:6 Jacob's remnant will be among the nations, amid many peoples, like dew falling from the Lord and like lambs upon couch grass, so that no one may be gathered or stand among the sons of humankind.

5:7 Jacob's remnant will be among the nations, amid many peoples, like a lion among beasts in the forest and like a young lion among flocks of sheep, which passes through, separates and seizes, with no one to deliver.

5:8 Your hand will be raised above those afflicting you, and all your enemies will be destroyed.

5:9 "On that day," says the Lord, "I will destroy your horses from your midst and destroy your chariots,

5:10 and I will destroy the cities of your land and remove all your strongholds.

5:11 I will remove your sorceries from your hands, and there will be no utterers of oracles among you.

5:12 I will destroy your carved images and pillars from your midst, and you will certainly no longer bow down to the works of your hands.

5:13 I will cut down your groves from your midst and obliterate your cities.

5:14 I will execute vengeance in anger and wrath among the nations because they did not obey."

Micah 6

6:1 Hear now the word of the Lord. The Lord said: "Rise, enter into judgment before the mountains, and let the hills hear your voice."

6:2 Hear, hills, the Lord's judgment, and you ravines, foundations of the earth! For the Lord has a case against His people, and He will argue it with Israel.

6:3 "My people, what have I done to you? How have I grieved you, or how have I troubled you? Answer Me!

6:4 For I brought you up from Egypt's land and redeemed you from the house of slavery. I sent Moses, Aaron and Miriam before you.

6:5 My people, remember what Balak king of Moab planned against you and what Balaam son of Beor answered him, from the rushes to Galgal, so that the Lord's righteousness may be known."

6:6 With what shall I take hold of the Lord and grasp my God Most High? Shall I take hold of Him with whole burnt offerings, with year-old calves?

6:7 Will the Lord receive with thousands of rams or with ten thousands of fat-rich torrents? Shall I give my firstborn offspring for impieties, the fruit of my body for the sin of my life?

6:8 Has it been declared to you, O man, what is good? Or what does the Lord seek from you, except to do justice, and to love mercy, and to be ready to walk with the Lord your God?

6:9 The Lord's voice will be called to the city, and He will save those who fear His name. "Hear, tribe! And who will adorn a city?

6:10 Is there not fire, and a lawless person's house storing lawless treasures, and injustice with insolence?

6:11 Will a lawless person be justified with a balance and deceptive weights in a pouch?

6:12 From these they filled their wealth with impiety; those inhabiting her spoke falsehoods, and their tongue was exalted in their mouth.

6:13 And I will begin to strike you; I will obliterate you because of your sins.

6:14 You will eat but certainly not be filled. It will grow dark within you and turn aside, and you will certainly not be saved; whoever is saved will be handed over to the sword.

6:15 You will sow but certainly not reap; you will press olives but certainly not anoint yourself with oil, and you will press wine, but you shall certainly not drink it. The ordinances of My people will be obliterated.

6:16 You kept the ordinances of Zambri and all the works of Achaab's house, and you walked in their counsels, so that I may hand you over to obliteration and her inhabitants to hissing. You will receive the reproaches of peoples."

Micah 7

7:1 Alas! I have become like someone gathering stubble at harvest and a gleaning at vintage, with no cluster available to eat the first fruits. Alas, my soul,

7:2 for the devout person has perished from the earth, and no one acts rightly among people. They all litigate for bloodshed; each crushes his neighbor with crushing.

7:3 They prepare their hands for evil; the ruler asks, and the judge spoke peaceful words—it is his soul's desire. And I will remove

7:4 their good things like a moth eating away and walking upon a measuring rod on the day of watching. Woe, woe! Your punishments have arrived; now they will weep.

7:5 Do not put confidence in friends or hope in leaders. With your bed companion, beware of entrusting anything to her.

7:6 For a son dishonors his father, a daughter will rise against her mother, a daughter-in-law will rise against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are all the men in his house.

7:7 But I will look toward the Lord; I will wait upon God my Savior. My God will listen to me.

7:8 Do not rejoice over me, my enemy, because I have fallen! I will rise, for if I sit in darkness, the Lord will shine for me.

7:9 I will bear the Lord's anger, for I sinned against Him, until He vindicates my case. He will execute my judgment and bring me out into the light; I will see His righteousness.

7:10 My enemy will see and clothe herself in shame, she who says to me, "Where is the Lord your God?" My eyes will look upon her; now she will become a trampling place like mud in the streets

7:11 on a day of brick plastering. That day is your obliteration, and it will rub away your ordinances—

7:12 that day. Your cities will come to leveling and division among Assyrians, and your fortified cities to division from Tyre as far as Syria's river—a day of water and tumult.

7:13 The land will become an obliteration together with those inhabiting it, from the fruits of their practices.

7:14 Shepherd Thy people with Thy rod, the sheep of Thine inheritance, camping by themselves in a forest amid Carmel. They will graze in Bashan and Gilead as in the days of old.

7:15 And as in the days of your departure from Egypt, you will see wonderful things.

7:16 Nations will see and be ashamed of all their strength. They will place hands over their mouth; their ears will be deafened.

7:17 They will lick dust like snakes dragging along the earth; they will be thrown into turmoil in their confinement. They will be astonished at the Lord our God and fear Thee.

7:18 Who is a God like Thee, removing injustices and passing over impieties for the remaining ones of His inheritance? He did not retain His anger as a testimony, because He desires mercy.

7:19 He Himself will turn back and pity us; He will sink our injustices, and they will be thrown into the depths of the sea—all our sins.

7:20 Thou wilt grant truth to Jacob, mercy to Abraham, just as Thou didst swear to our fathers in the former days.

Nahum

Nahum 1

1:1 An oracle concerning Nineveh; the book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

1:2 The Lord is a jealous and avenging God, the Lord avenging with fury, the Lord avenging Himself on His adversaries, and He Himself removes His enemies.

1:3 The Lord is patient, and His strength is great; the Lord certainly will not acquit. His way is in consummation and shaking; clouds are the dust of His feet.

1:4 He threatens the sea and dries it up, and makes all the rivers desolate. Bashan and Carmel have dwindled, and Lebanon's flowering things have failed.

1:5 Mountains shook before Him and hills were shaken; the whole earth recoiled before Him, and all who dwell in it.

1:6 Who will stand before His anger? Who will resist His furious wrath? His fury melts rulers, and rocks were crushed before Him.

1:7 The Lord is good to those who wait for Him in a day of affliction, and He knows those who revere Him.

1:8 With an advancing flood He will make a complete end of those who rise up, and darkness will pursue His enemies.

1:9 What do you devise against the Lord? He will make a complete end; He will not exact vengeance twice upon the same thing in affliction.

1:10 For it will be laid waste to their foundation, consumed like an entwining thorn-vine and like stubble full of dryness.

1:11 From you will come a scheme, devising evil things in opposition to the Lord.

1:12 Thus says the Lord who rules many waters: Even so they will be separated, and your report will no longer be heard.

1:13 And now I will crush his rod away from you and tear apart your bonds.

1:14 The Lord will command concerning you: No more will be sown from your name. From the house of your god I will destroy carved and cast images. I will make your burial, for they are swift.

Nahum 2

2:1 Look, upon the mountains are the feet of one bringing good news and announcing peace! Celebrate your feasts, Judah; repay your vows. For they will no longer pass through you into decay. It has been completed; it has been removed.

2:2 One who breathes into your face has come up, rescuing from affliction. Watch the road; hold your waist firm; act courageously with great strength,

2:3 because the Lord turned away Jacob's arrogance, as Israel's arrogance; for those shaking them out shook out both them and their vine branches; they ruined

2:4 the weapons of their might from among people, mighty men playing in fire. The reins of their chariots are on the day of his preparation, and the horsemen will be thrown into uproar

2:5 in the roads, and the chariots will be thrown into confusion and entangled in the squares; their appearance is like torches of fire and lightning flashing past.

2:6 Their nobles will remember and flee by day; they will weaken on their journey, hurry to the walls and prepare their defenses.

2:7 The river gates were opened, and the royal palace collapsed.

2:8 The foundation was uncovered, and she was going up, and her slave women were being led away like doves murmuring in their hearts.

2:9 Nineveh—her waters are like a swimming pool; they were fleeing and did not stop, and there was no one looking back.

2:10 They were plundering silver; they were plundering gold. There was no limit to her adornment; they have been weighed down beyond all her desirable vessels.

2:11 Shaking out, tossing up and boiling over; broken hearts, loosening knees, pangs at every waist, and every face like the scorching of a pot.

2:12 Where is the lions' dwelling and the pasture that belonged to the cubs, where a lion went to enter there, a lion's cub, and no one frightened them?

2:13 A lion seized enough for his cubs and strangled for his lions; he filled his nest with prey and his dwelling with plunder.

2:14 Look, I am against you, says the Lord Almighty. I will burn your multitude in smoke; the sword will consume your lions. I will destroy your prey from the earth, and your deeds will never again be heard.

Nahum 3

3:1 O city of bloodshed, wholly false, full of injustice! Prey will not be touched.

3:2 The sound of whips and the sound of shaking wheels, of a pursuing horse and a jolting chariot,

3:3 and of a mounting horseman, a flashing sword and glittering weapons, a multitude of slain and a grievous fall! There was no limit to her nations, and they will weaken in their bodies

3:4 because of the multitude of prostitution. A prostitute, beautiful and pleasing, mistress of potions, selling nations through her prostitution and tribes through her potions,

3:5 look, I am against you, says the Lord God Almighty. I will expose your hind parts over your face and show nations your shame and kingdoms your dishonor,

3:6 and cast abomination upon you according to your impurities, and make you an example,

3:7 and everyone seeing you will spring away and say, “Miserable Nineveh! Who will lament her? Where shall I seek consolation for her?”

3:8 Prepare a portion; tune a string; prepare a portion, Amon, who dwells among rivers, water around her, whose dominion was the sea and whose walls were water,

3:9 and Ethiopia was her strength, and Egypt, and there is no limit to the flight; Libyans became her helpers.

3:10 She too will go into deportation as a captive; they will dash her infants to the ground at the head of all her roads, cast lots for all her glorious things; and all her nobles will be bound in handcuffs.

3:11 You too will become drunk and be overlooked; you too will seek a place to stand away from enemies.

3:12 All your fortresses are fig trees having lookouts; if shaken, they will fall into the eater’s mouth.

3:13 Look, your people within you are like women! The gates of your land will open wide to your enemies, and fire will consume your bars.

3:14 Draw water for yourself for the siege, hold your fortresses firmly; step into mud, be trampled in straw, hold fast over the brick.

3:15 There fire will consume you; a sword will destroy you, devouring you like a locust, and you will become heavy like a crawling locust.

3:16 You multiplied your trading beyond the stars of heaven. A crawling locust rushed out and flew away.

3:17 Your mixed company leaped away like a young locust, like a locust perched on a fence on frosty days. The sun rose, it leaped away, and it did not know its place. Woe to them!

3:18 Your shepherds slumbered; the Assyrian king put your rulers to sleep. Your people departed upon the mountains, and there was no one receiving them.

3:19 There is no healing for your crushing; your wound has become inflamed. All who hear the report of you will clap their hands over you, for upon whom has your evil not continually come?

Habakkuk

Habakkuk 1

1:1 The oracle that Habakkuk the prophet saw.

1:2 How long, Lord, shall I cry and Thou wilt not listen? I shall cry to Thee while being wronged, and Thou wilt not save?

1:3 Why didst Thou show me toil and pain, to look upon misery and impiety? Judgment has come against me, and the judge takes.

1:4 Therefore law has been scattered, and judgment is not brought to completion; the impious oppresses the righteous, so judgment will go forth distorted.

1:5 Look, you despisers, observe, marvel at wonders and vanish! For I am doing a work in your days that you will certainly not believe if someone recounts it.

1:6 For look, I am raising up against you the Chaldean warriors, the bitter and swift nation, who traverse the breadth of the earth to possess dwellings not their own.

1:7 Fearsome and conspicuous are they; their judgment will come from themselves, and their claim will proceed from themselves.

1:8 Their horses will leap beyond leopards and be fiercer than the wolves of Arabia. Their horsemen will ride out and rush from afar, flying like an eagle eager to eat.

1:9 An end will come upon the impious who stand facing them in opposition, and they will gather captives like sand.

1:10 They will revel among kings, and tyrants will be their toys; they will mock every fortress, throw up a mound and seize it.

1:11 Then the spirit will change and pass through and make propitiation. This strength belongs to my God.

1:12 Art Thou not from the beginning, Lord, my holy God? We shall certainly not die. Lord, Thou hast appointed him for judgment, and He formed me to reprove his discipline.

1:13 Thine eye is pure, not to see evil things, and Thou wilt not be able to look upon distress. Why dost Thou look upon despisers? Wilt Thou remain silent when the impious swallows the righteous?

1:14 Thou wilt make people like the fish of the sea and like creeping things with no leader.

1:15 They hauled up an entire catch with a hook, dragged it in a casting net and gathered it in their seines; therefore they will rejoice and their heart will be glad.

1:16 Therefore they will sacrifice to their seine and burn incense to their casting net, for through them they fattened their portion, and their foods are choice.

1:17 Therefore they will cast their casting net and will not spare nations from continual killing.

Habakkuk 2

2:1 I will stand at my watch and step onto a rock; I will look out to see what He will speak within me and what I shall answer concerning my reproof.

2:2 The Lord answered me: “Write a vision clearly on a boxwood tablet, so that the one reading these things may pursue them.

2:3 For the vision is still for a season, and it will rise toward the end and not toward emptiness. If he delays, wait for him, for coming he will come and certainly will not linger.

2:4 If he draws back, My soul has no pleasure in him; but the righteous one shall live by My faithfulness.

2:5 But the wine-soaked, contemptuous, boastful man will accomplish nothing. He widened his appetite like Hades and is like death, never filled; he will gather all nations and receive all peoples to himself.

2:6 Will not all these take up a parable against him and a riddle for his account? They will say, ‘Woe to the one multiplying for himself what is not his—how long?—and heavily weighting his collar!’

2:7 For suddenly those biting him will rise, and those plotting against you will awake; you will become their plunder.

2:8 Because you despoiled many nations, all the remaining peoples will despoil you, because of human bloodshed and impiety against land, city and all its inhabitants.

2:9 O you who acquire evil gain for your house, setting your nest on high to escape the hand of evils!

2:10 You planned shame for your house, brought many peoples to an end, and your soul sinned.

2:11 For a stone will cry from a wall, and a beetle from wood will utter these things.

2:12 Woe to the one building a city with bloodshed and preparing a city with injustices!

2:13 Are these things not from the Lord Almighty? Many peoples failed in fire, and many nations lost heart.

2:14 For the earth will be filled with knowing the Lord’s glory, as water will cover them.

2:15 O you who make your neighbor drink with a turbid overthrow and intoxicate him, so that you may look upon their caves!

2:16 Drink, you too, a fullness of dishonor instead of glory; be tossed and shaken! The cup of the Lord's right hand has come around to you, and dishonor has gathered upon your glory.

2:17 For Lebanon's impiety will cover you, and the misery of wild animals will terrify you, because of human bloodshed and impiety against land, city and all its inhabitants.

2:18 What use is a carved image, that they carved it? They formed it as a cast object, a false appearance, because its maker trusted his creation, making mute idols.

2:19 Woe to the one saying to wood, 'Wake and rise!' and to stone, 'Be lifted up!' It is an appearance, a plate of gold and silver, and no breath at all is in it.

2:20 But the Lord is in His holy sanctuary; let all the earth revere Him."

Habakkuk 3

3:1 A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet, with a song.

3:2 Lord, I have heard Thy report and was afraid; I considered Thy works and was astonished. In the midst of two living creatures Thou wilt be known; when the years draw near Thou wilt be recognized; when the season arrives Thou wilt be revealed. When my soul is troubled, in wrath Thou wilt remember mercy.

3:3 God will come from Teman, the Holy One from a mountain shaded and thickly wooded. Diapsalma. His excellence covered the heavens, and the earth is full of His praise.

3:4 His brightness will be like light; horns are in His hands, and He established mighty love of His strength.

3:5 A word will go before Him, and He will go out, His feet in sandals.

3:6 He stood, and the earth shook; He looked, and nations melted. Mountains were crushed violently; everlasting hills melted.

3:7 I saw His everlasting journeys in place of toils; the dwellings of Ethiopians will be terrified, and the tents of the land of Midian.

3:8 Wast Thou angry with rivers, Lord? Was Thy fury against rivers, or Thine onrush against the sea, that Thou wilt mount Thy horses and Thy riding is salvation?

3:9 Thou wilt surely bend Thy bow against scepters, says the Lord. Diapsalma. The earth will be torn apart by rivers.

3:10 Peoples will see Thee and travail, as He scatters waters in His passage. The abyss gave its voice, the height of its appearance.

3:11 The sun was raised, and the moon stood in its appointed place. Thy missiles will go into light, into the brightness of Thy flashing weapons.

3:12 With threat Thou wilt diminish the earth, and in fury Thou wilt bring nations down.

3:13 Thou didst go out for Thy people's salvation, to save Thine anointed ones. Thou didst cast death upon the heads of lawless people and didst raise bonds up to the neck. Diapsalma.

3:14 Thou didst cut the heads of rulers in bewilderment; they will be shaken in it. They will open their bridles like a poor person eating secretly.

3:15 Thou didst drive Thy horses into the sea as they troubled much water.

3:16 I kept watch, and my belly was terrified at the sound of the prayer of my lips. Trembling entered my bones, and my bodily condition beneath me was troubled. I will rest on a day of affliction, to go up to the people of my sojourning.

3:17 For the fig tree will not bear fruit, and vines will have no produce; the olive's labor will fail, and fields will not produce food. Sheep have failed for lack of food, and there are no cattle at feeding troughs.

3:18 But I will exult in the Lord; I will rejoice in God my Savior.

3:19 The Lord God is my strength; He will set my feet toward completion and lead me onto the heights, to conquer in His song.

Zephaniah

Zephaniah 1

1:1 The word of the Lord that came to Zephaniah, son of Cushi, son of Gedaliah, son of Amariah, son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah son of Amon, king of Judah.

1:2 Let everything utterly disappear from the face of the earth, says the Lord,

1:3 let humanity and livestock disappear, let birds of the sky and fish of the sea disappear, and I will remove people from the face of the earth, says the Lord.

1:4 I will stretch My hand against Judah and all Jerusalem’s inhabitants, and remove from this place the names of Baal and the names of the priests,

1:5 those worshiping the army of heaven on rooftops, those swearing by the Lord and those swearing by their king,

1:6 those turning away from the Lord, those who did not seek the Lord and those who did not hold fast to the Lord.

1:7 Revere the Lord God, for the Lord’s day is near. The Lord has prepared His sacrifice and consecrated His invited guests.

1:8 On the day of the Lord’s sacrifice I will exact judgment upon the rulers, the king’s house and all wearing foreign clothes.

1:9 On that day I will openly exact judgment upon everyone at the gateways, those filling the house of the Lord their God with impiety and deceit.

1:10 On that day, says the Lord, there will be a cry from the gate of those who pierce, a wail from the second quarter and a great crashing from the hills.

1:11 Lament, inhabitants of the battered place, for all the people of Canaan have been made alike; all exalted by silver have been destroyed.

1:12 On that day I will search Jerusalem with a lamp and exact judgment upon men contemptuous about their safeguards, who say in their hearts, “The Lord will certainly do neither good nor harm.”

1:13 Their strength will become plunder and their houses destruction. They will build houses but certainly not inhabit them, plant vineyards but certainly not drink their wine.

1:14 For the Lord’s great day is near, near and very swift. The sound of the Lord’s day is bitter and harsh; it is appointed mighty.

1:15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of affliction and constraint, a day of untimely ruin and destruction, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of cloud and mist,

1:16 a day of trumpet and shouting against fortified cities and high corners.

1:17 I will press people hard, and they will walk like the blind because they sinned against the Lord. He will pour out their blood like dust and their flesh like dung.

1:18 Their silver and gold will certainly not rescue them on the day of the Lord’s wrath. In the fire of His jealousy all the earth will be consumed, for He will bring completion and haste upon all the earth’s inhabitants.

Zephaniah 2

2:1 Gather and bind yourselves together, O undisciplined nation,

2:2 before you become like a passing flower, before the Lord’s wrath comes upon you, before the day of the Lord’s fury comes upon you.

2:3 Seek the Lord, all the humble of the earth; practice judgment, seek righteousness and answer these things, so that you may be sheltered on the day of the Lord’s wrath.

2:4 For Gaza will be plundered and Ashkelon will disappear; Ashdod will be cast out at midday and Ekron uprooted.

2:5 Woe to the seacoast’s inhabitants, sojourners of Cretans! The Lord’s word is against you, Canaan, land of foreigners: I will destroy you from your dwelling.

2:6 Crete will become pasture for flocks and an enclosure for sheep,

2:7 and the seacoast will belong to the remnant of Judah’s house. They will graze upon them in Ashkelon’s houses; at evening they will lodge away from the sons of Judah, for the Lord their God has visited them and turned their captivity.

2:8 I heard Moab’s reproaches and the Ammonites’ blows, with which they reproached My people and exalted themselves against My borders.

2:9 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord of powers, the God of Israel, Moab will be like Sodom and the Ammonites like Gomorrah, and Damascus abandoned like a heap on a threshing floor and vanished forever. My people’s remnant will plunder them; My nation’s remnant will inherit them.

2:10 This will be theirs for their arrogance, because they reproached and exalted themselves against the Lord Almighty.

2:11 The Lord will appear against them and destroy all the gods of the nations of the earth. All the islands of the nations will worship Him, each from his place.

2:12 You too, Ethiopians, are slain by My sword.

2:13 He will stretch His hand against the north and destroy the Assyrian, making Nineveh a waterless wasteland like a wilderness.

2:14 Flocks and all the wild animals of the earth will graze within her; chameleons and hedgehogs will lie in her recessed panels. Wild animals will cry in her openings, and ravens in her gateways, for cedar is her structure.

2:15 This is the contemptuous city dwelling in confidence, saying in her heart, “I am, and there is no one after me.” How she became a wasteland, pasture for wild animals! Everyone passing through her will hiss and wave his hands.

Zephaniah 3

3:1 O conspicuous and redeemed city, the dove-city!

3:2 She did not heed a voice or accept discipline; she did not trust the Lord or approach her God.

3:3 Her rulers within her are like roaring lions; her judges are like Arabian wolves, leaving nothing for morning.

3:4 Her prophets are bearers of a spirit, contemptuous men; her priests profane holy things and act impiously toward law.

3:5 But the Lord is righteous within her and will certainly do no injustice. Morning by morning He will bring His judgment to light; He was not hidden and knew no injustice in exaction, nor injustice in strife.

3:6 In destruction I tore down the proud; their corners vanished. I will make their roads utterly desolate, with no passing through; their cities failed because no one existed or dwelt there.

3:7 I said, “Only fear Me and accept discipline, and you will certainly not be destroyed from her eyes,” with all I exacted upon her. Prepare, rise early! All their gleaning has been ruined.

3:8 Therefore wait for Me, says the Lord, for the day of My rising for testimony. My judgment is for assemblies of nations, to receive kings and pour all My furious wrath upon them; for all the earth will be consumed in My jealous fire.

3:9 For then I will change a tongue for peoples, for its generation, so that all call upon the Lord’s name and serve Him under one yoke.

3:10 From the far reaches of Ethiopia’s rivers they will bring sacrifices to Me.

3:11 On that day you will certainly not be ashamed of all the practices by which you acted impiously toward Me; then I will remove from you the contemptuous acts of your arrogance, and you will no longer boast upon My holy mountain.

3:12 I will leave within you a meek and humble people, and they will revere the Lord’s name,

3:13 the remnant of Israel; they will do no injustice or speak vain things, and no deceitful tongue will be found in their mouth. For they will graze and lie down, and no one will frighten them.

3:14 Rejoice greatly, daughter Zion! Proclaim, daughter Jerusalem! Be glad and delight with all your heart, daughter Jerusalem!

3:15 The Lord removed your wrongdoings and has redeemed you from your enemies’ hand. The Lord, King of Israel, is within you; you will see evils no more.

3:16 At that time the Lord will say to Jerusalem, “Take courage, Zion; do not let your hands hang loose.

3:17 The Lord your God is within you; mighty, He shall save you. He shall bring gladness upon you, and renew you in His love; and He shall rejoice over you with delight, as on a day of feasting.”

3:18 I will gather the crushed. Alas! Who took up reproach against her?

3:19 Look, I am acting within you for your sake at that time, says the Lord. I will save the oppressed and the rejected; I will receive them and make them a boast and renowned throughout the earth.

3:20 They will be ashamed at that time, when I do good to you and when I receive you. I will make you renowned and a boast among all the earth’s peoples, when I turn your captivity before you, says the Lord.

Haggai

Haggai 1

1:1 In the second year under King Darius, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came through Haggai the prophet, saying: “Speak now to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, from the tribe of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying:

1:2 ‘Thus says the Lord Almighty: These people say, “The time has not arrived to rebuild the house of the Lord.”’”

1:3 The word of the Lord came through Haggai the prophet, saying:

1:4 “Is it time for you to live in your houses with recessed ceilings, while this house has been laid waste?

1:5 And now, thus says the Lord Almighty: Set your hearts upon your ways.

1:6 You sowed much and brought in little; you ate, but were not satisfied; you drank, but not to intoxication; you clothed yourselves, but were not warmed in them. The one gathering wages gathered them into a bundle with holes.

1:7 Thus says the Lord Almighty: Place your hearts upon your ways.

1:8 Go up onto the mountain, cut wood and rebuild the house. I will take pleasure in it and be glorified, said the Lord.

1:9 You looked for much, and it came to little; it was brought into the house, and I blew it away. Therefore, thus says the Lord Almighty: Because My house is desolate, while each of you hurries to his own house,

1:10 therefore heaven will hold back dew, and the earth will withhold its produce.

1:11 I will bring a sword upon the land and the mountains, upon grain, wine and oil, and whatever the earth produces, upon people and livestock, and upon all the labors of their hands.”

1:12 Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, from the tribe of Judah, Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people listened to the voice of the Lord their God and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the Lord their God had sent him to them. The people feared before the Lord.

1:13 Haggai, the messenger of the Lord, said to the people, “I am with you, says the Lord.”

1:14 The Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, from the tribe of Judah, the spirit of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of the remnant of all the people. They came in and were carrying out work on the house of the Lord Almighty, their God,

1:15 on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month, in the second year under King Darius.

Haggai 2

2:1 In the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, the Lord spoke through Haggai the prophet, saying:

2:2 “Speak now to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, from the tribe of Judah, to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to all the remnant of the people, saying:

2:3 Who among you saw this house in its former glory? How do you see it now? As though it did not exist before you.

2:4 But now be strong, Zerubbabel, says the Lord; be strong, Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; let all the people of the land be strong, says the Lord, and work, for I am with you, says the Lord Almighty,

2:5 and My Spirit stands in your midst. Take courage.

2:6 For thus says the Lord Almighty: Once more I will shake heaven and earth, the sea and the dry land.

2:7 And I will shake all the nations, and the choice things of all the nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory, says the Lord Almighty.

2:8 The silver is Mine and the gold is Mine, says the Lord Almighty.

2:9 For the latter glory of this house will be greater than the former, says the Lord Almighty; in this place I will give peace, says the Lord Almighty, and peace of soul as a possession for everyone building to raise this sanctuary.”

2:10 On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year under Darius, the word of the Lord came to Haggai the prophet, saying:

2:11 “Thus says the Lord Almighty: Ask the priests about the law, saying:

2:12 If someone takes holy meat in the edge of his garment and the edge of his garment touches bread, cooked food, wine, oil or any food, will it become holy?” The priests answered, “No.”

2:13 Haggai said, “If one defiled through a dead person touches any of these, will it be defiled?” The priests answered, “It will be defiled.”

2:14 Haggai answered, “So is this people, and so is this nation before Me, says the Lord; so are all the works of their hands, and whoever approaches there will be defiled because of their morning gains. They will suffer because of their labors, and you hated those who rebuked at the gates.

2:15 And now, please set your hearts on the time before this day, before stone was placed upon stone in the sanctuary of the Lord,

2:16 on how things were with you: when you put twenty sata of barley into a bin, there were ten sata of barley; when you went to the wine vat to draw fifty metretai, there were twenty.

2:17 I struck you with barrenness, damage from wind and hail—all the works of your hands—and you did not turn to Me, says the Lord.

2:18 Please direct your hearts from this day onward; from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month and from the day the sanctuary of the Lord was founded, put it in your hearts:

2:19 whether it will yet be recognized on the threshing floor, and whether the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate and the olive trees still bear no fruit. From this day I will bless.”

2:20 The word of the Lord came a second time to Haggai the prophet on the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying:

2:21 “Speak to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, from the tribe of Judah, saying: I am shaking heaven and earth, the sea and the dry land,

2:22 and I will overturn the thrones of kings and destroy the strength of the kings of the nations. I will overturn chariots and riders; horses and their riders will fall, each with a sword against his brother.

2:23 On that day, says the Lord Almighty, I will take you, Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, My servant, says the Lord, and make you like a signet, for I have chosen you, says the Lord Almighty.”

Zechariah

Zechariah 1

1:1 In the eighth month of the second year under Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zechariah, Berechiah's son, son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

1:2 "The Lord was angry with your fathers with great anger.

1:3 You shall say to them: Thus says the Lord Almighty: Return to Me, and I will return to you, says the Lord.

1:4 Do not become like your fathers, against whom the former prophets brought charges, saying, 'Thus says the Lord Almighty: Turn away from your evil ways and your evil practices.' But they did not listen attentively to Me, says the Lord.

1:5 Your fathers—where are they? And the prophets—surely they will not live forever?

1:6 Yet receive My words and My ordinances, all that I, in My Spirit, command My servants the prophets, who overtook your fathers." And they answered and said, "As the Lord Almighty has arrayed Himself to act according to your ways and practices, so He acted toward you."

1:7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month—which is the month Sabat—in the second year under Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zechariah, Berechiah's son, son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

1:8 I saw in the night: look, a man mounted on a flame-red horse! He stood between the two shaded mountains, and behind him were flame-red, gray, dappled and white horses.

1:9 I said, "What are these, lord?" The angel speaking within me said to me, "I will show you what these are."

1:10 The man standing between the mountains answered and said to me, "These are the ones the Lord has sent out to travel around the earth."

1:11 They answered the angel of the Lord standing between the mountains, "We have traveled around all the earth, and look, all the earth is inhabited and quiet."

1:12 The angel of the Lord answered, "Lord Almighty, how long wilt Thou refuse mercy to Jerusalem and Judah's cities, which Thou hast overlooked this seventieth year?"

1:13 The Lord Almighty answered the angel speaking within me with good words and comforting speeches.

1:14 The angel speaking within me said to me, "Cry out: Thus says the Lord Almighty: I have been jealous for Jerusalem and Zion with great jealousy,

1:15 and I am angry with great anger at the nations joining in assault, because I was a little angry, but they joined in attacking to bring evils.

1:16 Therefore thus says the Lord: I will return to Jerusalem in compassion, and My house will be rebuilt in her, says the Lord Almighty, and a measure will again be extended over Jerusalem."

1:17 The angel speaking within me said to me, "Cry out: Thus says the Lord Almighty: Cities will again overflow with good things; the Lord will again have mercy on Zion and again choose Jerusalem."

Zechariah 2

2:1 I lifted my eyes and saw: look, four horns!

2:2 I said to the angel speaking within me, "What are these, lord?" He said to me, "These are the horns that scattered Judah and Israel."

2:3 The Lord showed me four craftsmen.

2:4 I said, "What are these coming to do?" He said to me, "These horns that scattered Judah also shattered Israel, and none of them lifted a head. These entered to sharpen them for their hands—the four horns, the nations lifting a horn against the Lord's land to scatter it."

2:5 I lifted my eyes and saw: look, a man with a land-measuring cord in his hand!

2:6 I said to him, "Where are you going?" He said to me, "To measure Jerusalem, to see how wide it is and how long."

2:7 Look, the angel speaking within me was standing, and another angel was going out to meet him,

2:8 and said to him, "Run and speak to that young man: Jerusalem will be inhabited fruitfully because of the multitude of people and animals within her.

2:9 I will be a wall of fire around her, says the Lord, and I will be glory within her."

2:10 "Oh! Oh! Flee from the northern land," says the Lord, "because I will gather you from the four winds of heaven," says the Lord.

2:11 Escape safely to Zion, you who dwell in daughter Babylon!

2:12 For thus says the Lord Almighty: "After glory He has sent me against the nations that plundered you, for whoever touches you is like one touching the pupil of his eye.

2:13 Look, I am bringing My hand against them, and they will become spoils for those serving them; you will know that the Lord Almighty has sent me."

2:14 “Delight and rejoice, daughter Zion, for look, I am coming and will dwell within you,” says the Lord.

2:15 Many nations will take refuge with the Lord on that day and become His people. They will dwell within you, and you will recognize that the Lord Almighty has sent me to you.

2:16 The Lord will inherit Judah as His portion on the holy land and again choose Jerusalem.

2:17 Let all flesh be reverent before the Lord, for He has risen from His holy clouds.

Zechariah 3

3:1 He showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, with the slanderer standing at his right hand to oppose him.

3:2 The Lord said to the slanderer, “May the Lord rebuke you, slanderer! May the Lord, who chose Jerusalem, rebuke you! Look, is this not like a brand pulled from fire?”

3:3 Joshua was clothed in filthy garments and standing before the angel.

3:4 He answered and said to those standing before him, “Remove the filthy garments from him.” He said to him, “Look, I have taken away your lawless deeds; clothe him in a robe reaching to the feet,

3:5 and put a clean turban on his head.” They clothed him in garments and put a clean turban on his head, while the angel of the Lord stood by.

3:6 The angel of the Lord solemnly testified to Joshua, saying:

3:7 “Thus says the Lord Almighty: If you walk in My ways and keep My commands, you will govern My house. If you also guard My court, I will give you those who move about among these standing here.

3:8 Listen now, Joshua the high priest, you and your neighbors sitting before you, for they are men who watch for portents. Look, I am bringing My servant, Rising.

3:9 For the stone I set before Joshua—on the one stone are seven eyes. Look, I am digging a pit, says the Lord Almighty, and I will feel out all the injustice of that land in one day.

3:10 On that day, says the Lord Almighty, each of you will invite his neighbor beneath a vine and beneath a fig tree.”

Zechariah 4

4:1 The angel speaking within me returned and roused me as when someone is awakened from sleep,

4:2 and said to me, “What do you see?” I said, “I see a lampstand entirely of gold, with its lamp-bowl above it, seven lamps upon it, and seven pouring channels for the lamps above it.

4:3 Two olive trees stand over it, one to the right of the lamp-bowl and one to the left.”

4:4 I asked the angel speaking within me, “What are these, lord?”

4:5 The angel speaking within me answered me, “Do you not know what these are?” I said, “No, lord.”

4:6 He answered me, “This is the Lord’s word to Zerubbabel: Not by great power or by strength, but by My Spirit, says the Lord Almighty.

4:7 Who are you, great mountain, before Zerubbabel, to set things straight? I will bring out the stone of inheritance—an equality of grace, its grace.”

4:8 The word of the Lord came to me, saying:

4:9 “Zerubbabel’s hands laid this house’s foundation, and his hands will complete it. You will recognize that the Lord Almighty has sent me to you.

4:10 For who treated the small days with contempt? They will rejoice and see the tin stone in Zerubbabel’s hand. These seven are the Lord’s eyes, looking over all the earth.”

4:11 I answered him, “What are these two olive trees to the lampstand’s right and left?”

4:12 I asked a second time, “What are the two olive branches in the hands of the two golden nozzles that pour upon and draw up the golden pouring channels?”

4:13 He said to me, “Do you not know what these are?” I said, “No, lord.”

4:14 He said, “These two sons of richness stand beside the Lord of all the earth.”

Zechariah 5

5:1 I turned and lifted my eyes and saw: look, a flying sickle!

5:2 He said to me, “What do you see?” I said, “I see a flying sickle, twenty cubits long and ten cubits wide.”

5:3 He said to me, “This is the curse going out over the whole earth, because every thief will be punished by this with death, and every false swearer will be punished by this with death.

5:4 I will bring it out, says the Lord Almighty. It will enter the thief’s house and the house of whoever swears falsely by My name; it will lodge within his house and destroy it completely, its timbers and its stones.”

5:5 The angel speaking within me came out and said to me, “Look up with your eyes and see what this is that is coming out.”

5:6 I said, “What is it?” He said, “This is the measure coming out.” He said, “This is their injustice throughout the earth.”

5:7 Look, a talent of lead was being lifted out, and look, one woman was sitting inside the measure!

5:8 He said, “This is Lawlessness.” He threw her into the measure and threw the lead stone into her mouth.

5:9 I lifted my eyes and saw: look, two women coming out, with wind in their wings! They had wings like a hoopoe’s wings, and they lifted the measure between earth and heaven.

5:10 I said to the angel speaking within me, “Where are they carrying the measure?”

5:11 He said to me, “To build a house for it in Babylon’s land and prepare it; they will place it there on its prepared setting.”

Zechariah 6

6:1 I turned and lifted my eyes and saw: look, four chariots coming out from between two mountains! The mountains were bronze mountains.

6:2 The first chariot had flame-red horses, and the second chariot black horses,

6:3 the third chariot white horses, and the fourth chariot dappled, gray horses.

6:4 I answered and said to the angel speaking within me, “What are these, lord?”

6:5 The angel speaking within me answered, “These are the four winds of heaven; they go out to stand beside the Lord of all the earth.

6:6 The one with the black horses was going out toward the northern land; the white ones were going out behind them, and the dappled ones were going out toward the southern land,

6:7 and the gray ones were going out and looking to go and travel around the earth.” He said, “Go and travel around the earth!” And they traveled around the earth.

6:8 He cried out and said to me, “Look, those going out toward the northern land have brought My wrath to rest in the northern land.”

6:9 The word of the Lord came to me, saying:

6:10 “Take the things from the captivity, from its rulers, from its useful people and from those who have known it; you shall go that day into the house of Josiah son of Zephaniah, who has come from Babylon,

6:11 take silver and gold, make crowns and put them on the head of Joshua son of Josedek, the high priest,

6:12 and say to him: Thus says the Lord Almighty: Look, a man whose name is Rising! From beneath him he will rise, and he will build the Lord’s house.

6:13 He himself will receive excellence, sit and rule on his throne; the priest will be at his right hand, and peaceful counsel will be between both.

6:14 The crown will be for those who endure, for its useful people and those who have known it, for the favor of Zephaniah’s son and for a psalm in the Lord’s house.

6:15 Those far away from them will come and build in the Lord’s house, and you will know that the Lord Almighty has sent me to you. This will happen if you truly listen to the voice of the Lord your God.”

Zechariah 7

7:1 In the fourth year under King Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, which is Chaseleu,

7:2 and Sarasar, King Arbeseer and his men sent to Bethel to appease the Lord,

7:3 saying to the priests in the house of the Lord Almighty and to the prophets, “The holy offering has come here in the fifth month, as I have already done for many years.”

7:4 The word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

7:5 “Say to all the land’s people and to the priests: If you fast or mourn at the fifth or seventh observances—and look, seventy years—surely you have not fasted a fast for Me?

7:6 If you eat or drink, are you not yourselves eating and yourselves drinking?

7:7 Are these not the words the Lord spoke through the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and flourishing, with her cities around her, and the hill country and plain were inhabited?”

7:8 The word of the Lord came to Zechariah, saying:

7:9 “Thus says the Lord Almighty: Render righteous judgment; show mercy and compassion, each to his brother.

7:10 Do not oppress widow, orphan, newcomer or poor person, and let no one harbor resentment for his brother’s wrong in your hearts.”

7:11 But they refused to pay attention, turned a senseless back and made their ears heavy so as not to listen,

7:12 and made their heart disobedient, so as not to listen to My law and the words the Lord Almighty sent by His Spirit through the former prophets. Great anger came from the Lord Almighty.

7:13 It will be as He spoke and they did not listen to Him: so they will cry out, and I will certainly not listen, says the Lord Almighty.

7:14 I will cast them out among all the nations they did not know, and the land behind them will be obliterated, without anyone passing through or returning. They made a choice land a desolation.

Zechariah 8

8:1 The word of the Lord Almighty came, saying:

8:2 “Thus says the Lord Almighty: I have been jealous for Jerusalem and Zion with great jealousy; with great wrath I have been jealous for her.

8:3 Thus says the Lord: I will return to Zion and dwell within Jerusalem. Jerusalem will be called the True City, and the mountain of the Lord Almighty a Holy Mountain.

8:4 Thus says the Lord Almighty: Old men and old women will again sit in Jerusalem’s squares, each holding a staff in hand because of many days.

8:5 The city’s squares will be filled with boys and girls playing in her squares.

8:6 Thus says the Lord Almighty: If it is impossible before this people’s remnant in those days, surely it will not also be impossible before Me? says the Lord Almighty.

8:7 Thus says the Lord Almighty: Look, I am rescuing My people from the eastern land and from the western land,

8:8 and I will bring them in and dwell within Jerusalem. They will be My people, and I will be their God in truth and righteousness.

8:9 Thus says the Lord Almighty: Let your hands be strong, you who hear these words in these days from the prophets’ mouth, from the day when the house of the Lord Almighty was founded, and from when the temple was built.

8:10 Before those days people’s wages will bring no benefit, and animals’ hire will not exist; those going out or coming in will have no peace because of affliction. I will send everyone out against his neighbor.

8:11 Now I do not act toward this people’s remnant as in the former days, says the Lord Almighty,

8:12 but I will show peace: the vine will give its fruit, the earth its produce, and heaven its dew. I will give My people’s remnant all these as an inheritance.

8:13 As you were under a curse among the nations, house of Judah and house of Israel, so I will preserve you, and you will be in blessing. Take courage and be strong in your hands.

8:14 For thus says the Lord Almighty: As I intended to harm you when your fathers provoked Me, says the Lord Almighty, and I did not change My mind,

8:15 so I have arrayed Myself and intended in these days to do good to Jerusalem and Judah’s house. Take courage.

8:16 These are the things you shall do: speak truth, each to his neighbor, and render peaceful judgment in your gates.

8:17 Do not reckon your neighbor’s wrong in your hearts, and do not love a false oath, for I hate all these things, says the Lord Almighty.”

8:18 The word of the Lord Almighty came to me, saying:

8:19 “Thus says the Lord Almighty: The fourth fast, the fifth fast, the seventh fast and the tenth fast will become joy, gladness and good festivals for Judah’s house. You will rejoice; love truth and peace.

8:20 Thus says the Lord Almighty: Many peoples and residents of many cities will yet come.

8:21 Residents of five cities will come together into one city, saying, ‘Let us go to entreat the Lord’s presence and seek the presence of the Lord Almighty. I too will go.’

8:22 Many peoples and many nations will come to seek the presence of the Lord Almighty in Jerusalem and appease the Lord’s presence.

8:23 Thus says the Lord Almighty: In those days, when ten men from all the nations’ languages take hold and grasp the fringe of a Jewish man’s garment, saying, ‘We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you all.’”

Zechariah 9

9:1 An oracle of the Lord’s word: in Sedrach’s land and Damascus is His sacrifice, because the Lord watches human beings and all Israel’s tribes,

9:2 and Emath within its borders, Tyre and Sidon, because they were exceedingly wise.

9:3 Tyre built herself fortifications, stored silver like dust and gathered gold like the mud of the roads.

9:4 Therefore the Lord will inherit her and strike her strength into the sea; she will be consumed by fire.

9:5 Ashkelon will see and fear; Gaza will suffer greatly, and Akkaron too, because she was ashamed at her downfall. A king will perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon will certainly not be inhabited.

9:6 Foreigners will dwell in Azotus, and I will bring down the foreigners’ arrogance.

9:7 I will remove their blood from their mouth and their detestable things from between their teeth. This one too will remain for our God; they will be like a commander of a thousand in Judah, and Akkaron like the Jebusite.

9:8 I will take a stand for My house to prevent passing through or returning. No one driving them out will come upon them again, for now I have seen with My own eyes.

9:9 Rejoice greatly, daughter Zion; proclaim, daughter Jerusalem. Behold, your king comes to you, righteous and saving, gentle, and mounted upon a beast of burden and a young colt.

9:10 He will destroy chariots from Ephraim and the horse from Jerusalem; the battle bow will be destroyed, and abundance and peace from the nations. He will rule waters as far as the sea and the earth's river outlets.

9:11 You, by covenant blood, released your prisoners from a pit with no water.

9:12 You will settle in a stronghold, prisoners of the gathering; in exchange for one day of your sojourn I will repay you double.

9:13 For I bent you, Judah, as a bow for Myself; I filled Ephraim, and I will rouse your children, Zion, against the Greeks' children and handle you like a fighter's sword.

9:14 The Lord will be over them; a missile will go out like lightning. The Lord Almighty will sound a trumpet and go in the tumult of His threat.

9:15 The Lord Almighty will shield them. They will consume them, bury them with sling stones and drink them down like wine; they will fill the altar like bowls.

9:16 The Lord will save them on that day, His people like sheep, because holy stones roll over His land.

9:17 For whatever is good of him and whatever is beautiful from him: grain for young men and fragrant wine for virgins.

Zechariah 10

10:1 Ask the Lord for rain in its season, early and late. The Lord made appearances and will give them winter rain, to each person vegetation in the field.

10:2 For those making pronouncements spoke troubles, the diviners false visions; they were telling false dreams and giving vain comfort. Therefore they were carried away like sheep and mistreated, because there was no healing.

10:3 My wrath was provoked against the shepherds, and I will attend to the lambs. The Lord God Almighty will attend to His flock, Judah's house, and make them like His splendid horse in battle.

10:4 From him he looked, and from him he appointed; from him a bow in wrath. From him everyone driving out will come forth together.

10:5 They will be like fighters trampling mud in the roads in battle; they will draw up for combat because the Lord is with them, and horse riders will be put to shame.

10:6 I will strengthen Judah's house and save Joseph's house. I will settle them because I have loved them; they will be as though I had not turned them away, for I am the Lord their God and will listen to them.

10:7 They will be like Ephraim's fighters, and their heart will rejoice as with wine. Their children will see and be glad; their heart will rejoice in the Lord.

10:8 I will signal to them and receive them, for I will redeem them; they will multiply as they were once many.

10:9 I will sow them among peoples, and those far away will remember Me; they will nourish their children and return.

10:10 I will bring them back from Egypt's land and receive them from the Assyrians. I will bring them into Gilead and Lebanon, and not even one of them will be left behind.

10:11 They will pass through a narrow sea and strike waves in the sea; all the rivers' depths will dry up. All the Assyrians' arrogance will be removed, and Egypt's scepter will be taken away.

10:12 I will strengthen them in the Lord their God, and they will boast in His name, says the Lord.

Zechariah 11

11:1 Open your doors, Lebanon, and let fire devour your cedars!

11:2 Let the pine wail, for the cedar has fallen, because the mighty have suffered greatly! Wail, Bashan's oaks, for the thick-grown forest has been torn down!

11:3 A sound of shepherds lamenting, for their greatness has suffered! A sound of lions roaring, for the Jordan's proud swelling has suffered!

11:4 Thus says the Lord Almighty: "Shepherd the sheep destined for slaughter,

11:5 which their buyers were slaughtering without regret; their sellers said, 'Blessed be the Lord; we have become rich!' Their shepherds felt nothing for them.

11:6 Therefore I will no longer spare the land's residents, says the Lord. Look, I am handing over human beings, each into his neighbor's hands and his king's hands. They will cut the land to pieces, and I will certainly not rescue from their hand."

11:7 I will shepherd the sheep destined for slaughter into Canaan's land. I will take two staffs for myself—I called one Beauty and the other Measuring Cord—and I will shepherd the sheep.

11:8 I will remove the three shepherds in one month. My soul will be burdened over them, for their souls also roared against me.

11:9 I said, "I will not shepherd you. Let the dying die, and let the failing fail; let those remaining each devour his neighbor's flesh."

11:10 I will take my beautiful staff and throw it away, to dissolve my covenant that I made with all the peoples.

11:11 It will be dissolved on that day, and the Canaanites—the sheep being guarded—will know that it is the Lord's word.

11:12 I will say to them, "If it is good before you, weigh out and give my wages, or refuse." They weighed out my wages: thirty silver pieces.

11:13 The Lord said to me, "Put them into the smelting furnace and examine whether it is approved, as I was tested on their behalf." I took the thirty silver pieces and threw them into the Lord's house, into the smelting furnace.

11:14 I threw away the second staff, Measuring Cord, to dissolve the possession between Judah and Israel.

11:15 The Lord said to me, "Take again for yourself the shepherding equipment of an inexperienced shepherd.

11:16 Look, I am raising up a shepherd over the land: he will certainly not attend to what is failing, seek what is scattered, heal what is broken or guide what is whole. He will devour the flesh of the choice ones and wrench their ankle bones.

11:17 Oh, you who shepherd worthless things and have abandoned the sheep! A sword against his arms and his right eye! His arm will utterly wither, and his right eye will be completely blinded."

Zechariah 12

12:1 An oracle of the Lord's word concerning Israel. The Lord says—He who stretches out heaven, founds earth and forms a person's spirit within him:

12:2 "Look, I am making Jerusalem like shaking entranceways for all the peoples around, and in Judea there will be a siege against Jerusalem.

12:3 On that day I will make Jerusalem a trampled stone for all the nations. Everyone trampling her will mock in mockery, and all the earth's nations will gather against her.

12:4 On that day, says the Lord Almighty, I will strike every horse with bewilderment and its rider with madness. Over Judah's house I will open My eyes, and I will strike all the peoples' horses with blindness.

12:5 Judah's commanders of thousands will say in their hearts, 'We will find for ourselves Jerusalem's residents in the Lord Almighty, their God.'

12:6 On that day I will make Judah's commanders of thousands like a firebrand among wood and a flaming torch among stalks. They will consume all the surrounding peoples to right and left, and Jerusalem will again dwell by herself.

12:7 The Lord will save Judah's dwellings as from the beginning, so that the boasting of David's house and Jerusalem's residents' exaltation will not magnify itself over Judah.

12:8 On that day the Lord will shield Jerusalem's residents. The weak among them will be like David's house on that day, and David's house like God's house, like the angel of the Lord before them.

12:9 On that day I will seek to remove all the nations coming against Jerusalem.

12:10 I will pour upon David's house and Jerusalem's residents a spirit of grace and compassion. They will look toward Me because they danced in mockery, and mourn over him as over a beloved one; they will suffer grief as over a firstborn.

12:11 On that day mourning in Jerusalem will grow great, like mourning over a pomegranate grove cut down in a plain,

12:12 and the land will mourn tribe by tribe, each tribe by itself and their wives by themselves: the tribe of David's house by itself and their wives by themselves; the tribe of Nathan's house by itself and their wives by themselves;

12:13 the tribe of Levi's house by itself and their wives by themselves; the tribe of Simeon by itself and their wives by themselves;

12:14 all the tribes remaining, each tribe by itself and their wives by themselves.

Zechariah 13

13:1 On that day every place will be opened in David's house.

13:2 On that day, says the Lord, I will destroy the idols' names from the land, and there will no longer be remembrance of them. I will remove the false prophets and the unclean spirit from the land.

13:3 If a person still prophesies, his father and mother who begot him will say to him, ‘You shall not live, because you spoke falsehoods in the Lord’s name.’ His father and mother who begot him will bind his feet when he prophesies.

13:4 On that day the prophets will be ashamed, each because of his vision when he prophesies; they will wear a hairy skin because they lied.

13:5 He will say, ‘I am no prophet; I am a man who works the earth, because a man begot me from my youth.’

13:6 I will say to him, ‘What are these wounds between your hands?’ He will say, ‘The ones with which I was struck in my beloved house.’

13:7 Sword, awake against My shepherds, against the man who is My fellow citizen, says the Lord Almighty! Strike the shepherds and tear away the sheep; I will bring My hand against the shepherds.

13:8 Throughout the land, says the Lord, the two parts will be destroyed and fail, but the third will remain in it.

13:9 I will lead the third through fire, refine them with fire as silver is refined and test them as gold is tested. He will call on My name, and I will listen to him and say, ‘This is My people,’ and he will say, ‘The Lord is my God.’”

Zechariah 14

14:1 Look, days of the Lord are coming, and your spoils will be divided within you.

14:2 I will gather all the nations against Jerusalem for war. The city will be captured, the houses plundered and the women violated. Half the city will go into captivity, but the remnant of My people will certainly not be destroyed from the city.

14:3 The Lord will go out and draw up for battle among those nations, as on the day of His battle formation on a day of war.

14:4 On that day His feet will stand on the Mount of Olives opposite Jerusalem to the east. The Mount of Olives will split, half of it toward the east and half toward the sea—a very great chasm; half the mountain will incline north and half south.

14:5 The ravine of My mountains will be blocked; the mountain ravine will be joined as far as Iasol and blocked as it was blocked in the days of the earthquake, in the days of Oziah king of Judah. The Lord my God will come, and all the holy ones with Him.

14:6 On that day there will be no light, cold or ice.

14:7 It will last one day, and that day is known to the Lord, neither day nor night; toward evening there will be light.

14:8 On that day living water will go out from Jerusalem, half into the first sea and half into the last sea; it will be so in summer and spring.

14:9 The Lord will be king over all the earth. On that day the Lord will be one, and His name one,

14:10 encircling all the land and the wilderness from Gabe to Remmon south of Jerusalem. Rama will remain in its place, from Benjamin’s Gate to the place of the First Gate, to the Gate of Corners and to Ananeel’s Tower, to the king’s wine vats.

14:11 They will dwell in her; there will no longer be anything accursed, and Jerusalem will dwell confidently.

14:12 This will be the downfall with which the Lord will strike all the peoples who marched against Jerusalem: their flesh will melt while they stand on their feet; their eyes will flow from their sockets, and their tongue will melt in their mouth.

14:13 On that day great bewilderment from the Lord will be upon them. Each will seize his neighbor’s hand, and his hand will grapple with his neighbor’s hand.

14:14 Judah will draw up for battle in Jerusalem and gather the strength of all the surrounding peoples: gold, silver and clothing in very great abundance.

14:15 This will also be the downfall of horses, mules, camels, donkeys and every animal in those camps, according to this downfall.

14:16 Whoever remains from all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up each year to bow before the King, the Lord Almighty, and celebrate the Festival of Tent-Pitching.

14:17 Whoever among all the earth’s tribes does not go up to Jerusalem to bow before the King, the Lord Almighty—these will be added to those.

14:18 If Egypt’s tribe does not go up or come there, upon these too will be the downfall with which the Lord will strike all the nations that do not go up to celebrate the Festival of Tent-Pitching.

14:19 This will be Egypt’s sin and the sin of all the nations that do not go up to celebrate the Festival of Tent-Pitching.

14:20 On that day what is upon the horse’s bridle will be holy to the Lord Almighty, and the cauldrons in the Lord’s house will be like bowls before the altar.

14:21 Every cauldron in Jerusalem and Judah will be holy to the Lord Almighty. All who sacrifice will come, take some of them and boil in them. No Canaanite will remain in the house of the Lord Almighty on that day.

Malachi

Malachi 1

1:1 A pronouncement of the word of the Lord concerning Israel through His messenger. Take it to your hearts!

1:2 “I have loved you,” says the Lord. But you said, “How hast Thou loved us?” “Was not Esau Jacob’s brother?” says the Lord. “Yet I loved Jacob,

1:3 but Esau I hated. I appointed his territories for desolation and his inheritance as gifts of a wilderness.”

1:4 Because Idumea will say, “It has been overthrown; let us return and rebuild the deserted places,” thus says the Lord Almighty: “They will build, but I will overthrow. They will be called ‘Territories of Lawlessness’ and ‘A People Against Whom the Lord Has Drawn Up His Forces Forever.’”

1:5 Your eyes will see, and you yourselves will say, “The Lord has been magnified beyond Israel’s territories!”

1:6 “A son honors his father, and a slave his master. If I am a father, where is My honor? If I am a master, where is the fear of Me?” says the Lord Almighty. You priests who belittle My name! But you said, “How have we belittled Thy name?”

1:7 “By bringing polluted loaves to My altar.” But you said, “How have we polluted them?” “By your saying, ‘The Lord’s table is despised, and the foods placed upon it are despised.’”

1:8 “For if you bring a blind animal for sacrifice, is that not evil? If you bring one that is lame or sick, is that not evil? Bring it, then, to your ruler! Will he accept it? Will he show you favor?” says the Lord Almighty.

1:9 “And now appease the face of your God and plead with Him. These things have happened in your hands. Will I show favor to any of you?” says the Lord Almighty.

1:10 “For even among you doors will be shut, and you will not kindle My altar for nothing. I have no desire for you,” says the Lord Almighty, “and I will not accept a sacrifice from your hands.”

1:11 “For from the sun’s rising to its setting, My name has been glorified among the nations, and in every place incense is brought to My name, together with a pure sacrifice, because My name is great among the nations,” says the Lord Almighty.

1:12 “But you profane it by your saying, ‘The Lord’s table is polluted, and the foods placed upon it are despised.’

1:13 “And you said, ‘These things are from hardship,’ and I blew them away,” says the Lord Almighty. “You were bringing things seized by force, the lame and the afflicted. If you bring the sacrifice, shall I accept these things from your hands?” says the Lord Almighty.

1:14 “Cursed is one who was able, and had a male in his flock and a vow concerning it, yet sacrifices a damaged animal to the Lord. For I am a great King,” says the Lord Almighty, “and My name is manifest among the nations.”

Malachi 2

2:1 “And now this command is for you, priests.

2:2 If you do not listen and do not take it into your hearts to give glory to My name,” says the Lord Almighty, “I will send out the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessing, and I will curse it. I will scatter your blessing, and it will not be among you, because you do not take it into your hearts.

2:3 Look, I am setting apart the shoulder for you, and I will scatter the stomach on your faces, the stomach of your festivals, and I will take you to the same place.

2:4 You will recognize that I have sent out this command to you, so that My covenant might be with the Levites,” says the Lord Almighty.

2:5 “My covenant with him was of life and peace, and I gave it to him in fear, to fear Me and to shrink back before My name.

2:6 A law of truth was in his mouth, and injustice was not found on his lips. Directing his way in peace, he walked with Me and turned many back from injustice.

2:7 For a priest’s lips will guard knowledge, and people will seek law from his mouth, because he is the messenger of the Lord Almighty.

2:8 But you have turned aside from the way and weakened many through the law; you have corrupted the covenant of Levi,” says the Lord Almighty.

2:9 “And I have made you despised and neglected among all the nations, because you did not guard My ways but showed partiality in the law.”

2:10 Did not one God create you? Is there not one Father of you all? Why have you each abandoned your brother, so as to profane the covenant of your fathers?

2:11 Judah has been abandoned, and an abomination has occurred in Israel and Jerusalem, because Judah profaned the Lord’s holy things, in which he delighted, and devoted himself to foreign gods.

2:12 The Lord will destroy the person who does these things, until he is also humbled away from Jacob's dwellings and from those who bring a sacrifice to the Lord Almighty.

2:13 And you were doing these things that I hated: you covered the Lord's altar with tears, with weeping and groaning from hardships. Is it still fitting to look toward a sacrifice or accept it from your hands?

2:14 And you said, "For what reason?" Because the Lord bore witness between you and the wife of your youth, whom you abandoned, though she is your partner and the wife of your covenant.

2:15 And no other did it, and there was a remnant of his spirit. And you said, "What else does God seek but offspring?" So guard your spirit, and do not abandon the wife of your youth.

2:16 But if, after hating her, you send her away, says the Lord, the God of Israel, impiety will cover your thoughts, says the Lord Almighty. So guard your spirit, and you must not abandon.

2:17 You who provoke God with your words! And you said, "How have we provoked Him?" By your saying, "Everyone who does evil is good before the Lord, and He has delighted in them," and, "Where is the God of righteousness?"

Malachi 3

3:1 "Look, I am sending out My messenger, and he will look to a way before My face. Suddenly the Lord whom you seek will come to His own sanctuary, and the messenger of the covenant whom you desire. Look, he is coming," says the Lord Almighty.

3:2 And who will endure the day of his entrance? Or who will stand at his appearance? For he enters like a smelting fire and like launderers' herb.

3:3 He will sit, smelting and purifying as with silver and gold. He will cleanse the sons of Levi and melt them like gold and silver, and they will be those who bring a sacrifice to the Lord in righteousness.

3:4 And the sacrifice of Judah and Jerusalem will please the Lord, as in the days of old and as in the former years.

3:5 "I will draw near to you in judgment, and I will be a swift witness against sorceresses, adulteresses and those who swear falsely by My name, against those who withhold a hired worker's wages, those who oppress a widow, those who strike orphans with their fists, those who turn aside the judgment of a sojourner, and those who do not fear Me," says the Lord Almighty.

3:6 "For I am the Lord your God, and I have not changed. But you, sons of Jacob, do not refrain

3:7 from the injustices of your fathers. You have turned aside from My ordinances and have not guarded them. Return to Me, and I will return to you," says the Lord Almighty. And you said, "How shall we return?"

3:8 "Will a human defraud God? Yet you are defrauding Me." And you will say, "How have we defrauded Thee?" "Because the tithes and the firstfruits are with you.

3:9 And you keep looking away, yet you are defrauding Me. The nation has been brought to an end.

3:10 And you brought all the produce dues into the storehouses, and his plunder will be in his house. Examine, then, by this," says the Lord Almighty, "whether I will not open heaven's floodgates for you and pour out My blessing for you until there is enough.

3:11 And I will give you instructions for food, and I will certainly not destroy the fruit of your land, and your vine in the field will certainly not grow weak," says the Lord Almighty.

3:12 "All the nations will call you blessed, because you will be a desirable land," says the Lord Almighty.

3:13 "You have made your words heavy against Me," says the Lord. And you said, "How have we spoken against Thee?"

3:14 You said, "The one who serves God is futile. What advantage is there because we guarded His observances and because we walked as supplicants before the Lord Almighty?

3:15 And now we call outsiders blessed. All who practice lawlessness are being built up; they opposed God and were saved."

3:16 Those who feared the Lord spoke these things, each to his neighbor. The Lord paid attention and listened, and He wrote a book of remembrance before Him for those who feared the Lord and revered His name.

3:17 "They will be Mine," says the Lord Almighty, "for a day that I am making for an acquisition, and I will choose them as a man chooses his son who serves him.

3:18 And you will return and see the distinction between the righteous and the lawless, and between one who serves God and one who does not serve.

3:19 For look, the day of the Lord is coming, burning like an oven, and it will burn them. All the foreigners and all who practice lawlessness will be straw, and the coming day will ignite them," says the Lord Almighty, "and neither root nor branch will remain from them.

3:20 But for you who fear My name, a sun of righteousness will rise, and healing in its wings; you will go out and leap like little calves released from bonds.

3:21 You will trample the lawless, because they will be ashes beneath your feet on the day that I am making," says the Lord Almighty.

3:22 "And look, I am sending you Elijah the Tishbite before the coming of the Lord's great and manifest day,

3:23 who will restore a father's heart toward a son and a person's heart toward his neighbor, lest I come and strike the land utterly."

3:24 "All of you, remember the law of Moses My servant, as I commanded him at Horeb for all Israel, ordinances and judgments."

1:17 So all the generations from Abraham to David were fourteen generations, from David to the deportation to Babylon fourteen generations, and from the deportation to Babylon to the Christ fourteen generations.

1:18 The origin of Jesus Christ was like this. When His mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found to be with child from the Holy Spirit.

1:19 Joseph her husband, being righteous and unwilling to expose her to public disgrace, decided to divorce her quietly.

1:20 As he considered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, “Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary your wife home, for what has been conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit.

1:21 She shall bear a Son, and you shall call His name Jesus, for He shall save His people from their sins.”

Matthew 2

2:1 After Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of King Herod, behold, magi from the east arrived in Jerusalem,

2:2 saying, “Where is the One born King of the Jews? For we saw His star at its rising and have come to bow before Him.”

2:3 When King Herod heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

2:4 He gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people and asked them where the Christ was to be born.

2:5 They told him, “In Bethlehem of Judea, for this is what has been written through the prophet:

2:6 ‘And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are by no means least among the rulers of Judah; for out of you will come a ruler who will shepherd My people Israel.’”

2:7 Then Herod secretly called the magi and learned from them the exact time when the star appeared.

2:8 He sent them to Bethlehem, saying, “Go and inquire carefully about the Child. When you find Him, report to me, so that I too may come and bow before Him.”

2:9 After hearing the king, they went on their way. And behold, the star they had seen at its rising went ahead of them until it came and stood over the place where the Child was.

2:10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy.

2:11 They entered the house and saw the Child with Mary His mother. Falling down, they bowed before Him; and opening their treasures, they offered Him gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

2:12 Having been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they withdrew to their country by another way.

2:13 After they withdrew, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, “Rise, take the Child and His mother, and flee to Egypt. Stay there until I tell you, for Herod is about to seek the Child to destroy Him.”

2:14 He rose, took the Child and His mother by night, and withdrew to Egypt.

2:15 He remained there until Herod’s death, so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled: “Out of Egypt I called My Son.”

2:16 Then Herod, seeing that the magi had outwitted him, became exceedingly angry. He sent men and killed all the boys in Bethlehem and throughout its district who were two years old and under, according to the exact time he had learned from the magi.

2:17 Then what was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled:

2:18 “A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping and great lamentation: Rachel weeping for her children, and she would not be comforted, because they are no more.”

2:19 After Herod died, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt,

2:20 saying, “Rise, take the Child and His mother, and go to the land of Israel, for those seeking the Child’s life have died.”

2:21 He rose, took the Child and His mother, and entered the land of Israel.

2:22 But hearing that Archelaus reigned over Judea in place of his father Herod, he feared to go there. Warned in a dream, he withdrew to the regions of Galilee.

2:23 He came and settled in a city called Nazareth, so that what was spoken through the prophets might be fulfilled: “He will be called a Nazarene.”

3:2 and saying, “Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn near.”

3:3 For this is the one spoken of through Isaiah the prophet: “A voice of one crying in the wilderness: ‘Prepare the way of the Lord; make His paths straight.’”

3:4 John himself wore clothing of camel’s hair and a leather belt around his waist; his food was locusts and wild honey.

3:5 Then Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the region around the Jordan went out to him,

3:6 and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their sins.

3:7 When he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, “Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?

3:8 Bear fruit, then, worthy of repentance,

3:9 and do not suppose you can say among yourselves, ‘We have Abraham as father.’ For I tell you that God can raise up children for Abraham from these stones.

3:10 Already the axe lies at the root of the trees. Every tree, therefore, that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into fire.

3:11 I baptize you in water for repentance, but the One coming after me is stronger than I, whose sandals I am not fit to carry. He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit and fire.

3:12 His winnowing shovel is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clear His threshing floor and gather His wheat into the storehouse; but He will burn the chaff with unquenchable fire.”

3:13 Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan, to John, to be baptized by him.

3:14 John tried to prevent Him, saying, “I need to be baptized by Thee, and dost Thou come to me?”

3:15 Jesus answered him, “Allow it now, for in this way it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness.” Then he allowed Him.

3:16 When Jesus was baptized, He immediately came up from the water. And behold, the heavens were opened, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming upon Him.

3:17 And behold, a voice from the heavens said, “This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.”

Matthew 4

4:1 Then Jesus was led up into the wilderness by the Spirit to be tempted by the devil.

4:2 After fasting forty days and forty nights, He became hungry.

4:3 The tempter came and said to Him, “If Thou art God’s Son, command these stones to become loaves of bread.”

4:4 But He answered, “It is written: ‘Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth through the mouth of God.’”

4:5 Then the devil took Him into the holy city and set Him on the pinnacle of the temple,

4:6 and said to Him, “If Thou art God’s Son, throw Thyself down. For it is written: ‘He will command His angels concerning Thee,’ and ‘They will lift Thee on their hands, lest Thou strike Thy foot against a stone.’”

4:7 Jesus said to him, “Again it is written: ‘You shall not put the Lord your God to the test.’”

4:8 Again the devil took Him to an exceedingly high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory.

4:9 He said to Him, “I will give Thee all these things if Thou fall down and worship me.”

4:10 Then Jesus said to him, “Go away, Satan! For it is written: ‘You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him alone shall you serve.’”

4:11 Then the devil left Him, and behold, angels came and ministered to Him.

4:12 When He heard that John had been handed over, He withdrew to Galilee.

4:13 Leaving Nazareth, He came and settled in Capernaum beside the sea, in the territories of Zebulun and Naphtali,

4:14 so that what was spoken through Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled:

4:15 “Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali, the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations:

4:16 the people sitting in darkness saw a great light, and for those sitting in the region and shadow of death a light rose.”

4:17 From then on Jesus began to proclaim, “Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn near.”

4:18 As He walked beside the Sea of Galilee, He saw two brothers, Simon called Peter and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen.

4:19 He said to them, “Come after Me, and I will make you fishers of people.”

4:20 Immediately they left their nets and followed Him.

4:21 Going on from there, He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and He called them.

4:22 Immediately they left the boat and their father and followed Him.

4:23 He went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every infirmity among the people.

4:24 The report about Him spread throughout Syria, and they brought Him all who were ill, afflicted with various diseases and torments, those oppressed by demons, those suffering seizures, and paralytics; and He healed them.

4:25 Great crowds followed Him from Galilee, the Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea, and beyond the Jordan.

Matthew 5

5:1 And seeing the crowds, He went up the mountain; and when He had sat down, His disciples came to Him.

5:2 And He opened His mouth and taught them, saying:

5:3 “Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens.

5:6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be filled.

5:7 Blessed are the merciful, for they shall receive mercy.

Note †: Matthew 5:7 · wording and sourceWording: Merciful and mercy preserve the source's related adjective and verb. Receive mercy expresses the passive result without supplying a named agent.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.

Note †: Matthew 5:9 · wording and sourceMeaning: Sons preserves the filial image. This lexical choice does not establish that only male hearers are included; that question cannot be decided from the noun alone.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness’ sake, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens.

Note †: Matthew 5:10 · wording and sourceWording: Have been persecuted reflects the perfect participle in this context. It is not a rule for adding have been to every perfect form.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:11 Blessed are you when they revile you and persecute you and falsely speak every evil thing against you for My sake.

Note †: Matthew 5:11 · wording and sourceText: Falsely is retained in the reading; NA28 brackets the corresponding participle. The bracketed status belongs in the text note rather than being concealed by a smooth rendering.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:12 Rejoice and be glad, for great is your reward in the heavens; for thus they persecuted the prophets before you.

5:13 You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt becomes tasteless, how shall it be made salty? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled underfoot by people.

Note †: Matthew 5:13 · wording and sourceMeaning: Become tasteless gives the contextual force of the salt expression. The root's connection with foolishness may be discussed as wordplay; it is not substituted mechanically into the sentence.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:14 You are the light of the world. A city set upon a mountain cannot be hidden.

5:15 Nor do people light a lamp and place it beneath the modius, but upon the lampstand; and it shines for everyone in the house.

Note †: Matthew 5:15 · wording and sourceContext: A modius is an ancient measure used here as a container. Lamp and lampstand preserve the lighting objects; candle, candlestick, and a modern bushel are not adopted from the older English models.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:16 So let your light shine before people, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in the heavens.

5:17 Do not think that I came to abolish the Law or the Prophets. I did not come to abolish, but to fulfil.

Note †: Matthew 5:17 · wording and sourceWording: Abolish is repeated for the repeated verb. Fulfil is retained without adding a doctrinal paraphrase about how the Law and Prophets are fulfilled.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:18 For truly I tell you: until heaven and earth pass away, not one iota nor one stroke shall pass from the Law, until all things come to pass.

Note †: Matthew 5:18 · wording and sourceWording: Iota names the letter; stroke names a minute written detail. Until all things come to pass translates the verb of happening and does not mechanically repeat fulfil from 5:17.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:19 Whoever therefore loosens one of these least commandments and teaches people to do so shall be called least in the kingdom of the heavens; but whoever does and teaches them shall be called great in the kingdom of the heavens.

5:20 For I tell you: unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall by no means enter the kingdom of the heavens.

5:21 You have heard that it was said to those of old: ‘You shall not murder’; and ‘whoever murders shall be liable to judgment.’

Note †: Matthew 5:21 · wording and sourceWording: Murder preserves the verb's killing sense in this command without making it a blanket lexical equivalent of every Greek verb meaning kill. Unto those of old preserves the addressed group.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:22 But I tell you that everyone who is angry with his brother shall be liable to judgment; and whoever says to his brother, ‘Raca,’ shall be liable to the council; and whoever says, ‘Fool,’ shall be liable to the Gehenna of fire.

Note †: Matthew 5:22 · wording and sourceText: The consulted KJV includes without a cause; it is not present in NA28's running text here. The trial does not import the qualification. Meaning: Raca is retained as the source's transliterated insult, with a connection to empty-headed or worthless in explanation. Gehenna remains distinct from other terms often rendered hell. The slang rule excludes imported local slang, not source-recorded abusive speech.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:23 If therefore you offer your gift upon the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you,

5:24 leave your gift there before the altar, and go; first be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

5:25 Come to terms with your adversary quickly, while you are with him on the way, lest your adversary hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the officer, and you be thrown into prison.

5:26 Truly I tell you: you shall by no means come out of there until you have paid the last quadrans.

Note †: Matthew 5:26 · wording and sourceContext: Quadrans retains the ancient coin named in the Greek. Farthing in KJV and Douay–Rheims is a historical English rendering, not the unit adopted for this translation.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:27 You have heard that it was said: ‘You shall not commit adultery.’

5:28 But I tell you that everyone who looks at a woman to lust after her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

5:29 If your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw it away from you; for it is better for you that one of your members perish than that your whole body be thrown into Gehenna.

Note †: Matthew 5:29 · wording and sourceMeaning: Stumble retains the metaphor’s ethical force. The severe image remains in the translation; its interpretation belongs in commentary.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:30 And if your right hand causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw it away from you; for it is better for you that one of your members perish than that your whole body go into Gehenna.

5:31 And it was said: ‘Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.’

5:32 But I tell you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on account of sexual immorality, causes her to commit adultery; and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

Note †: Matthew 5:32 · wording and sourceMeaning: Sexual immorality is a broad provisional rendering of porneia. Its exact scope in this exception is disputed; no particular later account of valid marriage or divorce is inserted as though contained unambiguously in the noun. Wording: The infinitive rendered commit adultery is passive in form. The trial follows its conventional contextual English rendering; the grammatical force and implications require independent review alongside the exception clause.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:33 Again, you have heard that it was said to those of old: ‘You shall not swear falsely, but shall fulfil your oaths to the Lord.’

5:34 But I tell you: do not swear at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God,

5:35 nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet, nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.

5:36 Nor shall you swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black.

5:37 But let your word be ‘Yes, yes’; ‘No, no.’ Whatever is beyond these is of evil.

Note †: Matthew 5:37 · wording and sourceMeaning: Of evil leaves open the possible personal reading from the evil one. Yes and No preserve the direct repetitions without adding a formal oath formula.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:38 You have heard that it was said: ‘An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.’

5:39 But I tell you: do not resist the evildoer; but whoever strikes you upon your right cheek, turn the other to him also.

Note †: Matthew 5:39 · wording and sourceMeaning: The evildoer is the selected contextual rendering; evil is an alternative. The following personal encounter supports the selection, which remains an interpretation rather than a separate Greek noun for evildoer. Text: NA28 brackets the possessive corresponding to thy in the cheek phrase; SBLGNT omits it. The possessive is retained in the English trial, with the uncertainty recorded.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:40 And if anyone would sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak also.

5:41 And whoever compels you to go one Roman mile, go with him two.

Note †: Matthew 5:41 · wording and sourceContext: Roman mile identifies the historical unit. Roman is explanatory within the English unit name; the Greek has no separate adjective Roman. No modern distance conversion is substituted.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:43 You have heard that it was said: ‘You shall love your neighbour and hate your enemy.’

5:44 But I tell you: love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you,

5:47 And if you greet only your brothers, what are you doing beyond others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same?

Matthew 6

6:1 Take care not to practice your righteousness before people in order to be seen by them; otherwise you have no reward with your Father in the heavens.

6:2 So when you give alms, do not sound a trumpet before you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and streets, so that people may glorify them. Truly I tell you, they have received their reward in full.

6:3 But when you give alms, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing,

6:4 so that your almsgiving may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will repay you.

6:5 And when you pray, you shall not be like the hypocrites, because they love to pray standing in synagogues and at street corners, so that people may see them. Truly I tell you, they have received their reward in full.

6:6 But you, when you pray, enter your inner room, shut your door, and pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will repay you.

6:7 When praying, do not babble like the Gentiles, for they think they will be heard through their many words.

6:8 So do not become like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask Him.

6:9 Pray, then, in this way: ‘Our Father who art in the heavens, hallowed be Thy name.

Note †: Matthew 6:9 · wording and sourceWording: The plural pray ye introduces singular address to the Father. Hallowed be is a petition that the name be held holy; it does not imply that the name previously lacked holiness.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

6:10 Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done, as in heaven, so also upon earth.

6:11 Give us this day our daily bread;

Note †: Matthew 6:11 · wording and sourceMeaning: Daily is a provisional choice for epiousios. Notes retain the coming-day and sustenance interpretations, and identify supersubstantial as the consulted Douay–Rheims wording. No single etymology is treated as conclusive. See the NET translators' note on Matthew 6:11 for an independently documented discussion of the difficulty.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors;

A liturgical form containing it should be identified separately.Text: The consulted NA28 prayer ends with deliverance from evil or the evil one and does not print the KJV doxology in the running text. 6:14 For if you forgive people their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

6:15 But if you do not forgive people, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

6:16 And when you fast, do not become gloomy like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces so that people may see they are fasting. Truly I tell you, they have received their reward in full.

6:17 But you, when fasting, anoint your head and wash your face,

6:18 so that your fasting may be seen by your Father who is in secret, rather than by people; and your Father who sees in secret will repay you.

6:19 Do not store up treasures for yourselves upon earth, where moth and consumption destroy and where thieves break through and steal.

6:20 But store up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither moth nor consumption destroys and where thieves neither break through nor steal.

6:21 For where your treasure is, there your heart will also be.

6:22 The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light.

Note †: Matthew 6:22 · wording and sourceMeaning: Use sound provisionally, retaining single or undivided as lexical connections. The surrounding treasure and service sayings warrant attention to generosity and divided allegiance, without inserting either explanation into the image.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

6:23 But if your eye is evil, your whole body will be dark. So if the light within you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

6:24 No one can serve as a slave to two masters: for he will either hate the one and love the other, or hold to one and despise the other. You cannot serve as a slave to God and mammon.

6:25 Therefore I tell you: do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, or about your body, what you will wear. Is life not more than food, and the body more than clothing?

6:26 Look at the birds of the sky: they do not sow or reap or gather into storehouses, yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth more than they?

6:27 Which of you by being anxious can add one cubit to his lifespan?

6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Observe the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin.

6:29 Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his glory clothed himself like one of these.

6:30 If God so clothes the grass of the field, which exists today and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will He not much more clothe you, people of little faith?

6:31 So do not be anxious, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘What shall we wear?’

6:32 For the nations seek all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all.

6:33 But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

6:34 So do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious about itself. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble.

Matthew 7

7:1 Do not judge, so that you may not be judged.

7:2 For with the judgment you use, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.

7:3 Why do you see the splinter in your brother’s eye, but do not notice the beam in your own eye?

7:4 Or how will you say to your brother, ‘Let me remove the splinter from your eye,’ when behold, the beam is in your own eye?

7:5 Hypocrite! First remove the beam from your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the splinter from your brother’s eye.

7:6 Do not give what is holy to dogs or throw your pearls before pigs, lest they trample them with their feet and turn and tear you apart.

7:7 Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you.

7:8 For everyone who asks receives, the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened.

7:9 Or who among you, if his son asks for bread, will give him a stone?

7:10 Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake?

7:11 If you, then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in the heavens give good things to those who ask Him!

7:12 So in everything, whatever you wish people to do for you, you also do likewise for them; for this is the Law and the Prophets.

7:13 Enter through the narrow gate, because the gate is wide and the road broad that leads to destruction, and many enter through it.

7:14 How narrow is the gate and how constricted the road that leads to life, and few find it!

7:15 Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep’s clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves.

7:16 You will recognize them by their fruits. Do people gather grapes from thornbushes, or figs from thistles?

7:17 In the same way, every good tree bears good fruit, but the rotten tree bears evil fruit.

7:18 A good tree cannot bear evil fruit, nor can a rotten tree bear good fruit.

7:19 Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into fire.

7:20 So then, you will recognize them by their fruits.

7:21 Not everyone who says to Me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of the heavens, but the one who does the will of My Father in the heavens.

7:22 Many will say to Me on that day, ‘Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Thy name, cast out demons in Thy name, and do many mighty works in Thy name?’

7:23 Then I will declare to them, ‘I never knew you. Depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness.’

7:24 Therefore everyone who hears these words of Mine and puts them into practice will be likened to a prudent man who built his house upon the rock.

7:25 The rain came down, the rivers came, and the winds blew and fell upon that house, and it did not fall, for it had been founded upon the rock.

7:26 And everyone who hears these words of Mine and does not put them into practice will be likened to a foolish man who built his house upon the sand.

7:27 The rain came down, the rivers came, and the winds blew and struck that house, and it fell; and its fall was great.”

7:28 When Jesus finished these words, the crowds were astonished at His teaching,

7:29 for He taught them as One having authority, and not as their scribes.

Matthew 8

8:1 When He came down from the mountain, great crowds followed Him.

8:2 And behold, a leper came and bowed before Him, saying, “Lord, if Thou art willing, Thou canst cleanse me.”

8:3 He stretched out His hand and touched him, saying, “I am willing; be cleansed.” Immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

8:4 Jesus said to him, “See that you tell no one, but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift Moses commanded as a testimony to them.”

8:5 When He entered Capernaum, a centurion came to Him, pleading with Him

8:6 and saying, “Lord, my servant lies at home paralyzed, terribly tormented.”

8:7 He said to him, “I will come and heal him.”

8:8 The centurion answered, “Lord, I am not fit for Thee to enter under my roof. Only speak a word, and my servant will be healed.

8:9 For I too am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. I say to this one, ‘Go,’ and he goes; to another, ‘Come,’ and he comes; and to my slave, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

8:10 When Jesus heard this, He marveled and said to those following, “Truly I tell you, with no one in Israel have I found such faith.

8:11 I tell you that many will come from east and west and recline with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of the heavens,

8:12 but the sons of the kingdom will be cast into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.”

8:13 Jesus said to the centurion, “Go; as you have believed, let it happen for you.” And his servant was healed at that hour.

8:14 Jesus entered Peter’s house and saw his mother-in-law lying down with a fever.

8:15 He touched her hand, and the fever left her. She arose and served Him.

8:16 When evening came, they brought Him many who were oppressed by demons. He cast out the spirits with a word and healed all who were ill,

8:17 so that what was spoken through Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled: “He took our weaknesses and carried our diseases.”

8:18 Seeing a crowd around Him, Jesus gave orders to depart to the other side.

8:19 One scribe came and said to Him, “Teacher, I will follow Thee wherever Thou goest.”

8:20 Jesus said to him, “Foxes have dens and the birds of the sky have resting places, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay His head.”

8:21 Another of His disciples said to Him, “Lord, first permit me to go and bury my father.”

8:22 But Jesus said to him, “Follow Me, and let the dead bury their own dead.”

8:23 And when He entered the boat, His disciples followed Him.

8:25 And they came to Him and awoke Him, saying, “Lord, save; we are perishing.”

8:28 When He came to the other side, to the country of the Gadarenes, two men oppressed by demons met Him, coming out of the tombs. They were exceedingly fierce, so that no one could pass by that road.

8:29 And behold, they cried out, “What have we to do with Thee, Son of God? Hast Thou come here to torment us before the appointed time?”

8:30 Far from them a herd of many pigs was feeding.

8:31 The demons pleaded with Him, saying, “If Thou castest us out, send us into the herd of pigs.”

8:32 He said to them, “Go.” They came out and went into the pigs. And behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep bank into the sea and died in the waters.

8:33 The herdsmen fled, and going into the city they reported everything, including what had happened to the men oppressed by demons.

8:34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus. When they saw Him, they begged Him to depart from their territory.

Matthew 9

9:1 He entered a boat, crossed over, and came to His own city.

9:2 And behold, they brought Him a paralytic lying on a bed. Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, “Take courage, child; your sins are forgiven.”

9:3 And behold, some of the scribes said among themselves, “This Man blasphemes.”

9:4 Seeing their thoughts, Jesus said, “Why do you think evil things in your hearts?

9:5 For which is easier, to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Rise and walk’?

9:6 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins”—then He said to the paralytic—“rise, take your bed, and go to your house.”

9:7 He rose and went to his house.

9:8 When the crowds saw this, they feared and glorified God, who had given such authority to human beings.

9:9 As Jesus passed on from there, He saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax station, and He said to him, “Follow Me.” He rose and followed Him.

9:10 As He reclined at table in the house, behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and reclined with Jesus and His disciples.

9:11 When the Pharisees saw this, they said to His disciples, “Why does your Teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?”

9:12 Hearing this, He said, “The strong have no need of a physician, but those who are ill do.

9:13 Go and learn what this means: ‘I desire mercy and not sacrifice.’ For I did not come to call righteous people, but sinners.”

9:14 Then John’s disciples came to Him, saying, “Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but Thy disciples do not fast?”

9:15 Jesus said to them, “Can the wedding guests mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? But days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast.

9:16 No one puts a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for its patch pulls away from the garment, and a worse tear results.

9:17 Nor do people put new wine into old wineskins. Otherwise the skins burst, the wine spills out, and the skins are ruined. Instead, they put new wine into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved.”

9:18 While He was saying these things to them, behold, a ruler came and bowed before Him, saying, “My daughter has just died. But come, lay Thy hand upon her, and she will live.”

9:19 Jesus rose and followed him, and so did His disciples.

9:20 And behold, a woman who had suffered a flow of blood for twelve years came behind Him and touched the fringe of His garment.

9:21 For she said within herself, “If I only touch His garment, I will be saved.”

9:22 Jesus turned, saw her, and said, “Take courage, daughter; your faith has saved you.” And the woman was saved from that hour.

9:23 When Jesus entered the ruler’s house and saw the flute players and the crowd in an uproar,

9:24 He said, “Withdraw, for the girl has not died but is sleeping.” And they laughed at Him.

9:25 When the crowd had been put outside, He entered and took her hand, and the girl arose.

9:26 This report went out into all that land.

9:27 As Jesus passed on from there, two blind men followed Him, crying out, “Have mercy on us, Son of David!”

9:28 When He entered the house, the blind men came to Him, and Jesus said to them, “Do you believe that I can do this?” They said to Him, “Yes, Lord.”

9:29 Then He touched their eyes, saying, “According to your faith, let it happen for you.”

9:30 Their eyes were opened. Jesus sternly warned them, saying, “See that no one knows.”

9:31 But they went out and spread the report about Him throughout all that land.

9:32 As they were going out, behold, people brought Him a mute man oppressed by a demon.

9:33 When the demon was cast out, the mute man spoke. The crowds marveled, saying, “Never has anything like this appeared in Israel.”

9:34 But the Pharisees said, “By the ruler of the demons He casts out demons.”

9:35 And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every infirmity.

Matthew 10

10:1 He summoned His twelve disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out and to heal every disease and every infirmity.

10:2 These are the names of the twelve apostles: first Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

10:3 Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus;

10:4 Simon the Cananaean, and Judas Iscariot, who also handed Him over.

10:5 Jesus sent these twelve, commanding them, “Do not go along a road of the Gentiles, and do not enter a city of Samaritans.

10:6 Go instead to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

10:7 As you go, proclaim, ‘The kingdom of the heavens has drawn near.’

10:8 Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, cast out demons. Freely you received; freely give.

10:9 Do not acquire gold, silver, or copper for your belts,

10:10 nor a bag for the journey, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor a staff; for the worker is worthy of his food.

10:11 Whatever city or village you enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and remain there until you leave.

10:12 As you enter the house, greet it.

10:13 If the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.

10:14 Whoever will not receive you or hear your words, as you leave that house or city, shake the dust off your feet.

10:15 Truly I tell you, it will be more bearable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of judgment than for that city.

10:16 Behold, I send you as sheep in the midst of wolves. So become prudent as snakes and innocent as doves.

10:17 Beware of people, for they will hand you over to councils and flog you in their synagogues.

10:18 You will also be brought before governors and kings because of Me, as a testimony to them and to the nations.

10:19 When they hand you over, do not be anxious about how or what you should speak, for what you should speak will be given to you at that hour.

10:20 For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

10:21 Brother will hand brother over to death, and a father his child; children will rise against parents and have them put to death.

10:22 You will be hated by all because of My name, but the one who endures to the end will be saved.

10:23 When they persecute you in this city, flee to the other. For truly I tell you, you will certainly not finish going through the cities of Israel until the Son of Man comes.

10:24 A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above his master.

10:25 It is enough for the disciple to become like his teacher, and the slave like his master. If they called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much more his household members!

10:26 So do not fear them. For nothing is covered that will not be revealed, or hidden that will not become known.

10:27 What I tell you in the darkness, say in the light; and what you hear in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops.

10:28 Do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; rather fear Him who can destroy both soul and body in Gehenna.

Note †: Matthew 10:28 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain Gehenna and explain its judgment use beside the verse. Keep the contrast between killing the body and destroying both soul and body; do not collapse Gehenna into Hades.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

10:29 Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father.

10:30 Even the hairs of your head are all numbered.

10:31 So do not fear; you are worth more than many sparrows.

10:32 Therefore everyone who acknowledges Me before people, I too will acknowledge before My Father in the heavens.

10:33 But whoever denies Me before people, I too will deny before My Father in the heavens.

10:34 Do not suppose that I came to bring peace upon the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword.

10:35 For I came to divide a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law,

10:36 and a person's enemies will be the members of his own household.

10:37 Whoever loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me; and whoever loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.

10:38 Whoever does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.

10:39 Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life because of Me will find it.

10:40 Whoever receives you receives Me, and whoever receives Me receives the One who sent Me.

10:41 Whoever receives a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a prophet's reward, and whoever receives a righteous person in the name of a righteous person will receive a righteous person's reward.

10:42 And whoever gives one of these little ones even a cup of cold water in the name of a disciple, truly I tell you, will certainly not lose his reward."

Matthew 11

11:1 When Jesus finished directing His twelve disciples, He moved on from there to teach and proclaim in their cities.

11:2 John, hearing in prison about the works of the Christ, sent through his disciples

11:3 and said to Him, "Art Thou the One who is coming, or should we expect another?"

11:4 Jesus answered them, "Go and report to John what you hear and see:

11:5 the blind receive sight and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear, the dead are raised and the poor have good news proclaimed to them.

11:6 And blessed is whoever does not stumble because of Me."

11:7 As they went away, Jesus began to speak to the crowds about John: "What did you go out into the wilderness to behold? A reed shaken by the wind?

11:8 But what did you go out to see? A man dressed in soft clothing? Behold, those wearing soft clothing are in kings' houses.

11:9 But why did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and more than a prophet.

11:10 This is the one about whom it is written: 'Behold, I send My messenger before Thy face, who will prepare Thy way before Thee.'

11:11 Truly I tell you, among those born of women none greater than John the Baptist has arisen; yet the least in the kingdom of the heavens is greater than he.

11:12 From the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence, and violent men seize it.

11:13 For all the Prophets and the Law prophesied until John.

11:14 And if you are willing to receive it, he is Elijah who is to come.

11:15 Let the one who has ears hear.

11:16 To what shall I compare this generation? It is like children sitting in the marketplaces who call to the others,

11:17 'We played the flute for you, and you did not dance; we sang a lament, and you did not beat your breasts.'

11:18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a demon.'

11:19 The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Behold, a gluttonous man and a wine drinker, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!' Yet wisdom was vindicated by her works."

11:20 Then He began to reproach the cities in which most of His mighty works had occurred, because they did not repent:

11:21 "Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works that occurred in you had occurred in Tyre and Sidon, they would long ago have repented in sackcloth and ashes.

11:22 Nevertheless I tell you, it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon on the day of judgment than for you.

11:23 And you, Capernaum, will you be exalted to heaven? You will descend to Hades! For if the mighty works that occurred in you had occurred in Sodom, it would have remained until today.

11:24 Nevertheless I tell you, it will be more bearable for the land of Sodom on the day of judgment than for you.”

11:25 At that time Jesus answered, “I acknowledge Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because Thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding and reveal them to infants.

11:26 Yes, Father, because this was pleasing before Thee.

11:27 All things have been handed over to Me by My Father. No one knows the Son except the Father, nor does anyone know the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son wishes to reveal Him.

11:28 Come to Me, all you who labour and are burdened, and I will give you rest.

11:29 Take My yoke upon you, and learn from Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart, and you shall find rest for your souls.

11:30 For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light.”

Matthew 12

12:1 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath; and His disciples grew hungry, and began to pluck heads of grain and eat.

Note †: Matthew 12:1 · wording and sourceWording: Grainfields and heads of grain preserve the general crop terms. The passage does not identify maize or specify wheat. The plural Sabbath expression is rendered by its contextual singular English idiom.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

12:2 And the Pharisees, seeing it, said to Him, “Behold, Thy disciples do what is not lawful on the Sabbath.”

12:3 He said to them, “Have you not read what David did when he and those with him became hungry:

12:4 how he entered the house of God, and they ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him or those with him to eat, but only for the priests?

12:5 Or have you not read in the Law that on Sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless?

12:6 But I tell you that something greater than the temple is here.

12:7 If you had known what ‘I desire mercy and not sacrifice’ means, you would not have condemned the guiltless.

12:8 For the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath.”

12:9 Moving on from there, He entered their synagogue.

12:10 And behold, a man had a withered hand. They asked Him, “Is it lawful to heal on Sabbaths?” so that they might accuse Him.

12:11 He said to them, “Who among you, if he has one sheep and it falls into a pit on a Sabbath, will not grasp it and lift it out?

12:12 How much more valuable, then, is a human being than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on Sabbaths.”

12:13 Then He said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” He stretched it out, and it was restored, healthy like the other.

12:14 The Pharisees went out and took counsel against Him, how they might destroy Him.

12:15 But Jesus, knowing this, withdrew from there. Great crowds followed Him, and He healed them all.

12:16 He sternly warned them not to make Him known,

12:17 so that what was spoken through Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled:

12:18 “Behold, My Servant whom I chose, My beloved in whom My soul was well pleased. I will put My Spirit upon Him, and He will proclaim justice to the nations.

12:19 He will not quarrel or cry out, nor will anyone hear His voice in the streets.

12:20 He will not break a bruised reed or extinguish a smoldering wick, until He brings justice forth to victory.

12:21 And nations will hope in His name.”

12:22 Then a man oppressed by a demon, blind and mute, was brought to Him. He healed him, so that the mute man spoke and saw.

12:23 All the crowds were amazed and said, “Could this be the Son of David?”

12:24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, “This Man casts out demons only by Beelzebul, the ruler of the demons.”

12:25 Knowing their thoughts, He said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.

12:26 If Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?

12:27 And if I cast out demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges.

12:28 But if I cast out demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.

12:29 Or how can someone enter the strong man's house and seize his belongings unless he first binds the strong man? Then he will plunder his house.

12:30 Whoever is not with Me is against Me, and whoever does not gather with Me scatters.

12:31 Therefore I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven people, but blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven.

12:32 Whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age or in the coming one.

12:33 Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten; for the tree is known by the fruit.

12:34 Brood of vipers! How can you speak good things when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.

12:35 The good person brings forth good things from the good treasure, and the evil person brings forth evil things from the evil treasure.

12:36 But I tell you that people will give account on the day of judgment for every idle word they speak.

12:37 For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned."

12:38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from Thee."

12:39 He answered them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, but no sign will be given it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.

12:40 For just as Jonah was in the sea creature's belly three days and three nights, so the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.

12:41 Men of Nineveh will rise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, because they repented at Jonah's proclamation; and behold, something greater than Jonah is here.

12:42 The queen of the south will be raised at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear Solomon's wisdom; and behold, something greater than Solomon is here.

12:43 When the unclean spirit leaves a person, it passes through waterless places seeking rest, and finds none.

12:44 Then it says, 'I will return to my house from which I came.' When it comes, it finds it vacant, swept, and put in order.

12:45 Then it goes and takes with itself seven other spirits more evil than itself; they enter and dwell there, and that person's last condition becomes worse than the first. So it will also be with this evil generation."

12:46 While He was still speaking to the crowds, behold, His mother and brothers stood outside, seeking to speak with Him.

12:47 Someone said to Him, "Behold, Thy mother and Thy brothers stand outside, seeking to speak with Thee."

12:48 He answered the one speaking to Him, "Who is My mother, and who are My brothers?"

12:49 Stretching out His hand toward His disciples, He said, "Behold, My mother and My brothers!

12:50 For whoever does the will of My Father in the heavens is My brother and sister and mother."

Matthew 13

13:1 On that day Jesus went out of the house and sat beside the sea.

13:2 Great crowds gathered to Him, so that He entered a boat and sat down, while all the crowd stood on the shore.

13:3 He spoke many things to them in parables, saying, "Behold, the sower went out to sow.

13:4 As he sowed, some seeds fell beside the road, and the birds came and devoured them.

13:5 Others fell on rocky places, where they did not have much soil, and immediately sprang up because they had no depth of soil.

13:6 But when the sun rose, they were scorched, and because they had no root they withered.

13:7 Others fell among thorns; the thorns grew up and choked them.

13:8 Others fell on the good soil and yielded fruit: some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

13:9 Let the one who has ears hear."

13:10 The disciples came and said to Him, "Why dost Thou speak to them in parables?"

13:11 He answered them, "To you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens, but to them it has not been given.

13:12 For whoever has, to him more will be given, and he will have abundance; but whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him.

13:13 Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear or understand.

13:14 In them is fulfilled Isaiah’s prophecy, which says: ‘You will hear and hear but certainly not understand; you will look and look but certainly not see.

13:15 For the heart of this people has grown dull, and with their ears they heard but faintly, and their eyes they shut, lest they see with their eyes, hear with their ears, understand with their heart, and turn, and I will heal them.’

13:16 But blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear.

13:17 For truly I tell you, many prophets and righteous people desired to see what you see and did not see it, and to hear what you hear and did not hear it.

13:18 You, then, hear the parable of the sower.

13:19 When anyone hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand, the evil one comes and snatches what was sown in his heart. This is the one sown beside the road.

13:20 The one sown on rocky places is the one who hears the word and immediately receives it with joy,

13:21 yet has no root in himself, but lasts only a short time. When affliction or persecution arises because of the word, he immediately stumbles.

13:22 The one sown among the thorns is the one who hears the word, but the anxiety of this age and the deceit of riches choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful.

13:23 The one sown upon the good soil is the one who hears the word and understands; he indeed bears fruit and produces, some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.”

13:24 He set another parable before them, saying, “The kingdom of the heavens was likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field.

13:25 While people slept, his enemy came and sowed darnel among the wheat and went away.

13:26 When the crop sprouted and bore fruit, then the darnel appeared also.

13:27 The householder’s slaves came and said to him, ‘Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? From where, then, does it have darnel?’

13:28 He said to them, ‘An enemy did this.’ The slaves said to him, ‘Do you want us, then, to go and gather it?’

13:29 He said, ‘No, lest while gathering the darnel you uproot the wheat with it.

13:30 Let both grow together until the harvest. At harvest time I will tell the reapers: Gather the darnel first and bind it into bundles to burn it, but gather the wheat into my storehouse.’”

13:31 He set another parable before them, saying, “The kingdom of the heavens is like a mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field.

13:32 It is smaller than all the seeds, but when it grows it is greater than the garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the sky come and rest in its branches.”

13:33 He spoke another parable to them: “The kingdom of the heavens is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three sata of flour until the whole was leavened.”

Note †: Matthew 13:33 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain sata as the plural of saton and gloss it as an ancient dry measure. Keep flour, leaven, the woman's action, and the whole becoming leavened. No modern capacity is asserted.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

13:34 Jesus spoke all these things to the crowds in parables, and He spoke nothing to them without a parable,

13:35 so that what was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled: “I will open My mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world.”

13:36 Then He left the crowds and entered the house. His disciples came to Him, saying, “Explain to us the parable of the darnel in the field.”

13:37 He answered, “The One sowing the good seed is the Son of Man.

13:38 The field is the world; the good seed are the sons of the kingdom; the darnel are the sons of the evil one;

13:39 the enemy who sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the consummation of the age; and the reapers are angels.

13:40 Just as the darnel is gathered and burned with fire, so it will be at the consummation of the age.

13:41 The Son of Man will send His angels, and they will gather from His kingdom all causes of stumbling and those who practice lawlessness.

13:42 They will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

13:43 Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Let the one who has ears hear.

13:44 The kingdom of the heavens is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and hid. In his joy he goes and sells everything he has and buys that field.

13:45 Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a merchant seeking fine pearls.

13:46 Finding one pearl of great value, he went and sold everything he had and bought it.

13:47 Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a dragnet cast into the sea and gathering fish of every kind.

13:48 When it was full, they drew it onto the shore, sat down, and gathered the good into containers, but threw the rotten away.

13:49 So it will be at the consummation of the age: the angels will go out and separate the evil from the midst of the righteous

13:50 and cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

13:51 Have you understood all these things?" They said to Him, "Yes."

13:52 He said to them, "Therefore every scribe made a disciple for the kingdom of the heavens is like a householder who brings out of his treasure things new and old."

13:53 When Jesus finished these parables, He departed from there.

13:54 Coming to His hometown, He taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished and said, "Where did this Man get this wisdom and these mighty works?

13:55 Is He not the craftsman's son? Is His mother not called Mary, and His brothers James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas?

13:56 And are not all His sisters with us? Where, then, did this Man get all these things?"

13:57 They stumbled because of Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and his own house."

13:58 He did not do many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

Matthew 14

14:1 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard the report about Jesus

14:2 and said to his attendants, "This is John the Baptist. He has been raised from the dead, and therefore the powers are at work in him."

14:3 For Herod had seized John, bound him, and put him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip.

14:4 For John kept saying to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her."

14:5 Although he wanted to kill him, he feared the crowd, because they regarded him as a prophet.

14:6 When Herod's birthday celebration came, Herodias's daughter danced in their midst and pleased Herod.

14:7 Therefore he promised with an oath to give her whatever she asked.

14:8 Prompted by her mother, she said, "Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist."

14:9 Although the king was grieved, because of his oaths and those reclining with him, he ordered it to be given.

14:10 He sent and had John beheaded in the prison.

14:11 His head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother.

14:12 His disciples came, took the corpse, and buried him; then they went and reported to Jesus.

14:13 When Jesus heard this, He withdrew from there by boat to a deserted place privately. Hearing of it, the crowds followed Him on foot from the cities.

14:14 Coming out, He saw a great crowd, was moved with compassion for them, and healed their sick.

14:15 When evening came, the disciples approached Him, saying, "The place is deserted, and the hour has already passed. Dismiss the crowds so that they may go to the villages and buy food for themselves."

14:16 But Jesus said to them, "They have no need to go away. You give them something to eat."

14:17 They said to Him, "We have here only five loaves and two fish."

14:18 He said, "Bring them here to Me."

14:19 He ordered the crowds to recline on the grass. Taking the five loaves and the two fish, He looked up to heaven, blessed, broke the loaves, and gave them to the disciples, and the disciples to the crowds.

14:20 They all ate and were filled, and they took up the surplus fragments: twelve baskets full.

14:21 Those eating were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

14:22 Immediately He compelled the disciples to enter a boat and go ahead of Him to the other side, while He dismissed the crowds.

14:23 After dismissing the crowds, He went up the mountain privately to pray. When evening came, He was there alone.

14:24 The boat was already many stadia from land, battered by the waves, for the wind was against them.

14:25 In the fourth watch of the night He came toward them, walking upon the sea.

14:26 When the disciples saw Him walking upon the sea, they were troubled and said, "It is an apparition!" They cried out in fear.

14:27 Immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, "Take courage; it is I. Do not fear."

14:28 Peter answered Him, “Lord, if it is Thou, command me to come to Thee upon the waters.”

14:29 He said, “Come.” Peter got down from the boat, walked upon the waters, and came toward Jesus.

14:30 But seeing the strong wind, he became afraid; beginning to sink, he cried out, “Lord, save me!”

14:31 Immediately Jesus stretched out His hand, grasped him, and said to him, “You of little faith, why did you doubt?”

14:32 When they climbed into the boat, the wind ceased.

14:33 Those in the boat worshiped Him, saying, “Truly Thou art God’s Son.”

14:34 Having crossed over, they came to land at Gennesaret.

14:35 The men of that place recognized Him and sent into all the surrounding region. They brought Him all who were ill

14:36 and begged Him that they might only touch the fringe of His garment. As many as touched it were made well.

Matthew 15

15:1 Then Pharisees and scribes from Jerusalem came to Jesus, saying,

15:2 “Why do Thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.”

15:3 He answered them, “Why do you also transgress God’s commandment because of your tradition?

15:4 For God said, ‘Honor father and mother,’ and ‘Whoever reviles father or mother must surely die.’

15:5 But you say, ‘Whoever tells his father or mother, “Whatever benefit you might receive from me is a gift,”

15:6 will certainly not honor his father.’ You have thus nullified the word of God because of your tradition.

15:7 Hypocrites! Isaiah prophesied well about you, saying,

15:8 ‘This people honors Me with their lips, but their heart is far from Me.

15:9 In vain do they worship Me, teaching human commands for doctrine.’”

15:10 He summoned the crowd and said to them, “Hear and understand:

15:11 what enters the mouth does not defile a person, but what comes out of the mouth—this defiles a person.”

15:12 Then the disciples came and said to Him, “Dost Thou know that the Pharisees stumbled when they heard this saying?”

15:13 He answered, “Every plant that My heavenly Father did not plant will be uprooted.

15:14 Leave them; they are blind guides of the blind. If a blind person guides a blind person, both will fall into a pit.”

15:15 Peter answered Him, “Explain this parable to us.”

15:16 He said, “Are you also still without understanding?

15:17 Do you not understand that everything entering the mouth goes into the stomach and is expelled into the latrine?

15:18 But the things coming out of the mouth come from the heart, and those defile a person.

15:19 For out of the heart come evil reasonings, murders, adulteries, sexual immoralities, thefts, false testimonies, and blasphemies.

15:20 These are the things that defile a person, but eating with unwashed hands does not defile a person.”

15:21 Jesus went out from there and withdrew to the regions of Tyre and Sidon.

15:22 And behold, a Canaanite woman from those territories came out and cried, “Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David! My daughter is terribly oppressed by a demon.”

15:23 But He did not answer her a word. His disciples came and asked Him, “Dismiss her, because she is crying out behind us.”

15:24 He answered, “I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.”

15:25 She came and bowed before Him, saying, “Lord, help me.”

15:26 He answered, “It is not good to take the children’s bread and throw it to the little dogs.”

15:27 She said, “Yes, Lord, for even the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from their masters’ table.”

15:28 Then Jesus answered her, “Woman, great is your faith! Let it happen for you as you wish.” Her daughter was healed from that hour.

15:29 Moving on from there, Jesus came beside the Sea of Galilee. He went up the mountain and sat there.

15:30 Great crowds came to Him, bringing with them lame, blind, maimed, mute, and many others. They laid them at His feet, and He healed them,

15:31 so that the crowd marveled when they saw mute people speaking, maimed people healthy, lame people walking, and blind people seeing. They glorified the God of Israel.

15:32 Jesus summoned His disciples and said, “I am moved with compassion for the crowd, because they have already stayed with Me three days and have nothing to eat. I am unwilling to dismiss them fasting, lest they faint on the road.”

15:33 The disciples said to Him, “Where can we get so many loaves in a deserted place, enough to fill so great a crowd?”

15:34 Jesus said to them, “How many loaves do you have?” They said, “Seven, and a few small fish.”

15:35 He instructed the crowd to recline on the ground,

15:36 took the seven loaves and the fish, gave thanks, broke them, and kept giving them to the disciples, and the disciples to the crowds.

15:37 They all ate and were filled, and they took up the surplus fragments: seven large baskets full.

15:38 Those eating were four thousand men, besides women and children.

15:39 After dismissing the crowds, He entered the boat and came to the territory of Magadan.

Matthew 16

16:1 The Pharisees and Sadducees came and, testing Him, asked Him to show them a sign from heaven.

16:2 He answered them, “When evening comes, you say, ‘Fair weather, for the sky is red.’

16:3 And in the morning, ‘Today a storm, for the sky is red and gloomy.’ You know how to distinguish the face of the sky, but can you not distinguish the signs of the times?

16:4 An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, but no sign will be given it except the sign of Jonah.” He left them and went away.

16:5 When the disciples came to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

16:6 Jesus said to them, “Look out and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

16:7 They reasoned among themselves, saying, “We did not take bread.”

16:8 Knowing this, Jesus said, “Why do you reason among yourselves, people of little faith, because you have no bread?

16:9 Do you not yet understand or remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you took up?

16:10 Or the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many large baskets you took up?

16:11 How do you not understand that I did not speak to you about bread? But beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

16:12 Then they understood that He did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

16:13 When Jesus came into the regions of Caesarea Philippi, He asked His disciples, “Who do people say the Son of Man is?”

16:14 They said, “Some John the Baptist; others Elijah; still others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.”

16:15 He said to them, “But you, who do you say I am?”

16:16 Simon Peter answered, “Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

16:17 Jesus answered him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, because flesh and blood did not reveal this to you, but My Father in the heavens.

16:18 And I tell you that you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it.

16:19 I will give you the keys of the kingdom of the heavens. Whatever you bind upon earth will have been bound in the heavens, and whatever you loose upon earth will have been loosed in the heavens.”

16:20 Then He instructed the disciples to tell no one that He was the Christ.

16:21 From then on Jesus began to show His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem, suffer many things from the elders, chief priests, and scribes, be killed, and on the third day be raised.

16:22 Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him, saying, “May mercy be Thine, Lord! This shall certainly never happen to Thee.”

16:23 But He turned and said to Peter, “Get behind Me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to Me, because you do not set your mind on the things of God, but on the things of human beings.”

16:24 Then Jesus said to His disciples, “If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow Me.

16:25 For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life because of Me will find it.

16:26 For what will a person gain if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life? Or what will a person give in exchange for his life?

16:27 For the Son of Man is to come in the glory of His Father with His angels, and then He will repay each person according to his conduct.

16:28 Truly I tell you that some standing here will certainly not taste death until they see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom."

Matthew 17

17:1 After six days Jesus took Peter, James, and John his brother, and led them up a high mountain privately.

17:2 He was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and His garments became white like the light.

17:3 And behold, Moses and Elijah appeared to them, conversing with Him.

17:4 Peter answered Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If Thou wishest, I will make three tents here: one for Thee, one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

17:5 While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them. And behold, a voice from the cloud said, "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear Him."

17:6 When the disciples heard, they fell on their faces and were exceedingly afraid.

17:7 Jesus came, touched them, and said, "Rise, and do not fear."

17:8 Lifting their eyes, they saw no one except Jesus Himself alone.

17:9 As they came down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, "Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man is raised from the dead."

17:10 The disciples asked Him, "Why, then, do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?"

17:11 He answered, "Elijah indeed comes and will restore all things.

17:12 But I tell you that Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him, but did to him whatever they wished. In the same way the Son of Man is also to suffer at their hands."

17:13 Then the disciples understood that He spoke to them about John the Baptist.

17:14 When they came to the crowd, a man approached Him, kneeling before Him

17:15 and saying, "Lord, have mercy on my son, because he suffers seizures and is badly afflicted; for he often falls into fire and often into water.

17:16 I brought him to Thy disciples, but they could not heal him."

17:17 Jesus answered, "O faithless and perverted generation, how long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you? Bring him here to Me."

17:18 Jesus rebuked him, and the demon came out of him; the boy was healed from that hour.

17:19 Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, "Why could we not cast it out?"

17:20 He said to them, "Because of your little faith. For truly I tell you, if you have faith like a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you."

17:22 While they gathered in Galilee, Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be handed over into human hands.

17:23 They will kill Him, and on the third day He will be raised." They were exceedingly grieved.

17:24 And when they came to Capernaum, those who collected the didrachmas came to Peter and said, "Does not your Teacher pay the didrachmas?"

Matthew 18

18:1 At that hour the disciples came to Jesus, saying, "Who, then, is greatest in the kingdom of the heavens?"

18:2 He called a child and stood the child in their midst,

18:3 and said, “Truly I tell you, unless you turn and become like children, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of the heavens.

18:4 Therefore whoever humbles himself like this child is greatest in the kingdom of the heavens.

18:5 And whoever receives one such child in My name receives Me.

18:6 But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble, it is better for him that a donkey-driven millstone be hung around his neck and he be sunk in the open sea.

18:7 Woe to the world because of stumbling blocks! For stumbling blocks must come, but woe to the person through whom the stumbling block comes!

18:8 If your hand or foot causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw it away from you. It is better for you to enter life maimed or lame than, having two hands or two feet, to be cast into the eternal fire.

18:9 And if your eye causes you to stumble, tear it out and throw it away from you. It is better for you to enter life with one eye than, having two eyes, to be cast into the Gehenna of fire.

18:10 See that you do not despise one of these little ones, for I tell you that their angels in the heavens continually see the face of My Father in the heavens.

18:12 What do you think? If someone has a hundred sheep and one of them strays, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains and go seeking the one that strays?

18:13 If he succeeds in finding it, truly I tell you that he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that have not strayed.

18:14 In the same way, it is not the will of your Father in the heavens that one of these little ones perish.

18:15 If your brother sins against you, go and reprove him between you and him alone. If he hears you, you have gained your brother.

18:16 But if he does not hear, take one or two more with you, so that every matter may be established upon the mouth of two or three witnesses.

18:17 If he refuses to hear them, tell the Church. And if he refuses to hear even the Church, let him be to you like the Gentile and the tax collector.

18:18 Truly I tell you, whatever you bind upon earth will have been bound in heaven, and whatever you loose upon earth will have been loosed in heaven.

18:19 Again, truly I tell you that if two of you agree upon earth concerning any matter they ask, it will be done for them by My Father in the heavens.

18:20 For where two or three are gathered into My name, there I am in their midst.”

18:21 Then Peter came and said to Him, “Lord, how often will my brother sin against me and I forgive him? Up to seven times?”

18:22 Jesus says to him, “I tell you, not up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven.

18:30 But he was unwilling. Instead, he went and threw him into prison until he repaid what was owed.

18:31 When his fellow slaves saw what had happened, they were exceedingly grieved. They came and explained to their master everything that had happened.

18:32 Then his master summoned him and said, ‘Evil slave! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me.

18:33 Should you not also have had mercy on your fellow slave, as I had mercy on you?’

18:34 His master became angry and handed him over to the torturers until he repaid everything owed.

18:35 So also My heavenly Father will do to you, unless each of you forgives his brother from your hearts.”

Matthew 19

19:1 When Jesus finished these words, He departed from Galilee and came into the territories of Judea beyond the Jordan.

19:2 Great crowds followed Him, and He healed them there.

19:3 Pharisees came to Him, testing Him and saying, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any cause?”

19:4 He answered, “Have you not read that the Creator from the beginning made them male and female,

19:5 and said, ‘For this reason a man shall leave father and mother and cleave to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh’?

19:6 So they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore what God has yoked together, let no human being separate.”

19:7 They said to Him, “Why then did Moses command giving a certificate of divorce and divorcing her?”

19:8 He said to them, “Because of your hardness of heart Moses permitted you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it has not been so.

19:9 I tell you that whoever divorces his wife, except on account of sexual immorality, and marries another commits adultery.”

19:10 His disciples said to Him, “If this is the situation of the man with the wife, it is better not to marry.”

19:11 He said to them, “Not everyone can receive this saying, but only those to whom it has been given.

19:12 For there are eunuchs who were born so from their mother’s womb, there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by human beings, and there are eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs because of the kingdom of the heavens. Let the one able to receive it receive it.”

19:13 Then children were brought to Him so that He might lay His hands upon them and pray. But the disciples rebuked them.

19:14 Jesus said, “Let the children come, and do not hinder them from coming to Me, for the kingdom of the heavens belongs to such as these.”

19:15 After laying His hands upon them, He went on from there.

19:16 And behold, someone came and said to Him, “Teacher, what good thing shall I do to have eternal life?”

19:17 He said to him, “Why do you ask Me about what is good? One is good. But if you wish to enter life, keep the commandments.”

19:18 He said to Him, “Which ones?” Jesus said, “‘You shall not murder; you shall not commit adultery; you shall not steal; you shall not bear false witness;

19:19 honor father and mother’; and ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’”

19:20 The young man said to Him, “I have kept all these. What do I still lack?”

19:21 Jesus said to him, “If you wish to be perfect, go, sell your belongings, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in the heavens. Then come, follow Me.”

19:22 When the young man heard the saying, he went away grieved, for he had many properties.

19:23 Jesus said to His disciples, “Truly I tell you that a rich person will enter the kingdom of the heavens with difficulty.

19:24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to enter through the hole of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.”

19:25 When the disciples heard this, they were exceedingly astonished, saying, “Who then can be saved?”

19:26 Looking at them, Jesus said, “With human beings this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.”

19:27 Then Peter answered Him, “Behold, we have left everything and followed Thee. What then will there be for us?”

19:28 Jesus said to them, “Truly I tell you that you who have followed Me, in the regeneration, when the Son of Man sits upon the throne of His glory, shall also sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

20:4 and to them he said, ‘You also go into the vineyard, and whatever is just I will give you.’

20:5 They went. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hours and did the same.

20:6 About the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing, and said to them, ‘Why have you stood here idle the whole day?’

20:7 They said to him, ‘Because no one hired us.’ He said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard.’

20:8 When evening came, the master of the vineyard said to his steward, ‘Call the workers and pay them the wage, beginning with the last up to the first.’

20:9 Those hired about the eleventh hour came and received a denarius each.

20:10 When the first came, they supposed they would receive more, but they too received a denarius each.

20:11 On receiving it, they grumbled against the householder,

20:12 saying, ‘These last worked one hour, and you made them equal to us who bore the day’s burden and scorching heat.’

20:13 He answered one of them, ‘Friend, I am not wronging you. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?

20:14 Take what is yours and go. I wish to give to this last one the same as to you.

20:15 Am I not permitted to do what I wish with what is mine? Or is your eye evil because I am good?’

20:16 So the last will be first, and the first last.”

20:17 As Jesus went up to Jerusalem, He took the twelve disciples privately, and on the road He said to them,

20:18 “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and scribes. They will condemn Him to death

20:19 and hand Him over to the Gentiles to mock, flog, and crucify Him; and on the third day He will be raised.”

20:20 Then the mother of Zebedee’s sons came to Him with her sons, bowing before Him and asking something from Him.

20:21 He said to her, “What do you wish?” She said to Him, “Command that these two sons of mine sit, one at Thy right and one at Thy left, in Thy kingdom.”

20:22 Jesus answered, “You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink?” They said to Him, “We are able.”

20:23 He said to them, “You will indeed drink My cup, but to sit at My right and left is not Mine to give, except to those for whom it has been prepared by My Father.”

20:24 When the ten heard, they became indignant about the two brothers.

20:25 Jesus summoned them and said, “You know that the rulers of the nations lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

20:26 It shall not be so among you. Instead, whoever wishes to become great among you will be your servant,

20:27 and whoever wishes to be first among you will be your slave,

20:28 just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve and to give His life as a ransom in place of many.”

20:29 As they went out from Jericho, a great crowd followed Him.

20:30 And behold, two blind men sitting beside the road heard that Jesus was passing by and cried out, “Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!”

20:31 The crowd rebuked them to make them silent, but they cried out all the more, “Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!”

20:32 Jesus stopped, called them, and said, “What do you wish Me to do for you?”

20:33 They said to Him, “Lord, that our eyes may be opened.”

20:34 Moved with compassion, Jesus touched their eyes. Immediately they received sight and followed Him.

Matthew 21

21:1 When they drew near Jerusalem and came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two disciples,

21:2 saying to them, “Go into the village opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied up and a colt with her. Untie them and bring them to Me.

21:3 If anyone says anything to you, say, ‘The Lord has need of them,’ and immediately he will send them.”

21:4 This happened so that what was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled:

21:5 “Tell the daughter of Zion: ‘Behold, your King comes to you, meek and mounted upon a donkey, and upon a colt, the foal of a beast of burden.’”

21:6 The disciples went and did as Jesus directed them.

21:7 They brought the donkey and the colt, placed the garments upon them, and He sat upon them.

21:8 Most of the crowd spread their garments on the road, while others cut branches from the trees and spread them on the road.

21:9 The crowds going before Him and those following cried out, “Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!”

21:10 When He entered Jerusalem, the whole city was shaken, saying, “Who is this?”

21:11 The crowds said, “This is the prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.”

21:12 Jesus entered the temple and cast out all those selling and buying in the temple. He overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those selling doves.

21:13 He said to them, “It is written, ‘My house will be called a house of prayer,’ but you make it a den of robbers.”

21:14 Blind and lame people came to Him in the temple, and He healed them.

21:15 But when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonders He did and the children crying in the temple, “Hosanna to the Son of David,” they became indignant

21:16 and said to Him, “Dost Thou hear what these are saying?” Jesus said to them, “Yes. Have you never read, ‘Out of the mouth of infants and nursing children Thou didst prepare praise’?”

21:17 Leaving them, He went outside the city to Bethany and spent the night there.

21:18 In the morning, as He returned to the city, He became hungry.

21:19 Seeing a fig tree beside the road, He came to it and found nothing on it except leaves alone. He said to it, “Let no fruit ever come from you again.” Immediately the fig tree withered.

21:20 When the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, “How did the fig tree wither immediately?”

21:21 Jesus answered them, “Truly I tell you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will do not only what was done to the fig tree; even if you say to this mountain, ‘Be lifted up and cast into the sea,’ it will happen.

21:22 Everything you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive.”

21:23 When He entered the temple, the chief priests and elders of the people approached Him as He taught, saying, “By what authority dost Thou do these things? And who gave Thee this authority?”

21:24 Jesus answered them, “I too will ask you one thing. If you tell Me, I too will tell you by what authority I do these things.

21:25 John’s baptism—from where was it? From heaven or from human beings?” They reasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say to us, ‘Why, then, did you not believe him?’

21:26 But if we say, ‘From human beings,’ we fear the crowd, for all regard John as a prophet.”

21:27 They answered Jesus, “We do not know.” He also said to them, “Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

21:28 But what do you think? A man had two children. He came to the first and said, ‘Child, go work in the vineyard today.’

21:29 He answered, ‘I do not want to,’ but afterward he changed his mind and went.

21:30 He came to the second and said the same. He answered, ‘I will, sir,’ but did not go.

21:31 Which of the two did the father’s will?” They said, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Truly I tell you that tax collectors and prostitutes go ahead of you into the kingdom of God.

21:32 For John came to you in the way of righteousness and you did not believe him, but tax collectors and prostitutes believed him. Even after seeing this, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him.

21:33 Hear another parable. A householder planted a vineyard, put a fence around it, dug a winepress in it, and built a tower. He leased it to farmers and traveled abroad.

21:34 When the season of fruits drew near, he sent his slaves to the farmers to receive his fruits.

21:35 The farmers seized his slaves: one they beat, another they killed, another they stoned.

21:36 Again he sent other slaves, more than the first, and they did the same to them.

21:37 Last he sent his son to them, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’

21:38 But when the farmers saw the son, they said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and take his inheritance.’

21:39 They seized him, cast him outside the vineyard, and killed him.

21:40 So when the master of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those farmers?”

21:41 They said to Him, “He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and lease the vineyard to other farmers who will give him the fruits in their seasons.”

21:42 Jesus said to them, “Have you never read in the Scriptures: ‘The stone that the builders rejected became the head of the corner; this came from the Lord, and it is marvelous in our eyes’?

21:43 Therefore I tell you that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people producing its fruits.

21:44 And the one falling upon this stone will be shattered; but on whomever it falls, it will crush him.”

21:45 When the chief priests and Pharisees heard His parables, they knew He was speaking about them.

21:46 Although they sought to seize Him, they feared the crowds, because they regarded Him as a prophet.

Matthew 22

22:1 Jesus again answered them in parables, saying,

22:2 “The kingdom of the heavens was likened to a king who made a wedding feast for his son.

22:3 He sent his slaves to call those invited to the wedding feast, but they were unwilling to come.

22:4 Again he sent other slaves, saying, ‘Tell those invited: Behold, I have prepared my meal. My bulls and fattened animals have been slaughtered, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding feast.’

22:5 But they disregarded it and went away, one to his own field, another to his business.

22:6 The rest seized his slaves, mistreated them, and killed them.

22:7 The king became angry. He sent his troops, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city.

22:8 Then he said to his slaves, ‘The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were not worthy.

22:9 So go to the outlets of the roads and invite to the wedding feast as many as you find.’

22:10 Those slaves went out into the roads and gathered everyone they found, both evil and good, and the wedding feast was filled with people reclining.

22:11 The king entered to see those reclining and saw there a man not clothed in a wedding garment.

22:12 He said to him, ‘Friend, how did you enter here without a wedding garment?’ He was speechless.

22:13 Then the king said to the attendants, ‘Bind his feet and hands and cast him into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.’

22:14 For many are called, but few chosen.”

22:15 Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how to trap Him in a statement.

22:16 They sent Him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, “Teacher, we know that Thou art truthful and dost teach God’s way in truth. Thou art not swayed by anyone, for Thou dost not look at people’s outward status.

22:17 Tell us, then, what Thou thinkest: is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?”

22:18 Knowing their evil intent, Jesus said, “Why do you test Me, hypocrites?

22:19 Show Me the coin of the tribute.” And they brought Him a denarius.

22:20 And He says to them, “Whose image is this, and whose inscription?”

22:21 They say to Him, “Caesar’s.” Then He says to them, “Render therefore to Caesar the things of Caesar, and to God the things of God.”

22:22 When they heard, they marveled, left Him, and went away.

22:23 On that day Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to Him and questioned Him,

22:24 saying, “Teacher, Moses said, ‘If someone dies without children, his brother shall marry his wife and raise up offspring for his brother.’

22:25 There were seven brothers among us. The first married and died, and having no offspring, left his wife to his brother.

22:26 Likewise the second and the third, up to the seventh.

22:27 Last of all, the woman died.

22:28 In the resurrection, then, whose wife of the seven will she be? For all had her.”

22:29 Jesus answered them, “You are mistaken, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God.

22:30 For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.

22:31 But concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was spoken to you by God:

22:32 ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’? He is not God of the dead, but of the living.”

22:33 When the crowds heard, they were astonished at His teaching.

22:34 Hearing that He had silenced the Sadducees, the Pharisees gathered together.

22:35 One of them, an expert in the Law, questioned Him to test Him:

22:36 “Teacher, which commandment is great in the Law?”

22:37 He said to him, “‘You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.’

22:38 This is the great and first commandment.

22:39 A second is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’

22:40 On these two commandments hang the whole Law and the Prophets.”

22:41 While the Pharisees were gathered, Jesus questioned them,

22:42 saying, “What do you think about the Christ? Whose son is He?” They said to Him, “David’s.”

22:43 He said to them, “How then does David in the Spirit call Him Lord, saying,

22:44 ‘The Lord said to my Lord: Sit at My right hand until I put Thy enemies beneath Thy feet’?

22:45 If David calls Him Lord, how is He his son?”

22:46 No one could answer Him a word, nor from that day did anyone dare question Him any longer.

Matthew 23

23:1 Then Jesus spoke to the crowds and His disciples,

23:2 saying, “The scribes and Pharisees have seated themselves in Moses’ chair.

23:3 Therefore do and observe everything they tell you, but do not act according to their works, for they say and do not do.

23:4 They bind heavy burdens, hard to carry, and lay them upon people’s shoulders, but they themselves are unwilling to move them with their finger.

23:5 They do all their works to be seen by people. They broaden their phylacteries and enlarge their fringes.

23:6 They love the foremost place at dinners and the foremost seats in the synagogues,

23:7 greetings in the marketplaces, and being called ‘Rabbi’ by people.

23:8 But you shall not be called ‘Rabbi,’ for One is your Teacher, and you are all brothers.

23:9 And call no one upon earth your father, for One is your Father, the heavenly One.

23:10 Nor shall you be called guides, because One is your Guide, the Christ.

23:11 But the greatest among you will be your servant.

23:12 Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

23:13 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you shut the kingdom of the heavens before people! For you do not enter, nor do you permit those entering to enter.

23:15 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you travel around sea and dry land to make one proselyte, and when he becomes one, you make him a son of Gehenna twice as much as yourselves!

23:16 Woe to you, blind guides, who say, ‘Whoever swears by the sanctuary, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the sanctuary is bound.’

23:17 Fools and blind men! For which is greater, the gold or the sanctuary that sanctified the gold?

23:18 And, ‘Whoever swears by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gift upon it is bound.’

23:19 Blind men! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that sanctifies the gift?

23:20 Therefore the one swearing by the altar swears by it and by everything upon it.

23:21 The one swearing by the sanctuary swears by it and by the One dwelling in it.

23:22 The one swearing by heaven swears by God’s throne and by the One seated upon it.

23:23 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you tithe mint, dill, and cumin, but have left aside the weightier matters of the Law: justice, mercy, and faithfulness! These you ought to have done without leaving those aside.

23:24 Blind guides, straining out the gnat but swallowing the camel!

23:25 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you cleanse the outside of the cup and dish, but inside they are full of plunder and self-indulgence!

23:26 Blind Pharisee, first cleanse the inside of the cup, so that its outside may also become clean.

23:27 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you resemble whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead people's bones and all uncleanness!

23:28 So you too outwardly appear righteous to people, but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

23:29 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you build the prophets' tombs and adorn the monuments of the righteous,

23:30 and say, 'If we had lived in our fathers' days, we would not have shared with them in the blood of the prophets.'

23:31 So you testify concerning yourselves that you are sons of those who murdered the prophets.

23:32 You, then, fill up the measure of your fathers!

23:33 Snakes, brood of vipers! How will you flee from the judgment of Gehenna?

23:34 Therefore behold, I send you prophets, wise people, and scribes. Some of them you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from city to city,

23:35 so that upon you may come all righteous blood poured out upon earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

23:36 Truly I tell you, all these things will come upon this generation.

23:37 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, who kills the prophets and stones those sent to her! How often I wished to gather your children as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, and you were unwilling!

23:38 Behold, your house is left to you desolate.

23:39 For I tell you, you will certainly not see Me from now until you say, 'Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord.'"

Matthew 24

24:1 Jesus went out from the temple and was going away, when His disciples came to show Him the temple buildings.

24:2 He answered them, "Do you not see all these things? Truly I tell you, not one stone will be left here upon another that will not be thrown down."

24:3 As He sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things happen, and what is the sign of Thy coming and the consummation of the age?"

24:4 Jesus answered them, "See that no one leads you astray.

24:5 For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will lead many astray.

24:6 You will hear wars and reports of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for these things must happen, but the end is not yet.

24:7 For nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places.

24:8 All these things are the beginning of birth pains.

24:9 Then they will hand you over to affliction and kill you, and you will be hated by all nations because of My name.

24:10 Then many will stumble, hand one another over, and hate one another.

24:11 Many false prophets will arise and lead many astray.

24:12 Because lawlessness increases, the love of many will grow cold.

24:13 But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

24:14 This good news of the kingdom will be proclaimed in the whole inhabited world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

24:15 So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of through Daniel the prophet standing in a holy place—let the reader understand—

24:16 then let those in Judea flee to the mountains.

24:17 Let the one on the housetop not go down to take things from his house,

24:18 and let the one in the field not turn back to take his cloak.

24:19 Woe to those with child and those nursing infants in those days!

24:20 Pray that your flight may not occur in winter or on a Sabbath.

24:21 For then there will be great affliction such as has not happened from the beginning of the world until now, and certainly will never happen again.

24:22 If those days had not been shortened, no flesh would have been saved; but because of the chosen, those days will be shortened.

24:23 Then if anyone tells you, 'Behold, here is the Christ!' or 'Here!' do not believe it.

24:24 For false christs and false prophets will arise and give great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the chosen.

24:25 Behold, I have told you beforehand.

24:26 So if they tell you, 'Behold, He is in the wilderness,' do not go out; or 'Behold, in the inner rooms,' do not believe it.

24:27 For just as lightning comes from the east and shines to the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.

24:28 Wherever the corpse is, there the eagles will gather.

24:29 Immediately after the affliction of those days, the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its brightness, the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken.

24:30 Then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in heaven, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn; they will see the Son of Man coming upon the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

24:31 He will send His angels with a great trumpet, and they will gather His chosen from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to the other.

24:32 Learn the parable from the fig tree: when its branch has already become tender and puts out leaves, you know that summer is near.

24:33 So also you, when you see all these things, know that it is near, at the doors.

24:34 Truly I tell you that this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things happen.

24:35 Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will certainly not pass away.

24:36 Concerning that day and hour, no one knows, not even the angels of the heavens, nor the Son, but the Father alone.

24:37 For just as the days of Noah were, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.

24:38 For in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day Noah entered the ark.

24:39 They did not know until the flood came and took them all away. So also will be the coming of the Son of Man.

24:40 Then two men will be in the field: one is taken and one is left.

24:41 Two women will be grinding at the mill: one is taken and one is left.

24:42 So keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord comes.

24:43 But know this: if the householder had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have kept watch and would not have allowed his house to be broken into.

24:44 Therefore you too must be ready, because the Son of Man comes at an hour you do not expect.

24:45 Who, then, is the faithful and prudent slave whom the master appointed over his household to give them food at the proper time?

24:46 Blessed is that slave whom his master, when he comes, will find doing so.

24:47 Truly I tell you that he will appoint him over all his belongings.

24:48 But if that evil slave says in his heart, ‘My master delays,’

24:49 and begins to beat his fellow slaves and eats and drinks with drunkards,

24:50 the master of that slave will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know.

24:51 He will cut him in two and assign his portion with the hypocrites. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

Matthew 25

25:1 Then the kingdom of the heavens will be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom.

25:2 Five of them were foolish and five prudent.

25:3 For the foolish took their lamps but did not take oil with them.

25:4 The prudent took oil in containers along with their lamps.

25:5 As the bridegroom delayed, they all became drowsy and slept.

25:6 At midnight a cry arose: ‘Behold, the bridegroom! Come out to meet him.’

25:7 Then all those virgins arose and put their lamps in order.

25:8 The foolish said to the prudent, ‘Give us some of your oil, because our lamps are going out.’

25:9 The prudent answered, ‘There may not be enough for us and you. Go instead to those selling and buy for yourselves.’

25:10 While they went away to buy, the bridegroom came. Those who were ready entered with him into the wedding feast, and the door was shut.

25:11 Afterward the other virgins also came, saying, ‘Lord, lord, open to us.’

25:12 He answered, ‘Truly I tell you, I do not know you.’

25:13 Therefore keep watch, because you know neither the day nor the hour.

25:14 For it is like a man traveling abroad, who called his own slaves and handed over his belongings to them.

25:15 To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one, each according to his own ability, and traveled abroad. Immediately

25:16 the one who received the five talents went and traded with them and gained another five.

25:17 Likewise the one with two gained another two.

25:18 But the one who received one went away, dug in the ground, and hid his master’s silver.

25:19 After a long time, the master of those slaves came and settled accounts with them.

25:20 The one who received five talents came and brought another five talents, saying, ‘Master, you handed over five talents to me. Look, I gained another five talents.’

25:21 His master said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful slave. You were faithful over a few things; I will appoint you over many. Enter into your master’s joy.’

25:22 The one with two talents also came and said, ‘Master, you handed over two talents to me. Look, I gained another two talents.’

25:23 His master said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful slave. You were faithful over a few things; I will appoint you over many. Enter into your master’s joy.’

25:24 The one who received one talent also came and said, ‘Master, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you did not sow and gathering from where you did not scatter.

25:25 I was afraid, so I went away and hid your talent in the ground. Look, you have what is yours.’

25:26 His master answered him, ‘Evil and idle slave! You knew that I reap where I did not sow and gather from where I did not scatter?

25:27 Then you ought to have deposited my silver with the bankers, and when I came I would have recovered what is mine with interest.

25:28 So take the talent from him and give it to the one who has the ten talents.

25:29 For to everyone who has, more will be given and he will have abundance; but from the one who does not have, even what he has will be taken.

25:30 Cast the useless slave into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.’

25:31 When the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the angels with Him, then He will sit upon the throne of His glory.

25:32 All the nations will be gathered before Him, and He will separate them from one another as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.

25:33 He will stand the sheep at His right and the young goats at His left.

25:34 Then the King will say to those at His right, ‘Come, you blessed by My Father; inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

25:35 For I was hungry and you gave Me food, I was thirsty and you gave Me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed Me,

25:36 naked and you clothed Me, I was sick and you visited Me, I was in prison and you came to Me.’

25:37 Then the righteous will answer Him, ‘Lord, when did we see Thee hungry and feed Thee, or thirsty and give Thee drink?

25:38 When did we see Thee a stranger and welcome Thee, or naked and clothe Thee?

25:39 When did we see Thee sick or in prison and come to Thee?’

25:40 The King will answer them, ‘Truly I tell you, insofar as you did it to one of the least of these My brothers, you did it to Me.’

25:41 Then He will also say to those at His left, ‘Depart from Me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.

25:42 For I was hungry and you did not give Me food, I was thirsty and you did not give Me drink,

25:43 I was a stranger and you did not welcome Me, naked and you did not clothe Me, sick and in prison and you did not visit Me.’

25:44 Then they too will answer, ‘Lord, when did we see Thee hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not serve Thee?’

25:45 Then He will answer them, ‘Truly I tell you, insofar as you did not do it to one of the least of these, neither did you do it to Me.’

25:46 And these shall depart into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

Note †: Matthew 25:46 · wording and sourceMeaning: Use eternal consistently in both clauses. Keep the parallel structure and the punishment noun. Questions about duration and the nature of judgment require an argument beyond an isolated English synonym.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

Matthew 26

26:1 When Jesus finished all these words, He said to His disciples,

26:2 “You know that after two days the Passover takes place, and the Son of Man is handed over to be crucified.”

26:3 Then the chief priests and elders of the people gathered in the courtyard of the high priest called Caiaphas.

26:4 They took counsel to seize Jesus by deceit and kill Him.

26:5 But they said, “Not during the feast, lest an uproar occur among the people.”

26:6 While Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

26:7 a woman came to Him with an alabaster flask of very costly perfume and poured it upon His head as He reclined at table.

26:8 Seeing it, the disciples became indignant, saying, “Why this waste?

26:9 For this could have been sold for much and given to the poor.”

26:10 Knowing this, Jesus said to them, “Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a good work toward Me.

26:11 For you always have the poor with you, but you do not always have Me.

26:12 By pouring this perfume upon My body, she did it to prepare Me for burial.

26:13 Truly I tell you, wherever this good news is proclaimed in the whole world, what she did will also be told in remembrance of her.”

26:14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests

26:15 and said, “What are you willing to give me, and I will hand Him over to you?” They weighed out for him thirty silver coins.

26:16 From then on he sought a suitable opportunity to hand Him over.

26:17 On the first day of Unleavened Bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Where dost Thou wish us to prepare for Thee to eat the Passover?”

26:18 He said, “Go into the city to a certain man and tell him, ‘The Teacher says: My appointed time is near. I keep the Passover at your house with My disciples.’”

26:19 The disciples did as Jesus directed them, and prepared the Passover.

26:20 When evening came, He reclined at table with the twelve.

26:21 As they ate, He said, “Truly I tell you that one of you will hand Me over.”

26:22 Exceedingly grieved, each began saying to Him, “Surely it is not I, Lord?”

26:23 He answered, “The one who dipped his hand with Me in the dish will hand Me over.

26:24 The Son of Man indeed goes as it is written concerning Him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is handed over! It would have been good for him if that man had not been born.”

26:25 Judas, who was handing Him over, answered, “Surely it is not I, Rabbi?” He said to him, “You have said it.”

26:26 And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and having blessed, He broke it; and giving it to the disciples, He said, “Take, eat; this is My body.”

Note †: Matthew 26:26 · wording and sourceWording: It after having blessed makes the apparent object explicit in English; the Greek blessing participle has no stated object. 26:29 And I tell you: from this time I shall by no means drink of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new with you in the kingdom of My Father.”

26:30 After singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

26:31 Then Jesus said to them, “All of you will stumble because of Me this night, for it is written: ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’

26:32 But after I am raised, I will go ahead of you to Galilee.”

26:33 Peter answered Him, “Even if everyone stumbles because of Thee, I will never stumble.”

26:34 Jesus said to him, “Truly I tell you that this night, before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times.”

26:35 Peter said to Him, “Even if I must die with Thee, I will certainly not deny Thee.” All the disciples said likewise.

26:36 Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to the disciples, “Sit here while I go over there and pray.”

26:37 Taking Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, He began to be grieved and distressed.

26:38 Then He said to them, “My soul is deeply grieved, even to death. Remain here and keep watch with Me.”

26:39 Going forward a little, He fell upon His face and prayed, saying, “My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from Me. Nevertheless, not as I wish, but as Thou wishest.”

26:40 He came to the disciples and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “So, could you not keep watch with Me for one hour?

26:41 Keep watch and pray, so that you may not enter temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

26:42 Again He went away a second time and prayed, saying, “My Father, if this cannot pass unless I drink it, let Thy will be done.”

26:43 He came and again found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy.

26:44 He left them and went away again, praying a third time and saying the same words again.

26:45 Then He came to the disciples and said to them, “Sleep on now and rest. Behold, the hour has drawn near, and the Son of Man is handed over into sinners’ hands.

26:46 Rise, let us go. Behold, the one handing Me over has drawn near.”

26:47 While He was still speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, came with a great crowd carrying swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

26:48 The one handing Him over had given them a sign, saying, “The One I kiss is He; seize Him.”

26:49 Immediately he came to Jesus and said, “Greetings, Rabbi,” and kissed Him.

26:50 Jesus said to him, “Friend, do what you have come for.” Then they came forward, laid their hands upon Jesus, and seized Him.

26:51 And behold, one of those with Jesus stretched out his hand, drew his sword, struck the high priest’s slave, and cut off his ear.

26:52 Then Jesus said to him, “Return your sword to its place, for all who take a sword will perish by a sword.

26:53 Or do you think I cannot plead with My Father, and He will provide Me at once more than twelve legions of angels?

26:54 How, then, would the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must happen this way?”

26:55 At that hour Jesus said to the crowds, “Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs, to arrest Me? Daily I sat teaching in the temple, and you did not seize Me.

26:56 But all this has happened so that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.” Then all the disciples left Him and fled.

26:57 Those who seized Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and elders had gathered.

26:58 Peter followed Him at a distance as far as the high priest’s courtyard. Going inside, he sat with the officers to see the outcome.

26:59 The chief priests and the whole council sought false testimony against Jesus to put Him to death,

26:60 but found none, although many false witnesses came forward. Finally two came forward

26:61 and said, “This Man said, ‘I can destroy God’s sanctuary and build it in three days.’”

26:62 The high priest rose and said to Him, “Dost Thou answer nothing? What is this that they testify against Thee?”

26:63 But Jesus remained silent. The high priest said to Him, “I adjure Thee by the living God to tell us whether Thou art the Christ, the Son of God.”

26:64 Jesus said to him, “You have said it. Nevertheless I tell you, from now on you will see the Son of Man seated at the right of the Power and coming upon the clouds of heaven.”

26:65 Then the high priest tore his garments, saying, “He has blasphemed! What further need do we have of witnesses? Look, now you heard the blasphemy.

26:66 What do you think?” They answered, “He is liable to death.”

26:67 Then they spat into His face and struck Him with their fists; others slapped Him,

26:68 saying, “Prophesy to us, Christ! Who is the one who struck Thee?”

26:69 Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard. One servant girl approached him, saying, “You too were with Jesus the Galilean.”

26:70 But he denied it before everyone, saying, “I do not know what you are saying.”

26:71 When he went out to the gateway, another girl saw him and said to those there, “This man was with Jesus the Nazarene.”

26:72 Again he denied it with an oath: “I do not know the Man.”

26:73 After a little while, those standing there came and said to Peter, “Truly you too are one of them, for even your speech makes you recognizable.”

26:74 Then he began to invoke curses and swear, “I do not know the Man.” Immediately a rooster crowed.

26:75 Peter remembered Jesus' word: "Before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." He went outside and wept bitterly.

Matthew 27

27:1 When morning came, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put Him to death.

27:2 They bound Him, led Him away, and handed Him over to Pilate the governor.

27:3 Then Judas, who had handed Him over, saw that He had been condemned. Filled with regret, he returned the thirty silver coins to the chief priests and elders,

27:4 saying, "I sinned by handing over innocent blood." They said, "What is that to us? See to it yourself."

27:5 He threw the silver coins into the sanctuary and withdrew; then he went away and hanged himself.

27:6 The chief priests took the silver coins and said, "It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, because they are the price of blood."

27:7 After taking counsel, they bought the potter's field with them as a burial place for strangers.

27:8 Therefore that field has been called Field of Blood until today.

27:9 Then what was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled: "They took the thirty silver coins, the price of the One priced, whom some of the sons of Israel priced,

27:10 and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord directed me."

27:11 Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor questioned Him, saying, "Art Thou the King of the Jews?" Jesus said, "You say it."

27:12 While He was accused by the chief priests and elders, He answered nothing.

27:13 Then Pilate said to Him, "Dost Thou not hear how many things they testify against Thee?"

27:14 He did not answer him even one word, so that the governor marveled greatly.

27:15 At the feast the governor customarily released to the crowd one prisoner whom they wanted.

27:16 At that time they had a notorious prisoner called Jesus Barabbas.

27:17 So when they gathered, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want me to release to you: Jesus Barabbas, or Jesus called Christ?"

27:18 For he knew that they had handed Him over because of envy.

27:19 While he sat on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, "Have nothing to do with that righteous Man, for I suffered many things today in a dream because of Him."

27:20 But the chief priests and elders persuaded the crowds to ask for Barabbas and destroy Jesus.

27:21 The governor answered them, "Which of the two do you want me to release to you?" They said, "Barabbas."

27:22 Pilate said to them, "What then shall I do with Jesus called Christ?" They all said, "Let Him be crucified!"

27:23 He said, "Why, what evil did He do?" But they cried out all the more, "Let Him be crucified!"

27:24 When Pilate saw that he was accomplishing nothing, but rather an uproar was arising, he took water and washed his hands before the crowd, saying, "I am innocent of this blood. See to it yourselves."

27:25 All the people answered, "His blood be upon us and upon our children."

27:26 Then he released Barabbas to them; after flogging Jesus, he handed Him over to be crucified.

27:27 Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus into the praetorium and gathered the whole cohort around Him.

27:28 They stripped Him and put a scarlet cloak around Him.

27:29 They wove a crown from thorns, placed it upon His head, and put a reed in His right hand. Kneeling before Him, they mocked Him, saying, "Greetings, King of the Jews!"

27:30 They spat on Him, took the reed, and kept striking Him upon the head.

27:31 After mocking Him, they stripped off the cloak, dressed Him in His own garments, and led Him away to crucify Him.

27:32 As they went out, they found a Cyrenian man named Simon. They compelled him to carry His cross.

27:33 They came to a place called Golgotha, which is called Place of a Skull,

27:34 and gave Him wine mixed with gall to drink. After tasting it, He was unwilling to drink.

27:35 After crucifying Him, they divided His garments by casting a lot,

27:36 and sat there keeping watch over Him.

27:37 Above His head they placed the written charge against Him: "This is Jesus, the King of the Jews."

27:38 Then two robbers were crucified with Him, one at His right and one at His left.

27:39 Those passing by reviled Him, shaking their heads

27:40 and saying, “Thou who destroyest the sanctuary and buildest it in three days, save Thyself! If Thou art God’s Son, come down from the cross.”

27:41 Likewise the chief priests, mocking with the scribes and elders, said,

27:42 “He saved others; Himself He cannot save. He is King of Israel! Let Him come down from the cross now, and we will believe in Him.

27:43 He trusts in God; let Him rescue Him now, if He desires Him, for He said, ‘I am God’s Son.’”

27:44 The robbers crucified with Him also reproached Him in the same way.

27:45 From the sixth hour darkness came upon all the land until the ninth hour.

27:46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, “Eli, Eli, lema sabachthani?” That is, “My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?”

27:47 Some standing there heard and said, “This Man is calling Elijah.”

27:48 Immediately one of them ran, took a sponge, filled it with sour wine, placed it on a reed, and gave Him a drink.

27:49 But the rest said, “Leave it; let us see whether Elijah comes to save Him.”

27:50 Jesus again cried out with a loud voice and released His spirit.

27:51 And behold, the veil of the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom. The earth shook, and the rocks split.

27:52 The tombs were opened, and many bodies of the holy ones who had fallen asleep were raised.

27:53 Coming out of the tombs after His rising, they entered the holy city and appeared to many.

27:54 The centurion and those with him guarding Jesus saw the earthquake and what had happened, and were exceedingly afraid, saying, “Truly this was God’s Son.”

27:55 Many women were there, watching from a distance. They had followed Jesus from Galilee, serving Him.

27:56 Among them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee’s sons.

27:57 When evening came, a rich man from Arimathea named Joseph came, who himself had also become Jesus’ disciple.

27:58 He went to Pilate and asked for Jesus’ body. Then Pilate ordered it to be given.

27:59 Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth.

27:60 He laid it in his own new tomb, which he had cut in the rock. Rolling a great stone to the tomb’s entrance, he went away.

27:61 Mary Magdalene and the other Mary were there, sitting opposite the tomb.

27:62 On the next day, which was after the Preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees gathered before Pilate,

27:63 saying, “Sir, we remembered that while He was still alive, that deceiver said, ‘After three days I am raised.’

27:64 So command that the tomb be made secure until the third day, lest His disciples come, steal Him, and tell the people, ‘He has been raised from the dead,’ and the last deception will be worse than the first.”

27:65 Pilate said to them, “You have a guard. Go and make it secure as you know how.”

27:66 They went and secured the tomb by sealing the stone, with the guard.

Matthew 28

28:1 After the Sabbath, as it dawned toward the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to view the tomb.

28:2 And behold, a great earthquake occurred, for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, came, rolled away the stone, and sat upon it.

28:3 His appearance was like lightning, and his clothing white as snow.

28:4 From fear of him the guards shook and became like dead men.

28:5 The angel answered the women, “Do not be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified.

28:6 He is not here, for He was raised, as He said. Come, see the place where He lay.

28:7 Go quickly and tell His disciples that He was raised from the dead; and behold, He goes ahead of you to Galilee. There you will see Him. Behold, I have told you.”

28:8 They departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy and ran to report to His disciples.

28:9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, “Greetings!” They came, grasped His feet, and worshiped Him.

28:10 Then Jesus said to them, “Do not fear. Go and report to My brothers that they should go to Galilee, and there they will see Me.”

28:11 As they went, behold, some of the guard came into the city and reported to the chief priests everything that had happened.

28:12 They gathered with the elders and took counsel, then gave a considerable amount of silver to the soldiers,

28:13 saying, “Say, ‘His disciples came by night and stole Him while we slept.’

28:14 If this is heard before the governor, we will persuade him and make you free from worry.”

28:15 They took the silver and did as they were instructed. This account was spread among Jews until this very day.

28:16 The eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had directed them.

28:17 When they saw Him, they worshiped, but some doubted.

28:18 And Jesus came and spoke to them, saying, “All authority in heaven and upon earth has been given to Me.

1:2 As it is written in Isaiah the prophet: “Look, I send My messenger before Thy face, who will prepare Thy way;

1:3 a voice of one crying in the wilderness, ‘Prepare the way of the Lord; make His paths straight.’”

1:4 John appeared, baptizing in the wilderness and proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins.

1:5 The whole Judean countryside and all the people of Jerusalem were going out to him. They were being baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their sins.

1:6 John was clothed in camel’s hair, with a leather belt around his waist, and ate locusts and wild honey.

1:7 He proclaimed, saying, “The One stronger than I is coming after me. I am not worthy to stoop down and untie the strap of His sandals.

1:8 I baptized you with water, but He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit.”

1:9 In those days Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptized in the Jordan by John.

1:10 Immediately as He came up out of the water, He saw the heavens being torn open and the Spirit descending like a dove into Him.

1:11 A voice came from the heavens: “Thou art My beloved Son; in Thee I am well pleased.”

1:12 Immediately the Spirit drove Him out into the wilderness.

1:13 He was in the wilderness forty days, being tempted by Satan. He was with the wild animals, and the angels ministered to Him.

1:14 And after John was handed over, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of God,

1:18 Immediately they left their nets and followed Him.

1:19 Going a little farther, He saw James son of Zebedee and John his brother, who were also in the boat, putting the nets in order.

1:20 Immediately He called them. They left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired workers and went after Him.

1:21 They entered Capernaum, and immediately on the Sabbath He went into the synagogue and taught.

1:22 They were astonished at His teaching, for He taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

1:23 Immediately there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out,

1:24 “What have we to do with Thee, Jesus of Nazareth? Hast Thou come to destroy us? I know who Thou art—the Holy One of God!”

1:25 Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be muzzled, and come out of him!”

1:26 The unclean spirit convulsed him, cried out with a loud voice, and came out of him.

1:27 They were all amazed, so that they discussed among themselves, saying, “What is this? A new teaching! With authority He commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey Him.”

1:28 Immediately the report about Him went out everywhere through the whole surrounding region of Galilee.

1:29 Immediately after leaving the synagogue, they went into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

1:30 Simon’s mother-in-law was lying down with a fever, and immediately they told Him about her.

1:31 He came to her, took her by the hand, and raised her up. The fever left her, and she served them.

1:32 When evening came, after the sun had set, they brought to Him all who were ill and those possessed by demons.

1:33 The whole city had gathered at the door.

1:34 He healed many who were ill with various diseases and cast out many demons. He would not allow the demons to speak, because they knew Him.

1:35 Very early, while it was still dark, He arose, went out, and departed to a deserted place, and there He prayed.

1:36 Simon and those with him searched for Him

1:37 and found Him. They said to Him, “Everyone is looking for Thee.”

1:38 He said to them, “Let us go elsewhere, into the neighboring towns, so that I may proclaim there also, for that is why I came out.”

1:39 He went throughout all Galilee, proclaiming in their synagogues and casting out the demons.

1:40 A leper came to Him, pleading with Him, kneeling, and saying, “If Thou art willing, Thou canst cleanse me.”

1:41 And moved with compassion, He stretched out His hand and touched him, and says to him, “I will; be cleansed.”

1:42 Immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

1:43 Sternly warning him, He immediately drove him away

1:44 and said to him, “See that you say nothing to anyone. But go, show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing what Moses commanded, as a testimony to them.”

1:45 But he went out and began proclaiming it widely and spreading the report, so that Jesus could no longer enter a city openly. He remained outside in deserted places, and they came to Him from every direction.

Mark 2

2:1 When He entered Capernaum again after some days, it was heard that He was at home.

2:2 Many gathered, so that there was no longer room, not even near the door, and He was speaking the word to them.

2:3 They came, bringing to Him a paralyzed man carried by four men.

2:4 Since they could not bring him to Jesus because of the crowd, they removed the roof above the place where He was. After digging through it, they lowered the mat on which the paralyzed man lay.

2:5 Jesus saw their faith and said to the paralyzed man, “Child, your sins are forgiven.”

2:6 Some of the scribes were sitting there and reasoning in their hearts,

2:7 “Why does this man speak this way? He is blaspheming! Who can forgive sins except the one God?”

2:8 Immediately Jesus knew in His spirit that they were reasoning this way within themselves. He said to them, “Why are you reasoning these things in your hearts?

2:9 Which is easier: to say to the paralyzed man, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Arise, take your mat, and walk’?

2:10 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins”—He said to the paralyzed man—

2:11 “I say to you, arise, take your mat, and go to your house.”

2:12 He arose, immediately took up the mat, and went out before everyone. They were all amazed and glorified God, saying, “We have never seen anything like this!”

2:13 He went out again beside the sea. The whole crowd came to Him, and He taught them.

2:14 As He passed by, He saw Levi son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax station. He said to him, “Follow Me.” He arose and followed Him.

2:15 As He reclined at table in his house, many tax collectors and sinners reclined with Jesus and His disciples, for there were many who followed Him.

2:16 The scribes of the Pharisees saw that He was eating with sinners and tax collectors and said to His disciples, “Why does He eat with tax collectors and sinners?”

2:17 Jesus heard and said to them, “The strong have no need of a physician, but those who are ill do. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners.”

2:18 John’s disciples and the Pharisees were fasting. They came and said to Him, “Why do John’s disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but Thy disciples do not fast?”

2:19 Jesus said to them, “Can the bridegroom’s companions fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

2:20 But days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast on that day.

2:21 No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth onto an old garment. Otherwise the new patch pulls away from the old, and a worse tear results.

2:22 No one puts new wine into old wineskins. Otherwise the wine will burst the skins, and the wine is lost along with the skins. New wine belongs in fresh wineskins.”

2:23 He was passing through the grainfields on the Sabbath, and His disciples began to make their way, plucking the heads of grain.

2:24 The Pharisees said to Him, “Look! Why are they doing what is not lawful on the Sabbath?”

2:25 He said to them, “Have you never read what David did when he was in need and hungry, he and those with him:

2:26 how he entered God’s house in the time of Abiathar the high priest and ate the loaves of presentation, which only priests may lawfully eat, and also gave them to those who were with him?”

2:28 So the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.”

Mark 3

3:1 He entered a synagogue again, and a man with a withered hand was there.

3:2 They watched Him closely to see whether He would heal him on the Sabbath, so that they might accuse Him.

3:3 He said to the man with the withered hand, “Arise and come into the midst.”

3:4 He said to them, “Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do evil, to save a life or to kill?” But they remained silent.

3:5 He looked around at them with anger, grieving at the hardness of their hearts, and said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” He stretched it out, and his hand was restored.

3:6 The Pharisees went out and immediately took counsel with the Herodians against Him, as to how they might destroy Him.

3:7 Jesus withdrew with His disciples to the sea, and a great multitude from Galilee followed; and from Judea,

3:8 Jerusalem, Idumea, beyond the Jordan, and the region of Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude heard all He was doing and came to Him.

3:9 He told His disciples to have a small boat ready for Him because of the crowd, so that they would not crush Him.

3:10 For He healed many, so that all who had afflictions pressed upon Him to touch Him.

3:11 Whenever the unclean spirits saw Him, they fell before Him and cried, “Thou art the Son of God!”

3:12 He sternly warned them not to make Him known.

3:13 He went up the mountain and called to Himself those He wanted, and they came to Him.

3:14 He appointed twelve, whom He also named apostles, to be with Him and to be sent out by Him to proclaim

3:15 and to have authority to cast out the demons.

3:16 He appointed the Twelve: Simon, to whom He gave the name Peter;

3:17 James son of Zebedee and John, James’s brother, to whom He gave the name Boanerges, that is, Sons of Thunder;

3:18 Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Cananaean,

3:19 and Judas Iscariot, who also handed Him over.

3:20 He came into a house, and the crowd gathered again, so that they could not even eat bread.

3:21 When His own people heard, they went out to take hold of Him, for they were saying, “He is out of His mind.”

3:22 The scribes who had come down from Jerusalem were saying, “He has Beelzebul,” and, “By the ruler of the demons He casts out the demons.”

3:23 He called them to Himself and spoke to them in parables: “How can Satan cast out Satan?

3:24 If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

3:25 If a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand.

3:26 If Satan has risen against himself and is divided, he cannot stand, but has come to an end.

3:27 No one can enter the strong man's house and plunder his belongings unless he first binds the strong man. Then he will plunder his house.

3:28 Truly I tell you, people will be forgiven everything—their sins and whatever blasphemies they may utter.

3:29 But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit has no forgiveness for ever, but is liable for an eternal sin."

3:33 He answered them, "Who is My mother, or who are My brothers?"

3:34 He looked around at those sitting in a circle about Him and said, "Look—My mother and My brothers!

3:35 For whoever does the will of God is My brother and sister and mother."

Mark 4

4:1 Again He began teaching beside the sea. A very great crowd gathered around Him, so that He got into a boat on the sea and sat down, while the whole crowd was on the land beside the sea.

4:2 He taught them many things in parables, and in His teaching He said to them:

4:3 "Listen! Look, the sower went out to sow.

4:4 As he sowed, some fell beside the road, and the birds came and ate it up.

4:5 Other seed fell on rocky ground, where it had little soil, and immediately sprang up because the soil had no depth.

4:6 When the sun rose, it was scorched, and because it had no root, it withered.

4:7 Other seed fell among the thorns. The thorns grew up and choked it, and it gave no fruit.

4:8 Other seeds fell into the good soil and gave fruit, growing up and increasing; they yielded thirtyfold, sixtyfold, and a hundredfold."

4:9 He said, "Whoever has ears to hear, let him hear."

4:10 When He was alone, those around Him, together with the Twelve, asked Him about the parables.

4:11 He said to them, "To you the mystery of the kingdom of God has been given. But for those outside, everything comes in parables,

4:12 so that, looking, they may look and not see, and hearing, they may hear and not understand, lest they turn back and be forgiven."

4:13 He said to them, "Do you not understand this parable? Then how will you understand all the parables?

4:14 The sower sows the word.

4:15 These are the ones beside the road where the word is sown: whenever they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word sown into them.

4:16 Likewise, these are the ones sown on the rocky places: whenever they hear the word, they immediately receive it with joy,

4:17 but they have no root in themselves and last only for a time. Then, when distress or persecution comes because of the word, they immediately stumble.

4:18 Others are the ones sown among the thorns. These are the ones who have heard the word,

4:19 but the cares of the age, the deceitfulness of riches, and desires for other things enter and choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful.

4:20 Those sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word, accept it, and bear fruit: thirtyfold, sixtyfold, and a hundredfold."

4:21 He said to them, "Does the lamp come to be put under the modius basket, or under the bed? Is it not to be put on the lampstand?

4:22 For nothing is hidden except to be revealed, nor has anything become secret except to come into the open.

4:23 If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear."

4:24 He said to them, "Pay attention to what you hear. With the measure you use, it will be measured to you, and more will be added to you.

4:25 For whoever has will be given more; and whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him."

4:26 He said, "The kingdom of God is like this: a man casts seed on the ground,

4:27 and sleeps and rises, night and day, while the seed sprouts and grows—he himself does not know how.

4:28 The earth bears fruit of itself: first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear.

4:29 When the crop is ready, he immediately sends in the sickle, because the harvest has arrived.”

4:30 He said, “How shall we compare the kingdom of God, or in what parable shall we set it out?

4:31 It is like a mustard seed, which, when sown on the ground, is smaller than all the seeds on the earth.

4:32 Yet when sown, it grows up and becomes larger than all the garden plants, and makes great branches, so that the birds of the sky can shelter under its shade.”

4:33 With many such parables He spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear.

4:34 He did not speak to them without a parable, but privately He explained everything to His own disciples.

4:35 On that day, when evening came, He said to them, “Let us cross to the other side.”

4:36 Leaving the crowd, they took Him with them, just as He was, in the boat. Other boats were with Him.

4:37 A great windstorm arose, and the waves broke into the boat, so that the boat was already filling.

4:38 He was in the stern, asleep on the cushion. They woke Him and said to Him, “Teacher, dost Thou not care that we are perishing?”

4:39 And He awoke, rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, “Be silent; be still.” And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

Mark 5

5:1 They came to the other side of the sea, to the country of the Gerasenes.

5:2 As He stepped out of the boat, a man with an unclean spirit immediately met Him from the tombs.

5:3 He made his dwelling among the tombs, and no one could bind him anymore, even with a chain.

5:4 He had often been bound with fetters and chains, but he had torn the chains apart and shattered the fetters. No one had the strength to subdue him.

5:5 Continually, night and day, among the tombs and on the mountains, he cried out and cut himself with stones.

5:6 Seeing Jesus from far away, he ran and bowed before Him.

5:7 He cried out with a loud voice and said, “What hast Thou to do with me, Jesus, Son of God Most High? I adjure Thee by God: do not torment me!”

5:8 For He had been saying to him, “Come out of the man, unclean spirit!”

5:9 He asked him, “What is your name?” He said to Him, “Legion is my name, because we are many.”

5:10 He begged Him earnestly not to send them out of the country.

5:11 Now a large herd of pigs was feeding there near the mountain.

5:12 They begged Him, saying, “Send us into the pigs, so that we may enter them.”

5:13 He allowed them. The unclean spirits came out and entered the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the sea—about two thousand—and they drowned in the sea.

5:14 Those tending them fled and reported it in the city and in the fields. People came to see what had happened.

5:15 They came to Jesus and saw the demon-possessed man sitting, clothed and in his right mind—the one who had had the legion—and they were afraid.

5:16 Those who had seen it told them what had happened to the demon-possessed man and about the pigs.

5:17 They began begging Him to leave their territory.

5:18 As He was boarding the boat, the man who had been demon-possessed begged Him to let him be with Him.

5:19 He did not allow him, but said to him, “Go home to your own people and report to them how much the Lord has done for you and how He has had mercy on you.”

5:20 He went away and began proclaiming in the Decapolis how much Jesus had done for him, and everyone marveled.

5:21 When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around Him, and He was beside the sea.

5:22 One of the synagogue rulers came, named Jairus. Seeing Him, he fell at His feet

5:23 and begged Him earnestly, saying, “My little daughter is at the point of death. Please come and lay Thy hands on her, so that she may be saved and live.”

5:24 He went with him. A large crowd followed Him and pressed against Him.

5:25 A woman who had had a flow of blood for twelve years,

5:26 and had suffered much under many physicians and spent everything she had, without any benefit but instead growing worse,

5:27 heard about Jesus. She came behind Him in the crowd and touched His garment.

5:28 For she was saying, “If I touch even His clothes, I will be saved.”

5:29 Immediately the source of her blood dried up, and she knew in her body that she was healed of the affliction.

5:30 Immediately Jesus, recognizing in Himself that power had gone out from Him, turned around in the crowd and said, “Who touched My clothes?”

5:31 His disciples said to Him, “Thou seest the crowd pressing against Thee, and Thou sayest, ‘Who touched Me?’”

5:32 He kept looking around to see the woman who had done this.

5:33 The woman, afraid and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell before Him and told Him the whole truth.

5:34 And He said to her, “Daughter, your faith has saved you; go in peace, and be well, free from your affliction.”

5:35 While He was still speaking, people came from the synagogue ruler’s house, saying, “Your daughter has died. Why trouble the Teacher any further?”

5:36 Jesus, overhearing the word being spoken, said to the synagogue ruler, “Do not fear; only believe.”

5:37 He allowed no one to accompany Him except Peter, James, and John the brother of James.

5:38 They came to the synagogue ruler’s house, and He saw a commotion, with people weeping and wailing loudly.

5:39 He went in and said to them, “Why are you making a commotion and weeping? The child has not died but is sleeping.”

5:40 They laughed at Him. But He put them all outside, took the child’s father and mother and those with Him, and went in where the child was.

5:41 Taking the child’s hand, He said to her, “Talitha koum,” which translated means, “Little girl, I say to you, arise!”

5:42 Immediately the little girl rose and walked around, for she was twelve years old. Immediately they were overcome with great amazement.

5:43 He gave them strict orders that no one should know this, and said that she should be given something to eat.

Mark 6

6:1 He left there and came to His hometown, and His disciples followed Him.

6:2 When the Sabbath came, He began teaching in the synagogue. The many who heard Him were astonished, saying, “Where did this Man get these things? What is this wisdom given to Him? And such mighty works taking place through His hands!

6:3 Is this not the carpenter, the Son of Mary and brother of James, Joses, Judas, and Simon? Are not His sisters here with us?” They took offense at Him.

6:4 Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown, among his relatives, and in his own house.”

6:5 He could do no mighty work there, except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and healed them.

6:6 He marveled at their unbelief. Then He went around the surrounding villages, teaching.

6:7 He called the Twelve to Him and began sending them out two by two, giving them authority over the unclean spirits.

6:8 He instructed them to take nothing for the journey except a staff alone: no bread, no bag, no copper money in their belt,

6:9 but to wear sandals, and, “Do not put on two tunics.”

6:10 He said to them, “Wherever you enter a house, remain there until you leave that place.

6:11 Whatever place does not receive you, and whose people do not listen to you, shake off the dust beneath your feet as you leave there, as a testimony to them.”

6:12 They went out and proclaimed that people should repent.

6:13 They cast out many demons, and anointed many sick people with oil and healed them.

6:14 King Herod heard of it, for His name had become known. People were saying, “John the baptizer has been raised from the dead, and that is why mighty powers are at work in Him.”

6:15 Others said, “He is Elijah.” Still others said, “He is a prophet, like one of the prophets.”

6:16 But when Herod heard, he said, “John, whom I beheaded—he has been raised!”

6:17 For Herod himself had sent men to seize John and bind him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip, because he had married her.

6:18 For John had been saying to Herod, “It is not lawful for you to have your brother’s wife.”

6:19 Herodias held a grudge against him and wanted to kill him, but she could not.

6:20 For Herod feared John, knowing him to be a righteous and holy man, and kept him safe. When he heard him, he was greatly perplexed, yet he listened to him gladly.

6:21 An opportune day came when Herod gave a dinner on his birthday for his dignitaries, commanders of thousands, and the leading men of Galilee.

6:22 His daughter Herodias came in and danced, pleasing Herod and those reclining with him. The king said to the girl, “Ask me for whatever you want, and I will give it to you.”

6:23 He swore to her repeatedly, “Whatever you ask of me, I will give you, up to half my kingdom.”

6:24 She went out and said to her mother, “What should I ask for?” She said, “The head of John the baptizer.”

6:25 Immediately she hurried in to the king and made her request, saying, “I want you to give me at once, on a platter, the head of John the Baptist.”

6:26 The king became deeply grieved, but because of his oaths and those reclining at table, he did not want to refuse her.

6:27 Immediately the king sent an executioner and ordered him to bring John’s head. He went and beheaded him in prison,

6:28 brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the girl; the girl gave it to her mother.

6:29 When his disciples heard, they came and took his corpse and laid it in a tomb.

6:30 The apostles gathered around Jesus and reported to Him everything they had done and taught.

6:31 He said to them, “Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a little.” For many were coming and going, and they did not even have an opportunity to eat.

6:32 They went away privately in the boat to a deserted place.

6:33 People saw them leaving, and many recognized them. They ran there together on foot from all the cities and arrived ahead of them.

6:34 As He stepped out, He saw a large crowd and was moved with compassion for them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd. He began teaching them many things.

6:35 When the hour was already late, His disciples came to Him and said, “The place is deserted, and the hour is already late.

6:36 Dismiss them, so that they can go into the surrounding fields and villages and buy themselves something to eat.”

6:37 He answered them, “You give them something to eat.” They said to Him, “Should we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread and give them something to eat?”

6:38 He said to them, “How many loaves do you have? Go and see.” When they found out, they said, “Five, and two fish.”

6:39 He ordered them to have everyone recline in dining groups on the green grass.

6:40 They reclined in rows, by hundreds and by fifties.

6:41 He took the five loaves and the two fish, looked up to heaven, pronounced a blessing, and broke the loaves. He kept giving them to His disciples to set before the people, and He divided the two fish among them all.

6:42 They all ate and were satisfied.

6:43 They took up broken pieces, twelve baskets full, and some of the fish.

6:44 Those who had eaten the loaves were five thousand men.

6:45 Immediately He compelled His disciples to board the boat and go ahead to the other side, toward Bethsaida, while He Himself dismissed the crowd.

6:46 After saying farewell to them, He went away to the mountain to pray.

6:47 When evening came, the boat was in the middle of the sea, and He was alone on the land.

6:48 Seeing them straining at the rowing, for the wind was against them, He came toward them about the fourth watch of the night, walking on the sea. He intended to pass by them.

6:49 When they saw Him walking on the sea, they thought it was a phantom and cried out,

6:50 for they all saw Him and were troubled. Immediately He spoke with them and said to them, “Take courage! It is I; do not fear.”

6:51 He climbed into the boat with them, and the wind ceased. They were utterly astounded within themselves,

6:52 for they had not understood about the loaves, but their heart was hardened.

6:53 When they crossed over to land, they came to Gennesaret and moored there.

6:54 As they stepped out of the boat, people immediately recognized Him

6:55 and ran through that whole country. They began carrying the sick around on their mats to wherever they heard He was.

6:56 Wherever He entered villages, cities, or fields, they laid the sick in the marketplaces and begged Him to let them touch even the fringe of His garment. As many as touched Him were saved.

Mark 7

7:1 The Pharisees and some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem gathered around Him.

7:2 They saw that some of His disciples were eating their bread with common hands—that is, unwashed.

7:3 For the Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they wash their hands with the fist, holding to the tradition of the elders.

7:4 On returning from the marketplace, they do not eat unless they wash themselves. There are many other things they received to observe: washings of cups, jugs, copper vessels, and couches.

7:5 The Pharisees and the scribes asked Him, “Why do Thy disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with common hands?”

7:6 He said to them, “Isaiah prophesied well about you hypocrites, as it is written: ‘This people honors Me with their lips, but their heart is far from Me.

7:7 In vain do they worship Me, teaching human commands for doctrine.’

7:8 You abandon God’s commandment and hold to human tradition.”

7:9 He said to them, “You set aside God’s commandment very well indeed, so that you may establish your tradition!

7:10 For Moses said, ‘Honor your father and your mother,’ and, ‘Let whoever speaks evil of father or mother surely die.’

7:11 But you say, ‘If a person says to his father or mother, “Whatever benefit you might receive from me is Corban”—that is, a gift—’

7:12 you no longer allow him to do anything for his father or mother,

7:13 making void the word of God by your tradition that you have handed down. You do many similar things.”

7:14 Calling the crowd to Him again, He said to them, “Listen to Me, all of you, and understand.

7:15 There is nothing outside a person that, by entering him, can defile him. Rather, the things coming out of a person are what defile the person.”

7:17 When He entered a house away from the crowd, His disciples asked Him about the parable.

7:18 He said to them, “Are you also so lacking in understanding? Do you not grasp that everything entering a person from outside cannot defile him, 7:19 because it does not enter his heart but his stomach, and goes out into the latrine?”—thus cleansing all foods.

7:20 He said, “What comes out of a person is what defiles the person.

7:21 For from within, out of people’s hearts, come evil reasonings, acts of sexual immorality, thefts, murders,

7:22 adulteries, acts of greed, wickedness, deceit, licentiousness, an evil eye, slander, arrogance, foolishness.

7:23 All these evil things come out from within and defile the person.”

7:24 He rose from there and went away into the territory of Tyre. He entered a house and wanted no one to know, but He could not remain hidden.

7:25 Immediately a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit heard about Him, came, and fell at His feet.

7:26 The woman was Greek, Syrophoenician by birth. She asked Him to cast the demon out of her daughter.

7:27 He said to her, “Let the children first be satisfied, for it is not good to take the children’s bread and throw it to the little dogs.”

7:28 She answered and said to Him, “Lord, even the little dogs under the table eat some of the children’s crumbs.”

7:29 He said to her, “Because of this word, go; the demon has gone out of your daughter.”

7:30 She went home and found the child lying on the bed, and the demon gone.

7:31 Leaving the territory of Tyre again, He came through Sidon to the Sea of Galilee, through the middle of the territory of the Decapolis.

7:32 They brought Him a man who was deaf and had difficulty speaking, and begged Him to lay His hand on him.

7:33 Taking him aside privately, away from the crowd, He put His fingers into his ears, spat, and touched his tongue.

7:34 Looking up to heaven, He sighed and said to him, “Ephphatha,” that is, “Be opened.”

7:35 Immediately his ears were opened, the bond of his tongue was loosened, and he spoke correctly.

7:36 He ordered them to tell no one. But the more He ordered them, the more abundantly they proclaimed it.

7:37 They were astonished beyond measure, saying, “He has done everything well! He even makes the deaf hear and the speechless speak.”

Mark 8

8:1 In those days, when there was again a large crowd and they had nothing to eat, He called the disciples to Him and said to them,

8:2 “I have compassion on the crowd, because they have already remained with Me for three days and have nothing to eat.

8:3 If I send them home fasting, they will collapse on the way; and some of them have come from far away.”

8:4 His disciples answered Him, “Where can anyone get enough bread to satisfy these people here in a wilderness?”

8:5 He asked them, “How many loaves do you have?” They said, “Seven.”

8:6 He instructed the crowd to recline on the ground. Taking the seven loaves, He gave thanks, broke them, and kept giving them to His disciples to set before the people; they set them before the crowd.

8:7 They also had a few small fish. He blessed them and said to set these before them as well.

8:8 They ate and were satisfied. They took up seven hampers of leftover pieces.

8:9 There were about four thousand people. He dismissed them.

8:10 Immediately He boarded the boat with His disciples and came to the district of Dalmanutha.

8:11 The Pharisees came out and began disputing with Him, seeking from Him a sign from heaven, to test Him.

8:12 He sighed deeply in His spirit and said, “Why does this generation seek a sign? Truly I tell you, no sign will be given to this generation.”

8:13 Leaving them, He boarded again and went away to the other side.

8:14 They had forgotten to take bread, and had only one loaf with them in the boat.

8:15 He warned them, saying, “Watch out! Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod.”

8:16 They reasoned with one another that they had no bread.

8:17 Aware of this, He said to them, “Why are you reasoning that you have no bread? Do you not yet grasp or understand? Is your heart hardened?

8:18 Having eyes, do you not see? Having ears, do you not hear? And do you not remember,

8:19 when I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of pieces you took up?” They said to Him, “Twelve.”

8:20 “And when I broke the seven for the four thousand, how many hampers full of pieces did you take up?” They said to Him, “Seven.”

8:21 He said to them, “Do you not yet understand?”

8:22 They came to Bethsaida. People brought Him a blind man and begged Him to touch him.

8:23 Taking the blind man by the hand, He led him out of the village. He spat into his eyes, laid His hands on him, and asked him, “Do you see anything?”

8:24 He looked up and said, “I see people, for I see them like trees, walking.”

8:25 Then He laid His hands on his eyes again. The man saw clearly and was restored, and could see everything distinctly.

8:26 He sent him home, saying, “Do not even enter the village.”

8:27 Jesus and His disciples went out to the villages of Caesarea Philippi. On the way He questioned His disciples, saying to them, “Who do people say that I am?”

8:28 They answered Him, saying, “John the Baptist; others, Elijah; and still others, one of the prophets.”

8:29 He asked them, “But you—who do you say that I am?” Peter answered Him, “Thou art the Christ.”

8:30 He strictly warned them to tell no one about Him.

8:31 He began teaching them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, be killed, and rise after three days.

8:32 He spoke this word openly. Peter took Him aside and began rebuking Him.

8:33 But He turned, saw His disciples, and rebuked Peter, saying, “Go behind Me, Satan! For you are not setting your mind on God’s things, but on human things.”

8:34 Calling the crowd to Him with His disciples, He said to them, “If anyone wants to follow behind Me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow Me.

8:35 For whoever wants to save his life will lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake and for the gospel will save it.

8:36 For what does it benefit a person to gain the whole world and forfeit his life?

8:37 For what can a person give in exchange for his life?

8:38 Whoever is ashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man will also be ashamed of him when He comes in the glory of His Father with the holy angels.”

Mark 9

9:1 He said to them, “Truly I tell you, some standing here will certainly not taste death until they see that the kingdom of God has come in power.”

9:2 After six days, Jesus took Peter, James, and John with Him and brought them up a high mountain privately, alone. He was transfigured before them,

9:3 and His clothes became gleaming, exceedingly white, as no cloth bleacher on earth could whiten them.

9:4 Elijah appeared to them with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

9:5 Peter answered Jesus, “Rabbi, it is good for us to be here. Let us make three tents: one for Thee, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”

9:6 For he did not know what to answer, because they had become terrified.

9:7 A cloud came, overshadowing them, and a voice came from the cloud: “This is My beloved Son; listen to Him.”

9:8 Suddenly, looking around, they no longer saw anyone with them except Jesus alone.

9:9 As they came down from the mountain, He ordered them to tell no one what they had seen until the Son of Man had risen from the dead.

9:10 They kept the word to themselves, discussing what rising from the dead meant.

9:11 They questioned Him, saying, “Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”

9:12 He said to them, “Elijah indeed comes first and restores all things. Yet how is it written of the Son of Man that He should suffer many things and be treated with contempt?

9:13 But I tell you that Elijah has also come, and they did to him whatever they wanted, just as it is written of him.”

9:14 When they came to the disciples, they saw a large crowd around them and scribes disputing with them.

9:15 Immediately the whole crowd saw Him and was greatly astonished. They ran up and greeted Him.

9:16 He asked them, “What are you disputing with them?”

9:17 One from the crowd answered Him, “Teacher, I brought Thee my son, who has a speechless spirit.

9:18 Wherever it seizes him, it dashes him down; he foams, grinds his teeth, and becomes rigid. I told Thy disciples to cast it out, but they did not have the strength.”

9:19 He answered them, “O unbelieving generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him to Me.”

9:20 They brought him to Him. When the spirit saw Him, it immediately convulsed the boy; falling on the ground, he rolled about, foaming.

9:21 He asked his father, “How long has this been happening to him?” He said, “From childhood.

9:22 Often it has thrown him both into fire and into water, to destroy him. But if Thou canst do anything, have compassion on us and help us.”

9:23 Jesus said to him, “‘If Thou canst’! All things are possible for the one who believes.”

9:24 Immediately the father of the child cried out and said, “I believe; help my unbelief!”

9:25 Seeing that a crowd was running together, Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, “Speechless and deaf spirit, I command you: come out of him, and enter him no more.”

9:26 Crying out and convulsing him violently, it came out. The boy became like a dead person, so that most of them said, “He has died.”

9:27 But Jesus took him by the hand and raised him, and he stood up.

9:28 When He entered a house, His disciples asked Him privately, “Why could we not cast it out?”

9:29 He said to them, “This kind can come out by nothing except prayer.”

9:30 They left there and passed through Galilee, and He did not want anyone to know.

9:31 For He was teaching His disciples and saying to them, “The Son of Man is being handed over into human hands, and they will kill Him. After He is killed, He will rise after three days.”

9:32 But they did not understand the saying, and were afraid to ask Him.

9:33 They came to Capernaum. When He was in the house, He asked them, “What were you discussing on the way?”

9:34 They remained silent, for on the way they had discussed with one another who was greatest.

9:35 He sat down, called the Twelve, and said to them, “If anyone wants to be first, he shall be last of all and servant of all.”

9:36 He took a child, stood the child among them, and, embracing the child, said to them,

9:37 “Whoever receives one such child in My name receives Me; and whoever receives Me does not receive Me but the One who sent Me.”

9:38 John said to Him, “Teacher, we saw someone casting out demons in Thy name, and we tried to stop him, because he was not following us.”

9:39 Jesus said, “Do not stop him, for no one who does a mighty work in My name will be able soon afterward to speak evil of Me.

9:40 For whoever is not against us is for us.

9:41 Whoever gives you a cup of water to drink in recognition that you belong to Christ, truly I tell you, will certainly not lose his reward.

9:42 Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble—it would be better for him if a donkey-driven millstone were placed around his neck and he were thrown into the sea.

9:43 If your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life maimed than to have two hands and go away into Gehenna, into the unquenchable fire.

9:45 If your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame than to have two feet and be thrown into Gehenna.

9:47 If your eye causes you to stumble, cast it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than to have two eyes and be thrown into Gehenna,

9:48 where their worm does not die and the fire is not extinguished.

9:49 For everyone will be salted with fire.

9:50 Salt is good; but if salt becomes saltless, with what will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another.”

Mark 10

10:1 He rose from there and came into the territory of Judea and beyond the Jordan. Crowds gathered to Him again, and as was His custom, He again taught them.

10:2 Pharisees came to Him and asked whether it was lawful for a man to divorce his wife, testing Him.

10:3 He answered them, “What did Moses command you?”

10:4 They said, “Moses permitted a man to write a certificate of divorce and dismiss her.”

10:5 Jesus said to them, “Because of your hardness of heart he wrote you this commandment.

10:6 But from the beginning of creation, ‘He made them male and female.’

10:7 ‘For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and cleave to his wife,

10:8 and the two shall become one flesh.’ So they are no longer two, but one flesh.

10:9 Therefore, what God has yoked together, let no human separate.”

10:10 In the house, the disciples asked Him about this again.

10:11 He said to them, “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery against her.

10:12 And if she divorces her husband and marries another, she commits adultery.”

10:13 People brought children to Him so that He might touch them, but the disciples rebuked them.

10:14 When Jesus saw it, He was indignant and said to them, “Let the children come to Me; do not stop them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these.

10:15 Truly I tell you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child will certainly not enter it.”

10:16 He embraced them and blessed them, laying His hands on them.

10:17 As He was setting out on the road, a man ran up, knelt before Him, and asked Him, “Good Teacher, what should I do to inherit eternal life?”

10:18 Jesus said to him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One—God.

10:19 You know the commandments: ‘Do not murder; do not commit adultery; do not steal; do not bear false witness; do not defraud; honor your father and mother.’”

10:20 He said to Him, “Teacher, I have kept all these from my youth.”

10:21 Jesus looked at him, loved him, and said to him, “You lack one thing. Go, sell what you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven. Then come, follow Me.”

10:22 But his face fell at the word, and he went away grieved, for he had many possessions.

10:23 Jesus looked around and said to His disciples, “How hard it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!”

10:24 The disciples were astounded at His words. But Jesus answered them again, “Children, how hard it is to enter the kingdom of God!

10:25 It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.”

10:26 They were exceedingly astonished and said to one another, “Then who can be saved?”

10:27 Jesus looked at them and said, “With humans it is impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God.”

10:28 Peter began saying to Him, “Look, we have left everything and followed Thee.”

10:29 Jesus said, “Truly I tell you, there is no one who has left house, brothers, sisters, mother, father, children, or fields for My sake and for the sake of the gospel,

10:30 who will not receive a hundredfold now, in this time—houses, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and fields, with persecutions—and in the coming age, eternal life.

10:31 But many who are first will be last, and the last first.”

10:32 They were on the road going up to Jerusalem. Jesus was going ahead of them, and they were astounded, while those following were afraid. Taking the Twelve aside again, He began telling them what was going to happen to Him:

10:33 “Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn Him to death and hand Him over to the Gentiles.

10:34 They will mock Him, spit on Him, flog Him, and kill Him, and after three days He will rise.”

10:35 James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached Him and said to Him, “Teacher, we want Thee to do for us whatever we ask Thee.”

10:36 He said to them, “What do you want Me to do for you?”

10:37 They said to Him, “Grant us to sit, one at Thy right and one at Thy left, in Thy glory.”

10:38 Jesus said to them, “You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I drink, or be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?”

10:39 They said to Him, “We can.” Jesus said to them, “You will drink the cup that I drink, and you will be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized.

10:40 But to sit at My right or at My left is not Mine to give; it is for those for whom it has been prepared.”

10:41 When the ten heard, they began to be indignant with James and John.

10:42 Jesus called them to Him and said to them, “You know that those regarded as rulers of the nations lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

10:43 But it is not so among you. Whoever wants to become great among you shall be your servant,

10:44 and whoever wants to be first among you shall be slave of all.

10:45 For even the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom in exchange for many.”

10:46 They came to Jericho. As He was leaving Jericho with His disciples and a considerable crowd, Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting beside the road.

10:47 Hearing that it was Jesus the Nazarene, he began crying out, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”

10:48 Many rebuked him so that he would be silent, but he cried out much more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

10:49 Jesus stopped and said, “Call him.” They called the blind man, saying to him, “Take courage! Get up; He is calling you.”

10:50 He threw off his garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus.

10:51 Jesus answered him, “What do you want Me to do for you?” The blind man said to Him, “Rabbouni, that I may see again.”

10:52 Jesus said to him, “Go; your faith has saved you.” Immediately he saw again and followed Him on the road.

Mark 11

11:1 As they drew near Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany at the Mount of Olives, He sent two of His disciples

11:2 and said to them, “Go into the village opposite you. Immediately on entering it, you will find a colt tied, on which no human has ever sat. Untie it and bring it.

11:3 If anyone says to you, ‘Why are you doing this?’ say, ‘The Lord has need of it, and He will send it back here immediately.’”

11:4 They went away and found a colt tied at a door outside on the street, and untied it.

11:5 Some of those standing there said to them, “What are you doing, untying the colt?”

11:6 They answered them just as Jesus had said, and the people let them go.

11:7 They brought the colt to Jesus, threw their garments on it, and He sat on it.

11:8 Many spread their garments on the road; others spread leafy branches they had cut from the fields.

11:9 Those going ahead and those following cried out, “Hosanna! Blessed is the One who comes in the name of the Lord!

11:10 Blessed is the coming kingdom of our father David! Hosanna in the highest!”

11:11 He entered Jerusalem, into the temple. After looking around at everything, since the hour was already late, He went out to Bethany with the Twelve.

11:12 On the next day, as they came out from Bethany, He became hungry.

11:13 Seeing from far away a fig tree with leaves, He came to see whether He might find anything on it. When He reached it, He found nothing but leaves, for it was not the season for figs.

11:14 He addressed it, “May no one ever eat fruit from you again.” His disciples heard it.

11:15 They came to Jerusalem. He entered the temple and began driving out those selling and those buying in the temple. He overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those selling doves, 11:16 and would not allow anyone to carry a vessel through the temple.

11:17 He taught and said to them, “Is it not written, ‘My house will be called a house of prayer for all nations’? But you have made it a den of robbers.”

11:18 The chief priests and the scribes heard, and sought how to destroy Him; for they feared Him, because the whole crowd was astonished at His teaching.

11:19 Whenever evening came, they went out of the city.

11:20 Passing by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots.

11:21 Peter remembered and said to Him, “Rabbi, look! The fig tree that Thou didst curse has withered.”

11:22 Jesus answered them, “Have faith in God.

11:23 Truly I tell you, whoever says to this mountain, ‘Be lifted up and thrown into the sea,’ and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says is happening, it will be his.

11:24 Therefore I tell you, everything you pray and ask for—believe that you have received it, and it will be yours.

11:25 Whenever you stand praying, forgive if you have anything against anyone, so that your Father in the heavens may also forgive your trespasses.”

11:27 They came again to Jerusalem. As He walked in the temple, the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders came to Him

11:28 and said to Him, “By what authority art Thou doing these things? Or who gave Thee this authority to do them?”

11:29 Jesus said to them, “I will ask you one question. Answer Me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

11:30 Was John’s baptism from heaven or from humans? Answer Me.”

11:31 They reasoned with one another, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’

11:32 But should we say, ‘From humans’?” They feared the crowd, for everyone held that John truly was a prophet.

11:33 They answered Jesus, “We do not know.” Jesus said to them, “Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

Mark 12

12:1 He began speaking to them in parables: “A man planted a vineyard, put a fence around it, dug a winepress vat, and built a tower. He leased it to tenant farmers and went abroad.

12:2 At the proper season he sent a slave to the farmers, to receive from them some of the vineyard’s fruit.

12:3 They seized him, beat him, and sent him away empty-handed.

12:4 Again he sent another slave to them; they struck that one on the head and dishonored him.

12:5 He sent another, and they killed that one; and many others—some they beat, and others they killed.

12:6 He still had one, a beloved son. He sent him to them last, saying, 'They will respect my son.'

12:7 But those farmers said to one another, 'This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.'

12:8 They seized him, killed him, and threw him outside the vineyard.

12:9 What, then, will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the farmers and give the vineyard to others.

12:10 Have you not even read this Scripture: 'The stone that the builders rejected has become the head of the corner.

12:11 This came from the Lord, and it is marvelous in our eyes'?"

12:12 They sought to seize Him, but feared the crowd, for they knew that He had spoken the parable against them. They left Him and went away.

12:13 They sent some of the Pharisees and the Herodians to Him, to catch Him in a word.

12:14 They came and said to Him, "Teacher, we know that Thou art truthful and dost not defer to anyone, for Thou dost not look at people's outward standing, but dost teach God's way in truth. Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not? Should we give it or not?"

12:15 Knowing their hypocrisy, He said to them, "Why are you testing Me? Bring Me a denarius so that I may see it."

12:16 They brought one. He said to them, "Whose image and inscription is this?" They said to Him, "Caesar's."

12:17 Jesus said to them, "Give back Caesar's things to Caesar, and God's things to God." They marveled greatly at Him.

12:18 Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to Him and questioned Him, saying,

12:19 "Teacher, Moses wrote for us that if someone's brother dies and leaves a wife but no child, his brother should take the wife and raise up offspring for his brother.

12:20 There were seven brothers. The first took a wife, and died leaving no offspring.

12:21 The second took her and died leaving no offspring, and the third likewise.

12:22 The seven left no offspring. Last of all, the woman also died.

12:23 In the resurrection, when they rise, whose wife will she be? For the seven had her as wife."

12:24 Jesus said to them, "Is this not why you are mistaken: you know neither the Scriptures nor God's power?

12:25 For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in the heavens.

12:26 As for the dead being raised, have you not read in the book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God spoke to him, saying, 'I am the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob'?

12:27 He is not God of the dead, but of the living. You are greatly mistaken."

12:28 One of the scribes approached, having heard them disputing and seen that He had answered them well. He asked Him, "Which commandment is first of all?"

12:29 Jesus answered, "The first is, 'Hear, Israel: the Lord our God, the Lord is one.

12:30 You shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, with your whole soul, with your whole mind, and with your whole strength.'

12:31 The second is this: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no other commandment greater than these."

12:32 The scribe said to Him, "Well said, Teacher! Thou hast truly said that He is one, and there is no other besides Him.

12:33 To love Him with the whole heart, with the whole understanding, and with the whole strength, and to love one's neighbor as oneself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices."

12:34 Seeing that he answered thoughtfully, Jesus said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God." No one dared to question Him any further.

12:35 Jesus responded as He taught in the temple, "How do the scribes say that the Christ is David's son?

12:36 David himself said in the Holy Spirit, 'The Lord said to my Lord: Sit at My right hand until I put Thy enemies beneath Thy feet.'

12:37 David himself calls Him Lord; how then is He his son?" The large crowd listened to Him gladly.

12:38 In His teaching He said, "Beware of the scribes who like to walk about in long robes and receive greetings in the marketplaces, 12:39 the foremost seats in the synagogues, and the foremost reclining places at dinners.

12:40 They devour widows' houses and make long prayers as a pretense. These will receive greater judgment."

12:41 He sat opposite the treasury and watched how the crowd put copper money into the treasury. Many rich people put in much.

12:42 And one poor widow came and put in two lepta, which make a quadrans.

12:43 He called His disciples to Him and said to them, "Truly I tell you, this poor widow has put in more than all those putting into the treasury.

12:44 For they all put in from their surplus, but she, from her need, put in everything she had—her whole livelihood."

Mark 13

13:1 As He was leaving the temple, one of His disciples said to Him, "Teacher, look! What stones and what buildings!"

13:2 Jesus said to him, "Do you see these great buildings? Not one stone will be left here on another that will not be torn down."

13:3 As He sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew questioned Him privately:

13:4 "Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign when all these things are about to be fulfilled?"

13:5 Jesus began saying to them, "Watch out that no one leads you astray.

13:6 Many will come in My name, saying, 'I am he,' and will lead many astray.

13:7 When you hear of wars and reports of wars, do not be alarmed. These must happen, but the end is not yet.

13:8 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places; there will be famines. These things are the beginning of birth pains.

13:9 But watch yourselves. They will hand you over to councils; you will be beaten in synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for My sake, as a testimony to them.

13:10 The gospel must first be proclaimed to all the nations.

13:11 When they lead you away to hand you over, do not worry beforehand about what to say. Whatever is given you in that hour, say that; for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.

13:12 Brother will hand brother over to death, and a father his child. Children will rise against parents and have them put to death.

13:13 You will be hated by all because of My name. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

13:14 When you see the abomination of desolation standing where it must not—let the reader understand—then let those in Judea flee to the mountains.

13:15 Let the one on the housetop not go down or enter to take anything from his house, 13:16 and let the one in the field not turn back to take his garment.

13:17 Woe to those who are pregnant and those nursing infants in those days!

13:18 Pray that it does not happen in winter.

13:19 For those days will be distress such as has not occurred from the beginning of the creation that God created until now, and certainly will not occur again.

13:20 If the Lord had not shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved. But for the sake of the chosen, whom He chose, He shortened the days.

13:21 Then if anyone says to you, 'Look, here is the Christ!' or, 'Look, there!' do not believe it.

13:22 For false christs and false prophets will arise and give signs and wonders to lead astray, if possible, the chosen.

13:23 But you, watch out! I have told you everything beforehand.

13:24 But in those days, after that distress, the sun will be darkened and the moon will not give its light.

13:25 The stars will be falling from heaven, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken.

13:26 Then they will see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory.

13:27 Then He will send the angels and gather His chosen from the four winds, from the end of the earth to the end of heaven.

13:28 Learn the parable from the fig tree: when its branch has already become tender and puts out leaves, you know that summer is near.

13:29 So also, when you see these things happening, know that it is near, at the doors.

13:30 Truly I tell you, this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things happen.

13:31 Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will certainly not pass away.

13:32 But concerning that day or hour, no one knows—not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son—except the Father.

13:33 Watch out; stay awake, for you do not know when the time is.

13:34 It is like a man going abroad who left his house and gave his slaves authority, each his own work, and commanded the doorkeeper to keep watch.

13:35 Therefore keep watch, for you do not know when the master of the house is coming: in the evening, at midnight, at cockcrow, or in the morning.

13:36 Otherwise he may come suddenly and find you sleeping.

13:37 What I say to you, I say to all: keep watch!”

Mark 14

14:1 The Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread were two days away. The chief priests and the scribes sought how to seize Him by deceit and kill Him.

14:2 For they said, “Not during the feast, lest there be a disturbance among the people.”

14:3 While He was in Bethany, reclining in the house of Simon the leper, a woman came with an alabaster jar of very costly ointment of pure nard. She broke the alabaster jar and poured it over His head.

14:4 Some were indignant among themselves: “Why has this ointment been wasted?

14:5 For this ointment could have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor.” They scolded her harshly.

14:6 Jesus said, “Leave her alone. Why are you troubling her? She has done a good work for Me.

14:7 For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you want, you can do good to them; but you do not always have Me.

14:8 She did what she could. She has anointed My body beforehand for burial.

14:9 Truly I tell you, wherever the gospel is proclaimed in the whole world, what she has done will also be told in remembrance of her.”

14:10 Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, went away to the chief priests to hand Him over to them.

14:11 When they heard, they rejoiced and promised to give him silver money. He sought how to hand Him over at a suitable time.

14:12 On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when they sacrificed the Passover, His disciples said to Him, “Where dost Thou want us to go and prepare the Passover for Thee to eat?”

14:13 He sent two of His disciples and said to them, “Go into the city, and a man carrying an earthenware jar of water will meet you. Follow him.

14:14 Wherever he enters, say to the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says: Where is My guest room, where I may eat the Passover with My disciples?’

14:15 He will show you a large upper room, furnished and ready. Prepare for us there.”

14:16 The disciples went out, came to the city, and found it just as He had told them. They prepared the Passover.

14:17 When evening came, He arrived with the Twelve.

14:18 As they reclined and ate, Jesus said, “Truly I tell you, one of you will hand Me over—one who is eating with Me.”

14:19 They began to be grieved and said to Him one by one, “Surely not I?”

14:20 He said to them, “One of the Twelve, the one dipping with Me into the dish.

14:21 For the Son of Man goes just as it is written about Him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is handed over! It would have been good for that man if he had not been born.”

14:22 As they ate, He took bread, pronounced a blessing, broke it, and gave it to them, saying, “Take; this is My body.”

14:23 He took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it.

14:24 He said to them, “This is My blood of the covenant, poured out for many.

14:25 Truly I tell you, I will certainly no longer drink of the fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.”

14:26 After singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

14:27 Jesus said to them, “You will all stumble, because it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.’

14:28 But after I am raised, I will go ahead of you into Galilee.”

14:29 Peter said to Him, “Even if all stumble, I will not.”

14:30 Jesus said to him, “Truly I tell you, today, this very night, before a rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times.”

14:31 He spoke all the more insistently, “Even if I must die with Thee, I will certainly not deny Thee.” They all said the same.

14:32 They came to a place whose name was Gethsemane. He said to His disciples, “Sit here while I pray.”

14:33 He took Peter, James, and John with Him, and began to be deeply alarmed and distressed.

14:34 He said to them, “My soul is deeply grieved, to the point of death. Remain here and keep watch.”

14:35 Going forward a little, He fell on the ground and prayed that, if possible, the hour might pass from Him.

14:36 He said, “Abba, Father, all things are possible for Thee. Take this cup away from Me. Yet not what I will, but what Thou wilt.”

14:37 He came and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “Simon, are you sleeping? Could you not keep watch for one hour?

14:38 Keep watch and pray, so that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

14:39 Again He went away and prayed, saying the same word.

14:40 Again He came and found them sleeping, for their eyes were weighed down, and they did not know what to answer Him.

14:41 He came the third time and said to them, “Sleep on now and rest. It is enough. The hour has come. Look, the Son of Man is being handed over into the hands of sinners.

14:42 Rise; let us go. Look, the one handing Me over has drawn near.”

14:43 Immediately, while He was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, arrived, and with him a crowd with swords and clubs from the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders.

14:44 The one handing Him over had given them an agreed sign, saying, “The One I kiss is He. Seize Him and lead Him away securely.”

14:45 He came and immediately approached Him, saying, “Rabbi!” Then he kissed Him.

14:46 They laid their hands on Him and seized Him.

14:47 One of those standing nearby drew his sword, struck the high priest’s slave, and cut off his ear.

14:48 Jesus answered them, “Have you come out with swords and clubs to arrest Me as though against a robber?

14:49 Day after day I was with you in the temple, teaching, and you did not seize Me. But this is so that the Scriptures may be fulfilled.”

14:50 They all left Him and fled.

14:51 A certain young man was following Him, wearing a linen cloth over his naked body. They seized him, 14:52 but he left the linen cloth behind and fled naked.

14:53 They led Jesus away to the high priest, and all the chief priests, the elders, and the scribes assembled.

14:54 Peter followed Him from a distance, as far as inside the high priest’s courtyard. He sat with the attendants and warmed himself at the firelight.

14:55 The chief priests and the whole council sought testimony against Jesus to put Him to death, but found none.

14:56 For many bore false witness against Him, but their testimonies did not agree.

14:57 Some stood up and bore false witness against Him, saying,

14:58 “We heard Him say, ‘I will tear down this sanctuary made by hands, and in three days I will build another not made by hands.’”

14:59 Yet even in this their testimony did not agree.

14:60 The high priest stood up in the midst and questioned Jesus, saying, “Dost Thou answer nothing? What is it these men testify against Thee?”

14:61 He remained silent and answered nothing. Again the high priest questioned Him and said to Him, “Art Thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?”

14:62 Jesus said, “I am. And you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven.”

14:63 The high priest tore his tunics and said, “What further need have we of witnesses?

14:64 You heard the blasphemy. What is your judgment?” They all condemned Him as deserving death.

14:65 Some began spitting on Him, covering His face, striking Him with their fists, and saying to Him, “Prophesy!” The attendants received Him with slaps.

14:66 While Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the high priest’s female slaves came.

14:67 Seeing Peter warming himself, she looked at him and said, “You too were with Jesus the Nazarene.”

14:68 He denied it, saying, “I neither know nor understand what you are saying.” He went outside into the forecourt, and a rooster crowed.

14:69 The female slave saw him and again began saying to those standing nearby, “This man is one of them.”

14:70 Again he denied it. After a little while, those standing nearby again said to Peter, “Truly you are one of them, for you are a Galilean.”

14:71 He began invoking a curse and swearing, “I do not know this Man you are speaking of.”

14:72 Immediately a rooster crowed a second time. Peter remembered the word Jesus had spoken to him: “Before a rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times.” He broke down and wept.

Mark 15

15:1 Immediately in the morning, the chief priests held a consultation with the elders, the scribes, and the whole council. They bound Jesus, led Him away, and handed Him over to Pilate.

15:2 Pilate questioned Him, “Art Thou the King of the Jews?” He answered him, “You say so.”

15:3 The chief priests accused Him of many things.

15:4 Pilate questioned Him again, saying, “Dost Thou answer nothing? Look how many accusations they bring against Thee.”

15:5 But Jesus gave no further answer, so that Pilate marveled.

15:6 At the feast he used to release for them one prisoner whom they requested.

15:7 The man called Barabbas was imprisoned with the rebels who had committed murder in the uprising.

15:8 The crowd came up and began asking him to do as he usually did for them.

15:9 Pilate answered them, “Do you want me to release for you the King of the Jews?”

15:10 For he knew that the chief priests had handed Him over out of envy.

15:11 But the chief priests stirred up the crowd to have him release Barabbas for them instead.

15:12 Pilate answered them again, “Then what do you want me to do with the One you call the King of the Jews?”

15:13 They cried out again, “Crucify Him!”

15:14 Pilate said to them, “Why, what evil has He done?” They cried out all the more, “Crucify Him!”

15:15 Pilate, wanting to satisfy the crowd, released Barabbas for them. After having Jesus scourged, he handed Him over to be crucified.

15:16 The soldiers led Him inside the courtyard—that is, the praetorium—and called together the whole cohort.

15:17 They clothed Him in purple and, after weaving a crown of thorns, put it on Him.

15:18 They began saluting Him, “Hail, King of the Jews!”

15:19 They kept striking His head with a reed and spitting on Him, and knelt down to bow before Him.

15:20 After they had mocked Him, they stripped off the purple and put His own garments on Him. They led Him out to crucify Him.

15:21 They compelled a passerby, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to carry His cross.

15:22 They brought Him to the place Golgotha, which translated means Place of a Skull.

15:23 They offered Him wine mixed with myrrh, but He did not take it.

15:24 They crucified Him and divided His garments, casting a lot over them to determine who would take what.

15:25 It was the third hour when they crucified Him.

15:26 The inscription of the charge against Him was written: “The King of the Jews.”

15:27 They crucified two robbers with Him, one at His right and one at His left.

15:29 Those passing by reviled Him, shaking their heads and saying, “Aha! Thou who dost tear down the sanctuary and build it in three days,

15:30 save Thyself by coming down from the cross!”

15:31 Likewise the chief priests, mocking Him among themselves with the scribes, said, “He saved others; He cannot save Himself.

15:32 Let the Christ, the King of Israel, come down now from the cross, so that we may see and believe.” Those crucified with Him also reproached Him.

15:33 When the sixth hour came, darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour.

15:34 At the ninth hour, Jesus cried out with a loud voice, “Eloi, Eloi, lema sabachthani?” which translated means, “My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?”

15:35 Some of those standing nearby heard and said, “Look, He is calling Elijah.”

15:36 Someone ran, filled a sponge with sour wine, placed it on a reed, and gave Him a drink, saying, “Leave Him; let us see whether Elijah comes to take Him down.”

15:37 Jesus let out a loud cry and breathed His last.

15:38 The curtain of the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom.

15:39 When the centurion standing opposite Him saw that He breathed His last in this way, he said, “Truly this Man was God’s Son.”

15:40 There were also women watching from a distance, among them Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James the Little and Joses, and Salome.

15:41 When He was in Galilee, they had followed Him and served Him; there were also many other women who had come up with Him to Jerusalem.

15:42 Evening had already come, and since it was Preparation—that is, the day before the Sabbath—

15:43 Joseph of Arimathea, a respected council member who himself was also awaiting the kingdom of God, came and dared to enter before Pilate and ask for Jesus' body.

15:44 Pilate marveled that He was already dead. Calling the centurion to him, he asked whether He had died some time ago.

15:45 When he learned from the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph.

15:46 Joseph bought a linen cloth, took Him down, wrapped Him in the cloth, and laid Him in a tomb cut out of rock. He rolled a stone against the entrance of the tomb.

15:47 Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses watched where He was laid.

Mark 16

16:1 When the Sabbath had passed, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices so that they might come and anoint Him.

16:2 Very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen.

16:3 They said to one another, "Who will roll the stone away from the entrance of the tomb for us?"

16:4 Looking up, they saw that the stone had been rolled away, for it was very large.

16:5 They entered the tomb and saw a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe, and they were greatly alarmed.

16:6 He said to them, "Do not be alarmed. You seek Jesus the Nazarene, who was crucified. He has been raised; He is not here. Look, the place where they laid Him.

16:7 But go, tell His disciples and Peter, 'He is going ahead of you into Galilee. There you will see Him, just as He told you.'"

16:8 They went out and fled from the tomb, for trembling and astonishment held them. They said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

16:9 ⟦After He had risen early on the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom He had cast out seven demons.

16:10 She went and reported to those who had been with Him, as they mourned and wept.

16:11 When they heard that He was alive and had been seen by her, they disbelieved.

16:12 After these things, He appeared in another form to two of them as they were walking, going into the country.

16:13 They went away and reported to the rest; they did not believe them either.

16:14 Later He appeared to the Eleven themselves as they reclined at table, and reproached their unbelief and hardness of heart because they had not believed those who had seen Him raised.

16:15 He said to them, "Go into the whole world and proclaim the gospel to all creation.

16:16 The one who believes and is baptized will be saved; the one who disbelieves will be condemned.

16:17 These signs will accompany those who believe: in My name they will cast out demons; they will speak in new tongues;

16:18 and with their hands they will pick up snakes; and if they drink anything deadly, it will certainly not harm them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will be well."

16:19 So the Lord Jesus, after speaking to them, was taken up into heaven and sat at the right of God.

16:20 They went out and proclaimed everywhere, while the Lord worked with them and confirmed the word through the accompanying signs.⟧

Luke

Luke 1

1:1 Since many have undertaken to compile an account of the events fulfilled among us,

1:2 just as those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and servants of the word handed them down to us,

1:3 it seemed good to me also, having followed everything carefully from the beginning, to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus,

1:4 so that you may know the certainty of the matters in which you have been instructed.

1:5 In the days of Herod, king of Judea, there was a priest named Zechariah, of the division of Abijah. He had a wife from the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

1:6 Both were righteous before God, walking blamelessly in all the Lord’s commandments and ordinances.

1:7 They had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and both were advanced in years.

1:8 While he was serving as priest before God in the order of his division,

1:9 according to the priesthood’s custom, he was chosen by lot to enter the Lord’s sanctuary and burn incense.

1:10 The whole multitude of the people was praying outside at the hour of incense.

1:11 An angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing at the right of the altar of incense.

1:12 Zechariah was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him.

1:13 But the angel said to him, “Do not fear, Zechariah, for your petition has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you shall name him John.

1:14 You will have joy and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth,

1:15 for he will be great before the Lord. He will certainly drink neither wine nor strong drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit even from his mother’s womb.

1:16 He will turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God.

1:17 He himself will go before Him in Elijah’s spirit and power, to turn fathers’ hearts toward children and the disobedient to the understanding of the righteous, to prepare for the Lord a people made ready.”

1:18 Zechariah said to the angel, “How will I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is advanced in years.”

1:19 The angel answered him, “I am Gabriel, who stands before God, and I was sent to speak to you and announce this good news to you.

1:20 And behold, you will be silent and unable to speak until the day these things happen, because you did not believe my words, which will be fulfilled at their appointed time.”

1:21 The people were waiting for Zechariah and wondering at his delay in the sanctuary.

1:22 When he came out, he could not speak to them, and they realized that he had seen a vision in the sanctuary. He kept making signs to them and remained mute.

1:23 When the days of his service were completed, he went home.

1:24 After those days his wife Elizabeth conceived, and she kept herself secluded for five months, saying,

1:25 “This is what the Lord has done for me in these days, when He looked upon me to take away my disgrace among people.”

1:26 In the sixth month, the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee named Nazareth,

1:27 to a virgin betrothed to a man named Joseph, of David’s house. The virgin’s name was Mary.

1:28 And he entered and said to her, “Rejoice, you who have been favoured! The Lord is with you.”

1:29 She was greatly troubled at the saying and considered what sort of greeting this might be.

1:30 The angel said to her, “Do not fear, Mary, for you have found grace with God.

1:31 And behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a Son, and you shall name Him Jesus.

1:32 He will be great and will be called Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David,

1:33 and He will reign over Jacob’s house forever, and His kingdom will have no end.”

1:34 Mary said to the angel, “How will this be, since I do not know a man?”

1:35 The angel answered her, “The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; and so the holy One to be born will be called Son of God.

1:36 And behold, your relative Elizabeth has also conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth month for her who was called barren,

1:37 for no word from God will be powerless.”

1:38 Mary said, “Behold, I am the Lord’s servant. May it happen to me according to your word.” Then the angel departed from her.

1:39 In those days Mary arose and went in haste into the hill country, to a city of Judah.

1:40 She entered Zechariah’s house and greeted Elizabeth.

1:41 When Elizabeth heard Mary’s greeting, the infant leaped in her womb, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit.

1:42 She cried out with a loud shout and said, “Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb!

1:43 And how is it that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

1:44 For behold, when the sound of your greeting entered my ears, the infant in my womb leaped with gladness.

1:45 And blessed is she who believed that there would be a fulfillment of the things spoken to her from the Lord.”

1:46 Mary said, “My soul magnifies the Lord,

1:47 and my spirit rejoiced in God my Savior,

1:48 because He looked upon the lowly condition of His servant. For behold, from now on all generations will call me blessed,

1:49 because the Mighty One has done great things for me, and holy is His name.

1:50 His mercy is for generations and generations upon those who fear Him.

1:51 He has performed a mighty deed with His arm; He scattered the proud in the thought of their heart.

1:52 He brought rulers down from thrones and raised up the lowly.

1:53 He filled the hungry with good things and sent the rich away empty.

1:54 He helped Israel His servant, remembering mercy,

1:55 as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and his offspring forever.”

1:56 Mary stayed with her about three months and returned to her home.

1:57 When Elizabeth’s time to give birth had come, she bore a son.

1:58 Her neighbors and relatives heard that the Lord had magnified His mercy toward her, and they rejoiced with her.

1:59 On the eighth day they came to circumcise the child and were calling him Zechariah after his father’s name.

1:60 But his mother answered, “No; he shall be called John.”

1:61 They said to her, “No one among your relatives is called by this name.”

1:62 They made signs to his father to ask what he wanted the child to be called.

1:63 He asked for a writing tablet and wrote, “His name is John.” And they all wondered.

1:64 Immediately his mouth and tongue were opened, and he spoke, blessing God.

1:65 Fear came upon all who lived around them, and all these matters were discussed throughout the whole hill country of Judea.

1:66 Everyone who heard took these matters to heart, saying, “What then will this child become?” For the Lord’s hand was indeed with him.

1:67 His father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied, saying,

1:68 “Blessed is the Lord, the God of Israel, because He has visited and accomplished redemption for His people,

1:69 and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of David His servant,

1:70 as He spoke through the mouth of His holy prophets from long ago:

1:71 salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us,

1:72 to show mercy to our fathers and remember His holy covenant,

1:73 the oath He swore to Abraham our father, to grant us

1:74 that, rescued from our enemies’ hand, we might serve Him without fear,

1:75 in holiness and righteousness before Him all our days.

1:76 And you also, child, will be called prophet of the Most High, for you will go before the Lord to prepare His ways,

1:77 to give His people knowledge of salvation in the forgiveness of their sins,

1:78 through the tender mercy of our God, by which the dawn from on high will visit us,

1:79 to shine upon those who sit in darkness and death's shadow, to direct our feet into a way of peace."

1:80 The child grew and became strong in spirit. He remained in the wilderness until the day of his public appearance to Israel.

Luke 2

2:1 In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus for all the inhabited world to be registered.

2:2 This first registration took place while Quirinius was governing Syria.

2:3 Everyone went to be registered, each to his own city.

2:4 Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to David's city, which is called Bethlehem, because he belonged to David's house and family,

2:5 to be registered with Mary, who was betrothed to him and was pregnant.

2:6 While they were there, the time came for her to give birth.

2:7 She bore her firstborn Son, wrapped Him in swaddling cloths, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the lodging place.

2:8 In that same region there were shepherds living in the fields and keeping watch over their flock through the watches of the night.

2:9 An angel of the Lord stood beside them, and the Lord's glory shone around them; they feared with a great fear.

2:10 The angel said to them, "Do not fear, for behold, I announce to you good news of great joy, which will be for all the people:

2:11 today in David's city a Savior has been born for you, who is Christ the Lord.

2:12 This is the sign for you: you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger."

2:13 Suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly army, praising God and saying,

2:14 "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among people of His favour."

2:15 When the angels had departed from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this event that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us."

2:16 They came in haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in the manger.

2:17 When they saw Him, they made known the saying spoken to them about this Child.

2:18 Everyone who heard wondered at what the shepherds told them.

2:19 But Mary kept all these matters, pondering them in her heart.

2:20 The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for everything they had heard and seen, just as it had been spoken to them.

2:21 When eight days were completed for His circumcision, He was named Jesus, the name given by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

2:22 When the days of their purification according to Moses' law were completed, they brought Him up to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord,

2:23 as it is written in the Lord's law: "Every male opening the womb shall be called holy to the Lord,"

2:24 and to give a sacrifice according to what is said in the Lord's law: "A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons."

2:25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem named Simeon. This man was righteous and devout, awaiting Israel's consolation, and the Holy Spirit was upon him.

2:26 It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he saw the Lord's Christ.

2:27 He came in the Spirit into the temple. When the parents brought in the Child Jesus to do for Him what was customary under the law,

2:28 he received Him into his arms, blessed God, and said,

2:29 "Now, Master, Thou art releasing Thy servant in peace according to Thy word,

2:30 because my eyes have seen Thy salvation,

2:31 which Thou didst prepare in the sight of all peoples:

2:32 a light for revelation to the nations and glory for Thy people Israel."

2:33 His father and mother were wondering at what was being said about Him.

2:34 Simeon blessed them and said to His mother Mary, “Behold, this One is appointed for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign spoken against—

2:35 and a sword will pass through your own soul also—so that thoughts from many hearts may be revealed.”

2:36 There was also a prophetess, Anna, daughter of Phanuel, from the tribe of Asher. She was very old. She had lived with her husband for seven years after marrying as a virgin,

2:37 and had been a widow until the age of eighty-four. She did not leave the temple, serving with fasts and petitions night and day.

2:38 Coming up at that very hour, she gave thanks to God and spoke about Him to everyone awaiting Jerusalem’s redemption.

2:39 When they had completed everything according to the Lord’s law, they returned to Galilee, to their own city of Nazareth.

2:40 The Child grew and became strong, being filled with wisdom, and God’s grace was upon Him.

2:41 His parents went each year to Jerusalem for the Festival of Passover.

2:42 When He became twelve years old, they went up according to the festival’s custom.

2:43 When the festival days were over and they were returning, the boy Jesus remained in Jerusalem, and His parents did not know.

2:44 Supposing Him to be in the traveling company, they went a day’s journey and searched for Him among their relatives and acquaintances.

2:45 When they did not find Him, they returned to Jerusalem searching for Him.

2:46 After three days they found Him in the temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and questioning them.

2:47 All who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers.

2:48 When His parents saw Him, they were overwhelmed. His mother said to Him, “Child, why hast Thou treated us this way? Behold, Thy father and I have been searching for Thee in anguish.”

2:49 He said to them, “Why were you searching for Me? Did you not know that I must be in what belongs to My Father?”

2:50 But they did not understand the saying He spoke to them.

2:51 He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and He remained subject to them. His mother kept all these matters in her heart.

2:52 Jesus advanced in wisdom and age, and in favor with God and people.

Luke 3

3:1 In the fifteenth year of Tiberius Caesar’s rule, when Pontius Pilate governed Judea, Herod was tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Iturea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,

3:2 during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, God’s word came to John, Zechariah’s son, in the wilderness.

3:3 He went into all the region around the Jordan, proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins,

3:4 as it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet: “A voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare the Lord’s way; make His paths straight.

3:5 Every ravine will be filled, and every mountain and hill brought low. The crooked will become straight, and the rough ways smooth roads,

3:6 and all flesh will see God’s salvation.”

3:7 So he said to the crowds coming out to be baptized by him, “Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee the coming wrath?

3:8 Produce fruits worthy of repentance, and do not begin saying among yourselves, ‘We have Abraham as father.’ For I tell you that God can raise up children for Abraham from these stones.

3:9 Already the axe also lies at the root of the trees. Therefore every tree that does not produce good fruit is cut down and thrown into fire.”

3:10 The crowds asked him, “What then should we do?”

3:11 He answered them, “Let the one who has two tunics share with the one who has none, and let the one who has food do likewise.”

3:12 Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, “Teacher, what should we do?”

3:13 He said to them, “Collect nothing beyond what has been appointed for you.”

3:14 Soldiers also asked him, “And we, what should we do?” He said to them, “Extort from no one, do not make false accusations, and be content with your pay.”

3:15 As the people were waiting expectantly and everyone was considering in their hearts whether John might be the Christ,

3:16 John answered them all, “I baptize you with water, but One stronger than I is coming, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit and fire.

3:17 His winnowing fork is in His hand, to cleanse His threshing floor thoroughly and gather the wheat into His storehouse; but the chaff He will burn with unquenchable fire.”

3:18 With many other exhortations also, he announced good news to the people.

3:19 But Herod the tetrarch, rebuked by him concerning Herodias, his brother’s wife, and all the evil things Herod had done,

3:20 added this also to them all: he shut John up in prison.

3:21 When all the people were baptized, and Jesus also had been baptized and was praying, heaven was opened,

3:22 and the Holy Spirit descended upon Him in bodily form like a dove. A voice came from heaven: “Thou art My beloved Son; in Thee I have taken delight.”

3:23 Jesus Himself was about thirty years old when He began His ministry. He was the son, as was supposed, of Joseph, of Heli,

3:24 of Matthat, of Levi, of Melchi, of Jannai, of Joseph,

3:25 of Mattathias, of Amos, of Nahum, of Esli, of Naggai,

3:26 of Maath, of Mattathias, of Semein, of Josech, of Joda,

3:27 of Joanan, of Rhesa, of Zerubbabel, of Shealtiel, of Neri,

3:28 of Melchi, of Addi, of Cosam, of Elmadam, of Er,

3:29 of Jesus, of Eliezer, of Jorim, of Matthat, of Levi,

3:30 of Simeon, of Judah, of Joseph, of Jonam, of Eliakim,

3:31 of Melea, of Menna, of Mattatha, of Nathan, of David,

3:32 of Jesse, of Obed, of Boaz, of Sala, of Nahshon,

3:33 of Amminadab, of Admin, of Arni, of Hezron, of Perez, of Judah,

3:34 of Jacob, of Isaac, of Abraham, of Terah, of Nahor,

3:35 of Serug, of Reu, of Peleg, of Eber, of Shelah,

3:36 of Cainan, of Arphaxad, of Shem, of Noah, of Lamech,

3:37 of Methuselah, of Enoch, of Jared, of Mahalalel, of Cainan,

3:38 of Enosh, of Seth, of Adam, of God.

Luke 4

4:1 Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan and was led in the Spirit in the wilderness

4:2 for forty days, being tested by the devil. He ate nothing during those days, and when they were completed He was hungry.

4:3 The devil said to Him, “If Thou art God’s Son, tell this stone to become bread.”

4:4 Jesus answered him, “It is written: ‘Man shall not live by bread alone.’”

4:5 Taking Him up, the devil showed Him all the kingdoms of the inhabited world in a moment of time.

4:6 The devil said to Him, “I will give Thee all this authority and their glory, because it has been handed over to me, and I give it to whomever I wish.

4:7 Therefore, if Thou dost bow down before me, it will all be Thine.”

4:8 Jesus answered him, “It is written: ‘You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him alone shall you serve.’”

4:9 He brought Him to Jerusalem, placed Him on the temple’s pinnacle, and said to Him, “If Thou art God’s Son, throw Thyself down from here,

4:10 for it is written: ‘He will command His angels concerning Thee, to guard Thee,’

4:11 and, ‘They will lift Thee upon their hands, lest Thou strike Thy foot against a stone.’”

4:12 Jesus answered him, “It has been said: ‘You shall not put the Lord your God to the test.’”

4:13 Having completed every test, the devil departed from Him until an opportune time.

4:14 Jesus returned in the Spirit’s power into Galilee, and a report about Him spread throughout the whole surrounding region.

4:15 He taught in their synagogues, being glorified by everyone.

4:16 He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up, and according to His custom entered the synagogue on the Sabbath day. He stood up to read.

4:17 The scroll of the prophet Isaiah was given to Him. Unrolling it, He found the place where it was written:

4:18 “The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He anointed Me to proclaim good news to the poor. He has sent Me to proclaim release to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the crushed go free,

4:19 to proclaim the Lord’s year of favor.”

4:20 He rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. The eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on Him.

4:21 He began to say to them, “Today this Scripture has been fulfilled in your ears.”

4:22 All bore witness to Him and wondered at the words of grace coming from His mouth. They said, “Is this not Joseph’s son?”

4:23 He said to them, “Surely you will tell Me this proverb: ‘Physician, heal yourself.’ ‘Do here in Thy homeland also everything we heard happened in Capernaum.’”

4:24 He said, “Amen, I tell you, no prophet is acceptable in his homeland.

4:25 But in truth I tell you, there were many widows in Israel in Elijah’s days, when heaven was shut for three years and six months and a great famine came over the whole land.

4:26 Yet Elijah was sent to none of them except to a widow at Zarephath in Sidon’s territory.

4:27 And there were many leprous people in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, but none of them was cleansed except Naaman the Syrian.”

4:28 Everyone in the synagogue was filled with anger when they heard these things.

4:29 They rose, threw Him out of the city, and led Him to the brow of the hill on which their city was built, intending to hurl Him down.

4:30 But He passed through their midst and went on His way.

4:31 He went down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and was teaching them on the Sabbaths.

4:32 They were overwhelmed at His teaching, because His word was with authority.

4:33 In the synagogue was a man who had the spirit of an unclean demon. He cried out with a loud voice,

4:34 “Ah! What have we to do with Thee, Jesus of Nazareth? Hast Thou come to destroy us? I know who Thou art: God’s Holy One.”

4:35 Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be silent and come out of him!” The demon threw him down in their midst and came out of him without harming him.

4:36 Amazement came upon everyone, and they said to one another, “What is this word? With authority and power He commands the unclean spirits, and they come out!”

4:37 A report about Him went out into every place in the surrounding region.

4:38 Leaving the synagogue, He entered Simon’s house. Simon’s mother-in-law was gripped by a high fever, and they asked Him about her.

4:39 Standing over her, He rebuked the fever, and it left her. Immediately she rose and served them.

4:40 As the sun was setting, everyone who had people sick with various diseases brought them to Him. He laid His hands on each one and healed them.

4:41 Demons also came out of many, crying, “Thou art God’s Son!” He rebuked them and would not let them speak, because they knew He was the Christ.

4:42 When day came, He went out to a deserted place. The crowds searched for Him, came to Him, and tried to keep Him from departing from them.

4:43 But He said to them, “I must announce the good news of God’s kingdom to the other cities also, because for this I was sent.”

4:44 And He continued proclaiming in the synagogues of Judea.

Luke 5

5:1 As the crowd pressed upon Him to hear God’s word, He was standing beside the lake of Gennesaret.

5:2 He saw two boats beside the lake; the fishermen had left them and were washing their nets.

5:3 He entered one of the boats, which belonged to Simon, and asked him to put out a little from the land. Sitting down, He taught the crowds from the boat.

5:4 When He finished speaking, He said to Simon, “Put out into the deep water, and let down your nets for a catch.”

5:5 Simon answered, “Master, we labored through the whole night and caught nothing, but at Thy word I will let down the nets.”

5:6 When they did this, they enclosed a great multitude of fish, and their nets began to tear.

5:7 They signaled to their partners in the other boat to come and help them. They came and filled both boats, so that they began to sink.

5:8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell at Jesus’ knees, saying, “Depart from me, Lord, because I am a sinful man.”

5:9 For amazement had seized him and everyone with him at the catch of fish they had taken,

5:10 and likewise James and John, Zebedee’s sons, who were Simon’s partners. Jesus said to Simon, “Do not fear. From now on you will be catching people alive.”

5:11 They brought the boats to land, left everything, and followed Him.

5:12 While He was in one of the cities, behold, there was a man full of leprosy. Seeing Jesus, he fell on his face and petitioned Him, saying, “Lord, if Thou art willing, Thou canst cleanse me.”

5:13 Stretching out His hand, He touched him and said, “I am willing; be cleansed.” Immediately the leprosy departed from him.

5:14 He commanded him to tell no one: “But go, show yourself to the priest, and make the offering for your cleansing as Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.”

5:15 Yet the report about Him spread all the more, and large crowds gathered to hear and to be healed of their illnesses.

5:16 But He kept withdrawing to deserted places and praying.

5:17 On one of those days He was teaching, and Pharisees and teachers of the law were sitting there. They had come from every village of Galilee and Judea and from Jerusalem; and the Lord’s power was present for Him to heal.

5:18 And behold, men were carrying on a bed a man who was paralyzed. They sought to bring him in and place him before Him.

5:19 Finding no way to bring him in because of the crowd, they went up onto the roof and lowered him through the tiles with his little bed into their midst, before Jesus.

5:20 Seeing their faith, He said, “Man, your sins are forgiven you.”

5:21 The scribes and Pharisees began to reason, saying, “Who is this who speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins except God alone?”

5:22 Jesus recognized their thoughts and answered them, “What are you reasoning in your hearts?

5:23 Which is easier: to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven you,’ or to say, ‘Rise and walk’?

5:24 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins”—He said to the paralyzed man—“I tell you, rise, take up your little bed, and go home.”

5:25 Immediately he rose before them, took up what he had been lying on, and went home glorifying God.

5:26 Astonishment seized everyone, and they glorified God and were filled with fear, saying, “We have seen extraordinary things today.”

5:27 After this He went out and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax booth, and said to him, “Follow Me.”

5:28 Leaving everything, he rose and followed Him.

5:29 Levi gave a great reception for Him in his house. A large crowd of tax collectors and others was reclining with them.

5:30 The Pharisees and their scribes grumbled to His disciples, saying, “Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?”

5:31 Jesus answered them, “Those who are healthy have no need of a physician, but those who are ill do.

5:32 I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”

5:33 They said to Him, “John’s disciples fast often and offer petitions, and likewise those of the Pharisees, but Thine eat and drink.”

5:34 Jesus said to them, “Can you make the bridegroom’s companions fast while the bridegroom is with them?

5:35 But days will come, and when the bridegroom is taken from them, then they will fast in those days.”

5:36 He also told them a parable: “No one tears a patch from a new garment and puts it on an old garment. Otherwise he will tear the new one, and the patch from the new will not match the old.

5:37 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins. Otherwise the new wine will burst the skins, and it will be poured out and the skins destroyed.

5:38 But new wine must be put into fresh wineskins.

5:39 And no one who has drunk old wine desires new, for he says, ‘The old is good.’”

Luke 6

6:1 On a Sabbath He was passing through grainfields. His disciples plucked the ears, rubbed them in their hands, and ate.

6:2 Some of the Pharisees said, “Why are you doing what is not lawful on the Sabbaths?”

6:3 Jesus answered them, “Have you not even read what David did when he and those with him were hungry,

6:4 how he entered God’s house, took and ate the loaves of the presentation, and gave them to those with him, although no one except the priests alone may lawfully eat them?”

6:5 He said to them, “The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath.”

6:6 On another Sabbath He entered the synagogue and taught. A man was there whose right hand was withered.

6:7 The scribes and Pharisees watched closely to see whether He would heal on the Sabbath, so that they might find a way to accuse Him.

6:8 But He knew their thoughts and said to the man with the withered hand, “Rise and stand in the middle.” He rose and stood.

6:9 Jesus said to them, “I ask you: Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or do evil, to save a life or destroy it?”

6:10 Looking around at all of them, He said to him, “Stretch out your hand.” He did so, and his hand was restored.

6:11 They were filled with mindless anger and discussed with one another what they might do to Jesus.

6:12 In those days He went out to the mountain to pray, and spent the night in prayer to God.

6:13 When day came, He called His disciples and chose twelve from them, whom He also named apostles:

6:14 Simon, whom He also named Peter, and his brother Andrew, and James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew,

6:15 and Matthew and Thomas, and James son of Alphaeus, and Simon called the Zealot,

6:16 and Judas son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor.

6:17 He came down with them and stood on a level place. There was a large crowd of His disciples and a great multitude of the people from all Judea, Jerusalem, and the coastal region of Tyre and Sidon.

6:18 They had come to hear Him and be healed of their diseases; those troubled by unclean spirits were also healed.

6:19 The whole crowd sought to touch Him, because power went out from Him and healed everyone.

6:20 Lifting His eyes toward His disciples, He said, “Blessed are you who are poor, because yours is God’s kingdom.

6:21 Blessed are you who hunger now, because you will be filled. Blessed are you who weep now, because you will laugh.

6:22 Blessed are you when people hate you, when they exclude you, reproach you, and cast out your name as evil because of the Son of Man.

6:23 Rejoice on that day and leap, for behold, your reward is great in heaven; their fathers treated the prophets in the same way.

6:24 But woe to you who are rich, because you have received your consolation.

6:25 Woe to you who are filled now, because you will hunger. Woe to you who laugh now, because you will mourn and weep.

6:26 Woe when all people speak well of you, for their fathers treated the false prophets in the same way.

6:27 But I say to you who hear: Love your enemies; do good to those who hate you.

6:28 Bless those who curse you; pray for those who mistreat you.

6:29 Offer the other cheek also to the one striking you on the cheek; and from the one taking your cloak, do not withhold your tunic also.

6:30 Give to everyone who asks you, and do not demand back your belongings from the one who takes them.

6:31 As you wish people to do to you, do likewise to them.

6:32 If you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them.

6:33 If you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? Even sinners do the same.

6:34 If you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners to receive the equivalent back.

6:35 But love your enemies, do good, and lend, expecting nothing back. Your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, because He is kind to the ungrateful and evil.

6:36 Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful.

Note †: Luke 6:36 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain the plural command and the comparison with your Father. Become records the verb's form; be is a natural command. Mercy here is not limited to cancelling debt or punishment.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

6:37 Do not judge, and you will certainly not be judged. Do not condemn, and you will certainly not be condemned. Release, and you will be released.

6:38 Give, and it will be given to you. They will put into your lap a good measure, pressed down, shaken together, overflowing; for by the measure you measure, it will be measured back to you.”

6:39 He also told them a parable: “Can a blind person guide a blind person? Will they not both fall into a pit?

6:40 A disciple is not above the teacher, but everyone fully trained will be like his teacher.

6:41 Why do you look at the speck in your brother’s eye but fail to notice the beam in your own eye?

6:42 How can you say to your brother, ‘Brother, let me take out the speck in your eye,’ when you yourself do not see the beam in your own eye? Hypocrite! First take the beam out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother’s eye.

6:43 For no good tree produces rotten fruit, nor again does a rotten tree produce good fruit.

6:44 Each tree is known by its own fruit. People do not gather figs from thorns, nor harvest grapes from a bramble.

6:45 The good person brings out good from the good treasure of his heart, and the evil person brings out evil from the evil treasure; for his mouth speaks from the heart's abundance.

6:46 Why do you call Me 'Lord, Lord,' and not do what I say?

6:47 Everyone who comes to Me, hears My words and does them—I will show you whom he resembles.

6:48 He resembles a man building a house, who dug and went deep and laid a foundation on the rock. When a flood came, the river burst against that house but could not shake it, because it had been well built.

6:49 But the one who heard and did not act resembles a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. The river burst against it, and immediately it collapsed; the ruin of that house was great."

Luke 7

7:1 When He had finished all His sayings in the people's hearing, He entered Capernaum.

7:2 A certain centurion had a slave who was ill and about to die, and who was precious to him.

7:3 Hearing about Jesus, he sent elders of the Jews to Him, asking Him to come and save his slave.

7:4 When they reached Jesus, they urged Him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy for Thee to grant him this,

7:5 for he loves our nation, and he himself built our synagogue for us."

7:6 Jesus went with them. When He was already not far from the house, the centurion sent friends, saying to Him, "Lord, do not trouble Thyself, for I am not worthy for Thee to enter under my roof.

7:7 Therefore I did not even consider myself worthy to come to Thee. But speak a word, and let my servant be healed.

7:8 For I too am a man placed under authority, with soldiers under me. I tell this one, 'Go,' and he goes; another, 'Come,' and he comes; and my slave, 'Do this,' and he does it."

7:9 When Jesus heard this, He marveled at him. Turning to the crowd following Him, He said, "I tell you, not even in Israel have I found such faith."

7:10 Those who had been sent returned to the house and found the slave in good health.

7:11 Afterward He went to a city called Nain, and His disciples and a large crowd traveled with Him.

7:12 As He approached the city's gate, behold, a dead man was being carried out, his mother's only son. She was a widow, and a considerable crowd from the city was with her.

7:13 When the Lord saw her, He was moved with compassion for her and said, "Do not weep."

7:14 He approached and touched the bier; the bearers stood still. He said, "Young man, I tell you, rise."

7:15 The dead man sat up and began speaking, and He gave him to his mother.

7:16 Fear seized everyone, and they glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has arisen among us," and, "God has visited His people."

7:17 This report about Him spread throughout all Judea and all the surrounding region.

7:18 John's disciples reported all these things to him. John called two of his disciples

7:19 and sent them to the Lord, saying, "Art Thou the One who is coming, or should we expect another?"

7:20 When the men came to Him, they said, "John the Baptist sent us to Thee, saying, 'Art Thou the One who is coming, or should we expect another?'"

7:21 At that hour He healed many of diseases, afflictions and evil spirits, and graciously gave sight to many blind people.

7:22 He answered them, "Go and report to John what you have seen and heard: the blind recover sight, the lame walk, leprous people are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor receive good news.

7:23 And blessed is whoever does not stumble because of Me."

7:24 When John's messengers had departed, He began to speak to the crowds about John: "What did you go out into the wilderness to behold? A reed shaken by the wind?

7:25 But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft garments? Behold, those who live in splendid clothing and luxury are in royal palaces.

7:26 But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and more than a prophet.

7:27 This is the one about whom it is written: 'Behold, I send My messenger before Thy face, who will prepare Thy way ahead of Thee.'

7:28 I tell you, among those born of women no one is greater than John; yet the lesser one in God's kingdom is greater than he."

7:29 When all the people and the tax collectors heard, they acknowledged God’s righteousness, having been baptized with John’s baptism.

7:30 But the Pharisees and experts in the law rejected God’s purpose for themselves, not having been baptized by him.

7:31 “To what, then, shall I compare the people of this generation, and what are they like?

7:32 They are like children sitting in the marketplace and calling to one another, saying, ‘We played the flute for you, and you did not dance; we lamented, and you did not weep.’

7:33 For John the Baptist has come neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, ‘He has a demon.’

7:34 The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, ‘Behold, a glutton and wine-drinker, a friend of tax collectors and sinners.’

7:35 Yet wisdom was justified by all her children.”

7:36 One of the Pharisees asked Him to eat with him. He entered the Pharisee’s house and reclined at table.

7:37 And behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner learned that He was reclining in the Pharisee’s house. She brought an alabaster vessel of perfume

7:38 and stood behind Him at His feet, weeping. She began to wet His feet with her tears and wiped them with the hair of her head. She kept kissing His feet and anointing them with the perfume.

7:39 When the Pharisee who had invited Him saw it, he said within himself, “If this man were a prophet, He would know who and what sort of woman is touching Him, that she is a sinner.”

7:40 Jesus answered him, “Simon, I have something to say to you.” He said, “Teacher, say it.”

7:41 “A certain lender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii and the other fifty.

7:42 Since they had nothing with which to repay, he graciously forgave them both. Which of them, then, will love him more?”

7:43 Simon answered, “I suppose the one to whom he forgave more.” He said to him, “You judged correctly.”

7:44 Turning toward the woman, He said to Simon, “Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave Me no water for My feet, but she wet My feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair.

7:45 You gave Me no kiss, but from the time I entered she has not stopped kissing My feet.

7:46 You did not anoint My head with oil, but she anointed My feet with perfume.

7:47 For this reason I tell you: her many sins are forgiven, because she loved much. But the one who is forgiven little loves little.”

7:48 He said to her, “Your sins are forgiven.”

7:49 Those reclining with Him began to say within themselves, “Who is this who even forgives sins?”

7:50 And He said to the woman, “Your faith has saved you; go in peace.”

Note †: Luke 7:50 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain saved and the singular thy and thee. Read this with the preceding forgiveness, without importing the disease language of Mark 5:34. In peace is idiomatic English for the movement phrase.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

Luke 8

8:1 After this He traveled through cities and villages, proclaiming and announcing the good news of God’s kingdom. The Twelve were with Him,

8:2 and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and illnesses: Mary called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out,

8:3 Joanna, wife of Chuza, Herod’s steward, Susanna, and many others, who served them out of their own belongings.

8:4 When a large crowd was gathering and people from each city were coming to Him, He spoke through a parable:

8:5 “The sower went out to sow his seed. As he sowed, some fell beside the road, was trampled, and the birds of the sky ate it.

8:6 Other seed fell on the rock, and when it sprouted it withered because it had no moisture.

8:7 Other seed fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up with it and choked it.

8:8 Other seed fell into good soil, sprouted and produced fruit a hundredfold.” As He said these things, He called out, “Let the one who has ears to hear listen.”

8:9 His disciples asked Him what this parable meant.

8:10 He said, “To you it has been given to know the mysteries of God’s kingdom, but to the rest in parables, so that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.

8:11 This is the parable: the seed is God’s word.

8:12 Those beside the road are the ones who have heard; then the devil comes and takes the word from their heart, so that they may not believe and be saved.

8:13 Those on the rock are the ones who, when they hear, receive the word with joy. They have no root; they believe for a time and fall away in a time of testing.

8:14 What fell among thorns represents those who have heard, but as they go along they are choked by life's cares, wealth and pleasures, and do not bring fruit to maturity.

8:15 What is in the good soil represents those who hear the word in a noble and good heart, hold it fast, and bear fruit with endurance.

8:16 No one lights a lamp and covers it with a vessel or puts it under a bed, but places it on a lampstand, so that those entering may see the light.

8:17 For nothing is hidden that will not become manifest, nor concealed that will not be known and come into the open.

8:18 Therefore watch how you hear. For whoever has will be given more, and whoever does not have will have even what he thinks he has taken from him."

8:19 His mother and brothers came to Him but could not reach Him because of the crowd.

8:20 It was reported to Him, "Thy mother and Thy brothers are standing outside, wanting to see Thee."

8:21 He answered them, "My mother and My brothers are these who hear God's word and do it."

8:22 On one of those days He entered a boat with His disciples and said to them, "Let us cross to the other side of the lake." They put out.

8:23 As they sailed, He fell asleep. A windstorm came down upon the lake, and they were being swamped and were in danger.

8:24 They came and woke Him, saying, "Master, Master, we are perishing!" He awoke and rebuked the wind and the surging water. They ceased, and there was calm.

8:25 He said to them, "Where is your faith?" Afraid, they marveled and said to one another, "Who then is this, that He commands even the winds and the water, and they obey Him?"

8:26 They sailed into the country of the Gerasenes, which lies opposite Galilee.

8:27 When He stepped onto the land, a man from the city who had demons met Him. For a considerable time he had worn no garment and had not lived in a house, but among the tombs.

8:28 Seeing Jesus, he cried out, fell before Him, and said with a loud voice, "What have I to do with Thee, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg Thee, do not torment me!"

8:29 For He was commanding the unclean spirit to leave the man. It had seized him many times; he was bound with chains and shackles and kept under guard, but he broke the bonds and was driven by the demon into deserted places.

8:30 Jesus asked him, "What is your name?" He said, "Legion," because many demons had entered him.

8:31 They begged Him not to command them to go away into the abyss.

8:32 A herd of many pigs was feeding there on the hillside. They begged Him to permit them to enter those pigs, and He permitted them.

8:33 The demons came out of the man and entered the pigs. The herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake and was drowned.

8:34 When the herdsmen saw what had happened, they fled and reported it in the city and in the fields.

8:35 People came out to see what had happened. They came to Jesus and found the man from whom the demons had gone out sitting at Jesus' feet, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid.

8:36 Those who had seen reported to them how the demon-possessed man had been saved.

8:37 The whole multitude of the surrounding country of the Gerasenes asked Him to depart from them, because they were gripped by great fear. He entered a boat and returned.

8:38 The man from whom the demons had gone out begged to be with Him, but He sent him away, saying,

8:39 "Return to your home and recount everything God has done for you." He went away proclaiming throughout the whole city everything Jesus had done for him.

8:40 When Jesus returned, the crowd welcomed Him, for they were all awaiting Him.

8:41 And behold, a man named Jairus came, who was a ruler of the synagogue. Falling at Jesus' feet, he begged Him to enter his house,

8:42 because he had an only daughter, about twelve years old, and she was dying. As He went, the crowds pressed closely around Him.

8:43 A woman had suffered a flow of blood for twelve years. She had spent her whole livelihood on physicians, but could not be healed by anyone.

8:44 Coming up behind Him, she touched the fringe of His garment, and immediately her flow of blood stopped.

8:45 Jesus said, "Who touched Me?" When everyone denied it, Peter said, "Master, the crowds surround Thee and press against Thee."

8:46 Jesus said, "Someone touched Me, for I knew that power had gone out from Me."

8:47 When the woman saw that she had not escaped notice, she came trembling and fell before Him. Before all the people she reported why she had touched Him and how she had been healed immediately.

8:48 He said to her, “Daughter, your faith has saved you; go in peace.”

8:49 While He was still speaking, someone came from the synagogue ruler’s house, saying, “Your daughter has died. Do not trouble the Teacher any longer.”

8:50 Jesus heard and answered him, “Do not fear; only believe, and she will be saved.”

8:51 When He came to the house, He allowed no one to enter with Him except Peter, John and James, and the child’s father and mother.

8:52 Everyone was weeping and beating themselves in mourning for her. He said, “Do not weep, for she has not died, but is sleeping.”

8:53 They laughed at Him, knowing that she had died.

8:54 But He took her hand and called, “Child, rise.”

8:55 Her spirit returned, and she rose immediately. He ordered that she be given something to eat.

8:56 Her parents were astonished, but He commanded them to tell no one what had happened.

Luke 9

9:1 Calling the Twelve together, He gave them power and authority over all demons and to heal diseases.

9:2 He sent them to proclaim God’s kingdom and heal the sick.

9:3 He said to them, “Take nothing for the journey: neither a staff nor a bag nor bread nor silver; neither are you to have two tunics each.

9:4 Whatever house you enter, remain there and depart from there.

9:5 Wherever people do not receive you, as you leave that city shake the dust from your feet as a testimony against them.”

9:6 They went out and passed through the villages, announcing good news and healing everywhere.

9:7 Herod the tetrarch heard of everything that was happening and was perplexed, because some were saying that John had been raised from the dead,

9:8 others that Elijah had appeared, and others that one of the ancient prophets had arisen.

9:9 Herod said, “John I beheaded. But who is this about whom I hear such things?” And he sought to see Him.

9:10 When the apostles returned, they recounted to Him everything they had done. Taking them with Him, He withdrew privately to a city called Bethsaida.

9:11 The crowds learned of it and followed Him. He welcomed them, spoke to them about God’s kingdom, and healed those needing a cure.

9:12 The day was beginning to draw to a close. The Twelve approached and said to Him, “Dismiss the crowd, so that they may go into the surrounding villages and countryside, find lodging and obtain provisions, because we are here in a deserted place.”

9:13 He said to them, “You give them something to eat.” They said, “We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we ourselves go and buy food for all these people.”

9:14 For there were about five thousand men. He said to His disciples, “Have them recline in groups of about fifty each.”

9:15 They did so and had everyone recline.

9:16 Taking the five loaves and the two fish, He looked up to heaven, blessed them, broke them, and kept giving them to the disciples to set before the crowd.

9:17 They all ate and were filled, and the leftover fragments were gathered up: twelve baskets.

9:18 While He was praying apart, His disciples were with Him, and He asked them, “Who do the crowds say I am?”

9:19 They answered, “John the Baptist; others say Elijah; and others that one of the ancient prophets has arisen.”

9:20 He said to them, “But you, who do you say I am?” Peter answered, “God’s Christ.”

9:21 He sternly commanded them to tell this to no one,

9:22 saying, “The Son of Man must suffer many things, be rejected by the elders, chief priests and scribes, be killed, and on the third day be raised.”

9:23 He said to everyone, “If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him deny himself, take up his cross daily, and follow Me.

9:24 For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake will save it.

9:25 For what benefit is there for a person to gain the whole world but destroy or forfeit himself?

9:26 Whoever is ashamed of Me and My words, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when He comes in His glory and that of the Father and the holy angels.

9:27 But truly I tell you, some standing here will certainly not taste death until they see God's kingdom."

9:28 About eight days after these sayings, He took Peter, John and James and went up the mountain to pray.

9:29 As He prayed, the appearance of His face became different, and His clothing became white and flashing like lightning.

9:30 And behold, two men were speaking with Him, who were Moses and Elijah.

9:31 Appearing in glory, they spoke of His departure, which He was about to fulfill in Jerusalem.

9:32 Peter and those with him were weighed down with sleep, but when fully awake they saw His glory and the two men standing with Him.

9:33 As they were parting from Him, Peter said to Jesus, "Master, it is good for us to be here. Let us make three tents, one for Thee, one for Moses and one for Elijah," not knowing what he was saying.

9:34 While he said this, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they were afraid as they entered the cloud.

9:35 A voice came from the cloud, saying, "This is My Son, the chosen One; listen to Him."

9:36 When the voice came, Jesus was found alone. They kept silent and in those days reported to no one anything they had seen.

9:37 On the following day, when they came down from the mountain, a large crowd met Him.

9:38 And behold, a man from the crowd cried out, "Teacher, I beg Thee to look upon my son, because he is my only child.

9:39 Behold, a spirit seizes him, and suddenly he cries out. It convulses him with foaming and scarcely leaves him, bruising him.

9:40 I begged Thy disciples to cast it out, but they could not."

9:41 Jesus answered, "O faithless and distorted generation, how long shall I be with you and bear with you? Bring your son here."

9:42 While he was still approaching, the demon dashed him down and convulsed him. Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, healed the boy, and gave him back to his father.

9:43 Everyone was overwhelmed at God's majesty. While they all marveled at everything He was doing, He said to His disciples,

9:44 "You, place these words in your ears: the Son of Man is about to be handed over into human hands."

9:45 But they did not understand this saying; it was veiled from them so that they might not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask Him about it.

9:46 A discussion arose among them about which of them might be greatest.

9:47 Jesus knew the thought of their heart. He took a child and placed him beside Himself,

9:48 and said to them, "Whoever receives this child in My name receives Me; whoever receives Me receives the One who sent Me. For the one who is least among you all is great."

9:49 John answered, "Master, we saw someone casting out demons in Thy name and tried to stop him, because he does not follow with us."

9:50 Jesus said to him, "Do not stop him, for whoever is not against you is for you."

9:51 As the days for His being taken up approached their fulfillment, He firmly set His face to go to Jerusalem.

9:52 He sent messengers before His face. They went and entered a Samaritan village to prepare for Him.

9:53 But they did not receive Him, because His face was set toward Jerusalem.

9:54 Seeing this, the disciples James and John said, "Lord, dost Thou wish us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them?"

9:55 But He turned and rebuked them.

9:56 And they went to another village.

9:57 As they traveled on the road, someone said to Him, "I will follow Thee wherever Thou goest."

9:58 Jesus said to him, "Foxes have dens and the birds of the sky have dwelling places, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay His head."

9:59 He said to another, "Follow Me." But he said, "Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father."

9:60 He said to him, "Let the dead bury their own dead; but you go and proclaim God's kingdom."

9:61 Another also said, "I will follow Thee, Lord; but first permit me to say farewell to those in my house."

9:62 Jesus said to him, "No one who puts his hand to a plow and looks backward is fit for God's kingdom."

Luke 10

10:1 After this the Lord appointed seventy-two others also, and sent them two by two before His face into every city and place where He Himself was about to go.

10:2 He said to them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Therefore petition the Lord of the harvest to send workers out into His harvest.

10:3 Go; behold, I send you as lambs among wolves.

10:4 Carry no purse, no bag, no sandals, and greet no one along the road.

10:5 Whatever house you enter, first say, ‘Peace to this house.’

10:6 If a son of peace is there, your peace will rest upon him; otherwise it will return to you.

10:7 Remain in that same house, eating and drinking what they provide, for the worker is worthy of his pay. Do not move from house to house.

10:8 Whatever city you enter and they receive you, eat what is set before you.

10:9 Heal the sick in it and say to them, ‘God’s kingdom has drawn near to you.’

10:10 But whatever city you enter and they do not receive you, go out into its streets and say,

10:11 ‘Even the dust from your city that clings to our feet we wipe off against you. Nevertheless know this: God’s kingdom has drawn near.’

10:12 I tell you, it will be more bearable for Sodom on that day than for that city.

10:13 Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty deeds performed among you had happened in Tyre and Sidon, they would long ago have repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

10:14 Nevertheless, it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you.

10:15 And you, Capernaum, will you be exalted as far as heaven? You will go down as far as Hades.

10:16 The one who hears you hears Me, and the one who rejects you rejects Me; the one who rejects Me rejects the One who sent Me.”

10:17 The seventy-two returned with joy, saying, “Lord, even the demons submit to us in Thy name.”

10:18 He said to them, “I was watching Satan fall from heaven like lightning.

10:19 Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon snakes and scorpions, and over all the enemy’s power, and nothing will ever harm you.

10:20 Nevertheless, do not rejoice in this, that the spirits submit to you, but rejoice that your names have been written in the heavens.”

10:21 At that very hour He rejoiced in the Holy Spirit and said, “I acknowledge Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because Thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding and reveal them to infants. Yes, Father, for such was Thy good pleasure.

10:22 Everything has been handed over to Me by My Father. No one knows who the Son is except the Father, or who the Father is except the Son and anyone to whom the Son wishes to reveal Him.”

10:23 Turning privately to the disciples, He said, “Blessed are the eyes that see what you see.

10:24 For I tell you that many prophets and kings wished to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it.”

10:25 And behold, an expert in the law stood up to test Him, saying, “Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?”

10:26 He said to him, “What is written in the law? How do you read it?”

10:27 He answered, “You shall love the Lord your God from your whole heart, with your whole soul, with your whole strength and with your whole mind, and your neighbor as yourself.”

10:28 He said to him, “You answered correctly. Do this and you will live.”

10:29 But wishing to justify himself, he said to Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?”

10:30 Jesus replied, “A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among robbers. They stripped him, inflicted blows, and went away, leaving him half dead.

10:31 By coincidence a certain priest was going down that road. He saw him and passed by on the opposite side.

10:32 Likewise a Levite also came to the place, saw him, and passed by on the opposite side.

10:33 But a certain Samaritan, traveling, came upon him. When he saw him, he was moved with compassion.

10:34 He approached and bound his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. He placed him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and cared for him.

10:35 On the next day he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said, ‘Care for him, and whatever more you spend I will repay you when I return.’

10:36 Which of these three seems to you to have become a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers?”

10:37 He said, “The one who showed him mercy.” Jesus said to him, “Go, and you do likewise.”

10:38 As they traveled, He entered a certain village. A woman named Martha welcomed Him.

10:39 She had a sister called Mary, who also sat at the Lord’s feet and listened to His word.

10:40 But Martha was distracted by much serving. She came up and said, “Lord, dost Thou not care that my sister has left me to serve alone? Tell her, then, to help me.”

10:41 The Lord answered her, “Martha, Martha, you are anxious and troubled about many things,

10:42 but one thing is needed; for Mary has chosen the good portion, which shall not be taken from her.”

Luke 11

11:1 And it happened that He was praying in a certain place. When He stopped, one of His disciples said to Him, “Lord, teach us to pray, just as John also taught his disciples.”

11:2 He said to them, “When you pray, say: ‘Father, let Thy name be hallowed. Let Thy kingdom come.

11:3 Give us day by day our daily bread.

11:4 And forgive us our sins, for we ourselves also forgive everyone who owes us. And do not bring us into testing.’”

11:5 And He said to them, “Which of you will have a friend and go to him at midnight and say to him, ‘Friend, lend me three loaves,

11:6 since a friend of mine has arrived at my home from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him,’

11:7 and that man will answer from inside, ‘Do not trouble me. The door is already shut, and my children are in bed with me. I cannot get up and give you anything’?

11:8 I tell you, even if he will not get up and give to him because he is his friend, yet because of his shameless insistence he will rise and give him as much as he needs.

11:9 And I tell you: ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you.

11:10 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened.

11:11 What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will give him a snake instead of a fish?

11:12 Or again, if he asks for an egg, will he give him a scorpion?

11:13 So if you, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the Father from heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!”

11:14 And He was driving out a mute demon. When the demon came out, the mute man spoke, and the crowds marveled.

11:15 But some of them said, “He drives out the demons by Beelzebul, the ruler of the demons.”

11:16 Others, testing Him, were seeking from Him a sign from heaven.

11:17 But He, knowing their thoughts, said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and house falls upon house.

11:18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? For you say that I drive out the demons by Beelzebul.

11:19 But if I drive out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons drive them out? Therefore they will be your judges.

11:20 But if I drive out the demons by the finger of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.

11:21 When the strong man, fully armed, guards his own courtyard, his possessions are at peace.

11:22 But when someone stronger than he attacks and defeats him, he takes away the full armor in which he trusted and distributes his spoils.

11:23 Whoever is not with Me is against Me, and whoever does not gather with Me scatters.

11:24 When the unclean spirit comes out of a person, it passes through waterless places seeking rest. Finding none, it then says, ‘I will return to my house from which I came.’

11:25 And when it comes, it finds it swept and put in order.

11:26 Then it goes and takes seven other spirits more evil than itself, and they enter and dwell there. And the last state of that person becomes worse than the first.”

11:27 While He was saying these things, a woman from the crowd raised her voice and said to Him, “Blessed is the womb that bore Thee and the breasts at which Thou didst nurse!”

11:28 But He said, “Rather, blessed are those who hear the word of God and keep it!”

11:29 As the crowds were gathering in greater numbers, He began to say, “This generation is an evil generation. It seeks a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah.

11:30 For just as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so the Son of Man will also be to this generation.

11:31 The queen of the south will be raised at the judgment with the men of this generation and will condemn them, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, something greater than Solomon is here.

11:32 The men of Nineveh will rise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, because they repented at the proclamation of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah is here.

11:33 No one who lights a lamp puts it in a hidden place or under the modius basket, but on the lampstand, so that those who enter may see its light.

11:34 Your eye is the lamp of the body. When your eye is single, your whole body is also full of light; but when it is evil, your body is also dark.

11:35 Watch, therefore, that the light within you is not darkness.

11:36 So if your whole body is full of light, with no part of it dark, it will be wholly full of light, as when a lamp illumines you with its radiance.”

11:37 As He was speaking, a Pharisee invited Him to dine with him. He went in and reclined at the table.

11:38 But the Pharisee, seeing this, marveled that He had not first washed before the meal.

11:39 And the Lord said to him, “Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and the dish, but your inside is full of plunder and wickedness.

11:40 Fools! Did not the One who made the outside also make the inside?

11:41 But give what is within as alms, and behold, everything is clean for you.

11:42 But woe to you Pharisees, because you tithe mint and rue and every garden herb, and pass by justice and the love of God! You ought to have done these things without leaving those undone.

11:43 Woe to you Pharisees, because you love the foremost seat in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces!

11:44 Woe to you, because you are like unmarked tombs, and the people who walk over them do not know it!”

11:45 One of the experts in the Law answered Him, “Teacher, by saying these things Thou dost insult us also.”

11:46 But He said, “Woe also to you experts in the Law, because you load people with burdens hard to carry, and you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers!

11:47 Woe to you, because you build the tombs of the prophets, but your fathers killed them!

11:48 So you are witnesses and approve the deeds of your fathers: they killed them, and you build.

11:49 For this reason the wisdom of God also said, ‘I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of these they will kill and persecute,’

11:50 so that the blood of all the prophets poured out since the foundation of the world may be required of this generation,

11:51 from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who perished between the altar and the house. Yes, I tell you, it will be required of this generation.

11:52 Woe to you experts in the Law, because you have taken away the key of knowledge! You did not enter yourselves, and you hindered those who were entering.”

11:53 When He went out from there, the scribes and Pharisees began to press Him fiercely and question Him closely about many things, 11:54 lying in wait for Him to catch something from His mouth.

Luke 12

12:1 Meanwhile, as the crowd gathered in its tens of thousands, so that they were trampling one another, He began to speak first to His disciples: “Guard yourselves against the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

12:2 Nothing is covered up that will not be uncovered, or hidden that will not become known.

12:3 Therefore whatever you have said in the darkness will be heard in the light, and what you have spoken into the ear in the inner rooms will be proclaimed on the housetops.

12:4 I tell you, My friends, do not fear those who kill the body and after that have nothing more they can do.

12:5 But I will show you whom to fear: fear the One who, after killing, has authority to cast into Gehenna. Yes, I tell you, fear Him.

12:6 Are not five sparrows sold for two assaria? Yet not one of them is forgotten before God.

12:7 Indeed, even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Do not fear; you are worth more than many sparrows.

12:8 And I tell you, everyone who acknowledges Me before people, the Son of Man will also acknowledge before the angels of God.

12:9 But whoever denies Me before people will be denied before the angels of God.

12:10 And everyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.

12:11 When they bring you before the synagogues and the rulers and authorities, do not be anxious about how or what you should say in your defense, or what you should say,

12:12 for the Holy Spirit will teach you in that very hour what must be said."

12:13 Someone from the crowd said to Him, "Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me."

12:14 But He said to him, "Man, who appointed Me a judge or divider over you?"

12:15 And He said to them, "See to it that you guard against every kind of greed, because a person's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions."

12:16 Then He told them a parable: "The land of a certain rich man yielded abundantly.

12:17 And he reasoned within himself, saying, 'What shall I do, since I have nowhere to gather my crops?'

12:18 And he said, 'This is what I will do: I will pull down my storehouses and build larger ones, and gather all the grain and my goods there.

12:19 And I will say to my soul, "Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years. Rest, eat, drink, be glad!"'

12:20 But God said to him, 'Fool, this very night they demand your soul from you; and the things you have prepared—whose will they be?'

12:21 So it is with the one who stores up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God."

12:22 And He said to His disciples, "For this reason I tell you: do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat, or about your body, what you will wear.

12:23 For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing.

12:24 Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, and they have neither storeroom nor storehouse, yet God feeds them. How much more valuable you are than the birds!

12:25 And which of you by being anxious can add a cubit to his span of life?

12:26 So if you cannot do even the smallest thing, why are you anxious about the rest?

12:27 Consider the lilies, how they grow. They neither toil nor spin. Yet I tell you, not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these.

12:28 But if God so clothes the grass that is in the field today and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, how much more will He clothe you, you of little faith!

12:29 And do not seek what you will eat and what you will drink, and do not be unsettled,

12:30 for the nations of the world seek after all these things, and your Father knows that you need them.

12:31 But seek His kingdom, and these things will be added to you.

12:32 Do not fear, little flock, because your Father was pleased to give you the kingdom.

12:33 Sell your possessions and give alms. Make for yourselves purses that do not wear out, an unfailing treasure in the heavens, where no thief draws near and no moth destroys.

12:34 For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

12:35 Let your loins be girded and your lamps burning,

12:36 and be like people waiting for their own master to return from the wedding feast, so that when he comes and knocks, they may open to him at once.

12:37 Blessed are those slaves whom the master finds keeping watch when he comes. Amen, I tell you: he will gird himself, have them recline at table, and come and serve them.

12:38 Whether he comes in the second watch or in the third and finds them so, blessed are they.

12:39 But know this: if the master of the house had known at what hour the thief was coming, he would not have allowed his house to be broken into.

12:40 You also must be ready, because the Son of Man comes at an hour you do not expect."

12:41 Peter said, "Lord, art Thou telling this parable to us, or also to everyone?"

12:42 And the Lord said, "Who, then, is the faithful steward, the prudent one, whom his master will appoint over his household staff to give out their ration of grain at the proper time?

12:43 Blessed is that slave whom his master finds doing so when he comes.

12:44 Truly, I tell you, he will appoint him over all his possessions.

12:45 But if that slave says in his heart, ‘My master is taking a long time to come,’ and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and become drunk,

12:46 the master of that slave will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know, and will cut him in two and assign his portion with the unfaithful.

12:47 That slave who knew his master’s will and did not prepare or act according to his will shall receive many blows.

12:48 But the one who did not know and did things deserving blows shall receive few. From everyone to whom much was given, much will be required; and from the one to whom they entrusted much, they will ask all the more.

12:49 I came to cast fire upon the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled!

12:50 But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how I am constrained until it is accomplished!

12:51 Do you think I have come to give peace on earth? No, I tell you, but division.

12:52 For from now on five in one house will be divided, three against two and two against three.

12:53 They will be divided: father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.”

12:54 He also said to the crowds, “When you see a cloud rising in the west, you say at once, ‘A rainstorm is coming,’ and so it happens.

12:55 And when you see a south wind blowing, you say, ‘There will be scorching heat,’ and it happens.

12:56 Hypocrites! You know how to assess the appearance of the earth and the sky, but how is it that you do not know how to assess this time?

12:57 And why do you not also judge for yourselves what is right?

12:58 For as you go with your adversary before a ruler, make an effort on the way to be released from him, lest he drag you before the judge, and the judge hand you over to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison.

12:59 I tell you, you will certainly not come out from there until you have paid even the last lepton.”

Luke 13

13:1 At that very time some people were present who told Him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices.

13:2 And He answered them, “Do you think these Galileans were greater sinners than all the other Galileans because they suffered these things?

13:3 No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish.

13:4 Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them—do you think they were greater debtors than all the people living in Jerusalem?

13:5 No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way.”

13:6 And He told this parable: “A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard. He came looking for fruit on it and found none.

13:7 So he said to the vineyard worker, ‘Behold, for three years I have been coming to look for fruit on this fig tree and have found none. Cut it down, then! Why should it also make the ground unproductive?’

13:8 But he answered him, ‘Master, leave it this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure.

13:9 And if it produces fruit in the coming year—but if not, you shall cut it down.’”

13:10 Now He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath.

13:11 And behold, there was a woman who had had a spirit of weakness for eighteen years. She was bent over and could not straighten up completely.

13:12 When Jesus saw her, He called to her and said, “Woman, you have been released from your weakness.”

13:13 And He laid His hands on her, and at once she was made straight, and she glorified God.

13:14 But the synagogue ruler, indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, said to the crowd, “There are six days on which work ought to be done. So come and be healed on those days, and not on the Sabbath day.”

13:15 But the Lord answered him, “Hypocrites! Does not each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or donkey from the manger and lead it away to give it water?

13:16 And this woman, who is a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan bound for, behold, eighteen years—ought she not to have been released from this bond on the Sabbath day?”

13:17 As He said these things, all who opposed Him were put to shame, and the whole crowd rejoiced at all the glorious things being done by Him.

13:18 So He said, “What is the kingdom of God like, and to what shall I compare it?

13:19 It is like a mustard seed that a man took and cast into his own garden. It grew and became a tree, and the birds of the sky nested in its branches.”

13:20 And again He said, “To what shall I compare the kingdom of God?

13:21 It is like leaven that a woman took and hid in three sata of flour, until the whole was leavened.”

13:22 And He traveled through cities and villages, teaching and making His journey toward Jerusalem.

13:23 Someone said to Him, “Lord, are those who are being saved few?” And He said to them,

13:24 “Strive to enter through the narrow door, because many, I tell you, will seek to enter and will not be able,

13:25 once the master of the house rises and shuts the door. Then you will begin to stand outside and knock at the door, saying, ‘Lord, open to us!’ And he will answer you, ‘I do not know you or where you come from.’

13:26 Then you will begin to say, ‘We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets.’

13:27 And he will say to you, ‘I do not know you or where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of unrighteousness!’

13:28 There will be weeping and grinding of teeth there, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but yourselves being thrown outside.

13:29 And people will come from east and west and from north and south and recline at table in the kingdom of God.

13:30 And behold, there are last who will be first, and there are first who will be last.”

13:31 At that very hour some Pharisees approached and said to Him, “Leave and go away from here, because Herod wants to kill Thee.”

13:32 And He said to them, “Go and tell that fox, ‘Behold, I drive out demons and accomplish healings today and tomorrow, and on the third day I am brought to completion.’

13:33 Nevertheless, I must travel today and tomorrow and the day following, because it is not possible for a prophet to perish outside Jerusalem.

13:34 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, who kills the prophets and stones those sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children as a bird gathers her own brood under her wings, and you were not willing!

13:35 Behold, your house is left to you. And I tell you, you will certainly not see Me until the time comes when you say, ‘Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord!’”

Luke 14

14:1 And it happened that He went into the house of one of the leaders of the Pharisees on a Sabbath to eat bread, and they were watching Him closely.

14:2 And behold, a certain man suffering from dropsy was before Him.

14:3 Jesus spoke to the experts in the Law and the Pharisees, saying, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not?”

14:4 But they were silent. And He took hold of the man, healed him, and sent him away.

14:5 And He said to them, “Which of you, if his son or ox falls into a well, will not pull him out at once on the Sabbath day?”

14:6 And they were unable to answer these things.

14:7 He told a parable to those who had been invited, noticing how they chose the foremost places at table. He said to them,

14:8 “When someone invites you to a wedding feast, do not recline in the foremost place. Someone more honored than you may have been invited by him,

14:9 and the one who invited you both will come and say to you, ‘Give this man your place.’ Then you will begin, with shame, to occupy the last place.

14:10 But when you are invited, go and recline in the last place, so that when the one who invited you comes, he will say to you, ‘Friend, move up higher.’ Then you will have honor before all who recline at table with you.

14:11 For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted.”

14:12 He also said to the one who had invited Him, “When you give a midday meal or a supper, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return and you receive repayment.

14:13 But when you give a reception, invite the poor, the disabled, the lame, and the blind.

14:14 And you will be blessed, because they have nothing with which to repay you; for you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous.”

14:15 When one of those reclining at table heard these things, he said to Him, “Blessed is whoever shall eat bread in the kingdom of God!”

14:16 But He said to him, “A certain man was giving a great supper, and he invited many.

14:17 At the hour of the supper he sent his slave to tell those who had been invited, ‘Come, because things are now ready.’

14:18 And they all alike began to excuse themselves. The first said to him, ‘I bought a field, and I need to go out and see it. I ask you to excuse me.’

14:19 And another said, ‘I bought five pairs of oxen, and I am going to test them. I ask you to excuse me.’

14:20 And another said, ‘I married a wife, and for this reason I cannot come.’

14:21 The slave returned and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house became angry and said to his slave, ‘Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring the poor, the disabled, the blind, and the lame in here.’

14:22 And the slave said, ‘Master, what you commanded has been done, and there is still room.’

14:23 And the master said to the slave, ‘Go out into the roads and along the fences, and compel people to come in, so that my house may be filled.

14:24 For I tell you, none of those men who were invited will taste my supper.’”

14:25 Now great crowds were traveling with Him. He turned and said to them,

14:26 “If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple.

14:27 Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

14:28 For which of you, wanting to build a tower, does not first sit down and calculate the expense, whether he has enough to finish it?

14:29 Otherwise, when he has laid a foundation and is unable to complete it, all who see it may begin to mock him,

14:30 saying, ‘This man began to build and was unable to finish.’

14:31 Or what king, going to meet another king in war, will not first sit down and consider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet the one coming against him with twenty thousand?

14:32 And if not, while the other is still far away, he sends a delegation and asks for terms of peace.

14:33 So, therefore, every one of you who does not renounce all his own possessions cannot be My disciple.

14:34 Salt, then, is good. But if even the salt becomes tasteless, with what will it be seasoned?

14:35 It is fit neither for the soil nor for the manure heap; they throw it outside. Whoever has ears to hear, let him hear.”

Luke 15

15:1 Now all the tax collectors and sinners were drawing near to hear Him.

15:2 And both the Pharisees and the scribes grumbled, saying, “This man welcomes sinners and eats with them.”

15:3 So He told them this parable:

15:4 “What man among you, having a hundred sheep and losing one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the lost one until he finds it?

15:5 And when he finds it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

15:6 When he comes home, he calls his friends and neighbors together and says to them, ‘Rejoice with me, because I found my sheep that was lost!’

15:7 I tell you, in the same way there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous people who have no need of repentance.

15:8 Or what woman, having ten drachmas, if she loses one drachma, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and search carefully until she finds it?

15:9 And when she finds it, she calls her women friends and neighbors together, saying, ‘Rejoice with me, because I found the drachma that I lost!’

15:10 In the same way, I tell you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents.”

15:11 And He said, “A certain man had two sons.

15:12 The younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me the share of the property that falls to me.’ And he divided his livelihood between them.

15:13 Not many days later, the younger son gathered everything together and traveled to a distant country. There he scattered his property by living recklessly.

15:14 When he had spent everything, a severe famine arose throughout that country, and he began to be in need.

15:15 So he went and attached himself to one of the citizens of that country, who sent him into his fields to feed pigs.

15:16 And he longed to be filled with the carob pods the pigs were eating, and no one gave him anything.

15:17 But when he came to himself, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired workers have bread to spare, while I am perishing here from hunger!

15:18 I will rise and go to my father and say to him, “Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you.

15:19 I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Make me like one of your hired workers.”’

15:20 And he rose and came to his own father. But while he was still far away, his father saw him and was moved with compassion. He ran, fell upon his neck, and kissed him tenderly.

Note †: Luke 15:20 · wording and sourceWording: Keeps the unembellished sequence; tenderly expresses the affectionate kissing verb.Meaning: Retain the compassion, running, falling upon the neck, and affectionate kiss. The inherited warmly is explanatory; the reading trial uses kissed him tenderly without adding a speech or motive.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

15:24 because this son of mine was dead and came to life again; he was lost and was found.’ And they began to be glad.

15:25 Now his older son was in the field. As he came and drew near the house, he heard music and dancing.

15:26 And he called one of the servants and asked what these things might mean.

15:27 He said to him, ‘Your brother has come, and your father slaughtered the fattened calf because he received him back in good health.’

15:28 But he became angry and was unwilling to enter. His father came out and pleaded with him.

15:29 But he answered his father, ‘Behold, all these years I have served you as a slave, and I never disobeyed your command; yet you never gave me a young goat so that I might be glad with my friends.

15:30 But when this son of yours came, who devoured your livelihood with prostitutes, you slaughtered the fattened calf for him!’

15:31 And he said to him, ‘Child, you are always with me, and everything of mine is yours.

15:32 But we had to be glad and rejoice, because this brother of yours was dead and came to life; he was lost and was found.’”

Luke 16

16:1 He also said to the disciples, “There was a certain rich man who had a steward, and this man was accused before him of scattering his possessions.

16:2 He called him and said to him, ‘What is this I hear about you? Give an account of your stewardship, for you can no longer be steward.’

16:3 And the steward said within himself, ‘What shall I do, since my master is taking the stewardship away from me? I am not strong enough to dig; I am ashamed to beg.

16:4 I know what I will do, so that when I am removed from the stewardship, they may welcome me into their own houses.’

16:5 And he called each one of his own master’s debtors and said to the first, ‘How much do you owe my master?’

16:6 He said, ‘A hundred baths of oil.’ And he said to him, ‘Take your document, sit down quickly, and write fifty.’

16:7 Then he said to another, ‘And how much do you owe?’ He said, ‘A hundred kors of wheat.’ He said to him, ‘Take your document and write eighty.’

16:8 And the master praised the unrighteous steward because he had acted prudently. For the sons of this age are more prudent toward their own generation than the sons of light.

16:9 And I tell you, make friends for yourselves from the mammon of unrighteousness, so that when it fails, they may welcome you into the eternal tents.

16:10 The one who is faithful in the least is faithful also in much, and the one who is unrighteous in the least is unrighteous also in much.

16:11 So if you have not been faithful with unrighteous mammon, who will entrust the true riches to you?

16:12 And if you have not been faithful with what belongs to another, who will give you what is your own?

16:13 No household servant can serve two masters as a slave. For either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will hold to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.”

16:14 Now the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things and sneered at Him.

16:15 And He said to them, “You are those who justify yourselves before people, but God knows your hearts, because what is exalted among people is an abomination before God.

16:16 The Law and the Prophets were until John. From that time the kingdom of God is proclaimed as good news, and everyone presses into it.

16:17 But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one small stroke of the Law to fall.

16:18 Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery, and the one who marries a woman divorced from a husband commits adultery.

16:19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he clothed himself in purple and fine linen, enjoying himself in splendor every day.

16:20 And a certain poor man named Lazarus had been laid at his gateway, covered with sores

16:21 and longing to be filled with what fell from the rich man’s table. Even the dogs came and licked his sores.

16:22 And it happened that the poor man died and was carried away by the angels to Abraham’s bosom. The rich man also died and was buried.

16:23 And in Hades, being in torment, he lifted his eyes and saw Abraham far away and Lazarus in his bosom.

16:24 And he called out, ‘Father Abraham, have mercy on me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, because I am in pain in this flame.’

16:25 But Abraham said, ‘Child, remember that you received your good things during your life, and Lazarus likewise bad things. But now he is comforted here, and you are in pain.

16:26 And besides all this, a great chasm has been fixed between us and you, so that those who want to cross from here to you cannot, nor may they cross over from there to us.’

16:27 And he said, ‘Then I ask you, father, to send him to my father’s house,

16:28 for I have five brothers, so that he may solemnly warn them, lest they also come to this place of torment.’

16:29 But Abraham said, ‘They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them.’

16:30 But he said, ‘No, father Abraham; but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent.’

16:31 And he said to him, ‘If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded if someone rises from the dead.’”

Luke 17

17:1 And He said to His disciples, “It is impossible for stumbling blocks not to come, but woe to the one through whom they come!

17:2 It would be better for him to have a millstone placed around his neck and be thrown into the sea than to cause one of these little ones to stumble.

17:3 Watch yourselves. If your brother sins, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him.

17:4 And if he sins against you seven times in the day and turns back to you seven times, saying, ‘I repent,’ you shall forgive him.”

17:5 And the apostles said to the Lord, “Increase our faith.”

17:6 And the Lord said, “If you have faith like a mustard seed, you would say to this mulberry tree, ‘Be uprooted and planted in the sea,’ and it would obey you.

17:7 Which of you, having a slave plowing or tending sheep, will say to him when he comes in from the field, ‘Come at once and recline at table’?

17:8 Will he not instead say to him, ‘Prepare something for my supper, gird yourself, and serve me while I eat and drink; and after that you shall eat and drink’?

17:9 Does he thank the slave because he did what was commanded?

17:10 So you also, when you have done everything commanded you, say, ‘We are unprofitable slaves; we have done what we ought to have done.’”

17:11 And it happened that, as He was traveling to Jerusalem, He passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

17:12 As He entered a certain village, ten men with leprosy met Him. They stood at a distance

17:13 and raised their voices, saying, “Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!”

17:14 When He saw them, He said to them, “Go and show yourselves to the priests.” And it happened that as they went, they were cleansed.

17:15 One of them, seeing that he had been healed, returned, glorifying God with a loud voice.

17:16 And he fell on his face at His feet, giving Him thanks; and he was a Samaritan.

17:17 Jesus answered, “Were not the ten cleansed? But where are the nine?

17:18 Were none found returning to give glory to God except this foreigner?”

17:19 And He said to him, “Rise and go; your faith has saved you.”

17:20 When the Pharisees asked Him when the kingdom of God was coming, He answered them, “The kingdom of God does not come in a way that can be observed,

17:21 nor will they say, ‘Behold, here!’ or ‘There!’ For behold, the kingdom of God is within you.”

Note †: Luke 17:21 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain within you provisionally and record among you beside it. The plural addressees and the preceding question must remain visible; the expression does not by itself prove an exclusively inward or external kingdom.NA28 chapter · Return to verse 17:22 And He said to the disciples, “Days will come when you will long to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it.

17:23 And they will say to you, ‘Behold, there!’ or ‘Behold, here!’ Do not go away or pursue them.

17:24 For just as lightning flashes and shines from one region under heaven to another under heaven, so will the Son of Man be in His day.

17:25 But first He must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.

17:26 And just as it happened in the days of Noah, so it will also be in the days of the Son of Man.

17:27 They were eating, drinking, marrying, and being given in marriage, until the day Noah entered the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all.

17:28 Likewise, just as it happened in the days of Lot: they were eating, drinking, buying, selling, planting, and building;

17:29 but on the day Lot went out from Sodom, fire and sulfur rained from heaven and destroyed them all.

17:30 It will be the same on the day the Son of Man is revealed.

17:31 On that day, whoever is on the housetop, with his belongings in the house, must not go down to take them; likewise, whoever is in the field must not turn back.

17:32 Remember Lot’s wife.

17:33 Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses it will keep it alive.

17:34 I tell you, on that night two will be on one bed: one will be taken and the other left.

17:35 Two women will be grinding together: one will be taken and the other left.”

17:37 And they answered Him, “Where, Lord?” He said to them, “Where the body is, there the eagles will also gather.”

Luke 18

18:1 And He told them a parable about their need to pray always and not lose heart,

18:2 saying, “There was a certain judge in a certain city who neither feared God nor respected any person.

18:3 And there was a widow in that city who kept coming to him, saying, ‘Give me justice against my adversary.’

18:4 For a time he was unwilling. But afterward he said within himself, ‘Even though I do not fear God or respect any person,

18:5 yet because this widow troubles me, I will give her justice, lest by coming continually she wear me down.’”

18:6 And the Lord said, “Hear what the unrighteous judge says.

18:7 And will not God bring about justice for His chosen ones who cry to Him day and night? And will He delay over them?

18:8 I tell you, He will bring about justice for them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on the earth?”

18:9 He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous and regarded the rest as nothing:

18:10 “Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.

18:11 The Pharisee stood and prayed these things to himself: ‘God, I thank Thee that I am not like the rest of humanity—plunderers, unrighteous people, adulterers—or even like this tax collector.

18:12 I fast twice a week; I tithe everything I acquire.’

18:13 But the tax collector, standing far away, would not even lift his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me, the sinner.’

18:14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.”

18:15 And they were bringing even infants to Him so that He might touch them. But when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

18:16 But Jesus called the children to Himself, saying, “Let the children come to Me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these.

18:17 Amen, I tell you: whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a child will certainly not enter it.”

18:18 And a certain ruler questioned Him, saying, “Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?”

18:19 Jesus said to him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One—God.

18:20 You know the commandments: ‘Do not commit adultery; do not murder; do not steal; do not bear false witness; honor your father and mother.’”

18:21 And he said, “All these things I have kept from my youth.”

18:22 When Jesus heard this, He said to him, “You still lack one thing: sell everything you have and distribute it to the poor, and you will have treasure in the heavens; and come, follow Me.”

18:23 But when he heard these things, he became deeply grieved, for he was exceedingly rich.

18:24 Seeing that he had become deeply grieved, Jesus said, “How difficult it is for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!

18:25 For it is easier for a camel to enter through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”

18:26 And those who heard said, “Then who can be saved?”

18:27 But He said, “The things impossible with people are possible with God.”

18:28 And Peter said, “Behold, we have left what was our own and followed Thee.”

18:29 And He said to them, “Amen, I tell you: there is no one who has left house or wife or brothers or parents or children for the sake of the kingdom of God

18:30 who will not certainly receive many times as much in this time, and in the age to come eternal life.”

18:31 Taking the Twelve aside, He said to them, “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and everything written through the prophets will be accomplished for the Son of Man.

18:32 For He will be handed over to the nations and will be mocked and insulted and spat upon.

18:33 And after flogging Him, they will kill Him, and on the third day He will rise.”

18:34 But they understood none of these things. This saying was hidden from them, and they did not understand what was being said.

18:35 And it happened that as He drew near to Jericho, a certain blind man was sitting beside the road, begging.

18:36 Hearing a crowd passing through, he asked what this might be.

18:37 They told him, “Jesus the Nazarene is passing by.”

18:38 And he cried out, saying, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”

18:39 Those going ahead rebuked him so that he would be silent, but he cried out much more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

18:40 Jesus stopped and commanded that he be brought to Him. When he drew near, He asked him,

18:41 “What do you want Me to do for you?” And he said, “Lord, that I may receive my sight.”

18:42 And Jesus said to him, “Receive your sight; your faith has saved you.”

18:43 And at once he received his sight and followed Him, glorifying God. And all the people, seeing this, gave praise to God.

Luke 19

19:1 And He entered Jericho and was passing through it.

19:2 And behold, there was a man called Zacchaeus, who was a chief tax collector and was rich.

19:3 He was seeking to see who Jesus was, but could not because of the crowd, since he was short in stature.

19:4 So he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore fig tree to see Him, because He was about to pass that way.

19:5 When Jesus came to the place, He looked up and said to him, “Zacchaeus, hurry and come down, for today I must stay in your house.”

19:6 And he hurried down and welcomed Him, rejoicing.

19:7 When they saw this, they all grumbled, saying, “He has gone in to lodge with a sinful man.”

19:8 But Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, “Behold, Lord, I give half of my possessions to the poor, and if I have extorted anything from anyone, I repay it fourfold.”

19:9 Jesus said to him, “Today salvation has come to this house, because he too is a son of Abraham.

19:10 For the Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost.”

19:11 While they were hearing these things, He went on to tell a parable, because He was near Jerusalem and they thought that the kingdom of God was about to appear immediately.

19:12 So He said, “A certain nobleman went to a distant country to receive a kingdom for himself and return.

19:13 He called ten of his own slaves, gave them ten minas, and said to them, ‘Do business until I come.’

19:14 But his citizens hated him and sent a delegation after him, saying, ‘We do not want this man to reign over us.’

19:15 And it happened that when he returned, having received the kingdom, he ordered those slaves to whom he had given the money to be called to him, so that he might know what business they had done.

19:16 The first came, saying, ‘Master, your mina has gained ten minas.’

19:17 And he said to him, ‘Well done, good slave! Because you have been faithful in a very small thing, have authority over ten cities.’

19:18 The second came, saying, ‘Your mina, master, has made five minas.’

19:19 And he said to this one also, ‘You too shall be over five cities.’

19:20 And the other came, saying, ‘Master, behold your mina, which I kept laid away in a cloth.

19:21 For I was afraid of you, because you are a severe man: you take up what you did not lay down and reap what you did not sow.’

19:22 He said to him, ‘From your own mouth I will judge you, evil slave. You knew that I am a severe man, taking up what I did not lay down and reaping what I did not sow?

19:23 Then why did you not put my money on deposit? And when I came, I would have collected it with interest.’

19:24 And he said to those standing by, ‘Take the mina from him and give it to the one who has the ten minas.’

19:25 And they said to him, ‘Master, he has ten minas!’

19:26 ‘I tell you that to everyone who has, more will be given; but from the one who does not have, even what he has will be taken away.

19:27 But those enemies of mine who did not want me to reign over them—bring them here and slaughter them before me.’”

19:28 And after saying these things, He went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.

19:29 And it happened that as He drew near Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called Olivet, He sent two of the disciples, 19:30 saying, “Go into the village opposite. As you enter it, you will find a colt tied, on which no person has ever sat. Untie it and bring it.

19:31 And if anyone asks you, ‘Why are you untying it?’ you shall say this: ‘The Lord has need of it.’”

19:32 Those who were sent went away and found it just as He had told them.

19:33 As they were untying the colt, its owners said to them, “Why are you untying the colt?”

19:34 And they said, “The Lord has need of it.”

19:35 They brought it to Jesus, threw their garments on the colt, and set Jesus upon it.

19:36 As He went, they spread their own garments on the road.

19:37 As He was already drawing near the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works they had seen,

19:38 saying, “Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!”

19:39 And some of the Pharisees from the crowd said to Him, “Teacher, rebuke Thy disciples.”

19:40 And He answered, “I tell you, if these fall silent, the stones will cry out.”

19:41 As He drew near and saw the city, He wept over it,

19:42 saying, “If only you too had known on this day the things that lead to peace—but now they have been hidden from your eyes.

19:43 For days will come upon you when your enemies will build a siege barrier around you and surround you and hem you in on every side.

19:44 They will dash you to the ground, and your children within you, and will not leave stone upon stone within you, because you did not know the time of your visitation.”

19:45 And He entered the temple and began to drive out those who were selling,

19:46 saying to them, “It is written, ‘And My house shall be a house of prayer,’ but you have made it a den of robbers.”

19:47 And He was teaching daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes, and the leading men of the people, were seeking to destroy Him.

19:48 Yet they could not find what to do, for all the people hung on His words as they listened.

Luke 20

20:1 And it happened on one of the days, as He was teaching the people in the temple and proclaiming good news, that the chief priests and the scribes came up with the elders

20:2 and said to Him, “Tell us by what authority Thou doest these things, or who it is that gave Thee this authority.”

20:3 He answered them, “I too will ask you a question; tell Me:

20:4 was John’s baptism from heaven or from people?”

20:5 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say, ‘Why did you not believe him?’

20:6 But if we say, ‘From people,’ all the people will stone us, for they are convinced that John was a prophet.”

20:7 So they answered that they did not know where it was from.

20:8 And Jesus said to them, “Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

20:9 And He began to tell the people this parable: “A certain man planted a vineyard, leased it to tenant farmers, and went away for a considerable time.

20:10 At the proper season he sent a slave to the farmers, so that they would give him some of the vineyard’s fruit. But the farmers beat him and sent him away empty.

20:11 And he went on to send another slave. But they beat and dishonored that one also and sent him away empty.

20:12 And he went on to send a third. But they wounded that one also and threw him out.

20:13 Then the master of the vineyard said, ‘What shall I do? I will send my beloved son; perhaps they will respect him.’

20:14 But when the farmers saw him, they reasoned with one another, saying, ‘This is the heir. Let us kill him, so that the inheritance may become ours.’

20:15 And they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. What, then, will the master of the vineyard do to them?

20:16 He will come and destroy those farmers and give the vineyard to others.” When they heard this, they said, “May it never happen!”

20:17 But He looked at them and said, “What, then, is this that is written: ‘The stone the builders rejected—this became the head of the corner’?

20:18 Everyone who falls upon that stone will be shattered; but whoever it falls upon, it will crush him.”

20:19 And the scribes and the chief priests sought to lay hands on Him at that very hour, but they feared the people, for they knew that He had spoken this parable against them.

20:20 And keeping watch, they sent spies who pretended to be righteous, so that they might seize on something He said and hand Him over to the rule and authority of the governor.

20:21 They questioned Him, saying, “Teacher, we know that Thou speakest and teachest rightly and dost not show partiality, but teachest the way of God in truth.

20:22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Caesar, or not?”

20:23 But perceiving their cunning, He said to them,

20:24 “Show Me a denarius. Whose image and inscription does it have?” They answered, “Caesar’s.”

20:25 And He said to them, “Then give back to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.”

20:26 And they were unable to seize on the saying before the people. Marveling at His answer, they fell silent.

20:27 Some of the Sadducees, who deny that there is a resurrection, came up and questioned Him,

20:28 saying, “Teacher, Moses wrote for us that if a man’s brother dies, having a wife but being childless, his brother should take the wife and raise up offspring for his brother.

20:29 Now there were seven brothers. The first took a wife and died childless,

20:30 and the second,

20:31 and the third took her. Likewise, all seven left no children and died.

20:32 Afterward the woman also died.

20:33 So in the resurrection, whose wife does the woman become? For all seven had her as wife.”

20:34 And Jesus said to them, “The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage.

20:35 But those counted worthy to attain that age and the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage.

20:36 For they can no longer die either, because they are equal to angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection.

20:37 And that the dead are raised, even Moses disclosed in the passage about the bush, when he calls the Lord the God of Abraham and God of Isaac and God of Jacob.

20:38 Now He is God not of the dead but of the living, for all live to Him.”

20:39 And some of the scribes answered, “Teacher, Thou hast spoken well.”

20:40 For they no longer dared to question Him about anything.

20:41 But He said to them, “How do they say that the Christ is David’s son?

20:42 For David himself says in the book of Psalms, ‘The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit at My right hand

20:43 until I make Thy enemies a footstool for Thy feet.”’

20:44 David therefore calls Him Lord; how, then, is He his son?”

20:45 While all the people were listening, He said to His disciples,

20:46 “Beware of the scribes who want to walk about in robes and love greetings in the marketplaces and foremost seats in the synagogues and foremost places at suppers,

20:47 who devour widows’ houses and pray at length for a pretext. These will receive greater judgment.”

Luke 21

21:1 Looking up, He saw the rich putting their gifts into the treasury.

21:2 And He saw a certain needy widow putting two lepta in there.

21:3 And He said, “Truly, I tell you, this poor widow put in more than all of them.

21:4 For all these put into the gifts out of their abundance, but she, out of her lack, put in all she had to live on.”

21:5 And as some were speaking about the temple, how it was adorned with beautiful stones and dedicated offerings, He said,

21:6 “As for these things you see, days will come in which stone will not be left upon stone without being torn down.”

21:7 They questioned Him, saying, “Teacher, when, then, will these things be, and what will be the sign when these things are about to happen?”

21:8 And He said, “See that you are not led astray. For many will come in My name, saying, ‘I am he,’ and, ‘The time has drawn near.’ Do not go after them.

21:9 When you hear of wars and disturbances, do not be terrified, for these things must happen first, but the end will not come immediately.”

21:10 Then He said to them, “Nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom.

21:11 There will be great earthquakes, and famines and plagues in various places. There will also be terrors and great signs from heaven.

21:12 But before all these things they will lay their hands on you and persecute you, handing you over to synagogues and prisons, and you will be led before kings and governors because of My name.

21:13 It will turn out as an opportunity for you to bear witness.

21:14 Therefore settle it in your hearts not to rehearse beforehand how to defend yourselves,

21:15 for I will give you a mouth and wisdom that all who oppose you will be unable to resist or contradict.

21:16 You will be handed over even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and they will put some of you to death.

21:17 And you will be hated by all because of My name.

21:18 Yet certainly not a hair from your head will perish.

21:19 By your endurance gain your souls.

21:20 But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that her desolation has drawn near.

21:21 Then let those in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those within her depart, and let those in the countryside not enter her,

21:22 because these are days of vengeance, for all that is written to be fulfilled.

21:23 Woe to those who are pregnant and those nursing infants in those days! For there will be great distress upon the land and wrath against this people.

21:24 They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive into all the nations. And Jerusalem will be trampled by nations until the times of nations are fulfilled.

21:25 And there will be signs in sun and moon and stars, and on the earth distress among nations in perplexity at the roar of the sea and its surging,

21:26 people fainting from fear and expectation of what is coming upon the inhabited world, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken.

21:27 And then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

21:28 But when these things begin to happen, straighten up and lift your heads, because your redemption is drawing near.”

21:29 And He told them a parable: “Look at the fig tree and all the trees.

21:30 When they already put out shoots, you see and know for yourselves that summer is already near.

21:31 So also you, when you see these things happening, know that the kingdom of God is near.

21:32 Amen, I tell you: this generation will certainly not pass away until all things happen.

21:33 Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will certainly not pass away.

21:34 But watch yourselves, lest your hearts be weighed down with carousing and drunkenness and the cares of life, and that day come upon you suddenly

21:35 like a trap. For it will come upon all who dwell on the face of the whole earth.

21:36 But stay awake at every season, praying that you may have strength to escape all these things that are about to happen and to stand before the Son of Man.”

21:37 By day He was teaching in the temple, but at night He went out and lodged on the mount called Olivet.

21:38 And all the people would come early in the morning to Him in the temple to hear Him.

Luke 22

22:1 Now the feast of Unleavened Bread, called Passover, was drawing near.

22:2 And the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how to kill Him, for they feared the people.

22:3 Then Satan entered Judas, who was called Iscariot and was one of the number of the Twelve.

22:4 He went away and spoke with the chief priests and the captains about how he might hand Him over to them.

22:5 And they rejoiced and agreed to give him money.

22:6 He consented, and sought an opportunity to hand Him over to them when no crowd was present.

22:7 Then the day of Unleavened Bread came, on which the Passover sacrifice had to be slaughtered.

22:8 And He sent Peter and John, saying, “Go and prepare the Passover for us, so that we may eat.”

22:9 They said to Him, “Where dost Thou want us to prepare it?”

22:10 He said to them, “Behold, as you enter the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him into the house he enters.

22:11 And you shall say to the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says to you, “Where is the lodging room in which I may eat the Passover with My disciples?”’

22:12 And he will show you a large, furnished upper room. Prepare it there.”

22:13 They went and found things just as He had told them, and they prepared the Passover.

22:14 When the hour came, He reclined at table, and the apostles with Him.

22:15 And He said to them, “With desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer.

22:16 For I tell you that I will certainly not eat it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.”

22:17 And He received a cup, gave thanks, and said, “Take this and divide it among yourselves.

22:18 For I tell you, from now on I will certainly not drink from the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes.”

22:19 And He took bread, and having given thanks, He broke it and gave it to them, saying, “This is My body, which is given for you; do this in remembrance of Me.”

22:20 And likewise the cup after supper, saying, “This cup is the new covenant in My blood, poured out for you.

22:21 But behold, the hand of the one who hands Me over is with Me on the table.

22:22 For the Son of Man indeed goes according to what has been determined, but woe to that man through whom He is handed over!”

22:23 And they began to discuss among themselves which of them it could be who was about to do this.

22:24 A dispute also arose among them about which of them was considered to be greatest.

22:25 But He said to them, “The kings of the nations lord it over them, and those who exercise authority over them are called benefactors.

22:26 But you are not to be so. Rather, let the greatest among you become as the youngest, and the leader as the one who serves.

22:27 For who is greater, the one reclining at table or the one serving? Is it not the one reclining? But I am among you as the One who serves.

22:28 And you are those who have remained with Me in My trials.

22:29 And I assign to you a kingdom, just as My Father assigned one to Me,

22:30 so that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and you will sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

22:31 Simon, Simon, behold, Satan demanded to have you all, to sift you like wheat.

22:32 But I prayed for you, that your faith might not fail; and you, once you have turned back, strengthen your brothers.”

22:33 He said to Him, “Lord, I am ready to go with Thee both to prison and to death.”

22:34 But He said, “I tell you, Peter, a rooster will not crow today until you deny three times that you know Me.”

22:35 And He said to them, “When I sent you without purse and bag and sandals, did you lack anything?” They said, “Nothing.”

22:36 And He said to them, “But now let the one who has a purse take it, and likewise a bag; and let the one who does not have sell his garment and buy a sword.

22:37 For I tell you that this which is written must be accomplished in Me: ‘And He was numbered with the lawless.’ For what concerns Me is reaching its completion.”

22:38 They said, “Lord, behold, here are two swords.” And He said to them, “It is enough.”

22:39 And He went out and traveled, as was His custom, to the Mount of Olives; and the disciples also followed Him.

22:40 When He came to the place, He said to them, “Pray that you may not enter into testing.”

22:41 And He withdrew from them about a stone’s throw, knelt down, and prayed,

22:42 saying, “Father, if Thou art willing, remove this cup from Me. Nevertheless, let not My will but Thine be done.”

22:43 And an angel from heaven appeared to Him, strengthening Him.

22:44 And being in agony, He prayed more earnestly, and His sweat became like clots of blood falling to the ground.

22:45 Rising from prayer, He came to the disciples and found them sleeping from grief.

22:46 And He said to them, “Why are you sleeping? Rise and pray, so that you may not enter into testing.”

22:47 While He was still speaking, behold, a crowd came, and the one called Judas, one of the Twelve, was going before them. He drew near to Jesus to kiss Him.

22:48 But Jesus said to him, “Judas, do you hand over the Son of Man with a kiss?”

22:49 When those around Him saw what was about to happen, they said, “Lord, shall we strike with a sword?”

22:50 And one of them struck the high priest’s slave and took off his right ear.

22:51 But Jesus answered, “Allow this much.” And He touched the ear and healed him.

22:52 And Jesus said to the chief priests and captains of the temple and elders who had come against Him, “Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs?

22:53 When I was with you daily in the temple, you did not stretch out your hands against Me. But this is your hour and the authority of darkness.”

22:54 They seized Him and led Him away and brought Him into the high priest’s house. But Peter was following at a distance.

22:55 When they had kindled a fire in the middle of the courtyard and sat down together, Peter sat among them.

22:56 A certain servant girl saw him sitting by the light and, looking intently at him, said, “This man also was with Him.”

22:57 But he denied it, saying, “I do not know Him, woman.”

22:58 After a short time another saw him and said, “You too are one of them.” But Peter said, “Man, I am not.”

22:59 After about one hour had passed, someone else insisted, saying, “Truly, this man also was with Him, for he too is a Galilean.”

22:60 But Peter said, “Man, I do not know what you are saying.” And at once, while he was still speaking, a rooster crowed.

22:61 And the Lord turned and looked at Peter. And Peter remembered the Lord’s word, how He had said to him, “Before a rooster crows today, you will deny Me three times.”

22:62 And he went outside and wept bitterly.

22:63 Now the men who were holding Him mocked Him and beat Him.

22:64 They blindfolded Him and questioned Him, saying, “Prophesy! Who is it that struck Thee?”

22:65 And they spoke many other things against Him, blaspheming.

22:66 When day came, the council of elders of the people gathered, both chief priests and scribes, and they led Him into their council,

22:67 saying, “If Thou art the Christ, tell us.” But He said to them, “If I tell you, you will certainly not believe.

22:68 And if I ask, you will certainly not answer.

22:69 But from now on the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the power of God.”

22:70 They all said, “Then art Thou the Son of God?” And He said to them, “You say that I am.”

22:71 They said, “What further need do we have of testimony? For we ourselves have heard from His own mouth.”

Luke 23

23:1 Then their whole assembly rose and led Him before Pilate.

23:2 And they began to accuse Him, saying, “We found this man turning our nation astray and forbidding tribute to be given to Caesar, and saying that He Himself is Christ, a king.”

23:3 Pilate questioned Him, saying, “Art Thou the King of the Jews?” He answered him, “You say so.”

23:4 And Pilate said to the chief priests and the crowds, “I find no ground for a charge against this man.”

23:5 But they insisted, saying, “He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee even to this place.”

23:6 When Pilate heard this, he asked whether the man was a Galilean.

23:7 And learning that He belonged to Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent Him to Herod, who was himself also in Jerusalem in those days.

23:8 When Herod saw Jesus, he rejoiced greatly, for he had long wanted to see Him because he had heard about Him, and he hoped to see some sign performed by Him.

23:9 He questioned Him at length, but He gave him no answer.

23:10 And the chief priests and scribes stood there, accusing Him vehemently.

23:11 Herod also, with his troops, treated Him with contempt and mocked Him. He clothed Him in splendid clothing and sent Him back to Pilate.

23:12 Herod and Pilate became friends with one another on that very day, for previously they had been at enmity with each other.

23:13 Pilate called together the chief priests, the rulers, and the people

23:14 and said to them, “You brought this man to me as one turning the people astray. And behold, I examined Him before you and found no ground in this man for the accusations you bring against Him.

23:15 Nor did Herod, for he sent Him back to us. And behold, nothing deserving death has been done by Him.

23:16 Therefore I will punish Him and release Him.”

23:18 But they cried out all together, saying, “Take this man away, and release Barabbas to us!”

23:19 He had been thrown into prison for a certain uprising that took place in the city and for murder.

23:20 Pilate addressed them again, wanting to release Jesus.

23:21 But they kept shouting, saying, “Crucify, crucify Him!”

23:22 And for the third time he said to them, “Why, what evil has this man done? I found no ground for death in Him. Therefore I will punish Him and release Him.”

23:23 But they pressed him with loud voices, demanding that He be crucified, and their voices prevailed.

23:24 And Pilate decided that their demand should be granted.

23:25 He released the man who had been thrown into prison for uprising and murder, whom they were demanding; but he handed Jesus over to their will.

23:26 As they led Him away, they seized a certain Simon of Cyrene coming from the countryside, and laid the cross on him to carry behind Jesus.

23:27 And a great multitude of the people followed Him, and women who beat themselves in mourning and lamented Him.

23:28 But Jesus turned toward them and said, “Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep over Me, but weep over yourselves and over your children.

23:29 For behold, days are coming in which they will say, ‘Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that did not bear, and the breasts that did not nourish.’

23:30 Then they will begin to say to the mountains, ‘Fall upon us,’ and to the hills, ‘Cover us.’

23:31 For if they do these things with the green wood, what will happen with the dry?”

23:32 Two others also, criminals, were being led with Him to be put to death.

23:33 When they came to the place called Skull, there they crucified Him and the criminals, one on the right and the other on the left.

23:34 But Jesus said, “Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing.” And dividing His garments, they cast lots.

23:35 The people stood watching. The rulers also sneered, saying, “He saved others; let Him save Himself, if this is the Christ of God, the chosen One.”

23:36 The soldiers also mocked Him, coming up and offering Him sour wine

23:37 and saying, “If Thou art the King of the Jews, save Thyself.”

23:38 There was also an inscription above Him: “This is the King of the Jews.”

23:39 One of the criminals who were hanging there blasphemed Him, saying, “Art Thou not the Christ? Save Thyself and us!”

23:40 But the other answered, rebuking him, “Do you not even fear God, since you are under the same judgment?

23:41 And we justly so, for we receive what our deeds deserve. But this man did nothing out of place.”

23:42 And he said, “Jesus, remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom.”

23:44 And it was already about the sixth hour, and darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour,

23:45 as the sun’s light failed. And the curtain of the sanctuary was split down the middle.

23:46 And Jesus cried out with a loud voice and said, “Father, into Thy hands I entrust My spirit.” Having said this, He breathed His last.

23:47 When the centurion saw what had happened, he glorified God, saying, “Truly, this man was righteous.”

23:48 And all the crowds who had gathered for this spectacle, seeing what had happened, returned beating their breasts.

23:49 All His acquaintances stood at a distance, and the women who had followed Him from Galilee, watching these things.

23:50 And behold, there was a man named Joseph, a council member, a good and righteous man.

23:51 He had not consented to their decision and action. He was from Arimathea, a city of the Jews, and was awaiting the kingdom of God.

23:52 This man approached Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.

23:53 Taking it down, he wrapped it in linen and laid Him in a rock-cut tomb where no one had yet been laid.

23:54 It was the day of Preparation, and the Sabbath was beginning.

23:55 The women who had come with Him from Galilee followed and saw the tomb and how His body was laid.

23:56 Then they returned and prepared spices and perfumed ointments. And on the Sabbath they rested according to the commandment.

Luke 24

24:1 But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came to the tomb, carrying the spices they had prepared.

24:2 They found the stone rolled away from the tomb,

24:3 but when they entered, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus.

24:4 And it happened that, while they were perplexed about this, behold, two men stood beside them in flashing clothing.

24:5 They became afraid and bowed their faces to the ground, and the men said to them, “Why do you seek the living One among the dead?

24:6 He is not here, but has been raised. Remember how He spoke to you while He was still in Galilee,

24:7 saying that the Son of Man must be handed over into the hands of sinful people and be crucified and rise on the third day.”

24:8 And they remembered His words,

24:9 and returned from the tomb and reported all these things to the Eleven and to all the rest.

24:10 It was Mary Magdalene and Joanna and Mary of James and the other women with them who told these things to the apostles.

24:11 But these words seemed to them like nonsense, and they did not believe the women.

24:12 Yet Peter rose and ran to the tomb. Stooping to look in, he saw the linen cloths alone, and went away, wondering to himself at what had happened.

24:13 And behold, two of them were traveling that same day to a village named Emmaus, sixty stadia away from Jerusalem.

24:14 They were talking with one another about all these things that had happened.

24:15 And it happened that, as they talked and discussed, Jesus Himself drew near and traveled with them.

24:16 But their eyes were held back from recognizing Him.

24:17 And He said to them, “What are these words you are exchanging with one another as you walk?” And they stood still, downcast.

24:18 One named Cleopas answered Him, “Art Thou the only visitor in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have happened there in these days?”

24:19 And He said to them, “What things?” They said to Him, “The things concerning Jesus the Nazarene, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people, 24:20 and how our chief priests and rulers handed Him over to a judgment of death and crucified Him.

24:21 But we were hoping that He was the One about to redeem Israel. Yet indeed, besides all these things, this is the third day since these things happened.

24:22 Moreover, some women from among us astonished us. They went to the tomb early

24:23 and did not find His body, and came saying that they had also seen a vision of angels who say that He is alive.

24:24 And some of those with us went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said, but Him they did not see.”

24:25 And He said to them, “O foolish ones, and slow in heart to believe all that the prophets spoke!

24:26 Was it not necessary for the Christ to suffer these things and enter into His glory?”

24:27 And beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, He interpreted to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself.

24:28 They drew near the village to which they were traveling, and He acted as though He would travel farther.

24:29 But they urged Him strongly, saying, “Stay with us, because it is toward evening and the day has already waned.” And He went in to stay with them.

24:30 And it happened that as He reclined at table with them, He took the bread, blessed it, broke it, and gave it to them.

24:31 Then their eyes were opened and they recognized Him, and He vanished from their sight.

24:32 And they said to one another, “Was not our heart burning within us as He spoke to us on the road, as He opened the Scriptures to us?”

24:33 They rose that very hour and returned to Jerusalem, and found the Eleven and those with them gathered together,

24:34 saying, “The Lord has truly been raised and has appeared to Simon!”

24:35 And they related the things that happened on the road, and how He was made known to them in the breaking of the bread.

24:36 While they were speaking these things, He Himself stood among them and said to them, “Peace be with you.”

24:37 But they were startled and became afraid, thinking they were seeing a spirit.

24:38 And He said to them, “Why are you troubled, and why do doubts arise in your heart?

24:39 See My hands and My feet, that it is I Myself. Feel Me and see, because a spirit does not have flesh and bones as you see that I have.”

24:40 And having said this, He showed them His hands and feet.

24:41 While they still did not believe for joy and were marveling, He said to them, “Do you have anything to eat here?”

24:42 They gave Him a portion of broiled fish.

24:43 And He took it and ate before them.

24:44 And He said to them, “These are My words that I spoke to you while I was still with you: everything written about Me in the Law of Moses and the Prophets and Psalms must be fulfilled.”

24:45 Then He opened their mind to understand the Scriptures

24:46 and said to them, “Thus it is written that the Christ should suffer and rise from the dead on the third day,

24:47 and that repentance for the forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in His name to all the nations—beginning from Jerusalem.

24:48 You are witnesses of these things.

24:49 And behold, I am sending out the promise of My Father upon you; but remain in the city until you are clothed with power from on high.”

24:50 And He led them out as far as toward Bethany, and lifted His hands and blessed them.

24:51 And it happened that while He blessed them, He parted from them and was carried up into heaven.

24:52 And they, having worshiped Him, returned to Jerusalem with great joy,

24:53 and were continually in the temple, blessing God.

1:5 And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it.

1:6 There came a man sent from God; his name was John.

1:7 He came as a witness, to bear witness concerning the Light, so that all might believe through him.

1:8 He was not the Light, but came to bear witness concerning the Light.

1:9 The true Light, which gives light to every person, was coming into the world.

1:19 And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to him, to ask him, “Who are you?”

1:20 And he confessed and did not deny, and confessed, “I am not the Christ.”

1:21 They asked him, “What, then? Are you Elijah?” And he said, “I am not.” “Are you the Prophet?” And he answered, “No.”

1:22 So they said to him, “Who are you, so that we may give an answer to those who sent us? What do you say about yourself?”

1:23 He said, “I am a voice of one crying in the wilderness, ‘Make straight the way of the Lord,’ just as Isaiah the prophet said.”

1:24 Now those sent were from the Pharisees.

1:25 And they questioned him and said to him, “Why, then, do you baptize if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?”

1:26 John answered them, saying, “I baptize in water. Among you stands One whom you do not know,

1:27 the One coming after me, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to untie.”

1:28 These things happened in Bethany beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

1:29 The next day he saw Jesus coming toward him and said, “Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!

1:30 This is He of whom I said, ‘After me comes a man who has come before me, because He was before me.’

1:31 And I did not know Him, but I came baptizing in water for this reason: so that He might be revealed to Israel.”

1:32 And John testified, saying, “I have beheld the Spirit descending like a dove from heaven, and He remained upon Him.

1:33 And I did not know Him, but the One who sent me to baptize in water said to me, ‘The One upon whom you see the Spirit descending and remaining—this is the One who baptizes in the Holy Spirit.’

1:34 And I have seen and have testified that this is the Son of God.”

1:35 The next day John was standing there again, and two of his disciples,

1:36 and looking at Jesus as He walked, he said, “Behold, the Lamb of God!”

1:37 The two disciples heard him speaking and followed Jesus.

1:38 Jesus turned and, seeing them following, said to them, “What do you seek?” They said to Him, “Rabbi”—which, translated, means Teacher—“where art Thou staying?”

1:39 He said to them, “Come, and you will see.” So they came and saw where He was staying, and stayed with Him that day. It was about the tenth hour.

1:40 Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, was one of the two who heard from John and followed Him.

1:41 He first found his own brother Simon and said to him, “We have found the Messiah”—which, translated, is Christ.

1:42 He brought him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said, “You are Simon, the son of John; you shall be called Cephas”—which is translated Peter.

1:43 The next day He wanted to go out into Galilee. And He found Philip, and Jesus said to him, “Follow Me.”

1:44 Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

1:45 Philip found Nathanael and said to him, “We have found the One of whom Moses wrote in the Law, and the prophets also: Jesus, the son of Joseph, from Nazareth.”

1:46 Nathanael said to him, “Can anything good come from Nazareth?” Philip said to him, “Come and see.”

1:47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him and said concerning him, “Behold, truly an Israelite in whom there is no deceit!”

1:48 Nathanael said to Him, “How dost Thou know me?” Jesus answered him, “Before Philip called you, while you were under the fig tree, I saw you.”

1:49 Nathanael answered Him, “Rabbi, Thou art the Son of God; Thou art the King of Israel.”

1:50 Jesus answered him, “Because I told you that I saw you beneath the fig tree, do you believe? You will see greater things than these.”

1:51 And He said to him, “Amen, amen, I tell you all: you will see heaven opened and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man.”

John 2

2:1 And on the third day a wedding took place in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.

2:2 Jesus and His disciples were also invited to the wedding.

2:3 When the wine ran short, the mother of Jesus said to Him, “They have no wine.”

2:4 And Jesus said to her, “What is this to Me and to you, woman? My hour has not yet come.”

2:5 His mother said to the servants, “Whatever He tells you, do.”

2:6 Now six stone water jars were set there for the purification of the Jews, each holding two or three metretes.

Note †: John 2:6 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain metretes and the range two or three for each of six stone jars. Do not supply litres or gallons without a separately sourced approximation. Preserve the purification setting.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

2:7 Jesus said to them, “Fill the jars with water.” And they filled them to the top.

2:8 And He said to them, “Draw some out now and take it to the master of the feast.” And they took it.

2:9 When the master of the feast tasted the water that had become wine and did not know where it came from—though the servants who had drawn the water knew—the master of the feast called the bridegroom

2:10 and said to him, “Everyone sets out the good wine first, and when people have become drunk, the inferior wine. You have kept the good wine until now.”

2:11 Jesus did this as the beginning of His signs in Cana of Galilee and manifested His glory, and His disciples believed in Him.

2:12 After this He went down to Capernaum, He and His mother and His brothers and His disciples, and they stayed there not many days.

2:13 Now the Passover of the Jews was near, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2:14 And He found in the temple those selling oxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers seated there.

2:15 Making a whip from cords, He drove them all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen, and poured out the money changers' coins and overturned their tables.

2:16 And He said to those selling the doves, "Take these things away from here. Do not make My Father's house a house of trade."

2:17 His disciples remembered that it is written, "Zeal for Thy house will consume Me."

2:18 So the Jews answered Him, "What sign dost Thou show us, since Thou doest these things?"

2:19 Jesus answered them, "Destroy this sanctuary, and in three days I will raise it."

2:20 So the Jews said, "This sanctuary was built in forty-six years, and wilt Thou raise it in three days?"

2:21 But He was speaking about the sanctuary of His body.

2:22 When, therefore, He was raised from the dead, His disciples remembered that He had said this, and they believed the Scripture and the word Jesus had spoken.

2:23 While He was in Jerusalem at the Passover, during the feast, many believed in His name, seeing the signs He was doing.

2:24 But Jesus Himself did not entrust Himself to them, because He knew everyone

2:25 and because He had no need for anyone to testify concerning humanity, for He Himself knew what was within a person.

John 3

3:1 Now there was a man from the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.

3:2 He came to Him at night and said to Him, "Rabbi, we know that Thou hast come from God as a teacher, for no one can do these signs that Thou doest unless God is with him."

3:3 Jesus answered and said to him, "Amen, amen, I tell you: unless someone is born from above, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

3:4 Nicodemus said to Him, "How can a person be born when he is old? Can he enter his mother's womb a second time and be born?"

3:5 Jesus answered, "Amen, amen, I tell you: unless someone is born from water and Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God.

3:6 What is born from the flesh is flesh, and what is born from the Spirit is spirit.

3:7 Do not marvel that I said to you, 'You all must be born from above.'

3:9 Nicodemus answered Him, "How can these things happen?"

3:10 Jesus answered him, "Are you the teacher of Israel, and do you not understand these things?

3:11 Amen, amen, I tell you: we speak what we know and bear witness to what we have seen, and you all do not receive our testimony.

3:12 If I told you earthly things and you do not believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things?

3:13 And no one has ascended into heaven except the One who descended from heaven, the Son of Man.

3:14 And just as Moses lifted up the snake in the wilderness, so the Son of Man must be lifted up,

3:15 so that everyone who believes may have eternal life in Him.

3:16 For God loved the world in this way: He gave the only-begotten Son, so that everyone who believes in Him might not perish but have eternal life.

3:17 For God did not send the Son into the world to judge the world, but so that the world might be saved through Him.

3:18 The one who believes in Him is not judged; but the one who does not believe has already been judged, because he has not believed in the name of the only-begotten Son of God.

3:19 And this is the judgment: the Light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness more than the Light, for their deeds were evil.

3:20 For everyone who practices base things hates the light and does not come to the light, so that his deeds may not be exposed.

3:21 But the one who does the truth comes to the light, so that his deeds may be manifested, because they have been done in God."

3:22 After these things Jesus and His disciples came into the Judean countryside, and there He stayed with them and was baptizing.

3:23 John was also baptizing in Aenon near Salim, because there was much water there, and people came and were baptized.

3:24 For John had not yet been thrown into prison.

3:25 Then a discussion arose between John's disciples and a Jew concerning purification.

3:26 And they came to John and said to him, "Rabbi, He who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom you testified—behold, He is baptizing, and everyone is coming to Him."

3:27 John answered, "A person can receive not even one thing unless it has been given to him from heaven.

3:28 You yourselves bear witness for me that I said, 'I am not the Christ, but I have been sent before Him.'

3:29 The one who has the bride is the bridegroom. But the bridegroom's friend, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. So this joy of mine has been fulfilled.

3:30 He must increase, but I must decrease."

3:31 The One coming from above is above all. The one who is from the earth is from the earth and speaks from the earth. The One coming from heaven is above all.

3:32 What He has seen and heard, this He testifies, and no one receives His testimony.

3:33 The one who has received His testimony has set his seal that God is true.

3:34 For the One whom God sent speaks the words of God, for He gives the Spirit without measure.

3:35 The Father loves the Son and has given all things into His hand.

3:36 The one who believes in the Son has eternal life; but the one who disobeys the Son will not see life, but the wrath of God remains upon him.

John 4

4:1 So when Jesus learned that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more disciples than John—

4:2 although Jesus Himself was not baptizing, but His disciples—

4:3 He left Judea and went away again into Galilee.

4:4 And He had to pass through Samaria.

4:5 So He came to a city of Samaria called Sychar, near the plot of land Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

4:6 Jacob's spring was there. Jesus, therefore, wearied from the journey, sat down as He was by the spring. It was about the sixth hour.

4:7 A woman from Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her, "Give Me a drink."

4:8 For His disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.

4:9 So the Samaritan woman said to Him, "How dost Thou, being a Jew, ask a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?" For Jews do not associate with Samaritans.

4:10 Jesus answered her, "If you knew the gift of God and who it is who says to you, 'Give Me a drink,' you would have asked Him, and He would have given you living water."

4:11 The woman said to Him, "Sir, Thou hast no vessel for drawing water, and the well is deep. Where, then, dost Thou get this living water?

4:12 Art Thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well and drank from it himself, and his sons and his livestock?"

4:13 Jesus answered her, "Everyone who drinks from this water will thirst again.

4:14 But whoever drinks from the water that I will give him will certainly never thirst; rather, the water I will give him will become in him a spring of water leaping up into eternal life."

4:15 The woman said to Him, "Sir, give me this water, so that I may not thirst or come here to draw."

4:16 He said to her, "Go, call your husband, and come here."

4:17 The woman answered Him, "I have no husband." Jesus said to her, "You have spoken well in saying, 'I have no husband,'

4:18 for you have had five husbands, and the one you have now is not your husband. This you have spoken truly."

4:19 The woman said to Him, "Sir, I see that Thou art a prophet.

4:20 Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, and you all say that in Jerusalem is the place where one must worship."

4:21 Jesus said to her, "Believe Me, woman, an hour is coming when neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem will you worship the Father.

4:22 You worship what you do not know; we worship what we know, because salvation is from the Jews.

4:23 But an hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father seeks such people to worship Him.

4:24 God is spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth.”

4:25 The woman said to Him, “I know that Messiah is coming, the One called Christ. When He comes, He will announce all things to us.”

4:26 Jesus said to her, “I am He, the One speaking to you.”

4:27 At this His disciples came and marveled that He was speaking with a woman. Yet no one said, “What dost Thou seek?” or, “Why art Thou speaking with her?”

4:28 So the woman left her water jar and went away into the city and said to the people,

4:29 “Come, see a man who told me everything I did. Could this be the Christ?”

4:30 They went out of the city and were coming to Him.

4:31 Meanwhile the disciples urged Him, saying, “Rabbi, eat.”

4:32 But He said to them, “I have food to eat that you do not know.”

4:33 So the disciples said to one another, “Has someone brought Him something to eat?”

4:34 Jesus said to them, “My food is to do the will of the One who sent Me and to complete His work.

4:35 Do you not say, ‘There are still four months, and the harvest comes’? Behold, I tell you, lift your eyes and look at the fields, for they are white for harvest. Already 4:36 the one who reaps receives wages and gathers fruit for eternal life, so that the one who sows and the one who reaps may rejoice together.

4:37 For in this the saying is true: ‘One is the sower and another the reaper.’

4:38 I sent you to reap what you have not labored for. Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor.”

4:39 Many of the Samaritans from that city believed in Him because of the word of the woman, who testified, “He told me everything I did.”

4:40 So when the Samaritans came to Him, they asked Him to stay with them, and He stayed there two days.

4:41 And many more believed because of His word.

4:42 They said to the woman, “We no longer believe because of your speech, for we ourselves have heard and know that this is truly the Savior of the world.”

4:43 After the two days He went out from there into Galilee.

4:44 For Jesus Himself had testified that a prophet has no honor in his own homeland.

4:45 So when He came into Galilee, the Galileans welcomed Him, having seen everything He did in Jerusalem at the feast, for they too had gone to the feast.

4:46 So He came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. And there was a certain royal official whose son was ill in Capernaum.

4:47 When this man heard that Jesus had come from Judea into Galilee, he went to Him and asked Him to come down and heal his son, for he was about to die.

4:48 So Jesus said to him, “Unless you all see signs and wonders, you will certainly not believe.”

4:49 The royal official said to Him, “Sir, come down before my little child dies.”

4:50 Jesus said to him, “Go; your son lives.” The man believed the word Jesus spoke to him and went on his way.

4:51 While he was already going down, his slaves met him, saying that his boy was alive.

4:52 So he asked them the hour when he had begun to improve. They said to him, “Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.”

4:53 So the father knew that it was in that hour when Jesus said to him, “Your son lives,” and he believed, he and his whole household.

4:54 This again was the second sign Jesus did when He came from Judea into Galilee.

John 5

5:1 After these things there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

5:2 Now in Jerusalem by the Sheep Gate there is a pool called Bethzatha in Hebrew, having five porticoes.

5:3 In these lay a multitude of the sick, the blind, the lame, and those with withered limbs.

5:5 And a certain man was there who had been ill for thirty-eight years.

5:6 Jesus, seeing him lying there and knowing that he had already been that way a long time, said to him, “Do you want to become well?”

5:7 The sick man answered Him, “Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred. While I am coming, someone else goes down before me.”

5:8 Jesus said to him, “Rise, take up your mat, and walk.”

5:9 And at once the man became well, took up his mat, and walked. Now it was a Sabbath on that day.

5:10 So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, “It is a Sabbath, and it is not lawful for you to take up the mat.”

5:11 But he answered them, “The One who made me well said to me, ‘Take up your mat and walk.’”

5:12 So they asked him, “Who is the man who told you, ‘Take it up and walk’?”

5:13 But the man who had been healed did not know who He was, for Jesus had slipped away, since there was a crowd in the place.

5:14 After these things Jesus found him in the temple and said to him, “Behold, you have become well. Sin no more, so that something worse may not happen to you.”

5:15 The man went away and reported to the Jews that it was Jesus who made him well.

5:16 And for this reason the Jews persecuted Jesus, because He did these things on a Sabbath.

5:17 But Jesus answered them, “My Father is working even now, and I am working.”

5:18 For this reason, therefore, the Jews sought all the more to kill Him, because He not only broke the Sabbath, but also called God His own Father, making Himself equal to God.

5:19 So Jesus answered them, “Amen, amen, I tell you: the Son can do nothing from Himself unless He sees the Father doing it. For whatever He does, the Son also does these things in the same way.

5:20 For the Father loves the Son and shows Him everything He Himself does, and He will show Him works greater than these, so that you may marvel.

5:21 For just as the Father raises the dead and gives life, so also the Son gives life to whom He wills.

5:22 For the Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son,

5:23 so that all may honor the Son just as they honor the Father. The one who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent Him.

5:24 Amen, amen, I tell you: the one who hears My word and believes the One who sent Me has eternal life, and does not come into judgment, but has passed from death into life.

5:25 Amen, amen, I tell you: an hour is coming, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live.

5:26 For just as the Father has life in Himself, so He also gave the Son to have life in Himself.

5:27 And He gave Him authority to execute judgment, because He is the Son of Man.

5:28 Do not marvel at this, because an hour is coming in which all who are in the tombs will hear His voice

5:29 and come out: those who did good things to a resurrection of life, but those who practiced base things to a resurrection of judgment.

5:30 I can do nothing from Myself. As I hear, I judge, and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My own will, but the will of the One who sent Me.

5:31 If I bear witness concerning Myself, My testimony is not true.

5:32 There is Another who bears witness concerning Me, and I know that the testimony He bears concerning Me is true.

5:33 You have sent to John, and he has testified to the truth.

5:34 But I do not receive testimony from a person; rather, I say these things so that you may be saved.

5:35 He was the lamp that burned and shone, and you were willing to rejoice for an hour in his light.

5:36 But I have testimony greater than John’s: for the works the Father has given Me to complete, the very works I do, bear witness concerning Me that the Father has sent Me.

5:37 And the Father who sent Me has Himself testified concerning Me. You have never heard His voice or seen His form,

5:38 and you do not have His word remaining in you, because you do not believe the One He sent.

5:39 You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness concerning Me.

5:40 Yet you are unwilling to come to Me so that you may have life.

5:41 I do not receive glory from people,

5:42 but I know you, that you do not have the love of God within yourselves.

5:43 I have come in My Father’s name, and you do not receive Me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him.

5:44 How can you believe, receiving glory from one another, and not seeking the glory that comes from the only God?

5:45 Do not think that I will accuse you before the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, in whom you have set your hope.

5:46 For if you believed Moses, you would believe Me, for he wrote concerning Me.

5:47 But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe My words?”

John 6

6:1 After these things Jesus went away across the Sea of Galilee, the Sea of Tiberias.

6:2 A great crowd followed Him, because they were seeing the signs He did upon the sick.

6:3 Jesus went up the mountain and sat there with His disciples.

6:4 Now the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was near.

6:5 So Jesus lifted His eyes and, seeing that a great crowd was coming toward Him, said to Philip, “Where are we to buy loaves so that these people may eat?”

6:6 He said this to test him, for He Himself knew what He was about to do.

6:7 Philip answered Him, “Two hundred denarii worth of loaves are not enough for them, so that each may receive even a little.”

6:8 One of His disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, said to Him,

6:9 “There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and two small fish. But what are these among so many?”

6:10 Jesus said, “Have the people recline.” Now there was much grass in the place. So the men reclined, about five thousand in number.

6:11 Then Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and distributed them to those reclining, and likewise from the fish, as much as they wanted.

6:12 When they were filled, He said to His disciples, “Gather the remaining fragments, so that nothing may be lost.”

6:13 So they gathered them and filled twelve baskets with fragments from the five barley loaves that remained over from those who had eaten.

6:14 When the people saw the sign He did, they said, “This is truly the Prophet who is coming into the world.”

6:15 So Jesus, knowing that they were about to come and seize Him to make Him king, withdrew again to the mountain, Himself alone.

6:16 When evening came, His disciples went down to the sea.

6:17 They entered a boat and were going across the sea toward Capernaum. Darkness had already come, and Jesus had not yet come to them,

6:18 and the sea was being stirred up by a strong wind blowing.

6:19 So when they had rowed about twenty-five or thirty stadia, they saw Jesus walking upon the sea and drawing near the boat, and they were afraid.

6:20 But He said to them, “It is I; do not fear.”

6:21 Then they were willing to receive Him into the boat, and at once the boat was at the land to which they were going.

6:22 The next day, the crowd standing across the sea saw that there had been no other small boat there except one, and that Jesus had not entered the boat with His disciples, but His disciples had gone away alone.

6:23 Other small boats came from Tiberias near the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks.

6:24 So when the crowd saw that Jesus was not there, nor His disciples, they themselves entered the small boats and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.

6:25 Finding Him across the sea, they said to Him, “Rabbi, when didst Thou come here?”

6:26 Jesus answered them, “Amen, amen, I tell you: you seek Me not because you saw signs, but because you ate from the loaves and were filled.

6:27 Do not work for the food that perishes, but for the food that remains for eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you; for upon Him the Father, God, has set His seal.”

6:28 So they said to Him, “What are we to do, so that we may work the works of God?”

6:29 Jesus answered them, “This is the work of God: that you believe in the One He sent.”

6:30 So they said to Him, “What sign, then, dost Thou perform, so that we may see and believe Thee? What work dost Thou do?

6:31 Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, just as it is written, ‘He gave them bread from heaven to eat.’”

6:32 So Jesus said to them, “Amen, amen, I tell you: Moses has not given you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the true bread from heaven.

6:33 For the bread of God is the One who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world.”

6:34 So they said to Him, “Lord, always give us this bread.”

6:35 Jesus said to them, “I am the bread of life; the one who comes to Me will certainly never hunger, and the one who believes in Me will certainly never thirst.

6:36 But I told you that you have both seen Me and do not believe.

6:37 Everything the Father gives Me will come to Me, and the one who comes to Me I will certainly not cast out,

6:38 because I have come down from heaven not to do My own will, but the will of the One who sent Me.

6:39 And this is the will of the One who sent Me: that of everything He has given Me I should lose nothing, but raise it up on the last day.

6:40 For this is My Father's will: that everyone who beholds the Son and believes in Him should have eternal life, and I Myself will raise him up on the last day."

6:41 So the Jews grumbled concerning Him, because He said, "I am the bread that came down from heaven."

6:42 And they said, "Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does He now say, 'I have come down from heaven'?"

6:43 Jesus answered them, "Do not grumble among yourselves.

6:44 No one can come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him, and I will raise him up on the last day.

6:45 It is written in the Prophets, 'And they shall all be taught by God.' Everyone who has heard from the Father and learned comes to Me.

6:46 Not that anyone has seen the Father except the One who is from God; He has seen the Father.

6:47 Amen, amen, I tell you: the one who believes has eternal life.

6:48 I am the bread of life.

6:49 Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness and died.

6:50 This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that someone may eat from it and not die.

6:51 I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats from this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give is My flesh, for the life of the world."

6:52 So the Jews disputed with one another, saying, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?"

6:53 So Jesus said to them, "Amen, amen, I tell you: unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in yourselves.

6:54 The one who eats My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.

6:55 For My flesh is true food, and My blood is true drink.

6:56 The one who eats My flesh and drinks My blood remains in Me, and I in him.

6:57 Just as the living Father sent Me and I live because of the Father, so the one who eats Me will also live because of Me.

6:58 This is the bread that came down from heaven, not as the fathers ate and died. The one who eats this bread will live forever."

6:59 He said these things while teaching in a synagogue in Capernaum.

6:60 So many of His disciples, when they heard, said, "This saying is hard. Who can hear it?"

6:61 But Jesus, knowing within Himself that His disciples were grumbling about this, said to them, "Does this cause you to stumble?

6:62 Then what if you see the Son of Man ascending where He was before?

6:63 The Spirit is the One who gives life; the flesh benefits nothing. The words I have spoken to you are spirit and are life.

6:64 But there are some among you who do not believe." For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe and who it was who would hand Him over.

6:65 And He said, "For this reason I have told you that no one can come to Me unless it has been given to him from the Father."

6:66 From this, many of His disciples went back and no longer walked with Him.

6:67 So Jesus said to the Twelve, "Do you also want to go away?"

6:68 Simon Peter answered Him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast words of eternal life.

6:69 And we have believed and have known that Thou art the Holy One of God."

6:70 Jesus answered them, "Did I not choose you, the Twelve? Yet one of you is a devil."

6:71 He was speaking of Judas, son of Simon Iscariot, for this man was about to hand Him over, one of the Twelve.

John 7

7:1 After these things Jesus walked about in Galilee, for He did not want to walk about in Judea, because the Jews were seeking to kill Him.

7:2 Now the feast of the Jews, the feast of Booths, was near.

7:3 So His brothers said to Him, "Leave here and go into Judea, so that Thy disciples also may see the works Thou doest.

7:4 For no one acts in secret while seeking to be known publicly. If Thou doest these things, reveal Thyself to the world."

7:5 For not even His brothers believed in Him.

7:6 So Jesus said to them, "My time is not yet here, but your time is always ready.

7:7 The world cannot hate you, but it hates Me, because I testify concerning it that its works are evil.

7:8 You go up to the feast. I am not going up to this feast, because My time has not yet been fulfilled."

7:9 Having said these things, He remained in Galilee.

7:10 But when His brothers had gone up to the feast, then He also went up, not openly, but as in secret.

7:11 So the Jews sought Him at the feast and said, "Where is He?"

7:12 And there was much grumbling about Him among the crowds. Some said, "He is good," but others said, "No, He leads the crowd astray."

7:13 Yet no one spoke openly about Him because of fear of the Jews.

7:14 When the feast was already halfway through, Jesus went up into the temple and taught.

7:15 So the Jews marveled, saying, "How does this man know the writings without having studied?"

7:16 So Jesus answered them, "My teaching is not Mine, but belongs to the One who sent Me.

7:17 If anyone wills to do His will, he will know concerning the teaching whether it is from God or whether I speak from Myself.

7:18 The one who speaks from himself seeks his own glory. But the one who seeks the glory of the one who sent him is true, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

7:19 Has not Moses given you the Law? Yet none of you keeps the Law. Why do you seek to kill Me?"

7:20 The crowd answered, "Thou hast a demon! Who seeks to kill Thee?"

7:21 Jesus answered them, "I did one work, and you all marvel.

7:22 For this reason Moses has given you circumcision—not that it is from Moses, but from the fathers—and on a Sabbath you circumcise a person.

7:23 If a person receives circumcision on a Sabbath so that the Law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with Me because I made a whole person well on a Sabbath?

7:24 Do not judge according to appearance, but judge with righteous judgment."

7:25 So some of the Jerusalem residents said, "Is this not the man they are seeking to kill?

7:26 And behold, He speaks openly, and they say nothing to Him. Could the rulers truly have recognized that this is the Christ?

7:27 But we know where this man is from; when the Christ comes, no one knows where He is from."

7:28 So Jesus cried out as He taught in the temple, saying, "You both know Me and know where I am from. Yet I have not come from Myself, but the One who sent Me is true, whom you do not know.

7:29 I know Him, because I am from Him and He sent Me."

7:30 So they sought to seize Him, but no one laid a hand on Him, because His hour had not yet come.

7:31 But many from the crowd believed in Him and said, "When the Christ comes, will He do more signs than this man has done?"

7:32 The Pharisees heard the crowd grumbling these things about Him, and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to seize Him.

7:33 So Jesus said, "I am with you for a little time longer, and I go to the One who sent Me.

7:34 You will seek Me and will not find Me, and where I am, you cannot come."

7:35 So the Jews said among themselves, "Where is this man about to go that we will not find Him? Is He about to go to the Dispersion among the Greeks and teach the Greeks?

7:36 What is this saying He spoke: 'You will seek Me and will not find Me, and where I am, you cannot come'?"

7:37 On the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried out, saying, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink.

7:38 The one who believes in Me—as the Scripture said, rivers of living water will flow from his belly."

7:39 He said this concerning the Spirit, whom those who believed in Him were about to receive; for the Spirit was not yet, because Jesus had not yet been glorified.

7:40 So some from the crowd, hearing these words, said, "This is truly the Prophet."

7:41 Others said, "This is the Christ." But some said, "Surely the Christ does not come from Galilee?

7:42 Has not the Scripture said that the Christ comes from the offspring of David and from Bethlehem, the village where David was?"

7:43 So a division arose in the crowd because of Him.

7:44 Some of them wanted to seize Him, but no one laid hands on Him.

7:45 So the officers came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and these said to them, “Why did you not bring Him?”

7:46 The officers answered, “Never has a person spoken in this way.”

7:47 So the Pharisees answered them, “Have you also been led astray?

7:48 Has any of the rulers believed in Him, or any of the Pharisees?

7:49 But this crowd that does not know the Law is accursed.”

7:50 Nicodemus, who had come to Him earlier and was one of them, said to them,

7:51 “Does our Law judge a person unless it first hears from him and knows what he does?”

7:52 They answered him, “Are you also from Galilee? Search and see that a prophet does not arise from Galilee.”

7:53 [And each went to his own house.

John 8

8:1 But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.

8:2 At dawn He came again into the temple, and all the people were coming to Him; and He sat down and taught them.

8:3 And the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman caught in adultery, and set her in the midst.

8:4 They said to Him, “Teacher, this woman was caught in the very act of committing adultery.

8:5 Now in the Law Moses commanded us that such women be stoned. What, then, dost Thou say?”

8:6 They said this to test Him, so that they might have something with which to accuse Him. But Jesus bent down and wrote with His finger on the ground.

8:7 As they persisted in questioning Him, He straightened up and said to them, “Let the one among you who is without sin be first to cast a stone at her.”

8:8 And again He bent down and wrote on the ground.

8:9 But when they heard, they went out one by one, beginning with the older ones. And Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

8:10 Jesus straightened up and said to her, “Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?”

8:11 She said, “No one, Lord.” Jesus said, “Neither do I condemn you. Go, and from now on sin no more.”]

8:12 Then Jesus spoke to them again, saying, “I am the Light of the world. The one who follows Me will certainly not walk in the darkness, but will have the light of life.”

8:13 So the Pharisees said to Him, “Thou bearest witness concerning Thyself; Thy testimony is not true.”

8:14 Jesus answered them, “Even if I bear witness concerning Myself, My testimony is true, because I know where I came from and where I am going. But you do not know where I come from or where I am going.

8:15 You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one.

8:16 But even if I judge, My judgment is true, because I am not alone, but I and the Father who sent Me.

8:17 And in your own Law it is written that the testimony of two people is true.

8:18 I am the One who bears witness concerning Myself, and the Father who sent Me bears witness concerning Me.”

8:19 So they said to Him, “Where is Thy Father?” Jesus answered, “You know neither Me nor My Father. If you knew Me, you would also know My Father.”

8:20 He spoke these words at the treasury as He taught in the temple, and no one seized Him, because His hour had not yet come.

8:21 So He said to them again, “I am going away, and you will seek Me, and you will die in your sin. Where I go, you cannot come.”

8:22 So the Jews said, “Will He kill Himself, since He says, ‘Where I go, you cannot come’?”

8:23 And He said to them, “You are from below; I am from above. You are from this world; I am not from this world.

8:24 Therefore I told you that you will die in your sins; for unless you believe that I am, you will die in your sins.”

8:25 So they said to Him, “Who art Thou?” Jesus said to them, “Why do I even speak to you at all?

8:26 I have many things to speak and judge concerning you. But the One who sent Me is true, and what I heard from Him, these things I speak to the world.”

8:27 They did not understand that He was speaking to them about the Father.

8:28 So Jesus said to them, “When you lift up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am, and that I do nothing from Myself, but speak these things just as the Father taught Me.

8:29 And the One who sent Me is with Me. He has not left Me alone, because I always do the things pleasing to Him."

8:30 As He spoke these things, many believed in Him.

8:31 So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed Him, "If you remain in My word, you are truly My disciples,

8:32 and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."

8:33 They answered Him, "We are Abraham's offspring and have never been slaves to anyone. How dost Thou say, 'You will become free'?"

8:34 Jesus answered them, "Amen, amen, I tell you: everyone who commits sin is a slave of sin.

8:35 But the slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever.

8:36 So if the Son sets you free, you will truly be free.

8:37 I know that you are Abraham's offspring. Yet you seek to kill Me, because My word has no room in you.

8:38 I speak what I have seen with the Father, and you therefore do what you have heard from the father."

8:39 They answered Him, "Our father is Abraham." Jesus said to them, "If you are Abraham's children, you would be doing Abraham's works.

8:40 But now you seek to kill Me, a man who has spoken to you the truth that I heard from God. Abraham did not do this.

8:41 You do the works of your father." Then they said to Him, "We were not born from sexual immorality. We have one Father, God."

8:42 Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love Me, for I came out from God and have come here. For I have not come from Myself, but He sent Me.

8:43 Why do you not understand My speech? Because you cannot hear My word.

8:44 You are from your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning and has not stood in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks the lie, he speaks from what is his own, because he is a liar and its father.

8:45 But because I speak the truth, you do not believe Me.

8:46 Which of you convicts Me of sin? If I speak truth, why do you not believe Me?

8:47 The one who is from God hears the words of God. For this reason you do not hear, because you are not from God."

8:48 The Jews answered Him, "Do we not rightly say that Thou art a Samaritan and hast a demon?"

8:49 Jesus answered, "I do not have a demon, but I honor My Father, and you dishonor Me.

8:50 But I do not seek My own glory. There is One who seeks it and judges.

8:51 Amen, amen, I tell you: if anyone keeps My word, he will certainly never behold death."

8:52 So the Jews said to Him, "Now we know that Thou hast a demon. Abraham died, and the prophets also, and Thou sayest, 'If anyone keeps My word, he will certainly never taste death.'

8:53 Art Thou greater than our father Abraham, who died? The prophets also died. Who dost Thou make Thyself out to be?"

8:54 Jesus answered, "If I glorify Myself, My glory is nothing. It is My Father who glorifies Me, of whom you say, 'He is our God.'

8:55 Yet you have not known Him, but I know Him. And if I say that I do not know Him, I will be a liar like you. But I know Him and keep His word.

8:56 Abraham your father rejoiced to see My day, and he saw it and was glad."

8:57 So the Jews said to Him, "Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast Thou seen Abraham?"

8:58 Jesus said to them, "Amen, amen, I tell you: before Abraham came into being, I am."

8:59 So they took up stones to cast at Him, but Jesus hid Himself and went out of the temple.

John 9

9:1 And as He passed by, He saw a man blind from birth.

9:2 His disciples asked Him, saying, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, so that he was born blind?"

9:3 Jesus answered, "Neither this man nor his parents sinned, but this was so that the works of God might be revealed in him.

9:4 We must work the works of the One who sent Me while it is day. Night is coming, when no one can work.

9:5 While I am in the world, I am the Light of the world."

9:6 Having said these things, He spat on the ground and made mud from the spittle, and spread the mud upon his eyes.

9:7 And He said to him, “Go, wash in the pool of Siloam”—which is translated Sent. So he went away and washed, and came back seeing.

9:8 Then the neighbors and those who had seen him before as a beggar said, “Is this not the one who sat and begged?”

9:9 Some said, “This is he.” Others said, “No, but he is like him.” He said, “I am he.”

9:10 So they said to him, “How, then, were your eyes opened?”

9:11 He answered, “The man called Jesus made mud and spread it on my eyes and said to me, ‘Go to Siloam and wash.’ So I went away and washed, and received my sight.”

9:12 And they said to him, “Where is He?” He said, “I do not know.”

9:13 They brought the man who had formerly been blind to the Pharisees.

9:14 Now it was a Sabbath on the day when Jesus made the mud and opened his eyes.

9:15 So the Pharisees also asked him again how he received his sight. He said to them, “He put mud on my eyes, and I washed, and I see.”

9:16 Then some of the Pharisees said, “This man is not from God, because He does not keep the Sabbath.” But others said, “How can a sinful man do such signs?” And there was division among them.

9:17 So they said to the blind man again, “What do you say about Him, since He opened your eyes?” He said, “He is a prophet.”

9:18 So the Jews did not believe concerning him that he had been blind and received his sight, until they called the parents of the man who had received his sight

9:19 and asked them, saying, “Is this your son, whom you say was born blind? How, then, does he now see?”

9:20 His parents answered, “We know that this is our son and that he was born blind.

9:21 But how he now sees we do not know, or who opened his eyes we do not know. Ask him; he is of age. He will speak for himself.”

9:22 His parents said these things because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that if anyone confessed Him as Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.

9:23 For this reason his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.”

9:24 So for the second time they called the man who had been blind and said to him, “Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner.”

9:25 He answered, “Whether He is a sinner I do not know. One thing I know: though I was blind, now I see.”

9:26 So they said to him, “What did He do to you? How did He open your eyes?”

9:27 He answered them, “I told you already, and you did not hear. Why do you want to hear again? Do you also want to become His disciples?”

9:28 They reviled him and said, “You are that man’s disciple, but we are Moses’ disciples.

9:29 We know that God has spoken to Moses, but this man—we do not know where He is from.”

9:30 The man answered them, “Why, this is the marvelous thing: you do not know where He is from, and He opened my eyes!

9:31 We know that God does not hear sinners, but if anyone worships God and does His will, He hears that person.

9:32 Since the age began, no one has heard of anyone opening the eyes of a person born blind.

9:33 If this man were not from God, He could do nothing.”

9:34 They answered him, “You were born entirely in sins, and do you teach us?” And they cast him out.

9:35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out, and when He found him, He said, “Do you believe in the Son of Man?”

9:36 He answered, “And who is He, Sir, so that I may believe in Him?”

9:37 Jesus said to him, “You have both seen Him, and the One speaking with you is He.”

9:38 He said, “I believe, Lord,” and worshiped Him.

9:39 And Jesus said, “For judgment I came into this world, so that those who do not see may see, and those who see may become blind.”

9:40 Some of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these things and said to Him, “Are we also blind?”

9:41 Jesus said to them, “If you were blind, you would not have sin. But now you say, ‘We see’; your sin remains.”

John 10

10:1 “Amen, amen, I tell you: the one who does not enter the sheepfold through the door, but climbs in from elsewhere, is a thief and a robber.

10:2 But the one who enters through the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

10:3 To him the doorkeeper opens, and the sheep hear his voice. He calls his own sheep by name and leads them out.

10:4 When he has brought all his own out, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, because they know his voice.

10:5 But they will certainly not follow a stranger; rather, they will flee from him, because they do not know the voice of strangers."

10:6 Jesus spoke this figure of speech to them, but they did not understand what He was saying to them.

10:7 So Jesus spoke to them again: "Amen, amen, I tell you that I am the door of the sheep.

10:8 All who came before Me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them.

10:9 I am the door. If anyone enters through Me, he will be saved, and will go in and go out and find pasture.

10:10 The thief comes only to steal and slaughter and destroy. I came so that they may have life and have abundance.

10:11 I am the good Shepherd; the good Shepherd lays down His life for the sheep.

10:12 The hired worker, who is not a shepherd and does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees—and the wolf seizes them and scatters them—

10:13 because he is a hired worker and does not care for the sheep.

10:14 I am the good Shepherd, and I know My own, and My own know Me,

10:15 just as the Father knows Me and I know the Father; and I lay down My life for the sheep.

10:16 And I have other sheep that are not from this fold. I must bring them also, and they will hear My voice, and they will become one flock, one shepherd.

10:17 For this reason the Father loves Me, because I lay down My life, so that I may take it again.

10:18 No one takes it from Me, but I lay it down of My own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it again. This command I received from My Father."

10:19 Division arose again among the Jews because of these words.

10:20 Many of them said, "He has a demon and is mad. Why do you listen to Him?"

10:21 Others said, "These are not the words of a demon-possessed person. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?"

10:22 Then the feast of Dedication took place in Jerusalem. It was winter,

10:23 and Jesus was walking in the temple, in Solomon's Portico.

10:24 So the Jews surrounded Him and said to Him, "How long wilt Thou keep our soul in suspense? If Thou art the Christ, tell us openly."

10:25 Jesus answered them, "I told you, and you do not believe. The works I do in My Father's name bear witness concerning Me.

10:26 But you do not believe, because you are not from My sheep.

10:27 My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me.

10:28 And I give them eternal life, and they will certainly never perish, and no one will snatch them from My hand.

10:29 What My Father has given Me is greater than all, and no one can snatch from the Father's hand.

10:30 I and the Father are one."

10:31 Then the Jews took up stones again to stone Him.

10:32 Jesus answered them, "I showed you many good works from the Father. For which work among them do you stone Me?"

10:33 The Jews answered Him, "We do not stone Thee for a good work, but for blasphemy, and because Thou, being a man, makest Thyself God."

10:34 Jesus answered them, "Is it not written in your Law, 'I said, you are gods'?

10:35 If He called them gods, to whom the word of God came—and the Scripture cannot be broken—

10:36 do you say to the One whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, 'Thou blasphemest,' because I said, 'I am the Son of God'?

10:37 If I do not do My Father's works, do not believe Me.

10:38 But if I do them, even if you do not believe Me, believe the works, so that you may know and continue to know that the Father is in Me and I in the Father."

10:39 So they sought again to seize Him, and He went out from their hand.

10:40 And He went away again beyond the Jordan, to the place where John was first baptizing, and remained there.

10:41 Many came to Him and said, "John indeed did no sign, but everything John said concerning this man was true."

10:42 And many believed in Him there.

John 11

11:1 Now a certain man was ill, Lazarus of Bethany, from the village of Mary and her sister Martha.

11:2 It was Mary who anointed the Lord with perfumed ointment and wiped His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was ill.

11:3 So the sisters sent to Him, saying, “Lord, behold, the one Thou lovest is ill.”

11:4 When Jesus heard, He said, “This illness is not for death, but for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it.”

11:5 Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus.

11:6 So when He heard that he was ill, He then remained two days in the place where He was.

11:7 After this He said to the disciples, “Let us go into Judea again.”

11:8 The disciples said to Him, “Rabbi, the Jews were just now seeking to stone Thee, and art Thou going there again?”

11:9 Jesus answered, “Are there not twelve hours of the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world.

11:10 But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him.”

11:11 He said these things, and after this He said to them, “Lazarus our friend has fallen asleep, but I am going to awaken him.”

11:12 So the disciples said to Him, “Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will be saved.”

11:13 But Jesus had spoken of his death, while they thought He was speaking of resting in sleep.

11:14 So then Jesus told them openly, “Lazarus died,

11:15 and for your sake I rejoice that I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him.”

11:16 Then Thomas, who was called Didymus, said to his fellow disciples, “Let us also go, so that we may die with Him.”

11:17 So when Jesus came, He found that he had already been in the tomb four days.

11:18 Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about fifteen stadia away.

11:19 Many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary to console them concerning their brother.

11:20 When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went to meet Him, but Mary remained seated in the house.

11:21 So Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, if Thou hadst been here, my brother would not have died.

11:22 But even now I know that whatever Thou askest of God, God will give Thee.”

11:23 Jesus said to her, “Your brother will rise.”

11:24 Martha said to Him, “I know that he will rise in the resurrection on the last day.”

11:25 Jesus said to her, “I am the resurrection and the life; the one who believes in Me will live, even if he dies,

Note †: John 11:25 · wording and sourceMeaning: Retain both nouns and the conditional even if he die. The promise will live follows the condition; do not change it into a statement that the believer cannot experience bodily death.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

11:26 and everyone who lives and believes in Me will certainly never die. Do you believe this?”

11:27 She said to Him, “Yes, Lord. I have believed that Thou art the Christ, the Son of God, the One coming into the world.”

11:28 Having said this, she went away and called her sister Mary secretly, saying, “The Teacher is here and calls you.”

11:29 When she heard, she rose quickly and came to Him.

11:30 Now Jesus had not yet entered the village, but was still at the place where Martha had met Him.

11:31 So the Jews who were with her in the house consoling her, seeing that Mary rose quickly and went out, followed her, thinking that she was going to the tomb to weep there.

11:32 When Mary came where Jesus was and saw Him, she fell at His feet and said to Him, “Lord, if Thou hadst been here, my brother would not have died.”

11:33 So when Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her weeping, He was indignant in spirit and troubled Himself.

11:34 And He said, “Where have you laid him?” They said to Him, “Lord, come and see.”

11:35 Jesus wept.

11:36 So the Jews said, “Behold, how He loved him!”

11:37 But some of them said, “Could not this man, who opened the blind man’s eyes, have kept this man from dying too?”

11:38 Then Jesus, again indignant within Himself, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone lay against it.

11:39 Jesus said, “Take away the stone.” Martha, the dead man’s sister, said to Him, “Lord, there is already a smell, for he has been dead four days.”

11:40 Jesus said to her, “Did I not tell you that if you believe, you will see the glory of God?”

11:41 So they took away the stone. Jesus lifted His eyes upward and said, “Father, I thank Thee that Thou didst hear Me.

11:42 I knew that Thou always hearest Me, but I said this because of the crowd standing around, so that they may believe that Thou didst send Me.”

11:43 Having said these things, He cried out with a loud voice, “Lazarus, come out!”

11:44 The dead man came out, his feet and hands bound with strips of cloth, and his face wrapped with a cloth. Jesus said to them, “Unbind him, and let him go.”

11:45 So many of the Jews who had come to Mary and beheld what He did believed in Him.

11:46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus did.

11:47 Then the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council and said, “What are we doing? For this man does many signs.

11:48 If we leave Him like this, everyone will believe in Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation.”

11:49 But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said to them, “You know nothing,

11:50 nor do you consider that it is better for you for one man to die for the people than for the whole nation to perish.”

11:51 He did not say this from himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus was about to die for the nation,

11:52 and not for the nation alone, but also to gather into one the children of God who had been scattered.

11:53 So from that day they planned to kill Him.

11:54 Therefore Jesus no longer walked openly among the Jews, but went away from there into the region near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and stayed there with the disciples.

11:55 Now the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem from the countryside before the Passover to purify themselves.

11:56 So they sought Jesus and said to one another as they stood in the temple, “What do you think? Surely He will not come to the feast?”

11:57 The chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if anyone knew where He was, he should disclose it, so that they might seize Him.

John 12

12:1 So six days before the Passover, Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus had raised from the dead.

12:2 They made a supper for Him there, and Martha served, while Lazarus was one of those reclining at table with Him.

12:3 Then Mary took a litra of costly perfume of genuine nard, anointed Jesus’ feet, and wiped His feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume.

12:4 But Judas Iscariot, one of His disciples, who was about to hand Him over, said,

12:5 “Why was this perfume not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?”

12:6 He said this not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the money box, he used to carry off what was put into it.

12:7 So Jesus said, “Leave her, so that she may keep it for the day of My burial.

12:8 For you always have the poor with you, but you do not always have Me.”

12:9 A great crowd of the Jews learned that He was there, and they came not because of Jesus alone, but also to see Lazarus, whom He raised from the dead.

12:10 But the chief priests planned to kill Lazarus also,

12:11 because on his account many of the Jews were going away and believing in Jesus.

12:12 The next day, the great crowd that had come to the feast, hearing that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem,

12:13 took branches of the palm trees and went out to meet Him, and cried out, “Hosanna! Blessed is the One who comes in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel!”

12:14 Jesus found a young donkey and sat upon it, just as it is written,

12:15 “Do not fear, daughter Zion. Behold, your King comes, sitting upon a donkey’s colt.”

12:16 His disciples did not understand these things at first. But when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written about Him and that they had done these things to Him.

12:17 So the crowd that was with Him when He called Lazarus from the tomb and raised him from the dead bore witness.

12:18 For this reason the crowd also met Him, because they heard that He had done this sign.

12:19 So the Pharisees said among themselves, “You see that you accomplish nothing. Behold, the world has gone after Him.”

12:20 Now there were some Greeks among those going up to worship at the feast.

12:21 These approached Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, “Sir, we want to see Jesus.”

12:22 Philip came and told Andrew; Andrew and Philip came and told Jesus.

12:23 Jesus answered them, saying, “The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.

12:24 Amen, amen, I tell you: unless the grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.

12:25 The one who loves his life loses it, and the one who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.

12:26 If anyone serves Me, let him follow Me; and where I am, there My servant will be also. If anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him.

12:27 Now My soul is troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour? Yet for this reason I came to this hour.

12:28 Father, glorify Thy name.” Then a voice came from heaven: “I both glorified it and will glorify it again.”

12:29 So the crowd standing there and hearing it said that it had thundered. Others said, “An angel has spoken to Him.”

12:30 Jesus answered, “This voice has come not for My sake, but for yours.

12:31 Now is the judgment of this world; now the ruler of this world will be cast out.

12:32 And I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to Myself.”

12:33 He said this to signify by what kind of death He was about to die.

12:34 So the crowd answered Him, “We have heard from the Law that the Christ remains forever. How dost Thou say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?”

12:35 Then Jesus said to them, “For a little time longer the Light is among you. Walk while you have the Light, so that darkness may not overtake you. The one walking in the darkness does not know where he is going.

12:36 While you have the Light, believe in the Light, so that you may become sons of light.” Jesus spoke these things, and went away and hid Himself from them.

12:37 Though He had done so many signs before them, they did not believe in Him,

12:38 so that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke: “Lord, who believed our report? And to whom was the arm of the Lord revealed?”

12:39 For this reason they could not believe, because Isaiah said again,

12:40 “He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, so that they may not see with the eyes and understand with the heart and turn—and I will heal them.”

12:41 Isaiah said these things because he saw His glory and spoke concerning Him.

12:42 Nevertheless, many even from the rulers believed in Him, but because of the Pharisees they did not confess Him, so that they might not be put out of the synagogue,

12:43 for they loved the glory of people more than the glory of God.

12:44 And Jesus cried out and said, “The one who believes in Me believes not in Me, but in the One who sent Me.

12:45 And the one who beholds Me beholds the One who sent Me.

12:46 I have come as Light into the world, so that everyone who believes in Me may not remain in the darkness.

12:47 And if anyone hears My words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world, but to save the world.

12:48 The one who rejects Me and does not receive My words has one who judges him: the word that I spoke will judge him on the last day.

12:49 Because I have not spoken from Myself, but the Father who sent Me has Himself given Me a command about what I should say and what I should speak.

12:50 And I know that His command is eternal life. So the things I speak, just as the Father has told Me, thus I speak.”

John 13

13:1 Before the feast of the Passover, Jesus, knowing that His hour had come to pass from this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, loved them to the end.

13:2 And while supper was taking place, the devil having already put it into the heart that Judas, son of Simon Iscariot, should hand Him over,

13:3 knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands, and that He came out from God and was going to God,

13:4 He rose from supper and laid aside His garments, and took a towel and tied it around Himself.

13:5 Then He poured water into the basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and wipe them with the towel He had tied around Himself.

13:6 So He came to Simon Peter, who said to Him, "Lord, dost Thou wash my feet?"

13:7 Jesus answered him, "What I do you do not understand now, but you will understand after these things."

13:8 Peter said to Him, "Thou wilt certainly never wash my feet." Jesus answered him, "Unless I wash you, you have no share with Me."

13:9 Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head!"

13:10 Jesus said to him, "The one who has bathed has no need to wash except the feet, but is wholly clean. And you are clean, but not all."

13:11 For He knew the one who was handing Him over; for this reason He said, "Not all of you are clean."

13:12 So when He had washed their feet and taken His garments and reclined again, He said to them, "Do you understand what I have done to you?

13:13 You call Me the Teacher and the Lord, and you speak well, for I am.

13:14 So if I, the Lord and the Teacher, washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet.

13:15 For I have given you an example, so that you also may do just as I did to you.

13:16 Amen, amen, I tell you: a slave is not greater than his master, nor a messenger greater than the one who sent him.

13:17 If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them.

13:18 I do not speak about all of you. I know whom I chose. But so that the Scripture may be fulfilled: 'The one eating My bread lifted his heel against Me.'

13:19 From now on I tell you before it happens, so that when it happens you may believe that I am.

13:20 Amen, amen, I tell you: the one who receives anyone I send receives Me, and the one who receives Me receives the One who sent Me."

13:21 Having said these things, Jesus was troubled in spirit and testified, saying, "Amen, amen, I tell you that one of you will hand Me over."

13:22 The disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom He was speaking.

13:23 One of His disciples, whom Jesus loved, was reclining in Jesus' bosom.

13:24 So Simon Peter signaled to this one to ask whom He was speaking about.

13:25 Leaning back thus upon Jesus' chest, he said to Him, "Lord, who is it?"

13:26 Jesus answered, "It is the one for whom I will dip the morsel and give it to him." So He dipped the morsel, took it, and gave it to Judas, son of Simon Iscariot.

13:27 And after the morsel, then Satan entered him. So Jesus said to him, "What you do, do more quickly."

13:28 But none of those reclining knew for what purpose He said this to him.

13:29 For some thought, since Judas had the money box, that Jesus was telling him, "Buy what we need for the feast," or that he should give something to the poor.

13:30 So, having received the morsel, he went out at once. And it was night.

13:31 When he had gone out, Jesus said, "Now the Son of Man was glorified, and God was glorified in Him.

13:32 If God was glorified in Him, God will also glorify Him in Himself, and will glorify Him at once.

13:33 Little children, I am with you a little longer. You will seek Me, and just as I told the Jews, 'Where I go, you cannot come,' I now tell you also.

13:34 I give you a new commandment: that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another.

Note †: John 13:34 · wording and sourceMeaning: Keep new, the plural recipients, and both occurrences of love one another. Preserve as I have loved you rather than an unqualified command to feel affection. Repetition supplies cadence.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

13:35 By this everyone will know that you are My disciples, if you have love among one another."

13:36 Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, where art Thou going?" Jesus answered him, "Where I go, you cannot follow Me now, but you will follow later."

13:37 Peter said to Him, "Lord, why can I not follow Thee now? I will lay down my life for Thee."

13:38 Jesus answered, "Will you lay down your life for Me? Amen, amen, I tell you: a rooster will certainly not crow until you deny Me three times."

John 14

14:1 "Do not let your heart be troubled. Believe in God, and believe also in Me.

14:2 In My Father’s house are many dwelling places. If it were not so, would I have told you that I am going to prepare a place for you?

14:3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I am coming again and will take you to Myself, so that where I am, you also may be.

14:4 And you know the way to where I am going.”

14:5 Thomas says to Him, “Lord, we do not know where Thou art going. How can we know the way?”

14:6 Jesus says to him, “I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me.

14:7 If you have known Me, you will also know My Father. From now on you know Him and have seen Him.”

14:8 Philip says to Him, “Lord, show us the Father, and it is enough for us.”

14:9 Jesus says to him, “Have I been with you for so long a time, and you have not known Me, Philip? The one who has seen Me has seen the Father. How can you say, ‘Show us the Father’?

14:10 Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in Me? The words that I say to you I do not speak from Myself; but the Father, who remains in Me, does His works.

14:11 Believe Me that I am in the Father and the Father is in Me. But if not, believe because of the works themselves.

14:12 Amen, amen, I say to you: the one who believes in Me will also do the works that I do, and will do greater works than these, because I am going to the Father.

14:13 And whatever you ask in My name, this I will do, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14:14 If you ask Me anything in My name, I will do it.

14:15 “If you love Me, you will keep My commandments.

14:16 And I will ask the Father, and He will give you another Advocate, so that He may be with you forever:

14:17 the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither beholds Him nor knows Him. You know Him, because He remains with you and will be in you.

14:18 I will not leave you orphans; I am coming to you.

14:19 Yet a little while, and the world no longer beholds Me, but you behold Me. Because I live, you also will live.

14:20 On that day you will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me, and I in you.

14:21 The one who has My commandments and keeps them is the one who loves Me. And the one who loves Me will be loved by My Father, and I will love him and reveal Myself to him.”

14:22 Judas—not the Iscariot—says to Him, “Lord, what then has happened that Thou art going to reveal Thyself to us and not to the world?”

14:23 Jesus answered and said to him, “If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him, and We will come to him and make Our dwelling with him.

14:24 The one who does not love Me does not keep My words. And the word that you hear is not Mine, but the Father’s who sent Me.

14:25 “These things I have spoken to you while remaining with you.

14:26 But the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in My name, He will teach you all things and remind you of all that I said to you.

14:27 Peace I leave with you; My peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your heart be troubled or afraid.

14:28 You heard that I said to you, ‘I am going away, and I am coming to you.’ If you loved Me, you would have rejoiced that I am going to the Father, because the Father is greater than I.

14:29 And now I have told you before it happens, so that when it happens you may believe.

14:30 I will no longer speak much with you, for the ruler of the world is coming, and he has nothing in Me.

14:31 But so that the world may know that I love the Father, I do just as the Father commanded Me. Rise, let us go from here.”

John 15

15:1 “I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinegrower.

15:2 Every branch in Me that does not bear fruit He takes away; and every one that bears fruit He prunes, so that it may bear more fruit.

15:3 You are already clean because of the word that I have spoken to you.

15:4 Remain in Me, and I in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit from itself unless it remains in the vine, neither can you unless you remain in Me.

15:5 I am the vine; you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit, because apart from Me you can do nothing.

15:6 If anyone does not remain in Me, he is thrown outside like the branch and withers; and they gather them and throw them into the fire, and they are burned.

15:7 If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you.

15:8 In this My Father has been glorified: that you bear much fruit and become My disciples.

15:9 Just as the Father loved Me, I also loved you. Remain in My love.

15:10 If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love, just as I have kept My Father's commandments and remain in His love.

15:11 These things I have spoken to you so that My joy may be in you and your joy may be made full.

15:12 "This is My commandment: that you love one another just as I loved you.

15:13 No one has greater love than this: that someone should lay down his life for his friends.

15:14 You are My friends if you do what I command you.

15:15 I no longer call you slaves, because the slave does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, because I have made known to you everything that I heard from My Father.

15:16 You did not choose Me, but I chose you, and appointed you so that you should go and bear fruit and your fruit should remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in My name He may give you.

15:17 These things I command you, so that you love one another.

15:18 "If the world hates you, know that it has hated Me before you.

15:19 If you were from the world, the world would love its own. But because you are not from the world, but I chose you out of the world, for this reason the world hates you.

15:20 Remember the word that I said to you: 'A slave is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted Me, they will also persecute you; if they kept My word, they will also keep yours.

15:21 But they will do all these things to you because of My name, because they do not know the One who sent Me.

15:22 If I had not come and spoken to them, they would have no sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin.

15:23 The one who hates Me hates My Father also.

15:24 If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would have no sin; but now they have both seen and hated both Me and My Father.

15:25 But this is so that the word written in their law might be fulfilled: 'They hated Me without cause.'

15:26 "When the Advocate comes, whom I will send you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who proceeds from the Father, He will bear witness about Me.

15:27 And you also bear witness, because you have been with Me from the beginning.

John 16

16:1 "These things I have spoken to you so that you may not stumble.

16:2 They will put you out of the synagogues; indeed, an hour is coming when everyone who kills you will think he is offering worship to God.

16:3 And they will do these things because they have known neither the Father nor Me.

16:4 But these things I have spoken to you so that, when their hour comes, you may remember that I told you about them. I did not tell you these things from the beginning, because I was with you.

16:5 But now I am going to the One who sent Me, and none of you asks Me, 'Where art Thou going?'

16:6 But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow has filled your heart.

16:7 Yet I tell you the truth: it is better for you that I go away. For if I do not go away, the Advocate certainly will not come to you; but if I go, I will send Him to you.

16:8 And when He comes, He will convict the world concerning sin and concerning righteousness and concerning judgment:

16:9 concerning sin, because they do not believe in Me;

16:10 concerning righteousness, because I am going to the Father and you no longer behold Me;

16:11 and concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world has been judged.

16:12 "I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now.

16:13 But when He comes, the Spirit of truth, He will guide you in all the truth; for He will not speak from Himself, but will speak whatever He hears, and will announce to you the things to come.

16:14 He will glorify Me, because He will receive from what is Mine and announce it to you.

16:15 Everything that the Father has is Mine. For this reason I said that He receives from what is Mine and will announce it to you.

16:16 “A little while, and you no longer behold Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me.”

16:17 Then some of His disciples said to one another, “What is this that He says to us: ‘A little while, and you do not behold Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me,’ and, ‘Because I am going to the Father’?”

16:18 So they were saying, “What is this ‘little while’ that He speaks of? We do not know what He is saying.”

16:19 Jesus knew that they wanted to ask Him, and said to them, “Are you seeking an answer among yourselves about this, because I said, ‘A little while, and you do not behold Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me’?

16:20 Amen, amen, I say to you that you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will become joy.

16:21 When a woman is giving birth, she has sorrow because her hour has come; but when she has borne the child, she no longer remembers the anguish because of the joy that a human being has been born into the world.

16:22 So you too now have sorrow; but I will see you again, and your heart will rejoice, and no one takes your joy away from you.

16:23 And on that day you will ask Me nothing. Amen, amen, I say to you: if you ask the Father anything, He will give it to you in My name.

16:24 Until now you have asked nothing in My name. Ask, and you will receive, so that your joy may be made full.

16:25 “These things I have spoken to you in figures of speech. An hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech, but will tell you plainly about the Father.

16:26 On that day you will ask in My name; and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father concerning you,

16:27 for the Father Himself loves you, because you have loved Me and have believed that I came forth from God.

16:28 I came forth from the Father and have come into the world. Again, I am leaving the world and going to the Father.”

16:29 His disciples say, “See, now Thou speakest plainly and usest no figure of speech.

16:30 Now we know that Thou knowest all things, and hast no need for anyone to question Thee. By this we believe that Thou didst come forth from God.”

16:31 Jesus answered them, “Do you now believe?

16:32 Behold, an hour is coming, and has come, when you will be scattered, each to his own, and will leave Me alone. Yet I am not alone, because the Father is with Me.

16:33 These things I have spoken to you so that in Me you may have peace. In the world you have affliction; but take courage: I have overcome the world.”

John 17

17:1 Jesus spoke these things, and, lifting His eyes to heaven, said, “Father, the hour has come. Glorify Thy Son, so that the Son may glorify Thee, 17:2 just as Thou gavest Him authority over all flesh, so that He may give eternal life to them—to all that Thou hast given Him.

17:3 And this is eternal life: that they know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou didst send.

17:4 I glorified Thee on the earth, having completed the work that Thou hast given Me to do.

17:5 And now, Father, glorify Me with Thyself, with the glory that I had with Thee before the world existed.

17:6 “I revealed Thy name to the people whom Thou gavest Me out of the world. They were Thine, and Thou gavest them to Me, and they have kept Thy word.

17:7 Now they have known that everything Thou hast given Me is from Thee,

17:8 because the words that Thou gavest Me I have given them; and they received them and truly knew that I came forth from Thee, and believed that Thou didst send Me.

17:9 I ask concerning them. I do not ask concerning the world, but concerning those whom Thou hast given Me, because they are Thine;

17:10 and all that is Mine is Thine, and what is Thine is Mine, and I have been glorified in them.

17:11 And I am no longer in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to Thee. Holy Father, keep them in Thy name, which Thou hast given Me, so that they may be one just as We are.

17:12 When I was with them, I kept them in Thy name, which Thou hast given Me, and guarded them; and not one of them perished except the son of destruction, so that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

17:13 But now I am coming to Thee, and I speak these things in the world so that they may have My joy made full within themselves.

17:14 I have given them Thy word, and the world hated them, because they are not from the world, just as I am not from the world.

17:15 I do not ask that Thou take them out of the world, but that Thou keep them from the evil one.

17:16 They are not from the world, just as I am not from the world.

17:17 Sanctify them in the truth; Thy word is truth.

17:18 Just as Thou didst send Me into the world, I also sent them into the world;

17:19 and for their sake I sanctify Myself, so that they also may be sanctified in truth.

17:20 "And I ask not only concerning these, but also concerning those who believe in Me through their word,

17:21 so that they may all be one, just as Thou, Father, art in Me and I in Thee, so that they also may be in Us, so that the world may believe that Thou didst send Me.

17:22 And the glory that Thou hast given Me I have given them, so that they may be one just as We are one:

17:23 I in them and Thou in Me, so that they may be made completely one, so that the world may know that Thou didst send Me and didst love them just as Thou didst love Me.

17:24 Father, as for what Thou hast given Me, I desire that they too may be with Me where I am, so that they may behold My glory, which Thou hast given Me, because Thou didst love Me before the foundation of the world.

17:25 Righteous Father, although the world did not know Thee, I knew Thee, and these knew that Thou didst send Me;

17:26 and I made Thy name known to them, and will make it known, so that the love with which Thou didst love Me may be in them, and I in them."

John 18

18:1 Having said these things, Jesus went out with His disciples beyond the winter-stream Kidron, where there was a garden, into which He and His disciples entered.

18:2 Now Judas, who was handing Him over, also knew the place, because Jesus had often gathered there with His disciples.

18:3 So Judas, taking the cohort and officers from the chief priests and from the Pharisees, comes there with lanterns and torches and weapons.

18:4 Then Jesus, knowing everything that was coming upon Him, went out and says to them, "Whom do you seek?"

18:5 They answered Him, "Jesus the Nazarene." He says to them, "I am." Now Judas, who was handing Him over, was also standing with them.

18:6 So when He said to them, "I am," they went backward and fell to the ground.

18:7 Then He asked them again, "Whom do you seek?" And they said, "Jesus the Nazarene."

18:8 Jesus answered, "I told you that I am. So if you seek Me, let these go away,"

18:9 so that the word that He spoke might be fulfilled: "Of those whom Thou hast given Me, I lost not one."

18:10 Then Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it and struck the high priest's slave and cut off his right ear. The slave's name was Malchus.

18:11 So Jesus said to Peter, "Put the sword into the sheath. The cup that the Father has given Me—shall I not drink it?"

18:12 Then the cohort and the commander and the officers of the Jews arrested Jesus and bound Him,

18:13 and led Him first to Annas, for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was high priest that year.

18:14 Now Caiaphas was the one who advised the Jews that it was better for them for one person to die for the people.

18:15 And Simon Peter and another disciple were following Jesus. That disciple was known to the high priest, and entered with Jesus into the high priest's courtyard;

18:16 but Peter was standing outside at the door. So the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to the woman keeping the door, and brought Peter in.

18:17 Then the slave girl keeping the door says to Peter, "You are not also one of this Man's disciples, are you?" He says, "I am not."

18:18 Now the slaves and the officers were standing there, having made a charcoal fire because it was cold, and they were warming themselves. Peter too was with them, standing and warming himself.

18:19 Then the high priest questioned Jesus about His disciples and about His teaching.

18:20 Jesus answered him, “I have spoken openly to the world. I always taught in a synagogue and in the temple, where all the Jews gather, and I spoke nothing in secret.

18:21 Why do you question Me? Question those who have heard what I spoke to them. See, these know what I said.”

18:22 When He said these things, one of the officers standing nearby gave Jesus a slap, saying, “Is this how Thou answerest the high priest?”

18:23 Jesus answered him, “If I spoke wrongly, bear witness about the wrong; but if rightly, why do you beat Me?”

18:24 So Annas sent Him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.

18:25 Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. So they said to him, “You are not also one of His disciples, are you?” He denied it and said, “I am not.”

18:26 One of the high priest’s slaves, a relative of the man whose ear Peter had cut off, says, “Did I not see you in the garden with Him?”

18:27 Then Peter denied it again, and immediately a rooster crowed.

18:28 Then they lead Jesus from Caiaphas into the praetorium. It was early morning, and they themselves did not enter the praetorium, so that they might not be defiled, but might eat the Passover.

18:29 So Pilate went outside to them and says, “What accusation do you bring against this Man?”

18:30 They answered and said to him, “If this Man were not doing evil, we would not have handed Him over to you.”

18:31 Then Pilate said to them, “Take Him yourselves, and judge Him according to your law.” The Jews said to him, “It is not lawful for us to put anyone to death,”

18:32 so that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which He spoke to indicate by what kind of death He was going to die.

18:33 Then Pilate entered the praetorium again, called Jesus, and said to Him, “Art Thou the King of the Jews?”

18:34 Jesus answered, “Do you say this from yourself, or did others tell you about Me?”

18:35 Pilate answered, “I am not a Jew, am I? Thy own nation and the chief priests handed Thee over to me. What hast Thou done?”

18:36 Jesus answered, “My kingdom is not from this world. If My kingdom were from this world, My attendants would be fighting so that I would not be handed over to the Jews. But as it is, My kingdom is not from here.”

18:37 Then Pilate said to Him, “So then, Thou art a king?” Jesus answered, “You say that I am a king. For this I have been born, and for this I have come into the world: to bear witness to the truth. Everyone who is from the truth hears My voice.”

18:38 Pilate says to Him, “What is truth?” And having said this, he went out again to the Jews, and says to them, “I find no charge against Him.

18:39 But you have a custom that I release one person to you at the Passover. So do you wish me to release to you the King of the Jews?”

18:40 Then they cried out again, saying, “Not this Man, but Barabbas!” Now Barabbas was a bandit.

John 19

19:1 Then Pilate took Jesus and had Him scourged.

19:2 And the soldiers, weaving a crown from thorns, put it on His head and clothed Him in a purple garment;

19:3 and they kept coming to Him and saying, “Hail, King of the Jews!” And they gave Him slaps.

19:4 And Pilate went outside again and says to them, “See, I am bringing Him outside to you so that you may know that I find no charge against Him.”

19:5 Then Jesus came outside, wearing the thorny crown and the purple garment. And he says to them, “Behold the Man!”

19:6 So when the chief priests and the officers saw Him, they cried out, saying, “Crucify! Crucify!” Pilate says to them, “Take Him yourselves and crucify Him, for I find no charge against Him.”

19:7 The Jews answered him, “We have a law, and according to the law He ought to die, because He made Himself Son of God.”

19:8 So when Pilate heard this word, he was more afraid,

19:9 and entered the praetorium again and says to Jesus, “Where art Thou from?” But Jesus gave him no answer.

19:10 Then Pilate says to Him, “Dost Thou not speak to me? Dost Thou not know that I have authority to release Thee, and I have authority to crucify Thee?”

19:11 Jesus answered him, “You would have no authority against Me unless it had been given you from above. For this reason the one who handed Me over to you has greater sin.”

19:12 From this Pilate sought to release Him; but the Jews cried out, saying, “If you release this Man, you are not Caesar’s friend. Everyone who makes himself a king speaks against Caesar.”

19:13 So Pilate, hearing these words, brought Jesus outside and sat on the judgment seat at a place called Stone Pavement, and in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

19:14 Now it was the Preparation of the Passover; it was about the sixth hour. And he says to the Jews, “Behold your King!”

19:15 Then they cried out, “Take Him away! Take Him away! Crucify Him!” Pilate says to them, “Shall I crucify your King?” The chief priests answered, “We have no king except Caesar.”

19:16 Then he handed Him over to them to be crucified. So they took Jesus;

19:17 and, bearing the cross for Himself, He went out to what is called the Place of a Skull, which in Hebrew is called Golgotha,

19:18 where they crucified Him, and with Him two others, one on either side, and Jesus in the middle.

19:19 And Pilate also wrote an inscription and put it on the cross. It was written: “Jesus the Nazarene, the King of the Jews.”

19:20 Then many of the Jews read this inscription, because the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, in Latin, in Greek.

19:21 So the chief priests of the Jews were saying to Pilate, “Do not write, ‘The King of the Jews,’ but that He said, ‘I am King of the Jews.’”

19:22 Pilate answered, “What I have written, I have written.”

19:23 Then the soldiers, when they crucified Jesus, took His garments and made four parts, a part for each soldier, and also took the tunic. Now the tunic was seamless, woven from the top throughout.

19:24 So they said to one another, “Let us not tear it, but cast lots for it, to decide whose it will be,” so that the Scripture might be fulfilled which says, “They divided My garments among themselves, and for My clothing they cast a lot.” So the soldiers did these things.

19:25 But standing beside Jesus’ cross were His mother and His mother’s sister, Mary of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene.

19:26 Then Jesus, seeing His mother and the disciple whom He loved standing nearby, says to His mother, “Woman, behold your son.”

19:27 Then He says to the disciple, “Behold your mother.” And from that hour the disciple took her into his own home.

19:28 After this, Jesus, knowing that all things had already been completed, says, so that the Scripture might be brought to completion, “I thirst.”

19:29 A vessel full of sour wine was standing there. So, putting a sponge full of the sour wine on hyssop, they brought it to His mouth.

19:30 When therefore Jesus had received the sour wine, He said, “It is finished.” And bowing His head, He gave up His spirit.

19:31 Then, because it was Preparation, the Jews asked Pilate to have their legs broken and their bodies taken away, so that the bodies would not remain on the cross on the Sabbath—for that Sabbath was a great day.

19:32 So the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first man and of the other who was crucified with Him;

19:33 but when they came to Jesus, as they saw that He was already dead, they did not break His legs.

19:34 But one of the soldiers pierced His side with a spear, and immediately blood and water came out.

19:35 And the one who has seen has borne witness, and his testimony is true; and he knows that he speaks the truth, so that you also may believe.

19:36 For these things happened so that the Scripture might be fulfilled: “A bone of His will not be broken.”

19:37 And again another Scripture says, “They will look on the One whom they pierced.”

19:38 And after these things Joseph from Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus but secretly because of fear of the Jews, asked Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus; and Pilate permitted it. So he came and took away His body.

19:39 And Nicodemus also came, the one who had first come to Him by night, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred litrai.

19:40 So they took the body of Jesus and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as is the Jews’ custom for burial.

19:41 Now in the place where He was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a new tomb, in which no one had yet been laid.

19:42 So there, because of the Jews’ Preparation, since the tomb was nearby, they laid Jesus.

John 20

20:1 Now on the first day of the week Mary Magdalene comes early to the tomb, while it is still dark, and sees the stone taken away from the tomb.

20:2 So she runs and comes to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and says to them, “They took the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they laid Him.”

20:3 Then Peter and the other disciple went out, and they were coming to the tomb.

20:4 The two were running together, and the other disciple ran ahead faster than Peter and came to the tomb first;

20:5 and, stooping to look in, he sees the linen cloths lying there; yet he did not enter.

20:6 Then Simon Peter also comes, following him, and entered the tomb; and he beholds the linen cloths lying there, 20:7 and the face cloth that had been on His head, not lying with the linen cloths, but wrapped up separately in one place.

20:8 Then the other disciple who had come to the tomb first also entered, and he saw and believed;

20:9 for they did not yet know the Scripture, that He must rise from the dead.

20:10 Then the disciples went back to their own place.

20:11 But Mary was standing outside beside the tomb, weeping. So, as she wept, she stooped to look into the tomb,

20:12 and beholds two angels in white, sitting one at the head and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

20:13 And they say to her, “Woman, why do you weep?” She says to them, “They took my Lord, and I do not know where they laid Him.”

20:14 Having said these things, she turned backward and beholds Jesus standing there, and did not know that it was Jesus.

20:15 Jesus says to her, “Woman, why do you weep? Whom do you seek?” She, supposing that He is the gardener, says to Him, “Sir, if Thou didst carry Him away, tell me where Thou didst lay Him, and I will take Him away.”

20:16 Jesus says to her, “Mary.” Turning, she says to Him in Hebrew, “Rabbouni!”—which means Teacher.

20:17 Jesus says to her, “Do not cling to Me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father. But go to My brothers and tell them, ‘I am ascending to My Father and your Father, and My God and your God.’”

20:18 Mary Magdalene comes, announcing to the disciples, “I have seen the Lord,” and that He said these things to her.

20:19 Then, when it was evening on that day, the first day of the week, and the doors were shut where the disciples were, because of fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and says to them, “Peace to you.”

20:20 And having said this, He showed them His hands and His side. Then the disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord.

20:21 Then Jesus said to them again, “Peace to you. Just as the Father has sent Me, I also send you.”

20:22 And having said this, He breathed and says to them, “Receive the Holy Spirit.

20:23 If you forgive the sins of any, they have been forgiven them; if you retain those of any, they have been retained.”

20:24 But Thomas, one of the Twelve, who was called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

20:25 So the other disciples were saying to him, “We have seen the Lord.” But he said to them, “Unless I see in His hands the mark of the nails and put my finger into the mark of the nails and put my hand into His side, I certainly will not believe.”

20:26 And after eight days His disciples were inside again, and Thomas with them. Jesus comes, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst and said, “Peace to you.”

20:27 Then He says to Thomas, “Bring your finger here and see My hands, and bring your hand and put it into My side; and do not become unbelieving, but believing.”

20:28 Thomas answered and said to Him, “My Lord and my God!”

Note †: John 20:28 · wording and sourceMeaning: Keep both repeated my possessives and the explicit said to Him. Do not detach the exclamation from its stated addressee or turn the two nouns into a single vague title.NA28 chapter · Return to verse

20:29 Jesus says to him, “Because you have seen Me, have you believed? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.”

20:30 Now Jesus also did many other signs before His disciples, which are not written in this book;

20:31 but these have been written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and so that, believing, you may have life in His name.

John 21

21:1 After these things Jesus revealed Himself again to the disciples at the Sea of Tiberias, and He revealed Himself in this way.

21:2 Simon Peter and Thomas, who was called Didymus, and Nathanael from Cana of Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of His disciples were together.

21:3 Simon Peter says to them, “I am going fishing.” They say to him, “We also are coming with you.” They went out and got into the boat, and during that night they caught nothing.

21:4 But when morning had already come, Jesus stood on the shore; yet the disciples did not know that it was Jesus.

21:5 Then Jesus says to them, “Children, you do not have any fish to eat, do you?” They answered Him, “No.”

21:6 And He said to them, “Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some.” So they cast it, and were no longer strong enough to draw it in because of the multitude of fish.

21:7 Then that disciple whom Jesus loved says to Peter, “It is the Lord.” So Simon Peter, hearing that it is the Lord, tied his outer garment around himself—for he was naked—and threw himself into the sea.

21:8 But the other disciples came in the little boat, dragging the net of fish, for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits away.

21:9 So when they got out onto the land, they see a charcoal fire laid there, and fish lying on it, and bread.

21:10 Jesus says to them, “Bring some of the fish that you have just caught.”

21:11 So Simon Peter went up and drew the net onto the land, full of large fish, a hundred and fifty-three; and though there were so many, the net was not torn.

21:12 Jesus says to them, “Come, have breakfast.” But none of the disciples dared to question Him, “Who art Thou?” knowing that it was the Lord.

21:13 Jesus comes and takes the bread and gives it to them, and the fish likewise.

21:14 This was now the third time Jesus was revealed to the disciples after being raised from the dead.

21:15 So when they had eaten breakfast, Jesus says to Simon Peter, “Simon, son of John, do you love Me more than these?” He says to Him, “Yes, Lord, Thou knowest that I love Thee.” He says to him, “Feed My lambs.”

21:16 He says to him again a second time, “Simon, son of John, do you love Me?” He says to Him, “Yes, Lord, Thou knowest that I love Thee.” He says to him, “Shepherd My sheep.”

21:17 He says to him the third time, “Simon, son of John, do you love Me?” Peter was grieved because He said to him the third time, “Do you love Me?” And he said to Him, “Lord, Thou knowest all things; Thou knowest that I love Thee.” Jesus says to him, “Feed My sheep.

21:18 Amen, amen, I say to you: when you were younger, you tied your belt around yourself and walked where you wished; but when you grow old, you will stretch out your hands, and another will tie your belt around you and carry you where you do not wish.”

21:19 Now He said this to indicate by what kind of death he would glorify God. And having said this, He says to him, “Follow Me.”

21:20 Turning, Peter sees the disciple whom Jesus loved following, the one who also leaned back at the supper upon His chest and said, “Lord, who is the one handing Thee over?”

21:21 So Peter, seeing him, says to Jesus, “Lord, and what about this man?”

21:22 Jesus says to him, “If I wish him to remain until I come, what is that to you? You follow Me.”

21:23 So this word went out among the brothers, that this disciple does not die. But Jesus did not say to him that he does not die, but, “If I wish him to remain until I come, what is that to you?”

21:24 This is the disciple who bears witness about these things and who wrote these things; and we know that his testimony is true.

21:25 And there are also many other things that Jesus did, which, if each one were written, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books being written.

Acts

Acts 1

1:1 In my first account, Theophilus, I wrote about all that Jesus began both to do and to teach

1:2 until the day when, after giving instructions through the Holy Spirit to the apostles whom He had chosen, He was taken up.

1:3 To them He also presented Himself alive after His suffering, with many proofs, appearing to them over forty days and speaking about the kingdom of God.

1:4 While gathered with them, He ordered them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait for the Father's promise, "which," He said, "you heard from Me;

1:5 for John baptized with water, but you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit not many days from now."

1:6 So those who had come together asked Him, "Lord, is this the time when Thou art restoring the kingdom to Israel?"

1:7 He said to them, "It is not for you to know times or seasons that the Father has set by His own authority.

1:8 But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be My witnesses in Jerusalem and [in] all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth."

1:9 After saying these things, He was lifted up as they watched, and a cloud took Him from their sight.

1:10 As they were gazing into heaven while He went, look—two men stood beside them in white garments.

1:11 They said, "Men of Galilee, why do you stand looking into heaven? This Jesus, who was taken up from you into heaven, will come in the same way as you saw Him go into heaven."

1:12 Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mountain called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath's journey away.

1:13 When they entered, they went up to the upper room where they were staying: Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James son of Alphaeus, Simon the Zealot, and Judas son of James.

1:14 All these devoted themselves with one accord to prayer, together with women, Mary the mother of Jesus, and His brothers.

1:15 In those days Peter stood up among the brothers and said—about a hundred and twenty people were gathered together—

1:16 "Men, brothers, the Scripture had to be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke beforehand through David's mouth concerning Judas, who became a guide to those who arrested Jesus;

1:17 for he was counted among us and received his allotted share in this ministry."

1:18 Now this man acquired a field from the wages of wrongdoing, and falling headlong, he burst open in the middle, and all his entrails poured out.

1:19 This became known to all who lived in Jerusalem, so that the field was called in their own language Hakeldamach—that is, Field of Blood.

1:20 "For it is written in the book of Psalms: 'Let his dwelling become deserted, and let there be no one living in it,' and, 'Let another take his office of oversight.'

1:21 Therefore, of the men who accompanied us throughout the time when the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

1:22 beginning with John's baptism until the day when He was taken up from us, one of these must become with us a witness of His resurrection."

1:23 They put forward two: Joseph called Barsabbas, who was also named Justus, and Matthias.

1:24 They prayed and said, "Thou, Lord, who knowest everyone's heart, show which one of these two Thou hast chosen

1:25 to take the place in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas turned aside to go to his own place."

1:26 They cast lots for them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was counted with the eleven apostles.

Acts 2

2:1 When the day of Pentecost arrived, they were all together in the same place.

2:2 Suddenly a sound came from heaven like a violent wind rushing along, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.

2:3 Tongues like fire appeared to them, separating and settling on each one of them.

2:4 They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

2:5 Now there were Jews living in Jerusalem, devout men from every nation under heaven.

2:6 When this sound occurred, the crowd came together and was bewildered, because each one heard them speaking in his own language.

2:7 They were astonished and amazed, saying, “Look, are not all these people who are speaking Galileans?

2:8 How is it, then, that each of us hears in our own native language?

2:9 Parthians, Medes, and Elamites; those living in Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

2:10 Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya around Cyrene; visitors from Rome,

2:11 both Jews and converts; Cretans and Arabs—we hear them speaking in our own tongues about the mighty deeds of God.”

2:12 They were all astonished and perplexed, saying to one another, “What does this mean?”

2:13 But others mocked them and said, “They are full of sweet wine.”

2:14 Peter stood with the eleven, raised his voice, and addressed them: “Men of Judea and all who live in Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and listen closely to my words.

2:15 These people are not drunk, as you suppose, for it is the third hour of the day.

2:16 Rather, this is what was spoken through the prophet Joel:

2:17 ‘And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, that I will pour out of My Spirit upon all flesh. Your sons and your daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, and your elders will dream dreams.

2:18 Even upon My male slaves and My female slaves in those days I will pour out of My Spirit, and they will prophesy.

2:19 And I will give wonders in heaven above and signs on the earth below: blood and fire and a vapor of smoke.

2:20 The sun will be changed into darkness and the moon into blood before the great and manifest day of the Lord comes.

2:21 And it shall come to pass that everyone who calls upon the name of the Lord will be saved.’

2:22 Men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus the Nazarene was a man attested to you by God through mighty works, wonders, and signs that God did through Him in your midst, as you yourselves know.

2:23 This man, handed over according to God’s determined purpose and foreknowledge, you nailed up and killed through the hands of lawless men.

2:24 God raised Him, releasing Him from the pangs of death, because it was impossible for Him to be held by it.

2:25 For David says concerning Him, ‘I saw the Lord ever before me, for He is at my right hand, that I may not be shaken.

2:26 Therefore my heart rejoiced, and my tongue exulted; indeed, even my flesh will dwell in hope,

2:27 for Thou wilt not abandon my soul to Hades, nor let Thy Holy One see decay.

2:28 Thou hast made known to me the paths of life; Thou wilt fill me with gladness in Thy presence.’

2:29 Men, brothers, I may speak openly to you about the patriarch David: he both died and was buried, and his tomb is among us to this day.

2:30 Since he was a prophet and knew that God had sworn an oath to him to seat one from the fruit of his loins upon his throne,

2:31 he foresaw and spoke about the resurrection of the Christ: He was neither abandoned to Hades, nor did His flesh see decay.

2:32 God raised this Jesus, and all of us are witnesses of it.

2:33 Therefore, exalted to God’s right hand and having received from the Father the promised Holy Spirit, He has poured out what you both see and hear.

2:34 For David did not ascend into the heavens, but he himself says, ‘The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit at My right hand

2:35 until I make Thy enemies a footstool for Thy feet.”’

2:36 Therefore let the whole house of Israel know with certainty that God has made Him both Lord and Christ—this Jesus whom you crucified.”

2:37 When they heard this, they were pierced to the heart and said to Peter and the other apostles, “Men, brothers, what should we do?”

2:38 Peter said to them, “Repent, and let each one of you be baptized upon the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.

2:39 For the promise is for you, for your children, and for all who are far away—as many as the Lord our God calls to Himself.”

2:40 With many other words he bore solemn witness and urged them, saying, “Be saved from this crooked generation.”

2:41 So those who welcomed his word were baptized, and about three thousand persons were added that day.

2:42 They devoted themselves to the apostles’ teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to the prayers.

2:43 Awe came upon everyone, and many wonders and signs took place through the apostles.

2:44 All who believed were together and held everything in common.

2:45 They would sell their properties and possessions and distribute the proceeds to all, as anyone had need.

2:46 Day by day they devoted themselves with one accord to gathering in the temple, and breaking bread in their homes, they shared food with gladness and simplicity of heart,

2:47 praising God and enjoying favor with all the people. And day by day the Lord added those who were being saved to their gathering.

Acts 3

3:1 Peter and John were going up to the temple at the ninth hour, the hour of prayer.

3:2 A man unable to walk from his mother's womb was being carried there. They used to place him each day at the temple gate called Beautiful, to ask for alms from those entering the temple.

3:3 When he saw Peter and John about to enter the temple, he asked to receive alms.

3:4 Peter, together with John, looked intently at him and said, "Look at us."

3:5 He paid attention to them, expecting to receive something from them.

3:6 But Peter said, "Silver and gold I do not have, but what I have I give you: in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, get up and walk."

3:7 Taking him by the right hand, he raised him up. At once his feet and ankles were strengthened.

3:8 Leaping up, he stood and began walking. He entered the temple with them, walking and leaping and praising God.

3:9 All the people saw him walking and praising God.

3:10 They recognized him as the one who used to sit for alms at the temple's Beautiful Gate, and they were filled with wonder and astonishment at what had happened to him.

3:11 As he held on to Peter and John, all the people ran together to them at the portico called Solomon's, utterly astonished.

3:12 When Peter saw this, he addressed the people: "Men of Israel, why do you marvel at this, or why do you stare at us as though we had made him walk by our own power or godliness?

3:13 The God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified His Servant Jesus, whom you handed over and denied before Pilate, when he had decided to release Him.

3:14 But you denied the Holy and Righteous One and asked for a murderer to be granted to you.

3:15 You killed the Author of life, whom God raised from the dead; we are witnesses of this.

3:16 Through faith in His name, His name has strengthened this man whom you see and know; and the faith that is through Him has given him this complete health before all of you.

3:17 And now, brothers, I know that you acted in ignorance, as did your rulers.

3:18 But what God announced beforehand through the mouth of all the prophets—that His Christ would suffer—He has fulfilled in this way.

3:19 Repent, therefore, and turn back, so that your sins may be wiped away,

3:20 so that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and He may send the Christ appointed for you, Jesus,

3:21 whom heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things of which God spoke through the mouth of His holy prophets from long ago.

3:22 Moses said, 'The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your brothers. You shall listen to him in everything he says to you.

3:23 Every person who does not listen to that prophet will be destroyed from among the people.'

3:24 And all the prophets, from Samuel and those who followed—as many as spoke—also announced these days.

3:25 You are sons of the prophets and of the covenant God made with your fathers, saying to Abraham, 'In your seed all the families of the earth will be blessed.'

3:26 God raised up His Servant and sent Him first to you, to bless you by turning each of you away from your wicked deeds."

Acts 4

4:1 While they were speaking to the people, the priests, the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them,

4:2 greatly troubled because they were teaching the people and proclaiming in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

4:3 They laid hands on them and placed them in custody until the next day, for it was already evening.

4:4 But many of those who heard the word believed, and the number of the men came to about five thousand.

4:5 The next day their rulers, elders, and scribes gathered in Jerusalem,

4:6 together with Annas the high priest, Caiaphas, John, Alexander, and all who belonged to the high-priestly family.

4:7 They made them stand in their midst and asked, “By what power or by what name did you do this?”

4:8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, “Rulers of the people and elders,

4:9 if we are being examined today concerning a good deed done to a disabled man, and by what means he has been made well,

4:10 let it be known to all of you and to all the people of Israel that in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead—in Him this man stands before you in good health.

4:11 He is the stone despised by you, the builders, which has become the cornerstone.

4:12 Salvation is in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among human beings by which we must be saved.”

4:13 When they observed Peter’s and John’s boldness and realized that they were unlettered, ordinary men, they were amazed. They also recognized that they had been with Jesus.

4:14 Seeing the man who had been healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

4:15 They ordered them to leave the council and conferred with one another,

4:16 saying, “What should we do with these men? That a notable sign has taken place through them is evident to everyone living in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.

4:17 But so that it spreads no further among the people, let us warn them with threats not to speak to anyone in this name again.”

4:18 They called them in and ordered them neither to speak nor to teach at all in the name of Jesus.

4:19 Peter and John answered them, “Judge whether it is right before God to listen to you rather than to God;

4:20 for we cannot keep from speaking about what we have seen and heard.”

4:21 After further threats, they released them, finding no way to punish them because of the people, since everyone was glorifying God for what had happened.

4:22 For the man in whom this sign of healing had occurred was more than forty years old.

4:23 After their release, they went to their own people and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said to them.

4:24 On hearing it, they lifted their voice together to God and said, “Master, Thou art the One who made heaven and earth and the sea and everything in them,

4:25 who through the Holy Spirit, by the mouth of our father David, Thy servant, said, ‘Why did nations rage and peoples devise empty things?

4:26 The kings of the earth took their stand, and the rulers gathered together against the Lord and against His Christ.’

4:27 For truly, in this city, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel, gathered against Thy holy Servant Jesus, whom Thou didst anoint,

4:28 to do whatever Thy hand and Thy purpose had determined beforehand should happen.

4:29 And now, Lord, look upon their threats, and grant Thy servants to speak Thy word with all boldness,

4:30 while Thou stretchest out Thy hand for healing, and signs and wonders take place through the name of Thy holy Servant Jesus.”

4:31 When they had prayed, the place where they were gathered was shaken. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke God’s word with boldness.

4:32 The multitude of those who believed was of one heart and soul. Not one of them claimed that anything he possessed was his own, but they held everything in common.

4:33 With great power the apostles gave their testimony to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all.

4:34 For there was not a needy person among them: all who owned lands or houses would sell them and bring the proceeds of what was sold,

4:35 laying them at the apostles’ feet; distribution was made to each as anyone had need.

4:36 Joseph, whom the apostles called Barnabas—which means Son of Encouragement—a Levite and a native of Cyprus,

4:37 sold a field he owned, brought the money, and laid it at the apostles’ feet.

Acts 5

5:1 A man named Ananias, together with his wife Sapphira, sold a property.

5:2 He secretly kept back part of the price, with his wife also knowing about it, and brought a portion and laid it at the apostles' feet.

5:3 Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart, so that you lied to the Holy Spirit and secretly kept back part of the price of the land?

5:4 While it remained unsold, did it not remain yours? And after it was sold, was it not under your authority? Why have you put this deed in your heart? You have not lied to human beings but to God."

5:5 When Ananias heard these words, he fell down and breathed his last. Great fear came upon all who heard.

5:6 The younger men rose, wrapped him up, carried him out, and buried him.

5:7 About three hours later, his wife came in, not knowing what had happened.

5:8 Peter said to her, "Tell me, did you sell the land for this amount?" She said, "Yes, for that amount."

5:9 Peter said to her, "Why did you both agree to test the Spirit of the Lord? Look, the feet of those who buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out."

5:10 At once she fell at his feet and breathed her last. When the young men came in, they found her dead; they carried her out and buried her beside her husband.

5:11 Great fear came upon the whole Church and upon all who heard these things.

5:12 Many signs and wonders were taking place among the people through the apostles' hands. They were all together with one accord in Solomon's Portico.

5:13 None of the rest dared to join them, but the people held them in high esteem.

5:14 More and more believers were added to the Lord, multitudes of both men and women,

5:15 so that they even carried the sick into the streets and laid them on small beds and mats, so that as Peter came by, at least his shadow might fall upon one of them.

5:16 The crowd also came together from the towns around Jerusalem, bringing the sick and those troubled by unclean spirits, and they were all healed.

5:17 The high priest and all who were with him—the party of the Sadducees—rose up, filled with jealousy.

5:18 They laid hands on the apostles and placed them in the public prison.

5:19 But during the night an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors, led them out, and said,

5:20 "Go, stand in the temple, and speak to the people all the words of this life."

5:21 When they heard this, they entered the temple at daybreak and began teaching. The high priest and those with him arrived, called together the council and the whole assembly of elders of the sons of Israel, and sent to the jail to have them brought in.

5:22 But when the officers arrived, they did not find them in the prison. They returned and reported,

5:23 "We found the jail securely locked and the guards standing at the doors, but when we opened it, we found no one inside."

5:24 When the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were perplexed about them, wondering what this would come to.

5:25 Then someone came and reported to them, "Look, the men you put in prison are standing in the temple and teaching the people."

5:26 The captain then went with the officers and brought them, without force, for they feared the people might stone them.

5:27 They brought them and made them stand before the council. The high priest questioned them,

5:28 saying, "Did we not strictly command you not to teach in this name? Yet look—you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching and intend to bring this man's blood upon us."

5:29 Peter and the apostles answered, "We must obey God rather than human beings.

5:30 The God of our fathers raised Jesus, whom you killed by hanging Him on a tree.

5:31 God exalted Him to His right hand as Leader and Savior, to grant repentance to Israel and forgiveness of sins.

5:32 We are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey Him."

5:33 When they heard this, they were enraged and wanted to kill them.

5:34 But a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a teacher of the law honored by all the people, stood in the council and ordered the men to be taken outside briefly.

5:35 He said to them, "Men of Israel, take care what you are about to do to these men.

5:36 For before these days Theudas arose, claiming to be somebody, and about four hundred men joined him. He was killed, and all who followed him were dispersed and came to nothing.

5:37 After him Judas the Galilean arose in the days of the registration and drew people away after him. He too perished, and all who followed him were scattered.

5:38 And now I tell you, keep away from these men and leave them alone. For if this plan or this work is of human origin, it will be overthrown;

5:39 but if it is from God, you will not be able to overthrow them. You might even be found fighting against God." They were persuaded by him.

5:40 They summoned the apostles, beat them, ordered them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and released them.

5:41 So they left the council rejoicing that they had been counted worthy to suffer dishonor for the Name.

5:42 Every day, in the temple and in their homes, they never ceased teaching and proclaiming the good news of Jesus the Christ.

Acts 6

6:1 In those days, as the disciples increased in number, a complaint arose from the Hellenists against the Hebrews, because their widows were being overlooked in the daily service.

6:2 The twelve called the multitude of the disciples together and said, "It is not fitting for us to leave the word of God to serve tables.

6:3 So, brothers, select from among you seven men of good reputation, full of the Spirit and wisdom, whom we will put in charge of this task.

6:4 But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the service of the word."

6:5 The proposal pleased the whole multitude. They chose Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit, Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus, a convert from Antioch.

6:6 They presented them before the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands upon them.

6:7 The word of God grew, and the number of disciples in Jerusalem increased greatly. A large number of the priests also became obedient to the faith.

6:8 Stephen, full of grace and power, was doing great wonders and signs among the people.

6:9 But some from the synagogue called the Freedmen's, including Cyrenians and Alexandrians and people from Cilicia and Asia, rose up and disputed with Stephen.

6:10 They could not withstand the wisdom and the Spirit with which he spoke.

6:11 Then they secretly persuaded men to say, "We have heard him speaking blasphemous words against Moses and God."

6:12 They stirred up the people, the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, seized him, and brought him to the council.

6:13 They set up false witnesses who said, "This man never stops speaking words against this holy place and the law.

6:14 For we have heard him say that this Jesus the Nazarene will destroy this place and change the customs Moses handed down to us."

6:15 All who were seated in the council looked intently at him and saw his face like the face of an angel.

Acts 7

7:1 The high priest said, "Are these things true?"

7:2 He answered, "Men, brothers and fathers, listen. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham while he was in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran,

7:3 and said to him, 'Leave your land and your relatives, and come to the land I will show you.'

7:4 Then he left the land of the Chaldeans and lived in Haran. From there, after his father died, God moved him to this land in which you now live.

7:5 He gave him no inheritance in it, not even a footstep's space, but promised to give it to him as a possession and to his seed after him, although he had no child.

7:6 God spoke in this way: his seed would live as strangers in a foreign land, and they would enslave and mistreat them for four hundred years.

7:7 'But I will judge the nation they serve as slaves,' God said, 'and after these things they will come out and worship Me in this place.'

7:8 He gave him the covenant of circumcision. Thus Abraham fathered Isaac and circumcised him on the eighth day; Isaac fathered Jacob, and Jacob the twelve patriarchs.

7:9 The patriarchs, jealous of Joseph, sold him into Egypt. But God was with him,

7:10 rescued him from all his afflictions, and gave him favor and wisdom before Pharaoh, king of Egypt, who appointed him ruler over Egypt and his whole household.

7:11 Famine came upon all Egypt and Canaan, with great affliction, and our fathers could find no provisions.

7:12 When Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent our fathers there the first time.

7:13 On the second visit Joseph made himself known to his brothers, and Joseph's family became known to Pharaoh.

7:14 Joseph sent and summoned his father Jacob and all his relatives, seventy-five persons in all.

7:15 Jacob went down to Egypt, and he and our fathers died.

7:16 They were brought over to Shechem and placed in the tomb Abraham had bought for a price in silver from the sons of Hamor in Shechem.

7:17 As the time of the promise God had declared to Abraham drew near, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt,

7:18 until another king arose over Egypt, who did not know Joseph.

7:19 He dealt craftily with our people and mistreated our fathers, forcing them to expose their infants so that they would not be kept alive.

7:20 At that time Moses was born, and he was beautiful before God. He was brought up for three months in his father's house.

7:21 When he was exposed, Pharaoh's daughter took him up and brought him up as her own son.

7:22 Moses was educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians and was powerful in his words and deeds.

7:23 When he reached the age of forty, it came into his heart to visit his brothers, the sons of Israel.

7:24 Seeing one of them being wronged, he defended him and avenged the oppressed man by striking down the Egyptian.

7:25 He supposed his brothers understood that God was giving them deliverance through his hand, but they did not understand.

7:26 The next day he came upon them as they were fighting and tried to reconcile them in peace, saying, 'Men, you are brothers. Why are you wronging one another?'

7:27 But the one wronging his neighbor pushed him away and said, 'Who appointed you ruler and judge over us?

7:28 Do you want to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?'

7:29 At this saying Moses fled and became a stranger in the land of Midian, where he fathered two sons.

7:30 When forty years had passed, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of Mount Sinai, in the flame of a burning bush.

7:31 When Moses saw it, he marveled at the sight. As he approached to examine it, the Lord's voice came:

7:32 'I am the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob.' Moses trembled and did not dare to look closely.

7:33 The Lord said to him, 'Remove the sandals from your feet, for the place on which you stand is holy ground.

7:34 I have indeed seen the mistreatment of My people in Egypt and heard their groaning, and I have come down to rescue them. Now come, let Me send you to Egypt.'

7:35 This Moses, whom they denied, saying, 'Who appointed you ruler and judge?'—God has sent this very man as both ruler and redeemer, through the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush.

7:36 He led them out, doing wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness for forty years.

7:37 This is the Moses who said to the sons of Israel, 'God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your brothers.'

7:38 He is the one who was in the assembly in the wilderness with the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai and with our fathers. He received living oracles to give to us,

7:39 but our fathers were unwilling to obey him. They pushed him away and turned in their hearts toward Egypt,

7:40 saying to Aaron, 'Make us gods who will go before us. As for this Moses who led us out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him.'

7:41 They made a calf in those days, offered sacrifice to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands.

7:42 But God turned away and handed them over to worship the host of heaven, as it is written in the book of the prophets: 'Did you offer Me slaughtered victims and sacrifices for forty years in the wilderness, house of Israel?

7:43 You took up the tent of Moloch and the star of your god Raiphan, the images you made to worship them. And I will deport you beyond Babylon.'

7:44 Our fathers had the Tent of Testimony in the wilderness, as the One who spoke to Moses directed him to make it according to the pattern he had seen.

7:45 Our fathers in their turn received it and brought it in with Joshua when they took possession of the nations' land, whose people God drove out before our fathers. It remained until the days of David,

7:46 who found favor before God and asked to find a dwelling for the house of Jacob.

7:47 But Solomon built Him a house.

7:48 Yet the Most High does not dwell in things made by hands, as the prophet says:

7:49 ‘Heaven is My throne, and the earth the footstool of My feet. What kind of house will you build for Me, says the Lord, or what place is there for My rest?

7:50 Did not My hand make all these things?’

7:51 You stiff-necked people, uncircumcised in hearts and ears! You always resist the Holy Spirit; as your fathers did, so do you.

7:52 Which of the prophets did your fathers not persecute? They killed those who announced beforehand the coming of the Righteous One, whose betrayers and murderers you have now become—

7:53 you who received the law through the ordinances of angels and did not keep it.”

7:54 When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart with rage and ground their teeth at him.

7:55 But he, full of the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at God’s right hand.

7:56 He said, “Look, I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man standing at God’s right hand.”

7:57 They cried out with a loud voice, stopped their ears, and rushed upon him together.

7:58 They drove him outside the city and began stoning him. The witnesses laid their garments at the feet of a young man called Saul.

7:59 They stoned Stephen as he called out, saying, “Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.”

7:60 Kneeling down, he cried with a loud voice, “Lord, do not hold this sin against them.” After saying this, he fell asleep.

Acts 8

8:1 Saul approved of his killing. That day a great persecution arose against the Church in Jerusalem, and all except the apostles were scattered through the regions of Judea and Samaria.

8:2 Devout men buried Stephen and made great lamentation over him.

8:3 But Saul was ravaging the Church, entering house after house, dragging away both men and women, and handing them over to prison.

8:4 Those who were scattered went about proclaiming the word as good news.

8:5 Philip went down to the city of Samaria and proclaimed the Christ to them.

8:6 The crowds paid attention together to what Philip said, as they heard and saw the signs he was doing.

8:7 For unclean spirits came out of many who had them, crying with a loud voice, and many who were paralyzed or unable to walk were healed.

8:8 There was great joy in that city.

8:9 A man named Simon had previously practiced magic in the city and astonished the people of Samaria, claiming that he himself was someone great.

8:10 Everyone, from small to great, paid attention to him, saying, “This man is the Power of God that is called Great.”

8:11 They paid attention to him because he had astonished them with his magical practices for a long time.

8:12 But when they believed Philip as he proclaimed the good news about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, both men and women were baptized.

8:13 Simon himself also believed, and after being baptized he stayed close to Philip. Seeing signs and great works of power taking place, he was astonished.

8:14 When the apostles in Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them.

8:15 They went down and prayed for them to receive the Holy Spirit,

8:16 for He had not yet fallen upon any of them; they had only been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus.

8:17 Then they laid their hands upon them, and they received the Holy Spirit.

8:18 When Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles’ hands, he offered them money,

8:19 saying, “Give me this authority too, so that anyone upon whom I lay my hands may receive the Holy Spirit.”

8:20 But Peter said to him, “May your silver perish with you, because you thought you could acquire the gift of God with money!

8:21 You have neither part nor allotted share in this matter, for your heart is not upright before God.

8:22 Repent, therefore, of this wickedness of yours, and plead with the Lord that perhaps the intention of your heart may be forgiven you.

8:23 For I see that you are in bitter gall and a bond of unrighteousness.”

8:24 Simon answered, “You yourselves plead with the Lord for me, so that none of the things you have spoken may come upon me.”

8:25 After bearing solemn witness and speaking the word of the Lord, they returned toward Jerusalem, proclaiming the good news in many Samaritan villages.

8:26 An angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, “Rise and go south to the road that descends from Jerusalem to Gaza.” This is a desert road.

8:27 He rose and went. And look—an Ethiopian man, a eunuch and an official of Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasury, had come to Jerusalem to worship.

8:28 He was returning, seated in his chariot, and reading the prophet Isaiah.

8:29 The Spirit said to Philip, “Go near and join this chariot.”

8:30 Philip ran up, heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, “Do you understand what you are reading?”

8:31 He said, “How could I, unless someone guides me?” And he invited Philip to come up and sit with him.

8:32 The passage of Scripture he was reading was this: “Like a sheep He was led to slaughter, and as a lamb is silent before its shearer, so He does not open His mouth.

8:33 In His humiliation His judgment was taken away. Who will recount His generation? For His life is taken from the earth.”

8:34 The eunuch said to Philip, “I ask you, about whom does the prophet say this—about himself or about someone else?”

8:35 Philip opened his mouth and, beginning from this Scripture, proclaimed to him the good news of Jesus.

8:36 As they went along the road, they came to some water, and the eunuch said, “Look, water! What prevents me from being baptized?”

8:38 He ordered the chariot to stop. Both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water, and Philip baptized him.

8:39 When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord snatched Philip away, and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way rejoicing.

8:40 Philip was found at Azotus, and as he passed through, he proclaimed the good news in all the towns until he came to Caesarea.

Acts 9

9:1 Saul, still breathing threat and murder against the Lord’s disciples, went to the high priest

9:2 and asked him for letters to the synagogues in Damascus, so that if he found any belonging to the Way, both men and women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

9:3 As he traveled and drew near Damascus, suddenly a light from heaven flashed around him.

9:4 He fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to him, “Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?”

9:5 He said, “Who art Thou, Lord?” He answered, “I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.

9:6 But rise and enter the city, and you will be told what you must do.”

9:7 The men traveling with him stood speechless, hearing the voice but seeing no one.

9:8 Saul rose from the ground, but although his eyes were open, he could see nothing. They led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus.

9:9 For three days he could not see, and he neither ate nor drank.

9:10 There was a disciple in Damascus named Ananias. The Lord said to him in a vision, “Ananias.” He said, “Here I am, Lord.”

9:11 The Lord said to him, “Rise, go to the street called Straight, and seek in Judas’s house a man named Saul from Tarsus. Look, he is praying,

9:12 and in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias come in and lay hands upon him so that he may regain his sight.”

9:13 Ananias answered, “Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much evil he has done to Thy saints in Jerusalem.

9:14 Here too he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call upon Thy name.”

9:15 But the Lord said to him, “Go, for this man is a chosen vessel for Me, to carry My name before Gentiles and kings and the sons of Israel.

9:16 For I will show him how much he must suffer for My name.”

9:17 Ananias went and entered the house. Laying his hands upon him, he said, “Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me—Jesus, who appeared to you on the road as you came—so that you may regain your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit.”

9:18 At once something like scales fell from his eyes, and he regained his sight. He rose and was baptized,

9:19 and after taking food he regained strength. He stayed for some days with the disciples in Damascus.

9:20 Immediately he proclaimed Jesus in the synagogues, saying, “He is the Son of God.”

9:21 All who heard him were astonished and said, “Is this not the one who devastated those in Jerusalem who call upon this name? And had he not come here for this purpose, to bring them bound before the chief priests?”

9:22 But Saul grew stronger and confounded the Jews living in Damascus by demonstrating that Jesus is the Christ.

9:23 After many days had passed, the Jews conspired to kill him,

9:24 but their plot became known to Saul. They were also watching the gates day and night to kill him.

9:25 His disciples took him by night and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a hamper.

9:26 When he arrived in Jerusalem, he tried to join the disciples, but they all feared him, not believing that he was a disciple.

9:27 Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles. He related to them how Saul had seen the Lord on the road, how He had spoken to him, and how Saul had spoken boldly in Damascus in the name of Jesus.

9:28 He was with them, going in and out in Jerusalem and speaking boldly in the name of the Lord.

9:29 He spoke and disputed with the Hellenists, but they attempted to kill him.

9:30 When the brothers learned this, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him away to Tarsus.

9:31 So the Church throughout all Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had peace and was being built up. Walking in the fear of the Lord and in the encouragement of the Holy Spirit, it increased.

9:32 As Peter traveled among them all, he also went down to the saints who lived in Lydda.

9:33 There he found a man named Aeneas who had lain on a mat for eight years, for he was paralyzed.

9:34 Peter said to him, “Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you. Rise and make your bed.” At once he rose.

9:35 All who lived in Lydda and Sharon saw him and turned to the Lord.

9:36 In Joppa there was a woman disciple named Tabitha, which translated is Dorcas. She was full of good works and acts of charity.

9:37 In those days she became ill and died. They washed her and laid her in an upper room.

9:38 Since Lydda was near Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men to him, urging, “Do not delay in coming to us.”

9:39 Peter rose and went with them. When he arrived, they brought him into the upper room. All the widows stood beside him weeping and showing the tunics and garments Dorcas had made while she was with them.

9:40 Peter put everyone outside, knelt down, and prayed. Turning toward the body, he said, “Tabitha, rise.” She opened her eyes, saw Peter, and sat up.

9:41 He gave her his hand and raised her up. Then he called the saints and the widows and presented her alive.

9:42 This became known throughout Joppa, and many believed in the Lord.

9:43 He stayed in Joppa for many days with a certain Simon, a tanner.

Acts 10

10:1 In Caesarea there was a man named Cornelius, a centurion of the cohort called the Italian,

10:2 devout and fearing God with his whole household, giving many alms to the people and praying to God continually.

10:3 About the ninth hour of the day, he clearly saw in a vision an angel of God come in to him and say, “Cornelius.”

10:4 He stared at him in fear and said, “What is it, sir?” The angel said to him, “Your prayers and your alms have ascended as a memorial before God.

10:5 Now send men to Joppa and summon a certain Simon who is called Peter.

10:6 He is staying with a certain Simon, a tanner, whose house is beside the sea.”

10:7 When the angel who spoke to him had gone, Cornelius called two of his household slaves and a devout soldier from among those who attended him.

10:8 He explained everything to them and sent them to Joppa.

10:9 The next day, while they were traveling and approaching the city, Peter went up onto the roof to pray, about the sixth hour.

10:10 He became hungry and wanted to eat. While they were preparing the food, a trance came upon him.

10:11 He saw heaven opened and something like a large sheet descending, being lowered by its four corners to the earth.

10:12 In it were all the four-footed animals and creeping things of the earth and birds of the sky.

10:13 A voice came to him: “Rise, Peter; slaughter and eat.”

10:14 Peter said, “By no means, Lord, for I have never eaten anything common and unclean.”

10:15 A voice came to him again, a second time: “What God has cleansed, you must not call common.”

10:16 This happened three times, and immediately the object was taken up into heaven.

10:17 While Peter was perplexed within himself about what the vision he had seen might mean, look—the men sent by Cornelius, having asked directions to Simon’s house, stood at the gate.

10:18 They called out and asked whether Simon, who was called Peter, was staying there.

10:19 While Peter was pondering the vision, the Spirit said to him, “Look, three men are seeking you.

10:20 Rise, go down, and go with them without hesitation, because I have sent them.”

10:21 Peter went down to the men and said, “I am the one you are seeking. What is the reason you have come?”

10:22 They said, “Cornelius, a centurion, a righteous and God-fearing man well spoken of by the whole Jewish nation, was directed by a holy angel to summon you to his house and hear words from you.”

10:23 So he invited them in and gave them lodging. The next day he rose and went away with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa accompanied him.

10:24 The following day he entered Caesarea. Cornelius was expecting them and had called together his relatives and close friends.

10:25 As Peter was about to enter, Cornelius met him, fell at his feet, and bowed before him.

10:26 But Peter raised him up, saying, “Rise; I too am a human being.”

10:27 While speaking with him, Peter entered and found many people gathered.

10:28 He said to them, “You know how forbidden it is for a Jewish man to associate with or visit someone of another people. Yet God has shown me to call no human being common or unclean.

10:29 Therefore I came without objection when summoned. So I ask, for what reason did you send for me?”

10:30 Cornelius said, “Four days ago, at this hour, I was praying in my house at the ninth hour, and look—a man stood before me in shining clothing.

10:31 He said, ‘Cornelius, your prayer has been heard, and your alms have been remembered before God.

10:32 Send, therefore, to Joppa and summon Simon who is called Peter. He is staying in the house of Simon the tanner beside the sea.’

10:33 So I sent to you at once, and you have done well to come. Now we are all here before God to hear everything the Lord has commanded you.”

10:34 Peter opened his mouth and said, “Truly I understand that God shows no partiality,

10:35 but in every nation, whoever fears Him and practices righteousness is acceptable to Him.

10:36 He sent the word to the sons of Israel, proclaiming good news of peace through Jesus Christ—He is Lord of all.

10:37 You know what took place throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee after the baptism John proclaimed:

10:38 Jesus of Nazareth—how God anointed Him with the Holy Spirit and power. He went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, because God was with Him.

10:39 We are witnesses of everything He did both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem. They also killed Him by hanging Him on a tree.

10:40 God raised Him on the third day and granted that He should appear,

10:41 not to all the people, but to witnesses chosen beforehand by God—to us, who ate and drank with Him after He rose from the dead.

10:42 He commanded us to proclaim to the people and bear solemn witness that He is the One appointed by God as judge of the living and the dead.

10:43 All the prophets bear witness to Him: everyone who believes in Him receives forgiveness of sins through His name.”

10:44 While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell upon all who were hearing the message.

10:45 The believers from the circumcision who had come with Peter were astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit had been poured out even upon the Gentiles,

10:46 for they heard them speaking in tongues and magnifying God. Then Peter said,

10:47 “Can anyone withhold the water so that these people, who have received the Holy Spirit just as we have, should not be baptized?”

10:48 He ordered them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked him to stay for some days.

Acts 11

11:1 The apostles and the brothers throughout Judea heard that the Gentiles too had received the word of God.

11:2 When Peter went up to Jerusalem, those of the circumcision disputed with him,

11:3 saying, “You went in to uncircumcised men and ate with them.”

11:4 Peter began explaining to them in order, saying,

11:5 “I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision: something like a large sheet descending, lowered by its four corners from heaven, and it came right to me.

11:6 I looked intently into it and examined it, and I saw the four-footed animals of the earth, wild animals, creeping things, and birds of the sky.

11:7 I also heard a voice saying to me, ‘Rise, Peter; slaughter and eat.’

11:8 But I said, ‘By no means, Lord, for nothing common or unclean has ever entered my mouth.’

11:9 A voice answered a second time from heaven, ‘What God has cleansed, you must not call common.’

11:10 This happened three times, and everything was drawn up again into heaven.

11:11 And look, at once three men stood at the house where we were, sent to me from Caesarea.

11:12 The Spirit told me to go with them, making no distinction. These six brothers also went with me, and we entered the man’s house.

11:13 He reported to us how he had seen the angel standing in his house and saying, ‘Send to Joppa and summon Simon who is called Peter,

11:14 who will speak words to you by which you and your whole household will be saved.’

11:15 As I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell upon them just as upon us at the beginning.

11:16 I remembered the Lord’s word, how He said, ‘John baptized with water, but you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit.’

11:17 If, then, God gave them the same gift as He gave us when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I that I could hinder God?”

11:18 When they heard these things, they fell silent and glorified God, saying, “Then God has granted even the Gentiles repentance leading to life.”

11:19 Those who had been scattered by the affliction that arose over Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except Jews alone.

11:20 But some of them were men from Cyprus and Cyrene who came to Antioch and also spoke to the Hellenists, proclaiming the good news of the Lord Jesus.

11:21 The Lord’s hand was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Lord.

11:22 The report about them reached the ears of the Church in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas to travel as far as Antioch.

11:23 When he arrived and saw the grace of God, he rejoiced and encouraged them all to remain with the Lord with steadfast purpose of heart,

11:24 for he was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and faith. A considerable crowd was added to the Lord.

11:25 He went away to Tarsus to search for Saul,

11:26 and when he found him, he brought him to Antioch. For a whole year they gathered with the Church and taught a considerable crowd. It was in Antioch that the disciples were first called Christians.

11:27 In those days prophets came down from Jerusalem to Antioch.

11:28 One of them, named Agabus, stood up and indicated through the Spirit that a great famine would come over the whole inhabited world. This happened in the time of Claudius.

11:29 The disciples determined, each according to his means, to send relief to the brothers living in Judea.

11:30 This they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

Acts 12

12:1 About that time King Herod laid hands on some of the Church to mistreat them.

12:2 He killed James, the brother of John, with the sword.

12:3 When he saw that this pleased the Jews, he proceeded to arrest Peter as well. These were the days of Unleavened Bread.

12:4 He seized him and put him in prison, handing him over to four squads of four soldiers to guard him, intending to bring him out before the people after the Passover.

12:5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer for him was being made to God by the Church.

12:6 On the night before Herod was to bring him out, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, while guards before the door kept watch over the prison.

12:7 And look—an angel of the Lord stood beside him, and light shone in the cell. Striking Peter's side, he woke him and said, "Rise quickly." The chains fell from his hands.

12:8 The angel said to him, "Fasten your belt and put on your sandals." He did so. Then he said to him, "Wrap your cloak around you and follow me."

12:9 Peter went out and followed. He did not know that what was happening through the angel was real; he thought he was seeing a vision.

12:10 They passed the first guard post and the second and came to the iron gate leading into the city. It opened for them of its own accord. They went out and continued along one street, and immediately the angel left him.

12:11 When Peter came to himself, he said, "Now I know truly that the Lord has sent His angel and rescued me from Herod's hand and from everything the Jewish people were expecting."

12:12 After considering this, he went to the house of Mary, the mother of John who was called Mark, where many had gathered and were praying.

12:13 When he knocked at the outer gate's door, a slave girl named Rhoda came to answer.

12:14 Recognizing Peter's voice, in her joy she did not open the gate, but ran inside and announced that Peter was standing before it.

12:15 They said to her, "You are out of your mind." But she insisted that it was so. They said, "It is his angel."

12:16 Peter kept knocking. When they opened the door, they saw him and were astonished.

12:17 He motioned with his hand for them to be silent and related how the Lord had brought him out of prison. He said, "Report these things to James and the brothers." Then he left and went to another place.

12:18 When day came, there was no small disturbance among the soldiers over what had become of Peter.

12:19 Herod searched for him and did not find him. After examining the guards, he ordered them to be led away for execution. Then he went down from Judea to Caesarea and stayed there.

12:20 Herod was fiercely hostile toward the people of Tyre and Sidon. They came to him with one accord and, after winning over Blastus, the king's chamberlain, asked for peace, because their country received its food from the king's territory.

12:21 On an appointed day Herod put on royal clothing, sat on the tribunal, and delivered an address to them.

12:22 The populace shouted, "A god's voice, and not a human being's!"

12:23 Immediately an angel of the Lord struck him because he did not give the glory to God. He was eaten by worms and breathed his last.

12:24 But the word of God grew and multiplied.

12:25 Barnabas and Saul returned to Jerusalem after completing their service, and took along John who was called Mark.

Acts 13

13:1 In the Church at Antioch there were prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

13:2 While they were ministering to the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, "Set apart for Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them."

13:3 Then, after fasting and praying and laying their hands upon them, they sent them away.

13:4 So, sent out by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia and from there sailed to Cyprus.

13:5 When they came to Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the Jewish synagogues. They also had John as an assistant.

13:6 They traveled through the whole island as far as Paphos and found a certain magician, a Jewish false prophet named Bar-Jesus,

13:7 who was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man. The proconsul summoned Barnabas and Saul and sought to hear the word of God.

13:8 But Elymas the magician—for that is how his name is translated—opposed them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith.

13:9 Saul, who was also called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked intently at him

13:10 and said, "You who are full of all deceit and all villainy, son of the devil, enemy of all righteousness—will you not stop making crooked the Lord's straight ways?

13:11 Now look, the Lord's hand is upon you, and you will be blind, unable to see the sun for a time." Immediately mist and darkness fell upon him, and he went about seeking people to lead him by the hand.

13:12 When the proconsul saw what had happened, he believed, astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

13:13 Paul and his companions sailed from Paphos and came to Perga in Pamphylia. John left them and returned to Jerusalem.

13:14 They continued from Perga and arrived at Pisidian Antioch. On the Sabbath day they entered the synagogue and sat down.

13:15 After the reading of the law and the prophets, the synagogue rulers sent word to them, saying, “Men, brothers, if you have a word of encouragement for the people, speak.”

13:16 Paul rose, motioned with his hand, and said, “Men of Israel and you who fear God, listen.

13:17 The God of this people Israel chose our fathers and exalted the people during their stay as strangers in the land of Egypt. With an uplifted arm He led them out of it,

13:18 and for about forty years He put up with their conduct in the wilderness.

13:19 He overthrew seven nations in the land of Canaan and gave their land as an inheritance,

13:20 over about four hundred and fifty years. After these things He gave judges until Samuel the prophet.

13:21 Then they asked for a king, and God gave them Saul son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years.

13:22 After removing him, He raised up David as king for them, to whom He also bore witness, saying, ‘I have found David son of Jesse, a man after My heart, who will do all My will.’

13:23 From this man’s seed, according to promise, God brought Israel a Savior, Jesus,

13:24 after John had proclaimed, before His coming, a baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

13:25 As John was completing his course, he said, ‘Who do you think I am? I am not that one. But look, One is coming after me, whose sandals I am not worthy to untie.’

13:26 Men, brothers, sons of Abraham’s family, and those among you who fear God: to us the message of this salvation has been sent.

13:27 For those living in Jerusalem and their rulers, failing to recognize Him and the voices of the prophets read every Sabbath, fulfilled those voices by condemning Him.

13:28 Although they found no cause for death, they asked Pilate to have Him killed.

13:29 When they had completed everything written about Him, they took Him down from the tree and laid Him in a tomb.

13:30 But God raised Him from the dead.

13:31 For many days He appeared to those who had gone up with Him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now His witnesses to the people.

13:32 We proclaim to you the good news of the promise made to the fathers:

13:33 God has fulfilled this for us, their children, by raising up Jesus, as it is also written in the second psalm: ‘Thou art My Son; today I have begotten Thee.’

13:34 God has spoken this way about raising Him from the dead, never again to return to decay: ‘I will give you the holy and sure blessings of David.’

13:35 Therefore He also says in another place, ‘Thou wilt not allow Thy Holy One to see decay.’

13:36 For David, after serving his own generation according to God’s purpose, fell asleep, was gathered to his fathers, and saw decay.

13:37 But the One whom God raised did not see decay.

13:38 Therefore let it be known to you, men, brothers, that through Him forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you; and from everything from which you could not be justified in the law of Moses,

13:39 in Him everyone who believes is justified.

13:40 Take care, then, lest what is spoken in the prophets come upon you:

13:41 ‘Look, you scoffers, marvel and vanish, for I am doing a work in your days, a work you will never believe even if someone recounts it to you.’”

13:42 As they went out, the people urged that these words be spoken to them on the next Sabbath.

13:43 After the synagogue gathering was dismissed, many Jews and devout converts followed Paul and Barnabas, who spoke with them and urged them to remain in the grace of God.

13:44 On the coming Sabbath, almost the whole city gathered to hear the word of the Lord.

13:45 When the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and contradicted what Paul was saying, speaking abusively.

13:46 Paul and Barnabas spoke boldly and said, “It was necessary for God’s word to be spoken to you first. Since you reject it and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, look—we are turning to the Gentiles.

13:47 For the Lord has commanded us in this way: ‘I have appointed you as a light for Gentiles, so that you may bring salvation to the end of the earth.’”

13:48 When the Gentiles heard this, they rejoiced and glorified the word of the Lord, and as many as had been appointed to eternal life believed.

13:49 The word of the Lord spread through the whole region.

13:50 But the Jews stirred up the devout women of high standing and the leading men of the city, raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and drove them out of their territory.

13:51 They shook the dust from their feet against them and went to Iconium.

13:52 The disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Acts 14

14:1 In Iconium they entered the Jewish synagogue together and spoke in such a way that a great multitude of both Jews and Greeks believed.

14:2 But the Jews who refused to believe stirred up the Gentiles and embittered their minds against the brothers.

14:3 So they stayed a considerable time, speaking boldly in reliance on the Lord, who bore witness to the word of His grace by granting signs and wonders to take place through their hands.

14:4 The people of the city were divided: some sided with the Jews and others with the apostles.

14:5 When an attempt was made by both Gentiles and Jews, together with their rulers, to mistreat and stone them,

14:6 they learned of it and fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and the surrounding region.

14:7 There they continued proclaiming the good news.

14:8 In Lystra a man was sitting who had no strength in his feet, unable to walk from his mother's womb; he had never walked.

14:9 He listened to Paul speaking. Paul looked intently at him and saw that he had faith to be made well, 14:10 and said with a loud voice, "Stand upright on your feet." He leaped up and began walking.

14:11 When the crowds saw what Paul had done, they raised their voice, saying in Lycaonian, "The gods have come down to us in human likeness."

14:12 They called Barnabas Zeus and Paul Hermes, because he was the leading speaker.

14:13 The priest of Zeus, whose shrine was before the city, brought bulls and garlands to the gates and wanted to offer sacrifice with the crowds.

14:14 When the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard this, they tore their garments and rushed out into the crowd, crying out

14:15 and saying, "Men, why are you doing these things? We too are human beings, of the same nature as you. We proclaim good news to you: turn from these worthless things to the living God, who made heaven and earth and the sea and everything in them.

14:16 In past generations He allowed all the nations to go their own ways.

14:17 Yet He did not leave Himself without witness in doing good, giving you rains from heaven and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness."

14:18 Even by saying these things, they scarcely stopped the crowds from sacrificing to them.

14:19 Jews came from Antioch and Iconium, persuaded the crowds, stoned Paul, and dragged him outside the city, supposing he was dead.

14:20 But when the disciples surrounded him, he rose and entered the city. The next day he went with Barnabas to Derbe.

14:21 After proclaiming the good news to that city and making many disciples, they returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch,

14:22 strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to remain in the faith, and saying, "Through many afflictions we must enter the kingdom of God."

14:23 They appointed elders for them in each Church and, after praying with fasting, entrusted them to the Lord in whom they had believed.

14:24 They passed through Pisidia and came to Pamphylia.

14:25 After speaking the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia.

14:26 From there they sailed to Antioch, where they had been entrusted to the grace of God for the work they had now completed.

14:27 When they arrived and gathered the Church, they reported all that God had done with them and how He had opened a door of faith to the Gentiles.

14:28 They stayed quite a long time with the disciples.

Acts 15

15:1 Some men came down from Judea and taught the brothers, "Unless you are circumcised according to the custom of Moses, you cannot be saved."

15:2 When Paul and Barnabas had a serious disagreement and debate with them, they appointed Paul and Barnabas and some others from among them to go up to the apostles and elders in Jerusalem about this question.

15:3 Sent on their way by the Church, they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, recounting the conversion of the Gentiles and bringing great joy to all the brothers.

15:4 When they arrived in Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the Church, the apostles, and the elders, and reported all that God had done with them.

15:5 But some believers from the party of the Pharisees rose and said, “It is necessary to circumcise them and command them to keep the law of Moses.”

15:6 The apostles and the elders gathered to consider this matter.

15:7 After much debate, Peter rose and said to them, “Men, brothers, you know that in earlier days God made a choice among you, that through my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the good news and believe.

15:8 God, who knows the heart, bore witness to them by giving them the Holy Spirit just as He did to us.

15:9 He made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith.

15:10 Now, therefore, why are you testing God by placing upon the disciples’ neck a yoke that neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

15:11 Rather, we believe that we are saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in the same way as they are.”

15:12 The whole multitude became silent and listened to Barnabas and Paul relate all the signs and wonders God had done among the Gentiles through them.

15:13 After they fell silent, James spoke: “Men, brothers, listen to me.

15:14 Simeon has related how God first visited the Gentiles to take from them a people for His name.

15:15 With this the words of the prophets agree, as it is written:

15:16 ‘After these things I will return and rebuild David’s fallen tent. I will rebuild its ruins and set it upright,

15:17 so that the remnant of humankind and all the nations over whom My name has been called may seek the Lord, says the Lord, who makes these things

15:18 known from long ago.’

15:19 Therefore I judge that we should not trouble those from the Gentiles who are turning to God,

15:20 but should write to them to abstain from the pollutions of idols, sexual immorality, what is strangled, and blood.

15:21 For since ancient times, people in every city have proclaimed Moses, and he is read in the synagogues every Sabbath.”

15:22 Then the apostles and elders, with the whole Church, decided to choose men from among them and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas: Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, leading men among the brothers.

15:23 They wrote by their hand: “The apostles and elders, your brothers, to the brothers from the Gentiles in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia: greetings.

15:24 Since we have heard that some who went out from among us troubled you with words, unsettling your souls, although we gave them no instruction,

15:25 we have decided with one accord to choose men and send them to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul,

15:26 men who have given over their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15:27 We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who will themselves report the same things by word of mouth.

15:28 For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to place no further burden upon you except these necessary things:

15:29 to abstain from things sacrificed to idols, blood, things strangled, and sexual immorality. If you keep yourselves from these, you will do well. Farewell.”

15:30 After being sent off, they went down to Antioch, gathered the multitude, and delivered the letter.

15:31 When they read it, they rejoiced at its encouragement.

15:32 Judas and Silas, themselves also prophets, encouraged the brothers with many words and strengthened them.

15:33 After spending some time there, they were sent away in peace by the brothers to those who had sent them.

15:35 Paul and Barnabas remained in Antioch, teaching and proclaiming the word of the Lord as good news, along with many others.

15:36 After some days Paul said to Barnabas, “Let us return and visit the brothers in every city where we proclaimed the word of the Lord, to see how they are.”

15:37 Barnabas wanted to take along John, who was called Mark, as well.

15:38 But Paul considered it right not to take along the man who had withdrawn from them in Pamphylia and had not gone with them to the work.

15:39 A sharp disagreement arose, so that they separated from one another. Barnabas took Mark and sailed to Cyprus,

15:40 but Paul chose Silas and departed, entrusted by the brothers to the grace of the Lord.

15:41 He traveled through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the Churches.

Acts 16

16:1 He also came to Derbe and Lystra. There was a disciple there named Timothy, the son of a believing Jewish woman, but of a Greek father.

16:2 He was well spoken of by the brothers in Lystra and Iconium.

16:3 Paul wanted him to go with him, and took him and circumcised him because of the Jews in those places, for they all knew that his father was Greek.

16:4 As they traveled through the cities, they handed on to them for observance the decisions made by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem.

16:5 So the Churches were strengthened in the faith and increased in number each day.

16:6 They passed through Phrygia and the Galatian region, having been prevented by the Holy Spirit from speaking the word in Asia.

16:7 When they came near Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus did not permit them.

16:8 Passing by Mysia, they went down to Troas.

16:9 During the night a vision appeared to Paul: a Macedonian man was standing and urging him, saying, “Cross over to Macedonia and help us.”

16:10 When he had seen the vision, we immediately sought to go out to Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to proclaim the good news to them.

16:11 We sailed from Troas and made a straight course to Samothrace, and on the next day to Neapolis,

16:12 and from there to Philippi, a city of the first district of Macedonia and a colony. We stayed in that city for some days.

16:13 On the Sabbath day we went outside the gate beside a river, where we thought there was a place of prayer. We sat down and spoke to the women who had gathered.

16:14 A woman named Lydia, a seller of purple goods from the city of Thyatira, who worshiped God, was listening. The Lord opened her heart to attend to what Paul was saying.

16:15 After she and her household were baptized, she urged us, saying, “If you have judged me faithful to the Lord, come into my house and stay.” And she prevailed upon us.

16:16 As we were going to the place of prayer, a slave girl with a spirit of divination met us. She brought her masters much profit by fortune-telling.

16:17 She followed Paul and us, crying out, “These men are servants of God Most High, who proclaim to you the way of salvation.”

16:18 She kept doing this for many days. Paul, greatly troubled, turned and said to the spirit, “I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her.” It came out that very hour.

16:19 When her masters saw that their hope of profit had gone out, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers.

16:20 They brought them before the magistrates and said, “These men are throwing our city into turmoil. They are Jews,

16:21 and they proclaim customs that we, being Romans, are not permitted to accept or practice.”

16:22 The crowd joined the attack against them. The magistrates tore off their garments and ordered them to be beaten with rods.

16:23 After inflicting many blows on them, they threw them into prison and ordered the jailer to keep them securely.

16:24 Having received such an order, he put them in the inner prison and secured their feet in the stocks.

16:25 About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, while the prisoners listened to them.

16:26 Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the jail’s foundations were shaken. At once all the doors opened, and everyone’s bonds were loosened.

16:27 The jailer awoke and saw the prison doors open. He drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing the prisoners had escaped.

16:28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, “Do yourself no harm, for we are all here.”

16:29 He called for lights, rushed inside, and fell trembling before Paul and Silas.

16:30 He brought them outside and said, “Sirs, what must I do to be saved?”

16:31 They said, “Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved, you and your household.”

16:32 They spoke the word of the Lord to him, together with all who were in his house.

16:33 At that very hour of the night he took them and washed their wounds. Immediately he and all his people were baptized.

16:34 He brought them up into his house, set food before them, and rejoiced with his whole household, having believed in God.

16:35 When day came, the magistrates sent the officers, saying, “Release those men.”

16:36 The jailer reported these words to Paul: “The magistrates have sent word for you to be released. Now come out and go in peace.”

16:37 But Paul said to them, “They beat us publicly without a verdict, although we are Roman citizens, and threw us into prison. And now are they sending us away secretly? No indeed! Let them come themselves and lead us out.”

16:38 The officers reported these words to the magistrates, and they were afraid when they heard that the men were Romans.

16:39 They came and appealed to them, led them out, and asked them to leave the city.

16:40 After leaving the prison, they went to Lydia’s house. They saw the brothers, encouraged them, and departed.

Acts 17

17:1 After traveling through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a Jewish synagogue.

17:2 As was his custom, Paul went in to them, and for three Sabbaths he reasoned with them from the Scriptures,

17:3 explaining and setting before them that the Christ had to suffer and rise from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus whom I proclaim to you is the Christ.”

17:4 Some of them were persuaded and joined Paul and Silas, as did a great multitude of devout Greeks and not a few of the leading women.

17:5 But the Jews became jealous and took some wicked men from the marketplace, gathered a mob, and threw the city into turmoil. They attacked Jason’s house and sought to bring Paul and Silas out to the populace.

17:6 When they did not find them, they dragged Jason and some brothers before the city officials, shouting, “These men who have upset the inhabited world have come here too,

17:7 and Jason has welcomed them. They all act against Caesar’s decrees, saying that there is another king, Jesus.”

17:8 They disturbed the crowd and the city officials who heard these things.

17:9 After taking security from Jason and the others, the officials released them.

17:10 The brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea. When they arrived, they went into the Jewish synagogue.

17:11 These people were more noble-minded than those in Thessalonica: they welcomed the word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see whether these things were so.

17:12 Many of them therefore believed, as did not a few Greek women of high standing and men.

17:13 But when the Jews from Thessalonica learned that the word of God had also been proclaimed by Paul in Berea, they came there too, stirring up and disturbing the crowds.

17:14 Then the brothers immediately sent Paul away to go as far as the sea, while Silas and Timothy remained there.

17:15 Those escorting Paul brought him as far as Athens. After receiving an order for Silas and Timothy to come to him as quickly as possible, they departed.

17:16 While Paul waited for them in Athens, his spirit was provoked within him as he observed that the city was full of idols.

17:17 So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the worshipers, and in the marketplace every day with those who happened to be there.

17:18 Some Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also engaged him. Some said, “What is this babbler trying to say?” Others said, “He seems to be a proclaimer of foreign divinities,” because he proclaimed the good news of Jesus and the resurrection.

17:19 They took him and brought him to the Areopagus, saying, “May we know what this new teaching is that you are speaking?

17:20 For you are bringing some strange things to our ears. We therefore wish to know what these things mean.”

17:21 Now all the Athenians and the foreigners staying there spent their free time doing nothing but telling or hearing the latest thing.

17:22 Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus and said, “Men of Athens, I perceive that in every respect you are very religious.

17:23 For as I passed through and observed your objects of worship, I also found an altar inscribed, ‘To an unknown god.’ What you worship without knowing, this I proclaim to you.

17:24 The God who made the world and everything in it, being Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in sanctuaries made by hands.

17:25 Nor is He served by human hands as though He needed anything, since He Himself gives everyone life and breath and everything.

17:26 From one He made every nation of humanity to live upon the whole face of the earth, determining their appointed times and the boundaries of their dwelling,

17:27 so that they might seek God, if perhaps they might feel their way toward Him and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us.

17:28 For in Him we live and move and exist, as even some of your own poets have said, ‘For we too are His offspring.’

17:29 Since we are God’s offspring, we ought not to think that the divine nature is like gold or silver or stone, an image formed by human art and thought.

17:30 Therefore, having overlooked the times of ignorance, God now commands all people everywhere to repent,

17:31 because He has fixed a day on which He will judge the inhabited world in righteousness through a Man whom He appointed, giving assurance to everyone by raising Him from the dead.”

17:32 When they heard of a resurrection of the dead, some mocked, while others said, “We will hear you again about this.”

17:33 So Paul went out from their midst.

17:34 But some people joined him and believed, among them Dionysius the Areopagite, a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

Acts 18

18:1 After these things he left Athens and came to Corinth.

18:2 He found a Jew named Aquila, a native of Pontus who had recently come from Italy with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had ordered all the Jews to leave Rome. Paul went to them, 18:3 and because he practiced the same trade, he stayed with them and worked, for they were tentmakers by trade.

18:4 Every Sabbath he reasoned in the synagogue and sought to persuade both Jews and Greeks.

18:5 When Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul devoted himself to the word, bearing solemn witness to the Jews that Jesus is the Christ.

18:6 When they opposed him and spoke abusively, he shook out his garments and said to them, “Your blood be upon your own heads. I am clean. From now on I will go to the Gentiles.”

18:7 He left there and entered the house of a man named Titius Justus, a worshiper of God, whose house was next to the synagogue.

18:8 Crispus, the synagogue ruler, believed in the Lord with his whole household. Many of the Corinthians who heard believed and were baptized.

18:9 The Lord said to Paul by a vision in the night, “Do not fear, but speak and do not be silent,

18:10 because I am with you, and no one will attack you to harm you, for I have many people in this city.”

18:11 He stayed a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

18:12 While Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews rose together against Paul and brought him before the tribunal,

18:13 saying, “This man persuades people to worship God contrary to the law.”

18:14 As Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, “If it were some wrongdoing or wicked crime, O Jews, I would have reason to hear you out.

18:15 But if these are questions about a word, names, and your own law, see to it yourselves. I do not wish to be a judge of these things.”

18:16 He drove them away from the tribunal.

18:17 They all seized Sosthenes, the synagogue ruler, and beat him before the tribunal. Gallio cared about none of these things.

18:18 Paul stayed many more days, then took leave of the brothers and sailed for Syria, with Priscilla and Aquila. He had cut his hair at Cenchreae, for he had a vow.

18:19 They arrived at Ephesus, and he left them there. He himself entered the synagogue and reasoned with the Jews.

18:20 When they asked him to stay for a longer time, he did not agree.

18:21 Instead, he took leave of them, saying, “I will return to you again, God willing,” and sailed from Ephesus.

18:22 He landed at Caesarea, went up and greeted the Church, and went down to Antioch.

18:23 After spending some time there, he departed and traveled from place to place through the Galatian region and Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

18:24 A Jew named Apollos, a native of Alexandria, came to Ephesus. He was an eloquent man, powerful in the Scriptures.

18:25 He had been instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, though he knew only John's baptism.

18:26 He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. When Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him aside and explained the way of God to him more accurately.

18:27 When he wished to cross over to Achaia, the brothers encouraged him and wrote to the disciples to welcome him. On arriving, he greatly helped those who had believed through grace, 18:28 for he vigorously refuted the Jews in public, demonstrating through the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

Acts 19

19:1 While Apollos was in Corinth, Paul passed through the upper regions and came down to Ephesus. He found some disciples

19:2 and said to them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?" They said to him, "We have not even heard whether there is a Holy Spirit."

19:3 He said, "Into what, then, were you baptized?" They said, "Into John's baptism."

19:4 Paul said, "John baptized with a baptism of repentance, telling the people to believe in the One coming after him, that is, in Jesus."

19:5 When they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus.

19:6 When Paul laid his hands upon them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spoke in tongues and prophesied.

19:7 There were about twelve men in all.

19:8 He entered the synagogue and spoke boldly for three months, reasoning and persuading concerning the kingdom of God.

19:9 But when some became hardened and refused to believe, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he withdrew from them and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the lecture hall of Tyrannus.

19:10 This continued for two years, so that all who lived in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks.

19:11 God was doing extraordinary mighty works through Paul's hands,

19:12 so that even cloths or aprons from contact with his skin were carried to the sick, and their diseases left them and the evil spirits went out.

19:13 Some itinerant Jewish exorcists also attempted to invoke the name of the Lord Jesus over those who had evil spirits, saying, "I solemnly charge you by the Jesus whom Paul proclaims."

19:14 Seven sons of a certain Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, were doing this.

19:15 But the evil spirit answered them, "Jesus I know, and Paul I recognize, but who are you?"

19:16 The man in whom the evil spirit was leaped upon them, mastered both of them, and overpowered them, so that they fled from that house naked and wounded.

19:17 This became known to all the Jews and Greeks living in Ephesus. Fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

19:18 Many who had believed came, confessing and reporting their practices.

19:19 A considerable number who had practiced magic brought their books together and burned them before everyone. They calculated their prices and found the total to be fifty thousand in silver.

19:20 In this way the word of the Lord grew mightily and prevailed.

19:21 After these things were completed, Paul resolved in spirit to pass through Macedonia and Achaia and go to Jerusalem, saying, "After I have been there, I must also see Rome."

19:22 He sent two of those who assisted him, Timothy and Erastus, to Macedonia, while he himself remained in Asia for a time.

19:23 About that time a serious disturbance arose concerning the Way.

19:24 A silversmith named Demetrius, who made silver shrines of Artemis, provided considerable business for the craftsmen.

19:25 He gathered them and the workers in related trades and said, "Men, you know that our prosperity comes from this business.

19:26 You see and hear that not only in Ephesus but in almost all Asia this Paul has persuaded and turned away a considerable crowd, saying that things made by hands are not gods.

19:27 There is danger not only that this trade of ours will fall into disrepute, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be reckoned as nothing, and that she whom all Asia and the inhabited world worship will be stripped of her magnificence."

19:28 When they heard this, they became full of rage and cried out, "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"

19:29 The city was filled with confusion. They rushed together into the theater, seizing Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians who traveled with Paul.

19:30 Paul wanted to enter among the populace, but the disciples would not let him.

19:31 Even some of the Asiarchs, who were his friends, sent to him and urged him not to venture into the theater.

19:32 Some shouted one thing and some another, for the assembly was confused, and most did not know why they had come together.

19:33 They prompted Alexander from the crowd, the Jews having put him forward. Alexander motioned with his hand and wished to make a defense before the populace.

19:34 When they recognized that he was a Jew, one cry arose from them all for about two hours: “Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!”

19:35 The city secretary quieted the crowd and said, “Men of Ephesus, who among human beings does not know that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great Artemis and of what fell from Zeus?

19:36 Since these things are undeniable, you must remain calm and do nothing rash.

19:37 For you have brought these men here, though they are neither temple-robbers nor blasphemers of our goddess.

19:38 If Demetrius and the craftsmen with him have a charge against anyone, court sessions are held and proconsuls are available; let them bring charges against one another.

19:39 But if you seek anything further, it will be settled in the lawful assembly.

19:40a For we are in danger of being charged with rioting over today’s events, since there is no cause for it; we will not be able to give an account of this gathering.”

19:40b After saying these things, he dismissed the assembly.

Acts 20

20:1 After the uproar ceased, Paul summoned the disciples and encouraged them. Taking leave of them, he departed for Macedonia.

20:2 He passed through those regions and encouraged them with many words, then came to Greece

20:3 and spent three months there. When a plot was made against him by the Jews as he was about to sail for Syria, he decided to return through Macedonia.

20:4 He was accompanied by Sopater son of Pyrrhus from Berea; Aristarchus and Secundus from Thessalonica; Gaius from Derbe, and Timothy; and Tychicus and Trophimus from Asia.

20:5 These men went ahead and waited for us in Troas.

20:6 We sailed from Philippi after the days of Unleavened Bread and came to them at Troas in five days, where we stayed seven days.

20:7 On the first day of the week, when we had gathered to break bread, Paul spoke with them. He intended to leave the next day and prolonged his message until midnight.

20:8 There were many lamps in the upper room where we had gathered.

20:9 A young man named Eutychus sat in the window and was sinking into a deep sleep as Paul continued speaking at length. Overcome by sleep, he fell down from the third story and was picked up dead.

20:10 Paul went down, fell upon him, embraced him, and said, “Do not be alarmed, for his life is in him.”

20:11 He went back up, broke the bread and ate, and talked for a long time until dawn. Then he departed.

20:12 They brought the boy away alive and were greatly comforted.

20:13 We went ahead to the ship and sailed for Assos, intending to take Paul aboard there, for he had arranged it this way, intending himself to travel on foot.

20:14 When he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and came to Mitylene.

20:15 Sailing from there, the next day we arrived opposite Chios; on the following day we put in at Samos, and on the next we came to Miletus.

20:16 For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus so that he would not spend time in Asia. He was hurrying, if possible, to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost.

20:17 From Miletus he sent to Ephesus and summoned the elders of the Church.

20:18 When they came to him, he said, “You know how I was with you the whole time, from the first day I set foot in Asia,

20:19 serving the Lord with all humility, tears, and trials that came upon me through the plots of the Jews.

20:20 I did not hold back from declaring anything beneficial to you and teaching you publicly and from house to house,

20:21 bearing solemn witness to both Jews and Greeks of repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus.

20:22 And now, look, bound in spirit, I am going to Jerusalem, not knowing what will meet me there, 20:23 except that in every city the Holy Spirit bears witness to me, saying that bonds and afflictions await me.

20:24 But I consider my life of no value to myself, so that I may complete my course and the ministry I received from the Lord Jesus: to bear solemn witness to the good news of God’s grace.

20:25 And now, look, I know that none of you among whom I went about proclaiming the kingdom will see my face again.

20:26 Therefore I testify to you this very day that I am clean from the blood of all,

20:27 for I did not hold back from declaring to you the whole purpose of God.

20:28 Pay attention to yourselves and to all the flock, among whom the Holy Spirit has placed you as overseers, to shepherd the Church of God, which He acquired through His own blood.

20:29 I know that after my departure fierce wolves will enter among you, not sparing the flock.

20:30 Even from among you yourselves men will arise, speaking distorted things to draw the disciples away after themselves.

20:31 Therefore stay awake, remembering that for three years, night and day, I never ceased admonishing each one with tears.

20:32 And now I entrust you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and give you the inheritance among all who have been sanctified.

20:33 I coveted no one’s silver or gold or clothing.

20:34 You yourselves know that these hands served my needs and those of the people with me.

20:35 In everything I showed you that by working in this way we must support the weak and remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He Himself said, ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’”

20:36 After saying these things, he knelt down with them all and prayed.

20:37 They all wept greatly, threw their arms around Paul’s neck, and kissed him repeatedly,

20:38 grieving most of all over the word he had spoken, that they would no longer see his face. They accompanied him to the ship.

Acts 21

21:1 When we had torn ourselves away from them and set sail, we made a straight course to Cos, the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara.

21:2 We found a ship crossing to Phoenicia, went aboard, and set sail.

21:3 We sighted Cyprus and passed it on our left, sailed toward Syria, and landed at Tyre, for the ship was to unload its cargo there.

21:4 We sought out the disciples and stayed there seven days. Through the Spirit they told Paul not to set foot in Jerusalem.

21:5 When our days there were completed, we left and went on our way. They all accompanied us, with wives and children, as far as outside the city. We knelt on the beach and prayed,

21:6 then said farewell to one another. We boarded the ship, and they returned to their homes.

21:7 Completing the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais, greeted the brothers, and stayed with them for one day.

21:8 The next day we departed and came to Caesarea. We entered the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him.

21:9 He had four daughters who were virgins and prophesied.

21:10 While we stayed for several days, a prophet named Agabus came down from Judea.

21:11 He came to us, took Paul’s belt, bound his own feet and hands, and said, “Thus says the Holy Spirit: ‘The Jews in Jerusalem will bind the man whose belt this is in this way and hand him over into Gentile hands.’”

21:12 When we heard these things, both we and the local people urged him not to go up to Jerusalem.

21:13 Then Paul answered, “What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.”

21:14 Since he would not be persuaded, we became silent and said, “Let the Lord’s will be done.”

21:15 After these days we made our preparations and went up to Jerusalem.

21:16 Some disciples from Caesarea also went with us, taking us to a certain Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we were to lodge.

21:17 When we arrived in Jerusalem, the brothers welcomed us gladly.

21:18 The next day Paul went with us to James, and all the elders were present.

21:19 After greeting them, he related one by one the things God had done among the Gentiles through his ministry.

21:20 When they heard, they glorified God and said to him, “You see, brother, how many tens of thousands of Jews have believed, and they are all zealous for the law.

21:21 They have been informed about you that you teach all the Jews among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children or walk in the customs.

21:22 What, then, is to be done? They will certainly hear that you have come.

21:23 Therefore do what we tell you. We have four men who have taken a vow upon themselves.

21:24 Take these men, purify yourself with them, and pay their expenses so that they may shave their heads. Then everyone will know that there is nothing to what they have been told about you, but that you yourself also walk in step, keeping the law.

21:25 But concerning the Gentiles who have believed, we have sent word, judging that they should keep themselves from what is sacrificed to idols, blood, what is strangled, and sexual immorality.”

21:26 Then Paul took the men, and on the next day, after purifying himself with them, he entered the temple, giving notice of the completion of the days of purification, up to the presentation of the offering for each one of them.

21:27 When the seven days were about to be completed, the Jews from Asia saw him in the temple, stirred up the whole crowd, and laid hands on him,

21:28 crying, “Men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches everyone everywhere against the people, the law, and this place. Moreover, he has even brought Greeks into the temple and defiled this holy place.”

21:29 For they had previously seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city and supposed that Paul had brought him into the temple.

21:30 The whole city was stirred, and the people ran together. They seized Paul and dragged him outside the temple, and immediately the doors were shut.

21:31 While they were seeking to kill him, a report reached the tribune of the cohort that all Jerusalem was in confusion.

21:32 He immediately took soldiers and centurions and ran down to them. When they saw the tribune and the soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.

21:33 Then the tribune approached, seized him, and ordered him bound with two chains. He asked who he was and what he had done.

21:34 Some in the crowd shouted one thing and some another. Since he could learn nothing certain because of the uproar, he ordered Paul to be brought into the barracks.

21:35 When he reached the steps, the soldiers had to carry him because of the crowd’s violence,

21:36 for the multitude of the people followed, crying, “Away with him!”

21:37 As Paul was about to be brought into the barracks, he said to the tribune, “May I say something to you?” He said, “Do you know Greek?

21:38 Then are you not the Egyptian who some time ago stirred up a revolt and led the four thousand men of the Sicarii into the wilderness?”

21:39 Paul said, “I am a Jewish man from Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I ask you, allow me to speak to the people.”

21:40 When he gave permission, Paul stood on the steps and motioned with his hand to the people. When a great silence fell, he addressed them in the Hebrew language, saying:

Acts 22

22:1 “Men, brothers and fathers, hear the defense I now make before you.”

22:2 When they heard that he addressed them in the Hebrew language, they became still quieter. He said:

22:3 “I am a Jewish man, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, educated in the strict observance of the ancestral law, zealous for God as all of you are today.

22:4 I persecuted this Way to the point of death, binding and handing over to prisons both men and women,

22:5 as the high priest and the whole council of elders can testify for me. From them I also received letters to the brothers, and I went toward Damascus to bring those there bound to Jerusalem for punishment.

22:6 As I was traveling and drawing near Damascus, about noon, a brilliant light from heaven suddenly flashed around me.

22:7 I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to me, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?’

22:8 I answered, ‘Who art Thou, Lord?’ He said to me, ‘I am Jesus the Nazarene, whom you are persecuting.’

22:9 Those with me saw the light, but they did not hear the voice of the One speaking to me.

22:10 I said, ‘What should I do, Lord?’ The Lord said to me, ‘Rise and go into Damascus, and there you will be told about everything appointed for you to do.’

22:11 Since I could not see because of the brightness of that light, I was led by the hand by those with me and came into Damascus.

22:12 A certain Ananias, a man devout according to the law and well spoken of by all the Jews living there,

22:13 came to me, stood beside me, and said, ‘Brother Saul, regain your sight.’ At that very hour I regained my sight and looked at him.

22:14 He said, ‘The God of our fathers appointed you to know His will, to see the Righteous One, and to hear a voice from His mouth,

22:15 for you will be His witness to all people of what you have seen and heard.

22:16 Now why do you delay? Rise, be baptized, and wash away your sins, calling upon His name.’

22:17 After I returned to Jerusalem, while I was praying in the temple, I fell into a trance

22:18 and saw Him saying to me, ‘Hurry, and go out quickly from Jerusalem, because they will not accept your testimony about Me.’

22:19 I said, ‘Lord, they themselves know that I used to imprison and beat in the synagogues those who believe in Thee.

22:20 And when the blood of Stephen, Thy witness, was being poured out, I myself stood by, approving and guarding the garments of those who were killing him.’

22:21 He said to me, ‘Go, for I will send you far away to the Gentiles.’”

22:22 They listened to him until this statement, then raised their voice and said, “Remove such a man from the earth, for he ought not to live.”

22:23 As they shouted, flung their garments, and threw dust into the air,

22:24 the tribune ordered him brought into the barracks and directed that he be examined by scourging, so that he might learn why they were shouting against him in this way.

22:25 As they stretched him out with the straps, Paul said to the centurion standing nearby, “Is it lawful for you to scourge a Roman citizen who has not been condemned?”

22:26 When the centurion heard this, he went to the tribune and reported it, saying, “What are you about to do? This man is a Roman.”

22:27 The tribune came and said to him, “Tell me, are you a Roman?” He said, “Yes.”

22:28 The tribune answered, “I acquired this citizenship for a large sum.” Paul said, “But I was born with it.”

22:29 Those about to examine him immediately withdrew. The tribune too was afraid when he learned that Paul was a Roman and that he had bound him.

22:30 The next day, wishing to learn with certainty what accusation the Jews were bringing against him, he unbound him and ordered the chief priests and the whole council to assemble. He brought Paul down and set him before them.

Acts 23

23:1 Paul looked intently at the council and said, “Men, brothers, I have conducted my life before God with an entirely good conscience to this day.”

23:2 The high priest Ananias ordered those standing beside him to strike his mouth.

23:3 Then Paul said to him, “God is going to strike you, whitewashed wall! You sit judging me according to the law, yet in violation of the law you order me struck?”

23:4 Those standing nearby said, “Are you insulting God’s high priest?”

23:5 Paul said, “Brothers, I did not know that he was high priest, for it is written, ‘You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.’”

23:6 When Paul perceived that one part consisted of Sadducees and the other of Pharisees, he cried out in the council, “Men, brothers, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees. I am being judged concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead.”

23:7 As he said this, dissension arose between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the multitude was divided.

23:8 For the Sadducees say there is no resurrection, nor angel nor spirit, but the Pharisees acknowledge both.

23:9 A great outcry arose, and some scribes of the Pharisees’ party stood up and argued fiercely, saying, “We find nothing wrong in this man. But what if a spirit or an angel has spoken to him?”

23:10 As the dispute intensified, the tribune feared Paul would be torn apart by them. He ordered the troops to go down, snatch him from their midst, and bring him into the barracks.

23:11 The following night the Lord stood beside him and said, “Take courage, for as you have borne solemn witness about Me in Jerusalem, so you must also testify in Rome.”

23:12 When day came, the Jews formed a conspiracy and bound themselves under a curse, saying they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Paul.

23:13 More than forty had made this conspiracy.

23:14 They went to the chief priests and elders and said, “We have bound ourselves under a solemn curse to taste nothing until we have killed Paul.

23:15 Now, therefore, you and the council should inform the tribune to bring him down to you, as though you intended to determine his case more accurately. We are ready to kill him before he comes near.”

23:16 Paul’s sister’s son heard about the ambush, came and entered the barracks, and reported it to Paul.

23:17 Paul called one of the centurions and said, “Take this young man to the tribune, for he has something to report to him.”

23:18 So he took him and brought him to the tribune, saying, “The prisoner Paul called me and asked me to bring this young man to you, since he has something to tell you.”

23:19 The tribune took him by the hand, withdrew privately, and asked, “What is it that you have to report to me?”

23:20 He said, “The Jews have agreed to ask you to bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, as though it intended to inquire more accurately about him.

23:21 But do not be persuaded by them, for more than forty men among them are lying in wait for him. They have bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor to drink until they kill him, and now they are ready, awaiting your agreement.”

23:22 The tribune dismissed the young man, ordering him, “Tell no one that you have disclosed these things to me.”

23:23 He called two of the centurions and said, “Prepare two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea, with seventy horsemen and two hundred spearmen, leaving at the third hour of the night.”

23:24 He also ordered mounts to be provided so that they could put Paul on them and bring him safely to Felix the governor.

23:25 He wrote a letter in this form:

23:26 “Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix: greetings.

23:27 This man was seized by the Jews and was about to be killed by them when I came with the troops and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman.

23:28 Wishing to learn the reason they accused him, I brought him down to their council.

23:29 I found him accused over questions of their law, but under no charge deserving death or imprisonment.

23:30 When a plot against the man was disclosed to me, I immediately sent him to you, also ordering his accusers to state their case against him before you.”

23:31 So the soldiers, according to their orders, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris.

23:32 The next day they left the horsemen to go on with him and returned to the barracks.

23:33 When the horsemen entered Caesarea, they delivered the letter to the governor and also presented Paul before him.

23:34 He read it, asked what province Paul was from, and learned that he was from Cilicia.

23:35 He said, “I will hear you fully when your accusers also arrive,” and ordered him kept under guard in Herod’s praetorium.

Acts 24

24:1 After five days the high priest Ananias came down with some elders and an advocate named Tertullus. They presented their case against Paul to the governor.

24:2 When Paul was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, “Through you we enjoy much peace, and reforms are being made for this nation through your foresight.

24:3 In every way and everywhere we acknowledge this, most excellent Felix, with all gratitude.

24:4 But so that I may not detain you further, I ask you in your kindness to hear us briefly.

24:5 For we have found this man to be a plague, stirring up disturbances among all the Jews throughout the inhabited world, and a ringleader of the party of the Nazarenes.

24:6 He even tried to profane the temple, and we seized him.

24:8 By examining him yourself, you will be able to learn about all these things of which we accuse him.”

24:9 The Jews also joined in the attack, asserting that these things were so.

24:10 When the governor motioned for him to speak, Paul answered, “Knowing that you have been a judge of this nation for many years, I cheerfully make my defense concerning myself.

24:11 You can confirm that it is no more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem to worship.

24:12 They did not find me disputing with anyone or gathering a crowd, whether in the temple, in the synagogues, or in the city.

24:13 Nor can they present proof to you of the things they now accuse me of.

24:14 But I confess this to you: according to the Way, which they call a sect, I worship the God of our fathers, believing everything in accordance with the law and everything written in the prophets,

24:15 having hope in God—which these people themselves also await—that there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous.

24:16 For this reason I myself strive always to have a blameless conscience toward God and human beings.

24:17 After several years I came to bring alms to my nation and offerings.

24:18 While I was engaged in these, they found me purified in the temple, with neither a crowd nor an uproar.

24:19 But there were some Jews from Asia who ought to be present before you and bring charges, if they had anything against me.

24:20 Or let these men themselves say what wrongdoing they found when I stood before the council,

24:21 except for this one declaration I cried out while standing among them: 'It is concerning the resurrection of the dead that I am being judged before you today.'"

24:22 Felix, who had more accurate knowledge of the Way, adjourned their case, saying, "When Lysias the tribune comes down, I will decide your case."

24:23 He ordered the centurion to keep Paul in custody but grant him some freedom, and not prevent any of his own people from attending to him.

24:24 After some days Felix came with his own wife Drusilla, who was Jewish. He summoned Paul and heard him concerning faith in Christ Jesus.

24:25 As Paul reasoned about righteousness, self-control, and the coming judgment, Felix became afraid and answered, "Go away for now. When I find an opportunity, I will summon you."

24:26 At the same time he hoped that Paul would give him money. Therefore he summoned him more frequently and conversed with him.

24:27 When two years were completed, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus. Wishing to gain favor with the Jews, Felix left Paul bound.

Acts 25

25:1 Three days after arriving in the province, Festus went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem.

25:2 The chief priests and the leading men of the Jews presented their case against Paul to him and urged him,

25:3 asking as a favor against Paul that he summon him to Jerusalem, while planning an ambush to kill him along the road.

25:4 Festus answered that Paul was being kept at Caesarea, and that he himself would soon be going there.

25:5 He said, "Let the influential men among you go down with me, and if there is anything wrong in the man, let them accuse him."

25:6 After staying among them no more than eight or ten days, he went down to Caesarea. The next day he sat on the tribunal and ordered Paul to be brought in.

25:7 When he arrived, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood around him, bringing many serious accusations that they could not prove.

25:8 Paul made his defense: "I have committed no offense against the law of the Jews, against the temple, or against Caesar."

25:9 But Festus, wishing to gain favor with the Jews, answered Paul, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and be judged there before me concerning these things?"

25:10 Paul said, "I am standing before Caesar's tribunal, where I ought to be judged. I have done no wrong to the Jews, as you yourself know very well.

25:11 If, then, I am doing wrong and have done anything deserving death, I do not refuse to die. But if there is nothing to their accusations against me, no one can hand me over to them as a favor. I appeal to Caesar."

25:12 Then Festus conferred with his council and answered, "You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar you will go."

25:13 After some days had passed, King Agrippa and Bernice arrived in Caesarea to greet Festus.

25:14 While they stayed there for several days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, "There is a man left as a prisoner by Felix.

25:15 When I was in Jerusalem, the chief priests and elders of the Jews presented their case against him, asking for his condemnation.

25:16 I answered them that it is not Roman custom to hand anyone over as a favor before the accused has met his accusers face to face and received an opportunity to defend himself concerning the charge.

25:17 So when they gathered here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat on the tribunal and ordered the man brought in.

25:18 When his accusers stood up, they brought no charge of the evil things I had expected.

25:19 Instead, they had certain disputes with him concerning their own religion and a certain Jesus who had died, whom Paul asserted to be alive.

25:20 Uncertain how to investigate these matters, I asked whether he wished to go to Jerusalem and be judged there concerning them.

25:21 But when Paul appealed to be kept for Augustus's decision, I ordered him held until I could send him to Caesar."

25:22 Agrippa said to Festus, "I would like to hear the man myself." He said, "Tomorrow you will hear him."

25:23 The next day Agrippa and Bernice came with great pomp and entered the audience hall with the tribunes and the city's prominent men. At Festus's order, Paul was brought in.

25:24 Festus said, "King Agrippa and all you men present with us, you see this man concerning whom the whole multitude of the Jews petitioned me, both in Jerusalem and here, shouting that he ought not to live any longer.

25:25 I found that he had done nothing deserving death, but since he himself appealed to Augustus, I decided to send him.

25:26 I have nothing certain to write to the sovereign about him. Therefore I have brought him before you all, and especially before you, King Agrippa, so that after the examination I may have something to write.

25:27 For it seems unreasonable to me to send a prisoner without also indicating the charges against him."

Acts 26

26:1 Agrippa said to Paul, "You are permitted to speak for yourself." Then Paul stretched out his hand and made his defense:

26:2 "Concerning everything of which I am accused by the Jews, King Agrippa, I consider myself fortunate to make my defense before you today,

26:3 especially since you are familiar with all the Jewish customs and disputes. Therefore I ask you to hear me patiently.

26:4 All the Jews know my manner of life from my youth, lived from the beginning among my nation and in Jerusalem.

26:5 They have known me from the first, if they are willing to testify, that I lived as a Pharisee according to the strictest party of our religion.

26:6 Now I stand on trial because of hope in the promise made by God to our fathers,

26:7 which our twelve tribes, earnestly worshiping night and day, hope to attain. It is concerning this hope that I am accused by Jews, O king.

26:8 Why do you consider it unbelievable that God raises the dead?

26:9 I myself thought that I must do many things against the name of Jesus the Nazarene.

26:10 This I did in Jerusalem: I shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were being killed, I cast my vote against them.

26:11 I punished them often in all the synagogues and tried to compel them to blaspheme. In my intense rage against them, I pursued them even to foreign cities.

26:12 In this pursuit I was traveling to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests,

26:13 when at midday, O king, I saw along the road a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those traveling with me.

26:14 When we had all fallen to the ground, I heard a voice speaking to me in the Hebrew language: 'Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me? It is hard for you to kick against goads.'

26:15 I said, 'Who art Thou, Lord?' The Lord said, 'I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.

26:16 But rise and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose: to appoint you a servant and witness of the things in which you have seen Me and those in which I will appear to you,

26:17 rescuing you from the people and from the Gentiles, to whom I am sending you,

26:18 to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from Satan's authority to God, so that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an allotted share among those sanctified by faith in Me.'

26:19 Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision,

26:20 but proclaimed first to those in Damascus and Jerusalem, throughout all the country of Judea, and to the Gentiles that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of repentance.

26:21 For these reasons the Jews seized me in the temple and tried to kill me.

26:22 Having therefore received help from God, I stand to this day, testifying to small and great, saying nothing beyond what the prophets and Moses said would happen:

26:23 that the Christ would suffer and, as the first to rise from the dead, would proclaim light both to the people and to the Gentiles.”

26:24 As he was making this defense, Festus said with a loud voice, “You are mad, Paul! Your great learning is turning you to madness.”

26:25 Paul said, “I am not mad, most excellent Festus, but I speak words of truth and sound judgment.

26:26 For the king knows about these things, and I speak freely to him. I am persuaded that none of these things has escaped his notice, for this has not been done in a corner.

26:27 King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you believe.”

26:28 Agrippa said to Paul, “With so little, you are trying to persuade me to become a Christian.”

26:29 Paul said, “Whether with little or with much, I would pray to God that not only you but also all who hear me today might become as I am, except for these bonds.”

26:30 The king rose, along with the governor, Bernice, and those seated with them.

26:31 After withdrawing, they spoke to one another, saying, “This man is doing nothing deserving death or imprisonment.”

26:32 Agrippa said to Festus, “This man could have been released if he had not appealed to Caesar.”

Acts 27

27:1 When it was decided that we should sail to Italy, they handed Paul and some other prisoners over to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan cohort.

27:2 We boarded a ship from Adramyttium that was about to sail to the ports along Asia, and set sail. Aristarchus, a Macedonian from Thessalonica, was with us.

27:3 The next day we put in at Sidon. Julius treated Paul kindly and allowed him to go to his friends and receive care.

27:4 From there we set sail and sailed under the shelter of Cyprus because the winds were contrary.

27:5 We crossed the open sea off Cilicia and Pamphylia and came to Myra in Lycia.

27:6 There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship sailing to Italy and put us aboard it.

27:7 We sailed slowly for many days and with difficulty came off Cnidus. Since the wind would not permit us to proceed, we sailed under the shelter of Crete off Salmone.

27:8 Coasting along it with difficulty, we came to a place called Fair Havens, near which was the city of Lasea.

27:9 Much time had passed, and sailing was already dangerous because even the Fast had now gone by. Paul advised them,

27:10 saying, “Men, I perceive that the voyage will bring damage and great loss, not only of the cargo and the ship but also of our lives.”

27:11 But the centurion was more persuaded by the pilot and the shipowner than by what Paul said.

27:12 Since the harbor was unsuitable for wintering, the majority decided to sail from there, hoping somehow to reach Phoenix, a harbor of Crete facing southwest and northwest, and winter there.

27:13 When a south wind blew gently, they supposed they had gained their purpose, weighed anchor, and sailed close along Crete.

27:14 But not long afterward a hurricane wind called Euraquilo rushed down from the island.

27:15 The ship was seized and could not face the wind, so we gave way and were driven along.

27:16 Running under the shelter of a small island called Cauda, we were barely able to secure the boat.

27:17 After hoisting it aboard, they used supports to hold the ship together from beneath. Fearing they would run aground on the Syrtis, they lowered the gear and were driven along in this way.

27:18 As we were violently battered by the storm, the next day they began throwing cargo overboard.

27:19 On the third day they threw the ship’s tackle overboard with their own hands.

27:20 When neither sun nor stars appeared for many days, and a fierce storm kept battering us, all remaining hope of our being saved was taken away.

27:21 After a long time without food, Paul stood among them and said, “Men, you ought to have listened to me and not sailed from Crete, and so avoided this damage and loss.

27:22 Now I urge you to take courage, for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship.

27:23 For this night an angel of the God to whom I belong and whom I worship stood beside me,

27:24 saying, ‘Do not fear, Paul. You must stand before Caesar, and look, God has granted you all who sail with you.’

27:25 Therefore take courage, men, for I believe God that it will be just as I have been told.

27:26 But we must run aground on some island.”

27:27 When the fourteenth night came, as we were being driven across the Adria, about midnight the sailors suspected that some land was approaching them.

27:28 They took a sounding and found twenty fathoms. After going a little farther, they sounded again and found fifteen fathoms.

27:29 Fearing we might run aground somewhere on rocky places, they dropped four anchors from the stern and prayed for day to come.

27:30 The sailors sought to flee from the ship and lowered the boat into the sea, pretending that they were about to lay out anchors from the bow.

27:31 Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, “Unless these men remain in the ship, you cannot be saved.”

27:32 Then the soldiers cut the boat’s ropes and let it fall away.

27:33 As day was about to come, Paul urged everyone to take food, saying, “Today is the fourteenth day you have continued waiting without food, taking nothing.

27:34 Therefore I urge you to take food, for this is for your safety. Not a hair from the head of any of you will be lost.”

27:35 After saying these things, he took bread, gave thanks to God before everyone, broke it, and began to eat.

27:36 They all took courage and themselves took food.

27:37 There were two hundred and seventy-six persons in all aboard the ship.

27:38 When they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship by throwing the grain into the sea.

27:39 When day came, they did not recognize the land, but noticed a bay with a beach and planned, if they could, to drive the ship onto it.

27:40 They cast off the anchors and left them in the sea, while also loosening the lashings of the steering oars. They raised the foresail to the wind and headed for the beach.

27:41 But they struck a place between two seas and ran the ship aground. The bow stuck fast and remained immovable, while the stern was breaking apart under the force of the waves.

27:42 The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners so that none might swim away and escape.

27:43 But the centurion, wishing to save Paul, prevented them from carrying out their plan. He ordered those able to swim to jump overboard first and make for land,

27:44 and the rest to follow, some on planks and some on pieces from the ship. In this way everyone reached land safely.

Acts 28

28:1 After reaching safety, we learned that the island was called Melite.

28:2 The people who did not speak Greek showed us extraordinary kindness. They kindled a fire and welcomed us all because of the rain that had begun and because of the cold.

28:3 Paul gathered a bundle of brushwood and put it on the fire. A viper came out because of the heat and fastened onto his hand.

28:4 When the people who did not speak Greek saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another, “This man is certainly a murderer. Although he escaped from the sea, Justice has not allowed him to live.”

28:5 But he shook the creature into the fire and suffered no harm.

28:6 They expected him to swell up or suddenly fall down dead. After waiting a long time and seeing nothing unusual happen to him, they changed their minds and said that he was a god.

28:7 Near that place were lands belonging to the island’s chief man, named Publius. He welcomed us and hospitably gave us lodging for three days.

28:8 Publius’s father lay sick with fevers and dysentery. Paul went in to him, prayed, laid his hands upon him, and healed him.

28:9 After this happened, the other sick people on the island also came and were healed.

28:10 They honored us with many honors, and when we sailed, they supplied what we needed.

28:11 After three months we sailed in an Alexandrian ship that had wintered at the island, with the Dioscuri as its emblem.

28:12 We put in at Syracuse and stayed three days.

28:13 From there we cast off and reached Rhegium. After one day a south wind arose, and on the second day we came to Puteoli.

28:14 There we found brothers and were invited to stay with them seven days. And so we came to Rome.

28:15 From there the brothers, having heard about us, came to meet us as far as the Forum of Appius and Three Taverns. When Paul saw them, he thanked God and took courage.

28:16 When we entered Rome, Paul was permitted to stay by himself with the soldier guarding him.

28:17 After three days he called together the leading Jews. When they gathered, he said to them, “Men, brothers, although I had done nothing against the people or the ancestral customs, I was handed over as a prisoner from Jerusalem into Roman hands.

28:18 After examining me, they wished to release me, because there was no cause for death in my case.

28:19 But when the Jews objected, I was compelled to appeal to Caesar, though I had no accusation to bring against my nation.

28:20 For this reason I asked to see you and speak with you, for it is because of Israel’s hope that I wear this chain.”

28:21 They said to him, “We have received no letters from Judea about you, nor has any of the brothers who arrived reported or spoken anything evil about you.

28:22 But we consider it right to hear from you what you think, for concerning this sect we know that it is opposed everywhere.”

28:23 They appointed a day with him and came to his lodging in greater numbers. From morning until evening he explained to them, bearing solemn witness to the kingdom of God and seeking to persuade them concerning Jesus from both the law of Moses and the prophets.

28:24 Some were persuaded by what was said, while others did not believe.

28:25 Disagreeing with one another, they began to leave after Paul made one statement: “The Holy Spirit spoke well through Isaiah the prophet to your fathers, 28:26 saying, ‘Go to this people and say: “You will hear and hear, yet never understand; you will look and look, yet never see.

28:27 For this people’s heart has grown dull, their ears have become hard of hearing, and they have closed their eyes, lest they see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn back, and I would heal them.”’

28:28 Therefore let it be known to you that this salvation of God has been sent to the Gentiles; they will listen.”

28:30 He remained two whole years in his own rented lodging and welcomed all who came to him,

28:31 proclaiming the kingdom of God and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness, unhindered.

Romans

Romans 1

1:1 Paul, a slave of Christ Jesus, called as an apostle, set apart for the gospel of God,

1:2 which He promised beforehand through His prophets in holy Scriptures,

1:3 concerning His Son, who came from David's seed according to the flesh,

1:4 who was designated Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord,

1:5 through whom we received grace and apostleship for the obedience of faith among all the nations for His name,

1:6 among whom you also are, called by Jesus Christ:

1:7 to all who are in Rome, beloved of God, called as saints: grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is proclaimed in the whole world.

1:9 For God, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of His Son, is my witness that I remember you without ceasing,

1:10 always in my prayers asking whether somehow now at last I may be granted a way, by the will of God, to come to you.

1:11 For I long to see you, to share with you some spiritual gift so that you may be strengthened,

1:12 that is, to be encouraged together among you through one another's faith, both yours and mine.

1:13 And I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that I often planned to come to you—and was hindered until now—so that I might have some fruit among you also, just as among the other nations.

1:14 I am a debtor both to Greeks and to those who do not speak Greek, both to the wise and to the senseless.

1:15 Thus, for my part, I am eager to proclaim the gospel also to you who are in Rome.

1:16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is God's power for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek.

1:17 For in it the righteousness of God is revealed from faith to faith, as it is written, "But the righteous one will live by faith."

1:18 For God's wrath is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of people who suppress the truth in unrighteousness,

1:19 because what is known of God is plain among them, for God made it plain to them.

1:20 For His invisible qualities, both His eternal power and divinity, have been clearly seen since the creation of the world, understood through the things made, so that they are without excuse,

1:21 because, although they knew God, they did not glorify Him as God or give thanks, but became futile in their thoughts, and their senseless heart was darkened.

1:22 Claiming to be wise, they became foolish,

1:23 and exchanged the glory of the incorruptible God for the likeness of an image of corruptible humanity, and of birds and four-footed animals and creeping things.

1:24 Therefore God handed them over, in the desires of their hearts, to impurity, so that their bodies would be dishonored among them,

1:25 who exchanged the truth of God for the lie, and revered and worshiped the creation instead of the Creator, who is blessed throughout the ages. Amen.

1:26 For this reason God handed them over to dishonorable passions; for their females exchanged natural relations for those contrary to nature,

1:27 and likewise the males, leaving natural relations with the female, burned in their desire for one another, males with males committing what is shameful and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error.

1:28 And just as they did not see fit to retain God in their knowledge, God handed them over to an unfit mind, to do what is not fitting:

1:29 filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, greed, evil; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malice; whisperers,

1:30 slanderers, haters of God, insolent, proud, boastful, inventors of evils, disobedient to parents,

1:31 without understanding, faithless, without natural affection, merciless;

1:32 who, knowing God's righteous decree, that those who practice such things are worthy of death, not only do them, but also approve those who practice them.

Romans 2

2:1 Therefore you are without excuse, O man—whoever you are who judges. For when you judge another, you condemn yourself, because you who judge practice the same things.

2:2 And we know that God's judgment against those who practice such things is according to truth.

2:3 But do you think, O man—you who judge those who practice such things and do them yourself—that you will escape God's judgment?

2:4 Or do you despise the wealth of His kindness and forbearance and patience, not knowing that God's kindness leads you to repentance?

2:5 But by your hardness and unrepentant heart, you store up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath and revelation of God's righteous judgment,

2:6 who will repay each according to his works:

2:7 to those who, through perseverance in good work, seek glory and honor and incorruptibility, eternal life;

2:8 but to those acting from selfish ambition, who disobey the truth but obey unrighteousness, wrath and fury,

2:9 affliction and distress upon every human soul that does evil—the Jew first and also the Greek;

2:10 but glory and honor and peace to everyone who does good, to the Jew first and also to the Greek.

2:11 For there is no partiality with God.

2:12 For all who sinned without law will also perish without law; and all who sinned under law will be judged through law.

2:13 For it is not the hearers of law who are righteous before God, but the doers of law will be justified.

2:14 For whenever Gentiles who do not have law do by nature the things of the law, these, though not having law, are a law to themselves,

2:15 who show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness with it, and their reasonings among themselves accusing or even defending,

2:16 on the day when God judges people's secrets according to my gospel through Christ Jesus.

2:17 But if you bear the name Jew, and rest upon law and boast in God,

2:18 and know His will and approve the things that matter, being instructed from the law,

2:19 and are confident that you yourself are a guide of the blind, a light to those in darkness,

2:20 an instructor of the senseless, a teacher of infants, having in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth—

2:21 you then who teach another, do you not teach yourself? You who proclaim that one must not steal, do you steal?

2:22 You who say that one must not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples?

2:23 You who boast in law, do you dishonor God through transgression of the law?

2:24 For "the name of God is blasphemed among the nations because of you," just as it is written.

2:25 For circumcision benefits you if you practice law; but if you are a transgressor of law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision.

2:26 So if the uncircumcised person keeps the law's righteous requirements, will not his uncircumcision be reckoned as circumcision?

2:27 And the one uncircumcised by nature who fulfills the law will judge you who, with the written letter and circumcision, are a transgressor of law.

2:28 For the Jew is not the one outwardly so, nor is circumcision what is outward in flesh;

2:29 but the Jew is the one inwardly so, and circumcision is of the heart, in Spirit, not in letter, whose praise is not from people but from God.

Romans 3

3:1 What, then, is the Jew's advantage, or what is the benefit of circumcision?

3:2 Much in every way. First, indeed, because they were entrusted with the oracles of God.

3:3 For what if some were unfaithful? Will their unfaithfulness nullify God's faithfulness?

3:4 May it never be! But let God be true, and every human being a liar, just as it is written, "So that Thou mayest be justified in Thy words, and wilt prevail when Thou art judged."

3:5 But if our unrighteousness demonstrates God's righteousness, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous when He brings wrath? I speak in human terms.

3:6 May it never be! For then how will God judge the world?

3:7 But if God's truth abounded through my falsehood to His glory, why am I still judged as a sinner?

3:8 And why not say—as we are slandered and as some claim we say—"Let us do evil things so that good things may come"? Their condemnation is just.

3:9 What, then? Are we better off? Not at all; for we have already charged both Jews and Greeks with all being under sin,

3:10 just as it is written: “There is no righteous one, not even one;

3:11 there is no one who understands; there is no one who seeks God.

3:12 All turned aside; together they became useless. There is no one who shows kindness; there is not even one.

3:13 Their throat is an opened tomb; with their tongues they practiced deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips;

3:14 their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.

3:15 Their feet are swift to pour out blood;

3:16 ruin and misery are in their ways,

3:17 and the way of peace they did not know.

3:18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.”

3:19 And we know that whatever the law says, it speaks to those under the law, so that every mouth may be stopped and the whole world may become answerable to God;

3:20 because by works of law no flesh will be justified before Him, for through law comes knowledge of sin.

3:21 But now, apart from law, God’s righteousness has been revealed, witnessed by the law and the prophets:

3:22 God’s righteousness through faith in Jesus Christ, for all who believe. For there is no distinction,

3:23 for all sinned and fall short of God’s glory,

3:24 being justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus,

3:25 whom God set forth as a propitiation in His blood, through faith, to demonstrate His righteousness because of the passing over of sins committed beforehand,

3:26 in God’s forbearance, to demonstrate His righteousness at the present time, so that He may be righteous and justify the one who has faith in Jesus.

3:27 Where, then, is boasting? It was excluded. Through what kind of law? Of works? No, but through a law of faith.

3:28 For we reckon that a person is justified by faith apart from works of law.

3:29 Or is God the God of Jews only? Is He not also of Gentiles? Yes, also of Gentiles,

3:30 since God is one, who will justify the circumcised from faith and the uncircumcised through faith.

3:31 Do we then nullify law through faith? May it never be! Rather, we establish law.

Romans 4

4:1 What, then, shall we say Abraham, our forefather according to the flesh, has found?

4:2 For if Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast of—but not before God.

4:3 For what does the Scripture say? “And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness.”

4:4 Now to the one who works, the wage is not reckoned according to grace, but according to what is owed.

4:5 But to the one who does not work, but believes in the One who justifies the ungodly, his faith is reckoned as righteousness,

4:6 just as David also speaks of the blessedness of the person to whom God reckons righteousness apart from works:

4:7 “Blessed are those whose lawless deeds were forgiven and whose sins were covered;

4:8 blessed is the man whose sin the Lord certainly will not reckon.”

4:9 Is this blessedness, then, upon the circumcised, or also upon the uncircumcised? For we say, “Faith was reckoned to Abraham as righteousness.”

4:10 How, then, was it reckoned? While he was circumcised, or uncircumcised? Not while circumcised, but while uncircumcised.

4:11 And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith he had while uncircumcised, so that he might be father of all who believe while uncircumcised, so that righteousness might be reckoned to them also,

4:12 and father of the circumcised, to those who are not only circumcised but also walk in the footsteps of the faith our father Abraham had while uncircumcised.

4:13 For the promise to Abraham or to his seed that he would be heir of the world was not through law, but through the righteousness of faith.

4:14 For if those from law are heirs, faith has been emptied and the promise has been nullified;

4:15 for the law brings wrath, but where there is no law, neither is there transgression.

4:16 For this reason it is from faith, so that it may be according to grace, so that the promise may be secure to all the seed—not only to the one from the law, but also to the one from Abraham’s faith. He is father of us all,

4:17 just as it is written, “I have made you father of many nations,” before the God whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls the things that are not as though they are.

4:18 Against hope, he believed in hope, so that he might become father of many nations, according to what had been said, “So shall your seed be.”

4:19 And without growing weak in faith, he considered his own body, already deadened as it was, being about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah’s womb;

4:20 but with regard to God’s promise he did not waver in unbelief, but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God,

4:21 and being fully assured that what He has promised He is also able to do.

4:22 Therefore it was also reckoned to him as righteousness.

4:23 But “it was reckoned to him” was not written for his sake alone,

4:24 but also for our sake, to whom it is to be reckoned, who believe in the One who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead,

4:25 who was handed over for our trespasses and was raised for our justification.

Romans 5

5:1 Therefore, having been justified from faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ,

5:2 through whom we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand; and we boast in hope of God’s glory.

5:3 And not only this, but we also boast in afflictions, knowing that affliction produces perseverance,

5:4 and perseverance, proven character, and proven character, hope.

5:5 And hope does not put us to shame, because God’s love has been poured out in our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us.

5:6 For while we were still weak, even then Christ died at the appointed time for the ungodly.

5:7 For rarely will someone die for a righteous person; though perhaps for the good person someone even dares to die.

5:8 But God demonstrates His own love toward us in that, while we were still sinners, Christ died for us.

5:9 Much more, then, having now been justified in His blood, we will be saved through Him from wrath.

5:10 For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we will be saved in His life.

5:11 And not only this, but we also boast in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation.

5:12 For this reason, just as through one person sin entered the world, and through sin, death, and so death passed to all people, because all sinned—

5:13 for before the law came, sin was in the world, but sin is not charged to account when there is no law;

5:14 nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over those who did not sin in the likeness of Adam’s transgression, who is a type of the One to come.

5:15 But the gift is not like the trespass. For if by the one man’s trespass the many died, much more did God’s grace and the gift in the grace of the one Man, Jesus Christ, abound to the many.

5:16 And the gift is not like what came through one who sinned; for the judgment from one trespass resulted in condemnation, but the gift from many trespasses resulted in justification.

5:17 For if, by the one man’s trespass, death reigned through the one, much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and the gift of righteousness reign in life through the One, Jesus Christ.

5:18 So then, as through one trespass there was condemnation for all people, so also through one righteous act there is justification of life for all people.

5:19 For just as through the disobedience of the one person the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the One the many will be made righteous.

5:20 But law came in alongside, so that the trespass might increase; but where sin increased, grace abounded beyond measure,

5:21 so that, just as sin reigned in death, so also grace might reign through righteousness for eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Romans 6

6:1 What, then, shall we say? Should we remain in sin so that grace may increase?

6:2 May it never be! We who died to sin, how will we still live in it?

6:3 Or do you not know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death?

6:4 Therefore we were buried with Him through baptism into death, so that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the Father's glory, so we also might walk in newness of life.

6:5 For if we have become united with the likeness of His death, we will also be united with that of His resurrection,

6:6 knowing this, that our old self was crucified with Him, so that the body of sin might be rendered powerless, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin;

6:7 for the one who died has been justified from sin.

6:8 And if we died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with Him,

6:9 knowing that Christ, having been raised from the dead, no longer dies; death no longer rules over Him.

6:10 For the death He died, He died to sin once for all; but the life He lives, He lives to God.

6:11 So also reckon yourselves to be dead to sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus.

6:12 Therefore do not let sin reign in your mortal body, so that you obey its desires;

6:13 Do not present the parts of your body to sin as weapons of unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those alive from the dead, and the parts of your body to God as weapons of righteousness.

6:14 For sin will not rule over you, for you are not under law, but under grace.

6:15 What, then? Should we sin because we are not under law, but under grace? May it never be!

6:16 Do you not know that when you present yourselves to someone as slaves to obey, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin leading to death, or of obedience leading to righteousness?

6:17 But thanks be to God that, though you were slaves of sin, you obeyed from the heart the pattern of teaching to which you were handed over;

6:18 and, having been set free from sin, you were enslaved to righteousness.

6:19 I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh. For just as you presented the parts of your body as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to lawlessness, so now present the parts of your body as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification.

6:20 For when you were slaves of sin, you were free from righteousness.

6:21 What fruit, then, did you have at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.

6:22 But now, having been set free from sin and enslaved to God, you have your fruit leading to sanctification, and the end, eternal life.

6:23 For sin's wages are death, but God's gift is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 7

7:1 Or do you not know, brothers—for I speak to those who know law—that the law rules over a person for as long as he lives?

7:2 For the married woman is bound by law to her living husband; but if the husband dies, she has been released from the law of the husband.

7:3 So then, while the husband lives, she will be called an adulteress if she belongs to another man; but if the husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is not an adulteress when she belongs to another man.

7:4 So, my brothers, you also were put to death to the law through the body of Christ, so that you might belong to Another, the One raised from the dead, so that we might bear fruit for God.

7:5 For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions aroused through the law were at work in the parts of our body, to bear fruit for death.

7:6 But now we were released from the law, having died to that in which we were held, so that we serve in the newness of the Spirit and not in the oldness of the letter.

7:7 What, then, shall we say? Is the law sin? May it never be! Rather, I did not know sin except through law; for I would not have known desire if the law had not said, "You shall not desire."

7:8 But sin, taking opportunity through the commandment, produced every desire in me; for apart from law sin is dead.

7:9 And I was once alive apart from law; but when the commandment came, sin came to life,

7:10 and I died; and the commandment that was for life proved to bring me death.

7:11 For sin, taking opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me.

7:12 So the law is holy, and the commandment holy and righteous and good.

7:13 Did the good, then, become death to me? May it never be! But sin did, so that it might appear as sin, producing death in me through the good, so that through the commandment sin might become sinful beyond measure.

7:14 For we know that the law is spiritual; but I am of flesh, sold under sin.

7:15 For I do not understand what I do; for I do not practice what I want, but what I hate, this I do.

7:16 But if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law that it is good.

7:17 But now it is no longer I who do it, but sin dwelling in me.

7:18 For I know that good does not dwell in me—that is, in my flesh. For the will is there, but doing what is good is not.

7:19 For I do not do the good that I want, but the evil that I do not want, this I practice.

7:20 But if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin dwelling in me.

7:21 So I find this law: when I want to do the good, evil is at hand for me.

7:22 For I delight in God's law in my inner self,

7:23 but I see another law in the parts of my body, waging war against the law of my mind and taking me captive in the law of sin that is in the parts of my body.

7:24 Wretched person that I am! Who will rescue me from the body of this death?

7:25 Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself, with the mind, serve God's law, but with the flesh, sin's law.

Romans 8

8:1 So then, there is now no condemnation for those in Christ Jesus.

8:2 For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus set you free from the law of sin and death.

8:3 For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God did: sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and concerning sin, He condemned sin in the flesh,

8:4 so that the law's righteous requirement might be fulfilled in us who walk not according to flesh, but according to Spirit.

8:5 For those who are according to flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those according to Spirit, on the things of the Spirit.

8:6 For the mind of the flesh is death, but the mind of the Spirit is life and peace,

8:7 because the mind of the flesh is hostility toward God; for it does not submit to God's law, nor indeed can it.

8:8 And those who are in flesh cannot please God.

8:9 But you are not in flesh, but in Spirit, if indeed God's Spirit dwells in you. But if anyone does not have Christ's Spirit, that person does not belong to Him.

8:10 But if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

8:11 And if the Spirit of the One who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, the One who raised Christ from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through His Spirit dwelling in you.

8:12 So then, brothers, we are debtors—not to the flesh, to live according to flesh;

8:13 for if you live according to flesh, you are going to die; but if by Spirit you put to death the body's practices, you will live.

8:14 For all who are led by God's Spirit are sons of God.

8:15 For you did not receive a spirit of slavery leading again to fear, but you received the Spirit of adoption as sons, in whom we cry, "Abba, Father."

8:16 The Spirit Himself bears witness with our spirit that we are God's children.

8:17 And if children, then also heirs: heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ, if indeed we suffer with Him so that we may also be glorified with Him.

8:18 For I reckon that the sufferings of the present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed in us.

8:19 For creation eagerly awaits the revealing of God's sons;

8:20 for creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of the One who subjected it, in hope

8:21 that creation itself also will be set free from slavery to corruption into the freedom of the glory of God's children.

8:22 For we know that the whole creation groans together and labors in birth pangs together until now;

8:23 and not only creation, but we ourselves also, having the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan within ourselves, awaiting adoption as sons, the redemption of our body.

8:24 For in hope we were saved. But hope that is seen is not hope; for who hopes for what he sees?

8:25 But if we hope for what we do not see, we await it with perseverance.

8:26 And likewise the Spirit also helps our weakness; for we do not know what to pray for as we ought, but the Spirit Himself intercedes with groanings beyond words.

8:27 And the One who searches hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, because He intercedes for saints according to God.

8:28 And we know that all things work together for good for those who love God, those who are called according to purpose.

8:29 Because those whom He foreknew, He also predestined to be conformed to the image of His Son, so that He might be firstborn among many brothers;

8:30 and those whom He predestined, these He also called; and those whom He called, these He also justified; and those whom He justified, these He also glorified.

8:31 What, then, shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against us?

8:32 He who did not spare His own Son, but handed Him over for us all, how will He not also graciously give us all things with Him?

8:33 Who will bring a charge against God's chosen ones? God is the One who justifies.

8:34 Who is the one who condemns? Christ Jesus is the One who died—more than that, was raised—who is also at God's right hand, who also intercedes for us.

8:35 Who will separate us from Christ's love? Affliction, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword?

8:36 Just as it is written, "For Thy sake we are put to death all day long; we were reckoned as sheep for slaughter."

8:37 But in all these things we more than conquer through the One who loved us.

8:38 For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor rulers, neither things present nor things to come nor powers,

8:39 neither height nor depth nor any other created thing will be able to separate us from God's love in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 9

9:1 I speak truth in Christ; I do not lie, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Spirit,

9:2 that I have great sorrow and unceasing anguish in my heart.

9:3 For I could wish that I myself were accursed, away from Christ, for the sake of my brothers, my kinsmen according to the flesh,

9:4 who are Israelites. Theirs are the adoption as sons and the glory and the covenants and the giving of the law and the worship and the promises;

9:5 theirs are the fathers, and from them comes the Christ according to the flesh, who is over all, God blessed throughout the ages. Amen.

9:6 But it is not as though God's word has failed. For not all who are from Israel are Israel;

9:7 neither, because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children; but, "In Isaac your seed will be called."

9:8 That is, the children of the flesh are not thereby God's children, but the children of the promise are reckoned as seed.

9:9 For this is a word of promise: "At this time I will come, and Sarah will have a son."

9:10 And not only this, but also Rebecca, having conceived by one man, Isaac our father—

9:11 for when they had not yet been born or done anything good or bad, so that God's purpose according to election might remain,

9:12 not from works but from the One who calls, it was said to her, "The older will serve the younger,"

9:13 just as it is written, "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated."

9:14 What, then, shall we say? Is there unrighteousness with God? May it never be!

9:15 For He says to Moses, "I will have mercy on whomever I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whomever I have compassion."

9:16 So then, it depends not on the one who wills, nor on the one who runs, but on God who has mercy.

9:17 For the Scripture says to Pharaoh, "For this very purpose I raised you up, so that I might demonstrate My power in you, and so that My name might be proclaimed in all the earth."

9:18 So then, He has mercy on whom He wills, and whom He wills He hardens.

9:19 You will then say to me, "Why, then, does He still find fault? For who has resisted His purpose?"

9:20 But who are you, O man, to answer back to God? Will what is formed say to the One who formed it, "Why didst Thou make me this way?"

9:21 Or does the potter not have authority over the clay, from the same lump to make one vessel for honor and another for dishonor?

9:22 But what if God, willing to demonstrate wrath and to make His power known, endured with much patience vessels of wrath fitted for destruction,

9:23 and did so to make known the wealth of His glory upon vessels of mercy, which He prepared beforehand for glory,

9:24 even us whom He also called, not only from Jews but also from Gentiles?

9:25 As He also says in Hosea, "I will call those who are not My people 'My people,' and her who is not beloved 'beloved';

9:26 and it shall come to pass that in the place where it was said to them, ‘You are not My people,’ there they will be called sons of the living God.”

9:27 But Isaiah cries out concerning Israel, “Though the number of Israel’s sons be like the sand of the sea, the remnant will be saved;

9:28 for the Lord will carry out a word on the earth, completing it and cutting it short.”

9:29 And just as Isaiah has said beforehand, “Unless the Lord Sabaoth had left us seed, we would have become like Sodom and would have been made like Gomorrah.”

9:30 What, then, shall we say? That Gentiles who were not pursuing righteousness attained righteousness, namely the righteousness from faith;

9:31 but Israel, pursuing a law of righteousness, did not attain law.

9:32 Why? Because it was not from faith, but as though from works. They stumbled against the stone of stumbling,

9:33 just as it is written, “Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense, and the one who believes in Him will not be put to shame.”

Romans 10

10:1 Brothers, my heart’s desire and my prayer to God for them are that they may be saved.

10:2 For I bear them witness that they have zeal for God, but not according to knowledge;

10:3 for, not knowing God’s righteousness and seeking to establish their own righteousness, they did not submit to God’s righteousness.

10:4 For Christ is the end of law for righteousness to everyone who believes.

10:5 For Moses writes about the righteousness from the law: the person who does these things will live by them.

10:6 But the righteousness from faith speaks in this way: “Do not say in your heart, ‘Who will ascend into heaven?’”—that is, to bring Christ down;

10:7 or, “‘Who will descend into the abyss?’”—that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.

10:8 But what does it say? “The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart”—that is, the word of faith that we proclaim.

10:9 Because if you confess Jesus as Lord with your mouth, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved;

10:10 for with the heart one believes for righteousness, and with the mouth one confesses for salvation.

10:11 For the Scripture says, “Whoever believes in Him shall not be put to shame.”

10:12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek, for the same Lord is Lord of all, being rich toward all who call upon Him;

10:13 for “everyone who calls upon the name of the Lord will be saved.”

10:14 How, then, are they to call upon One in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in One whom they have not heard? And how are they to hear without someone proclaiming?

10:15 And how are they to proclaim unless they are sent? Just as it is written, “How beautiful are the feet of those announcing good things!”

10:16 But not all obeyed the gospel. For Isaiah says, “O Lord, who has believed our report?”

10:17 So faith is from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ.

10:18 But I say, did they not hear? Indeed they did: “Their sound went out into all the earth, and their words to the ends of the inhabited world.”

10:19 But I say, did Israel not know? First Moses says, “I will make you jealous by what is not a nation; by a senseless nation I will provoke you to anger.”

10:20 And Isaiah speaks boldly and says, “I was found among those who did not seek Me; I became known to those who did not ask for Me.”

10:21 But concerning Israel He says, “All day long I stretched out My hands toward a disobedient and contrary people.”

Romans 11

11:1 I say, then, has God rejected His people? May it never be! For I too am an Israelite, from Abraham’s seed, of Benjamin’s tribe.

11:2 God has not rejected His people whom He foreknew. Or do you not know what the Scripture says in the passage about Elijah, how he pleads with God against Israel?

11:3 “Lord, they killed Thy prophets, they demolished Thy altars, and I alone was left, and they seek my life.”

11:4 But what does the divine response say to him? “I left for Myself seven thousand men who did not bend the knee to Baal.”

11:5 So then, at the present time also there has come to be a remnant according to an election of grace.

11:6 But if by grace, it is no longer from works; otherwise grace is no longer grace.

11:7 What, then? What Israel seeks, it did not obtain; but the chosen obtained it, and the rest were hardened,

11:8 just as it is written, “God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes not to see and ears not to hear, until this very day.”

11:9 And David says, “Let their table become a snare and a trap and a stumbling block and a repayment to them;

11:10 let their eyes be darkened so as not to see, and bend their back continually.”

11:11 I say, then, did they stumble so that they might fall? May it never be! But by their trespass salvation has come to the Gentiles, to make them jealous.

11:12 But if their trespass is the world’s wealth and their loss the Gentiles’ wealth, how much more their fullness!

11:13 And I speak to you Gentiles. Insofar as I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my ministry, 11:14 if somehow I may make my own flesh jealous and save some of them.

11:15 For if their rejection is the world’s reconciliation, what will their acceptance be except life from the dead?

11:16 And if the firstfruits are holy, so is the lump; and if the root is holy, so are the branches.

11:17 But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive, were grafted in among them and came to share in the olive tree’s rich root,

11:18 do not boast over the branches. But if you boast, it is not you who bear the root, but the root bears you.

11:19 You will then say, “Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in.”

11:20 Well: they were broken off because of unbelief, but you stand by faith. Do not be haughty, but fear;

11:21 for if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will He spare you.

11:22 See, then, God’s kindness and severity: severity upon those who fell, but God’s kindness upon you, if you remain in the kindness; otherwise you too will be cut off.

11:23 And they also, if they do not remain in unbelief, will be grafted in; for God is able to graft them in again.

11:24 For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive, and contrary to nature were grafted into a cultivated olive, how much more will these natural branches be grafted into their own olive tree!

11:25 For I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, of this mystery, so that you may not be wise in your own eyes: that a partial hardening has come upon Israel until the fullness of the Gentiles enters,

11:26 and in this way all Israel will be saved, just as it is written: “The Deliverer will come from Zion; He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob.

11:27 And this is My covenant with them, when I take away their sins.”

11:28 With regard to the gospel, they are enemies for your sake; but with regard to election, beloved for the fathers’ sake.

11:29 For God’s gifts and calling are irrevocable.

11:30 For just as you once disobeyed God, but now received mercy through their disobedience,

11:31 so they also now disobeyed, so that through the mercy shown to you they also may now receive mercy.

11:32 For God confined all in disobedience so that He might have mercy on all.

11:33 O depth of God’s wealth and wisdom and knowledge! How unsearchable His judgments and untraceable His ways!

11:34 “For who knew the Lord’s mind? Or who became His counselor?

11:35 Or who gave to Him first, and it will be repaid to him?”

11:36 Because from Him and through Him and to Him are all things. To Him be the glory throughout the ages. Amen.

Romans 12

12:1 Therefore I urge you, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God—your rational worship.

12:2 And do not be conformed to this age, but be transformed by the renewal of the mind, so that you may discern what God’s will is: the good and pleasing and perfect.

12:3 For through the grace given me I say to everyone among you not to think more highly than one ought to think, but to think with sound judgment, as God apportioned to each a measure of faith.

12:4 For as we have many parts in one body, and the parts do not all have the same function,

12:5 so we, the many, are one body in Christ, and each one is a member of the others.

12:6 And since we have gifts differing according to the grace given to us: if prophecy, let it be according to the proportion of faith;

12:7 if service, in serving; if one teaches, in teaching;

12:8 if one exhorts, in exhortation; the one who shares, with generosity; the one who leads, with diligence; the one who shows mercy, with cheerfulness.

12:9 Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor what is evil; cling to what is good.

12:10 In brotherly love be tenderly devoted to one another; take the lead in honoring one another;

12:11 do not be slack in zeal; be fervent in spirit; serve the Lord;

12:12 rejoice in hope; persevere in affliction; persist in prayer;

12:13 share in the needs of the saints; pursue hospitality.

12:14 Bless those who persecute you; bless, and do not curse.

12:15 Rejoice with those who rejoice; weep with those who weep.

12:16 Have the same mind toward one another. Do not set your minds on lofty things, but associate with the lowly. Do not become wise in your own eyes.

12:17 Repay no one evil for evil. Take thought for what is honorable before all people.

12:18 If possible, as far as it depends on you, live at peace with all people.

12:19 Do not avenge yourselves, beloved, but make room for wrath; for it is written, “Vengeance is Mine; I will repay, says the Lord.”

12:20 But if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him a drink; for by doing this you will heap coals of fire upon his head.

12:21 Do not be conquered by evil, but conquer evil with good.

Romans 13

13:1 Let every soul submit to the higher authorities, for there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been appointed by God.

13:2 Therefore the one who sets himself against authority has resisted God’s ordering, and those who resist will receive judgment upon themselves.

13:3 For rulers are not a terror to good work, but to evil. Do you want to be free from fear of the authority? Do the good, and you will have praise from it;

13:4 for it is God’s servant to you for good. But if you do evil, be afraid; for it does not bear the sword without purpose. For it is God’s servant, an avenger who brings wrath on the one who practices evil.

13:5 Therefore it is necessary to submit, not only because of wrath, but also because of conscience.

13:6 For this reason you also pay taxes, for they are God’s ministers, devoted to this very task.

13:7 Pay everyone what is owed: tax to whom tax is due, duty to whom duty is due, fear to whom fear is due, honor to whom honor is due.

13:8 Owe no one anything except to love one another; for the one who loves the other has fulfilled law.

13:9 For “You shall not commit adultery,” “You shall not murder,” “You shall not steal,” “You shall not desire,” and if there is any other commandment, it is summed up in this word: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.”

13:10 Love does no evil to the neighbor; therefore love is the fulfillment of law.

13:11 And do this knowing the time, that it is already the hour for you to rise from sleep; for now salvation is nearer to us than when we believed.

13:12 The night has advanced, and the day has drawn near. Therefore let us put away the works of darkness and put on the weapons of light.

13:13 Let us walk honorably as in daytime, not in revelries and drunkenness, not in sexual promiscuity and licentiousness, not in strife and jealousy;

13:14 but put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not make provision for the flesh to satisfy its desires.

Romans 14

14:1 Welcome the one who is weak in faith, but not to dispute over opinions.

14:2 One believes he may eat all things, but the weak person eats vegetables.

14:3 Do not let the one who eats despise the one who does not eat; and do not let the one who does not eat judge the one who eats, for God welcomed him.

14:4 Who are you to judge another’s household slave? To his own master he stands or falls; and he will be made to stand, for the Lord is able to make him stand.

14:5 For one judges one day above another, but another judges every day alike. Let each be fully assured in his own mind.

14:6 The one who regards the day regards it for the Lord. And the one who eats eats for the Lord, for he gives thanks to God; and the one who does not eat refrains for the Lord and gives thanks to God.

14:7 For none of us lives for himself, and none dies for himself;

14:8 for if we live, we live for the Lord, and if we die, we die for the Lord. So whether we live or die, we are the Lord’s.

14:9 For to this end Christ died and lived, so that He might be Lord of both the dead and the living.

14:10 But why do you judge your brother? Or you also, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before God's judgment seat,

14:11 for it is written, "As I live, says the Lord, every knee will bend to Me, and every tongue will confess to God."

14:12 So then, each of us will give an account of himself to God.

14:13 Therefore let us no longer judge one another; but judge this instead: not to place a stumbling block or a snare for a brother.

14:14 I know and am convinced in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself; except that to the one who reckons something unclean, to that person it is unclean.

14:15 For if your brother is grieved because of food, you no longer walk according to love. Do not destroy with your food the one for whom Christ died.

14:16 Therefore do not let your good be spoken of as evil.

14:17 For God's kingdom is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit;

14:18 for the one who serves Christ in this is pleasing to God and approved by people.

14:19 So then, let us pursue what makes for peace and what builds up one another.

14:20 Do not tear down God's work for the sake of food. All things indeed are clean, but it is evil for a person to eat in a way that causes stumbling.

14:21 It is good not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything by which your brother stumbles.

14:22 The faith you have, keep to yourself before God. Blessed is the one who does not judge himself in what he approves.

14:23 But the one who doubts, if he eats, has been condemned, because it is not from faith; and everything that is not from faith is sin.

Romans 15

15:1 And we who are strong ought to bear the weaknesses of those without strength, and not to please ourselves.

15:2 Let each of us please our neighbor for his good, to build him up.

15:3 For even Christ did not please Himself; but just as it is written, "The reproaches of those who reproach Thee fell upon Me."

15:4 For whatever was written beforehand was written for our instruction, so that through perseverance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope.

15:5 And may the God of perseverance and encouragement grant you to have the same mind among one another according to Christ Jesus,

15:6 so that with one accord and one mouth you may glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15:7 Therefore welcome one another, just as Christ also welcomed you, to God's glory.

15:8 For I say that Christ has become a servant of the circumcision for God's truth, to confirm the promises of the fathers,

15:9 and for the Gentiles to glorify God for mercy, just as it is written, "For this reason I will give thanks to Thee among the Gentiles, and sing praise to Thy name."

15:10 And again it says, "Rejoice, Gentiles, with His people."

15:11 And again, "Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and let all the peoples praise Him."

15:12 And again Isaiah says, "There will be the root of Jesse, and the One who rises to rule Gentiles; upon Him Gentiles will hope."

15:13 And may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that you may abound in hope in the power of the Holy Spirit.

15:14 And I myself am convinced about you, my brothers, that you yourselves also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15:15 But I wrote more boldly to you on some points, to remind you again, because of the grace given me by God

15:16 to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles, performing priestly service with God's gospel, so that the offering of the Gentiles may become acceptable, sanctified in the Holy Spirit.

15:17 Therefore I have reason to boast in Christ Jesus concerning the things of God;

15:18 for I will not dare to speak of anything that Christ did not work through me for the Gentiles' obedience, in word and deed,

15:19 in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Jerusalem and around as far as Illyricum I have fulfilled the proclamation of Christ's gospel,

15:20 and so making it my ambition to proclaim the gospel where Christ has not been named, so that I would not build on another's foundation,

15:21 but just as it is written, “Those to whom nothing about Him was announced will see, and those who have not heard will understand.”

15:22 For this reason I was also often hindered from coming to you;

15:23 but now, no longer having a place in these regions, and having a longing for many years to come to you,

15:24 whenever I travel to Spain—for I hope to see you as I pass through, and to be sent onward there by you, if I may first be filled in some measure by your company—

15:25 but now I am traveling to Jerusalem, serving the saints.

15:26 For Macedonia and Achaia were pleased to make a contribution for the poor among the saints in Jerusalem.

15:27 For they were pleased, and they are their debtors; for if the Gentiles shared in their spiritual things, they also owe them service in material things.

15:28 Therefore, having completed this and sealed this fruit for them, I will depart by way of you for Spain.

15:29 And I know that when I come to you, I will come in the fullness of Christ’s blessing.

15:30 And I urge you, brothers, through our Lord Jesus Christ and through the love of the Spirit, to struggle together with me in prayers to God for me,

15:31 so that I may be rescued from those who disobey in Judea, and my service for Jerusalem may become acceptable to the saints,

15:32 so that, coming to you in joy through God’s will, I may find rest together with you.

15:33 And may the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

Romans 16

16:1 And I commend to you Phoebe our sister, who is also a deacon of the Church in Cenchreae,

16:2 so that you may welcome her in the Lord in a manner worthy of the saints, and stand by her in whatever matter she may need from you; for she herself has been a patron of many, and of me personally.

16:3 Greet Prisca and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus,

16:4 who risked their own neck for my life, to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the Churches of the Gentiles;

16:5 and greet the Church in their house. Greet Epaenetus my beloved, who is the firstfruits of Asia for Christ.

16:6 Greet Mary, who labored much for you.

16:7 Greet Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen and fellow prisoners, who are distinguished among the apostles, who also were in Christ before me.

16:8 Greet Ampliatus, my beloved in the Lord.

16:9 Greet Urbanus, our fellow worker in Christ, and Stachys my beloved.

16:10 Greet Apelles, approved in Christ. Greet those of Aristobulus’s household.

16:11 Greet Herodion my kinsman. Greet those of Narcissus’s household who are in the Lord.

16:12 Greet Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who labor in the Lord. Greet Persis the beloved, who labored much in the Lord.

16:13 Greet Rufus, chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

16:14 Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers with them.

16:15 Greet Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas and all the saints with them.

16:16 Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the Churches of Christ greet you.

16:17 And I urge you, brothers, to watch those who cause divisions and snares contrary to the teaching you learned, and turn away from them;

16:18 for such people do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own belly, and through smooth speech and flattery they deceive the hearts of the unsuspecting.

16:19 For your obedience has reached everyone; therefore I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise about what is good and innocent about what is evil.

16:20 And the God of peace will crush Satan under your feet soon. The grace of our Lord Jesus be with you.

16:21 Timothy my fellow worker greets you, and Lucius and Jason and Sosipater, my kinsmen.

16:22 I, Tertius, who wrote the letter, greet you in the Lord.

16:23 Gaius, my host and host of the whole Church, greets you. Erastus the city steward greets you, and Quartus the brother.

16:24 [[The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.]]

16:25 [Now to the One able to strengthen you according to my gospel and the proclamation of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of a mystery kept silent through long ages,

16:26 but now revealed, and through prophetic writings, according to the command of the eternal God, made known to all the nations for the obedience of faith,

16:27 to the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory throughout the ages. Amen.]

1 Corinthians

1 Corinthians 1

1:1 Paul, called as an apostle of Christ Jesus through God’s will, and Sosthenes the brother,

1:2 to the Church of God in Corinth, to those sanctified in Christ Jesus, called as saints, together with all who call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, theirs and ours:

1:3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:4 I always thank my God for you because of the grace of God given to you in Christ Jesus,

1:5 because in Him you were enriched in everything, in all speech and all knowledge,

1:6 just as the testimony of Christ was confirmed among you,

1:7 so that you lack no gift as you eagerly await the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1:8 He will also keep you firm until the end, free from accusation on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1:9 God is faithful, through whom you were called into the fellowship of His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

1:10 Now I appeal to you, brothers, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all speak in agreement and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be restored to unity in the same mind and the same judgment.

1:11 For Chloe’s people have made it clear to me, my brothers, that there are quarrels among you.

1:12 What I mean is this: each of you says, “I belong to Paul,” or “I to Apollos,” or “I to Cephas,” or “I to Christ.”

1:13 Has Christ been divided? Paul was not crucified for you, was he? Or were you baptized into Paul’s name?

1:14 I give thanks to God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius,

1:15 so that no one may say that you were baptized into my own name.

1:16 I did also baptize the household of Stephanas; beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized anyone else.

1:17 For Christ did not send me to baptize but to proclaim the good news, without wisdom of speech, so that the cross of Christ might not be emptied of its power.

1:18 For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is God’s power.

1:19 For it is written, “I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and I will set aside the understanding of the discerning.”

1:20 Where is the wise person? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Has not God made the world’s wisdom foolish?

1:21 For since, in God’s wisdom, the world did not know God through wisdom, God was pleased through the foolishness of the proclamation to save those who believe.

1:22 For Jews ask for signs and Greeks seek wisdom,

1:23 but we proclaim Christ crucified: a stumbling block to Jews and foolishness to Gentiles,

1:24 but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ is God’s power and God’s wisdom.

1:25 For God’s foolishness is wiser than human beings, and God’s weakness is stronger than human beings.

1:26 For consider your calling, brothers: not many were wise according to the flesh, not many powerful, not many of noble birth.

1:27 But God chose the foolish things of the world to shame the wise, and God chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong;

1:28 and God chose the lowborn things of the world and the despised things, the things that are not, to bring to nothing the things that are,

1:29 so that no flesh may boast before God.

1:30 But it is from Him that you are in Christ Jesus, who became for us wisdom from God, and righteousness and sanctification and redemption,

1:31 so that, as it is written, “Let the one who boasts boast in the Lord.”

1 Corinthians 2

2:1 And when I came to you, brothers, I did not come with lofty speech or wisdom, proclaiming to you the mystery of God.

2:2 For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ, and Him crucified.

2:3 And I was with you in weakness and in fear and in much trembling.

2:4 My speech and my proclamation were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in a demonstration of Spirit and power,

2:5 so that your faith might rest in God’s power rather than human wisdom.

2:6 Yet we speak wisdom among the mature, a wisdom belonging neither to this age nor to the rulers of this age, who are being brought to nothing.

2:7 Instead, we speak God’s wisdom in a mystery, the hidden wisdom that God appointed beforehand, before the ages, for our glory.

2:8 None of the rulers of this age has known it; for if they had known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

2:9 But as it is written, “What an eye has not seen and an ear has not heard, and what has not arisen in a human heart—these are the things God prepared for those who love Him.”

2:10 But God revealed them to us through the Spirit, for the Spirit searches everything, even the depths of God.

2:11 For who among human beings knows the things of a person except the person’s spirit within? So also no one has known the things of God except the Spirit of God.

2:12 Now we did not receive the spirit of the world but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may know the things freely given to us by God.

2:13 We also speak these things, not in words taught by human wisdom but in those taught by the Spirit, explaining spiritual things to spiritual people.

2:14 But a natural person does not receive the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to such a person, who cannot know them because they are discerned spiritually.

2:15 The spiritual person discerns all things, but is himself discerned by no one.

2:16 For “Who has known the Lord’s mind, so as to instruct Him?” But we have Christ’s mind.

1 Corinthians 3

3:1 And I, brothers, could not speak to you as spiritual people, but as people of flesh, as infants in Christ.

3:2 I gave you milk to drink, not solid food, for you were not yet able to receive it. Indeed, even now you are still unable,

3:3 for you are still fleshly. For where there are jealousy and quarrels among you, are you not fleshly and walking in a merely human way?

3:4 For whenever someone says, “I belong to Paul,” and another, “I to Apollos,” are you not merely human?

3:5 What, then, is Apollos? And what is Paul? Servants through whom you believed, each as the Lord granted.

3:6 I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth.

3:7 So neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is anything, but God who gives the growth.

3:8 The one who plants and the one who waters are one, but each will receive his own wages according to his own labor.

3:9 For we are God’s fellow workers; you are God’s cultivated field, God’s building.

3:10 According to the grace of God given to me, I laid a foundation as a wise master builder, and another builds upon it. But let each one watch how he builds upon it.

3:11 For no one can lay another foundation besides the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ.

3:12 Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, grass, or straw,

3:13 each person’s work will become clear, for the day will disclose it, because it is revealed in fire; and the fire itself will test what sort of work each has done.

3:14 If anyone’s work that he has built upon the foundation remains, he will receive wages.

3:15 If anyone’s work is burned up, he will suffer loss, but he himself will be saved, though in this way: as through fire.

3:16 Do you not know that you are God’s temple and that God’s Spirit dwells among you?

3:17 If anyone destroys God’s temple, God will destroy that person. For God’s temple is holy, and that is what you are.

3:18 Let no one deceive himself. If anyone among you thinks he is wise in this age, let him become foolish so that he may become wise.

3:19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, “He catches the wise in their craftiness,”

3:20 and again, “The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise, that they are futile.”

3:21 So let no one boast in human beings, for all things are yours,

3:22 whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas, or the world or life or death, or present things or things to come—all are yours,

3:23 and you are Christ’s, and Christ is God’s.

1 Corinthians 4

4:1 This is how a person should regard us: as servants of Christ and stewards of God’s mysteries.

4:2 Moreover, what is required of stewards is that each be found faithful.

4:3 But to me it is a very small matter that I should be examined by you or by a human court; indeed, I do not even examine myself.

4:4 For I am aware of nothing against myself, but I am not thereby justified. The One who examines me is the Lord.

4:5 So judge nothing before the time, until the Lord comes. He will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness and reveal the purposes of hearts; then each one's praise will come from God.

4:6 Now, brothers, I have applied these things figuratively to myself and Apollos for your sake, so that in us you may learn, "Not beyond what is written," so that none of you may be puffed up in favor of one against another.

4:7 For who makes you different? And what do you have that you did not receive? But if you did receive it, why do you boast as though you had not received it?

4:8 Already you have your fill! Already you have become rich! Without us you have become kings! And I wish indeed that you had become kings, so that we too might reign with you.

4:9 For I think God has displayed us apostles last of all, as people condemned to death, because we have become a spectacle to the world, both to angels and to human beings.

4:10 We are foolish for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ. We are weak, but you are strong. You are honored, but we are dishonored.

4:11 To this very hour we hunger and thirst, are poorly clothed, are beaten, and have no settled home,

4:12 and we toil, working with our own hands. When insulted, we bless; when persecuted, we endure;

4:13 when slandered, we appeal. We have become like the world's refuse, everyone's scrapings, until now.

4:14 I write these things not to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved children.

4:15 For even if you have ten thousand guardians in Christ, you do not have many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I became your father through the good news.

4:16 Therefore I appeal to you: imitate me.

4:17 For this reason I sent Timothy to you, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord. He will remind you of my ways in Christ Jesus, just as I teach everywhere in every Church.

4:18 Some have become puffed up as though I were not coming to you.

4:19 But I will come to you soon, if the Lord wills, and I will find out the power of those who are puffed up, not their talk.

4:20 For God's kingdom is in power, not in talk.

4:21 What do you want? Should I come to you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

1 Corinthians 5

5:1 Sexual immorality is actually reported among you, and such sexual immorality as does not occur even among the Gentiles: that someone has his father's wife.

5:2 And you are puffed up! Should you not instead have mourned, so that the one who did this deed might be removed from your midst?

5:3 For although I am absent in body, I am present in spirit, and I have already passed judgment, as though present, on the one who acted in this way,

5:4 in the name of our Lord Jesus, when you and my spirit are gathered together, with the power of our Lord Jesus,

5:5 to hand such a person over to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that the spirit may be saved on the day of the Lord.

5:6 Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump of dough?

5:7 Clean out the old leaven so that you may be a new lump of dough, just as you are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover, has been sacrificed.

5:8 So let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, nor with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

5:9 I wrote to you in the letter not to associate with sexually immoral people,

5:10 not at all meaning the sexually immoral people of this world, or the greedy and grasping, or idolaters; otherwise you would have to leave the world.

5:11 But now I have written to you not to associate with anyone who is called a brother if he is sexually immoral or greedy or an idolater or abusive or a drunkard or grasping—not even to eat with such a person.

5:12 For what have I to do with judging those outside? Do you not judge those inside?

5:13 But God will judge those outside. Remove the wicked person from among yourselves.

1 Corinthians 6

6:1 Does any of you, having a case against another, dare to seek judgment before the unrighteous and not before the saints?

6:2 Or do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is judged by you, are you unworthy of the smallest cases?

6:3 Do you not know that we will judge angels, to say nothing of matters of ordinary life?

6:4 If, then, you have cases concerning ordinary life, do you seat as judges those held in no regard in the Church?

6:5 I say this to your shame. Is there really no wise person among you who will be able to decide his brother's case,

6:6 but brother goes to court against brother, and that before unbelievers?

6:7 Indeed, then, it is already a complete defeat for you that you have lawsuits with one another. Why not instead be wronged? Why not instead be defrauded?

6:8 But you yourselves do wrong and defraud—and do this to brothers.

6:9 Or do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit God's kingdom? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate men, nor men who bed males,

6:10 nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor the abusive, nor the grasping will inherit God's kingdom.

6:11 And some of you were these things. But you washed yourselves clean, but you were sanctified, but you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and in the Spirit of our God.

6:12 All things are permitted to me, but not all things are beneficial. All things are permitted to me, but I will not be brought under the authority of anything.

6:13 Foods are for the stomach, and the stomach for foods, but God will bring both it and them to an end. Yet the body is not for sexual immorality but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

6:14 God both raised the Lord and will raise us through His power.

6:15 Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I, then, take Christ's members and make them members of a prostitute? May it never be!

6:16 Or do you not know that the one who joins himself to a prostitute is one body with her? For He says, "The two will become one flesh."

6:17 But the one who joins himself to the Lord is one spirit with Him.

6:18 Flee sexual immorality. Every sin that a person commits is outside the body, but the sexually immoral person sins against his own body.

6:19 Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God? And you are not your own,

6:20 for you were bought at a price. Therefore glorify God in your body.

1 Corinthians 7

7:1 Now concerning the things you wrote: it is good for a man not to touch a woman.

7:2 But because of cases of sexual immorality, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband.

7:3 Let the husband fulfill his obligation to his wife, and likewise the wife to her husband.

7:4 The wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does; likewise the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does.

7:5 Do not deprive one another, except perhaps by mutual agreement for a time, so that you may devote yourselves to prayer and then be together again, so that Satan may not tempt you because of your lack of self-control.

7:6 I say this by way of concession, not by way of command.

7:7 I wish that all people were as I myself am. But each has his own gift from God, one in this way and another in that.

7:8 Now I say to the unmarried and the widows: it is good for them if they remain as I am.

7:9 But if they do not exercise self-control, let them marry, for it is better to marry than to burn.

7:10 To the married I give this instruction—not I, but the Lord: a wife is not to separate from her husband—

7:11 but if she does separate, let her remain unmarried or be reconciled to her husband—and a husband is not to dismiss his wife.

7:12 To the rest I say—I, not the Lord: if any brother has an unbelieving wife and she agrees to live with him, let him not dismiss her.

7:13 And if any woman has an unbelieving husband and he agrees to live with her, let her not dismiss her husband.

7:14 For the unbelieving husband has been sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife has been sanctified in the brother. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but as it is they are holy.

7:15 But if the unbelieving spouse separates, let that one separate. The brother or sister is not enslaved in such cases; God has called you in peace.

7:16 For how do you know, wife, whether you will save your husband? Or how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife?

7:17 Only let each walk as the Lord has allotted to him, as God has called each one. This is what I direct in all the Churches.

7:18 Was anyone called when already circumcised? Let him not undo his circumcision. Has anyone been called in uncircumcision? Let him not be circumcised.

7:19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but keeping God's commandments matters.

7:20 Let each remain in the calling in which he was called.

7:21 Were you called as a slave? Do not let it trouble you. But if you can indeed become free, make use of the opportunity instead.

7:22 For the slave called in the Lord is the Lord's freedperson; likewise the free person who was called is Christ's slave.

7:23 You were bought at a price; do not become slaves of human beings.

7:24 Brothers, let each remain with God in the condition in which he was called.

7:25 Now concerning virgins, I have no command from the Lord, but I give a judgment as one who has received mercy from the Lord to be faithful.

7:26 I therefore think this is good because of the present distress: that it is good for a person to remain as he is.

7:27 Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek release. Are you released from a wife? Do not seek a wife.

7:28 But even if you marry, you have not sinned; and if a virgin marries, she has not sinned. Yet such people will have affliction in the flesh, and I would spare you.

7:29 But I say this, brothers: the time has been shortened. From now on, let even those who have wives be as though they had none,

7:30 and those who weep as though not weeping, and those who rejoice as though not rejoicing, and those who buy as though not possessing,

7:31 and those who use the world as though not making full use of it. For the form of this world is passing away.

7:32 I want you to be free from anxiety. The unmarried man is concerned about the Lord's affairs, how he may please the Lord.

7:33 But the married man is concerned about the world's affairs, how he may please his wife,

7:34 and he is divided. Both the unmarried woman and the virgin are concerned about the Lord's affairs, so that each may be holy in both body and spirit. But the married woman is concerned about the world's affairs, how she may please her husband.

7:35 I say this for your own benefit, not to throw a noose over you, but for good order and undistracted devotion to the Lord.

7:36 But if anyone thinks he is behaving improperly toward his virgin, if she is past her prime and it ought to happen in this way, let him do what he wants; he does not sin. Let them marry.

7:37 But the one who stands firm in his heart, who is under no compulsion but has authority over his own will, and who has decided this in his own heart—to keep his own virgin—will do well.

7:38 So the one who gives his own virgin in marriage does well, and the one who does not give her in marriage will do better.

7:39 A wife is bound for as long as her husband lives. But if her husband falls asleep, she is free to marry whomever she wants, only in the Lord.

7:40 But she is happier if she remains as she is, according to my judgment; and I think that I too have God's Spirit.

1 Corinthians 8

8:1 Now concerning food offered to idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up.

8:2 If anyone thinks he has come to know something, he does not yet know as he ought to know.

8:3 But if anyone loves God, that person has been known by Him.

8:4 Therefore, concerning the eating of food offered to idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world and that there is no God except one.

8:5 For even if there are so-called gods, whether in heaven or on earth—as indeed there are many gods and many lords—

8:6 yet for us there is one God, the Father, from whom are all things and we for Him, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things and we through Him.

8:7 But not everyone has this knowledge. Some, because they have been accustomed to the idol until now, eat the food as offered to an idol, and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.

8:8 But food will not present us favorably before God. We are no worse off if we do not eat, and no better off if we do.

8:9 But take care that this authority of yours does not somehow become a stumbling block to the weak.

8:10 For if someone sees you who have knowledge reclining at a meal in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, weak as he is, be built up to eat food offered to idols?

8:11 For through your knowledge the weak person is being destroyed, the brother for whom Christ died.

8:12 When you sin against the brothers in this way and strike their weak conscience, you sin against Christ.

8:13 Therefore, if food causes my brother to stumble, I will never eat meat, so that I may not cause my brother to stumble.

1 Corinthians 9

9:1 Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Have I not seen Jesus our Lord? Are you not my work in the Lord?

9:2 If I am not an apostle to others, at least I am to you, for you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord.

9:3 This is my defense to those who examine me.

9:4 Do we not have the right to eat and drink?

9:5 Do we not have the right to take along a wife who is a sister, as do the other apostles and the Lord's brothers and Cephas?

9:6 Or do only Barnabas and I lack the right to refrain from working?

9:7 Who ever serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat its fruit? Who shepherds a flock and does not share in the flock's milk?

9:8 Am I saying these things merely in a human way, or does not the law also say them?

9:9 For in the law of Moses it is written, "You shall not muzzle an ox while it threshes." Is it oxen that concern God,

9:10 or does He surely say it for our sake? For it was written for our sake, because the plowman ought to plow in hope, and the thresher in hope of sharing.

9:11 If we sowed spiritual things among you, is it too much if we reap your material things?

9:12 If others share in this right over you, do we not all the more? But we did not use this right; instead, we bear everything so that we may put no hindrance in the way of the good news of Christ.

9:13 Do you not know that those who perform the sacred duties eat what comes from the temple, and those who attend the altar share with the altar?

9:14 In the same way, the Lord directed those who proclaim the good news to live from the good news.

9:15 But I have used none of these things. Nor have I written this so that it should happen this way for me, for it would be better for me to die than—no one will empty my boast!

9:16 For if I proclaim the good news, I have no boast, because necessity lies upon me. For woe to me if I do not proclaim the good news!

9:17 For if I do this willingly, I have wages; but if unwillingly, I have been entrusted with a stewardship.

9:18 What, then, are my wages? That when proclaiming the good news I may offer it without charge, so as not to make full use of my right in the good news.

9:19 For though free from all, I enslaved myself to all, so that I might win more of them.

9:20 To the Jews I became as a Jew, so that I might win Jews; to those under law, as under law—though I myself am not under law—so that I might win those under law;

9:21 to those without law, as without law—though not without God's law but within Christ's law—so that I might win those without law.

9:22 To the weak I became weak, so that I might win the weak. I have become all things to all people, so that by all means I might save some.

9:23 I do all things for the sake of the good news, so that I may share in it with others.

9:24 Do you not know that all the runners in a stadium run, but one receives the prize? Run in such a way that you may obtain it.

9:25 Everyone who competes exercises self-control in all things. They do so to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable one.

9:26 So I run in this way, not aimlessly; I box in this way, not as one beating the air.

9:27 Instead, I pummel my body and bring it into slavery, so that, after proclaiming to others, I myself may not become disqualified.

1 Corinthians 10

10:1 For I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that our fathers were all under the cloud and all passed through the sea,

10:2 and all were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea,

10:3 and all ate the same spiritual food,

10:4 and all drank the same spiritual drink, for they drank from a spiritual rock that followed them, and the rock was Christ.

10:5 But God was not pleased with most of them, for they were strewn over the wilderness.

10:6 Now these things became examples for us, so that we might not desire evil things as they also desired.

10:7 Do not become idolaters, as some of them did, just as it is written: “The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose to play.”

10:8 Nor let us commit sexual immorality, as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in one day.

10:9 Nor let us put Christ to the test, as some of them tested Him and were being destroyed by the serpents.

10:10 Nor grumble, just as some of them grumbled and were destroyed by the destroyer.

10:11 These things happened to them as examples, and were written to admonish us, upon whom the ends of the ages have arrived.

10:12 So let the one who thinks he stands take care that he does not fall.

10:13 No temptation has seized you except what is common to humanity. But God is faithful: He will not allow you to be tempted beyond what you can bear, but with the temptation will also provide the way out, so that you may be able to endure it.

10:14 Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry.

10:15 I speak as to wise people; judge for yourselves what I say.

10:16 The cup of blessing that we bless—is it not participation in the blood of Christ? The bread that we break—is it not participation in the body of Christ?

10:17 Because there is one bread, we who are many are one body, for we all partake of the one bread.

10:18 Consider Israel according to the flesh: are not those who eat the sacrifices participants in the altar?

10:19 What, then, am I saying? That food offered to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything?

10:20 Rather, that what they sacrifice, they sacrifice to demons and not to God. And I do not want you to become participants with demons.

10:21 You cannot drink the Lord’s cup and the cup of demons. You cannot partake of the Lord’s table and the table of demons.

10:22 Or are we provoking the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than He?

10:23 All things are permitted, but not all things are beneficial. All things are permitted, but not all things build up.

10:24 Let no one seek his own good, but the other’s.

10:25 Eat everything sold in the meat market without examining it for conscience’s sake,

10:26 for “The earth is the Lord’s, and all that fills it.”

10:27 If any of the unbelievers invites you and you want to go, eat everything set before you without examining it for conscience’s sake.

10:28 But if someone says to you, “This has been offered in sacrifice,” do not eat it, for the sake of the one who informed you and for conscience’s sake.

10:29 I mean not your own conscience, but the other’s. For why is my freedom judged by another conscience?

10:30 If I partake with thanksgiving, why am I slandered for what I give thanks for?

10:31 Therefore, whether you eat or drink or do anything, do everything for God’s glory.

10:32 Give no cause for stumbling to Jews or Greeks or the Church of God,

10:33 just as I too please everyone in everything, seeking not my own benefit but that of the many, so that they may be saved.

1 Corinthians 11

11:1 Imitate me, just as I also imitate Christ.

11:2 Now I praise you because you remember me in all things and hold fast to the traditions just as I handed them over to you.

11:3 But I want you to know that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God.

11:4 Every man who prays or prophesies with something covering his head dishonors his head.

11:5 But every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her head, for it is one and the same as being shaved.

11:6 For if a woman does not cover herself, let her also cut off her hair. But if it is shameful for a woman to have her hair cut off or to be shaved, let her cover herself.

11:7 For a man ought not to cover his head, being God’s image and glory; but the woman is the man’s glory.

11:8 For man is not from woman, but woman from man;

11:9 for indeed man was not created for the woman’s sake, but woman for the man’s sake.

11:10 For this reason the woman ought to have authority on her head, because of the angels.

11:11 Nevertheless, in the Lord neither is woman without man nor man without woman.

11:12 For just as woman is from man, so also man is through woman; but all things are from God.

11:13 Judge among yourselves: is it fitting for a woman to pray to God uncovered?

11:14 Does not nature itself teach you that if a man wears long hair it is a dishonor to him,

11:15 but if a woman wears long hair it is a glory to her? For the hair has been given to her as a covering.

11:16 But if anyone is inclined to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor do the Churches of God.

11:17 But in giving this instruction I do not praise you, because you come together for the worse rather than for the better.

11:18 For first, when you come together as a Church, I hear that divisions exist among you, and I believe it in part.

11:19 For there must even be factions among you so that those who are approved may also become evident among you.

11:20 Therefore, when you gather in the same place, it is not to eat the Lord's supper,

11:21 for in eating, each takes his own supper beforehand, and one is hungry while another is drunk.

11:22 Do you not have houses for eating and drinking? Or do you despise God's Church and shame those who have nothing? What should I say to you? Should I praise you? In this I do not praise you.

11:23 For I received from the Lord what I also handed over to you: that the Lord Jesus, on the night when He was being handed over, took bread,

11:24 and after giving thanks He broke it and said, "This is My body, which is for you. Do this in remembrance of Me."

11:25 Likewise He also took the cup after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood. Do this, as often as you drink, in remembrance of Me."

11:26 For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes.

11:27 Therefore, whoever eats the bread or drinks the Lord's cup unworthily will be answerable for the Lord's body and blood.

11:28 Let a person examine himself, and in this way let him eat from the bread and drink from the cup.

11:29 For the one who eats and drinks without discerning the body eats and drinks judgment upon himself.

11:30 For this reason many among you are weak and ill, and a considerable number are asleep.

11:31 But if we discerned ourselves, we would not be judged.

11:32 Yet when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined, so that we may not be condemned with the world.

11:33 Therefore, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for one another.

11:34 If anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, so that you may not come together for judgment. I will arrange the remaining matters when I come.

1 Corinthians 12

12:1 Now concerning spiritual things, brothers, I do not want you to be unaware.

12:2 You know that when you were Gentiles, you were carried away to the mute idols, however you were led.

12:3 Therefore I make known to you that no one speaking in God's Spirit says, "Jesus is accursed," and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord," except in the Holy Spirit.

12:4 There are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit;

12:5 and there are varieties of service, and the same Lord;

12:6 and there are varieties of work, but the same God, who works all things in everyone.

12:7 To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common benefit.

12:8 For to one a word of wisdom is given through the Spirit, and to another a word of knowledge according to the same Spirit;

12:9 to another faith in the same Spirit, and to another gifts of healings in the one Spirit;

12:10 to another acts of power, to another prophecy, to another discernments of spirits, to another kinds of tongues, and to another interpretation of tongues.

12:11 But the one and the same Spirit works all these things, distributing to each individually just as He wills.

12:12 For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the body's members, though many, are one body, so also is Christ.

12:13 For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or free, and we were all given one Spirit to drink.

12:14 For the body is not one member but many.

12:15 If the foot says, "Because I am not a hand, I am not part of the body," that does not stop it from being part of the body, does it?

12:16 And if the ear says, "Because I am not an eye, I am not part of the body," that does not stop it from being part of the body, does it?

12:17 If the whole body were an eye, where would hearing be? If the whole were hearing, where would the sense of smell be?

12:18 But as it is, God placed the members, each one of them, in the body just as He wished.

12:19 If they were all one member, where would the body be?

12:20 But as it is, there are many members, yet one body.

12:21 The eye cannot say to the hand, “I have no need of you,” or again the head to the feet, “I have no need of you.”

12:22 On the contrary, the members of the body that seem weaker are much more necessary,

12:23 and those parts of the body we consider less honorable, we clothe with greater honor; and our unpresentable parts receive greater modesty,

12:24 while our presentable parts have no need of it. But God combined the body, giving greater honor to the part that lacked it,

12:25 so that there may be no division in the body, but that the members may have the same care for one another.

12:26 If one member suffers, all the members suffer together; if one member is honored, all the members rejoice together.

12:27 Now you are Christ’s body, and individually members of it.

12:28 God has appointed in the Church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then acts of power, then gifts of healings, helps, forms of guidance, and kinds of tongues.

12:29 Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all perform acts of power?

12:30 Do all have gifts of healings? Do all speak in tongues? Do all interpret?

12:31 But earnestly desire the greater gifts. And I show you a way beyond all comparison.

1 Corinthians 13

13:1 If I speak in the tongues of human beings and of angels but have no love, I have become resounding bronze or a clanging cymbal.

13:2 And if I have prophecy and know all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith so as to move mountains, but have no love, I am nothing.

13:3 And if I distribute all my possessions as food, and if I hand over my body so that I may boast, but have no love, I gain nothing.

13:4 Love is patient; love is kind; it does not envy; [love] does not boast, is not puffed up,

13:5 does not behave shamefully, does not seek its own interests, is not provoked, does not keep account of wrong, 13:6 does not rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth.

13:7 It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

13:8 Love never falls. But prophecies will be brought to an end; tongues will cease; knowledge will be brought to an end.

13:9 For we know in part and prophesy in part,

13:10 but when what is complete comes, what is partial will be brought to an end.

13:11 When I was a child, I spoke as a child, thought as a child, reasoned as a child. When I became a man, I brought the child’s ways to an end.

13:12 For now we see through a mirror, as in a riddle, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I will know fully, just as I also was fully known.

13:13 And now faith, hope, and love remain, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

1 Corinthians 14

14:1 Pursue love, and earnestly desire spiritual things, especially that you may prophesy.

14:2 For the one who speaks in a tongue speaks not to human beings but to God, for no one understands him; in spirit he speaks mysteries.

14:3 But the one who prophesies speaks to human beings for building up, encouragement, and consolation.

14:4 The one who speaks in a tongue builds himself up, but the one who prophesies builds up the Church.

14:5 I want all of you to speak in tongues, but still more that you should prophesy. The one who prophesies is greater than the one who speaks in tongues, unless he interprets, so that the Church may be built up.

14:6 But now, brothers, if I come to you speaking in tongues, how will I benefit you unless I speak to you in revelation or knowledge or prophecy or teaching?

14:7 Even lifeless things that give a sound, whether a flute or a lyre—if they do not produce distinct notes, how will what is played on the flute or lyre be recognized?

14:8 For if a trumpet gives an unclear sound, who will prepare for battle?

14:9 So also with you: unless you speak an intelligible word with your tongue, how will what is spoken be known? For you will be speaking into the air.

14:10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none is voiceless.

14:11 Therefore, if I do not know the meaning of the voice, I will be a foreigner to the speaker, and the speaker a foreigner to me.

14:12 So also with you: since you are zealous for spirits, seek to excel for the building up of the Church.

14:13 Therefore let the one who speaks in a tongue pray that he may interpret.

14:14 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays, but my mind is unfruitful.

14:15 What, then, is to be done? I will pray with the spirit, but I will also pray with the mind. I will sing with the spirit, but I will also sing with the mind.

14:16 Otherwise, if you bless in spirit, how will the person in the place of the uninitiated say the Amen to your thanksgiving, since he does not know what you are saying?

14:17 For you give thanks well, but the other person is not built up.

14:18 I thank God; I speak in tongues more than all of you.

14:19 But in Church I would rather speak five words with my mind, so that I may instruct others too, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

14:20 Brothers, do not become children in your thinking. Be infants in evil, but become mature in your thinking.

14:21 In the law it is written, “Through people of other tongues and through the lips of others I will speak to this people, and even so they will not listen to Me,” says the Lord.

14:22 So tongues are a sign for unbelievers, not for believers, while prophecy is for believers, not for unbelievers.

14:23 Therefore, if the whole Church gathers in the same place and everyone speaks in tongues, and uninitiated people or unbelievers enter, will they not say that you are mad?

14:24 But if everyone prophesies and an unbeliever or an uninitiated person enters, he is exposed by all, examined by all;

14:25 the hidden things of his heart are revealed, and so, falling on his face, he will worship God, declaring, “God is truly among you.”

14:26 What, then, is to be done, brothers? When you gather, each has a psalm, has a teaching, has a revelation, has a tongue, has an interpretation. Let everything be done for building up.

14:27 If anyone speaks in a tongue, let it be by two or at most three, each in turn, and let one interpret.

14:28 But if there is no interpreter, let him be silent in Church, and let him speak to himself and to God.

14:29 Let two or three prophets speak, and let the others discern.

14:30 But if something is revealed to another who is seated, let the first be silent.

14:31 For you can all prophesy one by one, so that all may learn and all may be encouraged.

14:32 And prophets’ spirits are subject to prophets,

14:33 for God is not a God of disorder but of peace. As in all the Churches of the saints,

14:34 let the women be silent in the Churches, for they are not permitted to speak; instead, let them be subject, just as the law also says.

14:35 If they want to learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home, for it is shameful for a woman to speak in Church.

14:36 Or did God’s word go out from you? Or has it reached you alone?

14:37 If anyone thinks he is a prophet or spiritual, let him recognize that what I write to you is the Lord’s command.

14:38 But if anyone does not recognize this, he is not recognized.

14:39 Therefore, my brothers, earnestly desire to prophesy, and do not forbid speaking in tongues.

14:40 But let everything be done fittingly and in order.

1 Corinthians 15

15:1 Now I make known to you, brothers, the good news that I proclaimed to you, which you also received, in which you also stand,

15:2 through which you are also being saved, if you hold fast to the word in which I proclaimed it to you—unless you believed in vain.

15:3 For I handed over to you as matters of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures,

15:4 and that He was buried, and that He has been raised on the third day according to the Scriptures,

15:5 and that He appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve.

15:6 After that He appeared to more than five hundred brothers at once, most of whom remain until now, though some have fallen asleep.

15:7 After that He appeared to James, then to all the apostles.

15:8 Last of all, as to one untimely born, He appeared also to me.

15:9 For I am the least of the apostles, unworthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted God's Church.

15:10 But by God's grace I am what I am, and His grace toward me was not empty. Instead, I labored more than all of them—yet not I, but God's grace with me.

15:11 So whether it was I or they, this is how we proclaim, and this is how you believed.

15:12 Now if Christ is proclaimed as raised from the dead, how can some among you say that there is no resurrection of the dead?

15:13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither has Christ been raised.

15:14 And if Christ has not been raised, then our proclamation is also empty, and your faith is empty too.

15:15 We are also found to be false witnesses concerning God, because we testified against God that He raised Christ, whom He did not raise if, after all, the dead are not raised.

15:16 For if the dead are not raised, neither has Christ been raised.

15:17 And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile; you are still in your sins.

15:18 Then those who have fallen asleep in Christ have also perished.

15:19 If in this life alone we have hoped in Christ, we are more to be pitied than all other people.

15:20 But as it is, Christ has been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep.

15:21 For since death came through a human being, resurrection of the dead also comes through a human being.

15:22 For just as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all will be made alive.

15:23 But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then those who belong to Christ at His coming,

15:24 then the end, when He hands over the kingdom to God the Father, when He brings to nothing every rule and every authority and power.

15:25 For He must reign until He puts all the enemies under His feet.

15:26 The last enemy to be brought to nothing is death,

15:27 for "He subjected all things under His feet." But when it says that all things have been subjected, it is clear that this excludes the One who subjected all things to Him.

15:28 And when all things have been subjected to Him, then the Son Himself will also be subjected to the One who subjected all things to Him, so that God may be all in all.

15:29 Otherwise, what will those who are baptized for the dead do? If the dead are not raised at all, why are they even baptized for them?

15:30 Why are we also in danger every hour?

15:31 I die daily, brothers—I affirm it by my boasting in you, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord.

15:32 If in a merely human way I fought with beasts in Ephesus, what benefit is there for me? If the dead are not raised, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

15:33 Do not be deceived: "Bad company corrupts good habits."

15:34 Sober up as you ought and do not sin, for some have no knowledge of God. I speak to your shame.

15:35 But someone will say, "How are the dead raised? With what sort of body do they come?"

15:36 Foolish one! What you sow is not made alive unless it dies.

15:37 And what you sow is not the body that will come to be, but a bare grain, perhaps of wheat or of one of the other kinds.

15:38 But God gives it a body just as He wished, and to each of the seeds its own body.

15:39 Not all flesh is the same flesh: human flesh is one kind, the flesh of animals another, the flesh of birds another, and that of fish another.

15:40 There are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies, but the glory of the heavenly is one kind and that of the earthly another.

15:41 The sun has one glory, the moon another glory, and the stars another glory; for star differs from star in glory.

15:42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption.

15:43 It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power.

15:44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual one.

15:45 So also it is written, “The first human being, Adam, became a living soul”; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit.

15:46 But the spiritual is not first; the natural is first, then the spiritual.

15:47 The first human being is from the earth, made of dust; the second human being is from heaven.

15:48 As is the one made of dust, so also are those made of dust; and as is the heavenly One, so also are the heavenly ones.

15:49 And just as we bore the image of the one made of dust, we will also bear the image of the heavenly One.

15:50 Now I say this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot inherit God’s kingdom, nor does corruption inherit incorruption.

15:51 Look, I tell you a mystery: we will not all fall asleep, but we will all be changed,

15:52 in an instant, in the blink of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised incorruptible, and we will be changed.

15:53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

15:54 But when this corruptible puts on incorruption and this mortal puts on immortality, then the written saying will come to pass: “Death has been swallowed up in victory.”

15:55 “Where, death, is your victory? Where, death, is your sting?”

15:56 The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law.

15:57 But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

15:58 Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the Lord’s work, knowing that your labor is not empty in the Lord.

1 Corinthians 16

16:1 Now concerning the collection for the saints: just as I directed the Churches of Galatia, so you also are to do.

16:2 On the first day of every week, let each of you set something aside on his own, saving as he prospers, so that collections may not be made when I come.

16:3 When I arrive, I will send, with letters, those whom you approve to carry your gracious gift to Jerusalem.

16:4 If it is fitting for me to go as well, they will go with me.

16:5 I will come to you when I have passed through Macedonia, for I am going through Macedonia.

16:6 Perhaps I will remain with you, or even spend the winter, so that you may send me onward wherever I go.

16:7 For I do not want to see you now merely in passing; I hope to remain with you for some time, if the Lord permits.

16:8 But I will remain in Ephesus until Pentecost,

16:9 for a great and effective door has opened to me, and there are many opponents.

16:10 If Timothy comes, see that he may be with you without fear, for he works the Lord’s work just as I do.

16:11 Therefore let no one despise him. Send him onward in peace, so that he may come to me, for I await him with the brothers.

16:12 Now concerning Apollos the brother: I strongly urged him to come to you with the brothers, but it was certainly not his wish to come now. He will come when he has opportunity.

16:13 Stay awake; stand firm in the faith; be courageous; be strong.

16:14 Let everything among you be done in love.

16:15 Now I appeal to you, brothers—you know the household of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia and that they devoted themselves to serving the saints—

16:16 that you too submit to such people, and to everyone who works together and labors.

16:17 I rejoice at the arrival of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus, because they filled what was lacking on your part,

16:18 for they refreshed my spirit and yours. Therefore recognize such people.

16:19 The Churches of Asia greet you. Aquila and Prisca, together with the Church in their house, greet you warmly in the Lord.

16:20 All the brothers greet you. Greet one another with a holy kiss.

16:21 The greeting is in my own hand—Paul’s.

16:22 If anyone does not love the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come!

16:23 The grace of the Lord Jesus be with you.

16:24 My love be with all of you in Christ Jesus.

2 Corinthians

2 Corinthians 1

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy the brother, to the Church of God in Corinth, together with all the saints in the whole of Achaia:

1:2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort,

1:4 who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those in every affliction through the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.

1:5 For just as the sufferings of Christ abound toward us, so also our comfort abounds through Christ.

1:6 Now whether we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which is at work as you endure the same sufferings that we also suffer.

1:7 And our hope for you is firm, for we know that as you share in the sufferings, so also you share in the comfort.

1:8 For we do not want you to be unaware, brothers, of our affliction that occurred in Asia: we were burdened far beyond our strength, so that we despaired even of living.

1:9 Indeed, we ourselves had the sentence of death within us, so that we might rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead.

1:10 He delivered us from so great a death and will deliver us; in Him we have set our hope that He will deliver us yet again,

1:11 as you too help us by prayer, so that many people may give thanks on our behalf for the gift granted to us through many.

1:12 For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience: that in simplicity and sincerity from God, and not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we conducted ourselves in the world, and especially toward you.

1:13 For we write nothing to you other than what you read or also understand; and I hope that you will understand fully to the end,

1:14 just as you have also recognized us in part, that we are your boast, just as you also are ours in the day of our Lord Jesus.

1:15 And with this confidence I intended to come to you first, so that you might have a second grace,

1:16 and to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and to be sent onward by you to Judea.

1:17 Now when I intended this, was I then being fickle? Or do I plan what I plan according to the flesh, so that with me there is both “Yes, yes” and “No, no”?

1:18 But God is faithful: our word to you is not “Yes” and “No.”

1:19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was proclaimed among you through us—through me and Silvanus and Timothy—did not become “Yes” and “No,” but in Him “Yes” has come to be.

1:20 For however many God’s promises are, in Him is the “Yes.” Therefore also through Him is the “Amen” to God, for His glory through us.

1:21 Now the One who establishes us with you in Christ and anointed us is God,

1:22 who also sealed us and gave the pledge of the Spirit in our hearts.

1:23 But I call God as witness against my soul that it was to spare you that I did not come again to Corinth.

1:24 Not that we lord it over your faith, but we are fellow workers for your joy, for in faith you stand.

2 Corinthians 2

2:1 For I decided this for myself: not to come to you again in sorrow.

2:2 For if I cause you sorrow, who then makes me glad except the one made sorrowful by me?

2:3 And I wrote this very thing so that, when I came, I might not be grieved by those who ought to make me rejoice. I was confident about all of you that my joy is the joy of you all.

2:4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote to you through many tears, not that you might be made sorrowful, but that you might know the abundant love I have for you.

2:5 But if anyone has caused sorrow, he has caused sorrow not to me, but in part—to avoid pressing too heavily—to all of you.

2:6 This punishment by the majority is sufficient for such a person,

2:7 so that, on the contrary, you should rather forgive and comfort him, lest such a person be swallowed up by excessive sorrow.

2:8 Therefore I urge you to confirm your love toward him.

2:9 For I also wrote for this purpose: to see how you stood the test, whether you are obedient in everything.

2:10 Now whom you forgive anything, I also forgive; for what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, was for your sake in the presence of Christ,

2:11 so that we might not be taken advantage of by Satan, for we are not unaware of his designs.

2:12 Now when I came to Troas for the good news of Christ, and a door had been opened to me in the Lord,

2:13 I had no rest in my spirit because I did not find Titus my brother; but taking leave of them, I went out to Macedonia.

2:14 But thanks be to God, who always leads us in triumph in Christ and makes known through us the aroma of the knowledge of Him in every place.

2:15 For we are Christ's fragrance to God among those being saved and among those perishing:

2:16 to the one an aroma from death to death, but to the other an aroma from life to life. And who is sufficient for these things?

2:17 For we are not like the many who peddle the word of God; but we speak in Christ before God, out of sincerity, as those sent from God.

2 Corinthians 3

3:1 Are we beginning to commend ourselves again? Or do we need, as some do, letters of recommendation to you or from you?

3:2 You are our letter, inscribed in our hearts, known and read by all people.

3:3 You are clearly a letter of Christ, produced through our ministry, inscribed not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on stone tablets but on tablets that are hearts of flesh.

3:4 And we have such confidence toward God through Christ.

3:5 Not that we are sufficient in ourselves to consider anything as coming from ourselves, but our sufficiency is from God,

3:6 who also made us sufficient as ministers of a new covenant, not of letter but of Spirit; for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

3:7 Now if the ministry of death, engraved in letters on stones, came in glory, so that the sons of Israel could not gaze at Moses' face because of the glory of his face, which was being brought to an end,

3:8 how much more will the ministry of the Spirit be in glory?

3:9 For if there is glory in the ministry of condemnation, much more does the ministry of righteousness abound in glory.

3:10 For indeed what once had glory has no glory in this respect, because of the surpassing glory.

3:11 For if what is being brought to an end came through glory, how much greater is the glory of what remains!

3:12 Therefore, having such hope, we use great boldness,

3:13 and are not like Moses, who put a veil over his face so that the sons of Israel might not gaze at the end of what was being brought to an end.

3:14 But their minds were hardened. For until this very day the same veil remains at the reading of the old covenant, not being unveiled, because in Christ it is brought to an end.

3:15 But to this day, whenever Moses is read, a veil lies over their heart.

3:16 But whenever one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed.

3:17 Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom.

3:18 And we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, as from the Lord, the Spirit.

2 Corinthians 4

4:1 For this reason, having this ministry, just as we received mercy, we do not lose heart.

4:2 But we have renounced the secret and shameful things, not walking in cunning or tampering with the word of God, but commending ourselves to every human conscience before God by making the truth known.

4:3 And even if our good news is veiled, it is veiled among those perishing,

4:4 among whom the god of this age has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, so that the light of the good news of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, might not shine upon them.

4:5 For we proclaim not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, and ourselves as your slaves for Jesus' sake.

4:6 For God, who said, "Light will shine out of darkness," is the One who shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

4:7 But we have this treasure in clay jars, so that the surpassing power may be God's and not from us.

4:8 We are afflicted in every way, but not confined; perplexed, but not utterly at a loss;

4:9 persecuted, but not abandoned; struck down, but not destroyed;

4:10 always carrying in the body the dying of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body.

4:11 For we who live are always being handed over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our mortal flesh.

4:12 So death is at work in us, but life in you.

4:13 But having the same spirit of faith, according to what is written, "I believed, therefore I spoke," we also believe, and therefore also speak,

4:14 knowing that the One who raised the Lord Jesus will also raise us with Jesus and present us together with you.

4:15 For all things are for your sake, so that grace, having increased through the many, may cause thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God.

4:16 Therefore we do not lose heart; but even if our outer person is wasting away, our inner person is being renewed day by day.

4:17 For the momentary lightness of our affliction produces for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all measure,

4:18 as we look not at the things seen but at the things not seen; for the things seen are temporary, but the things not seen are eternal.

2 Corinthians 5

5:1 For we know that if our earthly house, this tent, is dismantled, we have a building from God, a house not made by hands, eternal in the heavens.

5:2 For indeed in this we groan, longing to be clothed over with our dwelling from heaven,

5:3 if indeed, even after being unclothed, we shall not be found naked.

5:4 For indeed we who are in the tent groan, being burdened, because we do not wish to be unclothed but to be clothed over, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life.

5:5 Now the One who prepared us for this very thing is God, who gave us the pledge of the Spirit.

5:6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that while at home in the body we are away from the Lord—

5:7 for we walk by faith, not by sight—

5:8 we are confident, and prefer rather to be away from the body and at home with the Lord.

5:9 Therefore we also make it our aim, whether at home or away, to be pleasing to Him.

5:10 For we must all be revealed before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each may receive what is due for what he has done through the body, whether good or evil.

5:11 Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade people; but we have been revealed to God, and I hope we have also been revealed in your consciences.

5:12 We are not commending ourselves to you again, but giving you an opportunity to boast on our behalf, so that you may have an answer for those who boast in appearance and not in heart.

5:13 For if we were beside ourselves, it was for God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you.

5:14 For the love of Christ holds us fast, since we have judged this: that One died for all; therefore all died.

5:15 And He died for all so that those who live might no longer live for themselves, but for the One who died and was raised on their behalf.

5:16 So from now on we know no one according to the flesh. Even if we have known Christ according to the flesh, yet now we no longer know Him in that way.

5:17 Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation. The old things passed away; behold, new things have come to be.

5:18 And all things are from God, who reconciled us to Himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation:

5:19 namely, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and placing in us the word of reconciliation.

5:20 Therefore we serve as ambassadors on behalf of Christ, as God appeals through us. We beg on behalf of Christ: be reconciled to God.

5:21 On our behalf He made the One who knew no sin to be sin, so that in Him we might become the righteousness of God.

2 Corinthians 6

6:1 And working together, we also urge you not to receive the grace of God in vain.

6:2 For He says, "At an acceptable time I heard you, and on a day of salvation I helped you." Look, now is a most acceptable time; look, now is a day of salvation.

6:3 We give no occasion for stumbling in anything, so that the ministry may not be blamed,

6:4 but in everything commend ourselves as ministers of God: in much endurance, in afflictions, in hardships, in distresses,

6:5 in beatings, in imprisonments, in disturbances, in labors, in sleepless nights, in fastings,

6:6 in purity, in knowledge, in patience, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in love without hypocrisy,

6:7 in a word of truth, in the power of God; through the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and the left,

6:8 through glory and dishonor, through bad report and good report; as deceivers, and yet truthful;

6:9 as unknown, and yet recognized; as dying, and look, we live; as disciplined, and yet not put to death;

6:10 as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet enriching many; as having nothing, and yet possessing everything.

6:11 Our mouth has opened to you, Corinthians; our heart has opened wide.

6:12 You are not confined by us, but by your own affections.

6:13 Now in return—I speak as to children—open yourselves wide also.

6:14 Do not become unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what sharing is there between righteousness and lawlessness, or what fellowship between light and darkness?

6:15 And what harmony is there between Christ and Beliar, or what portion does a believer have with an unbeliever?

6:16 And what agreement is there between God’s temple and idols? For we are the temple of the living God, just as God said: “I will dwell in them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they will be My people.

6:17 Therefore come out from their midst and be separated, says the Lord, and do not touch anything unclean; and I will receive you.

6:18 And I will be a Father to you, and you will be sons and daughters to Me, says the Lord Almighty.”

2 Corinthians 7

7:1 Therefore, having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of flesh and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God.

7:2 Make room for us. We wronged no one, corrupted no one, took advantage of no one.

7:3 I do not say this to condemn you, for I have said before that you are in our hearts, to die together and to live together.

7:4 Great is my boldness toward you; great is my boasting on your behalf. I am filled with comfort; I overflow exceedingly with joy in all our affliction.

7:5 For even when we came into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were afflicted in every way: conflicts outside, fears within.

7:6 But God, who comforts the lowly, comforted us by the arrival of Titus,

7:7 and not only by his arrival, but also by the comfort with which he was comforted because of you. He reported to us your longing, your mourning, your zeal on my behalf, so that I rejoiced still more.

7:8 For even if I caused you sorrow by the letter, I do not regret it. Even if I did regret it—for I see that that letter caused you sorrow, even if for a time—

7:9 now I rejoice, not that you were made sorrowful, but that your sorrow led to repentance. For your sorrow was godly, so that you might suffer no loss from us in anything.

7:10 For godly sorrow produces repentance that leads to salvation without regret, but the sorrow of the world produces death.

7:11 For look at this very thing, your godly sorrow: what diligence it produced in you, what defense, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what vindication! In everything you showed yourselves to be pure in the matter.

7:12 So even if I wrote to you, it was not for the sake of the one who did wrong, nor for the sake of the one wronged, but so that your diligence on our behalf might be made clear to you before God.

7:13 For this reason we have been comforted. And beyond our comfort, we rejoiced much more at the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by all of you.

7:14 For if I have boasted anything to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spoke everything to you in truth, so also our boasting before Titus proved true.

7:15 And his affection for you is all the greater as he remembers the obedience of you all, how you received him with fear and trembling.

7:16 I rejoice that in everything I have confidence in you.

2 Corinthians 8

8:1 Now we make known to you, brothers, the grace of God given among the Churches of Macedonia:

8:2 that in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty overflowed into the wealth of their generosity.

8:3 For I testify that they gave according to their ability, and beyond their ability, of their own choice,

8:4 begging us earnestly for the grace and the fellowship of the ministry to the saints.

8:5 And what they did was not as we expected: they gave themselves first to the Lord and to us through the will of God,

8:6 so we urged Titus to complete this grace among you, just as he had begun it beforehand.

8:7 But just as you abound in everything—in faith and word and knowledge and all diligence and the love from us in you—see that you abound also in this grace.

8:8 I do not speak as a command, but through the diligence of others I also test the genuineness of your love.

8:9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ: though He was rich, He became poor for your sake, so that you might become rich through His poverty.

8:10 And in this I give an opinion, for this is beneficial for you, who already began last year not only to do it but also to desire it.

8:11 But now finish doing it also, so that your eager desire may be matched by completing it out of what you have.

8:12 For if the readiness is present, it is acceptable according to what one has, not according to what one does not have.

8:13 For it is not that there should be relief for others and affliction for you, but on the basis of equality:

8:14 at the present time your abundance is to meet their lack, so that their abundance may also meet your lack, so that there may be equality.

8:15 As it is written, “The one with much had no excess, and the one with little had no shortage.”

8:16 But thanks be to God, who put the same diligence for you in Titus’ heart,

8:17 for he accepted the appeal, and being still more diligent, he went out to you of his own choice.

8:18 And we sent with him the brother whose praise in the good news is throughout all the Churches.

8:19 And not only that, but he was also appointed by the Churches as our traveling companion with this grace that we are administering, for the glory of the Lord Himself and to show our readiness.

8:20 We take this precaution so that no one may blame us concerning this abundant gift that we are administering,

8:21 for we take care to do what is honorable not only before the Lord but also before people.

8:22 And we sent with them our brother, whom we have often proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent because of his great confidence in you.

8:23 As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker among you; as for our brothers, they are envoys of Churches, a glory of Christ.

8:24 Therefore show them the proof of your love and of our boasting on your behalf, in the presence of the Churches.

2 Corinthians 9

9:1 For concerning the ministry to the saints, it is unnecessary for me to write to you,

9:2 for I know your readiness, of which I boast on your behalf to Macedonians, that Achaia has been prepared since last year; and your zeal stirred up the majority.

9:3 But I sent the brothers so that our boasting on your behalf might not prove empty in this respect, so that you might be prepared, just as I said,

9:4 lest, if Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we—to say nothing of you—should be put to shame in this confidence.

9:5 Therefore I considered it necessary to urge the brothers to go ahead to you and prepare beforehand your previously promised blessing, so that it might be ready in this way as a blessing and not as something extorted.

9:6 Now this is the point: the one who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and the one who sows in blessings will also reap in blessings.

9:7 Let each give as he has decided in his heart, not out of sorrow or compulsion; for God loves a cheerful giver.

9:8 And God is able to make every grace abound toward you, so that, always having all sufficiency in everything, you may abound in every good work.

9:9 As it is written, “He scattered abroad; he gave to the poor; his righteousness remains for the age.”

9:10 Now the One who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply and multiply your seed and increase the fruits of your righteousness.

9:11 You are being enriched in everything for all generosity, which produces thanksgiving to God through us,

9:12 because the ministry of this service not only supplies what the saints lack but also overflows through many thanksgivings to God.

9:13 Because of the proof this ministry provides, they glorify God for your submission to the good news of Christ that you confess, and for your generous sharing with them and with all,

9:14 while they too, in prayer on your behalf, long for you because of the surpassing grace of God upon you.

9:15 Thanks be to God for His indescribable gift!

2 Corinthians 10

10:1 Now I myself, Paul, appeal to you through the meekness and gentleness of Christ—I who am lowly among you face to face, but bold toward you when absent.

10:2 And I beg that, when I am present, I may not have to show the bold confidence with which I intend to confront some who think we walk according to the flesh.

10:3 For though we walk in flesh, we do not wage war according to flesh,

10:4 for the weapons of our warfare are not fleshly, but powerful through God for the pulling down of strongholds. We pull down arguments

10:5 and every lofty thing raised against the knowledge of God, and take captive every thought into obedience to Christ,

10:6 and stand ready to punish every disobedience when your obedience is complete.

10:7 Look at what is right before you. If anyone is confident in himself that he belongs to Christ, let him consider this again for himself: just as he belongs to Christ, so also do we.

10:8 For even if I boast somewhat more abundantly concerning our authority, which the Lord gave for building you up and not for pulling you down, I will not be put to shame.

10:9 I do not want to seem as though I would terrify you through the letters.

10:10 For someone says, “The letters are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak and his speech is despised.”

10:11 Let such a person consider this: what we are in word through letters when absent, such we are also in deed when present.

10:12 For we do not dare to class or compare ourselves with some of those who commend themselves. But they, measuring themselves by themselves and comparing themselves with themselves, do not understand.

10:13 But we will not boast beyond measure, but according to the measure of the sphere that God apportioned to us, a measure reaching even as far as you.

10:14 For we are not overextending ourselves as though we did not reach you, for we came even as far as you in the good news of Christ.

10:15 We do not boast beyond measure in others’ labors, but have hope that, as your faith grows, we may be greatly enlarged among you according to our sphere,

10:16 so as to proclaim the good news in the regions beyond you, not to boast in another’s sphere over things already prepared.

10:17 But let the one who boasts boast in the Lord.

10:18 For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends.

2 Corinthians 11

11:1 I wish you would bear with me in a little foolishness. Indeed, do bear with me.

11:2 For I am jealous for you with God’s jealousy, for I betrothed you to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ.

11:3 But I fear lest somehow, as the serpent deceived Eve by his cunning, your minds might be corrupted and drawn away from the simplicity and purity toward Christ.

11:4 For if the one who comes proclaims another Jesus whom we did not proclaim, or you receive a different spirit that you did not receive, or a different good news that you did not accept, you bear with it well!

11:5 For I reckon that I have fallen short in nothing of the exceedingly great apostles.

11:6 Even if I am untrained in speech, I am not in knowledge; but in every way we have made it clear to you in all things.

11:7 Or did I commit a sin by humbling myself so that you might be exalted, because I proclaimed God’s good news to you free of charge?

11:8 I plundered other Churches, taking wages for the ministry to you.

11:9 And when I was present with you and in need, I burdened no one, for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied what I lacked. And in everything I kept myself from being a burden to you, and will keep myself so.

11:10 The truth of Christ is in me: this boasting will not be silenced in me in the regions of Achaia.

11:11 Why? Because I do not love you? God knows.

11:12 But what I do I will also continue to do, so that I may cut off the opportunity of those who desire an opportunity, so that in what they boast they may be found just as we are.

11:13 For such people are false apostles, deceitful workers, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ.

11:14 And no wonder, for Satan himself disguises himself as an angel of light.

11:15 Therefore it is no surprise if his ministers also disguise themselves as ministers of righteousness; their end will be according to their works.

11:16 Again I say, let no one think me foolish. But if you do, receive me even as a fool, so that I too may boast a little.

11:17 What I speak, I speak not according to the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confident boasting.

11:18 Since many boast according to the flesh, I too will boast.

11:19 For you gladly bear with fools, being wise yourselves!

11:20 For you bear with it if someone enslaves you, if someone devours you, if someone takes from you, if someone exalts himself, if someone strikes you in the face.

11:21 I say this to my shame: as though we had been weak! But in whatever anyone dares—I speak in foolishness—I also dare.

11:22 Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they Abraham’s offspring? So am I.

11:23 Are they ministers of Christ? I speak as one out of his mind: I am more so—in more labors, in more imprisonments, in beatings beyond measure, often facing death.

11:24 From Jews five times I received forty lashes less one.

11:25 Three times I was beaten with rods, once I was stoned, three times I was shipwrecked; I have spent a night and a day in the deep.

11:26 On frequent journeys, in dangers of rivers, dangers of robbers, dangers from my own people, dangers from Gentiles, dangers in a city, dangers in a wilderness, dangers at sea, dangers among false brothers;

11:27 in labor and toil, in sleepless nights often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

11:28 Apart from outward things, there is the pressure on me day by day, my concern for all the Churches.

11:29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is made to stumble, and I do not burn?

11:30 If I must boast, I will boast of the things of my weakness.

11:31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is blessed for the ages, knows that I am not lying.

11:32 In Damascus the ethnarch under King Aretas was guarding the city of the Damascenes to seize me,

11:33 and through a window I was lowered in a basket through the wall, and escaped his hands.

2 Corinthians 12

12:1 I must boast. It is not beneficial, but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

12:2 I know a man in Christ. Fourteen years ago—whether in the body I do not know, or outside the body I do not know; God knows—such a one was caught up as far as the third heaven.

12:3 And I know such a man—whether in the body or apart from the body I do not know; God knows—

12:4 that he was caught up into Paradise and heard inexpressible words, which a human being is not permitted to speak.

12:5 On behalf of such a one I will boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast except in weaknesses.

12:6 For if I should desire to boast, I will not be a fool, for I will speak truth. But I refrain, lest anyone think more of me than what he sees me to be or anything he hears from me warrants.

12:7 And because of the surpassing revelations, therefore, so that I might not be exalted, a thorn was given me in the flesh, a messenger of Satan, to strike me, so that I might not be exalted.

12:8 Concerning this I appealed to the Lord three times, that it might depart from me.

12:9 And He has said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made complete in weakness.” Therefore I will most gladly boast rather in my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may pitch its tent over me.

12:10 Therefore I am content in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions and distresses, for Christ’s sake; for whenever I am weak, then I am strong.

12:11 I have become a fool; you compelled me. For I ought to have been commended by you, for I fell short in nothing of the exceedingly great apostles, even if I am nothing.

12:12 Indeed, the signs of the apostle were worked among you in all endurance, with signs and wonders and acts of power.

12:13 For in what were you treated as inferior to the other Churches, except that I myself did not burden you? Forgive me this wrong.

12:14 Look, for the third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be a burden. For I seek not what is yours but you; for the children ought not to store up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

12:15 And I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved less?

12:16 But let it be so: I did not burden you. Yet, being crafty, I caught you by deceit!

12:17 Did I take advantage of you through anyone whom I sent to you?

12:18 I urged Titus, and sent the brother with him. Did Titus take advantage of you? Did we not walk in the same spirit? In the same footsteps?

12:19 Have you been thinking all this time that we are defending ourselves to you? We speak before God in Christ. And all things, beloved, are for your building up.

12:20 For I fear lest somehow, when I come, I may find you not as I wish, and I may be found by you not as you wish; lest there be strife, jealousy, outbursts of anger, selfish ambitions, slanders, whisperings, inflations of pride, disorders;

12:21 lest, when I come again, my God may humble me before you, and I may mourn many of those who sinned before and did not repent of the impurity and sexual immorality and licentiousness they practiced.

2 Corinthians 13

13:1 This is the third time I am coming to you. “By the mouth of two witnesses and three every matter will be established.”

13:2 I have warned those who sinned before and all the rest, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present the second time: if I come again, I will not spare,

13:3 since you seek proof of Christ speaking in me. He is not weak toward you, but is powerful among you.

13:4 For indeed He was crucified in weakness, but lives by the power of God. For we too are weak in Him, but will live with Him by the power of God toward you.

13:5 Test yourselves to see whether you are in the faith; examine yourselves. Or do you not recognize this about yourselves—that Jesus Christ is in you? Unless indeed you fail the test.

13:6 But I hope you will know that we do not fail the test.

13:7 And we pray to God that you may do nothing evil, not that we may appear to pass the test, but that you may do what is honorable, even if we seem to fail it.

13:8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

13:9 For we rejoice whenever we are weak but you are strong; this we also pray for: your restoration.

13:10 For this reason I write these things while absent, so that when present I may not act sharply according to the authority the Lord gave me, for building up and not for pulling down.

13:11 Finally, brothers, rejoice, be restored, be encouraged, be of the same mind, be at peace; and the God of love and peace will be with you.

13:12 Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the saints greet you.

13:13 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

Galatians

Galatians 1

1:1 Paul, an apostle, not from human beings nor through a human being, but through Jesus Christ and God the Father, who raised Him from the dead,

1:2 and all the brothers with me, to the Churches of Galatia:

1:3 grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ,

1:4 who gave Himself for our sins, to rescue us from the present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father,

1:5 to whom be the glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

1:6 I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the One who called you in the grace of Christ for a different gospel,

1:7 which is not another gospel, except that there are some who trouble you and want to distort the gospel of Christ.

1:8 But even if we or an angel from heaven should proclaim to you a gospel contrary to what we proclaimed to you, let him be accursed.

1:9 As we have said before, so now I say again: if anyone proclaims to you a gospel contrary to what you received, let him be accursed.

1:10 For am I now seeking the approval of human beings, or of God? Or am I seeking to please human beings? If I were still pleasing human beings, I would not be Christ's slave.

1:11 For I make known to you, brothers, that the gospel proclaimed by me is not of human origin.

1:12 For I neither received it from a human being nor was taught it, but received it through a revelation of Jesus Christ.

1:13 For you have heard of my former conduct in Judaism, how I persecuted the Church of God beyond measure and ravaged it,

1:14 and I advanced in Judaism beyond many of my own age among my people, being far more zealous for the traditions of my ancestors.

1:15 But when God, who set me apart from my mother's womb and called me through His grace, was pleased

1:16 to reveal His Son in me, so that I might proclaim Him among the nations, I did not immediately consult flesh and blood,

1:17 nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me, but I went away to Arabia and returned again to Damascus.

1:18 Then, after three years, I went up to Jerusalem to become acquainted with Cephas, and I stayed with him fifteen days.

1:19 But I saw none of the other apostles except James, the Lord's brother.

1:20 Now in what I am writing to you, behold, before God, I am not lying.

1:21 Then I went into the regions of Syria and Cilicia.

1:22 But I was unknown by sight to the Churches of Judea that are in Christ.

1:23 They only kept hearing, "The one who once persecuted us now proclaims the faith he once ravaged."

1:24 And they glorified God because of me.

Galatians 2

2:1 Then, after fourteen years, I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus along as well.

2:2 I went up in accordance with a revelation, and I set before them the gospel I proclaim among the nations, privately before those held in esteem, lest somehow I was running, or had run, in vain.

2:3 But not even Titus, who was with me, was compelled to be circumcised, though he was a Greek.

2:4 Yet because of the false brothers secretly brought in, who slipped in to spy out our freedom which we have in Christ Jesus, so that they might enslave us—

2:5 we did not yield to them in submission even for an hour, so that the truth of the gospel might remain with you.

2:6 But as for those held to be something—whatever they once were makes no difference to me; God does not favor a person's outward standing—those held in esteem added nothing to me.

2:7 On the contrary, seeing that I had been entrusted with the gospel for the uncircumcised, just as Peter with that for the circumcised,

2:8 for the One who worked through Peter for an apostleship to the circumcised worked also through me for the nations,

2:9 and recognizing the grace given to me, James and Cephas and John, who were regarded as pillars, gave me and Barnabas their right hands in fellowship, so that we should go to the nations and they to the circumcised.

2:10 Only we were to remember the poor, the very thing I was also eager to do.

2:11 But when Cephas came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he stood condemned.

2:12 For before certain people came from James, he used to eat with the Gentiles. But when they came, he began drawing back and separating himself, fearing those of the circumcision.

2:13 And the other Jews also joined him in hypocrisy, so that even Barnabas was carried away by their hypocrisy.

2:14 But when I saw that they were not walking straight in line with the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas before them all, “If you, though a Jew, live like the Gentiles and not like the Jews, how can you compel the Gentiles to live as Jews?

2:15 “We are Jews by birth and not sinners from the Gentiles,

2:16 yet knowing that a human being is not justified by works of law but through faith in Jesus Christ, we too believed in Christ Jesus, so that we might be justified by faith in Christ and not by works of law, because by works of law no flesh will be justified.

2:17 But if, in seeking to be justified in Christ, we ourselves were also found to be sinners, is Christ then a servant of sin? May it never be!

2:18 For if I rebuild the things I tore down, I show myself to be a transgressor.

2:19 For through law I died to law, so that I might live to God. I have been crucified with Christ.

2:20 And I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I now live in the flesh, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me.

2:21 I do not set aside the grace of God. For if righteousness comes through law, then Christ died for nothing.”

Galatians 3

3:1 O foolish Galatians, who bewitched you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified?

3:2 This alone I want to learn from you: did you receive the Spirit by works of law or by hearing with faith?

3:3 Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being brought to completion by the flesh?

3:4 Did you suffer so much in vain—if indeed it was in vain?

3:5 So then, does the One who supplies you with the Spirit and performs acts of power among you do so by works of law or by hearing with faith?

3:6 Just as Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness.

3:7 Know, then, that those who are of faith are the sons of Abraham.

3:8 And Scripture, foreseeing that God justifies the nations by faith, proclaimed the gospel beforehand to Abraham: “In you all the nations will be blessed.”

3:9 So then, those who are of faith are blessed with believing Abraham.

3:10 For all who are of works of law are under a curse, for it is written, “Accursed is everyone who does not abide by all the things written in the book of the law, to do them.”

3:11 Now it is clear that no one is justified before God by law, because “The righteous one will live by faith.”

3:12 But the law is not of faith; rather, “The one who does these things will live by them.”

3:13 Christ bought us free from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us, because it is written, “Accursed is everyone who hangs upon a tree,”

3:14 so that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might come to the nations, so that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

3:15 Brothers, I speak in human terms: even when a human covenant has been ratified, no one sets it aside or adds provisions to it.

3:16 Now the promises were spoken to Abraham and to his seed. It does not say, “And to seeds,” as concerning many, but as concerning one, “And to your seed,” who is Christ.

3:17 What I mean is this: the law, which came four hundred and thirty years later, does not invalidate a covenant previously ratified by God, so as to nullify the promise.

3:18 For if the inheritance is from law, it is no longer from promise. But God has graciously given it to Abraham through promise.

3:19 Why, then, the law? It was added because of transgressions, until the seed should come to whom the promise had been made, and it was ordained through angels by the hand of a mediator.

3:20 Now a mediator is not for one alone, but God is one.

3:21 Is the law, then, against the promises of God? May it never be! For if a law had been given that could give life, righteousness really would have come from law.

3:22 But Scripture confined everything under sin, so that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe.

3:23 Now before faith came, we were guarded under law, confined until the faith that was to be revealed.

3:24 So the law became our guardian until Christ, so that we might be justified by faith.

3:25 But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian.

3:26 For you are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus.

3:27 For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ.

3:28 There is neither Jew nor Greek; there is neither slave nor free; there is no male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus.

3:29 And if you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, heirs according to promise.

Galatians 4

4:1 Now I say that as long as the heir is a child, he differs in no way from a slave, though he is master of everything.

4:2 Rather, he is under guardians and stewards until the date appointed by his father.

4:3 So also we, when we were children, were enslaved under the elements of the world.

4:4 But when the fullness of time came, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under law,

4:5 to redeem those under law, that we might receive adoption as sons.

4:6 And because you are sons, God sent forth the Spirit of His Son into our hearts, crying, "Abba, Father!"

4:7 So you are no longer a slave but a son; and if a son, then also an heir through God.

4:8 But at that time, not knowing God, you were enslaved to those that by nature are not gods.

4:9 Now, however, having come to know God—or rather, having been known by God—how do you turn back again to the weak and impoverished elements, to which you want to be enslaved all over again?

4:10 You carefully observe days and months and seasons and years.

4:11 I fear for you, lest somehow I have labored over you in vain.

4:12 Become as I am, because I too became as you are, brothers; I beg you. You did me no wrong.

4:13 And you know that it was because of a weakness of the flesh that I first proclaimed the gospel to you.

4:14 And though my flesh was a trial for you, you did not despise or reject me, but you welcomed me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus.

4:15 Where, then, is your sense of blessedness? For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have dug out your eyes and given them to me.

4:16 So have I become your enemy by telling you the truth?

4:17 They are zealous for you, but not for good; they want to shut you out, so that you may be zealous for them.

4:18 But it is good to be sought zealously for a good purpose at all times, and not only when I am present with you,

4:19 my children, for whom I am again in labor until Christ is formed in you.

4:20 I wish I could be present with you now and change my tone, because I am perplexed about you.

4:21 Tell me, you who want to be under law, do you not listen to the law?

4:22 For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and one by the free woman.

4:23 But the one by the slave woman was born according to the flesh, and the one by the free woman through promise.

4:24 These things are being interpreted allegorically, for these women are two covenants: one from Mount Sinai, bearing children into slavery, which is Hagar.

4:25 Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia, and corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is enslaved with her children.

4:26 But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother.

4:27 For it is written, "Rejoice, barren woman who does not bear; break out and cry aloud, you who are not in labor, because the children of the deserted woman are more numerous than those of the woman who has a husband."

4:28 Now you, brothers, are children of promise, like Isaac.

4:29 But just as then the one born according to the flesh persecuted the one born according to the Spirit, so it is also now.

4:30 But what does Scripture say? "Cast out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman shall certainly not inherit with the son of the free woman."

4:31 Therefore, brothers, we are not children of a slave woman but of the free woman.

Galatians 5

5:1 For freedom Christ set us free. Stand firm, therefore, and do not be held again under a yoke of slavery.

5:2 Look, I, Paul, tell you that if you receive circumcision, Christ will be of no benefit to you.

5:3 And I testify again to every man who receives circumcision that he is obligated to do the whole law.

5:4 You who seek to be justified by law have been severed from Christ; you have fallen from grace.

5:5 For we, by the Spirit, through faith, eagerly await the hope of righteousness.

5:6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision has any strength, but faith working through love.

5:7 You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth?

5:8 This persuasion is not from the One who calls you.

5:9 A little leaven leavens the whole batch of dough.

5:10 I am confident about you in the Lord that you will think nothing else. But the one troubling you will bear the judgment, whoever he may be.

5:11 But I, brothers, if I still proclaim circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Then the stumbling block of the cross has been abolished.

5:12 I wish those who unsettle you would even castrate themselves!

5:13 For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not make freedom a base of operations for the flesh, but through love serve one another as slaves.

5:14 For the whole law is fulfilled in one saying: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.”

5:15 But if you bite and devour one another, watch out that you are not consumed by one another.

5:16 But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will certainly not fulfill the desire of the flesh.

5:17 For the flesh desires what is against the Spirit, and the Spirit what is against the flesh; for these oppose one another, so that you do not do the things you want.

5:18 But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under law.

5:19 Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, licentiousness,

5:20 idolatry, sorcery, hostilities, strife, jealousy, outbursts of anger, selfish ambitions, divisions, factions,

5:21 envies, drunkenness, revelries, and things like these. I tell you beforehand, just as I told you before, that those who practice such things will not inherit the kingdom of God.

5:22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness,

5:23 gentleness, self-control. Against such things there is no law.

5:24 And those who belong to Christ Jesus crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.

5:25 If we live by the Spirit, let us also keep in step with the Spirit.

5:26 Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another.

Galatians 6

6:1 Brothers, even if a person is overtaken in some transgression, you who are spiritual are to restore such a person in a spirit of gentleness, watching yourself, lest you too be tempted.

6:2 Carry one another’s burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.

6:3 For if anyone thinks he is something when he is nothing, he deceives himself.

6:4 But let each test his own work, and then he will have his reason for boasting in relation to himself alone, and not in relation to someone else.

6:5 For each will carry his own load.

6:6 Let the one instructed in the word share all good things with the one who instructs.

6:7 Do not be deceived; God is not mocked. For whatever a person sows, that he will also reap.

6:8 For the one who sows into his own flesh will reap corruption from the flesh, but the one who sows into the Spirit will reap eternal life from the Spirit.

6:9 And let us not grow weary in doing good, for in the proper season we will reap, if we do not give up.

6:10 So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, especially to those of the household of faith.

6:11 See with what large letters I have written to you in my own hand.

6:12 All who want to make a good outward show in the flesh compel you to receive circumcision, only so that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ.

6:13 For even those who receive circumcision do not themselves keep the law, but they want you to receive circumcision so that they may boast in your flesh.

6:14 But may I never boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world.

6:15 For neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but a new creation does.

6:16 And as many as will keep in step with this rule, peace and mercy be upon them, and upon the Israel of God.

6:17 From now on, let no one cause me trouble, for I carry the marks of Jesus in my body.

6:18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers. Amen.

Ephesians

Ephesians 1

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, to the saints who are [in Ephesus] and faithful in Christ Jesus:

1:2 grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ,

1:4 just as He chose us in Him before the foundation of the world, so that we should be holy and without blemish before Him in love,

1:5 having predestined us for adoption as sons through Jesus Christ to Himself, according to the good pleasure of His will,

1:6 to the praise of the glory of His grace, with which He favored us in the Beloved.

1:7 In Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of transgressions, according to the riches of His grace,

1:8 which He lavished on us in all wisdom and understanding,

1:9 having made known to us the mystery of His will, according to His good pleasure which He purposed in Him,

1:10 for an administration of the fullness of the times, to sum up all things in Christ, the things in the heavens and the things on the earth, in Him.

1:11 In Him we were also allotted an inheritance, having been predestined according to the purpose of the One who works all things according to the counsel of His will,

1:12 so that we who had hoped beforehand in Christ should be to the praise of His glory.

1:13 In Him you also, having heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and having believed in Him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit,

1:14 who is the pledge of our inheritance, toward the redemption of the possession, to the praise of His glory.

1:15 For this reason I too, having heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love toward all the saints,

1:16 do not cease giving thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers,

1:17 so that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him,

1:18 with the eyes of your heart enlightened, so that you may know what is the hope of His calling, what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance among the saints,

1:19 and what is the surpassing greatness of His power toward us who believe, according to the working of the might of His strength,

1:20 which He exercised in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His right hand in the heavenly places,

1:21 far above every rule and authority and power and dominion and every name that is named, not only in this age but also in the one to come.

1:22 And He subjected all things under His feet and gave Him as head over all things to the Church,

1:23 which is His body, the fullness of the One who fills all things in all.

Ephesians 2

2:1 And you were dead in your transgressions and sins,

2:2 in which you once walked according to the age of this world, according to the ruler of the authority of the air, of the spirit now working in the sons of disobedience—

2:3 among whom we too all once lived in the desires of our flesh, carrying out the wishes of the flesh and of our thoughts, and we were by nature children of wrath, like the rest.

2:4 But God, being rich in mercy, because of His great love with which He loved us,

2:5 even when we were dead in transgressions, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved—

2:6 and raised us together and seated us together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus,

2:7 so that in the ages to come He might show the surpassing riches of His grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus.

2:8 For by grace you have been saved through faith, and this is not from yourselves; it is the gift of God,

2:9 not from works, so that no one may boast.

2:10 For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, so that we should walk in them.

2:11 Therefore remember that once you, the Gentiles in the flesh, called “uncircumcision” by what is called “circumcision,” made by hands in the flesh—

2:12 that at that time you were without Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers to the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without God in the world.

2:13 But now in Christ Jesus, you who once were far away have become near by the blood of Christ.

2:14 For He Himself is our peace, who made both one and broke down the dividing wall of the barrier, the hostility, in His flesh,

2:15 having abolished the law of commandments in decrees, so that He might create in Him one new human being out of the two, making peace,

2:16 and might reconcile both in one body to God through the cross, having killed the hostility by it.

2:17 And He came and proclaimed peace to you who were far away, and peace to those who were near,

2:18 because through Him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father.

2:19 So then you are no longer strangers and resident foreigners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of God’s household,

2:20 having been built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus Himself being the cornerstone,

2:21 in whom the whole building, fitted together, grows into a holy sanctuary in the Lord,

2:22 in whom you also are being built together into a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

Ephesians 3

3:1 For this reason I, Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus for you Gentiles—

3:2 if indeed you have heard of the stewardship of God’s grace that was given to me for you,

3:3 that the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I wrote briefly before.

3:4 By reading this you can perceive my understanding of the mystery of Christ,

3:5 which in other generations was not made known to the sons of human beings as it has now been revealed to His holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit:

3:6 that the Gentiles are fellow heirs and fellow members of the body and fellow sharers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel,

3:7 of which I became a servant according to the gift of God’s grace given to me according to the working of His power.

3:8 To me, the very least of all saints, this grace was given: to proclaim to the nations the untraceable riches of Christ,

3:9 and to enlighten everyone about the administration of the mystery hidden from the ages in God, who created all things,

3:10 so that now, through the Church, the richly varied wisdom of God might be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places,

3:11 according to the purpose of the ages which He accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord,

3:12 in whom we have boldness and access with confidence through faith in Him.

3:13 Therefore I ask you not to lose heart at my afflictions for you, which are your glory.

3:14 For this reason I bend my knees before the Father,

3:15 from whom every family in the heavens and on earth is named,

3:16 so that according to the riches of His glory He may grant you to be strengthened with power through His Spirit in the inner person,

3:17 so that Christ may dwell through faith in your hearts, being rooted and founded in love,

3:18 so that with all the saints you may have strength to grasp what is the breadth and length and height and depth,

3:19 and to know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge, so that you may be filled to all the fullness of God.

3:20 Now to the One who is able to do far more abundantly than all we ask or think, according to the power working in us,

3:21 to Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus for all generations of the age of ages. Amen.

Ephesians 4

4:1 Therefore I, the prisoner in the Lord, urge you to walk worthily of the calling with which you were called,

4:2 with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love,

4:3 making every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace:

4:4 one body and one Spirit, just as you were also called in one hope of your calling;

4:5 one Lord, one faith, one baptism;

4:6 one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.

4:7 But grace was given to each one of us according to the measure of Christ's gift.

4:8 Therefore it says, "Having ascended on high, He took captivity captive; He gave gifts to human beings."

4:9 Now what does "He ascended" mean, except that He also descended into the lower parts of the earth?

4:10 The One who descended is also the One who ascended far above all the heavens, so that He might fill all things.

4:11 And He Himself gave some as apostles, some as prophets, some as evangelists, and some as shepherds and teachers,

4:12 for the equipping of the saints for the work of service, for building up the body of Christ,

4:13 until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ,

4:14 so that we may no longer be children, tossed by waves and carried about by every wind of teaching, by human trickery, by cunning in deceitful schemes,

4:15 but, being truthful in love, we may grow in all things into Him who is the head, Christ,

4:16 from whom the whole body, fitted and held together through every supporting joint, as each individual part works in its proper measure, produces the growth of the body for building itself up in love.

4:17 So I say this and testify in the Lord: you must no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, in the futility of their mind,

4:18 being darkened in understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance in them, because of the hardness of their heart.

4:19 Having become unfeeling, they handed themselves over to licentiousness for the practice of every impurity in greed.

4:20 But you did not learn Christ in this way,

4:21 if indeed you heard Him and were taught in Him, as truth is in Jesus:

4:22 that, concerning your former conduct, you put off the old human being, which is being corrupted according to deceitful desires,

4:23 and be renewed in the spirit of your mind,

4:24 and put on the new human being, created according to God in righteousness and holiness of truth.

4:25 Therefore, putting away falsehood, let each speak truth with his neighbor, because we are members of one another.

4:26 Be angry and do not sin. Do not let the sun go down upon your anger,

4:27 nor give a place to the devil.

4:28 Let the one who steals steal no longer, but rather let him labor, doing what is good with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with the one in need.

4:29 Let no rotten word come out of your mouth, but only what is good for building up as needed, so that it may give grace to those who hear.

4:30 And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, in whom you were sealed for the day of redemption.

4:31 Let all bitterness and rage and anger and shouting and slander be taken away from you, with all malice.

4:32 But be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God in Christ forgave you.

Ephesians 5

5:1 Therefore become imitators of God, as beloved children,

5:2 and walk in love, just as Christ also loved us and gave Himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a fragrant aroma.

5:3 But sexual immorality and every impurity or greed must not even be named among you, as is fitting for saints,

5:4 nor shamefulness and foolish talk or coarse joking, which are unfitting, but rather thanksgiving.

5:5 For know this with certainty: no sexually immoral or impure or greedy person, that is, an idolater, has an inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God.

5:6 Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience.

5:7 Therefore do not become their fellow sharers.

5:8 For you were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light,

5:9 for the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth,

5:10 testing what is pleasing to the Lord.

5:11 And do not share in the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather expose them,

5:12 for it is shameful even to speak of the things done by them in secret.

5:13 But all things, when exposed by the light, become visible,

5:14 for everything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, "Awake, you who sleep, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine upon you."

5:15 So watch carefully how you walk, not as unwise but as wise,

5:16 buying up the opportunity, because the days are evil.

5:17 For this reason do not become foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is.

5:18 And do not become drunk with wine, in which there is reckless excess, but be filled in the Spirit,

5:19 speaking to one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord,

5:20 always giving thanks for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God the Father,

5:21 submitting to one another in the fear of Christ:

5:22 wives, to your own husbands as to the Lord,

5:23 because a husband is head of the wife as Christ also is head of the Church, He Himself being Savior of the body.

5:24 But as the Church submits to Christ, so also wives to their husbands in everything.

5:25 Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the Church and gave Himself for her,

5:26 so that He might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with a word,

5:27 so that He Himself might present the Church to Himself glorious, having no spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but so that she should be holy and without blemish.

5:28 In this way husbands also ought to love their own wives as their own bodies. The one who loves his own wife loves himself.

5:29 For no one ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, just as Christ also does the Church,

5:30 because we are members of His body.

5:31 “For this reason a man will leave father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.”

5:32 This mystery is great, but I am speaking with reference to Christ and the Church.

5:33 Nevertheless, let each one of you also love his own wife as himself, and let the wife respect her husband.

Ephesians 6

6:1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right.

6:2 “Honor your father and mother”—which is the first commandment with a promise—

6:3 “so that it may be well with you and you may live long upon the earth.”

6:4 And fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but nourish them in the discipline and admonition of the Lord.

6:5 Slaves, obey your masters according to the flesh with fear and trembling, in the sincerity of your heart, as you would Christ,

6:6 not serving only when their eyes are on you, as people-pleasers, but as slaves of Christ, doing the will of God from the soul,

6:7 serving with goodwill, as to the Lord and not to human beings,

6:8 knowing that whatever good each one does, this he will receive back from the Lord, whether slave or free.

6:9 And masters, act in the same way toward them, giving up threats, knowing that both their Master and yours is in the heavens, and there is no partiality with Him.

6:10 Finally, be strengthened in the Lord and in the might of His strength.

6:11 Put on the full armor of God, so that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil.

6:12 For our wrestling is not against blood and flesh, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the world-rulers of this darkness, against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places.

6:13 For this reason take up the full armor of God, so that you may be able to withstand in the evil day and, having accomplished everything, to stand.

6:14 Stand, therefore, having fastened truth around your waist and put on the breastplate of righteousness,

6:15 and having shod your feet with the readiness of the gospel of peace,

6:16 in all circumstances taking up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one.

6:17 And receive the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God,

6:18 with every prayer and petition, praying at every time in the Spirit, and to this end keeping watch with all perseverance and petition for all the saints,

6:19 and for me, so that a word may be given to me when I open my mouth, to make known with boldness the mystery of the gospel,

6:20 for which I serve as an ambassador bound by a chain, so that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

6:21 Now so that you also may know my circumstances, what I am doing, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful servant in the Lord, will make everything known to you.

6:22 I sent him to you for this very purpose, so that you may know about us and he may encourage your hearts.

6:23 Peace to the brothers, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

6:24 Grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ in incorruptibility.

Philippians

Philippians 1

1:1 Paul and Timothy, slaves of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, together with overseers and deacons:

1:2 grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:3 I thank my God every time I remember you,

1:4 always in every petition of mine for all of you, making my petition with joy,

1:5 because of your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now,

1:6 being confident of this very thing, that the One who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus.

1:7 It is right for me to think this about all of you, because I hold you in my heart, since both in my chains and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel you all share grace with me.

1:8 For God is my witness how I long for all of you with the tender affection of Christ Jesus.

1:9 And this I pray: that your love may abound still more and more in knowledge and every kind of discernment,

1:10 so that you may approve the things that matter, so that you may be pure and without offense for the day of Christ,

1:11 filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

1:12 Now I want you to know, brothers, that my circumstances have instead served to advance the gospel,

1:13 so that my chains have become known as being in Christ throughout the whole praetorium and to all the rest,

1:14 and most of the brothers, having gained confidence in the Lord because of my chains, dare much more to speak the word without fear.

1:15 Some indeed proclaim Christ because of envy and strife, but some also because of goodwill.

1:16 The latter do so from love, knowing that I am appointed for the defense of the gospel;

1:17 but the former announce Christ from selfish ambition, not purely, supposing that they will stir up affliction in my chains.

1:18 What then? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is announced, and in this I rejoice. Yes, and I will rejoice,

1:19 for I know that this will turn out for my salvation through your petition and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

1:20 according to my eager expectation and hope that I will not be put to shame in anything, but with all boldness, as always, so also now, Christ will be magnified in my body, whether through life or through death.

1:21 For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain.

1:22 But if I am to live on in the flesh, this means fruitful work for me—and what I shall choose I do not know.

1:23 But I am pressed between the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better,

1:24 yet to remain in the flesh is more necessary for your sake.

1:25 And being confident of this, I know that I will remain and continue with all of you for your progress and joy in the faith,

1:26 so that your boasting in Christ Jesus may abound because of me through my presence with you again.

1:27 Only conduct your common life worthily of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or remain absent, I may hear about you that you stand firm in one spirit, with one soul striving together for the faith of the gospel,

1:28 and are not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is for them an indication of destruction, but of your salvation, and this is from God,

1:29 because it has been graciously granted to you on behalf of Christ not only to believe in Him but also to suffer for Him,

1:30 having the same struggle which you saw in me and now hear that I have.

Philippians 2

2:1 So if there is any encouragement in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender affection and compassion,

2:2 complete my joy by thinking the same thing, having the same love, united in soul, thinking the one thing,

2:3 doing nothing from selfish ambition or conceit, but in humility considering one another above yourselves,

2:4 each of you looking not to your own interests, but each also to the interests of others.

2:5 Have this mind among yourselves which was also in Christ Jesus,

2:6 who, existing in the form of God, did not regard being equal with God as something to exploit,

2:7 but emptied Himself, taking the form of a slave, coming to be in the likeness of human beings; and being found in appearance as a human being,

2:8 He humbled Himself, becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross.

2:9 Therefore God also highly exalted Him and graciously gave Him the name above every name,

2:10 so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bend, of those in heaven and on earth and under the earth,

2:11 and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

2:12 So then, my beloved, as you have always obeyed—not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence—work out your own salvation with fear and trembling,

2:13 for God is the One working in you both to will and to work for His good pleasure.

2:14 Do all things without grumbling and disputing,

2:15 so that you may become blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world,

2:16 holding fast the word of life, so that I may boast in the day of Christ that I did not run in vain or labor in vain.

2:17 But even if I am being poured out upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice and rejoice together with all of you.

2:18 And in the same way you too rejoice and rejoice together with me.

2:19 Now I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, so that I too may be encouraged when I know about your circumstances.

2:20 For I have no one of like mind who will sincerely care about your circumstances,

2:21 for all seek their own interests, not those of Jesus Christ.

2:22 But you know his proven character, that as a child with a father he served with me for the gospel.

2:23 So I hope to send him immediately, as soon as I see how things stand with me.

2:24 And I am confident in the Lord that I myself also will come soon.

2:25 But I considered it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow worker and fellow soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need,

2:26 since he was longing for you all and was distressed because you had heard that he was sick.

2:27 Indeed, he was sick, near death; but God had mercy on him, and not on him alone but also on me, so that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow.

2:28 Therefore I sent him all the more eagerly, so that seeing him again you might rejoice and I might be less sorrowful.

2:29 So welcome him in the Lord with all joy, and hold such people in honor,

2:30 because he came near to death for the work of Christ, risking his life to make up what was lacking in your service to me.

Philippians 3

3:1 Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you is no trouble to me, and is a safeguard for you.

3:2 Watch out for the dogs; watch out for the evil workers; watch out for the mutilation.

3:3 For we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and boast in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh,

3:4 though I myself have grounds for confidence even in the flesh. If anyone else thinks he can be confident in the flesh, I have more:

3:5 circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew from Hebrews; with respect to law, a Pharisee;

3:6 with respect to zeal, persecuting the Church; with respect to righteousness in law, having become blameless.

3:7 But whatever things were gains to me, these I have considered loss because of Christ.

3:8 Indeed, I even consider all things to be loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord, for whose sake I suffered the loss of all things, and consider them refuse, so that I may gain Christ

3:9 and be found in Him, not having my own righteousness from law but that through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God on the basis of faith,

3:10 to know Him and the power of His resurrection and fellowship in His sufferings, being conformed to His death,

3:11 if somehow I may attain to the resurrection from the dead.

3:12 Not that I have already obtained it or have already been perfected, but I press on to see if I may take hold, because I too was taken hold of by Christ Jesus.

3:13 Brothers, I do not consider myself to have taken hold. But one thing: forgetting the things behind and stretching forward to the things ahead,

3:14 I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward calling of God in Christ Jesus.

3:15 So let all of us who are mature think this way; and if you think differently about anything, God will reveal this also to you.

3:16 Only, as far as we have attained, let us keep in step with the same course.

3:17 Join together in imitating me, brothers, and observe those who walk in this way, just as you have us as a pattern.

3:18 For many walk as enemies of the cross of Christ; I have often told you about them, and now tell you even with tears.

3:19 Their end is destruction, their god is the belly, and their glory is in their shame; they set their minds on earthly things.

3:20 For our citizenship is in the heavens, from which we also eagerly await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ,

3:21 who will transform the body of our humiliation to be conformed to the body of His glory, according to the working by which He is able even to subject all things to Himself.

Philippians 4

4:1 So then, my beloved and longed-for brothers, my joy and crown, stand firm in the Lord in this way, beloved.

4:2 I urge Euodia and I urge Syntyche to think the same thing in the Lord.

4:3 Yes, I ask you also, true yoke-fellow, help these women, who strove with me in the gospel together with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.

4:4 Rejoice in the Lord always. Again I will say: rejoice.

4:5 Let your gentleness be known to all people. The Lord is near.

4:6 Be anxious about nothing, but in everything, by prayer and petition with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God.

4:7 And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

4:8 Finally, brothers, whatever things are true, whatever are honorable, whatever are just, whatever are pure, whatever are lovely, whatever are well spoken of, if there is any excellence and if there is any praise, consider these things.

4:9 Practice the things you learned and received and heard and saw in me; and the God of peace will be with you.

4:10 Now I rejoiced greatly in the Lord that at last your concern for me blossomed again. You were indeed concerned, but lacked opportunity.

4:11 Not that I speak because of need, for I have learned to be content whatever my circumstances.

4:12 I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In everything and in all things I have learned the secret, both to be filled and to hunger, both to abound and to be in need.

4:13 I have strength for all things in the One who empowers me.

4:14 Nevertheless, you did well to share in my affliction.

4:15 And you Philippians also know that at the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving except you alone,

4:16 because even in Thessalonica you sent once and twice for my need.

4:17 Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that increases to your account.

4:18 But I have received everything and have an abundance; I have been filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things from you, a fragrant aroma, an acceptable sacrifice, well pleasing to God.

4:19 And my God will fill every need of yours according to His riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

4:20 Now to our God and Father be glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

4:21 Greet every saint in Christ Jesus. The brothers with me greet you.

4:22 All the saints greet you, especially those of Caesar’s household.

4:23 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Colossians

Colossians 1

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

1:2 to the saints and faithful brothers in Christ who are in Colossae: grace to you and peace from God our Father.

1:3 We thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, always praying for you,

1:4 having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and the love you have toward all the saints,

1:5 because of the hope laid up for you in the heavens, of which you heard beforehand in the word of truth, the gospel

1:6 that has come to you, just as also in all the world it is bearing fruit and growing, as it does also among you from the day you heard and came to know the grace of God in truth,

1:7 just as you learned from Epaphras, our beloved fellow slave, who is a faithful servant of Christ on your behalf,

1:8 who also made known to us your love in the Spirit.

1:9 For this reason we too, since the day we heard, have not ceased praying for you and asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding,

1:10 to walk worthily of the Lord, pleasing Him in every way, bearing fruit in every good work and growing in the knowledge of God,

1:11 being empowered with every power according to the might of His glory for all endurance and patience with joy,

1:12 giving thanks to the Father who made you fit for a share of the inheritance of the saints in the light,

1:13 who rescued us from the authority of darkness and transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His love,

1:14 in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

1:15 He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation,

1:16 because in Him all things were created, in the heavens and upon the earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities. All things have been created through Him and for Him.

1:17 And He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together.

1:18 And He is the head of the body, the Church; He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, so that He Himself might have first place in all things,

1:19 because God was pleased that all the fullness should dwell in Him,

1:20 and through Him to reconcile all things to Himself, having made peace through the blood of His cross, [through Him], whether the things upon the earth or the things in the heavens.

1:21 And you, who were once alienated and enemies in mind in your evil works—

1:22 yet now He has reconciled you in the body of His flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and beyond accusation before Him,

1:23 if indeed you continue in the faith, founded and steadfast and not shifting from the hope of the gospel which you heard, which was proclaimed in all creation under heaven, of which I, Paul, became a servant.

1:24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for you, and I fill up in my flesh what is lacking in the afflictions of Christ for His body, which is the Church,

1:25 of which I became a servant according to the stewardship from God given to me for you, to fulfill the word of God,

1:26 the mystery hidden from the ages and from the generations, but now revealed to His saints,

1:27 to whom God willed to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the nations, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

1:28 Him we announce, admonishing every person and teaching every person in all wisdom, so that we may present every person mature in Christ.

1:29 For this I also labor, struggling according to His working, which works in me with power.

Colossians 2

2:1 For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and those in Laodicea and all who have not seen my face in the flesh,

2:2 so that their hearts may be encouraged as they are knit together in love, and that they may come to all the riches of full assurance in understanding, to the knowledge of the mystery of God—Christ,

2:3 in whom all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are hidden.

2:4 I say this so that no one may deceive you with persuasive argument.

2:5 For even if I am absent in the flesh, yet in spirit I am with you, rejoicing and seeing your order and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

2:6 Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, walk in Him,

2:7 rooted and being built up in Him and being established in the faith just as you were taught, abounding in thanksgiving.

2:8 Watch out that no one carries you off as spoil through philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elements of the world, and not according to Christ,

2:9 for in Him all the fullness of deity dwells bodily,

2:10 and you have been filled in Him, who is the head of every ruler and authority,

2:11 in whom you were also circumcised with a circumcision not made by hands, in the stripping off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ,

2:12 having been buried together with Him in baptism, in which you were also raised together through faith in the working of God, who raised Him from the dead.

2:13 And you, who were dead in transgressions and the uncircumcision of your flesh, He made you alive together with Him, having forgiven us all the transgressions,

2:14 having wiped out the handwritten record with its decrees that was against us, which was opposed to us, and He has taken it out of the way, having nailed it to the cross.

2:15 Having stripped the rulers and authorities, He displayed them openly, leading them in triumph in it.

2:16 Therefore let no one judge you in eating and drinking, or in the matter of a festival or new moon or Sabbaths,

2:17 which are a shadow of the things to come, but the body belongs to Christ.

2:18 Let no one disqualify you, delighting in humility and worship of angels, dwelling on what he has seen, puffed up without cause by the mind of his flesh,

2:19 and not holding fast to the head, from whom the whole body, supplied and knit together through joints and ligaments, grows with the growth of God.

2:20 If you died with Christ to the elements of the world, why, as though living in the world, do you submit to decrees:

2:21 “Do not handle, do not taste, do not touch,”

2:22 which all concern things that perish with use, according to human commandments and teachings?

2:23 These indeed have a reputation of wisdom in self-chosen worship and humility and severe treatment of the body, but are of no value against the indulgence of the flesh.

Colossians 3

3:1 If, then, you were raised together with Christ, seek the things above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God.

3:2 Set your minds on the things above, not on the things upon the earth,

3:3 for you died, and your life has been hidden with Christ in God.

3:4 When Christ, your life, is revealed, then you also will be revealed with Him in glory.

3:5 Therefore put to death the members that are upon the earth: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and greed, which is idolatry.

3:6 Because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience,

3:7 in which you also once walked when you lived in these things.

3:8 But now you too put away all these: anger, rage, malice, slander, foul speech from your mouth.

3:9 Do not lie to one another, having stripped off the old human being with his practices

3:10 and put on the new, who is being renewed in knowledge according to the image of the One who created him,

3:11 where there is no Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, slave, free, but Christ is all and in all.

3:12 Therefore put on, as God’s chosen ones, holy and beloved, tender compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, patience,

3:13 bearing with one another and forgiving one another if anyone has a complaint against someone. Just as the Lord forgave you, so you also must forgive.

3:14 And above all these things put on love, which is the bond of completeness.

3:15 And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to which you were also called in one body; and be thankful.

3:16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom with psalms, hymns, spiritual songs, singing with gratitude in your hearts to God.

3:17 And whatever you do in word or in deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks through Him to God the Father.

3:18 Wives, submit to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord.

3:19 Husbands, love your wives and do not be bitter toward them.

3:20 Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well pleasing in the Lord.

3:21 Fathers, do not provoke your children, so that they may not lose heart.

3:22 Slaves, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh, not serving only when their eyes are on you, as people-pleasers, but in sincerity of heart, fearing the Lord.

3:23 Whatever you do, work from the soul, as for the Lord and not for human beings,

3:24 knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance. You serve the Lord Christ.

3:25 For the one who does wrong will receive back the wrong he did, and there is no partiality.

Colossians 4

4:1 Masters, provide your slaves with what is just and equitable, knowing that you too have a Master in heaven.

4:2 Persevere in prayer, keeping watch in it with thanksgiving,

4:3 praying at the same time for us also, so that God may open for us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also bound,

4:4 so that I may make it clear as I ought to speak.

4:5 Walk in wisdom toward those outside, buying up the opportunity.

4:6 Let your speech always be with grace, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each one.

4:7 Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful servant and fellow slave in the Lord, will make known to you all my circumstances.

4:8 I sent him to you for this very purpose, so that you may know about us and he may encourage your hearts,

4:9 with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will make known to you all the things here.

4:10 Aristarchus, my fellow prisoner, greets you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas, concerning whom you received instructions—if he comes to you, welcome him—

4:11 and Jesus who is called Justus. From among those of the circumcision, these alone are fellow workers for the kingdom of God; they have become a comfort to me.

4:12 Epaphras, who is one of you, a slave of Christ Jesus, greets you, always struggling for you in his prayers, so that you may stand mature and fully assured in all the will of God.

4:13 For I testify about him that he takes great pains for you and those in Laodicea and those in Hierapolis.

4:14 Luke, the beloved physician, greets you, and Demas.

4:15 Greet the brothers in Laodicea, and Nympha and the Church in her house.

4:16 And when the letter has been read among you, arrange for it also to be read in the Church of the Laodiceans, and for you also to read the one from Laodicea.

4:17 And say to Archippus, “Attend to the service which you received in the Lord, so that you may fulfill it.”

4:18 The greeting is in my own hand, Paul’s. Remember my chains. Grace be with you.

1 Thessalonians

1 Thessalonians 1

1:1 Paul and Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: grace to you and peace.

1:2 We always give thanks to God for all of you, mentioning you in our prayers, unceasingly

1:3 remembering your work of faith and labor of love and endurance of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ before our God and Father,

1:4 knowing, brothers beloved by God, your election,

1:5 because our gospel did not come to you in word alone, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and in great assurance, just as you know what kind of people we became among you for your sake.

1:6 And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, receiving the word in great affliction with joy from the Holy Spirit,

1:7 so that you became an example to all who believe in Macedonia and in Achaia.

1:8 For from you the word of the Lord has sounded out, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith toward God has gone out in every place, so that we have no need to say anything.

1:9 For they themselves report about us what our coming to you was like, and how you turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God

1:10 and to await His Son from the heavens, whom He raised from the dead—Jesus, who rescues us from the coming wrath.

1 Thessalonians 2

2:1 For you yourselves know, brothers, that our coming to you has not been in vain.

2:2 But after we had already suffered and been shamefully treated in Philippi, as you know, we were bold in our God to speak to you the gospel of God amid much struggle.

2:3 For our appeal does not come from error or impurity, nor is it made in deceit.

2:4 But just as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak, pleasing not people but God, who tests our hearts.

2:5 For we never came with a word of flattery, as you know, nor with a pretext for greed—God is witness—

2:6 nor seeking glory from people, either from you or from others,

2:7 though we could have carried weight as apostles of Christ. But we became little children among you. As a nursing mother would cherish her own children,

2:8 so, longing for you, we were pleased to share with you not only the gospel of God but also our own lives, because you had become beloved to us.

2:9 For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: working night and day so as not to burden any of you, we proclaimed to you the gospel of God.

2:10 You are witnesses, and God also, how devoutly and justly and blamelessly we conducted ourselves toward you who believe,

2:11 just as you know how we dealt with each one of you, as a father with his own children,

2:12 encouraging you and comforting you and solemnly urging you to walk worthily of God, who calls you into His own kingdom and glory.

2:13 And for this reason we also thank God unceasingly: when you received the word of God that you heard from us, you accepted it as no human word, but as it truly is, the word of God, which also works in you who believe.

2:14 For you, brothers, became imitators of the Churches of God in Christ Jesus that are in Judea, because you also suffered the same things from your own countrymen as they did from the Jews

2:15 who both killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets and drove us out, and do not please God and are opposed to all people,

2:16 hindering us from speaking to the nations so that they might be saved, thus always filling up their sins. But wrath has overtaken them to the end.

2:17 But we, brothers, having been bereaved of you for a short time—in face, not in heart—were all the more eager, with great longing, to see your face.

2:18 For we wanted to come to you—I, Paul, both once and twice—and Satan hindered us.

2:19 For what is our hope or joy or crown of boasting before our Lord Jesus at His coming? Is it not also you?

2:20 For you are our glory and joy.

1 Thessalonians 3

3:1 Therefore, when we could bear it no longer, we were willing to be left alone in Athens,

3:2 and sent Timothy, our brother and God’s fellow worker in the gospel of Christ, to strengthen you and encourage you concerning your faith,

3:3 so that no one would be shaken by these afflictions. For you yourselves know that we are appointed to this.

3:4 For even when we were with you, we told you beforehand that we were going to suffer affliction, just as it also happened, as you know.

3:5 For this reason, when I too could bear it no longer, I sent to learn of your faith, for fear that the tempter had tempted you and our labor might be in vain.

3:6 But now Timothy has come to us from you and brought us good news of your faith and love, and that you always remember us kindly, longing to see us just as we also long to see you.

3:7 For this reason, brothers, in all our distress and affliction we have been comforted about you through your faith,

3:8 because now we live, if you stand firm in the Lord.

3:9 For what thanksgiving can we return to God for you, for all the joy with which we rejoice because of you before our God,

3:10 as night and day we pray most earnestly to see your face and supply what is lacking in your faith?

3:11 Now may our God and Father Himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way to you.

3:12 And may the Lord make you increase and overflow in love for one another and for all, just as we also do for you,

3:13 so as to establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all His saints. Amen.

1 Thessalonians 4

4:1 Finally then, brothers, we ask and urge you in the Lord Jesus that, as you received from us how you ought to walk and please God—just as you are indeed walking—you may abound still more.

4:2 For you know what instructions we gave you through the Lord Jesus.

4:3 For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality,

4:4 that each of you know how to acquire his own vessel in sanctification and honor,

4:5 not in the passion of desire, as do the nations that do not know God;

4:6 that no one overstep and take advantage of his brother in the matter, because the Lord is an avenger concerning all these things, just as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you.

4:7 For God did not call us for impurity, but in sanctification.

4:8 Therefore, the one who rejects this rejects no human being, but God, who also gives His Holy Spirit to you.

4:9 Now concerning brotherly love, you have no need for someone to write to you, for you yourselves are taught by God to love one another.

4:10 For you indeed do this toward all the brothers throughout Macedonia. But we urge you, brothers, to abound still more,

4:11 and to make it your ambition to be quiet, to attend to your own affairs, and to work with your own hands, just as we instructed you,

4:12 so that you may walk properly toward those outside and have need of no one.

4:13 But we do not want you to be unaware, brothers, concerning those who are sleeping, so that you may not grieve as the rest do, who have no hope.

4:14 For if we believe that Jesus died and rose, so also God, through Jesus, will bring with Him those who have fallen asleep.

4:15 For this we say to you by a word of the Lord: we who are alive, who remain until the Lord’s coming, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep.

4:16 For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a commanding cry, with an archangel’s voice and with God’s trumpet, and the dead in Christ will rise first.

4:17 Then we who are alive, who remain, will be caught up together with them in clouds to meet the Lord in the air; and so we will always be with the Lord.

4:18 Therefore encourage one another with these words.

1 Thessalonians 5

5:1 Now concerning the times and the seasons, brothers, you have no need for anything to be written to you.

5:2 For you yourselves know exactly that the day of the Lord comes in this way, like a thief in the night.

5:3 When they say, “Peace and security,” then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pain upon a pregnant woman, and they will certainly not escape.

5:4 But you, brothers, are not in darkness, so that the day should overtake you like a thief.

5:5 For you are all sons of light and sons of day. We are not of night or darkness.

5:6 So then, let us not sleep as the rest do, but let us keep watch and be sober.

5:7 For those who sleep sleep at night, and those who get drunk are drunk at night.

5:8 But since we are of the day, let us be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and as a helmet, the hope of salvation.

5:9 For God did not appoint us for wrath, but for obtaining salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ,

5:10 who died for us, so that whether we keep watch or sleep, we may live together with Him.

5:11 Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as you are indeed doing.

5:12 Now we ask you, brothers, to recognize those who labor among you and lead you in the Lord and admonish you,

5:13 and to hold them in exceedingly high regard in love because of their work. Be at peace among yourselves.

5:14 And we urge you, brothers: admonish the disorderly, comfort the fainthearted, hold fast to the weak, be patient toward all.

5:15 See that no one repays anyone evil for evil, but always pursue what is good for one another and for all.

5:16 Rejoice always.

5:17 Pray unceasingly.

5:18 Give thanks in everything, for this is God’s will for you in Christ Jesus.

5:19 Do not quench the Spirit.

5:20 Do not despise prophecies.

5:21 But test all things; hold fast to what is good.

5:22 Abstain from every form of evil.

5:23 Now may the God of peace Himself sanctify you completely, and may your spirit and soul and body be kept whole, blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

5:24 He who calls you is faithful; He will also do it.

5:25 Brothers, pray also for us.

5:26 Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss.

5:27 I put you under oath by the Lord to have this letter read to all the brothers.

5:28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

2 Thessalonians

2 Thessalonians 1

1:1 Paul and Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

1:2 grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:3 We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers, as is fitting, because your faith is growing abundantly and the love of each and every one of you for one another is increasing,

1:4 so that we ourselves boast of you among the Churches of God for your endurance and faith in all your persecutions and the afflictions that you bear.

1:5 This is evidence of God's righteous judgment, that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you also suffer,

1:6 since it is indeed just with God to repay affliction to those who afflict you,

1:7 and to you who are afflicted, relief with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of His power,

1:8 in a flame of fire, bringing vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus.

1:9 They will pay the penalty of eternal destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of His strength,

1:10 when He comes to be glorified in His saints and marveled at among all who have believed—because our testimony to you was believed—on that day.

1:11 To this end we also always pray for you, that our God may count you worthy of the calling and fulfill every good resolve and work of faith with power,

1:12 so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in Him, according to the grace of our God and Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Thessalonians 2

2:1 Now we ask you, brothers, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to Him,

2:2 not to be quickly shaken from your understanding or alarmed, either by a spirit or by a word or by a letter as though from us, as if the day of the Lord is already present.

2:3 Let no one deceive you in any way. For that day will not come unless the rebellion comes first and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the son of destruction,

2:4 who opposes and exalts himself above everything called god or an object of worship, so that he takes his seat in God's sanctuary, displaying himself as being God.

2:5 Do you not remember that when I was still with you I used to tell you these things?

2:6 And now you know what restrains, so that he may be revealed in his own time.

2:7 For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only, the one who now restrains does so until he is out of the way.

2:8 And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will kill with the breath of His mouth and bring to nothing by the manifestation of His coming.

2:9 His coming is according to the working of Satan, with all power and signs and wonders of falsehood,

2:10 and with every deception of unrighteousness for those who are perishing, because they did not receive the love of the truth so that they might be saved.

2:11 And for this reason God sends them a working of delusion, so that they believe the falsehood,

2:12 in order that all who did not believe the truth but took pleasure in unrighteousness may be judged.

2:13 But we ought always to thank God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as firstfruits for salvation in sanctification by the Spirit and faith in the truth.

2:14 To this He also called you through our gospel, for obtaining the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

2:15 So then, brothers, stand firm and hold fast to the traditions you were taught, whether by word or by a letter from us.

2:16 Now may our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal encouragement and good hope in grace,

2:17 encourage your hearts and establish them in every good work and word.

2 Thessalonians 3

3:1 Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, just as it also is among you,

3:2 and that we may be rescued from perverse and evil people, for not all have faith.

3:3 But the Lord is faithful; He will establish you and guard you from the evil one.

3:4 And we are confident in the Lord about you, that you both do and will do what we command.

3:5 And may the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God and into the endurance of Christ.

3:6 Now we command you, brothers, in the name of [our] Lord Jesus Christ, to keep away from every brother who walks in a disorderly way and not according to the tradition which they received from us.

3:7 For you yourselves know how you ought to imitate us, because we did not behave in a disorderly way among you,

3:8 nor did we eat anyone’s bread without payment, but with labor and toil we worked night and day so as not to burden any of you.

3:9 This was not because we lack the right, but so that we might give ourselves to you as an example for you to imitate.

3:10 For even when we were with you, we gave you this command: if anyone is not willing to work, let him not eat either.

3:11 For we hear that some among you are walking in a disorderly way, not working at all but working at everyone else’s business.

3:12 Now such people we command and urge in the Lord Jesus Christ to work quietly and eat their own bread.

3:13 But you, brothers, do not lose heart in doing good.

3:14 And if anyone does not obey our word through this letter, take note of that person, and do not associate with him, so that he may be ashamed.

3:15 Yet do not regard him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

3:16 Now may the Lord of peace Himself give you peace always in every way. The Lord be with all of you.

3:17 The greeting is in my own hand—Paul’s—which is a sign in every letter. This is how I write.

3:18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with all of you.

1 Timothy

1 Timothy 1

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus according to the command of God our Savior and Christ Jesus our hope,

1:2 to Timothy, a true child in faith: grace, mercy, peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

1:3 Just as I urged you to remain in Ephesus when I was going to Macedonia, so that you might command certain people not to teach differently,

1:4 nor to pay attention to myths and endless genealogies, which produce speculations rather than God’s stewardship in faith—

1:5 But the goal of the charge is love from a pure heart and a good conscience and sincere faith.

1:6 Some, having missed these things, turned aside to empty talk,

1:7 wanting to be teachers of law, understanding neither what they say nor the things about which they speak confidently.

1:8 Now we know that the law is good if someone uses it lawfully,

1:9 knowing this, that law is not laid down for a righteous person but for the lawless and insubordinate, the ungodly and sinners, the unholy and profane, those who strike fathers and those who strike mothers, murderers,

1:10 sexually immoral people, men who bed males, enslavers, liars, perjurers, and whatever else opposes sound teaching,

1:11 according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, with which I was entrusted.

1:12 I am thankful to Christ Jesus our Lord, who empowered me, because He considered me faithful, appointing me to service,

1:13 though formerly I was a blasphemer and persecutor and violent abuser. But I was shown mercy because I acted in ignorance in unbelief,

1:14 and the grace of our Lord overflowed exceedingly, with faith and love in Christ Jesus.

1:15 The saying is trustworthy and deserves full acceptance: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am foremost.

1:16 But for this reason I was shown mercy, so that in me, the foremost, Christ Jesus might display all His patience as a pattern for those who would believe in Him for eternal life.

1:17 Now to the King of the ages, incorruptible, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

1:18 This command I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, according to the prophecies previously spoken concerning you, so that by them you may wage the good campaign,

1:19 holding faith and a good conscience, which some have thrust aside and suffered shipwreck concerning the faith.

1:20 Among these are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I handed over to Satan so that they might be disciplined not to blaspheme.

1 Timothy 2

2:1 Therefore I urge first of all that petitions, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be made for all people,

2:2 for kings and all who are in high positions, so that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and dignity.

2:3 This is good and acceptable before God our Savior,

2:4 who wills all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of truth.

2:5 For there is one God, and one mediator between God and human beings, the human being Christ Jesus,

2:6 who gave Himself as a ransom in exchange for all, the testimony at the proper times.

2:7 For this I was appointed a herald and an apostle—I speak truth, I do not lie—a teacher of nations in faith and truth.

2:8 Therefore I want the men to pray in every place, lifting holy hands without anger and disputing.

2:9 Likewise also women are to adorn themselves in orderly dress, with modesty and self-restraint, not with braids and gold or pearls or costly clothing,

2:10 but through good works, as is fitting for women who profess reverence for God.

2:11 Let a woman learn in quietness, in all submission.

2:12 But I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man, but to be in quietness.

2:13 For Adam was formed first, then Eve,

2:14 and Adam was not deceived, but the woman, being deceived, came to be in transgression.

2:15 But she will be saved through childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and sanctification with self-restraint.

1 Timothy 3

3:1 The saying is trustworthy. If anyone aspires to oversight, he desires a good work.

3:2 Therefore the overseer must be above reproach, a husband of one wife, sober, self-controlled, orderly, hospitable, able to teach,

3:3 not given to wine, not a striker, but gentle, peaceable, not a lover of money,

3:4 leading his own household well, having children in submission with all dignity.

3:5 But if someone does not know how to lead his own household, how will he care for the Church of God?

3:6 He must not be newly planted, lest, becoming conceited, he fall into the judgment of the devil.

3:7 And he must also have a good testimony from those outside, lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

3:8 Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not seeking shameful gain,

3:9 holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

3:10 And let these also be tested first; then let them serve as deacons if they are beyond accusation.

3:11 Women likewise must be dignified, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

3:12 Let deacons be husbands of one wife, leading their children and their own households well.

3:13 For those who have served well as deacons acquire for themselves a good standing and great boldness in faith in Christ Jesus.

3:14 I write these things to you, hoping to come to you soon,

3:15 but if I delay, so that you may know how one ought to conduct oneself in the household of God, which is the Church of the living God, a pillar and foundation of the truth.

3:16 And, by common confession, the mystery of godliness is great: He who was revealed in flesh, was vindicated in spirit, was seen by angels, was proclaimed among nations, was believed in the world, was taken up in glory.

1 Timothy 4

4:1 But the Spirit says clearly that in later times some will depart from the faith, paying attention to deceiving spirits and teachings of demons,

4:2 through the hypocrisy of liars, seared in their own conscience,

4:3 who forbid marriage and require abstinence from foods which God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth.

4:4 For everything created by God is good, and nothing is to be rejected when received with thanksgiving,

4:5 for it is sanctified through the word of God and intercession.

4:6 By laying these things before the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith and of the good teaching which you have followed.

4:7 But reject profane and old women’s myths, and train yourself for godliness.

4:8 For bodily training is of some benefit, but godliness is beneficial for all things, having a promise of life both now and to come.

4:9 The saying is trustworthy and deserves full acceptance.

4:10 For to this end we labor and struggle, because we have set our hope on the living God, who is Savior of all people, especially of believers.

4:11 Command and teach these things.

4:12 Let no one despise your youth, but become a pattern for believers in word, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity.

4:13 Until I come, devote yourself to the reading, the exhortation and the teaching.

4:14 Do not neglect the gift in you, which was given to you through prophecy with the laying on of the hands of the council of elders.

4:15 Practice these things; be absorbed in them, so that your progress may be clear to all.

4:16 Pay attention to yourself and to the teaching; continue in them, for by doing this you will save both yourself and those who hear you.

1 Timothy 5

5:1 Do not rebuke an older man harshly, but appeal to him as a father, younger men as brothers,

5:2 older women as mothers, younger women as sisters, in all purity.

5:3 Honor widows who are truly widows.

5:4 But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to practice godliness toward their own household and to repay their forebears, for this is acceptable before God.

5:5 Now the woman who is truly a widow and left alone has set her hope on God and continues in petitions and prayers night and day.

5:6 But the woman who lives in indulgence is dead while living.

5:7 And command these things, so that they may be above reproach.

5:8 But if someone does not provide for his own, and especially his household, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

5:9 Let a widow be enrolled who is not less than sixty years old, a wife of one husband,

5:10 attested for good works: if she brought up children, if she received strangers, if she washed saints' feet, if she assisted the afflicted, if she followed every good work.

5:11 But refuse younger widows, for when their desires turn them against Christ, they want to marry,

5:12 incurring judgment because they set aside their first faith.

5:13 And at the same time they learn to be idle, going around the houses, and not only idle but also gossips and busybodies, saying things they ought not to say.

5:14 Therefore I want younger women to marry, bear children, manage a household, and give the opponent no opportunity for abuse.

5:15 For some have already turned aside after Satan.

5:16 If any believing woman has widows, let her assist them, and let the Church not be burdened, so that it may assist those who are truly widows.

5:17 Let the elders who lead well be considered worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in word and teaching.

5:18 For Scripture says, "You shall not muzzle an ox that threshes," and, "The worker is worthy of his wage."

5:19 Do not receive an accusation against an elder except on the testimony of two or three witnesses.

5:20 Reprove those who sin before all, so that the rest also may have fear.

5:21 I charge you before God and Christ Jesus and the chosen angels that you keep these things without prejudgment, doing nothing from partiality.

5:22 Do not lay hands on anyone hastily, nor share in the sins of others. Keep yourself pure.

5:23 No longer drink only water, but use a little wine because of your stomach and your frequent illnesses.

5:24 The sins of some people are evident beforehand, going ahead to judgment, but those of others follow after.

5:25 Likewise good works also are evident, and those that are otherwise cannot remain hidden.

1 Timothy 6

6:1 Let all who are slaves under a yoke consider their own masters worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be blasphemed.

6:2 And those who have believing masters must not despise them because they are brothers, but rather serve them more, because those receiving the benefit are believers and beloved. Teach and urge these things.

6:3 If anyone teaches differently and does not adhere to sound words, those of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the teaching according to godliness,

6:4 he has become conceited, knowing nothing, but is sick with disputes and battles over words, from which come envy, strife, slanders, evil suspicions,

6:5 constant friction among people corrupted in mind and deprived of the truth, supposing godliness to be a means of gain.

6:6 But godliness with contentment is great gain.

6:7 For we brought nothing into the world, because neither can we carry anything out.

6:8 But having food and coverings, with these we will be content.

6:9 But those who want to become rich fall into temptation and a snare and many foolish and harmful desires, which plunge people into ruin and destruction.

6:10 For the love of money is a root of all evils, and some, reaching for it, wandered from the faith and pierced themselves with many pains.

6:11 But you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, endurance, gentleness.

6:12 Fight the good fight of the faith; take hold of eternal life, to which you were called. And you confessed the good confession before many witnesses.

6:13 I command you before God, who preserves all things alive, and Christ Jesus, who testified the good confession before Pontius Pilate,

6:14 that you keep the commandment spotless, above reproach, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ,

6:15 which the blessed and only Sovereign will display at the proper times, the King of those who reign and Lord of those who rule,

6:16 who alone has immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light, whom no human being has seen or can see; to Him be honor and eternal might. Amen.

6:17 Command those who are rich in the present age not to be arrogant nor to set their hope on the uncertainty of wealth, but on God, who richly provides us all things for enjoyment,

6:18 to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous, ready to share,

6:19 storing up for themselves a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of the life that is truly life.

6:20 O Timothy, guard what has been entrusted, turning away from profane empty talk and the opposing claims of falsely named knowledge.

6:21 Some, professing it, have missed the mark concerning the faith. Grace be with you.

2 Timothy

2 Timothy 1

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, according to the promise of life in Christ Jesus,

1:2 to Timothy, a beloved child: grace, mercy, peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

1:3 I thank God, whom I serve, as my forebears did, with a pure conscience, as I remember you unceasingly in my petitions night and day,

1:4 longing to see you, remembering your tears, so that I may be filled with joy,

1:5 having been reminded of the sincere faith in you, which dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice, and I am convinced that it dwells also in you.

1:6 For this reason I remind you to rekindle God’s gift, which is in you through the laying on of my hands.

1:7 For God did not give us a spirit of cowardice, but of power and love and self-discipline.

1:8 Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord or of me, His prisoner, but share suffering for the gospel according to the power of God,

1:9 who saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works but according to His own purpose and grace, which was given to us in Christ Jesus before the times of the ages,

1:10 but has now been revealed through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and incorruptibility to light through the gospel.

1:11 For this I was appointed a herald and an apostle and a teacher.

1:12 For this reason I also suffer these things, but I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that He is able to guard my deposit for that day.

1:13 Keep the pattern of sound words that you heard from me, in faith and love in Christ Jesus.

1:14 Guard the good deposit through the Holy Spirit who dwells in us.

1:15 You know this, that all those in Asia turned away from me, among whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes.

1:16 May the Lord give mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, because he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my chain,

1:17 but when he came to Rome, he earnestly searched for me and found me.

1:18 May the Lord grant him to find mercy from the Lord on that day. And you know very well how much service he gave in Ephesus.

2 Timothy 2

2:1 You, then, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus,

2:2 and the things you heard from me through many witnesses, entrust these to faithful people who will be able to teach others also.

2:3 Share suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.

2:4 No one serving as a soldier entangles himself in the affairs of ordinary life, so that he may please the one who enlisted him.

2:5 And if someone competes as an athlete, he is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules.

2:6 The farmer who labors must be first to share in the fruits.

2:7 Consider what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in all things.

2:8 Remember Jesus Christ, raised from the dead, from David’s seed, according to my gospel,

2:9 for which I suffer hardship even to chains as a criminal. But the word of God has not been chained.

2:10 For this reason I endure all things for the chosen ones, so that they too may obtain the salvation in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

2:11 The saying is trustworthy: for if we died with Him, we will also live with Him;

2:12 if we endure, we will also reign with Him; if we deny Him, He also will deny us;

2:13 if we are unfaithful, He remains faithful, for He cannot deny Himself.

2:14 Remind them of these things, charging them before God not to quarrel over words, which does no good and leads to the ruin of those who hear.

2:15 Be diligent to present yourself approved to God, a worker with no cause for shame, cutting a straight course for the word of truth.

2:16 But avoid profane empty talk, for they will advance into further ungodliness,

2:17 and their word will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus,

2:18 who missed the mark concerning truth, saying that the resurrection has already happened, and overturn the faith of some.

2:19 Nevertheless, the firm foundation of God stands, having this seal: “The Lord knew those who are His,” and, “Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness.”

2:20 Now in a great house there are vessels not only of gold and silver but also of wood and clay, some for honor and some for dishonor.

2:21 Therefore if someone cleanses himself from these things, he will be a vessel for honor, sanctified, useful to the Master, prepared for every good work.

2:22 But flee youthful desires, and pursue righteousness, faith, love, peace with those who call upon the Lord from a pure heart.

2:23 And reject foolish and ignorant disputes, knowing that they give birth to fights.

2:24 But a slave of the Lord must not fight, but must be gentle toward all, able to teach, patient with wrong,

2:25 instructing opponents with gentleness, in case God may give them repentance toward the knowledge of truth,

2:26 and they may regain their sobriety and escape the devil’s snare, having been captured by him to do his will.

2 Timothy 3

3:1 But know this: in the last days difficult times will come.

3:2 For people will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, blasphemous, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy,

3:3 without natural affection, irreconcilable, slanderers, without self-control, savage, not loving the good,

3:4 traitors, reckless, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God,

3:5 having a form of godliness but denying its power. Turn away from these also.

3:6 For among these are those who slip into houses and take captive weak women, laden with sins, led by various desires,

3:7 always learning and never able to come to the knowledge of truth.

3:8 And just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these too oppose the truth, people corrupted in mind, disqualified concerning the faith.

3:9 But they will make no further progress, for their folly will be clear to all, as the folly of those men also became.

3:10 But you followed my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, patience, love, endurance,

3:11 persecutions, sufferings, such as happened to me in Antioch, in Iconium, in Lystra, what persecutions I endured; and out of all of them the Lord rescued me.

3:12 And all who want to live godly lives in Christ Jesus will be persecuted.

3:13 But evil people and impostors will go from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

3:14 But you, remain in the things you learned and became convinced of, knowing those from whom you learned,

3:15 and that from infancy you have known the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.

3:16 All Scripture is God-breathed and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for training in righteousness,

3:17 so that the person of God may be capable, fully equipped for every good work.

2 Timothy 4

4:1 I charge you before God and Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and by His appearing and His kingdom:

4:2 proclaim the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all patience and teaching.

4:3 For a time will come when they will not endure sound teaching, but with itching ears they will heap up teachers for themselves according to their own desires,

4:4 and they will turn their hearing away from the truth and turn aside to myths.

4:5 But you, be sober in all things, endure hardship, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your service.

4:6 For I am already being poured out, and the time of my departure has arrived.

4:7 I have fought the good fight; I have finished the course; I have kept the faith.

4:8 From now on the crown of righteousness is laid up for me, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award me on that day, and not to me alone but also to all who have loved His appearing.

4:9 Make every effort to come to me soon,

4:10 for Demas deserted me, having loved the present age, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia; Titus to Dalmatia.

4:11 Luke alone is with me. Take Mark and bring him with you, for he is useful to me for service.

4:12 But I sent Tychicus to Ephesus.

4:13 When you come, bring the cloak which I left in Troas with Carpus, and the books, especially the parchments.

4:14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much harm; the Lord will repay him according to his works.

4:15 You too must guard yourself against him, for he strongly opposed our words.

4:16 At my first defense no one came to my side, but all deserted me. May it not be counted against them.

4:17 But the Lord stood beside me and strengthened me, so that through me the proclamation might be fulfilled and all the nations might hear, and I was rescued from a lion’s mouth.

4:18 The Lord will rescue me from every evil work and save me into His heavenly kingdom. To Him be glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

4:19 Greet Prisca and Aquila and the household of Onesiphorus.

4:20 Erastus remained in Corinth, but I left Trophimus sick in Miletus.

4:21 Make every effort to come before winter. Eubulus greets you, and Pudens and Linus and Claudia and all the brothers.

4:22 The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you all.

Titus

Titus 1

1:1 Paul, a slave of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the faith of God’s chosen ones and the knowledge of the truth that accords with godliness,

1:2 in hope of eternal life, which God, who does not lie, promised before the ages,

1:3 and in His own appointed times He revealed His word through proclamation, with which I was entrusted by the command of God our Savior,

1:4 to Titus, a genuine child in a shared faith: grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

1:5 For this reason I left you in Crete, so that you might put in order what remained unfinished and appoint elders in every city, as I directed you—

1:6 if anyone is beyond reproach, the husband of one wife, having faithful children who are not accused of reckless living or insubordinate.

1:7 For the overseer must be beyond reproach as God’s steward, not self-willed, not quick-tempered, not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for shameful gain,

1:8 but hospitable, loving what is good, self-controlled, just, devout, disciplined,

1:9 holding firmly to the trustworthy word in accordance with the teaching, so that he may be able both to encourage through sound teaching and to refute those who contradict it.

1:10 For there are also many insubordinate people, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision,

1:11 whose mouths must be stopped. They overturn whole households, teaching what they ought not to teach for the sake of shameful gain.

1:12 One of their own, a prophet of theirs, said, “Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, idle bellies.”

1:13 This testimony is true. For that reason, rebuke them sharply, so that they may be sound in the faith,

1:14 not paying attention to Jewish myths and commands of people who turn away from the truth.

1:15 To the pure, everything is pure; but to those who are defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure. Instead, both their mind and their conscience are defiled.

1:16 They profess to know God, but by their deeds they deny Him, being detestable and disobedient and unfit for every good work.

Titus 2

2:1 But you, speak what is fitting for sound teaching.

2:2 Older men are to be sober, dignified, self-controlled, sound in faith, in love, and in endurance.

2:3 Older women likewise are to be reverent in their conduct, not slanderers or enslaved to much wine, teachers of what is good,

2:4 so that they may train the younger women to love their husbands, to love their children,

2:5 to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, good, subject to their own husbands, so that God’s word may not be reviled.

2:6 Likewise, encourage the younger men to be self-controlled

2:7 in everything. Present yourself as a model of good works, showing integrity in teaching, dignity,

2:8 and sound speech that cannot be condemned, so that the opponent may be put to shame, having nothing bad to say about us.

2:9 Slaves are to be subject to their own masters in everything, to be pleasing to them, not contradicting them,

2:10 not pilfering, but showing complete good faith, so that in everything they may adorn the teaching of God our Savior.

2:11 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people,

2:12 training us so that, denying ungodliness and worldly desires, we may live self-controlled, just, and godly lives in the present age,

2:13 awaiting the blessed hope and the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ,

2:14 who gave Himself for us, so that He might ransom us from all lawlessness and purify for Himself a people for His own possession, eager for good works.

2:15 Speak these things, encourage, and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you.

Titus 3

3:1 Remind them to be subject to rulers and authorities, to obey, and to be ready for every good work,

3:2 to slander no one, to be peaceable, considerate, showing complete gentleness toward all people.

3:3 For we too were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, enslaved to various desires and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another.

3:4 But when the kindness of God our Savior and His love for humanity appeared,

3:5 He saved us, not on the basis of works done by us in righteousness, but according to His mercy, through the washing of regeneration and renewal by the Holy Spirit,

3:6 whom He poured out richly upon us through Jesus Christ our Savior,

3:7 so that, justified by His grace, we might become heirs in accordance with the hope of eternal life.

3:8 The saying is trustworthy, and I want you to insist on these things, so that those who have believed God may take care to devote themselves to good works. These things are good and beneficial to people.

3:9 But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, disputes, and quarrels about the law, for they are unprofitable and futile.

3:10 After a first and a second warning, have nothing further to do with a divisive person,

3:11 knowing that such a person has become perverted and is sinning, being self-condemned.

3:12 When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, make every effort to come to me at Nicopolis, for I have decided to spend the winter there.

3:13 Make every effort to send Zenas the legal expert and Apollos on their way, so that they lack nothing.

3:14 Let our people also learn to devote themselves to good works to meet essential needs, so that they may not be unfruitful.

3:15 All those with me greet you. Greet those who love us in faith. Grace be with all of you.

Philemon

Philemon 1

1:1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy the brother, to Philemon, our beloved fellow worker,

1:2 and to Apphia the sister, and Archippus our fellow soldier, and the Church in your house:

1:3 Grace to you all and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1:4 I thank my God always, remembering you in my prayers,

1:5 hearing of your love and the faith that you have toward the Lord Jesus and toward all the saints,

1:6 that the fellowship of your faith may become effective through recognition of every good thing among us for Christ.

1:7 For I had great joy and encouragement because of your love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you, brother.

1:8 Therefore, although I have great boldness in Christ to command you to do what is fitting,

1:9 I appeal instead because of love, being as I am, Paul, an old man and now also a prisoner of Christ Jesus—

1:10 I appeal to you for my child Onesimus, whose father I became while in chains,

1:11 who was once useless to you, but is now useful both to you and to me.

1:12 I have sent him back to you—him, that is, my very heart.

1:13 I wanted to keep him with me, so that in your place he might serve me in my chains for the gospel.

1:14 But without your consent I did not want to do anything, so that your good deed might be voluntary, rather than as though compelled.

1:15 For perhaps he was separated from you for a little while for this reason: that you might have him back forever,

1:16 no longer as a slave, but more than a slave, a beloved brother, especially to me, but how much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

1:17 So if you regard me as a partner, welcome him as you would me.

1:18 And if he has wronged you in anything, or owes you anything, charge that to my account.

1:19 I, Paul, write this with my own hand: I will repay it—not to mention that you owe me even your own self.

1:20 Yes, brother, let me have this benefit from you in the Lord; refresh my heart in Christ.

1:21 Confident of your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even more than I say.

1:22 At the same time, prepare lodging for me also, for I hope that through your prayers I will be graciously given to you.

1:23 Epaphras, my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus, greets you,

1:24 as do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow workers.

1:25 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Hebrews

Hebrews 1

1:1 In many portions and in many ways, God spoke long ago to the fathers in the prophets,

1:2 but in these last days He spoke to us in a Son, whom He appointed heir of all things, through whom He also made the ages.

1:3 He is the radiance of His glory and the imprint of His being, upholding all things by the word of His power. Having made purification of sins, He sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high,

1:4 having become so much greater than the angels as the name He has inherited is more excellent than theirs.

1:5 For to which of the angels did He ever say, “Thou art My Son; today I have begotten Thee”? And again, “I will be a Father to Him, and He will be a Son to Me”?

1:6 And when He again brings the firstborn into the inhabited world, He says, “And let all God’s angels worship Him.”

1:7 And concerning the angels He says, “He makes His angels spirits, and His ministers a flame of fire.”

1:8 But concerning the Son, “Thy throne, O God, endures forever and ever, and the scepter of uprightness is the scepter of Thy kingdom.

1:9 Thou didst love righteousness and hate lawlessness; for this reason God, Thy God, anointed Thee with the oil of exultation beyond Thy companions.”

1:10 And, “Thou, Lord, didst lay the foundation of the earth in the beginning, and the heavens are the works of Thy hands.

1:11 They will perish, but Thou remainest; and all will grow old like a garment,

1:12 and like a cloak Thou wilt roll them up; like a garment they will also be changed. But Thou art the same, and Thy years will not fail.”

1:13 But to which of the angels has He ever said, “Sit at My right hand until I make Thine enemies a footstool for Thy feet”?

1:14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent out for service for the sake of those who are to inherit salvation?

Hebrews 2

2:1 For this reason we must pay all the more attention to what we have heard, so that we do not drift away.

2:2 For if the word spoken through angels became firm, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense,

2:3 how will we escape if we neglect so great a salvation? It was first spoken through the Lord and was confirmed to us by those who heard,

2:4 God bearing witness together with signs and wonders and various mighty deeds and distributions of the Holy Spirit according to His own will.

2:5 For He did not subject to angels the inhabited world to come, of which we speak.

2:6 But someone testified somewhere, saying, “What is a human being, that Thou rememberest him, or a son of man, that Thou carest for him?

2:7 Thou didst make him a little lower than angels; Thou didst crown him with glory and honor;

2:8 Thou didst subject all things beneath his feet.” For in subjecting all things to him, He left nothing unsubjected to him. But now we do not yet see all things subjected to him.

2:9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than angels, crowned with glory and honor because of the suffering of death, so that by the grace of God He might taste death on behalf of everyone.

2:10 For it was fitting for Him, for whom are all things and through whom are all things, in bringing many sons into glory, to perfect the pioneer of their salvation through sufferings.

2:11 For both the One who sanctifies and those being sanctified are all from one. For this reason He is not ashamed to call them brothers,

2:12 saying, “I will announce Thy name to My brothers; in the midst of the assembly I will sing praise to Thee.”

2:13 And again, “I will put My trust in Him.” And again, “Behold, I and the children whom God gave Me.”

2:14 Therefore, since the children have shared in blood and flesh, He Himself likewise partook of the same, so that through death He might render powerless the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil,

2:15 and release those who through fear of death were subject to slavery throughout their whole lives.

2:16 For surely it is not angels He takes hold of, but He takes hold of Abraham’s seed.

2:17 Therefore He had to be made like His brothers in all things, so that He might become a merciful and faithful high priest in matters concerning God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people.

2:18 For because He Himself suffered when tested, He is able to help those who are being tested.

Hebrews 3

3:1 Therefore, holy brothers, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the apostle and high priest of our confession, Jesus,

3:2 who is faithful to the One who appointed Him, as Moses also was in all His house.

3:3 For He has been considered worthy of greater glory than Moses, just as the one who builds a house has greater honor than the house.

3:4 For every house is built by someone, but the One who built all things is God.

3:5 And Moses indeed was faithful in all His house as an attendant, for a testimony of the things to be spoken,

3:6 but Christ as a Son over His house. We are that house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and the boast of our hope.

3:7 Therefore, just as the Holy Spirit says, “Today, if you hear His voice,

3:8 do not harden your hearts as in the provocation, on the day of testing in the wilderness,

3:9 where your fathers put Me to the test and saw My works

3:10 for forty years. Therefore I was indignant with this generation and said, ‘They always wander in their heart, and they did not know My ways,’

3:11 as I swore in My wrath, ‘They shall certainly not enter My rest.’”

3:12 Watch out, brothers, so that none of you has an evil, unbelieving heart that turns away from the living God.

3:13 But encourage one another each day, as long as it is called “Today,” so that none of you may be hardened by the deceit of sin.

3:14 For we have become partakers of Christ if indeed we hold firm the beginning of our confidence until the end,

3:15 while it is said, “Today, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts as in the provocation.”

3:16 For who, having heard, provoked Him? Was it not all who came out of Egypt through Moses?

3:17 And with whom was He indignant for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness?

3:18 And to whom did He swear that they would not enter His rest, except those who disobeyed?

3:19 And we see that they could not enter because of unbelief.

Hebrews 4

4:1 Therefore let us fear, lest, while a promise remains of entering His rest, any of you should seem to have fallen short.

4:2 For we too have received good news just as they did, but the word they heard did not benefit them, because they had not been united by faith with those who heard.

4:3 For we who believed enter the rest, just as He has said, “As I swore in My wrath, ‘They shall certainly not enter My rest,’” although the works came into being from the foundation of the world.

4:4 For He has said somewhere about the seventh day in this way, “And God rested on the seventh day from all His works.”

4:5 And in this passage again, “They shall certainly not enter My rest.”

4:6 Since, then, it remains for some to enter it, and those who formerly received the good news did not enter because of disobedience,

4:7 He again appoints a certain day, “Today,” saying in David after so long a time, just as has been said before, “Today, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts.”

4:8 For if Joshua had given them rest, He would not have spoken after these things about another day.

4:9 So then, a Sabbath rest remains for the people of God.

4:10 For the one who entered His rest also rested from his own works, just as God did from His own.

4:11 Therefore let us be diligent to enter that rest, so that no one may fall in the same pattern of disobedience.

4:12 For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, penetrating as far as the division of soul and spirit, of joints and marrow, and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart.

4:13 And no created thing is hidden before Him, but all things are naked and laid open to His eyes, to whom we must give account.

4:14 Therefore, having a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast the confession.

4:15 For we do not have a high priest unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but One who has been tested in every way as we are, yet without sin.

4:16 Therefore let us approach the throne of grace with boldness, so that we may receive mercy and find grace for help at the right time.

Hebrews 5

5:1 For every high priest taken from among people is appointed on behalf of people in matters concerning God, to offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins.

5:2 He can deal gently with those who are ignorant and wandering, since he too is surrounded by weakness,

5:3 and because of it he is obliged to make offerings for sins on his own behalf, just as on behalf of the people.

5:4 And no one takes the honor for himself, but receives it when called by God, just as Aaron was.

5:5 So also Christ did not glorify Himself to become high priest, but the One who said to Him, “Thou art My Son; today I have begotten Thee,”

5:6 as He also says in another place, “Thou art a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek.”

5:7 In the days of His flesh, He offered petitions and supplications, with loud crying and tears, to the One able to save Him out of death, and was heard because of His reverent fear.

5:8 Although He was a Son, He learned obedience from the things He suffered,

5:9 and, having been perfected, He became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey Him,

5:10 having been designated by God high priest according to the order of Melchizedek.

5:11 Concerning this we have much to say, and it is hard to explain, since you have become slow to hear.

5:12 For although by this time you ought to be teachers, you again need someone to teach you the first elements of God’s oracles; you have come to need milk and not solid food.

5:13 For everyone who partakes of milk is inexperienced in the word of righteousness, for he is an infant.

5:14 But solid food belongs to the mature, whose faculties have been trained by practice to distinguish both good and evil.

Hebrews 6

6:1 Therefore, leaving the elementary teaching about Christ, let us be carried on to maturity, without laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and faith toward God,

6:2 of instruction about washings and the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment.

6:3 And this we will do, if indeed God permits.

6:4 For it is impossible to renew again to repentance those who were once enlightened, tasted the heavenly gift, became partakers of the Holy Spirit,

6:5 and tasted God’s good word and the powers of the coming age,

6:6 and fell away, since they are crucifying the Son of God again for themselves and exposing Him to public disgrace.

6:7 For land that drinks the rain often coming upon it, and produces vegetation useful to those for whose sake it is cultivated, shares in blessing from God.

6:8 But if it bears thorns and thistles, it is rejected and near a curse; its end is burning.

6:9 But concerning you, beloved, we are convinced of better things—things accompanying salvation—even though we speak this way.

6:10 For God is not unjust so as to forget your work and the love you showed toward His name by serving the saints, as you still serve them.

6:11 And we desire each of you to show the same diligence toward the full assurance of hope until the end,

6:12 so that you may not become sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

6:13 For when God made a promise to Abraham, since He had no one greater by whom to swear, He swore by Himself,

6:14 saying, “Surely, blessing I will bless you, and multiplying I will multiply you.”

6:15 And so, having waited patiently, he obtained the promise.

6:16 For people swear by one greater, and among them an oath for confirmation ends every dispute.

6:17 In this, God, wishing to show more fully to the heirs of the promise the unchanging nature of His purpose, intervened with an oath,

6:18 so that through two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to hold fast the hope set before us.

6:19 We have this hope as an anchor of the soul, both secure and firm, entering the inner place behind the veil,

6:20 where Jesus entered as a forerunner on our behalf, having become high priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek.

Hebrews 7

7:1 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him.

7:2 Abraham also apportioned to him a tenth of everything. His name is interpreted first as king of righteousness, and then also king of Salem, which is king of peace.

7:3 Without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither a beginning of days nor an end of life, but made like the Son of God, he remains a priest continually.

7:4 Consider how great this man was, to whom even Abraham the patriarch gave a tenth from the choice spoils.

7:5 Those from the sons of Levi who receive the priestly office have a commandment, according to the law, to collect a tenth from the people—that is, from their brothers—although they too have come from Abraham's loins.

7:6 But the one whose genealogy is not traced from them has received a tenth from Abraham and has blessed the one who had the promises.

7:7 And beyond all dispute, the lesser is blessed by the greater.

7:8 Here, people who die receive tenths; but there, one of whom it is testified that he lives.

7:9 And, so to speak, through Abraham even Levi, who receives tenths, has paid a tenth,

7:10 for he was still in his father's loins when Melchizedek met him.

7:11 Now if perfection came through the Levitical priesthood—for on its basis the people received the law—what further need was there for another priest to arise according to the order of Melchizedek, and not to be spoken of according to the order of Aaron?

7:12 For when the priesthood is changed, a change of law necessarily takes place as well.

7:13 For the One concerning whom these things are said belongs to another tribe, from which no one has served at the altar.

7:14 For it is clear that our Lord has sprung from Judah, a tribe about which Moses said nothing concerning priests.

7:15 And it is still more evident if another priest arises according to the likeness of Melchizedek,

7:16 who has become a priest, not according to a law of a fleshly commandment, but according to the power of an indestructible life.

7:17 For it is testified, "Thou art a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek."

7:18 For there is a setting aside of the preceding commandment because of its weakness and uselessness,

7:19 for the law perfected nothing; and there is the introduction of a better hope, through which we draw near to God.

7:20 And insofar as this was not without an oath—for those became priests without an oath,

7:21 but He with an oath through the One who said to Him, "The Lord swore and will not change His mind: Thou art a priest forever"—

7:22 to that extent Jesus has also become the guarantor of a better covenant.

7:23 And there were many of those priests, because death prevented them from continuing,

7:24 but He, because He remains forever, has a permanent priesthood.

7:25 Therefore He is also able to save completely those who approach God through Him, since He always lives to intercede on their behalf.

7:26 For such a high priest was indeed fitting for us: holy, innocent, undefiled, separated from sinners, and having become higher than the heavens.

7:27 He has no daily need, as the high priests do, to offer sacrifices first for His own sins and then for those of the people; for He did this once for all when He offered Himself.

7:28 For the law appoints people subject to weakness as high priests, but the word of the oath, which came after the law, appoints a Son, perfected forever.

Hebrews 8

8:1 Now the main point in what is being said is this: we have such a high priest, who sat down at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens,

8:2 a minister of the holy places and of the true tent, which the Lord pitched, not a human being.

8:3 For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices; therefore this One too must have something to offer.

8:4 Now if He were on earth, He would not even be a priest, since there are those who offer the gifts according to law.

8:5 They serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, just as Moses was instructed when he was about to complete the tent. For He says, “See that you make everything according to the pattern shown to you on the mountain.”

8:6 But now He has obtained a more excellent ministry, insofar as He is also mediator of a better covenant, which has been established as law upon better promises.

8:7 For if that first covenant had been faultless, no place would have been sought for a second.

8:8 For, finding fault with them, He says, “Behold, days are coming, says the Lord, and I will conclude a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah,

8:9 not according to the covenant I made with their fathers on the day I took hold of their hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, because they did not remain in My covenant, and I disregarded them, says the Lord.

8:10 For this is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the Lord: putting My laws into their mind, I will also inscribe them upon their hearts, and I will be their God, and they will be My people.

8:11 And they shall certainly not teach, each his fellow citizen and each his brother, saying, ‘Know the Lord,’ because all will know Me, from the least of them to the greatest.

8:12 For I will be merciful toward their wrongdoings, and I will certainly remember their sins no more.”

8:13 By saying “new,” He has made the first old. And what is growing old and aging is close to disappearing.

Hebrews 9

9:1 Now the first covenant also had regulations for worship and an earthly sanctuary.

9:2 For a tent was prepared, the first, in which were the lampstand, the table, and the presentation of the loaves; it is called the Holy Place.

9:3 And behind the second curtain was a tent called the Holy of Holies,

9:4 having a golden incense altar and the ark of the covenant, covered on every side with gold. In it were a golden jar containing the manna, Aaron’s rod that had sprouted, and the tablets of the covenant.

9:5 Above it were cherubim of glory overshadowing the atonement cover. We cannot now speak of these things in detail.

9:6 With these things so arranged, the priests enter the first tent continually, carrying out the acts of worship.

9:7 But into the second only the high priest enters, once in the year, not without blood, which he offers for himself and for the people’s sins of ignorance.

9:8 By this the Holy Spirit indicates that the way into the holy places has not yet been disclosed while the first tent still has its standing.

9:9 This is a figure for the present time, according to which both gifts and sacrifices are offered that cannot perfect the worshiper with respect to conscience.

9:10 They concern only foods, drinks, and various washings: regulations for the flesh, imposed until a time of setting things right.

9:11 But Christ came as high priest of the good things that have come to be, through the greater and more perfect tent, not made by hands—that is, not of this creation—

9:12 and entered the holy places once for all, not through the blood of goats and calves but through His own blood, having obtained eternal redemption.

9:13 For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling those who have been defiled, sanctify for the cleanness of the flesh,

9:14 how much more will the blood of Christ, who through an eternal Spirit offered Himself unblemished to God, cleanse our conscience from dead works to serve the living God!

9:15 And for this reason He is mediator of a new covenant, so that those who have been called might receive the promise of the eternal inheritance, since a death has occurred for redemption from the transgressions under the first covenant.

9:16 For where there is a testament, the death of the one who made it must be established.

9:17 For a testament takes effect at death, since it is never in force while the one who made it lives.

9:18 Therefore even the first covenant was not inaugurated without blood.

9:19 For when Moses had spoken every commandment according to the law to all the people, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people,

9:20 saying, “This is the blood of the covenant that God commanded for you.”

9:21 And he likewise sprinkled the tent and all the vessels of ministry with the blood.

9:22 And according to the law almost everything is cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood no forgiveness takes place.

9:23 Therefore it was necessary for the copies of the things in the heavens to be cleansed with these, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

9:24 For Christ did not enter holy places made by hands, counterparts of the true ones, but heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God on our behalf.

9:25 Nor did He enter to offer Himself many times, as the high priest enters the holy places year by year with another's blood,

9:26 for then He would have had to suffer many times since the foundation of the world. But now, once at the end of the ages, He has appeared to set aside sin through His sacrifice.

9:27 And just as it is appointed for people to die once, and after this judgment,

9:28 so also Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, apart from sin, to those eagerly awaiting Him, for salvation.

Hebrews 10

10:1 For the law, having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the realities, can never perfect those who approach by the same sacrifices offered continually year by year.

10:2 Otherwise, would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshipers, once cleansed, would no longer have any consciousness of sins?

10:3 But in them there is a reminder of sins year by year,

10:4 for it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins.

10:5 Therefore, coming into the world, He says, "Sacrifice and offering Thou didst not desire, but a body Thou didst prepare for Me.

10:6 In whole burnt offerings and offerings for sin Thou didst take no pleasure.

10:7 Then I said, 'Behold, I have come—in the scroll of the book it is written concerning Me—to do Thy will, O God.'"

10:8 After saying above, "Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and offerings for sin Thou didst not desire or take pleasure in"—which are offered according to law—

10:9 He then said, "Behold, I have come to do Thy will." He takes away the first in order to establish the second.

10:10 By this will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

10:11 And every priest stands daily, ministering and often offering the same sacrifices, which can never remove sins.

10:12 But this One, having offered one sacrifice for sins for all time, sat down at the right hand of God,

10:13 from then on waiting until His enemies are made a footstool for His feet.

10:14 For by one offering He has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified.

10:15 And the Holy Spirit also testifies to us; for after saying,

10:16 "This is the covenant I will make with them after those days, says the Lord: putting My laws upon their hearts, I will also inscribe them upon their mind,"

10:17 He adds, "And their sins and their lawless deeds I will certainly remember no more."

10:18 Now where there is forgiveness of these, there is no longer an offering for sin.

10:19 Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence for entry into the holy places in the blood of Jesus,

10:20 by the new and living way He inaugurated for us through the curtain—that is, His flesh—

10:21 and since we have a great priest over the house of God,

10:22 let us approach with a true heart in full assurance of faith, our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our body washed with pure water.

10:23 Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for the One who promised is faithful.

10:24 And let us consider one another, to stir up love and good works,

10:25 not abandoning our own gathering together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the day drawing near.

10:26 For if we sin deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, no sacrifice for sins remains,

10:27 but a fearful expectation of judgment and a fury of fire about to consume the adversaries.

10:28 Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without compassion on the testimony of two or three witnesses.

10:29 How much worse punishment do you think will be deserved by the one who has trampled the Son of God underfoot, regarded as common the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and insulted the Spirit of grace?

10:30 For we know the One who said, "Vengeance belongs to Me; I will repay." And again, "The Lord will judge His people."

10:31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

10:32 But remember the earlier days, in which, after being enlightened, you endured a great contest of sufferings,

10:33 at one time publicly exposed to reproaches and afflictions, at another becoming companions of those treated in this way.

10:34 For you sympathized with the prisoners, and you accepted the seizure of your possessions with joy, knowing that you yourselves have a better possession, and a lasting one.

10:35 Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward.

10:36 For you need endurance, so that, having done the will of God, you may receive the promise.

10:37 “For yet a very little while, the coming One will come and will not delay.

10:38 But My righteous one will live by faith; and if he draws back, My soul takes no pleasure in him.”

10:39 But we are not people who draw back to destruction, but people of faith for the preservation of the soul.

Hebrews 11

11:1 Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of realities not seen.

11:2 For by it the elders received testimony.

11:3 By faith we understand that the ages were formed by God’s word, so that what is seen did not come into being from visible things.

11:4 By faith Abel offered God a greater sacrifice than Cain, through which he received testimony that he was righteous, God testifying concerning his gifts; and through it, though he died, he still speaks.

11:5 By faith Enoch was taken away so as not to see death, and he was not found, because God took him away. For before his taking away he had received testimony that he had pleased God.

11:6 And without faith it is impossible to please Him, for the one approaching God must believe that He is and that He becomes a rewarder of those who seek Him.

11:7 By faith Noah, instructed concerning things not yet seen, acted with reverent fear and prepared an ark for the salvation of his household. Through this he condemned the world and became heir of the righteousness according to faith.

11:8 By faith Abraham, when called, obeyed by going out to a place he was to receive as an inheritance; and he went out without knowing where he was going.

11:9 By faith he lived as a foreigner in the land of the promise as in a foreign land, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, fellow heirs of the same promise.

11:10 For he was awaiting the city that has foundations, whose craftsman and maker is God.

11:11 By faith even Sarah herself, though barren, received power to conceive offspring even beyond the proper age, since she considered the One who promised faithful.

11:12 Therefore from one man, and that one as good as dead, there were born as many as the stars of heaven in multitude and as the innumerable sand along the seashore.

11:13 All these died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen and greeted them from afar and confessed that they were strangers and sojourners upon the earth.

11:14 For those who say such things make clear that they are seeking a homeland.

11:15 And if they had been thinking of that land from which they went out, they would have had opportunity to return.

11:16 But now they desire a better one, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God, for He has prepared a city for them.

11:17 By faith Abraham, when tested, offered Isaac; and the one who had welcomed the promises was offering his only son,

11:18 to whom it had been said, “In Isaac offspring will be named for you.”

11:19 He reasoned that God is able even to raise the dead; from there he also received him back, figuratively speaking.

11:20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau also concerning things to come.

11:21 By faith Jacob, when dying, blessed each of Joseph’s sons, and worshiped over the top of his staff.

11:22 By faith Joseph, when nearing his end, spoke of the exodus of the sons of Israel and gave instructions concerning his bones.

11:23 By faith Moses, when born, was hidden for three months by his parents, because they saw that the child was beautiful and did not fear the king’s decree.

11:24 By faith Moses, when grown, refused to be called a son of Pharaoh’s daughter,

11:25 choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to have the temporary enjoyment of sin.

11:26 He considered the reproach of Christ greater wealth than the treasures of Egypt, for he was looking toward the reward.

11:27 By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the king’s anger, for he endured as though seeing the invisible One.

11:28 By faith he kept the Passover and the sprinkling of the blood, so that the destroyer of the firstborn might not touch them.

11:29 By faith they crossed the Red Sea as through dry land; when the Egyptians attempted it, they were swallowed up.

11:30 By faith the walls of Jericho fell after being encircled for seven days.

11:31 By faith Rahab the prostitute did not perish with those who disobeyed, having received the spies in peace.

11:32 And what more shall I say? For time will fail me as I recount Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David and Samuel and the prophets,

11:33 who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked righteousness, obtained promises, shut the mouths of lions,

11:34 extinguished the power of fire, escaped the edges of the sword, were strengthened from weakness, became mighty in battle, and turned back the armies of foreigners.

11:35 Women received their dead through resurrection. But others were tortured, not accepting release, so that they might obtain a better resurrection.

11:36 And others experienced mockery and flogging, and also chains and imprisonment.

11:37 They were stoned, sawn apart, and died by slaughter with the sword. They went about in sheepskins, in goatskins, being destitute, afflicted, and mistreated—

11:38 of whom the world was not worthy—wandering in deserts and mountains and caves and the holes of the earth.

11:39 And all these, though they received testimony through faith, did not receive the promise,

11:40 since God had provided something better concerning us, so that they should not be perfected apart from us.

Hebrews 12

12:1 Therefore, since we too have so great a cloud of witnesses surrounding us, let us lay aside every weight and the sin that readily entangles us, and run with endurance the race set before us,

12:2 looking away to Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of faith. For the joy set before Him He endured a cross, despising its shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

12:3 For consider the One who has endured such opposition from sinners against Himself, so that you may not grow weary, fainting in your souls.

12:4 You have not yet resisted to the point of blood in your struggle against sin,

12:5 and you have forgotten the encouragement that addresses you as sons: “My son, do not make light of the Lord’s discipline, nor faint when reproved by Him.

12:6 For the Lord disciplines the one He loves, and scourges every son He receives.”

12:7 Endure for discipline. God deals with you as sons; for what son is there whom a father does not discipline?

12:8 But if you are without discipline, in which all have become partakers, then you are illegitimate children and not sons.

12:9 Furthermore, we had our fathers in the flesh to discipline us, and we respected them. But shall we not much more submit to the Father of spirits and live?

12:10 For they disciplined us for a few days according to what seemed right to them, but He for our benefit, so that we may share in His holiness.

12:11 Now every discipline seems for the present to be a matter of sorrow, not joy, but afterward it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those trained through it.

12:12 Therefore straighten the drooping hands and the weakened knees,

12:13 and make straight tracks for your feet, so that what is lame may not be dislocated, but rather healed.

12:14 Pursue peace with everyone, and sanctification, without which no one will see the Lord.

12:15 Watch lest anyone fall short of the grace of God, lest any root of bitterness grow up and cause trouble, and through it many be defiled,

12:16 lest anyone be sexually immoral or profane like Esau, who sold his own birthright for a single meal.

12:17 For you know that even afterward, when he desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no place for repentance, although he sought it with tears.

12:18 For you have not approached what can be touched, and a blazing fire, and gloom and darkness and storm,

12:19 and the sound of a trumpet and a voice speaking words, whose hearers begged that no further word be spoken to them.

12:20 For they could not bear the command: “Even if an animal touches the mountain, it shall be stoned.”

12:21 And so fearful was the sight that Moses said, “I am terrified and trembling.”

12:22 But you have approached Mount Zion and the city of the living God, heavenly Jerusalem, and myriads of angels in festive gathering,

12:23 and the assembly of firstborn ones enrolled in the heavens, and God the judge of all, and the spirits of righteous ones who have been perfected,

12:24 and Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and sprinkled blood that speaks better than Abel.

12:25 See that you do not refuse the One who speaks. For if those who refused the One instructing them on earth did not escape, much less shall we, if we turn away from the One from the heavens.

12:26 His voice shook the earth then, but now He has promised, saying, “Yet once more I will shake not only the earth but also the heaven.”

12:27 Now “yet once more” indicates the removal of the things shaken, as things that have been made, so that the things not shaken may remain.

12:28 Therefore, since we are receiving an unshakable kingdom, let us be grateful, and through this gratitude serve God acceptably with reverence and awe,

12:29 for indeed our God is a consuming fire.

Hebrews 13

13:1 Let brotherly love remain.

13:2 Do not forget hospitality, for through it some unknowingly entertained angels.

13:3 Remember the prisoners as fellow prisoners, and those being mistreated, as you yourselves also are in a body.

13:4 Let marriage be honored among all, and the marriage bed undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterers.

13:5 Let your way of life be free from the love of money, being content with what you have; for He Himself has said, “I will certainly not leave you, nor will I ever forsake you.”

13:6 So we may say with confidence, “The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear. What will a person do to me?”

13:7 Remember your leaders, who spoke the word of God to you. As you consider the outcome of their way of life, imitate their faith.

13:8 Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and for the ages.

13:9 Do not be carried away by varied and strange teachings, for it is good for the heart to be strengthened by grace, not by foods, which have not benefited those occupied with them.

13:10 We have an altar from which those serving the tent have no right to eat.

13:11 For the bodies of those animals whose blood the high priest brings into the holy places for sin are burned outside the camp.

13:12 Therefore Jesus also suffered outside the gate, so that He might sanctify the people through His own blood.

13:13 So let us go out to Him outside the camp, bearing His reproach.

13:14 For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the one to come.

13:15 Therefore through Him let us continually offer God a sacrifice of praise, that is, the fruit of lips confessing His name.

13:16 And do not forget to do good and to share, for God is pleased with such sacrifices.

13:17 Obey your leaders and yield to them, for they keep watch over your souls as those who will give an account, so that they may do this with joy and not groaning, for that would be unprofitable for you.

13:18 Pray for us, for we are convinced that we have a good conscience, wishing to conduct ourselves well in everything.

13:19 And I urge you all the more to do this, so that I may be restored to you sooner.

13:20 Now may the God of peace, who brought up from the dead the great shepherd of the sheep, our Lord Jesus, in the blood of an eternal covenant,

13:21 equip you with every good thing to do His will, working in us what is pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

13:22 And I urge you, brothers, bear with the word of encouragement, for I have written to you briefly.

13:23 Know that our brother Timothy has been released; if he comes soon, I will see you with him.

13:24 Greet all your leaders and all the saints. Those from Italy greet you.

13:25 Grace be with you all.

James

James 1

1:1 James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes in the dispersion: greetings.

1:2 Count it all joy, my brothers, whenever you encounter trials of various kinds,

1:3 knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance.

1:4 And let endurance have its complete work, so that you may be complete and whole, lacking in nothing.

1:5 But if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to all generously and without reproach, and it will be given to him.

1:6 But let him ask in faith, doubting nothing, for the one who doubts is like a wave of the sea, driven and tossed by the wind.

1:7 For that person must not suppose that he will receive anything from the Lord,

1:8 a man of divided mind, unstable in all his ways.

1:9 Let the lowly brother boast in his exaltation,

1:10 and the rich person in his humiliation, because he will pass away like a flower of grass.

1:11 For the sun rose with its scorching heat and dried the grass, and its flower fell, and the beauty of its appearance perished. So also the rich person will wither in his pursuits.

1:12 Blessed is the man who endures a trial, because, having been approved, he will receive the crown of life that He promised to those who love Him.

1:13 Let no one who is tempted say, “I am being tempted by God.” For God cannot be tempted by evil, and He Himself tempts no one.

1:14 But each person is tempted when drawn away and enticed by his own desire.

1:15 Then desire, after conceiving, gives birth to sin; and sin, when fully grown, gives birth to death.

1:16 Do not be led astray, my beloved brothers.

1:17 Every good act of giving and every complete gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow from turning.

1:18 By His will He gave us birth through the word of truth, so that we might be a kind of firstfruits of His creatures.

1:19 Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger,

1:20 for a man’s anger does not accomplish the righteousness of God.

1:21 Therefore, putting away every impurity and the abundance of evil, receive with gentleness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

1:22 But become doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.

1:23 For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man looking at his natural face in a mirror,

1:24 for he looked at himself and went away and immediately forgot what he was like.

1:25 But the one who looks closely into the complete law, the law of freedom, and continues in it—not a forgetful hearer but a doer of the work—will be blessed in what he does.

1:26 If anyone thinks he is religious while not bridling his tongue but deceiving his heart, that person’s religion is futile.

1:27 Religion that is pure and undefiled before God the Father is this: to care for orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained by the world.

James 2

2:1 My brothers, do not hold the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with acts of favoritism.

2:2 For if a man with gold rings and splendid clothing enters your gathering, and a poor person in filthy clothing also enters,

2:3 and you pay attention to the one wearing splendid clothing and say, “You sit here in a good place,” but say to the poor person, “You stand, or sit there beneath my footstool,”

2:4 have you not made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts?

2:5 Listen, my beloved brothers: has not God chosen those poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom He promised to those who love Him?

2:6 But you have dishonored the poor person. Is it not the rich who oppress you and drag you into courts?

2:7 Do they not blaspheme the good name called over you?

2:8 If, however, you fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, “You shall love your neighbor as yourself,” you do well.

2:9 But if you show favoritism, you commit sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors.

2:10 For whoever keeps the whole law but stumbles in one point has become accountable for all of it.

2:11 For He who said, “Do not commit adultery,” also said, “Do not murder.” Now if you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law.

2:12 So speak and so act as those who are going to be judged through a law of freedom.

2:13 For judgment is without mercy to the one who has shown no mercy; mercy triumphs over judgment.

2:14 What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him?

2:15 If a brother or sister is without clothing and lacks daily food,

2:16 and one of you says to them, “Go in peace; be warmed and filled,” but you do not give them what the body needs, what good is it?

2:17 So also faith, if it does not have works, is dead by itself.

2:18 But someone will say, “You have faith, and I have works.” Show me your faith apart from works, and I will show you faith by my works.

2:19 You believe that God is one. You do well. Even the demons believe—and shudder.

2:20 But do you want to know, empty man, that faith apart from works is idle?

2:21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

2:22 You see that faith was working together with his works, and by the works faith was brought to completion,

2:23 and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, “Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness,” and he was called a friend of God.

2:24 You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone.

2:25 And likewise was not Rahab the prostitute also justified by works, when she welcomed the messengers and sent them out by another way?

2:26 For just as the body without spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

James 3

3:1 Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers, knowing that we will receive a greater judgment.

3:2 For we all stumble in many things. If anyone does not stumble in speech, that person is a complete man, able to bridle his whole body also.

3:3 Now if we put bits into horses’ mouths so that they obey us, we guide their whole body also.

3:4 Look also at ships: although so large and driven by harsh winds, they are guided by a very small rudder wherever the pilot intends.

3:5 So also the tongue is a small member and boasts great things. Look how small a fire sets so great a forest ablaze!

3:6 And the tongue is a fire. The tongue is established among our members as a world of unrighteousness, staining the whole body, setting the wheel of life ablaze, and itself set ablaze by Gehenna.

3:7 For every kind of wild animal and bird, of creeping creature and sea creature, is tamed and has been tamed by humankind;

3:8 but no human being can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison.

3:9 With it we bless the Lord and Father, and with it we curse human beings who have been made in God’s likeness.

3:10 From the same mouth come blessing and cursing. My brothers, these things ought not to happen this way.

3:11 Does a spring pour out sweet and bitter water from the same opening?

3:12 My brothers, can a fig tree produce olives, or a vine figs? Neither can salt water produce sweet water.

3:13 Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show his works by good conduct in the gentleness of wisdom.

3:14 But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your heart, do not boast against the truth and lie against it.

3:15 This is not the wisdom coming down from above; it is earthly, merely natural, demonic.

3:16 For where there are jealousy and selfish ambition, there are disorder and every foul practice.

3:17 But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, considerate, open to persuasion, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial, without hypocrisy.

3:18 And a fruit of righteousness is sown in peace for those who make peace.

James 4

4:1 Where do wars come from, and where do fights among you come from? Is it not from here—from your pleasures that wage war in your members?

4:2 You desire and do not have; you murder and envy and cannot obtain. You fight and wage war. You do not have because you do not ask.

4:3 You ask and do not receive, because you ask badly, so that you may spend it on your pleasures.

4:4 Adulteresses! Do you not know that friendship with the world is hostility toward God? Whoever therefore wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God.

4:5 Or do you think Scripture says in vain, “He yearns jealously for the spirit that He made to dwell in us”?

4:6 But He gives greater grace. Therefore it says, “God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble.”

4:7 Submit yourselves therefore to God; but resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

4:8 Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, sinners, and purify your hearts, you of divided mind.

4:9 Be wretched and mourn and weep. Let your laughter be turned into mourning and your joy into dejection.

4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and He will exalt you.

4:11 Do not speak against one another, brothers. The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother speaks against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge.

4:12 There is one Lawgiver and Judge, the One able to save and destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor?

4:13 Come now, you who say, “Today or tomorrow we will go to this city, spend a year there, trade, and make a profit”—

4:14 you who do not know what tomorrow brings. What is your life? For you are a vapor, appearing for a little while and then disappearing.

4:15 Instead, you ought to say, “If the Lord wills, we shall both live and do this or that.”

4:16 But now you boast in your pretensions. All such boasting is evil.

4:17 Therefore, if someone knows the good he ought to do and does not do it, it is sin for him.

James 5

5:1 Come now, you rich people: weep and howl over the miseries coming upon you.

5:2 Your riches have rotted, and your garments have become moth-eaten.

5:3 Your gold and silver have corroded, and their corrosion will be a testimony against you and will devour your flesh like fire. You have stored up treasure in the last days.

5:4 Look, the wages of the laborers who reaped your fields, withheld by you, cry out; and the cries of the harvesters have entered the ears of the Lord Sabaoth.

5:5 You lived luxuriously on the earth and indulged yourselves; you fattened your hearts on a day of slaughter.

5:6 You condemned; you murdered the righteous one. He does not oppose you.

5:7 Be patient, therefore, brothers, until the coming of the Lord. Look, the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it until he receives the early and late rain.

5:8 You too be patient; strengthen your hearts, because the coming of the Lord has drawn near.

5:9 Do not groan against one another, brothers, so that you may not be judged. Look, the Judge stands before the doors.

5:10 Brothers, take as an example of suffering and patience the prophets who spoke in the Lord’s name.

5:11 Look, we call those who endured blessed. You heard of Job’s endurance and saw the outcome from the Lord, because the Lord is full of compassion and merciful.

5:12 But above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by earth or by any other oath. Let your yes be yes, and your no be no, so that you may not fall under judgment.

5:13 Is anyone among you suffering? Let him pray. Is anyone cheerful? Let him sing praise.

5:14 Is anyone among you sick? Let him summon the elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Lord’s name.

5:15 And the prayer of faith will save the weary sick person, and the Lord will raise him up; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven.

5:16 Therefore confess your sins to one another and pray for one another, so that you may be healed. A righteous person’s petition has great strength when it is at work.

5:17 Elijah was a human being with experiences like ours, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it did not rain upon the earth for three years and six months.

5:18 And he prayed again, and heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth its fruit.

5:19 My brothers, if anyone among you is led astray from the truth and someone turns him back,

5:20 let him know that the one who turns a sinner back from the error of his way will save his soul from death and cover a multitude of sins.

1 Peter

1 Peter 1

1:1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the chosen resident aliens of the dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

1:2 according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification by the Spirit, for obedience and sprinkling with the blood of Jesus Christ: May grace and peace be multiplied to you.

1:3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, according to His great mercy, has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

1:4 into an inheritance imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you,

1:5 who are guarded by the power of God through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

1:6 In this you rejoice, though now, for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials,

1:7 so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes, though tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

1:8 Though you have not seen Him, you love Him; though you do not see Him now, yet believing in Him, you rejoice with joy inexpressible and full of glory,

1:9 receiving the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

1:10 Concerning this salvation, the prophets who prophesied about the grace for you searched and investigated,

1:11 investigating what time or what kind of time the Spirit of Christ within them was indicating, as He testified beforehand to the sufferings destined for Christ and the glories after them.

1:12 It was revealed to them that they were serving these things for you, and not for themselves—things now announced to you through those who proclaimed the good news to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, things into which angels long to look.

1:13 Therefore, gird up the loins of your mind; be sober, and set your hope fully on the grace being brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

1:14 As children of obedience, do not conform yourselves to the former desires of your ignorance,

1:15 but, in accordance with the Holy One who called you, become holy yourselves in all your conduct,

1:16 because it is written, “You shall be holy, because I am holy.”

1:17 And if you call upon as Father the One who judges impartially according to each person’s work, conduct yourselves in fear during the time of your sojourn,

1:18 knowing that you were ransomed from the futile conduct handed down from your ancestors, not with perishable things, silver or gold,

1:19 but with precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot—the blood of Christ,

1:20 who was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was manifested at the end of the times for your sake.

1:21 Through Him you are believers in God, who raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God.

1:22 Having purified your souls by obedience to the truth for sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart,

1:23 having been born anew, not from perishable seed but from imperishable, through the living and enduring word of God.

1:24 For “All flesh is like grass, and all its glory like a flower of grass. The grass has withered, and the flower has fallen,

1:25 but the word of the Lord remains forever.” And this is the word that was proclaimed to you as good news.

1 Peter 2

2:1 Therefore, putting away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisies and envies and all slanders,

2:2 like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, so that by it you may grow into salvation,

2:3 if you have tasted that the Lord is good.

2:4 Coming to Him, a living stone rejected by human beings but chosen and precious before God,

2:5 you yourselves, like living stones, are also being built into a spiritual house, for a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

2:6 For it stands in Scripture: “Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a chosen, precious cornerstone, and the one who believes in Him will certainly not be put to shame.”

2:7 Therefore, the honor is for you who believe; but for those who do not believe, “The stone that the builders rejected has become the head of the corner,”

2:8 and “a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense.” They stumble, disobeying the word; to this they were also appointed.

2:9 But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God’s possession, so that you may proclaim the excellences of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light.

2:10 Once you were not a people, but now you are God’s people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.

2:11 Beloved, I urge you, as aliens and sojourners, to abstain from fleshly desires that wage war against the soul,

2:12 keeping your conduct good among the Gentiles, so that, in the very matter for which they slander you as evildoers, they may observe your good works and glorify God on the day of visitation.

2:13 Submit yourselves to every human institution for the Lord’s sake, whether to a king as supreme,

2:14 or to governors as sent by him for the punishment of evildoers and the praise of those who do good.

2:15 For this is the will of God: that by doing good you should silence the ignorance of foolish people.

2:16 Live as free people, yet without using freedom as a covering for evil, but as slaves of God.

2:17 Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.

2:18 Household slaves, submit yourselves to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and considerate but also to the crooked.

2:19 For this is grace: if, out of awareness of God, someone bears sorrows while suffering unjustly.

2:20 For what credit is there if, when you sin and are beaten, you endure? But if, when you do good and suffer, you endure, this is grace before God.

2:21 For to this you were called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in His footsteps.

2:22 He committed no sin, nor was deceit found in His mouth.

2:23 When He was reviled, He did not revile in return; when He suffered, He did not threaten, but entrusted His cause to the One who judges justly.

2:24 He Himself bore our sins in His body upon the tree, so that, having died to sins, we might live for righteousness. By His bruise you were healed.

2:25 For you were wandering like sheep, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls.

1 Peter 3

3:1 Likewise, wives, submit yourselves to your own husbands, so that even if some disobey the word, they may be won without a word through the conduct of their wives,

3:2 when they observe your pure conduct in fear.

3:3 Let your adornment not be the outward kind—braiding hair, putting on gold ornaments, or dressing in garments—

3:4 but the hidden person of the heart, in the imperishable beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which is very precious before God.

3:5 For this is how the holy women of former times, who hoped in God, also adorned themselves, submitting themselves to their own husbands,

3:6 as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord. You have become her children if you do good and do not fear any terror.

3:7 Likewise, husbands, live with your wives with understanding, honoring them as women—the weaker vessel—and also as fellow heirs of the grace of life, so that your prayers may not be hindered.

3:8 Finally, all of you, be of one mind, sympathetic, loving as brothers, tenderhearted, and humble-minded,

3:9 not repaying evil for evil or reviling for reviling, but, on the contrary, blessing, because you were called for this, so that you might inherit a blessing.

3:10 For “The one who wishes to love life and see good days must keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit.

3:11 He must turn away from evil and do good; he must seek peace and pursue it.

3:12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and His ears attend to their petition, but the face of the Lord is against those who do evil.”

3:13 And who will harm you if you become zealous for what is good?

3:14 But even if you should suffer for righteousness, you are blessed. Do not fear their fear, and do not be troubled,

3:15 but hallow Christ as Lord in your hearts, always ready to give a defense to everyone who asks you for an account of the hope within you,

3:16 yet with gentleness and fear, keeping a good conscience, so that, in the very matter for which you are slandered, those who abuse your good conduct in Christ may be put to shame.

3:17 For it is better, if the will of God should will it, to suffer while doing good than while doing evil.

3:18 For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, so that He might bring you to God, being put to death in flesh but made alive in spirit,

3:19 in which He also went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison,

3:20 who were once disobedient, when the patience of God waited in the days of Noah while the ark was being prepared, in which a few—that is, eight souls—were brought safely through water.

3:21 Corresponding to this, baptism also now saves you—not a removal of dirt from the flesh, but an appeal to God for a good conscience—through the resurrection of Jesus Christ,

3:22 who is at the right hand of God, having gone into heaven, with angels and authorities and powers subjected to Him.

1 Peter 4

4:1 Therefore, since Christ suffered in flesh, arm yourselves also with the same thought, because the one who has suffered in flesh has ceased from sin,

4:2 so as to live the remaining time in flesh no longer for human desires but for the will of God.

4:3 For you have spent enough time doing what the Gentiles want, walking in debaucheries, desires, bouts of drunkenness, revelries, drinking parties, and lawless acts of idolatry.

4:4 They are surprised that you do not run with them into the same flood of reckless living, and they slander you.

4:5 They will give an account to the One who is ready to judge the living and the dead.

4:6 For this is why the good news was proclaimed even to the dead: so that they might be judged according to human beings in flesh, but live according to God in spirit.

4:7 But the end of all things has drawn near. Therefore, be clear-minded and sober for your prayers.

4:8 Above all, maintain earnest love for one another, because love covers a multitude of sins.

4:9 Be hospitable to one another without grumbling.

4:10 As each has received a gift, use it in serving one another, as good stewards of God’s varied grace.

4:11 If anyone speaks, let it be as words from God; if anyone serves, let it be with the strength God supplies, so that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

4:12 Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal among you, which comes upon you for testing, as though something strange were happening to you.

4:13 But insofar as you share in the sufferings of Christ, rejoice, so that you may also rejoice with exultation at the revelation of His glory.

4:14 If you are reviled for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you.

4:15 For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evildoer, or as a meddler in others’ affairs.

4:16 But if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this matter.

4:17 For it is time for judgment to begin from the house of God; and if it begins first from us, what will be the outcome for those who disobey the good news of God?

4:18 And “If the righteous one is saved with difficulty, where will the ungodly person and sinner appear?”

4:19 Therefore, let those who suffer according to the will of God entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good.

1 Peter 5

5:1 I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a participant in the glory about to be revealed:

5:2 Shepherd the flock of God among you, exercising oversight, not under compulsion but willingly, according to God; not for shameful gain but eagerly;

5:3 not as lording it over those allotted to you, but becoming examples to the flock.

5:4 And when the Chief Shepherd is manifested, you will receive the unfading crown of glory.

5:5 Likewise, you who are younger, submit yourselves to the elders. And all of you, clothe yourselves with humility toward one another, because “God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble.”

5:6 Therefore, humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, so that He may exalt you in due time,

5:7 casting all your anxiety upon Him, because He cares for you.

5:8 Be sober; be watchful. Your adversary, the devil, walks about like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour.

5:9 Resist him, firm in the faith, knowing that the same kinds of sufferings are being experienced by your brotherhood in the world.

5:10 And the God of all grace, who called you to His eternal glory in Christ, after you have suffered a little while, will Himself restore, establish, strengthen, and firmly ground you.

5:11 To Him be the dominion forever. Amen.

5:12 Through Silvanus, whom I regard as a faithful brother, I have written to you briefly, exhorting and testifying that this is the true grace of God. Stand in it.

5:13 She who is in Babylon, chosen together with you, greets you, and so does Mark, my son.

5:14 Greet one another with a kiss of love. Peace to all of you who are in Christ.

2 Peter

2 Peter 1

1:1 Simeon Peter, a slave and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who have received a faith of equal honor with ours through the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ:

1:2 May grace and peace be multiplied to you in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

1:3 Since His divine power has granted us everything pertaining to life and godliness through the knowledge of the One who called us by His own glory and excellence,

1:4 through these He has granted us the precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become participants in the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through desire.

1:5 And for this very reason, bringing every effort to bear, supply excellence in your faith, and knowledge in excellence,

1:6 and self-control in knowledge, and endurance in self-control, and godliness in endurance,

1:7 and brotherly love in godliness, and love in brotherly love.

1:8 For if these things are yours and abound, they make you neither idle nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1:9 For the person who lacks these things is blind and shortsighted, having forgotten the cleansing of his former sins.

1:10 Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election firm, for if you do these things, you will certainly never stumble.

1:11 For in this way entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ will be richly supplied to you.

1:12 Therefore, I will always be ready to remind you of these things, even though you know them and are firmly established in the truth that is present with you.

1:13 And I consider it right, as long as I am in this tent, to stir you up by reminding you,

1:14 knowing that I will soon put off my tent, as our Lord Jesus Christ also made clear to me.

1:15 And I will also make every effort so that after my departure you may be able at any time to call these things to mind.

1:16 For we did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we became eyewitnesses of His majesty.

1:17 For He received honor and glory from God the Father when a voice such as this was borne to Him by the Majestic Glory: “This is My Son, My Beloved, in whom I have taken pleasure”—

1:18 and we ourselves heard this voice borne from heaven when we were with Him on the holy mountain.

1:19 And we have the prophetic word more firmly established, to which you do well to pay attention as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until day dawns and the morning star rises in your hearts,

1:20 knowing this first: that no prophecy of Scripture arises from one’s own interpretation.

1:21 For prophecy was never borne along by human will, but human beings spoke from God as they were borne along by the Holy Spirit.

2 Peter 2

2:1 But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will also be false teachers among you. They will secretly bring in destructive factions, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing swift destruction upon themselves.

2:2 And many will follow their debaucheries, and because of them the way of truth will be slandered.

2:3 And in greed they will exploit you with fabricated words. Their judgment has not been idle since long ago, and their destruction does not sleep.

2:4 For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into Tartarus and handed them over to chains of gloom, kept for judgment,

2:5 and did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, as one of eight, when He brought a flood upon a world of ungodly people,

2:6 and reduced the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes, condemning them to overthrow, having made them an example for those who would live ungodly lives,

2:7 and rescued righteous Lot, who was distressed by the lawless people’s conduct in debauchery—

2:8 for by what he saw and heard, that righteous man, living among them, tormented his righteous soul day after day over their lawless deeds—

2:9 then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trial, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment for the day of judgment,

2:10 especially those who go after flesh in defiling desire and despise lordship. Reckless and self-willed, they do not tremble as they slander glorious beings,

2:11 whereas angels, though greater in strength and power, do not bring a slanderous judgment against them before the Lord.

2:12 But these people, like irrational animals born as creatures of instinct for capture and destruction, slandering things they do not understand, will also be destroyed in their destruction,

2:13 suffering harm as the wages of wrongdoing. They consider indulgence in the daytime a pleasure. They are spots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions while feasting with you,

2:14 having eyes full of an adulteress and unable to stop sinning, enticing unstable souls, having a heart trained in greed—children of a curse!

2:15 Leaving the straight way, they wandered off, following the way of Balaam son of Bosor, who loved the wages of wrongdoing,

2:16 but received a rebuke for his own transgression: a speechless beast of burden spoke with a human voice and restrained the prophet's madness.

2:17 These people are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm, for whom the gloom of darkness has been kept.

2:18 For, uttering inflated words of emptiness, they entice through fleshly desires and debaucheries those who are truly escaping from people who live in error,

2:19 promising them freedom while they themselves are slaves of corruption; for by whatever someone has been overcome, to this he has also been enslaved.

2:20 For if, after escaping the world's defilements through the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, their last state has become worse than their first.

2:21 For it would have been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment handed down to them.

2:22 What the true proverb says has happened to them: "A dog has returned to its own vomit," and, "A sow, after washing, returns to wallowing in mud."

2 Peter 3

3:1 Beloved, this is now the second letter I am writing to you. In these letters I stir up your sincere mind by reminding you,

3:2 so that you may remember the words spoken beforehand by the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles,

3:3 knowing this first: in the last days scoffers will come with scoffing, walking according to their own desires,

3:4 and saying, "Where is the promise of His coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, everything continues as it was from the beginning of creation."

3:5 For they willingly overlook this: that heavens existed long ago, and earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God,

3:6 through which the world that then existed was flooded with water and perished.

3:7 But the present heavens and earth have been stored up by the same word for fire, kept for the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly people.

3:8 But do not let this one thing escape you, beloved: with the Lord one day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years like one day.

3:9 The Lord is not slow concerning the promise, as some consider slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing anyone to perish but all to come to repentance.

3:10 But the day of the Lord will come like a thief. On that day the heavens will pass away with a rushing roar, and the elements will be dissolved by burning heat, and the earth and the works in it will not be found.

3:11 Since all these things are being dissolved in this way, what sort of people ought you to be in holy acts of conduct and godliness,

3:12 waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be dissolved by fire and the elements melt in burning heat?

3:13 But according to His promise we await new heavens and a new earth, in which righteousness dwells.

3:14 Therefore, beloved, as you await these things, be diligent to be found by Him spotless and blameless, in peace,

3:15 and consider the patience of our Lord to be salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote to you according to the wisdom given to him,

3:16 as also in all his letters, speaking in them about these things. In them are some things hard to understand, which the unlearned and unstable will distort, just as they will distort the other Scriptures, to their own destruction.

3:17 Therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, guard yourselves so that you are not carried away by the error of lawless people and fall from your own firm position.

3:18 But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To Him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity.

1 John

1 John 1

1:1 What was from the beginning, what we have heard, what we have seen with our eyes, what we looked upon and our hands touched, concerning the word of life—

1:2 and the life was manifested, and we have seen and bear witness and announce to you the eternal life that was with the Father and was manifested to us—

1:3 what we have seen and heard we announce also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us. And our fellowship is with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ.

1:4 And we write these things so that our joy may be made full.

1:5 And this is the message we have heard from Him and announce to you: God is light, and there is no darkness at all in Him.

1:6 If we say that we have fellowship with Him while walking in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth.

1:7 But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus His Son cleanses us from every sin.

1:8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

1:9 If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

1:10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar, and His word is not in us.

1 John 2

2:1 My little children, I write these things to you so that you may not sin. And if anyone sins, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous,

2:2 and He Himself is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world.

2:3 And by this we know that we have come to know Him: if we keep His commandments.

2:4 The one who says, “I have come to know Him,” and does not keep His commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in that person.

2:5 But whoever keeps His word, in that person the love of God has truly been brought to completion. By this we know that we are in Him.

2:6 The one who says that he abides in Him ought himself also to walk just as He walked.

2:7 Beloved, I am not writing a new commandment to you, but an old commandment that you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word you heard.

2:8 Again, I am writing a new commandment to you, which is true in Him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining.

2:9 The one who says that he is in the light and hates his brother is still in the darkness.

2:10 The one who loves his brother abides in the light, and there is no cause of stumbling in him.

2:11 But the one who hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and he does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

2:12 I write to you, little children, because your sins have been forgiven you for His name’s sake.

2:13 I write to you, fathers, because you have come to know Him who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one.

2:14 I have written to you, children, because you have come to know the Father. I have written to you, fathers, because you have come to know Him who is from the beginning. I have written to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

2:15 Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

2:16 For everything in the world—the desire of the flesh, the desire of the eyes, and the boastfulness of life—is not from the Father, but is from the world.

2:17 And the world is passing away, along with its desire; but the one who does the will of God abides forever.

2:18 Children, it is the last hour. And just as you heard that antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have arisen; from this we know that it is the last hour.

2:19 They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have remained with us. But this happened so that it might become clear that they are not all of us.

2:20 And you have an anointing from the Holy One, and all of you know.

2:21 I have not written to you because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is from the truth.

2:22 Who is the liar except the one who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist: the one who denies the Father and the Son.

2:23 Everyone who denies the Son does not have the Father either; the one who confesses the Son has the Father also.

2:24 As for you, let what you heard from the beginning abide in you. If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, you too will abide in the Son and in the Father.

2:25 And this is the promise He Himself promised us: eternal life.

2:26 I have written these things to you about those who are leading you astray.

2:27 And as for you, the anointing that you received from Him abides in you, and you have no need for anyone to teach you. But as His anointing teaches you about all things—and is true and is not a lie—so, just as it taught you, abide in Him.

2:28 And now, little children, abide in Him, so that when He is manifested we may have confidence and not shrink from Him in shame at His coming.

2:29 If you know that He is righteous, you know that everyone who practices righteousness has also been born of Him.

1 John 3

3:1 See what kind of love the Father has given us, that we should be called children of God—and we are. For this reason the world does not know us, because it did not know Him.

3:2 Beloved, we are children of God now, and what we will be has not yet been manifested. We know that when He is manifested we will be like Him, because we will see Him as He is.

3:3 And everyone who has this hope in Him purifies himself, just as He is pure.

3:4 Everyone who practices sin also practices lawlessness, and sin is lawlessness.

3:5 And you know that He was manifested to take away sins, and there is no sin in Him.

3:6 Everyone who abides in Him does not sin; everyone who sins has neither seen Him nor come to know Him.

3:7 Children, let no one lead you astray. The one who practices righteousness is righteous, just as He is righteous.

3:8 The one who practices sin is from the devil, because the devil sins from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested: to undo the works of the devil.

3:9 Everyone who has been born of God does not practice sin, because His seed abides in him; and he cannot sin, because he has been born of God.

3:10 By this the children of God and the children of the devil are evident: everyone who does not practice righteousness is not from God, nor is the one who does not love his brother.

3:11 For this is the message you heard from the beginning: that we should love one another,

3:12 not as Cain, who was from the evil one and slaughtered his brother. And for what reason did he slaughter him? Because his own works were evil, but his brother's were righteous.

3:13 And do not be surprised, brothers, if the world hates you.

3:14 We know that we have passed from death into life, because we love the brothers. The one who does not love abides in death.

3:15 Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

3:16 By this we have come to know love: He laid down His life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers.

3:17 But whoever has this world's goods and sees his brother in need and closes his heart against him, how does the love of God abide in him?

3:18 Little children, let us not love in word or with the tongue, but in deed and truth.

3:19 And by this we will know that we are from the truth, and we will reassure our heart before Him,

3:20 whenever our heart condemns us, because God is greater than our heart and knows all things.

3:21 Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence toward God,

3:22 and whatever we ask we receive from Him, because we keep His commandments and do what is pleasing before Him.

3:23 And this is His commandment: that we believe in the name of His Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as He gave us a commandment.

3:24 And the one who keeps His commandments abides in Him, and He in that person. And by this we know that He abides in us: by the Spirit whom He gave us.

1 John 4

4:1 Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world.

4:2 By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses Jesus Christ as having come in the flesh is from God,

4:3 and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. And this is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and is already in the world now.

4:4 You are from God, little children, and have overcome them, because He who is in you is greater than he who is in the world.

4:5 They are from the world; for this reason they speak from the world, and the world listens to them.

4:6 We are from God. The one who knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

4:7 Beloved, let us love one another, because love is from God, and everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God.

4:8 The one who does not love has not come to know God, because God is love.

4:9 In this the love of God was manifested among us: God has sent His only Son into the world so that we might live through Him.

4:10 In this is love: not that we have loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son as propitiation for our sins.

4:11 Beloved, if God loved us in this way, we also ought to love one another.

4:12 No one has ever beheld God. If we love one another, God abides in us, and His love has been brought to completion in us.

4:13 By this we know that we abide in Him and He in us: He has given us of His Spirit.

4:14 And we have beheld and bear witness that the Father has sent the Son as Savior of the world.

4:15 Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in that person, and that person in God.

4:16 And we have come to know and have believed the love that God has among us. God is love, and the one who abides in love abides in God, and God abides in that person.

4:17 In this love has been brought to completion with us, so that we may have confidence on the day of judgment: because just as He is, so are we in this world.

4:18 There is no fear in love, but complete love casts fear out, because fear involves punishment, and the one who fears has not been brought to completion in love.

4:19 We love because He first loved us.

4:20 If anyone says, “I love God,” and hates his brother, he is a liar. For the one who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, cannot love God, whom he has not seen.

4:21 And this commandment we have from Him: the one who loves God must love his brother also.

1 John 5

5:1 Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the One who begot also loves the one begotten of Him.

5:2 By this we know that we love the children of God: when we love God and do His commandments.

5:3 For this is the love of God: that we keep His commandments; and His commandments are not burdensome,

5:4 because everything born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world: our faith.

5:5 And who is the one who overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

5:6 This is He who came through water and blood, Jesus Christ—not in water only, but in water and in blood. And the Spirit is the one who bears witness, because the Spirit is the truth.

5:7 For there are three who bear witness:

5:8 the Spirit and the water and the blood, and the three agree as one.

5:9 If we receive human testimony, the testimony of God is greater, because this is God’s testimony: He has borne witness concerning His Son.

5:10 The one who believes in the Son of God has the testimony within himself. The one who does not believe God has made Him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony God has borne concerning His Son.

5:11 And this is the testimony: God gave us eternal life, and this life is in His Son.

5:12 The one who has the Son has life; the one who does not have the Son of God does not have life.

5:13 I have written these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, so that you may know that you have eternal life.

5:14 And this is the confidence we have toward Him: if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us.

5:15 And if we know that He hears us in whatever we ask, we know that we have the requests we have asked of Him.

5:16 If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he is to ask, and he will give him life—to those committing sin not leading to death. There is sin leading to death; I am not saying that he should make a request concerning that.

5:17 All unrighteousness is sin, and there is sin not leading to death.

5:18 We know that everyone who has been born of God does not sin, but the one born of God keeps himself, and the evil one does not touch him.

5:19 We know that we are from God, and the whole world lies in the evil one.

5:20 And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding so that we may know the True One. And we are in the True One, in His Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God and eternal life.

5:21 Little children, guard yourselves from idols.

2 John

2 John 1

1:1 The elder, to the chosen lady and her children, whom I love in truth—and not I alone, but also all who have come to know the truth—

1:2 because of the truth that abides in us and will be with us forever:

1:3 Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

1:4 I rejoiced greatly that I have found some of your children walking in truth, just as we received a commandment from the Father.

1:5 And now I ask you, lady—not as though writing you a new commandment, but the one we had from the beginning—that we love one another.

1:6 And this is love: that we walk according to His commandments. This is the commandment, just as you all heard from the beginning: that you walk in it.

1:7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess Jesus Christ coming in the flesh. Such a person is the deceiver and the antichrist.

1:8 Watch yourselves, so that you do not lose what we have worked for, but receive a full reward.

1:9 Everyone who goes ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son.

1:10 If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into a house, and do not offer him a greeting,

1:11 for whoever offers him a greeting shares in his evil works.

1:12 Although I have many things to write to you all, I did not wish to do so with paper and ink. Instead, I hope to come to you and speak face to face, so that our joy may be made full.

1:13 The children of your chosen sister greet you.

3 John

3 John 1

1:1 The elder, to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

1:2 Beloved, I pray that all may go well with you and that you may be in good health, just as all goes well with your soul.

1:3 For I rejoiced greatly when brothers came and bore witness to your truthfulness, just as you walk in truth.

1:4 I have no greater joy than this: to hear that my children are walking in the truth.

1:5 Beloved, you act faithfully in whatever you do for the brothers, even though they are strangers,

1:6 who have borne witness to your love before the Church. You will do well to send them onward in a manner worthy of God,

1:7 for they went out for the sake of the Name, receiving nothing from the Gentiles.

1:8 We therefore ought to support such people, so that we may become fellow workers with the truth.

1:9 I wrote something to the Church, but Diotrephes, who loves to be first among them, does not welcome us.

1:10 Therefore, if I come, I will call attention to the works he is doing: he is talking malicious nonsense about us. Not content with these things, he neither welcomes the brothers himself nor allows those who want to do so, and he puts them out of the Church.

1:11 Beloved, do not imitate what is evil, but what is good. The one who does good is from God; the one who does evil has not seen God.

1:12 Demetrius has received testimony from everyone and from the truth itself. We also bear witness, and you know that our testimony is true.

1:13 I had many things to write to you, but I do not wish to write to you with ink and a reed pen.

1:14 But I hope to see you soon, and we will speak face to face.

1:15 Peace to you. The friends greet you. Greet the friends by name.

Jude

Jude 1

1:1 Jude, a servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James, to those who are called, beloved in God the Father and kept for Jesus Christ:

1:2 May mercy and peace and love be multiplied to you.

1:3 Beloved, while making every effort to write to you about the salvation we share, I found it necessary to write and urge you to contend for the faith delivered once for all to the saints.

1:4 For certain people have slipped in unnoticed, those written about long ago for this judgment: ungodly people who turn the grace of our God into shameless indulgence and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

1:5 Now I wish to remind you, although you have come to know all this once for all, that Jesus, after saving a people from the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe.

1:6 And He has kept the angels who did not keep their own domain, but abandoned their proper dwelling, in everlasting chains under gloom for the judgment of the great day.

1:7 In the same way, Sodom and Gomorrah and the cities around them, which practiced sexual immorality and went after other flesh in a manner like these, are set before us as an example, undergoing the penalty of eternal fire.

1:8 Yet in the same way these people too, in their dreaming, defile flesh, reject dominion, and slander glorious ones.

1:9 But Michael the archangel, when he was contending with the devil and disputing about the body of Moses, did not dare to bring a slanderous judgment against him, but said, “May the Lord rebuke you.”

1:10 But these people slander whatever they do not know; and what they understand by instinct, like unreasoning animals, becomes the very thing by which they are corrupted.

1:11 Woe to them! For they have gone in the way of Cain, have poured themselves into Balaam’s error for pay, and have perished in Korah’s rebellion.

1:12 These are reefs at your love feasts, feasting together with you without fear, shepherding themselves; waterless clouds carried along by winds; late-autumn trees without fruit, twice dead, uprooted;

1:13 wild waves of the sea foaming up their own shames; wandering stars for whom the gloom of darkness has been kept forever.

1:14 Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied about these people, saying, “Look, the Lord came with His holy myriads,

1:15 to execute judgment against all and to convict every soul concerning all their ungodly works that they committed in ungodliness, and concerning all the harsh things that ungodly sinners spoke against Him.”

1:16 These are grumblers, faultfinders, walking according to their own desires; their mouth speaks boastful things, and they flatter people for the sake of advantage.

1:17 But you, beloved, remember the words spoken beforehand by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ,

1:18 for they used to tell you, “In the last time there will be mockers, walking according to their own ungodly desires.”

1:19 These are the ones who create divisions, unspiritual people who do not have the Spirit.

1:20 But you, beloved, building yourselves up upon your most holy faith and praying in the Holy Spirit,

1:21 keep yourselves in the love of God, awaiting the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life.

1:22 And have mercy on some who are doubting;

1:23 save others, snatching them out of the fire; and have mercy on others with fear, hating even the tunic stained by the flesh.

1:24 Now to Him who is able to guard you from stumbling and to make you stand blameless before His glory with exultation,

1:25 to the only God our Savior, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, might, and authority before all time, and now, and into all the ages. Amen.

Revelation

Revelation 1

1:1 A revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave Him to show His slaves what must take place soon. He made it known to His slave John by sending His angel,

Note [n]: 1:1 · Meaning. Revelation means an unveiling; Apocalypse is the historical alternative title. “Of Jesus Christ” is retained without settling whether origin or content is foremost. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

1:2 who testified to the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ, all that he saw.

1:3 Blessed is the one who reads aloud, and blessed are those who hear the words of the prophecy and keep what is written in it, for the time is near.

1:4 John, to the seven Churches in Asia: grace to you and peace from the One who is and who was and who is coming, and from the seven spirits before His throne,

1:5 and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead and the ruler of the kings of the earth. To Him who loves us and freed us from our sins by His blood—

Note [n]: 1:5 · Text. Keep present “loves” and past “freed.” The Glory study records “washed” in KJV and Douay–Rheims–Challoner as a different underlying reading. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

1:6 and made us a kingdom, priests to His God and Father—to Him be the glory and dominion for the ages of the ages. Amen.

Note [n]: 1:6 · Text. Kingdom is singular; priests is plural. NA28 brackets the second “of the ages” phrase. It is retained in the reading text with its status recorded here. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

1:7 Behold, He is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see Him, even those who pierced Him, and all the tribes of the earth will mourn over Him. Yea, amen.

1:8 “I am the Alpha and the Omega,” says the Lord God, the One who is and who was and who is coming, the Almighty.

1:9 I, John, your brother and fellow sharer in the affliction and kingdom and endurance in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus.

1:10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord’s day and heard behind me a loud voice like a trumpet,

1:11 saying, “Write what you see in a scroll and send it to the seven Churches: to Ephesus and to Smyrna and to Pergamum and to Thyatira and to Sardis and to Philadelphia and to Laodicea.”

1:12 And I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. When I turned, I saw seven golden lampstands,

1:13 and in the midst of the lampstands One like a son of man, clothed in a robe reaching to the feet and girded around the chest with a golden belt.

1:14 And His head and hair were white like white wool, like snow, and His eyes like a flame of fire,

1:15 and His feet like burnished bronze, as though made to glow in a furnace, and His voice like the sound of many waters.

1:16 And He held seven stars in His right hand, and from His mouth a sharp two-edged sword was coming out, and His appearance was like the sun shining in its strength.

1:17 And when I saw Him, I fell at His feet as dead. And He placed His right hand upon me, saying, “Fear not. I am the first and the last,

1:18 and the Living One. I was dead, and behold, I am alive for the ages of the ages, and I have the keys of death and Hades.

1:19 Therefore write what you saw, and what is, and what is to take place after these things.

1:20 As for the mystery of the seven stars you saw upon My right hand, and the seven golden lampstands: the seven stars are angels of the seven Churches, and the seven lampstands are seven Churches.”

Revelation 2

2:1 “To the angel of the Church in Ephesus write: Thus says the One who holds the seven stars in His right hand, who walks in the midst of the seven golden lampstands:

2:2 ‘I know your works and your labor and endurance, and that you cannot bear evil people. You tested those who call themselves apostles and are not, and found them false.

2:3 You have endurance, and you have borne up for My name’s sake and have not grown weary.

2:4 But I have this against you: you abandoned your first love.

2:5 Remember, therefore, from where you have fallen. Repent and do the works you did at first. Otherwise I am coming to you and will move your lampstand from its place, unless you repent.

2:6 Yet this you have: you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

2:7 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches. To the one who conquers I will give to eat from the tree of life, which is in the Paradise of God.’

2:8 And to the angel of the Church in Smyrna write: Thus says the First and the Last, who was dead and came to life:

2:9 ‘I know your affliction and poverty—but you are rich—and the slander from those who say they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan.

2:10 Fear none of what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison so that you may be tested, and you will have affliction for ten days. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life.

Note [n]: 2:10 · Wording. The address begins and ends in the singular. “Some of you,” “you may be tested,” and “you will have affliction” are plural. The distinction follows the publisher’s NA28 running text. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

2:11 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches. The one who conquers will never be harmed by the second death.’

2:12 And to the angel of the Church in Pergamum write: Thus says the One who has the sharp two-edged sword:

2:13 ‘I know where you dwell, where Satan’s throne is. You hold fast My name and did not deny My faith, even in the days of Antipas, My witness, My faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells.

Note [n]: 2:13 · Wording. The address before “among you” is singular. “Among you” is plural. No identification of the angel or collective addressee is supplied. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

2:14 But I have a few things against you: you have there those who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to set a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols and to commit fornication.

2:15 So you too have those who hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans in the same way.

Note [n]: 2:15 · Text. NA28 brackets the Greek article before Nicolaitans. The English article is retained. The optional final letter in “until” at 2:25 does not change the English sense. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

2:16 Repent, therefore. Otherwise I am coming to you quickly, and I will wage war against them with the sword of My mouth.

2:17 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches. To the one who conquers I will give some of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and on the stone a new name written, which no one knows except the one who receives it.’

2:18 And to the angel of the Church in Thyatira write: Thus says the Son of God, whose eyes are like a flame of fire and whose feet are like burnished bronze:

2:19 ‘I know your works and your love and faith and service and endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first.

2:20 But I have this against you: you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess. She teaches and leads My slaves astray to commit fornication and to eat things sacrificed to idols.

2:21 I gave her time to repent, and she does not wish to repent of her fornication.

2:22 Behold, I am casting her onto a bed, and those who commit adultery with her into great affliction, unless they repent of her works.

2:23 And I will kill her children with death, and all the Churches will know that I am the One who searches kidneys and hearts, and I will give to each of you according to your works.

Note [n]: 2:23 · Meaning. Kidneys and hearts preserves the bodily image of inward life and discernment. The second-person address here and at 2:24–25 is plural. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

2:24 But to you, the rest in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching and have not known the deep things of Satan, as they say, I say: I lay no other burden upon you.

2:25 Only hold fast what you have until I come.

2:26 To the one who conquers and keeps My works to the end, I will give authority over the nations,

2:27 and he will shepherd them with an iron rod, as vessels of pottery are shattered,

2:28 as I also have received from My Father; and I will give him the morning star.

2:29 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.’

Revelation 3

3:1 And to the angel of the Church in Sardis write: Thus says the One who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars: ‘I know your works. You have a name for being alive, yet you are dead.

3:2 Be watchful, and strengthen what remains and was about to die, for I have not found your works complete before My God.

3:3 Remember, therefore, how you received and heard, and keep it and repent. If, then, you do not watch, I will come like a thief, and you will certainly not know at what hour I will come upon you.

3:4 But you have a few names in Sardis who did not defile their garments, and they will walk with Me in white, for they are worthy.

3:5 The one who conquers will thus be clothed in white garments, and I will never blot his name out of the book of life. I will confess his name before My Father and before His angels.

3:6 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.’

3:7 And to the angel of the Church in Philadelphia write: Thus says the Holy One, the True One, who has the key of David, who opens and no one will shut, and who shuts and no one opens:

3:8 ‘I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door that no one can shut, because you have little strength and you kept My word and did not deny My name.

3:9 Behold, I give some from the synagogue of Satan, from those who say they are Jews and are not, but lie. Behold, I will make them come and bow down before your feet and know that I have loved you.

3:10 Because you kept the word of My endurance, I also will keep you from the hour of trial that is about to come upon the whole inhabited world, to try those who dwell upon the earth.

3:11 I am coming quickly. Hold fast what you have, that no one may take your crown.

3:12 The one who conquers, I will make him a pillar in the sanctuary of My God, and he will never go out again. I will write upon him the name of My God and the name of the city of My God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from My God, and My new name.

3:13 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.’

3:14 And to the angel of the Church in Laodicea write: Thus says the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of God’s creation:

Note [n]: 3:14 · Meaning. “Beginning” remains provisional. “Origin” or “source” are contextual alternatives discussed in the Glory study; “first-created” is not inserted into the verse. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

3:15 ‘I know your works, that you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were cold or hot!

3:16 So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I am about to vomit you out of My mouth.

3:17 Because you say, “I am rich, I have grown wealthy, and I need nothing,” and do not know that you are the one who is wretched and pitiable and poor and blind and naked,

3:18 I counsel you to buy from Me gold refined by fire, that you may be rich, and white garments, that you may clothe yourself and the shame of your nakedness may not be seen, and salve to anoint your eyes, that you may see.

3:19 Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline. Be zealous, therefore, and repent.

3:20 Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and dine with him, and he with Me.

Note [n]: 3:20 · Text. NA28 brackets a conjunction before “I will come in.” The English conditional connection is expressed without an extra “and.” NA28 chapter · Return to verse

3:21 I will grant the one who conquers to sit with Me on My throne, as I also conquered and sat with My Father on His throne.

3:22 Let the one who has an ear hear what the Spirit says to the Churches.’”

Revelation 4

4:1 After these things I saw, and behold, a door stood open in heaven. The first voice I had heard, like a trumpet speaking with me, said, “Come up here, and I will show you what must take place after these things.”

Note [n]: 4:1 · Wording. “After these things” at the end of the verse belongs within the voice’s statement about what must take place. The inherited punctuation misplaced it outside the quotation. Checked against NA28. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

4:2 At once I was in the Spirit. And behold, a throne stood in heaven, and upon the throne sat One.

4:3 And the One seated there was in appearance like jasper and sardius, and around the throne was a rainbow like an emerald in appearance.

4:4 And around the throne were twenty-four thrones, and upon them sat twenty-four elders clothed in white garments, with golden crowns upon their heads.

4:5 And from the throne come flashes of lightning and voices and peals of thunder, and before the throne burn seven fiery torches, which are the seven spirits of God.

4:6 And before the throne was something like a sea of glass, like crystal. And in the midst of the throne and around the throne were four living creatures, full of eyes in front and behind.

4:7 And the first living creature was like a lion, and the second living creature like a calf, and the third living creature had a face like a human being’s, and the fourth living creature was like an eagle flying.

4:8 And the four living creatures each have six wings and are full of eyes all around and within. Day and night they have no rest, saying, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, the One who was and who is and who is coming.”

4:9 And whenever the living creatures give glory and honor and thanksgiving to the One seated upon the throne, who lives for the ages of the ages,

4:10 the twenty-four elders will fall before the One seated upon the throne and will worship Him who lives for the ages of the ages. They will cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

4:11 “Thou art worthy, our Lord and God, to receive the glory and the honor and the power, for Thou didst create all things, and because of Thy will they existed and were created.”

Revelation 5

5:1 And I saw upon the right hand of the One seated upon the throne a scroll written within and on the back, sealed with seven seals.

5:2 And I saw a mighty angel proclaiming with a loud voice, “Who is worthy to open the scroll and undo its seals?”

5:3 And no one in heaven or upon the earth or beneath the earth was able to open the scroll or look at it.

5:4 And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the scroll or look at it.

5:5 And one of the elders says to me, “Weep not. Behold, the Lion from the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has conquered so as to open the scroll and its seven seals.”

5:6 And I saw, in the midst of the throne and the four living creatures and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing as though slaughtered, with seven horns and seven eyes. These eyes are the seven spirits of God sent into all the earth.

Note [n]: 5:6 · Text. NA28 brackets the second “seven,” in “the seven spirits of God.” It remains in the reading text. “Living creatures” is kept distinct from the hostile beast; “standing as though slaughtered” preserves the vision’s paradox. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:7 And He came and took the scroll from the right hand of the One seated upon the throne.

5:8 And when He took the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell before the Lamb, each having a lyre and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints.

5:9 And they sing a new song, saying, “Thou art worthy to take the scroll and open its seals, for Thou wast slaughtered and didst purchase for God by Thy blood people from every tribe and tongue and people and nation,

Note [n]: 5:9 · Wording. “People” supplies the object understood from “from every tribe…” and the following “them”; it does not substitute “us.” The purchase and the blood imagery remain. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

5:11 And I saw, and I heard the voice of many angels around the throne and the living creatures and the elders. Their number was myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands,

5:12 saying with a loud voice, “Worthy is the Lamb who was slaughtered to receive the power and wealth and wisdom and strength and honor and glory and blessing.”

5:13 And I heard every creature in heaven and upon the earth and beneath the earth and upon the sea, and all things in them, saying, “To the One seated upon the throne and to the Lamb be the blessing and the honor and the glory and the dominion for the ages of the ages.”

5:14 And the four living creatures were saying, “Amen.” And the elders fell and worshiped.

Revelation 6

6:1 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures say with a voice like thunder, “Come.”

6:2 And I saw, and behold, a white horse. The one seated upon it had a bow, and a crown was given to him. He went out conquering and to conquer.

6:3 And when He opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, “Come.”

6:4 And another horse went out, fiery red. Its rider was permitted to take peace from the earth, so that people would slaughter one another. And a great sword was given to him.

6:5 And when He opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come.” And I saw, and behold, a black horse, and the one seated upon it had a pair of scales in his hand.

6:6 And I heard something like a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, “A choenix of wheat for a denarius, and three choenices of barley for a denarius; and do not harm the oil and the wine.”

Note [n]: 6:6 · Context. Choenix (plural choenices) names an ancient grain measure; denarius names the coin. No modern weight, wage, or currency equivalent is inserted. The one-to-three relation remains. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

6:7 And when He opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, “Come.”

6:8 And I saw, and behold, a pale green horse. The name of the one seated upon it was Death, and Hades followed with him. And authority was given to them over a fourth of the earth, to kill with sword and with famine and with death and by the wild beasts of the earth.

6:9 And when He opened the fifth seal, I saw beneath the altar the souls of those slaughtered because of the word of God and because of the testimony they held.

6:10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, “How long, O Master, holy and true, before Thou dost judge and avenge our blood upon those who dwell on the earth?”

6:11 And a white robe was given to each of them, and they were told to rest a little while longer, until their fellow slaves and their brothers, who were to be killed as they had been, were also complete in number.

6:12 And I saw when He opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake, and the sun became black like sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became like blood,

6:13 and the stars of heaven fell to the earth, as a fig tree shaken by a mighty wind casts off its unripe figs.

6:14 And heaven withdrew like a scroll being rolled up, and every mountain and island was moved from its place.

6:15 And the kings of the earth and the great ones and the commanders of thousands and the rich and the strong and every slave and free person hid themselves in the caves and among the rocks of the mountains.

6:16 And they say to the mountains and the rocks, “Fall upon us and hide us from the face of the One seated upon the throne and from the wrath of the Lamb,

6:17 for the great day of Their wrath has come, and who is able to stand?”

Revelation 7

7:1 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth, so that no wind might blow upon the earth or upon the sea or upon any tree.

7:2 And I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the sun with a seal of the living God, and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the earth and the sea,

7:3 saying, “Do not harm the earth or the sea or the trees until we seal the slaves of our God upon their foreheads.”

7:4 And I heard the number of those sealed: a hundred forty-four thousand, sealed from every tribe of the sons of Israel.

7:5 From the tribe of Judah, twelve thousand sealed; from the tribe of Reuben, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand;

7:6 from the tribe of Asher, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Naphtali, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand;

7:7 from the tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand;

7:8 from the tribe of Zebulun, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand sealed.

7:9 After these things I saw, and behold, a great multitude that no one could number, from every nation and from tribes and peoples and tongues. They stood before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes, with palm branches in their hands.

7:10 And they cry with a loud voice, saying, “Salvation belongs to our God, who sits upon the throne, and to the Lamb.”

7:11 And all the angels stood around the throne and the elders and the four living creatures. They fell upon their faces before the throne and worshiped God,

7:12 saying, “Amen. The blessing and the glory and the wisdom and the thanksgiving and the honor and the power and the strength belong to our God for the ages of the ages. Amen.”

7:13 And one of the elders answered, saying to me, “Who are these clothed in white robes, and from where did they come?”

7:14 And I said to him, “My lord, you know.” And he said to me, “These are they who are coming out of the great tribulation. They washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Note [n]: 7:14 · Wording. “Great tribulation” follows the Glory study’s contextual proposal for inherited “great affliction.” The present coming out, washed robes, whiteness, and blood remain distinct. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

7:15 For this reason they are before the throne of God and serve Him day and night in His sanctuary. And the One seated upon the throne will spread His tent over them.

7:16 They will hunger no more, nor thirst any more. The sun will not beat upon them, nor any scorching heat,

7:17 for the Lamb in the midst of the throne will shepherd them and guide them to springs of life’s waters, and God will wipe every tear from their eyes.”

Revelation 8

8:1 And when He opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.

8:2 And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them.

8:3 And another angel came and stood at the altar with a golden censer. He was given much incense to offer with the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar before the throne.

8:4 And the smoke of the incense rose with the prayers of the saints, from the angel's hand before God.

8:5 And the angel took the censer, filled it from the fire of the altar and cast it upon the earth. Then came thunders and voices and flashes of lightning and an earthquake.

8:6 And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets made ready to sound them.

8:7 And the first sounded. Hail and fire came, mingled with blood, and it was cast upon the earth. A third of the earth was burned up, and a third of the trees was burned up, and all green grass was burned up.

8:8 And the second angel sounded. Something like a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea, and a third of the sea became blood,

8:9 and a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

8:10 And the third angel sounded. A great star fell from heaven, burning like a torch, and fell upon a third of the rivers and upon the springs of water.

8:11 And the name of the star is Wormwood. A third of the waters became wormwood, and many people died from the waters, for they had been made bitter.

8:12 And the fourth angel sounded. A third of the sun and a third of the moon and a third of the stars were struck, so that a third of them might be darkened, and the day might not shine for a third of its span, and the night likewise.

8:13 And I saw and heard one eagle flying in midheaven, saying with a loud voice, "Woe, woe, woe to those who dwell upon the earth, because of the trumpet blasts still to come from the three angels who are about to sound!"

Revelation 9

9:1 And the fifth angel sounded. I saw a star that had fallen from heaven to the earth, and the key to the shaft of the abyss was given to him.

9:2 And he opened the shaft of the abyss. Smoke rose from the shaft like the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke of the shaft.

9:3 And from the smoke locusts went out to the earth, and authority was given to them as the scorpions of the earth have authority.

9:4 And they were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any green thing or any tree, but only the people who do not have the seal of God upon their foreheads.

9:5 And they were given leave, not to kill the people, but for the people to be tormented for five months. Their torment was like the torment of a scorpion when it strikes a person.

9:6 And in those days people will seek death and will by no means find it. They will long to die, and death flees from them.

9:7 And the locusts in appearance were like horses prepared for war. Upon their heads were what looked like crowns resembling gold, and their faces were like human faces,

9:8 and they had hair like women's hair, and their teeth were like lions' teeth,

9:9 and they had breastplates like iron breastplates, and the sound of their wings was like the sound of chariots of many horses running to war.

9:10 And they have tails like scorpions' tails, and stings. In their tails is their authority to harm people for five months.

9:11 They have as king over them the angel of the abyss. His name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in Greek he bears the name Apollyon.

9:12 The first woe has passed. Behold, two woes are still to come after these things.

9:13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard one voice from the four horns of the golden altar before God,

9:14 saying to the sixth angel, who had the trumpet, "Loose the four angels bound at the great river Euphrates."

9:15 And the four angels prepared for the hour and day and month and year were loosed, so that they might kill a third of the people.

9:16 And the number of the mounted armies was twice ten thousand times ten thousand. I heard their number.

9:17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision and those seated upon them, with breastplates of fiery red and hyacinth blue and sulfur yellow. The heads of the horses were like lions' heads, and out of their mouths come fire and smoke and sulfur.

9:18 By these three plagues a third of the people were killed, by the fire and the smoke and the sulfur coming out of their mouths.

9:19 For the authority of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails. Their tails are like serpents with heads, and with them they do harm.

9:20 And the rest of the people, who were not killed by these plagues, did not even repent of the works of their hands. They did not cease to worship demons and idols of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which can neither see nor hear nor walk.

9:21 And they did not repent of their murders, nor of their sorcerous potions, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

Revelation 10

10:1 And I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven, clothed in a cloud, with the rainbow upon his head. His face was like the sun, and his feet like pillars of fire,

10:2 and he held a little scroll open in his hand. He set his right foot upon the sea and his left upon the earth,

10:3 and cried out with a loud voice, as a lion roars. And when he cried out, the seven thunders spoke with their own voices.

10:4 And when the seven thunders spoke, I was about to write. Then I heard a voice from heaven saying, “Seal up what the seven thunders spoke, and do not write it down.”

10:5 And the angel whom I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth raised his right hand to heaven,

10:6 and swore by the One living for the ages of the ages, who created heaven and the things in it, and the earth and the things in it, and the sea and the things in it, that there will be no more delay.

10:7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, the mystery of God will be completed, as He announced the good news to His own slaves, the prophets.

10:8 And the voice that I heard from heaven spoke with me again, saying, “Go, take the opened scroll in the hand of the angel standing upon the sea and upon the earth.”

10:9 And I went to the angel and told him to give me the little scroll. He says to me, “Take it and devour it. It will make your belly bitter, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey.”

10:10 And I took the little scroll from the angel’s hand and devoured it. In my mouth it was sweet as honey, but when I ate it, my belly turned bitter.

10:11 And they say to me, “You must prophesy again concerning peoples and nations and tongues and many kings.”

Revelation 11

11:1 And a reed like a rod was given to me, with the words, “Rise and measure the sanctuary of God and the altar and those who worship there.

11:2 But leave out the court outside the sanctuary and do not measure it, for it was given to the nations, and they will trample the holy city for forty-two months.

11:3 And I will grant authority to My two witnesses, and they will prophesy for a thousand two hundred sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.”

11:4 These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands standing before the Lord of the earth.

11:5 And if anyone wishes to harm them, fire comes out of their mouth and devours their enemies. If anyone should wish to harm them, he must be killed in this way.

11:6 These have authority to shut heaven, so that rain may not fall during the days of their prophecy; and they have authority over the waters to turn them into blood and to strike the earth with every plague as often as they wish.

11:7 And when they complete their testimony, the beast coming up from the abyss will make war with them and conquer them and kill them.

11:8 And their dead body lies in the broad street of the great city, which is called Sodom and Egypt in a spiritual sense, where their Lord also was crucified.

11:9 And for three and a half days, some from the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations gaze upon their dead body, and do not allow their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb.

11:10 And those who dwell upon the earth rejoice over them and make merry, and will send gifts to one another, for these two prophets tormented those who dwell upon the earth.

11:11 And after the three and a half days a spirit of life from God entered them, and they stood upon their feet. Great fear fell upon those who watched them.

11:12 And they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” And they went up into heaven in the cloud, and their enemies looked on.

11:13 And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were struck with fear and gave glory to the God of heaven.

11:14 The second woe has passed. Behold, the third woe is coming swiftly.

11:15 And the seventh angel sounded, and loud voices arose in heaven, saying, “The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign for the ages of the ages.”

11:16 And the twenty-four elders sitting upon their thrones before God fell upon their faces and worshipped God,

11:17 saying, “We give Thee thanks, Lord God Almighty, the One who is and who was, for Thou hast taken Thy great power and begun to reign.

11:18 And the nations grew wrathful, and Thy wrath came, and the time came for the dead to be judged, to give the reward to Thy slaves the prophets and to the saints and to those who fear Thy name, the small and the great, and to destroy those who destroy the earth.”

11:19 And the sanctuary of God in heaven was opened, and the ark of His covenant was seen in His sanctuary. Then came flashes of lightning and voices and thunders and an earthquake and great hail.

Revelation 12

12:1 And a great sign was seen in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon beneath her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars.

Note [n]: 12:1 · Meaning. The woman remains a woman within the visionary sign. Marian, Israel, and Church interpretations belong in attributed reception, not in substituted verse wording. NA28 chapter · Return to verse 12:2 And she was with child, and she cries out in travail and in the anguish of giving birth.

12:3 And another sign was seen in heaven, and behold, a great fiery red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his heads seven diadems.

12:4 And his tail sweeps a third of the stars of heaven. It cast them upon the earth. And the dragon stands before the woman who is about to give birth, so that he may devour her child when she gives birth.

12:5 And she bore a son, a male, who is to shepherd all the nations with an iron rod; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne.

12:6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, so that there they may nourish her for a thousand two hundred sixty days.

12:7 And war arose in heaven: Michael and his angels were to wage war with the dragon. And the dragon and his angels fought, 12:8 and he did not prevail, nor was a place found for them any more in heaven.

12:9 And the great dragon was cast down, the ancient serpent called the Devil and Satan, who deceives the whole inhabited world. He was cast upon the earth, and his angels were cast down with him.

12:10 And I heard a loud voice in heaven saying, “Now have come the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ, for the accuser of our brothers has been cast down, the one who accuses them before our God day and night.

12:11 And they conquered him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life, even unto death.

12:12 Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and you who dwell in them. Woe to the earth and the sea, for the devil has come down to you in great fury, knowing that his time is short.”

12:13 And when the dragon saw that he had been thrown to the earth, he pursued the woman who bore the male child.

12:14 And the two wings of the great eagle were given to the woman, so that she might fly into the wilderness to her place, where she is nourished for a time and times and half a time, away from the face of the serpent.

12:15 And the serpent cast water like a river from his mouth after the woman, to sweep her away in the river.

12:16 And the earth helped the woman. The earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river that the dragon cast from his mouth.

12:17 And the dragon grew wrathful against the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her offspring, those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

12:18 And he stood upon the sand of the sea.

Revelation 13

13:1 And I saw a beast coming up from the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and upon its horns ten diadems, and upon its heads names of blasphemy.

13:2 And the beast I saw was like a leopard, and its feet like a bear’s, and its mouth like a lion’s mouth. And the dragon gave it his power and his throne and great authority.

13:3 And I saw one of its heads as though slaughtered to death, and its mortal wound was healed. And the whole earth followed the beast in wonder,

13:4 and they worshipped the dragon because he gave authority to the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, “Who is like the beast, and who is able to wage war with it?”

13:5 And a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies was given to it, and authority to act for forty-two months was given to it.

13:6 And it opened its mouth in blasphemies against God, to blaspheme His name and His tent, those who dwell in heaven.

13:7 And it was permitted to make war with the saints and conquer them, and authority was given to it over every tribe and people and tongue and nation.

13:8 And all who dwell upon the earth will worship it, each whose name has not been written in the book of life of the Lamb slaughtered from the foundation of the world.

Note [n]: 13:8 · Meaning. The inherited placement of “from the foundation of the world” is retained. Its attachment to the writing of names or to the Lamb’s slaughter is a syntactic interpretive question; this style revision does not settle it. NA28 chapter · Return to verse 13:9 If anyone has an ear, let him hear.

13:10 If anyone is for captivity, into captivity he goes. If anyone is to be killed by the sword, by the sword he must be killed. Here is the endurance and the faith of the saints.

13:11 And I saw another beast coming up from the earth. It had two horns like a lamb’s, and it spoke like a dragon.

13:12 And it exercises all the authority of the first beast in its presence, and makes the earth and those who dwell in it worship the first beast, whose mortal wound was healed.

13:13 And it performs great signs, even making fire come down from heaven to the earth in the sight of people.

13:14 And it deceives those who dwell upon the earth by reason of the signs it was given to perform in the presence of the beast, telling those who dwell upon the earth to make an image for the beast that bears the sword wound and lived.

13:15 And it was permitted to give breath to the beast’s image, so that the beast’s image might both speak and cause all who would not worship the beast’s image to be killed.

13:16 And it causes all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, the free and the slaves, to receive a mark upon their right hand or upon their forehead,

13:17 so that no one may be able to buy or sell except the one having the mark, the name of the beast or the number of its name.

13:18 Here is wisdom. Let the one who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is a human number, and its number is six hundred sixty-six.

Note [n]: 13:18 · Meaning. “A human number” is retained; “the number of a man” is an alternative construction. The number remains 666. No contemporary person is identified and no apparatus review of alternate numerals is claimed. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

Revelation 14

14:1 And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing upon Mount Zion, and with Him a hundred forty-four thousand having His name and His Father’s name written upon their foreheads.

14:2 And I heard a voice from heaven like the sound of many waters and like the sound of great thunder. The voice I heard was like lyre players playing upon their lyres.

14:3 And they sing something like a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders; and no one was able to learn the song except the hundred forty-four thousand purchased from the earth.

14:4 These are the ones who were not defiled with women, for they are virgins. These are the ones who follow the Lamb wherever He goes. These were purchased from among people as firstfruits for God and for the Lamb,

14:5 and no lie was found in their mouth. They are unblemished.

14:6 And I saw another angel flying in midheaven, having eternal good news to proclaim to those seated upon the earth and to every nation and tribe and tongue and people,

14:7 saying with a loud voice, “Fear God and give Him glory, for the hour of His judgment has come. Worship the One who made heaven and the earth and the sea and the springs of water.”

14:8 And another angel, a second, followed, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, who has made all the nations drink of the wine of the fury of her fornication.”

14:9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a loud voice, “If anyone worships the beast and its image and receives a mark upon his forehead or upon his hand,

14:10 he too will drink from the wine of God’s fury, prepared unmixed in the cup of His wrath, and will be tormented in fire and sulfur before holy angels and before the Lamb.

14:11 And the smoke of their torment rises for ages of ages, and they have no rest day and night, those who worship the beast and its image, and anyone who receives the mark of its name.”

14:12 Here is the endurance of the saints, those keeping the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.

14:13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying, “Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on.” “Yes,” says the Spirit, “that they may rest from their labours, for their works follow with them.”

14:14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud One sitting like a son of man, having upon His head a golden crown and in His hand a sharp sickle.

14:15 And another angel came out of the sanctuary, crying with a loud voice to the One sitting upon the cloud, “Send forth Thy sickle and reap, for the hour to reap has come, for the harvest of the earth has dried.”

14:16 And the One sitting upon the cloud cast His sickle upon the earth, and the earth was reaped.

14:17 And another angel came out of the sanctuary in heaven, himself also having a sharp sickle.

14:18 And another angel came out from the altar, who had authority over the fire. He called with a loud voice to the one who had the sharp sickle, saying, “Send forth your sharp sickle and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for its grapes have ripened.”

14:19 And the angel cast his sickle into the earth and harvested the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of God’s fury.

14:20 And the winepress was trodden outside the city, and blood came out of the winepress as far as the horses’ bridles, for a thousand six hundred stadia.

Revelation 15

15:1 And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous: seven angels bearing seven plagues, the last of all, for in them the fury of God was brought to its end.

15:2 And I saw what was like a sea of glass mingled with fire. Those who had conquered the beast and its image and the number of its name stood upon the sea of glass, holding lyres of God.

15:3 And they sing the song of Moses, the slave of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, “Great and marvellous are Thy works, Lord God Almighty; righteous and true are Thy ways, O King of the nations.

15:4 Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify Thy name? For Thou alone art holy. For all the nations shall come and worship before Thee, for Thy righteous acts have been revealed.”

15:5 And after these things I looked, and the sanctuary of the tent of the testimony in heaven was opened,

15:6 and out of the sanctuary came the seven angels bearing the seven plagues, clothed in pure, bright linen, with golden sashes girded about their chests.

15:7 And one of the four living creatures gave the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the fury of God, who lives for the ages of the ages.

15:8 And the sanctuary was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from His power, and no one could enter the sanctuary until the seven plagues of the seven angels had run their course.

Revelation 16

16:1 And I heard a loud voice from the sanctuary saying to the seven angels, “Go and pour out the seven bowls of God’s fury upon the earth.”

16:2 And the first went and poured out his bowl upon the earth, and a foul and grievous sore came upon those who bore the mark of the beast and worshipped its image.

16:3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became blood like that of a dead man. And every living creature in the sea died.

16:4 And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the springs of water, and they became blood.

16:5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, “Righteous art Thou, who art and who wast, O Holy One, for Thou hast judged these things.

16:6 For they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and Thou hast given them blood to drink. They deserve it.”

16:7 And I heard the altar saying, “Yes, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are Thy judgments.”

16:8 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun, and the sun was given power to scorch people with fire.

16:9 And the people were scorched with fierce heat, and they blasphemed the name of God, who has authority over these plagues. They did not repent and give Him glory.

16:10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was darkened. And they gnawed their tongues in pain, 16:11 and blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and did not repent of their works.

16:12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river Euphrates, and its water was dried up, that the way might be prepared for the kings from the rising of the sun.

16:13 And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs coming out of the mouth of the dragon and out of the mouth of the beast and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

16:14 For they are spirits of demons that perform signs and go out to the kings of the whole inhabited world to gather them for the war of the great day of God Almighty.

16:15 “Behold, I am coming like a thief. Blessed is he who stays awake and keeps his garments, lest he walk naked and his shame be seen.”

16:16 And they gathered them at the place called in Hebrew Harmagedon.

16:17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon the air, and a loud voice came out of the sanctuary from the throne, saying, “It is done.”

16:18 And there were flashes of lightning and voices and peals of thunder. And there was a great earthquake, such as had never been since man came upon the earth, so mighty and so great was the earthquake.

16:19 And the great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. And Babylon the Great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of the fury of His wrath.

16:20 And every island fled, and no mountains were found.

16:21 And great hailstones, about a talent in weight, come down from heaven upon the people. And the people blasphemed God because of the plague of hail, for its plague is exceedingly great.

Revelation 17

17:1 And one of the seven angels who held the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, “Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits upon many waters,

17:2 with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and with the wine of whose fornication the dwellers on the earth became drunk.”

17:3 And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness. And I saw a woman seated upon a scarlet beast, full of names of blasphemy, with seven heads and ten horns.

17:4 And the woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls. In her hand she held a golden cup full of abominations and the uncleanness of her fornication,

17:5 and upon her forehead a name was written, a mystery: “Babylon the Great, the mother of harlots and of the abominations of the earth.”

17:6 And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the witnesses of Jesus. And when I saw her, I was filled with wonder.

17:7 And the angel said to me, “Why did you marvel? I will tell you the mystery of the woman and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.

17:8 The beast you saw was and is not, and is about to rise out of the abyss and goes to destruction. And the dwellers on the earth, whose names have not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, will marvel when they see the beast, for it was and is not and will be present.

17:9 Here is the mind that has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains upon which the woman sits, and they are seven kings.

17:10 Five have fallen, one is, and the other has yet to come. When he comes, he must remain a little while.

17:11 And the beast that was and is not is itself an eighth, and is of the seven, and goes to destruction.

17:12 And the ten horns you saw are ten kings who have yet to receive a kingdom, but receive authority as kings for one hour with the beast.

17:13 These are of one purpose, and they give their power and authority to the beast.

17:14 These will wage war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will conquer them, for He is Lord of lords and King of kings. And those with Him are called and chosen and faithful.”

17:15 And he says to me, “The waters you saw, where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues.

17:16 And the ten horns you saw and the beast will hate the harlot and make her desolate and naked. They will eat her flesh and burn her up with fire.

17:17 For God put it into their hearts to carry out His purpose, to act with one purpose and give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God are fulfilled.

17:18 And the woman you saw is the great city that holds kingship over the kings of the earth.”

Revelation 18

18:1 After these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven with great authority, and the earth was lit by his glory.

18:2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the Great! She has become a dwelling for demons, a prison for every unclean spirit, a prison for every unclean bird, and a prison for every unclean and hated beast,

18:4 And I heard another voice from heaven saying, “Come out of her, My people, lest you share in her sins and receive of her plagues,

18:5 for her sins have heaped up to heaven, and God has remembered her wrongs.

18:6 Repay her as she repaid, and pay her double for her works. In the cup in which she mixed, mix a double portion for her.

18:7 As much as she glorified herself and lived in luxury, so much torment and mourning give her. For in her heart she says, ‘I sit as queen. I am no widow, and I shall never see mourning.’

18:8 Therefore in one day her plagues shall come, death and mourning and famine, and she shall be burned up with fire, for mighty is the Lord God who has judged her.”

18:9 And the kings of the earth who committed fornication and lived in luxury with her shall weep and lament over her when they see the smoke of her burning,

18:10 standing far off for fear of her torment and saying, “Woe, woe, O great city, Babylon, mighty city! For in one hour your judgment has come.”

18:11 And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no one buys their cargo any more:

18:12 cargo of gold and silver and precious stones and pearls, of fine linen and purple and silk and scarlet, of every kind of thyine wood and every vessel of ivory and every vessel of costly wood and bronze and iron and marble,

18:13 and cinnamon and amomum and incense and ointment and frankincense and wine and oil and fine flour and wheat and cattle and sheep, and horses and carriages and slaves—human lives.

18:14 And the fruit your soul longed for has gone from you, and all your rich and splendid things have perished, and never again shall they find them.

18:15 The merchants of these things, who grew rich from her, shall stand far off for fear of her torment, weeping and mourning

18:16 and saying, “Woe, woe, O great city, clothed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls!

18:17 For in one hour such great wealth has been laid waste!” And every helmsman and everyone who sails from place to place, the sailors and all who make their living by the sea, stood far off,

18:18 and cried out when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, “What city is like the great city?”

18:19 And they cast dust upon their heads and cried out, weeping and mourning, “Woe, woe, O great city! In her all who had ships at sea grew rich from her costly wealth, for in one hour she has been laid waste!”

18:20 Rejoice over her, O heaven, and you saints and apostles and prophets, for God has judged your case against her.

18:21 And a mighty angel lifted a stone like a great millstone and cast it into the sea, saying, “So shall Babylon, the great city, be hurled down with violence, and never again shall she be found.

18:22 And the sound of lyre players and musicians and flute players and trumpeters shall never again be heard in you, and no craftsman of any craft shall ever again be found in you, and the sound of a mill shall never again be heard in you,

18:23 and the light of a lamp shall never again shine in you, and the voice of bridegroom and bride shall never again be heard in you. For your merchants were the great ones of the earth, for by your sorcery all the nations were led astray.

18:24 And in her was found the blood of prophets and saints and of all who were slaughtered upon the earth.”

Revelation 19

19:1 After these things I heard what seemed to be the loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, “Hallelujah! Salvation and glory and power belong to our God,

19:2 for true and righteous are His judgments. For He has judged the great harlot who corrupted the earth with her fornication, and has avenged the blood of His slaves at her hand.”

19:3 And a second time they said, “Hallelujah! And her smoke rises for the ages of the ages.”

19:4 And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God who sits upon the throne, saying, “Amen! Hallelujah!”

19:5 And a voice came out from the throne, saying, “Praise our God, all His slaves and those who fear Him, the small and the great.”

19:6 And I heard what seemed to be the voice of a great multitude, and the sound of many waters, and the sound of mighty thunder, saying, “Hallelujah! For the Lord our God, the Almighty, has taken up His reign.

19:7 Let us rejoice and exult and give Him glory, for the marriage of the Lamb has come, and His bride has made herself ready.

19:8 And it was given to her to clothe herself in fine linen, bright and pure, for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.”

Note [n]: 19:8 · Meaning. Retain both “it was given to her” and plural “righteous acts.” Bright and pure remain the linen’s adjectives; neither gift nor action is removed. NA28 chapter · Return to verse

19:11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! And He who sat upon it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness He judges and wages war.

19:12 His eyes are like a flame of fire, and upon His head are many diadems. He has a name written that no one knows but Himself.

19:13 And He is clothed in a garment dipped in blood, and His name is called the Word of God.

19:14 And the armies in heaven followed Him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and pure.

19:15 And from His mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike the nations. And He Himself shall shepherd them with a rod of iron, and He Himself treads the winepress of the wine of the fury of the wrath of God Almighty.

19:16 And upon His garment and upon His thigh He has a name written: “King of kings and Lord of lords.”

19:17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried with a loud voice to all the birds flying in midheaven, “Come, gather for the great supper of God,

19:18 that you may eat the flesh of kings and the flesh of commanders of thousands and the flesh of the mighty and the flesh of horses and their riders, and the flesh of all, free and slave, small and great.”

19:19 And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered to wage war against Him who sat upon the horse and against His army.

19:20 And the beast was seized, and with it the false prophet who performed the signs before it, by which he led astray those who received the mark of the beast and those who worshipped its image. The two were cast alive into the lake of fire burning with sulfur.

19:21 And the rest were slain with the sword of Him who sat upon the horse, the sword that came out of His mouth, and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

Revelation 20

20:1 And I saw an angel coming down from heaven with the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand.

20:2 And he seized the dragon, the ancient serpent, who is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years,

20:3 and cast him into the abyss and shut it and sealed it over him, so that he might lead the nations astray no more until the thousand years were fulfilled. After these things he must be loosed for a little while.

20:4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given to them. And I saw the souls of those beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshipped the beast or its image and had not received its mark upon their forehead or upon their hand. And they came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

20:5 The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were fulfilled. This is the first resurrection.

20:6 Blessed and holy is he who has a share in the first resurrection. Over these the second death has no authority, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him for the thousand years.

20:7 And when the thousand years are fulfilled, Satan shall be loosed from his prison,

20:8 and shall go out to lead astray the nations at the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them for war. Their number is as the sand of the sea.

20:9 And they went up over the breadth of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city. And fire came down from heaven and devoured them.

20:10 And the Devil who led them astray was cast into the lake of fire and sulfur, where also are the beast and the false prophet, and they shall be tormented day and night for the ages of the ages.

20:11 And I saw a great white throne and Him who sat upon it. From His face earth and heaven fled, and no place was found for them.

20:12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. And another book was opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged by what was written in the books, according to their works.

20:13 And the sea gave up the dead that were in it, and Death and Hades gave up the dead that were in them, and they were judged, each according to his works.

20:14 And Death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire.

20:15 And if anyone was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21:9 And one of the seven angels who held the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues came and spoke with me, saying, “Come, I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb.”

21:10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain and showed me the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God,

21:11 bearing the glory of God. Her radiance was like a most precious stone, like jasper gleaming like crystal.

21:12 She had a great and high wall with twelve gates, and at the gates were twelve angels and inscribed names, which are those of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel.

21:20 the fifth sardonyx, the sixth sardius, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh hyacinth, the twelfth amethyst.

21:21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, each gate made of a single pearl. And the broad street of the city was pure gold, like clear glass.

21:22 And I saw no sanctuary in it, for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are its sanctuary.

21:25 And its gates shall never be shut by day, for there shall be no night there, 21:26 and they will bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it.

21:27 And nothing profane shall ever enter it, nor anyone who does what is abominable or false, but only those whose names are written in the Lamb’s book of life.

Revelation 22

22:1 And he showed me a river of the water of life, bright as crystal, flowing out from the throne of God and of the Lamb,

22:2 down the middle of its broad street. And on either side of the river was the tree of life, bearing twelve crops of fruit, yielding its fruit each month. And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations.

22:3 And there shall no longer be anything accursed. And the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His slaves shall serve Him, 22:4 and they shall see His face, and His name shall be upon their foreheads.

22:5 And night shall be no more. They have no need of lamplight or sunlight, for the Lord God shall shine upon them, and they shall reign for the ages of the ages.

22:6 And he said to me, “These words are faithful and true, and the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent His angel to show His slaves what must take place soon.”

22:7 “And behold, I am coming quickly. Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy of this scroll.”

22:8 And I, John, am he who hears and sees these things. And when I heard and saw them, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who showed them to me.

22:10 And he says to me, “Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this scroll, for the time is near.

22:11 Let him who does wrong do wrong still, and let the filthy be filthy still. Let the righteous do righteousness still, and let the holy be made holy still.”
